

VON HINDENBURG AGAIN BALKED, RUSSIANS TAKE THE OFFENSIVE ON THE RIGA FRONT

ITALIAN WARSHIP BOMBARDS PORT OF DEDEAGHATCH

Railway Station and Two Ammunition Trains Blown Up at Bulgarian Town—Russians Have Turned and are Attacking on Riga and Dvinsk Lines After Definitely Checking German Thrust.

Saloniki, via Paris, Nov. 14.—The Italian cruiser Piedmonte, bombarded and destroyed the railroad station at Dedeaghatch, Bulgaria, on Friday. The warship also destroyed two trains made up of eighty cars loaded with war munitions.

London, Nov. 15.—The Italian cruiser Piedmonte has arrived at Saloniki, according to a despatch from that place to the Daily Telegraph.

London, Nov. 14.—The Serbians are falling back before the advance of the Austro-German forces, which report the capture of a thousand or more prisoners daily, a few guns and quantities of stores. They are fighting continuously, however, and are inflicting considerable losses on their pursuers.

Along the eastern front the Serbians appear to be holding their own against the Bulgarians and are making a stand on the western bank of the Morava river. So stubborn has been their resistance, the Bulgarians have had to call for assistance from the Austro-German artillery in their effort to drive the defenders out of Katchank Pass. Thus far they have been unsuccessful.

The British and French troops, which are receiving reinforcements, are also meeting with some success, and besides repulsing the Bulgarians' attacks, have undertaken small offensive movements with good results. The Austro-Germans and Bulgarians, however, made such progress from the beginning of the campaign that it will take serious work now to check them.

France and Italy, the latter having now joined her allies by sending a warship to Saloniki, are particularly anxious as to the attitude of Greece. The Russians have definitely repelled Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's drive toward Riga, and Dvinsk, and along the Dvina river, and have themselves taken the offensive, but apparently, owing to the state of the ground, have been able to make only slow progress in the marsh region west of Riga.

Along the Stry river, in the south, the Austro-Germans, by a counter-stroke, have pierced the Russian lines and captured 1,500 prisoners, according to the Berlin official statement. These strokes are about all that can be expected on the eastern front, will the soft weather continue.

On the western front there have been no events of importance.

Serbian Report
Paris, Nov. 14.—An official communication issued at the Serbian Army Headquarters, under date of Nov. 12 was given out today by the Serbian legation here. It reads:
"In the region of Ivagnitza and in the valley of the direction of Alexandrovatz, fighting continues without notable change.

"In the vicinity of Krusevac, Janakova and Kilsura, there is no change. "On the valley of Pustarka, our troops yesterday attacked and repulsed the enemy. He was also repulsed in the valley of Krivereka, and the Blinatchka-Morava.

"In the direction of Tetovo and Skopje our troops are driving back the enemy."
"On Babuna Mountain our soldiers and the Entente allied troops occupy the villages of Roeyen and Tchitcherov and the Gradsko railroad station."
A Serbian official communication given out, under date of November 11, says:
"After hard fighting our troops on the northern front have retreated in good order, before an enemy numerically superior, on a line of positions at Troglav, Matelitch, Alexandrovatz, and Jastrbac.

"Near Ivagnitza, the situation has undergone no change."
"On the eastern front all attacks of the enemy have been repulsed. The eastern front includes the right bank of the southern Morava, the Blinatchka-Morava and the northern entrance to the Katchank defile."
French Recover Lost Trench.
Paris, Nov. 14.—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:
"In Artois, in the Labyrinth, the Germans, by a sudden attack, this morning, succeeded in penetrating, near the road from Lille, one of our

ALLIES' OFFENSIVE NOT ENDED BUT GATHERING MOMENTUM DAY BY DAY IN PREPARATION FOR ATTACK WHICH WILL ROLL THE ENEMY BACK

New York, Nov. 14.—A special cable to the Tribune from its Paris correspondent says:
"The great French offensive has not ceased."
"Three days ago I left Paris, pessimistic, doubtful of the results attained in the last thrust, and questioning whether the attack that was to drive the Germans from France would be resumed."
"I returned today, after three days spent on the ground captured in Artois since the offensive began. And now I am optimistic, reassured by what I have seen, and confident that the enemy will be rolled back by a surge which gathers momentum every day."
"For Joffre's big guns are preparing the way, just as they prepared the way for the great assault at the end of September. Batteries to the right and batteries to the left, I have seen guns standing in the Artois front, almost wheel to wheel, and pounding steadily at the German trenches day and night."
"Many times, in the course of my visit, I saw the soldiers run from shelters to positions in the trenches, and peer eagerly through the crevices or cautiously over the tops of the trenches, watching the results of a particularly violent cannonade, as though they too, expected at any moment the order to charge the German lines."
"I returned to Paris more impressed than ever by the qualities of the French soldier, convinced, beyond argument, that the offensive had not ceased, and understanding, from the study of the ground, how criminal would be the waste of life in another attack on a grand scale when a little patience, under methods in use, will achieve the result at the expense of not one per cent. in blood."

French and Serb Forces Within Few Miles of Each Other While Allies Dominate The Dojpan-Strumitza Railway

Saloniki, Nov. 12, (Delayed in transmission)—The Anglo-French forces have occupied Hill No. 350, between Radovo and Strumitza, and are dominating the left side of the pass, through which runs the Dojpan-Strumitza railway. They have also taken Hill No. 516 on the opposite side of the same pass, putting the pass completely in the possession of the Anglo-French troops.

In the Cerova sector the French already hold Dibrista, Kamentol and Memeen. Yesterday they captured Sirkovo and Glusevika, south of Cicevo, inflicting heavy losses on the Bulgarians and doubling the territory occupied in this sector. By this action the French extended their line to within a few miles of the Serbian positions commanding the Babuna defile, and cut off an important Bulgarian force in the neighborhood of Phares.

Keeping Movements of Troops Secret.
Paris, Nov. 14.—Military officers at Saloniki have taken stringent measures to assure secrecy regarding the operations and movements of the troops of the Entente Allies, according to a despatch from Greece to the Temps. All suspects, including a number of irregular troops and merchants, have been expelled from the military zone.

French Near Velez.
Paris, Nov. 14.—The Athens correspondent of the Havas Agency in a despatch dated Saturday, says that news from a private source reported that the French were within 12 kilometres of Velez, Serbia, which was held by the Bulgarians.

The Serbian legation here today made public the following official communication:
"Although Velez is not yet in the hands of the French and British troops the Bulgarians are hard pressed, and the fall of the town is imminent."
"The Bulgarians have suffered enormous losses, and have requested an armistice to bury their dead."

Advances Along Whole Line.
Saloniki, via London, Nov. 14.—The French and British troops continue their advances along the whole line. It is officially announced that the proportion of wounded to killed on the allied side, so far in the Balkan campaign, is as ten to one.

Serbs Capture Tetovo But Unable to Hold It.
London, Nov. 14.—A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Saloniki says:
"The fighting yesterday between the Serbians and Bulgarians in the region of Tetovo resulted in a success for the Serbians, who occupied the town of Tetovo, capturing one gun and a quantity of stores."
"Tetovo is a point of some importance, which may have a bearing on further developments in that quarter. The Serbians success cannot fail to have an influence on the position at Katchank Pass."

"A Bulgarian attack on the left bank of the Orsava river was repulsed with heavy losses. Towards the south in the Valandovo region, the French captured several trenches."

Later.
London, Nov. 15.—A Saloniki despatch to Reuter's Telegram Company under date of Sunday evening says

KING CONSTANTINE REFUSES REQUEST OF CENTRAL POWERS

Saloniki Open Port and Greece Will Not Interfere Until Rights Have Been Transgressed—Kitchener to Present New Proposals to King of Greece?

London, Nov. 14.—Although London refuses to share the consternation which the dissolution of the Greek chamber has caused in France, no attempt is made to minimize the seriousness of the situation, nor to ignore the fact that King Constantine's action has put a definite question on all hopes of Greek co-operation in the near future.

Kitchener Special Envoy to Greece? The report that Lord Kitchener, Secretary of War, has been sent on a mission to King Constantine, to whom he will offer new proposals, has received no confirmation, but the coincidence of his departure with the Greek king's resolution to dissolve the chamber makes the supposition plausible. The report also gains interest from the announcement from several sources that an Austro-German mission has already arrived at Athens, to formulate a definite understanding between Greece and the Central Powers.

Allied Ministers Wait on Premier, London, Nov. 14.—An Athens despatch dated Nov. 12, to Reuter's Telegram Company says:
"The British, French and Russian ministers today interviewed the premier and demanded that Greece define the attitude she would observe in the event of the Allied forces seeking refuge in Greek territory, in case of a reverse in Serbian Macedonia. They insisted that no distinction be made between the Anglo-French and their Serbian allies."

"The Greek reply is not known but in view of the good will on both sides the conviction prevails that a satisfactory solution will be reached."
London, Nov. 14.—For the moment the political situation is graver than the military. The Central Powers have again protested to Greece against the landing of allied troops at Saloniki. King Constantine is reported to have replied that as Saloniki is an open port there has been no infringement of Greek rights in the landing, and that Greece will remain neutral until one of the belligerents has transgressed against these rights.

HON. DR. MONTAGUE DIES SUDDENLY IN WINNIPEG

Death Due to Apoplexy—Was Minister of Public Works in Roblin Government.

Winnipeg, Nov. 14.—Hon. Dr. Montague, who was minister of public works in the Roblin administration for a year and a half previous to its forced resignation, and had been in poor health for some time, died with tragic suddenness at his apartments in the Royal Alexandra Hotel about half past two Saturday afternoon. A maid who was working in the room at the time states that the doctor sat down on a chair after Mrs. and Miss Montague had left him to go out and do some shopping, and a few moments later he fell from the chair without uttering a word or sound, and apparently expired instantly. A physician was summoned, and after making an examination of the body, declared that death was due to apoplexy. This was the second stroke deceased had suffered during the past three months, the first attack having occurred late in the summer at his cottage on the Lake of the Woods.

NONE OF BELLIGERENTS APPROACHED VATICAN CONCERNING PEACE

Rumors that Representations Had Been Made to the Pope are Emphatically Denied.

Rome, Nov. 13 via Paris Nov. 14.—The assertion made in various quarters recently that Emperor William had written to Pope Benedict, asking the Pope to obtain a truce from the allies, was emphatically denied at the Vatican today. Officials at the Vatican declared that neither side had made any representation to the Pontiff looking for peace. They added that no negotiations for peace were taking place, and that there was no probability that pope paliers for peace would be started.

A despatch from Rome last Monday credited the Giornale D'Italia with the statement that a mysterious envoy from the ruler of one of the belligerent nations in Rome. His mission, it was added, had not been accomplished, and it was not known whether he was awaiting the reply from the Vatican, or orders from his chief.

THIRTY KILLED IN AIR RAID ON VERONA

Innocent Peasants in Italian City Murdered by Bombs Dropped from Austrian Aircraft.

Rome, via Paris, Nov. 14.—Thirty persons are dead in Verona, as a result of three Austrian aeroplanes dropping bombs on the city. Thirty other persons were seriously and nineteen slightly injured.

The bombs of the aircraft found most of their victims in the principal squares of the city, where citizens and peasants from the outlying districts were attending the market. Nineteen persons were killed by one bomb.

The aeroplanes visited various parts of the city but none of the missiles dropped by them fell near any of the military buildings.

This is the second time Austro-Hungarian aeroplanes have made a raid on Verona. Last July an Austrian machine dropped about a dozen bombs on the city and then escaped, notwithstanding a fire directed at it by the forts defending the city. Verona, next to Venice, is the most important town of the Italian compartment of Venetia and is distinguished by its striking medieval palaces.

RESULT OF VOTE ON PROHIBITION IN Nfld. STILL UNCERTAIN

Dry Vote Scores a Victory in Twillingate District—Only Two More Polls to Hear from

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 14.—Twillingate district declared its poll on prohibition on Saturday at midnight, voting 3,552 for and 3,577 against prohibition. Twillingate's quota for the movement was 2,355, so this district has given practically 1,200 votes above the required forty per cent. Two districts yet remain to report. Fortune Bay and St. Barbe. The former will count tomorrow forenoon and 1,214 votes have been polled there. The St. Barbe count may be delayed some days yet by bad weather on the northern coast. These two districts must contribute 1,765 votes to carry prohibition for the whole island, and the outcome cannot be known until St. Barbe is announced.

SAYS GERMANS WEAKER BUT NOT IN DEATH THROES

Russian Leader Says Enemy Has Lost Heart, However, and Danger of Surprises from the Foe is Past.

Petrograd, Nov. 15, via London.—General Ruzsky, who is conducting an aggressive campaign against the Austro-Germans in Russia, in an interview published in the Bourze Gazette spoke confidently of conditions at the front.

He said:
"Without indulging in prophecy, which would be imprudent, I may say that we are now guaranteed against unpleasant surprises on the part of the enemy. The time for surprises is past. But it would be irresponsible frivolity to describe the enemy as exhausted or in the death throes. On the contrary, he is strong, but not so strong that we need fear surprises either here or on the western front."

"By not advancing, the enemy is really retreating. The Germans now surrender readily, in whole companies and battalions, and this, in my opinion is an ominous sign. Their men are worn out by privations, cold and the spectre of winter, and instead of their former self-confidence show depression."

General Ruzsky said he considered the Balkan campaign merely an episode of secondary importance.

"It is not there," he declared, "that the fate of nations will be decided."

GOVT FIXES RETAIL PRICES IN FRANCE

Shopkeepers May Not Charge More than is Specified by Government Committee—Price List Posted in Every Store.

Paris, Nov. 14.—The government committee began today posting throughout France the retail prices for every classification of food, in order to prevent over-charging and speculation. The public bill-boards in Paris today bear an order signed by Prefect of Police Laurent, prescribing exactly what shall be charged until the next public notice.

Fifty-four varieties of beef are specified, with prices ranging from the equivalent of 14 cents to 44 cents a pound, the metric pound being one-tenth more than the American pound. The best butter is from 52 to 56 cents a pound, the best eggs are six cents apiece; potatoes are four to six cents a pound.

Every retail dealer must post in his store a list of prices so that it can be easily read by the public.

POPE BREAKS PRECEDENT OF YEARS AND GOES OUTSIDE VATICAN GROUNDS

Rome via Paris, Nov. 14.—Pope Benedict has made an important departure from the custom of the pontiffs by visiting the church of St. Anna, adjoining the apostolic palace, and thus going out side the Vatican precincts, according to the newspaper Giornale D'Italia. Since the fall of temporal power, one form of papal protest against the new order of things has been the seclusion of the pontiffs in the Vatican.

BOOKER WASHINGTON DIED YESTERDAY

Tuskege, Alabama, Nov. 14.—Booker T. Washington, foremost teacher and leader of the negro race, died early today at his home here near the Tuskege Institute, of which he was founder and president.

SOUTH AFRICA READY TO ANSWER NEW CALL

TRENCH BY TRENCH ITALIAN FORCES ARE BEATING ENEMY ALONG THE CARSO FRONT

Pass of Demarco, in Lagarina Valley, Captured and Enemy's Positions Along Whole Line Subject to Fire from Artillery and Aeroplanes.

Rome via Paris, Nov. 14.—The Italian war office has received the following official statement from the main headquarters of the Italian army, under date of November 13:

"Our offensive, which has been pursued with untiring tenacity along the whole front, brought us some fresh successes yesterday. In the Lagarina Valley we have occupied the pass of Demarco, and won east of this locality the mountain heights descending from Zuanatoria northwards to Liszanna. At the same time our aeroplanes bombarded Volano and Austrian headquarters.

"In Campello Valley a detachment of Alpine volunteers, reconnoitering towards Montalon, attacked and put to flight an enemy detachment descending from Forcella De Valcora. On Cordevole Height our operations continue, with the object of extending our positions to the summits of Col Di Lana and Monthief.

"On the heights northwest of Gordia fierce fighting was going on yesterday with varying fortune, around Osalavia, and below the summit of Calvario. We made about 50 prisoners, of whom three were officers.

"On the Carso we are advancing tenaciously trench by trench. Yesterday we made new progress towards Boschini, and took by assault trenches and redoubts, which we have retained in spite of violent counterattacks."

SOUTH AFRICA TO SEND 25,000 AGAINST ENEMY

Gen. Smuts Given Supreme Command of Military Expedition Against German East Africa.

Pretoria, Union of South Africa, Nov. 14, via London.—General Jan Christian Smuts, Minister of Defence, has been given supreme command of the military expedition against German East Africa. The Union of South Africa government has decided to send against the German colony as many as 25,000 men, if a force of that size should be deemed necessary.

A recruiting campaign is being planned in the Union, to raise volunteers for the overseas armies as well as for operations in South Africa.

Call for 10,000 Men.

Cape Town, via London, Nov. 14.—The government recruiting committee has called for another 10,000 men for service in British East Africa. It is said that the call was made at the request of the British government, whose available troops are now so fully occupied that it could not be expected to provide men for campaigns the world over.

REMAINS OF SIR CHAS. TUPPER AT QUEBEC

Fitting Tribute Paid to Memory of last Surviving Father of Confederation—Body to Halifax on Special Train.

Quebec, Nov. 14.—Tributes of respect worthy of the memory of the last survivor of the Fathers of Confederation were paid to the remains of the late Sir Charles Tupper, whose body arrived here this morning from England on board the C. P. R. steamer Metagama.

The Metagama arrived at port at six o'clock, and a few hours later the remains of the distinguished deceased were placed on board the Canadian government steamer Lady Evelyn, which was deeply draped with mourning, with her flag, as well as those on all the other vessels in port and on all public buildings in the city were at half mast.

The body was met on arrival by a large concourse of citizens representing all public bodies, who accompanied the remains to Lewis, where they were placed on a special intercolonial railway train and sent to Halifax, where the obsequies will take place.

Sir Charles H. Tupper, grandson of the deceased, and Lady Tupper, were present and accompanied the remains to Halifax with a party of friends, including Sir Joseph Pope, under secretary of state, who had the direction of arrangements in hand.

Among the members of the Tupper family present were: Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper and his daughter, of Vancouver; Mr. W. J. Tupper and his daughter, of Winnipeg; Sir Charles Tupper, Miss Marie Tupper, Miss Cameron, Mr. C. Gray, Mr. E. Gray, Sir Charles Stuart Tupper and Lady Tupper; Miss Frances Tupper; Miss K. Tupper and Mr. C. W. Tupper.

These relatives accompanied the remains to Halifax, and Sir Joseph Pope, under secretary of state, who had the direction of the funeral arrangements, left by the same train.

GERMANY BRINGS ON BULGARIA FOR FOOD

Surplus of Bulgarian Provisions and Fodder Placed at Disposal of Berlin Purchasing Commission.

Berlin via London, Nov. 14.—The Bulgarian markets have been opened for the supplying of the populations of Germany and Austro-Hungary with grain, provisions and fodder. By an agreement, just concluded between the Central purchasing institute of Berlin, otherwise known as the Grain Monopoly, and the Bulgarian authorities, the Bulgarian surplus of provisions and fodder will be placed at the disposal of the institute.

The first transaction covers the surplus of the 1915 maize crop, which has been purchased at a price fifty per cent. above the quotations in peace times.

The first barges already are being loaded for transportation by way of the Danube. It is stated that shipments will shortly be in progress by way of the Nish-Belgrade railroad. Bulgaria has sold to the German Buying Commission, 20,000 tons of corn for immediate export on the Danube river, according to the Overseas News Agency.

THE AUSTRIAN VERSION OF THE ANCONA AFFAIR

Berates Foreign Press for Spreading False Reports and Persists in Story that the Ancona Tried to Escape.

Berlin, Nov. 14, via wireless to Saville.—The statement issued by the Austro-Hungarian admiralty regarding the sinking of the Italian steamer Ancona, after declaring that the foreign press had spread false rumors regarding the incident, says the sinking took place as follows:

"The submarine fired one shot in front of the Ancona's prow, thereupon the steamer fled at full speed, in accordance with the order issued by the Italian authorities, which instructs ship commanders to flee or to sink the submarine. The submarine pursued the steamer and continued firing, but the vessel stopped only after being hit several times.

"The submarine allowed forty-five minutes for the passengers and crew to abandon the steamer, on board of which panic reigned, but only a small number of boats were lowered, and these were occupied principally by the crew.

"A great number of boats, probably sufficient to save all the passengers, remained unoccupied.

"After a period of fifty minutes, and as another steamer was approaching, the submarine submerged and torpedoed the Ancona, which sank after an additional forty-five minutes.

"If any of the passengers lost their lives, this was due to the fault of the crew, because the steamer tried to escape after it had received orders to stop, and then the crew only saved themselves, and not the passengers.

"Reports published in the foreign press that the submarine fired on the Ancona's lifeboats are mendacious inventions. When the steamer stopped the submarine ceased firing."

Rome, via London, Nov. 15, 122 a.

FOOD RIOTS IN DUSSELDORF

Angry Housewives Storm Shops Because of High Prices of Foodstuffs.

London, Nov. 14.—The Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company sends the following:

"At Dusseldorf a recent food riot, in which crowds of women, incensed at the high prices, bombarded the markets and shops with potatoes and stones was stopped with some difficulty by the police who were compelled to charge the crowd, arresting a number of the participants."

m.—The Italian government has sent an official communication to the neutral governments dealing with the sinking, by a submarine, of the Italian liner Ancona. The note denies that the Ancona carried any arms or any contraband, or persons in ballast military service, or that there were any circumstances justifying such an attack as a necessity of war.

CURIOS FROM BATTLEFRONT OF ALLIES

George Cobham receives interesting souvenirs from his son in France.

George Cobham of German street, West St. John, on Saturday received a letter, and a box of souvenirs from his son Corporal H. B. Cobham, who is the mail orderly with the Strathcona Horse now fighting the Germans in Belgium. The letter and box were sent from Belgium on October 29th, and on that date Corporal Cobham said the soldiers were undergoing hardships because of a lengthy spell of rainy weather, and also that the Strathcona Horse were making preparations to shift to some other section of the battle line.

The souvenirs the corporal sent home were all taken from the German trenches that had been captured by British. There is an excellent postal photograph of a young woman and her son, apparently the wife and son of some British soldier for the writing on the back of the picture is in English, and says: "If this happens to stop a bullet, don't forget to send me the bullet."

There is also a pretty watch chain made out of two Belgian and one French cartridge. These cartridges are much smaller than those used by the British forces, and are narrow; the French cartridge is made of solid copper, while the Belgian are of steel. Another interesting curio in the box is a time nose of an aeroplane shell. The shell had been dropped from a German aeroplane and exploded near where Corporal Cobham had been fighting and he thus secured the nose with the time marks on it. The young soldier also sent a number of articles including stripes, small flags, numbers and names in brass such as are worn on the collars and sleeves of the soldiers who have died in the trenches.

In an envelope Corporal Cobham sent three German picture postals which he secured in a captured trench. Two of these show German soldiers with their sweaters, while the third card is a picture of the baby murderer Emperor William surrounded with a laurel wreath, and a crown in the shape of an halo, also the German flags, the eagle and a couple of soldiers. The writing on the backs of the cards are in the German language, and from the post marks were mailed to the German soldiers in the trenches on the third day of last March.

George Cobham resides at 97 German street, and is proud of his three sons fighting for their King and country. H. B. Cobham is with the Strathcona Horse; A. G. Cobham is with the heavy artillery under command of Major Magee in France, while another son Roy is enlisted with the Siege Battery on Partridge Island and anxiously awaiting the time when he will go overseas. There is still another son much younger than the others, but like his brothers is just as brave, for he is very anxious for the time to come when he will be enabled to enlist and wear the King's uniform.

AUTO LEAGUE AGENTS UNDER ARREST AGAIN

Charged with obtaining money under false pretences—Before Court today.

Harold C. Cattrell and Roy M. Grey were arrested late Saturday night by Police Inspector Wickham on the charge of obtaining money under false pretences. The men were locked up in cells at police headquarters where they spent the night and yesterday will appear in the Police Court this morning.

Cattrell and Grey were arrested about a week ago on the charge of doing business in the city without a license, the evidence for the prosecution and the defence was all in on Friday afternoon last and the magistrate stated that he would give a judgment on Tuesday afternoon.

Cattrell stated in the court that he was general manager for eastern Canada for the Industrial Automobile League of Canada with head offices at Bridgeburg, Ont. The business was to procure members for the league at a ten dollar membership fee, and automobile owners by becoming members of the league could procure supplies at a remarkably lower price than they could from the local dealers.

As a result of the inducements put forth quite a number of prominent gentlemen in the city became members during the past couple of weeks but so far have not received any great benefit.

It was also stated in court by the defendant Cattrell that Grey was in his employ and that City McIntyre, a Sydney street dealer, who paid in sum of money was to be the sole agent for the league in St. John. As near as could be learned yesterday from some prominent automobilists Mr. McIntyre has not been the only person who has been approached with the proposition to be the St. John agent, but that a couple of other gentlemen have paid the league representatives certain sums of money for that privilege, but if this was the reason the two men have been arrested for obtaining money under false pretences, could not be learned at police headquarters last night. The police would give no further information other than the charge mentioned in the warrants.

The Standard, however, has learned that Messrs. Grey and Cattrell have been working Nova Scotia with Halifax as the chief city and that a large number of gentlemen in the sister city have been induced to become members of the league, and from information received from Halifax there are a number of men in that city who claim that they have not been used well and have made inquiries if these two agents were in St. John.

The case promises to be a most interesting one before it is finished, and while only practically a small number of car owners in St. John have joined the league those in Halifax who intimate that they have made contributions to the agents will, no doubt, watch the present case very closely.

TWO FAITH HEALERS CONVICTED IN GERMANY

Christian Scientists Who Attended Two Popular Addresses Sent to Prison for Six Months.

Berlin, Nov. 14, via London.—Two practitioners of Christian Science, Elizabeth Ahrens and Elizabeth Huesen, who have convicted of criminal conduct, and sentenced to six months' imprisonment for causing the death of Nuschka Butze and Alice Von Arnauld, two popular actresses of the Royal Theatre. Owing to the prominence of these two actresses and the recent interest displayed here in Christian Science, the case proved to be a somewhat sensational one, the German papers printing several columns of testimony daily.

Frau Butze suffered from Bright's disease, and Fraulein Von Arnauld from a rare fungoid disease of the skin, which physicians testified was incurable. They voluntarily placed themselves under the care of the Christian Science practitioners, who attended them until shortly before their deaths.

The medical experts generally testified that under the customary treatment the lives of both women would have been greatly prolonged, and on this testimony the court found the defendants guilty.

EXCELLENT CONCERT IN OPERA HOUSE FOR PATRIOTIC FUNDS

The Opera House was crowded both afternoon and evening yesterday when two grand sacred concerts were given under the auspices of the postmaster and the staff of the local post office.

The Opera House was crowded both afternoon and evening yesterday when two grand sacred concerts were given under the auspices of the postmaster and the staff of the local post office. The different numbers were heartily enjoyed and a good sum was collected to be devoted to patriotic funds.

Edward Sears was chairman and in the evening there was a short patriotic address by His Worship Mayor Fris. In the afternoon solos were rendered by Madame Furlong-Schmidt, Miss Belle Amour and Mrs. E. L. Gerow, with obligato solo by Mrs. Thos. Gunn. All these singers were heartily applauded and encored many times. The rendering of the patriotic and sacred songs were well appreciated by the audience. Herbert Mayes and Frederick Joyce also sang splendidly and received warm applause. A number of the volunteers who had offered to sing at the afternoon concert could not be present owing to unforeseen difficulties but willing substitutes were secured and the program was carried out very successfully. D. Arnold Fox and Miss Ellen Lynch accompanied the soloists.

At the evening concert the 52nd Regimental Band rendered some patriotic airs which were enjoyed by the audience. His Worship the Mayor gave a short address and solos followed by Quartermaster Bergt. King of 52nd Battalion, and Dr. W. P. Bonnell. Miss Alice Kennedy, leading lady of the Partello Stock Company, gave a splendid reading, her charming manner and personality adding much to the pleasure of those present. St. David's choir, with 40 voices, under the leadership of Miss Blenda Thompson, rendered the anthem, "Hark, Hark, My Soul," in a splendid manner and received the hearty applause due them. Both programs closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

At St. James' Church.

About two hundred members of the 52nd Battalion attended service yesterday morning in St. James' church, where their chaplain, Captain Allison, addressed them.

Rains and Artillery of Canada German Trenches—Enemy to Damage Our Line

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Major General Sam Hughes received the following communication from the Canadian general headquarters in France November 14:

During the week, November 5 to 12, the general situation on the Canadian front has remained unchanged. Rain fell in heavy showers at fairly frequent intervals, and at times fog prevailed, but on the whole the weather conditions showed a slight improvement over last week.

Our working parties have been busily employed throughout the area in repair work and the improvement of our drainage systems. The enemy has been actively engaged in repairing his trenches, and there has been every indication that his trenches were severely damaged as a result of the recent heavy rains. Continuous sounds of pumping and balling have been heard from his lines, and during the daytime his working parties have offered more than usual frequent targets for our artillery.

As the result of the employment by the enemy of large numbers of men on repair work there has been little machine gun and rifle fire from the German trenches and only occasionally have German snipers displayed their customary activity.

MORE FROM DR. DEARBURG

Says Wilson, with elections in sight, will press for settlement with Great Britain.

Berlin, Nov. 12, via London, Nov. 13.—The article written by Dr. Dearburg, ex-secretary of the colonies, on the note to Great Britain, reviewing in general, America's relations to Germany and Great Britain, occupies the entire first page of the Tazehblatt. Dr. Dearburg gives full recognition to the motives inspiring the American policy in the submarine controversy and speaks of Germany's "wise move giving in" in the Arabic case.

The former colonial minister is inclined to believe that "Mr. Wilson would press for a settlement with Great Britain as rapidly as possible, because this was in accord with American diplomatic traditions, because of the pertinacity of Mr. Wilson's character with its single track mind, and because of the imminence of the meeting of congress and the presidential election.

President Wilson's policy towards Germany and Great Britain was inspired, says Dr. Dearburg, "by a determination to force the belligerents to respect the anti-bellum principles of maritime law, particularly as laid down in the Declaration of London, and to regard alterations by belligerents, with out the consent of the United States and other neutrals, as unbending. America came into conflict both with Germany and Great Britain over these questions.

"The submarine question had at first to be settled, because this act, was not a question, as in Great Britain's commercial war with Germany, of replaceable wares or financial losses but of the lives of American citizens. The differences with Great Britain, therefore, were postponed until a way had been cleared through Germany's wise move giving in in the Arabic case.

Bulletin—Rome, Nov. 14.—Three Austrian aeroplanes today dropped twenty-eight bombs on the city of Verona. Twenty-eight persons were killed, thirty other inhabitants were seriously wounded and nineteen people were slightly injured. One bomb alone killed nineteen people.

A Brazen Statement.

"Apart from the fact that she shared America's considerations for humanity, Germany, apparently, gave in principally for the reason that a nation which wishes the freedom of the seas should not contribute to shatter the principles which hitherto had been maintained, even in an incomplete form, and that she had no right to expect the United States would look

SUPERIORITY OF CANADIANS AT SHIPING AND PATROLLING HAMPERS ENEMY'S PLANS

Rains and Artillery of Canadians Play Havoc With German Trenches—Enemy Bombardment Fails to Damage Our Line Although Cannonading is Kept Up For Hours.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Major General Sam Hughes received the following communication from the Canadian general headquarters in France November 14:

During the week, November 5 to 12, the general situation on the Canadian front has remained unchanged. Rain fell in heavy showers at fairly frequent intervals, and at times fog prevailed, but on the whole the weather conditions showed a slight improvement over last week.

Our working parties have been busily employed throughout the area in repair work and the improvement of our drainage systems. The enemy has been actively engaged in repairing his trenches, and there has been every indication that his trenches were severely damaged as a result of the recent heavy rains. Continuous sounds of pumping and balling have been heard from his lines, and during the daytime his working parties have offered more than usual frequent targets for our artillery.

As the result of the employment by the enemy of large numbers of men on repair work there has been little machine gun and rifle fire from the German trenches and only occasionally have German snipers displayed their customary activity.

The enemy artillery has displayed a tendency to bombard certain sections of our front line more heavily than usual, and to concentrate a considerable fire on some of the farm buildings within our area. Very little damage has been done. In every case our artillery has taken advantage of its superior weight and retailed with a heavy fire, which has effectively silenced the German batteries.

On various occasions during the period an organized bombardment of sections of the enemy trenches and defence works has been carried out by our artillery and several of the German fortified places have been destroyed.

Our patrols and snipers continue to maintain their general ascendancy over the enemy. On several occasions officers patrols have penetrated the German wire entanglements and secured valuable information as to the condition of the German parapets. Few indications of hostile patrols have been found.

The training of our troops is progressing well, and continues to receive every attention. A large proportion of the personnel of our infantry units has taken a grenade course in one or other of our schools.

In spite of the wet weather the health of our troops continues good and all ranks remain in excellent spirits.

ANCONA SUNK BY A GERMAN SUBMARINE

Act Equivalent to Opening Of Hostilities On Italy.

PASSENGERS HAD 10 MINUTES TO ESCAPE

Lifeboats shot to pieces and several of passengers killed and wounded.

New York, Nov. 13.—A cable to the Evening Sun from Rome says: "An Italian cabinet minister has informed the Evening Sun correspondent that it was a German, not an Austrian submarine that sank the Italian liner Ancona, and that the Italian government regards the Ancona sinking as the opening of hostilities by Germany against Italy without any declaration of war having been made."

"That other Italian vessels reported sunk by Austrian submarines really were victims of German U boats also asserted. One of these ships sunk, not previously announced, is said to be the Ancona, bound for Port Said from Genoa, which was sunk November 9. Fifteen of the crew and six passengers are missing."

No Americans Among Them.

London, Nov. 13.—A despatch from the island of Malta to Reuters Telegram Company says: "There are no American survivors of the Italian steamer Ancona here. It is learned from a reliable source, however, that one American was drowned or is missing."

At Least Fifty Shots Fired.

Paris, Nov. 13.—A connected story of the shelling and torpedoing of the Italian liner Ancona was received by the Havas News Agency from Ferryville, where it was filed on November 11.

"The Ancona left Messina at 8 a. m. on November 6. About 10.30 o'clock on the morning of November 7 she picked a wireless distress signal from the steamship France reading 'S. O. S. we are being shelled, the sea being calm and the weather misty.'"

"The message ended abruptly, without the position of the France being given, so that it was impossible for the Ancona to go to her assistance. The Ancona continued on her route for an hour afterwards, the sea being calm and the weather misty."

"Without any sort of a warning the report of a gun was heard, and shells simultaneously struck the Ancona forward, causing considerable damage. The wireless operator, without an instant delay, sent out a distress signal, with the name of the ship and her position. The submarine appeared nearer the Ancona, keeping up a continuous fire. First the wireless telegraph apparatus was demolished and then the lifeboats were shot to pieces, a number of passengers being killed and wounded."

"Eighty shots, at least, were fired, until the Ancona stopped."

"The submarine then hoisted the Austrian colors and her commander announced that he would allow ten minutes for all to quit the ship. The Ancona was then shelled again, and after the wounded had been placed in them the passengers and crew followed. This was going on for half an hour when the submarine fired a torpedo which struck the Ancona on the bow. The ship sank gradually and disappeared beneath the waves at 2.30."

"The submarine then steamed away. Towards 6 o'clock in the evening the mine layer Pluton, which had picked up the Ancona's distress message, arrived on the scene. Most of the survivors thus were rescued close to the place where the steamer sank."

Only One American Saved?

Rome, Nov. 14.—Of ten Americans who were on board the Italian steamer Ancona, when she was sunk by a submarine off the Tunisian coast only one was saved, according to a statement issued today by the Italian emigration office. The statement also says that out of 507 passengers and crew of the Ancona only 299 were saved.

Berlin, Nov. 14, via wireless to Sayville.—The Austro-Hungarian admiral today officially announced that the Italian steamship Ancona attempted to escape at full speed, after warning shot had been fired across her bow, and that the vessel only stopped after being shelled several times by an Austrian submarine, says the Overseas News Agency. The submarine commander, it is further asserted, allowed the Ancona's passengers and crew forty-five minutes to abandon the ship, after which the vessel was torpedoed, sinking three-quarters of an hour later. The report that the submarine fired on the lifeboats is denied.

BRITISH 'SUB' EXPLOSION IN LOCOMOTIVE, THREE BURNED

Was on detached service in the Sea of Marmora—Nine of crew taken prisoners.

London, Nov. 13.—An official statement given out today by the Admiralty announces that the British submarine E-20 has probably been sunk by the Turks in the Sea of Marmora. The statement says: "Submarine E-20, which was on detached service in the Sea of Marmora, has not been communicated with since October 30, and it is feared she has been sunk. The enemy has announced that three of her officers and six men of the crew have been taken prisoners."

A subsequent official statement said: "The British submarine E-20 has been sunk in the Dardanelles. Nine members of her crew are prisoners."

Sunk Nov. 5 in the Dardanelles.

Berlin, Nov. 13, by wireless to Sayville.—A Turkish official report dated Nov. 12, announces the sinking in the Dardanelles on Nov. 5 of the British submarine E-20, which is described as being an undersize boat of the most improved type.

The statement reads: "Owing to new measures of protection taken by the Turkish fleet the British submarine E-20 was sunk Nov. 5 on the Dardanelles. Three officers and six sailors were made prisoners."

"The submarine was of 800 tons displacement and was armed with eight torpedo tubes and two quick-firing guns."

COMMITTEE TO MAKE PROVISION FOR THE RETURNED SOLDIERS

Returned not yet all in, but there appears a strong feeling against Union.

Special to The Standard
St. Stephen, N. B., Nov. 14.—A serious accident that may have fatal consequences occurred on the Washington County branch of the Maine Central Railway Saturday evening.

The regular express train for Calais had left Bangor in the afternoon and had reached Machias, where the locomotive drawing it broke down and was replaced by the locomotive of a freight train that was then on a siding bound west. This engine was backing towards Calais, drawing the train and with one of the passenger coaches next to it. When near Ayer's Junction the boiler of the engine exploded, blowing the front of the engine, blowing the end of the passenger coach. Volumes of steam and hot water invaded the coach which, fortunately, contained but few passengers, the others having moved to the rear coaches. Conductor Wm. Blake and two passengers, Hugh Drieko of Columbia Falls, Me., and E. L. Kneeland of Princeton, Me., the only occupants of the car, were caught in the volume of steam and water and severely scalded. Steam also invaded the cab of the engine, where Chas. Barstow, the driver, was burned about the legs. Hazen Hoar, fireman, escaping unharmed.

Another engine was procured and the train reached Calais about three hours later.

Conductor Blake, Mr. Drieko and Mr. Kneeland were taken to Chipman Memorial Hospital, where it was found that all three were badly burned about the head, arms and bodies, and that Conductor Blake's lungs were affected by inhaling steam. All three men are in a serious condition. The cause of the explosion has not been ascertained.

Later.

Conductor Blake died at 6 o'clock Sunday evening from septic pneumonia the result of inhalation of steam, fire and dust.

He is survived by his wife, residing in Calais. Mr. Guke is very ill of pneumonia and not expected to live until morning. He is unmarried. His father, mother, fiance and relatives are with him.

Mr. Kneeland is resting comfortably and hopes for his recovery are entertained.

MY TERRIBLE HACKING AND SPLITTING COUGH

German intrigue in Persia along lines followed in Turkey and Bulgaria.

London, Nov. 13.—A despatch from Petrograd says: "The Novos Vremya and the Rech today call attention to what they term German intrigue in Persia. They insist there is a similarity between these intrigues and those fomented by Germany in Turkey and Bulgaria, suggesting that Germany desires to drag Persia into the war, as a preliminary to grandiose adventures in the far east."

DR. DERNBURG'S SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK, FEVERISH CHILD

If little stomach is sour, liver torpid or bowels clogged.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a live, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from school to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, get it gone is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomachache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company. We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Great Britain to an observance of the maritime law without also following the same policy toward Germany. A submarine campaign, defended on the ground of the modernity of the weapon, was however, irreconcilable with the application of the London regulations.

"With the note of Nov. 5 and the two notes on the transfer of the registry of a ship and the declaration of cotton and other wares as contraband, the whole fabric which Great Britain had built up not only to starve Germany, but to hem in American trade, falls to pieces.

"The German press has raised the question whether the United States would endeavor to force compliance with her demands.

"According to the diplomatic history of the United States—and the Lusitania case is a page in this history—there is every reason to believe this will be done at all costs.

"It sometimes has taken rather long—the Alabama case took fifteen years—but here interests are at stake which do not permit of delay, and, however, unwilling the president is to make difficulties for Great Britain or Germany either, he has, as has recently been said, a single-track mind, in which there is neither turning out nor going back."

OXO

In the Kitchen

OXO CUBES are the most efficient aid to the cook. They are handy and uniform in size, flavour and food-value so that the right quantity to use can be judged to a nicety. It is surprising how quickly a cook can prepare her soups and savouries with OXO CUBES. The OXO CUBE way of cooking is as great an advance on old-fashioned methods as the electric cooker is on the coal-fire.

AWAY WITH Worthless Makeshifts

Ninety-nine out of every hundred dollars spent for elastic and spring trusses might as well be thrown away.

Close to ten million dollars a year—in this country alone—is practically wasted on such contraptions. And all simply because nine sufferers out of ten trust to a mere try-on or hasty examination instead of first making a thorough test.

A Mere Try-on is a Snare

You can't possibly tell anything about a truss or anything else for rupture merely by trying it on.

A truss or so-called "appliance" may seem alright at first and afterward prove utterly worthless.

The only way in the world you can make sure of exactly what you're getting is by making a thorough sixty-day test without having to risk any money.

The Only Thing Good Enough To Stand a 60-Day Test

There is only one thing of any kind for rupture that you can get on sixty days' trial—

Only one thing good enough to stand such a long and thorough test—

That is our guaranteed rupture holder.

We'll make one especially for you—make it to your measure—and let you try it sixty days—

We'll practically tend it to you that long—without asking you to risk a penny.

If it doesn't keep your rupture from coming out or bothering you in any way, no matter how hard you work or strain—if it doesn't prove every claim we make—then you can send it back and it won't cost you a single cent.

Made on New Principle

This guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Cluthé—is so utterly different from everything else for rupture that it has received eighteen separate patents. It is far more than just a truss. Made on an absolutely new principle.

Unlike everything else, it is self-regulating, self-adjusting—instantly and automatically protects you against every strain as your rupture can't possibly be forced out.

And in addition to this constant

Wasted on Trusses

How 60 Days' Trial Protects You Against Throwing Money Away

holding. It provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture.

Just how it does that—entirely automatically—is all explained in the free book which the coupon below will bring you.

No Belt—No Leg-Straps—No Springs

Does away entirely with the curse of belts, leg-straps, and springs. People who have tried it say it is as comfortable as their clothing. Is waterproof—will hold in the bath. Also perspiration-proof and easily kept clean.

Will Save You From Operation

This guaranteed rupture holder has so thoroughly proved its merits in nearly 300,000 cases that surgeons in the U. S. Army and Navy and physicians in all parts of the world now recommend it instead of advising operation.

It has completely cured hundreds and hundreds of people whose cases seemed almost hopeless.

The Things We Tell in Our Book

There are so many mistaken ideas about rupture that we have taken the time to sum up in a book all we have learned during forty years of experience.

This remarkable book—cloth-bound, 96 pages, 20 chapters, and 23 photographic illustrations—is full of facts never before put in print.

It deals with rupture in all its forms and stages.

It shows the dangers of operation. It exposes the humbug "appliances," "methods," "plasters," etc.

It shows why wearing elastic or spring trusses is almost sure to shorten your life.

And it tells about the famous Cluthé—how simple it is—how it ends constant expense—how you can try it sixty days without having to risk a penny, and how little it costs if you keep it.

Also gives over 5,000 voluntary endorsements from benefited and cured people.

Send for this book today—don't put it off—the minute it takes to write for it may free you from trouble for the rest of your life. Simply use the coupon or just say in a letter "Send me your book."

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

CANADA AND THE WEST INDIES.

The possibility of increased trade between Canada and the West Indies, as the result of the preferential trade arrangements now existing, forms the subject of a special report written by Mr. Watson Griffin and published by the Department of Trade and Commerce, Canada, at this time. It is seeking new markets as never before and, consequently, the information gathered by Mr. Griffin is of more than ordinary importance, particularly when one considers the comparative nearness of the markets and the success which has attended Canadian shipments to the islands.

While the West India Islands offer an especially attractive field to the manufacturers of Eastern Canada the market is also available for all the Canadian provinces, Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia are nearer to the West Indies than Great Britain or continental Europe while so far as the Maritime Provinces are concerned the market lies at our very doors. Also, each country produces what the other requires. Wheat cannot be successfully grown in a climate as warm as that of the West India Islands and it is not possible to satisfactorily produce dairy products, such as butter or cheese. The climate is also unfavorable to the production of meats. On the other hand, tropical fruits, largely used in this country and now ranking almost as necessities, grow in abundance and already have a large market here. Thus, natural conditions are decidedly in favor of a trade expansion.

The Toronto Mail and Empire, which has been giving some attention to Mr. Griffin's pamphlet, quotes statistics dealing with the present trade. It says in part:

"In 1912 the West India Islands that have made a preferential agreement with Canada imported more than $44,000,000 worth of goods, and exported something more than $41,000,000. British and American merchants found it worth while to devote considerable attention to this trade even when it was not so well worth going after as it is now. The preferential trade arrangement went into effect in June, 1913, and the statistics show that Canadian manufacturers have not been wholly neglectful of the opportunities offered them, although the war has seriously dislocated business. In order that the business may develop according to the opportunities, Mr. Griffin says that it is necessary that Canadian exporters should pay attention to little things, such as rigid accuracy in making out invoices and exact compliance with all the Customs regulations, prompt and full replies to letters of enquiry, care in packing, and fairness in dealing with complaints. Each order should be regarded as a means of creating a favorable impression that will result in more business."

If the West India market is to be secured and held prompt attention must be given to orders and on this point Mr. Griffin says that while the West Indians are in favor of this country they have found difficulty in getting from Canadian exporters the same prompt deliveries they have been able to obtain in the United States. It is necessary that this condition should be removed and also that every article sold there should be absolutely up to sample. As to what must be done by Canadian exporters if they desire to cultivate the opportunity awaiting them in the Islands the Commissioner writes:

"While the development of trade with the British Indies will be advantageous to the people as a whole because it will put money into general circulation and add to the wealth of the Dominion, the greater part of the work of establishing trade connections must be done by individuals. The Government, representing the whole people of Canada, has done its share in securing a preference for Canadian products and providing a good steamship service. Individual merchants and manufacturers must do the rest. However, the individual will only get when he sees good prospects of profits to reward him for his enterprise. From a national point of view it is important to know the total present trade of these colonies and the probability that it will vastly increase in the future because it shows the value of preference and justifies a large Government expenditure to secure first class steamship communication, but the manufacturer or merchant needs more detailed information before deciding whether there is any demand in those colonies for the products which he manufactures or distributes and whether it will pay him to endeavor to secure a share of the trade. In arriving at a decision it is necessary to know something about the character of the people, the climate and products of the different colonies and the class of goods which they import from other countries."

CONSCRIPTION IN ENGLAND?

Conscription in England is a matter that may be decided upon within the next fifteen days. Lord Derby, whose enlistment plan was depended upon to save the young men of Britain from compulsory service, has specified the end of this month as a time limit in which to secure the men he requires and if they have not come forward he will apply compulsion.

Possibly the hint that if they do not come they may be brought, will be sufficient to cause young Englishmen to awaken to a sense of the situation and the danger confronting them. Individually they may have but little interest in the war but one cannot conceive of a young man waiting to be dragged into service when he could join the colors voluntarily. Also, it must be remembered that the voluntary system of enlistment has not yet failed. More than 3,000,000 men have been called to service by it and for ordinary wars that number would more than suffice to meet the needs. But this is not an ordinary war and, consequently, cannot be judged by any precedent.

There is no doubt that in England, as in Canada, thousands of able-bodied single men, whose ties are mostly sentimental, remain at home, while others, no more eligible, have nobly responded to the appeal. It is to get these men that the processes of compulsion will first be exerted. Married men are not wanted if single men can be obtained, for the married soldier is a more expensive man to the country, while not possessing qualities in any way superior to his bachelor fellows. In the case of the married soldier the wife and family must be maintained while the unmarried man in the trenches requires only to be fed, clothed and paid. Also, there is a difference in the pensions, the rate to a married man being higher. Consequently it is argued that it is a sheer waste of money to raise an army of married men by voluntary system while thousands of unmarried young shirkers remain at home in security. In the saving thus effected compulsion will more than pay its way.

But a system of compulsory service would be utterly opposed to all the age-old ideas of British liberty and freedom. The average Briton has preferred to regard the Empire army as a voluntary force of men who, having enjoyed imperial protection, are willing to fight and die in the Imperial cause. The ideal would be shattered if compulsion were undertaken but the end might easily justify the means.

Germany, for instance, must be disheartened by the knowledge that Britain is bound to get her armies by compulsion if other means fail. France, Russia and Italy, where compulsory service has prevailed, must be correspondingly encouraged by this evidence of determination on the part of the British Empire to see the war through to the end no matter how great the cost or the sacrifice. Altogether, conscription, while it may be opposed, and very properly, on the ground stated may, after all, prove the best agency that could be adopted for the purpose of putting the greatest possible Empire army into the field under the Empire flag.

WAR COMMENT

The Balkan theatre continues to be the centre of interest in the war despatches of the day and, although no striking victories are reported from that area, yet the situation is not at all discouraging. The Serbian armies are putting up a stiff fight in the mountainous country to which they have been driven and have scored local successes which, while not of outstanding importance, suffice to show that the tide has not yet set in the direction of the enemy. In the southern field of operations the French troops have repulsed Bulgarian attacks and have captured positions of some importance.

Fighting continues on the eastern front where the Russians maintain an effective offensive against the strongest opposition the Germans can bring to bear. At the days pass it is becoming more and more evident that the German attempt to invade Russia was a severe blunder, the full weight of which will be felt when the colder weather sets in and the Czar's troops have the active assistance of their ally, "General Winter." On the western front there has been little fighting, both sides contenting themselves with artillery exchanges.

The Central Powers continue to protest to Greece against the landing of allied troops in Saloniki, but the Greek reply is to the effect that Saloniki is an open port the landing is no infringement of Greek rights and in consequence the Hellenic nation has no excuse for departing from her position of neutrality.

Upon the authority of an unnamed Italian cabinet minister it is stated that the steamer Ancona was sunk by a German, instead of an Austrian submarine which, if true, would constitute an act of vicious aggression on the part of Germany against Italy without any formal declaration of war. Italy has already sent the details of the case to the neutral countries and it is evident that Germany will read no benefit from her latest outrage on an unarmed merchant vessel, carrying no contraband and sailing away from the areas of war.

The Bugle.

The Empire needs, in this dark day of slaughter, Great-hearted men, unswayed by doom or dread. What valor has thou shown, what service brought her, To match the tribute of her glorious dead?

Thou who the loyal standard boldly flaunted, While peace around thee guarded, Like a wall; What dost thou now when Freedom is blood-haunted? Do bravest words but make thy deeds seem small?

When in the future days they tell the story Of how the brave, the hero-hearted died, When Liberty is crowned with fadeless glory, Will you be standing honored at her side?

Because you ventured all, nor sought a reason Why other men should die and you go free, Because you held not back in coward treason While comrades fought your fight on land and sea?

Amid the gallant ranks that did not waver Before the blight that shook old Britain's shore, Will you be one whose prowess helped to save her, Who went to war that war should be no more?

The troops in the harbor waiteth ready, The tumult chickens. Hear the scornful word; The foe is breaking. Lift the anchor high, steady! High tide, the ship's away. Are you aboard?

—ALBERT D. WATSON, November 10, 1915.

Fish as a Food

(Montreal Gazette, Nov. 12.) In the last few years the Dominion Government has been aiding the fishing industry with the view of having the consumption of fish in the country increased. It has made an arrangement with the railways to haul refrigerator cars by fast freight from sea-coast points to the markets in the interior accepting responsibility for the payment of one-third of the express charges on less than carload shipments. It has arranged for exhibits of food fishes, it has prepared and distributed a very large number of copies of a booklet entitled "Fish and How to Cook It," and has put in operation a large fish-breeding service, comprising over half a hundred hatcheries, which keep up the supply in the fresh-water lakes and rivers. The campaign is working out favorably and continued improvement is hoped for.

The fisheries industry was the subject of an address by Hon. Mr. Hazen minister of marine and fisheries, delivered at a luncheon of the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, on "Fisheries Day." The Minister gave a short history of the ancient calling of the fisherman, told what the Government is doing, and spoke of the value of fish as a food. He drew attention to the fact that Canada is blessed with an inexhaustible fish supply. There are the great fishing banks of the North Atlantic, with their large variety and enormous supply of food fishes. Off the Pacific coast there is the richest and largest halibut fishery in the world and the deep seas there are also stocked with many other varieties. Up the glacial-fed rivers every year swarm countless numbers of five varieties of salmon, whose coming is an astonishing sight. Last of all, there are the 220,000 square miles of fresh waters of the interior, most of which are abundantly stocked with fine food fishes. It is these inland waters that the hatcheries keep replenished.

Canada's fish supply is far in excess of the demand, and it is the de-side of the Government to have fish more generally used by the citizens. Mr. Hazen pointed out in his address that the great bulk of the fish on the Atlantic Coast is sold in a salted and dried condition, and for this the market is limited. Canadians should come to the relief by using fresh fish more extensively on their tables. Fish is a healthy and satisfying food when properly cooked, the Minister explained, and is most economical when compared with meat, which is growing scarcer and dearer all the time. What is more, the greater the demand for fish of all kinds the more cheaply can that demand be supplied, for the larger call for their product encourages the fishermen, whose source of supply is unlimited. Then, if the demand is large enough to enable dealers to ship in carload lots, cheaper transportation rates will be available.

In the United Kingdom the fish business is of enormous proportions, and Mr. Hazen attributes this fact in large part to the activities of the National Sea Fisheries Protection Association, which embraces all branches of the industry, and which advertises extensively and intelligently. He is pleased to see that a somewhat similar organization, the Canadian Fisheries Association, has been established in this country. More has to be done, however, to encourage the consumption of fish, and in this the dealers must do their part by proper advertising, says Mr. Hazen, who also draws attention to the need of fish stores in the various cities. The time has come, he declares, for up-to-date shops, where fish of all kinds, in perfect condition, and prepared ready for the oven, can be obtained by the housewife. No doubt such establishments will, in due course, be a feature in the larger Canadian centres.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Annie Horton. Belleisle Station, Nov. 12.—On the evening of Sunday 7th, the death of Mrs. Annie Horton took place at her home, Collins Corner. During the day she had been in her usual good health. No thought of illness came to members of the family. In the early evening she was about to be seated in a chair the "summons" came, and found her ready, and with the words "I am dying," she passed away. Her husband died some nine years before. She leaves one son, Charles, James Horton, of Montreal, and Charles Horton, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., are brothers-in-law of the deceased, and one sister, Mrs. Amanda Kierstead, of Belleisle Station, who was with her at the time of her death.

On Tuesday a funeral service was held at the Baptist church, Collins. Rev. Mr. Linsley conducted the service. The hymns, "Lead Kindly Lights," "Shall We Gather at the River," "Jesus Lover of My Soul," were sung, after which the remains were taken to her former home in St. Johnsbury, accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law. She was a woman ever ready to help in a good cause and had hosts of friends who mourn her sudden passing.

THE CHIEFS OF ST. JOHN DO HONOR TO THOSE WHO OINED THE EMPIRE FORCES

Grand Demonstration in Germain Street Baptist Church When Roll of Honor is Unveiled - Prominent Speakers Tell of Need of More Men in Ranks.

The patriotic service in Germain street Baptist church last evening was attended by a very large congregation and more than 200 people were unable to gain admission. The service was held in honor of the men of the church who have volunteered for overseas service, and a feature of the proceedings was the unveiling of the roll of honor by the pastor, Rev. F. S. Porter, assisted by two boy scouts, Gordon Foster and Edgar Vincent, who stood at attention, one each side of the roll, the latter being draped with the Union Jack and red sash done in fine silk. On the platform, besides the pastor were His Honor Judge McKeown, H. A. Powell, K. C., Captain L. P. D. Tilley, all of whom gave addresses, C. B. Lockhart and Captain C. P. Sanford. The church was beautifully decorated with the flags of the allies. The programme of the service, which was most impressive throughout, was as follows:—Hymn, Scripture readings, selection by male quartette, Messrs. Baker, Bonnell, Kingsmill and Leonard; prayer, solo, "By Waters of Babylon," Mrs. Helen Wetmore Neuman; notices and offertory, anthem, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee"; ceremony of unveiling roll of honor, hymn, address by Judge McKeown; solo, "Oh Divine Redeemer," Mrs. Neuman; address, Hon. H. A. Powell; National Anthem.

Reception. After the service there was an informal reception in the institute for the men of the 52nd Battalion under the auspices of the Philatheas and the Germain street Brotherhood, a large number of the soldiers and friends of the church attending this function. Dainty refreshments were served and vocal selections were given by Mrs. Neuman. This feature of the undertaking was much appreciated by the men who were unanimous in praising the excellent arrangements that had been made for their welcome.

Rev. F. S. Porter. Rev. F. S. Porter welcomed those present at the service and referred to the pleasure that he co-operation of the societies of the church and the citizens' recruiting committee had given to those who had conceived the project. He then asked Captain Tilley to speak.

Captain Tilley. Captain Tilley said he would like to refer to the reasons that had led to his appointment as recruiting officer. "The citizens' committee had asked the militia department," he said, "to name an officer for organized recruiting in the province, and he was recommended by the committee for the position. I accepted the position conditionally upon my release for overseas service immediately I am required, and also conditionally upon my salary, every dollar of it, going for the Patriotic Fund. I am proud of the result of the recruiting work in the city during the past two months, during which time 727 men have joined the ranks as against 319 in Halifax. I may mention that I have just been informed that no more recruits will be signed on for the 104th Battalion, and that recruiting will now commence for the 116th Battalion to be commanded by Colonel Wedderburn. More than 300 men were recruited to this unit and two more battalions to be formed later. There should be a constant stream of men willing to wear khaki, and I feel sure every available British Canadian will be required and that there will be enough men forthcoming."

The Unveiling. Rev. Mr. Porter then superintended the unveiling of the roll of honor and explained that, painstakingly, he had been shown by Theodore H. Bolyer, who had designed and executed the work, the frame having been donated by F. E. Holman, who has two sons on the front. The names on the roll, he remarked, represent ten per cent.

Had Palpitation OF THE HEART ALSO WEAK and DIZZY SPELLS. When the heart begins to palpitate it will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over your whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells, and if you should happen to wake up in the night with your heart palpitating, and that all gone" sinking sensation, you feel as if you were surely going to die. When you feel this way, you may be sure that both your heart and nerves are out of order, and what you require is a real good heart and nerve tonic; one that will build up and strengthen both the heart and nerve system. For this purpose, nothing can equal Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs. J. S. Nicholls, Lestow, Ont., writes: "I was suffering from a weak heart, weak palpitate, and I would take weak and dizzy spells. A friend advised me to take your Heart and Nerve Pills, so I started at once, and found that I felt much stronger, and my heart was ever so much better in a short time. I cannot praise your medicine too highly for it has done me a world of good. My husband has also been bothered with heart trouble, ever since childhood, and finds great relief by using your valuable pills. German Kultur "German Kultur persists, so long as it suits German interests, but will not stand those severe tests which try men's souls. It has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. From the towers of the Kaiser's palaces and the staves of the Kaiser's army, and the still nobler inheritance of our Empire, its truth, its freedom, comes a call, as there comes a call from the ashes of those Belgian cities burned by vandals, those harrowing scenes and slaughtered by fiends, those girls and women outraged by beasts in the form of men, a cry to the world in general, to the British Empire in particular, for help. "The Kaiser and the military factories in Germany are whittened spears, cesspools covered with hoarfrost. How fitting is that, to round out his character for infamy, the Kaiser should degrade religion by preaching and prayer for the success of his schemes. "Not in the lighs Of horrid hell can come a devil more damned In evil, to top the Kaiser." "Against his monstrous principles, and against the monster himself civilized humanity should, with one accord, with all the powers of its mind, the strength of its soul and the prowess of its arm, declare unending and uprooting war. The young men of this church who have enrolled are to be congratulated, the age of chivalry has not passed, the ancient spirit of their fathers is not dead, and the sword of justice and vengeance has leaped from its scabbard to uphold the night and cut down with unerring blow the perpetrators of the worst outrages of modern history, either of the civilized or semi-civilized mankind." The names on the roll of honor are as follows: The name of Richard Inglis will be added at a later date: First expeditionary force: Hazen Durnaby, Eric W. McDonald, Philip McA. Simms, Herbert S. Satchell, Harold J. Morrow, Hollis C. Daley, George Christiansen. In other contingents: Rev. J. H. Macdonald, H. Rutherford Simms, Robert Hunt, Ralph M. Parks, Walter C. Signalling Class. The members of the Signalling Class who have been under the instruction of Sergt. Dean, of the C. S. O., for the last four weeks, presented the instructor with two ten-dollar gold pieces, as a mark of their appreciation for his patience and industry during the course. A. B. Springer, on of the class, made the presentation and spoke of the pleasant feelings that had existed between the class and the instructor since the inauguration of the course, about a month ago, and of the sergeant's genial manner, even in the most trying times. Sergt. Dean replied that his relations with the class had been very pleasant, that the class was a bright one and had worked industriously at all times. The class then, gave three rousing cheers for Sergt. Dean. Captain W. C. Proudfoot, Divisional Signalling Officer, will conduct the examinations for A and B certificates on Tuesday and Wednesday nights of this week.

Centenary Honor Roll. A special patriotic service was held yesterday afternoon in the Sunday school of Centenary Methodist church when an honor roll bearing the names of all members of the school, who have joined the Empire forces are inscribed. The first two names are in red, indicating that Robert E. Knowles and George South had been killed while doing their bit for the suppression of militarism. The roll, which for the present is of only a temporary nature, was unveiled by Miss Sybil Knowles, a sister of Robert Knowles, and Rev. Mr. Barracough delivered an address dealing with patriotism and the part played by the members of Centenary Sunday school in the present gigantic struggle.

The honor roll contains the following names: Robert E. Knowles, George South, Louis LeLacheur, Lieutenant Frank Morton Smith, H. Leslie Crestighton, C. E. R. Addy, John W. Coupe, C. Folkins, Charles Henry Peters, Harold Crozier, Richard Hayes, Alexander Allet, Lieutenant Charles E. Leonard, Lieutenant W. J. Brown, Lieutenant R. M. Sinclair, Thomas D. Popham, C. York, Harold Young, Richard McKee, Raymond Leslie Williston, Harold Hanson, Percy Cox, Norris Peits, William J. Mahoney, Lyman Angus, Dudley George Drummond, George Chambers, L. M. Sinner, Lieutenant Gerald Anglin and Stanley Morse Smith.

Several other members of the Sunday school have offered their services and their names will be added to the honor roll as soon as they are accepted. The recruiting officers for Campbellton district are busy. Recruits in Kent. In the official report of the number of men enlisted during the last two months in New Brunswick, Kent county was not credited with sending any men, while as a matter of fact this county contributed sixty-two of her stalwart sons. The figures are as follows: South Branch, 3; Buctouche; Richibouctou, 8; Reston, 8; Coal Branch, 5; Haccourt, 13; Bass River, 3; Beersville, 1; St. Louis, 1; Emerson, 1; Notre Dame, 1; Adamsville, 3; Grandville, 4. Total 62.

PRIVATE SAVIDANT'S DEATH. Mrs. Wm. Savidant, Campbellton, has received a letter from Lieut. H. W. Ferguson, sympathizing with the family in their loss of their son and brother, Almon. Writing from Flanders on Oct. 23, Lieut. Ferguson says: "Almond has done his bit manfully and well, and now has answered the last trumpet call we all must hear sooner or later. I thought you would like to know that his death was without pain. It was instantaneous to his suddenness. He toppled over towards the man next him, saying, 'Eddie, I've got mine!' and was lowered gently to the ground, by which time life was extinct. In death his face was serene and unmarked; not that of a man who was in pain and feared the unknown."

Sir Charles Tupper's Funeral. Round trip tickets will be sold by Canadian Government Railways at one way first-class fare from St. John to Halifax. Further information on application to local ticket agents.

Synopsis of Previous Chapter.
After the tragic death of John Amesbury, Tommy is left to face the world as she comes from her death Prof. Stilliter, an agent of the interests, finds the beautiful three-year-old baby girl and brings her up in a paragon of the nation, but she is in fact a girl who is to be used as a tool for the interests to reform the world. At the age of eighteen she suddenly thrust into the world, where agents of the interests are ready to pounce on her.

INSTALLMENT XII.
And at that moment there was a sound of footsteps just outside the tent. The feet which made the sound belonged to Freddie the Ferris. With his usual good luck he appears to have arrived in the very nick of time. Professor Stilliter was not at that time to receive the kiss for his greedy touch was still on her lips.

From the station to the stockade, now who open, and a crowd of warlike barbarians, the crowd marched, pushed and scrambled, headed by the bands, and having in its midst a number of broken-down funeral-looking hacks in which, four and four, rode the most pompous and distinguished-looking visitors, smoking long black cigars, and smiling and raising their hats whenever the crowd called upon them by name.

When the head of the procession came near the tents of Celestia, she got back from the road on a little kick, it halted, and every man bared his head and began to whisper her name. The shouting brought her presence to the door of the main tent—a slender, stish figure in white, whose eyes shone with excitement and triumph, whose mouth smiled with ineffable sweetness, and who waved to her followers and adores a white and slender hand.

the arena there came at last a dribbling of genuine patriots. Tom, like their fathers, were ready to give for their country. "No," he said, "I couldn't think of it. It wasn't all smooth sailing, by any means. But you ever set eyes on me, you would be so that you couldn't speak to them—any more."

His triumphs were many. His downfalls were many. He had a great deal to say about the path of duty, and he had a look on his face, very lean now from short nights, hard work, and the constant buffetings of fate, of a young hero who has set himself to do to death a dragon.

Barclay-Barclay—we want Barclay; Barclay for President; Barclay-Barclay. Thus the boom was launched. Barclay rose from his place on the platform, walked straight up to the right hand of the man in the lift and lifted it to his lips. Then he faced the shouting and the tumult. There was no smile of triumph in his face, only a look of grim, bulldog determination and probity.

Celestia transformed her few belongings from her tent to the rear car of his train. The car ahead was for Stilliter and certain other managers and advisers. The next car was the office car. The one ahead of that was for a chosen body of select, able and pampered correspondents.

As always, an orating crowd followed Celestia to her car, or, as on the present occasion, surrounded her to it. Beside Professor Stilliter, she walked among them, talking with gentle persuasion to those near at hand. When she mounted the steps of her car they cheered her to the echo. She said to show herself several times and made little speeches before they finally dispersed and went about their business.

Tommy Barclay alone remained. He mounted the steps of the car, Professor Stilliter opened the door. "Could I see Celestia a minute?" "I'm afraid not. She's dead tired."

Behind his door Professor Stilliter started as if someone had stuck a knife in him. "Why Miss Amesbury?" asked Celestia. "Because it's your real name. I knew you when you were a baby. We were great friends. Then you went away. My father said you had gone to Heaven—so you had, but only to a place that you were taught to call Heaven. I've recognized you. I wonder if you'll recognize me. But I do now. There's no mistake possible."

She shook her head and murmured something about "nonsense," but there was something too earnest and convincing in the young man's voice and manner that what he said could not but shake and disturb her. "I'm sure you believe this, Tommy. But it's quite out of the question. I remember my heavenly home as if I had left it yesterday."

Sporting Gossip

A HISTORY OF FAMOUS RACE HORSES

The history of the English turf teems with stories of great racehorses, animals of the purest breed, in which speed, stamina, and grit were combined in the highest degree. Few, however, had such a sensational career as the Duke of Westminster's celebrated horse Orme, which died a few weeks ago at the rare age of twenty-six, and whose sire, Ormonde, was accounted the greatest racehorse of all time.

During his racing career Orme won 123,525 in stakes for his owner, and would have won much more, but unfortunately his career was marred by the act of a miscreant, who poisoned the horse while being trained for the two thousand guinea. The poisoning of Orme was the sensation of 1892, and although a reward of £1,000 was offered for the discovery of the poisoners they were never detected.

Orme's dam, Angelica, was the full sister of another great racehorse, St. Simon, which belonged to the Duke of Portland, who bought the animal for the comparatively small sum of 1600 guineas. St. Simon, like Ormonde, was never beaten, and at one time was winning in the duke a revenue of £10,000 a year. Altogether he earned £250,000.

Few owners, however, were more lucky in their purchases of racehorses than the late Duke of Westminster. Doncaster was bought by him for £15,000. Although this was a tall price, the animal won a fortune during his turf life for the duke, and then sired Band Or, which won the Derby of 1880, while Band Or afterwards sired Ormonde, which brought in another fortune.

Undoubtedly the greatest bargain in horseflesh was Eclipse, which was purchased in the first instance for seventy-five guineas, and earned with his progeny over £200,000.

Some amazing prices have been paid for famous racehorses, however. Diamond Jubilee was sold for 30,000 guineas, while it is generally believed that an ambitious breeder endeavored to acquire King Edward's horse, Persimmon, for the sum of £50,000, but was told that Persimmon was not for sale.

M. Blanc, the famous French owner, paid 37,500 guineas for Flying Fox; and when Velocity won the Doncaster Cup some years ago 20,000 guineas was offered for the winner by a foreign government and refused. Mr. J. B. Joel also refused 35,000 guineas for his racehorse Your Majesty, son of Persimmon.

Foreign countries have always been very anxious to acquire English horseflesh. The Argentine Republic bought Ormonde for £12,000, and also secured Mr. Bass's thirteen-year-old Cyllene for no less than £25,000. An Austrian sportsman paid £15,000 for Silver Gallion, while Galtee More, winner of the Derby of 1897, was sold to the Russian government for £25,000.—T.M. Bits.

MANUEL GONZALEZ

An exciting incident in the club-rooms of the Pan-American States Association in the McAlpin Hotel, New York, in which Don E. Manuel Gonzalez, formerly Consul General for Costa Rica, was beaten for fifteen minutes with a horsewhip and an umbrella by a scorned woman will be one of the interesting chapters in the trial of the separation action begun in New York by his American wife, Mme. Josephine R. Gonzalez. Mme. Gonzalez is very beautiful, her picture giving but a slight idea of the graces that charmed society when Don Manuel introduced her as his bride a year ago last August. She is a daughter of the late Samuel Lowenstein, forger "crucial and inhuman treatment."

WATERTOWN, N.Y. TEAM WINS 6 DAYS' GRIND

Boston, Nov. 14.—Alf Grenda, of Tamaqua, and Fred Hill, of Watertown, N. Y., won the six day bicycle race which closed last night. They had a total of 99 points. SPECIAL PRIVILEGES TO VISITORS TO WOUNDED FROM OVERSEAS

London, Nov. 14, (Gazette cable)—As a protest against what she describes as prison-like treatment of the Canadian wounded in a military hospital in the north of London, Mrs. Howard, wife of the agent-general of Nova Scotia, has resigned as a visitor of the Canadian Red Cross. Her complaint is that the hospital chaplain put obstacles in the way of allowing either Canadians or Australians to take a motor outing, in such a way as to question the discretion of lady visitors, and that gifts of fruit and other goods were taken from her at the gate of the hospital. Mrs. Howard asserts that the men have complained to her, though they were probably afraid to do so to others.

Lady Drummond, after visiting the hospital in question, informs the Montreal Gazette that although certain rules regarding lights and food were considered necessary, the O. C. intimated that special privileges would be granted to visitors to the overseas men, and any authorized visitor would be admitted at any time.

Lady Drummond thinks that, if anything, the Canadians are in danger of being spoiled by preferential treatment. She prefers mixing in with the English soldiers, on the ground that it is a good opportunity for them to fraternize.

FRENCH-CANADIANS

It was announced in an Ottawa despatch on Friday that the 60th Battalion would winter in St. John. This news is confirmed by the following statement in the Montreal Gazette:

Instructions were received on Thursday by Brig-General E. W. Wilson that the 60th Battalion, "French-Canadians," for overseas service, will return to Montreal from Quebec within a few days for further training here. It is not known exactly when the 60th will arrive here, but they will be accommodated at the Guy street barracks, taking the quarters vacated by the 60th.

It is not expected that the 60th will remain in Montreal very long, as they will only stay in barracks here until the barracks at St. John, N. B., are ready for occupation, when they will go on there.

The French-Canadian battalion is now well up to strength, and it is expected that they will later on take a full battalion with reinforcement company to St. John.

Auction Sales

Auctioneer R. F. Potts conducted the sales at Chubb's corner Saturday. He first offered for sale a leasehold property at No. 27 St. David street, belonging to the Sands' estate. The property was bid in by John A. Sinclair for the estate at $675.

The freehold property 55 Summer street, belonging to Macee estate, was purchased by George B. Huggard for $12,900. The judge ordered the judgment set aside with costs.

An Appeal From Germany

Lieut. R. P. Steeves, prisoner of war in Germany, writing to his brother, C. McN. Steeves, asks: "Have you heard from Sgt. Potentier, at Glessen, Germany? I understand the men are in difficulties also, having been deprived of their blankets, as a reprisal. I understand also they are in need of underclothes. Do not send me any more clothes, but if you can get in touch with these men give them a hand."

This message from Germany suggests a line of work which might well

Bringing Up Father

YOU MEAN TO TELL ME YOU DON'T BELIEVE IN MIRACLES?
YOU HEARD WHAT I SAID!

WELL - WHAT WOULD YOU CALL IT IF YOU FELL TEN STORIES AND LIT ON YOUR HEAD AND DIDN'T HURT YOURSELF?
THAT'S JUST AN ACCIDENT!

BUT SUPPOSE IT HAPPENED THE NEXT DAY TOO?
THAT'S JUST A COINCIDENCE!

WELL - THEN SUPPOSE IT HAPPENED THE THIRD TIME?
WHAT - FALL THREE TIMES?

THAT'S A HABIT!

Around the City

The Akerley Mystery.

No arrests have so far been made as a result of the shooting of Stanley Akerley, of Queens county, and the inquest has been postponed till the first of December. There is some information in the hands of the authorities at the present time, and it is hoped that by the time the inquest is resumed that the mystery will have been cleared up or a definite start made in the right direction to ascertain by what means the deceased met his death.

Stealing Rides.

William Cox was taken in custody on Saturday night by the police and detained in one of the cells at police headquarters for beating his way on the C.P.R. train from McAdam to St. John. The C.P.R. officials, as was announced some time ago are keeping a sharp look out for this sort of travelers who ride the bumpers, the blind baggage, or in any other manner ride on the trains without paying fare, and intend prosecuting every tramp caught by the railroad men. A few weeks ago a couple of men who were taken in such a manner were fined in the police court.

MANNING W. DOHERTY MUCH IMPROVED, BUT LONG REST NECESSARY

Now at his country home in Brampton, Ontario, where he will remain for some time.

Friends in St. John and elsewhere throughout the province will learn with regret of the continued illness of Manning W. Doherty, who is now at his country place near Brampton, Ontario. Mr. Doherty some weeks ago while horseback riding suffered an attack of weakness and fell from his horse suffering more or less serious injuries. He has since been under treatment and while much improved will find it necessary to take a long rest before again engaging in active business. To do this he has recently left his home in Ottawa and gone to Brampton where it is hoped the change and quiet will be beneficial.

IMPERIAL THEATRE CHANGES FORCE STORES TO CLOSE.

Because the lobby of Imperial Theatre is shortly to be enlarged by the absorption of the candy and cigar stores adjoining, the Imperial Confectionery Co. are in this issue advertising the sale of their modern store equipment. The outfit includes soda fountain, ice cream parlor furnishings and accessories, plate glass show cases, shoe-shine (most modern in town), National cash registers, mirrors, etc. The goods offered for quick sale at cash bargain prices are in perfect condition and practically new. In view of war prices on such class of fittings some unusual opportunities to save money are afforded in this enforced sell-out.

TYRANT ADDS ANOTHER TO BELGIUM'S BURDENS

Brussels, Nov. 14, via London.—Gov. General Von Bissing has imposed upon Belgium a monthly war contribution of 40,000,000 francs ($8,000,000) towards covering the needs of the army and the cost of administering occupied territories. The contributions are based upon Article 39 of The Hague convention on land warfare. The nine provinces of Belgium are held jointly responsible for the payments which will begin on Dec. 10.

HIS MONEY WAS RETURNED TO HIM BY POLICE

Only taken to save him from losing it - A happy ending.

Some few days ago a man who was boarding in a house in the North End informed the police that he had been robbed of $41 and some other articles and that the robbery took place one morning about two o'clock. The case was placed in the hands of Detectives Barrett and Briggs, like other cases that have been given to them, have successfully cleared the matter. The man who stated that he had been robbed had been drinking heavily, and in consequence that his sweetheart, according to her story, fearing that he would lose the money, gave him a quiet touch while he slumbered. The detectives located the woman, and after considerable trouble she owned up to the fact of taking the money, with no other reason than saving it for him. The money was taken from the woman and in her presence returned to the man yesterday and the couple were seen together shortly after the transaction in a very happy mood.

ANOTHER SON SHEDS BLOOD FOR EMPIRE

E. S. Peacock hears of injury to his son Hubert - Brother killed in action.

E. S. Peacock at 116 Ludlow street, W. E., received the following telegram from headquarters, Ottawa, yesterday, confirming the sad news of his son's injury. It read: "Sincerely regret to inform you that No. 63775, Sergt. W. Hubert Peacock of the 26th Battalion, officially reported wounded in left thigh, November 6th. Will send further particulars when received." Sergt. W. Hubert Peacock is a brother to Pte. Reginald Peacock who only a few weeks ago met death in the crater charge which won glory for the 26th Battalion. Many friends in the city will learn with regret of the injury to Sergt. Peacock and hope that it will not prove serious.

HON. MR. HAZEN HEARS FROM COL. MACLAREN

New Brunswick Hut Wards nearly completed - 26th Boys in his hospital

Honorable J. D. Hazen a few days ago received a letter from Franco from Dr. Murray MacLaren, in which he informed him that he had had seven days' leave after five months spent in Franco, and had spent the time in London with his wife. One paragraph in the letter was as follows: "Our work here is proceeding satisfactorily, and at the present time a building is nearly completed on these grounds, the New Brunswick hut wards. This building will be handed over to the British government and will be paid for out of the fund which the people of New Brunswick have so generously sent to me. The hut will contain a substantial number of beds, one of which you have very kindly provided. The building will be very creditable to the province and will afford very substantial facilities for work and very great comfort to the patients as compared with the tent wards." Dr. MacLaren adds that he has had a few of the 26th Battalion in his hospital and there have also been some in the adjoining hospital, and that he has heard of Major Malcolm McAvity (Mr. Hazen's son-in-law) from those who have met him at the front, and he hopes to have an opportunity of meeting him before long.

NEW BATTALION TO BE RAISED IMMEDIATELY

Lt.-Col. F. V. Wedderburn will command the 115th - Has had long experience.

A telegram received by Lieutenant-Colonel F. V. Wedderburn from the Honorable Minister of Militia, approves of the raising of an additional battalion in New Brunswick, to be designated the 115th Battalion, C. E. F. Authority is given to commence recruiting at once for this unit. Lieutenant-Colonel Wedderburn who will command the 115th Battalion will leave for Halifax this morning to confer with the authorities there in reference to this unit. Colonel Wedderburn was formerly the commanding officer of the 8th Hussars. He held this rank from August 26th, 1904, until he was transferred to the reserve list on January 1st, 1912. He has enjoyed a long military training, and his appointment to the command of the 115th will meet with popular approval. Colonel Wedderburn offered his services to his country at the outbreak of war, his application arriving at Ottawa a day or two after war was declared. Since that time he has been very active in helping the recruiting campaign, and doing everything in his power to further the interests of the Empire. His efficient work along these lines has won for him much commendation. He has been instrumental in securing many recruits for the various units raised in the province, and as head of the committee on Defence and Resources has rendered a valuable service. The lists prepared to permit those who were willing to help the country in any way, were under his supervision, and in addition to the men secured for overseas service, he registered many who wanted to subscribe to the patriotic and other funds. He was always ready to furnish particulars to those who called on him, and his genial disposition won for him many friends. There is no doubt that he will prove as efficient in the performance of his new duties as he has in other offices intrusted to him in the past, and his many friends feel satisfied that he is the right man in the right place.

ARRESTED ON FRAUD CHARGE

G. P. Black taken on instruction from Toronto police - Was engaged as a traveller.

George Pearl Black, who has been in the city and other sections of the province for the past week or more as a recruiting officer, and wearing the uniform of a lieutenant, was given a great surprise shortly before midnight when he was placed under arrest by Inspector Wickham of the police department. Black was arrested on a warrant sent from Toronto by Chief of Police Col. G. H. Grasett of that city, which stated that George P. Black, alias Brown, was wanted in Toronto on the charge of fraud, and if he was located in St. John to have him arrested and held for the Toronto police.

A Standard reporter happened to be on the ferry steamer when the arrest was made, but further than what was stated above the police authorities would not give out any other particulars. Black is well known in St. John having been employed here by a number of firms. The most of his time was spent on the road as a traveller and for the past five or six years has been away from the city, and it is only a week or so that he arrived here wearing the King's uniform and was being welcomed back by his many friends.

Shaker Flannel Blankets.

Through buying in large quantities direct from the mill, F. A. Dykeman & Co. are enabled to sell shaker blankets at the price that you would pay at a wholesale house for them. The prices run from $1.00 a pair up to $2.65. The latter quality is the celebrated Canadian wool nap blanket. This is a warm, light weight, soft blanket and almost as comfortable as a wool blanket, costing three times the price. The different prices come in white or grey and have blue or pink borders.

Gen. Sam Hughes

Moncton may have the honor of having Sir Sam Hughes address a recruiting meeting next week. An invitation has been sent to Canada's war minister and an answer is expected today. Sir Sam will leave Ottawa Sunday night for Halifax to attend the funeral of Sir Charles Tupper. On Wednesday he will go to Sussex and inspect the 104th Battalion.

ADVERTISING FOR PATRIOTIC PURPOSES

The increasing demand upon the space of The Standard for announcements of patriotic and similar undertakings have compelled this paper to impose certain conditions under which this free publicity may be granted. It is not the desire to hamper in any way the activities of those engaged in the many valuable works now being carried on, and under the conditions herewith outlined this paper will continue to assist to the best of its ability all those so engaged. "All patriotic undertakings announcements other than recruiting must be confined to a space not exceeding one hundred words each, and only one insertion of such announcement will be given free of charge. Copy must be handed in, not telephoned, not later than 3 p.m. Requests to copy announcements from other newspapers will not be recognized. All matter for which space is requested received later than the hour named or for specified position other than that allotted shall be paid for at the rate of five cents per count line of six words per line. All display advertising in connection with patriotic undertakings shall be paid for at the rate of 14c. per inch. Detailed acknowledgements of contributions will not be accepted for free publication, but will be inserted at 14c. per inch. These conditions and rates will be rigidly adhered to. No free notices will be given entertainments unless the total receipts are for patriotic effort.

THREE HUNDRED RECRUITS PER WEEK A RECORD

Lt.-Col. Fowler has had phenomenal success in recruiting for 104th Battalion.

Instructions have been received here to stop recruiting for the 104th Battalion, but Lieutenant-Colonel George W. Fowler has announced that he will take all recruits offering for the completion of that province. It is expected that the Minister of Militia, Major General Sir Sam Hughes, will inspect the 104th Battalion at Sussex after attending the funeral of Sir Charles Tupper and will be entertained by Lieutenant-Colonel Fowler and officers of the 104th Battalion. The phenomenal success which has attended the recruiting efforts of Lieut.-Col. Fowler, assisted by the able recruiting staff of the province, has not only been the means of raising sufficient officers and men to form one battalion, but also enough to justify the formation of another and with able recruiting staff of the province the completion of that perhaps a third and a fourth. Recruiting for the formation of the 104th Regiment of glorious memory commenced on October 16. With the transfer of 469 men from the 64th Battalion there is now on the strength 1,700 men and recruits are still flocking in at the rate of about 300 per week, a record as yet unequalled in eastern Canada. The military authorities in Halifax apparently do not understand how much recruiting in New Brunswick is assisted by the strong feeling of enthusiasm excited by the memory of the 104th. There is however a spirit of loyalty to the members of the old New Brunswick Regiment and people in all parts of the province associated with the number 104 a great sentiment, which has been to a great extent responsible for the good recruiting for the present battalion. There is a feeling that the double battalion regiment would be greatly appreciated by the people of the province.
