"THE DOMINION OF CANADA."—We are in receipt of this new monthly journal, published at Ottawa, by the Dominion Government. It contains a map of Canada, and furnishes a variety of useful and interesting information to those about to emigrate. The publication of such a vehicle of information, if extensively distributed in the towns and cities of Europe, cannot fail to materially assist in diverting a stream of emigration to this country.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN DOUGLAS.—Our correspondent writes: Last Friday, while digging a well for James McDonald, Douglas, Robert McLaughlin received such injury from a falling bucket of earth, as caused his death on Sunday.
It appears the soil was not in a very safe condition, and, on this occasion, when coming near to the top of the well broke and fell back and struck him about the head and breast. Medical aid was called in but could not release the suffering man until death closed the scene.

COLLISION ON THE GRAND TRUNK.—During the hours for which prevailed on Monday over the western portion of the Grand Trunk road a collision took place between two freight trains, about a quarter of a mile west of Aton station; one of the trains which was at a stand still, was run into by the other, the locomotive of the latter striking the conductor's car, throwing its hind truck off the track, and smashing the head lamp of the engine; the car was but slightly damaged, and beyond the delaying of the passenger train leaving Guelph at 3:15 p.m., almost an hour and a-half, no serious result ensued. A gang of men from Aton station, with the aid of the usual appliances, rapidly put the cars in the running order. By the accident no less than six freight trains were detained at Aton station.

DEATH OF HAMILTON CITY CHAMBERLAIN.
The Times regrets to record the death of Mr. R. W. Kerr, for the past 19 years the able and efficient Chamberlain of that city.
He came out to this country at an early age, and settled on a farm near Guelph, where he resided for some years, following his profession of Surveyor and at the same time cultivating his property.
He subsequently removed to Hamilton, where he held the position of County Engineer, and was also constantly employed professionally by the City Corporation, although in those days the office of City Chamberlain had not been created. In 1853 he received the appointment of City Chamberlain, at a time when the affairs of that office were in the utmost confusion, in consequence of a very grave irregularity of which his predecessor had been guilty. The deceased was brother of the late Mr. Francis Kerr, well known as a Surveyor for many years in Guelph.

Guelph Rifle Association.
The annual meeting of this association was held on Tuesday evening the 9th inst. at Deady's Wellington Hotel. Mr.
A. Stronger in the chair. The attendance was tolerably good, and unabated interest seemed to be manifested in the welfare of the association. From the Treasurer's (Mr. E. Newton) report—which was adopted—it appears that the receipts of the past year were $222.72, and the expenditure $193.35, leaving a balance in the Treasurer's hand of $29.37.
The following are the officers for the present year:—Mr. George Elliot, President; Mr. G. A. Bruce, vice-President; Mr. E. Newton, Secretary and Treasurer.
Committee: Messrs. J. Hazelton, M.
Donald, A. Stronger, Capt. A. H. Macdonald, Lieut. Hooper, and Lieut. Tribe.
The following is the score for the Association medal for 1871:

James Hazelton	17	14	48	3	9	13	107
A. Strong	15	14	17	16	8	14	111
A. Strong	13	15	15	16	9	13	101

Mr. Jas. Hazelton was thus the winner —being the second consecutive year of his success, and which entitled him to the retention of the medal as his own property, this being the second association medal he has won.

After a vote of thanks to the retiring Committee and the Chairman the meeting adjourned.

Lord Dufferin, the newly appointed Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada, will sail for Quebec in June.

O'CONNOR PLEADS GUILTY.

NEW ATLANTIC CABLE.

CONFERENCE OF BISHOPS.

Great Flood at Cincinnati, Ohio.

at first every member of the Government, except Mr. Tilly and Mr. McDonald, were opposed to it, and how the latter, by his own confession, consented to the long route of the Intercolonial in order to get Cartier's consent to the purchase of the North-West. His seat lately into the history of this matter, and pointed out how injurious it was to the future of Manitoba to be hampered by the presence, and influence of the Hudson Bay Company, which had been granted large tracts of land, and whose officers, he did not hesitate to say, instigated the late rebellion, and even now protected and befriended the originators of that rebellion. (Cheers.) The Government had made a wretched job of the whole business from beginning to end. In this matter the Opposition took strong ground against this Province being made a Crown colony. They were over-ruled. We all know the serious consequences which followed, and the feeling which was raised, and which it will take a long time to allay. He then touched on the British Columbia question, and pointed out wherein the Government had done wrong in the admission of that Province, in granting it a much larger representation than it was entitled to from its population, in allowing it a steady grant double its revenue, and in hindering themselves to build the Pacific Railway within a specified time. He hoped that measure also, for he was not prepared to recklessly sacrifice the interests of the country as the Government had done.
(Cheers.) He also exposed the absurdity of the late census, and compared the system adopted by Mr. Dunkin to the something the Seditious, in telling his neighbour which he did not understand himself, and which no one else could. With regard to the financial position of the country he showed how the ordinary expenditure had risen from thirteen millions at confederation to seventeen millions last year. We are told that the country is prosperous, but he appealed to any man if the conduct of the Government had brought about that prosperity.
No. The country was prosperous in spite of the Government, and through the earnest, honest labour and enterprise of its people. (Cheers.) He referred to the measure which had been done by the volunteers, and to the great mistake made in having at the head of the department a man who was opposed to the volunteer system and in favour of drafting.
With regard to the future, he would judge the Government by their past acts, and it was his duty to work with the Opposition. Especially should he oppose the giving away of our fisheries without any adequate compensation. He went fully into the history of the Washington Treaty, and showed how Sir John A. Macdonald had in this matter been false to his pledges, for he solemnly promised to support his assertion that there was a party towards detaching Canada of any of her rights. Whatever the consequences, he would oppose the giving away of our valuable fisheries. If the people of South Wellington thought he did wrong in this, they would have an opportunity of sending some one else to represent them, for he intended to vote against any such proposition. (Cheers.) With regard to the future he was in the hands of the electors. Should they wish him to serve them again he would do so to the best of his ability, and as in times past, carry their colours to victory. Should it be otherwise he would be found fighting as faithfully as ever in the ranks. In conclusion he expressed himself willing to answer any questions, and resumed his seat amid great applause.

Mr. Melançon asked what he would do with regard to a protective tariff.

Mr. Sturton said that in principle he was a free trader. Still, he felt it was impossible not to urge to still that policy, in a country like this. He was decidedly opposed to collecting duties on the raw material, and thought that if such was admitted free of duty, and with a fair tariff for the purposes of revenue on manufactured goods, that such a policy would foster the manufacturing industries of the country.

The chairman pointed out an absurdity in our tariff regulations, by which the raw material in some cases were taxed, and the manufactured goods made from the same material were admitted free of duty.

Mr. Groulx moved that the thanks of this meeting be tendered to Mr. Sturton for his excellent speech and for his past faithful services as the representative of this Riding. Mr. Sturton he said had not sold his principles for a post office, nor had he feathered his own nest. He had been accused of being one of the silent members, but he did not hesitate to say that he possessed more influence than many who had more to say. Ask Sir John A. Macdonald or any other prominent man in the House, and he will tell you there is no truer man in that House, than Mr. Sturton. Mr. Sturton had also done valuable service in committee. After 11 years faithful service it would be ungrateful on the part of the Reformers of South Wellington if they did not again contrast their interests in Mr. Sturton's hands. He believed that Mr. Sturton would not only be the unanimous choice, at the next election, but that no one would dare oppose him. He went on to speak of the present Government, that since the retirement of Mr. D'Arcy Metcalfe and the other Reform members it was no longer a coalition, and that at the next election the Reform party, which had triumphed in the Local Parliament, would triumph in the Local Parliament, and would, under their able leaders, Messrs. Blake and Mackenzie, at the next Dominion election, accomplish the overthrow of the Government.

Mr. J. T. Brill seconded the motion.
The Reformers of South Wellington, he said, had every confidence in Mr. Sturton.
He had been a faithful servant, and they had every confidence that his conduct in the future would be the same as it had been in the past. He fully endorsed all Mr. Sturton had said with regard to the fisheries, and concluded by saying that he would gladly support Mr. Stur

A claim for consequential damages might also be made out. The President, it is said has taken up the matter and intends to bring it formally before Congress as a message.

Two or three important bridge charters have been given notice of to be granted by the Dominion Parliament. One is across the Niagara River, from the Canada shore to Grand or Strawberry Island in the State of New York; the second, across the St. Lawrence from or near Prescott to Odgensburg; and another across to St. Clair River, at or near Mooretown.

When we say that there were nearly seven thousand miles of railways constructed in the United States last year the fact appears tame, but when we recollect that this is equivalent to two lines of railway for the entire distance between Europe and America, some conception may be had of the vast progress in railway construction which these figures denote. At $200,000 per mile the lines composing this aggregate would cost two hundred millions of dollars.

Toronto Items.

The small-pox has made a serious outbreak in the city. There are thirty-five new cases during the week. There are twenty-three in the Hospital. Two deaths occurred on Saturday, and two more on Sunday. Four persons have been removed from a house on Power Street, where one yard was common to four houses; and six more bad cases have been taken from Oak Street. There are apparently now so many centres of infection that the disease must spread in other directions.

Several girls from Montreal are on their way to the Express office by a train due here at 1.30 p. m. It is reported that the men of the party and some girls were induced, when they reached Vandrouil, to return to Montreal, but as they had all signed an agreement for one year this interference on the part of the Unions of Montreal may lead to serious results.

The men who returned to Messrs. Copp, Clark & Co., McLeish & Co., have again gone on strike on questions regarding the payment of overtime.

Mr John Bright in reply to an address from some Republicans declaring that he was destined to be the first President of the R. public of Great Britain, writes he hopes it will be a long time before the English people are called upon to decide between a Republic and a Monarchy. Their ancestors settled matters for them, at least for the present; posterity must decide in the future. Mr Bright expresses doubt as to whether the Republicans are his real friends.

OTAWA ITEMS.—A full meeting of the Cabinet was held on Tuesday, lasting all the afternoon. His Excellency's speech for the opening of Parliament was considered. One of the members from British Columbia will move the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. The Government's evening organ announces that the number of district engineers of the Intercolonial Railway will not be reduced.

Prof. MORSE.—Preparations are now in progress at Washington for holding services throughout the Union, and in all parts of the world, in honor of the late Prof. Morse. In Congress, leading members will deliver short addresses, and it is believed Oliver Wendell Holmes will read a poem expressly for the occasion. Mayors of cities, Governors of States, and other dignitaries are to be invited to co-operate, and to communicate by telegraph with Washington. The widow and family of the Professor are to be the guests of the nation on the occasion.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.—The N. Y. Evening Post, which is said to have a semi-official character in this matter, says: "We have the strongest reason to believe our Government conveyed to Great Britain its willingness to exclude by agreement the consideration of claims for indirect damages from the arbitrators, at least so far as to demand no award on this ground. The claims must remain in the case as arguments in favour of the award of a gross sum, but not as claims for money to be paid us. The proposition is in a form which the British Government can hardly in consistency fail to accept, and before another week it is hoped a final and friendly agreement will be accomplished between the two countries as to the interpretation of the treaty."

The Episcopal Church of Scotland is making a movement, says the English Churchman, in the right direction. Its Primate, the Bishop of Moray, has publicly announced the determination of the Scotch Episcopate to consecrate a Bishop and to maintain a mission in Caffraria, to be supported entirely by subscriptions of members of the Episcopal Church in Scotland. The Scotch Bishops have the proud distinction of having been the first to confer Episcopal orders on the Church of America by the consecration of Dr. Seabury at Aberdeen, on November 14th, 1784, by its Bishops Kilgour, Petrie, and Skinner, holding the sees of Aberdeen, Ross, and Moray; but this is their first effort to establish a mission of their own among the heathen. The translation of Dr. Cottrell, Bishop of Grahamstown to a Scotch see, has been the chief cause of this fulfilment of a long-cherished design of the Scotch Episcopate. The Episcopal Church of Scotland, though small in numbers, concentrates in herself much of the wealth of the kingdom of Scotland.

Terrible Earthquake in Syria.

THE CITY OF ANTIOCH TOTALLY DEMOLISHED

A telegram from Constantinople brings intelligence that the city of Antioch, in Syria, has been visited by an earthquake, causing a terrible loss of life. One-half of the city is totally destroyed, and 1,500 persons lost their lives. Great distress prevails in that portion of the city not demolished.

Further advices from Constantinople state that early this morning appalling rattling noise was heard, followed immediately by three successive shocks and earth waves, which caused the buildings to rock to and fro. People rushed terror-stricken from falling houses, and struck in dismay as they endeavored to make their way from the city to the open country. The river Orontes rose and swept over the lower portions of the city. Two bridges across the river have been carried away, and great portions of the city walls have been thrown down. Assistance is rapidly arriving from adjacent cities and towns to the scene of the disaster.

The population of Antioch was lately estimated at 10,000 souls, so that one out of every seven of the inhabitants fell under this terrible visitation. The modern city has none of the grandeur of its former days. About the beginning of the Christian era it contained 100,000 people; but in A. D. 115 it was totally destroyed by an earthquake in which 65,000 people are believed to have perished. Since that time the city has gradually dwindled into meanness and obscurity. In the days of Chrysostom, it contained 200,000 people, one-half of whom were Christians; but to-day it is believed that not a solitary Christian had habitation within the city's limits—that city where the followers of Jesus Christ were first designated Christians. The ruins of the Grove of Daphne and the Temple of Apollo, are all that is left to call the mind of the traveller to the city's foundation by Nisior, the Macedonian. The ancient magnificence has long since mouldered away; and it is probably that the earthquake reported this morning will leave Antioch as time and earthquakes have left Baalbec and Palmyra.

Freshet in Bruce.

KINCARDINE, April 9.

The rapid thaw which set in last Friday, has produced the heaviest freshet that has been seen in these parts for twelve years. Three bridges within this corporation have to-day been swept away, and the other bridges here are not expected to stand over the evening. Messrs. McPherson & Campbell's mill-dam has also yielded to the flood. The roads between Kincardine and Goderich are so dangerous that Her Majesty's mail-stage did not leave to-day. The Tecumseh river is so swollen that the Liverpool bridge is on the point of being carried away, thus blocking the way to Walkerton. If the present thaw continues, such is the quantity of snow, that few bridges in the county will escape destruction. Large flocks of pigeons were seen here this morning.

ROLLING IN MONEY.—A good story is told of an immigrant who arrived here some time ago. He obtained a situation at pretty good wages, and at the end of the month received it all in one dollar bill. Taking the money home he spread the bills out on the floor and then laid down on them. "At last," he exclaimed, "the dream of my life is realised. I am rolling in money. Hurrah for Canada!"

INTERPRETANCE AGAIN.—Judge Morrison opened the Carlton Assizes in Ottawa on Monday. His Lordship congratulated the grand jury on the lightness of the criminal calendar. He said that in three counties where he had been there were no crimes that were not clearly traced to intemperance, and remarked that there would be little criminal business for the court were it not for drunkenness.

A TALE OF THE CLYDE.
CHAPTER XXV.

MANGLES' REVELATIONS.

"Well, Phil, as the doctor expected from the first. His senses never came back to him, and his father, though he had no wife, and family but Phil, was glad when all was over. He was little more than buried when the governor told Jaquin he was about to sell off everything and go to Australia, and he wished him to go with him. He would not hear of it in England, he said, after what had happened, but wanted away to where he was not known. The hunchback was willing enough to go, and it was just before they sailed that he took a run up to London and told me all that I have told you about Phil's end. So they went away, and I have never heard of them since. It's like they are both dead by this time. That's the whole of my story now, and it's a lot more than you bargained for, but once it was started I didn't see any use for holding up at the end of Allerton's business."

"I am glad, Mangles," said Edwin, "very glad you have told us the rest about Philip Jordan and his father. It throws full light on certain matters which have puzzled me and one or two others. And as you told us so much, I may as well tell you that I can take up the tale at the point where your knowledge terminates. Jordan took to sheep-farming in Australia, and prospered; he discovered my uncle, who was then a stock-rider at another station, made overtures to him to come and be his manager, treated him with every kindness and when he died he left him all his property."

"My eye!" ejaculated Mangles, "but that is a turn-up. And did he tell him how Phil had tricked him?"
"No; and his intense desire was to keep him from ever knowing it. To gain this end, he made it a condition in his will that should my uncle—who had taken another name on his arrival in Australia, hold any correspondence with his family, disclose to them his existence or identity, he would forfeit all the property that had been left him. He did not want to break this condition, but coming over on a visit to England, things have turned out so that he has disclosed himself, and hence my desire to discover you, and receive the information which you have given us."

"Mighty glad of it, I am sure," returned Mangles—"mighty glad indeed, since it has brought back my way, which had me to say that I've performed my part of the bargain, and my I ask when you are going to perform yours?"
"Immediately," exclaimed Edwin. "This very day, if arrangements can be made. Mr. Weggale, may I ask you to take the trouble to see that Mangles is shifted into comfortable lodgings?"

"I shall not fail, Mr. Allerton, to attend to that matter. At the earliest possible moment, Mangles shall be removed."

"That's the cheese," said Mangles, highly elated. "Dickie Mangles, my boy, you'll be in clover for the rest of your days?"
"And it is to be hoped, Mangles," said the Squire, "that you will turn your improved circumstances to advantage in repurchasing of your past bad life. There's much need for it; for on your own shew, you've been a thorough scoundrel."

"Eh? What, you bear malice to me?" responded Mangles with a grin. "You haven't forgot the old singing?"

Breakfast—Epps's Cocoa—Grateful and Comforting.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine principles of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor bills.

How are you to-day? I'm not feeling well, bilious and sick headache, have been looking around for a box of Parson's Purgative Pills, but our traders are all sold out.—Country Paper.

Forty years' experience have tested the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and it is now generally acknowledged to be the best remedy extant for pulmonary and lung disease; embracing the whole range from a slight cough to a settled Consumption. Were it not for its merits it would long since have died, and made no sign.

A gentleman from Bethel Hill, Me., says that Messrs. Allen Bros., proprietors of Philip Allen's Print Works, R. I., were down to Bryant's Pond recently, trout-fishing, when one of them was attacked with sciatic rheumatism so suddenly, that he had to be carried from the pond to his hotel; a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment was resorted to, and he was out next day.

The Hill says it is liked in Ottawa as "official circles." Why should it not be when it is the office holder's own paper?

Mrs. Mary Kennedy, of Palestine, Ohio, says: "I have suffered with Bronchitis for two years, and have been treated by many Physicians, as soon as I took the Balsam it relieved me, I cannot express the gratitude I feel for the benefit your Allen's Lung Balsam has been to me."

Dr. Harris, of Middlebury, Vermont, says: "I had been troubled with Bronchitis for two years, so effecting the organs of speech that I could not speak aloud for six weeks, I had with it a severe cough and cold night sweats. I took two bottles of Allen's Lung Balsam, and an entirely cured."

Capt. Foster, of Barwell, Ont., says: "I have been troubled with a cough at times very severe for years past. I have found Allen's Lung Balsam to relieve my cough more than any other cough medicine I have ever tried. My wife also used it with the most satisfactory results. The Balsam is sold by all druggists. Price 25 cents per bottle."
