EXPLANATION OF CALENDAR PAGES.

The Publisher of this Almanac, with a view to increase its circulation and usefulness, has adapted its calculations for the whole country. The Moon's changes are given for five different places, viz., Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto and London. The rising and setting of the Sun are given for Montreal and Toronto. The rising and setting of the Moon are given with sufficient exactness for all practical purposes. The weather prognostications are again calculated according to the table of the celebrated Dr. Herschel, and for extraordinary accuracy Miller's Almanac retains its wonderful popularity.

ECLIPSES DURING THE YEAR 1864.

There will not be any Eclipse of the Moon for 1864.
 Of the Sun there will be but two Eclipses, and these will not be specially interesting to Canadian observers of astronomical changes.

On the 5th of May, in the afternoon, there will be a central Eclipse of the Sun. In Canada it will not be visible, but will be observed in the Western part of Illinois and Wisconsin about sunset. Those who dwell in California may have a fine view of it.

II.—On the 30th of October, there will be an Annular Eclipse of the Sun, not visible in Canada.

24	Septuagesima.
25	Conversion of St. Paul.
26	The last week of this month promises to be fair but frosty.
29	Generally fine but very severely cold.

JANUARY.—I was once led to believe that pumpkin-seeds were good for feeding milch cows, and commenced to feed them out to a cow at the rate of half a bushel per day. At that time she was giving eight quarts of milk per day, but instead of this increasing the quantity, it diminished it. I increased the feed to a bushel a day, still there was a decrease in the quantity of milk, until the pumpkins froze up, when she did not give but four quarts per day. The cow did not fatten. I then took out all the seeds, when lo, the change! Instead of five quarts of milk a day I got nearly nine in a day.

March - What the soil really includes nobody knows; though it is plain to see that every one has been anxious to ascertain the amount of manure to be put on the land in view is not to extend the greatest possible quantity out of the soil but to have it economical and reasonable. I have calculated that only one half per cent. of its original value should be put on the land to provide for it would make it yield the same crop for as many years, and in fact as an exhausted one.

MARCH.—What the soil really includes nobody knows; though what it yields every one may easily ascertain for himself. The great object in view is not to extort the greatest possible quantity out of the soil, but to learn to economize our resources. A boy may calculate the amount of productive power left in a field after a hundred years, even though only one half per cent. of its original value should be annually taken out of it, but the addition of this half per cent. a year, if he would learn to provide for it, would make it yield the same crop for another hundred years, and in fact for an unlimited time.

As IL.—The season of toil and active exertion again comes round. The rigours of winter are passing away, but allow us to say that the cattle may yet require great care. Now is the time when a good supply of root crops may prove of the greatest advantage. Horses that are soon required for heavy work must be kept in good order. A few carrots, turnips, or mangels will be found very beneficial. Other stock will be equally profited. Roots not only impart a large amount of nutritious ingredients to the animal, by which ordinary waste is restored and growth promoted, but they operate beneficially in producing a healthy action of the stomach, and purify the blood.

MAY.—A correspondent of the "Canadian Agriculturist" well says: "The absence of sufficient education amongst the agricultural youth of our country, together with the lack of capital, will for years prove a bar to that progress we could all wish to see made. We need, however, only look back a comparatively few years and call to mind the very crude state Agriculture was in throughout the British Isles, to take courage and assure ourselves that we shall effect more toward the development of the soil in the next ten years than was accomplished there some years back in thirty!"

JUNE.—The foregoing writer says "This fact should never be lost sight of by the cultivator of the soil, that capital well and judiciously applied upon the farm, if not in the first year, is certain, nevertheless, in the next and follow ag years, to ensure an ample return. But do what we will in the use of all the skill, capital and industry we possess, "there are times," as my father used to say, "when the seasons will make fools of us all"; this, however, must not deter us in our best endeavours to overcome difficulties, for there is nothing in this world more truly grateful than the soil for generous and kind treatment." I have profited greatly from this advice.

JULY.—We have a great hatred to the cultivation of weeds, and it must be admitted that our farmers are not sufficiently careful in the matter of their extermination. In the ordinary processes of cultivation, care is not taken to prevent the spreading of seeds and roots of a vicious kind. From manure heaps weeds are extensively produced, by reason of carelessness in allowing cattle to have access to the ripened seeds of various weeds, and in other ways. One great source of weeds is in the fact that the ordinary crop seeds have mixed with them, every variety of the seeds of base plants. Great care should be taken to clean your seed grain.

OCTOBER.—We have often remarked on the importance of a rotation of crops, and the cessation of cropping for a season, in order that land may maintain its strength and continue profitable. In 1562, Thomas Tusser published his five hundred points of husbandry, and in quaint spelling expressed his mind on the subject to which we again refer, thus:

"Otes, rie, or else barley, and wheat: that is gray,
Brings land out of comfort, and soon to decay;
One after another, no comfort betwene
Is crop upon crop, as will quickly be seen,
Still crop upon crop, many farmers do take
And reap little profit for greediness sake."

—NOVEMBER.—The time has gone by when the idea of the co-operation of science with practice in the business of farming, could be received with a sneer. Men have got wiser, and a strong tribute is paid, no doubt; often unconsciously to the advantage, which scientific research confers on the practice of agriculture, whenever even an analysis of a manure is asked for, as a test of the value of the article. It may happen that the analysis is worthless; that it is even worse, and injurious, because it may be a fabricated document; but this does not render the homage paid to science one whit the less, nor does the falsity of that document invalidate the claims which science has on the practical man.

DECEMBER. As before, so again we earnestly recommend our young farmers to spend a portion of their time these long winter evenings and cold, dull days in useful reading. By this we do not mean the political papers or weekly local journals. These may have their use, and it is right that you should know the state of the country. But as you design to devote yourself to agriculture, read carefully the good and valuable works which relate to your own business, and those which may be subservient to the improvement of your mind, body and estate. Strive to excel in all that is good, great and useful.
