

A Daily Assault.

The London Daily Telegraph correspondent was an eye witness of the assault on the 15th Sept. We have only space for the closing paragraph, but the description is a most vivid picture of the whole scene.

What forms of food would come nearest to the place of tobacco in the case of a man fatigued with overwork? I am fatigued with overwork. I am fatigued with overwork. I am fatigued with overwork.

Would you say that a moderately temperate person might be benefited by a slight use of alcohol? I should hold the opposite as regards the intellect; all alcohol, even a little, is an alcoholic nature, in the nerve tissue.

Therefore the constant use of alcohol, even in a moderate measure, may injure the nerve tissue. Yes, certainly, and habitually.

Have you known any cases where the effects of alcohol have been quite manifest, although there has not been any outrageous drinking? Yes, I should say that one of the commonest causes in our society is that people are injured by drink without being drunk.

It is a pity that a society that is so very difficult to observe, should be so easily marked and distinguished to your professional eye. Perfectly, although in many cases the most intelligent friends will not know it.

Setting aside the drunken part of the community, alcohol, when taken in being being by the use of alcohol, what is supposed by the consumer to be a moderate quantity? Yes, I think that taking a glass of wine, or a glass of beer, or a glass of stout, is a great deal of injury to the health by the habitual use of alcohol.

And people who are in good health, and who are not drinking, are they not, I think, drinking, and so on? I think that a person who is in good health, and who is not drinking, is not drinking.

It is a pity that a society that is so very difficult to observe, should be so easily marked and distinguished to your professional eye. Perfectly, although in many cases the most intelligent friends will not know it.

That used in large quantities is a poison. I would like to say that a very large number of people in society are dying day by day of alcohol.

Do I understand you to say that there is an addition of disorder, that the evil effect, began at the liver and went into the blood, and from the blood to the circulation, and from the circulation to the lungs, heart, brain and kidneys, I think that is about the order.

Do I understand you to say that there is an addition of disorder, that the evil effect, began at the liver and went into the blood, and from the blood to the circulation, and from the circulation to the lungs, heart, brain and kidneys, I think that is about the order.

Olds and News.

The best throw of dice—Throw them. It is a good time coming, boys, but it is a good time coming, boys.

A parrot is said to live to be two hundred years old. A parrot does not live so long, but he talks more.

A lady rather inclined to flirt, says that she has a cold, very easily cured, but very hard to get rid of.

In asking green corn from the cob, it should be held in the left hand only. You can get your foot on the other end.

The features of a beautiful countenance are hieroglyphics of sentiment. He whose mind is the key to those hieroglyphics becomes the lover.

A Roman remarked the other day, "try mightily hard to be honest, but sometimes a poor man cannot be honest, unless he steals the money to be honest with."

"That parrot of mine's a wonderful bird," says Smythe; "he cries, 'Stop here!' naturally that every time I hear 'I always stop.' What are you all laughing at, anyway?"

"Do you know that your Uncle James found a little boy-lady on his doorstep last night, and that he is going to adopt him? Yes, mamma; but will be Uncle Jim's step-son, won't he?"

It is the opiate dealers who start these little legends about Mrs. So-and-so finding a 5000 pound in a crate. One can hardly help buying four cans at once.

Two ragged little urchins were standing in the gutter looking at a lady who had fallen down on the pavement. "It isn't so much that I like oranges," observed one of them, "but what a lot of people you can bring down with the peel!"

"Quite correct, my dear, the natives of South Africa do not require clothes to keep them warm, because they are different sort of people altogether. So are the people of Chile."

"Oh, yes," said an old lady, "the modern cook stove is a little invention; and when my boy James came through his studies in practical engineering, as he can come home and run it if he buy one of 'em, but not for the money."

A man whose knowledge is based on actual experience tells us—and it is worthy of credit—that "calling on our acquaintances is about as early as the study in practical engineering, as he can come home and run it if he buy one of 'em, but not for the money."

"Well, Jones, judge for yourself, I can't really tell whether you have been drinking whiskey or whether you have been swimming in it. Husband (reproachfully)—"Hannah, don't you like me, or do you like to swim—like the benefits of the sea?"

Mr. Ansell says that in certain Amazonian tribes, on the day of a marriage, while the bride and groom are standing on the bridegroom's hands are tied in a paper bag with five-pennies. If he be torturing himself, he is considered fit for the trials of matrimony.

The old gentleman went into the parlour the other night, at the winking hour of 11.45 and found the room unlighted and his daughter sitting in the corner occupying a dehors life in the corner by the window. "Evangeline," the old man said, "what are you doing there?"

"Yes, papa," she answered sweetly, "it is a handsome business time, so hard, and light, and bright, and I am sitting here with the starlight." And papa turned and walked out of the room through a panel in the wall-paper!

Why Some People Are Poor. Silver spoons are used to scrape kitchen floors, and pepper and spices are left to stand open and lose their strength.

Coffee, tea, pepper and spices are left to stand open and lose their strength. Potatoes are not removed until the potatoes become worthless.

BeWARE OF NEW YORK COUNTERFEITS. The floor is silted in a wasteful manner, and the bread pan is left with the dough sticking to it.

Clothes are left on the line to whip to pieces in the wind. Dried fruits are not taken care of in season, and become wormy.

Rags, strings and paper are thrown into the fire. Pork stalls for want of salt, and beef becomes the brine water salting.

Bits of meat, vegetables, bread and other foodstuffs are thrown away, when they might be warmed, steamed and served as good as new.
