SOME ONE BLUNDERED

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN Dear Editor — I notice by the daily apers that a school debate was recently eld in Wolfville. Notice of such an event held in Wolfville. Notice of such an event being anticipated appeared in The Acadian recently and naturally some of those who help pay for our schools should have liked to be present. The affair was "pulled off", however, without the public being informed and many of us were disappointed in not having an opportunity of listening to the discussion on an interesting subject. In the future, may I suggest that a more sensible policy in the matter of publicity be preserved when similar affairs are to take place.

High Scoool Defeats A. C. A.

In Deciding Game of Basketball at Memorial Gymnasium

The deciding game of the basketball series between the High School and the A. C. A. Tigers was played at the Memmorial Gymnasium on Monday. The game was closely contested and resulted in a win for the High School by the score of 13 to 12. Though the game was the fastest of the series it was also the cleanest, very few fouls being called. For the High School Malcom Wallace was high scorer with 7 points to his credit, Geo. Mitchell scored 8 points for the A. C This win gives the series to the High

PASSION WEEK

For the first time in the experience of Wolfville Churches, the four denomina-tions have united in a series of devotional longing to Mr. Lewis Forsythe, which is said to have been built by his grandfather, thus making it very old, two hundred years or more, it is said.

Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Forsyth have been having quite extensive improvements made to the interior of their home, also Mr. Forsyth has recently had his nice new tenement house wired and lights in. The house is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bishop.

CENTURY-OLD FIRE ENGINE STILL AT WORK

The Parish of Bottisham. Cambs, England, possesses a fire engine with a record hard to equal. It was built in 1796 and although it looks rather quaint it is still full of usefulness and appears promptly at the few fires which occur in the village. The machine is filled with water by means of buckets and then pumped by hand. The photo shows the fire engine and its volunteer crew out for drill.

Provincial Legislature

HALIFAX, April 8th.-What begins to Lok like a real concerted effort to abolish the Legislative, Council developed this week on a resolution moved by Mr. Taggart. The member for Colchester was for unceremoniously wiping the Upper Chamber out of existence; but his methods as proposed would not prove his methods as proposed would not prove overly efficacious. To say, "We will abolish the Legislative Council and will keep its members under a sliding scale of indemnity pensions till 1925, when those pensions will have reached the vanishing point", was not exactly the constitutional way of going about the business. the business.

However, there have been results. A committee of five members of the Assembly will be appointed to look into ways and means with instructions to report back "within ten days". Em-bedded in the "ten days" idea is a suggestion that without such a time limit the committee might be liable to practice that brand of procrastination that has been the thief of time in this regard for The Commissioner of Mines, who spoke first for the Government, offered the opinion that the members of the Assembly were practically a unit in their demands for abolition. Possibly they are; but the proposition is highly doubtful. It will doubtless be found, if the demand for abolition can be brought to a vote, that there are members of the popular branch health will not longer allow him to perform the duties required and much to the regret of all he is thus compelled to give up the work he has so faithfully and efficiently carried on since the system the regret to the form the premier the declaration that he is still for abolition; that he has not changed his mind on the subject during the cast the plant. Mr. Chisholm was empowered to secure the past twenty-eight years. Indeed, Mr. Murray yet again acknowledged abolition as a Government policy; and in a very definite and outspoken address, Mr. Douglas, the member for Halifax, brought considerable discomfiture to the ranks of adminstration supporters. Abolition was the repeatedly-avowed policy of the Government, Mr. Douglas declared to the House; he had "boldly and firmly" given that pledge—and he was prepared to stand by it. The whole attitude of Mr. Douglas seemed to be Mr. W. O. Parker, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Parker, spent the week end at Martock, guests of Mr. Parker's ing in this regard. Every member of the Mr. Imirie Borden, who has spent the past two weeks in Halifax. Windsor and New Glasgow, reutrned to his home on Wednesday morning. abolition was, as said, the Government's policy; and Mr. Douglas' speech was the equivalent of a demand that that policy be implemented without turner catay and that those pledges be redeemed. Coming from a supporter of the Government, the reproach of the member for Halifax created a mild sensation, which Mr. Ralph Holmes, of Windsor, spent tion of the House when Mr. Corning, the week end with his parents. Mr. and member for Yarmouth, frankly conmember for Yarmouth, frankly congratulated Mr. Douglas on the fearlessness of his stand in squarely facing the sue and demanding action. During the course of his remarks on the subject, the Premier, as said, told the his Government for the past quarter of a century—that pledges to vote for abolition had been exacted from the members of the Council, and that every member but one was so pledged. Mr. Murray said something else; the Premier, usually pretty adriot and careful in debate, slipped up on a political banana-peel, a slip which Mr. Corning promptly proceeded to capitalize. While it had been the policy of the Government for twenty-five years, Mr. Murray said, abolition of the Upper House had not been made an active political issue; there had been no considerable pressure for it—and, on that account, he had thought it best to "let sleeping dogs lie". The member for Yarmouth retorted sharply. Abolition of the Upper House had been an active politicial issue. It had been repeatedly demanded in op-position resolutions; and even the last manifesto of the Conservative Party had demanded it, referring to the Govern ment's policy in this regard as "a screaming farce". Still the Premier was forced to come to the House now and say, that while abolition of the Council had been his policy since the day he assumed office, that while practically every member of the Council was pledged to vote for its abolition, the Government, in the face of these facts, had adopted all these years the parallel policy of "letting sleeping dogs lie". Had the Leader of the Government ever stopped to consider, Mr. Corning demanded, what this policy of "istance" sleeping dogs lie" had cost the Province in real money? Computed in compound interest, the cost of the Legislative Council during the twenty-five years Mr. Murray had been in office, had run into something like one million dollars. That was the effect of a policy of "letting sleeping dogs lie" on the part of a Govern-ment that had been for quarter of a cen-tury pledged to the other policy that. in the interests of economy and good legislation, the Legislative Council s'o let

POOR QUEBEC!

A word of warning may be in order just at this period of post-war depression, for the sighs of the time point to an effort being made to urge Governments to enrich their treasuries by the citizenship. Heralded throughout the Dominion of Canada, have been reports of millions of money flowing into the Treasury of the Province of Quebec from the free sales of intoxicants, a condition which has attracted tens of thousands of people from Canada and the United States, and has been instrumental in having the City of Montreal termed the "City of Conventions", in which nearly all conventions will be held and to accomodate which, many hotels are being enlarged and a new nine million dollar hotel is under construction. It is said that some of this money will be spent to improve roads and highways. Possibly this may be done, but only to enable tourists in their limousines to speed uninterruptedly into their city to spend their gold and satiate the unnatural and depraved tastes and desires. The reports of immense revenues are spr ad broadcast throughout th land and the same source of revenue is being riously considered by other Provinces at the present time, Not a word is acvertised about the disregard for law, the wholesale violation of all civil and n cral law, the myste ious deaths, the brok n and sad h arts and blasted hopes and ambitions. Picture houses open all day Sunday and in fact everything that would tend to make the t rritory a blot on the map of our lair Dominion

In Quebec, "The government has established one of the biggest liquor busing sees in the world. It consists of 1, warehouses, 59 liquor stores and three Fostal delivery services, with 915 employes and a monthly payroll of $71,000. The sales from May 1 last to January were $9,325,727.41, with an anticipated surplus next May of over $4,000,000." The business is growing from month to month. Think of conditions with the whole province made a rumshop under the government!

ARBUTUS

Last night at dusk it came to me; I heard the postman's strident ring Then found this wonder and delight A fragile, fragrant box of Spring!

Pale blossom from the northern woods Elusive pink or lustrous green, As delicate as butterflies. All iridescent glow and sheen.

Cool fragrance from the northern woods, How may a mortal understand , the min 1 that dreame you into life Then laid your beauty in my hand!

Oh, I remember hills and woods And perfumed winds that wildly blo Across the purple mountain tops.

And song of win i and river's flow! Continued

The lilting joys that laugh and sing, Young Love in April, unafraid, Awake and bent on blossoming!

A magic wand has waved for me I see the wood, the fairy ring, And then, pink, fragile, like a bride The lovely, luring Soul of Spring!

WHAT'S THE ANSWER

If you were a telephone girl and was at switch board in a rush hour, and if some one took the telephone receiver off the nook when there were forty other people doing the same thing within a minute. and if that person having waited ten seconds should ask if you were asleep how would you like it?

If you were a telephone girl and you had eighteen telephone wires with plugs at the ends inserted in eighteen connections to enable thirty-six people to talk and there were seven of these close to gether and a couple of people hung up heir phones and you pulled out of the maze the wrong wire and cut two people off from talking, would you think it fair if either of the victims swore a little and asked if you were out late last night?

If you were at the switchboard some one asked for a connection and the person desired did not answer the tele phone, and if the party calling rattled the receiver rapidly, instead of slowly, as he should, and the rattling of the phone hook did not register in the office and if after a while he did get into commi tion with you, would you like him to ask you if you thought you were enjoying a "pink tea"?

HAT SHOULD SUIT FIGURE.

To stand before a full-length mirro a distinct help in selecting a becoming hat, as in this way the figure is suited a vell as the face. For instance a woman with broad hips cannot wear a narrow brimmed hat, while a good-sized brim will balance the figure. Some times a trimming such as broad loops of ribbon extending out past a narrow or medium brim will accomplish the same effect s a broad brim a strong sturdy boy."

One mother writes:—"If you had seen my little Johnny four months ago and you were to see him to-day, you would never believe that he is the same boy. Then he weighed only 49 pounds, To-day he weighs 90 pounds, almost double what he weighed four months ago. His trouble first started with a cold, which we never notited because he was strong and like all boys of his age occasionally caught cold. After a while we began to notice that his cough, instead of getting better, was getting worse, that he was looking pale and losing weight. He seemed to be tired all the time, had no energy to do anything. Before he caught this cold he had no trouble with his lessons and remained at the head of his class without much study. But we began to notice a change. He didn't seem to care whether he knew his lessons or not and nothing seemed to interest him. He coughed so much and so hard at times that his face would become purpleand we thought he would surely burst a blood vessel. Medicines and cough mixtures didn't do him any good. Finally, in desperation and as a last resort, we tried Carnol. In a short time his cough had almost disappeared. His appetite was returning and he was beginning to take an interest in his studies. And, thanks to Carnol, he has become as strong and healthy as he has ever been."

THE MISSION OF THE ADVERTISING PAGES

That is the way a big business man, the head of a successful corporation, put it in talking to his selling force a few days ago.

The advertising pages of the news-papers are a barometer of business.

They are consulted by practical mer and women just as the financial and social pages of the newspapers are consulted for the information they contain.

Time was, and not so very long ago, when the advertising pages were merely a directory of things for sale.

To-day they rank side by side with the news pages in the vital interest of the messages that they carry. Advertisements as a class have ceased to be unreliable. Superlative and exaggerated claims have a lost favor with advertisers. Advertisers have discovered that frankness, conservation and truth are the strongest allies that they can have in their efforts to win public confidence. And so it is that to-day, as never before, men and women scan the advertising pages as carefully and with as deep an interest as they give to any part of the newspaper. The advertising pages reach out to you in a spirit of friend-ship and co-

That is their mission, to make a friend of you and win your good will.

To be sure they have something to sell you—but that is rather a secondary consideration, a by-production of advertising if you please big elemental aim is to win your good-will-when that is accomplished the selling will follow as a perfectly natural result.

Look through the advertising pages of this paper—note the carefulness with which the messages have been prepared-feast your eyes on the art that has been used in illustrating some of sense the friendly hand-clasp that them—sense the friendly hand-clasp that they seem to extend toward you.

Then analyse them for your-self.

You will find that the products that are most persistantly effectively advertised are almost universally the best and most dependable products.

That is a perfectly natural illustration of the law of cause and effect.

An advertisement is a pledge.

The mas who issues it puts himself on cord. The public expects more of an-and almost invariably he mea-development of advertising ha put business on a higher plane. It has created a finer code of business ethics, It has made possible better products and lower prices. It has immeasurably increased the comforts of life by being within the reach of all the conveniences and luxuries that would otherwise be enjoyed only by a few.

DANGEROUS FADS AND SANE FANCIES

It is amazing how readily people embrace a new name to an archaic theory or an and childre abandoned product, give it a touch of this way: abandoned product, give it a touch of this way: "A child is one children, and efficient publicity and it sweeps the country a children is lots of childs." from end to end. The danger of this reakness is brought to the front when the ad takes the form of self medication Recently we have had the yeast fad diligently promoted by the yeast manufac-turers as the great st health promoter of the ages. Then on the heels of the yeast eating wave came a dozen or more always-keep-well-and-be-beautiful deriva tives, the unusual word "vitamine capturing the public fancy, conquering common sense by linking itself with the weakness of unthinking men and the vanity of unthinking women. Fortunately old dame nature affords us protection even against ourselves to some extent Had the process of fermentation been completed in the human body in the case of all the yeast eaten in the last six months ve suppose the flying machine industry would have received a setback. Probably worldly angels would be floating fo xercise inste d of walking for health Old dame nature however wouldn't have so. As for the renew-your-health-and keep-bright-eyes pills and compound the less said the better. When the public gets aw y from normal fords and seek uty, health and vigor from substances In Tiffin, O., there is a tailor who had a few garage repair bills. You may have heard the story of a herce-looking individual who entered the Editor's sanctum with some show of violence, and said: "I suppose you are the man who puts things in the paper?" "Well," replied the Editor, "you have been misunderstood I am the man who keeps things out!"

Offsetting Competition

The thing for the merchants of this community to do in their own interests is to advertise faithfully, and to make their printed announcements inte esting and helpful to those whose trade and favor are desired.

The serious competitors of the retailers of this com-munity are the hig stores of the cities—those that send out catalogues and have mail-order departments. The poorest way to offset this competition is for our local merchants to remain silent. For them not "speak up" is to give the mail-order houses a better chance to get business from this community

HOW CARS CATCH FIRE

"How did your car take fire?" "I don't know. I heard it pop, back at the carbure-tor, and suddenly discovered that it was on fire." "What made it backfire in the carburetor?" "I don't know. We can't find out because the car is a total

This is no imaginary conversation because cars have burned in the past and will again in the future due to backfiring in the carburetor.

The most frequent cause is a lean mixture. This means more air in the mixture than usual. The carburetor gets out of adjustment in some way and the mischief is done. A lean mixture is slow-burning It burns all during the power stroke, all during the exhaust stroke and is still burning when the inlet valve opens, admitting the fresh mixture. This takes fire and flames run back to the carburetor If there is any gasoline dripping from the carburetor a heavy vapor is formed. extending under the engine, where it is held by the mud pan. The flame spreads under the engine and soon reaches the tank, melting the connections and releasing a flood of gasoline.

Lean mixture may be due to derange ment of the carburetor or a leaky inlet Spray nozzle too far manifold. auxiliary air valve spring closed, too weak or valve stuck open or clogged fuel line, are a few carbureton causes. A leaky inlet manifold may be detected by running the engine and injecting oil around the joints. Oil will be sucked in at the leak where the bolts must be tightened or a new gasket installed in place of the leaky one.

We now come to troubles of the inlet valve, which indeed are very rare. The valve lifter may be out of adjustment, leaving no clearance, or actually pushing the valve off its seat. If there is little or no clearance the valve will hold com-pression when the engine is cold, but will leak when the engine warms up, due to lengthening of valve stem, and of course, popping in the carburetor occurs im-. Set the clearance at about two thicknesses of newspaper. Occasionally this valve may become stuck, so that it cannot close. This may be seen from the outside, as there will be an stove on the exhaust manifold. But of safety.'

We should be very glad to have motorists make use of this page to ask questions or make sug gestions to others who are driv ing cars. No doubt such sug gestions would be of great value as naturally all drivers have not same experiences. Short practical articles written by local motorists will be also gladly welcomed and given a place. We hope to make this page of THE ACADIAN a most interest-ing feature during the coming ner, and solicit your help.

WATCH FOR SHORT CIRCUITING

On a well known small car we find the trouble caused by short circuits on the timer wires. These chafe against each other and sometimes against the sides of the engine, wearing away the insulation and so causing trouble. Close switch used on battery, or run engine on magneto, and advance and retard the spark, watching the commutator and wires. If sparks are seen a short circuit is indicated, which may easily be stopped with tire tape.

Electrial troubles now engage attention. With a single coil and distributer system such as used on the majority of cars, there world be some dis-tributer trouble or a short circuit of the distributer wires. See that all wires are properly insulated and wipe all dust from distributor head. If you know how to open the distributer you should wine out the inside occasionally, using a cloth dipped in gasoline. This will remove all accumulations of dust, which will cause short circuit if allowed to remain

POWER OF STORAGE BATTERY

"The modern automobile storage battery, from the standpoint of the unit of power, is the most compactly built device in existence," says an expert.

"When you consider," he says, "that a storage battery weighing about sixty pounds can generate enough power to raise itself six and a half miles in the air it will give some idea of the tree may unravel or the cloth become thread-bare. But before the packing underneath after, may last anywhere from two to "A normal battery, if properly looked five years. Batteries could be built, however, to last even longer than that, but they would be impractical for the careful workmanship can put on a patch that will match the rest of the upholstery weight. The present-day battery, equipped with the more durable hand-paste plates really represents the last word in storage battery construction.'

MAXWELL AND CHALMERS AUTOMOBILES MAXWELL TRUCKS

WOLFVILLE, N. S., April, 12, 1922

To the Prospective Purchaser:

Dear Sir:

It is part of our business to know motor car values. We believe we know such vlaues as well and as intimately as any other men in this vicinity.

In the light of this knowledge, we are going to make a statement in this letter which will either damage our reputation as sincere, straight-forward business men, or increase it greatly.

That statement is simply this:

The Maxwell car at $1350.00 delivered, is the greatest value in its class.

. If we couldn't back that statement up by proving it to you so clearly and forcibly as to have no room for doubt, it would act as a business boom-

We can prove Maxwell's superior value - overwhelmingly, to you or any other member of your family, or any engineer or mechanic in whom you have confidence, and who is thoroughly familiar with automobile mechanics. And we stand ready to prove it, any time you may desire to come in and see us or our dealers.

Yours very truly,

CELEBRATE 50th WEDDING ANNI-

The following from the March 31st issue of the "Town Crier," Newton Centre, Mass., will be read with interest by friends of Mr. Eagles:

A most interesting social event oc-curred last Monday at Newton Centre, versary at their home 120 Clark St.

Mr. and Mrs. Eagles have been residents of Newton Centre for many years, it being the birthplace of Mrs. Eagles, when pastures are short and dry who was born in a house on Clark St. in 1845, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stearns, who were of the oldest families in Newton.

Mr. Eagles in a native of Wolfville, N. S. The couple were married in Newton Centre on March 27, 1872, by the late Rev. Daniel L. Furber, at that time pastor of the First Church.

Four children were born to them, all of whom were present at the anniversary. They are, Mrs. Grace Daniels, who makes her home with them; Miss Eva Eagles, a teacher in the Everett Schools; Miss Nettie Eagles, who teaches in Tewksbury, and Howard A. Eagles, of Boylston St. There are six grandchildren five of whom were present on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eagles received over 300 guests during the afternoon and evening and were recipients of many beautiful gifts. They were presented with about three hundred dollars in gold, besides gifts of dishes, glassware, flowers and potted plants.

A very pleasant feature of the reception was the reading of a poem by Rev. George C. Phipps, of Newton Highlands, who composed the poem in honor of this exercise. in honor of this occasion.

Mrs. Eagles is one of the charter members of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church and many members of this church were among the guests.

Some of those present were: Attorney General and Mrs. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Woodrow, Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Wood of Newton Highlands, Mr. and Mrs, Alfred N. Russell of Newtonville, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Cutler of Newton

Centre, and members of the Monday

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Cutler of Newton after being partly eaten. Rape may be sown at the rate of three to six pounds. Club of which Mrs. Eagles is a member.

Mr. Eunice Giles of 151 Parker St. was an honored guest on Monday, and was also a guest at the wedding of 50 years ago. The writer was greatly impressed by the youthful appearance of the couple who showed no indication of fatigue the who showed no indication of largest and the control of 1921, and were eaten with apparent of 1921, and were eaten with apparent relish by beef steers. They were refused by hogs, and eaten but sparingly by enjoyment at having received the con-gratulations of hosts of friends on one of the happiest days of their lives.

Mr. Nathan Thumim arrived from Boston on Friday to spend a few days with his brother-in-law, Mr. A. V. Rand. He returned to Boston on Tuesday accompanied by Mrs. A. V. Rand and Mrs. Fred Rand, who will spend Easter with the former's sister, Mrs. Thumin

Mrs. W. B. Eaton left Monday for Toronto, having been called in conse quence of the illness of her sister, Mrs King, who will be remembered as a visitor in Wolfville last summer. Mrs. Eaton expects to be away for some months and will be much missed from Wolfville.

"THE KING CAN DO NO WRONG"

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN,

The

Sir:-With one of our Town Councillors driving his car without any number-plate and another showing last year's number, the leniency toward offenders against the Motor Vehicle Act is explained. 'A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind." Those of us who are keeping up our cars until they can be legally used and sending in our good money for autos may be foolish but we are at least Motorist "within the law"

OUT IN FRONT

By the Pioneer Sergeant WE are not ESPECIALLY bright, PERSONALLY,

AT solving conundrums. ALL can solve

THE old ones-WHEN is a door NOT a door? etc-

BUT what puzzles US is: WHEN is a fine

NOT a fine? WE are desirious

THE correct procedure TO adopt

OF information as to

IN order to get in THE good graces of THE police committee.

WE do not own an OLD unsanitary house,

NOR are we blessed WITH a motor car.

STILL one never knows WHAT is before one, DOES one?

WHO can tell but that SOME moonlight night

WE may have an UNQUENCHABLE thirst

FOR the life of OUR neighbor's cat,

OR a desire to
OTHERWISE destroy

VALUABLE property. LIKE the world IN general

WE have no objections TO a moderate

FINE BUT it would be VERY embarassing

TO be compelled to PAY it. WE thank you.

MRS. A. M. O'KEY-FITZGERALD.

NAME OF STREET OF STREET OF STREET

KENTVILLE, April 10-The death of Mrs. A. M. O'Key-Fitzgerald Sunday afternoon after an illness of ten days' away came as a shock to her many friends, as her condition seemed somewhat improved on Sunday.

Mrs. O'Key-Fitzgerald was born Australia in 1846, a daughter of the hours of serious thought. late Peter King, who owned large sheep stations in Australia. In 1864 she married some residence at Port Williams, known chamber: as "Elmsdale", where hospitality was royally dispensed to their many friends, the many art treasures in their home being a source of interest and enjoyment to married James Fitzgerald, whose death occured two years later.

Mrs. O'Key-Fitzgerald travelled very widely, part of her time being spent in France with her daughter, Madame Labori, wife of Fernand Labori, Bartonnier of France, the celebrated defender of Dreyfus and Zola. One son and two daughters survive Harry O'Key, of Boston; Madame Labori, of Paris, France; and Mrs. Ryan, wife of J W. Ryan, Manager of the Union Bank of Canada, St. John, who was with her mother during her last illness. Another daughter, Mrs. P. V. Woodworth, predeceased her some years ago. She is also survived by a number of grandchildren, among whom are Adrien De Pacemann, who, after two years' distinguished service in the recent war, was appointed High Commissioner for France at New York; and Miss Marguerite Woodworth, of the General Manager's Office, Dominion Atlantic Railway, Kent ville.
