Very Cordial Message of Farewell From the Duke of Connaught

H.R.H. ENJOYED HIS STAY IN NFLD.

Says He Was Really Disappointed At Not Getting To Northern Towns

The Governor desires to convey to all in Newfoundland a very cordial message of farewell from the Duke of Connaught.

Real Disappointment The one real disappointment to His Royal Highness in the whole trip was his not having been able to land at Bonavista and Trinity.

Unqualified Success The visit of the Duke of Connaught to our shores was an unqualified success.

It is impossible personally to thank all those who in their several capacities joined in making this Royal visit a memorable occasion.

PANAMA CANAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR TRAFFIC International Mercantile Marine Co. Will Use Big Waterway

SETTLEMENT OF HOME RULE AND FINANCE Will Loosen Up International Purse Strings and make £840,000,000 Available

LONDON, July 15.—Immediately the Irish question is settled amicably there is every prospect of a big recovery in the world of finance which will equal the rubber boom, declares a well-known London firm of financiers.

PRES. WILSON IN POOR HEALTH Washington, July 16.—President Wilson is suffering from an attack of indigestion; and has been compelled to cancel all engagements.

IF ARBITRATION FAILS, 55,000 WILL STRIKE

Engineers and Firemen On Western Railroads Want More Wages

WILL TIE UP ROADS IF NOT SATISFIED

Strike Would Result In The Disorganisation Of The Trade

Chicago, July 15.—Representatives of 55,000 engineers and firemen on 18 Western railroads yesterday declared they would not accept arbitration of their wage differences under the Ordman Act but would continue negotiations with the employers.

The threatened strike of engineers and firemen on ninety-eight Western railroads is still in the balance; further conferences will be held, should negotiations fail and the employers stand by their announcement.

Refusal of arbitration resulting in a strike would directly affect 55,000 engineers and firemen and indirectly a much larger number of workers.

FRENCH USE AEROPLANES AGAINST MOORS

Aviators Spy Out Enemy's Stronghold and Destroy It With Bombs

DEADLY EXECUTION AMONGST TRIBESMEN

Maps Made From Observations of Airmen Led to Many Captures

Paris, July 16.—How two military aeroplanes destroyed with bombs the mountain stronghold of the Riat tribesmen in the Taza region of Morocco is described in despatches received here.

The attacking parties carried four bombs. They discovered the hiding place, and dropped the bombs with such precision that the camp was destroyed, and many of the tribesmen were killed.

The aviators made maps, showing the position of the enemy, which enabled General Gouraud to round up those natives who had escaped death by the bombs.

U.S. MIDSHIPMEN HAVE GOOD TIME

Received In London By Churchill, First Lord of The Admiralty

LONDON, July 15.—Winston Churchill, First Lord of the British Admiralty, held a reception in the House of Commons to-day for a contingent of midshipmen from the U.S. battle ship Missouri.

He conversed with them for a long time, showing great interest in American methods of training and life afloat and in return he told his young visitors all they wanted to know about the British Naval cadets.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The United States Government to-day instructed the American consul Saltillo to inform Carranza that if he arrived at a peaceful agreement with the Carranza Government for the transfer of powers at Mexico City, recognition would be extended to the resultant administration.

Should Carranza refuse a complete settlement of the internal conflict by diplomatic means, and insist on a forcible entry into Mexico City, recognition would be deferred until there is a legal election.

American forces according to present plans will not be withdrawn from Vera Cruz, until the government is recognized. This determination has been reached by Wilson and Bryan, after the view point of the South American mediators had been laid before them.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The news of Huerta's resignation was hailed by officials at Washington as the first practical step toward the quick solution of the Mexican problem.

Washington, July 17.—Carranza, successor to Huerta, as Provisional President of Mexico, yesterday advised informally that he intended to retire in favor of General Carranza.

Carranza wishes only that a general amnesty be proclaimed. A message from the State Department instructed him to urge upon Carranza the belief of U. S. that further fighting was useless on account of the willingness of the Carranza Government to surrender its power.

Carranza will be urged also to give a guarantee for the protection of the lives and property of those who had supported Huerta.

Mr. Silliman counselled likewise against the execution of prisoners or any other atrocities which spite or revenge might suggest to the conquering army.

The United States makes its position clear with respect to the recognition, under the terms of a protocol signed at Niagara Falls, which will be extended to a Government resulting from an agreement between the two Mexican factions.

Now Affairs of Mexico Are In The International Limelight Once More

CHEERED HUERTA AS HE RESIGNED

Stormy Petrel of Mexican Politics Hands Over The Reins

Mexico City, July 15.—Victoriano Huerta presented his resignation as President of the Republic to the Chamber of Deputies this evening through the Department of Foreign Relations.

Deputies and spectators who filled the galleries shouted "Viva Huerta." The committee will report back to the Chamber and the question whether his resignation will be accepted will be then decided.

NEW PRESIDENT TAKES THE OATH

Carbajal Sworn in as Successor to Huerta—Provisional President

Mexico City, July 16.—At 7.20 last evening Francisco Carbajal took the oath as Provisional President of Mexico before the assembled Deputies and Senators.

The new Executive was escorted by Presidential guards and went immediately to the Palace.

He was cheered by the people.

HUERTA CABINET ALL RESIGNED

Mexico City, July 15.—All the members of the Huerta Cabinet have tendered their resignations.

POPULATION TAKE IT COOLLY

Change of Government Leads to Little Trouble In Mexico City

Mexico City, July 16.—The change of Government where General Huerta has turned over the provisional presidency to Francisco Carbajal, was calmly received by the populace.

Beside the demonstration made in honor of Carbajal, when he was leaving the Chamber of Deputies, after taking the oath, no other outbursts of importance occurred.

There were a few shouts in the streets of "Down with Huerta," but the police promptly stopped all such demonstrations.

Huerta, who remained in the capital for some hours after his resignation, is in flight and probably on his way to Puerto Mexico to join his family and friends who left for that port yesterday.

U.S. GOVERNMENT AND CARRANZA

Constitutionalist Leader Is Told He Must Behave Himself

Washington, July 16.—The United States Government to-day instructed the American consul Saltillo to inform Carranza that if he arrived at a peaceful agreement with the Carranza Government for the transfer of powers at Mexico City, recognition would be extended to the resultant administration.

Should Carranza refuse a complete settlement of the internal conflict by diplomatic means, and insist on a forcible entry into Mexico City, recognition would be deferred until there is a legal election.

American forces according to present plans will not be withdrawn from Vera Cruz, until the government is recognized. This determination has been reached by Wilson and Bryan, after the view point of the South American mediators had been laid before them.

Washington, July 16.—The news of Huerta's resignation was hailed by officials at Washington as the first practical step toward the quick solution of the Mexican problem.

Washington, July 17.—Carranza, successor to Huerta, as Provisional President of Mexico, yesterday advised informally that he intended to retire in favor of General Carranza.

Carranza wishes only that a general amnesty be proclaimed. A message from the State Department instructed him to urge upon Carranza the belief of U. S. that further fighting was useless on account of the willingness of the Carranza Government to surrender its power.

Carranza will be urged also to give a guarantee for the protection of the lives and property of those who had supported Huerta.

CARRANZA SEES CONSUMMATION OF HIS LABORS

Carbajal Expresses His Willingness To Resign For Constitutionalist

BUT MAKES ONE DEMAND ON HIM

Wants General Amnesty Proclaimed For Huerta Supporters

Washington, July 17.—Carranza, successor to Huerta, as Provisional President of Mexico, yesterday advised informally that he intended to retire in favor of General Carranza.

Carranza wishes only that a general amnesty be proclaimed. A message from the State Department instructed him to urge upon Carranza the belief of U. S. that further fighting was useless on account of the willingness of the Carranza Government to surrender its power.

Carranza will be urged also to give a guarantee for the protection of the lives and property of those who had supported Huerta.

FIND REFUGE ON THE BRITISH CRUISER BRISTOL

Huerta's Wife and Sons Are Now Safe Under the Union Jack

GERMAN WARSHIP ALSO ON THE SPOT

And Will Protect Any Refugees From Mexico City Requiring Assistance

Puerto, Mexico, July 16.—Senora Huerta, wife of ex-Pres. Huerta, with her two sons and their wives and two unmarried daughters and Senora Blanquet, wife of the War Minister, and other distinguished refugees arrived here by a special train this morning.

The women of the party boarded the British cruiser Bristol shortly before noon and should there be the least evidence of a disturbance, something which now seems remote, the men of the party also will be quartered either on the British cruiser Bristol or the German cruiser Dresden.

The railway yards were filled with soldiers when the train arrived. Preceding the special was a military train with troops and another military train guarded the special from the rear. Along side the track the Mexican ship Zeragoza has taken up a position in the river. A short distance out is the cruiser Bristol which had arrived a few hours previous.

Beyond the Bristol is the German cruiser Dresden which came into the river to be present just before the arrival of the trains.

It is announced here unofficially that another British and German vessel will play their parts in the removal from Mexico of the Huerta and Blanquet families.

The arrival of the ex-President and ex-War Minister is looked for to-morrow morning. It is expected they will ask the Dresden and Bristol to carry the refugees to some neutral port where they can transfer to regular steamers for Europe.

WASHINGTON WAS DELIGHTED

Over the News That Huerta Has Resigned And Is To Leave Mexico

Washington, July 16.—The news of Huerta's resignation was hailed by officials at Washington as the first practical step toward the quick solution of the Mexican problem.

Washington, July 17.—Carranza, successor to Huerta, as Provisional President of Mexico, yesterday advised informally that he intended to retire in favor of General Carranza.

Carranza wishes only that a general amnesty be proclaimed. A message from the State Department instructed him to urge upon Carranza the belief of U. S. that further fighting was useless on account of the willingness of the Carranza Government to surrender its power.

TWO MILITANTS USE HORSEWHIP ON A MINISTER

Made a Rough-House Assault on State Secretary For Scotland

BOTH ARRESTED AFTER BIG TUSSLE

And Tore Up Things Generally When Taken To Police Court

LONDON, July 15.—Two militant suffragettes to-day made a violent attack on the Right Hon. Thomas McKinnon Wood, Secretary of State for Scotland. The women were both armed with heavy horsewhips with which they struck Secretary Wood several times across the shoulders.

Both were arrested.

Hard to Handle LONDON, July 16.—It required half a dozen policemen for the removal from Marlborough Street Police Court of two kicking, clawing, screaming militant suffragettes, who earlier in the day had attempted to horsewhip the Secretary of State for Scotland.

Only for the timely intervention of his butler it is very probable the Secretary would have been soundly thrashed. The militant lashed him across the chest but before she could deliver a second cut, the butler seized her and threw her sprawling to the ground, leaving him free to tackle the second woman, who was shouting "Let me get at the Scotch pig."

She made a rush with her whip at the Secretary and was still struggling in the butler's grasp when the police arrived and bundled both women to the police station.

In the court the women who gave the names of Janette Wallace and Bertha Watson, were fined twenty shillings each. They refused to pay and were sent to jail for fourteen days.

GARRISON WAS ANNIHILATED

Federal Regulars Capture A Constitutionalist Stronghold

COLUMBUS, New Mexico, July 16.—The annihilation to-day of the Constitutionalist garrison at Palomas Chihuahua by the Federal regulars broke the peace of Northern Mexico and revived the reports of counter revolutions in the Republic.

Three hundred Guerrillas under General Poque Gomez attacked the little border town in the view of troops of the United States army patrol.

Every man of the village garrison was killed, it is reported.

GENERAL VILLA'S HEARTY WISHES

Wanted Huerta to Remain For an Intimate Personal Interview

Juarez, July 15.—"I would much prefer that Huerta had remained in the Presidential chair or in Mexico City until we could get our hands on him" General Villa said to-day in Juarez when he learned of Huerta's resignation, "that is the only comment I care to make on the subject."

He added: "I am a soldier of my country and do not care to express my opinion of the traitor's resignation."

FIGHTING NOW ABOUT OVER

Carranza Anxious To See The End of Bloodshed In Mexico

Monterey, Mexico, July 16.—Fighting by the Constitutionlists is over in Mexico if the plans announced here to-day by Carranza go into effect. General Carranza declared his main object now would be to conduct negotiations for the Constitutionlists to enter Mexico City and to establish their government without further bloodshed or damage to property.

RUSSIAN CZAR'S NARROW ESCAPE FROM NIHILIST

Plot Formed to Assassinate Him While Visiting Odessa

DISCOVERY OF BOX CONTAINING BOMBS

Which were To Be Thrown At Czar As He Passed Through Streets

St. Petersburg, July 15.—Details of a plot to assassinate the Czar and his family at Odessa have been published here.

A well dressed, well mannered stranger arrived at a leading hotel on the eve of the Czar's visit. Next morning, before the Czar was expected to reach the hotel, he took up his stand at the hotel entrance. He was arrested, but nothing suspicious was found in his baggage and he was about to be released when a waiter told the detectives the stranger, immediately after his arrival gave him a box to keep on ice, saying it contained food.

The box on being opened was found to contain two loaded bombs. The man confessed he had been sent by the Revolutionary committee and intended to throw the bombs at the Czar as His Majesty passed through the streets.

NATIONALISTS GET $100,000 IN AMERICA

Richmond, N.Y., July 17.—American and friends of Ireland from all parts of the United States and Canada attended a meeting of Financial Directors here at which $100,000 were subscribed for the Irish Volunteer Fund for use in the movement led by Redmond in the Irish Parliamentary party.

BAND CONCERT IN THE PARK

Was Most Enjoyable—Thousands Were Present to Hear the Music

The largest gathering ever at a concert at Bannerman Park attended last evening to hear the band of H.M.S. Essex. The programme included such popular selections as: March—Entry of the Gladiators. Valse—Toreador.

The music was soft and sweet, and the band master, Mr. G. Hopkins, and his assistants, were loudly praised. City Commissioners Gosling, Harris, Withers, Anderson and Jackman were present.

Refreshments consisting of lemonade, etc., were served in the park house under the direction of Mr. J. P. Grace, whose ability in matters of such kind it is impossible to surpass. Citizens were delighted with the music, but the pleasure of the evening was marred considerably by the small boy and his fireworks.

PROGRESSIVE GRAND FALLS HAD VER Y JOLLY WEEK END

Great Celebrations in Honor of Visit of H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught

Saturday, July 11th, was observed as a general holiday in Grand Falls in honour of the visit of H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught.

The beautiful weather that had prevailed for ten days previously still continued, and no more ideal day could be imagined.

The great influx of visitors put accommodation at a premium, and added quite perceptibly to the resident population, and all alike turned out in the true "old fashion" holiday spirit to do honour to the Royal Visitor expected in the afternoon.

Bunting Displayed.

On all sides could be seen great displays of bunting; scarcely a house but boasted flags of all kinds, and the constantly passing groups, plentifully sprinkled with bright hued costumes of the ladies, flags gaily streaming and flapping in the breeze, all against a background of blue sky and fresh green trees, formed a scene that would not soon be forgotten, and certainly was a becoming signification of the loyalty and welcome that awaited the Duke.

The L.O.A. held in the forenoon a monster parade, the ranks of which were considerably swelled by brethren from surrounding villages.

Band on the Job.

The Salvation Army band was in attendance and enlivened their progress with very appropriate selections, adding not a little to the effect and success of the affair.

A very interesting cricket match was played at 10 a.m., at which a large number of spectators were present.

In the early afternoon was a baseball match between married and single, which drew a much larger crowd and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Both players and spectators carried on lively bits of chaff, and often "gems" of repartee delighted the "non-combatants", all given and taken in the utmost good humour and increasing immensely the success of the evening.

At four o'clock, standard time, the big mill whistle announced the approach of the Royal train, and the entire population repaired to the Paper Storage Building, in front of which a platform has been erected. Here in a square enclosure, which was magnificently bedecked with the standards of all nations, in the centre practically of Grand Falls, with the mills to the west and the town to the east, the young and the old awaited the arrival.

Heartiest cheering greeted the appearance of the train around the curve, and when H.R.H. appeared on the platform the solemn and beautiful strains of the National Anthem accompanied by the G. F. Band arose from the assembled throng. H. R. H. the Duke, then thanked the people for their enthusiastic welcome, and for the splendid decorations, and proceeded tion looked as if it were suspended from the skies. H.R.H. was particularly pleased with this thing, and remarked that it was the first time he had seen the combination of his initial and the coronet displayed to such a great effect.

At Divine Service. Sunday morning, the Royal guest and party attended divine service in the Church of England here, at which the sermon was preached by His Lordship Bishop Jones.

At five o'clock, the train departed for Botwood, and brought to an end what was, according to his own statement, one of the most interesting episodes of H.R.H.'s present tour.

His admiration was excited by the ideal sight of the mills and the town, the healthy and beautiful environment, the practical and well designed town with its comfortable dwellings, and every modern accessory to comfort and happiness. He commented on the happy appearance of the community and the general air of prosperity everywhere so apparent and the whole-souled enthusiasm that imbued their life.

There is no doubt that his visit to Grand Falls was to him a revelation of what can be accomplished in a few short years in what was formerly a wilderness; the excellence of the organized plan on which things are worked, and the great progress that had been made in such a short space of time was a source of astonishment which he graciously returned as a compliment.

He was particularly impressed with the evident sincerity of the welcome accorded, and the manifestations of delight and loyalty on the part of all, and we hope will bring with him pleasant memories of his short visit to Grand Falls, the pioneer town of the interior.

ST. JOHN'S, N.F.L.D., JULY 17, 1914

THE PARTING GUEST.

H. R.H. the Duke of Connaught has left for Quebec to conclude his term as Governor-General of Canada.

We feel sure that he thoroughly enjoyed his visit to Newfoundland and that he was favourably impressed by the very evident anxiety of all classes here to do him the honour due to his high rank and official position and to make him feel that here he was thoroughly at home in a loyal Dominion of the Great British Empire.

It is very pleasant to have His Royal Highness tell us that he found his "Newfoundland Welcome" a whole-hearted one.

This Old Colony was highly honored by the presence of a scion of royalty and is thoroughly appreciative of the thoughtfulness which prompted the visit.

The official classes and the general public grew, too, to appreciate the man and H. R. H. has our hearty good wishes for peace and happiness in the future, wherever his lot may be cast.

THE OTHER SIDE

TO-Day we publish a letter from W. H. Bartlett, a resident of this city and a member of the Game Board, on whose conduct certain American sportsmen, fishing on the West Coast, recently cast reflections in a letter published in this paper.

We are very glad indeed to give publicity to Mr. Bartlett's version of the affair and are only sorry that we did not know beforehand that it was this well-known and much-respected citizen who was referred to.

Probably there is a great deal in what Mr. Bartlett says about certain good fishing pools becoming, to all intents and purposes preserves for visiting sportsmen and this is the last thing in the world that Newfoundland would desire.

Meanwhile, we have sufficient knowledge of Mr. Bartlett and sufficient faith in him to believe that he acted as a gentleman throughout the unpleasant affair in which he unwillingly got mixed up.

IS IT PEACE?

SO HUERTA, the storm centre of Mexico, has at last eliminated himself from the vexed problem. The United States Government seems to breathe more freely now that this obstacle to peace has been removed and but one strong man is left in the field.

Carbajal has been sworn in as Provisional President and has signified his willingness to resign in favor of Carranza, the Constitutionalist Chief, as soon as the latter agrees to let bygones be bygones and proclaims a general amnesty covering the lives and property of those who supported Huerta.

This reasonable and eminently merciful demand is being backed up by the United States and there is little doubt that Carranza will accede to it, even if solely to get the reins of power in his own hands.

But will Carranza keep any such agreement? Can he keep it, no matter how desirable he may be of acting honourably? We doubt his ability in this respect very much.

Villa, too, during the campaign, has not shown himself by any means squeamish about breaking laws written and unwritten. To him may justly be ascribed all the outrages committed by the Constitutionalist forces.

His followers and those of Carranza as well are not likely to agree to any conclusion to the war unless it results in material gain to themselves. And they would be very little in pocket if a general amnesty is proclaimed and adhered to.

Then there are considerations of spite, hatred and revenge which count for a great deal with the majority of these men.

Is the class of soldier serving under Villa and Carranza likely to forego the gratification of feelings such as these?

Hardly—especially when they have such a leader as Villa ready to hand. So, while there is a bit of a lull in Mexican hostilities the end, evidently is not yet.

TO THE EDITOR

MR. BARTLETT'S SIDE

(Editor Mail and Advocate)
Dear Sir,—A letter appeared in The Mail and Advocate of July 9th under the heading of "Warden's Queer Conduct," referring to "Bartlett," which I presume means the undersigned. Now, Mr. Editor, this is the first intimation of my being a Warden. Quoting a portion of the letter—"Mr. Bartlett of the Board and his wife put in an appearance one day last year about the middle of June at our camp and he pitched his tent on our land, directly beside our camp."

Now, Sir, that is not true, the facts are: I sent to Warden Delaney my camp several days ahead, having previously engaged to look after them, and had been informed that the party who had camped there the previous years had died, and that the place would be vacant.

Not Where Ordered
When we arrived we found our camp was erected, not where the Warden intended to place it, but having acted on Mildeberg's advice put it near his own.

We further quote: "When he first arrived he said it was late, and they could not make their tent comfortable so one of our party gave up his bed to them, and slept on the floor."

Now in answer to above we have to say, that our own camp was quite comfortable, fire having been lighted, etc., but Mr. Mildeberg, having previously introduced himself on our arrival, and invited us to his camp for the night, which offer we accepted.

He also says: "After they had been there several days, Bartlett had fished the pool all the time."

Not True to Fact
In the first place I was there two days before wetting a line, as my time was employed erecting another camp, and fixing up generally. I fished the third day, and on the fourth I was accosted by Mr. Mildeberg who asked if I intended to fish there, my reply was, "What do you think I came from St. John's for?" He then told me to remove my camp off his land, using very unbecoming language for a supposed gentleman. I thanked him, and asked for a copy of his boundary, which he failed to show.

That evening I removed my camp to the Government Reserve on the river bank, where any person has the right to fish. Now he says I have come to this pool again this year. My reason for this is, that I consider there is plenty of room, as the pool extends for 700 yards within fishing on both sides, and other large pools nearby.

He refers to me as being unports-

LOG OF THE "F.P.U."

Pres. Coaker's Story Of His Trip To The North

July 11th (continued)—Visited Port Rexton in the afternoon. Place decorated with bunting, and was received with musketry.

Inspected store, which is doing a very fair business and is well stocked with general merchandise. Met most of the men at home.

Left at 7 p.m. for Catalina but meeting fog and west wind we hared off at Northern Cove. Cr. King of Bonaventure awaited us at Port Rexton to have his engine adjusted.

Port Rexton is a strong Union settlement.

Fishery here a blank to date, some traps have not taken one quintal of sh. while more trap crgws has five quintals. Hook and line men can't average one quintal. Champney and English Hr., situated near Port Rexton, erecting a large Union building which I hope to inspect upon our return trip.

Three-fourths of the men at Port Rexton prosecute the Labrador codfishery in floaters, consequently very few are at home at this time of the year. The fishery in Trinity Bay is about as poor as it ever was, we doubt whether the catch to date for the whole Bay amounts to 1000 qts. Anchored for the night at the end of the Island and spent a comfortable night sheltered from the east lake outside.

The water was rough enough crossing the Bay to make Rideout—a passenger from St. John's to Newtown—a sick and he is a fairly good sailor.

From Catalina to Keel's fishery is almost a blank, the fishermen claim it was never worse. At Keel's— which is a noted fishing place—some boats have not taken one quintal. At Bonavista it could not be worse.

The Duke of Connaught was due at Bonavista when we passed. He had a disagreeable day to arrive from St. John's as East and South wind always bring misty foggy weather and was unfortunate in having such a day to pass across our Northern Bays. Beside the fishermen North Bay is in poor humor for receptions to all officials of the Crown or Royal visitors as when fish is scarce everyone has a long face.

Catalina, July 12th—Spent Sunday at Catalina. Attended service at the Methodist Church to hear farewell sermon of Rev. Mr. Hellier.

Catalina, July 13th—Left early. Wind south, a gale. Splendid time round the Cape. Passed a number of fishing boats who saluted us as we passed. Spoke to some Bonavista men. As we passed Bonavista some friends fired musketry.

Arrived at Keel's about 11 a.m. Wind increasing and veering east with rain. Inspected store; had long hat with people. Took dinner with chairman Hobbs.

Keel's more determined than ever to uphold F.P.U. Place decorated with bunting and much musketry. Left at 2 p.m. for other side of Bay.

nanlike, but doesn't say how. One thing he cannot say, that I have my hook and guide whipping the pool, regardless of Sundays.

I am not the only one that had trouble with Mildeberg. I wonder if he remembers his actions when fishing on the Grey River, having in the end to apologize to a certain gentleman, who I might say, is not a native.

It might be well to state that Mr. Mildeberg is known by visiting sportsmen and others on the West Coast, not wishing if possible to monopolize, any river that he happens to be fishing on.

I would like to ask the Editor if we, in Newfoundland, are supposed to give up our whole right of fishing to visiting sportsmen.

—W. H. BARTLETT.

GRAND FALLS ORANGEMEN CELEBRATE

Society Had an Excellent
Turnout and a Splendid Time

Grand Falls, July 13.—The L. O. Association of this place celebrated on the 11th, Saturday. The day was all that could be desired, it being quite cool until the last twenty minutes of the parade, when the clouds rolled away and the sun shone forth in all its splendour. It was a splendid gathering of L. O. brethren. Some came from Lewisporte, Norris Arm, Botwood and Bishop's Falls. There were, I am informed, over 300 brethren, including about 20 L. O. Y. Britoners which looked fine, as they led in the procession. The Black Knight of the Order bringing up the rear.

Creditable Chaiour

The order and behaviour of this body of men throughout the march would do credit to a church meeting. The S. A. Band was in attendance throughout the whole day, thus rendering some very popular selections. Time of marching, two hours; distance covered about five miles.

The Lodge had provided dinner and tea for all the brethren at 40c. per dinner and 20c. for tea. A speciall $200.00 was needed. I think they realized $260.00.

This was a voluntary subscription by the brethren, a kind of a jack-pot. The result, $260.00, with the odd to pay for drinks, cigars and fruit sold. Unity is strength. Let this be our loyal aim and all will be well.

Worked Hard

And next is our good ladies which love the heat of the burden throughout the whole day, to provide food for four or five hundred people. It is surprising; but they did it without a murmur or a grumble. You could hardly believe that you could put twenty-two ladies in a space of 30x8 with a big cooking stove going all the time, everything steaming and no combustion. I wish them all one hearty vote of thanks and good cheer. Marshall Lear did yeoman service and stood to his post, giving attention to all requiring his services.

Boy Scouts

Next the Boy Scouts headed by friend Blackall started for Botwood where they served as guard of honor on arrival of H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught.

After H.R.H. landed the officers of H.M.S. Essex were asked to present the boys in uniform on board and show them through the ship, which was a delight to the boys with lots of questioning from them.

The Duke arrived here at 6 p.m. The L. O. Association met him and paraded past on to their Lodge room, when games were indulged in until closing time, 11 p.m. Speeches by the Worthy Master, Hickman, Carter, Simmonds, Knight, Tilley and others bringing one of the best affairs of its kind ever carried out in this country.

The committee deserves great praise for their untiring efforts and the splendid way in which it was carried out.

WANTS MONEY TO CREATE A REVOLUTION

Things Are Worse Under The Republic Than They Were Before

Honolulu, July 10.—En route to the United States and Europe to stir up interest in revolutionary movements in Cing Hwang Hsing, minister of war in Dr. Sun Yat Sen's revolutionary cabinet, has arrived in Hawaii with two members of Dr. Sen's military staff and a secretary. An enthusiastic mass meeting of Chinese welcomed them.

Howang Hsing said in an interview: "The purpose of our trip is to lay before the world the exact facts as to conditions in China, which are worse under Yuan Shi Kai than they were under the Manchuri rule. The populace of China is ready to overthrow the present government, but the money necessary to such a movement is lacking."

ENTIRE FAMILY WAS WIPED OUT

By a Drowning Accident Which Occurred Near
Brantford Recently

Brantford, Ont., July 10.—Almost an entire family was wiped out at Onondaga, ten miles from here last night by the springing of a leak in their rowboat. Thomas Garnet, his two children, Mansell, aged eight and Leona, aged six, and a friend, Myrtle Reid, of Brantford, were drowned, the only one of the party not perishing being the hired man, a foreigner, named Thomas, his last name not being known.

Thomas was in swimming and had reached midstream when the boat sank, having sprung a leak.

Thomas tried to effect a rescue but failed, being himself exhausted by his efforts and narrowly escaped drowning. Only the wife and one son are left of the family.

THE SUFFRAGETTES

A correspondent, who has evidently suffered from the outbreaks of the "wild women," writes as follows to a London paper. In the light of the recent achievements of the Militant Suffragists, crowned by what happened to-day (Sunday), the following verses (five to nine) from Psalm 74, appointed for the 14th day of the month at evensong, have striking appropriateness:

"Thine adversaries roar in the midst of Thy congregations; and set up their banners for tokens.

"He that hewed timber afore out of the thick trees was known to bring it to an excellent work.

"But now they break down all the carved work thereof with axes and hammers.

"They have set fire upon Thy holy places, and have defiled the dwelling-places of Thy Name, even unto the ground.

"Yea, they said in their hearts. Let us make havoc of them altogether; thus have they burnt up all the Houses of God in the land."

years old was sentenced to death for the murder of her husband.

She excused herself by alleging a love affair on the part of her husband with another woman.

The jury strongly recommended the woman to mercy, and it is unlikely that the sentence will be carried into effect.

Sensational Profits In Fox Farming

In Prince Edward Island, millions of dollars have been added to the wealth of the people, through the fox-breeding industry.

Three years ago there was not one resident of the Island whose entire possessions reached half a million dollars. Now several fox-breeders are in that class, whilst two at least have passed the million dollar mark.

Others have incomes from $10,000 to $20,000 per year from their fox investments, and thousands of small shareholders are receiving from 25 p.c. to 200 p.c. yearly on investments ranging from $100 to $1,000.

Newfoundland Investors' Opportunity

Newfoundland possesses natural facilities for fox-breeding far better than those of Prince Edward Isld. The record of profits made there can easily be duplicated, if not exceeded, here.

Whilst very few people can own a fox farm, anyone can own shares in a duly incorporated fox company and thus share in the profits of the most sensational money-making business of the present day.

The Terra Nova Silver Black Fox Co., Ltd.

Offers a very attractive proposition to investors. Its share are selling at par, $50, and may be paid for in four monthly calls of 25 p.c. each. The Directors of this Co. are men of high standing, in whose hands the interests of shareholders will be carefully looked after.

The ranch will be located at the mouth of the River Exploits, in the best wild fox territory in Newfoundland, where suitable food for the foxes can be had at a minimum cost all the year round.

Its initial equipment of 22 foxes (bought for $12,000) alone would be sufficient to earn handsome dividends on the entire issue of $40,000. In addition to these, however, three pairs of first class silver foxes will be purchased, and it is safe to predict that 100 p.c. will be paid to the shareholders in 1915.

Significant Points To Remember

- (1) Dividends as high as 1800 p.c. have been paid by a fox company in a single year.
- (2) The average dividend of P.E.I. Companies in 1913 was over 100 p.c.
- (3) Three ranches established in Newfoundland last year all earned over 100 p.c.
- (4) No record exists of any fox company having failed, since the commencement of the industry over 20 years ago.
- (5) The total supply of good live foxes, and of fox furs, is so inadequate to the demand, that present high prices and dividends will be maintained for many years.
- (6) Eventually the basis of profit must be the selling value of pelts. When this time comes the Terra Nova Co. will still be able to pay dividends of 20 p.c. or 25 p.c.

The company's prospectus will be mailed you for the asking, or you may use the coupon herewith to make application for your shares:

AUSTRALIA'S PROGRESSIVE NEW POLICY

Propose amongst other ideas
Abolish Death Penalty
And Make Sexes Equal

London, July 13.—The Governor's speech at the opening of the New South Wales Parliament, says The Daily Telegraph's Sydney correspondent, contained probably the most comprehensive list of subjects ever presented to any Australian State Parliament in recent years.

Two interesting proposals are the abolition of the death penalty and the removal of sex disability for representative institutions, including parliament and municipalities.

One notable feature is the absence of prominent planks in the Labor Party's platform, such as abolition of the Legislative Council. The Government has a substantial majority in the legislative assembly, although outnumbered on the council. It is not believed, however, that the Upper House will resist the majority of the measures.

ADVERTISE IN THE
MAIL AND ADVOCATE

CATALINA GLAD TO SEE THE PRES.

And the Unionists Gave Him
A Splendid Reception
When He Arrived

(Editor Mail and Advocate)

Sir.—Mr. Coaker paid us his annual summer visit on the 11th and we were more than glad to find him in good health and looking so jolly after the trying spring rush of business and the demands made upon him during the session of the Legislature, when he put up such a splendid fight on behalf of the toffers and country.

Flags, from scores of poles, waved in the sunshine to welcome him, and as the F.P.U. motored along the waterfront she looked well and all were glad to welcome her once more.

A gale of north wind was encountered crossing the bay and as it blew a gale here few expected the arrival of the President, as most of us thought he had put back to Bay de Verde.

The firing of guns from South Point announced the arrival of the President and all eyes were drawn to the attractive and neat little motor boat now so dear to the fishermen, as their gift to President Coaker.

A Union meeting was held in the night and was largely attended and Mr. Coaker's speech proved another treat to the poor despised toilers. It was inspiring and delivered very impressively and in a serious strain which gave us food for reflection and won't soon be forgotten. Three candidates were enrolled at the meeting.

The President's action in visiting Captain Richard Hicks, who has been ill for over a year, and who is now nearing the end, was very pleasing to our poor friend and highly appreciated by their residents.

A gale of north wind prevented him from continuing on to Bonavista Bay today and he utilized the time by paying a visit to Port Rexton store which place he intended visiting on his return trip.

He was escorted out of the harbor by a fleet of motor boats headed by Garland Clouters, which is propelled by a Coaker Engine, and Garland was delighted to find that his boat was able to make 10 miles an hour, leading the fleet and even passing the F.P.U.

We wish the President a pleasant trip to the North and a safe return to St. John's later.

The Union spirit here burns as brightly as ever and we are keeping it so, hoping for full political control in the near future.

Yours truly,
Catalina,
July 13th, 1914.

Fishery Shows Little Improvement—Concerning
Some General Affairs

Winterton, T.B., July 11.—The fishery the past week has shown little improvement both with trap and hook and line and fish is a very good quality. Caplin still remain plenty.

Two of our boats arrived from Baccalieu to-day, reporting fish scarce but they have done very well. All the other boats left there for St. John's Tuesday and we hope they are doing well.

E. J. Parrott and John Verge, C. of E. school teachers, arrived this week. Also by the Elbe on Friday there came Miss Coates and Miss Andrews, S.A. school teachers, who will spend their holidays with relatives.

I see the Methodist people here are keeping their school open during the holidays for the young children which is a great benefit to the little ones, as in the winter months they have to stay at home.

Miss S. Pitcher of this place is their teacher.
The Rev. F. P. Law, C. of E. minister from Heart's Delight, has taken up the position made vacant by the Rev. E. M. Bishop, who left last week on route to the North West of Canada.

We hear that our operator, Mr. J. Escott, is leaving soon and the office will be in charge of Master John Parrott, son of Jacob Parrott, the big man. No doubt if this is true you will hear from the people about this appointment.

The weather has been very fine this last week and the people here have been kept busy drying caplin, which is very plentiful.

How Should Parents Regard Their Children?

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

THE teachers have started a league. Have you heard about it? They call it the Parents' League—but it's really the teachers in disguise.

One of the teachers who's helping to start the league in one part of the country has just been telling me about it.

"We can't stand it another minute," said Teacher. "We really can't. We're willing to make the girls brush their hair and the boys brush their teeth. We don't object to finding out whether the girls have anything for breakfast at all or if the boys really go home to luncheon, or just play ball and then come back too hungry to work."

"We don't mind trying to teach not only the lessons in the books—but all the lessons outside the books as well—kindness, courtesy, morality, honesty, ambition. These things are not down in the curriculum, but we're supposed to teach them just the same. We don't mind it in the least; we're used to it."

"It wasn't so hard a few years ago; but now, with the moving pictures and the cheap theatres and the vulgar songs and the queer dances, we really don't know what in the world we're going to do with our children, unless the parents consent to take some sort of slight interest in their own children."

"That's what the league is for—here is what says in the bylaws and constitution about the object of the league:

"The object of the league is to unite parents in an effort to promote the moral, mental and physical well-being of their children by establishing wholesome standards in matters affecting their education, amusements and home life."

What the Parents Want.

I began to laugh, but Teacher looked at me reproachfully.

"How can you laugh?" she said, "it's no joke, I can tell you. I teach in a private school and I have in my special classes 35 children, boys and girls, and I doubt if one of those children ever says one word to either father or mother beyond 'good morning' and 'good night' and 'I wish I had' or 'why can't I get.' My children come to school at 8:15—the parents insist upon that. They breakfast alone—mother and father are not up yet; they bring their luncheon, and they stay till 6 o'clock."

"Mother and father insist upon that, too. And it is better than letting them go home—there's nobody there to look after them."

"Mother is at a tango class, or she's playing bridge, or she's motoring, and father is out on the links or down in the gymnasium, or over at the club talking polo ponies."

"My sister teaches in a public high school—"

"Her children have just about the same kind of a time, only they're left to themselves more. The public school teachers won't take any responsibility for their pupils personally after 4 o'clock."

"My sister says her parents are busy, too. Father's down town at business and mother is studying Strindberg or joining a culture club, or reading a paper on 'The Moral Effect of Women on the Business World,' or shopping, or having tea at one of the department stores. And Teacher has to take the entire moral as well as the mental training of the children in her school upon herself. And Teacher is getting tired of it. Besides, we're afraid, we Teachers."

"We do everything we can, but we're afraid."

Teacher showed me the constitution and the bylaws of the new League, and she told me that they were forming it all over the country, and that it was sometimes difficult to get the parents to join—because parents seem to be such busy people and to belong to so many leagues already.

Do you believe it, all this that Teacher says? Teacher is a good woman and a clever woman, and a woman who speaks the truth, but really I wonder—

Can it be possible that we're all going, just the least little bit in the world, crazy—we American mothers.

I met a woman the other day, and her eyes were shining and her face was like the face of a happy little child.

"I'm going to see 'The Blue Bird,'" she said. "Have you seen it?—oh, no, that isn't seeing it. Come with me, I'm going with the children."

And I live with the woman, and we took the children, and never, so long as I live, shall I forget that afternoon.

Trading Gold for What?

They weren't mortals who sat there with us in the stuffy theatre—they were Faith and Hope and Charity—and Love and Trust and Fidelity—and they laughed and they cried and they clapped their little hands and were not ashamed—and they believed it all—the beautiful, beautiful story of the search for happiness and the finding of it in the little kitchen in the little home of the humble, simple people.

And when we went out of the theatre I looked at my friend and she was smiling and the tears stood in her eyes—and I understood then why she alone of all the women I know has the face of a happy child.

Once when I was a little girl my mother gave me a ring of gold for my birthday, and I went to school, and a clever child who always was at the head of the arithmetic class persuaded me to trade the ring of gold for a ring of glass beads she had made herself and a handful of parched corn. I did not want to make the trade—I almost cried at the thought of giving up the shining ring of gold—but the clever child was a good talker and she lived in a fine house—and I let her have my little ring of gold.

And my mother looked at me reproachfully—but she did not make me go and get the ring again.

"You'll learn," she said, "my little girl—you'll learn." And oh, how bitterly I learned.

Are we trading a ring of pure gold for one of cheap and sordid making when we give up the companionship of children for anything that this world can possibly give?

Sometimes it seems so, doesn't it, members of the Parents' League?

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

Dear Annie Laurie: I guess you are used to hearing of folks' troubles, at least I hope so if you think I am too much to love with him. You see I have such a dear boy cousin, but the trouble is every one thinks I am too much to love with him. I try not to show that I really care, but the more I try the more I show up the true side. Don't you think it is horrid for others to interfere with us? Do you think I should persist in acting indifferent to him or should I show him that I really care?

I hope you won't laugh at me, for I want your candid opinion. I am just 20 years old, and I feel that it is such a responsible age.

Why you dear little Ruth, what a character you are to be sure. You write just exactly as you talk, don't you. I can fairly see you standing right before me. "Every one" seems to be right in this affair. You really are in love with your agreeable cousin—very much indeed, too much in love, if you ask me.

He doesn't seem to be in love with you, does he? He likes you just as a nice cousin should like you. And cousins, you know, must not love each other, not if they're first cousins. Keep away from your cousin for a while and don't let him suspect for a minute that you think you are in love with him. You aren't, you know, at all. Not really—you're just in love with love, and he's good-looking and jolly and agreeable—and so you've made yourself believe that you're dying of love for him. Yes, I guess I did think 20 was a "responsible age" when I was 20. Dear me, that was a long time ago.

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care this office.

THEY have danced all winter and all spring under ballroom lights, in the cleared spaces of dining halls, in home improvisations, and not a few times in solitary practice. And now comes the lure of outdoors. The spell of new steps is still upon them. The bubble of music—any old music—is sufficient incentive for that other music of motion, to which youth and age alike are giving themselves over as never before since dancing began to happen. All nature is piping its syncopation. The birds are twittering a tango; the breeze is murmuring a hesitation. Wars or rumors of wars have never stopped such music or such response. It seems that it is always dancing time.

Poor old "bridge" is forgotten. There is only one season to an enthusiasm. It is the season of NOW.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By Leona Dalrymple

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

The truth about 'the girl in the case' distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with interest.

What "Forgetting" Meant.

O H. Peter! I wailed Mary. "I've forgotten the fire!" I didn't say anything, and it was considerable contumace on my part that I didn't, for Mary is always forgetting fires. They go out with systematic regularity. Mary seems to have a blighting glance with fires. Sometimes she has but to look at glowing coals and shortly after they expire. Then, of course, Peter dutifully trots about and builds them over again.

Such are the privileges of matrimony and chivalry. If I let the fire go out, I build it again myself. I wonder just how much profanity and cynicism fires have incited.

On the way downstairs I noticed a rickety step and spoke of it immediately. Marriage teaches a man to voice his most trivial complaints with startling promptitude. No matter how modest and shy and agreeable he's been in pre-nuptial days, there's something about marriage that gives him real courage. And when anything's wrong through the fault of his wife, his tongue takes up its biting task with marvelous facility. So with the cellar step.

I spoke some of carelessness, some of the immediate need of a carpenter, and some of the likelihood of my breaking my neck and leaving Mary a widow. (This evoked almost no response from the kitchen, and I stopped sarcastically and inquired if Mary desired to be a widow. All of which was very foolish, but marriage seems to provoke a certain type of wrath—a futile, childish, unreasoning sort of wrath, and the house was cold and the fire was out, and I was freed.)

From the kitchen came Mary's voice, airy controlled, though I fancied I detected a shadow of guilt in it.

"Peter," she said, "I simply shall not answer you when you speak in that unreasonable manner. The fire's out and that's all there is to it. And if the cellar step's rickety, that's no reason why you should stop on the broken step and grumble about my becoming a widow. If you stand on the step long enough, likely I'll be one before the fire's built."

Which wasn't bad for Mary, but it made me exceedingly wrathful, and I went on down and flung sticks about. Then I built a fire so hot that she had to throw open all the windows to cool the house.

Now this is a record of the slipshod way in which Mary ignores important things that need correction. My anger availed me good thing. I was not called upon to build a new fire for weeks. I thought with a glow of relief that Mary was learning the science of heating until I discovered that she was coaxing the grocer boy into building a series of fires and permitting him to put his charges on the bill.

When next I descended the cellar stairs to build a fire I did not halt on the rickety step to discourse upon Mary's potential widowhood. I crashed heavily through it and nearly made the potentiality a reality.

I struck my head and wrenched my ankle and lay there biting my lips with pain and rage. My temper is growing worse by the day.

From the kitchen a startled scream had followed my crash.

"Oh, Peter!" cried Mary, "did you fall?"

Did I fall? Great Snakes! What a bromidic torture such phrases are! I was too mad to answer, and Mary came rushing down the stairs and narrowly escaped a tumble herself.

"Oh, Peter," she wailed, "are you dead?"

This was even less sensible, and I didn't answer. Mary halted on the bottom step and bent solicitously over me. "Peter," she said firmly, "you're not unconscious—you're merely sulking. I'm sorry I forgot the step. Honestly I meant each day to send for the carpenter, and—and I just forgot—and—and now I'll send for the doctor."

There was surely an inferential sermon in her speech.

With the Bark on—By W. Bob Holland

The cyclone is a splendid example of misdirected energy. Competition may be the life of trade, but it sometimes means starvation to traders. Practice does not make perfect when following an imperfect model. One of the inconsistencies of human emotions is shown when a man desires a wife in order to commit bigamy. Politicians should remember that political lies which have been nailed too often will not hold water. The gas jet that will not take the chill out of the room in the winter will make the apartment unacceptably hot in July.

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

NOT every man who was mad had rabies, not every dog that fears water has hydrophobia. None the less, the bite of a dog is just as liable to originate rabies in you in the winter as it is in the summer, or in the dog days.

Many who all come to physicians and hospitals and say, "I have heart disease." Another comes and she says: "Oh, doctor, I am paralyzed." Yet another comes and speaks thus: "Doctor, I cannot swallow; I have a furious aversion to water. I have not been scratched, licked or bitten by a dog, yet I have hydrophobia."

Yet it is not so. All of these who are ill have read or heard or thought about the distempers they insist upon having.

Often, indeed, unguarded medical men of easy dispositions fall in with and agree to the patient's personal—yet wrong—diagnosis. Thus little acorn errors into mighty oak fallacies grow.

Odd it is and sad besides that intermingled with the public conception of hydrophobia there should be a thousand and one misunderstandings and dangerous superstitions. This variety of human error is not the spice and flavor of life, but the ignorant poisoning which leads to death.

Not only clean pet dogs, but cats, rabbits, mice, rats, cattle, horses, birds, guinea pigs and every known animal from mankind down can inoculate the Noguchi microbe of rabies or hydrophobia into you.

Fear is no Cause. This vicious and always fatal scourge—if not prevented by the Pasteur vaccine—cannot be caught by fear. No matter what newspaper accounts you may read to the contrary, rabies is a microbic malady, which is only real when these ultra-microscopic animalcules enter your tissues by way of the bite, the laceration or the saliva of a rabid creature.

Hydrophobia, or the "madness" of rabies, does not drive people crazy. There is no more firmly rooted error in the popular mind than the one which makes your friends think that hydrophobia "drives people crazy."

It does nothing of the sort. Human beings with this "madness" are perfectly sane. That is until they die.

Any one bitten by a mad dog must at once have the wound burned out with nitric acid and immediately begin the Pasteur preventive vaccination.

Rabies does not develop at once. The Noguchi microbe begins to incubate and hatch for three and more weeks.

It is during this "latent" or "germ growing" interval that the Pasteur preventive vaccine gets in its work. It forces the tissue juices to make an antivaccine which kills the hydrophobia virus.

Five Days Limit. The Pasteur treatment is a preventive vaccination and not a "cure" as the un-believers in this crowd persistently assume. Dr. Moon of Chicago has lately cured a couple of dogs of rabies, but there never has been any human being who escaped death from this "madness."

It kills everybody once hydrophobia develops. Furthermore, it kills within three days. If you hear of any "victim" of "alleged rabies" still suffering after five days, you may be sure it is not hydrophobia, and therefore, possibly not chimeric which he did not understand and could not explain. It was probably the first attempt at a steamboat in the world.

Cans are said to have been used by the Chinese before the beginning of the Christian era. The oldest dated piece of European artillery bears an inscription declaring that the gun was cast in 1303.

Coats of arms were first employed in England during the reign of Richard I, and became hereditary in families in the following century. They originated from the painted banners carried by knights and nobles.

Pasquinades took their name from the shop of a Roman tailor named Pasquin, the square in front of which contained a celebrated statue, on the pedestal of which all sorts of squibs and lampoons were posted.

Dr. Hirschberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. He will not undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest letters will be answered personally if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. L. K. Hirschberg, care this office.

The father of the piano was the harpsichord, and its grandfather the spinet. The piano was first used in a public concert on May 16, 1772, in the Covent Garden Theatre, London.

The first English book on stenography, so far as known, was written by Dr. Timothy Bright in 1588. His earlier invention is attributed to the Latin poet Ennius, to Seneca, Cicero and several others.

The buttons on the backs and sleeves of men's coats are reminders of the time when the coat skirts and sleeves were buttoned back when walking or driving. The flaps had disappeared; the buttons had remained.

TWILLINGATE FISHERY BLANK

French Shore Fleet Return, Clean—General Shipping News

Twillingate, July 15.—All the French Shore fishing fleet returned a few days ago clean. Several of them are now ready and will sail for Labrador as soon as possible. We hope, however, to see them all returning with good trips.

There is no improvement in the fishery here, in fact it is almost a blank. Still we have lots of caplin rolling on the beach.

The S.S. Can't Lose, Capt. Philips, discharged nearly the whole of his cargo of coal here. The quality was certainly good and the price low, which of course gave everybody a chance to take advantage of it.

Messrs. Job Brothers barque is now discharging her salt cargo at J. W. Hodges's and will likely finish on Tuesday.

The schr. Ethel B. Clark arrived from St. John's on Wednesday. She brought a quantity of salt for the F. P. U. Store. After discharging she will go to Springdale for a load of lumber.

The chr. Minnie J. Hickman arrived from St. John's today with a general cargo.

Crosbie's steamer, the S.S. Sagona, arrived at 2 p.m. on her way north. She goes as far as Cape Norman.

Miss Gardner

Will Farewell

From The Nickel

The entrance to the Nickel Theatre was profusely decorated for the visit of the Duke of Connaught.

For the last couple of evenings in spite of the many other attractions, the Nickel has been crowded.

For the week-end performance an elaborate programme has been arranged. The feature film is a two reel story entitled "The Peudists." It is an excellent comedy drama by the Vitagraph players, featuring our old friends John Bunny, Lillian Walker, Flora Finch and Sidney Drew.

There will be four other reels. "Seeds of Silver" is a strong social drama with Hobart Bosworth in the title role.

"Hattie's New Hat" is a bright sparkling comedy which will afford pleasure to all.

"Cross Your Heart" is a pretty dramatic subject, with perfect acting. Beside the foregoing there will be a Pathé Weekly.

Miss Etta Gardner, the charming novelty singer will be heard in her farewell song, "Down in Chatagoune."

Monday the celebrated baritone De Witt Cairns, who has appeared in New York, Boston and other American cities with wonderful success, will make his first appearance at the Nickel. He is one of the best baritones of the American concert hall.

Special pictures to-morrow at the children's matinee.

WEDDING BELLS

Spencer—Sillers

On Wednesday evening, the 15th inst., a very pretty wedding was celebrated by the Rev. J. Brinton, the contracting parties being Miss Daisy E. Silfers, of Harbor Grace, and Mr. Edward S. Spencer, of Bell Island.

The bride looked very pretty as she came up the aisle leaning on the arm of her father. She was attended by Miss Maud Spencer, cousin of the groom.

The young couple will leave on Friday morning for Harbor Grace, to spend a week or two with the parents of the bride.

The Mail and Advocate wishes Mr. and Mrs. Spencer many years of happy wedded life.

DUKE PRESENTED THE DIPLOMA

Of Knight of Grace to Dr. Cluny Macpherson Yesterday

At 3.30 p.m. yesterday the three divisions of the St. John Ambulance Corps were inspected by the Duke of Connaught.

The President, Sir W. H. Horwood; Chairman, Mr. H. W. LeMessurier; Secretary and District Surgeon, Dr. Macpherson; and Treasurer, J. J. Fenelon, were presented to the Duke by H. E. the Governor.

His Highness spoke very flatteringly of the work of the Association.

At the close of his address the Duke presented Dr. Macpherson with a diploma as Knight of Grace in the Order, the following being a copy:

The Diploma
"Whereas a chapter of the Grand Priory of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, holden in London, the candidate whose name is hereinafter set forth, was nominated as duly qualified for reception in the said Order, and proof having been made of the qualifications of such candidate in accordance with the statutes and regulations of the Grand Priory, these presents now certify that at a chapter holden in London on the twenty-fifth day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, the said nomination was confirmed, and Cluny Macpherson, M.D.C.M., the candidate aforesaid, was duly received as a Knight of Grace in the said Order and is entitled to all the honours and privileges thereunto in any way appertaining. Given under the seal of the said Grand Priory the day and year aforesaid."

Other traps average to-day from one to six barrels. We are expecting soon to see President Coaker on his tour North, where he will be a welcome guest.

Weather very stormy and is a put back on the fishermen in keeping their gear in good shape for fishing.

Largest body of caplin ever known are in this year, so the old people say.

Best traps to date are between 40 and 50 qts., but we hope to see better results next week. President Coaker will be sure to bring to the fishermen good luck as he did last year. Fish will be sure to follow the good ship F.P.U.

SAY IT'S WORST SINCE YEAR '64

Old Residents of Bonavista Talk About Poor Fishery—General Events

Bonavista, July 15.—Three hundred and fifty members of the L.O.A. paraded through the town on Sunday in celebration of the 224th anniversary of the time when King William III., Prince of Orange, crossed the River Boyne, and defeated James II. after a sharp battle, thereby completing the good work commenced in 1688.

The procession was accompanied by the Salvation Army Band which were in full attendance. After returning to the hall they were addressed by Bro. Adjutant Brace, Capt's Rodway and Abbott. Bro. Brace ably expounded the objects and principles of the order, their obedience to God and their allegiance to King and Country.

Good Speeches
Bro. Brace who was the chief speaker was well qualified for the occasion. Bro's Rodway and Abbott gave short addresses which was also well appreciated. Before the meeting closed a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the three speakers for their excellent addresses, bringing the most successful and well attended anniversary to a close.

Yesterday was observed as a general holiday in honour of the Duke of Connaught's proposed visit. Today some of the people are disappointed somewhat owing to His Royal Highness being unable to carry out his appointment, due to unfavorable weather conditions. In fact some of the fishing jacks came in from the grounds with anticipation of procuring some relic for a souvenir.

Heartily Welcomed
Mr. Coaker passed along yesterday in the F.P.U. Soon as it became known that it was the President the usual oil jacket was hoisted to the mast. The F.P.U. bore down on Mr. Spurgeon Templeman and exchanged a few words but was soon on her route again. He was unexpected, as evidence of the fact a joy gun rang out occasionally long after she sped away. The boys felt satisfied when he left word that he would pay them a visit on his return.

Caplin is very plentiful. Codfish is still scarce. Old folks say that its the worst since 1864. Hook and line average 2 to 5 qts for a crew, and they compose four fifths of the fishermen here. Prospects more bright with traps this evening, but weather conditions are very poor. Mr. Philip White had one of his traps damaged considerably.

Laid on the Shelf
Government affairs were getting laid on the shelf for the busy season, but recently the appointment of Mr. John Abbott, of Phillip, keeper of Swadley Head Light House by defeated especially as he was a bitter opponent of the Union candidates. What makes it more strange he never applied for the "Hat". Everybody expected to see James receive his late father's position as it is customary here for such jobs to be hereditary. The public are desirous to have it rectified and these wishes will have to be accepted to which needs no further comment.

Oh, "Sid", where art 'thou? COR.

STORMY WEATHER AT CHANGE ISLANDS.

Hinders the Fishermen—Traps Average 1 to 6 Barrels—Catches Poor

Change Islands, July 11.—All the schooners are left for the northern fishery. We hope to see them all return safe with bumper trips.

Friend John Chaffey lost a big haul of fish yesterday. Trap fouled the bottom and split in about 10 or 12 fathoms.

Other traps average to-day from one to six barrels. We are expecting soon to see President Coaker on his tour North, where he will be a welcome guest.

Weather very stormy and is a put back on the fishermen in keeping their gear in good shape for fishing.

Largest body of caplin ever known are in this year, so the old people say.

Best traps to date are between 40 and 50 qts., but we hope to see better results next week. President Coaker will be sure to bring to the fishermen good luck as he did last year. Fish will be sure to follow the good ship F.P.U.

The Game
The game was witnessed by a very small gathering, owing to many other attractions.

At 7.10 the St. Bon's won the toss and decided to play at the east end of the field. The leather was set rolling and the college lads set to work right away and sent the ball to the B.I.S. territory and several attempts to score were tried on Clare, but each were unsuccessful in passing him.

All through the first half the St. Bon's lads had the best of play, their forward line doing splendid work in the way of combination. The half time sounded leaving both teams equal with no scoring done.

Second Half
The second half opened with more vim and several fine runs were made by both teams, but the luck of scoring was against both. Towards the latter end of the game play became slow, the ball lingering around the B.I.S. quarters with the college lads doing their very utmost to beat Clare.

The final whistle sounded leaving both teams the same as when they started, no goals being scored.

MASONIC SMOKER TO HONOR DUKE

H. R. H. Called And Was Enthusiastically Cheered by Brethren

The Masonic Smoking Concert at the Temple last night in commemoration of the visit of the Grand Master, the Duke of Connaught, was the most successful ever held.

At 10.30 when the Duke drove along Duckworth Street, a halt was made at the foot of the hill and the brethren assembled on the terrace and cheered their loudest.

His Highness was so impressed with the sight that he was loathe to leave.

Lusty Cheers
Then continuing along the procession went up Prescott Street, along Gower Street, and passed in front of the Temple. The Masons and public again cheered lustily.

Although the hour was late fully ten thousand people were present.

The full C.L.B. Band, robed in their new regalia, discoursed an excellent programme of music on the green by the Masonic Temple, and as the procession wended its way down Duckworth Street the band struck up the National Anthem, which was sung by all present.

Thousands crowded the streets, and as His Highness passed along he was cheered to the echo. At 11 p.m. the Duke reached the King's wharf and boarded the Essex and at midnight was underway for Quebec.

The Duke was so delighted with Newfoundland that he hopes to come
