BIG ANXIOUS CROWD AT THE BECKER TRIAL

Famous Murder in New York Will Again be Probed in the Courts--New Evidence will be Submitted.

[By Special Wire to The Courier]
NEW YORK, May 6.—Crowds of curious men and women jammed the corridors of the Criminal Court Building to-day for the opening of the second trial of Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant and head of the "strong arm" squad, for the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal. Four men, the gunmen, so-called, recently paid for the murder with their lives; but Becker, the alleged instigator, was saved by a ruling of the Court of Appeals. After months in the death house, he was transferred to the Tombs in this city, out of which he was brought to-day, across the Bridge of Sighs for the second battle for his life. The scene of the trial was the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court, the same as the first trial, but Justice Samuel Seabury, presided in the place of Justice Goff.
Charles A. Whitman, District Attorney, appears for the State, as he did at the first trial, but John A. McIntyre is succeeded as chief counsel for Becker by Martin T. Manton. The opening of the case was set for 10 o'clock and an additional panel of 100 tolesmen was on hand. The utmost caution will be employed in the selection of the jury. Among other things the talesmen will be asked whether the fact that the gunmen paid the penalty for the crime will prejudice them. It was thought that the remainder of the week would be required to complete the jury and that the trial will last three weeks or a month.
Nearly a hundred witnesses have been subpoenaed by the state and the defence. Many of the witnesses at the last trial have been summoned by the district attorney. It is not believed that Sam Schepps one of the principal informers at the previous trial, will be called. On the other hand new witnesses have been discovered; and it has been intimated that several witnesses at the first trial will change their testimony at the second. A chauffeur named Cohen who testified for the defence at the first trial has, according to rumor, come over to the side of the prosecution and will support Schepps as a corroborating witness concerning an alleged meeting between Becker and the conspirators prior to the murder. It had not been definitely decided to-day whether Becker will take the stand. There were rumors during the first trial and again of late, that he desired to testify, but what will be the outcome only progress of the case will disclose.
Of the informers who turned state's evidence "Bald" Jack Rose, Harry Vallon and others, all except Schepps, it is understood, will be called upon to repeat their story at the present trial.

Seven Directors On 1914 Board

The directorate of the Greater Brantford Board will in future consist of seven members in place of five. One of the additional members will be the president of the Board of Trade, this year Mr. Reg. Scarfe. The board this year consists of W. D. Schultz, A. K. Bunnell, Joseph Ham, Ald. Broadbent, Joseph Ruddy, R. Scarfe and G. S. Matthews, all of whom were appointed yesterday. The auditors are H. T. Watt and K. V. Bunnell. The directors are meeting this afternoon to consider some new industrial propositions.

GOLF CLUB GETS $7240, AWARD IS ANNOUNCED

The award in connection with the arbitration proceedings over the land taken from the Brantford Golf and Country Club by the Lake Erie & Northern Railway was taken up this morning by Mr. W. S. Brewster, K.C., acting in behalf of the railway. The Golf Club is to receive $7,240 under the award, which was signed by two arbitrators only, Judge Snider and Mr. A. E. Watts, K.C. Mr. Thomas Woodruff refused to sign. The arbitration, which was held recently, lasted several days and brought out conflicting evidence. One witness placed the damage to the golf course at $85,000. Acting for the railway, Mr. W. S. Brewster contended that a new course could be laid out on the grounds set up by the railway, and this contention was upheld by the two arbitrators, Judge Snider and Mr. Watts.

GREATER BRANTFORD BOARD MAKES REPORT

Some New Industries Were Not Successful Here Last Year But Progress Has Been Made—Features of Work

The annual meeting of the Greater Brantford board was held yesterday afternoon and a resume of the entire year's work was submitted. The Directors of the "Greater Brantford" Association reported as follows:
During the year the following new plants have been established in Brantford:
(a) The A. J. Reach Company, manufacturers of Sporting goods.
(b) Spalding and Company, manufacturers of Sporting goods.
(c) The Brantford Piano Case Co., Limited, manufacturers of piano cases, cabinets for phonographs, jewelry cases and such like high-class woodwork.
Prospective Plants.
An agreement has been entered into by which, subject to certain conditions being fulfilled, the Niagara Silk Mills Company, will establish their Canadian plant in Brantford. One of the conditions is that in the Canadian company there shall be a substantial local financial interest. The other condition is that the mill building shall be provided for the company on a fair rental basis. The first condition your board has under taken to comply with. The second condition the Brantford Industrial Realty company will undertake should the city under the power recently granted to it by the legislature co-operate with the company. The affairs of the company have been thoroughly investigated by and on behalf of your board, who can, without any reservation, commend the enterprise to parties seeking for safe and profitable investments.
Keeton Motors Limited.
This company has been re-organized and as your board stated in a letter to the company sent for publication, bids fair to become one of Brantford's successful industrial enterprises, financial and otherwise.

WOMEN OF THE WORLD MEET IN ROME TO-DAY

Efforts Made to Oust Countess of Aberdeen as Pres. of the Association.

[By Special Wire to The Courier]
ROME, May 6.—The second day's meeting of the International Council of Women now being held in Rome, under the presidency of the Countess of Aberdeen, developed an effort to depose the countess from this position which she has had for twenty years.
Mrs. May Wright Sewall of Maine, has caused to be circulated to the delegates a book entitled "The Genesis of the International Council of Women. Whether or not it should be permitted to go out caused a heated discussion. Its purpose is to bring about the removal of the countess from the Presidency of the organization" to which post the council plans to elect her during the present session, for another five years.
Mrs. Sewall is at the head of a faction favorable to rotation in the presidency. She maintains that the principle of the organization cannot be international if one nationality always is represented in the presidency. Mrs. Sewall does not admit an American for the post, but she does want some woman other than an Englishwoman. She advances the argument that twenty years under the Countess of Aberdeen has gradually transformed the International Council into a purely English organization.
The inaugural address of the Countess of Aberdeen, distributed yesterday, lays particular emphasis on the impetus obtained by the women's movement throughout the world. Women, says the countess, being true to the Golden Rule, comprehend the needs of humanity better than do men. She reviewed previous sessions of the council, and said the meetings gave us all a new understanding of the significance of the International Council of Women.
The countess then greeted the delegates from the twenty-three national councils in Rome to-day, and especially the women from Serbia, Finland and Portugal, which countries have recently joined the international movement. She regretted that illness had prevented the coming of the delegates from South Africa.
The countess draws particular attention to the handbook distributed to the delegates present, entitled the position of women in the laws of nations, in which she says that virtually every country in the world has laws making distinctions between men and women which are unjust to the latter. This, she declares, is an argument for women suffrage.
Reviewing the fundamental ideas of the constitutional council, the countess described these as favorable to international arbitration; the extension of suffrage to women; the improvement of the public health; the protection of immigrants; and betterment in existing systems of education and opposed to the white slave traffic. She invites the council to form subjects of anti-alcoholism and professional occupations for women.

Umpire Bedford Assigned Here

[By Special Wire to The Courier]
TORONTO, May 6.—The Canadian League baseball season opens at St. Thomas to-day, when the Saints play Ottawa. This game was put ahead one day on account of the visit of the Duke of Connaught. The umpires for the opening series were announced by President Fitzgerald this morning as follows: At St. Thomas, Walsh. To-morrow's games: Hamilton at Brantford, Umpire Bedford; Toronto at London, Umpire Riley; Peterboro at Erie, Umpire Miller.

TWO HORSES LOST TODAY IN THE RIVER

J. E. Park, Their Driver, Had Very Narrow Escape.

Team Walked Into Deep Hole and Was Dragg-ed Down.

An accident which nearly resulted in death for J. E. Park, and caused the drowning of two valuable horses occurred this morning in the Grand River.
Park, who is a young man, was hauling gravel from the city pit in West Brantford, and to save time and another carter took a short cut across country which saved over three parts of the journey. This short cut included the crossing of the river by the ford at the end of Gilkinson street, and it was while crossing the ford that the horses were drowned, and Park thrown into deep water. Park was driving his own team across and was following a man named Mott, when he felt his wagon slip from under him and before he knew what was happening his horses were foundering in deep water and he himself was struggling for dear life. He managed to regain the ford and saw his team in their last struggles and rushed away for assistance. Before it was procured the animals were no more, and all that could be done was to remove them from the water. It appears that the current was fairly strong this morning and Park had not allowed for this and had got upon the edge of the ford and then was borne over the edge. It is peculiar that Mott should get across in safety while Park, who was supposed to be following him, should fall into such an accident. He is the principal sufferer through the occurrence, having lost two horses which were his own.

MORE DETAILS OF BURNING SHIP TODAY

Story of Rescue is Told by Captain Miller of the Franconia.

[By Special Wire to The Courier]
BOSTON, May 6.—The local office of the Cunard Line to-day received a report from Captain Miller of the Franconia telling of the rescue of a part of the crew of the Steamer Columbian which was burned at sea. The wireless message was dated to-day and follows:
"Received wireless from Steamer Georgic 11.24 a.m. May 4, Seydlitz passed close, was rescued. A large steamer burning all over. Hull high out of water, foremast and funnel gone, no people on board."
"At the same time a wireless from Sable Island requesting me to endeavor to identify the steamer should I pass close, was received. At 1.15 p.m. I received from the Associated Press, Boston: "Great alarm over Seydlitz report of a big ocean liner afloat. Rescued by Franconia. Please send brief despatch."
"At that time rumor of rescue was not true. On receipt of Georgic's message I changed my course to cross a given position of the burning steamer, arriving there at 3 p.m. I could discern no trace of wreck, but decided owing to false report and fearing influences on other possible rescuing steamers to encircle position at six miles and at 3.30 p.m. sighted a boat on starboard bow. Being already prepared, the occupants thereof were taken on board in a few minutes. A heavy swell was running at the time, so took precautions of putting out my sea boat to cover their embarkation. The boat contained 13 men and a corpse lying awash in the bottom of the boat.
"The survivors had used trouser legs from the corpse on end of boy's hook for distress signal. Some of them had been burned by fire.
"They state that they had been adrift forty hours. Six were put under doctor's care in hospital and others were given brandy and soup and bathed in hot water and put to bed. They immediately felt asleep. Little information can be obtained from them.
"The carpenter says the ship was the Columbian, sailing from Antwerp and about 12,000 tons register. He was asleep and heard the alarm of fire and was coming along the deck and had arrived about midships when an explosion occurred under his feet, which blew him overboard. He was picked up by a small boat.
"A lamp-trimmer's son states that his father was coming forward calling for him when the deck blew up and the lamp-trimmer fell from the burning hold. A quartermaster says that Capt. McDonald, chief engineer, chief officer and several others were getting a third boat out when a big explosion took place. He does not know if the captain and his boat were saved. The second officer got away with about ten men ten minutes before the boat that was picked up.

KATHLEEN ROBB ALLOWED TO GO AT TORONTO

St. Thomas Girl Charged With Defrauding Several Banks.

TORONTO, May 6.—Kathleen Robb, arrested Friday and in jail until last night, charged with securing money from several banks here on checks against which she had nowhere any deposit, was let go on suspended sentence at the women's court by C.J. Denison. Her father and mother who came here from St. Thomas last evening and bailed her out, were in court. Two or three long nights in jail and several remarks of the magistrate are her punishment. Her counsel, T. C. Robinette, represented that there had been no real intent to defraud. She had sold several water color sketches of her's in New York and in payment, being in need of money, thought it no harm to draw checks for less than the amount. Knowing she could presently cover the amounts. Col. Denison said the plan was too well thought out. If she were not punished it would encourage others to do the same. Mr. Robinette protested she did not know what she was doing. She knew her parents were behind her. "You mean she is insane," said the magistrate, "then you had better have her locked up in an asylum."
As the unfortunate girl dissolved in misery, laid her head on the table, her gentle grey haired mother came over and laid her hand on her shoulder.
"Why did you let her come away from home?" asked the court.
"We thought she would have better advantages for art study," returned Mrs. Robb. "We thought her strict training at home would keep her from going astray."
After some further scathing remarks from the Colonel about "artistic temperament," Miss Robb was allowed to go on suspended sentence and was led from the room, her head resting on her mother's shoulder, even the hardened habits of the court showing their relief.

Globe Girdlers Are in City

Trying to Make Tour of World For $10,000 Prize.

Two more globe girdlers walked into the city this morning en route for Vancouver. The pair were Mr and Mrs. James Hartley of Montreal. They are walking around the world for a prize of $10,000 which they will receive providing they complete the trip in five years. The prize is being presented by the Montreal Daily Mail.
Mr. and Mrs. Hartley left Montreal one month ago and have traversed 426 miles to date. Since starting Mrs. Hartley has worn out three pairs of shoes and Mr. Hartley has worn out two. They were dressed in corduroy suits and heavy topped boots pegged on the soles.
For a living they sell post cards with a description of their tour on the back. They are not allowed to sell more than one postcard for every mile they travel. The gentleman is also a singer. From here they will go to Woodstock, thence to St. Thomas, Chatham, Windsor, Detroit and then to Chicago. From Chicago they will again enter Canada, and head for Vancouver. At Vancouver they will board a boat for Australia which will be the next continent visited.
Both are small of stature but wiry looking and their faces are tanned with the wind and sun. On their backs they each carry a club bag and a blanket. Providing they can get an engagement they may be seen in one of the local theatres for the next two nights. They are not allowed to stay more than two nights in each place.

Police on Deck

Department Enters Clean-Up Campaign For Duke's Visit.

The police are making special preparations for the visit of the Duke of Connaught and they expect a busy time. There has been a general round up, and every man with a shade of suspicion attached to him will be kept under observation during the visit. All men who are hanging around are being listed up, and nothing will be left undone that will appertain to the aspect of the city for the auspicious occasion. The men who have been listed up by the hotel-keepers are asked to get work the police say, or more will be heard of the matter. The chief is determined to make this a model city.

Lantern Lecture

A very interesting lantern lecture was given last evening in Colborne St. Church by the pastor Rev T. E. Holling. The lecture was in two parts part one illustrated with 50 views, telling of the life and work of the late Thos. Crosby missionary to the Indians on the Pacific Coast left with the listeners a new impression of Dr. Crosby known among the Indians as the "Lion Hearted Man" and a deeper interest in mission work. The lecture closed with 25 views on Uncle Tom's Cabin—the story which never fails to arouse interest. A goodly sum was realized for the work of the intermediate mission band.

Pathetic Case

Young Girl Tells a Sad Story in Police Court Today.

A good looking young girl of about twenty, Dorothy Tilson, by name was given a chance by Magistrate Livingston this morning. She was charged with vagrancy and pleaded guilty, and upon saying she had no friends but a sister in Toronto, it was decided to send her to the Queen City. A pathetic story, however, lay behind the charge, and showed a spirited girl may be made to taste the bitter sweet of the underworld. The girl, who was respectably connected before her father and mother died some years ago, commenced to work at an early age and she proved a good worker and was employed at the Temple Cafe, for a considerable time. Going down to Hamilton she there met a colored man, John G. Smith of about 26, and they became intimate and before long they were living as man and wife. Smith came to Brantford three weeks ago and again cohabited with the girl at No. 1 Rawdon street and the police got wind of his movements and as he had not worked since he arrived, they decided to investigate, and last night three officers, Sergt. Wallace, High Constable Kerr and Provincial Officer Mounce paid a visit to the dwelling and there found the two together. They made the arrests and the girl was charged, as also was Smith with vagrancy. Smith will depart from Brantford with all possible speed to his native Hamilton, and the girl will be looked after at present by the authorities who look with compassion upon the deluded woman, who is glad that the man has been sent away. She is tired of the life and will endeavor in future to live a good and a straight life.

LLOYD GEORGE RAISES LARGE EXTRA AMOUNT

But His Budget is Subject of Bitter Criticism in the Press.

[By Special Wire to The Courier]
MONTREAL, May 6.—Many financial experts assert that Chancellor Lloyd George has underestimated his tax revenue, some declaring that this is a deliberate trick to secure a substantial surplus, says a London cable to The Daily Mail.
The correspondent adds that the Chancellor's decision to avoid touching the pockets of the working class has naturally aroused the ire of the plutocrats who accuse him of penalizing success, talent, enterprise and foresight.
The Daily Telegraph prints an elaborate analysis showing that Mr. Lloyd George will probably raise a hundred million dollars more than last year, which in the next budget he can apply to social reform measures calculated to secure votes.
"It is a budget of bribery," says The Daily Express, backing its assertion with this indictment:
"Fathers of families with incomes below £500, forming the great bulk of the income tax payers, receive a bonus—they have votes.
"Widows and orphans, left a few hundred pounds by their restless breadwinner, pay an addition two pence in the pound—they have no votes.
"The ratepayer, forming the backbone of the electorate, are promised rating relief equal to nine pence in the pound—they are many and have many votes.
"The owners of large incomes pay a heavier tax and a greater sur-tax—they are few and have few votes."

AN IMPROVED FEELING

There is one good thing about the Mexican mix up, and this is that it has served to greatly strengthen not only good feeling between Uncle Sam and John Bull, but also between our neighbors and other powers.

The subjoined editorial from the Chicago Tribune is characteristic of the comments of all the best U. S. papers. Hearst's chain of sheets still continue to wave the bloody shirt in an effort to inflame national feeling, but that is characteristic of the daily output of those venal publications. The Tribune article, which is headed "Cheating Friendly Nations," is as follows:—

"With the foreign powers, including Japan, acting in a manner friendly as well as fair in the Mexican imbroglio, the canal subsidy advocates must be fairly shamed out of their position.

So far from taking advantage of our complexities to press their demands in Panama, the powers of Europe have been not only neutral but have lent their moral force to induce General Huerta to accept President Wilson's request that he step down.

At the same moment a large number of United States senators and congressmen have been planning to defraud these friendly governments.

For their credit's sake these light-fingered politicians should drop their opposition to the national honor."

AN EDITOR IN JAIL

Mr. McCurdy, news editor of the Halifax Herald, not long ago published a letter in that paper in which an attack was made on the Nova Scotia Legislature. The epistle was signed by a non-de-plume, but Mr. McCurdy knew the name of the writer, and gave his pledge that he would not divulge the same.

He was summoned before the Legislature and commanded to reveal the secret, but absolutely refused to ignore his pledge and is now languishing in gaol.

As a matter of course, there are many things which come to newspaper men in confidence, not betrayals, but circumstances and incidents which should be discussed, and no member of the fourth estate worthy of the name breaks faith. In this essential they are on a par, to a very large extent, with doctors, lawyers, and others whose callings lead to inside information.

Meanwhile, Editor McCurdy, although in duress vile, will be very much more apt, under the circumstances, to be quite well thought of by his fellow-citizens, rather than emerge as a damaged man.

A WORTHY TRIBUTE.

A tribute to the brave engineers who worked so heroically to save the Titanic was paid at Southampton recently, when a memorial to them was unveiled by Sir Archibald Denny, president of the Institute of Marine Engineers.

More than 10,000 people were present, and in the foreground was a sad group of widows whose husbands went down with the ill-fated vessel. Behind them, on either side of the monument, the centre feature of which is a statue of Glory resting upon a boat prow in bronze, practically all the engineers of the port were mustered. In the centre were the surplised choir and clergy, and beside these the officers of the Territorial units.

The chairman, Colonel Albert W. Swalm, United States Consul, said that never before had the town been so heavily taxed by a common sorrow. "Why a memorial to one professional class?" might be asked; the answer was that the appreciation of the world demanded it. The engineers died at the post of duty, and in every engine-room of every steam-driven craft they received the highest honor.

Sir Archibald Denny paid a glowing tribute to the bravery of the engineers. They must have soon known, he said, that no pumping power could do more than delay the final catastrophe, yet they stuck pluckily to their duty, driven back from boiler room to boiler room, fighting for every inch of draught to give time for launching the boats. He compared their action with that of the men of the Birkenhead, but whereas the soldiers stood together in the open air, their comrades worked below and perished in the dark. He unveiled the monument that it might be for all time a witness of their gratitude and an inspiration to succeeding generations to tread fearlessly in the path of duty.

The "Last Post" was sounded by Boy Scout buglers, and the monument was formally taken over by Alderman Sharp on behalf of the Southampton Corporation.

AS TO THE SENATE.

By the natural process of time the Liberal majority in the Senate is rapidly nearing demolition.

This is not a thing to be ghoulish about, and no one wants to be, but at the same time the fact has to be faced that the leverer of all is constantly busy, and that it is not out of the way to point to the results with reference to a Chamber whose members are there for life.

At the last general elections, as recently as 1911, the Senate, politically speaking, showed a Liberal majority of 47, with two vacancies. At the present moment there are 51 Liberals, 33 Conservatives and three vacancies. When the latter positions are filled the Liberal majority will be but 15, and with the nine new members to be selected from the West, this figure will be reduced to six.

In the matter of age, Senators De Boucherville and Bowell, both Conservatives, are over 90 years of age and there are 33 over 70, 20 of them Reformers. The oldest member, with regard to date of appointment, is Senator Macdonald of Victoria, B.C. He entered the House in 1871, and has thus been there for 43 years.

At the same moment a large number of United States senators and congressmen have been planning to defraud these friendly governments.

For their credit's sake these light-fingered politicians should drop their opposition to the national honor."

Is Not Official. Another case of a private individual butting into the affairs of the Old Home Week Executive, has been brought to the latter's notice. A private individual has issued an envelope which he claims is the official Old Home Week envelope. A cut of a telephone under which is engraved "Telephone City" is the style issued, but from headquarters comes the assertion that this is absolutely unofficial. On account of the Bell Memorial being observed next year, the Executive committee of Old Home Week decided to discard the telephone emblem and adopted the Indian,

HOUSE CLEANING. The time of year has come again, oh yes it's gentle Spring. The buds come forth upon the trees, we hear the robin sing. The sun shines bright and nature's gay, which makes a man feel glad. And then he hears another sound that makes him mighty mad, it's in the early hours of morn he hears his dear wife say, Come hubby, it is four o'clock, I start cleaning house to-day. You gnash your teeth, you gasp for breath, still the thought you can't erase, for you know darn well the time has come when for you there's no more peace, for wife's dressed with sleeves rolled up, all ready for the fray, and the way she hustles you around she's determined to finish in a day; it's move those tables, take those chairs and couch out on the lawn, and a thousand other orders till her breath is almost gone. And when you hear that shrill voice call, Come now, you better hurry up and yank that paper off the wall. And scarcely have you started when her mind she's changed again; then from using some darn cuss words you hardly can refrain. Now she wants the carpet taken up, so the wood work she can scrub; turn out into the wood shed to eat your cold, cold grub. She won't give you time to chew it, so you gulp it down in haste, for when a woman's cleaning house, there is no time to waste. GEORGE HAWN.

Roads Bad

HEATING AND VENTILATING SYSTEM FOR THE BRANTFORD SCHOOLS

One of the systems submitted to the Board of Education for the Rawdon School includes the installation of the Spencer Self Heating Boilers. This type of a heater, by reason of the self-feeding and arch grates features, will enable the Board to use Anthracite coal exclusively in the sizes known as No. 1 Buckwheat, and which grade of coal can be purchased at a price not exceeding $4.00 per ton. The representative of the Waldon Co., Limited, Toronto, who are the Canadian manufacturers of this boiler, submitted to the Building Committee last evening the guarantee concerning the efficiency of the apparatus. Their guarantee calls for uniform temperatures in the various class-rooms by means of direct steam radiation, and a maximum ventilation of 30 cubic feet of fresh air for each pupil per minute, which amount is the maximum ventilation demanded by the school authorities in the principal cities of Canada. The air is taken from the outside and passed over steam-heated surfaces, and the fan which works in connection with the system delivers the air into the various class-rooms at a temperature of about 80 deg. In other words, the quality of air in the room will be pure in quality under chemical tests, and by reason of the self-feeding boilers the Company guarantee that the heaters would require attention at the grates not more than every eight hours. One filling of the magazine of the boiler will operate the system for 18 hours in the coldest weather, so that the caretaker of the building can devote his time to the other duties about the premises, and at the same time keep his building and the district free from the dust and smoke nuisance common to the use of soft coal. These facts have been demonstrated by the Hamilton School Board in their Caroline Street School building, which is a similar sized building to the proposed Rawdon School. Their records show some 80 tons of this small coal were required to perform the duties guaranteed, and as a result of the satisfaction to the Board of this system for the past three years, the Hamilton Board have contracted for the Spencer System to replace the ordinary steam system in Queen Victoria School. Several of these boilers have been installed in Brantford during the past season, namely, Brant Theatre, Frank Cockshutt Building and Hamel's store, and the owners speak very highly of the heater. No doubt the residents of the school districts would be pleased to be free from smoke trouble, especially when this advantage can be obtained with the use of a grade of hard coal that can be purchased at a price on a par with soft coal. The Spencer proposition also includes the vapor vacuum system, which enables the teacher to regulate the temperature of the room and does away with air valves and escape of steam into the room, and the control is established in the boiler in charge of the caretaker.

Obituary

William T. Hall.

William T. Hall, one of the most prominent figures in the wholesale grocery business of this city, died at the family residence, 36 Stirton street, Hamilton. He was born in Cleitham, Ont., 59 years ago, and when a young man came to Hamilton to reside and spent the whole of his working days in the grocery business. At one time he was the leading traveller for the defunct firm of Lucas, Park and company. He later took up a position with the Balfour, Smye company, where for the past fifteen years, he was head shipper and warehouse manager. During his long life in Hamilton he made a host of friends, and the news of his rather sudden death will come as a shock to all. He was affiliated with Strict Observance Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and for many years held office in this order. He was a warden of St. Peter's church for a number of years, and took an active interest in church work. In his death the church loses one of its most prominent figures. He is survived by his wife and a grown-up family. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock from the family residence to the Masonic temple, thence to Hamilton cemetery. The funeral was under the auspices of the Masonic order. The late Mr. Hall married Alice Walsh of Brantford and Messrs. W. E. Walsh and F. H. Walsh of this city, were brothers-in-law.

The Government's C. N. R. aid proposals resolution, again revised, reappeared on the order paper, to be moved in the Commons to-day.

places. Most of those who come here come as a result of friends or relatives writing home, and almost without exception they have made up their minds where they want to go before going to a booking agent.

That gloomy letters written to the Old Country by out-of-work people here have been making it more difficult for the department to get good farm laborers and domestics to come out, is asserted by Mr. Macdonell. "There is no doubt," he said, "that as far as farm laborers and domestics are concerned the demand is just as large as ever, but the exaggerated reports in the Old Country papers have frightened people from coming out here. It should not have any effect upon farm hands and domestics, but it does."

The Department of Colonization through the Old Country offices, is actively discouraging the immigration to Ontario of clerks and other unskilled workers.

Obituary

The Late Frank Reed. Death, at the hospital, carried away early this morning, Frank Reed, at the age of 29. The deceased, who was a very popular citizen, and employed as a cabinet maker at the Mickle, Dymont works, was a member of the Masonic Order and of the Independent Order of Foresters, and also of the Ancient Shriners. He leaves to mourn his untimely end a widow and a little four year old son, a brother, Fred, in Winnipeg and William of Paris. With the City Police

George Henry Thomas, who skipped his bond, owing Mrs. Drake, of West Mill street $45, is in Toronto and said to be working for $2.50 a day but as yet, he has sent her nothing and an order will be sent down to him for the first payment.

Ed. J. Gleason has not yet paid for the coal which he ordered from Mr. Gibson and which were delivered to him by W. J. Argent, who suffers the loss of the cash, which was deducted from his pay. Gleason got the coal and has consumed them and is now trying to skip payment and this morning brought Solicitor Heyd to his aid, but it was unavailing and Magistrate Livingston told him the cash which amounts to three dollars, will have to be paid. Before Gleason is fined with the case; however it will cost him something over that three dollars. Ordinary drunks completed the list.

Not Held Up. The contracts or the painting of the fire hall and city hall are not held up, because the painters' strike, but will be awarded in a day or so.

A Lively Wreck. A street car which was being taken to the barn for repairs figured in an unusual mix-up yesterday afternoon at St. Andrew's Park. The trolley got caught some way while the car was in motion, and it was lifted, roots and all, right out of the top of the car, falling on the pavement with a crash. The employees on the car thought momentarily it was an earthquake.

No Official Appointment. As yet no official scorer for the ball season has been appointed for this city. It was thought that W. Hartman, who acted in that capacity last year would receive the appointment, but as yet he has not received any official notice from President Fitzgerald. President Nelson of the Brantford Club stated to-day that if no official was appointed before to-morrow that he would act in that capacity.

Dire Threat. License Inspector Ecarré was given 24 hours this morning to take a protesting man's name off the Hotelkeepers' prohibitive list. The inspector's reply was that he had nothing whatever to do with the list. Besides 74 names on the hotelkeepers' list there are 182 on the regular Indian list provided by law. Seven names have been added in the last two days.

DENEAU'S MESSAGE TO THE BRANTFORD FANS ON EVE OF THE OPENING HOSTILITIES

He Believes He Has a Good Team Gathered Together and Players Are in Condition, Despite Wet Weather.

Manager Deneau's message to Brantford fans on the eve of hostilities, is one of hope, faith and charity. With these three he should enter the Kingdom of Pennants with his Red Sox.

"It is the best team I've had since I came to the Canadian League" said the Chief, and that is saying something, after the pennant winner he had in Berlin three years ago and last year's team in London.

"The training season has been very bad, but at that, I think we will be in as good condition as most of the teams. Rest assured we will be there when that old flag drops and we will fight all the way," concluded Deneau. The manager is very confident that he will give the other teams a run for their money, but he does not predict a pennant winner. Rube never does that. He gets a team together to win games and if they win enough to place them on top all well and good, but they have to play ball all the way.

Brantford has practically a new team to put on the field to-morrow afternoon. Only three of last year's team will be seen in action. These will be Gero, probably Matty Lamond and Gabby Ivers. Deneau has replaced Wagner with Beltz. He himself will play first and short and third are being looked after by two very competent men. Honeck is a whirlwind and although it will be hard to make us forget Courtney, still this boy has the stuff to be the fastest shortstop in the league. He has all kinds of speed and his throwing to first is a feat ure of his playing. Rickart at third, is a high class fielder and has one great asset, that being his hitting. This boy should make one of the best third basemen ever seen here.

Deneau has collected a trio of clever outfielders, everyone of them hitters, and with one exception star fielders. This is Gabby Ivers first year as an outfielder, but Deneau is confident that he will make a first class outfielder out of him. Deneau says that "Biddy" Burns was the fastest outfielder in the Canadian League last year, bar none, and one of Biddy's specialties is to get on a base, and is a splendid lead-off man.

Sandusky, in centre, is a born ball player. He has speed to burn and can clout a ball at an awful clip. With him at centre, Deneau has no fear of that garden being well guarded.

Rube is very pleased with his pitching staff. Gero, Connell, Chase and Taylor can all go in now and pitch a whole game. Gero, the only known man in this league, has shown more this year than ever before and even surprised Deneau. The other three have shown enough to warrant their drawing pay for the season. Nothing need be said of the catching department. Matty Lamond's ability is well known and LeCroix has shown world of speed in the training season.

The following is the probable line-up and batting order for the opening game: Burns, 1; Rickart 2; Deneau 3; Ivers, 4; Sandusky 5; Honeck, 6; Beltz 7; Lamond or LeCroix 8; Gero or Taylor, 9. Gero will in all probability be Manager Deneau's selection, as he has asked to be allowed to catch the opener. However the battery will not be known to anyone except Rube himself, until Thursday afternoon.

All Hail the Chief, Whoop-a-wee

IT'S UP TO DENEAU; FANDOM BEHIND HIM IN PENNANT CHASE

The lid is off. To-morrow the gang starts to show something or nothing. Call them Red Sox or Brants, or what you will, they have got to do some stunts this year for which the fans can cheer without being ashamed of themselves. The Red Sox have got to win games, and do it in such an approved way that their supporters can say that the team is a real one. We have boosted and boosted, and if they fall down momentarily in the thorny pennant path we will be patient, but we will hold it against Deneau and his outfit if there are any rank, rotten disappointments as there were last year. Patience is a virtue, but it will soon cease if there happens to be a duplication of the ignominy of last year. The Red Sox start off to-morrow with the horseshoes of good luck which every Brantford fan can throw at them. It is now up to the Sox. If they are not good enough, the money which Brantford fans are willing to spend to watch the performance of a winner should be spent in providing said fans with a winner. By a winner we mean a club that will be up in the race and be within striking distance all the time of the bloom'ing old rag. Fans will be satisfied with a little better than an even break. But an even break is not lingering around in the Slough of Despond all summer, and it cannot be expected that the fans will be attracted to participate in such Slough very long this year. The owners and the management have got to show the goods. To-morrow won't tell the tale, nor next week, but the first month will.

Manager Deneau has been given every opportunity to get his team together just as he wanted it. He is not worrying any at present, and firmly believes that he has a bunch who will do credit to the city they will represent. If Deneau does not make good in Brantford it will be due to one or two reasons. It will be either his own fault or it will be because he will be interfered with by the officials of the club, who know comparatively little about baseball, except to size up gate receipts. For that reason Deneau should not be worried with interference. If he fails, he alone will be held responsible, and will have no alibi. Provided, as we believe he has been, with most liberal financial support, and as he will continue to receive, the Brantford manager should make this baseball season a glorious one for Brantford fandom. Deneau undoubtedly has the respect and admiration of his players, and he is in control of the situation at all times with the players. His methods during the trying training season have met with hearty approval. He has shown decision at all turns, and it is just such decision which wins pennants. Deneau starts off the season to-morrow with Brantford fandom behind him to a man. Let us hope that no untoward incident throughout the season will upset these happy relations.

Coose Let Out
Popular "Chubby" Was Released Today by Deneau.

Chubby Coose was released to-day, word having been received that St. Thomas had no room for him. Chief Deneau could not find a place in the Sox for Chubby, having built up his team without expecting him to join the squad. Release for Chubby, however, will have its compensation, as to-morrow he will receive the gold watch donated by Secord & Sons for being the most valuable player on the Red Sox last year. Coose deserved it and he will carry with him the best wishes of local fans in whatever spot he drops. It is quite possible he will land with some other Canadian League team this year.

A Gentle Hint
President Garthwaite and his associates are reminded that dress suits will not be in order for the opening ceremonies at Brantford. Tom Nelson and Roy Brown haven't got any.—Hamilton Spectator.

Note—Roy Brown says he can borrow one.

Opening Day Notes— Parade at 2.30 p.m.

Batteries for Thursday's game—Spence, pitch, Allan, catch, John Muir at bat.

Fair weather is promised for to-morrow for the fans.

Game is called at 3.30. Procession leaves Victoria Park 2.30.

Down George and down Colborne to the bridge is the route.

Frank Johnson's Dufferin band is in great shape to play.

A large number of Hamilton visitors will be on hand, many coming up in autos. Let's see how much noise they can make.

Should be 3,000 people at the ball park to-morrow.

St. Thomas and Ottawa play the first Canadian League game to-day in St. Thomas.

Brantford plays Hamilton Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Toronto, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday behind the dyke. Then we go to Hamilton to see the opening day crowd.

In all likelihood, Gero will pitch. Gero last year won popularity by his consistent work, and this year promises to maintain it.

Beltz is slated for second base. Wagner's arm is in bad shape, and Manager Deneau figures that with Wag. chances for double plays at present would be very slim.

Chubby Coose will get the gold watch in front of the stand to-morrow.

The grounds have had plenty of rain, but should be in great shape to-morrow.

Fans are convinced that Honeck is no flash in the pan. They will soon have a good chance to see. Honeck yesterday morning in the gym put it all over the rest of the Red Sox with the gloves on.

Can Sandusky hit? Can Rockefeller write a check?

The non-arrival of Worfel means that Eddie Taylor will do some pitching.

Pitcher Worfel has not arrived and has not reported to the Red Sox, and as a result Chief Deneau has suspended him. The actions of the pitcher have proved a surprise to everybody, as it was expected that he would join

President Nelson Says That He Is Satisfied

No Amount Has Been Spared to Secure a Winner For Brantford Fans This Season.

"I am perfectly satisfied with the team Manager Deneau has congregated here this year," said President T. J. Nelson yesterday afternoon when asked his opinion of this year's Red Sox. "They are a very likely looking crowd, and one which should give the pelted. Only two of the players for their money."

When President Nelson is satisfied with the team Brantford fans may rest assured they have some team to back.

Much comment has been in circulation about the weak-hitting of the team. Fans must remember that at last Saturday's game the Niagara pitcher was inclined to be wild and consequently few hits were made off him. However, at Niagara Falls on Sunday the men were up against a better team, especially the pitchers and had the fans had a chance to see them in action their fears of the teams inability to hit would have been dispelled. Only two of the players failed to connect and Rickart and Sandusky were the stars. The latter the wigman and make quite a stir when he did join. His non-arrival probably means that he will continue pitching independent ball. He cannot play in organized company.

There will be almost a general closing to-morrow, just as if a holiday was really declared.

HOME RULE CONFERENCES ARE RESUMED

Asquith, Churchill, Carson and Law at Meeting—Redmond Not There

LONDON, May 6.—The conversations between the members of the Government and the Irish leaders in reference to a settlement of the Home Rule question, which were expected to follow the conciliatory speeches in the House of Commons on April 29, have apparently begun. It is reported that Premier Asquith, First Lord of the Admiralty, Winston Churchill; Bonar Law, leader of the Unionists, and Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Ulster Unionists, met privately to-day. The Irish Nationalists were not represented at the meeting. The reports in circulation alternately ascribe their absence to their unwillingness to participate in such a conference lest their followers should construe their presence as a sign that they had weakened, or to their ignorance of the Government's action.

Replying to a question on the Home Rule settlement in the House of Commons, Premier Asquith said the Government was taking steps which seemed to him to be most likely to conduce to a possible settlement. He added that the House of Commons would ultimately have control of the matter.

The members of Parliament are largely engrossed just now with the Irish difficulty. Seventy Liberals and sixty Unionists have signed a memorial to the Government welcoming a solution of the question through federation of the Kingdom. It is expected that many others will sign the memorial.

One hundred Unionists who are opposed to any compromise on the Irish question met to-day, and adopted a resolution to oppose to the utmost the adoption of Home Rule in any form.

THIRTEEN WERE SAVED—ONE BOAT STILL MISSING

Further Details Today of the Mysterious Burning Ship of the Atlantic.

SABLE ISLAND, N. S., May 6.—Captain McDonald and thirteen members of the crew of the British Steamer Columbian burned at sea were saved by the Steamer Manhattan. A wireless despatch to this effect was received from the Manhattan by the Marconi station here early to-day. The Manhattan, bound from New York for Antwerp, had been near the scene of the burning of the Columbian for some hours and was known to be searching for boats containing members of the Columbian's crew. Her success was announced in the following message:

"Manhattan picked up one boat of Columbian, captain and thirteen others. One engineer killed in explosion and one man drowned leaving ship. Manhattan still searching for other boat."

The rescue, it was added, was made early in the morning in 41.19 north latitude and 59.35 west longitude.

Yesterday the Cunard Liner Franconia picked up one of the Columbian's boats containing thirteen men and the body of Chief Steward Matthews so that 27 in all have been rescued alive. The other missing boat, for which the Manhattan and other steamers are still searching, contains the first and second officers and 17 men.

The steamer Columbian, bound from Antwerp for New York, caught fire at sea Sunday night. According to the wireless advices from the Franconia, which rescued the first boat of survivors, the flames spread quickly and were followed by explosions which necessitated the hasty abandoning of the steamer by the crew. The men got away in three boats, but in their haste were illy prepared for a battle with the seas in open boats. The first survivors when picked up for 36 hours and suffered severely. Captain McDonald's boat, picked up early to-day by the Manhattan was adrift for more than fifty hours before help reached them.

P.S.A. Practice

The P. S. A. Football club will practice in Recreation Park at 6.00 o'clock on Thursday night. All players should turn out. The committee are requested to meet in the basement of the Congregational church at 8 o'clock the same evening. All should be present as important business will be discussed.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-Time Recipe That Anybody Can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or ture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant. Agent T. George Bowles.

In a statement by Walter Long at a public meeting, he declared that there was a foundation for the Home Rule bill. A special article in the Pall Mall Gazette, which he inspired, declares that the Home Rule bill will take no part for the present bill, but will be a Commons bill to be rejected. LIEUT. COL. G HAS LIFE

Esteemed Resident Years Old, Has Varied Experience His Father Was of Lord Officers.

Nelson, the greatest of mirals during his wonderful two victories which all the rest of his achievements, though these were the first was the Copenhagen engagement, 1801, when after a struggle he shattered the power of Denmark, and it the dreaded coalition of Britain and the three Northern Kingdoms. The second was the battle of Trafalgar, in 1805, when he engaged the French fleet. Every naval officer who has served in the navy has learned to know the name of Nelson, and it was that he who saved the British Empire from the invasion of England, and was the combined forces of Spain. On the morning of the 21st of October, the enemy in the Bay of Biscay, were moving in a line. It was the night of the 21st of October, the sea had been calm, and the British ships were in a line. Nelson's strategy was to divide the French fleet into two parts, and to destroy them one by one. He succeeded in his plan, and the British fleet emerged victorious. Nelson's death at the battle of Trafalgar was a great loss to the British Empire, but his legacy lives on in the hearts of the British people.

New Features of SMART OUTER APPAREL for Spring

Whether the new pose of the figure, so universally adopted by the woman of fashion—easy, drooping, swaying—is responsible for the vagaries of the present modes, or whether recent styles have permitted, then demanded this lithesome carriage it is difficult to say. But it has served to provided the motif of Spring and Summer styles, which are designed first of all to emphasize the natural lines of the figure.

GOWNS FOR SPRING ARE LIMP AND LOVELY

To suggest the crinolines of a bygone time with all their fluff and demure charm and at the same time retain the clinging modes so highly favored was the task set themselves by intrepid designers. How well they have succeeded is demonstrated by their charming creations for Spring and Summer.

Adopting only the softest fabrics they have been able to swirl flounces—three-tiers of them, sometimes—and tucks and ruffles about the hips and still preserve the slim and graceful silhouette.

The high-waisted front effects prevail, in both suits and costumes. In suit jackets this is attained by means of slanted seams or cleverly arranged belts and the cut of the bottom of the jacket, which is made to slope gradually from the front to the under arm seam. The backs are usually quite square across.

On the silk frocks especially, one sees rows of scant flounces at the lower edge of a tunic, or springing from a draped hip grille.

The tunic in various forms is prominent, on foundations that continue narrow at the bottom. When drapery is used it is brought to the back in such a way as to suggest the old bustle backs.

The bodices of these new costumes show no very radical innovations. Kimono or raglan sleeves hold full sway. Vest and surplice effects are shown in novel variations, always with the low neck, and usually having three-quarter sleeves. The bolero is also adopted as well as the simple peasant draped waist.

Crepe poplin is especially suitable for the dressy suit and craquelé effects likewise make up smartly.

The Medici collar, so pretty and becoming when carefully made, is a feature of many of the more elaborate costumes. The V shaped necks predominate, and quite a few flat, fancy collars with sheer vests of net or lace are used. The preference is for collars of chiffon or batiste very delicately hand-embroidered.

The most noticeable characteristic of the new coats is the decided flare which has been evolved to follow the lines of the new gowns with their fullness about the hips. They are cut in a variety of lengths, none of them full length and few extremely short. Deep set-in sleeves and the loose mantle sleeves predominate.

The combination of contrasting materials is effectively worked out in many of the informal frocks. A serge model for example may have a pannel and strap effect on the waist, or taffeta, Georgette crepe, a leading fabric of the season, is most attractively combined with silk nets and taffetas.

Yoke effects, sometimes in the front or back, often both, are fashionable. Utility coats show belts across the front only as a rule, and standing collars distinguish several chic models.

In the wash frocks this thought is strikingly developed by the use of plaids and the checked fabrics which have appeared in great variety in the cotton goods. Especially chic was a model designed for street wear having a tunic of checked crepe over an undershirt of white tulle.

Colors for Spring show a decided reaction against the vivid hues of the past season. Pastel shades are much in evidence. Paquin blue, plum, fuchsia, chate de negre and the new Tango shade—a peculiar brownish color—are well liked. Dull Russian green must be included as well as leaf green. A striking model of satin in this leaf green so well reflects present style tendencies as to warrant description.

The corsage was made with the fronts crossing in surplice fashion, the sleeves set in at the shoulder, close fitting and full length. The skirt, cut on rather straight lines and raised slightly at the waist in front, had the effect of making it a little shorter and giving a draped appearance. The noteworthy feature of this model was the centrure and sash of golden brown satin which commenced at the normal waist line in front, was about five inches wide and gradually followed a downward line over the hips and down the back where it tied and formed long sash ends. Attached to this centrure was a flounce of brown chiffon, ten inches wide which gave the effect of the tunic.

FORTY YEARS "IN SOLITARY"

Efforts Renewed to Secure Freedom of a Noted Criminal.

BOSTON, Mass., May 6.—Forty years in solitary confinement. This is the world's record of Jesse Pomeroy who has just completed his 40th year in a small poorly ventilated cell in the Massachusetts State prison at Charlestown, Mass.

When Pomeroy was a boy of 15 he was accused of torturing children in South Boston, Mass., and later when the bodies of several children were found showing they had been tortured to death, the lad was accused of murder, found guilty and sentenced to solitary confinement for life.

For many years the different Governments of Massachusetts have been appealed to in an effort on the part of the friends of the prisoner to have him freed or at least to have his terrible condition of life remedied at Charlestown. Nothing has ever been done. Whenever a movement was started to free the prisoner, stories appeared in the newspapers telling of crimes that Pomeroy has committed since in prison and a damper was put on efforts to make his existence less miserable.

Agitation to Help Him After the 40 years of life in a dingy prison cell a movement is being started to help Pomeroy. Women's clubs in various cities are taking up the matter and seeing if something can't be done, while nearer home District Attorney Joseph Pelletier of Boston is lecturing about New England and advocating that something should be done for the prisoner. District Attorney Pelletier said in his last lecture at the Revere House Boston: "I don't advocate turning Jesse Pomeroy loose, but he should not be kept in solitary confinement. No man should be kept in solitary confinement. Yes, he did commit crime, but there are other crimes among us that are being committed every day, and some of them are just as bad. I think Pomeroy has been used cruelly, and I am doing all I can to help him."

Mother Still Lives

Pomeroy's aged mother Mrs Ruth Pomeroy of 47 Pearl street, North Weymouth, Mass., is the most pathetic figure in the Pomeroy case. She is 80, bent almost double with rheumatism, and is despondent at her failure in her 40 years of effort to free her son. All these years she has had no other thought. She has been to see in person every Governor who has been elected in Massachusetts since her boy was sentenced and she has never missed the one visit a month which the prison officials allow her. Outside of the prison guard Mrs Pomeroy is the only human being the poor wretch of a convict sees in his solitary cell from one year's end to the other. He is allowed 30 minutes of exercise outside of his cell with a guard each day, but he sees no one else and cannot talk to his keeper.

Alleged Copies Held

Many people in close touch with the case say that the stories which have kept Pomeroy all these years in solitary—these stories of torturing cast in his cell, of trying every few months to escape by cutting his cell bars, digging holes in the floor of his cell and by other acts of cunning, are lies invented by heartless persons. Even those who declare they know it to be a fact that Pomeroy has misbehaved during his 40 years of confinement at Charlestown say that it is a blot on their fair name of Massachusetts to keep him longer under the conditions that would drive the average man mad in a few weeks.
