LONDON MAN, ON FIRING LINE IN FRANCE, "ACCOUNTED FOR" 12 UHLANS

IN HOSPITAL, BUT WANTED
ANOTHER "GO" AT GERMANS
AFTER KILLING 12 UHLANSLondoner Who Fought From Mons to Meaux Writes Graphic Letter.

WAR POSTPONED WEDDING

As Result Sergt. Sanham Declares He Has Heavy Score To Pay Off

Lying in a hospital cot in the Beckett's Park Hospital, Leeds, Sergeant A.
Sanham (5300) of the Twentieth Hussars, a former Londoner, who left this city on July 1 to return to his old home in England to be married, writes to his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. San-ham, 60 Albion street, this city, the first news of the British engagements in France that have come from a Londoner.

The letter is not couched in the language of the vivid word picture painters. It is a simple narrative of a British soldier whose only plea is to have another chance at the Germans. Yet it tells a wonderful story in its simple language. Between the lines one can read the determination of the British soldier to do his duty for King and country come what may.

Did Their Duty.
In the matter of fact—"I hope to come out all right, but if I don't, well, you will know that the Sanham family did their duty"—of Sergeant Sanham's letter is a wonderful expression of the loyalty, devotion and quiet heroism that has been Britain's name through the pages of history in letters of fire. It is but one more indication of the John Bull bravery—the dogged determination to fight to the last and do his duty—that places the British Tommy Atkins in the front rank of soldiery and gives him such a superiority over the German soldier as to make the latter a script soldier of the military autocrat who has plunged Europe into a sea of blood and a desolation of ravage and rapine.

His Best Job.
In the brief—"My best job was to polish off 12 Uhlans with three men"— is the quiet unassuming modesty of the true British soldier. Any soldier might be proud of such a feat, such a victory against overwhelming odds, but San-ham modestly refrains from any self-praise and confines himself to merely calling it his "best job."

The London sergeant fought with his regiment from Mons to Meaux, and it was only a sunstroke that kept him out of the fighting that since taken place. From the tone of the letter, which follows, it would seem that the sunstroke has "bowled him out," as he phrases it, and that he has been denied the privilege of having another smack at the enemy.

Escaped Unwounded.
That he escaped unscathed seems wonderful, for he nonchalantly refers to one engagement where the six men who were with him were either killed or wounded.

While a London Sergeant Sanham, who is a British army reservist, was employed at the Dennis Iron and Wire Works. As before stated he left here on the 1st of July to return home to be married. The call for reservists to the colors prevented that, however, and now he is anxious to take it out of the Germans for the postponement of his wedding.

His Letter.
The letter in full follows:
Dear Uncle and Aunt,—Just a line while I have a chance, to let you know where I am. I expect you have been wondering what has happened to me. Well, I am not

BOMBS ON OSTENDMuch Damage Done To the Houses and Lighting Apparatus, But No People Killed.

[Canadian Press.]

Ostend, via London, Sept. 25.—A Zeppeliner, coming from the direction of Thourout (12 miles southwest of Bruges, Belgium) dropped three bombs yesterday. One of them struck the Avenue P. De Smet De Nayer bridge, on the outskirts of the town, another fell in the harbor and another on the premises of a wholesale fish dealer, the fish market, partly wrecking the building.

The explosion here made a great cavity in the ground, and caused considerable damage to the surrounding houses, extinguished street lamps, destroyed electric wires and created a panic. The Zeppelin returned in the direction of Thielit, 12 miles northeast of Courtrai.

The Avenue P. De Smet De Nayer bridge crosses the Canal De Derivation at the northeast boundary of the famous Park Marie-Henriette in Ostend.
The fish market in Ostend is near the railway station, and on Wednesdays and Fridays is crowded with purchasers. All sales are by auction to the highest bidder.

From Ostend as the crow flies is only about 70 miles across the North Sea, and the Strait of Dover to the English coast.

RUSSIANS ADVANCE

Ordered Stopped By the Germans in East Prussia.

[Canadian Press.]

Copenhagen, via London, Sept. 25.—It is learned here from apparently good sources that the German Government on Thursday stopped all traffic of civil passengers in East Prussia, owing to the fact that a great battle was in progress and the Russian army advancing from that direction toward Breslau.
Telegraphic communication from Breslau to Berlin, it is stated, was stopped, in order to prevent information of the serious situation being sent.

Bordeaux, France, Sept. 25.—12:35 p.m.—The French foreign office today made the statement that Gen. Steiner, commanding the Fifty-third German Infantry Brigade, has issued an order of which the following is a translation: "Make no prisoners. Shoot all who fall into your hands, singly or in groups, and despatch the wounded, whether armed or unarmed, as the Germans must leave no Frenchman living behind them."SON FINDS FATHER DEAD ON VERANDAMoses Cox, the Well-Known Sewer Contractor, Dies of Hemorrhage.

A LOVER OF ALL SPORTS

Athletics of All Kinds Claimed Attention of Popular Old Man.

Lying on his veranda as if asleep,
Moses Cox, widely known as a sewer contractor, residing at 450 York street, was found dead by a son, David, at 10 o'clock last night. He was alone at home when death occurred, his family being out for the evening. When they left he had been in the best of health, although complaining of a slight headache. Hemorrhage of the brain is given as the cause of death. He was 67 years of age.

Lived Here Forty Years.

The late Mr. Cox had resided in this city for more than forty years, and had lived in the same house on York street for 27 years. He was of a genial nature and prompt, and always humorous responds to all sallies, made him a general favorite with older people as well as school children. Particularly the kiddies attending Alexandra School were familiar with the popular old man.

Since removing to this country from England, where he was born, Mr. Cox had always lived in this city. Almost immediately after coming here he entered into the sewer contracting business, and there are few streets in the city on which he has not been seen at some time or other engaged in fixing or putting down new drains.

Ardent Ball Fan.

He was an ardent baseball fan, with a love for fair play and "clean ball" always predominating. He knew the batting averages of every player, and he was a friend of every player on the London team since the organization of this Canadian new device.

Hockey, and in fact, all sports, always claimed his attention in their respective seasons. He was a familiar figure in every crowd of ball or football grounds, hockey or curling rink. He was a great bettor. He would even bet on how far a frog would jump.

He attended the First Methodist Church.

Surviving, besides his wife, are three sons, Frank, Fred and Dave.

GERMAN GOVERNESS CHANGED ADDRESSLeft the Home of Prominent Londoner to Live With German.

It is stated that recently a prominent Londoner of German descent secured a governess from Germany.
After war was declared this governess went to the home of a German who has been in this city for some time.

A considerable discussion has been conducted thereby, it being stated in some quarters that an announcement should have been made of the change of occupation, and also a report made that the governess was a native
German.

The instructions issued on this point by the Military Department on August 20th, were as follows:

"Therefore, His Royal Highness the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows:
"That all persons in Canada of German or Austro-Hungarian nationality as long as they quietly pursue their ordinary avocations, be allowed to continue to enjoy the protection of the law, and be accorded the respect and consideration due to peaceful and law-abiding citizens; that they shall not be arrested, detained or interfered with, unless there is reasonable ground to believe that they are engaged in espionage or engaging or attempting to engage in acts of a hostile nature, or are giving or attempting to give information to the enemy, or unless they otherwise contravene any law, or order-in-council, or proclamation."

While there is no reason to suppose that the governess in question has violated the laws in any way, it is urged that her change of address should have been given to the authorities. An investigation may take place.

15 officers and 222 other persons from the German steamer Capt Trafalgar, which was sunk by the British auxiliary cruiser Campania. Some of the party were wounded.

Death Had Marked Sir James

This photograph taken after the serious illness of Ontario's Premier in New York indicates to the alarming extent he had wasted away. The strain imposed by the speech he made at the last campaign was severe, his appearance having been made against the advice of his physicians. It was a cruelty imposed by party politics.USING IMPROVED FORTS TO ADVANCE ON CRAONNEAllies Making Steady Progress—Germans Appear To Be Sacrificing Masses of Men in Hope of Getting Quick Advantage.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Sept. 25.—According to information reaching the French capital this morning, the Germans are continuing their desperate resistance against the advance of the allies in the north. This advance was first upon Roye, 26 miles to the east of Amiens, and then upon Peronne, 20 miles north of Roye.

It was only by a continuous raking artillery fire and hard fighting that the French and British troops were able to continue their advance against the vigorous attacks of the enemy. The left wing of the allies now occupies positions between the River Oise and the River Somme, which were traversed by the Germans during their advance in the direction of Paris.

Germans in Trouble.
From this fact, it is argued here by military observers, that the Germans will be obliged to concentrate a great force in order to protect their right wing which, if outflanked, Paris believes, would mean a decisive victory for the allies.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Sept. 25.—The Matin publishes a dispatch from Basel, Switzerland, credited to the Fourmies Agency, which says that Germans, in flight from Lorraine, declare that during the attack upon the entrenched camp at Verdun, the Austrian and German artillery had 10,000 dead and 15,000 wounded. Many of the wounded died where they fell, it is stated, owing to a lack of prompt treatment.

LADY GIBBONS DIES
AFTER LONG ILLNESSWife of Sir George Gibbons
Passes Away at Dufferin Avenue Residence
This Morning.

Lady Gibbons, wife of Sir George
C. Gibbons, died at the family residence, 257 Dufferin avenue, this morning after a long illness. While death was not unexpected it came as a shock to the family and to hundreds of friends of Lady Gibbons.
Lady Gibbons was formerly Elizabeth Campbell Craig, the daughter of Hugh Craig, Esq., of Montreal. She was born in 1853, and married Sir George in 1876. Besides her husband four children survive, Mrs. Ronald Harris, Miss Helen Gibbons, Mrs.
John Connell, Hamilton, and George
S. Gibbons.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. Canon Tucker, of St. Paul's Cathedral. Interment will be made in Woodland Cemetery.

BRITISH SING
AND JOKE AS BULLETS FLYStupendous Bravery or Stupendous Absence of Nerves, Says Chaplain.

WAR SEEMS LIKE GAME

But German Charges at Mons
Were Thrilling, Terrible Sights.

NIGHT FLYING IS WEIRD

Allies Have Advantage in Preponderant Supply of Aircraft.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Sept. 25.—A tale of warfare from the British camp in France, vivid with description of the way the British forces faced death on the battlefield, of the jokes they cracked, and of the prayers they said with the bullets sweeping their ranks, was brought to New York today aboard the steamer Mauretania by the Rev. James Molloy, a native of Trenton, N. J., who served as chaplain for several weeks with one of the British regiments in France.

"In a modern battle there is an overpowering sense of unreality," he said. "The business of seeing men kill each other seems mechanical, because of the preponderance of the machine element in the affair; the human element simply bleeds and dies, but the machine continues in its perfection of slaughter."

Stupendous Bravery.

"The conduct of the British soldiers in the trenches was surprising. There those men stood behind shoulder-high mounds of dirt, facing level sprays of death from the enemy's machine guns and singing snatches of music ball ballads between volleys. Stupendous bravery, I call it, or stupendous absence of nerves."

"I've heard men under the crashing fire of the terrible German guns, and with comrades dropping all about them, sing in a chorus, 'It's a Long Road to Tipperary,' as if they were in barracks. Sometimes I'd hear a man sing, 'The Girl I've Got Behind Me, Butchman, All Right!'"

The business of killing, with them seemed personal and intimate, somewhat of a sporting event.

Enemy Like the Sea.

"But how the Germans did keep watching the British! They came on, and on, and on, and never stopping, never faltering.
It was like the waves of a blue-gray sea rolling up against the fog. One wave would break and die away, but another would be right behind it, pushing on inexorably."

All Wiped Out.

"Then a British gun at your elbow would speak a shell would drop right in the midst of that blue block, a great hurrying up of smoke and soil and the block would be gone. Nothing left but a few little men maddly running back through the haze of powder smoke."

Perhaps the night fighting is the most weird and terrible to see. In this the forces of the allies had the superiority through their preponderant supply of aeroplanes. The allied forces on the retreat from Mons to Senlis had 35 aeroplanes, which were busy day and night, but particularly at night.

"You would hear a whirling of invisible propellers overhead, and by straining your eyes could trace the direction of the night flier over the German positions. Gunners stand ready behind their pieces. Suddenly a spark appears in the heavens; it falls. The airman has discovered the position of a German battery; and his falling torch marks the range and position. Instantly the British guns roar and a shower of shells soars up to follow the line of that falling star."

"The retreat of the British from Mons to Senlis was one long nightmare. No sleep for anyone; no rest from the harrying of the German guns and cavalry."

"Yet so stubborn was the spirit of the soldiers in the trenches that they rebelled against the order to retreat, failing to understand that the slow falling back in the face of the German advance was in accordance with pre-arranged plans of the French and British. Sir John French even explained to some of the private soldiers the reason for his orders to retreat."

PREMIER EXPIRES FROM CEREBRAL HEMORRHAGE
AFTER A LONG ILLNESSMany Days Spent in Bed With Hopes of Recovery Before the End Came---Wife and Daughter Present at Death

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Sept. 25.—Sir James P. Whitney, Premier of Ontario, died suddenly at 12 o'clock at his home, 111 St. George street. Lady Whitney and Miss Whitney were the only persons at the bedside. Dr. Herbert J. Hamilton had been hurriedly called, but when he arrived the Premier had passed away. Sir James' death was due to cerebral hemorrhage, caused by hardening of the arteries. He had been confined to his home through illness since August 1.
Since that time he had spent days in bed, while on different occasions he was able to sit up.

The End Came Quietly.

This morning at 12 o'clock the nurse noticed a change in Sir James. Lady Whitney and Miss Whitney rushed to his bedside but the Premier lay with closed eyes. Only once did he open his eyes. He looked up at his wife and smiled. He closed his eyes again and passed away.

He was 70 years of age.
The attack came on Sir James suddenly that neither Lady Whitney nor Miss Whitney realized that death was near. The end came a few moments after the change was noticed.
Dr. Hamilton stated that during the last few days he had noticed an improvement and he held out hopes that the patient would be able to be up and about in a few weeks.

An Incurable Ailment.

A hardening of the arteries such as Sir James suffered from is not curable, yet both Hon. Dr. Prime and Dr. Hamilton had both hoped the premier would be able to once more attend to his duties.

Dr. Hamilton said that this last illness of Sir James was not due to his returning to the parliament building after leaving the general hospital. While the end was quite sudden it was inevitable.

TROOPS DEPARTING WITHOUT FEAR OF GERMAN CRUISERSSome Have Already Sailed, and All Will Have Gone By End of Week—Convoy Will Be Ample For Protection.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 25.—Col. the Hon.
Sam Hughes returned from Valcartier this morning, the last of the British troops that the Canadians at Valcartier are now going aboard transports at Quebec and will sail at once under the protection of a convoy.

Col. Hughes stated that a large portion of the force has already sailed, and that the last of the thirty troop ships loaded with men, guns and horses would leave the wharves of Quebec by the end of the week.

He stated that the Canadian troop ships were not sailing as a fleet, but proceeding one at a time, as they are loaded, and would stretch across the Atlantic. Their route from Canada to England is marked by a steady line of British battleships, cruisers and torpedo boats of the most modern type, capable of taking care of any force which may come against them.

hostile force on the Atlantic consists of three or four fast, but lightly armed, German cruisers. No attempts at interference by them is looked for. The fleet is under the command of Admiral Wemyss. The transports and the protecting battleships will be in constant touch by wireless. As soon as they reach England the Canadians will advance into camp and begin a course of training.

Col. Hughes is leaving this afternoon for Valcartier to supervise the last of the loading.NEW GERMAN ARMY COMING
BY BELGIUM FEARS CAPTURE

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 25.—The Daily News correspondent in France telegraphs as follows: "Nightly the Germans rake the landscape with searchlights and shrapnel, while the French and British, working in the darkness and mystery, muffle even the headlights of the staff officers' motor cars."
"Recently a wireless message from German reinforcements coming through Belgium was intercepted by the British. It showed a new German army approaching, exhausted by long marches and little food, which feared it would be cut off by the French hurrying along from the west."

PROGRESS IS REPORTED

Enemy Got Foothold on the Heights of Meuse, But Success Offset.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Sept. 25.—3:45 p.m.—The following official communication was given out in Paris this afternoon: "First, on our left wing, there has begun a general action of great violence between those detachments of our forces that are operating between the River Somme and the River Oise and the army corps which the enemy has grouped in the region around Toul and St. Quentin.
These army corps have come, some from the centre of the enemy's line, and others from Lorraine and the Vosges.
These last-named corps were transported by rail to Cambrai, by way of Liege and Valenciennes. To the north of the River Aisne, as far as Beaumont, there has been no change of importance."
Made Progress.
"Second, on the centre, we have made progress to the east of Verdun, in the direction of Berry-au-Bac and Morville.
Further to the east, as far as Troops Advance.

"To offset this, to the south of Verdun, we remain masters of the heights of the Meuse, and our troops, moving out of Toul, advanced until they reached the region of Beaumont."
Third, on our right wing, Lorraine and the Vosges, we have repulsed attacks of minor importance on Somme.
On the east of Lunéville the enemy has made some demonstrations along the line of the River Veuve and the River Blaise."REPULSED CAVALRY.
[Canadian Press.]
Washington, Sept. 25.—Official dispatches received today from the French embassy are identical with those given out in Paris. But the following statement is added: "We have repulsed the German cavalry toward Ham, and we are holding at the end of the day, Reims, Villers, Fresnes and Ribecourt."SIR ROBERT BORDEN

EALING RESIDENTS ASK MAIL DELIVERY

Conditions.

SAY THEY MEAN BUSINESS

City Will Offer W. J. Boss
$7,000 for Garbage Collection Equipment.

The city will offer Contractor W. J. Boss $7,000 for his horse, barn and the balance of his contract for the collection of garbage in the city. The council adopted a recommendation to this effect last night, although it was stated that Mr. Boss had not said he would accept such a proposition. His price is $8,000. The council figures $4,000 of its offer will buy Boss' 28 horses, 1000 lb. harness for them, $500 the barn at Addiside and Cheapside streets, and $2,000 his interest in the contract which runs to the end of the year. If Mr. Boss accepts this offer there will be an overdraft in the garbage department of several thousand dollars. If he does not accept it, the department will just about break even at the end of the year. The offer becomes effective Oct. 1.

East End Wants Relief.
A delegation of East End residents headed by Adam Palmer and C. H. Finch, appeared before the council to demand action on the mail delivery and street car extension through their district in Ealing, where 4,000 people live. They said they had to walk for nearly three-quarters of a mile every day for their mail, while every farmer had his delivered at his front door.

Mr. Palmer said: "It seems the street railway runs the city and not the city the street railway." It was pointed out that the East End would get the first extension made in the annexed district.

Mr. Finch entered a protest against the conditions at the school in Ealing, where he said two children sat in one seat, and coal was furnished of an inferior quality to the kind they had when they ran it themselves. He would show the council that they were not fooling when the municipal elections came around in January. "We mean business," declared Mr. Finch, "and it's up to you men to get busy. You don't have to spend money, but just exercise your authority."

Subway Matter Up Again.
Alderman Wilson brought the subway matter up again, asking Mayor Graham when he thought action would be taken. The council was informed that it was up to the Dominion Railway Company, who had London's application before them.

An inquiry as to odorless gas by Alderman Wilson brought the fact that the council had given the franchise to any corporation making application but it had no money to supply a different gas than it now supplies.

The bylaw appropriating $10,000 for the patriotic fund was given its first reading. The money is to be used for any person in the city who is in distress because of the war.

The street railway given an extension of time in which to install the Wharmcliffe Road switch.

WANT CREW OF FIREMEN STATIONED AT EXHIBITION

Western Fair Board May Ask City Council For Better Protection
Next Fall Time.

Members of the Western Fair Board are seriously thinking of asking the city council to station a crew of firemen and apparatus stationed on the fair grounds permanently during fall week.

Some years ago a company of men and a hose wagon were kept on the grounds while the big attraction was on, but lately this has been done away with. As the result of the fire during the past fair the board is now on the safe side, will ask that some of the members of the fire department be installed there once more.

PLEAD GUILTY TO BURGLARY CHARGES

John Montgomery, giving Chicago, Ill., as his home, and Norman Morris, of this city, pleaded guilty in police court yesterday to having burglarized McLeod-Noles and the Jose Gaste cigar factories. The youths—these are still in their teens—were arrested last night by Detectives Harry Down and Robert Egleton.

On their arraignment, both admitted the charge of entering the factories and stealing a quantity of cigars. Sentence will be passed next week, both youths being remanded.

SICK DOCTOR Proper Food Put Him Right.

The food experience of a physician in his own case when weak from sickness and when needing nourishment the worst way, is valuable.

"An attack of grip, so severe, it came near making an end of me, left my stomach in such condition I could not retain any ordinary food. I knew, of course, that I must have food and nourishment or I could never recover."

"I began to take four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and cream three times a day, and for two weeks this was almost my only food. It tasted so delicious that I enjoyed it immensely, and my stomach handled it perfectly from the first mouthful. It was so nourishing I was quickly built back to normal health and strength."

"Grape-Nuts is of great value as food to sustain life during serious attacks in which the stomach is so deranged it cannot digest and assimilate other foods."

"I am convinced that were Grape-Nuts more widely used by physicians, it would save many lives that are otherwise lost from lack of nourishment."

Name given by Canadian Postum Company, Windsor, Ont.

The most perfect food in the world. Trial of Grape-Nuts and cream ten days proves.

WITCH OF THE BLACK FOREST FORE- CAST GERMANY'S DOWNFALL

That disaster and disruption would overtake the German Empire in the year 1914 was presaged as early as 1849, when the assassination of Emperor William I. was attempted. The story predicting the downfall of Germany came from the witch of the Black Forest, near Berlin. It has been told and retold, but is of interest just now, especially as it is revived in a letter received by City Engineer W. N. Ashplant from a friend of his in London.

The story follows. Emperor William I. asked the witch of the Black Forest in 1849 to push aside the mystic curtains of futurity for him. She gave him this table:

Attempted assassination...	1849	Franco-German war	1871	Death of William I.	1888
	1		8		1
	2		7		8
	3		6		7
	4		5		6
	5		4		5
	6		3		4
	7		2		3
	8		1		2
	9		0		1

It will be seen by this table that the figures of the years are added to the last column to bring out the period of the witch's prediction. In announcing the 1913 forecast she declared it would be the greatest year of prosperity in the history of the German Empire and would be immediately followed by disruption and disaster.

BRITAIN CHAMPION OF THE OPPRESSED

England Fighting for Democracy Against Autocracy, Says Dr. Herridge.

CANADA MUST PLAY PART

Dr. Grant Addresses Open
Session of London Presbytery on Church Work.

"Britain in this war is the champion of the oppressed and downtrodden. She has drawn the sword for this conflict. She will never sheath it until 'Kaiserism' and all that is involved in it is overturned. It is a war on which hangs the main trend of civilization. England is fighting now that we may not have to fight again in the years to come."

With these words, Rev. Dr. W. T. Herridge, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, summed up England's justification for plunging into the European war that is holding all Europe in its clutches, at an open meeting of the presbytery held in the First Presbyterian Church last night.

Britain Not in Favor.
The speaker impressed on his hearers the fact that not for a moment had Britain sought to go to war with Germany. German manifestos before the war hinted at the time when autocracy would be substituted for democracy and when the governing hand of the emperor would have greater, perhaps, world power, Germany had been instrumental in bringing on the conflict of European giants.

"The time had come for us as Canadians to show our loyalty in some other way than mere words," continued the speaker, "in discussing the part the colonies of Great Britain will play in the struggle. 'Canada must play her part. We cannot be at peace when England is at war. I have seen the volunteers from the United States and the Canadians. They are a fine lot of men, and well worthy of going to the front to battle for the Empire.'"

The Part of the Church.
The church will play an important part in the struggle, the speaker declared. "Why? Because the church is the light and the strength of the world. It has had to fight for its very existence. At times religion has seemed to have been weakened. But the church has always been a power in the world. What it must do is go back to its ancient faith. Practical men are needed in the church, the same as they are in business. Men who are able to grasp opportunity and carry it through to success."

That the present war may have a tendency to more closely knit the colonies with the mother country, was the conviction of Dr. Herridge. "In future while we are standing shoulder to shoulder combating a common peril, we may learn to put aside our own differences in our desires to bring about a closer co-operation," he said.

Dr. Grant Heard.
Rev. Dr. S. Grant, chairman of the finance board of the Presbyterian Church, spoke briefly on the colonies' unanimous resolution to aid Great Britain with "the last man, the last dollar."

"Every colony was ready with men and money at the first sound of war," said the speaker. "It is impossible for any part of the world not to feel the stress of the conflict. In these days of advanced civilization, nations and countries are too closely allied through the channel of trade and commerce to feel the influence of a crisis of titanic proportions such as we are facing. I firmly believe that the time is coming when commerce will be a devastating thing as war to intrude into its prosperity."

Special Prayer Session.
At the afternoon session a special service was held in connection with the present war was held, Rev. Dr. Smith, of Dorchester, leading. Rev. Dr. W. T. Herridge and Rev. Dr. S. Grant addressed the congregation on church work.

The sum of $50,000 was adopted by the presbytery as its share towards the 1915 budget. A field day is being arranged for the first Sunday in October, when the various congregations will be appealed to for their contributions towards the amount.

The following students were credited to their various colleges: J. B. McNeil to Queen's; J. W. McAlpine, of Glenora, to the University of Toronto; J. W. McAlpine, of Glenora, to the University of Toronto; J. W. McAlpine, of Glenora, to the University of Toronto.

TAKE LAST PICTURES OF SOLDIERS AT THE CAMP

Mayor Graham and Controller Moore Were Granted Special Permit
at Valcartier.

While Mayor Graham and Controller Moore were at Valcartier they secured a special permit to take pictures of the camp. They came away with over 20 views of officers, men and scenery. Some of the pictures are of London men who have had no pictures taken in recent years. Major W. C. Cole, Lieut. Herbert Sandreid, Col. H. C. Beecher, Capt. Weekes and Robinson and other local officers are included in the list.

The picture-taking of the presbytery will be held in the First Presbyterian Church the first Tuesday in December.

LONDON PREPARES FOR GERMAN AIR INVASION

Buildings Protected Against Attack, Says Mrs. Grant-Harris, Who Returns After Exciting Incidents Abroad.

With its high buildings protected with heavy steel nettings, with guns mounted on their roofs, long muzzles pointing inquiringly toward the sky, with guards sweeping the heavens through powerful searchlights and with all conspicuous illumination extinguished after 11 o'clock, old London is grimly watching for a sudden invasion of German aircraft. All over England, men are hurrying to man the guns. The trip to Canada was a perilous one. The Corinthian, on which the Londoner made the return trip, sailed from Tilbury. The liner was escorted to Dover by several destroyers, which went ahead feeling out a channel through the honeycomb of mines in the harbor and off the coast. The passengers were well aware of the destroying mines under the surface of the water, and were in constant terror that the liner would strike one of the "feelers" and send it with its human freight to the bottom.

Previous to leaving, steamship officials warned the passengers that not until the middle of the Atlantic was reached were they safe. The usual preliminaries to casting off were omitted, and one dark night the vessel quietly slipped from her moorings at Dover and put out to sea, escorted by the destroyers.

All Lights Extinguished.
All lights were extinguished. The scene as the vessel left the safety of the harbor and rode the waves into the ocean, where danger lurked, was described to an Advertiser representative as being nothing less than gruesome. With the vessel's lights dimmed and slightly in the lead, the liner raved away from England. When the coast had been left far behind the destroyers changed their position. Suddenly the destroyers changed their position. Suddenly the destroyers changed their position.

Many Breathless Events.
Since Great Britain declared war, following Germany's declaration for the neutrality of little Belgium, every hour in England has been crisscrossed with breathless events. Mrs. Grant-Harris witnessed the mobilization of the British fleet at Spithead. Stealth-like cruisers, long, low destroyers, submarines, and big Dreadnoughts appeared as if by magic from every direction.

While at Harpendale, the Londoner saw the vast army of Russians secretly landed in the north of Scotland, march south through England to embark in big transports for France. Daily in the southeast towns and villages on the west coast, refugees from Belgium docked into England. They carried practically no baggage, and had little or no money. Many of them had watched their homes laid waste by pillaging hordes of Germans and had made their escape to the coast with greatest difficulty.

Provides for Unfortunates.
England took compassion on them. Cathedrals, churches, public buildings are being thrown open that they may be housed. The British Government is providing for the unfortunates. In spite of the tension most of the people were in high spirits. Suddenly the destroyers changed their position. Suddenly the destroyers changed their position.

Pursuers Hung On.
"The course of the vessel was changed and we raced through the night away from what officers afterwards revealed was surely a prowling German cruiser. A night of terror was passed by all on board. The mysterious vessel, while not appearing to pursue us, was tenaciously holding in our wake. Apparently we were faster than it was, for by morning it had disappeared. The rest of the trip was uneventful. We were all very glad when the Corinthian warped into her dock at Montreal."

VALUABLE HORSE KILLED
Lady Norfolk, Owned by Sir Adam Beck, Ran Away Into G. T. R. Train.

Lady Norfolk, a valuable horse from Sir Adam Beck's stable, ran away when the train was standing in front of Hunt Bros' mill on Talbot street, about 4:30 yesterday, and dashing madly up Talbot street ran straight into a coal train going west at the Grand Trunk crossing. The animal's head and shoulders were caught between two cars, and it was dragged some distance down the track, where it died in a couple of minutes, its neck being broken. The wagon was badly damaged.

John Campbell, day watchman at the crossing, whose cabin is on the north side of the track, did not see the animal until after the accident, but heard the crash of the horse and vehicle being dragged over a switch just west of the sidewalk on the west side of the street.

UTILITIES COMMISSION
PLANS TO PROVIDE WORK

Will Continue Construction of the Springbank Roadway.

The public utilities commission may do something toward helping the unemployed of the city if it finds that it can conveniently tap its surplus earnings. The plan as unfolded at the meeting of the commission yesterday afternoon is to continue the construction of roadways in Springbank Park and use the unemployed for such other jobs as will improve the property under the jurisdiction of the commissioners.

Chairman Philip Pocock and General Manager H. J. Gaultier were appointed a committee with power to deal with the matter. Whatever money will be used in this manner is to be spent sparingly, so it will reach as far through the winter as possible.

It was reported at the meeting that machinery is now being installed in the addition recently built to the Horton street plant. It is believed that the capacity of the plant can eventually be developed to supply hydro to a community of 300,000 people.

Horrors! Men In Women's Quarters

Only Governor's Scheme To Relieve Overcrowding at Jail, However.

Horrors! Men in women's quarters at the county jail! It is merely the way in which Governor Carter is trying to solve the problem of bedding the 35 male prisoners in the jail that many hold.

In other words, the case is this way: There are only two women confined at the county jail at present. There are 35 above mentioned over half a hundred men. This morning's police court sent almost a dozen more to Castle Carter. Daily the situation becomes more complex.

And it is that the governor in desperation has hit on the plan of putting some of his guests in the remote rooms in the women's quarters. He will endeavor to select the best mannered among them, those being barred who are apt to make use of expressions that are not exactly classical English.

The "rooms" to which the male prisoners will be consigned will be at the extreme end of the corridor in the ward assigned to the fair sex. The arrangement is only temporary, until the construction which is turning things upside down at the county jail is alleviated.

PREACHER TOOK MISSION FUNDS TO CHEAT WOLF

J. W. Flavell Tells Methodist Conference of Inadequate Stipends.

[Canadian Press.] OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—There are better paid positions than a pastorate in the Methodist Church. According to what Mr. J. W. Flavell, of Toronto, told the Methodist Church Conference tonight there are not much worse paid positions. He spoke of pastors' salaries, or what the conference terms the sustentation fund.

Mr. Flavell said he knew of one pastor who, not receiving his salary regularly, and sickness coming to his home, was compelled to use the sustentation fund. "He did what any one of us with red blood in our veins would have done," said the speaker. Another pastor was so concerned about the poverty he saw in his congregation that he gave away $1,000. The result was he got so far into debt that he had to quit the church to earn enough money to pay off what he owed.

"The distress in ministers' salaries is not confined to the Methodist Church. It is common to all the Protestant churches," said Mr. Flavell. The delegates spent most of the time today in committee work. At 4:40 p.m. they all joined in a session of prayer for peace to follow the conquering of the Germans.

BLESSED BY LATE POPE

Capuchin Monks Now Fighting in French Army.

BORDEAUX, Sept. 24.—One of the last acts of the late Pope Pius, says La Liberté, was to give his blessing to the Capuchin monks, who are fighting in the ranks of the French army.

The superior-general of the monks, who obtained the blessing of the Pope, is Father Venance, in civil life Paul Dodo, who was an old schoolmate of President Poincaré at the Nancy high school.

INDUSTRIAL OUTLOOK VERY MUCH BRIGHTER

Labor Department Says There Is No Need To Be Pessimistic.

[Special to The Advertiser.] OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—"There are good grounds for taking an optimistic view of the labor and industrial situation," was the comment of the Labor Department today when questioned if there was any change in the outlook during the last few weeks.

At the end of August the Labor Gazette, published today, stated the view was that "the coming winter was likely to be a hard one for the large number of unemployed," although there was "a general feeling of confidence in Canadian ability to weather the industrial storm."

"Already," says the department today, "a much better condition prevails, and not too much faith should be placed in statements which are being made regarding the number of unemployed in Canada. Most of these statements are exaggerated."

Unemployed About Normal. The number of unemployed is regarded as just about normal, and although there is a business depression which would have been expected to create a larger number of unemployed, the usual, several causes have contributed to relieve the situation.

The chief of these causes is the decrease in immigration.

The filling of the ranks of the overseas force has also had some effect in reducing the demand for work. The places of these men in the industrial field have to be filled by others.

Activity in Agriculture. There is great activity in agriculture, owing to increased demand for foodstuffs and the efforts of the Federal and Provincial Governments in opening up new areas to cultivation, have given employment.

In public works the Government will make an effort to find employment for those men who are as a rule laid off during the winter months when certain work is at a standstill.

Outlook Much Brighter. "Altogether," says the department, "the outlook is very much brighter than it was at the end of August, and there is no need to be pessimistic."

DIVISION COURT CLERK RESIGNS AT BLYTH

[Special to The Advertiser.] BLYTH, Sept. 23.—Mr. Thomas Code, who has been division court clerk for some time here, handed in his resignation to the Government, which was accepted.

Although the position is not worth much in salary, there was a considerable trouble as to who should get it, but Mr. J. Slothers eventually received the appointment and will assume office at once.

Mr. Code finished his term at this court, which was held today, when the cases were disposed of. The case of De Laval Separator Company vs. John Barr, to recover $51.89 on notes supposed to have been given by Mrs. Barr before her death, in payment for a cream separator, judgment given in favor of the defendants; Robertson & Campbell vs. Dr. Morrison, to recover the amount of $85.50. Defendant did not appear. The case of the Toronto Trust Company vs. H. Bowen, to recover $56.27, was adjourned until next court.

FRENCH GIVE GOOD CARE TO GERMAN WOUNDS

Specific Instructions Carried Out by Hospital Attendants.

60 CASES IN ONE PLACE

Condition of Injuries Shows Careless Dressing Initially.

[Canadian Press.] BORDEAUX, Sept. 24.—5:15 p.m.—"Treat the German wounded the same as ours," said President Poincaré during a recent visit to the hospitals here. That his recommendation is being carried out to the letter was seen by the correspondent today at the Bordeaux high school, which, after weeks of hard work, has been converted into a 700-bed hospital. Here are 60 of the worst cases of German wounded, most of whose wounds having been received in the battle of the Marne.

American Doctor in Charge. In charge of the hospital is an American, Dr. Melville Westermann, of San Francisco, and a Bordeaux doctor, who has given up half of his extensive practice in order to devote himself to aiding the wounded. Dr. Westermann and the Bordeaux physician are being assisted by a well-known Dresden surgeon.

Eight members of a German hospital corps, who surrendered to the French, and were requested to tend the wounded, and came on here with them, will soon be sent back to Germany, as provided for by the Geneva convention.

Some Pitiable Cases. The cheeriest of all the wounded men is Ben, a street car driver, who has a dreadful wound in the head, which already has destroyed one eye, and threatens the sight of the other. He always has a smile for the doctors and nurses, and his delight when a stinky doctor places a cigarette between his lips is pathetic.

In another ward is a young giant, the back of whose head was almost shot away by a fragment of a shrapnel shell. He tosses about on his cot calling in his delirium for his mother. Near him lies an emaciated youth with a shattered thigh. In most cases the men in the high school hospital are suffering from shrapnel wounds.

German Wounds Severe. As a rule the Germans in the hospitals here are more badly hurt than the French soldiers. In addition to the first dressing of the German wounds having been inadequate, the wounds are infected. The physicians say that a large majority of the wounded will recover.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE IS NOW BEFORE CRACOW

Berlin Report Says Austrians Wait in Vain for Russian Attack.

[Canadian Press.] LONDON, Sept. 24.—5:45 p.m.—A Petrograd dispatch forwarded to London by the Rome correspondent of the Associated Press Agency, says that the Russian advance guards already have arrived before the Austrian fortress of Cracow.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—8:45 p.m.—An official German dispatch received this evening by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company from Berlin says: "It is officially reported from Vienna that the Austrian forces now have been concentrated in their new position for several days, but have waited in vain for any serious Russian attack."

COL. A. GRANT-DUFF KILLED IN ACTION

Was a Veteran of India and South Africa—Other Officers Die.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—10:30 p.m.—Lieut.-Col. A. Grant-Duff, of the Black Watch, was killed in action. He died in South Africa. He was a Brig.-Gen. C. B. Haking is among the wounded.

These names appear in the official casualty list issued tonight. Of nine officers killed, five died of wounds in hospitals, and one was drowned. The list includes 21 wounded, among them Lieut. C. V. Naylor-Leyland, of the Royal Horse Guards, who is the second son of the late Sir Herbert S. Naylor-Leyland, whose wife was Mrs. Naylor-Leyland, of Cleveland Ohio. Lieut.-Col. A. Grant-Duff was the third son of the late Rt. Hon. Sir Mountstuart Grant-Duff, and served in India and South Africa. He was at one time assistant secretary of the committee of imperial defence.

Lieut.-Col. Ian Graham Hogg served in South Africa and West Africa, where he rendered distinguished services. Brig.-Gen. Haking won the Queen's medal in South Africa.

PURSUED THREE HOURS BY GERMAN CRUISER

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Sept. 24.—News received here today from Punta Arenas, on the Strait of Magellan, says that the British steamer Ortega was pursued for three hours, and fired upon by a German cruiser believed to be the Dresden. The Ortega, however, escaped and arrived undamaged at Cape George, in the Falkland Islands.

HALL WAS PACKED AT CLINTON CONCERT.

[Special to The Advertiser.] CLINTON, Sept. 24.—The patriotic concert held in the town hall this evening drew a crowd that filled the auditorium to capacity. It was beautifully decorated with flags, maple leaves and emblems. John Ransford was in the chair and the program included an address by Rev. J. P. Fairfield, of the Baptist Church in Clinton, who for many years worked in the Elmhurst Ordnance Works in England; patriotic choruses by 40 citizens, songs by George Jackson, of New York; Mr. Dowling, Mr. East and Mrs. McKeever.

KRUPP RACING YACHT HELD AS A PRIZE

LONDON, Sept. 24, 4:10 p.m.—The racing yacht Germania, owned by Lieut. Dr. Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, head of the Krupp gun works of Germany, has been ordered by the British prize court, detained by the British prize court. The yacht was sent to England to participate in the Cowes regatta.

CAP TRAFALGAR LOWERED FLAG AND OPENED FIRE

German Steamer Sunk Yawl Filled With Soldiers.

MONTVIDEO, Uruguay, Sept. 21.—Details of the sinking of the German steamer Cap Trafalgar by the British auxiliary cruiser Germania several days ago were related by the sailors of the British vessel, which arrived here today.

The battle took place at a point 300 miles off Rio Janeiro, Brazil, and lasted two hours. The Cap Trafalgar lowered her flag as if to surrender, whereupon a yawl filled with sailors put out from the Germania to take possession of the German vessel.

The Cap Trafalgar, however, suddenly opened fire upon the yawl, which sank, the sailors in the boat perishing.

The Germania, whose officers were angered by the act of the Cap Trafalgar, opened fire and sank the German vessel. The British boat then continued on her voyage.

Germans Say Von Eisenbach Was Killed by a Patrol.

PEKING, Sept. 25.—1:10 p.m.—A letter received here from a German in Tsing Tau says that Baron Von Eisenbach, former second secretary of the German legation at Peking, was killed by a Japanese patrol dressed in Chinese clothes.

A dispatch from Peking, sent September 19, said Baron Von Eisenbach had been killed before Tsing Tau, Sept. 16, in a skirmish.

STRICTER CENSORSHIP ORDERED IN CANADA

[Special to The Advertiser.] OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—The Canadian Government has made an order under which it may apply censorship to domestic telegraph and telephone companies.

Under the order regulations may be made as to news the transmission of which may be forbidden, and a penalty of $5,000 exacted for failure to observe the orders.

Censors may be placed in telegraph offices and over telephone stations to prevent the transmission of news concerning the movement of troops.

PAINTFULLY INJURED.

[Special to The Advertiser.] GODERIC, Sept. 24.—Mr. Job Bowman, workman at Doby's Engine Works, met with a painful accident today. He was assisting in putting up a propeller when in some manner his hand got badly crushed. The injured man was removed to his home, where his wounds were attended to.

OAK HALL

LITTLE STOCK SAVED WHEN BARNS BURNED

[Special to The Advertiser.] NEW HAMBURG, Sept. 24.—During the heavy thunderstorm which passed over this section last evening, the large barn of John Berlett, in the township of North Easthope, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, with all of this season's crop. Mr. Berlett was away at the time, attending the Tavistock fair, and his hired man, who was the only one at home, succeeded in rescuing some of the live stock. A bull, about forty hogs and the fowl perished in the fire. The barn was rebuilt a few years ago and was one of the finest in the neighborhood. The loss is $5,000, partly covered by insurance.

The New Home Treatment For Ugly, Hairy Growths

(Boudoir Secrets.) Here is a simple, yet very effective method for removing hair or fuzz from the face, neck or arms: Cover the objectionable hairs with a paste made by mixing some water with a little powdered talc. Leave this on for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. No pain or inconvenience attends this treatment, but results will be certain if you be sure to get real talc—Advt.

knows there are as many grades and kinds of Corn Flakes as there are grades and kinds of flour.

To tell the best—the kind that affords the biggest money's worth and most satisfaction to the consumer—is easy for the old miller or food expert.

But the purchaser who doesn't know, must be protected. That is why the producers of the very finest Corn Flakes didn't call them "Jones' Corn Flakes" or "Smith's Corn Flakes."

These Superior Corn Flakes were given a name that is distinctive—

Post Toasties

The average housekeeper has, likely enough, tried some of the various "Corn Flakes" on the market. To realize the perfection of taste in toasted Indian corn—cooked, rolled and seasoned with sugar and salt just as it ought to be—one should order Post Toasties.

These famous Corn Flakes have been the favorite for years among chefs and food connoisseurs. They come ready to eat in sealed packages with an Inside Container that keeps this delicious food crisp, fresh and clean for the table. And the price is no higher than the cost of ordinary kinds.

HOW TO LIVE WELL AND SAVE THE PENNIES DURING THE WAR

Little Hints to Help the Housewife Solve Her Problems From Day to Day. Written Especially For Advertiser Women Readers.

Stewed Skin of Beef

Four pounds of skin of beef, one medium-sized onion, one whole clove and a small bay leaf, one sprig of parsley, one and one-half tablespoons of flour, one small sprig of carrot, one-half tablespoon of salt, two quarts of boiling water, one and one-half tablespoons of butter or savory drippings, half of butter or savory drippings. Have the butcher cut the bone in several pieces. Put all the ingredients in a stewpan and bring to a boil. Season with salt and pepper. From the vegetables and spices a sauce is made as follows: Cook in sufficient water to cover for twenty minutes; then rub through a sieve, and add to some of the stock in which the meat was cooked. The mixture is then brought to a boil and thickened with cold water to each cup of liquid, and season with salt and pepper.

SPANISH BEEFSTEAK.

Take a piece of round steak weighing two pounds and about an inch thick; pound until thin, season with salt and cayenne pepper, cover with a layer of bacon or salt pork, cut into thin slices, roll and tie with a cord. Pour around it half a cupful of milk and half a cupful of water. Place in a covered baking dish and cook two hours, basting occasionally.

Economy is furthered by careful serving at the table. If more meat is given at each serving than the person wishes or habitually eats, the table waste is greatly increased.

Economy in such points should not be beneath the dignity of the family.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Not in the Least.

Dear Miss Grey—I have thoroughly enjoyed your columns in the paper, and hope you will not mind answering my questions.

1. Do I address my letters to you properly? Should I send it to the editor or to "Cynthia Grey, care of London Advertiser?"

2. How do you clean white silk gloves? Also please find the words of "Lament of the Irish Emigrant," which one reader asked for. Yours truly, SPARKLES.

Ans.—1. Certainly, address any letters for the "Mail-Box" personally. Do not worry the poor editors with them.

2. They are best washed in a lather of white soap and warm (not hot) water. Dip the gloves in, rub with the hands a little, and leave them soaking for half an hour. If the water is very dirty, wash through fresh suds, then rinse, blue and dry.

3. Thank you for sending the song. I have received many copies from our readers, and shall publish as soon as possible.

Girlish Secrets.

Dear Cynthia Grey—I have never troubled you before, but would it be too much trouble for you to answer these few questions for me?

1. I am past 19, weigh 110 pounds, 5 feet 4 inches high. Am I well proportioned?

2. How long should my dresses be? The Last Hymn?

3. I have a girl friend. I love her very much. Should I tell her my secrets?

4. What do you think of my writing? Will Balkan coats be worn this winter?

Thanking you in advance, SALT FRY.

Ans.—1. I think so.

2. They should be ankle length.

3. Several copies have reached me, and I shall publish as soon as I can.

4. What a funny question, Salt! Ever since girls were girls they seem to have been exchanging confidences—telling what "he" said, and why you thought "Mary Somebody" was "awfully jealous"—and so on. So whisper away to your friend, Salt!—is a way all girls have, and I don't believe you could help it.

5. It is easily read.

6. Not so much as the loose styles and cape effects.

In regard to your other query, send the stamped envelope, and I shall do my best. Say whether you want poetry or prose.

Tan and Salt Rheum.

Dear Miss Grey—Could tan be removed by any home-made mixture? If so, what?

2. Is there anything known as a sure cure for salt rheum?

3. What are the meanings of the following names: Mabel, Irma, Bertha, Jean, Evan, Marie, Elaine, Dorothy, Blanche, May, Pearl?

I hope to see this in print soon in The Morning Advertiser. From ROSE.

Ans.—1. Yes. A simple remedy is to soak a handful of oatmeal in some buttermilk, squeeze in the juice of a lemon, and liberally apply to the itched parts every night.

2. Anyone troubled with salt rheum

OLD SONGS AND POEMS

"Blue Eyes" and another reader whose name has been mislaid, send the following by request of "Maurice":

IN THE SHADE OF THE OLD APPLE TREE.

The oriole with joy was sweetly singing. The little brook was babbling its tune. The village bells at noon were gaily ringing.

The world seemed brighter than the harvest moon. For there within my arms I gently pressed you.

And blushing red you slowly turned away. I can't forget the way I once caressed you.

I only pray we'll meet another day. I've really come a long way from the city.

And, though my heart is breaking, I'll be brave— I've brought this bunch of flowers, I think they're pretty.

To place upon a freshly-molded grave. If you will show me, father, where she's lying.

Or if it's far just point it out to me. Said he: "She told me all when she was dying— To bury her beneath the apple tree."

CHORUS— In the shade of the old apple tree. Where the love in your eyes I could see. When the voice that I heard, like the song of the bird.

Seem'd to whisper sweet music to me. I could hear the dull buzz of the bee. In the blossoms you said to me, With heart that is true, I'll be waiting for you.

In the shade of the old apple tree.

DONATION FOR "Y".

At a special meeting of the board of management of the Young Men's Christian Association held recently, a grateful acknowledgment was made of $500 from the estate of the late James Blair was passed to the directors of the Fidelity Trust Company. This gift will be used for general work of the association in this city.

BELMONT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

The monthly meeting of the Belmont Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. H. Carrothers, when quite a number of members were present. An excellent paper was read by Mrs. D. Carrothers. The canning of tomatoes and corn was then discussed.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Coventry, fifth concession of Westminster, on Thursday, October 1. A full attendance is requested as very important business is to be discussed.

BUY RED CROSS STAMPS.

Citizens should remember that today is Red Cross Day in Canada, and provide themselves with a goodly number of the special Red Cross stamps issued by the society, to be affixed to the back of letters or parcels.

The stamps may be procured in any local book store today for one cent each. It is hoped to raise $200 in London by this means. The money will be devoted to general Red Cross work.

SEWING MEETING.

A meeting of the ladies of St. George's Anglican Church was held at the rectory Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of working for the Red Cross Society.

TWO LONDON LACROSSE PLAYERS MUST OPPOSE HOME TOWN TEAM

Dan Holly and Dave Aitchison Are Natives of Weston, and They Learned the Game There—Will Play Against Former Team-mates.

[BY BERT PERRY.]

When the London and Weston lacrosse clubs come together at Tecumseh park on Saturday afternoon, it will almost be a case of "brother against brother." Two of the London players, Dave Aitchison and Dan Holly, are the Weston boys. They both learned the game in the little town of Weston, and now they are out to beat the town that gave them their start. They are two of the best players on the local team, also. The present London team is made up of players who have had a wide experience in the game of lacrosse. Most of them have been playing for a number of years. Fred Reuter, the goalkeeper, hails from Preston. He has been playing the game for two or three years, and is also a good hockey goalkeeper. He has been in the city for a couple of years. Two winters ago he broke into local sport when he played hockey with the Perrin team. This is his second year with the lacrosse club.

Dick Stewart, the big defence man, is a product of the St. Simons team, of Toronto. He first learned the game in Brampton, a town noted for its lacrosse players. He was a member of the Brampton junior team when it won the junior championship.

Charles Hawkins comes from Elora. He first played for the Elora Rocks, then later for the Brampton team. He also was a member of the London team at one time. He is now captain of the London team, and is a well-known all-round athlete. His home is in Weston and he has been playing lacrosse for some time. He is also a good basketball and hockey player.

Harold Petherley first learned the game in this city, when he turned out with the team last year. He is a promising player and will play in Saturday's game.

Grant Petherley, the fast centre man, first played lacrosse in Cornwall, Joe Lally's town. He is one of the best players on the team, and has been a valuable man all season. He was out of the game for a couple of years after coming to London, but he has been with the London team this past two seasons, and is showing great form at present. Some of the pro-teams have been giving him the once over this season.

"Red" Aitchison, secretary-treasurer of the club and one of the best forwards in the O. A. L. A., was once a member of the Weston team, and in Saturday's game he will be pitted against his former teammates. He played a great game for the Weston team in 1911, when it got into the finals. He has been a member of the local club since its inception last year.

Reg. Scott, the fast outside home player, comes from one of the best lacrosse towns in Canada, Bradford, Ont. He first learned the game there and played there for some time. In those seasons, Bradford always won a C. L. A. championship.

Edgie Hawkins, the wiry little inside home man, hails from Elora. Like his brother, Charles, he also played lacrosse for Elora, when it was a runner-up in the senior C. L. A. series. Edgie is one of the best shots on the team, and he will require a lot of watching Saturday. He always gives his check plenty to do.

Roscoe Hodgins is a former teammate of Reg. Scott. He also comes from Bradford, where he was first introduced to a lacrosse stick. At one time he was a member of the Aurora junior team, an organization that made a great showing two or three years ago.

BRAIN WORK OF STALLINGS AND EVERS AND YOUNGSTERS' WILLINGNESS TO LEARN PUT BOSTON IN LEAD

By Hugh S. Fullerton.

When a team, individually weak, inexperienced, and strong only in two or three departments, plays the best baseball in its circuit, and through a season shows the finest defensive work when its pitching staff, although inexperienced, reveals more "inside knowledge" of opposing batters than any other, when a rather indifferent catching staff "guesses" the intention of batters and base-runners more frequently than do older men—THERE IS A REASON!

The Boston Braves, now the acknowledged sensation of the year, has done and is doing all these things. The secret of their success lies in the brain work of George Stallings and Johnny Evers, and the willingness of the youngsters to do as their leaders advise.

It would surprise many to discover that the Braves know more about the players on opposing teams than any team in the league knows. It may be a surprise to find that the Braves keep better posted in regard to the condition of opposing pitchers, and that they know better how opponents are hitting and what style of ball they are playing than the other teams do.

It isn't so much brain work as the application of common-sense business methods to baseball. Their business is baseball and they attend to it. A lot of the wise critics think the Braves will break because of the inexperience of some of the men, I'll wager today that Gowdy, Schmidt, Mann, Gilbert, Crutcher, Rudolph, and other youngsters know more about the players of the National League than Zimmerman, Snodgrass, Becher, or any of a dozen veterans know.

Listen! Major league ball club plays another team six series a year. They see the other teams roughly every three weeks. Between the series most of them forget that team, pay attention to others, and do not know what the team is doing. Not so with the Braves. They study teams. Evers had the system when he was with the Chicago Cubs, and Stallings, I think, has had it for years. They have taught it to the youngsters.

THE BRAINS OF THE BRAVES, MANAGER STALLINGS AND JOHNNY EVERS.

Every day Stallings and Evers get only the team they are to meet in the afternoon, but exchange observations concerning what other teams and other players are doing, how the pitchers are working, what condition they are in. They merely keep thoroughly posted about their business. It helps the pitcher and catcher a lot and it helps the infielders even more.

FREDDIE WELSH CAN ALSO PUT THEM TO SLEEP
Ring Records Show That He Has 26 Knockouts To His Credit—Ritchie Has Only 6.

Here's a surprise. Freddie Welsh, known as the lightweight champion with the featherweight punch, and variously called "the slapping champion," "the powder puff boxer," and the "hittest wonder," looks up as a knocker-out. No, he has not made anybody take the ten count lately, not since his recent argument with Willie Ritchie. The fact is, he's been a sleep-producing fighter all along.

The record books prove it. Comparison has been made by "Eight" with a penchant for digging in the archives, of the knockouts put over by four champions, Nelson, Wolgast, Ritchie and Welsh. Leach Cross has been added for good measure, and the cases he is known to have a terrific punch. Here are the figures:

Con- Knock- tests. outs. Per ct. Nelson 125 24 19.2 Wolgast 105 33 31.4 Ritchie 45 6 13.3 Cross 121 24 19.4 Welsh 111 26 23.4

Figures do not lie. Does this shake your faith in statistics?

PACIFIC COAST IS BASEBALL'S "OLD MEN'S HOME"—OUT THERE THEY PLAY LIKE COLTS
[By Hugh S. Fullerton.]

Moehler played ball continually as a professional for more than 25 years, and probably played more games of baseball than many that ever lived.

Twenty-six years ago he jumped into the Eastern as one of the promising young pitchers. For three seasons he was considered a major league possibility. Something went wrong with his arm, and because of this he was hit, and his knowledge of the game, he was given a job at second base. He went all over America, from league to league, club to club, and finally reached the coast in double-play as ever he was in his life. He may be playing there yet.

It turned out to be "Grasshopper" McCarthy. That fellow was playing ball, back when I was a kid playing hockey to see games. He jumped the National and when last I saw him, he still was a League more than twenty years before.

There was a fellow scamping around second base. It is a peculiar thing, noticed by experienced baseball reporters, that every player has some distinctive action or movement. The reporter may forget the face, the name and everything, but never the action of the player. This second baseman had a familiar move in fielding and throwing. I remarked:

"There's one fellow out there I've seen play ball, but who he is I don't know."

George McPartian is another case. He pitched ball more than twenty years, and when last I saw him, he still was a League more than twenty years before.

He also jumped a couple of other jobs at Waterbury, Conn. He was a Californian, and in the early days of baseball out there.

CARDINALS AGAIN BEAT THE GIANTS

McGraw's Men Lost Their Fifth Straight Game.

BOSTON WON AND TIED

Chicago and Phillies Broke Even, While Pirates Lost Their Tenth Straight.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The New Yorks lost their fifth straight game today when they fell before St. Louis in a close contest, the score being 4 to 3. Dolan's hitting and fielding were features of the visitors' work. After New York tied the score in the eighth, Dolan drove home with a double in the ninth for St. Louis winning. R.H.E. St. Louis 4, New York 3. 000 000 101—4 12 1. Starter: St. Louis. Pitcher: New York. Batteries—Purdie and Wingo; Demaree, Mathewson and Meyers.

CUBS AND PHILLIES SPLIT EVEN IN A DOUBLE BILL
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—Chicago got an even break here today, the visitors winning the first game 6 to 3, and Philadelphia the second, 6 to 2. Rixey lasted less than three innings in the opening contest, but despite Mattison's good work, the home team could not make much headway against Hummer's pitching. Lobert had a finger of his left hand dislocated by a drive off Bresnahan's bat in the eighth. In the second game Philadelphia secured the victory by knocking Pierce off the rubber in two innings. Score: First Game. R.H.E. Philadelphia 6, Chicago 3. 000 000 100—6 10 0. Batteries—Hummer and Bresnahan; Rixey, Mattison and Killefer. Second Game. R.H.E. Chicago 6, Philadelphia 2. 000 000 000—6 7 2. Batteries—Pierce, Zabel and Archer; Moyer and Burns.

BROOKLYN'S NINTH WIN PIRATES' TENTH DEFEAT
BROOKLYN, Sept. 24.—Brooklyn won its ninth straight game today, beating Pittsburgh 2 to 0. Cutshaw's triple in the ninth, followed by Getz's single, supplied the winning run. It was the tenth straight defeat. Score: R.H.E. Brooklyn 2, Pittsburgh 0. 100 000 000—2 7 2. Starter: Brooklyn. Pitcher: Pittsburgh. Batteries—Kantehner, McQuill and Schang; Ragan, Aitchison and McCarty.

BRVES INCREASE THEIR LEAD ON THE GIANTS
BOSTON, Sept. 24.—The Braves went out and increased their lead over the Giants in the first game of today's double-header. The second game ended in a tie, 2 all being called at the end of the eighth on account of darkness. The Reds tied it up in the eighth. Rudolph pitched the first game, and held the Reds to five scattered hits. He was never in danger. Boston started for Cincinnati, but gave way to Flittery in the fifth, when the Braves seved up the game by scoring three runs. The scores:

First Game. R.H.E. Cincinnati 3, Boston 2. 000 000 000—3 5 2. Starter: Cincinnati. Pitcher: Boston. Batteries—Benton, Flittery, Gonzales; Rudolph and Gowdy. Second Game. R.H.E. Cincinnati 2, Boston 2. 100 000 000—2 7 1. Starter: Cincinnati. Pitcher: Boston. Batteries—Schneider and Gonzales; Crutcher and Gowdy.

INDIANS WON IN NINTH.
NEWARK, Sept. 24.—Smith's Indians trimmed the Skeeters in a ninth inning rally at Newark today. The score was 5 to 3. Kraft singled and went all the way around on Witter's double, who in turn scored the winning run on Eckinger's double. The score: R.H.E. Newark 5, Cincinnati 3. 000 000 000—5 10 0. Starter: Newark. Pitcher: Cincinnati. Batteries—Curtis and Heckinger; Thompson and Tyler.

WILLIAM BECOMES
WORLD'S BEST PACERBeats Directum I. in Straight Heats at Grand Rapids.

FIRST TWO ARE CLOSE

Last One, However, Easy for William and Slowest
Time Is Made.

GRAND RAPIDS, Sept. 24.—By defeating Directum I. in three straight heats this afternoon, William became the world's champion pacer. The match was for a purse of $5,000. In the first heat, Directum I. cut down a two-length advantage, and forced William to a whipping finish to win by a nose in 2:07 1/2.

In the second heat, the horses alternately showed in front with Directum I. holding the advantage at the upper turn. Here William took the lead, holding it to the wire and winning by half a length in 2:07 1/2.

William never was headed in the third heat, winning slowed up in 2:02 1/2. The track was in splendid condition, but a cold wind impeded the horses in the back stretch.

Of the 43 new 2:10 trotters, 30 of them are of the Wilkes branch, and the Hap-py Mediums next, with 7, six of these by Peter the Great.

AN EASY WAY TO INCREASE WEIGHT

Good Advice for Thin Folks.

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomachs or stuffing it with greasy foods, rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient.

Leading druggists of London and vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution: While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous, dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

KEARLEY AND KAPP
FOUGHT A DRAW

MONTREAL, Sept. 24.—Kid Kearley and Mike Kapp fought ten rounds to a draw. The bout was fast, both boys showing a tendency to mix things. Kapp dislocated his wrist in the eighth round, but finished gamely. Frank Morgan, Kearley's manager, will arrange for a return bout to take place at New York in the near future.

Before she broke down Lottie McGregor won $10,000, so she was not such a bad buy for $10,000. Also they bought a few tickets on her which they did not keep as souvenirs.

CAR OF APPLES WILL BE SENT TO MANITOBAMiddlesex Fruitgrowers Have a Splendid Crop This Year.

IVAN, Sept. 24.—The Ilbert Fruit Growers Association has its packers at work this week putting up a car of fall apples for Brandon, Man. The quality of the crop is excellent, and much better than last year, and the executive will grade the whole crop 75 per cent.

It is the intention to export the larger part of the winter apples to Great Britain, if boats can be secured. There are no outside buyers this year, and it looks as if a large quantity of apples will waste in the orchards of those who are not members.

A Fine Show.

The farmers of Lobo have been filling silos for the past week, but all work was suspended on Tuesday for the big West Middlesex Fair at Stratford, and the farmers of Lobo attended "en masse."

The fair was a huge success, and great interest was taken in the exhibit of fruit, honey, vegetables, etc., in the horticultural hall, put up by Mr. J. B. White and the County Fruit Growers' Association.

The demonstration exhibit of sprayed and unsprayed apples was of great interest, and many questions were answered by the members of the association in charge, who made use of the whole exhibit for boosting Mid-diesex.

Saw the Troops.
Rev. and Mrs. M. Cullough have returned from Montreal where they were spending their holidays. They report the passing of 30,000 East Indian troops through the port coming through Canada on their way to the seat of war.

The nuptials of Miss Elizabeth Higgs, of the eighth concession, Lobo, and Mr. Alex. Thompson, of Parkhill, are announced, and wedding cards are out for Wednesday, September 30.

The death of Mr. Arch. McGugan, of Lobo, occurred on Tuesday. Deceased was a resident of Lobo for many years, and had served on the municipal board for some years. He was a lifelong Liberal and successful farmer.

GOOD ATTENDANCE
AT INGERSOLL FAIRSecond Day Brought Out the Crowd—Light Horses
a Fine Class.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
INGERSOLL, Sept. 24.—The disappointment of Wednesday was turned into joy today with the directors and all connected with the Ingersoll, North and West Oxford Agricultural Society. The second day of the fair, despite the gloomy prospects yesterday, was one of the best the society has ever experienced, the attendance probably exceeding 2,500.

In other departments, the weather that was in every way favorable, were features that spelled success. One gratifying feature was the large attendance from points more distant than formerly. Judicious advertising, backed by the right kind of attractions, brought out the people and pleased them.

In heavy horses, there was not as large a showing as on some previous years, but the light horses were numerous, and of fine calibre. The men and others who "follow" the fairs gave the true fair time ring to the occasion, and did a rushing business. From the standpoint of attendance and general satisfaction, the fair was one of the most successful Ingersoll has ever held, and augurs well for continued advancement under the progressive policy that has been adopted.

BURSTING PIPE KILLS
BESSEMER SAILORAnother Horribly Scalded—Wireless Out of Commission by Accident.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
CONNEAUT, Ohio, Sept. 24.—Her-man Elkenburg, 40 years, and Patrick Donnelly, 35, was severely scalded when the main steam pipe on the ferry Marquette and Bessemer No. 2 burst while the vessel was several miles out in the lake, on her way to Port Stanley today.

The ferry was twelve miles off the local harbor when the pipe broke, filling the boiler room with steam. Elkenburg attempted to climb the ladder and it is thought he inhaled some of the hot steam. Donnelly remained close to the floor until help came. His head was severely buried.

The ferry's wireless was put out of commission through the stopping of the dynamo. Captain Vanhooker, however, escape from death on the Marquette tracks just outside the city last evening. The young man was intoxicated, and he started off down the track to walk home.

He had not gone far when he lay down on the track and went to sleep. High County Constable George Peters was warned that a young man who was not in a fit condition to take care of himself was seen to start down the track, and fearing that some harm might come to him, Peters started out to find him.

He found him lying between the rails, and two minutes after he pulled him from danger, an express train whizzing past. The young man appeared in the police court today, and was fined for being intoxicated.

Nick of Time.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
BLENHEIM, Sept. 24.—Harry Young, a Blenheim young man, had a very narrow escape from death on the Pere Marquette tracks just outside the city last evening. The young man was intoxicated, and he started off down the track to walk home.

He had not gone far when he lay down on the track and went to sleep. High County Constable George Peters was warned that a young man who was not in a fit condition to take care of himself was seen to start down the track, and fearing that some harm might come to him, Peters started out to find him.

NO COSTLY DINNERS
FOR CANADIAN CLUBNew York Branch To Devote Money To Poor During the War.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Sept. 25.—The Canadian Club, meeting at Delmonico's last night, decided to dispense with the annual dinner and other costly entertainments this coming winter and devote the money to those in need, because of the war. An additional reason was given in the desire to do nothing that would violate President Wilson's neutrality proclamation, and it seemed impossible to have a Canadian dinner without bringing Britain and the mother country's part in the war into the discussion.

C. H. Manning, an attorney of Dorchester, N. B., addressed the club, and pictured war scenes in the Dominion. He predicted distress, and described the pathos of the departure of Canada's contingent for Europe.

MRS. PANKHURST IS AGAINST COMMON FOEMilitant Leader Pledges Her "Army" to Support Britain.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, speaking last night at a meeting in support of Earl Kitchener's appeal for recruits, said a war to crush militarism had the heartiest approval of women, who fought hard for political enfranchisement.

"When the proper time comes," Mrs. Pankhurst added, "we shall resume the fight, but for the present we must all do our best to beat back a common foe."

INSURANCE RATES TO INDIA AGAIN RAISEDActivity of German Destroyers Causes Increase to 5 Per Cent.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Sept. 25.—Marine underwriters, because of the activity of the German commerce destroyers along the coast of India, have raised insurance rates to India and the far east to five per cent again. At a time they were quoted as low as 2 1/2 per cent, although at the beginning of the war some companies charged 15 to 20 per cent for the war risk.

The rate to South American ports has likewise been advanced to 3 per cent, where in most cases it had been only 2 per cent or less.

NATIONALIST LEADERS
COMING TO NEW YORK[Canadian Press.]
New York, Sept. 25.—John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, accompanied by John Dillon and Joseph Redmond, also members of the Irish party, will attend the convention of the United Irish League, which will be held in this city on November 10. It was announced here last night by officers of the league.

FREIGHTER ASHORE.
New York, Sept. 25.—The steamship Kentra, owned by the United States and Brazil Steamship Company, was reported here today to be ashore off Cape Henry, Va. The revenue cutter Onondaga and the old Dominion liner Ham-ilton, it was said, were alongside. The Kentra sailed from here last Wednesday for Brazilian ports, by way of Norfolk. She is a freighter of about 3,000 tons burden and carries no passengers.

BERLIN REPORTS ONLY
MINOR ENGAGEMENTS

[Canadian Press.]
Berlin, via London, Sept. 25.—11:40 a.m.—The following official announcement, dated September 24, has been given out at army headquarters: "In the western theatre of the war today, there have been some minor engagements, but nothing of importance has transpired."

"There is no news from Belgium or the eastern war arena."

BRITISH IN GERMANY
ALL ON RELIEF LIST

[Canadian Press.]
London, Sept. 25.—The lord mayor of London has received a letter from Mrs. Gerard, wife of the American ambassador to Germany, in which she says that virtually all the British subjects now in Germany are on the register of the British emergency relief fund, of which she is president.

"All Britishers requiring help," Mrs. Gerard adds, "are being looked after by local committees formed by the American consul for their districts and directed by the central office, which is under the protection of the American embassy. This week we are dispatching 300 more women and children, and early next week we have reason to hope that the authorities will allow invalids and men over 45 years of age to leave Germany."

SEVEN DEATHS FROM
PLAGUE IN SICILY

[Canadian Press.]
Catania, Sicily, via Paris, Sept. 25.—Seven persons have died here from the plague, and although the authorities have been taking energetic measures to check the infection, ten other cases have been reported in suburban towns. A clean bill of health was refused a steamer bound for the United States, owing to the fact that a case of the plague was found on board.

GERMAN POST IN
S. AFRICA CAPTURED

[Canadian Press.]
Surrendered to Rhodesian Police Without Any Opposition.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Sept. 25.—3:30 a.m.—A Pretoria dispatch to Reuters Telegram Company says it is officially announced that the German post at Schucknamsberg, near Zambesi, Southern Africa, surrendered without opposition on September 21 to the Rhodesian police. The German resident was taken to Livingstone.

KINDLY MESSAGE FROM KING ALFONSO

[Canadian Press.]
Biarritz, France, via Bordeaux, Sept. 25.—Dr. De Lostalot, a local physician who has in the past been consulted by King Alfonso of Spain, has received from his majesty a telegram expressing sympathy on the death of a son in battle.

The message, dated at the Royal Palace, Madrid, reads as follows: "I have just learned of the loss of your son. The finest death a man can have is falling for his country. I congratulate you, but at the same time, I feel deeply for your father's heart."

THE LOCAL MARKET

Oats, hay, and wheat were the features of the market Friday. Oats sold readily at $1.54 and $1.55 per cwt. The wheat supply is becoming much more plentiful, but the price remains at $1.10 per bushel.

Twenty loads of hay were weighed this morning, meeting a good demand. Some loads sold as high as $15.50 per ton. Straw also is high at $8 and $8.50 per ton.

Potatoes are unchanged in price. No meats or fruits were on the Friday market.

Winnipeg, Sept. 24.—Following the sharp advances at the close of yesterday's market, further advances occurred in wheat prices at the opening today. Opening futures were 3c to 3c higher, and further fractional gains were made of 1/4c to 1/2c, but later the local buying power eased off, and some profit taking developed, resulting in prices dropping to the level of yesterday's close. At noon, wheat prices were: $1.03 1/2; December, $1.12 1/2; and May, $1.10 1/2. The weakness was continued, the closing being at the low point except for October. Wheat closed 3c to 3c lower, and oats 1/2c to 3c lower at the close.

The cash demand was fair for wheat and oats, while it was poor for barley. The grades of wheat most in demand were Nos. 1 and 2 northern, and offerings were fairly heavy. Exporters were the principal buyers.

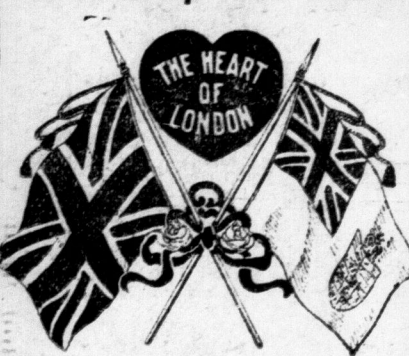

Cash grain closed: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.04 1/2; No. 2, $1.03 1/2; No. 3, $1.02 1/2; No. 4, $1.01 1/2; No. 5, $1.00 1/2; No. 6, $1.00; No. 7, $1.00; No. 8, $1.00; No. 9, $1.00; No. 10, $1.00; SERVIANS REPULSE AUSTRIAN ATTACKS

Desperate Battles Leave Ally In More Favorable Situation—Belgrade Again Bombarded.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Sept. 25.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Nish, says: "Desperate battles were fought September 22 along the front of Severnik-Losniza and the front of Mitrovitz-Sababats, the situation being favorable to the Servians."

"Upon the front of the Save River, the enemy opened an artillery and infantry fire. On the island of Szalaska and at Zaborgrade the enemy attempted attacks in the direction of Mala Ada and Tzagalila Ada, which were repulsed."

"On the nights of September 21-22 the enemy began an artillery fire on the city of Belgrade, the fortress and the wharves of the Save, but their efforts to cross the Danube near Belgrade and Vershera failed."

30 WARSHIPS SEEN ON SWEDISH COAST

Fishing Fleet Reports News, But Nationality Is Not Divulged—A Dangerous Place.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 25.—A dispatch to the Standard from Copenhagen states that a fishing fleet has arrived at Falkenberg, Sweden, which has been in close proximity to a fleet of 30 warships. They were sighted in the vicinity of Anholt, a Danish island in the Kattegat, a large arm of the North Sea, which has Sweden on the east and Jutland on the west. The nationality of the warships has not been divulged. They were steaming down the principal deep-water channel on the Swedish side in a southerly direction, toward the only entrance for large vessels to the Baltic from the North Sea.

The news has caused great excitement. Some of the sound is extensively mined and foreign war vessels run a great risk in steaming in without a pilot. Denmark, however, could not supply pilots without upsetting her neutrality.

OFFICER SHORTAGE SERIOUS PROBLEM

Times Correspondent Fears That New Regiments Are Not Being Properly Trained.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 25.—The military correspondent of the Times writes today as follows: "An army cannot be improvised at a moment's notice, and instances in which improvisation has been attempted in the past have been lamentable failures. Experienced officers are in short supply. The army which Britain is now raising at home, because they do not think they will be ready to fight in the field for eighteen months, and then only if they have been trained by professional officers, the numbers of which are limited and are being constantly decreased by losses in action."

"The question of officers is a serious one. An examination of our casualty lists shows we have lost already over eleven hundred officers in killed, wounded or missing. This is two out of every five among those at the front."

"More officers is the constant cry from the front, and several hundred have been sent, but obviously this cannot be kept up for ever, and each officer sent is one less instructor for the new troops. We must not allow ourselves to become megamaniacs and place in the field regiments which are unfit to defend the honor of our armies."

KRONPRINZ WILHELM SINKS BRITISH STEAMER

Crew of Indian Prince Landed at Santos By Another Vessel.

[Canadian Press.]

Rio Janeiro, via London, Sept. 25.—8:40 a.m.—The German steamer Prussia has arrived at Santos and landed the crew and fifteen men of the British steamer Indian Prince, which was sunk by the German auxiliary cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm.

This is the first definite news of the Kronprinz Wilhelm, a North German Lloyd liner, since she was reported as having been sent transferring coal to the German cruiser Karlsruhe in West Indian waters. Since her departure from New York the whereabouts of the liner have been a mystery except in the one instance when a British cruiser reported that they had seen her unloading coal at sea.

The British steamer Indian Prince, a vessel of 1,775 tons, sailed from Rio Janeiro on August 25 for Port-of-Spain and New York.

Five Aeroplanes Taken By French

Cavalry Got Them After Fight In Forest Clearing.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 25.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in France, says: "There is considerable elation in the allies' lines over the capture of five German aeroplanes by a French cavalry patrol."

"Twenty cavalrymen, penetrating into a thickly wooded country, found a clearing where the rich prize awaited them. The aviators and a number of mechanics at the time were engaged in overhauling five Taube aeroplanes. The patrol made a dash to round up the lot, but met with fierce resistance, and twelve cavalrymen were killed before the aeroplanes were taken. Their aeroplanes will never fly again."

SNOW PUTS END TO MILITARY OPERATIONS

Trappist Monks In Alsace Called to the Colors.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 25.—8:40 a.m.—A dispatch to the Central News from Lucerne, Switzerland, states that military operations in upper Alsace have been brought to a pause in consequence of falls of snow in the mountains and floods in the valleys.

"Among the last reservists called up in Alsace according to the dispatch, are thirty Trappist monks from the Oelberg convent."

TO CURE BLACKHEADS

From any drug store, procure about two ounces pure powdered Thonolite, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge, and rub well into the pores, wherever the blackheads appear. Now wash the parts and note how the blackheads have disappeared. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

STILL LESS NEWS, LATEST PROMISE

British Papers Forbidden To Print Correspondents' Dispatches From Rear of Allies' Lines.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 25.—The activities of British newspaper correspondents, who in motor cars have been dashing about in the rear of the allies' lines, have resulted in the enforcement of a stricter censorship by the British Government. The newspapers now will not be permitted to publish the messages of such correspondents, and the speculations of the military correspondents about localities and predict movements of the armies, also will be suppressed.

Some of the newspapers have been demanding fuller official reports as a substitute for the work of the war correspondents, and the press bureau has issued during the past two days two such reports from officers attached to the British army for the purpose of writing them. These reports probably will be continued.

CAPTURED AUSTRIANS WERE NEARLY STARVING

After Fierce Fighting, Russians Win Position In Face of Artillery.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 25.—"The fiercest fighting previous to the capture by the Russians of Jaroslavl," says Reuter's Petrograd correspondent, "seems to have been at Sandovaya and Vishnya. It lasted a week. The Austrians occupied the hills commanding several miles of open country, and they swept the advancing Russians with guns and quick-firing guns. The Russians, undaunted, pushed forward, however, and on the fifth day were able to bring their guns into action."

"In the enemy's trench were found wounded and dead, who had been lying there for days."

"Prisoners taken in the battle said they had been four days without food, their only sustenance being wild pears and raw potatoes."

"Owing to the stoppage of the newspapers, in consequence of a shortage of paper, the news concerning the war is being communicated to the people of Lublin by town criers."

Citizens Thought They Had Gone Until Hostages Were Seized.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

London, Sept. 25.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Tournai, a town in Belgium, 48 miles southeast of Ghent, telegraphing under date of Wednesday, says: "The citizens, who supposed they had seen the last of the Germans, were surprised by the placing of a German proclamation forbidding the use of motor cars except by Germans, and the seizure by the Germans of three hostages, Councillor Catty, Deputy Mayor Matelien and Professor Honneaux, ostensibly because telegraphic and telephonic communications of the German army had been cut. As security for the behavior of the city, it was proclaimed that if any further attempt was made to interfere with communications, the hostages would be executed."

Socialist Leader of Kaiser's Land Sees Devastation Wrought.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

London, Sept. 25.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Antwerp says that Dr. Carl Liebknecht, the German Socialist leader, is touring Belgium and is visiting Louvain, Trier, Aerschot, Dinant and Namur.

In an interview, according to the dispatch, Dr. Liebknecht said that he and his fellow Socialists are touring Belgium and are visiting Louvain, Trier, Aerschot, Dinant and Namur.

He is also quoted as having declared that he will inform his fellow countrymen of what he has seen in Belgium.

NORWEGIAN STEAMER STRICKEN BY A MINE

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 25.—A South Shields dispatch to the Central News says that the Norwegian steamer Hesvik has been totally destroyed by striking a mine in the North Sea. The chief engineer and one of his assistants were killed, but the captain and the crew of fourteen were rescued by a British warship and brought to South Shields.

ABBE IS CHARGED WITH HIGH TREASON

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 25.—A Berlin dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company by way of Amsterdam says a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abbe Wetterle, whose property has been seized on the ground of high treason.

Abbe Wetterle is a member of the Reichstag from Alsace-Lorraine and recently declared that the people of that province were waiting for the French soldiers to rescue them.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

London, Sept. 25.—Speaking of the numerous charges made daily by the Germans near Soissons, the correspondent of the Express in France, says: "Sunday night there were no fewer than twenty-two cavalry charges under the personal supervision of the Crown Prince. The object is to wear out the allies and keep them from sleep."

CONTINGENT GONE, REPORT GIVEN OUT

Most of Canadian Troops Said To Have Departed For Europe.

[Canadian Press.]

VALCARTIER, Sept. 24.—The major part of Canada's contingent for service in Europe is already on its way to the front, in transports heavily armed and guarded by British men-of-war in sufficient force to prevent any attack by German cruisers.

A fleet of war vessels, consisting of battleships, cruisers and destroyers had been gathered at Quebec, and a steady flow in the direction of Quebec from the camp.

As the transports were loaded they steamed seawards, and the conveying war vessels picked them up, forming a sufficiently strong protective force for the various troops. All the transports were fitted with heavy guns.

A portion of the infantry and all the artillery, with much of the equipment, have already departed.

The departure of the remainder will quickly follow.

How the Valcartier Censor Puts It.

VALCARTIER CAMP, Que., Sept. 24.—Notwithstanding the announcement that every officer and man in camp will go with the first contingent, there is a possibility that a few officers will be left behind to be used for instructional purposes in the various troops. All the transports will be sent abroad. Colonel Hughes held a conference today with 153 officers who had not been placed on account of the great surplus.

The formation of two extra battalions gave positions to many, but there was still this number left over. It is said that some of these will go unattached.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that irritate the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean, like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid waste, and, if you do not understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active, drink lots of water—You can't drink too much. You need four ounces of Epsom Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Epsom Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.
