Judges Pick Men Entitled to Compete in Series of Final Events of Stampede

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Sept. 6. Oscar S. Straus, former secretary of commerce and labor in the cabinet of President Roosevelt, was unanimously acclaimed nominee for governor of the Progressive party by a stampede convention this afternoon.

London, Sept. 6.—The Pall Mall Gazette this evening states that Prince Arthur of Connaught will receive signal honor in the shape of a duke on his return from his visit to Japan, where he represented the King at the coronation ceremonies.

ALTHOUGH tenders for the proposed big concrete bridges across the Bow and Elbow rivers have been in the hands of the city commissioners, Mayor Mitchell and Commissioner Clarke for nearly two weeks, they have not yet been opened.

Topoka, Sept. 7.—Because more than 4,000 horses died in Western Kansas since a mysterious disease broke out, army veterinarians at Fort Riley have established a quarantine prohibiting the bringing of any horses on the military reservation.

The Pinkerton men who are in the city working for Chief Cuddy during the Stampede, made their haul yesterday. Five men in all were taken into the dragnet, every one of them known by the police to be experts in the art of separating the unwary from their money.

One of the prettiest sights of Stampede week was that at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in front of the city hall, when His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught presented certificates of merit to more than 100 successful candidates of the Associated Board of the Royal Academy of Music.

It's "Suspenders" Jack McGee, chief voter from the saltery. Chairman Straus looked puzzled. McGee, who got his name in the Indiana campaign by siding with the "suspenders" party, but I know what I am doing, he said, as he swung up the platform steps. Chairman Straus looked at him with surprise on his face.

Five Alberta men will compete in the final for the world's championship bucking contest, which will commence this afternoon. The judges last night. Those who have won their way into the finals are as follows:

It is understood that the tenders on the concrete bridges are away from the original estimates for bridges as furnished by various concerns some time ago.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1912
MR. BORDEN'S RECEPTION

Great emphasis is being laid in certain quarters upon the enthusiastic and non-partisan character of the reception which is being accorded to Mr. Borden upon his return from England, and an effort is being made to interpret this reception as an acceptance of the naval policy which he has not yet announced.

No person of either party will grudge the premier the cheers of the crowds which greeted him upon his landing in Canada. No reception that is accorded to him will be so enthusiastic as to exceed his desert. Canadians of late have had no reason to feel anything but pride at the impression which her premiers have made upon the occasion of their visits to the Mother Country.

In this latter sentiment, to which Mr. Borden gave such eloquent expression, Canadians are united. They have a duty to perform and they will approach it with enthusiasm. As to the method of its performance, however, there may possibly be some difference of opinion.

There is no escape for Mr. Borden from conditions imposed by our system of government. We are proud to welcome him to Canada. We are proud to think that he should have represented us with such marked ability and dignity.

notions concerning monarchs they went together to a moving picture show!
The preferences expressed in the discussion of drinks may seem remarkable to some of us, but that, after all, is a matter of individual taste.

RECIPROCITY AND THE QUOTATIONS

Opponents of reciprocity are having "the time of their lives". Comparison of prices offered for the higher grades of grain at Winnipeg and Minneapolis show a noticeable spread in favor of the former market.

If, later on, when the Canadian farmer has grain of these higher grades to sell the quotations in the two markets reveal the same spread, the anti-reciprocity press may justly claim that they have scored a good point in the argument.

Individuals and newspapers in the United States who desire to uphold congress in its action upon the question of the canal tolls would best consult their own advantage in the dispute by remaining silent.

The latest contribution to the argument for the defence is that of one Professor Johnson. This gentleman tells us that American vessels engaged in a coastwise trade, the class of vessels that are to be exempted from toll, will, during the first two years after the opening of the canal, comprise not more than ten per cent. of the tonnage passing through the waterway.

The argument of the learned professor is, in short, that of the thief who has snatched your watch and, when taken with the thief defends himself with the argument that the timepiece was not an expensive one and endeavors to console you for the loss with the assurance that you are a fellow sufferer with his own brother, from whom he has stolen a chain.

Have an Average of 448 Francs in the Banks, Laid by for a Rainy Day; Comedies of Alpine Climbing; Woman Highest Climber
(By Noel Zimmerman)
ENEVA, Sept. 7.—The Swiss Government has just published the results of an inquiry it has been making for some time past into the savings habits of its people.

Alpine climbing has its comedies as well as its tragedies, though it is only of the latter we hear as a season follows season, increasing the death toll of the Alps. In former times, before mountaineering became an established sport, the simple, unspoiled dwellers in the Alps looked upon every Alpineist as a madman, a seeker after glory or the devil.

LACK OF MONEY TO PAY FOR MEAL RESULTS TRAGICALLY
A young Olmutz photographer named Edward Klitsch took his sweetheart, Marie Friedrich, for an excursion. They had dinner at a small inn, and finding that their joint money was not sufficient to pay for the meal they ran away to escape payment.

Being arrested for swindling, Marie Friedlich begged her lover to shoot her. Klitsch drew his revolver and fired one shot, wounding her fatally. Then he tried to shoot himself, but was prevented.

Miss Friedlich begged that a priest might be summoned, but died before her wish could be fulfilled. Klitsch was arrested.

Daughters of Empire Welcoming Address

To Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught: May it please your Royal Highness,

On behalf of the members of Colonel MacLeod Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of Empire, it is now my respectful and pleasant duty to bid you a true, loyal and sincere welcome to the City of Calgary, and to express to you our deep appreciation of the honor which you have so graciously extended to us, in affording us the privilege of addressing you.

In common with all other subjects of His Most Gracious Majesty, the people of Canada and more especially the members of our order have rejoiced at your restoration to health, following your recent illness, and we trust that for many years to come Divine Providence will grant you health and strength to enable you to continue, in conjunction with your illustrious consort, the practice of those Christian virtues with which the name of your Royal Highness is identified throughout the civilized world.

We rejoice that your Royal Highness has identified yourself with our order, and we feel assured that, with your assistance and guidance, our National Chapter will be strengthened and encouraged in the performance of its duties. It is most fitting, at this particular time in the history of our beloved Dominion, when a spirit of loyalty and devotion to the Empire is being inculcated among the citizens of every race and creed, a lady who occupies the exalted position of your Royal Highness should occupy the most prominent position in our order, and we feel confident that the results will fully justify your Royal Highness's gracious acceptance of the office of honorary president of our National Chapter.

It is our earnest prayer that Divine Providence which has sent you to this country as the consort of a governor-general whose character and example have won him universal respect may continue to bless your efforts and to strengthen your hands in the work of well-doing, and we feel assured that with the gracious assistance of your Royal Highness our order in Canada will increase in number and in loyalty to the throne, so as to justify the watchword which we have chosen, namely,

ONE FLAG! ONE THRONE! ONE EMPIRE!

Signed on behalf of Colonel MacLeod Chapter Imperial Order of Daughters of Empire, at the City of Calgary, in the Province of Alberta, Dominion of Canada, this Sixth day of September A.D., 1912.

THE BROOKS' LIFELESS PLAYING COST THEM THE GAME

Poorest Exhibition of Baseball Staged Here in Many Months... Even the Deadheads Demanded Rain Checks When it Was All Over

Harry Hayes Fanned Nine of Our Boys; the Score Was Eight to Five

All lifeless, rotten exhibitions of baseball which have been played in this city since the beginning of times, the one last night between Basans and Calgary had everything beaten by about ten city blocks.

The Brooks had the game won up to the seventh inning more by good luck than good management. Errors had been piling up to this time, but in this round the Brooks fielded the hits and catch the ball when thrown at them.

Smick Meyers' dauber went down when he saw what wretched support he was given, and he could scarcely be blamed. The twenty-one fans, four fanatics, and ten deadheads who witnessed the game were thoroughly disgusted with this burlesque on the national pastime.

The only good feature of the game was the work of Harry Hayes, who fanned eleven opposing batters, but four of the strikeouts were against Barney Barnstead, and they shouldn't count.

Umpire Sullivan was not present, so Phil Dimes and Julie Streib, each wearing a home and four blue caps making decisions.

SPORTING - FACTS - AND - FANCIES

CAN you blame the baseball boys for putting up a puny exhibition of baseball when only twenty-five fans showed enough interest in the game to pay two-bits to see the game? Last night's game was a listless one and was chock full of errors. It was not because the boys could not play better but rather because of the don't-give-a-damn attitude of the baseball public.

NEXT week the "Miniature World's Series" will begin. The Bronchos will battle with Bill Hurley's Deers, for the championship of the Western Canadian League. Two games will be played in Red Deer and then two in Calgary. The team which first wins four games will be declared the champions.

IF there is an atom of baseball-enthusiasm left in this city it should be manifested this next week. SPEAKING of baseball enthusiasm, do you realize that Red Deer, a town one-tenth the size of Calgary, has out drawn this city two to one in this last series? And this is true in spite of the fact that Calgary has had more than twice as many games at home than have the Hurleyites.

OLD COUNTRY FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS TODAY WITH GAMES IN EVERY LEAGUE

The Albertan Will Furnish Topical Stories Each Week of Old Country Games; Replay Between Callies and Hillies Next Saturday; Football News and Gossip

Today, over in the old country, the football season begins in real earnest. Of course, in Scotland, the teams have been at work for two weeks now, and some of the English league teams have been playing on different days during the last week. But they all go to it today. The Albertan will again furnish the topical stories of the games every Monday morning, as last season, with up-to-date news of the doings of the various clubs, etc., and the full results of Saturday's games will appear in the Monday morning edition.

The replay between Callies and Hillies will take place next Saturday at Hillhurst Park. This will be a fight to a finish. Should the score be tied at the close of the eighty minutes, extra time will be played, and some decisive arrived at. Thus there will be lots of excitement, and with no other sporting event clashing in Calgary on that date, a great crowd should be seen at Hillhurst Park.

Whitney touching on these teams, a great misfortune has happened to the Hillhurst club. Archie Stewart, the best left winger in the city, and who has done so well in that position for Hillhurst for several seasons now, is lying in the hospital with typhoid fever. Archie arrived from Vancouver, where his wife had undergone a serious operation last Saturday morning, just in time for the game with the Callies in the afternoon. He was not in the best of shape, and though he did some good work, that something was wrong with him was evident. Not being well after the game, a doctor was called in, and he said the player was suffering from typhoid fever, and immediately he was taken to the hospital. All footballers will sympathize with the unfortunate player.

Hillhurst last week signed on another forward, Joseph Munro, a centre forward, who played in the same team at Alce Melville in San Francisco. Alec says he is a good man, and being registered in sufficient time to play in the deciding game next Saturday, will be of considerable assistance to the team.

Alderman Frank Hiley has arrived in the city after having been on an extended tour east. Mr. Hiley says that the beginning of the season, that he was relieved. He will be out of the game for a week. The tour of the Corinthians opened the eyes of the team across the pond to the great interest that was being taken in the game over here, and we shall probably see some good teams coming through the Dominion in future seasons. According to a letter received by George Broughton from the secretary of the Bordeaux team, Bordeaux, France, in 1911 and 1912, it is probable that they will come through next July or August. The tour of the Corinthians covered last year.

Another club in "2" section, who had a great interest in the result of the match, and with the Y's winning did not like the look of things. However, the league considered that with the Y's winning by such a decisive margin, the match was a foregone conclusion of the championship, and a replay being of no advantage to them, it would be unfair to the Y's to have a replay, which could only benefit the club who were the real contenders. They then awarded points to the Y's.

The deciding game will have to be played on Saturday, though when an open date will be found is hard to say. The proceeds are to go to two players who sustained broken limbs during the season, and considering they are for such a worthy object, it is earnestly desired that the fixture will be well supported.

With the deciding game in the Calgary league to be played off next week, everything is now in order to go ahead with the Bennett Shield games. Five teams are entered—Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Red Deer, and Lloydminster. The draw will take place early next week.

There was some talk at the beginning of this season of a French team touring Canada. The tour of the Corinthians opened the eyes of the team across the pond to the great interest that was being taken in the game over here, and we shall probably see some good teams coming through the Dominion in future seasons.

GEORGE LEWMAN JIM CORBET ROASTS PAPER WHICH ATTACKED BOXING AS CONDUCTED BY NEW YORK BOXING COMMISSION

Ex-Champion Maintains Boxing as Conducted in New York is Clean Game; If McFarland Wins From Wol-gast Will He Be Champion?

By James J. Corbett. (Former Heavyweight Champion of the World.) (Special to The Albertan.) New York, Sept. 7.—A local paper boasts editorially that it will stop boxing in this state, as it stopped horse racing and its attendant vices. It is a little arrangement of the sport, boxers and patrons of the game are referred to as thugs, criminals, pickpockets, and degraded. Which in my humble opinion convicts Mr. Editor of having other reasons than those he advances for instigating an attack on a sport that, as at present conducted in New York state, compares favorably with other forms of professional athletic diversion.

SPORT GOSSIP OF THE OLD COUNTRY

The close of the Sussex race meeting marked half way in the racing season, and at this time it is somewhat easy to forecast the standing of the leading owners, trainers, jockeys, and principal actors, both human and equine, are still well in the running, and particularly so in the case of the principal actors, of whom Lord Derby, W. Raphael, T. Pilkington and E. Hulton have all won well over £10,000 in stakes.

Range Talks by the Housekeeper

No. 1. Subject "The Appearance of a Range" "It's nonsense to say that the housewife does not prize a beautiful range—YOU may as well say that a woman does not prize a nice home. Most women like beautiful things—they like every room in the house to reflect their good taste.

"The first thing a woman notes about a range is its appearance. You cannot evade that fact, you cannot afford to ignore it. The appearance of a range is of great importance to every housekeeper, and our biggest range makers know it.

"For instance, look at this range—it stands out prominently—compels closer acquaintance—demands investigation. LONDON TORONTO MONTREAL WINNIPEG 201

When Oscar Wilde came to the United States to lecture on his highly aesthetic velvet costume—and incidentally to prepare the public mind for the proper appreciation of Gilbert & Sullivan's "Patience," in which the aesthetic movement was held up to ridicule—he used to complain that America was very uninteresting since it had "no antiquities and no curiosities."

Toronto's police play censors have been playing havoc with art again—this time, however, in an indirect way. During the summer the Gayety theatre, which is devoted to burlesque, has been in the hands of the decorators.

HALF A YEAR ON AND A NEW PRESIDENT OF THE FRENCH REPUBLIC WILL BE CHOSEN

Most Conspicuous Candidate of Leon Bourgeois, the Minister of Labor, a Man of Brilliant Parts, and Who is Not Seeking the Position

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Half a year on, and we have the election for president at Versailles. None can tell who is and who is not a candidate, and therein lies one of the little differences of the French and American systems.

Some interesting details of the revival of Catholicism in France since the Separation Act are given in the French press. It was certainly thought that the loss of property consequent on the act would cripple the French church for many years to come. But the contrary is the result. The bishops are no longer compelled to ask the government for permission to open new churches or divide parishes that had become too large. There has consequently been a steady increase in new churches and parishes.

In Paris today there are nine more parishes than there were when the separation of church and state was effected. In the Parisian suburbs the number of new parishes is 15. In addition to this 24 new district chapels have been opened. It is estimated that the creation of new parishes in Paris and in the suburbs and the opening of chapels has placed public worship within the reach of 433,000 persons who formerly were deprived of the advantage.

The result has been a steady increase in the number of people attending church in Paris. This all points to the conclusion that disestablishment is not the unmitigated evil that churchmen declare it to be, but that, on the contrary, by giving more freedom to a church it leads to the revival of religion.

The destruction of birds in the south of France and the Riviera has naturally encouraged the growth of insects, and the roses and orange groves have been attacked by swarms of pests that threaten to destroy them. The authorities have sent for specimens of the insects to settle in the government's entomological station near Naples, but a far better remedy would have been the prohibition of insect-eating birds.

The future of the Riviera is a matter of some concern. A Parisian staying at one of the most cosmopolitan resorts on the coast of France made a bet he could always tell a Parisienne even when the lady was in a bathing dress. As he always won, his friends asked him the secret of his success. He replied that it was very simple; that he looked at the arms. He went on to explain that since short sleeves came into fashion every Parisienne who had any pretensions to smartness walked with her arms bared by her sides, and with the palm of the hand turned outwards. The reason he did not pretend to know, but suggested that the pose was possibly intended to bring out the dimples at the elbow, which the short sleeves leave bare.

A small provincial town can boast of the handsomest gendarme in France. His right to the championship of masculine beauty cannot be contested after an incident which happened at the publication of his marriage banns. All the young women in the little town admired him. When the marriage banns were posted up at the mairie the banns of the bride caused a stir and a flutter among all the hopeful ones for miles around. They had all expected to win the heart of the stalwart brigadier. As they did not succeed, their jealousy towards the bride had chosen was such that it begot murderous instincts. One of the young ladies could not resist the temptation. On the day of the wedding she drove up in a motor-car to the square front of the mairie, and

When the wedding party arrived she flourished a revolver and fired. It is not known whether she intended to hit the bride or the bridegroom, but fortunately neither the one nor the other was struck. She was disarmed at once by the other gendarmes, and when questioned she admitted that she had borne the idea that the gendarme should get married together.

The futurist painters intend to publish a new manifesto, in which they will reformulate their artistic creed. It will give a few of their cardinal dogmas: To paint a human face one must not paint it. A galloping horse has not four hoofs. It has twenty, and their movements are triangular. A portrait should not resemble the sitter.

CANADIAN PAGODA AMONG THE CLOUDS—This is not a scene from Turkey or Arabia, but from Toronto. It is one of the four corners or to be on the 19-story Canadian Pagoda building, said to be the tallest cloud-scraper in the British Empire. The photograph was taken from one of the other towers and a glimpse of the city is shown spread far out below.

PUNISHMENT OF THOSE WHO REBEL AGAINST SPAIN

OPORTO, Sept. 7.—The trials of conspirators, who are termed, "are being carried on in Chavez, Calles de Baeto, and Braga, but they lag, and it will be a long time before the large number of those who have been arrested all over the north have come through the courts. The sentences are severe, and many are sentenced to imprisonment to be followed by deportation for ten years, or in the alternative of deportation for 30 years to an African possession.

Historic Scenes Being Obliterated by Vandalism of Builders and Owners

Treasures of Dead City Go to Fill Museums and Homes of Archaeologists

PARIS, Sept. 7.—The last vestiges of ancient Carthage are rapidly disappearing before the vandalism of builders and property owners who cater for the well-to-do French-Italians, Greeks and Arabs of Tunis, and the pillage fills French archaeologists, artists and historians with grief and indignation, especially as France holds a protectorate over Tunis.

In the seventeenth century travellers testified to the magnificence of the ruins of Carthage, ruins which showed with Roman and Byzantine features, for after its destruction by the Romans in the year 146 B.C., the famous city was colonized by them, and ultimately passed under the rule of the Greek Emperors who reigned at Constantinople.

Its final downfall was effected by the Saracens in 697 of our era. But in modern times two younger towns, Tunis and Goulette, rose beside the dead city, which they pillaged to provide material for their expansion. The great mosque of Tunis, for example, has 150 columns taken from Carthage. Many private houses in Tunis are built of marble from the same source, which has also yielded material for the aqueduct crossing the Barde road. The fort of Goulette, rebuilt in 1555 with vestiges of the illustrious town, from the marbles of which Italian villas and other buildings are formed, has 150 columns taken from Carthage. The fort of Goulette, rebuilt in 1555 with vestiges of the illustrious town, from the marbles of which Italian villas and other buildings are formed, has 150 columns taken from Carthage.

In 1904 the whole district of the venerable city, ruins included, was sold for five francs the square metre. The next year a similar operation took place. Nothing remains of the colossal staircase that was seen and admired as lately as 1884, nothing of the Temple of Antares. The mosque have either been, wantonly destroyed, by the fellahs or taken away and sold piecemeal, and if any beautiful bits remained, travellers sacrificed them to the taste for souvenirs. Since 1884 many efforts have been made to protect what was left of the remains, but only the French government can take effective action on a large scale.

A theatre, an amphitheatre, and some of the remains of the baths have been discovered, and cemeteries have been laid bare and safeguarded. The baths of Antonius and Circus, an extremely large one have not yet been explored, and unless some protecting law is passed immediately it will be too late for the pickaxe to touch the wreckers. They sometimes use dynamite.

ALDERMAN RILEY RETURNS FROM VISIT EAST

Says Reports Are Being Circulated That 50 Per Cent of Crop is Ruined

Displeased With the Condition of Hillhurst Street; Will Open Morley Trail

"The east is still knocking the west, and some of the reports in eastern papers about the western crops, is shameful," said Alderman Frank Riley when he returned to the city on Thursday morning after a two months' vacation in Eastern Canada.

Just before leaving the east Alderman Riley saw in a Toronto paper, that frost and wet weather would delay ripening and injure fifty per cent of the crop. Coming through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, Alderman Riley made several inquiries, and from information received, he believed that eighty five per cent of the west crop was now in stock.

Another report in eastern papers was to the effect that railway construction labor in the west was overstocked and there were as a consequence many men in the west out of work. Enroute west, Alderman Riley was impressed with the large gangs of men at work on the C. P. R. either repairing, constructing or double tracking. He was told by a prominent C. P. R. official that the three railways the C. P. R., G. T. P. and C. N. R. could have any time during the summer, used at least five thousand more men than were available.

While in the east Alderman Riley did not forget to tell the Easterners about Calgary and the west. That Calgary was municipally owned and municipally controlled, struck the Easterner as almost extraordinary, especially to know that the public utilities helped to reduce the tax rate to only 12 1/2 mills, while in Montreal and Victoria the mill rate was 20 and 25 respectively.

Since his return home Alderman Riley has received a number of complaints from his ward about the way the streets are cut up across the Hillhurst bridge. He said it was a shame to have the Morley trail road in Hillhurst blocked and cut up with construction work for over a year. The work has been started months and months ago, and with it only half completed the contractors had stopped work for what reasons he had been unable to find out. The alderman said he would see that something was done with this road at once.

OLYMPIA THREATENED WITH "DRY" ELECTION

Olympia, Wash., Sept. 7.—Olympia is threatened with a dry election. Petitions were circulated yesterday in the churches and were numerously obtained. The election will be held in November.

J. F. Schively, Republican, of Olympia, and Jesse P. Murphy, Democrat, of Seattle, rival candidates for state insurance commissioner, were speakers at the Labor Day celebration this afternoon at Little Rock, this county. More than two scores of county candidates representing the different parties were present getting acquainted with the voters.

WHEN THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL SPENT TWO HOURS WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

In Toronto recently, the Duke of Connaught and Princess Patricia reviewed three thousand Boy Scouts, assembled from all over Canada. He was deeply interested in the work and had a word to say to every lad on parade. From left to right are J. G. Kent, the Duke of Connaught, Hon. George E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce; Princess Patricia, Miss Adams, lady-in-waiting to the princess; Mr. John C. Eaton, owner of the largest department stores in the empire; Commandant Hammond of the Boy Scouts. The boys in the upper picture are demonstrating "first aid" work and the lower picture shows scout bicycle riders removing a supposedly injured comrade to the hospital.

BERLIN PICKPOCKETS MAKE RICH HAUL

Berlin, Sept. 6.—A gang of pickpockets made a rich haul yesterday near Munich as the result of organizing a panic among a multitude of pilgrims on the way to the celebrated shrine known as "Mary's Oak."

The pickpockets, who had taken their places in the mile-long procession of 15,000 pilgrims, suddenly shouted, "Danger! Look out for the motor car!" The pilgrims were plunged into wild alarm, and men, women and children tripped over one another in order to escape the panicked peril. Forty or fifty were taken to an adjacent hospital in an unconscious state. One old woman was seized with a fit of religious hysteria and was with difficulty prevented from throwing herself in front of a moving railway train.

When the excitement subsided it was found that the thieves had robbed the pilgrims of acres of watches and purses and of jewelry.

A man can make a pretty fair kind of a fool out of himself, but it takes a woman to complete the job for him.

MEANEST MAN IN CANADA AT MACLEOD LAST SUNDAY

Went in Christ Church and Stole Money From the Collection Box

Macleod, Alta., Sept. 6.—It is a sorrowful thing to announce that the meanest man in Canada was in Macleod Sunday. Let us hope he was a non-resident and has already shaken the dust—or the mud—of Macleod from off his feet.

Whoever it was he stole the morning collection at Christ Church. The money had been placed in a little box, near the vestry, for the wardens, but when looked for it had disappeared. The exact amount stolen is not known, but there were several cheques, payment on which will be stopped.

THE TROUBLE IN ULSTER IS THAT NEITHER PARTY CAN SEE ANY GOOD IN THE OTHER

James Douglass Asks the Question: "Is Ulster Irish?" and is Overwhelmed With Replies; Ancient Ancestry of Those of Ulster

(By James Douglass) BELFAST, Sept. 7.—Last week I asked the question, "Is Ulster Irish?" My attempt to answer this very difficult and very crucial question has brought me a goodly sheaf of letters. It has also started a healthy controversy in the Irish press. It would be very helpful if the Irish press could be brought into closer relationship with the British press. It would also be helpful if the Irish Nationalist newspapers and the Irish Unionist newspapers could give up the habit of ignoring each other and could be persuaded to reason together instead of hurling stale epithets at each other. I should like to see a debate on the vital question, "Is Ulster Irish?" conducted by The Belfast News-Letter, The Northern Whig, The Irish News, The Evening Telegraph, The Ulster Echo and The Ulster Guardian. It would be a very instructive debate, and it might lead to a better understanding of the opposing points of view in Ulster. The trouble in Ulster is that neither party can be persuaded to see any virtue or any good in the other party. One might go further and say that each party is afraid to see any virtue or any good in the other party. Both parties are desperately afraid of finding a seed of common ground upon which there would be room for their contending feet. Anybody who tries to find a neutral soil is at once bludgeoned by both sides. I have sought diligently and with tears to discover neutral soil to stand upon, a soil on which I could hold to my faith in home rule without consigning myself to Ulster to perdition. It may be my misfortune to be able to see quite clearly the two points of view and to realize that both are right. Even in morals there is sometimes a conflict between two rights, and that is possible in morals is still more possible in politics. If only the Irish Nationalists could see the Ulster point of view and the Ulster Unionists could see the Nationalist point of view, a harmony might be obtainable. But, as an Irish lady writes, nothing can be settled by fighting it out with bible and brutal bitterness.

Is there no neutral soil upon which both parties might meet? It seems to me that the conception of an Irish Ulster is that soil. When I raised the question I had no doubt that Ulster was Irish. It is amusing to find that the mere asking of the question is regarded by some Ulstermen as an insult to Ulster. "One of the oldest stocks," writes a delightful letter to The Irish News, in which he says he saw a newspaper placard, "Is Ulster Irish?" He did not buy or read the paper. The question was enough for him. He had never before seen a doubt expressed that Ulster was Irish. "Of course," he says, "Ulster is Irish; I claim every man born in Ulster as an Irishman. My own ancestors came over from Spain with the Mhedan invaders some time about the year 1600 B. C. according to the annals; but let me emphatically disclaim the idea that I am Spanish in any respect. I am Irish—as Irish as Ulster." I would not say that I admire this Ulsterman's pedantry. Few of us can trace our ancestry so far back as three thousand five hundred years, but let me emphasize the fact that I am not the emperor of Japan feel like an upstart.

The Irish News in a long leading article discusses the question, "Is Ulster Irish?" It rebukes me for continuing my investigations to the Ulster Scot. It points out that Ulster is the largest of the four provinces of Ireland, its area being 36.3 per cent of the area of all Ireland, and its population being 1,675,912. It assures me that nearly half the people of Ulster are not of

LEPER CONCEALED DISEASE WHEN HE GOT MARRIED

Wife Now Seeks Divorce Because She Was Deceived by Her Husband

Seattle, Sept. 6.—Allegations of a most sensational nature, involving extreme cruelty, are contained in the divorce papers of Mrs. John Ruskin Early, wife of the leper whose detention at Washington aroused a bitter controversy, and whose transcontinental flight ended at Tacoma, Wash., according to a dispatch from that city last night.

Early is now at the Diamond Head Quarantine Station on Puget Sound, where he was removed in March this year, after a county, state and the United States government had been appealed to by frightened residents of the district where he lived.

His disease during the last month has reached the easily contagious stage, summons served on Early, has brought a hospital since April through nervous prostration.

Colonel Winter, secretary of the Society of Miniature Rifle Clubs, recently stated that in the last two years the rifle clubs had more than doubled in number and new organizations were coming in rapidly. There was no added load, the clubs provided a most useful recreation for an immense number of people, who would be ready and competent, if necessary, to defend their country. Several hundred thousands of men and women had through their instrumentality been taught the use of the rifle, and in addition to that practical result they had been taught a loftier sense of patriotism.

NAT GOODWIN BETTER; WILL ACT AGAIN SOON

Los Angeles, Sept. 7.—Nat Goodwin, who was seriously injured several weeks ago in a boat accident, will be able to return to the stage in about a month, according to his physician, Dr. J. C. Ferbert. Goodwin is still confined to his bed, but he will be out within two weeks, said Doctor Ferbert.

With the aid of gymnasium weights placed at the head of his bed, Goodwin goes through a series of daily exercises which he hopes will enable him to regain his strength as soon as he gets on his feet again.

He is Some Objector. Four years ago Colonel Roosevelt was opposed to publicity of campaign contributions before election. Just now the Colonel probably objects to publicity of campaign contributions eight years after election.

DO YOU KNOW LAKE VIEW HEIGHTS

is by far the highest class residential property inside the city limits of Calgary, and at prices much below anything in the city with half the natural advantages?

IF NOT, COME IN AND LET US PROVE IT TO YOU

REMEMBER, we are spending over $100,000 in improvements in Lake View Park, which is in the centre of Lake View Heights, and are setting out next spring 10,000 Russian Poplar Shade Trees, which means two trees in front of each 25-foot lot in the entire property, which means, of course, the lots we have sold or will sell up till then, and now we ask you to stop and consider these facts just one moment.

LAKE VIEW HEIGHTS is just three miles from the Post Office, inside the city limits and the car line now is less than a mile from us. Does it not seem reasonable to expect the car line to be extended that distance to Calgary's only lake and the finest park in Western Canada? Furthermore, we know we will not only get a first class street car service, but all other city improvements before your lots are paid for on our easy terms.

LAKE VIEW PARK, AS IT WILL BE IN 1913.

DON'T LEAVE CALGARY WITHOUT MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN LAKE VIEW HEIGHTS

which will make you more money than you have ever made in proportion to the amount invested. Don't forget the fact that Calgary is the most progressive, up-to-date, metropolitan city on the American Continent today, and that her growth up to now has been made with only one railroad and less than one-tenth of the tributary farming community developed; then imagine what it will do with three trunk line railroads coming in this fall and the vast, rich, raw lands are under cultivation. Is there any reason why Calgary should not continue to grow to a city of at least 100,000 population or perhaps two or three times that size? Then, when this is so, can you realize what your profit will be from an investment of a few hundred dollars? Will you come in and talk it over with us? Let us show you that it will be much to your advantage to secure one or more pair of lots in Lake View Heights.
