BUSINESS DULL

Populate Limits Expenditures to Bare Necessities as Dead-lock Continues

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 7.—Today brought no lessening in the strained relations existing between the Catholic Church authorities and the Mexican government over the enactment of the religious clauses of the constitution. There apparently are no prospects of a settlement of the controversy at an early date. The priests continue to abstain from the churches, but the doors of many of the edifices are open for worshippers to enter and meditate and pray.

NEWS IS BEAGRE

Little news regarding conditions in other parts of the country, but made available in Mexico City, but apparently, with the exception of occasional purely local disturbances, the situation growing out of the religious controversy seemingly is being calmly accepted by the mass of the people.

Beyers, Minister of Mines, in a long speech here today on the constitutional question said that at present the equal status of the Dominions with other countries existed only in theory. French Comment On Ederle's Triumph

PARIS, Aug. 7.—Gertrude Ederle being France's guest, her feat in swimming the English Channel is greeted with enthusiasm, particularly by the women folk, who regard it as a triumph for femininity. School Regulations Fail To Daint Young Chinese Suitor Undaunted he went to a modiste's where he bought himself a complete outfit of feminine apparel and changed in the shop, telling the shopkeeper that he would call later for his own clothes. Suspecting a crime the shopkeeper informed the police, who encountered the youth leaving a hairdresser's shop, where he had had his hair waved. He was wearing a fashionable colored frock and a smart toque, and his disguise was so effective that it is believed that he could have deceived the authorities at the school had not the police intervened and took him before a magistrate. He was surprised when he was told that what he had done was a criminal offence, but the magistrate was indulgent and let him off with a caution.

MAN WHO MADE RAILROAD SPEED RECORD RETIRES

Drove Engine at 102 Miles an Hour on English Line

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The man who more than 22 years ago made a railway speed record which, in spite of the wonderful new engines now on the steel roads of the world, has never been equaled or beaten, is about to retire after forty-eight years' railway service.

He is George Henry Fiewellen, of Swindon, who on August 4, will retire as a head officer locomotive running-inspector from the Great Western Railway, which he joined in 1878 as an engine cleaner.

"I am the only man in England," he remarked, jocularly recently "who has ever made the King do what he was told."

"It happened when the King went to Swindon in 1924 to inspect the Great Western Railway works. On that occasion the King drove the train for a mile and a quarter. He did it under my supervision, and, as he knew nothing about driving a railway engine, he had to do everything as I told him to do it."

Mr. Fiewellen set up his speed record in May 1904, when he ran a competitive mail train against an engine belonging to what was then the London and South Western Railway from Plymouth to Paddington.

The young man muttered rambling phrases about taking out his mother's eyes because they did not look right and of sending her body to purify her soul.

Stick to The Farm (Tara Leader) A little advice to boys on the farm—the most independent life on earth. The folks in the city may laugh at old Rube with his tall whiskers, from the sticks, but when he stops plowing and sowing then they stop eating. He is the one that furnishes them with their breakfasts, dinners and suppers. The telephone, broadcasting, automobile, macadamized highway, rural delivery and electric lights have robbed the farm of its loneliness and desolation. Most of the famous men of our land came from the farm, while 85 per cent. of our criminals came from the cities.

BETTER TRANSPORTATION FOR P. E. I. IS URGED AT HEARING

OBJECTION MADE TO DELAYS IN FERRY SERVICE

Seven Witnesses Examined at Charlottetown Hearing

WANT C. P. R. Trade Boards President Protests Against Running of Harvest Excursions

CHARLOTTETOWN, Aug. 6.—The transportation problems of Prince Edward Island occupied the attention of the Royal Commission investigating Maritime claims throughout this afternoon's session.

Seven witnesses in all were heard and a lengthy list of alleged grievances growing out of the operation of the Canadian National Railway and car ferry were aired, the main contention being that the Island Province deserved and should be accorded as modern railway facilities as obtained throughout the rest of Canada.

At the morning session of the commission, Hon. J. D. Stewart, Premier of the province, pleaded for an increased federal subsidy, on the ground of starved public services and the heavy burden of taxation already borne by the people. He contended that at least the subsidy now paid should bear the same proportion to the present total expenditures of the province as the subsidy paid when the province entered the confederation here to the total expenditures of the time.

PARTNERSHIP SUGHT Sir Andrew Rae Duncan, the chairman, pointed out that Prince Edward Island, unlike some of the other provinces, notably Nova Scotia, sought the partnership, but the Premier insisted that the union was consummated largely at the insistence of the Imperial authorities.

TRAFFIC DELAYS Donald McKinnon, K. C., in presenting the case on transportation for the Associated Boards of Trade, stressed the alleged delays occurring in the handling of traffic at the terminal of the car ferry. He also protested against the practice of charging the cost of operating the ferry against the Prince Edward Island division of the road.

SUBSTANTIAL COMPLAINT The chairman pointed out that this was a substantial complaint and suggested that for this reason it was possibly unnecessary to worry about the railway company's system of book-keeping, but Mr. McKinnon insisted that every endeavor to secure better facilities for the province was met with the contention that the Island division did not pay.

COMPLAINS OF TRAINS. B. R. Holman, broker, the first witness called, complained of "second rate" passenger accommodation on the trains running between Charlottetown and St. John's. He thought a pullman or chair car service should be instituted. He had heard visitors to the Island declare they will never come back as a result of their experience in crossing from the mainland. Motor cars, in his judgment, were also unnecessarily delayed. It was three-quarters of an hour's run for the car, but it required three hours in a motor car to make the trip owing to the delays getting on and off the steamer.

DICK WHITTINGTON CHURCH IN PERIL

London City Surveyor Schedules it as Dangerous Structure

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Christ Church, Greyfriars, familiarly known to Londoners as "Dick Whittington's Church," is threatened with destruction. The city surveyor has scheduled it as a dangerous structure, and a passage from King Edward street to Newgate street, under the north wall of the church, has been closed.

CLOSED LOBSTER SEASON. W. F. Tidmarsh, lobster packer, announced that he had been instructed by a resolution adopted by the canned fish section of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association formally to endorse the suggestions placed before the commission by B. H. Williams, lobster packer of Halifax, that a closed lobster season be made statutory so that they might not be interfered with by politicians seeking to gain favor with the fishermen and that a deputy minister of fisheries or a fisheries board, should be located in the Maritime Provinces for the purpose of advising the department as to the needs of the industry. He also claimed that wise regulations governing the packing of lobsters were not being enforced by officials of the government.

POLITICAL MEDDLING. When asked by the chairman for a specific instance of political interference, he promised to supply the commission with the report of a speech delivered by a former minister of fisheries in which he had promised the fishermen of northern New Brunswick that the mounted police, who had proved effective in the enforcing of the fisheries regulations would be withdrawn from the district and not returned during his term of office.

AUTOMOBILE TRAFFIC. John O. Hyndman, president of the Associated Boards of Trade, claimed that when the car ferry service was inaugurated in 1916, it was not contemplated that any considerable amount of automobile traffic would develop. When asked to enlarge on the point, he explained that at the time automobiles were not allowed on the island. He contended that while affording excursion fares from Winnipeg to the Pacific Coast, the Canadian National had declined to entertain the subject of excursion fares from Winnipeg to the Atlantic seaboard and had tendered a note of correspondence he had had with Sir Henry Thornton and other officials on the subject.

WANTS C. P. R. SERVICE. He thought that the Canadian Pacific Railway might be induced to extend their system to the island, contending that more competition was required. He protested against the harshest excursions conducted by the railways and the activities of the mail order houses and concluded with the statement that anything done to improve conditions in the steel and coal industries of Nova Scotia would be immediately reflected in increased prosperity for Prince Edward Island.

Miss Mabel Strong Is Struck By Truck. Miss Mabel Strong, of 374 Main street, had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday afternoon near the corner of Main and Elm streets when she was struck by motor truck X-284, owned and driven by Richard Fielding, of 123 Millidge Avenue. Miss Strong, with two other women, alighted from a street car on the corner of the street named and walked in front of the trolley for the purpose of crossing to the opposite side. The motor truck ran around the street car with the result that Miss Strong was struck and thrown on top of the truck radiator. She was dislodged from this place when the automobile struck an obstruction and she fell to the pavement, badly checked by a curb, but escaping with only a few bruises. She was enabled to proceed to her home.

SEEKING MEN WHO HELPED HIM DESERT

Former Soldier Longs to Meet Comrades Who Freed Him 60 Years Ago

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A white-headed man of 87, John Hawkins, has been lying in his bed in a little house in Bethnal Green, for five years longing to meet, before he dies, one of the six men who helped him to escape from the army 60 years ago. So anxious is he to see one of those men that he has asked the press to appeal to any of them who may be alive to come forward. He adds that their journey would not be in vain. On the contrary, "it would be to their advantage."

The monotony of Mr. Hawkins' existence has led his mind back to the days when he was Corporal J. Hawkins, of the 1st Battalion Military Train. "It was an unhappy day for me when I was transferred to Aldershot from Bristol," said Mr. Hawkins.

ARRESTS SUSPENDED WHILE FAIR IS ON

Unique Custom is Carried Out at Honiton, England, Fall Show

LONDON, August 7.—A centuries-old ceremony associated with the opening of Honiton fair was observed recently at midday. The town crier, resplendent in a blue and scarlet uniform and gold-braided hat, appeared in the centre of the town carrying a pole adorned with rambling roses and other flowers and surrounded by a grey-leather glove. Ringing his bell, he called out three times, schoolboys of the town repeating the words: "Oyes, oyes, oyes, the glove is up, the fair has begun; no man shall be arrested until the glove is taken down."

RETAIN YOUR VIGOR

This Can Only be Done by Keeping the Blood Rich and Red. If you would regain your vigor and ambition, keep your blood and nerves in good condition. Anemia, or thin blood lowers the vitality, starves the nerves and causes a general run-down condition. When the blood is thin the skin loses its color, the shoulders droop and weight is lost. The victim of anemia loses appetite, suffers from indigestion, headaches and sleeplessness, and is nervous and exhausted after slight exertion. If you have any of these symptoms do not delay but begin treatment now with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will be gratified with the prompt improvement in your condition. Among the thousands who have found new health through the use of this medicine is Mrs. Herbert Nagle, Ludlow, N. B., who says: "I had not been feeling well for some time and I was gradually growing weaker. I would take dizzy spells and often faint. I was subject to severe headaches and found it hard to do my work. I took doctor's medicine for some time, but it did me no good, and I was still growing weaker. In this condition I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in a short time found they were helping me. I continued the use of the pills for a while longer, and found that the trouble that had bothered me was gone and I was once more a well woman." Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggist's or write The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be sent post paid at 50 cents a box.

The One Sure Cure for the Woman Who Pines for the Sweetheart She Didn't Marry is to See Him as He is Today—For the Man of Her Dreams Doesn't Exist—He's Only Part of the "Good-Old-Days" Fiction.

I GET a great many letters from women who write me that in their girlhood they had love affairs that came to nothing. Sometimes it was a case of bread and butter, school boy and girl sweethearts. Sometimes it was a romance that ended in a quarrel and a broken engagement. Sometimes the men were drunkards, immoral, good-for-nothing, and the girls had sense enough not to wreck their own lives by marrying them. Sometimes circumstances drifted a couple apart.

However, it was love's young dream just petered out, as love's young dream has a way of doing, and after a while other men came along with whom these women fell in love and whom they married. Now they think they have discovered that they are not in love with their husbands but with these ex-lovers. They say that they can do nothing but think of these soulmates that they missed and that they are, of all women, most miserable.

Shoo, sisters, dry your weeping eyes and be comforted by the knowledge that your grief is a purely imaginary one. It is not a broken heart but inflammation of the imagination that afflicts you. You are shedding tears over the dream that every woman dreams and from which every woman wakes up with a shock of surprise.

FOR every woman believes that she is getting a husband who will be a perpetual sweetie, a financial wizard and who will be as devoted to her as she is to him. Then when she finds out that instead of having got a man who is an aggregation of all masculine charms and virtues she appears to have drawn a husband who seems to her to embody almost all of the faults of his sex, a man who is dumb at love-making and not much of a money-getter, who is as irritable as the fretful porcupine and as stubborn as a mule, why then she begins to think tenderly of the man she didn't marry, and she is very apt to crown the head of her former sweetheart with a halo.

So she goes on an orgy of self-pity, and spends hours of morbid pleasure in digging up her dead love out of its grave and holding an autopsy over it, and thinking how happy she would have been if she had married the man she didn't marry and whom she pictures as a perfect being with none of the faults that afflict the man she did marry.

SHE lets her mind dwell on this picture of her former sweetheart until she persuades herself that she has a deathless passion for him and that by failing to marry him she has wrecked her life.

It would save these ladies, who are pining away with a green and yellow melancholy, barrels of tears if they could only realize that their secret grief is a purely imaginary one and that it is rooted in the curious impulse we all have to extol the past at the expense of the present. It is what makes us glorify the Good Old Times and sentimentalize over childhood's happy days, and idealize our youthful chums, and pine to go back and live in the old home. All of which is rank nonsense.

MOST of us are better off now than we ever were before. Childhood isn't the happiest time of life, because then we haven't learned philosophy enough not to let things hurt us. When we go back to the old home we find it a tumble-down cottage instead of the palace of our memories, and that the boys and girls whom we remembered as so beautiful and so brilliant are plain, homely, dull, commonplace men and women.

No cure could be so effectual for these women who are breaking their hearts in vain yearning for their lost loves as just to see their former sweethearts again. Ten to one they wouldn't have them or a bet for there is no more distinguishing experience than to find the man who you have remembered as slim and young, with ambrosial curls and bobbing over with romance, changed into a fat, heavy, bald-headed gentleman whose only topics of conversation are his business and his golf, and who is lousy about his food and sitting in drafts.

THE woman who thinks that she would have been perfectly happy if she had married her old sweetheart is also simply valuing the common human discontent with our lot and the belief we all entertain that everybody's job is easier than our own.

The professional man envies the business man. The business man regrets that he did not take up a profession. The laborer thinks that his employer has a soft snap. The employer wishes he didn't have anything on his mind after his work is over. The single woman thinks it must be wonderful to have a husband to support you. The married woman yearns after freedom and her own pocketbook. And so it goes.

A woman knows the shortcomings of the man she married, but she doesn't know those of the man she didn't marry, so she imagines that life with him would have been a journey over a rose-strewn pathway, with no thorns in it. But if she should ask his wife she would tell her a different tale.

For there is no such person as the man she didn't marry. There is no man without nerves and temper and irritating little ways. No man who is always thoughtful and unselfish and considerate. No man who doesn't sometimes fuss about the cooking and the bills. No man who spends his evenings holding his wife's hand and making her pretty speeches.

And if there were such a man he would bore his wife to death, and she couldn't stand him at any price.

IT is a foolish and pitiful thing for women to waste their hearts in futile regrets for the man they didn't marry and who, after all, is only a lay figure that they dress up in the children of their fancies.

Far better for them if they made the best of the man they did marry.

Sheer Negligees, Frocks Interest In Mid-Season

BY MISS LISBETH
THE hot weather of midsummer calls very loudly for sheer, comfortable clothing both for outdoor and street wear. Modern couturiers expell in both. Nothing is more refreshing than to return home on a hot day, bathed, and don a thin and most becoming negligee and be at ease to read, write or converse.

At the center above is pictured a cool and attractive dress that was noticed at the recent season. It would be suitable, at almost any daytime function. The material is tulle in a dainty design with bands of the same material in solid color set on in unique fashion for trimming. A vestee of the solid color is finished by collar and revers in the banding which is swagged in scalloped effect.

The skirt is of the bouffant type with a border of this scalloped trimming at the point in front where the vestee and revers end and the skirt is attached in a velvet bow and long ends hang to the skirt hem. An unusual hat which faintly suggests a fireman's helmet by its shape and is of white felt is worn with it.

At the left a lovely sheer negligee is worn by Anna O. Nilsson. It is made of crepe de chine and trimmed with a banding of pearl ribbon with natural looking flowers at the shoulder and on the sleeves. A train completes the slender effect and also boasts a bunch of the flowers.

of the pajama. The long loose coat is blue and these same monsters of the deep are depicted as depositing themselves over its surface. The marvellous effect adds, of course, to the garment's coolness to any imaginative woman.

SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY

ONE of the favorite sights of Manhattan and you'll read within a baton in that which issues at the mention of Sherry's Rector's or Delmore's.

GEORGE RECTOR, of the famous restaurant family, narrating his story in a national magazine, recalls that everybody from fistic champions to gamblers to explorers to society folk celebrated their successes at old Rector's. Broadway would not have believed that Peary found the pole or that Devere defeated the Spanish fleet, he recalls, unless they had appeared at Rector's.

There are one or two places where the scintillating and notorious alike are almost certain to be seen, as their names flash in the fields of recollection.

And whereas Rector now good naturedly admits that it was a reputation for magnificence that spelled the downfall of his establishment in a more Victorian era, this same reputation today sends a resort skyrocketing to prosperity.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS
Whatever road you pass along, be it of victory or loss, be it the way of high or song whatever path you have to cross, remember, others travelled, too, along the way where you must go; remember, not alone for you are peals of joy or pangs of woe. And by all undaunted down this way, to hope and courage still hold fast upon the road ahead, you take today. For courage is a torch to hand and those who, long before you came, have left their glory on the land. Yours now to hold the torch on high, to bear a little while the light; be yours the way of song or sigh, remember, guard this trust aright.

Why Breakers Roar (Montreal Gazette)

Why do breakers roar? The breaking of the wave produces no sound, but the bursting of the air bubbles roar, says Dr. Clark, of the National Museum, being wireless through the water, warm fishes to turn tail and speed for the open sea. A fish and a human are alike in one respect, when the wave strikes the shores causes the rhythmic roar. And the both run from roars.

The Danger of Common Ills

Constipation and its attendant evils conquered—
Skin and stomach disorders corrected—
Glorious vitality regained—through One Simple Food

NOT a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense—Fleischmann's Yeast is simply a remarkable fresh food.

The millions of tiny active yeast plants in every cake invigorate the whole system. They aid digestion—clear the skin—banish the poisons of constipation. Where cathartics give only temporary relief, yeast strengthens the intestinal muscles and makes them healthy and active. And day by day it releases new stores of energy.

Eat two or three cakes regularly every day before meals: on crackers—in fruit juices, water or milk—or just plain, nibbled from the cake. For constipation especially, dissolve one cake in hot water (not scalding) before breakfast and at bedtime. Buy several cakes at a time—they will keep fresh in a cool dry place for two or three days. All grocers have Fleischmann's Yeast. Start eating it today!

And let us send you a free copy of our latest booklet on Yeast for Health. Health Research Dept. L-735, The Fleischmann Company, 208 Simcoe St., Toronto, Ont., Canada.

"I HAD DIZZY SPELLS and a disagreeable rash on my skin. I had chronic constipation but did not know it until my physician told me. He directed that I eat Fleischmann's Yeast. In four months I was a new man. For ten months I have taken Fleischmann's Yeast daily. I don't get dizzy any more. My complexion is now clear. In a word, I feel in perfect health."
Leonard H. Dithrich, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I DID COMPETITIVE SWIMMING and diving. I met with an accident which confined me in a hospital for a month. Afterwards I was very weak and tired easily. I decided I would make yeast a daily habit. After six months of yeast I was back in the swimming game."
Mrs. Betty Kurewally, Chicago, Ill.

GOES 14,000 MILES TO WATCH SUNRISE

Australian Among Crowd of 500 Who Journey to Ben Nevis' Top

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Five hundred people have just seen the sun rise from the summit of Ben Nevis—Scotland's highest mountain. They started the great climb at midnight, and reached the top just before dawn broke. Motor-coaches and private motor-cars took the party of mountaineers to the foot of the peak, and then local guides piloted the climbers up the zig-zag paths. There were as many women as men in the party, and they thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

Many nations were represented in the crowd of mountaineers. There were American men and women, a Japanese student, a South African merchant, a small party of Frenchmen, a couple of Swiss tourists, a Dutchman and his family, and holiday-makers from various parts of England, Ireland, and Wales.

One man in the party had come from Western Australia. He left Scotland when a boy, and now owns an extensive cattle station in the Commonwealth. This was his first visit to Scotland since he left his native land 30 years ago. He made a vow many years ago to return to Scotland and welcome the dawn from the top of Scotland's noblest peak. He had come nearly 14,000 miles to see the sun rise.

The work of the students of the summer school of home economics which has been held in the Saint John Vocational School under the auspices of the Provincial Board of Vocational Education was publicly exhibited last evening in a most tastefully arranged and effective display in the gymnasium of the school. Large numbers of greatly interested citizens, chiefly but not exclusively womenfolk, visited the display and all were greatly impressed by the excellence of the design and of the work of the finished gowns, tailored coats and stylish millinery. It was not only the work of the advanced pupils which was so much admired, but the work of the pupils of the practice class also came in for a large share of praise, especially when it was realized that the neatly and smartly made hats had been the work of pupils who had never attempted millinery before and had only had nine lessons from pupil teachers.

DOUCET STANDS PAT ON CHARGES OVER MARGARET

Declares He Has No Withdrawal to Make on the Matter

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—The Star today published under date of Notre Dame, N. B., a statement by A. J. Doucet, ex-M. P., in regard to the Royal Commission's inquiry at Quebec into the cruise of the customs cutter Margaret.

Meighen's tour of the Maritimes I am prepared to substantiate; in fact they are pretty well substantiated by the evidence that has been given by Mr. Lapointe," continued Mr. Doucet. "I haven't seen an official report of the proceedings, nor have I seen the newspaper reports as yet. All I know about it, except what you have read to me, is that I received a telegram from my counsel, Hon. L. G. Belley, from Quebec, telling me not to come, that the inquiry was finished and the judge would not hear me as a witness. I had previously had telegraphic communication with Mr. Calder and also with Mr. Lapointe and had expressed the desire to be allowed to give under oath the correct version of just what I had said. That privilege has been denied me by the judge.

STATEMENT BY COUNSEL.
QUEBEC, Aug. 6.—The Chronicle-Telegraph today was in receipt of a signed statement by Hon. L. G. Belley, K.C., as legal representative of A. J. Doucet, with regard to the investigation held at the court house here yesterday morning as a sequel of the charges made against two former federal ministers by Mr. Doucet, who alleged from the platform that they had participated in a prolonged "pleasure trip" aboard the Dominion government steamer Margaret.

WHAT HE SAID IN TOUR.
"What I did say in the speeches made during Mr. Meighen's tour of the Maritimes was that the Margaret had been taken off its regular patrol duty on Bay Chaleur and had been taken to Three Rivers, where Mr. Bureau and party were taken on and that it then went to Quebec, where Mr. Lapointe and party were taken on. Later on Anticosti, Magdalen Islands, etc., were visited, and Mr. Lapointe has admitted in his evidence at Quebec that he was actually on the Margaret. I said that the Margaret had been taken off her regular patrol work for a pleasure trip and I repeat it and say that the evidence has proven it to be true. So far as anything about any joy cruise, or carousal goes, that seems to have resulted from a lot of supposition; it was freely talked about around Ottawa and apparently originated there, but there was no mention of that in my speeches while with Mr. Meighen on his tour of the Maritimes. Therefore, I have nothing to withdraw."

THINGS LEARNED.
"We did not have the whole truth yesterday, we learned these things: "Mr. Bureau made three pleasure trips on board the Margaret at the expense of the country, which he calls inspection trips. "There were no demi mondaines aboard. "Mr. Lapointe set foot on the Margaret only once, during a short visit in the port of Charlottetown. But he said that he was himself on board another government steamer, returning from Pictou? "It is thus that the intention is to continue the customs investigation, I think that the best plan for the government will be to terminate it at once." (Sgd.) "L. G. BELLEY."

CHARTER MATTER TO HIGHER COUNCIL

Trades and Labor Body Decides Street Railway Subject Should go to International

"That the local council had no power to take up the matter of cancelling the charter of the street railway employees' union which participated in the strike here a few years ago, and that it should be referred to the International Council, was the decision arrived at at a meeting of the Saint John Trades and Labor Council in their rooms, Union street, last night. The president, C. H. Stevens, was in the chair. The council decided to ask the executive of the Provincial Federation of Labor to take up the advisability of having a practical licensed electrician appointed to the position of moving picture machine inspector. The union-felix McMullin and William Ely were appointed to represent the local council at the congress, to be held in Montreal early in September, of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

It is estimated that there will be 100,000, including delegates, at the convention, which will be in session from Aug. 11 to Aug. 16. Mrs. Thompson and their son, Master, Toler, who are at the former's home in Boston, will meet him there and proceed to Richmond. On the return trip Mr. Thompson and family will visit the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia. He will be away about three weeks.

CLAIMS SCHOONER WAS OUTSIDE LIMIT

Opposing Council Lock Horns in Granite Case at St. George

ST. GEORGE, Aug. 6.—The case against Capt. Trehan, of the schooner Granite, seized recently by Government Patrol Boat G and towed into Saint John, was continued this afternoon. Capt. Kenney, of Patrol Boat G, continuing his evidence, told of the circumstances leading up to the seizure of the schooner Granite. First he told of the capture of Basch with a motor boat of alcohol in drums similar to those on the Granite. He said that the schooner on the 28th of July was inside the 3-mile limit from observations taken by himself. Captain Hughes told the defence and many lively tilts occurred between the lawyers.

COLLECTOR LOCKHART.

Collector Lockhart gave evidence concerning his part in the affair, saying that on the arrival of the Granite in Saint John he had asked Captain Trehan for his papers. By consent of the prosecution Captain Hughes, of the schooner Gardiner, was examined by the defence. His evidence touched on the location of the schooners on run row from observations made a number of times by him. He claimed the schooners were all well beyond the 3-mile limit.

Some men buy Fundy for its extra power—and they know they get extra power as any hill or traffic travel tells them about quicker starting and faster gliding.

Other men take the trouble to notice the extra miles in a gallon of Fundy. They also note a cooler engine. The Gas question certainly is worth study.

ANOTHER CARLETON COUNTY CHILD HURT SEVERELY BY FIRE

Lighted Match is Thrown on Clothes of Girl, 9, at Greenville

FLORENCEVILLE, N. B., Aug. 6—Another child of Carleton county, dangerously hurt in an accident on Thursday, is now being cared for in the Fisher Memorial Hospital at Woodstock, it was reported here tonight.

She is Evelyn Lunn, 9-year-old daughter of Lee Lunn of Greenville, four miles from Florenceville. Her younger sister had thrown a lighted match which fell on Evelyn's dress and in less than a second her clothing was all in flames. The terrified child rushed out of the house to her father, who was close by and he quickly crushed out the flames, but not before the child had been burnt deeply all over her body. She was rushed at once to the Fisher Memorial Hospital and reports from the hospital tonight were that her condition was quite serious. There are several other children in the family.

At the Woodstock hospital it was reported that the child's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lovely, aged four and six who received severe burns that her condition was quite serious. At River Bank, near here last night, when one, Vernon Lovely, was fatally burned, his body was brought to the hospital. He was brought to St. George and attended by Miss Margaret McGill, a trained nurse, in the absence of the two local doctors. The occupants of the Studebaker did not stop to see what happened the Hudson. Both cars were from Massachusetts.

A minor accident occurred at Digby when the children's boat was struck by a touring party from the States.

Two Cars Crash in Charlotte Co.
Man Severely Cut by Glass at Pennfield—Second Collision

ST. GEORGE, Aug. 6—Another bad smashup occurred at Pennfield today when a big Studebaker going towards Saint John at a high rate of speed forced a Hudson car off the road and into a stump. One of the occupants was severely cut by glass from the window. He was brought to St. George and attended by Miss Margaret McGill, a trained nurse, in the absence of the two local doctors. The occupants of the Studebaker did not stop to see what happened the Hudson. Both cars were from Massachusetts.

A minor accident occurred at Digby when the children's boat was struck by a touring party from the States.

TRAVEL BANNED IN 5 MORE COUNTIES
Northern Two-thirds of New Brunswick Shut to Fishermen

FREDERICTON, Aug. 6—The forest fire menace continued so serious in New Brunswick this evening that the provincial department of lands and mines added five counties to the list in which forest travel is banned, thus shutting off the northern two-thirds of the province to fishermen, campers and others until this situation is relieved.

Webb announced that Kent, Northumberland, Gloucester, Restigouche and York counties had been added to the list, which now embraces the whole province, except the seven smaller counties in the southern section.

Some new fires were reported this afternoon and it was said tonight that all the old ones were still burning.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED ON S.S. BRUCE CANN
Ship Is Lying in Yarmouth Dock For General Overhaul

YARMOUTH, Aug. 6—A few minutes before 9 o'clock this morning the blaze broke out in the forecastle of the steamer Bruce Cann, lying at High Cann and Sons' dock.

The firemen soon had a big stream from the pumpers playing on the blaze and after a half hour's work the flames were extinguished.

SAINT JOHN RETAIL TRADE PROVES O. K.

MEIGHEN DEFENDS ACTION IN FORMING DOMINION CABINET

Says Government Quit and He Was Asked to Step Into Office

NEW LISKEARD, Aug. 6—"Only to finish the business of the session was this done," said Premier Meighen here last night, describing the events which led to his formation of a government.

"His Excellency asked me to form a government," Meighen said, "and I am supposed to have committed a terrible offence against the constitution by agreeing to do so. I wonder what else I was to do. The government resigned. I did not resign. They dropped out. I was leader of His Majesty's opposition and not only so, but of the strongest party in the House of Commons."

"Does anyone say that I was not my duty to form that government? I was not asked to make any prophecy as to how long it would last and I made none. My duty was to form it. My duty was to carry out the balance of that session, to make law such things as parliament had passed, to give effect after that to such policies as I could get a mandate from the people of Canada to give effect to."

"Some tell you that I should have refused. The meaning of refusal would have been that Mr. King would again have been sent for to reform his government, knowing that just as soon as the commons could get a chance they would vote to censure that government."

Horses are decreasing in number; there are 68,000 fewer this year than last.

RESOLUTION ON SECESSION IS NOT PRESENTED

M. P. B. Turns Down Recommendation Re Baseball Sanctions

THE ruling made last year at the annual meeting of the Maritime Provinces branch of the A. A. U. that no baseball sanctions need not be limited to one league in eight years...

RE-INSTALEMENTS UP

The question of re-instatement took up the greater part of the meeting, according to Mr. Stirling. Expressions of sympathy for those athletes who had been placed outside the pale since 1920 were heard on all sides...

SECESSION MATTER KILLED

Short work was made of the secession talk when a resolution sponsored by the Halifax Crescents was killed in committee. The matter, therefore, was not discussed in the open.

WANTED BOLTON

Some of the Moncton delegates wanted G. P. Bolton, of Sussex, to run for the presidency but he declined, and "Sammy" Doyle was returned without opposition.

Large Crowd Watches Newfoundland Regatta

SAINT JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 6.—The annual regatta postponed yesterday after two races had been run off, owing to a high wind, was held this afternoon. Conditions were ideal from start to finish, and the dense crowd that lined the shores of Quidi Vidi Lake, even exceeded that of yesterday.

SCRAPS and arguments regarding the amateur union in the Maritime Provinces are of such frequent occurrence that one is apt to lose sight of some of the real good this union is accomplishing...

A NEW name was carved on to the classic cup that commemorates the winners of the Canadian senior singles sculling championships last Saturday when Walter Hoover, Philadelphia, easily defeated Johnny Duran in the final.

THE coming championship tilt between the Water Department and St. Rose's for the City League title has the local baseball following on edge after a season in which fairly good ball has been served up.

How To Swim

By LILLIAN CANNON

FIRST TWO POSITIONS OF BACK STROKE

FROM the breast stroke one graduates very early to the back stroke, which is invaluable for resting.

While in deep water, push forward so that one goes over backward. The first position is with hands extended along the side.

Second, the hands are brought together over the body, touching the body all the time, and upward as high as is natural.

Third, the forearms are brought over and outward to the stretch of the arm, and in the water with palms at right angles to the surface.

Fourth, the arms are swept downward to the first position, beside the hips, and the movement is started all over again.

Bicyclist, Seeking Health, Reaches N. B. After 27,000 Mile Tour About Continent

EDMUNDSTON, Aug. 7.—Tanned by the sun of half a hundred different climes, and bearing greetings from governors, mayors and even from the White House,

"Happy Sam," 21-year-old bicycle tourist, is now in Edmundston, on his way to the old country, where he intends to travel across Europe in search of adventure.

Condemed to die at the age of 18 years from tuberculosis, "Happy" desires to race the grim reaper, and to date is some four years ahead in the marathon; having been pronounced O. K. in Chicago.

"Happy" has covered 37 states in the Union, parts of Mexico, Cuba and Canada.

He left Montreal five days ago, and on Wednesday made the trip by bicycle from Riviere du Loup to Edmundston, a distance of 90 miles, arriving here early in the evening.

IS FIRST GIRL TO ACCOMPLISH DIFFICULT FEAT

Record Time Is Made With Bad Conditions Prevailing

DOVER, England, Aug. 7.—When Miss Ederle was put to bed in a hotel here after her record-breaking swim, last night, orders were given that she be not disturbed until this afternoon. It is expected that after her rest she will return to France some time today.

The last few hundred yards of Miss Ederle's swim was accomplished in sight of thousands of people who thronged the beaches and gathered material to build a huge bonfire to guide her. She left Cap Gris Nez at 2:09 Friday and landed near Dover at 2:50 o'clock that night.

Then she touched bottom at Kingsdown, between Dover and Deal, and walked happily ashore, under the glare of huge bonfires built along the beach to guide her toward the chalk cliffs, and with large crowds of spectators acclaiming her.

She had brought ashore with her, a new record of 14 hours, 31 minutes for the swim, and was pleased with her achievement.

"I am a proud woman," she declared. This was all she said.

Notwithstanding the long time she had been in the water, Miss Ederle required no assistance when she landed.

COATED WITH GREASE When she took to the water early Friday morning, her body was thickly covered with grease, so that she might be able to withstand the chill of the water.

She started off with her easy, long-swinging crawl which won her four world records. Her arms rose and fell rhythmically at 28 to 30 strokes to the minute, as she cut through the water.

IN BAD CONDITIONS The latter part of the swim was accomplished in bad conditions, a stiff breeze churning up heavy seas and there was a slight rain.

WOMEN TRAVEL UNDER THIRTY FALSE NAMES

Pair, Arrested, Said to Have Obtained Large Sums of Money by Fraud

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Charged under the names of Mrs. Mary Ellen McCormick and Miss Dorothy Cynthia McCormick, two women recently appeared before the magistrate on a charge of making false statements and representations to an alien's officer. At the first hearing they pleaded not guilty, but acting on advice, they changed their plea and were duly convicted.

THIRTY ALIASES

Inspector Read read out a string of about 30 names, under which the women passed. He mentioned, too, an occasion when they were apprehended at a railway station, while on the way to Halifax, by the station master there, at the request of the police.

They managed to give satisfactory explanations, but changed trains and went towards Blackpool, leaving the train en route and taking a cab to Glasgow.

It is possible that, at the conclusion of their term of imprisonment, they will be handed over to the Scottish police. So extensive did their fraudulent activities become on the Continent in 1924 that a circular letter to foreign consuls all over the world was sent out giving full descriptions of the women and asking the police of each country whether or not they could be identified.

They stated that they were born in Canada, that they were the wife and daughter respectively of William McCormick, president of the International Harvester Co. of Canada.

SPECULATORS GET RICH BY DRY LAW

Purchase Land on Outskirts of New Australian Capital, Which Will be Dry

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Canberra, the new federal capital of Australia, has already made fortunes for many investors who have taken advantage of the prohibition law which will govern the city.

It was decided, when the 900 square miles of the Canberra area were set aside, that no drink should either be sold or consumed within the boundaries of that area. The site chosen for the city of Canberra was not, however, in the centre of the area, but four and a half miles from the boundary of New South Wales, where drink can both be purchased and consumed.

The town of Queanbeyan, where there is a racecourse, stands just inside New South Wales across the border. It is on the direct and shortest traffic route from the city of Canberra, out of the area of Canberra, to the hotel, restaurant, and entertainment possibilities brought the land gamblers down on the town in a wild rush.

Freehold, corner sites, and any sites in Queanbeyan jumped in value. Some of the speculators have already cashed in their option cheques and have turned their bank balances over several times.

Others are still holding on to their land, but already there are signs of the harvest they can expect to reap, as many of the workmen employed in building the new city are now living at Queanbeyan.

MAKE WEARER LOOK LIKE POWDER PUFF

Ostrich Feathers For Skirts and Evening Gowns in Paris More Profuse

PARIS, Aug. 6.—A turned-around dress for afternoon wear has backed into Paris. The waist is high in front with a deep transparent flesh-colored yoke nearly to the waistline at the back. Also the mode is tightened today, with skirts tight and short, sleeves tight and long.

This is according to the premiere exhibition of fall and winter fashions by Jenny. The only relief is little puffs inserted in the sleeves at the elbow, for elbow room. There are few short packets of imitation Astrakhan, edged on all borders with fur and fastened at the throat, to hang loose about a wide belt and tight skirt, a la Kiki.

Ostrich feathers for skirts and evening gowns are growing more and more profuse, until the wearer resembles a dull in powder puff, stepped off the dressing table to join the ranks.

The collection of Madeleine and Madeleine was inspired by the Chinese. Collars are high and buttoned in front, with waists cut like tunic blouses, belted to form a short, full over-skirt over a tight skirt. Deep fringes of silk beads and tinsel form double flounces on many skirts. Black and white ensembles are popular. A black velvet coat with mink collar and cuffs, lined with quilted white velvet, with a gown of white velvet and over black velvet skirt, was one costume.

"7 SINNERS"

An Ingenious Crook Story "Seven Sinners" provides an exciting contest among nimble minded crooks. It is a story rich in ingeniously devised surprises and rare in the characterizations presented.

And to temper this fast-moving tale of colorful lawbreakers, and those who finally catch them, there is a "love-at-first-sight" romance of unmistakable appeal.

It is a story of seven daring sinners who invade a mansion on Long Island. One poses as the owner of the house, others impersonate guests and servants, while the remainder gain entrance through devious cunning—but all come with the purpose of looting the safe.

A queer trick of chance makes them all prisoners in the house, each striving to outwit the other six in a tantalizing, rushing avalanche of excitement.

IN THIS MONTH'S ISSUE OF THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL the leading article is entitled "The Great Douglas Fairbanks." It goes on to say:

When Douglas Fairbanks showed the first of his series of romantic costume films the screen world instantly began to accord him a position near to leadership. Other men were doing as well on points. For instance, on points there has been no more beautiful, finished or acceptable photoplay than Monsieur Beaucaire. Booth Tarkington's masterpiece of dialogue interpreted by Rudolph Valentino. But there is no leadership in Rudolph. There is no leadership in Charlie Chaplin, no particular sense of being a public citizen after the fashion we will say, of Roosevelt in his boyish days. But Fairbanks really sees himself a citizen. Like Roosevelt, he puts on all the costume they will let him wear. And he is boy enough to want to be a boy's hero forever.

Douglas Fairbanks had been starring in motion pictures for some time in modern, modish garments. He defied the proverb that still exists in many magazines and motion-picture houses that heroes are only welcome in the latest cut of ready-made clothes. He began to decorate himself and defy the petty world around him. He produced "The Mark of Zorro," "The Three Musketeers," "Robin Hood," "The Thief of Bagdad," "Don Q, Son of Zorro," and has now recently given the world "The Black Pirate."

Don Q, Son of Zorro and The Mark of Zorro were twin films produced at different times, but with the same opportunity to use the broad highways for the stage.

SUNDAY IS 89TH ANNIVERSARY OF DISASTER HERE

Bridge Across River at Strait Shore Fell; 7 Killed

SEVEN OTHERS WERE INJURED IN CRASH

Council in Session for Proclaiming Victoria When Tragedy Occurred

Tomorrow will be the 89th anniversary of the fall of the bridge being built from Portland to Carleton, at the Strait Shore, in which disaster seven men lost their lives and seven others were injured. The following account is from the records of the late Rev. Dr. W. O. Raymond, in the local office of the Dominion Archives, Princess street:

"On Tuesday, the 8th of August, 1887, about 9 o'clock in the morning, the scaffolding erected for the purpose of carrying over the bridge from Portland to Carleton, together with the iron chains on which the same rested, and a great body of materials, fell with a most tremendous crash into the River Saint John. About 80 of the workmen were on various parts of it at the time, of whom, including the engineer and three superintendents, were fortunate enough to be on either part of the work which stood, or retreated thereto on the first alarm of danger. The remaining number were precipitated with the mass of timber, chains and materials into the water below. Seven were either killed or drowned and the remainder more or less seriously injured. The following is a list of the sufferers: 'Dead—Michael Watts, of Portland; George Buckley, Daniel Leahy, David Malley, Carleton; Henry Lord, Carleton; John Farris, a native of England, and John Maberry.

"Injured—William McLintyre, dangerously, both legs broken and otherwise seriously injured; Denis Morrison, severely, the broken leg; James Buckley (son of the deceased George Buckley), shoulder broken and otherwise injured; Job Farris, seriously; John Robert McLintyre, William Cummins and Robert McFarlane, slightly hurt.

NEARING COMPLETION.
"The unfortunate bridge was intended to span the harbor from the 'Short Ferry' to Carleton, and was well nigh completed when the end came. The bridge was a chain structure, and the cause assigned for the falling was the snapping of one of the chains. The crash of the bridge was heard throughout the entire city, and on the moment people were started and alarmed, not knowing the cause, but conjecturing an earthquake or another mighty commotion.

"About the hour at which the accident occurred, the Common Council of the City of Saint John had assembled to make arrangements for proclaiming Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, that day having been officially appointed for that purpose. Before they arose from their seats they were informed of the occurrence and requested to appoint some place for the reception of the dead and wounded.

"This was promptly attended to and while the unfortunate sufferers were being conveyed to the place appointed, attended by medical men, minutes were commenced for the commemorative to the death of His Late Majesty, William the Fourth, and colors on the 80th anniversary of the death of the late monarch were flying at the time, and His Honor Judge Parker, who presided, very properly adjourned it.

"At 2 o'clock, agreeable to the arrangements made by the Common Council, that body, together with the chief justices and members of the court and assembly, magistrates, sheriff and coroner, members of the bar, military and a large concourse of the inhabitants, assembled at the Court House and its vicinity, where the Proclamation of Her Majesty's accession was read by the herald appointed for the purpose. It was agreed that the day should be observed in Kings, Queens and the Market Squares, on both sides of the harbor and in the Parish of Portland."

HAYING WEATHER AFFECTS MARKET
Vegetable Supply Not so Large—Prices This Morning in Various Lines

While there was a good supply of vegetables in the city market this morning it was not so large as usual, owing to the fine haying weather, the farmers preferring to keep at their haying.

There was a good assortment of fruits, with the supply of strawberries falling off. These berries were quoted at 20 to 25 cents a box; raspberries, 25 to 30 cents; blueberries, 20 to 25 cents; red currants, 15 cents a box; cherries 15 to 20 cents a box; rhubarb, 8 cents a pound. Native cucumbers were 10 cents each. Native celery was 10 cents a head, or three for 25 cents, and cabbage was cheaper this week at 8 to 10 cents for large heads. New potatoes were plentiful at three cents a pound and beans and peas at six cents.

SEE THE FALLS
At high tide the water of the Bay of Fundy reaches a higher level than the water of the Saint John River and forces its way through the gorge of the Falls, creating a "Falls" running up river.

At low tide the water in the Bay comes so much lower than the water of the Saint John River that the fall of water is the river, that the fall of water is the river, that the fall of water is the river.

At half tide, when the level in the Bay and River are about equal, the water at the Falls becomes smooth as the surface of a lake.

To fully appreciate this wonder of the world it should be seen at all three stages.
