McCOIG AND SMALL-POX.

A. B. McCoig, M. P. P., paid a friendly call at The Planet office on Saturday, to explain his position in reference to the small-pox question, and the unfavorable advertising which has been given to Chatham, as a result of a question which he asked in the Legislature. Mr. McCoig evidently wishes to stand from under, and claims that the blame for this advertising should not be placed upon him. He claims that he did not ask for government assistance for Chatham, although he admitted to The Planet that he was strongly in favor of such assistance being given. He merely asked a non-committal question in the House which is reported in the minutes as follows:

"Mr. McCoig asked the following question: 'Is it the intention of the Government at this Session to introduce any legislation whereby municipalities affected with small-pox or other contagious diseases, may receive financial assistance from the Province to assist in stamping out and preventing the spread of the same.'"

"And the Premier and President of the Council replied, that,

"The Government has not, so far, decided to introduce the legislation referred to in the question."

It is a peculiar fact that before the question came up in the Legislature, Mr. McCoig's workers in this city knew of it. Ald. Kerr and Mayor Stone, who are members of the City Council, knew of it, and the information given to them was evidently of an authentic character. At their instigation a deputation was appointed from the Council to wait on the Government, to "strengthen Mr. McCoig's hands in proposed legislation whereby Chatham would receive assistance." It is peculiar that Mr. McCoig's lieutenants in Chatham would get such a wrong impression of what he is doing in Toronto.

The following, taken from the report of the Council proceedings, and which has not been questioned or disputed, also shows what the information sent to Chatham conveyed to the minds of those who received it:

"Ald. Kerr arose at night's meeting to state that Mr. McCoig was going to ask the Government to assist municipalities afflicted with small-pox outbreaks in a financial way while the epidemic is on. Ald. Kerr said that Mr. McCoig wants to bring in a bill to this effect, and he was looking for the support of the Council in the matter. It was claimed that Chatham would be benefited because there are so many outbreaks of small-pox here."

Mr. McCoig now repudiates this. It is unfortunate that Mr. McCoig said anything about the matter at all in the House. It has done no good, and the incidents directly following, as a result of Mr. McCoig's imprudent action have given Chatham a great amount of dangerous advertising, which will do the city no good, and which is strongly condemned by every ratepayer in the Maple City who wishes to see Chatham grow and progress along industrial and commercial lines. Even if Mr. McCoig had been successful in getting assistance from the Government, which he was not, it is questionable if the amount he would have received, would have been sufficient to counter-act the damage which had been done to the city in the way of unfavorable and damaging advertising given to it as a result of his question in the House.

A VALUABLE SKIN

The skin of the largest rattlesnake ever known at the age of seven years is on exhibition in the window of Geo. Meynell.

The snake was captured in Florida by a man named Olmstead. A large party of men were out walking when they came in contact with the monstrous serpent. Being frightened they turned to make an escape, but were chased for a mile or two by the rattle. A rifle was procured and Mr. Olmstead went out to kill the poisonous brute. He was successful in killing him, and after skinning and leaving him on exhibition to the people of Florida for several months, he presented the pelt to Mr. Meynell, who places it before the eyes of the people of Chatham.

No man is a failure until he has lost his grip and his self-respect. When he loses these he is practically dead.

Ill qualities are contagious as well as disease, and the mind is at least as much liable to infection as the body.

The most effective country is innocence.

BILEANS FOR ILLIUSNESS.

DO NOT FORGIVE.

Promised to Return With Ruthless Hands to Destroy.

Chicago, March 18.—Although the sermon prepared by Dowie was not used in the funeral rites, it was issued for publication. It makes plain that Dowie did not forgive his enemies before he died, as he says of those who ousted him from control: "I shall return, and with ruthless hand shall I exterminate the vipers and the dogs of hell that now hold high places in the City of Zion. They dreamed, and in the grossness of their dreams they thought they had prevailed over the first apostle. And now, priests and elders of Zion, I shall return in another form, brighter and more beautiful and ten thousand times more terrible, to cut ye off in the midst of your sins, and to win back Zion for the truth and for that held to the word and did no evil."

There was a small-sized panic during the funeral ceremonies because of the announcement that another of Voliva's followers was dying. In the past week three of his lieutenants who held similar positions under Dowie have died suddenly, and when it was said that a fourth was likely to die before morning several of the mourners ran from the tabernacle, shouting that Zion was accursed by God. This excited the rest of the 3,000 mourners, and before the cooler-headed leaders could get among the people to counsel quietness fully five hundred had left the building.

NOVEL CURE FOR COLDS

Healing Medication That Is Breathed, Giving Quick Relief.

It seems just as ridiculous to put medicine into the stomach to cure cold in the head or lungs as it does to go out in the rain if we want to keep dry.

The fact that many people right in Chatham cough and hawk and snuffle for days and weeks after they treat a cold with the usual stomach dosing, shows how valueless are the ordinary cough and cold cures.

The right way to cure a cold in the head or a cough and irritation in the throat and lungs, is by breathing Hyomei's medicated air. Put a few drops of Hyomei in the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit and breathe the healing air for a few times and immediate relief will be noted. The medication goes right to the spot where the disease germs are located and renders them harmless in the future.

At the same time the soothing and healing effects of Hyomei on the irritated mucous membrane give quick relief, and the cough or cold is broken up.

A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a bottle of Hyomei, the inhaler and a medicine dropper, costs but $1, while extra bottles of Hyomei, if needed, can be obtained for only 50c.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei, or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures. Write us today for a symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with directions on Catarrh and how to cure it. When you fill in and return to us the symptom blank, our consulting physician will give you the best care and attention, and write you a letter of advice without charge. Booth's Hyomei Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

FRACTURED HIS SKULL.

Goderich Magistrate Falls Downstairs While Working Alone.

Goderich, March 18.—A distressing accident occurred Saturday evening, resulting in the death of Charles A. Humber, one of Goderich's most estimable citizens.

In carrying a heavy article down a flight of stairs Mr. Humber accidentally fell headlong to the bottom fracturing his skull and causing concussion of the brain. As the deceased was working alone in the house it was not till some time after the accident occurred that his delayed return home caused anxiety, when on search being made he was found unconscious on the cellar floor.

For years he served as councillor and later discharged the duties of police magistrate. He stood high in Masonic circles, filling high offices in Maidland Lodge No. 33, Huron Chapter No. 30, St. Elmo Preceptory No. 22, and with several degrees in the Scottish Rite.

Two-thirds of the people in this world have no character outside of their habits.

WERE HEAVILY FINED

The trial of the two young men who were arrested a couple of weeks ago for disorderly conduct in the Grand Trunk "restaurant," came up yesterday afternoon before Judge Houston in the city Police Court. One of the young men came up on one charge of criminal assault, and the other had two charges of a like nature against him. The first mentioned was fined $25 and $11.75 costs, while the second got a $50 fine with $11.75 as costs.

It was expected that the case was to come up this morning, but owing to some re-arrangement of the order of things, it was brought up yesterday afternoon. The "ladies" of the "restaurant" were not asked to put in an appearance to testify against the young men, as both pleaded guilty.

Both are now sadder but wiser young men, and both promised Judge Houston they would never get intoxicated again. It was while under the influence of strong drink that they were alleged to have ill-treated the girls at the station. In the midst of the festivities a row commenced, and some of the women claim that the young men indulged in such shocking pastime as dragging them around by the hair of the head, and kicking and beating them freely.

Both young men were well dressed and appeared respectable, and it was rather surprising that they should get mixed up in such a fracas. "The fine is a pretty heavy one," said one of the young men afterwards, "but we don't mind that so much. It is the disgrace of being mixed up in such an affair. I would never have been near that place if it hadn't been for the drink. I have made up my mind to keep sober and lead a better life."

Crown Attorney H. D. Smith prosecuted, while O. L. Lewis acted for the defense.

CAMBRIDGE BEAT OXFORD.

Wins University Boat Race by Four and a Half Lengths.

Putney, Eng., March 18.—The sixty-fourth annual boat race between crews representing the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge was rowed Saturday over the usual course from Putney to Mortlake, a distance of about 4 1/4 miles and was won by Cambridge. The crews were sent off at 3.06 p. m. At the Craven Steps, about three-quarters of a mile from the start Cambridge was a length ahead. At Hammersmith Bridge about 1 1/4 miles from the start Cambridge was leading by a length and a quarter.

At Barnes Bridge, about 3 1/2 miles from the start Cambridge was three lengths ahead.

Cambridge won by 4 1/2 lengths.

The unofficial time was 20 minutes 26 seconds.

The record time over the course is 18 minutes 47 seconds, established by Oxford in 1893, and equalled by Cambridge in 1900.

A CORDIAL INVITATION TO DIS-EASE.

This is an apt description of constipation. It's an unnatural condition to begin with, and it's more, because it brings about blood deterioration, interferes with digestion, renders you susceptible to infectious diseases and causes anaemia. Not so much a purgative as a natural stimulant to the bowels is what you need. You get it in Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which increase liver activity, restore the bowels to perfect action and positively cure constipation and its attendant evils. Insist on having only Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c. per box, at all dealers.

Gem Smugglers Caught.

New York, March 18.—Arthur Preston Green and Charles Rehner, passengers on the North German Lloyd steamer America, were arrested when the vessel arrived from Hamburg and Southampton yesterday, charged with attempting smuggling.

Diamonds and jewelry to the appraised value of nearly $25,000, which the custom officials allege, the prisoners had failed to declare, was taken from them. The valuable were confiscated and the men were held for extradition.

Though only the charge of smuggling was preferred against the prisoners here, they are wanted abroad in connection with a theft of some $25,000 worth of jewelry and precious stones in London.

IT DOES CURE WOMANLY ILLS.

"I feel it my duty," writes Mrs. S. Mead, of Fraserville, Ont., to let you know that sometimes previous to the change of life I suffered more than I could tell. Neighbors told me Ferrozone was the only remedy and their advice was good. Ferrozone put a stop to my pain and sickness, had a direct action on my troubles and relieved from the start. I safely passed the turn, and now enjoy perfect health and rest. No womanly medicine can be better than Ferrozone. Instant relief is found in Ferrozone for female weakness of every kind. 50c. per box at all dealers.

Brass in a Room.

Brass can make a wonderful difference in a dreary room. A large jardiniere with a plant in it placed in a dark corner will lighten up marvelous. The andirons, too, will give a cheery reflection. Even candlesticks help, and little trays and bowls, be they so small. The importance of brass in a sunless room cannot be too strongly emphasized. Mirrors brighten up, and so do pictures with well polished glass and gilded frames. But these little points are too seldom taken into consideration.

GOOD CORN SHELLER FOR 25c.

A marvel of efficacy and promptness, a remedy that does cure corns and warts. Its name is Putnam's Corn Extractor. Containing no acids, never pains, gives lasting satisfaction. Insist on "Putnam's" only. It's the best.

MRS. DANIEL LOTHROP.

Founder of the Society of Children of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Daniel Lothrop, who under the pen name of Margaret Sidney is widely known as the author of many books for children, is intensely interested in the little ones. Mrs. Lothrop's maiden name was Harriet Mulford Stone. She was born in New Haven.

It was Mrs. Lothrop who first perceived the assistance which would be derived for the furthering of the elevating spirit of love of country by the establishing of a society to be composed entirely of juveniles. With her usual energy and industry she conceived and arranged the preliminary steps for the establishment of the National Society of the Children of the American Revolution, of which she was the founder and first president.

As a correction for the tendency of the danger of spoiling American children Mrs. Lothrop once published in a symposium the following suggestions:

"First.—That the old fashioned respect for parents and for God should be revived.

"Second.—There should be an amendment introduced to the resolution that appears to have been adopted largely that the Sabbath was made for man to make a worse day out of it than out of the other six.

"Third.—That ill doing should be executed and punished.

"Fourth.—That American children should always hear from American citizens expressions of loyalty to their country, which their lives bear out.

"Fifth.—That American children should be bred to the idea that next to disowning one's country is the aping of manners and customs observed by other nations."—Boston Globe.

Living and Dining Room in One. If any one chooses to have his living room and his dining room in one, he has only to make up his mind to it and then look about to see how it may be done without first showing elegance and comfort to the door.

The only absolute requisites for such an arrangement are a large room and proximity to the kitchen. There must be room enough to leave the field clear for setting the table, and this there never will be if there is room for only one table, which must serve the family for all its needs.

Such is the unconscious perversity of human nature that so sure as there is but one table the children will get their books or their toys on it or the husband will get out his writing or spread out a map for reference as near as possible to the dinner hour.

The best plan probably is to have either a table reserved exclusively for eating from or else a table that is only a table while it is wanted.

In one house is a table twelve feet, perhaps fifteen feet, long. And this offers a spacious field for all household forces. It is modeled after the Jacobean design. The cloth often is laid at one end of it and dinner served without obliging those who have been working along its generous length to strike their tents and retreat with bag and baggage or scup and scupper.

This, however, scarcely might be a good thing to do as an everyday thing. One advantage in having a dining room separate from the living room is that the household gets variety and unobtrusiveness from the too stiff stretched cord of daily work. But in this particular instance the big room in which the table stood was little used during the day and only at night became the great center of the family gathering. Certainly it was a pleasant rallying ground and the scene of much hospitable intercourse and cheer.—Washington Star.

The Picture Problem. According to "A Bachelor's Cupboard," pictures should never be hung so high that it becomes necessary to mount a chair in order to see them. Hanging them so the center will be on a level with the line of vision of the person of average height, or about five and one-half feet from the floor. Every one must consult his own taste as to the grouping of pictures. In hanging pictures the stock in hand should be looked over and a general scheme decided upon.

Oil paintings and water colors should never be allowed to become intimate companions, but the latter may hobnob with etchings, pastels, drawing, photographs and even engravings without losing their dignity. An oil painting of exceptional excellence should be given a special position.

Water colors and pastels in delicate tints and black and white and soft etchings should properly be placed in wall spaces where the light is strongest. The darker and more heavily shaded pictures should hang farther away from the light. From the faintly colored pictures in the clearest light the glance should be involuntarily but skillfully led to the deeper toned pictures farther back in the room.

Sometimes, however, a dark corner that needs brightening may demand a lighter picture or a spot of brilliant coloring may be needed. A pen and ink sketch with white mat fills in well in such a case. Harmony must be studied and the position of a picture well considered before its place is decided. One with broad white mat should never be hung next to a carbon in a heavy black frame. The eye must be led, not jerked, from one picture to another.

Danger in Farming.

"Dollar Wheat" is fine for farmers, but they take long chances with their health in getting the wheat. Bad weather, lifting, straining, wrenched backs, lay the foundation for Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble. There is a farmer, out Markham way, who was so busy making money that he did not realize he was making ill-health at the same time. He had headaches; often his back hurt so badly he could hardly stand, often the urine was highly colored and scalding. But he thought he was only "working too hard." One day he caught cold. The next day he had Rheumatism. This Markham farmer suffered 7 years with Rheumatism until chance brought a friend who told him about Bu-Ju. They relieved the excruciating pain, and cured him in three months.

"I had suffered almost continually for seven years with Kidney Trouble; could scarcely walk and was unable to attend to my farm duties. After taking the first few pills I felt much relieved, and after taking half a box was able to do a full day's work. The box of Bu-Ju saved me from Doctor's bills, and I think they are the finest pills made." JAMES ADRIOT.

Wash Lace in Milk.

An almost infallible method of cleansing lace which has been much stained through age or other causes, says a writer in Good Housekeeping, is to stew it in milk. Place the lace in a jar and cover with milk. Then set the jar in a saucepan of water, after the manner of cooking beef tea. An hour or two are usually sufficient. The water in the saucepan will boil, but not so the milk. By allowing the milk to boil the stains would be more firmly fixed than ever. The writer tells of an old piece of Brussels which had been lying on a fan for twenty years and was marked with brown stripes. All ordinary treatment had failed to remove the stains, but the lace came out of the hot milk treatment as white as snow and entirely unimpaired.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a nerve invigorator. It makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system. Its continued use in Helonias has a medicinal purpose which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug which has been mentioned. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or itching in the back, with leucorrhoea; atonic (weak) condition of the reproductive organs of women; mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive system; a weak or enervated condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea (stoppage) or absent monthly periods, arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and aemic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen.

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can fail to derive benefit from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medicinal properties of which is most faithfully represented.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions, and in cases of coelitis, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

INEBRIETY IN ANIMALS.

Birds and Beast Become Slaves to the Cup That Cheers.

Man is not the only animal fond of intoxicating liquors, says The Baltimore Sun. Birds, insects, even fishes, have been known to become drunkards at a suitable opportunity.

A remarkable case of bird inebriation occurred during the course of a homing pigeon contest in France. Four hundred and twenty-nine birds were taken from Tours to La Bohalle, and the toss took place at the latter town. Out of all this lot only forty birds found the way home; the others were too intoxicated.

At first the owners of the pigeons were mystified at the non-appearance of their little racers. Then the forty wearily dribbled in home in a decidedly sorry condition. They were in a shocking state of inebriation, but they gave a clue to the absence of the others.

Investigation showed that a mass of black currants formed part of the freight of the railway. The crate containing the pigeons had been placed in the same car as the black currants, and the pigeons had sipped the exuded juice, with the unhappy result related.

A still more shocking case of bird depravity comes from Scotland. A farmer was astonished to hear an appalling din one day. This was caused by his flock of geese, every member of which was screaming in a manic manner as it cut fantastic capers. Homeward they were coming, cackling, hopping, waddling, fighting and generally behaving in an unseemly manner—they were intoxicated.

Ludicrous as it may seem, it was a serious matter for the farmer, as the geese were never fit for anything again. They used to spend their time in sleeping off the drink when they were not actually drinking. It appears that they had found a pool which was contaminated with the dregs from an adjoining distillery. They became useless dispirited animals.

Even the industrious little bee is not free from inebriety. It is a fact well known to owners of apiaries that the little creatures often get "full" upon the inebriating nectar found in certain flowers. For instance, there is a species of willow, the members of which have large flowers which form a great attraction for bees. These flowers excrete a syrup or paste which is intoxicating. A bee, usually a bumble bee, will sip until it falls down in a stupor, to awaken many hours afterward, stiff and dazed.

Flies, as is well known, are inveterate little drunkards, shamelessly drinking all kinds of intoxicating liquors.

It is the elephant, however, which is the biggest drunkard. The only thing which will prevent an elephant from becoming inebriated is the absence of all intoxicants. After an elephant has acquired a taste for alcohol it is a matter of the greatest difficulty to break the habit. In the case of a circus elephant which was doctored with spirits under medical advice this was found to be impossible, so frantic did it become when the usual dose was stopped. Its violent behavior was quieted only by returning to the old state of affairs.

Peer's Curious Will.

Details of the remarkable will of Lord Grimthorpe, the gross value of whose estate was $10,500,000, was announced the other day.

There were no fewer than twenty-five codicils to the will, each contradictory of the other and of the will, but, by an arrangement with seventy persons interested, a settlement was arrived at by which the estate is to be distributed as nearly as possible in accordance with what may be supposed to have been the testator's wishes.

The residuary estate will go to a number of nephews and nieces, and those who have two or more children are to have larger shares.

No property is to go to a foreigner or to a Papist, or to any one married to a Papist, or to the St. Albans Bishopric Fund, or to the endowment of a dean or chapter anywhere.

Nothing is to be given to any charity which is, or will be, entitled to as much as $50,000 under the will of the late Samuel Lewis, except distinct sums expressly decreed by the testator's will.

Another curious feature of the will was the fact that Lord Grimthorpe made bequests and afterward revoked or reduced them. He left $5,000 to the York Minister Restoration Fund, and revoked it. He left $100,000 to the Victoria Clergy Fund, and reduced it to $10,000, and he reduced a legacy of $25,000 to Trinity College, Cambridge, to $2,500 for a new clock to be placed in the great court.

He also decreed that no brass plate should be put on his coffin, which was to be made of elm.

The Princess Royal.

Always simple in dress, when in Scotland the Princess gowns herself in plain tweed and homespun, made with short skirts and Norfolk coats, and wears a hat or cap warranted to defy both wind and weather. She seems fond of her husband's clan tartan, and the Duff lady is bright and effective. The Royal lady spends much time angling on the banks of the Dee and the Deveron, and has designed several dainty, deadly flies, one of which, called the "Mar Lodge," often proves most successful. The Princess handles her rod with a wrist of iron and with infinite patience, and all the fish she catches, beyond those used at her own table, are given to the poor of the neighborhood.

Best Fertilizers For Fruit.

In very many cases potash fertilizers have decidedly improved the qualities of fruits. In nearly all cases whenever the percentage of this element has been raised the change has been accompanied by an increase of sugar and a decrease of acid. Other things being equal, the fruit with the largest percentage of sugar will bring the highest price. In addition, less desirable varieties may be brought up to a higher standard, thus giving value to some good quality, as hardiness and prolific bearing.

"Mother wants another can of St. George's Baking Powder"

—and she says not to give her any other kind?"

"Bless your heart!—that's the only Baking-Powder I sell these days. Since your mother, and all the other little girls' mothers, have tried St. George's, they won't use anything else."

"How do you like the Pies and Cakes that Mother makes, now? Fine, eh?"

"And Father thinks Mother is a good cook, now? Well, ST. GEORGE'S is doing good in more ways than one."

"I am not a bit surprised at your mother liking ST. GEORGE'S BAKING POWDER. I knew she would. Everybody likes it."

"Good-bye."

A pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder makes white biscuits—while a baking powder containing alum, turns the biscuits yellow.

THE LEGISLATURE

Penalties For Concealment—Several Formal Measures Advanced.

Toronto, March 19.—Yesterday was a season of hard work and little talking in the Legislature. The attention was as usual on Monday—was light, on one occasion the Conservative whip, Dr. Preston, having to go out and round up a quorum. Only four Liberal members were present, but the Government availed itself of the absence of members who had private bills on the paper, to advance several of its own measures a stage toward the statute books.

Two private bills were put through their committee stages, that of Col. Hugh Clark (Centre Bruce) respecting the Town of Kincardine and that of Mr. Lennox (York) confirming the sale in the township of Eschikoke. Hon. Mr. Whitney, the Prime Minister, asked Mr. McCowan (York) to withdraw his bill to amend the Architects' Act. "It is opposed by a number of prominent architects," said Mr. Whitney, "and is a bill which should not be dealt with hastily. It suggests it be not pressed until this has been given it."

The bill was accordingly withdrawn.

Mr. McCowg (West Kent) moved the second reading of his bill respecting the sale of land by the Canada Co. He said that since the discovery of oil in southwestern Ontario the Canada Land Co. had put a reserve clause in all their sales to the farmers and was now giving oil operators the right to go on their land. The original charter was given to the Canada Co. on their undertaking to bring out settlers. They had never done this and Mr. McCowg urged the cancellation of their charter, as was done in charters for pulpwood, mineral and timber where the provisions were not carried out. It was also a question whether under any conditions the Canada Land Co. had a right to put in the reserve clause.

Hon. Mr. Whitney said if anything illegal was being done under the guise of law the courts would provide the remedy. The measure was essentially affecting private rights and should be brought before the Private Bills committee. No lawyer who gave the bill his attention could say it came under public bill legislation. The Prime Minister sympathized with the objects of the bill and would like to see it brought into the House in its proper channel. As a public bill it was now out of order.

Hon. Mr. Graham suggested that as Mr. Auld (Essex) had a measure along similar lines, Mr. McCowg's bill stand until its consideration. Hon. Mr. Whitney agreed.

Consolidating Succession Dues. In Committee of the Whole, Hon. Mr. Matheson presented resolutions to provide a penalty for concealment in estates liable to succession dues, and Hon. Mr. Whitney the resolutions necessary to carry out the law provided for in Mr. McLaughlin's bill respecting pawnbrokers.

Hon. Mr. Foy's bill to amend the Registry Act was put through committee. As a result of petitions received the Attorney-General said it had been decided to decree the Hamilton and London might close on Saturday afternoon. This provision, however, could not be extended further than to these cities as Saturday afternoon usually furnished the best opportunity to do their business to people living in the agricultural sections.

Hon. Mr. Matheson's bill to amend and consolidate the law relating to the payment of succession duties. In future where the value of any property passing to any one person does not exceed $300 it shall be exempt from payment of the duty imposed by the act.

KILLED HIS NEIGHBOR.

Boys Who Teased Old Man Cause Murder in New York.

New York, March 19.—Some mischievous boys were indirectly responsible for the arrest early yesterday of David Stanhoff, jun., of Brooklyn, on a charge of having murdered his friend and next door neighbor, John Hoffman. According to Stanhoff's story, he was returning home just after midnight when he came upon Hoffman beating two boys in front of his house. Hoffman was in a fearful rage, he said, and when Stanhoff intervened he was forced to fight to defend himself. One of his blows knocked Hoffman down, and as he fell his head struck the stone curb, fracturing his skull. He died soon after being taken to the hospital. Stanhoff was immediately arrested.

It is said a crowd of boys have been annoying Hoffman for some time, and it is supposed the two he was beating when Stanhoff interfered were members of the gang, whom he had caught.

NATURAL GAS TURNED ON

The natural gas was turned into the city mains this morning. From every quarter of the city where it is being used for heating, cooking and illuminating purposes come satisfactory reports.

The turning on of the natural gas found many of the prospective consumers yet unprepared for it. Some have not the proper stoves, and others, again, have failed to have proper mantels installed, despite the fact that the Gas Company have for some time been advertising March 19 as the date for the turning on of the gas.

For cooking purposes, the gas is especially giving great satisfaction.

AUCTION SALE OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE

Andrew Thomson, Jr., auctioneer, having received instructions from Thomas Stephenson, Esq., who has accepted a position with the Government, to sell all his household effects on Thursday, March 21st, commencing at one o'clock, at his residence, Thames street, next to Mr. H. Marshall's grocery store, consisting of the following:

Parlor furniture, six oak rockers, upholstered chairs, parlor "rug," parlor table, one mahogany corner chair, hall rack, book case, one sewing machine, hanging lamp, dining table, dining chairs, dining room carpet, coal stove with oven, one organ, "Happy Thought Range" in fine condition; one oak sideboard, kitchen furniture, bedroom furniture, oak bedroom suit, lace and tapestry curtains, also carpets, and other articles too numerous to mention.

This will be a good sale to attend, as all the furniture and stoves are in good order, and no reserve. Remember day and date, March 21, at one o'clock.

The property is for sale privately.

McCOIG IS ILL

Special to The Planet.

Toronto, March 19.—Mr. A. B. McCoig, M. P. P., was suddenly and unexpectedly taken ill to-day. He is now confined to his bed at the Rossin House.

Mr. McCoig's many friends in this constituency will be sorry to hear of his illness and will earnestly hope for his speedy recovery.

FULL CLAIM GIVEN

Messrs. Nelles and Newman Secured Verdict For $117,000 From Justice Clute

Justice Clute concluded the assize court sitting at Sandwich on Saturday afternoon, when he gave judgment for the plaintiffs in the case of Nelles and Newman vs. Hesselstine, et al. His Lordship awarded the plaintiffs the full amount of their action and settlement must be made in thirty days, otherwise a reference is to be made to Local Master Clay to determine the amount of actual money due the plaintiffs.

The costs of the action are assessed against the company. Dr. Brien, who was named as one of the defendants, is relieved of costs.

The plaintiffs, Wm. Newman and A. J. Nelles, together with Dr. Brien, were the original promoters of the Windsor, Essex & Lake Shore electric railway. Not being able to finance the road they turned it over to Messrs. Crawford, Piggott and others. Nelles and Newman were to be paid $45,000 in bonds and $72,000 in stock, but the defendants set up that the original agreement was voided and did not make a settlement. It was realized that the plaintiffs had an equity in the road, and just before the case went to trial efforts were made to effect a compromise.

It is probable that an appeal will be taken from the decision.

Rodd & Wigle, Windsor, acted for the plaintiffs, while Mr. Wilson appeared for the defendants.

Notice of appeal has been given.

FIRST CHURCH REVIVAL

The revival service in the First Church last evening was the usual great success. Rev. Mr. Dickie, who preached on Sunday, conducted the service. His address was one of the best yet given during these meetings. He will preach again this evening, and will undoubtedly be favored by a large congregation. Special music will be rendered by the choir.

DR. BELL EXPLAINS.

To the Editor of The Planet: Dear Sir,—In yesterday's issue of The Planet, under the heading, "Small-pox in Raleigh," there are several mistakes. Cases are not reported at John Pepper's, but at John Piper's, Centre Line, between 10th and 11th concessions. Also, that neither Dr. Young nor Dr. Bell had been given authority as health officers. This is not so, as we were both regularly appointed by the Council—Dr. Young from the river to the 8th Con., and Dr. Bell the rest of the township. Also, that we do not work together in harmony. This is false, as we work in perfect harmony, and everything is being done by us and the Board of Health to prevent the spread of the disease. Kindly correct your misleading statements and oblige.

"Really, Elizabeth," protested Judge Ferris, "I think so much of you both I can't mix up in your trouble."

"That's why I came to you," argued Mrs. Bradbury. "You see, when one is married one has one's favorite clergyman, so when one is unmarried why not one's pet lawyer? It seems kinder."

"Kinder? Going to make it a function with caterers and flumadiddles?" demanded the judge.

"At least you will inform Ned of my decision," ignoring the flippancy.

"Why, Bess, surely you've no grounds for a divorce. You can't wheedle your freedom out of a court because Ned perhaps forgot to give you violets on your birthday or—"

"I have a reason," jolly.

"Oh, ho!" exclaimed the judge. "May I ask her name?"

"It's an automobile!" explained Elizabeth. "In what is called an 'automobile widow.'"

"A new one to me," commented the judge musingly.

"We've quarreled ever since he bought that big circus chariot of his. I wanted horses instead—I'm originally from Kentucky, you know, and I vowed I'd never step foot in that car, and I haven't! He spends all his time in it, he says I'm unreasonable, and—"

Elizabeth broke down.

"Proceed," prompted the judge.

"The last two days he hasn't even gone through the formality of asking me to accompany him, though of course I wouldn't have gone! Yesterday he whizzed by with that blond Johnson girl and today with Mrs. Wheeler. However, I'm not jealous of a mere woman. It's the car!"

"Ned probably wanted to show you if you wouldn't motor with him—others would," suggested the listener.

"Shows how demoralizing the craze is," stormed Elizabeth. "Recall the

"Oh, ho!" exclaimed the judge. "MAY I ASK HER NAME?"

There was when women first took to cycling? Well, since men have taken to motoring the reformers ought—"

"You aspire to start a reform by making an example of Ned? Have you a photo all ready for the newspapers?"

"I'm not seeking notoriety," she snapped. "I simply want a nice quiet divorce. I may as well be a grass widow as an automobile widow."

"Come, Bess, you can't be serious. Go home, but stop en route and buy some ripping motor togs. Get red silk to show you are enthusiastic and then—"

"I'm not here to consult you about toilets," she cut in. "I came to apply for a divorce. What's more—fancy red with my hair!"

"No one dare call it anything but Titian in my presence! But, seriously, you will go home and make peace with Ned?"

"If you wish to communicate with me further, I shall be at Clara Lincoln's. Good afternoon." She swept out and into the elevator. "But I mean business."

"Bess will purchase motor togs yet!" smiled the judge. "But I must give expert advice to Ned—surely one's 'pet lawyer' can be 'kinder'!"

Mrs. Bradbury went directly to an attorney who knew neither herself nor her husband. She decided it poor policy to do business with friends. Young Lawyer Elkins, she found, had no scruples.

"Has the defendant any property we could attach?" asked the splinter of the bar pompously.

"I wouldn't take a penny from him!" protested Elizabeth.

"We could worry him a lot!" tempted the legal adviser.

"Could I attach his automobile?" cried Elizabeth eagerly.

"I shall get out the writ at once!" he said decisively.

"I suppose it is a clever way for an automobile widow to avenge herself," sighed Elizabeth. Then briskly, "You will find the car at the Westminster garage."

Elizabeth went to Clara Lincoln's rejoicing at her coup d'état. Clara, being of the Miss Hobbs type, congratulated her on her admirable spirit. Clara was propping up the "admirable spirit" when Elizabeth's lawyer called her to the telephone.

"Hello! Yes, this is she. The car is not there? A sheriff and two detectives searching? My goodness, every one in town will hear about it! Necessary? Oh, very well!"

Later another call came.

"Yes. Located the car at the Appleby Coach company? Bring it away at once—On the third floor? Well, bring it down the way it went up! Man refuses to operate the elevator? Can't you force him to? Then get a trained elevator man, and I'll pay for his time. They refuse to allow the elevator to be operated—ridiculous! Equipped with a writ to seize property, but balked because there's no law to force them to help you get it! Lawyer Elkins, are you there? Take it out a window; the wall must be full of windows. Windows too small? Take the machine apart. Gracious! Five hundred dollars to put it together again? You suggest leaving it there with a sheriff to guard it? Very well!"

Elizabeth passed an unhappy night. What would Ned do? She speculated about the blond and Mrs. Wheeler and worried about the sheriff sitting alone through the long night on the third floor of the Appleby repository with Ned's big cream colored motor car shining like a ghost out of the gloom. She feared she was punishing the sheriff more than Ned.

Next morning a strange lawyer called—Ned's lawyer! She shuddered.

"Mrs. Bradbury," began Lawyer Snyder, "how much will you take for your interest in the car?"

"It's not money I want," she explained loftily, "but the car."

"This is certainly the motoring season," he agreed, "and the dealers can't deliver a car under six weeks. That's why the other two ladies were so anxious to secure this one."

"What two ladies?" Elizabeth demanded.

"Why, a few days ago Mr. Bradbury advertised his car for sale, and he gave demonstrations to two lady prospects."

"The blond and Mrs. Wheeler?" gasped Elizabeth, light dawning. "He was selling to please me. What a mess I have made of everything!"

"Any message to send my client?" asked Snyder, rising.

"Wait, please," cried Elizabeth wildly. "I'm going down to Mr. Bradbury's office myself. There's really nothing more you can do on the case."

Elizabeth was smiling on the lawyer recklessly.

"May I take you down in my automobile?" he suggested.

"Oh, would you?" she asked gayly. "Automobiles go so delightfully quick! But pardon me a moment. Hello, central! Give me 6006 Blue. Is that Judge Ferris? O-o-h, Dicky. I thought you'd be relieved to know I've decided on the color for my motor outfit. Red may denote enthusiasm, but gray is much more serviceable, and, you know, Ned has talked of some long trips. Besides, gray is so harmonious with Titian tresses. That's all. What? Ned there? How lovely! I'll be right down."

When the Spider Goes Courting.

"The male spider is the bravest and most demonstrative of all lovers," says a naturalist. "He approaches the female, runs round her a few times in little circles and then begins a violent oriental dance. He twirls round and round. Drawing in his legs, he writhes and crawls, serpentine, along the ground. Straightening his legs and erecting his body, he towers above the lady grandly. And the mischief of it is that the female spider is always stronger than the male and when his dance is done she either accepts him for her mate or else, falling upon him fiercely, she tears him to pieces. Imagine a human lover trying to please his mistress with the knowledge in his heart that, if he failed, he would be murdered. His efforts would be lukewarm and distrustful. Yet the humble spider, whom we are accustomed to despise, dances, death staring him in the face, with a gayety, a warmth and an abandon seldom to be met with north of Africa."

Scotch Dialects.

The written language is so far from the spoken in Scotland that spelling reform is an academic question. A story which illustrates the many dialects is told of an examination at Aberdeen university. The examiners were an English clergyman and a lowland Scotchman. The master of the scholars put many questions to them which were admirably answered. The boys brought the Israelites out of Egypt with a simple directness which Moses would have envied. Then the clergyman asked, "How did Pharaoh die?" The boys sat dumb. The lowlander, to make it more plain, repeated the question, "Hoo did Pharaoh dee?" Again there was a dead silence. Next the master himself took the matter in hand—"Fat cam' to Pharaoh at his hinder end?" The boys answered as with one voice, "He was drooned!" To "dee" means in the Aberdeen dialect to die in one's bed. These careful scholars knew that Pharaoh had not "deed."

Queer Damage Calculation.

That spirit of thrift popularly supposed to pervade New England is amusingly illustrated by the observation of a Connecticut farmer. The good man had been seriously ill in midsummer, but by reason of his strong constitution he quickly rallied. On being asked in the autumn how he was feeling he replied in a cheerful tone:

"Pretty fair, now, thanks. Anyway, it don't make much difference, seem' that the farm's well fixed up. If I'd died in layin' or harvestin' time, I calculate it'd been $50 damage to me."

Then, after a pause, he added:

"Come to think of it, that's too low a figure. Sixty-five dollars would be nearer it!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Radical changes in clothing are seldom safe, at least so the old-time grandmothers held. The putting off of winter underwear was likely to be a gradual and prolonged process. That this belief in deliberate adjustment was widespread and inclusive is shown in W. P. Firth's story of his life. He was engaged in painting a portrait of Mrs. Birt, the wife of a prominent business man, who used to bring her little dog to share her sittings.

Mr. Birt was a great lover of dogs, but he entertained a strong aversion to dog collars, so I was surprised one day when Mrs. Birt brought her favorite dog, Ducky, to see a band around the little animal's neck.

"I thought you objected to dog collars, Mrs. Birt," I said. "I see Ducky sports one today."

"Oh, no, that's not a dog collar," returned the lady. "It's only a piece of flannel. The poor dear has had a dreadful cold and a sore throat. She has worn flannel night and day."

"Surely that is too narrow to do any good. The strip is no wider than a collar."

"Oh, it was wider, of course. We have gradually lessened it. She is leaving it off by degrees."

Canned Foods.

Bright colors should be regarded as a flag of danger in the selection of canned foods, for they invariably indicate artificial coloring. A bright green color, such as is seen in canned peas and beans, indicates the presence of copper or iron. The brilliant red of catchup and canned tomatoes and fruits usually comes from aniline dye.

A bright yellow, such as is found in mustard, extract of lemon and noodles, is also aniline in its origin as a general thing. The abnormally white color of canned corn and other foods indicates bleaching.—What to Eat.

STOMACH TROUBLES

To wrong action of the stomach and impaired digestion a host of diseases owe their origin.

When the food is imperfectly digested the fullness is not derived from it by the body, and then stomach troubles start to appear.

Thus you become thin, weak, nervous and debilitated, energy is lacking, brightness, snap and vigor are lost and in their place come dullness, dizziness, loss of appetite, depression and languor. The great point is to get the stomach back into good shape again so it can properly digest the food, and the easiest, quickest and best way to do it is by the use of

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Miss Lizzie Furlotte, Jaquet River, N.E., writes: "I was very much troubled with my stomach and did not know what to do. I consulted several doctors, got medicine from them, but all to no purpose, and was constantly growing worse. One day I had the good luck to meet with a friend who had been troubled in the same way as myself. My friend told me of the wonderful cure Burdock Blood Bitters had made with her and advised me to try a bottle. I did so, and what a happy change the first bottle made. I took two more and am completely cured, and I shall ever sing the praises of B.B.B."

Price $1.00 per bottle or 6 bottles for $5.00.

SUNDAY REST IN ENGLAND.

Movement to Secure Larger Observance of the Sabbath.

England is moving in the direction of the better observance of Sunday, and it may be said, in fact, that a large part of Europe is tending in this direction. The following mighty words are from that great organ of public opinion, The London Times:

"It is the bare truth to say that the weekly rest is now accepted as an axiom of democracy. Again, whatever may be the grounds on which it is pressed for, universal consent urges that it should be Sunday. This seems natural enough when legislation or custom is guided by a predominantly religious influence, but it is significant that when the repos hebdomadaire was enacted in France last year, though the law was by no means based on Sabbatarian grounds, most of the employees insisted on simultaneous Sunday closing instead of the alternative methods provided by the measure."

The reason, doubtless, is that Sunday's claim is unique and unapproachable, because it gives people, not only special opportunities for religious worship, but also a chance of rest in common instead of rest in isolation. Hence, whether was look at the home, or a wider range of social intercourse, there is no other plan of rest that can compete with it. At the same time, since the ideal of every one resting at once is by no means easy to work out in practice, some people may have to be prepared to take their Sunday rest in rotation.

It is really a new science, which we are only just beginning to learn. The French law, which is struggling with a good deal of prejudice and many practical difficulties, will furnish a valuable starting-point for experience.

That it has taken considerable effect already is plain to any traveler who passes a Sunday in a French town. In this country we have not yet reached the stage of fresh legislation, though the old Act of 1877 with regard to Sunday trading still survives. But the unremitting efforts which Lord Alverstone has been foremost in making cannot long remain without effect, and the favorable report of a joint committee of both Houses of Parliament marks a further definite stage in our recognition of the problem. To call it a problem has become, indeed, misleading. It is no longer a problem, but a received opinion that work—above all, our modern work under high pressure—is impossible for man unless he is allowed at least one day in seven to rest his mind and body."

60,000 MILE WALK.

King Receives Pedestrian Who Has Achieved Adventurous Feat.

Mark All, the champion pedestrian of the world, who started out on August 6, 1900, to walk 60,000 miles in seven years, meanwhile earning his living by the exercise of his trade of working engineer, has completed his appointed task with nearly six months to spare.

His object was to prove that a workman is not, as is often alleged, used up at forty-five. Mark All was born in 1838, and was over sixty when he started on his tramp. He claims to have been in every town in Great Britain.

He has traveled Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Portugal, and Spain. He has twice been through France. He speaks no language but English.

He has had plenty of adventures. He has been five times lost in snow-drifts, he has been struck by lightning, stoned, stabbed, shot at, robbed, and stripped to the skin.

He recently had an interview with King Edward, who, he says, has never refused to receive him, and has always shown him the greatest kindness.

Indian Cannibalism.

Writing in Canada, a special contributor says: Father Arnaud, the Oblat missionary, who is still living, relates that he once met, at Sept Isles, a Nasapee woman who, before conversion to Christianity by Father Duroches, was not only a noted sorcerer of her tribe, but an inveterate cannibal as well. Her first victim was her husband, who had died of hunger and starvation, and she continued to feast until she had devoured three of her children, two of whom had died of starvation, while the third was killed by its unnatural mother. She next raised her hand against a woman of her own tribe, who had herself fed on the dead body of one of her children, and became food in turn for the miserable Veronique, as the wretched woman was called, after her conversion and baptism. It was the horror of the tribe, in fear and trembling, and not her own remorseful conscience, that took Veronique to the missionary. They wanted the fear of the Great Spirit put into her, and the missionary commenced operations by having all her hair cut off and hung on a pole, at the entrance to the Indian cemetery, and kept her on her knees outside the church door during the whole continuance of a mission. Another missionary tells of the murder, during the same year, by another Indian woman, of two entire families, with the exception of one young man. Her victims included two men, two women, three boys and four girls, and she subsisted for some time on their flesh.

Fasting Man's Failure.

Sacco has failed to complete a fifty days' fast at Olympia, in London, England. At the end of the forty-sixth day he was induced to emerge from the cabinet in which he has been confined and to take nourishment. He looked haggard and worn, and his clothes hung loosely upon him.

The greeting between the father and his little son was most affecting. When he commenced Sacco weighed 202 lb., and at the end of the fast 140 pounds. He smoked 1,400 cigarettes and drank 450 bottles of mineral water during the period of his incarceration.

"I was unable to fast the fifty days," he said, "because of the cold, the heavy, smoky atmosphere, and the din and noise of the show."

His first meal consisted of biscuits, a veal cutlet, and some fancy pastry.

PROSPERITY IN THE WEST.

Canada Is One of the Richest Countries in Natural Resources.

Writing in "Canada" recently Mr. William Whyte, who has an intimate knowledge of the Dominion west of Winnipeg, says:—With respect to my views regarding this country at the present time, at the outset I might say that the present exceedingly prosperous conditions prevailing all over Western Canada are but the realization, in part, of the hopes of those who, like myself, came to the country when it was in its infancy, and who had unwavering faith in its resources and possibilities.

Never in the history of the country has Western Canada exhibited such signs of prosperity as it has this year—the crowning of several years of pronounced advancement. The crops have been excellent, the farmers in all communities have made money, resulting in a large increase in business generally.

Happy and Contented.

Above all, the population generally appear to be happy and contented, and this is the strongest evidence I could adduce as to the general prosperity and advancement of the country, because without prosperity the people would be neither happy nor contented.

The development displayed is truly marvellous. The country is thickly settled, and there is not a town on either line that has not at least one or two business streets, well built up—the bustling inhabitants indicating that the streets were there for other than ornamental purposes.

Without Foundation.

Many conflicting reports about Canada have been circulated in the Old Country, some of them rather to the discredit of this country, but they are absolutely without foundation. Such reports could only be originated by idle, shiftless persons not having the ability to adapt themselves to the conditions of a new country, and who, instead of taking things as they found them and endeavoring to make the existing conditions fit their requirements, took the mean course of endeavoring to prejudice the minds of their countrymen at home against Canada.

One of the Richest.

In natural resources, Canada, particularly the western portion of it, is one of the richest countries in the world, and there is plenty of room and opportunity for hundreds of thousands of settlers who are willing to work.

If a man is willing to work hard he need have no fear of not attaining success ultimately. The foremost men of Western Canada to-day are living proofs that what I say in this respect is correct.

HINDOO HEAVENS.

Four Degrees of Bliss to Which the Departed Spirits Pass.

The Hindoos believe in four special abodes of the righteous after death.

The first is called Sara-loka, "God's world," the second, Sameeba, "Near to God," the third, Sarobam, "God's image," and the fourth, Sayutecham, which signifies "to be absorbed in him."

To Sara-loka, the first degree of bliss, go the souls of all of those who have ever made a pilgrimage to a holy place or who have paid for the temple lights for one month. In Sara-loka there is great happiness and no work or sickness. The inmate is allowed to read the five sacred books, drink ambrosia and hear the hours sing.

To Sameeba go the spirits of all Kerikarar, or workers in the Brahman cause; also those who forego the comforts of life, such as sleeping in a recumbent position, eating sufficiently, etc. Their happiness consists chiefly of continually praising God.

To Sarobam, the third heaven, go the souls of such as never spoil God's model by shaving or paring the nails. These are the Brahman Yogis. They wander about the earth, always going from left to right. They eat nothing but nauseous food and live in a constant state of abstraction on divine subjects.

The fourth heaven, Sayutecham, is the coming abode of the "nyane," or philosophers. These nyane pay no attention to heat or cold, never bathe and often go for weeks without food. If they are sick, no one knows it and they themselves. They are the stoics of the world of today and believe that in Sayutecham they will eventually be absorbed in the deity.

TRAINING ANIMALS.

Obedying the Word Regardless of the Tone and Manner.

It is true that animals can be taught to obey a tone alone—that is, a mere sound having no place among the lists of words. So may a human being.

Therefore that proves nothing. It is a tone that controls the word, and the animal may or may not respond to the tone only, but the same effort will produce the same effect on any sensitive child, woman or man.

Again, horses and dogs are the most sensitive of all brutes, the most easily offended, encouraged, discouraged.

Therefore, need one be surprised if he finds it takes a long lesson to teach a horse or dog to obey the word regardless of the tone and manner? That either can be so taught, however, thousands of people know from their own experience.

I can say to my little Gipsy, "Come here and let me whip you," in the quietest, softest, most smiling style, and she comes cringing, trembling and ashamed, showing unmistakably that she considers the word "whip" humiliating and hateful, yet hopes I do not intend to inflict any punishment. Then I can frown my worst and shout out as savagely as I please, "No; you're a good dog!" and she frisks about joyfully, although she dislikes harsh tones even in sport.—Forest and Stream.

Cleaning Brass.

Here is the government recipe for cleaning brass. It is used in all the United States arsenals and is said to be the best in the world. This is the recipe: One part of common nitric acid to half a part of sulphuric acid. Keep the mixture in a stone jar, having ready a painful of fresh water and a boxful of sawdust. Articles to be cleaned must first be dipped in the acid mixture, then into the water and dried with sawdust. This process of cleaning will change the brass immediately to a brilliant color. If the metal is greasy—as candlesticks would be—dip first in a strong solution of potash and soda, in warm water. This cuts the grease and permits the acid to work. This method of cleaning brass is entirely harmless and is very satisfactory.

Nicknames.

"It's funny how a nickname, given to one during one's boyhood, will stick to one throughout a lifetime," said a man recently. "The variety of nicknames is also amusing. If I were asked to explain the conditions, I should say that it was because of the real names and just substituted others to suit themselves. For instance, a boy comes to school with a lengthy name that a fond mother has given him with no doubt in the world that he will bear it all his life. Usually her fond hopes are shattered and the little 'dear' will come home from school the proud possessor of such a 'hang-on' as Tip, Rip, Bull or Buck. And it sticks too."

A Powerful Salve.

A man in Nebraska invented a new powerful double acting salve which shows powers never before exhibited by salves of any kind. The inventor accidentally cut off the tail of a tame wolf, and, immediately applying some of the salve to the stump, a new tail grew out. Then, picking up the old tail, he applied some of the salve to the raw end of that, and a wolf grew out, but he was a wild wolf and had to be shot.

The Emerald Isle.

Ireland is called the Emerald Isle because of the richness of its verdure, the term being first used by Dr. William Drennan, the author of "Glendal-loch" and other poems, published in the latter part of the eighteenth century.

Spectator Killed in French Riot.

Nantes, France, March 18.—The strike of the steevedores of this port resulted yesterday in violent rioting, in the course of which a spectator was shot dead.

A mob stoned the gendarmes and police, who were forced to disperse the crowd with drawn sabres.

Edmonton Bulletin Burned Out.

Edmonton, Alta., March 18.—The plant of The Edmonton Bulletin, a paper owned and started by Hon.
Frank Oliver, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday night, entailing a loss of $50,000, which there is insurance of $34,000.

Between the ages of fifteen and forty-five, the time when womanhood begins and motherhood ends, it is estimated that the aggregate term of woman's suffering is ten years. Ten years out of thirty! One-third of the best part of a woman's life sacrificed! Think of the enormous loss of time! But time is not all that is lost. Those years of suffering steal the bloom from the cheeks, the brightness from the eyes, the fairness from the form. They write their record in many a crease and wrinkle. What a boon, then, to woman is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It promotes perfect regularity, dries up debilitating drains, heals ulcerations, cures female weakness, and establishes the delicate womanly organs in vigorous and permanent health. No other medicine can do for woman what is done by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Australi's Sympathy.

London, March 18.—(C. A. P.)—Lord Northcote, Governor-General, has telegraphed the French Government, through Lord Elgin, an expression of sympathy from the Australian Government on the lens disaster.

Revolution in Venezuela.

Willemstad, Caracas, March 18.—A despatch received here from Cuenca, Columbia, announces that a powerful revolution has started in the State of Tachira, Venezuela, with Gen. Juan Pablo Pantoja as its leader.

Negro Wins Scholarship.

Philadelphia, March 18.—A bright-looking little colored man, with the impressive name of Alain Le Roy Locke, is the first negro to win a Rhodes scholarship. Locke is a senior in Harvard University. He won the honors, and studies him to study at Oxford at a competitive examination held at Boston and was one of seven aspirants who passed.

The conditions under which the scholarship was given included a provision that neither race nor color should bar a candidate; that merit alone should count.

Lost in Blizzard.

Prince Albert, Sask., March 18.—
While driving from Kinstinow with a cousin for Patrick McGovern, formerly of Orillia, who hanged himself at the home of Charles Brady, twelve miles from the town, Patrick Murphy was thrown from his sleigh, his horses running away.

He got lost in a blizzard, and was found by two commercial travelers Saturday. Both his feet were frozen and may have to be amputated.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Man wants but little here below, but he wants it triple extract and on a gold silver.

There are plenty of people who want to practice ill manners and be thought polite.

Soap is no sign of intellect, but nevertheless where soap is at a discount intelligence is apt to be below par.

Ever notice how your sense of duty gets a homesome feeling?

The reason why most boys aren't train robbers is because the train looks to big.

Anyway, the woman who forgets to put on her complexion doesn't look so bad as the one who forgets to put on her teeth.

Nothing is easier than being a fool and nothing foolisher than being easy.

A good brand of honesty would be hard put to it to find a competent judge of its genuineness.

As a general thing, people who are dead wrong always know that they are right.

You can't insult a man who places a dollar above self respect.

The Latest.

We do not say "He's in the soup"
When trying to make clear
The fact that some one's down a peg
Or slightly out of gear.

We say, in trying to make clear
That one is in disgrace,
"They handed him a lemon,"
And that explains the case.

No longer do we cry aloud,
"He got it in the neck,"
When some unfortunate receives
A most decided check.

We say, in setting forth the fact That some one's cake is dough,
"They handed him a lemon,"
And all the wise ones know.

It isn't fair today to say
Of some unlucky chump,
"They hoisted him on rollers," and
They wheeled him to the dump.

The language has been simplified,
And so we can explain,
"They handed him a lemon,"
That makes his status plain.

That he has been to mince meat ground,
Run through the rolling mill,
Or given the kibosh does not now
The full description fill.

We smile and quietly observe
When he is crushed down flat,
"They handed him a lemon,"
And let it go at that.

on Rex Flintkote roofing. Fire generally spreads because of flying sparks, embers or blazing brands landing on shingle or tar roofs which quickly catch. This is the common cause of most country fires, and farm buildings not properly protected, quickly burn down. REX FLINTKOTE absolutely protects the building against danger from such sources. Without claiming it to be non-inflammable (for if lighted on the cut edge it will slowly burn), we do claim that when laid, its fire-proof surface will give positive protection—there being no cut edges exposed. WALTER ELLIOT CHOSEN

It is altogether likely that Walter Elliot, Chatham's fast defense lacrosse man, will occupy a position on the lacrosse team which is now being made up in Orillia, to tour Australia and England. Mr. Miller, of Orillia, received a cablegram a few days ago to the effect that the promoters of the tour in Australia have raised the necessary money for the trip, and all that now remains is for the Canadian team to come along and play.

Among the men spoken of for the All-Canadian team are, Curran of Orillia, Murton of the Tecumsehs, McDonough, of Beaverton, Raymore of Fergus, Gilbert of Toronto Junction, Kearns of Arthur, Rose of Orillia, Bill Hanley of Orillia, Reddy Hinds of Orillia, Grace of Winnipeg, formerly of this city, and Elliot of Chatham.

If the trip is decided upon, an attempt will be made to arrange games through the Northwest and finally in England. Elliot's place on the team is assured, if he can make the necessary arrangements for the Bank for a leave of absence. Chatham is honored in having a man chosen from this city to show the Australians how to play our national game.

ANOTHER FOR THE WEST

Another Chatham resident leaves for the west this week to seek his fortunes, in the person of Thomas Taylor, who is well known here as a first class butcher. Mr. Taylor leaves on Thursday for Prince Albert, Sask., and his many friends wish for him every health and prosperity in his new western home.

Mr. Taylor is one of Chatham's own boys, being born on the Market Square. He comes from one of Chatham's oldest and most esteemed families. He is now in the prime of life, and enjoys the reputation of being one of the city's most respected men. He is the type of man who should do well in the west, and in choosing Prince Albert as his destination, he has decided upon a western town is sure to go ahead, and offer unexcelled opportunities for men like Mr. Taylor, who are industrious and wide-awake.
