INSURANCE ON CHILDREN THE AUDITOR'S PETITION.

30,000 POLICIES SAID TO BE CARRIED IN CANADA. The Question of Making Child Insurance a Crime Discussed by the Senate-Committee of Opinion That the Ontario Law is Sufficient and the Facts Do Not Warrant Interference.

Ottawa, June 11.-In the Senate Mr. McClellan called attention to the crimes said to have developed from the practice of effecting insurance on the lives of children and those incompetent to make personal application for insurance, and asked the Government if it proposed to take any measures to restrict or prevent such practices.

The Senator disclaimed any personal interest in any insurance company. He simply desired to place the question fairly before the Senate. In the working out of even of marine and fire insurance, he said, there were many instances where the policy was secured and the premium being scuttled and buildings burned for insurance money, but the general principle of insurance was so soundly accepted that he had no desire to invade the prerogative of insurance companies. With reference to life insurance, however, he thought Parliament should exercise great care.

The question he desired to bring to the attention of the Senate, however, did not affect the general question of insurance, but only the practice of insuring the lives of children and those incapable of taking out insurance themselves. The insurance of minors, he thought, should be made a misdemeanor, and he argued that its prohibition would be a benefit to every well-established insurance company. So important had this question of infantile insurance become in the State of Massachusetts, that a short time ago a committee of the Senate had been appointed to enquire into the question, and a bill was passed by the Senate prohibiting the practice in that State, but was defeated in the Legislature. He quoted extensively from the evidence taken before this committee, to show that the system of insuring the lives of children was a premium upon fraud and crime, and among the poorer classes led to children being neglected.

Coming to the question as it affected Canada, he quoted from an Ottawa newspaper the meeting of the special Board of Health at which the practice of insuring the lives of children was universally condemned as leading to neglect of the insured children. One of the members of the Board at that meeting had said that there were no less than 30,000 policies on children being carried in Canada. He was aware that the bulk of this business was carried on by foreign insurance companies, doing business in the country, principally the Metropolitan Company of New York.

Senator Allan I do not think there is a single Canadian company carrying on a business of insuring young children. The Senator said that he would like to see the statement that 30,000 of these policies are being carried in the country. In the State of Massachusetts, he said, the Legislature had extended so extensively, vigorous efforts have been made to prohibit it, and he thought it was time for the Canadian Parliament to interfere and prevent the growth of the practice in Canada. He hoped the Government would take some steps to put a stop to this growing evil.

Don't Judge Canada by the U.S. Senator Gowen thought the general consensus of opinion was in favor of life insurance. The insurance of children in Canada was carried on with a great deal of caution. Canadian companies, he said, regarded themselves in a large measure as the custodians of the lives of the children they insured. It was quite unfair, he contended, to judge the business in Canada by its abuses in the United States. Infantile insurance was not very prevalent in Canada, and was so limited by law as to prevent the possibility of fraud. He pointed out the advantage of early insurance, and why he claimed that the practice was not abused in Canada as it was contended it was in the United States. He thought Senator McClellan was opposed to life insurance anyway.

The Ontario Law Sufficient. Senator Scott thought it was unfair to restrict the amount at which the lives of children could be insured for under the laws of Ontario, it was ridiculous to say there could be any incentive to fraud or crime. Senator McClellan, he said, had to go to the United States for examples to illustrate the abuses he complained of, and then only gave one side of the case. He quoted from speeches delivered in the Legislature of Massachusetts in the debate on the bill to prohibit infantile insurance, the practice had not brought out evidence sufficiently strong to warrant the Legislature in abolishing the practice. So far as the question affected Canada, he thought the Ontario Act, which restricted the amount of insurance to $500, was more than sufficient to pay funeral expenses in the cases of young children, was a sufficient safeguard against abuse. There were, he said, only two Canadian companies that dealt in children's insurance, and although there was no law restricting the amount in the Province of Quebec, the companies did business in all the provinces, he understood, on the basis of the Ontario law. The only way in which the Federal Parliament could interfere in the matter would be to make infantile insurance a criminal offence, and he thought the present facts of the case did not warrant interference. Senator Boulton spoke in favor of a system of State insurance.

The subject then dropped. Cholera and all summer complaints are so quick in their action that the cold hand of death is visiting the victims before they are aware that danger is near. If attacked do not delay in getting the proper medicine. Try a dose of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial and you will get immediate relief. It acts with wonderful rapidity and never fails to effect a cure.

CORONERS IN CONFLICT. The American Authorities Claim the Body of Samuel Coulter, Victim of the Lewiston Assault.

The injuries which Samuel Coulter, an employe of the Chicago, sustained in a case at Lewiston last Thursday, resulted fatally at the General Hospital yesterday morning. The coroner of Lewiston, however, claims that Coroner Walker of Lewiston would come to Toronto to-day to claim the body on behalf of the American authorities.

Debs & Co. Now in Jail. Chicago, June 11.-President Debs of the American Railway Union reported to United States Marshal Arnold to-day. Messrs. Keiler, Howard, Rogers, Elliott, Burns, Hogan and Goodwin, the other A.R.U. officers and directors, also reported. All went to Woodstock jail.

OF THE FIRST IMPORTANCE. Mr. Balfour on Newspaper Advertising and its Meaning to Civilization. Mr. Balfour showed true discernment when he remarked in a speech before the English Newspaper Society the other evening that the newspaper "in its capacity as an advertising agent, is after all of the first importance of any civilized society, inasmuch as it brings together from distant regions the most powerful and those who have something to buy."

It is not too much to say that the development of modern civilization has been assisted by no agent so powerful as the newspaper; and the progress of all trade, enterprise and invention which has distinguished this century, and more especially the last generation, has been accelerated by no means more effectual than newspaper advertising. The advertisement brings together the seller and the buyer, the supply and demand, as in former times and to a comparatively limited extent they were brought by the fairs and market days. By thus facilitating and vastly increasing their means of communication, it has helped to reduce prices, to stimulate the competition and emulation from which comes improvement in production, and to increase the general standard of living.

With the assistance of improved means of transportation and communication, largely dependent on it also for the publicity necessary to their prosperity, it has changed the whole face of modern society, given uniformity to its dress and its wants, and opened up to the inventor, the manufacturer and all producers a market which is world-wide. The sign of the merchant is no longer confined to his immediate place of business. He puts it in the newspaper for all men to see. Information requisite for everybody is obtainable by the great masses of the public from the advertisements only. Only by means of the advertisements can they both supply and make generally known private wants upon which their welfare depends. They serve as a labor exchange, a directory, a bulletin, a price list, and a means of obtaining distinction otherwise impossible for traders and producers.

The benefit that comes to a great newspaper from its advertising is infinitesimal as compared with that received by the advertisers themselves. In the purchase of the newspaper the advertiser pays a privilege which, as Mr. Balfour says, is one of the most important conferred on society by the growth and development of the newspaper. Whatever tends to increase the circulation and to deepen the respect and confidence in the newspaper, increases directly to the advantage of the advertiser. The newspaper also gains in its power to serve the public by the publicity it extends to the range of its information, and by elevating the quality of its intellectual ability by thus serving the interests of the advertiser.

Without publishing the advertisements, it would be deficient in some of the most useful information of the day. Without its other contents, it would be a mere waste of paper, only by the assistance of advertising support, it would be valueless to the advertiser. Every department of trade in New York, which has grown to great activity has been fostered, first of all, by advertising. Merchants, not many years ago unknown beyond a narrow neighborhood, have by this means advertised their names and their business into a direction which extends through the Union any where throughout the world. Little shops with a petty trade have developed rapidly into great bazaars under the stimulus of advertising. New methods of business which have been possible by its means. As a dealer's market has been thus extended, he has been able to reduce prices and yet make a far larger gain because of vastly increased sales.

The use of the advertising advantages of a great newspaper is really only in the beginning of its development. So far it has barely touched trade as compared with the extent to which it will be carried as business sagacity learns to appreciate its advantages unqualified by any and all other methods of lavishing patronage for nearly every department of business. The art of preparing advertisements so that they shall attract attention and provoke interest is also greatly improving at this time. They are beginning to be constructed with really admirable literary skill. Their typographical appearance in the newspapers is much better than formerly, especially for the advertiser. His advertisements have become more than ever a principal feature of interesting and important information. Their value to the advertiser is greater than ever, while more than ever the public are looking to them as guides in making their purchases and indications of business enterprise by which they can profit. As a rule in the retail trade more especially, but also to a wide extent in wholesale production also, the volume of trade, and the greater the sum of the profits.-New York Sun.

IS THE SYNOD WASTEFUL?

DELEGATES ASK THAT ECONOMY IS NOT PRACTISED.

Many Parishes Will Not Pay Assessments—Is the Game Worth the Candle?—General Decrease in the Funds—St. Alban's Distressed Debt—Bishops of Toronto and Algoma Give Addresses.

Equable and almost dull were the proceedings of the Toronto Synod yesterday. It was all plain sailing in the reception and adoption of reports, the salient features of which were decreased receipts for augmented needs.

In the two Episcopal addresses—those of their Lordships of Toronto and Algoma—there were to be detected most possible optimistic notes. There was a disposition to work rather than talk yesterday by both cleric and lay delegates, and the inevitable skirmishes are for the present postponed.

The synod was opened by Archdeacon Boddy reading the customary prayer for "the spirit of wisdom, peace, love and of a sound mind," and that "we may henceforth be all of one heart and one mind, united in one holy bond of truth and love."

The Bishop's Address. When Dr. Sweetman rose, manuscript in hand, and said "Reverend brethren and laity," all promptly rose to their feet, on which His Lordship said, "Take your seats, gentlemen," which they obeyed.

The address was a plain, business-like statement. During the year three of the clergy of the diocese had been removed by death—Rev. Henry Brent, native of England, subsequent Canon of St. Alban's; Rev. Henry Willmott, native of the United States, late Rector of Trinity University; Rev. James Baker, native of Ireland, Curate of St. James's Cathedral 1895, afterwards of St. Mark's, Port Hope.

Generous tributes were paid these deceased clergy, and also the following laymen: Robert H. Bethune, Basil Rowe, late of Hamilton.

One Guest and Another Cometh. The changes in clerical staff were a loss of three by death and nine by removal. As a set-off Mr. Cooper stated that it was within the power of the delegates to limit the expenditure. When very few were present in the closing hours of the synod votes were cast for a question which might not have been with a full attendance.

Mr. Rowlow Cumberland objected to the varying methods of assessment. One fixed principle should prevail. Mr. Worrell objected to the raising of a question which had been definitely settled.

The president ruled further discussion out of order. Still the points in question cropped up.

At no time had the parishes and missions of the diocese been more amply supplied than at present. In 16 years there had been an increase from 103 to 126 clergy.

A Gloomy Statement. Then came a less cheering statement—the total controlled for 1894 was $9851, the smallest sum contributed in any year during his episcopate, and quite inadequate to meet the reduced scale of grants to the missionaries. The consequence is an addition of $1157 to the unsecured debt, which now amounts to $2945. In the meantime $11,293 have been paid through the synod office for domestic and foreign missions.

"I cannot speak," added the Bishop, "on this depressing state of affairs in stronger terms than I used in my address last year. I can say only what my brethren and the clergy to strenuous efforts that our church may be relieved of this burden and reproach."

The New Vest of Trinity. His Lordship narrated the steps which had led to the appointment of Rev. E. C. Bishop of King's College, Cambridge, Eng. as successor of Provost Body. The tribute was a very generous one to the resident chaplain of Trinity, who had been described as the greatest of English divines.

Distressed Debtors. The financial embarrassment of St. Alban's Cathedral was the next topic of Bishop Sweetman's address. The arrears of unpaid interest are a distressing burden of debt. "I can only cry, 'How long?' and pray with such faith and confidence as may enable me, that relief may not be much further delayed; that the church people of this diocese, especially of the Toronto diocese, will value the cathedral establishment as the centre of church life and activity, as open temple for daily worship to all toilers."

Hare System of Voting. The election of the Executive Committee for several years past has been what is known as the Hare system of voting or proportional representation. The members of the committee are not in love with this system, and one of the clauses in the report recommended a change to the simple majority voting. On this point C. W. Riggall, Esq., entered a strong protest. No valid reasons were advanced for maintaining the system, which was inaugurated by Hon. Edward Blake, Provost Body and Dr. Langtry. The synod, said he, is a representative body, not given to rash or radical change. It does not like another representative body that is given to itself by reversing its proceedings against the will of the majority.

Dr. George Hodgson stated that the proposed change was on the initiative of the scrutineers, who had to be enlightened in the working of the Hare system at successive synods by Provost Body (Langtry).

Seconded by Rev. T.W. Patterson, the doctrine of the canon on proportional representation be repealed, and that we revert to the system of allowing a majority of votes to determine an election.

Mr. T. H. Ince wished the Hare system to be tried a little longer. There were speeches pro and con, some favoring minority representation and others alleging that the results were not for the greatest good of the synod.

Mr. Riggall objected to having a ticket put into his hand and being asked to vote thereon, which was the old system. He wished to prevent a resurrection of the old party ticket, which was not only not only dominant, and which would be put into disreputable flame if it were to be resurrected.

Mr. George B. Kirkpatrick seconded the amendment which would be to raise the large majority. So Hare won the day.

Episcopal Endowment Fund. Mr. A. H. Campbell moved that a special effort be made to build up the Episcopal Endowment Fund to $50,000. He stated that arrangements had been completed with the Niagara diocese, whereby $100,000 would be paid to the Toronto diocese, as had been the case during the past few years. He hoped a special effort would be made to raise the sum required for the purposes of his motion, which was carried.

The report of the Executive Committee was then adopted on the motion of Mr. Campbell, and Rev. Dean Jones.

year were $18,280, out of which stipends of the clergy to the amount of $18,089 had been paid. Revs. C. L. Bell and W. F. Swallow were placed on the list of beneficiaries.

The report was adopted on motion of Mr. A. H. Campbell and Mr. William Ince.

Sen and Lund. Mr. H. T. Beck moved the adoption of the report of this committee. The Synod has been paying taxes on several lots of little value and unuseful for a number of years. They are in the townships of Finch, Bexley, Park, Drummond and Darlington. Rectors' lands have been disposed of at Cobourg and Hamilton, and consent to the sale of land at Orillia has been obtained.

Canon Oeler seconded the motion, which was carried.

Widows, Orphans and Theological Students. On motion of Rural Dean Jones and Rev. Boulton, the committee's report was adopted. The balance at the credit of the fund is $1897, compared with $1082 a year ago. Three widows had been placed on the fund and one had been removed. The annual charge, including expenses, this year, is $6207. Five divinity students are on the fund. The amount asked from the parishes, $4283, had been received with the exception of $25.

Church Extension. Rev. W. E. Cooper read the report of the committee of church extension, Synod assessment and statistics. Grants of $50 had been made, respectively to churches in Appleton, Fairbank, Kinnoum, Burleigh and King and to parsonages at Brighton, Essexville, and Brooklin. Out of the Bureau's request grants of $30 each were made to Faraday Church, diocese of Ontario; Huntville Church, Algoma; and Ursa Church, Toronto diocese.

Many parishes had neglected to pay their assessments toward the Synod extension. Hence there is a balance on the wrong side of $239. Last year $2109 was received, this year $1355.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Cooper said the only person he knew who works for nothing is a country clergyman, of the Church of England, a candid remarks were made at Faraday Church, diocese of Ontario; Huntville Church, Algoma; and Ursa Church, Toronto diocese.

Financial Criticism. Rev. Arthur Baldwin objected to the high assessment of the past year for synod purposes, and asked if this rate was likely to continue. He wished to know the principle which ruled the parish assessment.

In effect, Mr. Cooper stated that it was within the power of the delegates to limit the expenditure. When very few were present in the closing hours of the synod votes were cast for a question which might not have been with a full attendance.

Mr. Rowlow Cumberland objected to the varying methods of assessment. One fixed principle should prevail. Mr. Worrell objected to the raising of a question which had been definitely settled.

The president ruled further discussion out of order. Still the points in question cropped up.

At no time had the parishes and missions of the diocese been more amply supplied than at present. In 16 years there had been an increase from 103 to 126 clergy.

A Gloomy Statement. Then came a less cheering statement—the total controlled for 1894 was $9851, the smallest sum contributed in any year during his episcopate, and quite inadequate to meet the reduced scale of grants to the missionaries. The consequence is an addition of $1157 to the unsecured debt, which now amounts to $2945. In the meantime $11,293 have been paid through the synod office for domestic and foreign missions.

"I cannot speak," added the Bishop, "on this depressing state of affairs in stronger terms than I used in my address last year. I can say only what my brethren and the clergy to strenuous efforts that our church may be relieved of this burden and reproach."

The New Vest of Trinity. His Lordship narrated the steps which had led to the appointment of Rev. E. C. Bishop of King's College, Cambridge, Eng. as successor of Provost Body. The tribute was a very generous one to the resident chaplain of Trinity, who had been described as the greatest of English divines.

Distressed Debtors. The financial embarrassment of St. Alban's Cathedral was the next topic of Bishop Sweetman's address. The arrears of unpaid interest are a distressing burden of debt. "I can only cry, 'How long?' and pray with such faith and confidence as may enable me, that relief may not be much further delayed; that the church people of this diocese, especially of the Toronto diocese, will value the cathedral establishment as the centre of church life and activity, as open temple for daily worship to all toilers."

Hare System of Voting. The election of the Executive Committee for several years past has been what is known as the Hare system of voting or proportional representation. The members of the committee are not in love with this system, and one of the clauses in the report recommended a change to the simple majority voting. On this point C. W. Riggall, Esq., entered a strong protest. No valid reasons were advanced for maintaining the system, which was inaugurated by Hon. Edward Blake, Provost Body and Dr. Langtry.

The synod, said he, is a representative body, not given to rash or radical change. It does not like another representative body that is given to itself by reversing its proceedings against the will of the majority.

Dr. George Hodgson stated that the proposed change was on the initiative of the scrutineers, who had to be enlightened in the working of the Hare system at successive synods by Provost Body (Langtry).

Seconded by Rev. T.W. Patterson, the doctrine of the canon on proportional representation be repealed, and that we revert to the system of allowing a majority of votes to determine an election.

Mr. T. H. Ince wished the Hare system to be tried a little longer. There were speeches pro and con, some favoring minority representation and others alleging that the results were not for the greatest good of the synod.

Mr. Riggall objected to having a ticket put into his hand and being asked to vote thereon, which was the old system. He wished to prevent a resurrection of the old party ticket, which was not only not only dominant, and which would be put into disreputable flame if it were to be resurrected.

Mr. George B. Kirkpatrick seconded the amendment which would be to raise the large majority. So Hare won the day.

All the Clothes, all at once, makes too much of a wash, perhaps. Use Pearline, and it's easy to do a few at a time. Lots of women do this. They take the napkins, towels, handkerchiefs, hosiery, etc., each day as they are cast aside. Soak them in Pearline and water, boil them a few minutes, rinse out—and there they are, perfectly clean. No bother, no rubbing. When the regular wash-day comes, there isn't much left to do. Why isn't this just as well as to keep everything and wash in one day?

The City Loses the Appeal Against Judge Morgan's Finding. The result of the Rosedale-drive arbitration (Judge Judge Morgan) as to the amount the city should pay for expiating Sir David Macpherson's property, was not decided by the City Council. The amount of damages was fixed at $15,500, which included $7000 the judge allowed for interest in this long-standing arbitration.

Seats in St. James' Cathedral Grounds. Editor World: Yesterday morning 12 and I there were about 60 people on the average constantly in the grounds of St. James' Cathedral, enjoying a few moments' rest during lunch time. There are 12 seats in the grounds, four only of which, being in the shade, were well filled the other eight, being entirely monopolized by the glaring hot sun, were deserted. The majority of the public, therefore, seek a shady spot on the grass, preferring rather to risk possible rheumatism in the dim future than to be uncomfortably baked in the near present. Along the whole of the south side of the grounds there is a strip of ground about seven feet wide, void of trees and with a noble row of shade trees that would be an ideal spot to place the seats, the other eight, being entirely monopolized by the glaring hot sun, were deserted. This is respectfully submitted for the consideration of the powers that be. BY A MIDDAY FREQUENTER.
