FINANCES ARE BETTER THAN ONE YEAR AGO Annual Meeting of Subscribers To The Home For Incubables TWENTY-SEVEN IN HOME

One Less Than at Time of Last Year's Statement—Good Work of Staff—An Increase of $2,150 in The Funds During The 12 Months

The subscribers to the Home for Incubables, at the annual meeting this afternoon will learn from the reports that the work has gone along well during the year and that the financial conditions are much better than they were one year ago.

Medical Report The report of the medical board showed that during the year eight patients had been admitted and there had been nine deaths. A considerable number of applicants had been examined by the board during the year. Some proved unsuitable cases and for others there was no accommodation. At the annual meeting of the medical board Dr. J. H. Mot was re-elected president and Dr. William Warwick, secretary. A vote of confidence in the matron, Miss Ramsey, and the nursing staff, had been carried unanimously.

To the Board of Managers of the Home for Incubables: The women's aid committee, with a full membership on February 9, during the past year, assisted your visiting committee in the following ways: A most successful "summer tea" given to the patients, and by ticket to the public, held on June 23, contributed not only a pleasant social afternoon, but also $217.50, net, to our special funds.

A Thanksgiving "treat" sent to the home on Saturday, October 23, consisting mostly of wholesale supplies of fruit. On November 10 a special meeting, called to deal with the loss of the week's laundry by the fire in the Globe Laundry, resulted in the contribution of many donations, private and public, of supplies of a general nature, also of funds, to aid the nurses and matron to replace their aprons and uniforms.

A Christmas "treat" in the form of two large well-filled tins, carrying personal gifts to each patient, as well as remembrances to each of the staff in service, with contributions of a general nature for supplies for the table for the holiday season.

An "afternoon tea" given by some few of the members on February 9. An early evening entertainment, with music, cake and coffee, given by Mrs. Geo. Wetmore, assisted by a few friends, on March 27.

A very effective Easter "treat" in April. At present date a "summer tea" will be given in June or July, it is awaiting the return of scattered members.

All these entertainments have been given in a spirit of willingness and generosity, which goes far to testify to a state of active interest and co-operation. Your committee have prepared and now submit to your approval the following plan for religious services: An afternoon service held every Sunday at 4 o'clock, the first Sunday under the management of the Methodist denomination, the second under the Presbyterians, the third under the Baptists, the fourth under the Church of England, and the fifth under others not reached by the above arrangement. One member of your committee is in charge of all the arrangements for a month at a time. Through the secretary of each communion she is able to arrange for a clergyman to conduct these services and give an appropriate address.

The music is always specially arranged, either by allowing each clergyman to bring his own choir and special soloists, etc., or by the member the month arranging to fill in with what she considers a more complete service. An effort is always made to have every available patient attend this service, which is held in the hall on the ground floor, where there is ample room for all in the house, as well as for a number of interested outside friends, of whom there are generally quite a number. The full reports of each month's meetings are kept and always read at the monthly meetings of your committee, who are always surprised and grateful, as well as greatly encouraged, by the interest taken and the co-operation always so willingly given.

THE RECIPROCITY RECORD

Up to this time the Liberals came into power the Conservatives were strongly in favor of reciprocity. There is no evidence to prove that they were not still in favor of it until they discovered that the Liberals had actually secured a trade agreement far more favorable to Canada than the treaty of 1854.

The Times prints today from the records the views of Sir John Macdonald, Sir John Thompson, Sir Charles Tupper, and Hon. George E. Foster, showing that as late as 1891 the Conservative leaders were earnestly advocating reciprocity with the United States.

Both parties having up to that time failed to secure reciprocity, both parties gave tacit assent to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's statement that the next move must come from the United States.

The annual reports of the Home for Incurables show that beneficent institution to be in satisfactory financial condition.

This province and Nova Scotia have suffered enough this year from forest fires to emphasize once more the need of a more effective system of forest rangers.

Touching the matter of tuberculosis sanatoriums, which was discussed from the local standpoint by Mayor Frink and the Medical Society yesterday, the Montreal Witness observes: "One of the finest things that the present government of Great Britain has done for the country has been the appointment of a tuberculosis commission."

That which they failed to secure is now offered under a Liberal government. Must it be rejected because it was not secured by a Conservative government?

We learn from the Ottawa correspondence of the Standard that the government is in a bad way.

FINANCES ARE BETTER THAN ONE YEAR AGO

(Continued from page 1.) A visitor from your committee is also appointed each month to visit the Home regularly, talk with or otherwise assist the patients only, using her influence in every way possible to make them happy without in any way interfering or conflicting with the regular visiting committee appointed by the board.

Respectfully submitted, MARY E. McAVITY, Secretary of Women's Aid.

Board of Management

To the Subscribers of the St. John Home for Incubables—Ladies and Gentlemen—The board of management of the St. John Home for Incubables herewith presents its report for the year ending July 1, 1911.

At the date of our last annual report there were in the home twenty-eight patients, viz., twelve males and sixteen females.

During the year nine patients died, four male and five female; eight patients were admitted, six male and two female, and there are now in the home twenty-seven patients, viz., fourteen male and thirteen female.

During the year twelve applications were considered, eight male and four female. Of these nine were accepted, six male and three female, but one female accepted did not enter the home.

There were twelve regular meetings of the board, three special meetings of the board, and two meetings of the executive committee during the year.

It is our duty to record the death of John E. Irvine, who died in Montreal, March, 18th, 1911. Although Mr. Irvine had of late years been absent from St. John, he was one of the permanent members of the board, and in the early days of the institution he was active and faithful in his services on the board and to the inmates of the home.

The matron (Miss Ramsay) and the staff of nurses have, we believe, very faithfully fulfilled their duties and have to the best of their ability given the patients tender and efficient care.

We desire to record our appreciation of the valuable services of the medical staff and to tender our grateful thanks for the same.

The women's aid has, as in the past, rendered most valuable services, which are most gratefully acknowledged.

Our financial condition is fairly satisfactory, and is fully treated in the treasurer's report.

To our friends who have, during the year, aided us with money, donations of various articles, or with active sympathy, we extend our grateful thanks.

Respectfully submitted, W. R. TURNBULL, Vice-President.

Treasurer's Report

The treasurer has the honor to report: First, as to the W. V. Turnbull fund, the capital of the institution. At the close of the fiscal year 1911 this fund amounts to $99,811.55, a gain of $2,150 compared with the previous year.

From per life members: Mrs. Jas. F. Robertson, $25; Mrs. G. L. Barbour, $25; estate of the late Mrs. Fannie E. Steever, $100; estate of the late Mr. E. J. Everett, $150, and a like sum the gift of the late Mrs. Olivia Lovett. This fund is invested, as per statement annexed, in bonds, stocks and mortgages, $87,142.20, and $2,738.35 cash on deposit in the Bank of New Brunswick. The considerable increase in the fund during the year must be very gratifying to all the members of the board for it exhibits appreciation of the home on the part of citizens who take an interest in the welfare of their fellow men.

The current revenue account, which is the ordinary annual account of receipts and expenditures, shows receipts of the year (including a balance of $1,605.25 for the preceding year) from all sources as follows: Balance, $1,605.25; Paying patients, $422.20; Annual members, $26.00; Donations, $156.00; Interest, $3,212.12; Grass sold, $5.00.

The expenditure was $6,531.54, leaving a balance on hand of $1,746.19. Payments under the two items maintenance and wages practically cover a whole year's expense for the up-keep of the home.

In 1907 these items amounted to: Maintenance, $3,983.82; Wages, $2,547.72; Total, $6,531.54.

Other funds which are not brought into the general account, as they are held for the benefit of special inmates, are the Misses Brundage accounts, the C. L. Nelson account, and the funeral expense account, all of which are at interest.

The total amount held by your treasurer on behalf of the home and its trusts, at the date of the audit, is $104,853.92.

The management of the Bank of New Brunswick has treated the home, as usual, with great generosity, and our thanks are due to its president, Mr. James Manchester, to its general manager, Mr. R. B. Kessen, and to its local manager, Mr. Arthur McDonald, for their unvarying kindness in the interests of the home.

Respectfully submitted, JOHN V. ELLIS, Treasurer.

LONDON CONFERENCE AND THE PRACTICAL WORK ACCOMPLISHED

A Summary of the Proceedings Shows Important Action on Matters of Moment—Closer Bond of Mother and Children

(The Shareholder) Canada has reason to feel proud, not only of her representatives at the recent conference in London, but of the progress made at the conference. Many questions were discussed which proved to be of the most vital interest to Canada affecting as they did her status as a nation within the empire and also her commercial independence. Among the many questions discussed were the following:—

Shipping and the amendments to the shipping act. Uniform naturalization laws relating to British subjects.

The Declaration of London. Universal penny postage. The appointment of a royal commission to determine the resources of the empire. Cheaper cable rates.

And many other questions of an equally practical nature.

At the very outset Premier Aquith stated that he desired to have the overseas dominions permeated with "masters in their own houses," but, at the same time, do whatever they felt they could towards increasing the stability of the British Empire.

This principle of the greatest national autonomy, combined with the best interests of the empire, permeated the conference and gave direction to the discussions.

In the case of the shipping act, Canada's shipping laws were found to be somewhat obsolete, being based on an act passed in 1854, but since amended and changed to a considerable extent.

As a result of the conference her shipping laws will be amended so as to be made more in conformity with those of other nations. The Declaration of London was another forward step. Briefly stated this declaration laid down principles for the guidance of an international court having jurisdiction over seizures of vessels or of goods.

Previous to the Declaration of London being adopted, one nation having vessels seized could only appeal to the nation making the seizure. As an example, in the case of the recent Russian-Japanese war some English fishing boats were destroyed by the Russian fleet.

In that case Great Britain could only appeal to the Russian court for redress. Now such a case would be taken before the international court of the chief maritime nations in the world by the chief maritime nations in the world who signed the declaration.

The adoption of a uniform naturalization law was also an important step. The overseas dominions and Great Britain herself have signed this declaration.

SHE WOULD TALK

Woman Caught Climbing Over Bannister in British Commons at 2.30 A. M.

Suffragists appear still to be anxious to invade the sanctity of the house of commons in London and address the M. P.'s.

One woman, Emily Davison, 35, a teacher, living in Coram street, was discovered in the house in the early hours recently, but instead of making her maiden speech in the commons she made it later in the day at Bow street, when she was charged with "being found on enclosed premises for the supposed purpose of committing a breach of the peace."

A constable said that at 2.30 in the morning he was leaving the reading room of the house of commons when he saw the prisoner climbing over the bannisters of the staircase leading to the committee corridor. She was carrying her boots under her arm, and had in her possession a bottle of mineral water. She had evidently been there for many hours.

The magistrate held that she had not committed any criminal offence, and discharged her.

FRENCH CAKE Cream together one-half cup of butter and one half cup sugar; add the yolks of four eggs, one-half cup of sweet milk, two and one-half cups of flour into which first three teaspoons baking powder, add last the whites of four eggs beaten stiff. WHAT HE SAID. "I understand that you called on the plaintiff. Is that so?" "Yes," replied the witness. "What did he say?" "The attorney for the defense jumped to his feet and objected that the conversation could not be admitted in the evidence. A half-hour's argument followed, and the judges retired to their private room to consider the point. An hour later they fled into the court room and announced that the question might be put." "Well, what did the plaintiff say?" "He wasn't at home, sir," came the answer.

CONSERVATIVE LEADERS AND RECIPROCITY

The Telegraph presents herewith some utterances of Sir John Macdonald, Sir Charles Tupper, Sir John Thompson, Hon. George E. Foster, and other Conservative leaders, showing that they, again and again, in unmistakable terms, pronounced in favor of reciprocity.

During the last few months several Conservative orators, and some Conservative newspapers, have attempted to make it appear that the Conservative party not only did not seek reciprocity but was opposed to it.

First, we have the position of the greatest of the Conservative leaders: Sir John A. and Reciprocity.

In Hansard of 1884, pages 1286-87, Sir John A. Macdonald, referring to the subject of reciprocity, speaking to a motion that had been introduced by Sir Louis Davies, said:

"I do not know any reason why the hon. gentleman who moved this, or the seconder, laid before the House these elaborate statements to show the value of reciprocal trade, or trade of any kind, with the United States. That admitted, that goes without saying. We all admit that it would be well that we had a large trade with the United States, rather than a small one; and I think Canada, as compared in her action with the action of the United States, has done everything that she could do in order to secure that desirable object."

Then we have this despatch from the Governor-General of Canada to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, dated December 13, 1890:

"My Lord—I have the honor to send to your Lordship today a telegraphic message in cipher of which the following is the substance: With reference to my telegram of the 10th instant, this Government is desirous of proposing a joint commission such as that of 1871, with authority to deal without limitation, and to prepare a treaty respecting the following subjects:

"1. Renewal of the Reciprocity Treaty of 1854, with the modifications required by the altered circumstances of both countries and with the extension deemed by the Commission to be in the interests of Canada and the United States."

The remainder of the despatch deals with other matters.

Sir John Thompson's Position. When Sir John Thompson was minister of justice and was a candidate in Antigonish in 1891, he issued an address to the electors of that constituency in which he made it clear that he and the Conservative government of which he was a member were thoroughly in favor of reciprocity.

"To the Electors of the County of Antigonish: Gentlemen,—At the election which will take place on the 5th day of March, I will be a candidate for re-election as a member of the House of Commons for the County of Antigonish."

"The Government of which I am a member is appealing to the country by a policy which I believe will be heartily endorsed by a great majority of the electors. We have made to the Government of the United States, through the Government of Great Britain, proposals for reciprocity in trade, which we have good reason to believe will result in an arrangement by which the markets of the United States will be reopened to the products which our people desire most to send there."

"I respectfully ask your support and votes, and I pledge myself to serve the best interests of the country, if I should be honored by a renewal of the confidence which was reposed in me at the last elections and for which I shall be forever grateful. I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant, JOHN S. D. THOMPSON."

"Antigonish, Feb. 24, 1891."

Sir John Thompson (who was Minister of Justice) was re-elected on that platform, and subsequently became Prime Minister, and so far as is known he never departed from the views he held at the time he issued the address. The political situation in Canada or the United States has not changed to make absorption more likely or reciprocity less desirable.

Sir Charles Tupper's Statement. Here is a quotation from a speech of Sir Charles Tupper in the House of Commons, Aug. 4, 1891. (See page 3346 of Hansard.)

"The chief point now is, without any quibbling or cavilling, that this Government has arranged for a conference with the United States Government, in October next, without any confession such as the hon. gentleman opposite insinuates, that we are in any sense more dependent upon the satisfactory arrangements than are the people of the United States themselves. We go there relatively in as strong a position as they meet us. We go there anxious to see whether an arrangement consistent with the interest of both countries can be brought about."

Mr. Foster's Reciprocity Record. Where did Hon. George E. Foster stand on reciprocity in 1891? On page 3381 of Hansard, 1891, will be found a speech by Mr. Foster on this subject. Referring to some remarks made by the present Sir Louis Davies, then member for Queens, (P.E.I.), in which Mr. Foster said that Mr. Foster had at the previous session practically declared that there was no longer any hope of reciprocity being obtained from the United States, Hon. Mr. Foster said:

"He went on to read the extract, and the extract simply bore out what? (to use Mr. Foster's language) It bore out this—that I said I saw no particular trend toward reciprocity in my reading of the sentiment of the United States, that from 1866 up to the present time, we had been counselled to watch and wait; to go upon the assumption of waiting and watching, to see whether or not the United States would meet us with a reciprocity treaty, and I said that I thought the time had come and fully come when we should leave that position, and with the greatest courtesy and goodwill possible to the United States we should do our own fiscal legislating in our own interest as we see it from the standpoint of Canadians. That is all I said, that is exactly what I stated, and I think I am perfectly consistent in that respect. Since that time, however, a change has taken place and on the invitation of the United States Government itself, we are to send delegates on the 12th day of October to Washington, to confer with Mr. Blaine and the President of the United States and see whether or not we can have framed or formed a reciprocity treaty on the basis which we have set forth in our Order-in-Council, and which is as plain as can be made."

Another Foster Utterance. During that same session Hon. Mr. Foster made another speech, relating to the proposed conference, and (see page 3400 of Hansard) in the course of it he said:

NEAVE'S FOOD FOR INFANTS. A Typical Neave's Food Baby. Baby Blaney was brought up on Neave's Food. At 7 months, he was 30 inches tall, weighed 30 pounds and had 7 teeth. He has always been splendidly healthy.

"With this National Policy, with this development of our natural resources, with this development of inter-provincial trade, there is also a desire to widen the boundary of commerce on every side. With the United States? Yes, and on the principles laid down in the Order-in-Council, taking the basis of the Treaty of 1854, and adding to it, whatever may be agreed upon by the commissioners appointed by both sides. That is the principle as plainly as can be laid down. No one should be asked to say more than that in going into a trade negotiation with another country, and however, the hon. gentlemen opposite may refuse to attribute to us an honest desire to carry out this policy, as they will in their great charity and distinguished probity, the Government knows that the party behind it will trust it because it reflects the opinions of the men who support it."

Can any further evidence be needed to show conclusively that Sir John Macdonald and his principal associates and successors were always in favor of reciprocity and that they sought to negotiate a favorable reciprocal treaty with the United States? If the Conservatives had been able to arrange for a fair trade agreement it would not have been necessary for the Liberals to do so. A formal treaty has some undesirable features and is feared by some classes of Canadians. But the present trade agreement, soon to be passed at Ottawa and Washington, is not a treaty but an agreement by concurrent legislation. It is much better than a treaty, for it leaves Canada absolutely free to terminate the arrangement at any time should it prove desirable to do so.

The quotations here reproduced from the speeches of Conservative leaders are sufficient to expose fully the hypocrisy of Conservative speakers and newspapers which recently have been saying that the Conservative party was not in favor of reciprocity.

SPIRITED SESSION OF THE COUNTY COUNCIL

Land Tax Finds Favor—Proposal For Poor Farm Moves Ahead—Matters of General Interest

The meeting of the municipal council yesterday afternoon developed into a stormy session.

Trouble arose over a resolution introduced by Coun. Potts, approving of the New Brunswick Union of Municipalities considering a bill to be sent to the legislature, authorizing municipalities, towns, and cities to introduce the land tax, poll tax and system of licenses in place of the present tax system.

In speaking to the resolution, Coun. Potts charged that Mayor Frink had obstructed the progress of the land tax in St. John by neglecting to place his report on the committee appointed to report on the mayor's address, and stated that the mayor had shown himself unfit for his position in his course in the matter. Coun. Potts further stated that the mayor of St. John considered himself too high up to attend the sessions of the Union of Municipalities.

In replying, Coun. Frink said that he would not wish to be a member of any committee which conducted itself as the last delegation had done, according to reports, and he hoped that another would be a different one. Coun. Potts rose to reply and was ruled out of order, whereupon Coun. Donovan, as a member of the committee, he cast the resignation of Coun. Frink back in his face. He knew how to conduct himself as well as the mayor, he said, and could go back any time to Woodstock.

There was also a little breeze over the motion to have an act of legislature passed authorizing the sheriff to appoint the members of the chain gang. Coun. C. T. Jones resented the statement of Coun. Frink that a big fuss was being made about nothing, and moved for the dismissal of two guards at present employed. In the end the whole matter was referred back to the labor committee to report on at the next meeting.

The matter of a prison farm was introduced by Coun. Donovan, and referred to a committee of five which was not appointed. There was no report on the special committee, and a motion to dismiss the committee if a report was not made at the next meeting was adopted.

The report of the finance committee was the first business. There was some discussion over the bill of James Lee for valuing the properties affected by the recent real estate boom in the parts of Simonds, but in the end the bill of $100 was ordered paid.

The council refused to pass a bill from G. O. McInerney, registrar of probate, for stationery and office supplies, adopting the recommendation of the committee that the provincial government should be responsible for the registrar's expenses. It was recommended that James O'Connell be paid in consideration of his services in recovering the body of William Smallbones.

Councillor Potts contended that the city was paying too large a share of the municipality's assessment out of $114,970 the city paid $100,000.

Coun. McGoldrick from the building committee read a recommendation to award the contract for a new roof on the court house to John Magee for $450. This was accepted.

A recommendation to raise the insurance on the building from $100,000 to $150,000 was rejected.

Communication from the board of health regarding the unsanitary condition of Lancaster was referred to the council for Lancaster.

WHERE HAVE ALL THE WHITE HOPES GONE?

Only Two Left and Neither of Them is Making Much of a Display

In a lengthy article in a San Francisco paper, Benton, boxing expert, says: What has become of all the white hopes? They seem to have melted into the common swim like the white caps which fled the San Francisco Bay the day after the Johnson-Jeffries fight. Even the quest for them has languished.

True, we have Carl Morris with us—blooming slow like the last rose of summer, as it were—but he is as impressive activity is concerned, he is actually stagnant. He doesn't try his fist at anything worth while, and, as a consequence, he doesn't improve on acquaintance. He is in fact in line with the hope deferred that never comes.

Back in Australia, the other survivor of the white hope brigade is biding his time in a white hope. I refer to Jack Lester. Jack is waiting and waiting and hoping against hope that the champion of the British Empire, Bill Lang, will give him a return match.

Bill is in no hurry. He sent word from Melbourne to Lester recently that his thumbs were sore and that Lester would have to wait. Then Bill Turner, Tammam's principal exhibit in the white hope line, announced that he would accommodate Lester—that he was more than anxious to do his share toward entertaining a stranger in a strange land, and that, apart from other motives, he believed he could knock Tommy Burns' protegee into a cocked hat.

Lester didn't bite very readily. He rubbed his chin, shook his head and said he didn't want to do anything that would prejudice his chances of getting Lang. He was waiting for a better investment if he went to the backwoods for a few months until Lang was ready, or learned to flourish a stock whip upon the Australian downs, or put in a season at the shearing.

Jack indicated by his actions that it is pretty near a case of Lang or nobody as far as he is concerned, and that is where he is wrong. He might play his waiting game to advantage in training for Lester. If he cannot dispose of Turner, it is little use for him bobbing his head about Lang or anyone else any longer. For that matter, his career as a white hope will have ended, whereas, as long as Turner, he must have had the novice from trunk to keelson.

It was the old game Australian heart-punching that Peter Jackson and Paddy Sullivan won, and was still struggling to die. Then, too, when Lang met Lester in the second round, it was a case of Lang or Lester, and it means something when a novice can punch a clever boxer sea-sick.

Every round with a rush of the John L. Sullivan and was still struggling to die. Then, too, when Lang met Lester in the second round, it was a case of Lang or Lester, and it means something when a novice can punch a clever boxer sea-sick.

Lang respectively declined and that is why Lester is prolonging his stay in Australia. He is loath to come home without Lang's scalp.

WINS $300 SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Waterman of Rockland Road follows up Brilliant Career in St. John High School

The friends of Miss Rosalie A. Waterman were pleased to read a dispatch from Montreal this morning saying that the young lady had captured a $300 scholarship from McGill University. Miss Waterman has been known in this city for several years as a very bright scholar and her achievement is not the only one that she has gained.

She is daughter of the late Mrs. Waterman and Mr. Waterman, natives of Nova Scotia. Mr. Waterman has lately been located in St. John. After the death of her mother in Colorado, Miss Waterman came east to attend the high school. She has been in the 9th grade and she early showed her ability in the classical and literary subjects, which very soon gave her precedence over her classmates. In the tenth grade she won the governor-general's medal, in the eleventh she captured the corporation gold medal, and in the last year she led grade XII by a good margin. During the present year she has been doing splendid work under the supervision of Dr. E. B. Bridges.

The examination by which Miss Waterman won the $300 scholarship was held in the local High School building during the coronation week. The subjects written were Greek, Latin history, English language, and English literature. The course was equivalent to the first year's work in arts at McGill. Her friends join in wishing Miss Waterman a very successful course at McGill.

JAMES BOYLE OF FREDERICTON DEAD

Father of Mrs. James Minchelan of St. John—French Lake Woman Badly Injured

(Special to Times)

Frederickton, N. B., July 19.—James Boyle, head of the firm of Jas. Boyle & Sons, provision dealers, died today after a lingering illness. He was a native of Tyrone, Ireland, but had resided here for fifty-three years. He leaves three sons, Charles, Samuel and Vincent, and two daughters, Mrs. James Minchelan, of St. John, and Annie, at home.

Mrs. Katherine Mills, of French Lake, was thrown from a carriage a few days ago and sustained serious injuries. She was trampled upon by the horse and had her arm broken and spine injured. Her recovery is doubtful.

A dispatch in this morning's Telegraph telling of the experience of a Fredericton merchant in Boston was read with much interest. His identity is still a mystery.

Thomas Burns, a sailor, was fined $20 or two months in jail on a charge of drunkenness, assault, profanity and resisting the police. Baxter who made the arrest, John Neilson, and William West gave evidence and the prisoner was fined as stated.

William Murray, arrested several weeks ago on charge of stealing two pairs of boots from J. V. Russell's store was brought into court and allowed to go on a suspended sentence of six months in jail.

Louis Walsh, arrested on a charge of assaulting Louis Katesky in Brook street, was fined $20 or two months in jail. Walsh said that the other had accused him of breaking windows in his house.

James Grey and William Saunders, two sailors who were arrested last week by Policeman Shortliffe, were fined $24 or three months in jail each, Grey for profanity, drunkenness and resisting the police and Saunders for profanity and interfering with the police.

CARLETON WEDDING

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of LeBaron Clarke, West St. John, at an early hour this morning, when his daughter, Miss Nellie Clarke, was united in marriage to John Williamson, a motor man in the employ of the St. John Railway Company. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. H. R. Reid, pastor of the Carleton Presbyterian church, and there were no attendants.

After a wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Williamson left on a driving tour through Queens county, the groom's home. Motors man Williamson's car is gaily decorated today in honor of the event.

INCREASED SUBSIDY BEFORE THEY WILL GIVE BETTER SERVICE

Pickford and Black Man Has Conference With St. John Board of Trade West Indies Committee

The matter of the steamship service between St. John and the West Indies was discussed this morning in the board of trade rooms when the members of the committee appointed to deal with the matter met in conference with Mr. Henley, of Halifax, representing the steamship firm of Pickford & Black, the company whose boats carry on the service. St. H. Estabrooke, chairman of the committee, presided.

Mr. Henley set forth the views of his firm upon the matter. He said that the train, before leaving to return to Halifax, that he dealt with "facts and figures in connection with the proposed improved service." He said his company was willing to place St. John as a port of call on the twelve day service provided the dominion government granted an additional subsidy. Pickford & Black were willing to have their boats call at St. John at every sailing, but could not do so under present conditions, he said, unless special arrangements were made with the government.

Mr. Henley will return in a few days, reporting to his firm on the result of this morning's meeting, and returning to again confer with the West Indies committee of the St. John board.

The annual sale of no mark logs and mixed logs was conducted this morning in the board of trade rooms by the St. John River Log Driving Co. Good prices were obtained for most of the lumber, in fact, Lewis H. Bliss, secretary of the company, said after the auction, that the prices were the best for years. The auction was conducted by F. L. Potts. The bidding in some cases was brisk.

The greatest quantity sold was in spruce which brought $14.80. The purchasers were the J. Partington Company. The figures given were as follows:—

St. Stephen Thistles Lose to Woodstock in an Interesting Contest

(Special to Times)

Woodstock, N. B., July 19.—The Thistles of St. Stephen and the locals played an exhibition game this morning, the locals winning 5 to 4. The circuit races not starting until 2 o'clock, gave opportunity for the housemen to attend the game. Dan McMahon was umpire.

It was the most interesting game yet played here, as it went eleven innings. The Thistles got an early lead, but the locals passed them in the sixth. In the ninth it was four all.

In the two extra innings the Thistles did not score and the winning run came in the last half of the eleventh. Wilder died to Finnmore, Keane singled and stole second, O'Donnell singled, Keaney going to third. Allan bunted and Keaney got home on the bunt, the visitors also losing Allan.

McMahon pitched for the visitors with A. Finnmore behind the bat, both doing good work. Warwick pitched the first five innings and Stinson the last six for the locals. Both did excellent work, but Warwick was saved for the Fredericton game. O'Donnell was a tower of strength behind the bat.

Score by innings:—

THE CATHEDRAL FIRE

His Lordship Bishop Richardson who arrived in the city from Fredericton on noon said that he expected the cathedral would be roofed over within two or three months. He could not say in what manner funds would be raised, but thought that an appeal would probably be made to the churches in the diocese.

Here's Something New

No more ashes to lug, no clumsy ash pan to spill dust and dirt on the kitchen floor. The GLENWOOD ASH CHUTE solves the problem. It is situated just beneath the grate and connected by a sheet iron pipe straight down through the kitchen floor to the Ash Barrel in the cellar. No dust can escape, just slide the damper once each day and drop the ashes directly in to the ash barrel.

This is only one of the splendid improvements of the plain CABINET GLENWOOD, the range without ornamental or fancy nicke. "THE MISSION STYLE" GLENWOOD, every essential refined and improved upon.

At least one-half of all GLENWOODS are sold through the enthusiastic recommendation of a satisfied buyer.

Are You After the Bargain? THEN VISIT OAK HALL'S BIGGEST MID-SUMMER SALE

Today we talk to "bargain seekers," particularly those who have "sought" elsewhere and not "found." Poor little "bargain" like your "best" friend is a much-abused word. When a Suit worth $10 is marked $20 then reduced to $15 it is a "bargain." "Bargains" make money for some stores. But not at Oak Hall.

Websters definition of bargain "an advantageous purchase," is the only one we have known in over twenty-two years' business.

This Mid-Summer Sale contains hundreds of such bargains. Come and see. You'll buy.
