is hung above and because of having no-under-shadow throws its beautiful, brilliant light everywhere. It cannot explode, can be filled while lighted and is always out of the way. It burns "old fashioned" kerosene, giving an incandescent, clear, soft light. Its soothing rays invigorate the skin and rest the eyes. It is always ready, easy to operate, no smoking, no odor, no glass-ware to remove in lighting or extinguishing. A better light at one-eighth the cost of other illuminants. Instead of the trying light and dangers and trouble of Gasolene and Acetylene use the soft, cool light of The Angle Lamp to work or play by. 20 styles. Call and see the lamp demonstrated.

LIKE MARCH TO THE TUILERIES.

Scenes in St. Petersburg's Streets Today Resemble Those Preceding the Great French Revolution.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 21.—St. Petersburg this morning presents the appearance of a beleaguered city. The military are in complete possession. The streets are lined with troops, galloping squadrons of cavalry are sent everywhere, gendarmes are concealed in all the courts and the closed factories and mills are surrounded by cordons of police and cossacks.

On every bulletin board is posted the government's proclamation warning the people against assembling.

RUMORS DENIED. ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 21.—Rumors that M. Smirnov, manager of the Putilov Iron Works had been assassinated in the night, were denied this morning. It is also declared that Father Gapon has not been arrested.

INDUSTRIAL ESTABLISHMENTS CLOSED. ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 21.—The strikers are continuing their agitation with unabated activity. Throughout the morning they have been parading the main streets of the centre of the city and closing every industrial establishment. The agitation hitherto has been carried on with remarkable absence of actual violence, the committee of the Union having issued instructions that everything be done as quietly as possible and that no personal violence be offered the police. Street traffic has been almost entirely stopped. The demonstrators filling the streets politely making way for passing soldiers.

PEOPLE IN TERROR. ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 21.—Despite the energetic measures taken to assure the safety of the city the inhabitants are a state bordering on terror. The wildest rumors regarding the intentions of the mob are afloat and many small retailers did not open their shops this morning. An edict has gone forth that no shop must open tomorrow when the great assemblage on the palace square is scheduled to take place.

While many drunken rows have occurred and a number of men have been injured, no serious collisions have been reported up to this morning. An enormous number of arrests of revolutionaries took place during the night.

ANOTHER ADVANCE IN SUGAR. A telegram from New York this morning tells of another advance in raw sugar. The telegram says: "Contractors have made a one-thirty-second advance for April shipment from Cuba." There will be a corresponding advance in refined sugar in the United States and Canadian markets.

CHILLOTTOWN'S NEW SHIPPING MASTER. OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—Captain Fred Beers, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., has been appointed shipping master of that port.

NOVA SCOTIA BANK MANAGER DEAD. (Special to the Star.) HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 21.—Frank Anderson, manager of the Royal Bank branch at Shubenacadie, died suddenly this morning of hemorrhage of the brain.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION. WANTED—To rent, 8 or 9 rooms in the vicinity of Waterloo, Union or Elliot Row. Address A. J. Star office.

have been kidnapped during the night, is understood to be at large this morning going from place to place organizing and directing everything. The extent is that the meeting shall occur on the palace square, no matter if it result in a massacre of the men. He says they must be resolved to do so. It is noteworthy that the leaders are going back to the French Revolution for their parallels. The deputations sent to Tsarskoe Selo was a march of the mob to Versailles.

The assemblage planned for tomorrow is likened to the march of the multitudes wearing red caps of liberty to Louis XVI.

While there is much talk that the troops may be overawed by the mob, the authorities do not manifest the slightest apprehension on this score. The Cossacks and the guard regiments, they declare, can be relied upon.

Two regiments of infantry have also been brought here from Riga. Nevertheless the authorities are extremely nervous, realizing that blood once spilled in the present temper of the excited men, spurred on by socialist agitators, it is impossible to predict the end. The emperor's advisors, however, declare he must put down the agitation with a firm hand and that if he yields, as Louis XVI did at Versailles, all may be lost and the present resolution of the government is not to give way.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—A second presentation to be brought against the Rt. Rev. E. Charles Talbot, bishop of Central Pennsylvania upon charges made by Dr. Irvine which is now being prepared as the result of a conference held in the city, contains, it is said, in the main, only two charges. The first is said to be "immorality" meaning "lying" and the second, "violations of ordination vows."

The first charge is based principally upon the Upjohn letter and contains 19 counts but more may be added before the paper is finally sent to Presiding Bishop Tuttle of St. Louis.

Charges of "violation of ordination vows" rest solely on the unfranking of Dr. Irvine and draws the Episcopal diocese into the controversy. The charges against Dr. Talbot in connection with Mrs. Elliott of Huntington are reiterated and several new features have been added.

There may be, it is said, a third charge, but the presenters have not yet decided on this.

INSURANCE ON ESTEY'S MILL. (Special to the Star.) FREDERICTON, N. B., Jan. 21.—There was no insurance on Estey's mill building, burnt this morning. On the machinery there was $8,000 with F. J. Morrison, divided as follows: Atlas, $3,000; British American, $3,000; Hartford, $1,000; Guardian, $1,000. Though the machinery looks very much damaged, the loss cannot be estimated until fixed upon by the adjusters. The origin of the fire is unknown. The report that it was incendiary is not generally credited. The mill has had a close call on several occasions. It is not likely that it will be rebuilt at the present time.

A correspondent complains that Policeman Ira Perry has received from the city half pay for a period during which he was laid off from work as a consequence of an injury sustained while doing private police work at the York Theatre.

communication with the outside world. Altogether the situation is most critical. Father Gapon when apprised that the government proposed to prevent the demonstration tomorrow, issued instructions to the men that they must go to the palace square with their wives and children, "but the men must be armed," he is reported to have said. "We must first show we are peaceful. We have appealed in vain to the employers and to the bureaucracy. Our last hope is the emperor himself. If he refuses to see us and orders them to disperse us then we must fight."

Father Gapon had had a guard of four hundred sworn workmen formed to protect the emperor from harm if he will come to the palace square tomorrow.

Among the rumors afloat is one to the effect that the famous Preproien-sky Guard regiment has declared it would refuse to fire on the mob, but this, like many other sensational reports pertaining to widespread disaffection in the army is not confirmed.

PONY A POINTER.

A Wonderful Trade in Broncho-Flesh Made by Englishman.

He Would Point Birds—Also He Came to Stand on Jackrabbits But His Astonounding Act Was Pointing Fish

(Bangor Commercial)

"Speaking of birds," a traveling man said the other day, as he lighted his cigar in front of the office fire at the Bangor House, "while I was down in North Carolina last month I heard of a unique game that was put up on an unsuspecting Englishman, Sir Charles Somebody, while he was on a visit to California, by a couple of gentlemen who were helping to enlarge his mental horizon."

"Judge Pierce of San Francisco told the story one day to some of us while we were enjoying the glorious view from the big porch at Battery park, Asheville. One of the North Carolinians present happened to say something about hunting for birds on horseback."

"That's a novel idea," said the judge, then, turning to his wife, he added, with twinkling eyes, "I wonder if anybody here has ever hunted on a broncho?"

"We do that out in California sometimes," he went on, "but you've got to know your broncho pretty well to make a success of it. You know, you can cure a broncho bucking, but you can't cure him of all his bad habits, and one of the tricks that is generally left behind in an ineducable habit of dropping down flat if pricked by a spur or touched with a sharp stick."

"One of the lawyers who had an office near mine when I was practicing my profession in Southern California had just such a broncho, and one day when he had a visiting Englishman in town—Sir Charles Somebody—other than the one who was helping to enlarge his mental horizon, he took Sir Charles out and gave him this broncho to ride. The Englishman was tremendously interested in everything American, and believed everything he told him. The American, in turn, was tremendously interested in everything Englishman, and believed everything he told him."

"In the course of the ride the Englishman happened to prick the broncho pretty hard and down went his steed on his knees. The American, in the meanwhile had caught sight of a covey of birds, and, being something of a wag, he soothed the startled Englishman by telling him that the broncho was the most intelligent creature, could even point at birds, and doubtless there were some in the neighborhood."

"A few days later, glancing out of my window, I saw Sir Charles, looking as though he had just come out of a shower bath, coming along the street, leading that broncho. We hurried out to the door to meet him and he told his tale of woe. He could not get used to the broncho's peculiar ways, he said, and he had come to this conclusion: his promise to take him back again. It was all right—most sagacious of the beast to point at birds and jackrabbits, but just to let him suffer before he had been fording a stream, and when they reached the middle down went the broncho. Now, why was that?"

"My friend was deeply grieved at the occurrence and blamed it all on himself. He told Sir Charles that he should have warned him before, but he had forgotten to do so. The broncho was an all-round pointer. He not only pointed at birds and jackrabbits, but for fish, too. Sir Charles said, "Fancy him come to this my friend's promise to take him back again. It was all right—most sagacious of the beast to point at birds and jackrabbits, but just to let him suffer before he had been fording a stream, and when they reached the middle down went the broncho. Now, why was that?"

"My friend was deeply grieved at the occurrence and blamed it all on himself. He told Sir Charles that he should have warned him before, but he had forgotten to do so. The broncho was an all-round pointer. He not only pointed at birds and jackrabbits, but for fish, too. Sir Charles said, "Fancy him come to this my friend's promise to take him back again. It was all right—most sagacious of the beast to point at birds and jackrabbits, but just to let him suffer before he had been fording a stream, and when they reached the middle down went the broncho. Now, why was that?"

OLD COINS. Defaced and worn silver coins are no longer taken by traders.

What shall then be done with these coins that are no longer current?

How shall traders protect themselves from loss on the silver they have?

There is in circulation in Canada a vast quantity of silver coin which has not reached the uncurrent stage.

The time must come when every coin issued this year will cease to be acceptable.

When that day comes must it all be sold at the price of old silver?

If so it is absolutely certain that Canadian coins issued by the government last year to the people of Canada, and representing an investment by the holders of $395,000, will be sold for less than $300,000.

The people who have these coins on the fatal day will lose over half a million dollars.

It does not matter that these coins become defaced at different times and in different hands.

The loss is not thereby made less. If a gold coin becomes worn and is not acceptable it can be sold for old gold at its full cost less the mere loss in weight by wear.

The coin could be beaten out of shape without materially decreasing its value.

Take it to the royal mint and a fresh coin will be given in its place.

That is because a gold coin contains its full value of metal.

But the silver coin is three-fifths token. The value never was in it.

Last year the government of Canada caused to be made silver coins of the face value of $395,295.

Material, manufacture, expressage and all expenditure connected with the operation cost about $395,000.

It was a legitimate profit or seigniorage, but it should not involve a loss on the innocent holders.

That coin should either be good no matter how much it is worn, by legitimate means, or else it should be accepted by the government with no further depreciation than the percentage of loss in weight.

That is to say, the government which gives out this silver coin at two and a half times its value as silver.

The other day a trader sold old silver coins of the face value of twenty-five dollars.

He received a little over eight dollars, suffering a loss of seventeen dollars.

New coins of the same face value would cost the government ready for delivery in this country about ten dollars.

The real depreciation was only two dollars. Yet the government made fifteen dollars out of the transaction and the trader lost seventeen.

The case in respect to copper coinage is still stronger. Old copper coins must be sold to the junk dealer for about one-eighth of the face value.

They never had in them more than one-sixth of their face value in metal.

All the rest of the price was flat value given by the government stamp.

Last year the government made $33,000 profit out of $50,000 worth of copper coins.

THE STAKELESS NEWSPAPER MAN. Alderman Macrae has set a new standard for newspaper writers.

which is would appear from his remarks in Council is only reached by the members of the Globe staff.

These are "citizens with a large stake in the community and therefore interested in its welfare."

The unfortunate editors or reporters who have not yet been able to accumulate a large stake are not supposed to care whether the city where they and their families live goes to the dogs or not.

Our equable Alderman might allow the young newspaper men at least a little time to acquire their stake.

Even Senator Ellis and their stake. Alderman Macrae is trying to get money enough to qualify, they may console themselves with the reflection that the writers on the London Times are not all large owners of real estate.

LET US GO DOWN TO THE SEA. Let us go down to the sea, ere the noisy day be over.

Let us go down to the sea, and strip us of care and of toil. There are graves in the heart of man that only the sea can cover.

There are deeds in the life of man to be shown as the deep sea spoil. Earth, the mother, hath balm for her world-stained sons and daughters.

Earth, the mother hath balm for her colicent hearts and sad. Time cannot curb nor deny God's bountiful boon of waters.

Let us down to the sea, my soul, let us down to the sea and be glad. —Virginia Woodward Cloud.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE. A PARABLE. "We must not make a scare-crow of the law."

Setting it up to fear the birds of prey. And let it keep one shape till custom make it.

Their perch, and not their terror." —Shakespeare. A sheep was slain by a wolf—at least that was the supposition—for ears that were not dead heard the cry of the dying sheep.

And the snarl of the angry wolf. Eyes that could see saw that the wolf was innocent, but he was not to do again, and that he would always feel badly whenever he saw any of the relatives of the slain sheep.

And that would be his parents and their neighbors. A man kicked his wife to death. The jury acquitted him of the murder because he was drunk when he killed her.

His wife and child had been wounded. The wolf was young and strong and so the sheep died.

The jury brought in a true bill against the wolf for "sheep-slaughter." Tried for sheep-slaughter, the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty" and the wolf was acquitted after being told that he was innocent, but he was not to do it again, and that he would always feel badly whenever he saw any of the relatives of the slain sheep.

THE STAR'S CIRCULATION BUILDERS. The Star is a newspaper first, last and all the time.

It pleases all whose hands it reaches. Once people read this they don't want any other St. John evening journal.

Its circulation is increasing with gratifying rapidity, largely on its intrinsic merits, but more particularly through the keen business instinct of the newsboys, who recognize in the Star a fast and sure seller.

These "Circulation Builders" constitute the medium through which the Star reaches the reading public. They are bright, active and pushing fellows, and no matter how large their daily sales, they are constantly reaching out for new patrons.

The youngest of the Star's carrier boys, whose portrait appears herewith is Willie Monahan, of 43 Peters street, only seven years of age, whose district comprises Peters, Colberg, Carleton and Sewell streets.

Willie has a big list of customers, but he is ambitious to place a copy of the Star, even of the Sunday, in every house on his route, and to that end will, the first of next week commence a personal canvass of the neighborhood.

He would be bought there, and in their countless minds marriages were made there as well as clothes and tooth-picks, elephants and baby food.

And so it was that they strayed in the "Walnut street corner."

Everyone knows the imposing presence which greets visitors at this particular place in this particular shop.

When they laid eyes upon, and his long coat, flower, and generally pompous air sealed his fate.

"He's him," said the groom in prospect. "I knowed we'd find him hyar."

The bride-to-be blushed. "Ast him," she cooed. The two clasped hands and swung into the paragon.

"We're ready now," said they. "What for?" asked the unbending individual.

"For th' ceremony," was the reply. "Third counter to the left, upstairs; take the elevator," began the man of pomposity. Then he caught himself. "What ceremony?" he asked.

"Why, we want to get married," said the man, while the little crowd that had gathered looked on and grinned.

"Ain't you the marryer?" The gentleman of manner blushed as red as his carnation. For the first time in his career he was off his dignity.

He showed them the door and directed the way to the court house. Then he went upstairs till the laugh died away.—Kansas City Journal.

Two Lively Games of Hockey
Last Night.

Neptunes Lose to Moncton While the Sackville Boys Do U. the Mohawk

—General Sporting News.

HOCKEY.

Over one thousand lovers of hockey, Canada's great winter sport, turned out last night for two games in Queen's rink. In the first game Moncton beat the Neptunes by a score of 2 to 1; in the second Sackville defeated the Mohawks by a score of 3 to 1.

The game between Moncton and the Neptunes was closely contested. The Neptunes were strong in combination work but weak in shooting. Crockett, Trites and Emmerson did good work for Moncton, while Wortman played splendidly at goal.

Townsend was the star on the Neptunes. Burns did good work and McNeill worked effectively, shooting the Neptunes' only goal. All played well and the game was anybody's up to the call of time.

Neptune, 1; Moncton, 2.
The line up was as follows:
Neptunes. Goal, Wortman.
Carlsle. Point, G. Trites.
Combs. Cover, G. Trites.
Howes. Right Wing, W. Way.

The game started with a rush by Moncton; the Neptunes took the puck to Moncton's end, and after considerable individual work, Crockett scored the rubber and made a fine dash down the ice and scored in three minutes. The Neptunes forced play and kept the Moncton defence busy. A diversion was caused by Crockett's skate becoming loose and a delay of five minutes ensued. Play being resumed, McNeill rushed and shot, but went to one side; Crockett soon after followed suit, and only a stop by Carlsle prevented another score. A face-off took place near Neptunes' goal and Carlsle again was called upon. Neptunes' end was relieved by a run by McNeill over Townsend. The latter shot, but Wortman blocked. Howes made a good run, and Carlsle broke up a combination of the Monctons. Townsend and McNeill again figured, but failed to locate the net. Townsend was very busy, and continually kept the crowd yelling by his rushes, but Moncton came out safe through them all. Moncton's quartette came down the ice in a perfect formation. Combs nearly broke up the combination, and a rush out of goal by Carlsle finished the railway town's little com. Barnaby got up and loading; Emmerson and Crockett came down on Neptunes' goal, and in a mix-up the puck went past Carlsle. Howes rushed from the face-off, but shot wide. Combs and Crockett went on the fence for two minutes owing to their style of attempting to circumvent one another. Neptunes' forwards were travelling fast, and had the puck in Moncton territory, and McNeill after a short run, plumped in Neptunes' first and only. The crowd went wild, and their pent-up feelings and began to smile as Neptunes' chances brightened; but despite good work by Barnaby and Townsend, no other shot was past Wortman. Barnaby made a particularly fine rush, but passed out to a vacant centre. Half time was soon called.

Townsend rushed but could not connect with McNeill. Crockett went down the ice, but Carlsle was there and delivered the goods. Wortman was again called upon to stop a hot one from McNeill, who had worked past Moncton's defence. Way took to the press bench for a minute, owing to a little scrap he indulged in the corner; and while he was off, Neptunes' forwards Moncton busy. McNeill soon trotted over to the side for 60 seconds' rest on account of slashing, and Howes' tripping was detected by the referee, and he also granted the fence, and Way. Still Neptunes could not get their second tally, and McNeill in his zeal shouldered his man a little too heavily and again went off for 60 seconds. Townsend, Brown and McNeill started several combinations, but Way and G. Trites swished them up. Brown went off for two minutes, and Carlsle stopped a hot one from Delahunt. Brown's return to the ice had hardly ly taken place, when he and "Shorty" Trites tried the trip dodger, with the result that both took no further part in the play for a full minute. As time drew to an end, Neptunes' chances grew slimmer and at 9:40 the time's whistle gave Moncton the game, and, at present, second place in the league.

Sackville vs. Mohawks.
The second game between Sackville and the Mohawks was swift and a little rough. The score is not any indication of the relative merits of the two teams. The Mohawks were weak in shooting and to this to a great extent must be attributed their defeat. Sturdee and Murray did good work for the Mohawks, as did O'Neill and the two Inches. Tufts at goal played well.

The Sackville team is fast, strong and sure. Their team work is excellent. They are all working for the team and not for individual glory. J. M. Robinson blew the whistle for this game, and the teams faced each other as follows:

Sackville. Goal, Hill.
Tufts. Point, Rainnie.
E. A. Inches. Cover, Rainnie.
Ken. Inches. Right Wing, Laidlaw.
Sturdee. Right Wing, Ayer.
Times—F. W. Wry and William Hopper.

The game opened with fine dash by Ayer, who is evidently rounding out into his old form. Stuart retaliated, but Inches blocked him. The game went from end to end, Sturdee and O'Neill doing good work for the Mohawks. Murray tried a shot at goal, but Hill was a hill in the way, too. Ayer and Norman were playing particularly fast for the visitors and after five minutes' play, Norman scored on a long shot.

The game became hotter after this, and stick and skates flew in all directions, and the Mohawks tried desperately to score. Laidlaw was cautioned for slashing, and the Mohawks attacked their opponents' goal, but with Laidlaw's return to the ice, the game went into Mohawk territory, and Stuart scored on a beautiful wing shot. Norman received a bad crack on the head and the game had to be delayed for a few minutes. Stuart soon after sent in Sackville's third score from a mix-up in front of Neptunes' goal.

The Rothsay hockey team will play High School Monday evening in the second game of the aeooyes' cup. F. G. Spencer is negotiating with the intermediate members of Amherst for a game here, with a team selected from the teams in the local league.

The Dawson Match.
Lt. Governor Snowball May Face Off the Puck.
F. G. Spencer, manager of the Dawson City hockey team, has communicated with Governor Snowball asking that he be present at the game in St. John between Dawson City and an all St. John team. It will be remembered that on both occasions when the Dawsons met the Capitals at Ottawa, Earl Grey faced off the puck and blew the whistle for the game to begin. Mr. Spencer has invited the lieutenant governor to officiate in a like capacity in St. John.

Next League Game.
Much interest will be felt in the first appearance in the city this season of the Fredericton Trojans, who are scheduled to play the Neptunes next Friday night. The intermediate Ramblers and St. James meet the same evening.

Wanderers Defeated.
HALIFAX, Jan. 20.—In the league hockey match at New Glasgow tonight the Wanderers of Halifax by a score of 6 to 1.

In St. Andrew's rink, J. E. Thomas and A. Watson, skips, played on the second round for the Jones cup, and scored as follows:
Win. Downs, Geo. McAvity, H. B. Robinson, B. M. Caldwell, W. E. O. Jones, F. C. Jones, E. A. Schofield, C. McL. Troop, A. Watson, J. W. Thomas, skip.....9 skip.....12

THE KING.
CHELSEA, Mass., Jan. 20.—George Gunther of Melrose threw up the sponge in the eleventh round of his bout with Sam Langford of Cambridge, before the Douglas Athletic Club tonight. The fight was scheduled for fifteen rounds.

Haverhill, Mass., Jan. 20.—After a warmly contested bout lasting 35 rounds, York's Harry Lawrence was awarded the decision over Jimmy Burke, also of Lawrence, before the Haverhill Athletic Club tonight. This was the first contest between these boxers, two being draws, and the other two won by Burke.

MARLBORO, Mass., Jan. 20.—Billy Melody of Boston knocked out Fred Douglas of Savannah, Ga., in the seventh round of what was to be a 15 round bout before the Highland Athletic Club tonight.

BURNS' ANNIVERSARY.
The arrangements for the big Burns celebration on Wednesday of next week are all completed, and everything points to the affair being the event of the season. The assembly rooms will be handsomely decorated. The music for the dancing will be supplied by the York orchestra and pipers. The dance list includes waltzes, two-steps, reels and strathspeys, and schottisches. The pipes will supply the music for the reels and schottisches. The concert programme is:
Song—Gae Bring to Me a Pint o' Wine, Wm. Arnott.
Song—My Heart is Sair for Somebody, Mrs. Crockett.
Dance—Highland Fling, Major Gordon.
Song—Rantin', Rovin' Robin, Wm. Arnott.
Address—The Immortal Memory of Robert Burns, Rev. D. Lang.
Song—Scotts Waa Hae, S. J. McGowan.
Song—Donnie Doon, Eric Titus.
Dance—Gillie Callum, Alex. Lowe.
Song—Green Grow the Rushes, O. Thos. White.
Reception committee—Chief Murdoch, Mrs. Murdoch, C. K. Cameron, Mrs. Green Grow the Rushes, O. Thos. White, Mrs. Jones, Murray MacLaren, M. D., Mrs. MacLaren.

It is the intention to have some practice of the reels before the celebration. All who can be invited to wear kilts. Members of St. Andrew's Society and Clan will wear bagpipes and plaids.

EXTENDING THEIR BUSINESS.
F. Caverhill Jones returned on Thursday from Philadelphia, where he had spent two weeks. While there Capt. Jones purchased a complete equipment for a box factory which is to be erected in connection with the Jones Brewery. For some time the management of the business has been endeavoring to extend their plant, but owing to lack of space have been unable to do so. Now, however, they have secured the land on Carmarthen street adjoining the brewery, and on it will erect a big factory, in which all of the woodwork required in the business will be done. This land will also allow for great extensions in cellar space. The company hope to increase their plant to eight times its present capacity.

Capt. Jones has during the past few months been out as far as San Francisco, and has arranged for the establishing of agencies at various western points. He will leave on Monday on a business trip to Toronto.

ROUGH ON THE COMEDIAN.
"Here!" cried the low comedian, when the footpads held him up. "It strikes me you're mighty familiar with me!" "Indeed?" Well, here's something that will be more familiar," replied one of them, stuffing an old handkerchief into the victim's mouth. "It's an old one."

WOMAN'S REALM.

FADS AND FRILLS.
After the holidays are over the smart girl who has been devoting her energy to buying Christmas presents for her friends now turns her attention to her neglected self.

There are so many new little fads and frills constantly appearing that really she feels quite behind the times and that she must make haste to catch up. Naturally, then, the new thing which happens also to be the conspicuous thing becomes her first choice. That's the reason, perhaps, why one of her first purchases is a cross. Crosses that vary from two to five inches in height are among the very newest jewelry novelties of the moment.

Perhaps because the cross is now worn where the coin-purse used to be, the smart girl has conceived the idea of having a pocket on her sleeve. At any rate, that's where a small pocket is buttoned-over patch pocket—is now to be found. It is seen on both cloth and velvet coats, and is sometimes placed near the shoulder, or quite as often above the cuff. Its special use is for holding change and subway and elevated tickets, but many times it is carefully hidden from view a bit of a powder-puff and a safety-pin or two. A kid pocket looks very smart on a cloth jacket, but when the pocket makes its appearance on a velvet coat, it is in best taste to have it of the same material as the coat, though the lap may fasten over with a jeweled button.

Maybe the out-of-town girls do not know that the New York girls are carrying their opera-glasses swinging from their wrists by chains of silver or gilt, and that they are tucked away in the most fascinating of little cases. By some peculiar construction the opera-glasses when closed are as flat as a little book. Many of the cases are among the very expensive novelties of the year. They are often made of fine leather, with an applied silver or gold decoration set with baroque pearls.

And it is not only the opera-glasses that swing from the wrist of the fashionable girl today, for that is also the way that she likes to carry her muff, especially when she is dressed in the latest picture fashion. Muffs are now made to match quaint-looking shawl and shape peleries, and they look for all the world like a red reticle. The opening of the muff is at the top instead of the sides, and it is gathered on satin ribbons, which are so long that when they are slipped over the wrist the muff falls at least to the knees.

Fancy furs are all the mode this winter, and many a fur stole of last year may appear as a this season's novelty with the aid of a few accessories, such as a little chenille fringe or passementerie, a plume frill of lace and a few scraps of contrasting fur. Diamond and crescent shaped bits of fur when used as insets, toward the ends of a dress, are quite sure to bring it up to date at once. Chenille passementerie is also used in combination with fur, and may be arranged to gracefully hide from view many a worn place. Both long stoles and short cravats of fur are often finished this season with either a chenille fringe or a plume frill of old lace, and sometimes both are used.

If the girl who is abroad in the land seems to have a long, slender neck, she will be glad to hear of the new flower collars made purposely to wear with a decollete bodice. They have a way of banishing as if by magic, that too long and too plain look from the top of the throat to the décolletage, and they make a pretty new substitute for the black velvet throat ribbon.

These floral collars are made up in a variety of designs and are nothing more than a stock of silk patterned or chiffon flowers made on a feathered-stiffened gauze foundation. In some bright color they prove a very charming color note indeed when worn with an all-black gown. Many times, too, the floral collar is selected to match the flower garniture which trims the frock. For instance, if a gown is trimmed with trailing sprays of forget-me-nots, the collar is of forget-me-nots, too.

And speaking of floral trimmings for evening frocks, it is simply wonderful how beautiful they are and how artistically they are used. Silver gauze roses with sprays of frosted foliage are used to catch up the draperies of the full skirts, and also to add to the charm of a low-cut bodice. Very natural-looking chiffon roses and poppies are taking the place of lace medallions on a dress trimming, and there is nothing more charming than the berths of rosebuds or forget-me-nots mingled with a fringe of white jet. White jet, by the way, is the latest substitute for the sapphire. The glistering white jet bead is employed for effective fringes in varying lengths. The beads are also used to form a design in place of embroidery. The white jet garniture is often combined with chenille and also with gold and silver beading. It is decidedly the smart thing to use as a trimming for one of the new fluffy ball frocks of shaded tulle. The shaded tulle is the smart idea of the right now, and it is not only in evening-dress fabrics that it is seen. Shaded cloth and velvet gowns are all the vogue, and when the material of the frock does not vary from one tint to another, the coloring of the gown is repeated in varying shades in each and every one of the accessories. — Woman's Home Companion.

RECIPES.

Cranberry Jelly—Cook one cup cranberries in a double boiler, add no water to them. After they have broken to pieces, squeeze them and measure the juice. Allow one pound of sugar to each pint of juice, put it back over the fire, and when it comes to a fast boil stir in the sugar, and let it once, take from the fire, and turn into small molds wet in cold water. Serve one of these to each guest on an individual plate.

Peppers stuffed with Rice—Select green peppers of uniform size, cut off the stem-end, and remove the seeds. Throw the peppers into boiling water, cook for five minutes, then take them out, and drain. Have ready enough boiled rice to fill them to overflowing. Stand the peppers thus stuffed in a bake-dish, and dress the rice with butter. Pour a little weak stock about the peppers, and let them cook covered for ten minutes in the oven—just enough to heat them thoroughly. Uncover, leave them in the oven for five minutes longer, and serve them in the dish in which they were baked.

Oyster Fritters—For the filling of these, make a sauce by cooking together in a frying-pan one tablespoonful of butter and one heaping tablespoonful of flour. When they begin to bubble pour upon them one gill of oyster liquor, and a gill of cream—making one half pint of fluid in all. Stir until the sauce is thick and boiling, then drop in the oysters, and cook until they rattle, thoroughly. Add salt, white pepper and just a suspicion of mace, and let a well-beaten egg drop at a time, cook just a minute longer, take from the fire, and put in the oyster sauce cases, which should be hot. This is enough sauce for a solid pint of oysters. Choose rather small oysters for this. If large, cut them in halves. Currant Bread—Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter with one half cupful of sugar. Beat two eggs light, and stir into the butter, and add one cupful of milk, two cupfuls of flour to which has been added one teaspoonful of baking powder, and last two tablespoonfuls of raisins. Roll out, cut into rounds or make in a loaf, and bake in a moderate oven. Eat hot with butter. Macaroni Salad—This is a pretty and inexpensive salad, since the materials for it may be the left-overs of a day or two before. They may consist of cold boiled meats or carrots, cold boiled potatoes, green peas and string-beans. Cut the larger vegetables into neat cubes, and arrange each variety in a separate dish. Dress with a French dressing made in the portion of one tablespoonful of salt and one fourth of a tablespoonful of black pepper. Finger Rolls—To three cupfuls of boiling milk add one half cupful of sugar, one heaping tablespoonful of butter, and one half teaspoonful of salt. When this has cooled to lukewarmness stir in one cupful of sugar, and put with them one half cupful of seeded and chopped raisins. Beat in two eggs well whipped, one half cupful of milk, two heaping teaspoonfuls of baking-powder, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and enough flour to make good batter. About two to three cupfuls of flour will be required. At the last stir in one half cupful of walnut-nuts cut into small pieces and dredged with flour. Bake and ornament with whole raisins and nut-kernels. New-Year's Cakes—The ingredients required are one cupful of butter, two cupfuls of sugar, four cupfuls of flour, two eggs well beaten, one cupful of cold water, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in the hot water, and four tablespoonfuls of caraway-seeds mixed with flour. Chop the butter into the flour as for pastry, mix in the sugar, the beaten eggs, the soda and hot water, and the cold water. Make all into a dough that may be rolled out. If not stiff enough for this, add more flour. Cut into the shapes required, and bake quickly.

MAY REVOLUTIONIZE STEAM LOCOMOTIVES. The Wonderful Invention of a Southern Pacific R. R. Employee Successfully Tested. OGDEN, Utah, Jan. 18.—A new type of engine known as the Monkey motion pattern, which is claimed, will revolutionize steam locomotion on railroads, has been successfully operated on the Southern Pacific. A train of 1,500 tons was run from Ogden to Wadsworth, Nev., hauled by one of the new engines. The new type of engine was designated by an employee of the Southern Pacific. All the driving mechanism of the engine is located on the sides, making it easy of access. The train exhausts very rapidly and there is no back pressure. It is estimated that the new engine will save from 25 to 40 per cent. in coal consumption, being able to run 54 miles with one ton of coal as against 25 to 28 miles under the present system. The standard engine now in use can be changed to the "Monkey motion" with but little cost.

Replies to Rev. J. F. Floyd's Remarks On Christian Science

Alfred Farlow Thinks the St. John Clergyman Should Devote More Time to Study of the Subject

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 20, 1904. To the Editor of the Sun: Dear Sir—A recent issue of your paper reported an attack upon Christian Science by the Rev. J. F. Floyd. The gentleman opened his discussion by saying that he never condemned any system of religion without first giving it due consideration. It is not proper to proceed on the assumption that Christian Science is a mere belief, for it is indeed a science and must be so treated; therefore, to give it "due consideration" one should make sure of his understanding by his ability to demonstrate it. In the Christian Science church one is not permitted to undertake the stupendous task of a teacher without proving his understanding of the subject by at least three years' successful work in healing the sick. We judge from the gentleman's own assertion that he has never healed a single case in Christian Science to prove even to himself that he understands the subject. What would be thought of a mathematician who contradicts the premises and conclusions of mathematics and yet has never demonstrated a single proposition in that science? It is well to leave the teaching of mathematics to mathematicians and the explanation of Christian Science to the loyal and successful practitioners of that faith. The "watchmen" in the walls of Zion ought to make sure that they are really on the walls of Zion, and that their eyesight is clear before they commence their "announcements." The gentleman is kind enough to admit that he believes there is some truth in Christian Science, but he declares that much of it is not true. Whatever else may be said of the Christian Science text-book, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, it is admitted to be consistent. It takes for its premises the Scriptural teaching, "God is Spirit; God is Love; Spirit is Truth." "It is the Spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing," and thus far no critic has ever attempted to prove that any part of the book is inconsistent with its premises. It is possible that this science may differ from our critic's particular interpretation of the Scriptures, but we insist that it is in strict accord with the plain teaching of the Bible. Mrs. Eddy does not assert that what she teaches is a supplement to the Christian teaching, but that she has discovered the spiritual import of the Bible. She does not depend upon mere theory to establish her claims, but these are proven by the overcoming of sin and sickness, the only test which the Master required. Mrs. Eddy points to the fact that when John's disciples inquired of Jesus if he were really the Messiah, he did not answer by saying, "I am," but told them to go and tell John what they had seen: "The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them." Moreover, we affirm that outside the Bible, the writings of Mrs. Eddy, and those books which are based thereon, the conjoined propositions of Christian Science, namely: "God is Spirit, and Spirit is the only real life and substance," cannot be found anywhere in ancient or modern theology or philosophy, and as a writer Mrs. Eddy has been classed as number eight among the fifty most noted. It is not unlikely that "Science and Health" does present something new to the ordinary interpretation of the Scriptures, and this new interpretation is responsible for its marvellous healing. Science does not teach that the five senses are deceptive only so far as they are material. It agrees with the Scriptural statement: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit." The statement of Christian Science, "All is mind and there is no matter," is based upon the understanding that "God is Spirit, Mind," as the Scriptures teach, and that His creation is His likeness or reflection and, therefore, spiritual. It admits that everything is created, from the least to the greatest, is real, and it does not teach that man has no body, but that created things—the body included—are not what they seem to that material quality of understanding which is not able to perceive them from the God-view point, and as they really are. Paul said: "For if that which was done away is glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious." In accord with this declaration Christian Science teaches that, as we become more spiritually minded, our perception of God and creation will improve until we finally awake in God's likeness, when we shall see as he sees Heaven and earth in all their spirituality, perfection and beauty. Berkeley's theory and Oriental philosophy have nothing in common with the teachings of this science. Berkeley's pertained only to human perception and did not involve the principle of Christian Science at all. The teaching of the German philosophers was somewhat similar to the theory of Berkeley. While Christian Scientists differ from others in their understanding of the nature of sin and disease, they nevertheless recognize that these exist in erring mortal experience and must be overcome through spiritual truth. We will admit that some 300 years after Jesus' ascension, healing the sick through spiritual influence apparently ceased, not because God had changed His plans and methods, but because mortals wandered so far away from the spiritual understanding that they were not able to perpetuate these healings. The commandments of Jesus still hold good: "He that believeth on me, the works which I do shall also do in his name; these signs shall follow them that believe; in my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover." The same who were to believe and be saved were to be followed by the signs, the evidence that they understood the truth. While the Christian Science text-book repudiates the belief that God is a person in a mere humanly circumscribed sense, yet Mrs. Eddy declares: "If the term personality, as applied to God, means infinite personality, then God is infinite person, in this sense, but not in the lower sense." Christian Science not only accords with the accounts of creation given in the first and second chapters of Genesis, but gives a rational explanation thereof. Christian Science teaches that man was made in the image and likeness of God, and endorses the Scriptural teaching, "And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good." Christian Scientists believe in the Immaculate Conception, in the crucifixion, the resurrection, and ascension of Jesus. They also believe in the second coming of Christ and the Judgment, though they may differ from our friend in their understanding of the nature and purpose of these. While Christian Science does not endorse the legendary and traditional belief in a personal devil with horns and hoofs, it recognizes that mortals sometimes make improper covenants. They believe that hell is the material, discordant condition to which mortals are brought by their spiritual state; that Heaven is not reached by making a journey from one location to another, but from one condition to another—from a material to a spiritual state. Christian Scientists believe in regeneration; in repentance and the abandonment of all sin; they believe in the statement, that it was through that Jesus died, not only to manifest His infinite love for mankind, but to illustrate certain facts concerning the nature of being which mortals need to understand in order to work out their own salvation according to the Spiritual command. They also believe in the baptism of our Lord; in the observance of the eucharist. That Christian Scientists believe in (which may be found in the Manual of the Christian Science church) prayer, may be noted from the following prayer: "Thy Kingdom come; let the reign of divine Truth, Life and Love be established in me, and rule out of me all sin; and may Thy Word enrich the affections of all mankind, and govern them." Yours Sincerely, ALFRED FARLOW, MONCTON POLICE

Are Looking For Man Who Failed to Deposit His Master's Money. MONCTON, Jan. 20.—The Moncton police have been asked to be on the lookout for a young man named James Cullen, who is wanted in Port Elgin. Cullen has lived with one Nolles at Port Elgin for the past five years, and was regarded almost as one of the family. About a week ago Nolles says he gave Cullen $120 to deposit in the bank, and also favored him with an order for a suit of clothes. Cullen left the house for the ostensible purpose of executing the errand, but has not since been seen. He made use of the order for the suit of clothes, but so far the $120 has not been placed to Mr. Nolles' credit in the bank. It is stated Cullen was seen in Moncton shortly after he disappeared from Port Elgin, and is probably now in the States. At the annual meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian church last night the financial statement presented showed receipts from all sources of $6,200, with the addition of 27 to the membership during the year, making the total membership 559. A lodge of the Daughters and Maids of England Benevolent Society has been organized here, with Mrs. Geo. H. Pick worthly president, Mrs. V. E. Bond chaplain, and Mrs. Jas. H. Norton secretary and Miss Skelton treasurer.

DEATH OF J. B. GUNN. Was a Prominent Milling Man, of Dartmouth. HALIFAX, Jan. 20.—D. Gunn, proprietor of the Acadia Rolling Mills, Dartmouth, died today after a brief illness. Mr. Gunn was a native of Colchester, and came here 15 years ago, entering the milling business of A. Gunn & Co. More recently he purchased R. J. Matheson's mill, Dartmouth, where he was doing a large trade. He was essentially a kind-hearted man, with a good business acumen. Narrow minded and uninforming persons declare advertising the year 'round to be "money wasted"; those who can judge know that it is a golden investment.—Clothing and Hatter's Weekly.

YESTERDAY'S ACCIDENT.

One of the Passengers Tells of His Experience on the Unlucky Train.

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—Passengers off the wrecked train from St. John arrived this afternoon. Among additional provincial people slightly hurt were: Capt. Mulcahy, St. John; Mrs. George Whelpley, South Branch, N. B.; and L. J. Thibault, Moncton. Mrs. Whelpley's two daughters were badly shaken up. Miss Young of St. Stephen, nurse, was uninjured. Mr. Thibault, in an interview said: "I was sitting in the smoker when I noticed the wheels running over the sleepers. There was a fellow ahead of me who caught hold of the bell rope, and just at that moment the car toppled over. We were all thrown in a heap against the windows, and everybody in that car was more or less cut by flying glass. I got stunned and was out on the forehead, and as soon as I could gather my wits I crawled for the door, out of which everyone in that car made their escape. We counted it lucky that our car brought up on level ground. The wrecked train made havoc with apple trees, and I saw two of large size which were literally cut down. I am badly bruised and strained about the hips and legs." Mrs. Allen Howard of Fredericton, said: "The train was running at a terrific speed when the accident occurred. I was in the first class car, coming to Boston to see my daughter in Cambridgeport. There were two men and another woman in the same car who were badly hurt. The train was going very fast when all of a sudden the car seemed to topple over. I don't know how I got out of the car, but we got through broken windows, broken doors, or in any other way we could. It is terrible and I am scarcely able to walk." Mrs. Howard had several bruises on her face and head, and was severely shaken up. Miss Donald of Hampton is still in a serious condition. John McInnes of Rockport, N. B., was injured about the head. Mrs. Mary Nash and Mrs. Hannah Cox, Nova Scotians, were bruised and cut. HAMPTON, N. B., Jan. 20.—Miss Belle Donald, who was injured in the accident on the Boston and Maine railroad today at Durham, N. H., is the youngest daughter of Mrs. James

MOTHER WEPT

And Tears Rolled Down Prisoner's Cheeks

As Members of Tucker Family Were Called to the Stand—The Mysterious Pin. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 20.—Events of extraordinary interest followed in rapid succession at the murder trial of Charles L. Tucker today, and the climax came a few minutes before court adjourned, when Mrs. Alfred Tucker, the mother of the prisoner, failed to identify as the property of her son a stick pin which the prosecution claims was stolen from the Page home after Mabel Page was murdered. Other witnesses had declared that Tucker had worn the pin for two years before the murder. Father, mother and brother, relations and friends, were called to the stand by counsel for the defense today to establish an alibi for Tucker and to identify the pin which was a prominent feature of the case. It was while Mrs. Tucker was on the stand that the prisoner showed the first real emotion since his arrest on the charge of murder. Almost simultaneously mother and son burst into tears, the mother sobbing hysterically and her son holding his head in his hands while the tears rolled down his cheeks, which were flushed a vivid red. The incident occurred when Mr. Vinoy asked Mrs. Tucker if she could identify her son's yachting cap, which he handed her. Mrs. Tucker soon regained control of herself and resumed the testimony. Tucker's father and brother were on the stand during the afternoon session, and the former's pale face plainly showed the great strain he has undergone since his son's arrest. The presentation of evidence by the defense is practically completed, and it is quite probable that tomorrow will see the beginning of the summing up of the case. EXHIBITION ASSOCIATION. The directors of the Exhibition Association met last evening in the Board of Trade building, and elected ten additional directors to assist them in their work. The gentlemen so honored were as follows: S. L. Peters, H. M. Campbell, C. A. Everett, I. Northrup, H. Gallagher, F. A. Dykeman, J. M. Johnson, G. A. Kimball, J. W. Myers and Dr. G. A. Hetherington. The directors will meet on Friday evening next to elect the officers of the association for the ensuing year.

Premier Admits That Ross Administration is Bad, But Urge: People to Support Him.

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—At a meeting, large but disappointing to the promoters in matters of enthusiasm, Laurier tonight joined hands with Premier Ross and gave his endorsement to him and his administration with all it involves. Emphasizing the fact that he spoke only as a private citizen of Ottawa and an elector of Ontario, he said he had read the press on both sides through the campaign and had seen nothing that should cause any liberal to change allegiance. He admitted corruption among the rank and file, but said he could better trust Ross than the conservatives to remedy that. He spoke less than ten minutes altogether. Ross spoke at length, defending the government against charges of corruption and alleging that, but as were some of the acts due to irresponsible liberals, the conservatives were far worse. Whatever evil the liberals had done, they were sorry for and would not repeat, he said, while the Tories were still unrepentant.

Barker Jewett, the aged caretaker of Union hall, North End, is mourning the loss of all his keys, not only are the door keys for the various departments of the hall missing, but also keys for the organ, printing press, etc. It is a matter of great consideration if the finder would leave the keys at Hobson's drug store.

Thos. Dunlop, plumber, Castle street, is in jail, and will appear before Police Magistrate Ritchie Monday morning to answer to a charge of neglecting his wife and family. His wife is in the hospital suffering from ear trouble, and his family were left by him and he was arrested for neglecting them. Thomsen, Secretary Wetmore, of the S. P. C. A. is working on the case.

The annual meeting of Calvin Presbyterian church, was held recently in the lecture room of that church. The pastor, Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson, presided. The various reports presented were satisfactory. The following trustees were elected for the ensuing year: J. H. Murphy, F. B. Hayward, H. McLellan, Samuel Wark, Charles C. Hannah, James Rosseter, Alex. McKenzie, Otis J. Clark and F. T. Murphy.

SALE OF DAWSON TICKETS. Many were the queries last evening during the progress of the hockey match as to the manner in which the great numbers wishing to see the Dawson City vs. All St. John game Feb. 1st were to be accommodated, as the capacity of the rink was tested last evening at the provincial league games. Manager Spencer has arranged to put out only a limited number of tickets, and these will be placed on sale Monday morning in Gray's book-store, King street. As doubtless the entire number will be sold before the day of the great match, it would be hoove all to purchase their tickets immediately.

ALL RIGHT, THOMAS. The following despatch was received by the Star this morning from Thomas W. Lawson of frenzied finance fame: BOSTON, Jan. 20.—Exact knowledge of "trusts" will cause American people to revolt. I gave it in February Everybody's Magazine. It costs me $40,000 to $50,000. Won't you add your name by calling attention to "The Magic Jimmy" Sgd. Thomas W. Lawson.

WANTS TO GO TO BOSTON.

John Callahan Has Had Hard Luck While in This City.

John Callahan was up before the police magistrate this morning to answer to a charge of being found lying in a doorway on Coburg street between one and two o'clock this morning. Callahan said that he came to the street early days ago from Pictou county, Nova Scotia. He had been working in the mines there. When he arrived in this city he had over $30, but has succeeded in stranding himself. He said that someone took his money from him and he felt so badly that he tried to drown his sorrow in the wine cup. He has evidently drowned the old sorrow only to be overwhelmed by a worse one. He asked for a chance to get out of the city and said he would promise not to drink any more spirituous liquors while in the city. He wants to go to Boston, He was remanded.

FIRE ON STRAIT SHORE. The North End firemen were turned out into the street at 7.20 o'clock this morning in response to an alarm from Box 132, situated near Miller Bros' lumber mill on Strait Shore. From the clouds of smoke that rolled over the hills, due to the commencement of work in other mills, many thought it was a serious blaze, but all the firemen had to do was extinguish a trifling flame or two, which started in the wood-box in John Boyce's house. One of the disappointments of the fire was the absence of the new chemical engine. It is all ready for action save an item or two of harness.

THAT MYSTERIOUS BEAR. That mysterious bear, which has been agitating the timid minds of the people living out Adelaide street way, on the Millville road, in a field in the land of the living, if the assertions of a man living beyond the Shamrock grounds are to be seriously considered, has been seen at the same place yesterday and that he still has that noticeable limp, the result of having injured his paw in a trap. Bearish footprints have been seen all around in the cut, the fourth paw-mark being quite indistinct.

PAULINE'S SUCCESS. Again last night the Great Pauline delighted a large audience at the York Theatre. The mind-reading was, as usual, most enjoyable, but the dramatic part of the programme surpassed any previous work of the great hypnotist. Pauline had nine subjects under control last night and their actions were so funny that the audience left the theatre with aching sides.

PAULINE IS GIVING A MATINEE this afternoon at the York Theatre. The programme is a new one, and very interesting experiments—both in mind reading and hypnotism.

NO BLANKS. A city broker advertised for a stenographer and received 31 applications. Before opening the letters he jokingly remarked to the secretary of the Currie Business University, who was present:—"We will now find out how many of your graduates are unemployed." Upon opening the letters he found none claimed to be pupils of the C. B. U. The next batch of 15 only proved one Currie graduate. She informed the broker that she would change her present position for a salary of ten dollars per week. The broker is satisfied that the C. B. U. Situation Department is properly conducted.

CALAIS PEOPLE DISAPPOINTED. The Calais correspondent of the Bangor Commercial wires under date of Jan. 20th:— It is rumored that the Canadian Pacific management has abandoned the proposed erection of a new depot building at St. Stephen and will make alterations on the present structure. The report is received with disagreeable emotions by Calais friends across the line who have long looked forward to the erection by the C. P. R. of a depot which would be a credit alike to the town and the corporation.

VITAL STATISTICS. Ten deaths occurred in the city this week, as follows: Heart disease 2 Anemia 1 Infantile convulsions 1 Cerebral hemorrhage 1 Pleurisy 1 Consumption 1 Bronchitis 1 Asthma 1 Cerebral paralysis 1 Total 10 One case of diphtheria was reported to Board of Health this week.

WILL HAVE A PLEASANT OUTING. The junior class at the Y. M. C. A. will have a pleasure outing this afternoon. They will go to Rockwood Park and vicinity. After having a good tramp to create an appetite, they will bake some potatoes around a fire. These are supposed to be the modern improvement on the Indian's pipe of peace. After this luxury they will toboggan for a while before returning home.

THIS EVENING. Pauline, the hypnotist, at York Theatre. Curling—St. Andrews vs. Thistles.

The Rev. Mr. Stackhouse will address the boys at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. His subject will be "Habits, Good and Evil."

Mrs. E. A. Benn will receive her friends on Tuesday afternoon and evening, Jan. 24, at 185 Prince William street.

BAILIFF'S SALE. There will be sold at Public Auction at 232 Brussels street, commencing at 3 p. m., Saturday and continuing until the entire stock is sold, a large stock of Millinery (all styles). Also, a large quantity of Baskets, Hats, Trimmings, Feathers and Flowers. One Glass Show Case, one Stove.
