WOULD TAKE OVER HUDSON BAY R.R.

Western Capitalists Willing To Complete Railway To North Country.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—The following story appears in the news columns of the Winnipeg Free Press:

"If the dominion government will hand over the Hudson Bay Railroad as it now stands, from Hudson Bay Junction to Port Nelson, along with any improvements that have been made for shipping facilities, a Winnipeg-St. Boniface syndicate will complete the road with private capital, according to an offer now before Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways.

The syndicate has offered to put up $1,000,000 as a guarantee of its good faith. The road would be completed within two years of the signing of the contract.

The syndicate seeks the following from the government: "1.—Waterpower rights on the Nelson river to develop electric power to operate trains.

"2.—A four-year agreement for running rights over the Canadian National tracks from Winnipeg, Portage La Prairie or Brandon, to Hudson Bay Junction.

"3.—The right to change to terminus to Fort Churchill, if thought advisable.

"The syndicate offers to provide a railway pier at the terminus at which vessels, drawing 25 feet of water, would be able to load safely or discharge cargo.

"Winnipeg grain interests are said to be interested in the syndicate, which has had a man at Ottawa during the last week to press the application."

NO APPLICATION YET. Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Sept. 23.—The application has yet been received. It was officially stated at the department of railways and canals tonight, in commenting on the report that a syndicate had offered to take over the Hudson Bay Railway and complete it.

It is understood that Mayor R. J. Swain of St. Boniface, Man., has been seeking an appointment with the minister of railways, and now has a tentative engagement with the premier.

PROVINCIAL PLAN IS LIKELY TO FAIL

Price Frankly Admits Increased Current Expenditures Is Stumbling Block.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Sept. 23.—Hon. W. H. Price, provincial treasurer, stated today that difficulties greater than those originally anticipated had been encountered by the committee of financial experts which were selected to advise the government on the means of creating a sinking fund to retire the capital debt of Ontario within 40 years. Chief of these difficulties is that of finding the necessary new revenue which would be applied to this purpose.

Some adjustments must also be made in regard to the arrangement with the Ontario Hydro-Electric commission for regular annual payments to the province. The province's advances made on capital account to this enterprise, about $1,500,000 is required on account of hydro bonds, which, although applied directly to the province's general credit, stand upon the general credit of the province.

Provincial Treasurer Price intimated that the committee was still considering the problems, and that every reasonable effort would be made to bring the sinking fund plan into operation for the next fiscal year, which commences November 1.

Many Resolutions Passed at Yesterday's Session of London Conference.

DEFEND PROHIBITION Use of Gambling Devices at Fairs Characterized As Disgrace.

Abolition of gambling, strengthening of prohibition ideals, deepening of spiritual life, Christianizing of industry and the overthrow of war—all these subjects were discussed by the London United Church conference yesterday afternoon in unanimously adopting resolutions condemning smaller vices and attacking larger evils.

The London conference, as an integral part of the United Church of Canada, decided that its full weight should be brought to bear upon these serious problems facing the church at the present moment, seeking to do away with gambling at race tracks and under the protection of fall fair boards; seeking to stem the reaction against prohibition; seeking to halt the dangerous unconcern of the people today regarding spiritual things; seeking to unshackle struggling industry, and seeking to bring about genuine international goodwill and peace for all time to come.

Edmond, D.D., Toronto, on home missions and by Rev. Jesse H. Arupp, D.D., Toronto, on foreign missions, at last night's public meeting, the conference found itself unable to complete the business awaiting its attention at this time, and consequently will sit again this morning. Incidentally the public meeting last night was a close second to that held the previous evening when Rev. G. C. Pidgeon, D.D., Toronto, moderator of the general council, addressed the conference, embracing as it did splendid music by the St. Andrew's United church choir under Chas. E. Wheeler as organist and choirmaster.

Launching a slashing attack against the recent provincial amendment, whereby gambling devices are permitted to operate at fall fairs, Rev. W. E. Millson, London, characterized "the exhibitions of gambling at the recent Western Fair as a disgrace to civilization and expressed his 'wonderment' at the board of directors permitting and countenancing gambling in such a barefaced manner." Mr. Millson stated that he had seen eight roulette wheels in operation at the fair, and that, further, he had seen eight children playing "the house-hold game, the most keenly-devised gambling device in some time," at one sitting.

Attacks Gambling. Mr. Millson proposed an addition, and it was adopted, to the resolution submitted by the social service committee, asking that all ministers seek to counteract the demoralizing tendencies of the "wagering" whereby $43,000,000 was squandered by the people of the dominion last year, calling upon all fair boards, and the board of directors of the Western Fair in particular, to eliminate all gambling devices at fall fairs throughout the province.

The social service committee tabled a threefold temperance resolution embracing the following points: Adherence to the temperance principles of the three former denominations, Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian churches; renewed pledge to total prohibition of the liquor traffic in its manufacture, sale and importation within the province and the dominion, and request at the laxness in international treaties upon the part of the federal authorities in not exercising its powers in co-operation with the United States government in stamping out rum-running between the two countries.

These resolutions regarding roulette wheels and temperance are all very good," declared Rev. W. R. McIntosh, D.D., London, chairman of the resolutions committee, "but they are only a mere bagatelle to the need for Christianizing of industry, the need for the United church not acting, as some people would say, with political manoeuvring, co-opting with the courts, educational and civic authorities for the promotion of better cultural and community life, and other similar really big problems."

Would Widen Field. Dr. McIntosh, who is chairman of the Middlesex presbytery, then urged upon the conference as one of the leading courts of the new United church, in a speech replete with fire and eloquence, the imperative need for reaching out to touch phases of modern activity, which, in the past, have been too much shunned by the church, in order that the church may exert a much greater influence in the present-day world.

The resolutions committee submitted a resolution on the abolition of war, which, together with resolutions for the Christianizing of industry and the deepening of spiritual life, was passed on to the standing committees on social service and religious education, embracing one clause, which undoubtedly has reference to cadet training in public schools, high schools and colleges, as follows: "While recognizing the wisdom of giving the youth of our land all the exercise and discipline necessary, we would suggest that all such training be divested of needless military suggestion."

Rev. S. M. Sweetman, Lambton presbytery, speaking with a returned soldier's experience, his latest, condemned the use of military titles and honors attached to members of the clergy, and moved that the use of such titles be eliminated from the official records of conference. This was adopted, though Rev. A. W. Sheper, B.A., Parkhill, questioned the advisability of such a sweeping motion.

The Resolution. Resolutions submitted by Dr. McIntosh as chairman of the resolutions committee, were adopted as follows: "Your committee would recommend that conference direct its people to

MEIGHEN LEAVES MARITIMES TODAY

Conservative Chieftain To Start Campaign in Ontario Immediately.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press. Saint John, N.B., Sept. 23.—That he would limit the application of the British preference to goods coming through Canadian ports was one of the outstanding declarations made here tonight by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, in the final speech of his Maritime province campaign.

Emphatically he asserted his belief that Canadian trade should move through Canadian ports, and that development of the port of Saint John, "the great winter port of Canada," must be continued. Again he stated that the Conservative party stood pledged to a policy of assistance to the Maritime provinces to the end that their basic products might move to the markets of Ontario and Quebec. Such assistance must also be given to these western products which were separated by great distances from the central markets.

A note of caution in regard to the proposed sale of the Portland line of the Canadian National Railway was interjected by the Conservative leader. After combating a charge which he said, was being made against the former government that it had deflected trade from Maritime ports to Portland, Maine, by acquisition of the Grand Trunk line, he questioned the advisability of relinquishing control of that line. King had been in office it had held the power to refuse to route Canadian goods over the Portland line, he said.

Sell that part of the Canadian National System to a rival organization, and that power was gone. The competitive system would attempt to obtain all the Canadian traffic which it could possibly get. For himself, if he was satisfied that Canada as a whole he "would dry up the Portland line without delay."

The meeting addressed by Mr. Meighen was held in the Imperial Theatre, which was crowded to the doors. L. P. D. Tilley, president of the executive council of the New Brunswick government, was in the chair, and speakers preceding Mr. Meighen were Col. Murray Macdonald, former member for Saint John-Albert, in the federal house; John J. B. M. Baxter, premier of New Brunswick, and Senator G. D. Robertson, minister of Labor in the Meighen government.

Mr. Meighen will leave for Ontario tomorrow morning.

Drumbo and Princeton in Oxford presbytery as stated supply, and that Rev. D. Robertson, Walkers had been placed at Salem in the Huron presbytery as stated supply.

Recommendations made by the settlement committee were adopted by the conference as follows: First, its efforts upon behalf of the maintenance of the Christian Sabbath in the Dominion.

"The Church of God can go only as far as it carries with it the Christian Sabbath," asserted Mr. Terryberry, "and on behalf of the alliance we appeal to you as a conference to either make a pledge for our work in your budget or to open your pulpits and have your own ministers support our work."

"We have kept out the Sunday newspaper, and we have harassed industry so that the workingmen get their one day of rest in seven, but we must, as an alliance, have better support from the church than we have been having or else we cannot carry on."

Rev. John Garbutt, London, secretary of the Western Ontario Bible society, declared that there are 17 different translations of the Bible in this district, and that there are 120 different translations in the dominion.

Declaring the Bible society to be "the left arm and the mind of the church," as compared with missions as "the right arm and heart" of the church, Mr. Garbutt asked for more generous support of the work of the Bible society as a branch of the British and Foreign Bible society, which issued 10,000,000 copies of the Bible last year.

Rev. George Little, B.A., Toronto, addressed the conference on behalf of the Sunday school publications of the United church, pointing out that by raising an attempt is being made to the different papers to make religion a reality, according to the ages of the boys and girls from the infant class right through to the adult Bible class, and urging the preference of papers published in Canada as compared with those published in the United States and other foreign countries.

Mrs. Elsie R. Smith, Toronto, field secretary of the United church deaconess' work, described for the benefit of the conference the work of that department of church life and activity. Mrs. Smith pointed out that while the former Presbyterian and Methodist deaconess' training schools at Toronto have not yet been actually united they are working in the closest co-operation for this year, at the close of which complete union will be carried into effect.

ATHLETES AMONG LATEST STUDENTS

Director George A. Smith Has Words of Praise For Manhood at Western.

With a lot of new blood in the form of versatile athletes, students at the University of Western Ontario look forward to winning laurels in the field of sport this year. Dr. George A. Smith, head of the physical department, said today that the year looked particularly bright. Students who had already gained a reputation in amateur sport had enrolled at Western. They would undoubtedly pull strongly for the local colors.

Among those who have entered the university are: C. Conkle, football star of collegiate circles in Hamilton; Tom Metham, sprinter of the same town; Don Budge, well-known runner; J. M. Kannah, pole vaulter, and Webb Bowman, who bears the reputation of being an all-round athlete.

It is expected that these boys will have plenty of company in the field of athletics, as several more registrations of young sportsmen are expected to register. Three of these, it is hinted, will also come from Hamilton.

From a physical standpoint the young men are entering the university this year are the finest type yet seen in the neighborhood of the university.

"It will go further than that," said Dr. Smith. "They are the finest looking fellows of any group, the best I have ever seen, as healthy and as well as has ever been seen at Western."

Dr. Smith has been busy for the last few days. All students of the first and second years pass through his hands for examination. To these are added all men of all years who wish to take an active part in the athletic program of the university. The examinations will likely be completed by the end of this week.

Hon. A. B. Hudson Pays Cossack's PAYS Cossack's SLASHED HARNESS

Quits the Field
West Nissouri Youth in Court For Practical "Joke."

Wm. Pickle of West Nissouri is not the type of lad to allow any rival to step into the countryside and walk off with his best girl. However, Bill got himself into somewhat of a pickle by the methods he adopted to register his displeasure, and these methods cost him $38.45 before County Magistrate Hawshaway this morning.

A week ago Tuesday night, Stanley Fawcett drove into Cherry Hill, a shiny new harness, new harness and a buggy that was shining. The horse waited patiently outside for her master to appear and gazed at the once familiar house. He even waited until he lost no time in getting under way.

It took but a few minutes to unfasten the harness and to take down the hub caps from the buggy and to make doubly sure that something "might happen," he cut the harness strap around the neck almost in a twinkling.

Mr. Pickle was arrested in court this morning with his son, who is only 17 years of age. He said that he understood that his boy was guilty, and when he saw the damage to the harness and the cost of it, he was almost in two. As far as he knew, there was no trouble between himself and Pickle, he declared.

ERRING HUSBAND GETS NEW CHANCE

Charles Hamilton Released by Court After Scathing Lecture.

Charles Hamilton, 9 Broughtdale avenue, was given another chance to provide the necessities of life, for his wife and four young children, after a scathing lecture by Magistrate Graydon this morning. He was bailed on his own recognizance for one month in the custody of Joseph Brown.

Hamilton has appeared in court on previous occasions, charged with the same offence. Each time he has promised to do better, but any money he earns goes to buy liquor. Recently his wife was taken to the hospital, while dying child to the hospital, while lying on the floor of the house, apparently drunk. He even refused to provide a funeral for the dead infant.

Magistrate Graydon was reluctant, in the extreme to bail Hamilton, declaring the prison, was the only place for him.

"I have no consideration for you, you are inhuman and a contemptible creature. You had numerous chances, but each time have failed. You know you compelled your wife to carry that dying child to the hospital, and then didn't provide a funeral. Prison is the only place for a creature like you," said the magistrate.

Hamilton set out on his journey through the lecture, then asked Joseph Brown had made a plea on his behalf, it was granted. Hamilton will appear in police court on Monday, if he has not made good he will be sentenced to prison.

Peace Hangs in Balance As Turkey Takes Deft Stand.

By HAL O'FLAHERTY. Special Cable to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News.

London, Sept. 23.—Reports from the Mosul frontier that the Turks are actively preparing another series of mass deportations of Christians from the territory north of the Iraq line have aroused a feeling of uneasiness among officials here.

Nothing except quick action on the part of the council of the League of Nations in appointing a representative to go to the Mosul frontier and report on actual conditions will prevent another enforced migration at the points of Turkish bayonets. It is the British contention that the league should be held responsible for the lives of Jacobites residing on Turkish territory as they have been placed in jeopardy by the league's action.

Should the Turks begin deportations, Great Britain would be forced to claim release from promises to abide by the decision of the league commission and resume her freedom of action.

PEACE IN BALANCE. By PAUL SCOTT MOWBRER. Special Cable to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright.

Geneva, Sept. 23.—The issue of peace or war between Turkey and Great Britain in the mountains and valleys of the Upper Tigris now hangs in the balance. The Turks have massed 40,000 men along the provisional frontier north of Mosul, and are massacring and driving out pro-British, Assyrian-Chaldean Christians in this region after the only recent sanguinary Turkish revolt. The British are strengthening their feeble Mesopotamian contingents, are arming Assyrian-Chaldean Christians on their side of the frontier, and are trying to organize the Kurds.

Under these circumstances grave frontier incidents are always possible, and these may lead to incalculable consequences. The diplomatic situation is as follows: Left to Council.

The Lausanne peace treaty left final settlement of the Mosul dispute to arbitration by the League Council. In the debate just concluded here, the Turks contended that arbitration applies not to the whole of Mosul in any case the council's decision must be unanimous and that, whatever the decision, the grand assembly of Angora has the right to reject it if it pleases.

The British agree to accept the league's arbitration award, but seek to gain time by a settlement by referring to the international court the question whether, under the Lausanne treaty, the council's arbitration is final and whether the council's vote in the matter must be unanimous.

The Turks say they will pay no attention to the court's verdict, and will not surrender what they regard as their rights. Three months will doubtless elapse before the court's decision is made, and the league will call to resume arbitration duties. Within this period, it is generally conceded, anything may happen.

British Motives. 1.—Strategical. The Mosul region forms a natural bastion protecting Mesopotamia and the route to India from Turkish invasion. Without Mosul the problem of defending Mesopotamia becomes extremely difficult.

2.—Irrigation. Water reservoirs necessary for irrigation of Mesopotamian plains lie in the Mosul mountains. If the Turks controlled the reservoirs they could prevent irrigation.

3.—Oil. The main Anglo-Persian pipeline can only be defended from a flank attack landward by holding Mesopotamia, which in turn depends on holding Mosul.

4.—Colonial prestige. This perhaps is the most important motive of all. The British have occupied the disputed region ever since the war. Their prestige was weakened by the Turkish victory over the Greeks. If they were now obliged for any reason to withdraw from Mosul this would be interpreted throughout the Mohammedan Asiatic world as a new sign of weakness and would encourage rebellious elements in various parts of the British Empire.

Turkish Motives. 1.—Strategical. The Turks consider Mosul a bastion against a possible British or Arab invasion.

2.—Oil. Possession of the Mosul oil fields would insure considerable sums of cash to the Turkish government.

3.—Political. There are a million and a half more or less rebellious Kurds in Turkey and half a million in the Mosul region. The Turks fear the British may organize a Kurdish nationalist movement, directed against Turkey.

4.—National prestige. With the Turks also this is perhaps the most important motive.

The general and growing revolt of Mohammedans and Asiatics against European rule favors Turkey. India, Egypt and Palestine, though momentarily quiet, are restless. China is in a ferment. France has grave wars on her hands both in Morocco and Syria. Mahabli nomads from the desert are invading the pro-British kingdom of Hedjaz. They have taken Mecca, and now threaten Medina.

Soviet Russia is doing everything in its power to support and extend all these revolts. Finally, in Great Britain itself there is a pacifist war weariness which makes it impossible for the British government to conduct a vigorous colonial campaign at the present time.

To Asiatics this lassitude signifies the slipping of Great Britain's hold and gives the greatest possible encouragement.
