GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

ZEEBRUGGE FIGHT IN REAL MOVIES

To be Shown Here this Week with Accompanying Lecture by British Naval Participant.

On Friday and Saturday of this week, when it is assumed most children will be home from school vacation and adults will be frothing around the family table—Imperial Theatre will bring forward an attraction held sometime in Sheldy official British Admiralty's moving pictures of the bombardment of Zeebrugge and Ostend, the Grand Fleet participating in the Battle of Jutland and other exclusive movies of our great navy at the height of the war. This is no ordinary attraction and its screening at the Imperial in addition to the regular show will prove the most inspiring educational character as well as tingling entertainment. Lead, Edwin Smith, M. A., F. R. A. S., R. N. V. R., will lecture the pictures throughout and as he commands one of the smaller fighting craft during the war in the North Sea, participating in the Zeebrugge affair, his talk will prove of intense interest.

MAIL ORDER RUSH FOR COMING CONCERT

Mail orders for the coming concert of the Boston Symphony Orchestra have been pouring into Imperial theatre since Monday in sufficient volume to ensure a splendid audience for the evening of Sept. 11. The pure novelty of such an entertainment in a wilderness of screen shows and music in lighter vein is adding a special interest to the concert of the Bostonians that assures its success. To have come to St. John for the leading players of the big Boston Symphony Orchestra—and an ensemble of all the sections of that immense band of instrumentalists—is a musical event of considerable note hereabouts and the first visiting orchestra concert St. John will have enjoyed since the days of W. F. Chapman and his Festivals. The programme arranged by Signor Vannini is composite in character being half symphonic and half of the popular classics to which will be added a wealth of choruses gems. The mail orders will continue until Sept. 7 when the box office sale will commence. The price scale ranges from 75c (rush) for the rear balcony to $1.50 for the orchestra floor and $2.00 for boxes.

McCAVOUR TO GO AFTER HESS

It was definitely decided this morning to send Grenville McCavour to Worcester, Mass., on next Saturday night to track Hess, who is believed to be in that place, on Labor Day. The only thing which might cause a hitch in the plans is with regards to the state of the weather. If it rains in Boston on Sunday and it is thought that some difficulty might be experienced getting it out of town, the plan will be to accompany him by his father, Young McCavour, who is the pride of considerable canoeists in this city, and is working out in a new shell.

SHELTERED IN JAIL

Robert Crawford, provincial constable, returned last night from Gagetown, where he was attending a hearing of the case against two men charged with doing damage to property at Spoon Island. He said that there were twelve witnesses present in connection with the case and he and some of the witnesses were unable to obtain lodging in the village and had to spend a night in the county jail.

MASQUERADE DANCE

The Ketepe-Morna club held an enjoyable masquerade dance last evening. Two of the most original and best costumes representing "our forests," and made entirely out of birch bark, were those of the Misses Johnson of Acagtown, who were awarded prizes. The gentlemen's single prize was won by Malcolm MacGowan, who represented an Indian chief. The elimination prize was won by J. Flowers.

DISPLAY OF TROPHIES

A display of interest to all dog lovers is being shown in the window of George Creery's store in Charlotte street. It consists of a collection of trophies won by local men here and in Upper Canada and in the United States and includes about twenty trophies. The trophies are divided into three groups, the cups won by Bog Lasky with Irish setters and dog terriers, those won by Gerald McCarthy with the English setters and those won by Kettle Wilson with pointers.

C. P. R. MEETING

At a district meeting of C. P. R. officials and employees yesterday in the Board of Trade rooms, Fredericton, D. W. Newcomb was elected permanent chairman. Papers were read by members of various departments. General discussions followed along the lines of putting forth efforts to further the company's interests by co-operation of the departments, and points of interest, safety and also in the cotton factories in Marysville.

TUG AFIRE

The tug Eldred was quite badly damaged by fire about midnight last night. The fire broke out in the engine room of the tug and spread to the lower part of the boat by Captain Coy. W. Newcomb. An alarm was sounded in from box 122 and in the meantime the burning tug was allowed to drift away from other craft moored close by. The fire was extinguished when men took turns at the pump as the tug was slowly sinking. Capt. Albert P. Newcomb, the tug James Holly and John Mylle did good work in getting the tug Joseph, Martello, Holly and the Flushing out of the danger zone.

SUMMER HOUSE AT LANDING BURNED

The summer house of George Scott, 35 Elm street, about a mile above Public Landing, was burned to the ground early this morning. The wharves and outbuildings and the occupants had a narrow escape from injury or death. The damage was practically covered by insurance. The fire apparently started about one o'clock this morning after the family had gone to bed and they barely escaped from the building in time, having to leave only partly clothed. In the house were Mrs. Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Burke and child, who were visiting her. They went to the nearest neighbor's house and were sheltered for the night. The house, barn and other outbuildings were a total loss, being burned to the ground, and those in the house considered that they were lucky to escape with their lives.

PA HIGH FOR TIMBER LIMITS

(Special to Times.) Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 30.—The liveliest bidding in a long time took place at the crown land office this morning when two timber berths on Three Tree Creek, Sunbury county, were sold. The successful bidders paid $150 a square mile, one of the highest prices on record.

The details are: Lot No. 12, two square miles, Three Tree Creek, Sunbury county, E. C. Atkinson, applicant, upset price $20 a square mile, bought by Claude MacDonald and Gordon A. Grant for $150 a square mile. Lot No. 13—Two square miles on Ed River, above Benton, bought by applicant, Guy Murchie, at upset price $20. Lot No. 14—Two square miles, Three Tree Creek and Shaw's Creek, Sunbury county, E. C. Atkinson applicant, upset price $20, bought by Claude MacDonald and Gordon A. Grant for $150 a square mile.

Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, this morning was notified of heavy damage to roads and bridges in the parish of Alma, Albert county. Reports from Madawaska are that rain there was not heavy and no damage was done to roads and bridges. In general the damage is confined to the south and south eastern counties. Small wooden culverts and bridges have suffered heavily.

HYDRO CONTRACT DISCUSSED TODAY

(I shall report promptly) Dr. Baxter said that usually when a contract was being prepared, the requirement by both parties was blotted out in the rough and their solicitors would then get together and give the ideas expression. He said he did not know what the date on which the commission's draft of contract. He said he did not make this observation in a spirit of criticism.

Dr. Baxter said that the city was faced with the task of either taking over the power company system or building a system of its own. He took clause 3b as meaning that the first monthly account due by the city would be due on the 15th day of the month following the date specified on a notice given to the city at least thirty days previously thereto as the date on which the commission was ready to deliver regardless of whether the city was ready to distribute or not.

The mayor said that Moncton was given an opportunity to decide whether they would erect a system of their own or use a system already in existence. He thought that St. John should receive the same consideration. Referring to the clause by which the commission is relieved from supplying the city receiving the energy in event of a strike, lock-out or any other explosion, act of God or the king's enemies, etc., the solicitor said that he thought a shortage of water or a dam or explosion of some other kind might have been prevented, could not be termed an "act of God" and therefore the commission should be held responsible and the city relieved.

Commissioner Wigmore asked if there was anything in the contract which would prevent the commission from entering into a contract with any other corporation or person. Dr. Baxter said that East St. John and the Parish of Lancaster were interested in this project and he thought it would be better if the City of St. John took over the distribution in the "zone" now served by the N. B. Power Company. He thought it would be more expensive if the small communities handled their own power. Furthermore, as the act empowered the commission to contract with municipalities, parishes not being municipalities, he thought, he thought, deal with the commission separately.

Regarding the pulp mill, the mayor said that the Nashwaak Pulp and Paper Company had offered the N. B. Power Company a contract for 1,000 horse power. The city solicitor said that it was still a question as to whether it would not be better for the contract to be drawn up between the commission and the City and County of St. John; or the city might contract with the municipality of the city and county to supply to East St. John and Lancaster.

Clause 12 limited the city to distribution to bona fide users and did not allow the city to deliver to any person, firm or corporation for distribution at a profit. In a section of the contract with Moncton, the mayor said if the supply was not sufficient for all customers, priority would be given to those who signed contracts first.

There was nothing in the contract, he said, by which the city could cancel the contract in the event of a failure to supply. The solicitor said that the first thing for the council to do was to make up its mind about its policy and then the city solicitor meet with the solicitor of the power commission and draw up a contract in accordance with that policy. It would be useless for him to meet the commission's solicitor until the city had decided what it would do as to distribution and when payments for the energy would commence. He assumed that a conference with the commission would result in many of his objections to the proposed contract being straightened out. On the suggestion of the mayor, it was decided to take up the matter of policy on Friday at 2:30 p. m.

Commissioner Finlay said that in May the council decided to appoint a civic commission and to build a distribution system. If a question of policy was to be considered, he asked, was it not necessary to have these minutes expunged from the council records? The mayor said that matter might be submitted to the solicitor for ruling. This was agreed to.

CREARY OPENS
ON FRIDAY

Says He Has Attained His Life Ambition to Have Big
Shop on King Street.

George Creary returns from Montreal this morning, where he has been engaged for a week in rushing forward the work of completion in the various factories of his new fall and winter clothing and furnishings.

"I want to have everything here for my re-opening this week-end," said Mr. Creary. "Our new store in Macaulay's block in King street will be ready for opening on Friday morning, just a few days after the day planned when I gave up possession of my old store in Charlotte street."

"I am branching out in a larger way, and will have a complete stock of men's haberdashery and furnishings to supplement the high-class trade so long enjoyed in this city by Semi-ready tailoring."

"Mine will be a store where men may feel free to drop in at any hour or at any time just for information about clothes. I have a new booklet on 'The Right Thing to Wear at the Right Time' which tells 'what to wear and when.' And this will be worth while coming."

"To the first hundred men who call and see me I will present a Luck penny which says 'Keep me and never go broke.' I think all my customers are lucky."

"During the bright and cheerful years which I have spent in business in my native city I have always had the ambition to have a store absolutely my own on the historic business street. It has been my life's ambition to see the name 'Creary' hanging over the most central location in town, and on Friday I will put on my best bib and tucker and wear the smile that won't come off."

"At the Semi-ready shops in Montreal I am promised for my opening day some of the finest products of digital skill in men's suits and overcoats. The Chief Designer says that it is long years since he has been able to present such splendid values in fine English and Scotch wools. I will have suits at $25 that are all pure wool, and my in-between top coats are smart and swager."

"From hats to hosiery I will have the best that the better factories make—including shirts, underwear, caps and cravats. And every maker is so proud of his product that he puts his name on each article. Which means that he will seek it up for quality and service, as I do," concluded Mr. Creary.

FREDERICTON
VS. ST. STEPHEN

Keen Baseball Contest on St. Peter's Diamond This Evening.

Fredricton vs. St. Stephen will be the big attraction on St. Peter's Park this evening, and it should be one of the best events of the season. There has been so much speculation as to the relative strength and playing ability of these two teams, and as it is known that there is keen rivalry between them, fans are eagerly awaiting the match. There is no doubt that both clubs will have a large following; hundreds of fans have already signified their intention of backing the fast border town nine, while others are equally confident that Fredricton will win. Probably no game played here this season has caused so much speculation as to the outcome, and a record crowd is expected to be in attendance.

St. Stephen will have Shields or Paul on the mound, and Fredricton will work Smith or Blanchard. The game will be started between 6.30 and 6.45, and it is expected that nine innings will be played. With the grounds now in better condition, a stellar brand of ball should be played, and the game should attract a record crowd of fans.

BOY FRIENDS OF OAK HALL RECEIVE FREE EXHIBITION PASSES
Oak Hall has conducted many contests for the boys, and has a great many friends among the boys of the city. The firm are desirous of making the friendship of every boy in the city and province, but know it can only be done through real service. Now that the Exhibition is coming soon, it will be an education for every boy to visit the fair often, and look carefully over the wonderful exhibits that will be shown.

To every boy who visits the fair in an Oak Hall Suit a book of tickets will be given free. Oak Hall are specializing this year on School Suits with two pairs of Pants, also Armour Clad Suits, which have no equal for school wear. The prices are much lower than usual, and this offer affords an excellent opportunity to outfit the boy for school and exhibition at the one time.

NEWS NOTES ABOUT PROMINENT BAPTISTS
Among vacation preachers in the St. John pulpits we have noticed Rev. F. O. Erb, Ph.D., who has preached for several of the city churches; Rev. George B. MacDonald, who supplied at Central church on August 20; Rev. E. H. Cochran, who also supplied the Central church pulpit one Sunday; and Rev. Walter S. Schurman of Oldtown, Me., who supplied at Ludlow street church on August 20.

Rev. P. C. Reed, until recently director of religious education for Saskatchewan, has assumed the pastorate of the Baptist church at Port Arthur, Ont., as successor to Rev. Harry B. Nobles, who becomes pastor at Regina, Sask.

The editor was sorry to miss a call recently from Rev. I. W. Corey of Kenosha, Wisconsin. Mr. Corey was pastor at Fairville, N. B., some years since. Nearly all of his ministry has been given to the State of Wisconsin, where he has made good.

Among recent callers at our office were Rev. W. L. Archibald, principal of Acadia University, and Prof. H. G. Perry of Acadia University. Both were on the lookout for students for the schools at Wolfville. Professor Perry has been teaching at the Summer School in Truro for some weeks.

BRITISH BUSINESS IS IMPROVING SLOWLY
Major G. B. Johnson of Intelligence Branch, Returns Home.

Major G. B. Johnson of the Canadian Intelligence Branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce, a very recent arrival from Liverpool, says that general business conditions in the British Isles were improving slowly. Unemployment figures show a slight decrease. All classes of industries are going ahead with the exception of shipbuilding, which has to wait till trade conditions show a greater improvement.

Major Johnston also said that the British business men were very anxious over the state of affairs in Germany, and that Europe's condition rested largely on Germany paying the indemnities.

Major Johnston also stated that there was no labor unrest to speak of, and on the whole the situation in the old country was slowly improving.

Macroner's jury in the death of the death of Flora Gray, eighteen, brought in a verdict that she had come to her death as a result of burns caused by gasoline or some other inflammable substance spread on the floor of her bedroom. The jury concluded that Omar Roberts, the man for whom she was working, was responsible. The death occurred yesterday afternoon at North Kemptville, near Yorkmouth, at the home of Omar Roberts where the dead girl was housekeeper.

Romeo Cyr, eighteen of Carleton, Que., was almost instantly killed at Campbellton yesterday afternoon when part of a large pile of ashes, into which he was digging, fell on him. He lived for only a few minutes after the accident.

A delivery horse belonging to Walter R. Small of Sussex, was drowned when he slipped into the stream near that town. The driver had left the horse and wagon for a few minutes and the horse had crossed to the stream to get a drink. The strong current carried him down stream.

Loss of between $15,000 and $20,000 was occasioned last night by fire which destroyed a large part of the stock of the general furnishings store belonging to G. T. O'Brien at Chatham. Part of the loss was covered by insurance.

Preliminary hearing was begun in Gagetown yesterday in the case of Frederick and John Thompson, charged with wilfully destroying property at the quarry of B. Mooney & Sons, Spoon Island. Several witnesses were heard and the case was postponed until September 9. The two men are out on bail.

BRITISH BUSINESS IS IMPROVING SLOWLY
Major G. B. Johnson of Intelligence Branch, Returns Home.

Major G. B. Johnson of the Canadian Intelligence Branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce, a very recent arrival from Liverpool, says that general business conditions in the British Isles were improving slowly. Unemployment figures show a slight decrease. All classes of industries are going ahead with the exception of shipbuilding, which has to wait till trade conditions show a greater improvement.

Major Johnston also said that the British business men were very anxious over the state of affairs in Germany, and that Europe's condition rested largely on Germany paying the indemnities.

Major Johnston also stated that there was no labor unrest to speak of, and on the whole the situation in the old country was slowly improving.

SWINDLERS SECURE
$2,040 FROM WOMAN

Alleged Mining Promoters in Toronto Work Fraud with Box of "Ore."

Toronto, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Jacob Richmond of Dovercourt road, Toronto, was swindled out of $2,400 on Saturday by strangers, who called at her home and represented themselves as mining men. They showed her a box of ore, which they told her was almost pure gold, and the mine, they declared, would make the promoters fabulously wealthy. Mrs. Richmond was interested and drew a check for $2,400, all she had in the bank, to purchase an interest in the mine. She did this on the understanding that the box of ore, said to be worth $5,000, would be left in her possession. After the strangers departed she opened the box and found it contained about twenty-five cents' worth of brass lumps. Mrs. Richmond hurriedly notified the bank, but the check had already been cashed.

FIXES THE DATE AGAIN.

Miss Baker Says She Will Marry McCormack in London This Month.

London, Aug. 30.—Miss Mary Landon Baker of Chicago was quoted by The Evening News as saying that she would go to the altar with Alister McCormack at last, "some time before the end of the month and somewhere in London."

The repeated postponement of their marriage has caused considerable comment during recent months.

The movements and plans of Miss Baker have attracted great attention. European correspondents have been pursuing her and her fiancé, but they have used every measure of strategy to avoid newspapermen.

Miss Baker is staying with friends near Galashiels, Scotland, where The Evening News says it is located by long-distance telephone. That paper prints a dialogue which it says took place between the bride and groom, ending with the correspondent's "We hope you'll be very happy, Miss Baker," and her reply, "Thank you, I think I shall be happy."

INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL COURT IS APPROVED

Proposal That No Nation Be Excluded From League Referred to Committee.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 30.—A Permanent International Criminal Court, to have jurisdiction in all cases involving crimes or offenses that could cause war, as favored by the International Law Commission, was approved yesterday by a vote of thirty-one to twenty-two in a proposal for such a court advanced by Hugh H. L. Bellot, head of the British delegation.

EAST ST. JOHN AFFAIRS.

To the Editor of the Times-Star:—Sir:—In your issue of Tuesday, 29th, a local paragraph appeared referring to the need of sewerage and water supply at East St. John (a fact that we all recognize), and a suggestion from James A. Sheehan that the East St. John Community Club should call a public meeting to discuss the answer received from our city fathers in connection with the question of amalgamation as presented to them by a committee appointed at a meeting of the rate payers. Perhaps the hydro and other important questions, such as paving streets, building retaining walls, etc., which in their estimation, no doubt, are of more importance than the matter being discussed, apparently, taken up all of the spare time at their disposal. Or, perhaps, they think it would be time wasted to discuss the proposition. I am surprised that James A. Sheehan should find it necessary to call the attention of the Community Club to this matter through the medium of the press. He, like some other residents of East St. John, who have never identified themselves with the club, but would like to have them sponsor everything they think should be done. He has had opportunities to associate with them and take part in all the activities of the club. He would also learn why no public meeting had been called and also would save himself the trouble and worry of an interview by a representative of the press. The fee is only one dollar per year, and by sending in his name and fee, as all ratepayers should do who are anxious to see East St. John forge ahead, would have full opportunity to learn all about the sewerage and other questions affecting this district.

Yours truly,
RICHARD G. MAGEE,
President East St. John Community Club.

BIG NEW HOSPITAL
FOR MISSISSIPPI

It Will Accommodate 960
Tubercular Patients and
Cost $1,200,000.

Magee, Miss., Aug. 30.—The State of Mississippi will have ready for formal opening here on January 1, 1933, according to present plans, one of the most modern and commodious sanitariums for tubercular patients in the United States. It will have a capacity of 960 patients, and the buildings and equipment will represent an expenditure of something like $1,200,000. The work was begun in 1918 and some of the buildings are already in use. The entire plant, however, will not be finished for some time. Accommodations will be provided for both white and colored patients. The principal buildings are the white infirmary, the service building, and nurses' home, power house, and laundry, negro infirmary and administration building, and provision is made for offices of the field service and extension department. A farm of 338 acres will be operated.

G. HICKS REMAINED IN MARSHALL CASE

George Hicks, who was arrested by Detective John Saunders on a charge of shooting Thomas Marshall in the Hickey road in the evening of Tuesday, Aug. 23, appeared before Police Magistrate Ritchie in the police court yesterday afternoon and after the charge of shooting with intent to kill had been read over to him, he was remanded to jail. Marshall is still in the hospital, but his condition gives every assurance that he will recover. Marshall's information was taken while in the hospital and the charge against Hicks was made out on this information. So soon as the wounded man recovers sufficiently, Hicks will be brought before Magistrate Ritchie for the preliminary hearing.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 30, 1922

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 30, 1922.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act. Telephone—Private exchange connecting all departments, Main 2417. Subscription Prices—Delivered by carrier, $4.00 per year by mail, $3.00 per year in Canada. #### THE WATERED STOCK APPEAL.

The people of St. John are not responsible for the watering of the stock of the New Brunswick Power Company. They did all in their power to prevent it. If they had received the support their cause merited from the people of the rest of the province and their representatives in the legislature the watering process would have been prevented. Now that the people of St. John are in a position to get light and power at cost, and escape from an exorbitant levy to pay dividends on watered stock, some of the holdouts are betraying excitement over the situation. Their contention appears to be that the citizens should refuse to accept power at cost and go on providing dividends on watered stock. Would the critics do it themselves under similar circumstances? Not at all. They would invest in a conference on rates, and venture subject to the conditions of business from time to time and that of the purchase of some watered stock carries with it no divine right to levy perpetual tribute upon the people. The charge that anybody in St. John desires to destroy the New Brunswick Power Company is utterly false. What the citizens really feel in regard to the matter is that if the company chooses to destroy itself they are not called upon to prevent the act by becoming the victims of its rapacity. There is a good deal of talk about taking over the company's whole plant at a fair valuation. Has the company suggested a fair valuation? It has given us the Bodell offer. It has also asked for a conference on rates, and an agreement under which it would retain a complete monopoly. To abuse the people of St. John because they turn down both these propositions is to hold the view that they exist for the purpose of being victimized. There is not a sane community in Canada that would turn down the opportunity to get light and power at cost. St. John is simply applying sound business principles.

"A FAIR VALUATION"

Mr. W. F. Burdett says—"I think the city will pursue a wise course in securing as quickly as possible control of the Musquash power to the extent of its requirements, present and prospective, so far as that power may be available." He says also—"I am in favor of municipal ownership of public utilities." Mr. Burdett believes, however, that services (as the street railway) could be more satisfactorily operated by a private corporation under lease from the city. He has particularly in mind the street railway, for with regard to light and power he says—"The only way to eliminate all profit is for the city to place itself in a position to supply light and power independently of any private corporation." He does not favor duplication of the power company's distribution system, however, but would acquire the power company plant "at a fair valuation." What that valuation would be he does not say, but adds—"I think the city council took the proper course in turning down the offer of Messrs. Bodell and Sanderson without consideration." The only way the city will ever get an offer of the company's plant at "a fair valuation" is to go ahead with its own distribution system. As long as it delays action, just so long will the power company remain master of the field.

BENEFICENT WORK.

It is interesting to note that the Rockefeller Foundation, which will finance the medical inspection of schools in this province for two years has lately decided to do an important work for control of disease in the far off Philippines. A Manila letter says: "Bringing the college of medicine and surgery of the University of the Philippines up to the recognized standard of class 'A' colleges in the United States, by revision of the college curriculum, and the establishment of a central nursing school that will double the number of trained nurses graduated annually in the Philippines are two of the important measures regarding public health and the control of disease that have come about from the work of Dr. Victor G. Heiser, Far Eastern representative of the Rockefeller Foundation, since his arrival here three months ago. The International Health Board has furnished the services of Dr. Charles N. Leach to the Philippines government for health work, of Dr. W. S. Carter as assistant dean of the College of Medicine and Surgery and professor of physiology, of Miss Alice Fitzgerald as consultant in nursing, and of Dr. W. F. Fiedeman as sanitary engineer in charge of field studies in malaria which have been undertaken in the province of Laguna." The Rockefeller Foundation is doing a noble and far-reaching work, not only in specific effort for the eradication of certain dangerous diseases but in giving encouragement to state agencies to provide for the health of the people. The funds at its disposal are administered with but one purpose, the welfare of humanity; and it is a great inspiration as well as a very present help in time of need.

DRURY AND MORRISON.

The United Farmers of Ontario refuse to become unduly excited over the "broadening out" policy of Premier Drury, or the difference of opinion between him and Mr. Morrison, who opposes that policy. At a meeting in Woodstock last week, Mr. W. C. Good, the former member of parliament for North Brant, counselled the farmers to remain cool, study the question, and make up their minds slowly. He said: "Mr. Drury has made a proposition which is perfectly intelligible for the organization of a Progressive party out of the Farmers' movement in order to consolidate forces that agreed in matters of public policy. Mr. Drury's problem is to secure the help of the people and the country people. The real controversy is over the method of putting the platform into effect. The facts to consider are: Will it have a stabilizing or disintegrating effect on the U. F. O.? We must make up our minds as to whether it is going to help us—how far will it interfere with the political solidarity of the farmers?" Another speaker said that "too much fuss" was being made about Premier Drury's policy, and still another declared he believed the alleged split between Drury and Morrison was "nothing more than newspaper talk." Of course, there is more than newspaper talk, but in all probability the broadening out policy will find more supporters than opponents if it comes to a genuine showdown in Ontario.

IMMIGRATION.

In the four months ending July 31 immigration to Canada fell off 34 per cent, compared with the like period last year. The arrivals totalled only 32,846. It is satisfactory to note that this number 16,000 came from the United Kingdom and 10,449 from the United States, since these are the most desirable immigrants. It is obvious, however, that something must be done to get more settlers than are now coming, since the great need of Canada is a larger population. The west is especially in need of immigrants, and it wishes to impose two conditions, which are thus stated: "One of these conditions is that they must be people, regardless of the country from which they emigrate, who will go on to the land and become producers. The other condition is that wherever they come from they must not be brought to Canada and settled in colonies." The west has had some unpleasant experiences with colonies of foreigners and does not want any more, and there is general sympathy with its point of view so far as that class of newcomers is concerned. Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of immigration and the interior, has returned to Ottawa after a visit to the west, and the Ottawa Journal says: "While in the west the minister was taking up with the provincial governments the matter of co-operation between themselves and the Federal department in the bringing of immigrants to Canada and distributing them on the land where they are most needed to become producers. The views set forth by the western governments will be placed by Hon. Mr. Stewart before his cabinet as a whole. As a result of the conference between Hon. Mr. Stewart and the provincial authorities it is expected that new immigration regulations, designed to meet the wishes of the provinces, will be formulated by the minister. These regulations may be made under the immigration act by the governor-in-council."

"SIMPLE" WEDDING OF JAPAN'S PRINCE REGENT IS TO COST $2,500,000

Tokyo, July 22.—(A. P. by Mail.)—Simplicity will be the keynote of the wedding ceremonies of the prince regent the Princess Nagako Kuni, the total expenditure being estimated at $2,500,000. Two-thirds of this sum will be expended in preparation for the wedding and the purchase of gifts, while one-third will be required for the ceremony itself, the creation of special buildings, and banquets, and coaches for the procession. The prince regent's betrothal gift to the princess will be a small sword decorated with the imperial crest of gold chrysanthemums. It is now being made by a famous swordsmith of Osaka. The princess' trousseau includes both foreign dresses and kimono, a crown and necklaces whose value is estimated at 1,000,000 yen. Her ceremonial robes are being manufactured in Kyoto at a cost of 20,000 yen, and twenty chests of drawers of paulownia wood valued at 1,000 yen each will contain her kimono for all the four seasons. Three thousand persons will be entertained at the imperial banquet given by the emperor.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis

Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 91. RADIO DICTIONARY.

METER. A unit of linear measurement in the Metric System, equivalent to 39.37 inches or a trifle over three and one-quarter feet. The various lengths of Radio waves are expressed in meters.

GRID. One of the three elements of the vacuum tube, inserted between the filament and plate and usually constructed in the form of a metallic mesh or coil. A small amount of energy applied to the grid controls a comparatively large amount of energy in the plate circuit.

VOLT. A fundamental unit of the electric circuit. It is the pressure or electromotive force necessary to maintain a flow of current of one ampere through a resistance of one ohm.

PERMEABILITY. The Permeability of a substance may be defined as the ratio of the number of magnetic lines set up in a unit volume of that substance, to the number of magnetic lines set up in the same amount of air by the same magnetizing force.

FREQUENCY. In a simple alternating current circuit, frequency is the number of cycles performed by the current per second. The unit of frequency is the cycle per second.

THE PLATE. An element of the vacuum tube. A type in general use consists of a metallic cylinder which surrounds the grid and filament. When the filament is charged to a positive potential it draws the electrons emitted by the filament, thus providing a conductive path for the "plate to filament" current.

ELECTROLYTE. The conducting fluid or solution in which the positive and negative plates of an electric cell are immersed. In a familiar form of lead-acid storage battery it consists of a dilute solution of sulphuric acid.

HARD TUBES. Vacuum tubes in which the air has been exhausted to a high degree, generally used as amplifiers and oscillators as distinguished from "soft" tubes in which the degree of vacuum is lower and preferably used as detectors.

DAMPED WAVES. Waves in which the successive oscillations have decreased amplitude. This type of wave is emitted by a spark transmitter but is not used for communication. A continuous wave as distinguished from a continuous wave or wave of constant amplitude.

INDUCTIVE REACTANCE. The opposition offered by self-induction to the flow of an alternating current.

BEAT CURRENT. A current resulting from the interaction of two currents of unequal frequency applied to a circuit. The frequency of the beat current is the numerical difference of the two applied frequencies.

BROADCASTING SCHEDULE VALUABLE. The institution of a broadcasting schedule of operation for radiophone broadcasting stations in the Second Radio District has done much to relieve the congestion of the ether. With a number of stations operating on a wave length of 360 meters it is apparent that endless confusion would result unless provision was made to apportion the hours of operation in such a manner as to avoid conflict.

The tentative schedule, followed for the present, selects a period for testing as well as for regular hours of operation. The hours of operation for transmitting the highly specialized and interesting lectures, and excellent musical selections.

It was agreed under this schedule that "all stations will stand-by during the transmission of time signals, weather, crop, market and such other governmental reports as are transmitted for the information of the public."

The rapidly increasing number of broadcasting stations will necessitate the adoption in other districts of a similar schedule to avoid interference between programs.

UTTERLY BEFOGGED. My native city: when the sun doth shine, Thou'rt everything that's grand and fine. A Queen of towns, I bless the powers that be, that birthplace was vouchsafed to me. But when it fogs, or when the rain pours down, Thou art a miserable little town! All drab and dismal, joyless and fore-born. Where only things aquatic should be born. And when it rains, concerning which I speak, I shudder, day after day, week after week.

The fore-horn's note monotonous has grown. It seems such ages since the sun has shown. There are those who would fain our souls afflict. Re future life, if here we don't live right! But when they talk of fire, they're far astray. Who dreams a fire in this modern day? Why, fire's a cheery thing by which to dwell. And 'fer too bright for an effective well. The fore-horn's not nice. I'll call it Hades, then. But a more fitting fate for wicked men. Would be to find the life beyond the sun. A place of everlasting fog and gloom. F. R. P.

MONUMENTS TO UNITY. (London Times.) Yesterday the obelisk erected on the summit of Cap Blanc Nez, as part of the memorial to the officers and men of the Dover Patrol, was unveiled by M. Ralston, British Consul-General. The ceremony is just a year since the Prince of Wales unveiled the corresponding obelisk at Dover, on the English side of the Channel, which, together with that raised in New York harbor, completes the triple monument, a symbol, as the prince said at the time, of the co-operation which existed among the Allies in the days of the war. Each of the three obelisks has its particular significance. That at Cap Blanc Nez is a special sense a tribute from the British section of the patrol to the valor and loyal comradeship of the gallant French seamen who laid down their lives in the same service. Marshal Foch spoke of it when he laid the foundation stone in the beginning of 1920, as a great symbol of the unity of the two peoples.

In the Marshal Foch way the great lesson of the two monuments. If that lesson should ever be forgotten by future generations, he declared his confidence that our descendants would hear in the winds of heaven the voices of those who gave their lives at sea calling to them to do their duty. That is a high and inspiring thought. It is not only the interest of France and England to stand together; it is their duty. Because of what they have done, because of the victory won by help of the men who patrolled the Straits of Dover night and day for so many years, they are under a sacred obligation never to let anything come between them.

The two and a half years of peace which have passed since the great French marshal spoke in this strain of the blessings of unity have not been free from anxiety and tension. But the unity remains. In the darkest hour of the war England and France were able to agree on the principle of the unity of command, and England willingly consented that the supreme command should be given to a Frenchman. In the spirit of that agreement, when the sinking of their individual wishes and apparent interests for the common good, lies the real hope of the future for both our countries and the world.

LIGHTER VEIN. The Other Extremes. Jud Tunkin says a man who never once loses his temper is liable to be so deep and calculating that he's dangerous.—Washington Star.

All Depends. The amount of work a man can do without injuring his health depends on whether he is working for himself or the other fellow.

Then They Longed For Oblivion. The superintendent of a penitentiary was one day escorting a party of women visitors through the building. They entered a room where three women were busily sewing. As they turned to leave the room, one of the visitors said: "What vicious looking creatures! What are they in for? They really look capable of committing any crime." "Well," replied the superintendent, "you see, they have no other home. That is my private sitting room, and they are my wife and two daughters."

An English Joke. A Glasgow schoolmaster has reminded a London audience that Scotsmen are not always playing the bagpipes. This supports our contention that they only use them in self-defense.—London Punch.

PENSIONS FOR FIRE FIGHTERS

This and Matter of Movie Films in Resolution of Fire Chiefs' Convention.

Chatham Ont. Aug. 30.—Two important resolutions were passed at the annual meeting of the Dominion Fire Chiefs' Association held yesterday. The Chiefs' Association of Ontario provincial fire chief called upon the provincial and municipal governments to take proper steps to prohibit by law the use of the nitro-cellulose motion picture on the part of the fire departments. The resolution stated that the films referred to which are in general use in the nature of a life and property is created. It also states that a new film of cellulose acetate material and meets with the commendation of the fire chiefs. The other resolution referred to a scheme of insurance and pension allowance for fire chiefs and their men to provide for their families in the event of their death or their retirement from active fire fighting service. It was pointed out that while some cities have established pension systems it is not the

MAN GETS YEAR FOR BURNING DAUGHTER

Court Thinks Father Deserves to be Held Over Fire as Child Was.

Bayonne, N. J., Aug. 30. — When William H. Moore, thirty-four, a blacksmith's helper, was sentenced to a year in the Hudson County Penitentiary for burning the right hand of his six-year-old daughter Dorothy, Recorder William J. Cain said that Moore deserved to be punished in the same way he had punished his child. Moore was accused of having held the right hand of the little girl over a stove until even the bones of several fingers were burned.

The child was placed temporarily in the custody of her grandmother until the authorities could further investigate the claims of Wilfred R. Hess, a contractor, of Montgomery county, N. Y., who said he adopted the child after taking her from Hope Farm, and that soon afterward she mysteriously disappeared. He said he had spent thousands of dollars trying to find her.

"This is the most atrocious thing I ever heard of in my seven years on the bench," said Recorder Cain, in passing sentence. "All is too good for you. The only fit punishment for you would be to hold you over a fire."

"With her right hand and two fingers of her left hand swathed in gauze, the child was the star witness for the prosecution. She gave her testimony perched upon the knee of Recorder Cain. The latter, after drawing the child to him, quickly made friends with little Dorothy. Presently the court asked the child who hurt her hand. She replied: "Daddy burned it while he was drunk."

The child admitted, however, that she had cut her fingers. Her father had also been accused of slashing her fingers after holding her hand over the stove. She said she learned to cut paper dolls at kindergarten in the free school which she attended. She injured her fingers cutting paper dolls, she said.

When Recorder Cain asked the father why he had burned her, the blacksmith's helper first said that he did not know what he was doing. Later he said he held her hand over the stove to break her of the habit of cutting up everything she laid her hands upon; that he only wanted to scare her, and did not realize he was injuring her until she doubled up her fist and burned herself.

Moore was technically charged with violating the Child Welfare act.

DRUNK WHEN WED

Bonds of Port Chester Pair, Both Fuddled at Ceremony, are Dissolved.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Supreme Court Justice Morschauer has approved the findings of John J. Myrd of Poughkeepsie as referee and has granted a decree annulling the marriage of Selma L. and John McCanna. The wife testified that she and McCanna were intoxicated at the time of the marriage and that she did not realize what she was doing.

They were married on February 8 of this year at Port Chester. The wife, who gave her address as 201 West Fifty-fourth street, Manhattan, set forth that "at the time of the marriage both plaintiff and defendant were suffering from the effects of liquor and were incapable of comprehending the significance and nature of the marriage contract because of the temporary deprivation to give intelligent consent thereto; that the defendant had been married before and had been divorced in Massachusetts."

She also testified that McCanna told her he didn't drink, but that they went out on a party before the marriage and drank all night and next day, and didn't sleep any. The cocktails, highballs and other mixtures, she said, deprived her of her mentality, and she didn't know she was getting married.

A stipulation of the suit was that Mrs. McCanna return about $1,000 which McCanna had spent on her previous to the marriage. Justice Morschauer annulled the marriage on the ground of fraud and misrepresentation.

TAXI PARTY STAGES NOISY SNAKE DANCE

Seven Celebrants Arrested After Exchange of Shots with Police—Row Awakens Dobbs Ferry.

Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Seven men in a taxicab, shouting and firing revolvers, awakened the village and Irvington, and quiet was not restored until they were arrested after every policeman in Irvington had been called out.

Policeman Pyle was the first to face the invasion. The seven had disembarked from a taxicab and were doing a snake dance in Cedar street. Pyle tried in vain to stop them and then blew his whistle for help. When Policemen Coffe and Sey appeared at the corner the men jumped into the taxicab and started up Broadway. When about 100 yards away they began to fire pistols. The policemen drew their revolvers and fired after them, four of the police shots entering the back of the car.

When the taxicab reached Irvington the police were ready. The seven men got out of the car and started their snake dance again, one of them died only in his underwear. At a signal the policemen appeared and the seven were arrested. All were taken to the police station here, and the man who was in his underclothes gave his name as Thomas Olsen of 763 Tenth avenue, Manhattan. He was unable to explain what had become of his other clothes.

The other prisoners, all from Manhattan, gave their names and addresses as Joseph and Arthur Gaynor, brothers, 538 West Forty-fourth street; Patrick Ryan, 462 West Fifty-second street; George Leary, Mills Hotel; Joseph Farrell, 631 West Fifty-sixth street, and John Kelly, who refused to give his address. Charges having a revolver in their possession, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest will be among the charges the men will face tomorrow morning.

The police telephoned to Manhattan and learned that the taxicab belonged to Ross Nichols of 308 Columbus avenue, Manhattan. Nichols was notified, but declined to comment on the expedition.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Essex, Aug. 29.—One of the happy events of interest in the town of Essex was the wedding of William F. Ebb, the popular representative of W. F. Hatheway & Co., Ltd., St. John (N. B.), to Rena Mae Calhoun on Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 29. The marriage took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Seth Jones, Rev. D. J. MacPherson, of the Baptist church, officiating.

Miss Elizabeth Jones, sister of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride was given away by her brother, Lieut. George W. Jones. She was attended in Canton to the carriage by several of immediate friends and relatives. The happy pair motored to their cottage at Pleasant Lake, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will reside at their newly built home in Albert street.

INDIA'S DEATH RATE HIGH

Italy Stands Fifth on the List and Australia Sixth.

U. S. government statistics give Italy a very good mark as regards her death rate, placing her fifth in the list of nations. According to the mortality tables for 1921, Italy's mortality, at the age of forty-five, per 1,000 males, is only 10.31. Norway, Holland, Sweden and Denmark are the countries which have still better ratings.

Australia follows Italy on the list, then England, Germany, Switzerland and the United States. India is at the bottom, with a death rate of 37.20 per 1,000.

MARRIAGE IS DISSOLVED UNDER HNOCH ARDEN LAW

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 30.—The first decree dissolving a marriage under the new Hnoch Arden law ever awarded in Westchester County was granted by Supreme Court Justice Seeger to Mrs. Annie Albert of 11 Lee avenue, Mount Vernon, from her husband, Philip Albert, who has been missing for fourteen years.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert were married in Manhattan in December, 1888, and have two children, John Albert, a son, twenty-two years old, who is the only witness called in aid of his mother's suit. He said that he was tried to locate his father for years, and now believed that he is dead.

"I searched through New Jersey, Long Island and New York," said the plaintiff, "but couldn't find him. He also believes he is dead."

LEFTY HOOKER PICKED ON WRONG POLICEMAN

He's in Hospital After Trying, With Three Others, to Take Girl From Escort.

When the case of "Lefty" Hooker was called in the Harlem Court, New York, Patrolman James Burke informed Magistrate Hating that the defendant was in the hospital. The court wanted to know what the man was doing there. "Hooker and three companions interfered with a young woman and her escort as they were walking along Second avenue near Eighty-seventh Saturday night," explained Burke. "Three of the men led away the escort, while Hooker attempted to force the girl to accompany him. He resisted arrest and now he is in the hospital."

"And that's the best place for him," commented the magistrate. "The defendant, the complaining witness, was in court to testify. John Kelly, 19, 1446 Third avenue, and Walter Rau also 19, of 428 East Ninety-third street, were fined $10 each by Magistrate Hating for the performance of duty."

BLAME "RENEGADES" FOR THE DEATH OF COLLINS

New York Friends of Irish Free State Send Resolutions to Ireland.

The Board of Governors of The Friends of the Irish Free State in New York City gave out last week copies of resolutions passed by them and sent to the provisional government in Dublin, deploring the deaths of Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, saying that Ireland had just at this critical hour two of its greatest "and true" in the cause of Irish freedom. The resolutions said further that "the passing of those great spirits is directly attributable to the renegades masquerading as Republicans at home and supported by another group abroad who are supplying them with funds from here, and it was resolved: "That The Friends of the Irish Free State in the City of New York, where more calls are denunciated than in any other city in the world extend through our heartfelt sympathy to the families of the bereaved and to the people of Ireland, who so nobly supported your efforts in bringing about order out of chaos and thus enabling Ireland to take her place as a Free State among the nations of the earth, and so pledge you our support and co-operation."

COPY BATHING SUITS.

English Beauties Remind One of Palm Beach or Atlantic City.

The American habit of taking a sun-bath on the beach has caught in England, and the summer girls are now competing with each other in the artistic conception of their bathing suits, according to Miss Kate Baxter of Indianapolis. Miss Baxter has just returned to New York after a visit to the English capital, studying styles and buying English sportclothes.

"The English girls are copying the bathing suits we wear here in Palm Beach and California summer girls," said Miss Baxter. "In the old days their bathing suits were more often than not built for hard service and extreme modesty, while now they are visions of beauty, mainly due to the example of the many American beauties who took their own ideas in bathing attire with them. One might now imagine he was in the English beach parades."

WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR LABOR PARTY

Miss Edith Picton-Turberville Will Seek Election in Islington.

London, Aug. 9.—(By Mail)—That the political party which above all parties stands for the hard-fisted sons of toil should put forward as one of its parliamentary candidates a member of the social elite and a woman at that, may be regarded as one of the significant signs of the times. It is not because of any dearth of good parliamentary material among its own ranks and file that the Labor Party has adopted Miss Edith Picton-Turberville as its candidate for North Islington at the next general election.

Miss Picton-Turberville is the daughter of Colonel Picton-Turberville of Evesham Priory, Glamorganshire. Among the many claims of long descent, there are few among the British aristocracy who can trace their lineage so far back as can Miss Picton-Turberville and find such a notable beginning of it. One of her ancestors was Sir Richard Turberville, one of the twelve knights of William the Conqueror who settled in Wales soon after the conquest.

Miss Picton-Turberville is the author of "Christ and International Life," to which Lord Robert Cecil contributed a preface. Her social work abroad has given her an international reputation. She spent some years in India on behalf of the Young Women's Christian Association, and traveled for it in America and other countries.

In stating her reasons for allying herself with the Labor Party, Miss Picton-Turberville said: "The party has a definite, practical programme. Its policy is founded on Christian principles. It has entered into the chief champion of women's entry into politics."

If Miss Picton-Turberville gets into parliament she will not be on the same side as Lady Astor or Miss Wintour.

"My politics are not the same as theirs," she said, "but I am sure that on all things affecting the welfare of women and children we should find ourselves on common ground, although in many cases I would go further than they for the betterment of the working women. For example, I stand definitely for widow's pensions."

The Zion church garden party which was to have been held yesterday on Burpee avenue was postponed until today on account of the weather.

ELDERLY SISTERS BOTH ADJUDGED INCOMPETENT

Saved $10,600 Out of Wages as Servants—Taken to Private Sanitarium.

New York, Aug. 30.—Two elderly unmarried sisters, who had saved more than $10,600 from their work as servants, were adjudged mentally incompetent to care for themselves or their property by a jury before County Judge J. Gratton MacMahon in Brooklyn. They are Miss Catherine Guerin, sixty-seven years old, and Miss Bessie Guerin, fifty-seven years old, both of 736 Carroll street, Brooklyn.

A few years ago Catherine, the elder sister, was seized with melancholia, and eventually broke down mentally under the strain. Her sister Bessie tried to take care of her, but before long she was overcome by the same malady. Both are now in a private sanitarium in Brooklyn.

Magnuson of St. John, and four sons, John Wesley and James Wellington of South Clones, Albert Ernest of St. John, and Arthur Medley of Waltham, Mass.

PLUMBER WORKING ALONE IN TRENCH, KILLED BY GAVE-IN

New York, Aug. 30.—Henry Melis, 40, a plumber, Brooklyn, was caught and killed by a cave-in while working alone in a trench in front of 893 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn. Melis was repairing a pipe, when the sides of the trench gave way, burying him under about four feet of dirt. Firemen helped dig Melis's body out. An ambulance surgeon said Melis had been dead about twenty minutes.

LONG SKIRTS TO END REIGN OF KING JAZZ

(Ottawa Journal.)

Dame Fashion has scored another goal as it were, for with the return of the long, gracefully draped gowns the flapper and jazz which have held such sway in the past year will likely disappear. This was decreed at the recent twenty-ninth annual convention in New York of the International Association of Masters of Dancing. The modified tango and the old-time waltz have come into favor. The familiar positions which have been seen on the various dancing floors have been abolished, and the more dignified dancing poses have found first place. The thumb on the gentleman's shoulder is to be the correct thing. No more cuddling in each other's arms. Dignity and grace are the order of the day. In Ottawa police woman have not yet been appointed to abolish the holds which have apparently been the custom. In other cities action has been taken.

PORTLAND WANTS C. P. R. TRAFFIC

Pre-eminently the Natural Winter Port for the Dominion of Canada

Not Only Grand Trunk, But C. P. R. Business Wanted - New State Pier 1,000 Feet Long.

Representatives of newspapers from all sections of the state inspected the new state pier in Portland, Maine, Friday. The Maine State Chamber of Commerce was the host. The purpose was to interest all of Maine in the development of the port of Portland. The principal address at a dinner was delivered by Frederic H. Fay of Boston, of the Fay, Spofford and Thorndike, engineers, who are constructing the state pier. Among other things, he said that Portland, with its ice-free and easily accessible harbor, is pre-eminently the natural winter port for the Dominion of Canada. It is but 297 miles from Montreal and its connection with that city by way of the Grand Trunk affords a rail route of easy grades particularly favorable for the movement of east-bound freight. The Canadian winter ports of St. John and Halifax, on the other hand, are respectively 481 miles and 842 miles from Montreal, with routes of steeper grades, over which freight movement, especially in winter, is much more difficult and expensive.

"The Grand Trunk Railway of Canada has its principal Atlantic terminal at Portland and uses this port as its traffic. Grain is the principal commodity exported over the Grand Trunk at Portland, nearly 45,000,000 bushels having been handled over these docks in the season of 1915-16, this amount being fully equal to the total grain shipments from the port of New York for the year 1921. Last winter 17,000,000 bushels of grain were shipped through the Grand Trunk's Portland terminal and during that winter season of about five months ninety-nine transatlantic vessels and thirty-seven coastwise steamships were berthed at the Grand Trunk piers.

"The Grand Trunk terminal at Portland is already used to capacity under normal conditions during the five winter months when the St. Lawrence River is closed to navigation. Moreover, the Grand Trunk is not the only railway from which Canadian business naturally is brought to this port. Facilities are provided here to handle it. The Maine Central through its connections with the Canadian Pacific, like the Grand Trunk, affords through routes reaching out to the greater part of Canada, as well as to the middle western states of our own country. So far as Canadian Pacific-Maine Central business is not flooded through Portland, as there was no waterfront here which could handle it. With the completion of the State Pier, however, Portland will have a complete and adequate terminal where this business can be handled most economically. Not only will it be a fair share of Canadian traffic to the port of Portland by way of the Canadian Pacific and Maine Central railroads, but there will be the added opportunity to do business for the port over this route and from our own middle western states. "Ship via Portland" should be slogan heralded throughout the middle west. It will be so heralded if the plans of the port directors and of the far-reaching business men of this state are carried through; and it is safe to say they will be carried through and that the result will be a substantial building up of the business of the port and Portland.

"Port development is a subject which has been carefully studied by the speaker, and he has knowledge of the economic possibilities of many, perhaps most, of our important American ports. It is his conviction, gained after mature consideration, and through study of the situation at Portland, that of all American ports not one has relatively brighter prospects for growth and development than the chief seaport of the State of Maine. With the State Pier, 1,000 feet long, completed, the degree of success which will be reached in this development will depend upon the efforts of the business men of Maine."

Miss Margaret Lindsay, of Montreal, who disappeared at Cartwright Labrador, where she was teaching school on August 4, was a sister of Rev. Fr. Lindsay of that city. Mrs. Lindsay was formerly Miss Mildred Hamilton, daughter of Dr. James P. Hamilton, of Montreal and Shediac, and formerly of St. John. She is a sister of Mrs. John V. Young of this city.

Oxford, Mass., Aug. 30.—When Assessor Schofield announced that the tax rate for the year 1922 was set at $92.10 a thousand—more than double that of last year when it was $22.50—the citizens were overwhelmed with amazement. The assessors blame the phenomenal increase in part to the new cement highway and the doubling of appropriations at the town meeting. This beats Methuen's record rate of last year by $11.80, and is believed to be a record for the United States.

WOMAN HELD IN CHICAGO SAYS SHE IS HEIRESS

Arrested in Alleged "Dope" Den, She is Sent to Hospital for Examination as to Her Sanity.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Claiming to be an English heiress who is being defrauded of her estate by persons unknown to her, Mrs. Mabel Rockwell Schaeffer, wife of a coast guard employe, is being held for examination as to her sanity at the Psychopathic Hospital. The woman is a victim of the drug habit, it is said by federal officials.

Following a raid on an alleged "dope" den at 2222 South Dearborn street, said to be operated by John Poole, a negro, Mrs. Schaeffer was seized and taken to the office of the narcotic squad for questioning. She could only remember what had happened," she said when questioned. "My mind is blank."

According to the narcotic agents, they first requested to investigate the woman's "dope" source by her husband. Soon after their marriage, Schaeffer told an agent, he learned that his wife was a drug addict. When she left the house her purse full of money, and he did not see her till nearly a week ago, when she called him on the phone and asked him to help her fight the habit.

Schaeffer then took her to the Illinois General Hospital where she was treated as a nurse to give Mrs. Schaeffer some money. When she left the hospital, she was in a taxi cab agent followed her to the resort. They raided the place after she had been there for two hours and they claim to have found the marked money in Poole's possession.

BRIDEGROOM HELD; FORGERY CHARGE

Captured After Lively Chase Through Brooklyn Shopping District—Bank Enters Complaint.

New York, Aug. 30.—Mervin Mickey, twenty-one years old, a draftsman living at the Navarre Hotel with his bride of four months, was chased by detectives for five blocks through Brooklyn's busiest section the height of the shopping hour and was arrested on a charge of attempting to pass a bad check. The detectives in an automobile and two persons on foot pursued him through the tangle of shoppers and vehicles, the husband and wife making the chase increasingly difficult. Mickey was cornered in a hallway, where a check book filled with forged blank checks was found on the floor.

According to Miss Dorothy Gibbet, cashier in a mercantile store on Fulton street, Brooklyn, Mickey made a small purchase, and handed her a certified check on the Hudson Trust Company, which she said she had approved it. On pretence of a small errand, Miss Gibbet turned back to the proprietor, saying the check was not approved. She returned to the shop and found Mickey and his bride in a telephone booth and notified the police at the Bergen street station. Mickey, growing tired of waiting, started out of the booth just as an automobile containing Detectives Fritling, Busby and Hamst came around the corner. The proprietor and the cashier attempted to stop him, but he was running when the detectives got out of the car. They leaped in again and, hanging close to the curb, speeded along the street on a line with him, while the shopkeeper and his employe zig-zagged after the youth on the sidewalk.

After Mickey was captured, the detectives got in touch with officials of the Hudson Trust Company, who said that the check was worthless. They representative examined twelve checks found in a book he had dropped to the floor of the hallway and asserted that the certification stamps on them were forged. The bank immediately entered a charge of forgery.

At the Navarre Hotel, Seventh avenue and Thirty-seventh street, the bride, May Mickey, said that her husband came from a well-to-do family in Harrisburg, Pa., and that she believed he had a responsible position somewhere in Long Island.

QUESTION OF WHITE WAY IS NOW SETTLED

The white way to the exhibition grounds will not be diverted from passing through Queen square, but agreement has been reached between the city and the Canadian National Railway in regard to repairs at the Pettigall and McLeod wharves was explained by Commissioner Bullock in speaking on a petition signed by prominent shipping firms and companies to have repairs completed.

Commissioner Bullock contended that the city was not responsible for the necessary repair work, as this was needed more than the street section than on the wharves. The application from the Provincial Hospital authority for a communication from the city main for water supply to the annex in the Sand Cove road was referred back to Commissioner Wigmore for his report.

Considerable discussion arose in regard to pay for men injured while in the city's employ. When the committee established a precedent by authorizing payment of an amount equal to the difference between the money received from the white way to the exhibition grounds. After the report of decisions reached by the council in a committee session Monday morning last were read as published and adopted without discussion, the common clerk read a communication from the Exhibition Association advising that the executive committee opposed any change in the routing of the white way to the exhibition grounds. Later on in the session he read a letter from the Retail Merchants' Association saying that it was immaterial to the association what was done in the matter. The letter added that the two members of the council who had been appointed to look after this matter, J. H. Vaughan and A. E. Everett, were favorable to the routing of the white way to Irving Appleby, appearing for the south end merchants desiring the change.

After the report of decisions reached by the council in a committee session Monday morning last were read as published and adopted without discussion, the common clerk read a communication from the Exhibition Association advising that the executive committee opposed any change in the routing of the white way to the exhibition grounds. Later on in the session he read a letter from the Retail Merchants' Association saying that it was immaterial to the association what was done in the matter. The letter added that the two members of the council who had been appointed to look after this matter, J. H. Vaughan and A. E. Everett, were favorable to the routing of the white way to Irving Appleby, appearing for the south end merchants desiring the change.

SOVIET MONTE CARLO DEALS IN BILLIONS

Casino Opened in Moscow Is Crowded Nightly by Gamblers of All Classes

Moscow, Aug. 30.—A gambling casino rivaling the famous Monte Carlo Casino in magnitude of play has been opened in Moscow. Crowds are continually milling about various tables during the hours of play, which are from eight o'clock in the evening until ten in the morning. There is a scattering representation of foreigners, but those who spend money in roulette and other games where the minimum play ranges from ten million to one hundred million rubles are mostly Muscovites. Millions of rubles change hands on each deal, at the roulette table.

Most of the profit taken by the house goes to the state. The house draw of five per cent, is reported on one night to have totalled more than $2,000,000,000 rubles, indicating that the play reached 1,000,000,000,000 rubles, or the equivalent of $25,000.

Well-dressed men and women rub elbows with the unshaven and poorly clad at tables where the croupiers speak French and foreign currency. Casinos also have been opened in Petrograd and other places under the recent Government decree legalizing certain forms of gambling.

ASKED TO BE CROWNED POPE

Cathedral Intruder Is Sent to Bellevue for Observation

New York, Aug. 30.—As Father Flynn of St. Patrick's Cathedral staff entered the auditorium when no service was in progress, he noticed a short man, clad in black, on the steps of the high altar. Hurrying to his side, the priest demanded his reason for being there. "I've just been ordained Pope," said the intruder. "I want to be crowned immediately." Father Flynn persuaded him to wait a minute, and sent a cathedral attache for a policeman. The man was found and he entered the cathedral. The policeman asked the man to step outside and "have a little talk with the croupiers" before the coronation ceremonies. The man accompanied him quite willingly and was taken to the Six street police station where he said he was James C. O'Brien, forty-one years old, of 167 Sands street, Brooklyn. He was sent to Bellevue Hospital for observation.

TO APPOINT FUEL ADMINISTRATOR

Coal dealers of the province, in conference with Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster, premier of New Brunswick, here yesterday afternoon, decided that, in view of the situation in connection with the supply of anthracite coal, a fuel administrator should be appointed by the provincial government. The duties of this official would be more particularly to try to obtain New Brunswick's share of any anthracite coal which might be available, and to see that it is distributed equitably to the various dealers. It was not found necessary to take any action concerning soft coal supplies.

Representatives from provincial centres were present and after the meeting Premier Foster announced that a fuel administrator probably would be appointed by the provincial government at its meeting in this city tomorrow. A canvass of the situation revealed the fact that about fifty per cent of the ordinary demand for anthracite coal had been obtained and no one knew whom supplies would equal the demand, and it was not known whether the United States government would impose export restriction even after the strike was settled.

It was decided that it was desirable for the provincial government to appoint a fuel administrator, whose duties more particularly would be to try to obtain New Brunswick's share of any anthracite coal which might be available and to see that it was equitably distributed to the dealers throughout the province. The suggestion was made also that the new official should select and appoint an advisory committee from among the coal dealers to assist him so far as possible. It was felt, however, that if the strike terminated at an early date consumers would be able to obtain their full winter supply in small quantities through the anthracite coal and using substitutes, excepting in the severest weather, it was thought that no great hardship would be experienced by anyone.

Among the coal dealers present were George H. Budd, St. Stephen; R. T. Baird, S. L. Morrison, A. H. Vanwart, Frederick F. P. Starr, H. N. Stinson, C. R. Nelson, F. W. Bilsand, George Dick, H. A. Martin, Charles H. Gibbon, St. John; C. J. Flemming, Woodstock; J. Barrett, Sussex; A. R. Sargent, J. W. Hall, Edmundston, and H. H. Reid, Sussex.

ALASKA AIDED BY PLANE AND TRACTOR

Remote Sections are Brought Closer to the Ports by Air Routes.

Anchorage, Alaska, Aug. 30.—(Associated Press, by Mail)—Regulatory sections of Alaska, roads and mouth of the transportation methods, are being brought closer to the seaports and railroad towns by the airplane and tractor. Two sections of Alaska, the Iditarod and the great Kuskokwim country, reached from here in the winter only after a fifteen days' trip with a dog team, can be made in two or three days by airplane.

The tractor's part in the revolution of transportation methods comes in hauling ore and coal from the mines to the railroads. The army type caterpillar tractor, dragging from twenty to fifty tons, breaks its own trail over the snow and is rapidly taking the place of the horse in many places. Sections of the far away Alaska peninsula and Aleutian Islands, with their oil possibilities, are soon to be reached by airplane from a group of Anchorage business men. The machine will be of the hydroplane type, and will fly in the rivers, bays, and lakes for shore work.

One aviator, C. O. Hammon, is considering establishing a chain of stations in the interior to which he can carry supplies by air route. At present the prospectors on the snowed-out interior spend their spring months hauling their supplies in over the snow trails. Hammon's plan is to carry supplies to established points and thus save the prospectors the heavy task of pulling their food and equipment over the snow. The stations would be built on lakes or rivers so the plane could light on the water.

CROPS SO BOUNTIFUL INDIAN HIRES WHITES

Unusual State of Affairs Among Neighbors on Reservation.

The poor Indian is having a little of "his own back" on one of the western reservations this year, due to the splendid crops in Saskatchewan. On one of the reservations in Alberta, Mr. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, during the past couple of weeks, the minister sent to help him harvest the crop. This rather unusual state of affairs was creating some amusement in the neighborhood of the reservation, which is in the File Hills section of Saskatchewan.

At 209 Miles An Hour

Turin, Italy, Aug. 30.—Lieutenant Brakappa this week in an airplane flew at a speed of 389 1/2 kilometers (about 242 miles) an hour. This is said to be a world's record. The previous speed record was made by Sadi Lecoq, a French aviator, on September 26, 1921, at 202.28 miles an hour. Lecoq used a 300 horsepower machine. The flight was made in Paris.

220,000 SAW PASSION PLAY

Oberammergau, Aug. 27.—(Associated Press.)—Two hundred and twenty thousand persons, including 18,259 Americans, thus far have attended the Passion Play, according to announcements by the management, thus surpassing all previous records of attendance. The total receipts amount to about 10,000,000 marks.

So great is the demand for seats that three or four performances are necessary nearly every week, and the theatre is completely sold out to September 1. In addition to the regular programme for the rest of August, a special presentation has been arranged for Catholics from all parts of Germany, who will gather in Munich this week for a conference. The report circulated abroad that Pope Pius had expressed disapproval of the Passion Play, and that its future presentation was in doubt, is regarded here as absolutely unfounded. It is pointed out that the Pope could scarcely pronounce a prohibition of the spectacle, since the play for him falls in the category of worldly things, and that at most he would merely exert his influence on high church dignitaries in connection with the play.

Attention is called to the fact that Cardinal Faulhaber, archbishop of Munich, while attending the Eucharistic Congress in Rome last May, reported to the Pontiff the favorable impression the play had made upon him. Cardinal Faulhaber also made use of his visit to Rome to remind several thousand railway officials of the ethical value of the performance, and appealed to them to accept gladly the added labor which the presentations demanded of the railroads. The Pope is declared to have been pleased with the report of the archbishop, and in his conversation with him mentioned the fact that he himself visited the play in 1910, when he was an ordinary librarian, and left the wilknetting the archbishop to convey his greetings and blessing to the people of Oberammergau.

Archbishop Faulhaber reported this to Monsignor Facchi, papal nuncio in Germany, and when the nuncio visited the Oberammergau, he was accompanied by the archbishop. He had already taken six bottles of Carbol and I am still taking it. I weigh more today than I ever weighed before in my life. I sleep like a child. I am never tired and my skin is as soft as a girl's. I heard about Carnol." Mrs. K., Toronto.

"SIX MONTHS AGO"

"It's hard to realize that six months ago I couldn't walk across the floor and now I am so well!"

"I have never been very strong but the heat last summer was too much for me. This and the fact that my husband was out of work and I had to work day and night to keep from starving, left me a physical wreck. Luckily my husband was able to get a good job just when I could think of getting strong, but each day I seemed to be getting weaker and weaker. I was reduced to a skeleton, I couldn't eat or sleep, I had no strength left and finally I was so weak that I didn't care whether I lived or died. And then I heard about that marvelous preparation—Carnol. A friend of mine had used it with wonderful results and as it had done so much for her, I decided to try it. The results were nothing less than miraculous. In two weeks I was able to get up and walk about the house. My appetite had returned. I was actually hungry. I could sleep when I went to bed, something I had not been able to do for months. I have already taken six bottles of Carnol and I am still taking it. I weigh more today than I ever weighed before in my life. I sleep like a child. I am never tired and my skin is as soft as a girl's. I heard about Carnol." Mrs. K., Toronto.

Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle and he will refund your money. 8-111

HOT SHOT IN U. S. SENATE

Calder and Walsh Assert the Government Must Now Act

WOULD WORK MINES

People May Freeze Next Winter if Congress Fails to Do Its Duty—Too Much Talk.

In the United States senate last week Senator Walsh of Massachusetts moved a resolution authorizing the government to take over and operate coal mines, and appropriating a million dollars to begin the operations. The resolution was referred to the committee on interstate commerce.

Owing to heavy rains, whole sections of the east end of Sheffield were flooded. People were rescued from their bed-room windows by boats and swimming took place in the streets. The picture shows one of the flooded streets.

our people burn anthracite coal. They have no facilities in their homes to use any other kind of fuel, for their stoves, ranges and furnaces are constructed for the use of anthracite.

"For five months the anthracite mines have been closed. While some bituminous coal has been mined, my intention is that for the period I have indicated not a single ton of hard coal has been taken from the earth. Senators know that anthracite coal is produced in the state of Pennsylvania, and that state has laws which require men in this industry being licensed by the state before they are allowed to work, and a miner must have served as helper or apprentice for several years before he can be licensed. The anthracite coal miners in Pennsylvania are completely unlicensed.

"Stop for a moment to realize just what these conditions really are. For five of the first eight months of this year there has been no hard coal produced, and not more than ten per cent. of the families of the north and east have coal in their bins for the winter. By this time of the year one-half of these people should have their winter supply. The strike still goes on. At most we are sixty days from the frost period, and during that time coal must be obtained or else people will freeze to death this winter.

"I am not exaggerating the situation when I state that, in my judgment, unless this situation is relieved within a short period there will be bloodshed in the larger cities. A desperate situation confronts us. I know there are differences between the men who mine the coal and the men who own the coal mines which during the past five months have failed in adjustment; but beyond all these differences are the rights of the people. Is this government helpless in an emergency of this kind? Do we lack the capacity or power to adjust the situation? Shall we stand idly by while disease and death threaten us?

"Members of congress have during all of these months refrained from intervention in the situation; it has been a delicate subject; the president has repeatedly tried to bring together the mine worker and the mine owner in an effort to have them adjust their differences. Those of us who have followed these conferences have been loyal from day to day that these differences might be adjusted, but as the days and weeks and months go on we see no signs of a settlement, while the hardships of the winter are facing us.

"The time to act has arrived. These men must settle their differences; they should be told they must agree upon an adjustment forthwith. Forty-eight hours is sufficient notice to them, and if they fail, after receiving such notice, to open up the mines and furnish coal to the people. It will be the duty of the president to give to the president full and complete authority to take over the mines and to operate them to their full capacity for the benefit of the American people."

Walsh's Plain Talk. "What the senator from New York says is true," said Senator Walsh. "The coalbins of the people of New York and of New England, and of the northwest, are empty and our people are facing a situation during the coming winter which will be worse than that which confronted them during the World War. It is a situation that has arisen in this country by reason of the inability of the public authority to settle this strike. It is pitiful and deplorable."

"Some one is to blame. The men and women and children who will be shivering next winter, the men and women and children without fires to keep their homes warm, are not going to blame the operators or the strikers, but they are going to blame their government for failing to find the solution and a way to settle this strike and to give them what they must have in order to enjoy health and the decent, ordinary comforts of life.

"Nothing has been done to restrict profiteering; nothing has been done to supply the people with the very essential necessity of life. We have sat here with folded arms allowing this thing to go from bad to worse.

"It is time for action. It was time for action weeks ago and months ago. The government could have acted. It should not have hesitated to have taken over all of the mines which were necessary to supply our people with coal and to have given notice to the mine owners that their profits would be restricted, and to the striking miners that they would not be the beneficiaries of any action by the government during the time the government might be operating the mines, that the government, solely interested in supplying our people with coal, would see that that was the first object in mind."

steps a situation and to give relief immediately and quickly to the people when they need it in their hour of distress, in their hour of trouble. That is the thing about which I am concerned—that we can show the people of this country that congress has the power to act, to supply to the people that which they must have in order to live.

"All I am asking for is action. I am asking the government, the representatives of the people here, to protect their health, to protect their strength, to protect them against wrong doing upon the part of operators and miners alike, if you please, because it is a crime and an outrage to have this condition and situation continue."

"Are we to confess to the people that a great industry can conduct itself in such a manner and in such a way that our people will stand by and suffer because their government cannot find any way of helping them? I tell you that you are not alive to the unrest in this country if you do not appreciate the cry for action upon the part of congress. I say that all the unrest in this country today is due to a feeling that here we dilly-dally. Here we make objections, here we protest, here we delay, here we filibuster and never act.

"I tell you we stand on this floor and denounce profiteering, condemn it, unable to find language strong enough to condemn it, and then sit with folded arms and say, 'What of it? The constitution prevents us from acting. It is unconstitutional. There is no remedy. Let it go on. Let it go on.' Simply talk, talk!

"You say I criticized the president, and criticized congress as much as the president. Then I say to you, the people will criticize us both on election day, because they will have a chance next November, when they have found out that they have empty coal bins, that they have no coal to burn, and are asked to exercise their privilege as American citizens. You will find out we will all find out, that they will register their protest against the conditions that have been allowed to go on without any remedy being suggested or any solution adopted."

RUSHED TO AID WRECKED FRANCE

Canadian Transporter Figures in Story from Auckland, New Zealand.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Special correspondence to the Toronto Mail and Empire from Auckland, N. Z., gives the following story: "Save our lives" came a message through the night from the largest sailing ship in the world, the France, wrecked on a reef off the coast of New Zealand, the French colony in the South Pacific. There was not a vessel within hundreds of miles save the Canadian government steamer, Canadian Transporter. She heard and promptly telegraphed back: "We are 20 miles from you, keep up a stout heart."

The Canadian Transporter reeled off the next hundred miles at a speed that she was never intended to travel. "Save our lives" came the call: "We are praying for daylight," it said. And the Canadian Transporter answered through the ether: "We are coming. Our stokers are doing their damndest."

On the reef big seas were breaking over the doomed France. The men had stuck to her until daylight and then by great good luck managed to take to the boats, wretches of the Transporter. By skillful management they reached the shore through a bitter surf, not a man being lost.

Meanwhile, the Transporter kept up her mad race across the boiling seas. Then came a message which brought relief to the aching stokers. The Brisbane wireless station had got in touch with New Caledonia and learned what the Transporter had not known, that the crew's attempt to land in the boat had been successful.

Grateful thanks from out the ether followed the Canadian Transporter as she turned back on her course to resume her interrupted voyage. She was then 100 miles from the scene of the wreck.

The France was a steel sailing ship fitted with electric lights and modern electrical equipment. Built in 1922 she was owned in France. She is a total wreck on the reef and attempts at salvage are believed futile.

Europe will have to import 82,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, or 27,000,000 bushels more than last year because of the decline in this year's production, the Commerce Department was advised by Alge P. Dennis, its special representative in Berlin. Exclusive of Russia this year's European wheat crop is estimated, Mr. Dennis said, at 1,057,000,000 bushels. The total represents a decline of 186,500,000 bushels, as compared with last year's phenomenal yield.

The oven is the all-important thing about an Electric Range—and the Westinghouse oven not only meets your every requirement, but it provides a number of conveniences lacking in other ranges.

For instance, the lower half of the Westinghouse oven can be used as a warming closet as well as for broiling. The broiler pan is of porcelain enamel, and, like all other oven parts, can be removed for cleaning. Westinghouse ovens remain sweet and spotless.

The Westinghouse Range has so many exclusive features, you'll want to see it demonstrated before you buy. Ask the dealer to tell you about it, or write us for booklet.

EUROPE WILL HAVE TO IMPORT MORE WHEAT

Crops This Year will be 582,000,000 Bushels Short of Needs.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Europe will have to import 82,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, or 27,000,000 bushels more than last year because of the decline in this year's production, the Commerce Department was advised by Alge P. Dennis, its special representative in Berlin.

Exclusive of Russia this year's European wheat crop is estimated, Mr. Dennis said, at 1,057,000,000 bushels. The total represents a decline of 186,500,000 bushels, as compared with last year's phenomenal yield.

This falling off in yield was accounted for by Mr. Dennis by a reduction of 1,000,000 acres in the area sown in Europe, by unfavorable growing conditions in the winter and early spring, and, in the case of Germany and Austria, by the lack of fertilizers. The bulk of the decline, he added, was accounted for in the losses in three countries, as follows: France, 46,000,000 bushels; Italy, 88,000,000 bushels, and Germany, 22,600,000 bushels; while the percentage of loss in the minor producing countries was as follows: Sweden, forty per cent; Switzerland, thirty-five per cent; Holland, twenty-five per cent; Austria, twenty per cent; Hungary, twenty per cent, and Spain, sixteen per cent.

To Holders of Five Year 5 1/2 per cent Canada's Victory Bonds

Issued in 1917 and Maturing 1st December, 1922.

CONVERSION PROPOSALS

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers to holders of these bonds who desire to continue their investment in Dominion of Canada securities the privilege of exchanging the maturing bonds for new bonds bearing 5 1/2 per cent interest, payable half yearly, of either of the following classes:—

- (a) Five year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1927.
(b) Ten year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1932.

While the maturing bonds will carry interest to 1st December, 1922, the new bonds will commence to earn interest from 1st November, 1922, GIVING A BONUS OF A FULL MONTH'S INTEREST TO THOSE AVAILING THEMSELVES OF THE CONVERSION PRIVILEGE.

This offer is made to holders of the maturing bonds and is not open to other investors. The bonds to be issued under this proposal will be substantially of the same character as those which are maturing, except that the exemption from taxation does not apply to the new issue.

Dated at Ottawa, 8th August, 1922.

CHASED ACROSS STATE; FUGITIVES ARE CAPTURED

Dramatic Man Hunt for Four Convicts, Escaped from a South Dakota Penitentiary.

Rapid City, S. D., Aug. 29.—One of the most dramatic man-hunts in the history of the Northwest came to an end here, when a posse, led by Sheriff Wilson of Hanton county, rounded up the four convicts who escaped from the South Dakota Penitentiary at Sioux Falls on August 17, killed one of them in a running fight, captured two others and had the fourth surrounded in a cornfield.

The capture came as a climax to a day filled with thrills in the chase of the four men, who battled successfully with a band of officers near Stamford, S. D., and, after wounding them, stole their automobile and escaped.

Driving rapidly west in the direction of the Bad Lands, the convicts in their stolen car stopped at Creighton for gas. Sheriff Wilson commandeered an automobile and gave chase. Half a mile off of Creighton he came in sight of the fugitives and began firing on them. One bullet struck the driver of the car, who died. The car veered into a ditch, and the other three men, abandoning their companion, fled into a cornfield. Here two of them were captured after a battle in which they were wounded. The other is still in hiding.

Earlier in the day the men sped through Murdo, S. D. Sheriff Babcock, State's Attorney H. L. Parrish and J. S. Robertson, a real estate man, gave chase. They came on the men on the road to Stamford, where they had stopped to fix a tire.

Fleeing For Week. The convicts immediately opened fire and wounded all three of their pursuers. They then threw the men into a hole, covered their bodies with hay and drove away in their automobiles, leaving their own stalled machine in the road.

The four convicts have successfully evaded pursuit, in which airplanes and bloodhounds have been employed by officials, since their escape more than a week ago. On Monday they engaged in a battle with a posse as they crossed the Missouri River in a stolen ship.

THREE WATCHES IN HUMBER.

Meteoritic Career of Young Shop-breaker Ends Disastrously—Committed Crimes While on Remand.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Heavy is the fall that usually terminates a merry gallop down the road of crime. Witness the case of a young fellow, only a little past sixteen, who was "on the carpet" at detective headquarters recently. He had been arrested and taken to Juvenile Court early in July by Detectives Hill and Hutchison, on two charges of shop-breaking. Judge Withers remanded him in care of his mother, to return to court in one week. Instead of coming back, he, according to his own admissions, broke into five other shops. Then he rode away on a motorcycle on which he had paid only one instalment.

At Nanawans he got the cycle in a garage and took train for Montreal. His mother heard where he was and went to bring him home. Instead of coming with her, he stole $30 of her money and her neck fur, and went on to Quebec. From Quebec he was sent back to Montreal by the authorities. There he became stranded. A letter to his mother asked for money to bring him home. Now he faces seven charges of shop-breaking, and the police expect that the total number will be twelve.

In one shop which he entered in his week on remand, he emptied a can full of ice cream on the street while people were sleeping next door. From another shop he took two watches which he afterwards broke up and threw into the Humber River. Total thefts and damages attributed to him will reach into the hundreds of dollars.

THE TOWNS OF SWEDEN DEFEATED PROHIBITION

London, Aug. 29.—A despatch to the Times from Stockholm says the towns generally voted against prohibition, Stockholm having given 189,122 votes against 22,025 votes and Gothenburg, 51,847 votes against 16,683 votes. The country districts, however, mostly gave majorities in favor of prohibition.

The despatch adds that it is evident prohibition will not become a law, as parliament and the government would proceed with a dry measure only if there referendum had shown a big majority for prohibition.

JAP SPINNING INDUSTRY IN PERIL

Increased Output of Chinese Mills and Cost of Labor are Factors—Japanese Exports of Yarn Drop.

Tokio, July 10.—(Associated Press by Mail)—Great interest is being evinced in regard to the future of the cotton spinning industry in Japan owing to the rise in the cost of production and the development of cotton spinning in China, says Diamond, a financial newspaper.

The remarkable development of the spinning industry in Japan was mainly due to the cheap cost of labor and the demand in China, but these factors, which have made the cotton spinning industry so prosperous, are fast disappearing and fears are expressed in some quarters that the industry is facing a crisis.

There are three ways in which the cotton yarn turned out of the Japanese spinning mills is disposed of. Thirty to 40 per cent. is exported, a portion is manufactured into cotton cloth by the spinning mills themselves, and exported, and a greater portion is consumed by the weavers other than the spinning mills.

The output of yarn has been increasing since the withdrawal of the restriction in December last, but this has not resulted in an increase of stock, owing to an increased amount of export as well as the consumption of yarn by the spinners for the manufacture of cotton cloth for export.

Exports of yarn dropped from 569,990 bales in 14 to 292,260 bales in 1921. Still cotton yarn does not seem to show signs of over-supply, but it is quite possible that with the extension of producing capacity adopted by many mills and the establishment of new mills, together

HUNDREDS OF COLLEGE MEN IN RAILWAY SHOPS

Chicago, Aug. 29.—The railway strike has caused hundreds of college students to enlist with the roads in the effort to keep the wheels of transportation moving, a railway official said today. Attracted by the opportunity to acquire experience as well as by the high wages offered, engineering students abandoned their vacation plans to don overalls and take their places at lathes and drill presses, working under armed guards, eating rations served from company cook cars, and sleeping in hard bunkies.

These men, railway officials said, brought a spirit of enthusiasm, of fair play and love of work for the work's sake which has done much to keep the arteries of trade open. At one yard in Chicago were found the representatives of six engineering schools and of three college fraternities.

"I'm getting $1.50 a day as a car repairer's helper," said a student. Asked what he did, he replied: "I carry the car repairer's tools."

"They may do a lot of ganging and the color of their socks looks kinda strange, but they are sure getting out work," a grizzled old foreman asserted.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Two ministers of the gospel, clad in overalls, the repair shops of the New York Central Railroad in the Syracuse district, and both assert they like the work. They are the Rev. W. W. Helm, pastor of St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal church, Buffalo, and the Rev. Guy Overshire, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at West Webster, near Rochester. Mr. Helm works in the Dewitt engine house and Mr. Overshire at Solway. Both find time to conduct religious services and deliver sermons in the afternoons.

Mr. Helm recently addressed an audience of 200 workmen, and the words of the minister-mechanic were greeted with applause.

"We who are assembled here today are serving humanity as well as the railroad company," said Mr. Helm, "and besides serving humanity I want to show you how dangerous it is to encourage anything that resembles what Russia has got. There it is called Bolshevism. Here it is I. W. W. This is a strike and should be settled by means of arbitration."

CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND.

Clifford B. Edgar, Conservative member of parliament for Richmond, England, arrived in the city yesterday from New York and Bar Harbor. He will leave for Digby on Thursday. He said that the industrial depression in England was due to the high production costs and these would have to come down before prices came down. He was not in favor of helping Germany, Austria or Russia in their financial difficulties. Mr. Edgar is a supporter of the quarantine restrictions placed on all cattle imported into Great Britain. This is the first time that Mr. Edgar has been in New Brunswick, although he has been in Canada and the United States several times. He will return to New York in October and will leave there for England shortly afterwards. Mr. Edgar is accompanied by his wife and daughter and they will visit Newfoundland before returning home.

CZECHS' HOUSE SET IN ORDER

Products of Republic Exceed the People's Needs—Restrictions as to Land Ownership.

(By The Associated Press) Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 1.—Although the Czechoslovakian Republic is only three and a half years old it is the one State in Europe which has set its house in order and has avoided the evils of the printing press. The Czechs or Bohemians, are a hard-working, plucky race, and they have built up an economic and industrial fabric. The republic's industry today is beyond the needs of its own population. The Czech crown, which until last autumn had followed the fluctuations of the German mark, has now established its independence in the world's exchanges.

Since the creation of the republic the bulk of trade has been with Germany, although the United States is gaining an increasing share of it. According to official figures, 47.7 per cent. of Czech imports in 1921 came from Germany, the latter country taking 86.3 per cent. of Czech exports. Every Czech realizes that the future of the country's trade is in Central Europe, but he is anxious to avoid as far as possible economic dependence on Germany.

Like many other European countries Czechoslovakia's most vital problems concern the reduction in production costs, cost of living and of taxation, and amelioration of the housing situation. At present Prague is one of the most expensive cities in Europe. One of the causes is the tremendous national budget, which is swollen by heavy military expenditures.

Compared with Vienna and Budapest, Prague presents an appearance of prosperity and alertness. There is not that sense of despair, uncertainty, and indecision which the American traveler meets in Vienna. While other European capitals suffered from the great war, Prague was hardly affected until the revolution of 1918, when she awoke suddenly to find herself one of the great capitals of Europe.

Czechoslovakia's political system is based upon the strictest democratic principles, her policy being one of internationalism and republicanism. Bolshevik reforms have been made to appease the appetite of the masses.

No one is allowed to hold more than 250 hectares of arable land or 500 hectares of forest land. Owing to increased wages, the working classes live in comfortable content. There is little unemployment.

As in most other European cities, the housing problem in Prague is acute. Any owner of a flat or house is liable to have his quarters commandeered by the state. In spite of the government's endeavors to encourage the creation of new buildings, the building trade has remained virtually suspended. Many of the poorer nobility have migrated to Vienna, Munich, Berlin, Poland, or to Hungary, in order to benefit by the rate of exchange. Others occupy a small corner of the vast palaces which have been in the possession of their families for centuries.

Food, taken on at Sydney, Australia, and found to be unfit, slow progress in calm after calm, and the rationing of one pound of meat among thirteen hungry mouths—such is the unofficial log as pieced together from the story of those on board.

The plight of the schooner came to light a week ago when the motor ship Annie Johnson brought word of having overtaken her in mid-ocean and of relieving the wants of the captain, his family and the crew with a 30-days supply of provisions.

MACDONALD'S 15¢ The Tobacco with a heart CIGARETTES

We Call It Lime Freeze, But--

There's a whole lot more to it than a name. There's a mystery in the mix that many tried to imitate--and she's still a dead secret.

Next time you want something with a kick that has no hang-over, step up to our fountain, call for Lime Freeze and watch how it's made, if you can.

You'll see the mystery syrup go into the shining glass, then a real lime, a dash of raspberry, a splash of bubbling soda, and she gets decorated with cracked ice and a sprig of fresh mint, just like a julep.

After that a long, lingering, whiffy refresher, the like you've never known since prohibition and the old-time juleps they used to make down south--15c only.

LOCAL NEWS

REALIZED $40 Several ladies at Grand Bay held a veranda tea at the summer home of Mrs. H. N. Coats on Friday, Aug. 28. The sum of $40 was realized for the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage.

BURIED TODAY. The funeral of Mrs. A. R. C. Clark was held this afternoon from her late residence, 160 Charlotte street, West, to Cedar Hill. Rev. Mr. Bertram conducted service.

SHIPPING APPLES Apples shipments from Halifax will commence for this season with the sailing of the Furness liner Digby for Liverpool today, when she will carry out the first shipment of Nova Scotia apples for the British market.

THE CHILDREN'S FRIEND Halifax Chronicle--J. D. O'Donnell, popularly known as the "Children's Friend," arrived in the city yesterday and is at the Halifax Hotel. This is his annual visit to Halifax, and he will be remembered as the dispenser of pleasure and his gifts to the children of the city, on his previous visits.

CHARLES H. HILLMAN DEAD Mrs. David Stratton of this city, yesterday received news of the death of her nephew, Charles H. Hillman, which occurred in Watertown, Mass., on August 17. He was a son of the late William Hillman, silver plater of St. John and is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Sarah Steel of the North End, and one daughter, Laura. Many friends here will be sorry to learn of his death.

A FORD FIGHT Policeman Storey reports that a Ford car, No. 8984, owned by Flemings foundry and driven by Fred Travers, standing in front of Pierce's barber shop in Dock street at 10:30 this morning, ran away for some unknown reason and smashed into a Ford auto truck owned by T. S. Simms & Co., and driven by J. McEachern. The radiators of both cars were punctured, the fenders bent up and the truck got a flat tire out of the mixup.

THE "WHITE WAY" At a committee meeting of the commission this morning, Commissioner Thornton reported that the cost of adding to the proposed "white way" by carrying a line down to Britain street and then along to Sydney, would be an additional $280.65, and he did not feel like recommending the added expenditure. The mayor thought that the sum would not be extravagant as a way was required for vehicular traffic, and on his recommendation the extra expense was authorized.

GARDEN PARTY The grounds surrounding the residence of the Misses Hagarty, 104 Burpee avenue, are beautifully decorated for a garden party which the ladies of Zion Methodist church are holding this afternoon. There are booths containing home cooking and ice cream, and a vegetable table, and the young ladies are displaying a grab bag booth. Supper is being served by the ladies. The whole affair is under capable leadership of Mrs. Thomas Hannah, assisted by all the ladies of the church. The proceeds are for the aid of the church.

RIFLE MATCHES The Permanent Force of Military District No. 7 Rifle Association started their annual prize shooting meet this afternoon on the local range. More than $200 in cash and a variety of useful prizes will be given to those winning places in the events. Features of the meet are the cadet match this afternoon and the all-arms match tomorrow afternoon. For the cadet match, which is free and is open to all members of bona fide cadet corps of the district, prizes include $12.50 in cash and other valuable articles. The all-arms match is open to all members of rifle clubs and of the militia and C. F. Prizes, aggregating $80 in cash will be reserved for the junior class of the association.

TRAFFIC CASES. Three traffic matters were gone into this morning in the police court. Ralph Dean, charged with speeding in Union street, with refusing to stop when ordered to do so, and with displaying the license numbers of one car on another, pleaded guilty and was fined $10.

Holder-Lamb A wedding of interest to many friends took place at Holderville Church on Tuesday 29, at twelve o'clock, when Mrs. Sarah F. Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Holder, became the bride of Capt. Raymond Holder. The bride, who was given away by her eldest son, C. Murray Lamb, was dressed in taupe tulle with steel bead trimmings and black hat of baronette satin with real stole and wore Ophelia roses. The church was beautifully decorated with asters and golden glow.

FOOT RACE AND BASEBALL Queen Square, West St. John, will be the scene of much activity tonight, when the five miles handicap road race conducted by St. George's A. C., will be started at 7:15 o'clock, and the fifth game of the amateur championship series will be staged by the Commercial and St. George's. The majority of the prominent distance men of the province are entered for the race, and there is enough new blood starting to make the big fellows hustle along at their fastest gait. If the course is in good shape a new mark may be set. The medals for the race have arrived, and a local institution is considering putting up a valuable trophy for annual competition. For the ball game, which will start at seven o'clock, both teams will be at their strongest and one or two new players of prominence may make their appearance. This game will give the winning team a strong chance for the series, and the amateur championship of the city, the games now standing two all.

SHOW OLD TIMERS AT THE EXHIBITION

City Fire Engines of Other Years to be Exhibited--A Busy Scene.

One of the features for machinery hall at the exhibition this year will be an exhibit of two of the oldest fire engines of the city. One of them, about seventy years old, is the first hand engine ever used in St. John and strikes a remarkable contrast with the throbbing, pulsing beauties of today. It consists of a central carriage with a small pump cupola attached to which are long side handles which were worked up and down as much manpower as could be crowded on them.

The Natural History Society is commencing work on their large exhibit of the resources of New Brunswick which will take up all one side of the gallery in the main building. Several large showcases have been built especially to hold these exhibits. The art exhibit, while it is expected to be large and interesting, will not take up as much space as formerly. One of the small side rooms has been taken for a tea room and is being re-modelled for that purpose.

BIG LINER FOR CANADIAN TRADE

Another of the famous Manchester ships has been added to the large fleet of that line which plies between British and Canadian ports. Furness, Withy and Company, Limited, have announced the Manchester Regiment as the latest addition to that line. She will come direct to Montreal from the shipyards of Messrs. Furness, Withy & Company, where every effort has been made to turn out as well as a vessel as modern science can produce. This steamer has a deadweight of 11,892 tons, a capacity of 620,000 cubic feet for cargo purposes. She is 450 feet in length, 40 feet deep and has a beam of 87 feet, 9 inches.

The deck equipment consists of twenty-one cargo derricks, capable of lifting up to twenty-five tons weight, and cargoes can be loaded and discharged in record time. The various compartments are clean, spacious, free from obstructions and are especially ventilated by compressed air machinery which regulates the atmosphere as desired for the particular classes of goods carried.

POLICE COURT

"Five drunks in a dry town" was the magistrate's comment this morning when that number of men pleaded guilty to charges of being drunk in the city streets. One of the number said that he had got his supply, $4 worth, about four years ago from Montreal and this was what he had to drink. He was fined $16 for the drunkenness and for being out at 10 o'clock this morning. Two of the others were fined $208 or eight months and sent below.

Frederick Carter was charged, in addition to drunkenness, with making wrong proposals to little children in Britain street last night. Walter Leasher, an eleven year old child, aged seven, nine, eleven and eleven years, gave evidence. Mr. Leasher told of the children's speaking to him about the matter. The only defence by the accused was that he was drunk and did not know anything about the matter. He was remanded. During the evidence it was said that a woman in Britain street would not allow her boy to go to court to give evidence and that she had tried to stop one of the other children from going. She was sent for and the magistrate reprimanded her for attempting to interfere.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mrs. Louise Ramsay announces the engagement of her youngest daughter, Louise Frederica, to W. R. Allen, both of this city, the wedding to take place early in September.

Major J. S. and Mrs. Frost announce the engagement of their daughter, Marion Margaret, to G. D. Jones, of this city, the wedding to take place on September 28th.

Sackville Post--Mr. and Mrs. F. W. W. Desbarres, Sackville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Netra Frederica, to Claude V. Colwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Colwell, Halifax, the marriage to take place in the latter part of September.

Frederick Glenier--Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wright, Plaster Rock, announce the engagement of their daughter, Winifred Elizabeth, to A. A. Pickard, Fredericton. The marriage is to take place early in September.

CHEMISTS CONVENTION The fourth annual convention of the Maritime Chemists' Association is to be held in Halifax today and Thursday, at the Technical College building. Among those who will address the Association during the two days will be Secretary Westman of the Canadian Institute of Chemistry, Toronto; Dr. Bates of Bathurst, N. B., and Drs. Ritchie and Melbir, of Halifax. It is expected there will be an interesting discussion on teaching chemistry in the public schools.

A PLEASANT EVENING. The members of the Last Car Club were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson, Park street, last evening. The prize winners at whist were Mrs. Moffard and Mr. Davis, while consolation prizes went to Miss Carter and Mr. O'Leary. Dainty refreshments were served and in all a very happy time was spent.

CHALLENGE. The Canadian Clovers challenge the Delhi street Giants to a game of ball to be played on the Clarence street diamond this evening.

SPLIT IN NEW CHURCH. Moscow, Aug. 30--A split is already developing in the recently formed New Life Church. A new group, called the Church of Regeneration, is being formed. The sanctioning of the marriage of bishops is the chief point of disagreement.

Expressing Your Personality

No room in your home expresses your personality more than your bedroom. It's in the furnishing of that room that your individual refinements are expressed--your preferences and tastes satisfied.

A bedroom furnished with one of the many good looking suites on display at Everett's would not only possess the essentials of comfort and convenience, but also an atmosphere of cheerfulness and charm. Make up your mind to come down and see some of these beautiful suites at once. We'll gladly show you, and you'll be surprised at the moderate cost of pieces like those illustrated above.

The Attractive Frock is an all important item of attire--an item whereby the most particular hostess is favorably remembered, regardless of the "affair" itself. Then again as a guest, as a visitor, as a traveller, a suitable frock, gown or costume is essential to fulfil the pleasure of the occasion.

There are frocks here finely fashioned from fine silks for every occasion. The new copper shade is charming. Then there are the most delicate tomato and henna shades; and if you prefer cerise, it's here too, combined with navy or black. Prices all the way from $26.00 to $58.00. D. MAGEE'S SONS, Ltd.
