HERE TO STAY.

Why waste your money on an inferior piano and player-piano repairing and tuning service? You will eventually have to come where your work can be done in first-class style and perhaps done over again. So save yourself the initial expense and have your work done right the first time. Also, send in your orders early as the demand for this service is greater than ever. If address below is not convenient for you, leave your orders where you buy your Columbia Records—The U. S. Picture and Portrait Co., phone 493.

STEWART'S Home Made Bread,

THE BREAD MY DADDY LIKES

Daddy is evidently not one of those back number lords of creation who believes that woman's place is in the home—and only there. His taste in a wife is an up-to-date woman who will prove herself a real companion. He knows that if she is a slave to her kitchen she can't enjoy the poise or have the interest in world affairs that a little extra leisure would make possible; and so he is pleased to eat MRS. STEWART'S HOME MADE BREAD—the loaf with the home made flavor.

The smiling, well-nourished kiddie doesn't look as though suffering because mother is progressive enough to buy good bread made by a bread specialist, instead of wearing out her life in the kitchen.

THE MUTUAL LIFE Assurance Company of Canada
WATERLOO, ONTARIO
Fifty-First Annual Statement

A few significant features of the annual statement presented to the policyholders at the annual meeting February 3rd, 1921, are given in the following condensed summary.

	1919	1920	Increase
Income	$ 8,583,404.00	$ 10,124,171.00	$ 1,540,767.00
Expenses	$ 2,219,500.00	$ 2,247,277.00	$ 27,777.00
Net Income	$ 6,363,904.00	$ 7,876,894.00	$ 1,512,990.00
Assets	$ 40,825,550.00	$ 47,008,024.00	$ 6,182,474.00
Reserves	$ 1,827,801.00	$ 1,657,104.00	$ 170,697.00
Surplus	$ 4,537,749.00	$ 6,219,720.00	$ 1,681,971.00
Assets	$ 184,049,303.00	$ 206,627,728.00	$ 22,578,425.00

Period of years. In 1920 the Company's investments showed the handsome average interest rate earned of 6.41%.

Surplus Earnings. The prosperity the Company enjoyed is best reflected in the surplus earnings of the year, which show an advance over the preceding year of $354,303, being an increase of 27%. This represents earnings of $38.67 for every $1,000.00 of total assets.

Increased Dividends to Policyholders. The rapid recovery shown by the statement of the year's operations from the effects of the war and the influenza epidemic is very gratifying, enabling, as it does, an increase in the distribution of dividends to policyholders in the current year of about 50% in excess of last year.

Year	Income	Assets	Paid to Policyholders	Business in Force
1870	$ 4,956.00	$ 6,216.00	$ 500,000.00	$ 500,000.00
1880	88,691.00	225,605.00	2,568,100.00	3,064,884.00
1890	489,858.00	1,696,076.00	176,151.00	13,710,800.00
1900	1,164,875.00	5,165,493.00	424,815.00	23,518,626.00
1910	3,920,996.00	16,279,562.00	804,700.00	64,855,279.00
1920	10,124,171.00	42,847,277.00	3,567,522.00	206,627,728.00

A copy of the detailed report will be mailed to every policyholder in due course.

lies were the victims. Mr. Howe was shot down in the woods. At his home the Indians left only lifeless bodies to tell the tale of eight murders, including the death of Mrs. Howe and four little children. Feigning friendliness the savages entered the cabin of Noble and Thatcher, and then by concert of action, shot the two men. They next seized the children by the feet, dragging them from their mother's arms, and dashed out their brains against an oak tree. After slaughtering all the cattle, hogs, and poultry and captives, they took Mrs. Noble and Mrs. Thatcher. On the way they stopped at the house of Mr. Howe and Mrs. Noble found her mother lying dead under the bed, where she had doubtless crawled after being left by her brutal murderers. Her 13-year-old brother was found sitting in the camp with the other two women. The savages made sure of their work before they left, killing him before her eyes.

ANOTHER MURDER.
The three women were required to braid their hair and paint in Squaw fashion as soon as they reached the Indian camp. In a few days the Indians broke camp and crossed West Okoboki on the ice. They proceeded to Marble's Grove, on the west side of Spirit Lake. By accident they discovered the cabin of Mr. Marble and he was equally surprised at the appearance of the Indians. Strategy was again used to disarm Mr. Marble. The Indians proposed shooting at a mark and as soon as his gun was empty and his back turned, Marble was killed. Mrs. Marble was taken to the camp with the other two women. The massacre was not discovered until March 9, when a Mr. Markham, hunting for strayed oxen, stumbled into the deserted Gardner home. The dead bodies showed him that they were those of victims of the Indians. He pushed on to neighboring cabins and found similar evidence of murder and destruction. He retreated, carefully avoiding the Indian camp and reported to Eliza Gardner that her family was dead. Two men at once came to Fort Ridgely to report the matter to the army commandant.

TROOPS ORDERED OUT.
Major Williams, commander of the Spirit Lake expedition, stated in his official account that "never in the history of our country have such outrageous acts been committed on any people." Brutal services for the massacred settlers were held near the cabins where they were killed. United States soldiers officiated. The four women captives went through a series of further agonizing adventures, until the end came to two of them. As the party were crossing a rude bridge, a young savage pushed Mrs. Thatcher into the icy waters. She managed to struggle to the bank only to be brained by a waiting redskin. Mrs. Marble, strange to say, was bought by two braves, who showed her with favors and delivered her to the whites. Mrs. Noble and Mrs. Sharp were bought by a member of the Yankton tribe, travelling with the Sioux. One evening a son of the Sioux chief came to the Yankton tent and ordered Mrs. Noble out. She refused to go. The Indian seized her by the arm and dragged her from the tent. With a stick of firewood he struck her three blows, such as only an Indian can deal, and then came into the tent, washed his bloody hands and went to sleep. The piteous groans of the poor woman continued half an hour. Then all was silent. Next morning the warriors gathered around the mangled corpse and amused themselves by dividing it target to target. They cut off the hair and mutilated the body with their knives, leaving it unburied on the ground.

MURDERERS SLAIN.
Had Mrs. Noble lived only a few days longer she might have gained liberty. At the moment she was murdered, United States troops were marching to the scene. Mrs. Sharp was returned to civilization by her Yankton purchaser after toilsome days of travelling. The savages had got wind of the near approach of the United States troops and were only too glad to save their skins by releasing Mrs. Sharp. She was formally delivered to the governor, June 23. A series of battles with the Sioux followed and nearly all concerned in the massacre were slain. The State of Iowa has erected a monument to mark the scene of the dreadful massacre, which still has power to send a thrill of horror through the people of that section, even after sixty-seven years.

CORNERS
Lift Right Off without Pain
Magic! Drop a little "Freezon" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Doesn't hurt a bit.
Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezon" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses.

Hemorrhoids

One of the troublesome and painful effects of continued constipation is hemorrhoids, or piles.

Nujol relieves constipation by an entirely new method. Without forcing or irritating, it softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along and out of the system. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

For Constipation

The Modern Method of Treating an Old Complaint

Side Talks

by Ruth Cameron

A TIME TO TELL.
It is an excellent thing not to be always talking about one's pains and one's troubles, but it is possible for one to go to the other extreme and say too little about his feelings.

Self-Martyrdom.
Of course the concealment is usually made with the best intentions, in the pursuit of an ideal of self-control. But there are times when it seems as if a deliberate self-martyrdom were behind it. For instance, I knew a woman who used to have terrible headaches if she overdid. She would never tell her husband in his symptoms until she was flat on her back. Then she would say with self-pitying meekness, "I felt a headache coming on, but I knew you wanted me to do this and so I didn't want to disappoint you." He would far rather have been disappointed than to have had her flat on her back with the attendant misery to her and discomfort to him.

Help Him to Help You.
There is reason in all things and a happy medium between all extremes. It is unpleasant for others and unhealthy for yourself and others to go about whining and complaining over every little ache or pain or mood of weariness. But, on the other hand, there are times when, if a housemate can know how you feel, he can better help you by tact and forbearance to struggle back to the way you ought to feel.

FOR SORE THROAT,

Cold in the Chest, Etc.

MINARD'S LINIMENT
"THE KING OF PAIN"
YARMOUTH, N.S.

You Know Them All.

Sandwiches are named after the Earl of Sandwich.
Bianco-Mange, taken literally from the French, is simply "White eatable." Mulligatany means "pepper-water," according to the East Indian language.
Crumpet is a corruption of the Anglo-Saxon "crumpeht"—a kind of crumbly or soft cake.
Sally Lunn is so called because a pastry-cook of that name used to sell the tea-bread in the streets of Bath at the end of the eighteenth century.
Muffins suggest "muff," meaning soft, but the real derivation is from the French "Mou-pain," the translation of which is, of course, soft bread!
Macaroni originated from a Greek phrase signifying "the blessed dead," in allusion to the old custom of fattening it at feasts for departing souls.

A Banner Year.

For the Mutual Life of Canada.
The Annual Statement of The Mutual Life of Canada, which appears on another page, must be gratifying to the Directors and Officers of the Company, and will doubtless be received by Policyholders from Coast to Coast with the deepest satisfaction.

Although the year 1919 excelled all its predecessors, yet every department of the Company's operations in 1920 shows a marked increase over that of the previous year. In income, assets, new assurances, surplus earned, total surplus and assurances in force, the year 1920 was a phenomenal success.

During the later months the Company had increased its assurances in force to $200,000,000, and at the close of the year the figures stood at over $206,000,000. To protect these obligations, the Company has accumulated assets of nearly $43,000,000, a sum which the surplus shows exceeds by $5,000,000 the amount necessary to guarantee the payment of all policies.

The success of a Life Insurance Company depends largely on its investments and it is noteworthy that while the reserves have been calculated on a 3% and 3½% basis, the Company has earned interest at the rate of 6.41%.

The excess interest, as well as all other profits, becomes the property of the policyholders of the Company and is used to reduce premiums, to increase the insurance, or is payable in cash.

The Mutual of Canada, as most of our readers are aware, is unique in that it is the only example of a Company which has been established and conducted in Canada on a strictly co-operative basis. This means that all the policyholders of the Company during the year 1920 was such that, in spite of the heavy strain put on its resources during the last six years, the Directors felt justified in increasing the dividends for 1921 by 50% over those paid in 1920.

Altogether the 51st year has proven to be in every way the banner year in the long history of "Canada's Only Mutual," and we congratulate the Directors, Officers, and Policyholders of the Company on the splendid results achieved.

Replies to Mr. Dooley.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—In answer to Mr. W. M. Dooley regarding the murders of three thousand Haitians by American Marines, may I say that, no matter what the whitewash commission of inquiry said or will say, or what anybody else appointed as a camouflage will say, there is no doubt about the murders—they were perpetrated and no amount of whitewash can remove the deep stain which has been put on the American flag—but there with the Hawaiian and the Philippine Islands stains. American republican principles have been hamstringed since 1899 and, to judge by recent events, the cords are withering away fast.

As to the morality, humaneness and goodness of the American Marines, may I say that, in so far as soldiering is concerned, I have no quarrel with Mr. Dooley's statement? The point is, however, that the average intelligence of Marines is no higher than the average intelligence of soldiers who in times of peace voluntarily enlist anywhere—and the moral significance for any of their acts is not a matter which causes them many sleepless nights. Also, have we not heard of mistaken patriotism? But, enough of that. When I indicted the Marines I did not indict the individual Marine—it was the American government, and those interests which it represented, which caused the murders to be committed.

Major-General Lejeune, no, it was not he; it was the commanding officer before his time—stated that, while he was in charge of the Marines in Haiti, three thousand Haitians were killed by his forces. Lejeune, who denied that "indiscriminate killings" had taken place, was in charge following the episodes to which I referred in my former letter, and his denial was made before the admission of his predecessor. As to whether Haitians are savages or not, I have nothing to say except that that is no justification, except with moral perverts, and the American Marines, for murdering them.

Mr. Dooley says that the Americans waged no campaign in Hawaii and that not one American shot was fired there. That is so. I do not say that they had and did. I do say, that the coup d'état of the "revolutionaries" in Hawaii was carried out with the understanding and help of the Americans and that, also, American guns were sent ashore to protect the revolutionaries in their work. As to the "voluntary" annexation of the Hawaiians to America, there is a story to be told about that, too. If Mr. Dooley wishes to see this matter of Hawaii thrashed out, nothing will give me greater pleasure.

Mr. Dooley makes reference, too, to Philippine Islands. He says that Aguinaldo recently lauded American rule. That may or may not be so; certainly it does not whitewash the terrible treachery and brutality of the Americans—including Dewey—in first allying themselves with Aguinaldo, as leader of the people of the Philippine Islands, in repulsing the Spaniards, and then, when that was done, turning on Aguinaldo and his army, "buying" their country from under their feet and announcing that, henceforth they proposed to rule Philippine Islands and that the Philippine had to be docile or get shut up. If Mr. Dooley wishes to enter into this subject I shall be delighted to comply.

May I say, sir, (albeit it is rather personal) that I have no hatred for the American people, whom I regard with much respect and some love? My quarrel is with their Trust-controlled governments. The American people, cosmopolitan, socially democratic, progressive, are at heart sound, and if they were in possession of the facts and it was left to them, there can be no doubt as to what action they would have taken in the matter of Hawaii, Philippine Islands and Haiti. The sugar trust and the rubber trust and the tobacco trust are not the heart of America, sir; nor can they be taken as representing the sentiment of America. Rather are they the scab on the American body politic and civic.

May I look forward for a reply from Mr. Dooley?

Sincerely,
J. R. SMALLWOOD,

Story of Spirit Lake Massacre, March 1857.

(By W. M. DOOLEY.)

Dubuque Iowa, Jan. 30.—One of the saddest spots in Iowa is Blue Earth. Here thousands of vacationists spend delightful weeks amid its scenic beauty. To gaze upon this beautiful sheet of water glistening in the sun, it would hardly be thought that it was in 1857 the scene of one of the bloodiest massacres in the history of the American West.

For many years an old lady stood in a cabin door watching a small band of white crosses where they lived once alone. This Gardner family is dead now, but the memory of those visit since the horror that befell her youth and clouded her life, she said, will ever remain.

She stood by the same cabin door in 1857 and watched the brutal redskins butcher her father, mother, sister, nephew and niece in the famous Spirit Lake massacre. She was the sole survivor of this man Amritsar and the gay folk who came to this delightful spot seldom realize that they are treading on the blood of American pioneers.

For Abbie Gardner shared in the blood memories of a night of horror years ago and the nine others that were white she was a captive in the hands of the Indians.

There and there are spots that were the sites of the homes of settlers buried with their inmates on the night when hell let loose its howling demons.

The Gardner came to Spirit Lake in 1855, being attracted by its beauty, and settled with several other families on Okoboki. Other families followed and soon a settlement of forty families had been built up.

Let Harbor Main Remember.

The electors of Harbor Main will have an opportunity of pronouncing upon many questions of public importance on March 12th. The matters which will be put before them and on which they will be asked to pronounce intelligently and convincingly will be those which seriously affect this Dominion in an economic sense and we feel sure that their decision will be intelligently given in the best interests of Newfoundland. The Coaker-Squires Party appealed to the country in November, 1919 on a policy of political reform coupled with a policy of retrenchment and economy. They berated the Cashin Government with trumped up charges of graft, incompetency, and reckless expenditure of public funds. They did not give credit to the Cashin Party for their successful handling of difficult problems arising out of the war, nor did they explain that the heavy expenditures which called for increased estimates were in any way due to the abnormally expensive burdens which the war had placed upon the country. They merely said that the Cashin Party was a party of grafters who were bent on destroying the Dominion, that those associated with Cashin were bent on a policy of extravagance with the sole desire of growing rich out of the public funds, and all that was necessary to save the Dominion from the financial ruin into which we were drifting was a change from Cashin and Crosbie to Squires and Coaker. The people heeded the cry of the false prophets, who were bent on luring them to their destruction. They endorsed the policy of the Coaker-Squires Party, they foolishly followed blindly the bland, empty utterances of the glib-tongued party leaders, who were out to loot, and the result was the election of a Government which has proved itself in one short year the greatest curse that has ever fallen upon this unfortunate land.

The District of Harbor Main stood out against the conspirators. They refused to be cajoled into endorsing the agglomeration which was headed by Coaker and Squires. They returned to the Legislature two men to support the Government of Sir Michael Cashin. The Coaker-Squires Government nevertheless was returned with a good working majority. They were out for revenge. They must break the will of the independent electors of Harbor Main. What though the people elected the men of their choice—what mattered it that William Woodford and W. E. Jones were their selection, their decision must be set aside, and the Court was invoked with this end in view. The machinery of law was put in motion, old men and young men were forced to give evidence to unseat the members of their choice. Charges were preferred against Woodford and Jones, many of them false; but sufficient was brought out to unseat the one and to disqualify the other. The residents of Harbor Main were dragged from their homes in the dead of winter, and forced under oath to become informers against the men whom they had elected to represent them. Men tottering with age were placed in the witness box, put on oath and questioned as to their knowledge of the most confidential details of conversation between them and their representatives, whom they had elected by overwhelming majorities. This was done, not with a view to strengthening the Government's following in the House, but for revenge, because Harbor Main District was strong enough and intelligent enough to see the impending disaster to the country, which would follow the return to power of Coaker and Squires, and they had steadfastly refused to support any such disastrous combination.

The people are now appealed to, to again endorse the policy of Sir Michael Cashin. They are asked to resent the insult which has been offered them by the unseating of the men who were their choice and who were trusted fully by them in the General Election. They will not have an opportunity this time of voting for William Woodford. Squires succeeded in disqualifying him. But Dr. Jones and Capt. John Lewis are now in the fight against a corrupt Government that has trampled under foot the rights of the people; a Government that has treated the people of Harbor Main in a manner most discreditable and unfair. Harbor Main is determined to confirm the decision of the General Election. Woodford is well represented in the person of Capt. Lewis, and the District's interests will be safe in the hands of the present nominees of the Liberal-Labor Progressive Party. Harbor Main alone was selected for humiliation by Squires and his coterie, but Harbor Main will now, by an overwhelming victory for Jones and Lewis, show the Government that they have one purpose, viz., clean and intelligent administration of public affairs, and that they will not be turned from this purpose by the nefarious designs of disgruntled politicians failing to defeat Woodford and Jones by ballot, and later, by legal proceedings, to deprive them of their legislative seats. Harbor Main men will be solid for Jones and Lewis. They will be more determined now than ever to secure the election of the Opposition nominees because they have realized the treachery of those who sought their support, and who failing to receive it, turned upon them to rend them politically, and strip them of legislative representation. Well done loyal old Harbor Main! Your sons are worthy of your sires! Your spirit cannot be broken! JONES AND LEWIS will be your choice!

For Charity.

St. Andrew's Ass'n. Card Tournament Yesterday two card tournaments were held by St. Andrew's Society for the purpose of raising funds for the cause of charity in the city. In the afternoon the ladies held a Bridge and Auction Forty-five tournament which was very well attended. The prize winners were Mrs. Jubien in the Bridge drive and Mrs. Andrew Carnell in Auction Five and Forty. At night there was a general game of Auction Five and Forty, in which ladies and gentlemen contested. Some exciting as well as humorous play followed and at the close of the following were the winners: Gentlemen—1st, E. H. Hunter; 2nd, M. Fidiater; "Booby," S. B. B. Ladies—1st, Miss M. Templeman; 2nd, Miss G. Cunningham; "Booby," Mrs. F. Joss. The proceeds amounted to $151.00 which will be devoted to Charity, and if it be found necessary the proceeds of the regular fortnightly tournaments will also go to swell that fund. An impromptu dance which was greatly enjoyed by all present was held after the prizes had been presented.

Squires' Promises.

AS PER MANIFESTO, 1919. "I propose a complete reorganization of the tariff. The necessities of life will bear the minimum of taxation; the luxuries of life the maximum of taxation." The Fulfillment: Bologna Sausages (Browning's) chief article of diet for our fishermen allowed free entry. "Newfoundlanders are groaning to-day under the heavy burden of taxation. A re-organization of the public service and a business-like administration of affairs will make a substantial reduction in taxation possible without in any way interfering with Newfoundland's capacity to meet her obligations and substantially improve her public services." The Fulfillment: Sugar controlled by a Board of incompetents and bunglers and the consumers deliberately robbed on a maximum price. Railway and steamships of the Reid Newfoundland Co. taken over and operated by a Commission—of which the Reids are members and Mr. Coaker Chairman—at a cost to the Colony of an indefinite sum, but one which may run

The "Ice" in Hr. Main.

The Civic Commission was sore in need of money whereby with the utmost speed the streets of the town they might clear of snow. So to the source from which all monies flow. Without much room to do they quickly went To ask for supplies from the Government. But there they were met with the same old about "You know that there isn't a cent about We simply can't in the least afford it. And they took no pains to show they deplored it. Not very long after in came the "Doc" But this time not looking for further stock. To place in his nice little Model Farm. But rather to bring in news to alarm. From electioneering post haste he came. To tell how bad things were in Harbor Main. For the Government. And he asked for cash By means of which he might avert the crash. There was snow to be cleared in Harbor Main. He needed money to pay for the same. Though they had said that they hadn't a cent. What then, do you think did our Government? Why just hit deeper in our pockets Put their hands: So attended by rockets Off to the district the "Doc" went Hoping that now he could buy Harbor Main. If he thinks this he is very much out For every voter is going to flout The rainmaking to end Has lived up to this motto "Spend! Spend! Spend!!!"

B. I. S. Dramatic Troupe

REHEARSING "A DAUGHTER OF ERIN." The B.I.S. Dramatic Troupe, which made such a distinct success in "The Old Homestead," is now engaged in the preparation of Wesley Holmes' thrilling melodrama "A Daughter of Erin" to be produced at the Casino Theatre on St. Patrick's afternoon and night. It abounds with mirth provoking comic roles which will be sustained by Misses Vickers, Horne, and Rickie; Ann (name) and Ryan in conjunction with the infatigable P. F. Moore and the irrepressible Peter O'Mara. Miss Angela McGrath promises to give a delightful interpretation of the beautiful character of Sheila O'Grady, princess of Borneo, and will be supported by Messrs. O'Grady, Comerford, Grace, Channing and Jackman. A specially prepared programme of music, dance, and song suitable for the occasion is being prepared, and a charming performance is assured those who attend.

Shipping Notes.

S.S. Sachel is due at Liverpool today from the port. Schooner Hazel Trahey is now due from Torreviga with a cargo of salt to Baine Johnston & Co., but is no doubt detained owing to the ice conditions along the coast. S.S. Rosalind arrived at Halifax at 8 a.m. yesterday from New York and leaves for this port at noon today. S.S. Sablo I. arrived at Halifax at noon yesterday and leaves for this port on March 1st. S.S. Permanencia the concrete steamer built at Sydney last year, finished loading at Belleoram yesterday and sailed for Boston with 3000 barrels of frozen herring. Schooner Sordello is now at Fowey loading China clay for Genoa. The vessel discharged her pulp cargo at Preston, and had a trying trip from there to Fowey being 30 days on the passage. S.S. Lady of Gaspe sailed today for Halifax and Boston taking 12000 pounds of salt bulk codfish to the latter port. This is the first shipment of salt bulk to go to the U.S.A. for some time. S.S. Manole, 5 days from St. John. N.B. arrived at 11 o'clock last night, bringing a full general cargo to Harbor 4 Co. The Marola met considerable slob ice on the trip and on arrival the ship had much difficulty in forcing through the harbor ice, to her berth at Shee & Co's premises. Schooner Miram H., Captain Doyle, arrive at Pernambuco on the 21st inst., 29 days from St. John's.

Cold Snap.

Yesterday was one of the coldest days for the season along the railway, at Bishop's Falls the thermometer registered 20 below; at Gaff Topsails 10 below; at Clarendville 10 below, and at Humberstone 8 below. Last night, however, there was a decided change, the lowest temperature being 10 above zero at Bishop's Falls.

Salvation Army Opens Soup Kitchen.

The distress in the city among the poor is terrible to witness, and in view of this the Salvation Army has opened a temporary soup kitchen at their George Street Metropole. Kitchen will be open from 4 to 6 p.m. each day until further notice. We have no funds for this effort, but are hoping that kind hearted friends will come to our assistance. Donations for the same should be sent to: COLONEL THOS. MARTIN, 20 Springdale St. And will be duly acknowledged.

McMurdo's Store News.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 23. We have just received a consignment of goods from England which contains a number of items, special preparations that have often been asked for of late; Stymol Tablets, Mercolized Wax, Orlex Compound, Parment (double strength) Tamar Indian, Ferguson's Glycerine, Balm Rummer's Lime Juice and Glycerine, and Rencel Patch Salves. These will all be available for sale in a day or two, and further reference will be made to them in this column. Our hours today are open from 9 to 11 a.m., 6 to 7 p.m. and 10.30 to 11 p.m.

Death From Exposure.

The following message was received yesterday afternoon by the Minister of Justice from Greenspond: "Operator at Newtown informed me today that Alfred Andrews, of Cape Freels, unmarried, perished while bird-shooting yesterday. Body recovered. J. B. WORRELL, J.P."

NOTICE.—There will be a meeting of the B. I. S. Ladies' Auxiliary in the Club Rooms on Wednesday evening, February 23rd, at 8.30 p.m. ELIZABETH H. PEDIGREW, Sec'y.—Feb 23, 21

From the Political Battlefield.

Liberal-Reformers on the Run. HARBOR MAIN, Yesterday. Special to Evening Telegram Public meetings of Liberal Labor Progressive candidates held at Harbor Main, and Conception Harbor, never saw such enthusiasm. Meetings addressed by Woodford, Jones, Lewis, Sir Michael Cashin and W. J. Walsh, in the order mentioned. Determination manifested everywhere to give Jones and Lewis biggest majorities ever recorded in this District.

AVONDALE, Yesterday. Special to Evening Telegram Cashin here and meeting tremendous reception. Doctor Campbell and campaigners here also, are very much despondent, and are fighting a losing battle all through.

TOPSAIL, Yesterday. Special to Evening Telegram Prospects here more favorable than last election. A private message from Harbor Main this morning states that the Liberal-Labor Progressive Party Candidates are sweeping District and that the Coaker-Squires Candidates are getting no show whatever. Fury has said if he was back to private life again he would remain there.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

DELCO CLEAR OF ICE. HALIFAX, Feb. 22. The United States steamer Delco reported yesterday fast in the ice off Louisburg, while en route from St. John's, Newfoundland to Halifax, is reported free of ice and proceeding toward Halifax in a wireless to Furness Withy Company here.

COURSE.

TOKYO, Feb. 22. Toshirigo Ocasawara, the Japanese sentry who shot Lieut. Langdon of United States ship Albany at Vladivostok, has been found not guilty in a trial for accidental murder.

SECRETARY ARRESTED.

BELFAST, Feb. 22. Sean McGrath, General Secretary of the Irish Self-Determination League, was arrested in London yesterday, advises say.

A BLOODLESS CAPTURE.

DUBLIN, Feb. 22. A police sergeant was seriously wounded in Maynooth, County Kildare, to-day, and a Constable was wounded in Caher, County Tipperary. Thirty-eight members of the Irish Republican Army, drilling in County Mayo, were surrounded and captured, without casualties, by Crown forces.

FREE MEAL RAIDERS.

MONTREAL, Feb. 22. A body of unemployed, about five hundred in number, who yesterday, and again to-day, paraded to the City Hall and demanded unemployment doles, which were rejected, marched up town and a number of them raided a restaurant on St. Catherine Street, demanding and obtaining free meals. There were no disorders but some of the ringleaders were subsequently arrested.

PERILS OF OCEAN.

BOSTON, Feb. 22. Every scrap of food on board was gone, and the coal bunkers were virtually empty, when the steamer Canadian Signaller arrived to-day from Fowey, England, a week overdue. She had fought her way through storm after storm on the Atlantic, and officers and crew were exhausted. The last three days of the ship's voyage were by dead reckoning, and only yesterday was her position made known to her by a navy wireless, after her Boston agents had sought word of her. In mid-ocean her engine broke down, and for hours the vessel was tossed about at the mercy of the sea.

Pennywell Road.

The attention of Inspector General Hutchings is called to the prevailing conditions on Pennywell Road, and as to the outcome if a conflagration was to take place there, particularly the western section. To make matters a little more uncomfortable, a live wire within easy reach of the small boy lays bare of insulation for an inch or so. This should receive immediate attention as it will be too late after an accident occurs.

Filling With Ice.

PLACENTIA HARBOR BECOMING BLOCKED. Placentia Harbor rapidly filling with ice, according to reports received by the R.N.Co. and S.S. Clyde, which was harboured there, was compelled to leave at 2 p.m. yesterday to make for Burn's, to avoid being jammed. S.S. Sagona, which arrived there in the early morning to connect with the S.S. Mojele to transfer passengers and freight, also ran for Burn's. With operations on the Placentia branch railway discontinued owing to the snow blockade and the harbor filled with ice, cutting off steam communication, the ancient capital is certainly starting part in the isolation now affecting practically all the outports.

Outport Nursing Scheme

WORKING MOST SUCCESSFULLY.

It may interest the people of St. John's to hear of the good work started in October last in two of the Outport Districts by the first two nurses under the Outport Nursing Committee whom Lady Harris brought back with her from England. The scheme is working most successfully, so much so, indeed, that the two other nurses engaged and coming out in April are both already promised to districts requiring their aid. The biggest things have often the smallest beginnings, and it is the ambition of the Committee to see a chain of nurses extending over all those Outports in the Colony where medical aid is so sadly needed.

The Committee appointed under Minute of Council consist of the Honourable Dr. Campbell (Chairman), Lady Harris (Secretary-Treasurer) to whom all communications should be addressed, Mrs. Squires, Hon. W. W. Halfyard, and Rev. Dr. Jones.

The whole scheme is on a firm basis, the Government guaranteeing the salaries and medical equipment of the nurses to begin with. The idea is that the work shall in time be self-supporting or very nearly so. It is no charity concern, and every patient pays for the attention of the nurse, and is ready to do so, the nurse handing in a weekly account to the Relieving Officer, who sends the amount quarterly to the Treasurer of the Committee. The two nurses now at work earned in two months the equivalent of their salaries, a very satisfactory result!

The nurses are boarded either in a clergyman's family or elsewhere, as convenient, and each have their little surgery, where they see patients and dispense medicines. In necessary cases they of course visit the patients. The two nurses now out here hold very high qualifications including midwifery; one of them is able to extract teeth, having studied at a dental clinic before coming out. The hardships these nurses have to face are very real, no one who knows the Outports will question, especially in winter weather, but they are strong, brave-hearted women, who will go far to alleviate suffering and whose ideal of duty is a lofty one!

I feel the best mode of giving to the public some conception of the work being done is to quote extracts from the nurses' letters, but before doing so, here is a letter from a Clergyman of one of the districts where a nurse is located.
 "Dear Lady Harris—I am writing this to say how thankful and glad we are to have Nurse... with us in the Parish, and to thank you very much for the very great interest you have taken in us.
 I intended writing before, but that I have been away from headquarters a good deal. The nurse is doing the most valuable work and our people like her very much indeed, and we are more than grateful for her services. She is kept busy and she evidently enjoys her work amongst our people. I am more than thankful that we can secure her services. I am sure I cannot express just how much it means to us all. We shall do all in our power to make her comfortable, happy and content.
 I am,
 Very faithfully yours,
 (sgd.)

In another letter the nurse is spoken of as "a perfect God-send."
 The great anxiety is the supply of nurses. The expense of bringing them from England is very great and on this account it would of course be far better to engage them this side. Lady Harris has had two or three applications, but regrets to say the applicants so far seem unable to make up their minds, showing no definite purpose, and only nibbling at the idea. Women required for this work need the missionary spirit, and must be strong, self-reliant and capable. A nurse of the right calibre must desire to take up this philanthropic work and have her heart in it. The right note was struck by a nurse, who was interviewed by Lady Harris in England, who was doing excellent work in Hospital—"I want a larger sphere of work and I love working for these poor people."

 This nurse comes out in April and the district to which she is going is paying her passage across and her salary, relieving the Government of all expenses.
 (The extracts from Nurses letters referred to above are rather voluminous, but so soon as space is available we shall make an effort to publish them. As a description of life on the outports from the point of view of those not born in the Colony, they are interesting.—Editor.)

"DANDERINE"

Girls! Save Your Hair!
 Make It Abundant!

Immediately after a "Danderine" message, your hair takes on new life, lustre and wondrous beauty, appearing twice as heavy and plentiful, because each hair seems to fluff and thicken. Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, plain or scraggly. You, too, want lots of long, strong, beautiful hair.
 A 35-cent bottle of delightful "Danderine" freshens your scalp, checks dandruff and falling hair. This stimulating "beauty-cream" gives thin, dull, fading hair that youthful brightness and abundant thickness—All druggists!

WALTON MASON

The Difference.

OIL FUEL VERSUS COAL OILING SHIP.

By A MERCHANT SERVICE OFFICER.

Attention is directed in the report of "Lloyd's Register of Shipping," just issued, to the great increase in the use of oil fuel for ships. During the year 426 new ships of 1,995,788 tons gross, compared with 211 of 1,192,650 tons in the previous twelve months, were fitted for burning oil. Many other ships have been surveyed with a view to their conversion into oil burners.
 "Lighter coming alongside, sir," reports the quartermaster of the watch.
 "Right!" I reply. "Let the chief engineer know," and hurry on deck in time to see the oil barge deftly brought alongside by a tug with the usual golden eagle (common to all American towing vessels) displayed on top of the wheelhouse.
 "The lighter is soon made fast, and the end of the 5in. flexible hose hoisted on board by means of a small davit and connected to the standard on our main deck with nuts, bolts, and washers. The engineer has meanwhile been busy opening the necessary valves, and announces that he is all ready.
 "Eight o'clock the "Commence" sounded and work was resumed. My hold, viewed from above, was a quaint sight. One corner was invisible in a fog of coal dust.
 Grottesquely garbed men dug untiringly, some smoking, some singing, but all apparently enjoying themselves. One man wore a colored football jersey and shorts, another an overall consisting chiefly of tears and patches, while a third favored a striped bathing costume and a leather belt.
 "The amount of coal remaining to be got in is signalled every hour, and when the flags at eleven o'clock showed only 180 more tons fresh zest was added so that we might finish before dinner, which is at noon in the service.
 At a quarter to, "Cease fire" sounded. All the bags and shovels were hoisted in and the men quickly followed. In five minutes the collier had steamed off. The coaling was over.—Canadian Motor Boat.

STOMACH O. K.

Indigestion, Acidity, Sourness and Gases ended with "Pape's Diapepsin"

Thorough.

Joseph J. Dowling, famous character veteran of the screen who created the title role of "The Miracle Man" and "The Kentucky Colonel" and has played in many big Benjammin E. Hampton photoplays, once spent three years barnstorming throughout the South. Besides giving him great material for his stage and screen character creations this trip added to Mr. Dowling's fund of anecdotes. Here's one he tells:
 An Arkansas doctor prescribed a certain medicine for a backwoods patient. A week later he met a member of the same family and inquired after the patient's health.
 "He's dead," said the man stolidly.
 "What! And did you give him the medicine I told you?"
 "Yep. Four doses before he died and two after."

"How much do you want, Chief?" sings out the skipper of the lighter.
 "Five hundred tons," replies the engineer.

"Guess we can give you that in about four hours," says the skipper, and in a few moments the vibrating hose tells us that he has started his pumps and that the oil is pouring into our tanks at the rate of over one hundred tons per hour.

A junior engineer stands near the sounding pipes, armed with a handful of cotton waste and a weighted steel tape measure, busily employed in taking "dips" to check the amount of oil as it enters the tanks, and occasionally opening one valve and closing another to change from tank to tank.
 The specified quantity is soon on board, the pumps stopped, the oil hose disconnected and the end lowered to the deck of the lighter.
 All that remains to be done is to sign the receipt for five hundred tons of fuel oil and oiling is over!
 The lighter moves off in tow of the tug, and we are ready for sea. Simple, isn't it?

Coaling Ship.
 Mr. Clarkson, sir, please."
 "Mph!"
 "Five-forty-five, Sir, Collier's ordered for six o'clock."

I climbed out of bed and donned my "coaling rig," last week's dirty underclothes, a filthy overall, a money jacket with torn pockets and almost black stripes, and a dilapidated cap. No outer clothes can be used for anything else after they have once been worn for "coal ship."
 The collier was coming alongside as I reached the upper deck. Stacked along the ship's side were empty coal bags and shovels, while farther back rows of trolleys were ready to take the bags away to the shoots. At the sound of a bugle the men fell in quickly and were mustered. The midshipman of the watch reported them to the commander.
 "We've got 1,200 tons to come on," the commander told them. "See if we can beat last month's record. Remember it pays to fill each bag properly and not send up half-empty ones."
 A scramble for the collier. The men on deck threw down the bags and shovels, which were quickly seized as work was started. Steadily the bags were filled and hoisted aboard to be taken away and tipped down the shoots of the bunkers.
 At seven-thirty we had half an hour's interval for breakfast. Hastily washing my hands and mouth I hurried to the Ward Room. All of us sat down with hearty appetite at the clothless table. Conversation was spasmodic.
 "Fifty coal!"
 "Beastly! All dust!"
 "Somebody's pinched all the best shovels and left the duds for our hold."
 "That's the foretopmen; they're up to anything like that."

"What's he kissin' her for?" says "And what's he joinin'?" he questions "I wish it was funny, instead of this it's always the end when you see 'em. There's nothing that starts the talk flow
 Like taking a boy to a picture show
 All together! Yes, that's the way For a family to close the day— Dad and Mother and girls and boys Ending the day with a common jest Keeping together, and glad to go Out to look at a picture show."

AT THE PICTURE SHOW.
 Isn't it fine when the night comes on
 And the girls have all of the dials done,
 And the floor is swept and the table spread
 And I've got all of the paper read
 When mother says, "Come along let's go"
 Out to look at a picture show?"

I lock up the kitchen door, and I look at the furnace fire again,
 And put out all of the lights save one,
 'Cos there's no use burnin' 'em when we're gone;
 And we start away to a place we know
 Is having a first-class picture show.

I buy the tickets and give a grin
 To the man who takes 'em and lets us in,
 But first I get 'em some chocolate drops
 Or something they want from the candy shops;
 Then Bud he whispers out loud to me
 If I don't mind he'll sit on my knee

"What's he kissin' her for?" says "And what's he joinin'?" he questions "I wish it was funny, instead of this it's always the end when you see 'em. There's nothing that starts the talk flow

Shut Your Mouth.
 Before you leave a warm room open the street door to go out, always remember to shut your mouth. Keep it closed until you have walked briskly for about ten minutes. Then, if you keep on walking, you may talk as much as you please.
 If you keep your mouth closed and walk rapidly, the air can only reach the lungs by a circuit of the nose and head, and becomes warmed before reaching them, thus causing no rearrangement of these very important organs.
 If, on the other hand, you keep your mouth open, large draughts of air dash directly in upon the lungs, and in a few days' time you would how you managed to "catch" that awful cold.
 Brisk walking throws the blood to the surface of the body, thus keeping up a vigorous circulation, making colds impossible.

MUTT AND JEFF

JEFF SLIPS MUTT SOME DOPE ABOUT HIS SOCIAL STANDING.

—By Bud Fisher.

"I'll say this is a classy neighborhood. Jeff's new meat market is located in. I'm gonna toss him my trade and help him along."

"Hello Jeff, wrap me up a yard of sausage; and while I'm here I want to open up a charge account."

"I observe you're in a fine neighborhood. I guess your trade is high class!"

"Yes, they're all people about like yourself. They belong to the first and last families!"

"You mean first families!"

"No, I mean first and last!"
