Kang-Yi Leading an Army to Intercept the Pursuing Allied Forces-Prince Chang in Command at Pekin-He Welcomes the Allies in a Friendly Manner-Chinese Themselves Report Heavy Losses in Recent Fights-Two Generals Slain.

New York, Aug. 20 .- Kang Yi, former the entrance of the allies into Pekin assistant grand secretary of the empire, and Gen. Lung Fuh Si are heading an army that is advancing from Pekin to the southeast, with the object of diverting the allies from pursuit of the emperor and the dowager empress. says a cablegram to the Journal and Advertiser from Shanghai, Aug. 19. DEPARTURE OF THE IMPERIAL HOUSEHOLD. On Saturday, Aug. 11, the imperial household left Pekin. Prince Tuan led the march with his troops, taking the emperor, the dowager empress and all the Manchu nobles. Their destination is believed to be Signan Fu, in the Shensi Province. With them left all the elements hostile to foreigners. Prince Ching was left in command at Pekin, and he welcomed the allies in a friendly manner. These reports are from Chinese sources.

DOZEN CLANSMEN BEHEADED. The empress dowager beheaded twelve of the imperial clansmen who refused to leave the capital, and were suspected of favoring the foreigners. The personal property which the empress dowager sent away filled 60 carts. Her retinue went on foot owing to the hurried advance of the al-

Yu Sien, governor of Shen Si, has gone to the frontiers of his province w

CHINESE LOSSES HEAVY. The Chinese report heavy losses in the fighting between Tien Tsin and Pekin, Gen. Ueng Hang was wounded at Pei Tseng, and died the next day. Gen. Mah was dangerously wounded at Tung Chu, where Gens. Chentcelin and Chang Cheng Fu, commanding Wu Lus vanguard were killed. The Chinese are also circulating a story that the egation guards, owing to cartridges giving out, fired silver bullets during the last days. WU TING FANG'S STATEMENT. New York, Aug. 20 .- "China recognizes the emperor and the empress dowager as her rulers. They are the government of China. I have no idea hat an attempt will be made by the Chinese to overthrow them. An oficial dispatch which I received yesterday from Li Hung Chang, announcing and the safety of the legations, also stated that before the city was attacked the court had gone to the west." This statement was made yesterday by Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister to the United States, says a special dispatch to the Herald from Washington. "I presume, from Li Hung Chang's dispatch that "the court" has gone to the west, that both the emperor and the empress dowager are meant. mere fact that the emperor and empress dowager are not at Pekin does not change the governing power of China. I sincerely trust that the powers will do nothing to remove the present ruler from the government of

STREET FIGHTING IN PEKIN. London, Monday, Aug. 20-4:20 a.m.-Rear Admiral Bruce cables the admiralty from Che Foo, Aug. 19, as follows: 'Am informed on authority of the Japanese that street fighting still continues in Pekin, part of which is on fire. Yang Sa (?) prevented the empress from leaving, and a last stand is now being made in the inner city, which is surrounded by the allies and being bombarded.'

A WARNING.

The mandarins in the southern provinces, according to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Hong Kong, have issued an important statement, recognizing the capture of Pekin as a just punishment of reactionary officials, and warning the people not to interfere with foreigners, but also pointing out that the sole object of the powers should be the punishments of the Boxand then the restoration of peace confining, however, their operations to the north.

Emperor Nicholas has wired to Gen. Linevitch, commander of the Russian troops in the Province of Pe Chi Li, congratulating him heartily upon the rapid capture of Pekin, and bestowing upon him the third class Order of St. The Russian Emperor also George. thanks Vice-Admiral Alexieff and the heroic Siberian troops.

RUSSIAN SUCCESSES.

M. Ketels, Belgian vice-consul, confirms the report of the bombardment and the capture of New Chwang by ussians. Gen. Grodokoff, Russian commander of the Amur Government, reports to the Russian war office that Chingan Pass was captured Aug. 16, after a bloody battle, in which the Chinese suffered heavily, losing four or five guns. The Siberian cavalry were in pursuit of the enemy.

The principal Russian papers, notably the Novoe Vremya, commenting upon the victory of Pekin, declare that Russia should go no further in participating in common armed intervention, but should limit her military action to the frontier and the Mancurian railing. Gen. Grodokoff, says the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times, tele-graphs a remarkable fact, which must be taken as a premonitory notice of what is probably to follow. The Russians have now conquered the right bank of the Amur, which therefore is no longer the frontier, but an internal river of the Russian Empire.

Capture of Pekin.

Tokio, Aug. 18.—Gen. Yamaguchi wires Pekin under date of Aug. 16, as follows: "Allies attacked Pekin early yesterday morning, opening with artillery on the eastern side. The wall was obstinately held by the enemy. Japanese and Russians were on the northward of Tung Chow Canal. The Americans and British were on the south side. At nightfall the Japanese blew up the two eastern gates of the Tartar city and entered. In the meantime the Americans and British entered the Chinese city by the Tung Pien gates. Detachments of each force were sent towards the legations. The parties met near the legations and opened communication. All the ministers and their staffs were found safe. The Japanese loss was over 100 killed, including three officers. The losses of the allies have not been ascertained. Four hundred Chinese were killed."

INNER CITY BOMBARDED. Washington, Aug. 19.—The navy department has received the following legram: "Che Foo .- Bureau of Navi_ gation, Washington, D. C.: Taku 18.— The telegraph line to Pekin is interrupted. Information from Japanese sources is to the effect that the dowager is detained by Prince Yung Ede in the inner city, which is being bombarded by the allies. Chaffee reports he entered the legation grounds on the evening of the 14th. Eight wounded during the day's fighting. Otherwise all well.—(Signed) Rémy."

The war department has received the following dispatch: "Che Foo, Aug. 19, via Pekin, Aug. 15.—We entered the legation grounds at 5 o'clock last night with the 14th and light battery. Eight wounded during the day's fighting. Otherwese all well.—(Signed) Chaffee." The Austrian foreign office has received a dispatch announcing that the Austrian acting minister at Pekin, Dr.

How to Improve The Complexion

A CHAT ABOUT THE SKIN.

Suppose the Goddess of Beauty should suddenly appear to you and tell you that you might choose as a gift from her one of two boons-either features cast in the most perfect form, to be combined with a complexion that was worse than doubtful, or a skin of perfect purity and delicacy, with features susceptible of improvement.

Which would you choose? It has been the complexion that was the source of charm of all the famous beauties that have been immortalized in story.

Why do we see so many yellow complexions, so many spoiled faces? A common source of mischief is the use of impure soaps, which, instead of cleansing and soothing the skin, are irritating and annoying and destructive to beauty. Ladies who desire a clear complexion must use a pure soap-and "Hazeline," the new skin food. "Hazeline" soothes, heals, makes the face and hands soft as velvet, prevents tendency to wrinkles, and gives health and beauty to the skin.

FIGHTING IN THE STREETS. Rome, Aug. 19.—A dispatch from Taku, via Che Foo, Aug. 18, says: "Fighting continues in the streets of Pekin, and the allies have bombarded the point that is still resisting. Prince Yung prevented the departure of the empress dowager. Washington, Aug. 19.-Late last night the Japanese minister, Mr. Takkahaire, received the following advices the Japanese foreign office at Tokio:

"The Japanese consul at Che Foo wired under date Aug. 17 to the following effect: The foreign forces attacked on the eastern side of Pekin Wednesday morning. The ENEMY OBSTINATELY RESISTED. In the evening the Japanese blew up the Chiao Yang gate and the Tung Chih gate of the Tartar city, and succeeded in entering. In the meantime other foreign forces entered the Chineses city by the Tung Pien gate. The ministers and staffs were found safe. The Japanese loss was over 100, including three officers, namely Capt. Michilyi and Lieut. Watanabe, wounded, while Lieut. Yasaki was The Chinese loss was about 400."

FROM CHAFFEE. Washington, D. C., Aug. 19. - From Gen. Chaffee today the war department received official confirmation of the fall of Pekin, and the rescue of the besieged legationers. Gen Chaffee makes the startling statement, anese authority, that the inner city of Pekin was being bombarded by the allied forces. Admiral Remey says also that the dowager empress is detained in the inner city by Prince Yung Edo. ADMIRAL REMEY'S DISPATCH contains interesting information in a few words. The startling feature is that fighting within the city of Pekin is continuing. The inner, or, as it is popularly known, "the forbidden city," dently had not been taken. It is surrounded by a massive wall of solid (Continued on page 5.)

In Pursuit

Japanese Cavalry Chasing the Empress.

Her Person and Treasure Protected by 30,000 Troops.

China Wants to Open Negotiations for Peace.

London, Aug. 20 .- The Japanese cavalry has left Pekin in pursuit of the dowager empress and her court, according to telegrams from the north received at Shanghai by Chinese officials. These dispatches aver that the empress and her treasure train, protected by 30,000 troops, have already errived at Wu Tai San, in Shan Si province. The field telegraph north of Yang Tsun is interrupted, and nothing under Pekin date appears to have reached Yang Tsun since Aug. 17. Heavy rains have been falling in the province of Pe Chi Li. The landing of the British troops at Changhai is not causing excitement among the natives. A detachment of 100 French marines landed there to-

A oustoms cruiser is reported to have gone to Tien Tsin to take away the toreigners rescued from Pekin.

SAID TO BE STILL IN PEKIN. Berlin, Aug. 20.-The foreign office has received a dispatch from the German consul at Che Foo, under today's date, saying the dowager empress was believed to be inside the palace at Pekin, and that the allies were still bombarding the fortifications.

FIGHTING GOING ON.

Washington, Aug. 20.-The bureau of navigation this morning received a cablegram from Admiral Remey, dat-ed Taku, Aug. 19, which says: "Authed Taku, Aug. 19, which says: entic reports from Pekin, 15th, from Lieut. Lattimer. Troops moving on imperial city. Clearing out Tartar city. All Americans who remained in Pekin are well, except one child. Reported from Chinese sources that the royal family have escaped, and are en route to Sian Fu."

For Peace.

CHINA WANTS NEGOTIATIONS BE-GUN.

New York, Aug. 20 .- A dispatch from Washington to the Herald says President McKinley is considering the advisability of proposing to the powers the organization of an international congress, which shall sit in China, and recommend to the several governments represented a permanent solution of pending questions.

Hung Chang, has made application to the United States for the appointment of Minister Conger or some other American official, with authority to open negotiations for the establishment of peace, and for fixing definite terms for the settlement of the present trouble. The application came to the Chinese minister today and was taken by him to

ALL THE POWERS APPEALED TO. Li Hung Chang's application expresses willingness to conduct the negotiations at a point desired by the powers, and it is expected that this will be Pekin or Tien Tsin. A similar applies tien because the power of the project of the power of th application has been made by Earl Li to all of the powers interested. His suggestion of Minister Conger as the American commissioner is based on the idea that as Mr. Conger has been rescued he has now the opportunity to proceed to the point where negotiations will be held and conduct them. The application does not suggest any particular terms, nor does it ask for the withdrawal of troops. It requests that the negotiations shall be for the purpose of bringing about a cessation of hostilities.

EXETER MAN

Banged Himself of the Woods-Peculiar Case of Drowning-Other Casualties.

SAD ENDING.

Exeter, Ont., Aug. 19.-This morning, while in a fit of despondency, brought on by long illness, John Vail, of Exeter North, committed suicide by hanging himself in a tree in John Blatchford's woods. It appears he arose early, and did up his work at the barn as usual, and, not returning at the usual time, Mrs. Vail became alarmed. Search was made with the above result. Mrs. Vail has the sincere sympathy of the community.

UNKNOWN SUICIDE.

Toronto, Aug. 20. - While passing through a ravine near Indian avenue, near High Park, Saturday, Fred Haunton discovered the dead body of a man. Examination showed a bullet hole just behind the right ear, and near by lay a revolver, with which the stranger had evidently committed suicide. The body was that of a well-developed man, of about 35 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches in height, with a dark brown mustache. In his hat were the initials T. C. His clothes bore the mark of a Cincinnati maker. In his pockets was $35 in American currency. The body was taken to the morgue.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING. Toronto, Aug. 20. - Sydney A. C. Greene, manager of the General Advertising and Publishing Company, was drowned while bathing near Hanlan's Point, Saturday night. He took cramps and sank, but rose to the surface and managed to keep himself long enough above the water to cry aloud for help. His cries were heard by his father and sister, who were standing on the veranda of their cottage. The father notified some young men who were canoeing near by, and after a few minutes' search of the party the body was recovered. Three doctors worked over an hour, but without avail. Greene was 35 years of age and leaves a wife and one child.

A SECTION MAN KILLED. Milton, Ont., Aug. 20.-As the 5:22 train was coming into the station Sat-urday evening, Wm. Howson, one of the Hornby section men, was standing on the track. He glanced around to see the approaching train, but before he had time to get off the engine struck him. He expired in a few minutes. BROKE THREE RIBS. Guelph, Aug. 20.-Edward Hewer, an employe of the Bell Organ and Piano Company, met with a serious accident Saturday. Hewer intended going to Burlington on the Bell excursion, and while waiting for the train he had occasion to go to his house for a parcel. The train had started before he returned. He attempted to board it while it was in motion. He slipped and fell under the wheels, and one of his feet was completely taken off above the ankle. He succeeded in rolling over, thus saving his other foot.

Toronto, Aug. 20.-Bradstreet's trade eview, weekly summary:

Trade at Montreal the past week has been rather quiet. A good many travelers as well as merchants throughout the country are holidaying, and this has interfered with fall business. In Toronto the hot weather has distracted attention from business, and many people are now taking holidays. The amount of orders booked so far for the fall in this province is very satisfactory, compared with previous years, and the outlook for the balance of the season is very promising. Values continue firm for leading staple goods, and there is no probability of any more concessions being obtained in prices.

Country remittances are fair. Reports of the harvest received by business men of Hamilton are exceedingly encouraging, and the outlook for the fall trade is very promising. Trade in wholesale circles is rather light, as is usual at this season. Values continue firm. Country remittances are

London—Business at London has been fair for this season. The sales to the retailers for the fall by the jobbers are satisfactory, and larger sales are looked for when the splendid results of the Ontario harvest becomes better understood. Values are steady. Payments are fair for this season.

At Winnipeg business has been quiet owing to many business men being away on holidays. Country retailers are still very cautious in their purchases, owing to the unsatisfactory results of the harvest. Payments are slow.

AFTER THE FIRE

Replacement of the Eddy Company's Works at Hull.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.-Remarkable progress is being made in rebuilding and e-equipping the pulp, fibre, paper, bag, indurated ware, woodenware and saw mills of the Eddy Company at Hull. The large machine shop, smithy and carriage shop are already in full day and night running order. The match factory is complete, the machines arriving so that the oldest branch of the Eddy industries is ready to start in full swing in a very short

The walls are repaired and new roofs are on the "Jumbo," and another enormous warehouse, both already pretty well stocked with paper, bags, matches and woodenware that the sturdy com-petitors of this enterprising concern are nevertheless gladly supplying them with to enable them to hold their trade and keep their customers going in these lines until they can produce them as of yore. The No. 1 pulp mill is ready for the Olin Scott grinders and the Baker & Shevlin screens, just arrived, are being put in place. The sulphite fiber mill, which at the time of the great fire was being got ready to produce double its former careadv pacity, and which was the only mill not consumed, is now completed, and is turning out some 35 to 40 tons of fiber per day.

In "B" paper mill the foundation piers and plates are in place and the building ready to receive the two wide Pusey & Jones news machines, which are expected to be set up in about a bag machines are to be placed, is well forward. The piers and plates are in, ready for this machine, which is guaranteed to be delivered next month, shortly after which the paper bag machinery is expected to be ready to turn out bags.

At "A" mill, where the big No. 1 mill formerly stood, and which is hereafter to hold four machines, the foundation walls are going up. Work is starting on the piers for the machines, the contracts for which will probably be let a once, as representatives have been at Hull from the Bagley & Sewall Company, the Beloit Iron Works, the Black & Clawson Company, the Moore & White Company, the Pusey & Jones Company, et al.

The smaller sawmill is completed and the machinery being installed. The larger sawmill is ready for the roof. The wood-working shop is finished and already nearly filled with machin-

An entirely new equipment for the pail factory has been bought, and will be in place within a few weeks, so altogether it looks as if the result of the consuming conflagration in April will be that the Eddy Company's mills will produce at least 40 per cent more pulp and paper than formerly, and as if, in fact, they would soon be on the mar-ket again with goods in all their lines of manufacture and in increased quantities all round.

BASEBALL.

KNOX DEFEATED WOODSTOCK. The Knox baseball team defeated the Woodstocks in a return game at Tecumseh Park on Saturday after noon by a score of 10 to 6. Knox bunched their errors in the first three innings, and Woodstock piled up a lead of six runs in consequence, but their efforts to score thereafter were in vain. In the third inning Knox landed on Wolf's curves for four straight singles, which, with a base on balls and an erfor netted four runs. In the fifth. Campbell drew a pass to first and Gibson followed with a beautiful home run drive to the fence in left center, tving the score. A single, a two-bagger and a sacrifice following yielded two more runs, and the remaining two were added in the eighth. Cook pitched a splendid game, and Woodstock hit him safely in only three innings. In the fifth they obtained two singles and a two-bagger, but were unable to score: the third man to go out being nipped at the plate by O'Dell's pretty throw from center. Healey retired from the game at the end of the third SALISBURY'S LITTLE GAME. The foreign office adjutants are bewildered at the ado raised through the country by what they consider an amusing little game of Lord Salisbury, ending to England's advantage. It is "Esq." shall be used in the future in explained thus: First, the formal announcement that troops would be landed; then a five days' wait, in which the foreign consuls at Shanghai wagged their heads and wired to their home governments; mutterings of disapproval on the continent and the stirring up of Chinese opposition at Shanghai; troops arrive at Shanghai and the viceroy resists their landing, saying that France and Russia object; the consuls meet and several of them assert "if the British land, we will land troops, too"; Admiral Seymour, after wiring London, announces that England withdraws, and the troops do not land; a sailing hour is appointed; the neglected the case, and even failed to next day every variety of foreign commercial interest in Shangha cries out in dismay; the consuls revise their views and join in requesting their governments to induce the British to land have been acquitted." THE GOVERNMENT OF CHINA. The flight of the dowager empress and the disappearance of the Emperor of China is regarded at Pekin as of much greater and lasting importance than the mere taking of Pekin, and the complications arising therefrom are speculatively discussed by the press whelming opinion is that since all the powers have agreed to install a strong central government at Pekin, it becomes necessary, first, to destroy or at least render harmless, the fugitive government, which is responsible for the whole Chinese eruption. Therefore It is claimed it is necessary to follow and capture the fugitives. This probably will call for the employment of large additional forces, besides those which are now in China. Surmises as to whether the United States, Great Britain and Japan will also share therein, or leave the burden to Russia, France, and, above all, to Germany, fill the papers today. The German government adheres to the view that perfect hermony prevails among the powers regarding immediate action in China.

MISSIONARIES BLAMED. Herr von Brandt, a former German minister to China, in the missionary organ Chriseliche Welt, puts the largest amount of blame for the Chinese outbreak on the missionaries, citing a mass of evidence in support of his assertions. He says:
"Two-thirds of the work of the legation and consulates in China, had been occasioned by the complaints, demands and claims of missionaries."

The press today publishes articles n the subject of the birthday of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria. The Militair Wochenblatt calls attention to the fact that the Austrians and Ger mans for the first time since 1864 fight together in China. A majority of the papers praise Austria as the "steadfast and unimpeachable ally of Germany.

BRITISH ELECTIONS.

Though no official announcement has been made on the subject, it is now generally accepted that a general British election will take place in October. Both of the great party organizations are busy preparing for the contest, overhauling their local machinery and providing themselves with candidates.

As it is, the war will still form the test question, at least so far as Conservative and Unionist candidates can push it to the front, but it will not now be a thorough-going khaki election, as As to the future settlement in China, might have been the case if the govmediately after the capture of Cronje's force or the occupation of Bloemfon-

CASE OF MRS. MAYBRICK. The case of Mrs. Maybrick has been revived by an extraordinary attack on the late Baron Russell, lord chief justice of England, which has appeared in the columns of the Liverpool Post, owned by Commoner Edward Russell. The Post declares that Baron Russell declare his personal conviction of his client's innocence, saying "which had tice by so prominent a journal at once aroused Mrs. Maybrick's friends. Dr. Clark Bell, of New York (secretary and former president, of the Medico Legal Society), her counsel, hurried to London from Paris yesterday, and had a long consultation with the United States ambassador, Mr. Joseph H. Choate, who is keenly interested, and it is understood he has promised to renew his efforts to secure the prisoner's release. To a representative of the Associated Press Dr. Bell said: "This is a most remarkable attack. It comes from a friend of Mrs. Maybrick. It is a great injustice to Lord Russell. Every home secretary and American ambassador in England since Mrs. Maybrick's conviction knows Lord Russell had absolute confidence in her in-

THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

The ceremony of officially announcing the awards made to the exhibitors at the Paris Exposition took place on Sunday afternoon. It was less magnificent in its pomp than the ceremony attending the formal opening of the exposition. Fully 15,000 persons attended the exercises. President Loubet presided, and all official Paris was present. A feature was the entry of each commission and its staff, bearing the flag of its country. President Lou-bet, after the "Marseillaise" had been rendered by an immense orchestra, opened the ceremonies with a short address, in which he thanked all the participants for the aid they had given in making the exposition a success. He also expressed regret at the fact that the closing hours of the exposition were approaching, and added: "But there is consolation in the belief that the spirit of this ephemeral week will survive, and that the exposition has served to establish between the governments and people relations and bonds more durable than heretofore. Strangers will appreciate henceforth that France is a country of peace and prosperity.' The president then placed in the hands of the presidents of the various juries the list of awards. The exercises, which were interspersed with music, lasted two hours.

Lord Roberts has settled the controversy in the religious papers as to the denomination to which he belongs

(the strict Baptists especially claiming him) by writing to a correspondent that he belongs to the Church of England. The Kansas City fire brigade has been disqualified for securing prizes at the international exhibition of fire apparatus at Vincennes on the ground of professionalism, the staff being paid professionalism, the staff being paid. The men were permitted, however, to give an exhibition. As regards speed in preparing their apparatus for reaching the top of the buildings, and the height and distance of projecting water, they outclassed all competitors.

To Gain Information Regarding Baden-Powell's Position.

Explanation of the Boer General's De mand for a Surrender-Contest Narrowed Down-The Pretoria Plot.

Pretoria, Aug. 19.—Gen. Dewet appeared at North Commando Nek, held by Gen. Baden-Powell, and sent in a flag of truce, asking the surrender of the British force. Gen. Baden-Powell replied, asking what terms Dewet was prepared to offer.

Cape Town, Aug. 20 .- Gen. Dewet's demand for the surrender of the British force at Commando Nek is considered as a pretense for the purpose of gaining information. Finding that Commando Nek was strongly garrisoned, Dewet resumed his march, northward, shadowed by Gen. Baden-Pow-

NARROWED DOWN. London, Aug. 19. - A correspondent says: It seems that the operations in South Africa may now be chiefly confined to two distinct quarters. Dewet and Delarey have wide spaces of the Western Transvaal and the Bechuanaland frontier to roam over. They are probably gaining recruits as they go along. On the other side, President Kruger, with Gen. Botha and the main Transvaal field force, now said to be about 10,000 strong, with 90 guns, will establish himself in Barberton, the mountainous area between Swaziland and the Portuguese frontier at Koomatipoort. Buller, with the Natal army, is moving against them from the south, and French and others are coming from the Pretoria-Johannesburg line on the west; but Barberton is in a very broken, rugged country, with more formidable heights and passes even than the region around Ladysmith and Dundee. It is suitable for cattle, and till the rainy season comes on it is healthier than the lower veldt. The correspondent of a news agency who was taken prisoner and kept for some time at Nooitgedacht, says that the fighting burghers are confident of their ability to hold out in the Barberton range for months, even if their supplies from Delagoa Bay are cut off. The correspondent himself, who is no partisan of the Boers, thinks that they may continue a good fight for some time to come, though eventually they will be found a leader of light troops of exceptional ability. His march across the Free State, from Bethlehem to the Vaal, and onward from the river to Rustenberg, is one of the finest performances of the kind in modern cam-

THE PRETORIA PLOT. Pretoria, Aug. 18.-The trial of Lieut. Cordua, of the Staats Artillery, charged with being concerned in the plot to kidnap Gen. Lord Roberts, was continued today. The prisoner admitted his implication, but declared that he was persuaded to join the conspiracy by a man named Gano, who was the originator of the plot, and who pro-fessed to have been in the British secret service, but wanted to assist the Boers. The prosecution tried to con-nect Commandant Gen. Botha with the affair. Cordua admitted that, at the suggestion of Gano, he and Gano started out with the object of visiting Botha, but were captured and sent back. The evidence, though inconclusive, appeared to show that Cordua had some communication with Botha, although Cordua denied it.

Lieut. Cordua's counsed admitted that the accused was guilty of breaking his parole and of attempting to plan conspiracy, but asserted that the attempt was a failure. Counsel also maintained that Gano suggested the entire plot, and egged on the prisoner. On these grounds he asked the court to find that the charges had not been proved, and begged its mercy for his client. Gano, who is said to be of American birth, denied having suggested the plot.

GEN. ROBERT'S NEW ORDERS. London, Aug. 20 .- Gen. Lord Roberts is now issuing severe and rigorous orders, rescinding the ones previously is-sued. Lord Roberts' proclamation, after reciting the fact that many have broken the oath to maintain neutrality, and that the leniency extended to the burghers is not appreciated, warns all who break their oaths in the future that they will be punished by death imprisonment or fine. He declares that all burghers in districts occupied by the British, except those who take the oath, will be regarded as prisoners of war and transported, and that buildings on farms where the enemy or his

RETURNING SOUTH AFRICAN HEROES.

Quebec, Aug. 20.—The reception of-fered on Saturday by the civic authorities to the ten soldiers of the Canadian contingent who arrived on board the steamship Parisian, was as hearty as the preceding one. The pro-mayor, Ald. G. Tanquay, was at the landing with the city clerk, and an address of was presented to the boys. The following is a list of the soldiers returned:

Sergt. J. T. McConnell, D company, from the G. G. F. G., Ottawa. Ptes. Cook, McLaughlin, S. M. Ward, Clarke, Watson, Lynch, Palky, Ginger

and McCaulay. Pte. Lynch is from Seaforth, and belongs to B squadron, Strathcona Horse. Pte. Palky comes from St. John, N.B. Ptes. Clarke and McCaulay are from Ottawa, and belonged to D company. They have all been suffering from enteric fever.

THE LONDONERS.

Pte. Finch was early stricken by enteric fever, being invalided from Belmont, but he subsequently had attacks of pneumonia and several other complications and relapses. He says that he got his worst treatment in hospital at the hands of the Canadian hospital corps at Belmont.

Pte. Corby was attached to the ambulance corps, and can testify to Boer treachery, eight of the sixteen men in his squad being shot down at Paardeberg. He says that the Boers made special targets of the ambulance and Red Cross men. He was shot in the right arm, and is partially paralyzed in the right hand.

NOTES. A Lorenzo Marquez telegram says: The Portuguese gunboat El Liberal re-cently discovered two barges loaded with war munitions towed by a steam launch on the Tember River, and captured their owners. The destinations of the barges is unknown. United States Consul James G. Stowe there was only three days' meat supply, and other food was scant, all the transport facilities being required to feed the army. Besides this, the rolling stock was worn, and the resumption of mining, therefore, is impossible at present.

Kalamazoo Invaded by Millions of Grasshoppers.

Put Out Electric Lights and Compelled Restaurants to Close-Passenger Train Stalled by the Insects.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 20. - This city is passing through a pest of grasshoppers and crickets such as it has never before known, and even the oldest inhabitant is at a loss to account for it. The pest began about a week ago, and has been getting worse every day. In spite of the most strenuous precautions residences and stores are invaded by these insects, and housewives are driven to distraction in getting rid of the nuisance. In several instances restaurants have been obliged to close down for several hours, while the numerous insects were cleared out. At the twilight hour tens of thousands of them swarm into the business section, and for the past two nights the stores have all closed at 6 o'clock, and the city has been in darkness because the crickets and bugs fill up the arc lamps and put the lights out. The grasshoppers are the largest ever seen in this section, some measuring three inches in length, and they sing like locusts. In the celery fields on the outskirts of the city their music is deafening.

The crew on the C., K. and S. passenger train, which arrives here at 6 p.m. reports that between Delton and Cressy the train was stopped by an army of crickets crossing the track, which extended for several rods, and completely covered the tracks and the space besays that when he left Johannesburg tween. The crushed insects acted like oil poured on the rails, and the wheels of the engine refused to work. The crew had to use shovels in clearing the track before the train could proceed. AT ADRIAN, TOO.

Adrian, Mich., Aug. 20,-A swarm of crickets fairly darkened the city in the vicinity of electric lights the other evening. The ground, pavements and sidewalks were black with them.

An Honest Census. [Montreal Herald.] The Democrats are charging that the census now being taken in the States is being manipulated to serve the interests of the Republican party, only such reports as show prosperity on the part of manufacturers being accepted without revision. Canada had experience of just such a census in 1891, the men in charge of the work devoting their energies to propping up the tottering N. P. rather than to collecting exact data respecting the conditions existing. Another decennial census will soon be due, and the minister of agriculture has taken the first steps towards insuring the work being done thoroughly and honestly by appointing Mr. Archibald Blue to the position of census commissioner. Mr. Blue has for twenty years been in the employ of the Ontario Government, as deputy minister of agriculture and as director of mines, and in these offices has had much experience in collecting statistics and in kindred work. He is a man of high character, and any work he undertakes is sure to be thoroughly well done. He undoubtedly will give Canada the most comprehensive trustworthy statistical reports that have been the product of any decennial census since confederation.

> Neglected Beauties. [Chicago Tribune.]

Critics of this year's art exhibitions in London and in Paris calls attention to the lack of pretty faces in the paintings. It cannot be that women are not as beautiful as they used to be in the old days. In fact, every man knows that women are prettier than ever, and if he doubts it he need only think of his sweetheart or wife, and for pretty children he can think of his own. The fault seems to be that the artists in their desire to be 'artistic' do not care for beauty, but prefer to secure striking effects. And they have a fancy for character as shown by wrinkles, forgetful that the public thinks dimples are prettier. Perhaps the artists would be more popular if they painted pretty faces. But public taste has little influence with them. This is shown clearly by the neglected opportunities for choice or attractive subjects, which reveals an inappreciation of the fact that it is the subject of a painting quite as much as the painting of it that makes it popular. The artist may scorn public opinion, but in justice to his day and generation he should make his women pretty in order that future generations may not think that the women of today were ugly. The artist should be gallant enough to yield to this plea, however stubborn he may be to other arguments of laymen.

Prior to the receipt of this dispatch, it was accepted generally as a fact that the dowager empress, in company with the emperor and his large suite, had left Pekin. While nothing is said in Admiral Remey's advices as to the whereabouts of the emperor, it is deemed scarcely probable that he left the city without the empress dowager. Minister Wu said to the Associated Press today that he had official advices to the effect that the emperor and empress dowager had gone from Pekin to the Province of Shensi, a considerable distance west of the capital city. He thought they were entirely out of danger. The statement that the dowager empress was detained by Prince Yung Edo therefore gave him little concern.

FOUR CITIES IN ONE.

Pekin comprises practically four cities in one. In extent of area it is about the size of New York city. The four segments of it are the Chinese city, the Tartar city, the imperial city and the forbidden city. The last is the "inner city" mentioned in Admiral Remey's dispatch, and it is the residence of the emperor and the seat of the imperial court. Nobody is allowed within its massive walls except by special permission of the emperor or empress dow-The imperial city is occupied only by the highest Chinese officials and members and attaches of the imperial court. THE SHANGHAI SITUATION. The general situation at Shanghai, caused by the proposed landing of British troops, and the protests of Germany and France continues to be strained, although the Washington authorities are rather more hopeful of a satisfactory adjustment than hereto-The state department does not treat the matter as at all grave, and regards it rather as a misunderstanding, one side holding that British activity is confined to Shanghai, while the other insists that this activity is destined to cover the whole Yang Tse region. As the result of an exchange of cablegrams between the powers concerning affairs at Shanghai, an agree-ment has been reached by which all the admirals of the several powers represented at Shanghai will act concurrently in a survey, or watching, of the Chinese Yang Tsy fleet, instead of having this duty performed entirely by the British admiral at Shanghai. This Chinese Yang Tse fleet consists of four cruisers and several torpedo boats and destroyers.

IN NATURE'S STOREHOUSE THERE ARE CURES.—Medical ex-periments have shown conclusively that there are medicinal virtues even in ordinary plants growing up around us which give them a value that cannot be estimated. It is held by some that nature provides a cure for every disease which neglect and ignorance have visited upon man. However this may be, it is well known that Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, distilled from roots and herbs, are a sovereign remedy in curing all disorders of the digestion.

DO NOT DELAY in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand?

Typos' Motion Referring to Political Action Rescinded.

Toronto Street Railway Men Will Seek an Amicable Settlement-Trouble at Hamilton.

Milwaukee, Aug. 20. - The International Typographical Union on Saturday reconsidered the proposition of Delegate Bandlow, of Cleveland, bearing on politics, which was adopted on Friday. The measure as reconsidered was killed, the vote being two-thirds against its adoption. The proposition called for united action of the I. T. U. in the political field, and the severing by all members of their "affiliation with all political parties of the exploiting class.'

A resolution was introduced by Delegate Hayes, of Minneapolis, and adopted, as follows: "Resolved, that it is in the sense of the International Typo-graphical Union that subordinate organizations should adopt conciliatory measures at all times when changing their scale of prices, and that before any change in scale of prices is adopted it should be submitted to all publishers who are interested; also that the International Typographical Union, when requested, shall allow a representative of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association to be heard on important changes in the laws affecting their interests.

TORONTO STREET CAR MEN. Toronto, Aug. 20 .- At a mass meeting of over 800 employes of the street railway, which lasted from midnight on Saturday till three o'clock yesterday morning, it was decided not to strike for the advance of wages as asked, from 16% to 20 cents per hour, until every effort to obtain a settlement by conciliatory methods is exhausted. The men decided to await the return of President Mackenzie from Winnipeg on the 25th and hear his answer to their request. In the discussion several of the speakers took the ground that the company was trying to gain time and prepare for a strike, but the majority held that there was as yet no ground for suspicion of bad faith. The relations with the company remain good, and the manager supplied cars to take the men to their homes after the STRIKERS SUMMONED. Hamilton, Aug. 20 .- There was an important development in connection with the strike of polishers and finishers at the Hamilton brass foundry Saturday. Mr. Thomas Carroll, the manager, laid a charge against a number of the strikers, it being as follows: That you did wrongfully, and without legal authority, with a view to compel other persons to abstain from what they have a lawful right to do, watch the place where such persons reside or work, or carry on business, or happen to be."

The men deny loitering around the foundry, but admit being within a short distance of the place, and talking to men who came here to work. They claim they had a right to do this, in view of Chief Justice Meredith's ruling. They say they remained across the street and didn't state their first getting permission to do so from the me nthey thought were going to the factory, looking for employment. Both sides are represented by able counsel.

NOTE.

All departments of the Pepperell Manufacturing Company's paper mills in Biddford, Me., and the York cotton mills of Saco, shut down until Sept. 4. Five thousand operatives are employed. The cause is underconsumption of the product, due in part to the curtailment of the export trade on account of the Chinese troubzle.

Owing to a strike of some 2,000 Taff Vale (Wales) Railroad men traffic on the railroad has been stopped, and there has been violence against volunteer workers.

The striking C. P. R. employes at Winnipeg, do not expect a settlement for a week yet. Over 100 men at Vancouver joined the strikers on Satur-

Several of Them Return From China-One Badly Injured.

Montreal, Aug. 20.-Mr. Ogilvie, of this city, on Saturday received from San Francisco a telegram announcing the safe arrival from China of his sonin-law and daughter, Dr. Percy Leslie and Mrs. Leslie, who were engaged in missionary work in the province of Honan. Dr. Leslie was very severely mangled by the Boxers in the attack upon the missionary party on the way from the interior to the coast, the tendons of his arms and legs having been cut. Mrs. Leslie states in the telegram received by her father that her husband is now able to walk, but one of his legs is in splints.

Dr. and Mrs. Leslie were accompanied by three other missionaries-Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm and Mrs. Dr. Maclure, all belonging to the Toronto mission. The steamer by which they party traveled from Hong Kong, the Mura, of the Japanese line, arrived in San Francisco on Friday after a good voyage. Mrs. Leslie added that the party would leave San Francisco for the east Saturday night. They will change trains at Chicago on Wednesday, and will stay over Thursday in Toronto.

Caused a Bad Smashup at Saranac, Michigan.

Saranac, Mich., Aug. 20.—One of the worst railroad wrecks ever known in this vicinity occurred near the depot in this village last night. About 9 o'clock the local freight was standing on the main track of the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee, when No. 66, a stock special, came thundering along at 40 miles an hour, and crashed into the freight. Engineer Reynolds, of the stock train, was killed, his body being terribly mangled. The other trainmen jumped in time to save themselves. The two engines and twelve cars were so badly wrecked that they were burned today to clear the track. The property loss is estimated at $30,000.

Engineer Reynolds had been employed on the road for twenty years, and had always been known as a careful man, but last night he was warned twice by his conductor to slow down on approaching Saranac, as the freight would probably be standing on the main track, but he refused to pay any attention. It is supposed he had become temporarily insane, as he had not been drinking.

A FISHING INCIDENT

At Port Stanley-Strange Luck of a

Local Angler, [Toronto Globe.,

A correspondent sends in the following seasonable story: Mr. and Mrs. Heard, of London, Ont., were out one afternoon last week in the vicinity of Port Stanley in search of a trout stream. One, almost too small to be promising, was found, and the dainty bamboo, silken line and tempting bait were tested. No results for a time. Soon the source of the spring was found, which proved to be an abandoned oil boring, from which the water alone flowed. A basin several feet in diameter and of moderate depth, had been formed, into which the cast was made. As soon as the bait touched the surface a vigorous snap proved that the reward of faithfulness was at handor, rather, at the end of the line. By skillful manipulation a fine trout was landed and a wait of half an hour was made to allow the riley water to clear. Then a second trial was made. Soon there was evidence that the patriarch of the tiny pool was to be reckoned with. His golden sides flashed in the setting sun, and the victim again and again wash rought to the surface. Finally there seemed complete surrender and a supreme effort was made to realize the hopes of the sanguine Nimrod. But imagine the shock to the tense nerves when the line parted about two feet from the hook, and ordinarily this would end the story. But wait. Another pause; another desperate cast, and soon hope rekindled, for there was surely something tugging at the line. Greater caution was exercised, longer time taken; again and again the beautiful snout was brought to the surface, and finally, with trembling hand and throbbing heart the landing was made of a fifteen-inch trout. And now for the sequel: It was the same trout that had escaped, the hook, sinkers and part of the line was hooked deeply and surely, but the second hook had simply become entangled in the ruins of the first and had held long enough to complete the capture. Recognizing the need of a witness, Mrs. Heard was called to the scene to undo the queer knot, and help

ACCIDENT AT THE EXPOSITION

Two Persons Killed and Many Injured During a Panic.

Paris, Aug. 20. - A second serious accident has happened at the exposition. The exposition was crowded Sunday, including the bridges joining one part with the other, and it was on one of these woden constructions - the one joining the Invalides to the Italian pavilion-that the accident happened.Just before 11 o'clock someone passing over from the direction of the Champ de Mars shouted, "It cracks." And although there was no justification for the cry, it was repeated by the crowd, causing a terrible crush and panic. At a certain point on the Invalides side the bridge curves around somewhat, and it was here that the handrail gave way for a distance of 10 to 15 yards. Through the pressure of the crowd 30 persons were precipitated from the bridge to the roadway, three yards be-low. Two of these are dead. Chicago, Aug. 20.—A special to the Times-Herald from Wabash, Ind., says: Reliable grain dealers from all parts of the state have collected statistics showing the total yield of wheat in Indiana for the present year to be the smallest for many years, not exceeding 8,000,000 bushels against 25,000,-000 to 40,000,000 for several years in succession, prior to 1899. The crop is a practical failure, there being but little more than enough grain raised

IMPERIAL AUTHORITIES INTER-ESTED.

Lieut.-Col. Holmes, D.O.C., this morning received a letter from England, requesting him to forward to the imperial war authorities, a sample each of the gray flannel shirt and straw hat which, at his suggestion, were adopted by a number of the rural battalions at camp here, and later used at the Niagara camp. The English authorities had their attention called to the necessity of some such provision for the increased comfort of the soldiers by the alarming number of heat prostrations occurring at Aldershot during the recent hot spell in writes W. R. Smith, of Latham, Ill., England. They will probably oughly investigate and favorably consider this Canadian innovation in soldiers' dress. THE PUBLIC should bear in mind that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has nothing in common with the impure, deteriorating class of so-called medicinal oils. It is eminently pure and really efficacious-relieving pain and lameness, stiffness of the joints and muscles, and sores or hurts, besides being an excellent specific for rheuma-tism, coughs and bronchial complaints.

> Pte. Finch is a son of Mr. Henry Finch, of the London Drug Company. Before leaving for South Africa he was employed as a machinist at Leonard's. Although Pte. Finch was dangerously ill most of the time that he was away, he does not regard that as the worst of his evils. To have gone all that distance, to have endured all the handships and privating of campaign life, and yet not to have one shot at a Boer, this he considers to be the height of misfortune.

He left Cape Town with the regiment and shared its vicissitudes until the camp was pitched at Belmont. While there he felt the sickness coming on. but he withstood its weakening effects until even the boys in the tent saw that he was becoming ill and begged him to "go sick." He knew that if he did so he would be sent back to the Cape, but at last, on Jan. 11, the doctor ordered mm from the lines, and he was forced to give in. Subsequently he suffered from relapses, with complications of bronchitis and pneumonia.

The hospitals at and near Belmont were managed in the best way possible, under the circumstances, and he received very good treatment while there. He was moved to Winberg, where an excellent hospital was situated. The attendance there, both of the physicians and nurses, was all that anyone could desire. Pte. Finch said that too much praise could not be given to the nurses for their kindness to the sufferers. When he was far enough advanced in health he was removed to the Cape Town Hospital, where he was lying for several weeks in a srious condition. He was carried in a stretcher aboard the Braemar Castle on April 27, and landed at Devonport twenty days later. He was in hospital there for one week, and then, in company with about 30 others of the Cornwalls, Devons and Canadians, he went to a private house at Torquay, that was owned by a wealthy gentleman named Lee.

"I had the best time there that I ever had in my life," said Pte Finch, this morning. "Everything was done to make us have a good time. When she left our ward there were tears in her eyes. "We can't complain," he added, "about the way we were treated. All the time we were in England we were simply carried along. I'm glad to get back," he said, smilingly, "but I'm glad I went, too. I'd like to get another whack at it in a different coun-None of us liked South Africa.'

Mr. Duffield's death was due to a severe attack of typhoid fever, from which he had been suffering for the past ten days. He had not been in the best of health for the past couple of months, and six weeks ago he took a course at the baths at Mount Clemens, Mich., which, however, failed to improve his health. He was attended throughout his fatal illness by Dr. S. Cummings, of Hamilton, and Drs. Waugh and McCallum, of this city, but their efforts were in vain, and he gradually sank until death intervened. Poplar Bluff, Mo., Aug. 20. - Mrs. Elizabeth Burns and six children, the youngest 2, and the other 11 years old, have arrived here, having walked from Grand Rapids, Mich., nearly 700 miles. Three months ago Mrs. Burns' husband died, leaving her destitute. Her father, Eli Gray, who was living in Odin, Ill., wrote to her to come thee, and not having money to pay railroad fare, she gathered up a few articles of clothing, bedding and cooking utensils and placing these and the three youngest children in a push-cart, started on her long journey. The three older children walked with her. When she reached Odin her father had removed to the vicinity of Poplar Bluff. She immediately resumed her tramp, and reached only to be disappointed, as her father cannot be found. The woman's health is broken and the children are sick. The authorities are caring for them. FINCH'S TURKEYS

They Earn Him $25 a Day Catching Grasshoppers for the Neighbors.

Necessity has made the Kansas farmer so energetic and enterprising that lack of rain, dryness of soil and grasshoppers-the bane of the existence of the pioneer Kansas farmer-have no terrors for the farmer of 1900. If a sufficiency of rain seemed to guarantee good crops to the farmer of fifteen years ago, he still ran the risk of having his crops partially or completely destroyed by grasshoppers. It has remained for the fertile brain of a Saline county farmer to devise the following effectual method of exterminating grasshoppers, viz: By raising a flock of 1,000 turkeys and renting them out at $25 per day. The name of the man who is the father of this new industry is Mr. Finch, one of the farmers of prosperous Saline county. Mr. Finch says Desirous of saving her anxiety when the grasshoppers have been so numerous in his district this summer as to do considerable damage to all crops. had reached her side addressed her in He has a drove of 1,000 young turkeys, and he soon discovered that his poultry was more than a match for the grasshoppers. The turkeys destroyed the hoppers almost as fast as they could light on his premises and before they had time to work any destruction. Presently Mr. Finch's neighbors noticed that his fields continued green and luxuriant, while others were barof the flock. Finch proceeded on the theory that 100 turkeys were as valuable as a farm hand and accordingly fixed a rental of $2.50 per day for each 100 turkeys. The entire flock is in demand, and Mr. Finch derives a revenue of $25 per day on his investment.

NO BREACH OF FAITH.

[Rev. Dr. Potts.]

Many of the leading prohibitionists think so, but I cannot say that the premier will be breaking faith with the temperance people if he does not introduce prohibitory legislation. I stated before the vote was taken that unless a majority, and a substantial one, was in favor of prohibition, I did not think the government would bound to crystallize the plebiscite into legislation for prohibition. The people exhibited an apathy which resulted in a vote which I do not think would warrant prohibitive legislation. While the people did not ask for a plebiscite, still, when one was offered them, they should have placed themselves on record by polling the largest vote ever polled in Canada. If this had been done Sir Wilfrid would have been compelled to introduce a prohibitory bill. But as it is at present, I do not think Sir Wilfrid is breaking his pledge or promises.

He hesitated for a moment, then, with evident disappointment said he could not go at that hour; he had an important engagement that would require his presence elsewhere.

Something, a sort of fascination of mesmeric power, perhaps, made him lift and turn his eyes upon Margaret as he said this.

"She is disappointed; she wanted me 10 go," he said to himself. "Patience is all I need; I shall get on with her all right yet; but I need not be too eager-I must make myself very agreeable and necessary to her, and yet be a trifle shy."

"I am sorry I cannot go," he said aloud, "but I will arrange it so as to accompany you after today, if you

Again he was conscious of that swift, intent, penetrating glance from Margaret; what could it mean?

Thanks-it is pleasant to have an escort when one drives out for several miles," Mrs. Houghton replied, "and we choose this hour because it is warmer and pleasanter and there is not so much danger of Margie catching cold. But, Arthur," she added, as he was moving toward the door, "you are lame. What is the trouble?"

The young man changed color slightly, and then laughed, as he replied:
"Yes, I am a trifle unsteady; I turned my ankle coming down stairs yesterday; it came near being a bad sprain, and after sitting still for a while I find it a little difficult to start off naturally. I shall be all right in a few days, however. By the way," he added, as he was about to leave the room, "I wonder if you or any of your servants have seen anything of a stray diamond about as large as a pea? have lost one out of a sleeve-button," He turned back the sleeve of his coat as he spoke, revealing a handsome cuff-button of black enamel and gold, out of the center of which there appeared to be a stone gone. Margaret arose from her chair, and came swiftly to his side.

"Let me see!" she said, with an eagerness that surprised both her

"I have seen nothing of it, and I do not believe that the servants have; but I will have them look very carefully when they sweep again," Mrs. Houghton said.

What makes you think you have lost it here?" Margaret asked, while a maid just then entered and spoke to her mother, and she went out, leaving Arthur and Margaret alone.

"Oh. I have no particular reason for thinking so, only I am here so much, and I thought it might possibly have dropped out during one of my calls," Arthur replied, smiling.

"When did you miss it?" "Let me see, it was some time ago, and I meant to have asked about it before, but kept forgetting it. I believe, though, it was that very evening after you had told me this," he concluded, lowering his tone and gently touching with his finger the diamond which she had told him was the pledge of affection between herself and Louis. For a moment Margaret stood absolutely motionless, as if riveted to the by some sudden thought. 'Why!" she exclaimed, "that was the very night that Louis was-that Louis disappeared!" A shock went through him, and for a moment there was a . Th-like stillness in the room.

"So it was," he said, at last, in a forced tone. "It did not occur to me before, however," he added, with a regretful intonation, "forgive me again, Margie, I seem fated to wound you continually, and-never mind the stone; I suppose I can have another put in its place, though I am sorry to lose it, for my mother gave me the buttons on my 21st birthday,"

"We will look for it," Margaret returned. "it may have rolled into some corner, or behind some piece of furniture and escaped observation. You sat over here in this chair, didn't you?"

She had turned abruptly away from him while speaking, and walked to the place where he had sat when he said such hard things of her lover. How well she remembered it; his very look, even the tone of his voice and the passionate gestures he had made. The chair was close by the tete-atete where she and Louis had afterwards sat and planned so hopefully for their future.

"I believe so," he replied, absently, while his quick eye glanced rapidly all about that corner of the room.

She was watching him breathlessly, fixedly, and with a glance that was almost like that of a madwoman, waiting for a chance to spring upon her victim, she did not lose a movement that he made. 'We will look carefully," she repeated, and he wondered at the sudden interest that she manifested in this trifle after all her previous apathy about everything else

"Thanks," he said, as he again turn-

Then, with a smiling good-bye, he went out, leaving her standing alone by that chair, a strangely intent look on her fair young face.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Margaret stood motionless until she heard the door close after him. Then she glided into that corner of the room where she and her lover had sat that last night, and getting down upon her knees she began to look carefully all about for Arthur's missing diamond. She moved the tete-a-tete aside, and, lifting the draperies from the floor, she searched carefully along the edge of the carpet, but she found nothing.

"I do not believe he lost it here," she said; "but he lost it that night, and, where?"

She was about to rise from her kneelng posture when her attention was attracted by the arrangement of the rich curtains where they were drawn back from the window and the arch between the two rooms and fastened in folds in the corner.

"How awkwardly the girls arrange these things," Margaret said. She took the massive tassels in her hands, untied the heavy cords, and was on the point of shaking out the draperies preparatory to gathering thm up more gracefully, when something made her stop. The next moment she was bending over them closer than be-

It was a sharp, startled cry that broke from her, and what she saw was sufficient to cause anyone a shock of surprise, for there, caught among the overshot threads, and almost in the heart of a rich crimson rose, like a great drop of glittering dew, was a pure, gleaming diamond.

"It is his!" she cried in a breathless voice, "but how came it here?" She stood as if paralyzed for a moment; then, with a resolution in her

pale face, she added:
"I have a clew at last; but, oh, it is such a slight one, I fear it will lead to nothing tangible. Nevertheless, I shall follow it, if it takes me as long

The next day Mrs. Houghton's maid was taken violently ill, and their physician, upon being called, pronounced her disease to be a fever of a malignant type, and advised that she be removed at once from the house, as Miss Houghton, in her present delicate condition, was liable to take it. So the poor girl was removed to her own home-being fortunate enough to have one in the city-and a trained nurse was provided to give her proper

Every day Mrs. Houghton drove out to see how she was progressing, and Margaret accompanied her, although she was not allowed to alight, her mother going in alone to ascertain the needs of her maid, and to carry her comforts and delicacies.

The house where she was ill was an humble one, in a narrow street, which had once been an important business locality. Years before there had been one side of it, while upon the other immense warehouses loomed gloomily above them.

But as the tide of humanity rolled more and more into the city, pushing and crowding into every available nook and corner, busines interests had gradually been removed to the more aristocratic portions of the town, and the buildings on the south side of the street had been made over into dwellings for the poorer classes, and those on the north rented for storage, or left empty and deserted.

It was not a pleasant locality, but rents were low there, and as the poor are forced to take what they can get for their money, they flocked into every available space. It was a singular fact, however, that people shunned the side of the street that was uninhabited; the sidewalk there was almost deserted, while the opposite one was teeming with life. After dark the inhabitants of that place were disinclined to walk in the shadows of those great, gloomy buildings, and thus, after a time, the belief gradually prevailed that they were

Into this place, however, Margaret Houghton and her mother drove every day upon their errand of mercy, and after Mrs. Houghton alighted, the driver was in the habit of turning his horses about and turning up to the opposite sidewalk, while waiting for her reappearance, in order to be out of the way of other vehicles passing

Thus Margaret sat in the carriage one day, waiting for her mother, who, for some reason, remained much longer than usual with Annette, her maid. The young girl was extremely nervous and impatient that afternoon. She was sitting nearly opposite a narrow alley, which led at right angles through to another street running parallel with the one they were on. She had never noticed it before, but now she saw that there was entrances all along, as far as her eye could reach, to the empty building on her right. (To be Continued.)

[Montreal Herald.]

Q. Have the present government done anything for the country? A. Yes, they have done a great many things. For example, they have settled the Manitoba school question.

Q. What was that? A. A controversy which began in Manitoba in 1891, and which was not settled in 1896, and as the result of which Canada was torn by dissension from one end to the other. Q. Dissension of what kind?

A. Race was set against race and religion against religion, largely because the Conservatives who were in power at Ottawa had displayed both cowardice and incapacity in dealing with this extremely difficult and delicate

Q. Did the political parties disagree about what should be done? A. Yes; the Conservatives, led by the Tuppers, proposed to force Manitoba. into obedience, although they they could not succeed. The Liberals announced their intention of using conciliatory methods and appealing to common patriotism. Q. Then the Tuppers failed?

And did Sir Wilfrid Laurier succeed?

A. So much so that the Manitoba school question is now never heard of. Q. Do you consider this a meritorious

A. It is so considered by all who remember anything of the bitterness prevailing in Canada while the controversy raged.

Q. Have they done anything else? A. Yes; one of the principal com-plaints made against the Conservatives when in power was that they refused to inaugurate any useful reforms in the tariff. At the end of a year, after carefully surveying the conditions of Canadian industry, the Liberals revised

Q. Has the new measure given satisfaction?

A. Undoubtedly it has; the manufacturers, the commercial interests and the people generally are well satisfied. Q. On what plan was the tariff reformed? Was it wiped out altogether? A. By no means. The Liberals recognized that free trade is impossible for Canada, which has to raise a very large revenue from duties on imported Q. What, then, was the object aimed A. To lower the duties; consistently with existing interests, as near as possible to the basis of a tariff for revenue only. What means was taken to this A. A new tariff was framed, involving a very considerable lowering of the scale of duties. Q. What else was done? A. It was resolved that on all goods bought and made in Great Britain there should be a reduction from the ordinary duty. In the first year this preference was one-eighth, after that one-quarter, and finally one-third, on which basis we are now working. Q. How does this work? A. Well, for example, under the Conservatives the average ton manufactures was 28.20 per cent; under the new tariff it is 21.03 per cent. Q. Well, that seems a pretty fair reduction. Are the Canadian manufacturers satisfied with it? A. Apparently so; they are busier than they have ever been before, and there is talk of more new cotton mills. What about woolen manufactures? A. Pretty much the same. The average duty used to be 32.01 per cent; now it is 23.03 per cent.

Q. Are there other such instances? A. Yes; suppose we take hats, caps and bonnets, the old duty was 30 per cent; with the preferential tariff in full operation the duty is 20 per cent. On gloves and mitts, which people use in this country, the old amounted to 35 per cent; now it is down to 23.33 per cent.

Q. What about iron and steel? A. Mr. Blake once said that duties on such material as iron, which is in universal use, should be reduced so as to enable the home manufacturer to produce a cheaper article for the benefit of his home consumers and the encouragement of his foreign trade." Mr. Blake's idea has been adopted. The old average duty on iron and steel manufactures was 21.02 per cent; under the British preferential tariff it is 11.21 per cent. Q. What about earthenware and chinaware? A. The same rule applies. The old duty was 30 per cent; under the new arrangement it is 20 per cent. Q. And leather goods?

The same is true. The old duty was 19.30 per cent; now it is 12.25 per cent. Q. Was there, then, nothing put on the free list that was formerly dutiable? A. Yes; for example, binder twine, which formerly paid 121/2 per cent; cream separators, which formerly paid 271/2 per cent; barb wire, which formerly paid 34 cents per pound; other wire which paid 25 per cent; and a great many kinds of goods used by Canadian manufacturers on which duties were formerly paid. Q. Why do you speak of the British preference? A. Because this reduction of the duties on British goods was intended to increase the purchase of British manufactures by the Candian people. Q. Was there need of such a mea-

A. There was, if Canadians had any desire to make good substantially the claim that they always advance of being devoted to Great Britain. Q. Had Britain's sales to Canada then fallen off? A. Yes, indeed. In 1873 Canada bought from Great Britain goods to the value of $67,996,945. In 1897, the last year in which the Conservative tariff was in operation, the purchases from Great Britain amounted to only $29,401,188. Q. Is that the lowest figure since Confederation? A. The very lowest. In 1897 it was even worse than the year 1879, in which year general business in Canada and throughout the world touched low water mark. The imports from Great Britain of dutiable goods in that year were $27,000,000; in 1897, the last year under the Conservative tariff, the imports of dutiable goods from Great Britain were only $20,000,000.

Q. According to that Great Britain's sales to Canada were less at the time the National Policy was abandoned than they were before it was adopted. A. That is perfectly true.

Q. Yet, is not this Conservative party which introduced the National Policy the same that always boasted its devotion to Great Britain? A. It is the same party.

How has it been since 1897? There have been gains in Canedian purchases from Great Britain year by year. Three millions the first year; five more in the second year; the returns for the third year will show another very large increase. Altogether the people of Great Britain have good reason to be pleased with the increased sales, as the people of Canada have to be pleased with the lowered uties.

SPLENDID START

Sir William MacDonald's Manual Training Scheme in Operation.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.-In the course of a conversation on the subject of manual training in schools, the project so generously endowed by Sir William McDonald, Prof. Robertson, to whom the millionaire manufacturer intrusted the inauguration of the scheme, expressed his satisfaction with the progress of the plan so far. It has just been definitely decided that the students in the Provincial Normal School will be taught manual training as a subject of the regular course of instruction. Thus there would be at the outset about 600 teachers and 5,000 school boys in training.

When, in a couple of months time the system has been set to work, from Nova Scotia to Winnipeg there will be employed sixteen or seventeen trained specialists in the schools of the leading cities and towns. These instructors have been engaged in England, on the continent and in United States, and are under engagement for three years, their salaries as well as incidental expenses of instruction being paid wholly by Sir William McDonald. Thus the system, which has been so successful in Europe, will be given a splendid start in Canada, and at the end of the three years, when thousands of school children will have experienced the benefit of the training and hundreds of qualified teachers will be instructing their pupils in this branch of practical education throughout the country, it will be known whether the system is worth continuing.

In view of the excellent results achieved by the system whenever it has been systematically tried, Prof. Robertson has no doubt that the outcome in Canada will be the inclusion of manual training permanently as a branch of education under the auspices of the state.

Result of the Baseball Match, "All-Aboard" Race and Other Interesting Contests.

The first annual picnic of the London Commandery, No. 3, Canadian Order Knights of the Grip, which was held at Springbank on Saturday, was a marked success. Some years have passed since the last outing of the commercial travelers was held at Port Stanley, and the reputation that was then gained was of undoubted assistance in making this occasion a success in point of attendance, but it was those qualities of hustling endeavor, of joviality and good-fellowship that have always been characteristic of the commercial traveler, that made this year's picnic the enjoyable day that it was. All the patience and diplomacy that has been trained in the thousand and one stores of Ontario, all the zest and abandon and effervescent spirits of these roamers after orders, seemed to be brought into play to assure a happy time, both for themselves and those who were their guests. In all that great crowd at the Riverside Park there was not heard one voice dissenting from the general opinion, that in many happy features, the travelers' picnic eclipsed any other that has been held this year. In nat-ural sequence, the members of the various committees, to whose capable hands the management of the picnic had fallen, received many congratulations upon the results of their efforts, and they were told again and again that they had succeeded in winning for their annual outing a warm spot in the hearts of all picnic patrons. While the crowd was being swelled by every car that left the city, there was no discomfort on the grounds. Naturally the greatest numbers were anxious to see the races and contests, and thus there was brought into prominence one of the salient evidences of the night. committee's excellent arrangements. The races were all run off o open space in front of the pavilion, and of such extent is it that the people could entirely surround the contestants

When the contests were over, family groups and parties of young people detached themselves from the main body, and shortly afterwards a stroller along the hill that borders the river could have seen hundreds of such parties dining where the grass and the shade of trees, and the breeze, cooled by the water, made a most excellent place for this purpose.

THE BASEBALL MATCH.

The opening feature of the afternoon sport was a baseball match between the Grips and the Trunks. The superior agility and batting ability of those who carry the grip was made manifest by the score of 9 to 5 in their favor. This result was attained largely by the digital dexterity of Doc Sippi, who pitched for the winning team, and the skill of First Baseman McLennan. The teams were:

All the races on the rather lengthy programme were well contested, and provided plenty of amusement during the afternoon, several unique and interesting contests were introduced, notably the

"ALL ABOARD RACE," where the contestants had to divest themselves, while on the way of coat collar, tie and boots, and return to the starting point with everything on properly again. The mounted wrestling was another source of amusement that has not hitherto been seen at any of the picnics.

In the evening, the people were entertained in a different way. Many hundreds stayed near the band stand among the trees, where the regular programme of illustrated song singing and acrobatic performances was given. In the pavilion a number of solos were sung by Mr. McDonald, Mr. Blatkie and Mr. Ashplant. Mr. Bluethner was accompanist. The upper part of the pavilion was reserved for those who desired to dance, and many took advantage of the opportunity. It was managed in such a careful way, that was more in the nature of a private hop than anything else. In this way many young couples and older onlookers enjoyed themselves immensely. The music was supplied by the Dayton & McCormick Orchestra. The last waltz was played at 10:30 o'clock. By this time the majority of pleasure-seekers had returned to the

Bread dyspepsia is common. It affects the bowels because white bread is nearly all starch, and starch is digested in the intestines, not in stomach proper. Up under the shell of the wheat berry, Nature has provided a curious deposit which is turned into diastase when it is subjected to the saliva and to the pancreatic juices in the human intestines.

The diastase is absolutely necessary to digest starch and turn it into grape sugar, which is the next form; but that part of the wheat berry makes dark flour, and the modern miller cannot readily sell dark flour, so nature's valuable digestor is thrown out and the human system must handle the starch as best it can, without the help that Nature intended.

Small wonder that appendicitis, peritonitis, constipation, and all sorts of trouble exist, when we go so contrary to Nature's law. The food experts that perfected Grape-Nuts Food, knowing these facts, made use, in their experiments, of the entire wheat and barley, including all the parts, and subjected them to moisture and long continued warmth, which allows time and the proper conditions for developing the diastase, outside of the human body. In this way the starchy part is transformed into grape sugar in a perfectly natural manner, without the use of chemicals or any outside ingredients. The little sparkling crystals of grape sugar can be seen on the pieces of Grape-Nuts. This food, therefore, is naturally predigested and its use in place of bread will quickly correct the troubles that have been brought about by the too free use of starch in the food, and that is very common in the human race today.

The effect of eating Grape-Nuts ten days or two weeks, and the discontinuance of ordinary white bread, is very marked. The user will gain rapidly in strength and physical and mental

THREE IVY LEAVES

Cause the Arrest of a Little Six-Year-Old Child in New York-She Plucked Them in a Public Park and a Burly Policeman Took Her to the Lockup.

[New York World.]

Three ivy leaves plucked in a public park for a bouquet for dolly brought Dora Callahan, 6 years old, to the bar to answer the charge of theft.

Such a guiltless little sinner as lifted those blue eyes to Magistrate Mott's face in the Yorkville police court would have melted a heart of stone. The blue eyes were swimming in tears, the small bosom heaved convulsively, and the fingers clasped and unclasped in an agony of terror. Policeman Powers had detected the child in Stuyvesant Park in the act of pinning the stolen leaves on her doll's He had straightway arrested frock.

both child and doll. "Don't you know better than to pick flowers in the park?" asked the magis-The baby lips trembled pitifully, two enormous tears raced down the pale cheeks, and for answer Dora hid her face in her mother's gown.

"You are discharged, little one," said the magistrate, tempering mercy with a warning that in future she should not go to the park in the evening save in the care of some older person.

The offense was committed on Friday about 7 p.m. The arrest of the little girl, according to onlookers and her friends, was performed with unnecessary harshness. As a result the sensitive child is threatened with nervous collapse. It was just before supper time. Dora, with her younger sister, Lizzie, and a band of little playmates, had wheeled her dolly in its tiny carriage to the park for an airing. Dolly was shown the flowers. "Ah! she wants one!" cried Dora, gazing at her "child" with motherly

The Callahans had lived at No. 404 East Sixteenth street barely a month, and Dora knew nothing of park laws to guard the flowers from small depredators. Dolly coveted flowers. It was "mother's" duty to get her one. Without a thought of guile the child plucked the ivy leaves for Dolly's corsage bouquet. Policeman Powers saw this act of lawlessness, and brought his hand down upon the child's shoulder. That grasp and the rough voice demanding to know how she dared steal flowers threw the frightened child into a paroxysm of weeping.

Tearing the flowers from the doil's frock the officer threw Dora's treasure into the doll buggy, and dragging the child by the arm started for the East Twenty-second street station. The little "mother," in all her trouble, would not "child." She wheeled the desert her carriage before her right up to tho sergeant's desk. Sergt. Fagan thought Dora too young to be locked up, but Policeman Powers was bent on making an example of her. She was sent to the Gerry Society's

Meanwhile Sister Lizzie, frightened and uncomprehending, had rushed back

"Dora's gone! The policeman took her!" she cried, bursting in as her parents were about to sit down to John Callahan, who is a laborer, started off without hat er coat for the park. The minutes passed and he did not return. Mrs. Callahan, wild with anxiety, went in pursuit. She found her husband, and together they pieced out the story. William Reardon, a saloon-keeper at No. 272 First avenue, gave bail in $400 for the child, and Dora, after an hour or two, was restored to her mother's

But such a changed Dora! Her eyes were red and swollen, her brown hair was tumbled, and the little figure was shaken with uncontrollable nervousness. The fright had completely un-strung her.

When a World reporter found her and asked her for her story she burst into sobs and rushed into her mother's

"I can't-I just can't tell it any," was all she could say.
"She has scarcely slept. She will not eat," said Mrs. Callahan, in hot indignation, "and she cries all the time. I cannot quiet her. Of course, I know the children have no right to pick the leaves or flowers, but she did not understand. It seems to me any man with an ounce of heart would be less harsh and brutal with a nervous, sensitive child. Her arm has been very painful from the way the policeman handled her. It will come back to him some day-never fear. If I had left Dora at the society's room over night I think she would have died of fright. The ordeal of the police court was ter-self badly enough." Policeman Powers says so many complaints have been made by residents of the children's thefts that he resolved to make an example of one of the offenders.
