

LIBERALS AT RIPLEY FIRE FIRST SHOT IN W. BRUCE CAMPAIGN

RIPLEY, Oct. 3.—The first shot in the coming political campaign will be fired in the town hall Saturday evening, October 4, when Alexander McWhinney, Liberal candidate for West Bruce, will address the electors.

Other prominent speakers will be C. M. Bowman, M. P. P. Liberal whip and former member for the electorate, and Thomas McMillan. As this is the first election in which women have been allowed to vote, it is expected that a large representation will be present.

Ripley Women's Institute met on Friday at the home of Mrs. (Rev.) George Gilmore.

FALL WHEAT STARTS WELL.

BELORE, Oct. 3.—Harvesting is nearly done. The straw was short, but there was a good yield of grain, and of a good sample, too. Silos are being filled to overflowing with the best matured corn that has been grown for some years. Turnips are a poor crop. Man-

ABOUT RHEUMATISM

What Thousands Have Found Gives Relief From This Painful Trouble.

Rheumatism is a constitutional disease, manifesting itself in local aches and pains, inflamed joints and stiff muscles. It cannot be cured by local or external applications. It must have constitutional treatment.

Take a course of the great blood-purifying and tonic medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, which corrects the acid condition of the blood on which rheumatism depends, and gives permanent relief. This medicine combines, with excellent alternatives and tonics, what is generally conceded to be the most effective agent in the treatment of this disease.

If a cathartic or laxative is needed take Hood's Pills. Purely vegetable.

EAST ELGIN C. CANDIDATE WITHDRAWS FROM CONTEST

Sparta, Ont., Oct. 3, 1919.

The Liberal candidate for East Elgin, Ladies and Gentlemen.—For years it has been obvious to all thinking persons that the farmers and the laborers alike are being made the prey of the big moneyed interests of the financial centres of Canada, Toronto and Montreal. This condition has gradually become more clearly realized, until now practically everyone is seized of the actual conditions. And this undoubtedly is the cause of the unrest that is the real cause of the recent formation of the U. F. O.

When the opportunity came to me to become the Liberal candidate last spring I had then just secured my position in this organization of farmers, and it was with the hope of being able to help relieve my fellow-farmers in the rural districts, and my fellow-laborers in the urban communities that I decided to let my name to the Liberal convention last March.

At that time there was no thought of a U. F. O. candidate being placed in the field. On the contrary, their organizers were giving assurance that candidates would not be nominated. Subsequently, however, for some reason that has not been satisfactorily explained, this wise policy was reversed, with the result that we have many three-cornered contests throughout the province in this election. Now since the policies and platforms of the Reform party and the U. F. O. are essentially the same, it is clear that both are in opposition to the Hearst Government. And it is just as clear that the U. F. O. and the Liberals to both keep candidates in the field in the same constituency is to divide the vote and thus assure the election of the Government candidate. If this occurs in a sufficiently large number of ridings it means the return to power of the present Government and a continuance of its paternal protection of the big interests, the monopolists, the combines, profiteers and the corruptionists, for three-cornered contests are Hearst's only hope.

I believe in the principles of the U. F. O. Otherwise I would not continue my membership. But I believe they are ill-advised in indiscriminately placing candidates in the field as has been done in many ridings. At times it looks as if the U. F. O. central officers are deliberately betraying their followers by thus establishing a condition of affairs that must, if persisted in, save the Hearst Government. For me to remain in the field under these circumstances would be to assist in saving the Hearst Government.

Therefore, with the sanction of the Reform executive, I am asking the Liberals of East Elgin to approve of my withdrawal from the contest, since my remaining in would make the election of an Opposition candidate impossible under these circumstances. And if the example which we Liberals of East Elgin are thus setting is followed throughout the province under the U. F. O. and the Reformers, if the Opposition is consolidated by the termination of these afterthought contests, the Hearst Government will yet be defeated, automatic rule in the province will be terminated and democracy will be restored to its proper place.

In conclusion I have to thank the Liberals of East Elgin for the honor they have done me in making me their candidate, and I have only to add that if any of the U. F. O. members, through the Reform party, be of service to our country I will always be at your disposal.

Yours truly,
W. H. MILLS.

C. OF C. ASKS EXPERT CITY VALUATION; TAX TO MAKE KIDS' PARKS

Urges Uniform Valuation of Property by Experts.

UNDERVALUE BIG ESTATES

Proposes Vote to Increase Children's Playgrounds With Half-Mill Tax.

Several important civic questions of public interest were discussed at the membership meeting of the London Chamber of Commerce held in the Y. M.C.A. auditorium last evening. The main item for discussion was the playgrounds scheme, first proposed by the organization of the chamber of commerce.

Discussion of the city hall site and the Western Fair grounds extension was included in the program arranged for the meeting, but the lack of time prevented its introduction.

In the report of the L. C. assessment committee, the following recommendation committee received attention first at the meeting:

Advocate Expert Valuation.

That steps be immediately taken by the city council to secure an independent valuation of the city by a competent expert, or experts in full cooperation with the present assessment department, and that the method installed should be such that the average citizen can readily secure the data on which his or her assessment is based, and feel satisfied that it is fair and just, and in accordance with assessments made elsewhere.

The report, read by Jared Vining, as chairman of the committee, explained that while the assessment act (chapter 36), specifies that "land shall be assessed at its actual value," and buildings "by the amount by which the value of the land is increased thereon," valuation for assessment is based on Ontario cities on a certain percentage of value only, decided upon by the assessment department in each city.

Vary From 35 to 50 Per Cent.

In London's case, this percentage is supposed to be about 75, but the investigation of the committee revealed that the average is not uniformly maintained, and that a considerably smaller percentage of value of the larger properties is common. Of 33 properties valued in this way, situated in all parts of the city, the percentage was found by the members of the committee to vary from 30 to 96 per cent of value. The recommendation will be presented to the city council.

Discuss Playgrounds.

Considerable discussion resulted from the reading of the joint report of the playgrounds and social service committees of the Chamber of Commerce of M. Adams. This report recommended action on the part of the city council, that the playgrounds be opened in various parts of the city for the general welfare of the children, and that an increase of a quarter of a mill be made in the taxes to provide the necessary expenditure.

By the opening of the playgrounds, similar to the present one at Thames Park, the children will not have to play on the streets, and so accidents and unsuitable surroundings will be greatly eliminated. The report also stated that the maximum attendance at the present playgrounds during the summer season was 164 children.

Opened an Experiment.

That number would have been larger, it was explained, if the park had been opened earlier in the year and if there had been a more extensive provision of equipment made at first. In addition, the playgrounds were opened more as an experiment than as a permanent affair.

"Many people who live in the neighborhood of the playgrounds," said J. H. Laughlin, "strongly object to the noise which was thereby created. The city certainly will not grow and increase in importance without children, and the playgrounds in the proper, safest place, and they should be considered. If the city council cannot deal with the matter, then the people should be asked to vote upon it at the next election."

Advocate Half Mill.

"If a vote is to be taken on the matter," Jared Vining said in support, "an educational campaign should be started for the benefit of the people. What is even one mill on the dollar to citizens as against the improper trappings of the children?"

Receive Fire League Report.

The report recently made by the local branch of the Fire Prevention League was read by T. A. Faust. It was favorably received.

Gen. J. C. R. Foster, who was campaign manager of the Chamber of Commerce reorganization and membership drive last year, commended the efficient work done by the organization during the past period. "The progress made," he said, "proved that a comprehensive plan of work was absolutely necessary at the beginning of the year, which should be expanded at the end of the year."

Notes Increased Building.

A great change, principally in regard to the building activities here, was noted by the speaker upon coming to London after almost a year's absence. He held the splendid work accomplished by the Chamber of Commerce to be partly responsible for it. The need of a firm community spirit and unity was never needed more than at the present time, he said.

which should be an asset to the city, but which at present a disgrace, be converted into places of beauty in the future was a suggestion made for action on the part of the chamber members. It was decided that the frontage should be cleaned up and driveways built on each bank of the river.

Ald. F. Harley acted as chairman last evening.

CHANGES IN PRISON SYSTEM URGED BY REV. WILLIAM IVENS

Changes in the prison system of Canada should be effected as soon as possible, declares Rev. William Ivens, pastor of the Winnipeg Labor Church. He spoke on ball after being given his preliminary hearing on a charge of sedition in connection with the recent general strike in the western city. He had spent some time in prison and when his trial was concluded he said he would try to remedy conditions.

Men had been arrested and deported for attending meetings at which he spoke, he declared. Almost every man who goes to jail comes out worse than when he entered. The only exceptions were those who had been arrested by the kindly treatment of their jailers.

Crime Decreased.

When the streets were closed, at least during the first few weeks, crime in Winnipeg was only half as much as it was before. The police officers were not "scabs," as they were willing to go on strike, but kept down the streets and kept the streets clean. When the policeman refused to sign an agreement with the citizens' committee, which comprised men of

To Travelling Salesmen

WHEN showing goods, the traveller's cuffs as well as his goods are brought right before the prospective customer's eyes. A soiled cuff doesn't create a favorable impression. And it draws the attention away from the article to the soiled cuff.

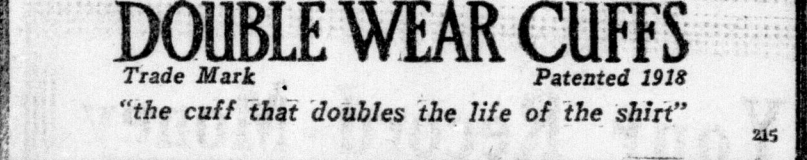

The alert, particular traveller, therefore, has to take a big bunch of shirts on his trips and change often—unless he carries W. G. & R. Shirts with Double Wear Cuffs with him when he needs just half the usual quantity.

Everyone knows that the cuffs—the most exposed portion of a shirt—get soiled first. And it doesn't take long for a dirty train or dusty road to soil them.

But when one side of his Double Wear Cuffs gets soiled the traveller just turns the cuffs, which fold easily and lie perfectly flat either way they're turned. He thus wears his shirt twice as long.

If he is away for a period of two weeks to a month or longer every inch in his grip or personal trunk is valuable. W. G. & R. Shirts with Double Wear Cuffs save space for him, cut laundry bills for shirts in half, and wear longer.

Whatever You Do Don't Neglect Your Eyes, Says Dr. Lewis, Who Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent in One Week's Time in Many Instances.

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eyestrain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that, according to Dr. Lewis, there is real hope for you. He says neglect causes more eye troubles and poor sight than any other one thing. Many whose eyes are failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: "It was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain me dreadfully, now they feel fine all the time." It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but now it is clear. This prescription for fifteen days every thing seemed clear. I can even read fine print without glasses. It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto Tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you even a little, take steps to say them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician, when the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it. Even any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in all cases of eye trouble." It is sold in this city by the Standard Drug Company, and W. T. Strong and Company.

money, they were dismissed. In their stead special constables were hired. It required 1,500 of them to do less than the regular men had been doing.

Soldiers Favored Strikers.

Thousands of soldiers paraded in favor of the strikers. At one time it was said they were to be given 300 saloons of whiskey and order that they would cause a disturbance. Fortunately their leaders got it and dumped it in the gutter.

Sergeant Topping, V.C., who had been reported as having fallen from his horse and broken a number of ribs, is said to have been less seriously injured than was reported. He testified to this himself.

Issued Tickets.

When the bread drivers and milkmen went on strike, the question of food and drink became a grave one. A meeting of two members of the city league, labor men and the city council, which was supposed to have been neutral, was called, and decided to issue tickets in order that those men who had returned to their positions on the orders of the council should not be mistaken for strikers.

For issuing these tickets, Rev. Mr. Topping, who was the accused, stated that A. J. Clarke, prosecuting attorney, who appeared against him and the committee which authorized the issuing of the tickets, was the guilty one.

The committee of one thousand, which was backing the workingmen, discouraged the strike, and asked the men to use constitutional methods, but at the same time, said that these methods should be crushed. This committee is said to be composed of men and broken a number of ribs, is said to have been less seriously injured than was reported. He testified to this himself.

VALERA VISITS LIBERTY SHRINE

Philadelphia Welcomes Irish Leader in Classic Hall of Independence.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—Eamon de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," arrived here yesterday.

Thousands of persons thronged the streets near North Philadelphia station and gave the Irish leader a tumultuous reception. The cheering was continued as De Valera and his party, leading a long line of automobiles, containing Irish sympathizers, paraded to Independence Hall, where De Valera was welcomed in behalf of the city by E. J. Cattell.

"On this sacred spot," said Mr. Cattell, "Irishmen helped write the most sacred history of our land. As a descendant of Irishmen and an American, I pray God to have you in his keeping. You are welcome to the birthplace of freedom."

"I thank you very sincerely," Mr. de Valera responded, "for your words of welcome to this shrine of liberty. It is America. This is a proud day for Ireland, to know that Irishmen in this land of liberty helped with the great deeds enacted here."

"I am sure that if these same fathers of American liberty were alive today they would say that Ireland had a right to freedom. I am sure the American people agree that our little country should enjoy the same liberty which they have secured for themselves."

"A man in my position could not come here and fail to be refreshed in spirit. I entertain the hope that one day Ireland will enjoy the liberty which she has struggled for and deserves."

"I can scarcely speak for my emotions on coming to this holy spot. The Irish at home know what the monuments of their dead mean to me. Your dead were successful; ours were not. But the same spirit is alive in Ireland that animated the men who died in the War of the Revolution to free the country from the foreign yoke. It is Ireland's determination to make it Ireland's success. They shall not have died in vain."

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts To Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

LIBERALS AGAIN TO BACK TOLMIE, SOLE CONVENTION CHOICE

Says He Will Try To Remedy Conditions After His Trial.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
WINDSOR, Oct. 3.—Major J. C. Tolmie, M. P., was given the unanimous nomination of the Liberal party at a convention this evening, to contest the constituency against William R. Woodlatt, Conservative.

There was no opposition and the nominations were closed immediately after Mr. Tolmie's name had been proposed. The attendance was large, many women voters being present. Campaigning committee, was in the chair. Introducing Major Tolmie as "our member," Gordon McGregor stated the Liberals had no adverse comment to make regarding the opposing candidate.

It would be a fight, he said, not between "Bill" Woodlatt and Major Tolmie as individuals, but between the Liberals and the Government of Sir William Hearst.

West Kent, and Major Tolmie, both delivered rattling good addresses, in the course of which the Hearst Government came in for good and sharp criticism, particularly with relation to its stand on the liquor question.

E. ELGIN LIBERAL NOMINEE RETIRES TO GIVE U. F. O. ALL VOTE

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 3.—Wilson H. Mills of Sparta will withdraw from the Liberal East Elgin candidacy in favor of Mr. Elgin, a member of the U. F. O. of Ontario, who represents the U. F. O. in the House of Commons. Mr. Mills, who is a member of the U. F. O. in the House of Commons, is a member of the U. F. O. in the House of Commons.

He states that should the U. F. O. candidate withdraw for any reason, he will, even if it is as late as nomination day, re-enter the fray and fight the Hearst Government. He was nominated last March. He said today:

"For years it has been obvious to all thinking persons that the farmers and laborers alike are being made the prey of the financial centres of Canada—Toronto and Montreal. This condition has gradually become more clearly realized until now practically everyone is seized of the actual conditions. And this undoubtedly is the cause of the unrest that in turn is the real cause of the recent formation of the U. F. O."

"When the opportunity came to me to become a Liberal candidate last spring I had just joined the organization of the U. F. O. and it was with the hope of being able to relieve my fellow farmers in the rural districts and my fellow workers in the urban communities that I decided to let my name go at the Liberal convention."

"At the time I was thought of as a Liberal candidate, I was in the field. Now since the policies of the Reform party and the U. F. O. are essentially the same it is clear that both are in opposition to the Hearst Government, and it is just as clear that for the U. F. O. and Liberals to keep both candidates in the field in one constituency is to divide the opposition forces and thus assure the Government of election. If this occurs in a sufficiently large number of ridings it means the return to power of the present Government and a continuance of the financial protection of the big interest, the monopolists, the combines, profiteers and the corruptionists for their cornered contests are Hearst's only hope. I believe in the principles of the U. F. O.; otherwise I would not continue my membership. But I believe they are ill-advised in indiscriminately placing candidates in the field as has been done in many ridings. At times it looks as though the U. F. O. central officers are deliberately betraying their followers by thus establishing a condition of affairs that must if persisted in, save the Hearst Government. If these officers are not being paid for their services often the big interests are getting something for nothing. For me to remain in the field under the circumstances would be to assist in saving the Hearst Government."

GERMAN MONUMENT IN AUSTRALIA DESTROYED BY UNKNOWN PERSONS

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 14.—A monument which had been erected to the memory of German internees who died at Trial Bay, near here, has been blown up by persons unknown. The monument had been the cause of frequent protests by local organizations, including one composed of returned soldiers, and threats had been made that it would be destroyed. It was twenty feet high and composed of solid granite, and was erected at the expense of German internees.

Says Gary Is Sowing Seeds of Anarchy

President of Steel Workers Testifies Before Senate Committee.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 3.—In refusing to arbitrate the steel strike last week, Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, "is sowing the seeds of anarchy," the Senate committee investigating the strike was told today by Michael P. Tighe, president of the Union of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.

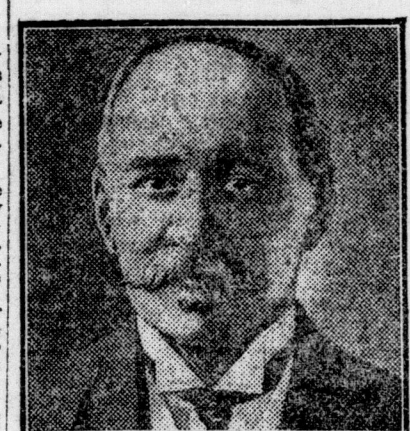

He reiterated that the "closed shop" was not an issue and said the union leaders could not comply with President Wilson's request to postpone the strike until after the industrial conference next week, because the U. S. W. organizers were active among the men and would have succeeded in calling some "sporadic strikes."

Workingmen's tickets will be five for 25 cents under the same conditions as at present, and school children's tickets at 10 for $1. T. A. Hunt, city solicitor, made application for the order to be withheld for fifteen days. It was refused, and the order comes into effect tomorrow.

"Save the surface and you save all" Paint & Varnish

Farm vehicles invite quick deterioration. They are out in every kind of weather. They get all kinds of rough usage. Every jolt tends to spread the joints.

The exterior of some kinds of property suffers all the same. But an open wagon is exposed inside and out. With a double surface exposed, there is double danger of decay. For decay begins at the surface.

Surface protection is a matter of a surface coating. The War demonstrated the supreme importance of proper surface protection. All Allied transportation equipment—from locomotive to ammunition truck—was painted repeatedly for surface protection.

The surface is the great danger point with wagons and everything else, whether the material be wood, iron, steel, concrete, cement or stucco.

Remember the need of surface protection. Remember that neither rust, corrosion, decay, nor wear and tear can get a foothold if kept from the surface.

Save the surface and you save all.

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT is issued by the Canadian Save the Surface Campaign Committee, for the purpose of educating the public in the Preservative and Protective value of Paint, Varnish and Allied Products for the Conservation of Property, and has received the approval of the Canadian Trade Commission in the following words:

"The realization of the above objects will lead to employment during the Reconstruction Period and bears on the entire approval."

Shingle roofs are too often neglected. Soak them with waterproofing unprotected shingles; heating air warms and cracks them. They form cups to catch and hold flying sparks. They develop surface rot which is highly inflammable. No surface is more exposed. Shingles need a protective coating. Well painted shingles last indefinitely and constitute one of the best types of roofing material.

SOLDIERS' VOTE PROBE BLOCKED.

For the second time the Union Government has refused to permit an investigation of the soldiers' vote. Early Friday morning, following a prolonged and bitter debate, the Union Government succeeded in blocking an inquiry, the Opposition leader's motion demanding a probe being defeated, 79 to 56, on a straight party vote.

This means that an investigation is impossible for this session, but the Opposition will not let the matter drop, and in this they will have the support of the public as a whole.

The public now realizes that there is something about the whole business that is wrong, to put it mildly, and sooner or later will insist upon the fullest investigation. Mr. Meighen's statement that the code telegram produced in the House by Mr. McKenzie, in which Mr. Meighen asks Sir Robert Borden for one thousand soldiers' votes at large for certain Manitoba constituencies, is a forgery, will not satisfy the public.

The telegram was sent by somebody and delivered, that is clear. Does the Government imagine the public is so credulous as to believe it knows nothing of the matter? If an attempt at a gigantic conspiracy was made, as seems clear, isn't that sufficient grounds for an immediate and searching investigation?

The whole stand of the Government in this matter from the beginning has been such as to invite suspicion. The strongest evidence has been submitted to show that there was a plot to steal the last election by manipulation of the overseas soldiers' vote, but the Government has shown the most determined opposition to an inquiry. Not even Mr. Jacques Bureau's presentation of numbers, names and residences of men whose votes had been allocated to districts where they had not the right to vote could move the ministry from its determination to prevent an investigation. The charge that large numbers of soldiers were induced by threats to vote in constituencies to the advantage of Government candidates, although backed up by sworn statements, was brushed aside with the unsupported counter-charge that those signing the affidavits lied, and that, therefore, the issue was not worthy of consideration. The Government's pretence that the matter is too trivial to call for a commission amounts to a confession of guilt.

RESTORE RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT.

The proposition of Sir Adam Beck to build hydro radial railways is one that carries with it very great dangers. The proposition is to assess the various municipalities through which the road is to run, certain proportions of the cost of building the road. The municipalities are to issue debenture each for its share, and these are to be guaranteed by the Province.

If the Province is to guarantee the debentures, why not assume the cost of building the road? The proposition involves legislation by the Legislature, that would be beyond the power of the Legislature to grant. Municipal law is exclusively placed by the British North America act within the jurisdiction of the Ontario Legislature. Municipal corporations are formed for municipal purposes. They are constituted to manage the business of the municipality. It is entirely outside of their duties and powers to either build or run a railway stretching across the province. Any debentures issued by a municipality under any act passed with the design of building a railway across the Province, most of which would be built outside of the municipality, would be illegal. The Province itself might build the railway, but it cannot drag the municipalities in in the way proposed.

The proposition of Sir Adam Beck is as follows:

"My first duty as I see it, and I need not add my devotion, is to the municipalities of the Province of Ontario that have pledged their credit and have incurred enormously large liabilities in the obligations they have assumed on account of the hydro-electric power scheme and ultimately will assume on account of the hydro-electric radial railway undertaking. Their interests are to me paramount, and I have always felt, and in this I believe the municipalities concur, that in order that these interests may be conserved, it is essential that I should be a member of the Legislature during such time as I remain a member of the hydro-electric power commission.

"If, therefore, the electors of the city of London see fit to return me to the Legislature as their member I shall deem it my duty to discharge the responsibilities that may be placed upon me, and use my position to safeguard the public interest to the end that the projects to which the municipalities are, or may become, committed may receive the support necessary for their full and ultimate development.

"I have placed my views fully before the executive of the Conservative Association of London. I am of course quite unable to say what action they may take. I can say sincerely, however, that I was deeply touched by the evidences of the friendship and good feeling extended to me following my statement."

It means that he desires to separate the management of the hydro from the interference of the Legislature. This is wrong. Hydro should be a department of government similar to the department of public works. The only safety the people can have is through the Legislature.

WOMEN IN THE CHURCH.

As was inevitable the question of the status of woman in the church has become a very live one, especially since political recognition has been accorded her. Partly, also, economic conditions, the difficulty of manning the various services, must be held accountable for the renewed agitation respecting equal rights to the sexes in the ecclesiastical sphere.

Recently the Archbishop of Canterbury appointed a committee to examine the history of women's ministry in the church. This committee's report has just been issued. It is recognized that in early times, from the fourth to the eleventh century, the deaconess had important functions, acting as servant to the bishop, assisting at the baptism of women, visiting the sick, and keeping the door at church. In the earliest time deaconesses seem to have conducted services, very like the order of deacons. However, women were never, in older Christianity, actually admitted to the priesthood.

But some of them at Corinth appear to have considered that there was no reason why they should not, like men, come forward to preach. "In point of fact," observes the London Daily Telegraph, commenting on the committee's report, "the very spirit of Christianity seemed to involve a recognition of the equality of the sexes. Christ's teaching assuredly gave no support to the Jewish opinion of the lower status of women. . . . And, indeed, there is no reason in the nature of things why women should not preach quite as effectively as their masculine colleagues." Perhaps those Corinthian dames had a better idea of Christian equality than had Jewish Saint Paul. It was remarked by Carlyle that Christianity kept during ages a wardrobe of "Hebrew old clothes." Only the other day some Christian leader spoke of the need of reviving "the ten commandments," as though two later commandments had not, for Christians, superseded the tables of Moses.

The Telegraph states that "proposals are being submitted to the Lower House of Convocation at Canterbury, that women should receive all rights and privileges granted to laymen." The Telegraph approves, and says: "That women should be excluded from the chance of a church, or from reading the Lessons from the lectern is, on the face of it, absurd." In some of the Christian bodies women have for some time been allowed to preach; in this matter the Telegraph considers that "probably we are on the eve of considerable changes."

Women have been breaking their sex's inviolable bar in all directions, "making their merit known" even by force. The taboos on their higher education, medical and legal activities, teaching in colleges, riding horseback astride, dressing "just like brother," smoking cigarettes, and exercising the franchise, have all been smashed. What next?

A CONTRAST.

The soldier lent his life to the nation. The citizen is asked to lend merely his money.

The soldier faced unspeakable hardships, getting only board and clothes in return. The citizen is asked to transfer his money from a 3 per cent basis to a 5 1/2 per cent basis. There is no financial hardship incurred.

The soldier missed all the business opportunities which were going in a period of five years. The citizen had a chance to double and perhaps triple his working capital in the same period.

The soldier may have been wounded or permanently disabled as a result of his patriotic effort. The citizen's comfort is increased by the thrift which makes it possible for him to acquire Victory Bonds.

It seems clear that the patriotic duty of the citizen is infinitely less onerous and exacting than the patriotic duty of the soldier. There is a balance which ought to be made up before the non-fighter can hope for an equality of citizenship. It never can be fully made up, but the least the citizen can do is to remember his personal responsibility towards the men who were in khaki.

There should be constant and enthusiastic support for the national programme to benefit the returned soldiers. The provision of education facilities and the statutory gratuities, the arrangements for "grub-staking" those boys who desire to go upon the land—all these plans should be heartily approved by the word and act of the folk who slept between clean sheets while their sons and brothers rested night after night in mudholes and pigpens.

There is every reason for confidence that the Canadian people will not be wanting in their response to the Victory Loan appeal of 1919. The spirit of pride in the soldiers, and of the gratitude for their incomparable services has not died down. The national pride burns high and clear. There is an abundance of money in the country, and the experience of those who invested a year ago inclines them to subscribe again.

CANADIAN LIFE INSURANCE.

Life insurance in Canada at the end of 1918 totaled $1,765,376,891, an increase of $180,384,128. The number of policies was 2,782,864, a gain of 820,834, divided among Canadian British and American companies. Premium income for the year was $81,640,719, against $54,843,609 in 1917. Endowment, death and disability payments totaled $26,246,880, compared with $21,442,962 in 1917.

FAIRY FIRES.

[Karl Wilson Baker, in the October Yale Review.]

They burn on the window pane
When the day is soft and late,
But you think they are out in the cold
Between the bush and the gate.

Clean through the blaze you look
At the dear, black, naked trees;
No beautiful bough is burned
By hungerless fire like these.

But no heart is ever warmed,
And no spirit weeds desire,
And no house is ever home
That wants for the Fairy Fire.

THOSE PRICES.

ECONOMY.

[Life.]

"Well, Albert, I've been acting on your advice. I put a hundred dollars in the bank this month."
"Fine! It isn't so hard, is it?"
"No; I simply tore up all the bills."

BETTER THAN NOTHING.

[London Tit-Bits.]

The moonlight shone on the lonely house on the hill, where all was peacefully hushed in sleep. A dark form sat in the shadow of the hedge. Suddenly he moved as a soft whistle heralded someone's approach.

"That you, mate?" he whispered hoarsely, as a stealthy figure approached in the darkness.

"Yus," came the answer.

"What yer doin' with that dorg?" he muttered, as his burglar pal approached.

"Well," answered his confederate, "there's nothing worth taking in the 'ous, and it's had luck to come away empty-handed, so I brought along the watch dog and these burglar alarms."

TREASURES PROTECTED.

[Westminster Gazette.]

How the treasures of the British Museum were protected during the epidemic of air raids is related in the report dealing with the museum for the year ending 1918, issued as a White Paper.

When it became known that raids were likely to take place in greater force and with heavier bombs, the most important among the portable objects in the departments of antiquities (including the Frieze of the Parthenon, the best of the Greek vases and bronzes, the chief Assyrian bas-reliefs, the Rosetta Stone, and the finest objects of medieval art), together with practically the whole collection of coins and medals, were transferred to a station on the newly-completed postal tube railway, some fifty feet below the surface of the ground.

Fifteen vaults of the most precious literary and artistic treasures were transferred to the National Library of Wales at Aberystwyth, and a small selection of exceptionally valuable printed books was housed by Mr. C. W. Dyson Perrins in the strong room of his house near Malvern.

Other articles were placed in the strong rooms in the basement of the museum, and the sculptures which were too heavy for removal to the Tube were protected by sandbags. Much of the glass and china which could not be removed was protected against the risk of concussion by being stored in packing cases.

As soon as the armistice was signed the restoration of the museum was at once taken in hand, and the return of the collections from Aberystwyth, Malvern and the Tube station began in December.

GERMAN IRON PLANTS IN FRENCH HANDS.

The ruined cities on the French side of the border will be rebuilt with the aid of the German mines, furnaces and mills of Thionville basin, undamaged by war. These great plants, now in the hands of the French, are being operated as fast as possible that they may contribute their utmost to the great work of putting France back where she was in August, 1914. We are told by Ernest Mireux, in the Iron Trade Review (Cleveland, August 21), that thirty blast furnaces have already been lighted. Bismarck, says Mr. Mireux, never pardoned himself for having, in the Treaty of Frankfurt, accepted the tracing of the Lorraine frontier so that any part of the Briey basin became the heritage of France. The frontier of 1871 divided a great mineral deposit into nearly equal parts. Possession of the deposits left to France permitted her to put in the hands of her chief iron and steel industries, notably those of the Moselle-Meuse. This department, of which Nancy is the capital, produced in 1913 nearly 3,000,000 tons of pig iron, 2,500,000 tons of steel, while the Germans in the Thionville basin, on the other side of the border, produced 3,900,000 tons of pig iron, but did not make more than 1,600,000 tons of steel. Possession of the Thionville basin by the Germans opened the way for the continual harassing of the French army, and the prolonging of the war by the provisioning of German ammunition and armament plants with basic raw materials. The inter-related basins of Briey and Thionville were the chief economic elements which made it possible for Germany to sustain the war so long. We read:

"The mines and plants of the French section were from the first all under direct fire of the firmly entrenched German forces. Many of these were destroyed. Out of seventy-four blast furnaces in the region a third scarcely can be put in operation again before the end of the present year, and even this depends upon the acquisition of much construction and factory material of a special nature. The remainder will remain cold only if skilled workmen cannot be had. Sixty per cent or more of the local blast furnaces are out of commission, and recuperation at best will be a slow process. The plants which were in possession of the Germans during the occupation of the region for four years were either destroyed or dismantled, and the equipment transported across the Rhine. In the Nancy district plants suffered bombardment by cannon and the air. The mines which had been in possession of the Germans, and which had been worked by them, were to a certain extent left in fair condition, this for the reason that the Germans had no need of them for their own use. In the interval they were to be extracted 14,000,000 tons of ore, a volume about equal to the annual exports from this region during the war.

"Since the armistice German mines and furnaces in the occupied regions have been conducted under the sequestration regime. The . . . ministry of industrial reconstruction in France is the ruling power in the present operation of the former German plants. Since November 30 blast furnaces have been relighted, but shortage of coke is preventing further activity."

The writer enumerates the former German plants that have now been reopened under French auspices, giving their names, sizes and output. The banner plant of the region, that of the De Wendel firm, was but a few kilometers from the war frontier. Two neighboring plants were offered for sale under the guarantees of the German Government during the war, and two companies, capitalized at about $50,000,000, had been formed to buy and operate them. Other plants are the Rombach, with seven blast furnaces of 1,500 tons daily capacity, and other mills, furnaces and ovens. Since the armistice former German directors and foremen have been discharged. Then there are the Hagondange plant of Thyssen, with its annual production of 400,000 tons of pig iron, 400,000 tons of steel ingots and 120,000 tons of cement, and many others that lack of space forbids us to mention. The writer concludes:

"A late German report announces that the Lorraine Hutten and Bergwerksverband of Nijmegen is in process of selling its ore deposits which is possessed in Lorraine and in the basin of Briey, also its plants of Knechtlingen and Feitagh. The same report states specifically that on the day that the armistice was signed, the German government had decided to actually in operation, but that owing to the scarcity of coke these were subsequently reduced to twenty-six, and later to twelve."

"With the peace treaty now ratified by Germany, and with the many rough corners of readjustment smoothed off, the French administration is daily bringing these German-owned plants into operation to meet the pressing need of France. The lining up and the protecting of the various interests, private and public, German and French, is a work of imposing magnitude, but is being undertaken with a view hardly more noticeable elsewhere than in the basin of Thionville, which, with Briey, may be said to control the iron and steel industry of France."

Your Life is in Hands of Others Every Day

AS never before the need of modern traffic is for a clear head and steady hands. The man at the throttle, the steering wheel or the switch board must know what he is doing, must be ready on the instant for emergency, and must make no mistakes. Beer be-fuddles and unnerves.

IN this new world of machinery and power the "boozier" has no place. In the railway business the confirmed "boozier" can't be trusted with the lives of his fellows. The Railway Brotherhoods don't want him. Beer makes him unsteady.

On the streets and highroads the "joy rider with booze on board" is a menace to traffic, to his own life and to the lives of others. Beer makes motoring dangerous.

Flying-men learned the disastrous results of alcohol taken preparatory to encountering the enemy in mid-air. Alcohol was proved by casualties to shake the nerves and destroy control. Beer impairs judgment.

In business and industrial organizations, the drinking man is the "last man hired and first man fired." Beer makes men slow, stupid, and unreliable.

Beer and all other intoxicating beverages have no place in a world run by machinery. The safety of too many others is involved when an unsteady hand and a drink-befuddled brain is left in control of the steering wheel or the engine throttle.

Remember that the Beer of the ballot is intoxicating beer. Mark Your Ballot with an X after each question under the word "No." If you don't mark an X after each question your ballot is spoiled.

It is then he goes back home to face the most remarkable situation imaginable, that of answering to a woman who thinks he has proposed to her, while in truth he had been trying to propose to her niece. Your opportunity of gleaning a little "inside facts" on the marriage question has arrived. The big photoplay, "Choosing a Wife," is crammed full of extraordinary interest to all human beings, but especially to young men who are contemplating matrimony, and young maidens hesitating about the same. "Incompatibility of temper" is the

"COMRADESHIP" A BIG BRITISH PRODUCTION, NOT A WAR FILM

"Comradeship," the English production with a selected cast of the best-known British cinema players, which comes to the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday is based on expressions of King George and of Admiral David Beatty, or rather those have been used for the text of the story by Louis N. Parker.

In a recent speech, King George said: "I hope that the splendid spirit of comradeship on the battlefield will be kept alive in peace." Admiral Beatty said in another speech, this one to the people of Leicester: "We have been through four and a half years of great struggle. We have learned something—the true value of comradeship. Comradeship has enabled us to win the war."

Not a War Picture. "Comradeship" is not a war picture, but its background is the war and the story is that of a spirit born of the great struggle. It shows how the masses and the masses have been brought together as the result of that period of mutual self-sacrifice and how the Empire has been made all the stronger for the bitter struggle against the Hun horde. "While the word 'Bolshevik' is

Mack Sennett's Beautiful Bathing Girls Appearing in Person at Majestic

"Jack Canuck in Berlin" Will Be Presented at Popular Theatre
October 13—A Five-Reel Super Comedy.

We'll give you the story of the comedy first, just so you'll be sure to read it. "Jack Canuck in Berlin" is a five-reel comedy sensation created by that genius of laughs Mack Sennett. Appearing in the picture is his entire staff of famous comedians, Ben Turpin, Charles Murray, Ford Sterling, "Bohwell" Brown, Marie Prevost, Mal St. Clair, Bert Roach, Eva Thatcher, and all those beauties whom you have admired so often on the screen.

The story is of a daring Canadian aviator, who landing in Germany dressed in women's clothes, invades the imperial palace to secure the information on how to stop the war. There was a pretty little Belgian girl, being treated by a brute of a German, after killing the German, Jack Canuck takes the little Belgian into his care.

Falls For Vampire. Jack still in his disguise of a beautiful woman, invades the "sacred precincts," and von Hindenberg, the Kaiser, the crown prince, and all the imperial staff fall desperately in love with this beautiful vampire. So badly do they behave that the empress attempts to smother them, and send them back to the front, but things begin to move at such a fast and furious pace, that it's all the Kaiser and his imperial retinue can do to scramble into Germany before the victorious Canadians enter at the gate to Berlin.

Wonderful Gowns Worn by Beauties in Sennett Comedy

Some of the most wonderful gowns ever seen on the screen will appear in Mack Sennett's five-part super-comedy, "Jack Canuck in Berlin," opening at the Majestic Theatre Monday, October 13. The gowns are worn by "Bohwell" Brown, the famous female impersonator, who takes the part of a young Canadian aviator who ramped the Kaiser in order to learn an important military secret.

The picture was taken in the most beautiful part of California, and some of the scenic pictures almost make the spectator gasp in admiration. Although you don't have much time, so much is going on in the course of the story—that no one has much time to look at scenery. Still, the scenery is there.

DE WOLF GIRLS VAUDEVILLE HEADLINER AT GRAND MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY NEXT Four Other Big Keith Acts On the Bill—Change of Vaudeville On Thursday With Five New All-Star Acts.

Five acts of B. F. Keith's exclusive vaudeville and the most expensive photoplay that has ever played London at popular prices comprise the program that will be offered at the Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. This all-feature vaudeville bill, abounding with variety and the greatest talent the vaudeville stage affords, will be headed by the DE WOLF GIRLS, Gergette and Capitola, who will present their ravishing fashion display entitled "Clothes, Clothes, Clothes." It is one of the best novelty acts of the season and is sure of an excellent reception here. In addition to the wonderful gowns exhibited by these two charming young ladies they offer several delightful singing and dancing numbers.

As an added attraction THE HIRSCHOFF GYPSIES, six specialty artists, young, graceful and pretty, will offer an exceptionally picturesque program, consisting of singing, dancing and music. With the aid of elaborate stage settings and special lighting effects they contribute a series of interpretative dances which have won praise everywhere they have been shown. Their singing and musical efforts are equally as satisfying. THE MYSTIC HANSON TRIO, a male member and two winsome misses, will present a novel departure from the beaten path of mystery acts. They have a bagful of brand new tricks and spectacular illusions, interspersed with comedy talk, exclusive songs and dancing. It forms a bright and pleasant, as well as an unusual, entertainment.

Being "Caught by Surprise" may be pleasant or otherwise. With DUVAL AND LEE it is decidedly pleasant, or ever expresses it better. "Caught by Surprise" is the title of a surprising routine of comedy gymnastics which these two men have worked out into such an effective way, until they have united the two, comedy and acrobatics, so cleverly that the whole doesn't show. A good story makes a whole world akin. Of course, the best of that is where GEORGE A. MACK comes in. He is a raconteur, abundantly supplied with tales to tell, and these are told in a telling way. Although the feature film, "One of the Blood," will remain at the Grand all week, the management have arranged for a complete change of the vaudeville program on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. For the latter half of the week another big-time Keith bill will be offered, a bill that will be up to the usual Grand standard.

THE SAN CARLO GRAND OPERA COMPANY COMES TO THE GRAND THEATRE

The city's cultural element is awaiting eagerly the coming to London, for the first time, of the San Carlo Grand Opera Company, now appearing with superb success in Quebec and Montreal, and which will visit here directly following its Ottawa engagement. A better idea of the magnitude and importance of this big organization may be had when it is known that its forces travel by special train of six cars, and that three of these are required to transport the immense volume of scenic and costume effects for the production of some fifteen different works. One hundred people comprise the organization, the roster of leading singers numbering more than twenty. Noteworthy features of the San Carlo are the complete symphony orchestra and the large and highly brilliant chorus, the nucleus of which was brought to this country direct from the celebrated Italian chorus schools. London is to hear these forces in three events, the first of which, on Friday evening, Oct. 24, will constitute the ever-welcome double bill, two operas: Cavalleria Rusticana and Pagliacci. The selection is a happy one for the inaugural performance, as the twin operas will bring forward, on the same stage, two separate and distinct casts of principals. The Saturday matinee will be Flotow's beautiful opera, "Martha," with its scene of the Richmond Fair (England), and its magnificent orchestral overture, acknowledged one of the most beautiful instrumental preludes in all operatic lore. A different cast will be brought out on this occasion, and the final performance of the triangular series arranged for London music-lovers, will be Verdi's massive and spectacular "Aida," with Salazar, the sensational Spanish tenor, in his great role of "Radames." This great role will also differ from any of the others. Further particulars of this interesting event will soon be given out.

DOUG. FAIRBANKS APPEARS IN "ONE OF THE BLOOD" AT THE GRAND THEATRE ENTIRE WEEK

First "Big Four" Release Stars Local Screen Favorite—Feature First Run Production Secured for London All Next Week.

It is doubtful if any motion picture has ever awaited with as much interest and anticipation in London as Douglas Fairbanks' new picture, "One of the Blood," which will be the attraction at the Grand all next week.

Something more than mere interest in a motion picture lies back of this anticipation, for "One of the Blood" is Douglas Fairbanks' first independent production, and marks the first release of United Artists' Corporation, the so-called "Big Four."

In January of 1919, the entire amusement world was startled by the formation of the United Artists' Association. This association was formed by Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith. These artists, conceived throughout the world to be the screen's foremost producers, after having released their pictures for a number of years through various distributing companies, decided that to assure their best work and in order to have full independence for the highest expression of their art, they would, upon the completion of their then existing contracts, release their own pictures direct to the theatres of the country.

This move for independence by the foremost artists of the screen is the most important and beneficial step that has been taken in the motion picture business since it assumed its leadership in the amusement field.

It means for the motion picture patrons that Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith will hereafter be enabled to produce pictures in their own way. They will make fewer pictures than they have made before, and this in itself will be an advantage. Hereafter they have been obliged to turn out a certain number of productions within a certain period, and consequently have not always had the time to perfect their work.

Thus, under the leadership of the screen's foremost artists is the perfection of motion picture entertainment in sight.

The first picture made under these ideal conditions is "One of the Blood." The management of the Grand feels great pride in having secured this production for its city. The Grand has always endeavored to choose its attractions with discrimination and regard for the expense. In the case of "One of the Blood," knowing what a Douglas Fairbanks film will be when the limit of "Dougl" can put his best into the theatre management feels, and begins Monday, what should prove to be the very height of screen entertainment.

SOUVENIR STOVES

Have Been Made in Canada For Over 70 Years

WM. WYATT & SONS
General Hardware, Stoves, etc.
London, Ont. Oct. 13, 1896

Dear Sir—We hereby guarantee the No. 9-20 Champion Souvenir Range, sold to Mr. John M. Parsons, 379 Wellington street, City, to be first-class in material and properly put together, having no defects in workmanship, economic in fuel, will bake or roast, in a thorough manner, any article to be cooked in the oven. That the firepot will run five years, with renewal in case of failure, to be made at our expense, at such time of failure, and that after five years' use, when required we will replace or renew in a proper manner anywhere in the city, at a cost not to exceed $1.50, and hereby give him three months' trial or less, to satisfy himself by tests, using wood and then coal, in order to make a thorough test in all lines of cooking, when if satisfactory, he agrees to accept the same and pay us the price agreed upon.

WM. WYATT & SONS.

The above is an exact copy of a guarantee given by a merchant to his customer, Mr. John M. Parsons of London, Ontario, OVER 22 YEARS AGO. Now read what Mr. Parsons has to say about it:

London, Canada, August 21, 1919.

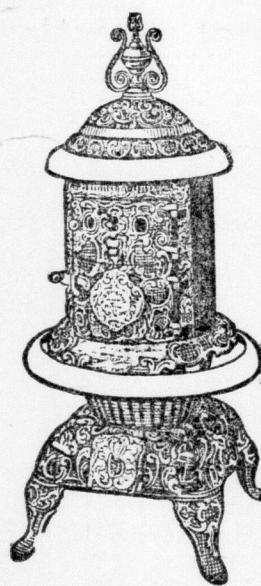

The Hamilton Stove & Heater Co., Hamilton, Canada.
Gentlemen—This bit of Stove history may be of interest to you as successors to the firm that built our kitchen range. Some 35 years ago I brought into Canada a bright, active young English wife. Neither of us knew anything about a Canadian kitchen range; we paid a big price to a big firm for one of their latest models; and for twelve years we had kitchen misery. Then for about 18 months I began a systematic inquiry among the dealers, and then went to the homes of their customers and heard their private opinions after various terms of service. The race narrowed down to two, with not a single user who was not well satisfied with either. With our minds prejudiced in favor of the rival of the Souvenir I decided to buy on a test plan and absolute guarantee; and with the plan approached all the dealers, and not one of the several competitors would entertain the test except the firm handling the Souvenir (a copy of contract inclosed). We tried wood, coke, soft coal and hard coal; it made no difference, the Souvenir handled them all. Instead of taking up 30 days' trial, we were fully satisfied in a month and paid in full $36.00. On October 13th next, this range will have been 23 years in continuous service, and I would not take the original price for it today if offered. We have renewed nothing beyond the fire back bricks and the iron rest supporting same. It also fitted to burn natural gas; this we did not try because London has none. In addition to our kitchen work, we heat a 36-gallon soft water bathroom tank upstairs, some 25 feet above the ground, and get heat enough to protect the bathroom from frost during the winter months. Our test plan of buying may have silenced rivals; but it gave us all we could desire, THE QUEEN OF KITCHEN RANGES, and almost a quarter of a century of kitchen range pleasure, and still going good. This range can be seen at my residence any time as a proof of these statements. Very sincerely and unsolicited, (Signed) J. M. PARSONS.

Six Delicious and Wholesome Hot Cakes.

A frequent objection to hot cakes is the fact that the flour or cornstarch used cannot be properly cooked in the brief time it takes to fry the cake. This makes the hot cake by no means a desirable diet for the smaller children. However, there are a number of recipes which have as a basis grains or starches that are already sufficiently cooked, and these can be served for breakfast very often without dire results.

Farina Hot Cakes.
1 cupful of cooked farina
1 cupful of milk
1 cupful of flour
1 egg
2 teaspoonfuls of baking powder
1/2 cupful of salt
Beat the egg and the farina together until smooth, then stir in the milk, sifted flour and salt and baking powder, and beat well. Cook on a hot, greased frying pan.

Meal Cakes.
1 egg
1 tablespoonful milk
1/2 cupful of cornmeal or oatmeal
The oatmeal or cornmeal should be mixed into a loaf when cooked, and are allowed to cool. When desired for both sides.

Bread Hot Cakes.
6 slices of salt bread
1 egg
1 cupful of milk
1/2 teaspoonful of salt
The bread should be about half an inch thick. Beat the eggs and milk together and add the salt. Soak the bread in this mixture for about 15 minutes. Then brown on a hot buttered griddle or frying pan. Serve with maple syrup or stewed fruit.

Hominy Cakes.
1 cupful of boiled hominy
1/2 cupful of lukewarm milk
1/2 cupful of cornmeal
1 tablespoonful of butter
1/2 teaspoonful of salt
2 eggs
Add the warm milk gradually to the hominy and beat until smooth, then stir in the butter, salt, eggs well beaten and the cornmeal. Pour in well greased pans, quite thin, and bake for about 25 minutes.

Rice Cakes.
1 cupful of cold boiled rice
1/2 cupful of milk
1/2 cupful of flour
1 teaspoonful of baking powder
1 tablespoonful of melted butter
1 teaspoonful of sugar
1/2 teaspoonful of salt
1 beaten egg
Slowly cook the rice in about one-quarter cupful of milk until well softened, then add remainder of milk. Sift other ingredients and beat well. Pour on hot griddle and bake until browned on said they must play indoors.

"Pshaw!" exclaimed Dicky sulkily. "There's nothing to do inside. I'm tired of our toys, aren't you?"
"Well, yes," replied his sister, laying aside her dolls. "I'm sorry it's raining, but let's ask mamma if we can blow bubbles."
"That's just like a silly girl!" exclaimed Dicky. "When they can't think of anything else to do they blow bubbles!"
"Suit yourself," laughed Marjorie. "I'm going to blow them anyway," and off she ran after the pipe and a big bowl of suds.
Every bubble that sailed from the pipe was a perfect beauty. They floated around the room filled with wonderful color. Some bounced on the carpet, some rolled over the backs of the chairs, and finally one broke on Dicky's head and splashed in his eyes.
"Now see what you've done and—"
"But Dicky got no further, for down in front of him tumbled the dearest little fairy he had ever seen.
"Well," laughed Tiny Fairy. "It's a good thing your head wasn't made of stone or I surely would have bumped myself."
"Oh, Dicky!" cried Marjorie. "It's a really-true Bubble Fairy."
"Right you are," laughed Dicky. "Haven't you ever seen us before? Why, we never miss a sail on a soap bubble if we can help it! Sometimes we stirle something, just like I did Dicky's head, and our bubble balloons burst, then, of course, we can't sail on that bubble any more."
"And you say there's a Bubble Fairy on every bubble?" cried Dicky.
"When the Bubble Fairy nodded her head Dicky ran and brought out his pipe, crying:

"Then we'll have a lot of bubble balloons so you can all take a sail."
As fast as the children could throw the bubbles from their pipes the Bubble Fairies hopped upon them until the whole room was filled with bubble balloons, and on each sat a tiny Bubble Fairy. When the suds was all gone, Dicky wanted to run for more. But the Bubble Fairies told him there were plenty of balloons, and invited the two children to climb up beside them and they'd all go for a sail.
Dicky scrambled to the top of a bubble balloon and pulled Marjorie up after him, and—away they sailed through the room, first up to the ceiling, then down to the mantel. From here they bounced to the back of a chair, rolled down to the carpet, then up to the ceiling again.
One by one the bubble balloons followed after the children, the Bubble Fairies laughing and squealing merrily, just like Dicky and Marjorie did when Dicky took them on a roller coaster.
It was loads of fun, and Dicky and Marjorie laughed harder than any of the Bubble Fairies until—bump, the bubble balloon that carried them hit grandma's gray hair and burst, and Dicky and Marjorie tumbled to the floor laughing merrily, for grandma had been sound asleep, and when the bubble balloon broke and splashed her face she jumped and her knitting ball and needles flew out of her lap.
"I'll forgive you," she laughed, when she saw how happy the children were. "But I guess you can run out and play now, for the sun has dried the grass." Kissing them both she closed the door, and they ran out of doors.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

BY JEANNETTE YOUNG NORTON.

"Everything About the House Helps To Make the Home."

How to Bring Brightness Into a North Room.

How to make the north room cheerful and bright is a problem which confronts nearly every householder. To furnish and paper the room easily seems to be the general idea followed as a solution, using as much red as possible in the decorations, and surprise is often expressed when the result is disappointing.
The secret of success is discovered in only one way, that is by bringing the glow of sunlight into the shady room. To do this we must make yellow the dominant tone. Paint the woodwork white, giving it a good enameled finish, or, if preferred, paint it a warm yellow. Cover the walls with one of the yellow wall papers, a plain stipple, a plain yellow chambray paper or a yellow figured or striped paper. A striped paper, by all means, if the ceiling is low. These papers run in price from 35 to 75 cents a roll; the satin finished papers are particularly charming.
Paint the floor one or two shades darker than the yellow woodwork, then varnish it with a waterproof varnish. Select the rugs with warm tan patterns and blue borders. Use plain yellow draperies over unfigured net curtains. One more sunny deception will be gained by tacking directly on the window frames under the sash curtains a single thickness of gold gauze. This gauze catches and reflects every ray of light, and is inexpensive enough to be renewed two or three times a year.

Rattan furniture fits into the decorative picture perfectly, either plain in natural color or with painted frame-work. But if new furniture is a luxury, covers of yellow and blue chintz, cretonne or some of the mercerized cotton fabrics will conceal many a jarring note. On the freshly slipped couch use pillows of blue and yellow, and a delicate shade of pink, a soft green and a delicate lilac. A yellow-shaded lamp on a table, and yellow-shaded side lights are pretty and sunny in effect. Or, if the room boasts inverted ceiling lights, select soft yellow globes to cover them. A new and fascinating feature for lighting is a tall carved wooden stand-ard, painted to match the woodwork. It has a bowed cross arm near the top of wrought iron or brass, from which depend two lantern lights, one at either end. These are covered with ruffled, shirred yellow silk shades trimmed with narrow navy blue fringe and finished with long navy blue tassels. Against the plain paper or a bit of uplain blue tapestry on the wall the lights are wonderfully effective.

A fireplace in the room adds ideal winter brightness and cheer, and if brass fender, screen and trimmings are used it isn't a dull and marring spot in the rest of the year. A piano hangings to be a recognized blemish to an artistic room if allowed to retain its coffin-like lighter woods, the case sometimes is scraped and painted to harmonize with its surroundings, and it is either decorated or highly enameled. In the north room a piano done in yellow with blue lines or floral decorations would be in perfect harmony.
Does the reader gasp and say "Love-ly! But how expensive?" Not at all. One of New York's most successful business women recently bought a country home and an automobile, then decided her furniture must do for another year. So she has spent her evenings for a month scraping, painting and decorating her old furniture, adding new wooden and glass handles to replace the dull brass, and with fresh paper and paint, a few tastefully selected but inexpensive rugs and slip covers where needed, her home is a dream. If she can do it so can others. Energy, paint and good taste accomplish wonders when put to the test.

CODY TOOK LEAVES FROM LIBERAL BOOK, DECLARES CHARLTON

Tells Sarnia Liberals Policy
"Copied"—No Candidate Named.

SARNIA, Oct. 3.—West Lambton Liberals, after a lengthy session in Sarnia City Hall this afternoon, failed to place a candidate in the political field of the county, leaving the battle a three-cornered one. The Labor, the Conservative and the U.P.O. candidates will fight it out in the coming election.

Much enthusiasm was shown at today's meeting, many staunch Liberals of the old regime being present. Several names were placed before the convention, but they all withdrew after a lengthy discussion.

W. G. Charlton, Liberal organizer, urged those present not to let the riding go by default, but to place a man in the field in the interests of Liberalism. After a three-hour session it was decided that it would be best not to have a man enter the 1919 political field of West Lambton County.

During the course of his address Mr. Charlton took a severe rap at Dr. Cody and his educational policy, stating that Dr. Cody had copied the Liberal policy and that the Liberal party was always well in advance of public sentiment.

Despite the action of the Liberals in not choosing a candidate for the provincial election it was announced that the party would organize and put up a battle royal when the federal election was pulled off. To this end a Liberal meeting will be held during the second week in November.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness, croup, whooping cough, and colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way you get 16 ounces—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made or five times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

MOUNTED POLICE NO LONGER NECESSARY SAYS MR. M'KENZIE

Indian Uprisings Are a Thing

N. W. ROWELL'S BILL

To Amalgamate Dominion and
R. N. W. M. Police Gets Second Reading.

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—A bill which has for its object the amalgamation of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and the Dominion Police, occupied the major portion of the sitting of the House of Commons today. The bill, sponsored by Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell, president of the privy council, passed its second reading and was taken up in committee, but did not pass through the latter stage before the House rose. Mr. Rowell explained that it merely provided for the amalgamation of the two forces under the name of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He thought that an economy would be effected by the amalgamation.

The chief objection to the bill came from D. D. McKenzie, House Liberal leader, who took the ground that the maintenance of law and order was a provincial responsibility, which should be shouldered by the provinces. While fully appreciating the excellence of the mounted police, he failed to see why such a body was necessary, in view of the fact that Indian uprisings and rebellions were a thing of the past.

Mr. Rowell agreed with Mr. McKenzie as to the responsibilities of the province, but pointed out that the mounted police were primarily for use in cases where federal interests were jeopardized. The collection of customs and internal revenues sometimes necessitated the use of policemen and they were also active in connection with Indian reserves and the postoffice department.

F. H. Keefer advocated eastern extension of the jurisdiction of the mounted police, and Mr. Mowat said that if this force was not in existence resort would have to be made more frequently to the militia in case of disturbance.

Strike Leader Sends Message To America

Secretary of British Railway
Union Issues a Statement.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Secretary Thomas of the National Union of Railwaymen called in the representatives of American newspapers this evening, and after declaring that the railwaymen had not been given fair treatment by the British press, handed the correspondents the following statement, entitled "A Message to America":

"I am pleased to have the opportunity of sending a message to the American people, many of whom fought with members of my union in the struggle when Prussian militarism was crushed. I know both from Americans here and from what I learned during my brief visit to your country, that you are watching this industrial struggle with the keenest interest, not unmixed with dismay. I suppose it is partly because some of them see that same sinister spirit which nearly wrecked the settlement of the world after the war now playing its part in disrupting the industrial life of Great Britain."

The Same Spirit.
"Speaking as the chairman of the parliamentary committee of the Trades Union Congress, representing over five million organized workers and their families—more than half the workers of Great Britain—I can tell you that the same spirit is operating now as operated in the invasion of Russia and in the refusal of her liberties to Ireland. I mention this not because this is in any way a political strike or anything but a movement to resist a reduction in wages, but because the same camouflaged that already has outraged the sense of justice of British democracy in these matters is behind this attempt to crush trade unionism and bring down wages."

Country Going Back.
"United States employers all tell me that, according to American standards, the average British worker is living under sweated conditions. Out of sweated conditions comes servility. Servility must be avoided in this nation at all costs. It is not the men who are going back; it is that country that is going back."

"The wheels of production are rolling slowly. Another week, and the lack of coal will further lessen the diminished activities. I tell you this with a heavy heart."

Parliament Likely To Be Prorogued End of Next Week

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—With the debate on alleged manipulation of soldiers' votes now out of the way there is every likelihood of prorogation of parliament at the end of next week. Effort at any rate will be made to clear up the remaining business before Thanksgiving Day, which falls this year on Oct. 13. Any measure the Government may have on prohibition, however, still remaining to be brought down, and this may lead to considerable discussion. It was stated authoritatively today that final decision had not yet been reached, although a bill is understood to be under discussion legislation the order-in-council now in force prohibiting importation, manufacture and interprovincial trade in alcoholic liquors will lapse on the proclamation of peace.

Has Whiskey in Garage but Court Says "Acquitted"

Chatham Man Claims He Doesn't Know How It
Got There.

CHATHAM, Oct. 3.—Despite the fact that on a recent night the county police discovered twelve suit cases loaded with whiskey in piano cases in the garage of James M. Turrell, musical instrument dealer, he was acquitted in the county police court today when charged with having liquor on unauthorized premises. The defendant denied all knowledge of how the liquor came there. He told the court he was a supporter of temperance and produced a check made payable to the referendum committee which he proposed to forward.

The driver of an automobile, who assisted in hauling the boxes to Chatham after it had been dumped from a train at Thamesville, gave information to the police which led to the search the same night.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S CONDITION SLIGHTLY IMPROVED FRIDAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3.—President Wilson's condition was described as "about the same, with a slight improvement" in a bulletin issued tonight from the White House by his physician, Dr. Cary T. Grayson.

Dr. Grayson, who met the newspapermen, declined to elaborate on the brief bulletin. It was understood, however, that the president was able to take some nourishment, and got some sleep during the day. There was another consultation of physicians today, and immediate members of the president's family came to the White House to be near him.

Although reticent about details of the condition of their patient, those who attended him indicated that his ailment had not yet clearly revealed the extent of its inroads upon his system, and that some days might be required to disclose its full effects.

Nervous exhaustion, of which he is suffering, complicated with his long-standing weakness of the digestive organs and a lingering touch of last spring's attack of influenza, the doctors say, have considerably weakened the president's powers of resistance.

For a man of his years, however, President Wilson's general physical condition is said to be in good condition to withstand the combined attack against which he is now fighting.

Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco

Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York.—Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: "Many men who smoke, chew or snuff incessantly, and who are seemingly healthy, are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco, and thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit-forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison, which when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, membranes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will-power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness, or even cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read aloud one full page from a book. If in the course of reading your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh, and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke, chew or snuff to quiet your nerves, you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug, nicotine. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process, irrespective of the dangers, and suffer the consequences, or give up the habit and escape the danger. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula: Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco, the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve."

Note.—When asked about Nicotol tablets one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists.

The Expenditure of $610,000,000

BEFORE buying Victory Bonds again you may want to know how Canada used the money you loaned her last year.

Canada borrowed the money to carry on the war and to provide credits for Great Britain and our Allies.

CONSIDERABLY more than one-half of the Victory Loan 1918 was spent on our soldiers. This included $312,900,000, for paying them, feeding them, bringing them home, separation allowances to their dependents, maintenance of medical services and vocational training schools.

$59,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1918 was paid on account of authorized Soldiers' gratuities.

$9,000,000 was spent at Halifax for relief and reconstruction after the disaster.

Other disbursements were not, strictly speaking, expenditures, but National Re-investments.

To Great Britain for example:

$173,500,000 was loaned for the purchase of our wheat and cereals.	$30,000,000 for other Foodstuffs
$9,000,000 for our fish.	$2,900,000 for Canadian built ships.
	$5,500,000 to pay other British obligations in Canada.

Making in all, $220,900,000 advanced to Great Britain.

To our Allies, we loaned $8,200,000 for the purchase of Canadian foodstuffs, raw material and manufactured products.

The Re-investments will be paid back to Canada in due time, with interest.

These credits were absolutely necessary to secure the orders for Canada because cash purchases were impossible.

They have had the effect of tremendously helping agricultural and industrial workers to tide over the depression that would have followed the Armistice, had we not made these credit loans.

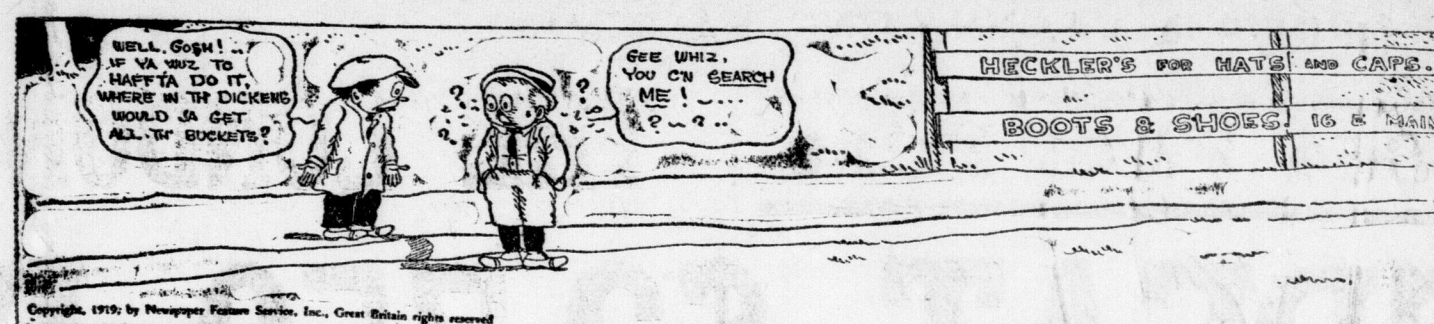

As far as money is concerned, 1919 has been, and is still—just as much a war year as 1918. Our main expenditures for war cannot be completed until well on into 1920. Thus another Victory Loan is necessary—Get ready to buy.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER'S

50 Cash Prizes

GREAT $2,750 PUZZLE CONTEST

THIS CONTEST IS FOR OLD AND NEW SUBSCRIBERS

The Advertiser Offers 50 Cash Prizes, Having a Value of $2,750.00, to Those Submitting the Best Solutions of Its Circle Puzzle. Everyone May Enter This Contest, Which Is Merely a Test of Accuracy and Perseverance.

The London Advertiser's Own Puzzle Contest

All Payments Apply on Subscriptions, So You Can't Lose

The Problem

Count the circles in the Puzzle Chart. Every circle is complete and the chart is entirely free from tricks and illusions. However, to pick out every circle and count it requires patience and care. Those who do this the best will win the valuable cash prizes offered for solving the puzzle.

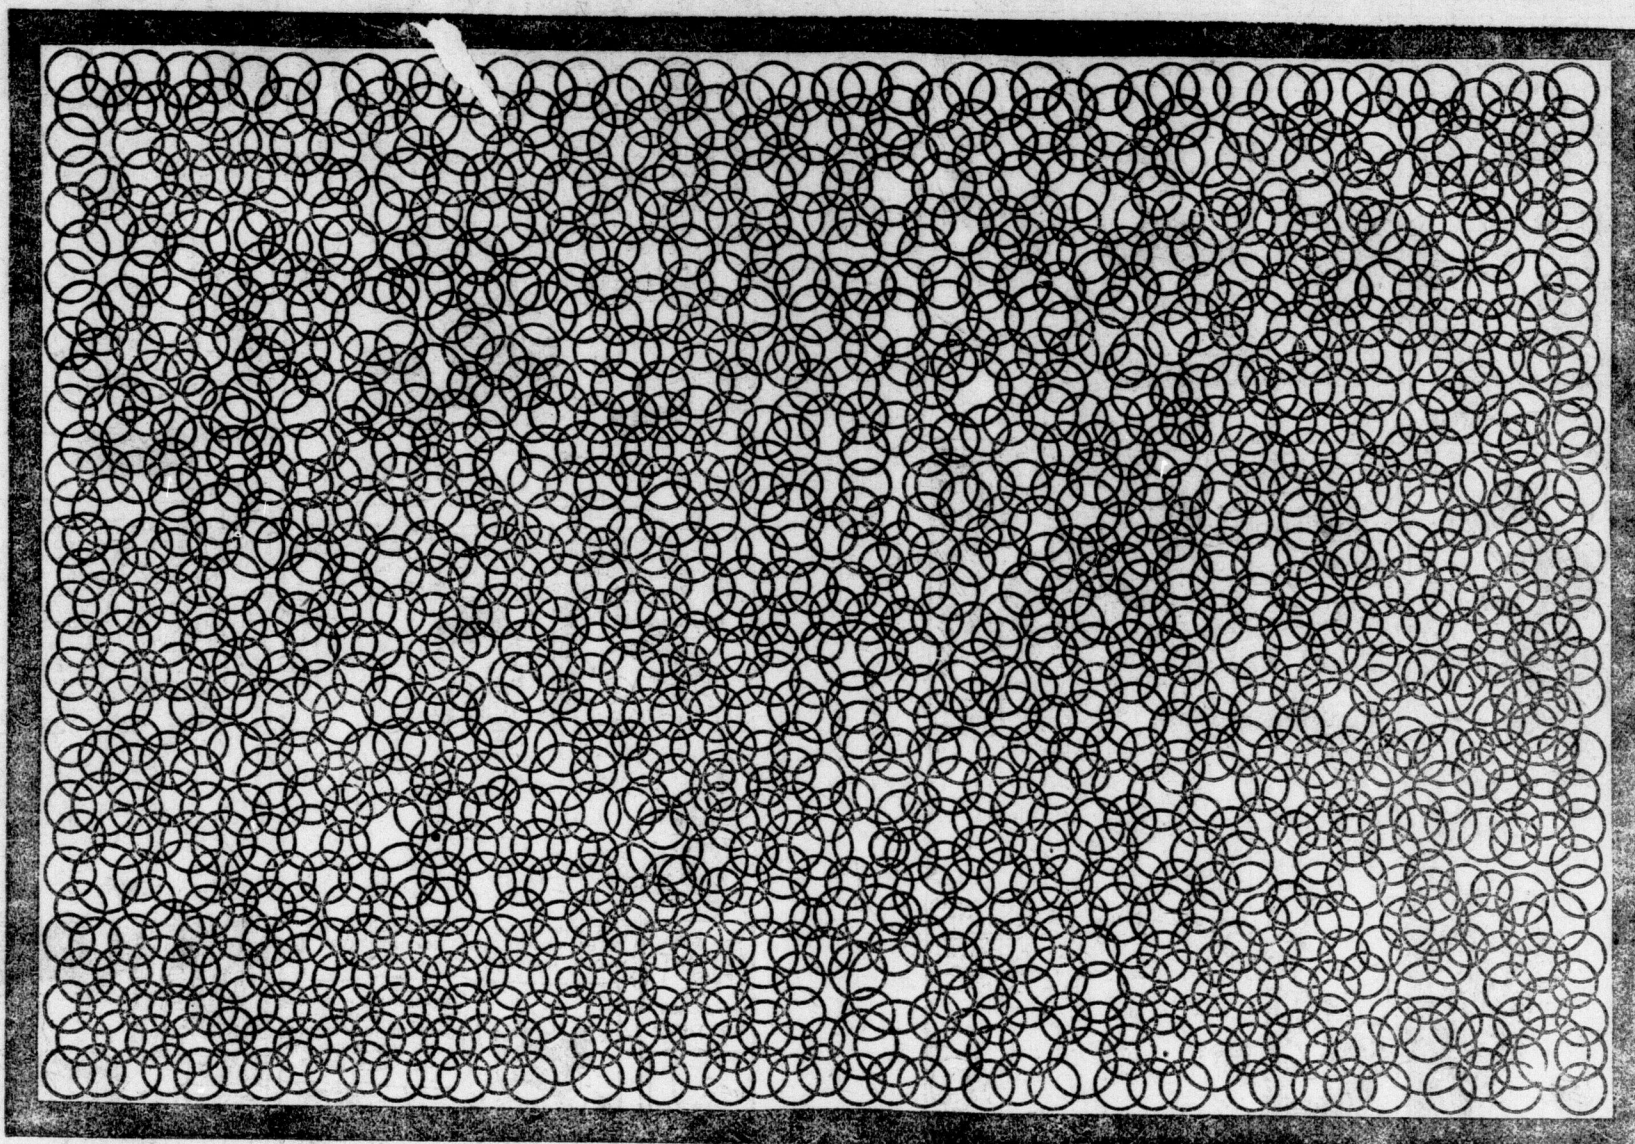

Any method which contestants hit upon that seems to be best adapted to making the count may be adopted. The Advertiser will be glad to receive short notes explaining how the results were obtained. As many different solutions may be submitted as contestants wish. Before sending in a solution, however, read the general rules carefully.

This contest will not only prove profitable to the winners of the prizes, but solving the puzzle will also prove to be a pleasant and fascinating pastime. Taking advantage of this opportunity may net you as much as $864. The plan of this contest permits everyone to work out his own results. He will not only know what he has done himself, but will also have an opportunity to check up the work of his competitors.

Read carefully all the rules, then make up your mind to enter this very interesting contest. It is open to all present subscribers, as well as to those who wish to become subscribers.

As the main prizes have an increased value, according to the amount paid on subscription when solutions are filed, contestants should familiarize themselves with the prize list before sending in their solutions.

Additional puzzle charts may be obtained at The Advertiser office, or they will be mailed to all who send a three-cent stamp.

[COPYRIGHTED.]

Deciding Ties

In the event of ties those tying will be required to solve a second puzzle in order to determine who shall receive the prizes. This second puzzle, if one should be required, will be equally as attractive and practical as the first. Under this plan those who win will be assured of receiving the full value of their prizes without having to divide them with other contestants. Should still further ties ensue a third problem of the same order as the second will be submitted to those again tied to solve. This plan will be continued until all have been eliminated except the actual prize winners. Should there be no ties on the first puzzle, only the one, of course, will be presented. In the event that a second puzzle is required, one week will be allowed in which to solve it. This will prevent the contest being prolonged for any unusual length of time.

General Rules and Information

There is no objection to several members of one family or several friends working together to obtain a solution, provided only one of them turns the solution in. The prizes are awarded for individual effort, and it would not be proper for one person to turn in a solution, then give it to someone else, and for the latter to submit it as his own.

If the paper is already being sent to your residence, either by carrier or through the mails, send in the renewal in the name of the person who is already subscribing. If some other member of the family wants the solution credited to him, or to her, merely attach a note to the blank giving the name of the one who wants to have credit for the solution. The purpose of this is to avoid sending two papers when only one is needed.

When, in the judgment of the Contest Manager, more than one member of the same family, or any others, send in two or more solutions which have the appearance of having been worked in collusion, The Advertiser will reserve the right to use its best judgment in refunding any of the subscriptions paid in connection therewith and rejecting the solutions.

Information will be furnished and rulings made on any points contestants may want information about. The Advertiser reserves the right to decide any and all questions which arise, and those entering the contest as a part of the contract must and do agree to abide by such rulings.

The date a solution is filed has nothing to do with its winning a prize. It is always safe, however, to send in a solution as early as convenient. Then you will have ample time to go over your figures and, if you find you can get a better solution, you will still have an opportunity to profit by your later effort.

As many prizes will be reserved as there are people tied before any prizes are awarded for less correct solutions. That is, if three people should tie on the best solution the first three prizes would be reserved for them, and they would be awarded these prizes in the order of the standing of their solutions of the next puzzle. That is, the best solution would be awarded the first prize, the next best the second and the third best the third prize.

All solutions must be sent in on the blank herewith. No solution unaccompanied by a cash subscription will be accepted. No solution may be changed after it is once registered.

No one directly or indirectly associated with The Advertiser will be allowed to participate in this contest.

How To Enter

This contest is open to present bona fide residents of Ontario.

Anyone in this territory may enter the contest upon payment of not less than $2.00 or more than $12.48. This amount will be applied to subscription to The London Advertiser at regular subscription rates. It may be applied on either the morning or evening edition, or both.

You may submit just one solution or as many different ones as you wish. With each solution you must pay not less than $2.00 or more than $12.48. The total amount paid whether you send one or more than one solution, will be applied to one continuous subscription, unless you otherwise direct. If you are already a subscriber the amount, or amounts, you pay will be applied to extending the time you are paid to. If you are a new subscriber the amount paid will be credited to you and your subscription started at once.

Present subscribers, wherever located, will continue to receive the paper through the same channels as now. No change whatsoever will be made in carriers where subscribers receive the paper through carrier service. All carriers will receive notice that the subscription has been paid and be instructed to collect the amount from The Advertiser office. The same will be done where the paper is being received through an authorized newsdealer.

If you send more than one solution at one time send a separate blank with each one and state in each blank the amount you are paying with that solution.

This contest is open to both men and women. You may order the paper sent to someone else if you wish, names and addresses being subject to any changes that later may be desired.

Contest Closes at 9 p.m.
Saturday, November 1

The sooner you send in your first solution the longer time you will have to go over your figures and send in another solution if you find you can do better.

Important Features

The attention of contestants is called to two important features in connection with the prizes.

1. While the amount you pay for subscription to The Advertiser has no effect on your winning a prize, it does affect the value of the first five prizes should you win one of them. For instance, each of the first five prizes has a fixed value, to which is added from five to fifty times what the winners pay when they register their solutions. This is explained further in the prize list.

2. The first five prizes may also be increased ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS each by your interesting five persons who are not now regular subscribers to become subscribers. You will receive twenty dollars for each one, whether you secure one or five. Each one of these new subscribers must pay not less than the minimum amount ($2.00) required of contestants. They may pay up to the maximum ($12.48) if they desire, and they may also become competitors for the prizes if they wish to submit one or more solutions of the puzzle. That is, they may enter the contest under the same conditions exactly as any other contestant, the payment they make entitling them to entry.

The name of each one of these new subscribers must be sent in on one of the accompanying blanks, whether he becomes a contestant or not. The fact that he was secured by you must also be indicated in the proper place provided in the blank, so you will receive credit. You may send in any or all of these five names whenever you wish, either when you send in your own solution or later. Just use one of the blanks for each one, and then there will be no mistake made in regard to your getting due credit.

It takes a joint of beef to make a bottle of Bovril

Bovril contains the goodness of the beef.

THE vital elements that give beef its special place and value as a food are concentrated and stored in Bovril.

Just as the equivalent light of 32 candles is concentrated in one electric lamp, so the vital elements of beef—of many pounds of beef—are concentrated in a single bottle of Bovril.

But Bovril is not merely a precious food in itself; it possesses the peculiar power of enabling you to extract more nourishment from other foods. This gives Bovril its wonderful body-building power, proved by independent experiment to be from 10 to 20 times the amount taken. Bovril, therefore, in the true sense of the word, is a Great Food Saver.

Always keep Bovril in the house.

Bovril stands alone

There are five simple ways to tell good tea.

First, by the bright copper color of the tea when steeped.

Second, by the exquisite aroma.

Third, by the delightful, refreshing flavor.

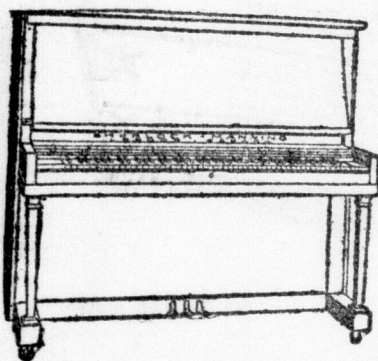

Fourth, by the satisfying richness.

Fifth, by the economical strength.

Make a brewing and you will find all these qualities combined in Red Rose.

OFFER OF BRITISH GOVERNMENT WHICH STRIKERS REFUSED

Guarantee No Wage Reductions Before March 31.

DISCUSSION EXTENSION

But Resumption of Negotiations Conditional On Return to Work.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The following statement was issued at the premier's office in Downing street this evening: "A series of meetings with the prime minister and Mr. Bonar Law, which commenced Wednesday last, at the instance of a deputation of trades unionists, headed by Mr. Gosling (president of the Transport Workers' Federation), came to an end this afternoon. Thursday the Government proposed as a basis for the continuation of the negotiations:

"1. That, the strikers' returning to work, the negotiations shall be resumed where they were broken off last Friday.

"2. That in accordance with the premier's offer of Friday the Government will guarantee there will be no reduction in wages until March 31, and the Government undertakes that at any time after the 1st of December they will be ready to discuss, in view of the circumstances then existing, the possible extension of that date."

"3. That the Government is prepared to discuss with the railwaymen any unfairness or hardship affecting any particular grade of workmen through the operation of the scheme of standardization already put forward by the Government and to consider any anomaly as between the various grades in the application of the percentage of increases proposed in each grade."

"4. In the event of failure to agree upon any question arising out of the matter mentioned in paragraph three, the point of difference shall be referred to arbitration."

"The National Union of Railwaymen declined to accept these terms. At the meeting this morning the premier proposed that the National Union of Railwaymen should agree to a truce of the strike for a limited period of a few days in order that the negotiations might be resumed with a view to reaching a settlement."

"The premier offered if the men returned to work on this basis to pay arrears in wages. The National Union of Railwaymen agreed to the suggested truce, but only on condition that the Government was prepared to make the basis of standardization an operation equally on the disputed grades as on the grades already settled. The Government rejected this proposal because they already had undertaken to settle the disputed grades on their merits, as asked by the National Union of Railwaymen, and because the present proposal was only a repetition of one already declined."

"The premier then made counter-proposals, that the Government was prepared to agree to a truce of seven days in order to discuss, first, the period of the standardization of wages, and second, that the Government was prepared to discuss with the railwaymen any unfairness or hardship affecting any particular grade of workmen, as set forth in clause three of the above, and they similarly offered to arbitrate any disputed point."

"He proposed also that if at the end of seven days after a full resumption of work the National Union of Railwaymen arrive at a conclusion that the negotiations cannot be brought to a satisfactory issue, they will give 48 hours' notice before any cessation of work occurs. If the negotiations are again broken off the men agree to hand over all plants in good working order and to run all trains to their destinations. The men agree to work harmoniously with railway servants who have remained at or who have returned to work. The railway executive agrees to undertake that there will be no victimization of strikers."

"This proposal was rejected by the National Union of Railwaymen and the conference terminated."

SYMPATHY STRIKES TO BE CALLED ONLY BY TWO-THIRDS VOTE

And Then Only With Approval of Grand President of Rly. Brotherhood.

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—Probability of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees participating in sympathetic strikes was minimized this morning at the sessions in St. Patrick's Hall, when the convention noted that members would only be permitted to take part in such strikes on a two-thirds vote of all members, and then only with the approval of the grand president.

The convention voted to drop the color line, and to admit colored railroad employees to membership on the same basis as white employees, but separate local divisions at different points will be organized for the colored employees. The Order of Sleeping Car Porters will now nominally cease to exist, the members being admitted to full membership in the C. B. of R. E. A resolution of sympathy with and endorsement of the stand of the British railroad strikers was moved at this afternoon's closing session of the convention.

The convention also voted today to continue opposition to the Dominion Express Brotherhood, which is regarded as a company-formed organization, not truly representative of the employees' interests.

The Canadian Brotherhood will unite with the international on its own terms or not at all, and should an amalgamation be effected will insist upon maintaining national autonomy in Canada.

DR. BRAITHWAITE IS CHOSEN ORGANIZER OF UNION CAMPAIGN

TORONTO, Oct. 3.—It has been announced that Dr. B. E. Braithwaite, M.A., Ph.D., late of the Western University, London, Ont., has been appointed national organizer of the inter-church forward movement, known as the United National Campaign.

Dr. Braithwaite is a well-known Canadian. He was born in York County, Ontario, and was educated at McGill, Oberlin, and Harvard Universities. He received the degrees of M.A. and Ph.D. at Harvard. He resided for four years in the Maritime Provinces and afterwards in Western Canada, as well as a number of years in the United States. He has just severed his connection with the Western University after five years of service.

Dr. Braithwaite was chosen to deliver the baccalaureate address at Columbia University in June of this year. A manifesto explaining the United National Campaign will be presented on Sunday in most of the Protestant pulpits of the land.

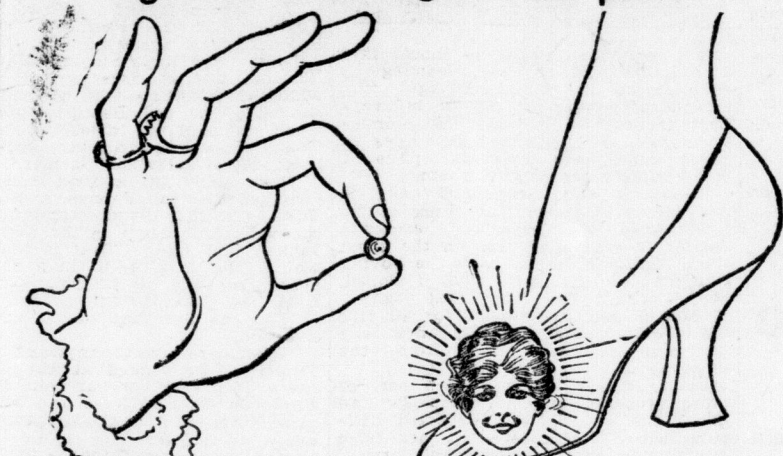

N. OXFORD LIBERALS NOMINATION TODAY

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 3.—The Liberals of North Oxford will hold a mass meeting Saturday afternoon, when a candidate will be chosen to contest the riding.

The executive of the Conservative Association at a meeting decided to hold a convention in this city Tuesday, when the selection of a candidate will be made.

NELSON DAY CAMPAIGN

for $500,000

October 21-22-23

"Canadians Must Sail The Seas"

WHY Canada MUST have Canadian Seamen

CANADA is face to face to-day with a great need—mercantile ships! More than a quarter of the world's shipping was destroyed in the War. We are handicapped in our foreign trade because there are no ships to buy or rent. Hence the Government's shipbuilding programme.

But there remains the more complex problem of manning our ships when built. Seamen cannot be turned out to order. They must be trained. If we are not to be at the mercy of foreign-born seamen, we must have our own Canadian boys ready for this service. This is absolutely imperative, and lies right at the very root of Canada's After-the-War development.

BEGIN WITH THE BOYS

The problem is purely a personal one—something you and I must assist in solving. Unless we make it possible to train Canadian boys for the sea, we cannot hope to man Canadian ships with Canadian seamen and so supply the missing link between the producing possibilities of the Dominion and the eager world markets.

To conduct the Boys' Naval Brigades and its other work, the Navy League of Canada requires $500,000. Throw yourself wholeheartedly into this campaign to make it a thorough-going success, for the sake of our boys, for the sake of the whole Dominion—yes, and in your own personal interest. Help by giving liberally.

ARGENTINE CORN BREAK DEPRESSES CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Sudden development of competition from Argentina had a decided bearish effect today on the corn market, as did uneasiness regarding President Wilson's condition. Prices closed heavy, 2½¢ to 4½¢ not lower, with December $1.22½ to $1.23½, and May $1.21½ to $1.21¾. Oats finished 1¢ to 1½¢ down, and provisions ranging from 20¢ decline to 37¢ advance.

Announcement of a big break in corn quotations in Argentina, where holders were said to be alarmed over the scantiness of exports to Europe, gave the corn market here a downward tendency from the outset. Later this tendency was greatly increased by word that Argentine corn was being purchased at New York much below what domestic corn, either old or new crop, could be delivered for. The acknowledged seriousness of the president's illness operated likewise as a depressing factor from the moment the market opened, but in more indirect fashion and to a far subordinate degree. Better weather and enlarged country offerings rendered any important rally quite out of the question for the time being.

Oats followed corn downward, notwithstanding continued demand from the seaboard. Provisions scored some gains as a result of higher quotations on hogs and owing to talk of a decrease in western stocks of lamb.

THEDA BARA AT THE PATRICIA THEATRE IN BIG PHOTOPLAY

Famous Actress Portrays Role of Zara the Princess.

Theda Bara is appearing in "A Woman There Was" at the Patricia on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next. The story of the play is as follows: Zara (Theda Bara) is the Princess of Kolpee, a South Sea Island. Majah, her father, is the chief of the tribe. Puke, a pearl diver, is in love with Zara. Winthrop Stark, a New England missionary, arrives on the island. Zara falls in love with the white man. While the missionary feels the attraction of the dusky princess, he remains faithful to his fiancée back home. Puke sees Zara and Stark together and, with savage jealousy aroused, demands the life of the white man. Zara defends Stark before her father, and Majah reserves decision. Zara spurs the proffered love of the pearl diver—who then, with the high priest, enters into a plot against Zara. Zara visits Stark and confesses her great love. Her whole nature is stabbed and her heart broken when she learns he is pledged to a white girl beyond the rolling seas. Puke, who has been eavesdropping, decides this is an opportune moment to take the minister's life. He poises his spear for a cast through the window. Zara discovers him and protects the minister with her own bosom. The black typhoon sweeps over the island. A religious sacrifice is necessary to appease the wrath of the gods. Stark is chosen as the one to give up his life. The high priest objects because the minister is an "unbeliever." Broken-hearted and despairing, Zara volunteers. She rushes into the raging sea. Stark sees her and effects her rescue. He carries her to the temple. Morning dawns. Zara's father is brought in dead. Natives find Stark unconscious. They declare he brought destruction upon the island. As reigning princess upon the death of her father, Zara again defends the missionary and carries him to his cabin. Puke, by order of Zara, is cast adrift in a canoe on the sea. Stark becomes delirious. Zara learns that the witch doctor alone can save him. She visits the witch doctor, who informs her that the black pearl, buried with her father—the sacred pearl of Kolpee—will save the minister. Zara determines to steal the pearl. Meanwhile, Puke has come upon a pimple, blackheads and such kinds of skin eruptions disappear. They simply cannot remain. Their redness and itching disappear.
