PURITY FLOUR

And Its Keeping Qualities

SOME people find it necessary to buy a considerable quantity of flour at one time—sufficient to last for a long period.
Naturally they are anxious to procure a flour of the kind best adapted to lengthy storage.

There are two important reasons why PURITY FLOUR possesses these qualities. One is that it is made entirely from Manitoba Hard Wheat. The other lies in the fact that the careful milling necessary to produce "Purity" absolutely excludes all low-grade particles of the wheat berry. It's the high grade
Manitoba Hard Wheat Flour that keeps—stands longest storage.
That's "Purity."

"Purity" flour may cost a little more,
but is more than worth the difference.
Try it. Watch results both for quality and yield.

CHAPTER VI.

LOYD-MOSTYN'S REVENGE.

HOW proud she was of the magnificent man beside her! She was proud of his appearance, proud of his name, proud of his breeding, and of his standing in the Old World where she was some day to meet his friends, and then she was aware of a curious sensation.

A man came up to congratulate her; a man whom she never remembered to have seen before, but she was too happy to think of that. She gave him her hand, and then she saw him turn to her husband.

She saw the man whom she had married turn as white as death; she saw him stagger, and a film like that which follows dissolution gather before the eyes that she had considered the handsomest she had ever seen.

The strange man who had congratulated her drew back, a heavy frown contracting his brow. His fingers unconsciously closed, his eyes contained the gleam of a ferocious canine's.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine."

had begun, but she was startled by the cold, haughty look upon the lovely face. It was no longer that of fright or of wounded love, but only stern resolution. A few minutes afterward, with the coldness of death in her heart, the Duchess descended the stairs and entered the library.

She was deadly pale, her heart seeming to have ceased to act, but she staggered as she saw Devereux for the first time since her marriage to him. It seemed as though ages of seated suffering had passed over him. There were great lines in his brow, lines of agony that no power could ever erase.

He took one step toward her, then something in her expression warned him. He became even a shade paler, pressed his hand over his breast, as though to calm the rebellion in his heart, then sighed as he paused. It was a moment before he could speak, but when he did his voice was that, though filled with an expression that she never did and never could forget.

CHAPTER VII.

VIRGINIA'S ORDEAL.

DEVEREUX begs that you will receive him, madam. The Duchess sat up in bed, her long hair falling about her in great loose curls, like those of a child; her wild frightened eyes gazing about her as though in an endeavour to discover some escape from the hideous position in which she found herself placed.

Where is he? she whispered, her teeth clicked over the question, her face ghastly in its pallor. In the library, madam. Did he wish to come—here? He did not say so. Oh, madam, surely he deserves some pity. I beg that you will forgive me for taking the liberty of speaking, but you would scarce recognize him. He suffered—I cannot tell you. No one could, I think, but God. But your own heart would understand.

For a moment the lady of Beaufort Park had listened breathlessly; then the remembrance of all the grief that Erle Devereux had brought upon her came back, and her heart seemed to freeze under the terrible gale of her humiliated pride.

It seemed as though ages of seated suffering had passed over him. There were great lines in his brow, lines of agony that no power could ever erase. His lips were blue. A cold moisture stood about his mouth. No words ever could picture the representation that he appeared of mental anguish.

He took one step toward her, then something in her expression warned him. Rheumatism Cured In 3 Weeks

By Father Morriacy's "No. 7" Tablets. Mr. James L.E. Johnstone, a prominent member of the Citizen's Band, of Chatham, N.B. writes: "I contracted Rheumatism by exposure five years ago, and was ailing for two months and in great pain all the time. I got Father Morriacy's No. 7 Tablets, and took them for about three weeks, when the Rheumatism all left me, and I have had no return of the pains since."

Devereux sprang forward and seized her by the arm, forcing her to look at him. "Is it possible that you believe that?" he cried hoarsely. "Is it true that you can regard me as a murderer? Answer me!"

His face was bent eagerly over hers, and with the horrible slowness of inflicted death the cruel answer fell from her lips. "I cannot tell. You have brutally deceived me once—why not again? Do you think that I had not rather you had killed me?"

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

I wonder if it's an American trick to talk and judge of things of which one knows practically nothing, at first hand, or just a human habit—as wide as the world.

For it may be both, but it's certainly the first.

We were talking of Oscar Wilde the other day. A young college graduate was of the group. She appeared painfully shocked. "How can you like his poetry? I think it's dreadful," she said.

We asked what she had read of him. She tried to mention something, stammered a bit, mentioned a poem which was really written by Swinburne, and finally acknowledged that she really couldn't remember what she had read just that moment.

"But I always heard that he was a very immoral man, and that his poetry was very improper," she concluded, virtuously.

Isn't that quite a typical case of this tendency to talk without any bias of personal knowledge?

In much the same way, how many people make fun of Ibsen and Browning, and tell how involved and uninteresting and unnecessarily abstruse their books are, when they—the critics—have never really sat down for half an hour and read the writers they are judging.

It's often the same way with public affairs. It seems to me that vague rumors, general impressions, and not specific information, stand behind many of the opinions one hears expressed on public matters. How many people, for instance, rage against Cannon and Aldrich and Payne, and exult at Uncle Joe's downfall, who could not name any specific thing that any of these three men have done.

In a general way they think of these Senators as having too much connection with trusts and monopolies and railroads, but ask for a specific instance of just how these men have betrayed their country's trust, and I doubt if three out of five of the critics could give it.

How many people who protest against "that terrible tariff bill that makes the cost of living so high," really know any of the specific provisions of that bill?

Now, mind, I'm not trying to defend Cannon or Aldrich or Payne, or the tariff bill.

My personal sympathies are most decidedly not in that direction. Besides, that's politics, and I have been politically, but most emphatically, warned that that is a man's province and I must "keep off the grass."

All I want to make you realize is how prone many of us are to talk and judge on subjects of which we have little or no first-hand knowledge.

Have I succeeded?

Ruth Cameron

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, abolishes pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

You can't afford to accept a secret remedy as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition.

Fads and Fashions.

The Paris hobble skirt seems unlikely to reach this country in its full strength, but it will undoubtedly come what influence American fashions.

For the new modest tailored gowns, silk and satin prevail in self-tones, stripes, dots, coin spots, plaid and checkerboard patterns.

Scarves of Persian silk, lined with chiffon or the same shade as the strongest note of color. In the Persian design, are quaint and pretty.

White serge with a hairline of silk thread woven in it is especially smart for tennis suits. Black is a favorite color for the silk thread.

Some gowns with round necks have sleeves to the wrist, and sleeves in general show some fullness and are very ornate, reaching well below the elbow.

New coats are very chic; rather short—some hardly more than hip-length—and show straight lines giving the box effect rather than the fitted.

Hand-embroidered batiste frocks, chiffon veiled, are everywhere worn, while chiffon wraps and scarves are fitting adjuncts to these perishable toilettes.

Magnificently pretty turbans are made of draped Yedda straw, Leghorn, Tegash and hair straws so thin and supple that they yield to any desired shaping.

Collars of plaited mairne are new and attractive. These are of two shades of mauve and rose, pink and blue, trimmed with pearly fringes, will be very much to the fore in autumn fashions.

There is a veritable craze for gilt buttons, rows of them being sewed on the fronts of houses, on jackets and even on cloaks, usually no larger than a pea and bullet shaped.

Lingerie is in the height of its popularity, for with the tailored suit cut in such manly lines as prevail, something of the feminine touch must appear in telling fashion.

Dull beads of varying size, of bone, dyed to match fabrics, or of wood, are liked because of their lightness, replacing glass beads, which are too heavy for the light fabrics in vogue.

Many of the new scarves are prolonged into points at the back, recalling the precious heirlooms of grandmothers who invariably possessed a black lace and a cashmere shawl as emblems of respectability.

The prevalence of sombre colorings abroad is having its effect on the side of the water. Black, marine and blue de roi are the favorite tints, with a dark and discreet purple and the entire gamut of greys.

Tragic Death of Little Boy.

Two-Year-Old Boy Found Dead in a Swing—Entangled in Ropes.

NORTH SYDNEY, Sept. 26.—Sydney Mines was the scene of another tragedy to-day, the victim this time being a two-year-old son of John Harrietha, of Cranberry, who was found dead in a swing at his home at noon to-day.

The little fellow was playing about his home as usual this morning, and on his failure to come into the house to dinner, his sister was sent to look for him. Going to the little swing which his father had erected for him and where he was wont to play, the girl was horrified to find the child with the swing rope tightly wound around his neck and lit extinct. The little fellow, it is thought, instead of using the swing in the regular way, twisted the ropes until his head became entangled and was unable to extricate himself.

Garibaldi Soldier Dies in Fortune Bay.

A well known and highly respected member of our community—Mr. Joseph Sodereaux—was called hence a few days ago. He had long passed the appointed span, and during that time had acquired a literary knowledge and a travelling experience that one might well envy. Born of a good Franco-Italian family, the sunny slopes of Italy were familiar to him. Well educated, with a complete command of Italian, Latin, English, French and Spanish languages, at an early age he enlisted under Garibaldi and fought for Italy's freedom. He served for a time in the Crimean War, and at its termination, after a short sojourn in Italy, came to Newfoundland, where he has spent the remainder of his life making for himself a list of friends. A son and daughter at Harbor Breton, one son at Lunenburg, N. S., one at Sydney, C.B., and another in New Brunswick, remain to mourn his loss. The funeral services took place at St. Bartholomew's Church, Harbor Breton, on Sunday afternoon, and the large number of people who attended testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The coffin was covered with wreaths sent by friends, among whom were the following: Mrs. Mercer, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Way, Mrs. J. Jensen, Miss Moulton, Miss L. Jensen.

Philippine Tragedy.

Preserving the Proof of a Deer Hunter's Story.

(Manilla "Times.") A remarkable natural history group has been presented to Governor-General Forbes by Governor Callies, of La Laguna. It consists of a dog in the grip of a huge box constrictor, a buck and a fawn and its history makes a thrilling hunting tale. Some weeks ago Governor Callies went deer hunting in the mountains of La Laguna. His beaters and dogs located a doe and began following her through the timber.

Suddenly one of the dogs made a great outcry, and hurrying forward the Governor found another hunter in the person of a huge box constrictor. It had fallen upon the doe and encircling its body had taken a hitch around the trunk of a sturdy tree and was crushing it to death.

The game dog charged in, but the snake pinned it against a log with its tail and would speedily have dispatched it. Callies closed in and with a well directed shot to the neck killed the constrictor.

The doe was dead when the hunters disengaged it from the coils of the huge snake.

The fawn was found hidden in some brush and a little later the buck was located and shot. The constrictor measured twenty-one feet in length and its body is very large. The buck and doe are also large specimens, and the group is a striking one.

The regular at 6 p.m. yesterday took out about 45 passengers.

Daughters of the Empire.

An attempt is now being made to organize in Newfoundland a Chapter of The Imperial Order of The Daughters of the Empire. This is an incorporated body founded in 1900 with the motto: "One Flag, One Throne, One Empire." In alliance with it are The Victoria League, England, The Navy League, England, Guild of Loyal Women, South Africa.

Her Excellency the Countess Grey is the Hon. President of the National Chapter of Canada.

Yesterday the Organizing Secretary, Miss Merritt, arrived in St. John's. She was accompanied by Mrs. Auden, one of the Councilors, Miss Hughes, Secretary of the Comrades Correspondence Branch, and Mrs. Douglas Young, of Kingston. They will hold a meeting to-morrow afternoon in the British Hall, at 3 o'clock, with a view of explaining the object, methods, etc., of the Society. Not only are ladies invited, but gentlemen, too. The Society is un denominational, non-political and entirely unconnected with the Suffragets.

The aims of the Order are set forth as follows:—

1. To stimulate, and give expression to the sentiment of patriotism which binds the women and children of the Empire around the Throne and person of their Gracious and beloved Sovereign.
2. To supply and foster a bond of union amongst the daughters and children of the Empire.
3. To provide an efficient organization by which prompt and united action may be taken by the women and children of the Empire when such action may be desired.
4. To promote in the Motherland and in the Colonies the study of the history of the Empire and of current Imperial questions; to celebrate patriotic anniversaries; to cherish the memory of brave and heroic deeds, and last resting places of our heroes and heroines, especially such as are in distant and solitary places; to erect memorial stones on spots that have become sacred to the Nation, either through great struggles for freedom, battles against ignorance, or events of heroic and patriotic self-sacrifice.
5. To care for the widows and orphans and dependents of British soldiers or Exciting Times on Halibut.

Damaged by Storms and Fire on the Run South.

The Gloucester halibut fisher Jeanie E. Hogdon, from Greenland, arrived in port this morning with 130,000 lbs. of hatched fish after a five months' stay in these far northern waters. Capt. C. Flager, who is well known here, is in command, and half of her 18 men of a crew are Newfoundlanders, one of them having been in our local police force a few years ago. The vessel left Gloucester on the 10th May and fished off the Danish settlement of Holstenburg. On the voyage from the home port the vessel had head winds, alternating with fierce storms, and getting to Greenland found fish fairly plentiful until the latter part of August, when it began to get cold with snow surges, and the captain began to think of returning south. The ship left the Greenland coast on Friday, Sept. 16th, and almost from the start had terrible weather. Hurricanes of wind veering from S.W. to E. beset the vessel, with mountainous seas which threatened to swamp her. Rain and snow alternated and the vessel had to lay to for hours at a time, sometimes with the seas making a clean breach over her and rendering it dangerous for the men to hold the decks. The vessel as a result suffered considerable damage. The bowsprit was smashed, burst the stroud, created general havoc and wrecked the dories "cradled" on the starboard side. A couple of weeks ago the ship ran short of water and provisions and the small amount left had to be dealt out sparingly amongst the crew. Just two weeks ago the ship narrowly escaped being consumed by fire while running here in stormy weather. The crew, besides kayacks, igloos, moccasins and walrus tusks, have three Eskimo dogs on board as reminders of their journey north. The latter suffered from a skin disease and the men had a vessel filled with oil which they mixed with tobacco and holled on the cabin stove, the preparation being used to cure the animals. This suddenly boiled over and the whole place was immediately in flames. The crew rallied to save the ship from possible destruction and forming a bucket brigade quenched the blaze after a stiff fight of 15 minutes. The cabin was not greatly damaged but the men lost all their clothing in the blaze as it hung around the apartment from $25 to $60, in the shape of inside and outside wearables. One Newfoundlandian, who had been worth $40. The vessel was then 300 miles off Cape Chidley. While in Greenland they saw many seals and walrus. One Dundee ship had done extremely well with walrus and had made two runs home during the summer to discharge cargo. Her cargoes of furs, walrus ivory and walrus oil, valuable. James Jensen, who formerly commanded a Gloucester vessel, is now mixed in Greenland with a motor schooner working for the Danish Government and incidentally teaching the Esquimaux of the interior the Danish language. The vessel has been a while for halibut and did well. Capt. Flager has been ill almost the whole summer. The vessel will be repaired and get back here.

Makes Stomach Trouble Vanish.

No Indigestion, Heartburn, Gas or Dyspepsia five minutes later.

Why not get some now—this moment and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and crumbles. Give it a good rest, take Pape's Diapepsin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and Dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of Indigestion and Upset Stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and besides one single dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapepsin works, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to take a little Diapepsin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapepsin, because you want to become thoroughly cured this time.

Remember, if your stomach feels out-of-order and uncomfortable now you can get relief in five minutes.

Capt. Bob Bartlett Here Search for Missing Man

BRINGS S. S. BEOTHIC WITH MR. WHITNEY ON BOARD. The S. S. Beothic arrived here at 12 noon, to-day from Boston after a good run to port. She left there on Friday and made a fine run down, passing Cape Race at 5 o'clock this morning. She had very bad weather the past 2 days, and yesterday had a N. E. gale with a tremendous sea. Her popular commander, the hero of the Peary Expedition, Capt. Bob Bartlett, who has been 2 1/2 years absent from home, landed with Hon. W. C. Job and Mr. Whitney, who came along for a run, at 12:30 p.m. to-day, and was heartily welcomed by a number of friends and the officials and employees of Job Bros. & Co. Capt. Bob looks very well after his voyages to the far north, and expressed his pleasure in seeing the old town of St. John's once again. He was promptly interviewed by a Telegram representative on arrival, and after a welcome had been extended on behalf of the People's Paper, the Capt. was asked for a story of his experiences. It was too late then to say much, but he summarized his latest trip to Greenland the past summer with Mr. Whitney and Walter B. Rainey, by saying that it was both successful, profitable and pleasurable. They were at Greenland and Ellesmere Land, visited all the stations and secured many live musk ox, walrus, young Polar bears, foxes, hares and other and other animals indigenous to the polar circle. These are all now in the Zoo at New York. They also killed many of the same, and had boats and implements used by the natives. The ship had some very rough weather and was damaged about the bows, but not to any great extent. Capt. Bob was given a great ovation at Boston and New York.

Kissed Sweetheart. One of the constables on duty on Mount Royal Park has been suspended by Chief Campenu, following upon a complaint laid by a young man who claims that the policeman after threatening him with arrest allowed him off on a payment of $50. The officer maintains his innocence. The young man says he was walking in the park with a young woman, his sweetheart, that he had kissed her and the policeman then stepped up. The offer of $10 for liberty was spurned, $20 also failed, as did $30 and $40, but according to the young man, $50 seemed to be about the price, and the transfer of the money brought his freedom. An investigation will take place.—Ex.

Walking on Water.

A Remarkable Scene Recently on the River Thames.

A number of people on the Albert Embankment, London, were amazed to see an elderly man in an old frock coat walking in the Thames. He was up to his waist in water about 50 yards in the river, and the tide was well up. A large crowd was soon attracted, and the river police rowed towards him and requested him to get out. He said he would when he "had sufficient." He calmly walked away from Lambeth Bridge to Westminster, landing very easily at the steps by St. Thomas's Hospital. It was then seen that he had fixed to his feet a pair of small canoes about 15 inches in length, hollowed out with small air holes underneath. He said he was trying an experiment, and after satisfying the police as to his credentials he was allowed to go, followed by a curious crowd, who had been greatly amused at his defying the police in mid-stream. He had apparently attempted to walk on the surface of the water and sunk to the level of his waist. He was perfectly dry from his waist upwards.

Shot Down in Crowded Streets.

LOWELL, Mass., Sept. 23.—On the steps of the Lowell post office during a busy part of the afternoon, Bogos Matsukian, an Armenian, aged 35 years, fired four shots from a revolver at Mohammed Ahmad, aged 35, and Ahmad Noory, aged 34, both Turks, inflicting wounds that caused Mohammed's death to-night at the hospital. Noory was dangerously wounded, but it is thought he will recover. Matsukian, whose name has been Americanized into "Paul Mike," gave himself up without any struggle.

Badly Hurt In Thresher

Blood poison set in—Great suffering—Cure effected by DR. A. W. CHASE'S OINTMENT.
Mrs. C. Hopkins, St. George, Ont., writes:—"I feel like shouting the praises of Dr. Chase's Ointment. While threshing grain, my son got badly hurt. One of the men who was pitching sheaves, missed the sheaf and ran the prongs of the fork into my son's leg. He did not take much notice of it and in a day or two it got sore and very itchy and blood poison set in. We did everything for it but it would heal one place and break out at another and kept on this way for three months. Finally I thought of Dr. Chase's Ointment and in a week's time we noticed a wonderful change. By the use of three boxes he was completely cured and the wounds healed up. There has not been a sign of a spot on him since." Wherever there is itching or irritation of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can apply Dr. Chase's Ointment with every assurance that the results will be prompt and satisfactory. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Dr. J. M. Eaton & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy Dr. Chase's Recipes.

and said he shot the two men because they had maltreated and killed his wife, who he had left behind at Shakajin, a suburb of Harpool, Armenia, six years ago.

The shooting caused a panic in the crowded streets, and one of the shots went wild through one of the post office windows, narrowly missing Edwin H. Cook, an employee. The three men had met on the steps and had sat down for a talk. Suddenly Matsukian leaped to his feet, and drawing a revolver, fired at Mohammed, the bullet passing through the man's heart. Noory turned to flee, but Matsukian sent a bullet crashing into the fugitive's head, and then turned to the prostrate Mohammed again, firing a second shot into the man's body, while still a fourth bullet went wild through the post office window. There was a wild scramble for safety among the crowds, and a policeman rushed up to the Armenian, who surrendered without making any attempt to escape or resist. Ahmad Noory was operated upon at the hospital, and had recovered sufficient to-night to tell a story that differed materially from Matsukian's according to the police.

Noory says that when the three men met on the post office steps, Matsukian had demanded from them $40, saying he must have it at once. They refused to give him any money and then the shooting began. Matsukian told the police later it is said, that he had purchased his revolver and ammunition with the last cent he had.

SURVEY SHIP ELLINOR—The survey ship Ellinor is now in Green Bay taking soundings. A new chart of the route to Botwood will be issued the coming spring so that the large steamers trading there with pulp and paper cargoes will be able to go there without any risk.

Its Driver Lost, Train Speeds On.

Man at the Trolley Knocked From Cab, Fireman Stops the Whirling Cars.

New York, Sept. 23.—As a fast freight train on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, from Philadelphia to Jersey City, dashed through Bayonne at forty miles an hour, early yesterday morning, the engine driver, Samuel Ollis, leaped out of the cab to scan the track ahead. As he did so his head struck a signal post at Forty-ninth street with all the force of the train's speed, and he was hurled out of his cab.

Traffic is light on the road in the early hours of the morning and this train had right of way, consequently the fireman paid no attention to the way the engine flashed past the station unchecked until they were well into Jersey City. At Claremont Station where the trains generally begin to slow down for the terminal, the speed was higher than ever, and, alarmed, the fireman crawled around to the driver's seat, only to find it vacant. Quickly bringing the train to a stop he notified the other trainmen and the engine was backed up to Bayonne.

At Forty-ninth street, between the tracks and the Morris Canal, Ollis' cap was found lying on the ground and in the belief that he had been thrown into the canal it was dragged in all directions for more than seven hours, with no result. Ollis' relatives in Boyertown, Pa., were notified of his supposed death and prepared to come on and assist in the search.

About eleven o'clock in the morning, Policeman Downes, of the Jersey City forces found an apparently demented man, hatless and coatless wandering in Winfield and Garfield streets, that city. His head was battered, his face stained and muddied, and he could give no coherent account of himself. Policeman Downes took him to the Ocean Avenue station and he was later sent to the Jersey City Hospital, where the conductor and fireman identified him as Ollis.

It is thought that after being knocked from the cab he lay unconscious beside the railway for several hours, then in a daze wandered along the canal into Jersey City.

Physicians at the hospital examined Ollis and said he is suffering from severe concussion of the brain. His recovery is doubtful.

Wireless From Aero To Land Successful.

London, September 27.—Wireless communication was maintained yesterday between an aeroplane in flight and a land station. The experiment was carried out by Robert Lorraine from a biplane, communication being kept up for a distance of a quarter of a mile.

The wireless apparatus weighed only 14 pounds. The transmitter was attached to the passenger's seat. The receiving station on the ground consisted of improved masts with aerial wires stretched in different directions. Valuable data was obtained with a view to improvements for longer distance messages.

New Field for Military Heroes.
Madrid, September 27.—King Alfonso to-day said: "The much dreaded capacity of the aeroplane or dirigible balloon for destructive purposes, for the awful extermination of armies and cities predicted some time ago, has not been attained so far, but it cannot be denied that in aviation a new field has been opened for the display of military heroism and human heroism in general."

Wellman's Dirigible Now Ready.
Atlantic City, New Jersey, September 27.—It is announced that Wellman's dirigible ship, America, is now as "fit as a fiddle," and that the long period of preliminary "tuning up" is practically at an end. As the construction material was cleared away last night, the big gas bag, with its three-ton steel car and 75-foot gasoline tank hanging underneath began to take on beautiful proportions. Exclamations of surprise could be heard on all sides.

British Newspapers.

Above all things they are honest and independent. In the past dozen years the new journalism has modified many old ideas and conceptions that had been current in the newspaper offices. The changes have not all been for the good; but the new spirit has one crowning merit. It has driven stolidness and dullness out of the British press. Compared with its predecessor of 20 years ago, the daily newspaper of to-day is more vivacious more alert, has a keener sense of the drama of life and is more genuinely interested in all things human. Against these conspicuous gains must be set off some loss—a lowering of ideals and a blunting of the ethical sense. A newspaper is a commercial undertaking, but the commercial spirit ought not to be allowed to extinguish its soul.—From the London Chronicle.

Hebrews Celebrate.

The Hebrews of the city met in the Oddfellows Hall at 8.30 this morning to celebrate the opening of the New Year. There were about fifty present, including thirty Gentiles, amongst whom were several members of the fair sex. Mr. B. F. Friedman delivered a lecture in Hebrew and also spoke afterwards in English. The latter address was well received and elicited the sincere sympathy of the Gentiles among the audience. Mr. Frelich afterwards translated the Hebrew address for those present who did not understand it. He spoke very good English. Following is a synopsis of the address:— "The secret that keeps our nation together is Judaism and Zionism. Through the long ages of our chequered history, through our national vicissitudes and our exile, Zionism has kept up our existence amongst the nations. When the Jew was afflicted he prayed in Zion. When the Jew was tortured and persecuted, when he was in sorrow and distress, he reminded himself of his glorious past. When he was driven from place to place without any rest he consoled himself with thinking of the land where stood the cradle of his liberty, the land where the prophet dwelt and taught, where the Bible was written and where the poet sang. Away in the East his thoughts have always been directed in the hope that he will one day be restored to his glory and take his place among the nations as in the days of yore. All this gave him courage to exist and to endure and to withstand persecution, to overcome all sorrows, to look bravely on the dangers and not to despair. Yes, my friends, Zionism is the secret of the long endurance of our nation and the secret of the everlasting existence of the Jew, who cannot mention the name of his God without remembering the land given by Him to his forefathers, where Judaism without Zionism cannot exist. One without the other would be a dead body, flesh without bones. Zionism is a tree that spreads its branches to all parts of the Jewish life, and we wish our children to be Jews in order to save our next generation for us. The most effective means is to surround them with a Zionist atmosphere and to make Zionism the watchword of the Jew, the banner that must be raised for our children to rally round. The love of it must be cherished in their hearts. We must tell them always of the great part we have played amongst the nations. They must be taught to spread the sunshine of charity and benevolence upon all mankind, and from our ancient land how much we have contributed to some of the world's civilization."

The Dunn Case.

Message Not Acted on Until Premier Returned to Town.

The Deputy Minister of Justice, Mr. Hutchings, received a message from Magistrate O'Reilly, of Placentia, yesterday, saying that John Dunn, whom the Telegram reported missing last Saturday, had not turned up. As exclusively told by us, poor Dunn, who came out from Grand Falls, left the train at Placentia Junction Wednesday evening to walk home. Up to this time he has not arrived and there is no tidings of him. Saturday night Magistrate O'Reilly sent out Sergeant Kent with two men to look for him. They returned after a fruitless search. Yesterday morning a message was sent to the Premier from Mr. O'Reilly asking that a special train be sent out to search, but as the Premier was out of town he did not get the despatch till 7.30 p.m. It is regrettable, to say the least, that the message should have been delayed, so long in delivery and that arrangements are not existing whereby despatches which sometimes involve life or death cannot be handled by some one else when the Premier is out of town. Why should a matter of the utmost urgency be delayed until the Premier returns to town when he is out. This delay throws an unfavourable light on the management of matters involving life and death. It is high time that a reform be made in the management of such affairs. When he did get the message, four hours after its arrival here, the Premier instructed the Reid Nfd. Co. to send out a special engine and car. It is also regrettable that the search party was not sent out at once instead of waiting till this morning.

Landed at Elliston.

A Conception Bay schooner which put into Bird Island Cove yesterday morning had 16 women and children on board. As a storm was raging and there was a risk of the schooner being driven on shore, the skipper deemed it wise to land the women and children. Mr. J. Coles sent a message to the authorities here suggesting that the Government give orders to have the passengers taken on to Carbonear in the Ethie.

Stricken With Pneumonia Yesterday

Const. Fitzgerald, of the Eastern Station, while on duty yesterday became very ill, and was afterwards seized with chills and became very ill. Dr. Rendell was called to attend him, saw that he was developing pneumonia and ordered him to Hospital. For weeks previously the officer had not been feeling well. He is a very popular and efficient officer and his many friends will be sorry to learn of his illness.

A Sudden Death.

Mrs. O'Leary, an old and respected resident of Freshwater Road, died very suddenly at her residence yesterday morning. Though she had been slightly ill for some time past none of her family anticipated such a quick and fatal termination to her life. She was after preparing breakfast and was busy about her household duties when she was suddenly stricken and passed away in a few moments. To her family and relatives the Telegram extends its sympathies.

A Disorderly Character

About 8.30 last night a black lister, who often appears in court and who is a disorderly character, while crazed with liquor ran amuck on Cavendish Square and attempted to assault all who passed that way. Constables Stanford and Crocker were attracted by his cries of rage and captured him. The man fought fiercely with the officers, who were compelled to throw him. After much difficulty the policemen were masters of the situation and drove their prisoner to the station in a cab.

Overtaken by Storm.

Sunday afternoon many in the city believing it would be fine went off to the country for a stroll, and most of them were caught in the electrical storm which swept over the city and suburbs later. Children accompanied many of the adults, and all were drenched with rain water when they arrived in the city.

makes more bread to the barrel than any other flour on the market—bread that takes up water readily, "stands up" well in the oven, looks well, tastes well and is light and nutritious.

Being a carefully prepared blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat, Beaver Flour is also an ideal pastry flour, making the most delicious cakes, pies and biscuits.

Keeping two flours—one for bread and one for pastry—involves unnecessary expense and bother. Beaver Flour is best for both.

Notes From Harbor Grace.

We congratulate Capt. E. Burke on his appointment to the command of Messrs. W. Duff's schooner Dorothy Duff. Capt. Burke sailed out of this town for a number of years and was well liked, making many friends.

Mrs. Dugald Munn left by the express on Tuesday last for Montreal on a visit to friends. As the train was passing the Topsails it was snowing thickly; the latter news being conveyed to her son, Master Bert, by post card on Saturday.

A little boy named Ellsworth, of Noad Street, was bitten by a vicious dog last week, and a little girl of the same neighbourhood was also attacked by the same dog. It should be destroyed at once. Too many dogs are allowed to run unclogged, and the police are coming in for a share of the blame in not carrying out the law more strictly.

Yesterday was very stormy—much thunder and lightning with heavy rain. This morning the air is quite cold with occasional showers of snow and hail.

A rather mysterious fire took place at the rear of Mr. John N. McCarthy's house, Stretton's Hill, on Friday night. The fire was discovered in time to save the house from destruction. The police are investigating the cause.

Mr. Philip Garland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garland, of Harvey St., who holds a good position at Sydney, spent a week here with his parents and other friends, and left for Sydney by Thursday's express. Several other sons of Mr. Joseph Garland are in Sydney, all doing well. Their friends are glad to hear of their well-doing.

Our Labrador schooners are gradually returning from the coast, one and all complaining of the very poor catch. The fishermen will all have to seek employment for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Munn and family leave by this evening's train for St. John's, on route to their new home in British Columbia. Their many friends will wish them much success and happiness.

*The induction of Rev. C. M. Stickings, the new pastor of St. Peter's and Christ Churches, took place on Sunday week. A large congregation was present, the services being conducted by Rev. Harrowing Experience

Father and Son Almost Drowned—Both Suffer Terrible Privations.

A few days ago, Mr. Jas. Holleran of Holyrood, St. Mary's Bay, accompanied by his son Stephen, aged 18, went in their boat up Holyrood Pond a sheet of water 20 miles in length to get a load of lumber and in returning the wind which blew strongly all day veered to N.E., and blew a gale. Son after sea boarded the boat and eventually submerged but did not sink her. Father and son were both washed out of her with the lumber which was swept off by the waves and the boy who was hit in the head with a board was rendered unconscious and went to bottom in about 10 feet of water. Both father and son were good swimmers but the accident to the latter rendered him powerless to use the art. The father who clung to the boat for a while when he did not see his son appear dived and brought him to the surface and succeeded in getting several planks floating near together on which he placed his son who recovered after a while. The father now became exhausted, being an old man but still clung to the boards when his son, whose strength had perished, hauled his parent up on them and then getting off himself swam towards the shore to be midway, showing the raft on which his father lay before him. In this way both landed at a cove remote from any habitation and after resting a while the father revived a little. Their boat was swept down the lake and the two men spent 18 hours in the cove, weak and exhausted, and without food, until the storm abated. Stephen then left the old man to walk over the country for assistance, and after tramping about 4 miles, reached the residence of Mr. J. Culleton, and told his story. Culleton, his sons

Boy Almost Drowned.

A boy named Nell, aged 12 years, while on Goodridge's wharf to-day, in leaning against the side of the brig Grace lost his balance and went into the water between the ship and the pier. A young man named C. Burke, of St. Jacques clambered down after him and got him upon the wharf. When landed the boy became unconscious and remained so for fully 20 minutes. This resulted from the fact that he was chilled and shocked with the cold water and the men on the pier feared for awhile that he would die. Const. Fred. Churchill was summoned from Water Street and gave a demonstration of "First Aid." He worked well and dextrously on the lad for fully 15 minutes and had the satisfaction of seeing him restored. Restoratives were then administered and the boy was driven home.

Fishing at Holyrood Pond.

All this summer the following old residents of Holyrood who could not fish in the waters off that place, pursued their avocations at Holyrood Pond. They were: Messrs. David Power, Jas. Walsh, Terence Hayward, Terence Gibbons, Wm. Martin and Geo. Fleming. Each man averaged about 35 qts. of fish. One of them, Terence Gibbons, earned for the summer season $125. The men found cod-fish very plentiful at the Pond during the summer months.

Civil cases were adjudicated upon in the Central District Court. The case of the City Council vs. Petty for the recovery of $9.50, city taxes, which defendant says he paid, and to which the Telegram exclusively referred, was called to-day. Defendant holds that he has a receipt for the amount. The case was adjourned till Tuesday next. Mr. Higgins, for the Council; Mr. Squires, for the defendant.

New Club Opened.

The new club rooms over Bastow's were opened last night. Speeches were made by P. F. Collins, J. M. Devine and others. Mr. Leo Murphy gave an address on "Athletics and the Man." Songs were sung by George Downs and W. Duggan and recitations and readings by William White, W. J. O'Neill and Leo Murphy; instrumental solos by L. O'Don, C. McKinnon, Mr. Byrne and T. Hannan. About 100 were present. Mr. L. Murphy's address was a clever production and was duly appreciated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.
Mayor William J. Gaynor is again active head of the New York City Hall to-day, and assumed the executive reins for the first time since August 9th last, when his vacation was cut short by a bullet from the pistol of Jas. J. Gallagher, a discharged city employee, who laid the Mayor low on the deck of the steamer on which he was about to sail abroad.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.
The steamer Lapland from Antwerp and Dover, one of the two steamers detained yesterday by the health officers of the port, in pursuance of their precautions against possible cholera infection, was this morning allowed to proceed to her pier. Two deaths had occurred on board during her voyage, but neither of them was found to be of a nature to warrant the vessel's further detention. Five of her steerage passengers, however, were sent to Hoffman's Island for observation. The steamer Perugia from Naples and other Italian ports was still at quarantine, when the Lapland got away, being detained to await the result of the bacteriological examination, in the case of one of the members of her crew, a quarter master, who was ill when the vessel reached port Saturday night.

$3.70 for Labrador Fish

The current price for Labrador codfish in the city last week was $3.50 per quintal; but at least one man, a resident of Trinity, received a better price. He was offered $3.60 when he refused the original figure, quoted, but refused to sell, and later a firm quoted $3.70 and he closed at this figure, selling his catch of 400 qts. This is the highest price offered this season for Labrador fish.

Crushed To Death in Railway Yard.

Bernard Fectham, an Intercolonial Railway brakeman was crushed to death by a shunting engine in the yard at Richmond recently.

The deceased was in charge of one of the shunting engines, which was waiting in the yard until No. 9 train passed. As the latter passed Fectham attempted to cross the tracks to board his own engine, and in doing so he was struck down by a light shunting engine which he did not observe approaching.

He was ground under the wheels, the body being horribly mangled. Both legs were severed and his death was almost instantaneous. As soon as the accident was discovered other railway men in the yard lifted and mangled him from the rails and conveyed it to the station. Physicians were promptly summoned, but the unfortunate young man was beyond medical aid. Fectham's engine was going to the Deep Water Terminal to shunt some cars around to the Exhibition tracks.

The deceased was about thirty-two years of age, and he resided on Veith street. He leaves a widow and four children.

He had been in the railway employ about twelve years, and was considered a most competent officer. He was well liked by his employers, and his sad death is generally regretted by all. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and that organization will look after the funeral arrangements.

PEKIN, Oct. 3.
China took another forward step to-day, when the newly-constituted Imperial Senate was opened by the Regent, with little or no ceremony to mark the historic event. In a brief address Prince Chun stated that the wish of the people was for parliamentary government, and he commanded the Senators to labour for this end. A parliamentary building of ample dimensions will be constructed, but pending its completion the sessions of the senate will be held in the rather narrow quarters of the law college. The lack of room was given as the reason for the exclusion applied to outsiders, not even the members of the Foreign Diplomatic Corps being invited to be present.

MADRID, Oct. 3.
The Liberal Press of Spain congratulates Premier Canalejas and interprets the generally successful character of yesterday's manifestations as demonstrating the democracy and liberality of his political policies. The Clerical Press claims that the parades showed the strength and earnestness of the movement in protest against the Government's religious reform plan. Gatherings at Seville, Santander and Valencia ended with encounters between Roman Catholics and anti-clericals, during which shots were fired, and a score of people injured by stones. The police put a stop to the disorders. The Biscayan Catholic Committee is arranging for a great manifestation at Madrid, and is inviting Catholics from all the other provinces to participate.

ST. PETERSBURG, Russia, Oct. 3.
A protest against the Jewish Exclusive laws by Count Leo Tolstoy is published to-day. The regulations setting aside the restricted district only within which Jews may reside legally is described, not only as an absurd and ineffective, but as violating the natural rights of all beings to live and move upon the earth. A Jew watchmaker, 50 years old, committed suicide by poisoning, in a suburb of this city, after receiving a police notice of expulsion.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.
The principal British and Continental and Aviation meetings this year resulted in financial loss to their promoters, aggregating $375,000, according to a report to this Government by Consul McCune, of Glasgow, Scotland. The losses were distributed among aviation meetings as follows:—Lanark, $40,000; Birmingham, $50,000; Blackpool, $75,000; Rhems, $100,000; Nice, $110,000. At the Lanark, Scotland, meet upwards of 20,000 persons paid admission. Most of the air men lost money at the meet, and the only result of value which "recent flights produced in return for the great expenditures was the popular interest aroused in Science."

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 3.
Pinned down by tons of twisted steel girders a number of bodies were reported found early to-day by the workmen engaged in removing the debris from the basement of the wrecked Times Building. The situation was found to be such this morning that it was impossible to make any progress in recovering the bodies, and a steel crane will have to be employed to lift the heavy material away. It is believed that further investigation will bear out the theory the foreman of the composing room, who on his escape the morning of the fire fell down the elevator, and got out only after being severely hurt. Mr. Terbill said there was undoubtedly a number of bodies at the bottom of the shaft as others beside himself had stumbled the same way.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 3.
Following serious rioting early to-day aboard the first section of a circus train en route from Columbia, S. C., to Augusta, in which a white man was shot to death, a negro was forced to jump from the rapidly moving train. An attempt was made to rob employees of the circus wholesale. Arrests have been made by the Augusta police. Three negroes, one of whom confessed to a part of the trouble, are in jail, charged with murder and robbing. Paul Williams, a southern railway shipping clerk at Columbia, was shot to death, his body robbed, and then thrown from the train. A negro who was forced to jump from the train is believed to have been killed, and J. C. Weekly, a companion of Williams, saved himself from the negroes by concealing himself beneath a canvas. Following this the negroes are said to have started through the train to rob other employees when they were arrested by Circus detectives.

MacLachlan Concert.

Last night Miss Jessie MacLachlan and her Scottish Company gave a concert and recital in the Methodist College Hall. Miss MacLachlan is assisted by two artists, Messrs. Craighall Sherry and Mr. Robert Buchanan. The audience was not large and yesterday's cold spell did not add to the comfort of those who attended. The programme, however, was brilliantly rendered and pleased those who had the good fortune to attend. Miss MacLachlan has a voice of good compass, tone and volume, and is skilful in its control and the expression she gives to the sentiments of the song. She sang "Blue Bonnets," "A Golden Cradle Holds Three," two Gaelic songs, "The Last Rose of Summer," "Rosy O'More," and as encores, "Comin' Through the Rye" and "Home Sweet Home."

Mr. Craighall Sherry is an entertainer of much merit. His recital from "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush" was exceptionally well done. Among other treats he gave were "The Englishman proposing Robbie Burns' Health," "The Dedication to the Free Church Parson," "The Bridegroom returning thanks," and "The Scot's Night."

Mr. Robert Buchanan is the pianist and conductor. He not only accompanied Miss MacLachlan but performed himself in a masterly manner. At the close Miss MacLachlan and Mr. Sherry joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne." To-night the performance commences at 9 o'clock. It is to be hoped they will meet with a bumper house.

Scotsman's Bequest To His Native Town.

Mr. William Thompson Brown, who recently died in California, has left instructions in his will that five-twelfths of his estate, providing it is estimated, a fund of £10,000, shall, on his widow's death, be handed over to the town council of Musselburgh, Midlothian, his native town, for the establishment and maintenance of a free dental parlour, where the poor inhabitants of the town may receive, free of charge, skilled dental service and treatment. The population of Musselburgh at the last census was 11,711.

Mr. Brown and his two brothers, Mr. Charles Douglas Brown, of Edinburgh, and Mr. Julius A. Brown, of California, presented £2,500 to Musselburgh last December for a public park in memory of their father. Mr. William Thompson Brown has also left bequests for the poor of the town in California where he carried on a hardware business.
