The Earl of Lindsay Dead.

LONDON, May 14.—John Trotter Lindsay-Bethune, the tenth earl of Lindsay, died on Saturday at his country house at Kilsnochan, Fifeshire. He was 67 years of age.

Severe Earthquake.

BERLIN, May 14.—The Sydney correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung says that on March 3 and 4 a severe earthquake shook Moko in the Bismarck archipelago. Nearly all the dwellings were leveled to the ground. Missionaries and traders suffered heavy losses.

Seven Drowned.

BUENOS AYRES, May 14.—The small Argentine steamer Thyra, carrying 350 tons of wheat, collided three days ago with the Italian steamer Remo from Genoa off San Pedro, Rio Grande del Sul. The Thyra went down almost immediately and seven of her crew were drowned.

Big Prices for Paintings.

LONDON, May 14.—At the recent picture sale at Christie's $31,000 was paid for "A Scene of the River Stour," a splendid example by J. Constable, R.A., exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1819, in which year the artist was made an associate. For "Chevy," by Sir Edwin Landseer, R.A., exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1863, $18,850 was paid.

Against the Lords.

LONDON, May 14.—The executive committee of the National Liberal Federation has issued a call for a conference to be held at Leeds on June 30 for the purpose of formulating a plan against the House of Lords. The circular calling the conference declares that the Upper House of Parliament is a standing menace to the liberties of the people, and it is necessary to practically determine how that obstacle can be surmounted or removed.

Stuck Fast in the Chimney.

LONDON, May 14.—A man named John Quinn, a laborer, has had a peculiar misadventure at Newcastle-on-Tyne. One night recently he endeavored by descending the chimney to obtain a sleeping place in a blacksmith's shop where he worked. When half way down he stuck fast and was unable to move. Early in the morning a boy heard his cries and called a policeman. The chimney had to be demolished before the man could be extricated, and he was then helpless from exhaustion.

Brazil Is Angry.

LONDON, May 14.—The Brazilian legation in this city has received the following telegram from Rio de Janeiro: "President Peixoto has broken off diplomatic relations with Portugal. The President has sent to the Portuguese legation the passports for Count de Paraty and for the members of the Portuguese legation's staff."

This rupture of diplomatic relations is the direct result of the action of the Portuguese naval commanders in Rio allowing asylum to the Brazilian rebels.

Stormy Time in the Italian Parliament.

ROME, May 14.—The debate in the Italian Chamber this afternoon was exceedingly stormy. The Opposition reiterated all the old objections to the war budget and insisted that several items should have been cut down. Gen. Menni spoke repeatedly to refute the arguments against the budget. On the vote the Government got only 9 majority and the Opposition set up a great din of jubilation. The situation is extremely complicated, if not critical. The semi-official newspapers hint that dissolution is likely.

Royalty Making Its Own Hats.

LONDON, May 14.—Straw plaiting is the latest fad in English society. Princess Beatrice has already plaited with her own hands the straw for a hat for Prince Henry of Battenberg, the workmanship of which is described as being curiously delicate. It is also stated that the Queen has for many years made it a practice to occupy some of her leisure time in plaiting straw for the hats of her sons and nephews. The German Emperor values very highly one or two that have been prepared for his wear by the skillful fingers of his royal grandmother.

A Great English Scholar Dead.

LONDON, May 14.—Prof. Henry Morley, LL.D., the distinguished author and lecturer is dead. Prof. Morley was born in London. He was educated at the Moravian school on the Rhine and at King's College, London, of which college he was made an honorary fellow. He practiced medicine a short time in his early life and was later editor of the Examiner in London. He was the author of a large number of works on various subjects. He was English lecturer at King's College from 1857 to 1865, professor of English language and literature at University College, London, from 1865 to 1889 and upon his retirement to Cambridge in 1889 he was made emeritus professor.

Laurier's Star in the Ascendant.

LONDON, May 14.—The Times to-day contains a letter from its Canadian correspondent which is five columns in length and treats of live Canadian matters in a most lucid and intelligent manner. Speaking of the French-Canadian question, the correspondent, who seems to be perfectly at home on the subject, says it is quite possible for Mr. Laurier, with the loyal support of the Liberal party throughout the Dominion, and in view of the state of public feeling in Quebec and other eastern provinces, to become Prime Minister after the next general elections. The French-Canadian question, he says, has become the crux of politics in the Dominion.

A New French Fashion.
PARIS, May 14.—Mme. Carnot has created a new fashion and new source of revenue for the Eiffel tower. That structure has in its skylight a meteorological office, in which observations of the weather are taken every two hours. When Mme. Carnot intends to take a drive she inquires through the telephone what the weather will be for the next few hours. Her costume is regulated accordingly. This example is being followed.

THE STRIKERS' STRUGGLE.

No Signs of a Settlement in the Coke Region.

Plumbers and Gasfitters Win the Day at Manchester, N. H.—Other Labor Matters.

PARIS, May 14.—The cabinet's executive committee has issued a manifesto ordering a strike, which is to begin on Wednesday. MANCHESTER, N. H., May 14.—The plumbers and gas fitters' strike, which has been on since May 1, is practically declared off. Five firms have signed the agreement asked for by the journeymen, and others will probably sign. Where the employers have signed the men resumed work to-day.

SCOTTSBURGH, Pa., May 14.—The coke operators made great efforts this morning to break the strike, but they did not succeed. It is now evident the struggle will be one of endurance.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 14.—An attempt was made by the strikers to blow up the Morgan tunnel on the State line branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, with dynamite, but information was received in time to prevent the plan from being carried out.

MCKEESPORT, Pa., May 14.—Five hundred men and boys employed in the butt mill of the National Tube Works, struck this morning. The strikers demand the restoration of 20 per cent reduction made when the men went to work last February.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 14.—The 4,000 employees of the National Tube Works at McKeesport went out on strike for a 20 per cent advance in wages.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 14.—Everything in the Great Northern difficulty awaits the movements of Mr. Debs, who is still in Chicago wrestling with the Pullman trouble. President Hill, of the Great Northern Company, said the company will abide by whatever decision the arbitration committee may make.

FATAL RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Ladies from Mr. Moody's School the Victims.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., May 14.—A fatal runaway accident occurred on South Main street this afternoon. A party of five women from Moody's school at Northfield, including three teachers, the Misses Bloodburt and Wardwell—the matron of the school and Miss McNeely, a nurse, were coming down South street, a steep hill entering the village, when the neckyoke broke, and their carriage horse ran away, all being thrown from the carriage. The youngest, Miss Blood, struck an iron grating killing her instantly, while the others were taken up mangled and bleeding. Miss Blood is probably fatally hurt. The others will recover.

BIG MINE ON FIRE.

Five Hundred Men Said To Be in Great Danger.

IRONWOOD, Mich., May 14.—The great Aurora mine near this city is on fire. Just how much damage has been done cannot be told as yet.

The lives of 500 men are in danger, and the whole community is in great excitement.

The fire at the Aurora mine did not reach the shaft, and no lives have been lost. Two crossed electric wires set fire to the shed covering the hoisting machine, and the shed was destroyed, but the machines were not injured.

Breckinridge Bounced.

CHICAGO, May 14.—The board of managers of the Union League Club this afternoon voted to expel Col. Breckinridge from the roll of honorary membership of the club.

Agin the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The Republicans of the Senate adjourned a four-hour caucus at midnight. The Tariff Bill will be fought, and the Republicans say they believe they can defeat it.

Perished from Thirst.

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 14.—The bodies of W. M. Rogers and W. W. McDonald were found on Harquahala desert, 60 miles from here. The men were prospectors and perished of thirst while attempting to cross 40 miles of the desert on foot.

Cape Colony's Delegates.

CAPE TOWN, May 14.—Cape Colony will send Sir John De Villier, chief justice, and Sir Charles Mills, Attorney-General, to London as her delegates to the conference to be held in Ottawa to arrange for closer trade relations between British Colonies. Sir John De Villier will sail from this port to-morrow.

"Spotted."

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, May 14.—A. D. Beckhaus, one of the Behermen arrested last Tuesday for fishing in Canadian waters, explains that while Dr. McCormick's petty jealousy had something to do with the arrest, the chief cause was that the two tugboats seized had been blacklisted for repeated law breaking, and that the revenue cutter had been on the look-out for them for some time.

Dashed to Death.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 14.—A fatal accident occurred this afternoon near a point known as the Indian Path, on the bank of the river between the railway and carriage suspension bridges, in which the bright little son Frank of John Ellis met a terrible death. It seems that the lad, whose age was 15 years, was exploring for a new path to the water's edge from the top of the precipice, stood on the limb of a tree and leaned over to look down when the limb gave away and he was dashed on the rocks about 100 feet below.

The General Elections

Progress of the Campaign Throughout the Province.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and His Able Aids at Pembroke.

The Liberal Leader Makes a Telling Address.

Dates Fixed for North and South Waterloo Reform Conventions—Political Notes.

PEMBROKE, Ont., May 14.—About 3,000 people assembled in the skating rink here this afternoon to hear the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, aided by his trusted and able lieutenants, Mr. Fraser, M.P., of Guy'sboro, N. S., Dr. Landerkin and Mr. Chiquette, M.P., discuss the political questions of the day. The rink was decorated with bunting and evergreens, and the town showing a profuse exhibition of flags, took on quite a holiday appearance.

On the platform, besides those mentioned, were: Mr. P. Jamieson, president of the North Renfrew Liberal Association; Thos. Murray, ex-M.P.; Henry Barr, M.P.; R. C. Miller, Dr. McKay, S. E. Mitchell, M.P.; Jas. Craig, Renfrew; A. Wright, Renfrew; Revs. D. G. McKay, Reid and Bayne, Messdames Laurier, Fraser, Murray and others.

At 1:45 p.m. Mr. Jamieson introduced the leader. Mr. Laurier began by remarking that in this very large assemblage before him, and to the great majority of whom he was a total stranger, he was at a loss to know whether the Liberals or Conservatives predominated. It he judged by the intelligence which appeared to beam from their faces, he would say that the Liberals predominated very largely.

He did not quarrel with the opinions of any one, for all opinions once they were stamped with sincerity, were deserving, whether of right or wrong, of due respect, and he could not commend to any man a higher standard than to follow the dictates of his own conscience, though it would be a source of inestimable pleasure to him if all Canadians were possessed of a conscience that led them to vote Grits at all times. He would have them remember that whether Grits or Tories the Government of the country should be for the people, and not the people for the Government. Taxation, Liberals thought, was nothing more than a necessary evil, and no man had a perfect right to every cent which he earned; it was found to be a necessity, that certain taxes be imposed for the purpose of raising the necessary revenue to carry on the Government of the state. Once any Government oversteps this in the line of taxation they are taking from the citizens that which they had no right to take, and if they pursue a matter of policy, then they descend to a system of legalized robbery, and this is what the Government at Ottawa are doing. They are the aiders and abettors of a system of legalized robbery, a system by which they take the hard-earned coins from the pockets of the artisans and farmers to place it, not in the treasury for the purpose of necessary revenue, but in the hands of the combiners and monopolists. It was a policy which admitted of no justification in the eyes of God or man.

He did not object to the manufacturers getting the benefits of the duty so long as it was imposed, but he did object to the Government levying these duties and continuing to levy them because they dare not on the peril of their very existence remove them, and thereby risk losing the material aid and assistance of those poor infants when the elections are on, while all the time the wall and lament goes out unheeded from the overtaxed farmer and artisan, whose product and labor receive no protection. Much of the material objection would disappear if it could be successfully shown that the chief hopes which took the shape of forests of tall chimneys covering the land had been at all realized. Is there who can say truly that the hopes which then held have reached an approximation of realization? Has the country been filled up? Have the farmers got that home market, of which such boasts were made? I have inspected your town during yesterday and to-day, and have failed to find a single tall chimney. As the farmer's capital is his farm, he is poorer to-day by the amount his farm has depreciated in value.

Do the intelligent farmers of this country desire to continue this system which is continually holding them down? But the infant industries must be assisted. Ah, those poor infants spoon-fed, swaddled clothed, perched on infants, ever fattening, but never getting strong. Senator Drummond, the manager of the Redpath sugar refinery, one of those infant industries, gets a salary of $60,000 per annum, which is more than is paid our Governor-General or the President of the United States. Does the company that can pay this salary require protection? And yet some farmers are to-day hesitating as to casting their vote against this iniquitous system!

Protection did not give employment, but when first adopted a rush in business, which was followed by the combines and closing up of factories and driving of many artisans across the border. In proof of this Mr. Laurier cited the glass and cordage business. He then showed how protection in the hands of any government, no matter how honestly disposed, tended to engender corruption. That though Alex. Mackenzie, the pure and true, but from the granite of his native hills, had shocked some Conservatives by his extravagant expenditure of public money, yet they were not at all shocked when the present Government increased the annual expenditure to $38,000,000 and then say that the Liberals could not do any better. It was an insult to say that the Liberals could not lower the annual expenditure. As an instance, were they installed in office to-morrow, by a little bill they would chop off the official heads of 215 revising barristers and relegate the Electoral Franchise Act to oblivion and thereby effect a saving of something over $250,000. He showed them how that in this, the fairest land under heaven, the people were suffering for want of a market, being shut out from the natural market to the south, and having only the free trade market to Britain. How that in 1891 the Tories first denounced the policy of reciprocity as disloyal and then, seeing the trend of public opinion, appealed to the country with a falsehood in their mouth, in so far that they said that an offer for reciprocity made by the United States Government was being considered by them. This was a deliberate falsehood. Though he was a strong party man and was looking for the reins of office, he would scorn, and he knew every Liberal would scorn to accept office at the cost of honor. Perpetual opposition were better by far than power purchased by fraud. As a Canadian of French origin he loved England as much as any man, because under the English banner he enjoyed more liberty than he would under the flag of old France; but the country first in his heart was Canada and Canadian interests.

He then, in an eloquent peroration, called upon all Liberals to make the fight one of personal concern if they hoped to win that fight which it was necessary to win if they desired the country which they all loved so ardently to attain to that degree of prosperity which had been marked out for her by a bounteous providence.

Mr. Fraser spoke for nearly an hour on the trade question, and was followed by Mr. Chiquette in a short French address.

Dr. Landerkin addressed the meeting briefly, but long enough to stir up the smiles of the vast assemblage.

A vote of thanks, moved by Thos. Murray and seconded by S. E. Mitchell, P.M., was carried unanimously, and a resolution expressing confidence in the Liberal Opposition in the Federal Parliament and the Government of Sir Oliver Mowat in Ontario.

Then one of the greatest gatherings ever held in North Renfrew, amid cheers for the Queen, Mr. Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat, was brought to a close.

NORTH WATERLOO REFORMERS.
BERLIN, May 14.—The Reformers of North Waterloo held their convention here to-day, over 500 delegates being present. John Moir, of the Berlin Journal, was elected president. B. Snider, present representative, received the unanimous vote of the delegates, but declined to run, and the meeting adjourned until Friday.

NOTES.
The South Waterloo Liberal convention takes place at Galt on Thursday next.

At the East Hastings Conservative convention, held in Roslin on Monday, W. B. Northrup was nominated for the Dominion House and W. H. Hudson for the Local. The latter wants a few days to consider the matter.

It is rumored in Montreal that the vacancy in the Senate caused by the death of Sir John Abbott will be filled by Mr. E. B. Eddy, of Hull, Que.

DR. MCGLYNN TALKS SINGLE TAX

He and Henry George Together Again on the Platform—The Priest's Strong Zeal.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Henry George and Dr. McGlynn spoke from the same platform in Chickering Hall last night for the first time since 1887. They uttered the same sentiments, enlivened each other, and were applauded by an audience similar to that before which they last appeared together. It was the windup of the season's series of lectures which were conducted by the Manhattan Single Tax Club, and the attendance was consequently large. Alfred Mason Bishop presided.

Dr. McGlynn was the first speaker. He delivered a speech which was on much the same lines as his former addresses on "The Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man." The single tax doctrine, he said, was first preached by him from the same platform seven or eight years ago. It was particularly gratifying to him, he said, again to stand on the platform with Henry George. From the single tax doctrine he would never recede. The essential doctrine of the single tax movement was the right of every human being to live on the world and the duty of every other human being to respect that right. It was a religious word that he was engaged in, he said, although he stood on a secular platform and although he did not bring his cassock and surplice along.

Mr. George followed Dr. McGlynn. Mr. George read an extract from a recent address of the Vice-General of the Pope, in which he said that politics were wrong; that Mr. George's words that "the rich were growing richer and the poor poorer" were coming true, and that the social question was the all-absorbing question, not only of the future, but of the present. Cardinal Manning had told him eleven or twelve years ago that the doctrine would be preached had not been, nor never would be, condemned by the Catholic Church. Yet the first time that Dr. McGlynn had stood upon that platform it was made an occasion by one of those high in the Catholic Church to denounce the doctrines as pernicious. Dr. McGlynn's doctrines were now approved and believed in by four leading doctors of the Catholic Church, and by the highest representative of the Pope in this country.

A PREACHER'S PROTEST

Against the Employment of ex-Monks and ex-Nuns.

TORONTO, May 15.—At Euclid Avenue Methodist Church last Sunday the pastor, Rev. A. M. Phillips, announced a meeting to be addressed by an ex-Roman Catholic priest and monk.

After doing so he declared that he had no sympathy with this kind of thing, as he did not think it was the way to win Roman Catholics or the means that Christ would employ. He looked upon the Roman Catholic as a branch of the Christian Church, although there are errors in connection with it.

Said he: "I don't know whether this man is an ex-priest, or an ex-monk, or an ex-sinner; but I hope he is an ex-sinner. I have known so many frauds. It would not convert me to Presbyterianism for an ex-Methodist minister to speak on the errors of the Methodist Church. It would make me mad."

The lumber camp of Emery & O'Brien in the woods back of Cammal, near Williamsport, Pa., was wiped out by a forest fire Monday, together with a sawmill and about 2,000,000 feet of lumber.

Dominion Parliament

A Revising Officer Who Did Not Revise.

Rectification of a Gross Injustice Refused.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]
OTTAWA, May 14.—There were half a dozen questions on the order paper of the House to-day. Mr. Rinfret was informed that George Hunter Aylmer Brooke,
revising officer for Richmond, Que., had made no revision of the list in 1891, and
that it was not the intention to retain Mr.
Brooke in the office.

Mr. Hughes asked if Major-General
Herbert had permission or authority from the Minister of Militia to use the language
he did with reference to the Pontifical Zouaves in his recent address to the Sixty-Fifth Battalion of Montreal. The putting
of the question was greeted with shouts of
"Hear, hear."

Hon. Mr. Patterson replied: "I disclaim
all responsibility for any utterances of any officials of my department. There is no necessity for my authority being given for any of their utterances. At the same time,
to gratify my friends' friendly and laudable
thirst for knowledge, I will give him the exact words used on that occasion." Mr.
Patterson then proceeded to quote a French
report of the speech, which elicited roars
of laughter, the fun apparently being that neither Mr. Patterson or Mr. Hughes is familiar with the French language.

An interesting point arose in a discussion
over a motion for the production of papers
relating to the dismissal of Mr. Loiseleur, postmaster of Ste. Angèle de Monnoir. This official was accused of forgery and other
wrong doing, and he was dismissed in disgrace. He brought an action at law and obtained a judgment completely exonerat-
ing him from the charges. Another member was, however, appointed in his place,
and he was not reinstated. Mr. Brodeur,
who brought the matter up, demanded justice for Loiseleur, who had been wrongfully
dismissed and a stigma placed upon his character.

Sir Adolphe Caron admitted all these facts, but said that the inspector who investigated the matter, reported that Loise-
leur was guilty, and after he had been found innocent by a court was too late to reinstatement because it would have involved the dismissal of the new appointee.

Mr. Brodeur said he had moved for all the papers two years ago, but they had never been brought down.

The Postmaster General replied that the report of the inspector upon which the dismissal took place, was confidential, and
would not be brought down.

Mr. Brodeur said that Inspector Gervais'
investigation was a sham, that the charges
were malicious, and that the dismissal was made in pursuance of a threat made from a public platform by Mr. Giguère, a candidate at the last election, that he was entirely against the Government, and would shortly
be dismissed.

Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Lister
contended strongly that the Postmaster-General had no right to destroy this man's
good name and then upon proof of the error
being clear refuse to right the wrong and
to justice to the dismissed official, who had been branded as a forger. It was outrageous, Sir Richard declared, that a public
officer should ruin a man's character and
secure his dismissal on the strength of a
report which was not concealed as confidential.

After a good deal of discussion Sir John Thompson was forced to consent to the passing of an order for all the papers, including the "confidential" report of the inspector.

After recess several motions were adopted, among them one by Mr. Patterson, of Brant, providing for the distribution among Indians having trust funds of 300 extra
copies of the report of the Department of Indian Affairs.

Mr. Miles, of Annapolis, dropped his motion to extend the electoral franchise to
women, failing in his gallantry at the last moment.

The House adjourned early.

NOTES.

Mr. Foster gives notice of the following items of further tariff changes: Upper
leather, including dogskin, cat-skin, kid,
lamb, sheep, and calf, dressed, waxed or
glazed, 17½ per cent ad valorem; picks,
mattresses, grub hoes, adzes, hatchets, and
poles for same, and edge tools of all descriptions, 35 per cent ad valorem; shovels
and spades, shovel and spade blanks and
iron or steel cut to shape for same, 50
cents per dozen and 25 per cent ad valorem;
cane, reed or rattan, split or cut, and
manufactured, 17½ per cent ad valorem;
veneers of wood, not over 1-16th of an inch
thick, made from woods native to Canada,
10 per cent ad valorem; buggies, carriages
and pleasure carts, costing not more than $50, $5 each, and 25 per cent ad valorem.

BABIES HANDICAPPED

When Fed on Common
Foods.

Lactated Food Produces Healthy Development.

The progress and development of the infant is very often handicapped at the very beginning of its career through ignorance
and want of care. When proper nursing
from a healthy breast is impossible it is of the greatest importance to know just what
to use in order to sustain and develop life.
Every day, every hour, is of the utmost
value in the early days of life. The infant
should not be merely kept alive; it must
make continual progress in growth and
general development.

All starchy, heavy and irritable foods
should be avoided. Common sense should dictate the use of a food easily digested,
easily assimilated, non-fermenting, and
that will not cause bowel disorders. Science
has given mothers the well-tested Lactated
Food, free from injurious ingredients,
highly nutritious, non-irritating, and suited
for the weakest stomach. Physicians admit that Lactated Food is the nearest approach
to pure and healthy breast milk, therefore
the safest and surest food for the weak and
struggling infant.

At this season of the year it is impera-
tively necessary to use Lactated Food for
the baby if mothers desire to preserve their
dear ones from fatal summer complaints.

If you want a solid walnut or oak case
seated rocker for $1.25 or anything else in
the furniture line just as cheap call on KEENE BROS., 127 King street, opposite
market house. Get your furniture repaired
and upholstered before the rush.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead who has not tried the New Fire Kindler?

Fateful Flames.

Disastrous Results of a Benzine Explosion.

Fully One Hundred People Badly Burned.

A Badly-Insulated Electric Wire Connecting With an Organ Stop Caused
the Big Blaze in Brooklyn—
Other Fires.

BRADFORD, Pa., May 14.—During a conflagration at Emery's oil refinery yesterday
afternoon a tank car containing 4,100
gallons of benzine exploded with a mighty roar.

A crowd of sightseers was within 100
feet of the tank, and a body of firemen was massed within half that distance. The latter were covered by the first flash of the explosion, but the greater distance separating
the front ranks of spectators from the exploding tank saved them.

The air was full of fire, but the benzine
had consumed itself before it could fall
upon the spectators. The explosion was followed by a panic that cannot be described
in words.

Thirty-five of the firemen were burned
so that the skin peeled off their faces and
hands, and the half was singed off their heads and faces, and the total number of
those burned and injured in the stampede
will probably reach 100 persons.

Mrs. Emma Wheaton and Mrs. T. Smith
were carried down in the rush, trampled
under foot and have sustained dangerous
injuries. John J. Crosby's ears are burned
to a charred crisp and his hands are roasted. He is foreman of the Whitney Hose Company.

C. A. Coleman is very badly burned
about the face, neck and hands, and his
lungs are affected from breathing the fire.
He is in a serious condition.

The following persons were badly burned
and are under the care of physicians: John Meeker, Edw. M. Murphy, James Dou-
gerty, William Stewart, Edward Gardner,
Robert French, John Carr, Chas. Coleman,
Bert Coleman, William Griffith, John Irwin, M. Murphy, and Bert Fizzell, all of the Liberty Hose Company; J. Crosby, Joseph Gifford, Rush Rockwood, Eugene
McCane, John Haskins, all of the Whitney
Hose Company; Daniel Regan, William
Carey and William Dixon, of the Citizens'
Hose Company; Harry Stillings, William
Hays and Charles Helwig, of the Johnston Hose Company; and several others whose names are not obtainable. R. H. Mc-Garvey and Matt Behan, employees at the refinery, are in a critical condition, resulting from their burns.

BROOKLYN, May 14.—Fire Commissioner
Warner said to-day the fact seemed to be demonstrated that yesterday's fire, which destroyed the Tabernacle, the Hotel Regent
and two blocks of dwellings, was started
by the contact between an organ stop
pulled by Organist Brown and a badly
insulated electric power wire inside the organ. The commissioner is investigating the cause of the inefficiency against the fire department. The loss on the Hotel Regent is $700,000. The insurance aggregated $800,000, but of this $500,000, it is said,
was on personal property. A great deal of
personal property covered by this insurance was saved.

SARINIA, May 14.—This afternoon a fire
occurred in the works of the Canadian Oil Company here, burning one of the stills,
caused by a flaw in the iron work allowing
the oil to leak, and becoming ignited it burned. The damage was slight.

St. LOUIS, Mo., May 14.—The restaurant and club house in Forest Park was struck by lightning this morning. The bolt struck a gasoline pipe and instantly
the structure was ablaze. Two employees
were rescued in an unconscious condition.
The building was destroyed. Loss, $50,- 000; insurance, $46,000.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., May 13.—The residence of Charles Stewart, a farmer residing about two miles from here, was totally destroyed by fire with all its contents this afternoon. Loss, $2,500; partly covered by insurance in the London Mutual to the amount of $1,000.

TORONTO, May 14.—This morning the handsome residence of Mr. R. W. Pritt, at corner of Davenport road and College
street, was gutted by fire. The loss is estimated at $16,000; covered by insurance.

GOING TO PIECES.

The "Industrials" Falling Into Dis-
repute.

Arrests, Imprisonment, Desertions and Demoralization the Order of the Day.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 14.—"Capt."
Michael D. Fitzgerald, the leader of the New England industrial army, has been
deserted by his followers. Fitzgerald, Lauri, Kallistras and Joe, W. Collins have been arrested last night at a Socialist
meeting, and to-day they were held in $800
bail, each for giving vent to Anarchistic
sentiments. None of the trio could secure bail, and they were committed to Moyam-ensing prison. The incarceration of Fitzgerald cast a damper on the rank and file
of the army, and disbandment seems probable. The "captain" had intended that the army to resume its march to Washington at 9 o'clock this morning, and after
he had been put behind the bars his followers held a meeting and elected one Gann as their leader. At 11 a.m. the contingent to the number of 53 departed for Chester and left Fitzgerald to his fate. The army was greeted with jeers and hisses until it had passed beyond the city limits.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—What was left of "unknown" or "Mountebank"
Smith's contingent of the Commonwealth
army has been formally disbanded by him.
Some of the men joined Coxey at Blandensburg.

DEAR SIR:—I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great
inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Purifier, and after taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for B.B.B. entirely cured me. I have also used it for my wife and family and have found it the best thing
they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B.B.B.

London, Tuesday, May 15.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER, with its morning and evening editions, covers the ground. With one exception, it is the ONLY EARLY MORNING DAILY IN ONTARIO, outside of Toronto.

—Only those communications to which the writers are willing to have their names appended in print will be published in these columns. Neither the writing nor the publication of anonymous letters can be justified.

—The tariff which is not a tax is a steal.

—Sneers at Thomas S. Hobbs because he is a merchant and manufacturer, and an employer of labor, will seek to foist upon London a man who is not an employer of labor, and who is the paid agent of a rival city.

—It may interest citizens to know that the judge-editor is again using his pen against one of the two political parties from whom he derives his living. He cannot hold still when he finds his political friends hard beset. But the end is not yet.

—The Conservative convention for South Toronto was to have been held last night, but for the third time it was postponed. "Three times and out" is the rule. With Mr. Chas. Moss as candidate, the opponents of Sir Oliver may as well adjourn indefinitely.

—Hamiltonians fall out among themselves about the best men to elect to public office. But who ever heard of one of their journals taking a brief to fight Toronto's battles by seriously advocating the selection of a Toronto corporation official as the representative of their city? It is only in London that "political exigency" brings forth such a humiliating spectacle.

—You have an election in the Province of Ontario, and we ask you for your support for that little giant, Sir Oliver Mowat. Stand firm by the man who has given to the Province of Ontario a Government which is the envy of all civilized nations, a Government which has existed for 23 years, and a Government against which you cannot bring a breath of scandal. I ask your support for that Government, and then I go back to ask that when the greater struggle shall come you will give us your assistance in the cause of freedom of trade.
—[Hon. Wilfrid Laurier at Pembroke.]

—The Galt Reporter, a journal that is not received by us, is quoted by the Hamilton Spectator as saying:

"In London, the ADVERTISER boasts the liquor interest is safe for Mr. Hobbs, the Galt candidate."
This is neither more nor less than a falsehood of the first water, and the Hamilton paper should have known better than repeat it. No such boast has ever been made by the ADVERTISER; and if it had been made it would be as untrue as the declaration of the Galt Conservative paper. We suppose that journals which so mislead their readers hope to gain something by it in the long run, but we much doubt if their expectations will be fulfilled.

A ROPE OF SAND.

They are having a good deal of fun in Lambton county these days. One cause of the hilarity is the claim of the London Free Press that Mr. W. R. Meredith is so popular with all classes that Mr. J. M. Courtwright, of Inwood, declined the nomination of the East Lambton Liberals because he was an admirer of the Toronto city solicitor!

Anxiety to find a peg upon which to hang a "popularity" that is far less evident to-day than it was in 1890, when Mr. Meredith was landed in a hopeless minority, has led our city contemporary to make an amusing mistake. The fact is that Mr. Courtwright, though a native of the United States, and having no particular interest in Canada except what is connected with his stove and bolt mills at Inwood, is a pronounced Conservative, and has always been a supporter of that party in Dominion as well as in Provincial politics. He was named and would have been the Conservative candidate for the Legislature at the late bye-election, and was ready to take the field, but the P. P. A. faction in the Conservative ranks ruled the convention, and got it to tacitly endorse Mr. McCallum by not nominating a candidate.

Mr. Courtwright has got enough sense to refuse to form part of the tail of the P. P. A. kite, and it was for the purpose of showing his disapprobation of P. P. A. principles and of the inaction of the Conservative party in the present campaign, that he attended the Liberal convention, and took a seat on the platform. His nomination was a purely complementary affair, all present being fully aware of the position that he occupied. Mr. Courtwright, as in the past, acknowledges Mr. Meredith as his leader, but there being no Conservative party in Lambton to lead at the present time, as there is none in the city of Hamilton and other places where the party has struck its flag to the P. P. A., Mr. Courtwright feels that he is at liberty to cast his influence with the Liberals. Scores of men similarly situated of his way of thinking are to be found in East Lambton, and the same holds good of the West Riding. There is therefore little consolation for our former fellow townsman in the declaration of this independent Conservative, and his newspaper sponsor will have to look elsewhere for comfort in this hour of its trouble.

PRESERVE LONDON'S BEAUTIFUL SURROUNDINGS.

Every citizen of London will be proud to hear the testimony regarding the beauty of their city borne by a foreign visitor who spent a few days here last week. He said that he had been all over Canada and the United States, but had seen no city that in point of general attractiveness as a place of residence excelled this center of population. That this is no overdrawn estimate is proved by the testimony of many Londoners on their return from extended trips over the continent. We have indeed a splendidly located city, and a large number of the citizens, by judicious expenditures on their residential property, have in recent years added greatly to its attractiveness. There has been cordial co-operation in many localities in the throwing down of front fences, in leveling and keeping trimmed boulevards and lawns. The work was begun when the tree-planting era set in over twenty years ago; it received an impetus when Victoria Park was laid out and its board fences taken away; and even most conservative citizens have joined in the movement to an extent never dreamed of when it was started.

There are drawbacks to the further extension of the beautifying era, and we desire frankly to mention some of them, so that parents, guardians and teachers may counsel the young—who are the principal transgressors—and citizens generally may be urged to co-operate in respecting the many privileges which we all enjoy in common. When, at much expense, the aldermen laid out the beautiful walks and drives in Victoria Park, the intention was that they should be used, and that citizens would protect their property by abstaining from marking beaten paths on the greenward. The desired carefulness has not been taken. Men, women and children, persist in making paths on the grass, in preference to walking on the avenues provided, and the appearance of the park is much detracted from. The advocates of the abolition of residential front fences are also met with constant complaints against the conduct of school children, delivery men and messengers, who persist in taking short cuts across the boulevards and well-kept lawns of the city. Moreover, we are informed that petty thieving of flowers has become far too common, even from private grounds that can only be reached by jumping low fences.

We mention these facts, not with the object of retarding a movement that has done so much to educate the public taste and has added to the enjoyment of thousands of citizens, but in order that we may arrest the attention of the thoughtless, and effect reform where it is much needed. We do not believe that the offenders here referred to injure property intentionally. They trespass without desire to do harm. Many injure the park and city lawns because others do so, and some pilfer flowers from private grounds because they think these will not be missed where there are so many. Nevertheless, the trampling of lawns and of park grass and the stealing of flowers is reprehensible, and should be discontinued by everyone. Many high fences are yet to be brought down, many lawns to be beautified, but if the belief exists that to remove residential fences is to invite the making of beaten paths at the sweet will of every messenger and delivery man that comes along, while flowers and shrubs are despoiled by thoughtless or greedy children, we may count on no more fences being brought low, and some grounds now left open for public enjoyment may be closed in. Parents, guardians, school teachers and employers of messengers should unite in an endeavor to preserve the parks, lawns and boulevards of the city from despoliation. An earnest word in season may be fruitful of many good results.

NO MORE GERRYMANDERING.

It is reported from Ottawa that some sore beset Conservative politicians in Quebec are still urging the Dominion Government to pass a supplementary gerrymander act to enable them to overcome Liberal majorities. We look to the Liberals in the Dominion House of Commons to prevent any such additional outrage. The example set by the late Mr. Parnell and his followers shows what can be done by a small and determined band of men when they believe that their liberties are menaced by attempted legislation. How much more easily can frustrating methods be adopted by a large body of men like the Liberal delegation in the Dominion Parliament, who represent one-half of the ungerrymandered public in the House of Commons. If any outrage is attempted it is within the power of the Liberal contingent, as it certainly is their duty, to prevent its completion though the fight should take all summer. The liberties of the people must be preserved at all hazards.

A TERRIBLE CHARGE.

The Toronto Empire rushes to the defense of Mr. Meredith, the city solicitor of that constantly self-aggrandizing municipality. It accuses the ADVERTISER of the frightful crime of walking "all over Mr. Meredith with hob-nailed shoes, regardless as to how painful the operation must be to the gentleman in question." This accusation is dreadful. We will have to fly. We are overcome by the powerful logic of the organ of the Toronto city solicitor. The Empire attacks the ADVERTISER because it, along with the newspaper of organized labor in this city, has honestly voted what we believe to be the opinion of far more than one-half the population of the city—that no man who has adopted Toronto as his client, who is paid, as the Empire confesses Mr. Meredith is paid, to be her standing counsel in all questions affecting her welfare, can be accepted as a representative for the city of London. With that patrolling air which Toronto newspapers and Toronto politicians always bestow on cities that are rivals of Toronto the Empire argues that as Mr. Meredith's ability as a lawyer secured him his job in Toronto, we in London should rejoice and be exceedingly glad, because it showed appreciation of Mr. Meredith, a London man. The force of this argument is lost to any one who knows that years before Mr. Meredith was selected as the $13,500-a-year adviser of Toronto he deserted London and took every precaution possible to show that he had left us for good. He is just as much a Toronto man now as any one in Toronto is, and he would not have been appointed a paid officer of Toronto if he had not deserted London. As to his eminence as a lawyer, we admit it. But is it not as necessary for the welfare of this Province to have in its Legislature men who have been eminently successful as merchants and manufacturers, as employers of labor, as it is to have well-paid lawyers? The Toronto Empire itself, three months ago, testified to the business ability and reliability of Mr. Hobbs, and no pre-election depreciation of him and adulation of the Toronto city solicitor can belie that testimony, for it is endorsed by the citizens of London without regard to rank or condition of life. The Empire says the ADVERTISER wishes to drive Mr. Meredith out of public life. It has no foundation for that statement. What we have said is that his friends in Toronto could put him up in any one of the four constituencies, and have a better chance of electing him there than here. And the result of the coming contest will prove this.

How general is the opinion that no officer of a rival city can be acceptable to the electors of London is demonstrated by this statement from the Industrial Banner, the official organ of organized labor in London:

"There is nothing small about Toronto. She is not content with wanting four city members in the Ontario Legislature, but manages to pick candidates for a score of rural constituencies as well. She is now expected to elect her able solicitor to swell the crowd. Toronto is no hog, she doesn't want the universe. Give her all the land and someone else can have the water. She is always willing to go halves so long as she gets the solid half. Great head! Some day she will have the right to elect go ahead as she is doing, and 'Get there, Jacob,' is the word while other people pay the piper."

If the ADVERTISER has walked over Toronto's candidate for the representation of London with hob-nailed shoes, what shall be said of the workingmen's journal? Organized labor may well fear and tremble when the Empire gets after it. The workers whose sentiments are here voiced should be thankful that so lofty an individual as the Toronto solicitor condescends to be a candidate for London!

Skipped to Death.

CINCINNATI, May 14.—Saturday. Marie Sheehan, aged 12, a pupil of Windsor street public school, playing at recess, jumped a rope 600 times without stopping. Last night she became unconscious, and is at death's door. Her physician suspects the rupture of a blood vessel upon the brain.

Death of a Famous Tortoise.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 14.—The oldest settler in Ceylon is dead, says the Japanese Press. Haggard's "She" was a baby beside the famous tortoise of Ceylon. The recently deceased was a tortoise famed in history having been brought to Ceylon by the Dutch previous to the capture of the island by the British. The aged animal which had seen numerous generations come and go at last succumbed to the advance of civilization. Owing to some grating dock operations going on where he was taken care of, it was removed to another place, and the change of food brought on a form of indigestion, from which it died. The deceased was six feet long from tip to tip and the species to which he belonged is now extinct.

The Spring Medicine.

"All run down" from the weakening effects of warm weather, you need a good tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not put off taking it. ## RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

For Internal and External Use.

In using medicines to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system, Opium, Morphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shuts up, and instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

There is no necessity for using these uncertain agents when a positive remedy like Radway's Ready Relief will stop the most excruciating pain quicker, without retarding the least danger, in either infant or adult. It instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays inflammation, and cures congestion, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels or other glands or mucous membranes. FOR SPRAINS, BRUISES, BACKACHE, PAIN IN THE CHEST OR SIDES, HEADACHE, TOOTHACHE OR ANY OTHER PAIN, a few applications act like magic, causing the pain to instantly stop.

CURES AND PREVENTS.

Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Inflammation, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Asthma, Difficult Breathing, Influenza.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Swelling of the Joints, Pains in Back, Chest or Limbs.

The application of the READY RELIEF to the part or parts where the difficulty or pain exists will afford ease and comfort.

INTERNAL PAINS IN BOWELS OR STOMACH, CRAMPS, SPASMS, SOUR STOMACH, NAUSEA, VOMITING, HEARTBURN, NERVOUSNESS, SLEEPLESSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, DIARRHEA, COLIC, FLATULENCY, FARTING SPELLS are relieved instantly and quickly cured by taking internally a half to a teaspoonful of Ready Relief in half a tumbler of water.

MALARIA.

Chills and Fever, Fever and Ague Conquered.

There is not a remedial agent in the world that will cure Fever and Ague and all other Malarious, Bilious and other Fevers, aided by Radway's Pills, so quickly as Radway's Ready Relief.

Price 25c per bottle. Sold by Druggists.

RADWAY'S PILLS.

For the cure of all disorders of the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS, KIDNEYS, BLADDER, NERVOUS DISORDERS, HEADACHE, CONSTIPATION, COICIVENESS, INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, RICHNESS, FEVER, INFLAMMATION OF THE BOWELS, PILES, and all derangements of the Internal Viscera. ## Alerts' Opening Day

Illinois College Boys Win a Well-Contested Game.

Played Mostly in the Rain and Witnessed by 500 Spectators.

Kensington Park to Have a Bicycle Track—Last Trials Before the Big Brooklyn Handicap—General Sporting News.

The Alerts lost their opening game of the season yesterday afternoon to the University of Illinois. It was not a disheartening defeat, considering the way they pulled the game out of a deep damp hole in its early stages. In the sixth and seventh innings the game was tied. In the eighth some wild pitching by Hiscott, aided by a couple of fielding errors, let a couple of runs and made the score 12 to 10 in favor of the U. of I. The Alerts failed to score in the ninth and the game was lost.

It was very plucky on the part of the team that they played ball at all in the face of a falling rain and a cold wind. There was a steady drizzle for five innings, and with muddy feet and wet grass, slippery balls and more slippery bats, it was wonderful that the game was kept under control the way it was. Twice in succession Burton's bat slipped from his hands, and caused the third baseman to execute a species of kangaroo dance to avoid a crack on the shin. A convenient pile of sawdust helped to keep the bulls presentable, with the aid of skillful nursing under the pitchers' sweaters.

There was a large attendance, and it would have been larger had not an unfounded rumor circulated that the game had been called off. A great many hung around the front fence unwilling to risk a quarter until they were sure of a match. Chas. S. Hyman, M.P., opened the game, and when the teams came in from practice to assist in the ceremony the crowd in front of the fence thought that the game was off, and made for the intelligence to them; the falling rain gave color to the supposed postponement, and many who were on their way to attend turned back.

The grand stand is not the most comfortable place to be in on a rainy day. The roof is very leaky, and little pools form on the benches that ought to be periodically mopped. Some young men have a habit of chewing tobacco and spitting between the seats. If the roof was mended and the latter practice frowned down on early in the season it would be pleasant to sit on the grand stand. A large number of ladies were present.

Mr. Hyman made a neat little speech in opening the game. After welcoming the visitors and congratulating the Alerts on their handsome new grounds, additions and improvements, he went on to express the hope that the best team would win, although no doubt all would be happier if the Alerts were ahead at the end. He then tossed the ball onto the green toward, while the crowd cheered.

The game should have been the Alerts'. They earned three runs to Illinois' one, and stole bases in a way that shocked and worried the U. of I. men, and made mud clogging all over the Alerts' pretty white sweaters and blue shirts. Hiscott stole two bases, Hynd two, Sippi two and Quinn one, total 7. The U. of I. had none to their credit. Frederickson brothers made an elegant battery. The pitcher struck out his men at the proper time, when the bases were dangerously full. On several occasions the bases were filled with Alert players when the inning closed. Once, in the fifth, there was an exception when Burton was at bat. Two men were on bases and two men out. Two strikes had been called on Burton when he knocked out what proved to be a three-base hit that brought in two runs. The crowd yelled itself hoarse.

The Alerts made 11 base hits, 2 two-baggery and 1 three-base hit, compared with 9 base hits by the U. of I. There was a wrangle in the seventh when Quinn was hit by the ball. Frederickson tried to make out that he had purposely got in the way of the sphere, but the umpire gave Quinn the base. It was the single difference of opinion during the whole game.

Hiscott played a good game, although his errors were costly and his delivery very wild in the second and eighth innings. He was at bat 5 times, made 3 runs, 2 base hits and 3 assists. The errors of Farnworth and Player are easily accounted for by the wet condition of the ball and grass. Hiscott, too, would probably have controlled the ball better under different circumstances.

The Alerts made a strong showing for their initial game. Capt. Sippi is everywhere, and several times he saved a collision on the part of different members of the infield by timely naming the man to take the fly.

Taken on the whole the crowd saw a good game, and the U. of I. were more than satisfied.

A more rapid means of exit would be welcomed. The crush at the single door was very great yesterday. A little boy got trampled on on the stairs and narrowly escaped serious injury.

NOTES.

The visitors were delighted with their treatment.

The Alerts' grounds are now the largest in Canada.

The University team left at 7 p.m. to play in Norwalk, Ohio, to-day. They have played ten games this season already.

The Varsity boys need not have played yesterday as their expenses were guaranteed, rain or shine. They cheerfully consented to brave the cold rain, rather than see the Alerts lose money.

The Alerts expect to play an exhibition game with the Maple Leafs of Guelph here on Saturday. Between London and Guelph there has always been the keenest rivalry in ball. The Leafs defeated the Toronto Dukes Saturday and are a strong combination.

The new uniform of the Alerts is exceedingly pretty and serviceable. The suit is blue with the name "Alerts" worked in white across the breast and a white band on the cap. It is a great improvement over last year's outfit.

WATCHING THE OAKSHEEN.

LONDON, May 14.—Messrs. Wright and Ryan, the Toronto oarsmen, are practicing with care and regularity and their daily routine of training is beginning to excite the curiosity of the sporting and athletic fraternities. Morning and evening their spins up and down stream are watched by crowds, and numbers on foot and on horseback follow them along the river banks.

THE TURF.

FINAL TRIALS FOR THE BIG RACE.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Fully 10,000 persons were at Sheepshead Bay and Gravesend yesterday morning to see the final trials for the big race. Those horses that had their winding up on Saturday trotted about leisurely and will do no more racing until Mr. Rowe's red flag whips the air about 4 o'clock to-morrow. Banquet and Don Alonzo had a final chance to show their quality. Banquet won and he will be the preferred. Banquet will run a vastly improved horse on Tuesday. The horse of the day, however, is the estimation of many trainers, especially the Sheepshead Bay contingent, is Dr. Rice. This 4-year-old worked yesterday, with fully 120 pounds up, a mile and a quarter in 2:12. It was only play for the colt, and Fred Taral, who is to ride him, said to a party of friends during the day, "They must run in 2:07, or better, to beat me." Fred Foster, who owns the horse, feels sure of carrying the major portion of the $25,000 stake back to St. Paul with him. A lot of Rice beating. Sir Walter Clifford or Henry of Navarre. Friends of Eugene Leigh are still confident that Clifford will win. Comanche worked for the Brooklyn and Gravesend with Griffin up a mile and a quarter in 2:11 and pleased the critics a good deal more than on his last appearance. He is regarded as an outsider, however, with only a fighting chance. Wm. Howard sent Herald the handicap route in 2:13, and Matt Allen worked the English colt Bassettlaw in 2:14. A well-known handicapper will open the betting on the handicap to-morrow with the following prices: Sport 12, Clifford 3, Sir Walter 3, Ajax 10, Don Alonzo 10, Banquet 10, Diablo 30, Dr. Rice 6, Bassettlaw 50, Comanche 30, Picknicker 50, Blitzen 100, Copyright 100, Herald 40, Henry of Navarre 8, Marshall 200.

SPREADING THE QUEEN'S PLATERS.

TORONTO, May 14.—At Woodbine Park to-day Joe Miller was sent the full plate distance with Brooker up. He was accompanied by Bonnie Buff and Vicar of Wakefield. Trainer Walker started the horses at three different points on the track. Joe Miller broke away from the top of the stretch, and a quarter of a mile from home, and was joined by the Vicar of Wakefield half a mile farther on, and at the three-quarter pole Bonnie Buff fell in with the pair and carried Miller along home. The mile was covered in 1:47 and the mile and a quarter in 2:13, which is by four seconds faster than last year's time.

This is considered an extraordinary good and some of the knowing ones are backing him against the field at less than 2 to 1.

This work was done by Miller with about 120 pounds on his back, or 17 pounds more than he will be required to carry next Thursday, when the Vicar of Wakefield is improving, and some are of the opinion that the Seagram horses in the plate race will run the same as last year—one, two, two.

Saragossa again lowered the season's track record for a mile and a quarter and did it quite handsly, and showed a mile in 1:47, and a quarter in 2:15 and a mile and a half in 3:45.

Outside the Seagram string Mr. Dugan's Foam did the best work of the day, turning a mile in 1:47, Ocean Belle going part of the distance.

Golden Craft ran a half-mile in 52.

FISCATORIAL.

A meeting of the London Gun Club was held at the Tecumseh House last night, with a large number of members present.

It was decided to amalgamate the creek and the pond on the preserve at Donchester.

THE WHEEL.

A TRACK ON TECUMSEH PARK.

Mr. W. J. Reid, with his usual enterprise, has resolved to proceed with the construction of a bicycle track at Kensington Park in the fall in order to be ready for the season of 1895, when London expects the C. W. A. meet. The material to be used has not yet been decided upon.

CITY CHAMPIONSHIP TO-NIGHT.

The city bicycle championship will be decided this evening. The race is from Victoria Park to St. Johns and return, ten miles. The scratch man will leave the "Guns" at 7 o'clock, and the fastest man at 6:52. Ten entries have been made, and the handicaps will be as follows: Manville and White, scratch; Wade, 3 minutes; Holt, 4 minutes; Brown, Jenkins, Glover, Smith, 5 minutes; Elson and Bryant, 8 minutes.

There will be one time and two place prizes. A big crowd is expected at the Park to witness the start and finish.

ON A BICYCLE TRIP FOR TWO.

TORONTO, May 14.—Mr. John Brown, of the Citizens' Milling Company, had a "bicycle" built for two, and yesterday afternoon he left his home on Dunn avenue, carrying his little crew, who weigh 34 pounds, and wheeled to Oshawa, a distance of 34 miles in 2 hours and 45 minutes. Four miles this side of Oshawa he punctured the tire and was obliged to return by train.

ATHLETICS.

SIDDONS VS. EGAN.

NEWARK, N. J., May 14.—George Siddons, the "mass" iron man," of New Orleans, and "Young Jack" Egan, a brother of the Montana Kid, of Harrison, N. J., met at Harrison to-night and Egan was defeated in the tenth round.

The Gatineau, Moise Jonasson, of that village, was crushed and drowned by the turbine of one of Gilmore & Houson's water wheels. The unfortunate man was repairing the wheel when some one above turned on the water and set it going with the result above stated.

A Cayuga dispatch says G. F. Henry, an Indian belonging to the Mississaugas of the Credit, has been missing since Nov. 2 last. On Nov. 4 some man was killed near Cayuga station, M. C. R. The body was fearfully mangled, but was not identified. Since then G. F. Henry, the father, has recognized the remains, which were exhumed. There is a suspicion of foul play.

"Truskey will live all right," said J. J. Sargent, Cayuga, on Monday. "He is getting along nicely, and is now able to eat. He never tried to starve himself, as has been reported, but he was unable to stomach much with a bullet in the vicinity of his stomach. He is now getting along as well or better than any other man would who had a scaffold dangling before his eyes."

Frank Brown Says Dodd's Kidney Pills Give Universal Satisfaction—The Reason Is They Never Fail to Cure.

SHELBURNE, May 14.—Frank Brown, the well-known druggist here, says: "In the past eighteen months I have sold 119 dozen of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Considering the quantity I have sold, I have had an opportunity of ascertaining whether the pills give satisfaction or not. I can say that during my fifteen years' experience in the drug business I never sold a medicine that gives the universal satisfaction that Dodd's Kidney Pills do. I am satisfied any person suffering with kidney trouble only requires to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a fair trial, and he will be convinced of their wonderful curative properties."

DROWNED AT WINDSOR.

WINDSOR, May 14.—Wm. Darkie fell off the railway dock at Walkerville this afternoon and was drowned. Friends tried in vain to rescue him. He was 18 years old.

FATAL MINE ACCIDENT.

FORTVILLE, Pa., May 14.—By an explosion of gas this afternoon at the Burdick colliery at Mahoney Plane John Horstenstein was instantly killed, Robert Dalton and Michael Ryan fatally burned, and Wm. Meeny and James Ryan severely burned.

NICE HANDS

Are an acquisition to any lady; so are nice gloves. And is it not a fact that a well-fitting pair of gloves often sets off a pair of hands that may be shapely enough, but whose color, alas, is anything but fascinating?

EVERY LADY

Wants gloves this summer? Why not, then, get the best at the lowest price? Our reputation for gloves, as well as other things, is one that we look to with pride. We never put into stock anything that we are not assured will give good satisfaction; therefore, it is not to be expected that we will have any inferior grades to offer.

REMARKS FALLS, Minn., May 14.—An electrical storm of cyclonic character passed over the eastern part of this county last night near Henning. The cyclone lifted a section of the Northern Pacific track bodily into the air and scattered it over the surrounding country. The west-bound train has been delayed in consequence and is still at Wadena. No loss of life is reported.

Refused a Marquis.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 14.—The story that Miss Mary Hampton, of the "Aristocracy" Company, refused an offer of marriage made by Francis Beresford, Lord Tyrone, the Marquis of Waterford, at a breakfast party given at the Hotel Metropole, New York city, is confirmed by Mr. John Mack, of this city, husband of Miss Carrie Turner, the actress, who was present. Both Mr. Mack and his wife say that the young marquis, in the excess of his love for Miss Hampton, made a public proposal, and was very emphatically refused.

"Turn to the Right."

"Nav, but, madame," I said, feeling more concerned for her, on whom from the first moment of meeting her I had brought nothing but misfortune, than surprised by this new treachery on his part, "will you not run some risk, returning to him? Is there nothing I can do for you—no step I can take for your protection?"

"None," she said, repelling me almost rudely, "except to speed my going."

"But you will not pass through the streets alone?"

"She laughed so bitterly my heart ached for her. 'The unhappy are always safe,' she said."

Remembering how short a time it was since I had surprised her in the first happiness of wedded love, I felt for her all the pity it was natural I should feel. But the responsibility under which his Majesty's aid me forbade me to indulge in the luxury of evincing my gratitude. Gladly would I have escorted her back to her home—even if I could not make that home again what it had been, or restore her husband to the pinnacle from which he had fallen. I dared not do this. I was forced to content myself with less, and was about to offer to send one of my men with her, when a hurried knocking at the outer door arrested the words on my lips.

Signaling her to stand still, I listened. The knocking was repeated, and grew each moment more urgent. There was a little grilling, strongly wired, in the upper part of the door, and this I was about to open in order to learn what was afoot, when Simon's voice reached me from the farther side imploring me to open the door quickly.

Doubting the lady's presence, yet afraid to refuse lest I should lose some warning he had to give, I paused a second and then, did the fastenings. The moment the door gave way he fell in bodily, crying out to me to bar it behind him. I caught a glimpse through the gap of a glare as of torches, and saw by this light half a dozen flushed faces in the act of rising above the edge of the landing. The men who owned them raised a shout of triumph at sight of me, and, clearing the upper steps at a bound, made a rush for the door. But my aim was to the lips, while Simon's eyes seemed staring from his head, and he shook in every limb with terror.

At first, on my asking him what it meant, he could not speak. But that would not do, and I was in the act of seizing him by the collar to force an answer from him when the inner door opened, and the king came out, his face wearing an air of so much cheerfulness as proved both his escape from the mademoiselle's story and his ignorance of all we were about. In a word he had not yet taken the least alarm; but seeing Simon in my arms, and Madame leaning against the wall by the door, he perceived of life, he stood and cried out in surprise to know what it was.

"I fear we are besieged, sire," I answered desperately, feeling my anxieties increased a hundredfold by his appearance, "by whom I cannot say. This I know, however, 'and he shall speak. Now, tremble, sire, to him, 'till you take'."

"The Provost-Marshal," he stammered, terrified at his own voice, "I saw, and Henry had removed his mask. 'I was on guard below. I had come up a few steps to be out of the cold, when I heard them enter. There are a round some of them.' I cried out a great oath, asking him why he had not gone up and warned Malignant, who with his men was now out of our room. In the rooms above. 'You fool!' I continued, almost beside myself with rage, 'if you had not come to this door they would have mounted to my rooms and beset them! What is this folly about the Provost-Marshal?'"

"He is there," Simon answered, cowering away from me, his face working. I thought he was lying, and had merely fancied this in his fright. But the assailants at this moment began to hail blows on the door, calling on us to open, and using such volleys of threats as penetrated even the thickness of the oak, driving the blood from the women's cheeks, and arresting the king's step in a manner which did not escape me. Among their cries I could plainly distinguish the words, "In the king's name!" which bore out Simon's statement.

At the moment I drew comfort from this; for if we had merely to deal with the law we had that on our side which was above us. And I speedily made up my mind what to do. "I think the lady speaks the truth, sire," I said coolly. "This is only your Majesty's Provost-Marshal. The worst to be feared therefore, is the Provost-Marshal's presence before you would have known. It should not be a matter of great difficulty, however, to bind him to silence, and if you will please to mask, I will open the grille and speak with him."

The king, who had taken his stand in the middle of the room, and seemed dazed and confused by the suddenness of the alarm and the uproar, assented with a brief word. Accordingly I was preparing to open the grille when Madame de Brühl seized my arm, and forcibly pushed me back from it. "What would you do?" she cried, her face full of terror. "Do you not hear? He is there."

"Who is there?" I said, startled more by her manner than her words.

"Who?" she answered, "who should be there? My husband! I hear his voice, I tell you! He has attacked me here! He has found me, and will kill me!"

"God forbid!" I said, doubting if she had really heard his voice. To make sure, I asked Simon if he had seen him; and my heart sank when I heard from him too that Brühl was the man. For the first time I became fully sensible of the danger which threatened us. For the first time, looking round the ill-lit room on the women's terrified faces, and the king's masked figure instinct with repressed nervousness, I recognized how hopelessly we were smothered. Fortune had served Brühl so well that, whether he knew it or not, he had us all trapped—like the king whom he desired to compromise and his wife whom he hated, mademoiselle who had once escaped him, and I who had twice thwarted him. It was little to be wondered at if my courage sank as I looked from one to another, and listened to the ominous creaking of the door, as the stout panels complained under the blows rained upon them. For my first duty, and that which took the pas of all others, was to the king—to save him harmless. How, then, was I to be answerable for mademoiselle, how protect Madame de Brühl—how, in a word, redeem all those pledges in which my honor was concerned?

It was the thought of the Provost-Marshal which at this moment rallied my failing spirits. I remembered that until the mystery of his presence here in alliance with Brühl was explained there was no need to despair; and turning briskly to the king I begged him to favor me by standing with the women in a corner which was not visible from the door. He complied mechanically, and in a manner which I did not like; but lacking time to weigh trifles, I turned to the grille and opened it without more ado.

The appearance of my face at the trap was greeted with a savage cry of recognition, which subsided as quickly into silence. It was followed by a momentary pushing to and fro among the crowd outside, which in its turn ended in the Provost-Marshal coming to the front. "In the king's name!" he said fustily.

"What is it?" I replied, eyeing rather the flushed, eager faces which scowled over his shoulder than himself. The light of two links, borne by some of the party, shone rudely on the heads of the halberds, and, flaring up from time to time, filled all the place with wavering, smoky light. "What do you want?" I continued, "troubling my lodging at this time of night?"

"I hold a warrant for your arrest," he replied bluntly. "Resistance will be vain. If you do not surrender I shall send for a man to break in the door."

"Suspended only," he answered. Suspended only? It was given out to this evening for instant execution. And I am here in pursuance of it, and call on you to surrender."

"Who delivered it to you?" I retorted. (To be Continued.)

SHOT BY HER BETROTHED

And Let for Dead—A Fendish Crime.

New York, May 14.—At 7 o'clock this morning employees of the New Jersey Trap Rock Company while on their way to work discovered in the bushes along the road the body of a young and fine-looking woman. Dr. King found two pistol bullets, one in the breast and the other behind the right ear of the girl. The doctor succeeded in reviving the patient.

She gave her name as Sadie Weirs or Kraft, and said she lived at Rome, N. Y., and had come to Jersey City yesterday morning with her betrothed to be married.

She said the man's name was Bernard Holenberg, 22 years of age, a tailor, also of Rome. He induced her to draw all her savings from the bank and be married. They stayed in Jersey City all day yesterday and attended church. Last evening after supper Holenberg took her for a walk and then shot her. Every thing was stripped from the body by her assailant, who doubtless left the girl for dead, and took everything he thought would identify her or by which he might himself be traced.

"What is it?" I replied, eyeing rather the flushed, eager faces which scowled over his shoulder than himself. The light of two links, borne by some of the party, shone rudely on the heads of the halberds, and, flaring up from time to time, filled all the place with wavering, smoky light. "What do you want?" I continued, "troubling my lodging at this time of night?"

"I hold a warrant for your arrest," he replied bluntly. "Resistance will be vain. If you do not surrender I shall send for a man to break in the door."

"Who delivered it to you?" I retorted. (To be Continued.)

BRANT. C. H. Waterson, of Brantford, has received word that the Waterson engine works in St. Paul, Minn., have been gutted by fire. The insurance on the works amounted to about $25,000.

HURON. T. Lavan, of Clinton, met with a bad accident while at work in the foundry recently. He was holding a board to the buzz saw, when it caught, and his finger slipped over, striking the saw, which cut three fingers so badly that the doctor dressing the injury had to remove the fingers entirely.

ESSEX. William, son of J. J. Brault, Amherstburg, about fifteen years ago was kicked in the head by a horse, and for some years past he has been subject to fits as a result of the kick. When he was examined last week the doctor found that two small bones were in the brain. An operation has just been performed in Detroit for their removal, and he is expected to recover.

MIDDLESEX. John Noble, of Stratford, has been appointed a Provincial fire coroner.

WELLINGTON. A very sad occurrence took place at the home of James Graham, con. 13, West Larch, on Thursday. A little child, 21 months old was left alone in the house for a few minutes, and by some means got the stove door open and pulled a burning stick out. The child's clothes caught fire, and it was so severely burned that it died Friday morning.

A Wonderful Cure.—Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. About a year ago I took a very severe cough, had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the bottle showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using three bottles of the Vegetable Discovery the biliousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know." 3

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Diphtheria has appeared at 513 Queen's avenue.

—Miss Laura Hobbins, of York street,
has returned home after spending a few days in Tilsonburg.—The advertisement that cannot be understood at the first reading is seldom read. Clearness should always be conspicuous.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Hilter, who have been visiting Mrs. Hobbins, of York street,
returned last Thursday to their home in Alliance, Neb.—The final organization of ward workingmen's clubs, announced to be held last night in the Labor Hall, was postponed until to-night to avoid clashing with another meeting.—Persons who live near the corner of Piccadilly and Miles streets complain that
a number of youths congregate in the vicinity, and behave in a disorderly manner.
A police visit might do good.—Geo. E. McKay and J. F. Moyer, members of the London Bicycle club, left
that place on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock
and arrived in this city at 4:30 in the afternoon. They left for Toronto at 6:30.

—(Guelph Herald, Monday.)

—The Stratford Herald is in dire distress because of the preponderance of lawyers in the Legislature. Will the electors of London please keep this in mind
when they are asked to vote for Mr. Meredith?—(Stratford Beacon.)—Mr. Herbert Matthews, of New York,
who was called home last week, by the death of his mother, returned to-day to the city. He is with the eminent firm of C. C. Haight, architects, and has been very successful in his profession.—In re-leasing street railway franchises
in Detroit, Mich., last week, the city succeeded in stipulating that eight tickets
should be sold for 25 cents. This means a saving of more than $10 a year to every person riding to and from his work.—The "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company made quite a street parade to-day. The procession included two bands—white and colored—half a dozen bloodhounds, little Pete, Uncle Tom, marks the Lawyer
astride a donkey, and other spectacular
effects.—The executive committee of the London Hunt Club met last night, with Col. Dawson in the chair. Six new members were elected, and it was decided to enter Adam Beck's horse Leung Stock in the road
coat race on the Woodbine track in Toronto on May 24.—The argument in the London street
railway case was finished at Osgoode Hall
yesterday and judgment reserved. In the case of Shaw vs. Shaw, Hoyles, Q.C., for the defendant, appealed from an order of the local judge at London allowing the plaintiff to make certain amendments to his
statement of claim in an action to set aside
a conveyance as fraudulent. T. T. Macbeth, London, for the defendant, contra.—Miss Hollingwood, one of the chorus girls in the Marie Tempest Company, had
a fit of hysterics during the performance on Saturday evening, and Dr. Rennie was called from the audience to attend her.
She was said to be suffering from a fright
that she received on the previous night in London, where some one young man
knocked in the door of her bedroom.—(Hamilton Spectator.)—"I have never turned up my trousers
at the bottom in rainy weather," said a middle-aged man of family, "because I
never like to see trousers show creases
there. I have always preferred to have my trousers get wet, but keep my own back
straight. But my eldest son, who blithely
tells me that he knows now more about clothes than I ever did, which I believe to be true, says that the annual creasing can
in large measure be prevented if one will
take the trouble to turn down the bottoms
of the trousers promptly on coming in out of the wet, while they are yet damp."—A dispatch from Bay City, Mich., of May says: "Beverly Murray, of Loudon, a brother of George Murray, the alleged accomplice of Charles W. Thayer,
five years in the Detroit House of Correction,
walked into the Detroit station here
to-night and asked if there was a warrant
for his arrest, as he had been so informed.
He was answered in the affirmative. He was charged with having received $500 in gold from Thayer last January. Murray
denies all knowledge of the affair, and says
he is ready for trial. He refuses to divulge the whereabouts of his brother."—Frank Tucker Company.
Frank Tucker, who appears at the Grand Opera House this week commencing Thursday night, has in his company a wonderfully clever child artist, called Baby Johnson. For four months she was a feature at the Trocadero, Chicago, during the World's Fair season. She performs all the latest and most artistic dance-creations
known, and goes through the many movements with the skill, ease and grace of an older performer. Baby Johnson is but 5
years old, and creates a decided sensation
wherever she appears. Naturally she is a great feature with Mr. Tucker's company.
She will appear in a special bill at the Saturday matinee, and will perform one or more of her dances every night.—"Uncle Tom's Cabin" To-Day.
Ed. E. Davis' colossal spectacular "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company will appear at the Grand to-day (matinee and night). "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was given to the public at a time when all civilized humanity were hesitating between their prejudices and
their established modes of thought and the growing conviction felt in their inmost
heart that slavery was all wrong. The book was eagerly devoured by all, high and
low, rich and poor, and the effect of the
impression it created was felt immediately.—In fact, the appearance of this work developed the latent sentiment against
slavery and was a potent factor in enlisting
men in the ranks of those actively engaged
in suppressing it.—Women Mission Workers.
The regular quarterly meeting of the

women's auxiliaries and mission bands of the Methodist churches in London and the surrounding district was held in the London West Church yesterday afternoon, a large number of workers being present.
The session was opened with devotional
exercises by Mrs. Dickson, of Dundas Center, and a Bible reading by Mrs.
Evans. The report of the last
district convention was read by the secretary of the Wellington Street Church society. It gave a full account of the deliberations of the workers, and was adopted. The reports of numerous auxiliaries showed that great advancement
was being made, spiritually, financially
and numerically. The question, "What feature in your auxiliary work has been
most helpful and encouraging in the present year?" was responded to by presidents
Mrs. (Dr.) Fowler, representing Queen's Avenue; Mrs. Gundy, Wellington Street;
Mrs. Elson, London West; and Mrs.
Dickson, Dundas Street. Several others
also replied. Mrs. Cochran and Miss Heritage sang a duet in
an excellent manner, and Mesdames C.
B. and M. Armstrong, Thorne and Cochran
sang a quartet. In the evening an open meeting was held, the church being fairly well filled. The proceedings were interesting, having relation more especially to mission work. Rev. B. Clement presided.
Rev. Mr. Cassidy, a returned missionary from Japan, spoke on the work undertaken
by him, and related many amusing incidents. Mr. Cassidy also described the social customs of the Japanese, and told of
the difficulties a foreigner had to contend
with through not being entitled to the rights of citizenship. Miss Greenway
sang a solo, and the choir gave several selections.

DISGRACEFUL TAGTICS.

Treatment Meted Out to Peter Ryan
by His Detractors.An Emasculated Letter and the Sequel
to a False Charge by a Stump Orator.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

In reference to my open letter to Mr.
Crothers, of St. Thomas, wherein I asked for proof of his slanderous accusations, I had a friend buy a timber limit for me
where I acted as auctioneer for the Government, and a few days later sell it for an advance of $18,000. I may say that the Free Press of London, refuses to insert my letter, though that journal very readily inserted the calumny. In the issue of
yesterday it gives a short extract of it,
but adds an untruth to the paragraph,
by stating that I got $4,000 for the same,
whereas I received only one-eighth of that amount. You know how hard it is to overtake lies from the forge, but I wish as far as possible to nail one whenever it shows up, and as Mr. Crothers hails from St. Thomas, and is likely to come across all references to him in your columns,
you may oblige me by saying that I am
waiting for proof of his slander, and now
when his inquiries from his Toronto
political leaders have afforded him no assistance, let him say on what ground he based a foul charge against a man whose character is entitled to fair play. I rather think Mr. Crothers is one of the race of men who breathe out slander where it is supposed to be safe, and go unreported,
and no doubt he wishes he had been more
careful and guarded in his expressions, or
that he had selected some other subject for his false accusation. However, it is for him to "speak now," and tell all he knows
about the timber limit sale. It is too late in the day for him denying having slandered me at Thamesville, for within the past 24 hours he has
hunting up material for his charge against
me, but they could not afford him one
cumbrous comfort, for there's not a Conservative journalist, politician or citizen who has ever before dared to question my integrity as an auctioneer. Mr. Crothers should have had his proof before he spoke, and
then he would not be in the unhappy
plight of having to admit, by his silence,
that he spoke not the words of truth but of falsehood. Mr. Crothers may be sure that his political bad-fellows will lionize him
over this land, if he can make good his
charge, and for their sakes let him proceed
without delay, for they sadly need a good
case of downright scandal to help them
along on the thorny path. Yours,
PETER RYAN.

Toronto, May 12, 1894.

STEEPED IN SIN.

Many Murders Laid at the Door of Geo.

Decker, a Wealthy Rancher.

YREKA, Cal., May 13.—It was expected that the grand jury would to-day bring in indictments accusing George Decker, a
wealthy rancher, of the murder of his wife, Margaret E. Decker, and Nevada Decker,
her babe, 27 years ago, and Rosa Stone, a granddaughter, about eight years ago. Ten murders are laid to Decker's door as well as
other foul and unnatural crimes, committed
at various times through the last 30 years.
Several of these murders are susceptible of proof. Others are based on suspicion
more or less well founded, though in some cases it amounts to moral certainty.
Besides the three named, the list comprises Edward Stone, who was Decker's second
wife's son-in-law, Benjamin Decker's son, Caroline Goodrich Decker, his second wife;
a 4-year-old son of Edward Stone, a hired
man in Sacramento Valley, name unknown,
and a man in Illinois, name unknown.
Decker killed his first wife and child in 1867, butchering them with his own hands
and burying their bones on the top of a high ridge. Their discovery a short time ago crystallized the belief prevalent for
some time that he was guilty of many atrocities and led to his arrest. After his first wife's death he married a widow named Goodrich, and lived with her over twenty years, and is believed to have gotten rid of her finally in 1890 by poison. He disposed of one child, who bothered him, in 1886.
The murder in Illinois is said to have been committed before he came west and the one in Sacramento Valley after his arrival. His various relatives were killed because they
stood in the way of gratifying his desires,
or knew of his crimes.
