GETTING SKINNER EVERY DAY

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE AND DONE RIGHT NOW—QUICK

Hollows in Cheeks and Neck Growing Deeper Every Week

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women too—are being discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong. All such people can stop worrying and start to smile and enjoy life right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets which any druggist will tell you all about are putting flesh on the bones of skinny folks every day. One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, gained 15 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine. We all know that the livers of Cod Fish are full of vitalizing flesh producing vitamins and these same vitamins of the highest class are found in McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets—sugar coated and as easy to take as candy. And this shows what faith the makers have in McCoy's for they say: If any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60 tablets. Ask any live pharmacist anywhere in North or South America. But be sure to get McCoy's, the original and genuine.

Freshen Up! Nicest Laxative, "Cascarets" 10c

Don't stay headachy, bilious, constipated, sick! Take one or two "Cascarets" any time to mildly stimulate your liver and start your bowels. Then you will feel fine, your head becomes clear, stomach sweet, tongue pink and skin rosy. Nothing else cleans, sweetens and refreshes the entire system like pleasant, harmless candy-like "Cascarets". They never gripe, overact, or sicken. Directions for men, women, children on each box—drugstores.

Healthy Hair Gleamy, Thick, Wavy—Full of Life

The constant curling and waving demanded by modern style in hair dress, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, and brittle, streaked with gray; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast. Try this for one week! While combing and dressing your hair, moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair—the effect is startling! Your hair immediately takes on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre becomes incomparably soft, wavy, and appears twice as thick and abundant. "Danderine" costs only 35 cents a bottle at any drug store.

COLOR IT NEW WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Just Dip to Tint or Boil to Dye Each 15-cent package contains directions so simple any woman can tint soft, delicate shades or dye rich, permanent color in lingerie, silks, ribbons, skirts, waists, dresses, coats, stockings, sweaters, draperies, coverings, hangings—everything! Buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—and tell your druggist whether the material you wish to color is wool or silk, or whether it is linen cotton or mixed goods.

For O...

By VICTOR REE

"Down below freezing in the nature, glorified, shone in a thrilling power of grandeur until she had sought out who had conferred investigations upon her beloved. She met him on the street, broken words and tears mingled, mission at Brookville was com- but he lingered. Her gentle bade him do so. Her sweet lips repeated the request, and with First June roses Ada had a partner great work for others.

Her true philanthropic work began when a well-meaning retired clergyman and his wife established a home for little orphan children gathered from the slums of the city. The clergyman died, and his wife, broken down in health and spirits, went home to her parents. It was then that Ada induced her father to donate a thousand dollars to the charity to bridge over the reconstruction of the same. She interested local church societies, she won upon grasping, hard-hearted Joel Bliss to give a free lease for ten years of a large building that had been abandoned as an unprofitable suburban hotel. From that time forward Ada was all heart and soul in the project, and within a year had so systematized the same that content and happiness were assured for the children under her charge. It seemed to fill her life completely, and the circle of girl assistants she grouped about her came to share her interest and philanthropy. Joel Bliss was away for his health when there came an election of new officers. Quite casually he was succeeded in the governorship by a local politician who aspired to publicity. When Bliss returned he was wroth and disgruntled. It was said that he had at once canceled his will. Before Ada, with her gentle, persuasive way, could gain an interview and convince him that no disrespect had been intended, he died. She was dismayed when, a month later, his lawyer intimated to her that the prospective legacy had been annulled and that Randal Bliss, a nephew residing in a distant city, was the beneficiary of his estate.

The future prospects of the children's home looked gloomy. There had been a deficit the year previous, and Ada had counted on Mr. Bliss making it up. The institution faced a debt of seven hundred dollars. A part of this she induced her father to provide and she solicited contributions for the residue, but the building required repairs and the furniture needed replacement and she feared for the permanency of the charity. One day Ada was seated in the office of the home puzzling her tired brain over some provision for pressing bills for fuel and food, when a young man entered the room. She noted at a glance that he was of superior mold. His dignity and courtesy attracted her. He introduced himself without preface. "I am Randal Bliss," he said. "Of course you have heard my name mentioned as the heir of my dead uncle, Joel Bliss." Ada nodded, paled, then a quick concern came into her lovely eyes. Did this mean dispossession? If so, why should she demur? She asked her visitor politely to be seated. A fire burned in the grate and he gazed into the gloomy embers thoughtfully. He looked up abruptly. "Miss Dayton," he said in a clear, kindly tone that somehow encouraged her. "I have just come from my uncle's attorney. I find that he has the original will my uncle made, and that only. He recalls, however, that my uncle told him that he had made a later will. This is true. My uncle sent this later will to me. There it is."

Randal Bliss took from his pocket a folded document. "This instrument only," he proceeded, "stands in the way of the dear little ones under your charge receiving ownership to this building and ten thousand dollars. I have been inquiring about your noble charity—and you. They need the benefaction; they deserve it more than I." "Oh! what would you do?" cried Ada with a vivid start, for Randal Bliss had cast the document into the grate and it was reduced to nothingness. He arose and bowed courteously. "A tribute," he said with earnest tone, "to your noble life work," and was gone. Ah! for the heart of ice. If nothing else, that flood of joyous tears

SHANGHAI, CHINA. Governed City In the World. Really a European or rather than a Chinese modern as Baltimore, Ontario, with paved streets, huge stores, clubs, and daily newspapers. In the New World it is per- haps the most gov- erned city in the world. It is a municipal corporation, and American one selected to retain their joint and an admir- able municipal government. The Chinese and American colonies there. Outside of up a Chinese attracted by the chance of a fortune. Hence three cities in govern- ment, the French; the govern- ed by all, except France, governed by nobody. The Chinese or establish hops within either of the foreign elements are subject to foreign laws and must obtain licenses to show that they have complied with the sanitary laws. Despite its apparent security, however, there is one figure in Shanghai that is suggestive of trouble. It is the figure of the Sikh, a fat, broad-shouldered, phlegmatic, taciturn, East Indian, with black whiskers on his bronzed face, a turban surmounting his head and a big club in his hand. He stands at every street corner and, apparently by way of exercise, occasionally raps a coolie rickisha driver over the head. The coolie dodges the thrust as best he can, but if he happens to receive the thwack on the head he only smiles and runs a little faster. The Sikh is a British importation from India, and by general agreement among the powers he is the policeman in Shanghai, Hankow and other large cities, with the exception of Peking, where native policemen prevail. Naturally, the Chinese resent the appearance of the Sikhs as the guardians of order on Chinese soil, and every bank of a Sikh's club or a native head tends to increase the smouldering resentment. To be struck by a European is one thing; to be struck by an Asiatic is another. In Shanghai and other Chinese cities where the foreigners really run affairs and administer their own justice to the Chinese through foreign courts, there has been for a long time an uneasy feeling that some of the conditions in which the Chinese labor are atrocious. They work for little, and they force their children of tender years to work for little, too. Humane organizations have tried to improve these conditions and have had the support of foreign manufacturers. But they have encountered the bitter hostility of those they sought to protect.

The Sallow's Signpost. The mariner's compass seems to have been known to the Chinese from very early times. It is reported that in 2,600 B.C. an action was fought in which the Emperor of China successfully navigated his fleet through a fog by the aid of an instrument which was probably a compass. The early Greeks knew that a mineral called loadstone would attract iron. Iron rubbed with loadstone also became able to attract other pieces of iron. About the year 1450 an Italian, named Flavio Gioja, found that the magnetized iron, when suspended, pointed north and south. Using a circular card upon which the magnetized needle was fixed, Gioja made his compass by attaching the card to a cork placed in a basin of water. This arrangement was, however, soon improved upon. The invention of the compass was of great importance since many voyages of discovery could now be undertaken with greater prospect of success. Thus, shortly afterwards, Columbus discovered America, and Vasco da Gama succeeded in sailing round the Cape of Good Hope, noting incidentally that the constellations appearing at night over the southern seas were different from those he had seen from Portugal. Star and Stripes. There has been a great deal of controversy concerning the origin of the flag of the United States, which is generally supposed to have grown gradually out of the Union Jack, the red field being split into thirteen stripes of alternate red and white to represent the thirteen original states. As long ago as 1704 the East India Company used a flag almost identical. But it is at least a remarkable coincidence that both stars and stripes appear on George Washington's shield in Brington Church, Northamptonshire, where several generations of Washingtons are buried. On this shield are three five-pointed stars, and the stripes are alternately red and black, as in the flag. Many believe this to be the true origin of the stars and stripes of the United States.

Wordsworth's Sister. Had William Wordsworth, one of our greatest poets, written only the following three stanzas, lovers and critics of poetry would have been able to discern in them all the qualities to associate with his genius. The devotion of his sister Dorothy, and the happiness of his married life, and their reflection in his transparent respect for the high praise of men. I dwell among the untrodden ways beside the springs of Dove, Maid whom there were none to praise, And very few to love. A violet by a mossy stone Half-hidden from the eye— Fair as a star, when only one Is shining in the sky. She lived unknown, and few could know When Lucy ceased to be; But she is in her grave, and, oh, The difference to me!

Burning by Paris Green Spray. Each year considerable injury results to tender plants through leaf scorching following the application of Paris Green. This injury can be avoided by using a double quantity of freshly-slaked or hydrated lime in a mixture with the Paris Green and then adding sufficient water to make a paste. Allow this to stand for an hour and then dilute to the strength desired for spraying. The lime combines with the free arsenic oxide and removes its leaf scorching property. Protection of Crops. It is highly important that the soil be given a rest, oats following oats, or corn following corn is not good farming, it is soil mining. If the soil is rich the evil day will be delayed, but the time will surely come when those who do not give the soil a chance must pay the price and suffer in reduced crops, plant diseases, insect injury, and weeds. No one rotation is the best under all conditions, but to all accepted crop rotations, certain principles can be applied, so that each particular farm can be fitted with a definite plan suited to its peculiarities. Give the matter of crop rotation some consideration, it will pay you. The staff of the Ontario Agricultural College will be glad to help you with any farm problem.—L. Stevenson, Dept. of Extension, O. A. College.

Why Rheumatism Often Comes Back

The Usual Treatment Does Not Reach the Root of the Trouble

Most treatments for rheumatism do no more than aim to keep down the poison in the blood and enable nature to overcome that particular attack. Then when the system becomes run-down from any cause the disease again gets the upper hand and it all has to be done over. Sufferers from rheumatism who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using other remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The tonic treatment with this medicine has proved in thousands of cases that it builds up the blood to a point that enables it to cast out the rheumatic poisons through the regular channels, the bowels, kidneys, and the skin. When this is done rheumatism is banished, and as long as the blood is kept pure and rich the patient will be immune from attack. This is fully proved by the case of Mr. Samuel Zinke, Upper Bradford, N.S., who says—"For a long time I was a great sufferer from rheumatism which settled in my hip and down my leg to the knee. At times the pain was so great that I could not walk. I tried liniments and medicines but without getting more than mere temporary relief. Then one day a friend called who said that he had been afflicted with this trouble which was banished by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and urged me to try them. I did as advised and after using a few boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. Not only was the rheumatism disappearing, but my general health was improving. I continued the pills until I had taken about a dozen boxes when every trace of the trouble had disappeared, and I have not felt a twinge of it since. I may add that my wife used these pills for a run-down condition with equally good results."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NERVOUS BREAK-DOWN

Pains in Back and Legs Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ford, Ontario.—"I had a nervous break-down, as it is called, with severe pains in my back and legs, and with fainting spells which left me very weak. I was nervous and could not sleep nor eat as I should and spent much time in bed. I was in this state, more or less, for over two years before Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me by my neighbor. Before I had taken five doses I was sitting up in bed, and when the first bottle was taken I was out of bed and able to walk around the house. During my sickness I had been obliged to get some one to look after my home for me, but thanks to the Vegetable Compound I am now able to look after it myself. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine in turn with the Vegetable Compound, and I certainly recommend these medicines to any one who is not enjoying good health. I am quite willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. SHEPHERD, 130 Jos. Janisse Avenue, Ford, Ontario.

Nervousness, irritability, painful times, run-down feelings and weakness are symptoms to be noted. Women suffering from these troubles, which they so often have, should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. All druggists sell this medicine.

BROOKE

The sugar beet growers in Brooke are experiencing considerable difficulty in the harvesting of their banner crop, owing to the continued period of wet weather. In fact the conditions are so unsatisfactory that a number of farmers are holding back in the hope of more favorable conditions. Combined with this, the percentage of sugar, particularly at the commencing of lifting operations, was rather low, but later reports indicate a considerable improvement in this regard. This low percentage of sugar is no doubt, in part, due to the extended period of growth, so that top growth continued over the period when the formation of sugar should be taking place. This explanation is borne out by the fact that since top growth has been stopped by the heavy frosts the percentage of sugar has materially increased.

Services on Brooke Circuit next Sunday as usual. Rally service will be put on at Walnut by the Bethesda Young People.

The regular monthly meeting of Christ church Women's Guild and W. A. was held on Wednesday afternoon Oct. 14th, at the home of Mrs. T. H. Lucas. There were 17 members and four visitors present. After devotional exercises and routine business had been disposed of, Rev. J. H. Hosford gave an address, the first of a series on "The Clash of Color," this was much enjoyed by all present. The hostess served a delicious lunch. The November meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Kidd.

A very enjoyable evening was spent in the Sutorville school house on Friday evening last when a large crowd gathered to celebrate Halloween. With Mr. B. A. Williamson in

Thanks Electors

I desire to thank the many electors of East Lambton who supported me in the election just closed. I thank all those who worked in behalf of our cause. I am indeed grateful for the splendid vote polled and the strong support given me in the campaign. Weather conditions were not favorable and bad roads in the southern part of the riding cost us many votes. However, I find that the result of last Thursday's vote served only to strengthen the courage and increase the determination of all those who believe in Progressive principles, to strive more persistently for "Equal Rights to All and Special Privileges to None."

Yours truly,
B. W. FANSHER.

To the Electors of East Lambton

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

You have again given me the opportunity of serving you in Parliament. This Constituency has ever shown me generous consideration and has again conferred on me the highest honor in its gift.

I have always trusted the people of this Riding and have a firm confidence in their good sense and patriotism. I extend to all who assisted me in this campaign my sincere thanks.

ARKONA
The marriage of Miss Iva B. White daughter of Mrs. Laura White, to Mr. Cecil I. McKellar of Kingston, took place Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 p.m. at the United church parsonage, Arkona, the Rev. E. J. Roulston officiating. The bride looked charming in a faded gown of rose georgette trimmed with fur and wore a beige fur trimmed coat with hat and gloves to match. She carried a shower bouquet of opheelia roses and filices of the valley and wore the groom's gift, a platinum and onyx dinner ring. After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the bride's home, which was prettily decorated with mauve and yellow arrangements. Later Mr. and Mrs. McKellar motored to London where they took the train for Toronto. After a few days there, they will go to their new home in Kingston.

Dr. Fred Stoner of Adrian, Mich., made a flying visit to Arkona last week.

How To Reduce Your Meat Bill $24 a Year

STOP buying expensive roasts of meat. Buy cuts that are 10 cents a pound cheaper than you have been getting. Roast them in an SMP Enameled Ware ROASTER, and they will have all the juicy tenderness, flavor and nourishment of expensive cuts. In addition to giving you choice meat at lower cost, there is no loss or wastage of meat through excessive shrinkage. An SMP Roaster can save a family as much as $24.00 a year in reduced meat bills.

Here is the proof! As each Canadian consumes roughly 60 pounds of Roast meat per year, an average-sized family of four will eat 240 pounds in the same time. Through buying meat that is 10 cents a pound cheaper, and roasting it in an SMP Roaster, this family can save $24.00 in one year. The bigger the family the bigger the saving.

As Easy To Clean as China

An SMP Roaster will save time, work and patience too! With a surface of glassy smooth, pure SMP enamel, it is as easy to clean as china. Yes, even after the greasiest, stickiest and hottest roasting. The meat or fat does not burn or stick as it does in the old style open roast pan. An SMP Enameled Ware Roaster is impervious to food odors, has no seams or sharp corners, and cannot rust.

Fits All Ovens and Purse

No matter how big or how small your oven, there is an SMP Enameled Ware self-basting Roaster to fit it. Shapes both oval and round. On sale at all leading hardware, departmental and house-furnishing stores at prices within the reach of all.

You spend $3.00 or less for a roaster and save $24.00, or more. It is real economy. You can quickly prove it by roasting next Sunday's roast in an SMP Enameled Ware ROASTER. Try it.

Every Woman Deserves One

The SMP Roaster is a fine time saver. You put the roast or fowl in the oven. The roaster does the rest, hastens to perfection. It roasts with very little shrinkage, thus saving dollars every year. None of the tasty meat juices are lost; all the rich flavor is retained. Besides you can buy cheaper cuts, for it makes cheap cuts taste like choice ones.

The close fitting cover keeps all the cooking odors and the grease inside the roaster—the smell of cooking doesn't fill the house, and the oven is kept sweet and clean. Best of all, it cleans out in a jiffy after the roasting. These are splendid vessels. Price 85c. to $3.50 according to size and finish. Sold in all hardware stores.

Weddings

HICKS—NORMAN

One of the prettiest of autumn wedding took place on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Norman, when their only daughter, Helen Bernice, became the bride of Dr. Elgin Hicks, son of Dr. and Mrs. George Hicks of Watford.

Promptly at six o'clock the bride entered the drawing room on her father's arm, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Elsie Shaw on the piano, accompanied by Miss Bessie Power on the violin.

The young bride looked lovely in her wedding gown of shell pink charmeuse, veiled with pale pink georgette, her wedding veil held in place on her pretty dark hair by a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink ophelia roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Susie Taylor attended as bridesmaid and wore a gown of shaded pink georgette with trimmings of panne velvet and metal roses, a rich bandeau in her hair and carried a bouquet of butterfly roses. A. M. Lebel officiated at best man.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. C. Tait of Glencoe, assisted by the Rev. J. T. Johnson of Trinity United church, Wallaceburg, in the presence of about sixty guests. During the signing of the register, Miss Bessie Power sang "O Perfect Love." After the ceremony a dainty buffet luncheon was served by the Misses Hettie McVean, Marion Vair, Blanche Fox, Myrtle Reynolds, Florence Vair and Lillian Fairbanks. The Rev. M. C. Tait toasted the bride which brought a bright little response from the groom. Rev. Johnston toasted the bridesmaid and was responded to by A. M. Lebel. W. Hockin and Chas. Sauvey toasted the bride's father and mother respectively. Mrs. Geo. Norman, the bride's mother, wore a beautiful gown of olive green cut velvet with ostrich trimmings, and the groom's mother looked well in an autumn brown cut velvet with touches of flame velvet, both ladies carrying crimson roses. Little Miss Winifred Howard in a sweet frock of white charmeuse satin, ostrich trimmed, admitted the guests. The house was a bower of beauty with its decorations of ferns, pink roses and shaggy mums arranged most artistically by Rollie Dulong.

The bride's table looked lovely with its Venetian embroidered cloth and centered by a silver basket filled with pink roses and lighted by many candles in silver candlesticks. The happy young couple left later in the evening on a short wedding trip, the bride travelling in a cinnamon brown romaine coat trimmed with stone marten, and small black velvet hat. On their return Dr. and Mrs. Hicks will reside in town where the groom conducts a successful dentistry practice. The bride is one of the most popular young ladies in the Wallaceburg younger set, which is attested by the large number of beautiful and costly presents which were showered upon her. The out of town guests were: Dr. and Mrs. George Hicks and daughter

Marjorie, of Watford; Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Hicks, of Chatham; Thos. Hockin and Miss McCallum of Dutton; Misses Marion and Florence Vair, Blanche Fox, St. Thomas; Miss Hettie McVean, Dresden; Lloyd Smith, Niagara Falls.
