REPORT.

The cause of Missions is the cause of God. In every country, and among all tribes of men, it has proved itself to be the evangelizer of the world. Commerce, science, and philanthropy without the gospel are inadequate to the task of elevating the nations of the earth. Much that there is in these agencies calculated to leave an enduring impression on the characters of men, is derived from christian principle, and christian sympathy, and where these are wanting there is not, and there cannot be, the integrity, energy or mutual confidence which even the commercial transactions of nations require for their mutual advantage.

Hence we naturally expect that christian nations will achieve the greatest renown in all the arts and habits that secure wealth, establish commerce, and spread and consolidate the blessings of civilization. And this expectation is verified by the facts of history. It is the christian nations which control the world. Even the civilization of heathenism is a curse rather than a blessing. Freedom, just laws, the protection of life and property, sympathy with the suffering, the development of national industry, fidelity to treaties, and above all, the recognition of the dignity and rights of man, are scarcely known, except where christianity reigns. Everywhere else there is chaos. Despots rule and oppress the people. Man as man can claim little that is not conceded to the brute, and thus ages roll on, under the same withering blight, and the state of society receives but little amelioration from experience, education, or the progress of the world. God is not honored, man is not loved, responsibility to the judgment day is not felt, and the natural results are wickedness and misery.

But under the reign of gospel truth the scene is changed. Nations rise to activity, wealth and power. The people are educated and free. Laws are made for man, not for princes and governments. The general good necessarily becomes the governing principle of action, and the result is a more diffused happiness, a wider scope of action for genius and enterprise, and a deeper impression on the heart and life of the principles of truth and righteousness.

Convinced that this young country would be immensely benefitted by laying deep and broad principles of christianity as the basis of our social structure, the Missionary Society, whose financial transactions this Report embodies, commenced to labor in the cause of spreading christianity in this country. The success which has attended its operations, especially of late years, has been most gratifying to its friends. The increase of membership, the augmentation of funds, and the additions constantly making to the sphere of its operations, mark this society as one of the most energetic and enterprising in the country. God is blessing us and making us a blessing. Our hearts are glad, our banners are unfurled, and as heretofore, so now, with grateful minds we thank God, and intend to "go forward."

The following details will show our position for the past year, and with these we shall close this brief introductory note:

THE WORK OF THE YEAR.

"We have just closed another Annual Conference, and we are happy to state that our Connexion is still on the advance. The increase in our membership is 439, with 443 on trial. There is an increase of chapels, built during the year, of 18. Increase of parsonages, 7; of classes there is an increase of 37; of congregations 33; of circuit Preachers there is an increase of 5, besides 6 received at the present Conference. Of Sunday Scholars there is an increase of 977; of Schools 18, and of Teachers 140; of Local Preachers there is an increase of 11. The income of the Mission Fund from Canada has increased, as compared with last year, $644; of the other funds we have as yet no complete returns from the brethren who manage them, but we expect they will be in advance of last year. The largest income for the Mission Fund previously to the present year was realized in the prosperous year of 1857, when it reached the sum of $5,248. This year it amounts to $5,467, being the highest sum ever realized in Canada by our denomination, and surpassing 1857 by the sum of $219. The circulation of the Evangelical Witness has increased 100 this year, and the paper is to be enlarged next Christmas to the dimension of a royal sheet. We congratulate our brethren in the Ministry and our friends generally on these results, and would remark that it only requires a patient continuance in well doing to realize even greater things than these."
