EVERY MAN ON THE TEAM HURT
Brutal Treatment Received by the Ottawa Players—Montreal Roughs Allowed to Beat the Visitors—Shamrocks Have Retired a Protest.
MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—The Capitals of Ottawa, lacrosse champions of the world, this is the result of the great match on Saturday afternoon between the Capitals, St. Catharines, and the Shamrocks of Montreal, and the end of the lacrosse series for the present season.
The Capitals have worked hard for the honor and they deserve their success. They played clean lacrosse on Saturday, and had the best of the playing through out. It was a great match. An enormous crowd was present, the estimated attendance being over 10,000.
The Shamrock team was the same as last year. Duggan, Reid, Murray, point; Moore, cover point; O'Brien, Dwyer, Hill, defense field; Kelly, centre; Neville, McVay, Tansley, men on the outside; outside home; Tucker, inside home; D. Tansley, captain.
The Capitals team was: Crown, goal; Patterson, point; Quin, cover point; Devina, H. Carson, James, defense field; Blaisette, centre; Carlson, Carson, Leacy, Kechem, home; Murphy, inside home; Stuard, captain; O'Brien, Dwyer, Hill, defense field; L. Larmouth.
The game started promptly at 3 o'clock. Kelly and Blaisette faced and Blaisette passed to Carson. Rapid shying on the part of the Capitals, but Quinn was greatly saved. O'Meara and Tucker did great work. Capitals rushed down irrepressibly and scored in 24 minutes.
The second game was even faster, the Capitals having it all their own way and scoring in 14 minutes.
In the third game the Capitals' defence was too strong for the green gnomes' attack. Several fouls were committed, but the Capitals were a team in themselves. Crown got a cowardly blow on the forehead, but twice recovered brilliantly. The two Capitals were a team in themselves. Mean lost his head and struck right and left deliberately. Crown relieved the goal and falling had to be carried off the field. Devina made some remarks as he was carrying Crown in and was knocked down by a severe blow in the eye. Shamrocks picked up the game and an assault was made by Kelly on High Car. But High kept his hands down and the assault was not successful. An assault was made by Kelly on High Car. The fourth game lasted three minutes. Tansley scored. Each side had now two games.
Carson and O'Brien went off in the fifth game and Leacy received an injury in the abdomen that caused him to be carried off and hospitalized him. During a foul, which the referee did not notice, the Capital defence rushed to play and Kelly tried to walk through but was stopped by Crown. In the play which followed Tucker Crown's hand chancy and struck him twice. The referee never noticed this, and play being resumed the Capitals were defeated.
It was too dark to see the game. Not only this, but the crowd broke into the field and the referee was unable to see the play. In the play which followed Tucker Crown's hand chancy and struck him twice. The referee never noticed this, and play being resumed the Capitals were defeated.
Stuart hustled his men into the dressing room and the game was over. The Capitals were a team in themselves. Mean lost his head and struck right and left deliberately. EVERY MAN ON THE TEAM HURT
Brutal Treatment Received by the Ottawa Players - Montreal Houghs Allowed to Beat the Victors - Shamrocks Have Entered a Protest.
OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—The Capitals of Ottawa, Leeds champions of the year, this is the result of the great match on Saturday afternoon between the Capitals, of Ottawa, and the Shamrocks, of Montreal, and the end of the lacrosse series for the present season.
The Capitals have worked hard for the honor and they deserve their success. They played clean lacrosse on Saturday, and had the best of the playing throughout. It was a great match. An enormous crowd was present, the estimated attendance being over 10,000.
The Shamrock team was the same as last year. Duggan, captain, center; Moore, point; Quinn, cover point; Deane, H. Carson, James, defence field; Bismette, centre; Carlin, Carson, Lacey, Kechem, home; Murphy, inside home; Stuart, captain.
Before, W. D. Ald; umpire; D. Shepard and F. Larmouth.
The game started promptly at 3 o'clock. Kelly, center, was the first to be fouled, but he was not hurt. The Capitals were a team in themselves. O'Meara lost his head and struck right and left. He was carrying Crown and falling down by a severe blow in the eye. Shamrocks picked up after the rest. An assault was made by Kelly on Hugh Carson, but Hugh kept his hands down and Kelly was warned. The holding of the referee was foolish. James and Patterson repeatedly violated their goal. After passing up the field Kelly was fouled by Stuart, who was fouled by Stuart. The fourth game lasted three minutes, 42 seconds.
Carlin and O'Brien went in the fifth game, and Lacey received an injury in the abdomen that caused him to be carried off and hospitalized. During a foul, which the referee did not notice, the Capitals defence refused to play and Kelly was fouled by Stuart. The referee was not in the play which followed. Tucker put Crown's head in chancery and struck him twice. The referee never noticed this, and play being resumed the Capitals scored. This 10 minute interval was dark to see the game. Not only this, but the crowd broke into the field and the rowdy who had previously assaulted Devine ran out of the enclosure and deliberately hit Murphy. Hugh Carson was thrown into the crowd by Stuart. Stuart hunted his men into the dressing room. A general row was witnessed. The whole crowd went on the field and it took time to clear them off. There was eight minutes to go to the end of the game. The moon came out, but did not illuminate the players. A man struck Stuart with his fist and Carson was warned by the crowd, which rushed on the Capitals and beat them. The Capitals fought and bled profusely for the championship, but they won it by three goals to two.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The final game in the six-nights match, between Ives, of Chicago, and Roberts, of London, was played on Saturday night before 2,000 spectators, the American being declared the winner of the game and the week's contest amid much excitement.
Ives began play with the balls as they had been Friday night but scored only 19, the latter left a set-up and Ives ran 170, the score being Ives 200, Roberts 42. Then Roberts scored 28, Ives 150, and Ives 72 with a total of 278 to Ives 298. Play was slow. In the twenty-eighth Ives ran 81 and Roberts scored 48, leaving the balls on the rail for Ives. The score was—Ives 434, Roberts 339. Ives took the balls and made the biggest run of the match, scoring until he reached 423, the best yet scored in the match. The score then stood—Ives 856, Roberts 370. In the thirty-second Ives was fouled by Roberts, yet the Englishman played great billiards in the last inning and passed his own best score with 106. The final score was Ives 965, Roberts 588. Ives ran out with 84. The grand total was—Ives, 6,000; Roberts, 5,993.

A REVOLVING RATTLENAKE. He Got Caught In a Wagon Behind a Runaway Team.

Jim Savage of Raccoon, who recently told this strange snake story to New York Sun reporter: "I was driving down the road with the old man when I saw a yellow and black rattler sliding down the hillside, where they have been quarrying granite to build the dam. It was plain to me that the snake was going to cross the road. To my surprise, it came up there and all of the snakes are getting down to water fast as they can. Now, there is a little exception that comes into the story right here. I was reared in Missouri, and my mother always had an idea that snakes and larks of a snake crossed the road in front of a person. A snake crossed the road in front of me one day, and she died within a month. It made an impression on me, and I have always tried to get ahead of every snake since then.

"When I see this rattler sliding down the rocks, I hit the coils a lick with the whip, and they shivered and tried to stop. They saw or smelt that snake and showed their terror. I hit them another and, at the same time the snake shot out from the blackberry bushes into the road. The coils shied and jumped, and the snake came on. I had my eyes on him and was doing my best to hold the coils, but they were running away down the mountain now, and my hands were full. In less time than you could wink that snake was mixed up in the hind wheel, and as he was shodded through the axle his head or tail, I don't know which, caught me a wipe on the back of the neck. I leaped over to the right and turned as if he was within an inch of my face, and he was within an inch of my face. It seemed as if he span around in that wheel a dozen times, and me tugging at the reins and wishing I had a snake.

"Every time the wheel turned I saw a gleam of yellow and black and the die of the wheel by my ear, and the horse were going down the mountain belly-to-back, and me doing my utmost to hold on in and wishing I had a Westinghouse airbrake on the bugger. One in my anxiety to hold the coils, I straightened up and the crack behind the car, but I could not tell whether it was the head or the tail of the thing that was trying, and they weren't used to snakes. "I knew that something had got to happen, either we were going to have a smashup or the snake was going to get worse out, and just as we got to the bridge, the snake was in the trucking around he got fast in one of the wheels of the truck, and he was sticking the straight stretch in front of the bridge. I got the horse under control and then went back and looked at the snake. I found half of him on the bridge and the other half down on the bank under it. I cut the two halves together and measured them with a two foot rule. They measured 6 feet and 3 inches, but then I allowed a foot for stretching in stretching around in the wheel. "When we got down to Fred Castella's hotel in Butte, the old man told me 18 rattles on the seat of the buggy. I got him to examine my neck, and he didn't find a scratch, but as he was turning away he noticed something sticking to my coat collar and pulled it off. It was one of those things that you carry gum, as it was three-quarters of an inch long. I missed getting it in the neck by half an inch."

Female Convicts as Farm Laborers. Captain Maddox has a plantation of 6,000 acres on the banks of the Savannah river in Elbert county, Ga. He leases over 200 women convicts from the state at the rate of $10.00 a year and employs them as farm laborers. Only two of these women are white. They go to work at sunrise and return at sunset. The women are not shackled, either we are fastened to a chain, as the men are at other camps. There is a guard for every three convicts. Each prisoner will start off plowing, and a guard will follow. Another gang goes behind hosing, and there will be a guard with these women. The guards carry whips in their belts, but do not carry guns, as do the guards who follow the male convicts. Captain Maddox has given the women a little more liberty than some of them appreciated, and five have disappeared within the last month, but two are back in the stocks. On returning from work at sunset, the prisoners who were a strip down all day, go to a shower. Each one has her seat at a table. A guard supper the convicts go to the building where they sleep. They have an abundance of water and access to it. Each prisoner has a cot and a change of dress beside her. Many of the negro women are as strong as men. They can dig a well or quarry rocks and handle a ballast skiff. Last winter a canal had to be repaired, and the women did the work all right. Knowledge of the convicts is not in the hands of the men who strike for the river, and there through the dogs off their trail.

Blind Spirits From Their Eyes. In the "Proceedings of the United States National Museum" O. P. Hay gives a very interesting account of his experiments with the blind sometimes called a horned toad. It appears that upon irritating the animal with a stick, just above the eyes, for a few minutes, the animal would turn its head and strike an enemy with its own blood, and it is in the mouth of the blood and how it is expelled with such force, are the questions that are puzzling biologists. It is suggested that the purpose of the ejection of the blood, although it seems impossible, is to defend the animal from the attacks of enemies, although it seems impossible to effect an enemy. However, Mr. Hay thinks it likely that this is the purpose of the habit, and he says: "A discharge of blood into the eyes of some porcupine bird or snake might be seriously hurt, and it is possible that the blind might make it escape while its enemy was wiping its eyes."

OLD ENGLAND'S STRENGTH. A TRAIL OF HORROR.

There was a distinctly aristocratic stamp upon his face. Even to the casual observer who was not near enough to catch the accent of his speech it was apparent that he was the son of a noble race. "Yes," he replied, "I am your cousin at your feet."

Interesting to Apilartists.

A short time ago we published an article on the apary of Mrs. Jennie Atchley, of Greenville, Texas. Her husband contains 500 colonies and her chief business is the breeding of fine Italian queens. It is worthy of note that Mrs. Atchley uses the 8-frame simplicity Langstrath hive, and she has been successful in raising a queen which has laid 100 eggs in a week. The amount of extracted honey will be reported at the end of the season. Under date of Aug. 22, Mrs. Atchley writes Mr. W. S. Hough as follows:-

"Your card of 18th at hand, also your paper. I have read with pride the compliment you give us in your article on the 18th. You ask me to give you a statement of our business up to date this year. Now, we have not had the time to count up since we began in February, but we had with us Mr. J. W. Taylor, of Ozan, and I know how much we had done, and we handed him our books and he footed up 4668 queens sold to date and nearly 3000 colonies. We will reach the two season closes. We will move to Leville, Texas, this fall, where the winter is more favorable than here in north Texas. There we can raise queens all the year, as we will Hervey just about as far south as one can get in the United States. May God's richest blessings attend you in your far-away home is the wishes of a friend."

Lyndhurst Fair.

Lyndhurst fair this year was an unqualified success. Thursday, the first day, was all that could be desired, and as a consequence the number of the entry totaling up to 1237. The show of cattle, sheep, swine and poultry was fully up to the average both in quantity and quality. In the hall the display of fancy goods by Mrs. Alda Barlow, of Addison. The display of vegetables was without doubt the largest and best yet shown in Leeds County this year, there being on exhibition over twenty baskets of fine potatoes as we ever saw at any fair. Thursday, the second day, opened rather inauspiciously, and rain fell at intervals until about 10 a.m., when the rain stopped and the clouds took on a brighter hue. It was nearly one o'clock before the crowd began to arrive, and the grounds and buildings were soon filled with a large crowd of expectant and delighted citizens of the adjoining country. The show of marce, colts, and carriage, draught and general purpose horses was good. The races for the liberal purses offered by the committee on sports were keenly contested. D. Fourth took first money, A. Van Assline, second, and Dr. Boren, third. The race receipts were good, footing up to nearly $250. The prize list in full will be printed in these columns as soon as prepared by the secretary.
