Last fall her brother returned from the United States, where he had been for years. Two weeks ago he had to leave his work in Montreal. Lately he had been depressed and slept with a loaded revolver under his pillow. Sometimes he said to his sister, "I am going to die and you will be all alone in the world ; it would be better if we could die together." Last night he was heard walk-ing in his bedroom all through the night. This morning the sister-in-law of the mur-derer left him in the house with the victim. The rest of the boarders were away. Be-turning about 11 o'clock, she found Mrs. Brunelle lying on the door. She had fallen from the chair by the window where she was knitting. The sister-in-law raised an alarm, and then there was heard a shot and a faint noise. Re-entering the room, the sister-in-law found Phleas sitting on a chair behind the door dead. He had exidently only shot himself after his sister-in-law's return.

of the crown of the second class on General yon Kirchoff, who, it will be recalled, some months ago shot, but not dangerously, the editor of the Berlin Tageblatt, for publish-ing a story that reflected on the character of the general's daughter. The honor con-ferred on the general has caused speculation in Berlin society, even the Imperial official circles disapprove of honoring a man who was convicted of shooting another. The semi-official organs in Berlin have refrained from commenting upon the matter, but the Strassburg Post publishes an energetic leader that is likely to be re-produced by many newspapers. It says that the step taken by His Majesty must needs confuse ordinary citizens long before the popular irritation over the event sub-sides. The Post blames the Emperor's ad-visers, declaring that it was an unfortunate hour when his responsible councillors pro-posed that he decorate a man whose sen-tence to a long term of imprisonment has just been remitted.

In opening the proceedings Mr. Hayward spoke of the pleasing duty which fell to him in welcoming, for it was not necessary to in-troduce, their valued and respected friend and lecturer, Dr Helmoken, especially be-cause he had always taken a great interest in the hospital work, and particularly in its most necessary and useful adjunct, the training school for nurses. It was most fitting that Dr. Helmcken should have been selected to award the prizes won by the suc-cessful students. He kindly delivered the inaugural address two years ago, and then gave so much good advice and instruction to the wood advice and instruction to inaugural address two years ago, and then gave so much good advice and instruction to the young students that to-day's interesting proceedings might be considered in some sense the harvesting of the good seed sown The vote was warmly carried, and the meeting adjourned for an excellent cup of tea which he nurses dispensed.

The Supreme Court Averse to Hearing the Case Stated to Determine Possession.

THE VICTORIA WEEKLY COLONIST, FRIDAY FEBRUARY 9 1894.

Their Lordships Advise That a Suit Should Be Instituted in Ordinary Form.

The case stated between the Attorney General of British Columbia and the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company, to determine the ownership of the precious metals in the company's lands, was called when the full bench of the Supreme court met yesterday morning, there being present Chief Justice Sir Matthew Begbie and Justices Crease, Walkem and McCreight.

Justicea Crease, Walkem and McCreight. The Attorney-General appeared on behalf of the Crown, and Hon. C. E. Pooley, Q.C., for the company. Sir Matthew Begbie said it appeared to him that the sort of jurisdiction which the court was called upon to exercise in this case was one which ought to be very sparingly ex-ercised. He thought there could be no appeal from any opinion given by the court on this question and the result might turn out to be very unsatisfactory. If the matter were to be allowed to stand over, without a decis-ion being now asked for, since the gold question and the result might turn out to be very unsatisfactory. If the matter were to be allowed to stand over, without a decis-ion being now asked for, since the gold mining was being carried on the question of ownership was pretty sure to arise in the shape of litigation between the parties. It would be unfortunate if in any such case, the hands of members of the court were found to be tied by their own action in this matter. natter.

Hon. Mr. Davie said the right of appeal is given by the statute under which the had been submitted. Mr. Justice Walkem stated that the Pro

He knew that in a case such as this case. He knew that in a case such as this the Supreme court, following the example of the Attorney-General and the Solicitor-General in England, need give no reason for any opinion expressed, and it seemed that no appeal could be taken because no reason could be canvassed. This court would be considerably embarrassed if in a small case raised by some miner its decision, based on an opinion given in this case, went on to the Supreme court of Canada. danced, with his usual skill, the Sallor's Hornpipe," which was followed by a Gable love song by Mr. McLean. It was only a decision that could be appealed, not an opinion. Hon. Mr. Davie said it appeared to be optional whether or not the court should give reasons for its opinion on a case stated. In the liquer linense are stated. Mr. Justice Walkem said the act appeared to be designed for the settlement of contro-versies between administrative bodies. In this instance, however, no contention arises between the Dominion and its provinces. Mr. Justice McCreight said if an action should arise there would probably be in-volved in it some neat point which would not be raised in this case. He emphasized the point that the training of a judge fits him to decide on a record rather than on a constitute. Hon. Mr. Davie said that it appeared to him that the objections which suggested themselves to the minds of their Lordships

clined to give a judgment which he was not in a position to enforce. Mr. Justice Walkem said this was a mat-ter respecting the title to probably vasi wealth. Speaking for himself, he declared that he should be inclined to flinch from any decision of the kind proposed. Mr. Justice McCreight said he had been informed that some of the mines in the pro-perty in dispute had been bonded. If the ownership were found to be in the Govern-ment this would be all right, but if it were found to be in the railway company the persons bonding them ought to be heard in the case, as provided for by the act, be-cause the bonding would then go for nothing. Mr. Justice Walkem said he would rather go upon the other ground, as to whether it The Behring Sea Patrol Fleet-Fears

Hon. Hon. Mr. Davie remarked that as he understood it the creation here was only as year : "The Navy department has taken under advisement plans for the execution of the regulations for the protection of the seals in the open sea under the agreement intered into between Great Britain and the United States, at the Paris tribunal last summer. The Chief Justice-Yes. It is not on the expediency of the act even, but of giving an opinion on a question which may interfere with dealing with a man's rights sub-sequently raised. Mr. Justice Walkem pointed out that the judges here were in a different position to those of the courts of appeal in other prov-inces, in that they had also to act as judges of first instance. The Chief Justice-All that we say is that it is much wiser not to bring on the 4,000 miles west. FEARS FOR THE " DOMINION." Private advices have been received from San Francisco to the effect that grave anxiety is felt there as to the safety of the improvement should be made. It was thought that the best way to arrive at a cor-rect conclusion and that the action which would be most satisfactory to the public would be to employ a trustworthy expert on electric light plant, a new man reaiding out-side the city and throughly independent, if anch a person could be found. The commit-tee, I may say, found a person satisfactory to them; a thorough examination of the city electric system, including fire alarm, has been made, and a report on the subject will be in the hands of the Council in a few days. The gentleman who has made this examina-tion is a mechanical engineer and near Coos Bay with a loss of all hands, as wreckage has been seen in that quarter lately, though it could not be positively identified as that of the unlucky Dominion.

GEORGE W. CHILDS.

To THE EDITOR :—In looking over my previous letter to your paper on this subject I fail to see any expression which can justly be called a "sneering allusion" as asserted by Mr. -W. J. Macdonald. I quite allow that the Single Tax is with me a pet theory and that not only from a philosophical standpoint but from the standpoint of sound common sense. I believe it to be the only peaceable way of overcoming a great social injustice and political difficulty. Mr. W. J. Macdonald informs us that "No one would suffer more under the single tax system than a living in the world. If boys or girls had to work, make them commence early, for if left too long they would be useless. Then the manifest advantage of an educated over an uneducated person was too well known to need any lengthy explanation ; everyone would acknowledge that what to the educated man or woman would be easy, would be im-possible to the tyro. He would apply this to the training school for nurses in surgial and medical cases, and he would say that the time had come when that branch of edu-cation ought to be still further extended by the establishment of a maternity ward in connection with the hospital, for which there is a growing necessity here. He did not think anyone present would disagree with him when he stated that it was highly necessary that nurses should be educated in that par-ticular branch, because in attending on <text><text><text><text> Realizing that the child's alarming condition had become possible in spite of the medicines given. I reasoned that such remedies would be of no avail. Having part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and andously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and, in a short time, she was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pec-toral saved her life."

last and they have had several interviews with Mr. McArthur and Mr. Millar, miners, who are well acquainted with that part of the Upper Yukon river and the tributaries of the same which have been prospected for gold. From information gathered from them, it appears that paying gold diggings have been found in the Hood-a-links, Stewart, Lewis, White. Pelly, Big Saimon and Forty-Mile river, all tributaries of the Upper Yukon river, and it is estimated that in the past year not less than $125,000 in gold was taken from that region by about 400 miners. The ground already prospected has by no means been exhausted, and it is believed that much gold-bearing ground in that region re-mains to be discovered, and that with easier and lessexpensive facilities for communication and getting in supplies a large mining popula-tion could be supported. The region also abounds in fur-bearing animals, the trade in which already represents a large sum. The present mode of getting in supplies to the region is by the long and circuitous route of the Yukon river, available for only a short time in each year, and traversing as it does so much of United States teri' ory befor ereaching the mining region for the most part in British territory), it is not unnatural that the trade should be entirely in the hands of the former country. It appears, however, from explorations which Unfortu-nately a question had arisen as to whether the Dominion or the Provincial Government was responsible for the maintaining of the river clear of obstructions, and it was to be hoped that the question of responsibility would soon be determined, for it was very necessary that the flow of the river should be uninterrupted. almost constantly with the other guests. In conversing with several deputies, the Emperor advocated strongly the passing of the Rus-sian commercial treaty, and emphasized the fact that the rejection would have disagre-able consequences for Germany. Toward the close of the dinner Emperor William spoke concerning the Russian treaty in the Reichstag. He said: "The Reichstag was never before called upon to make a decision fraught with such important consequences. It is certain that the rejection of the treaty would be followed speedily by a tariff war and later by actual war. Let every deputy so act at this time that none may be able to say afterwards 'I did not know,' The favorable terms granted to us in the treaty which was signed to-day, are due to the personal intervention of His Majesty the Czar, and to his well-known strong love of peace. The treaty bears every evidence throughout of that love which has been strong enough to overthrow the vigorous resistance of the manufacturing and even introduce it again to the board in the form of a resolution. The question of the San Pedro wreck was also referred to, Mr. Benouf announcing that since the recent gales the old water mark has been looking worse than ever. Mr. T. B. Hall announcing that the matter has been fully attended to in a report on beacons and buoys now only awaiting signa-ture, action therein was deferred, and the Council adjourned. CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

Okanagan lake still remains open, and it is quite possible that navigation will not be olosed this winter. The staunch little steamer Pentioton continues to make bi-weekly trips, and last Tuesday she had on board twenty-seven passengers for Vernon and the West. Coyotes are reported plentifal this winter in the vicinity of Deer Lodge hotel, on Long lake, and three large wolves have also been seen lately in that locality. MR. KITCHEN'S SUM. The figures of Mr. Kitchen's sum were published in yesterday evening's Times, backed up by a leading article. We have had neither the time nor the inclination to Any contagious disease that either of the fuss about a number of little things that are really of no public importance, and it wastes the time of the House in bickering about trifles. Mr. Kitchen's long and complicated motion, declaring that a statement made in the Government's reply to the Mainland motion, declaring that a statement made in the Government's reply to the Mainland petition is not mathematically exact, should never have been moved. It is abundantly which the Government are placed on the same list as are those of Brown, Kitchen and Cotton, which is that the Government ever since never have been moved. It is abundantly plain that the Government, ever since it has been in power, has had a good working majority in the Legislative Assembly. This is all that practical men who are blessed with a little common sense who are blessed with a little common sense should concern themselves about. The dis-blessed with a little common sense should concern themselves about. The dis-shows, ran his election as "an inde-shows, ran his discussion who, as his card shows, ran his election as "an indetribution of the representation was, when pendent supporter of the Government" in north, carry with them the seeds of disthe same column as those who came out as ease. The cholera What Mr. Kitchen sets out to prove is this way reaches Europe, whence it spreads that the statement made in a report of the Executive Council relating to the Mainland both opponents and independents combined, is false. Now, when the report was drawn up, Messrs. Horne, Punch and Kellie were that of the supporters of the Government. Mr. Charles Wilson's name, too, should be on that list, and as no votes were polled for Mr. Keith his name should not appear on either list.

Now, when these changes necessary to come of the discussion of his clumsy show how the Government stood relatively motion, but he, as the Premier and his supporters showed very clearly, was astray in the report was forwarded to Ottawa his arithmetic. A CHOLERA CENTRE.

Enquiries have lately been made as to the namer in which the cholers travels from India to Europe. It has been found that one great means of spreading that dreadful disease to Europe and the western parts of dusease to hurope and the western parts of the world is the pilgrimage to Mecca. Many of the pilgrims are very poor. They are during the pilgrimage insufficiently fed, and they are often crowded together on board ship in a way which of itself is calculated to breed disease.

The pilgrims from India land at Kamaran qualified to do it than Mr. Kitchen, M.P.P. a small island near the Pacific coast, at Yembo, the sea port of Medina, and > is carried by ships still further north and in to America and elsewhere. From this it will be seen that we in Canada have an interest in the sanitary condition of Mecca and Medina, and in the proper regulation of the ships that are employed in conveying pilgrims to and from Mecca. When the cholera once sets out on its travels under favorable conditions, it is astonishing to see how steadily it moves on and what progress it makes. Very few people have any idea of the number of lives that are sacrificed every year in this great Mahommedan pilgrimage. Here are some figures from the report of the Sanitary Commissioner of the United States at Constantinople concerning the latest pilgrimage, the most recent reports bringing the record down to December 31 of last year :

Again we ask, was the point worth the time taken in discussing it? Would an Opposition led by men of large views and practical common sense have raised the question? We think not. The other matters on which the Opposition have attacked the Government are the same worrying kind. Their discussion will not do the slightest good, and will, like this one on Mr. Kitchen's question in political arithmetic, impede the transaction of the business of the House.

A NEGLECTED CONSTITUENCY.

Mr. Kitchen, who for some months past has been so busy in teaching the Government what they ought to do and what to avoid, and in finding fault with almost everything connected with the administration of public affairs, is, we hear, very far from giving satisfaction to his own constituents. They, it appears, think that he would be more in the line of his duty if he ents. They, it appears, think that he would be more in the line of his duty if he devoted less of his time to snarling at the Government and more of it to looking after the interests of Chilliwack. They say that they did not elect him to be continu-ally abusing the Premier and his colleagues. What they wanted was a man who would do his best to get the district what is needs in the way of public improvements. It, they assert, needs a railway, dykes, public roads and a Court House, but they do not see that Mr. Kitchen has done anything to get any of these things for them. VOTING WOMEN.

Women's suffrage has evidently been, so far, a success in New Zealand. This is what the Montreal Witness says of the way in which it works :

which it works : The results of the recent general election in New Zealand are said to justify the claims of those who advocated woman suffrage. By a recent law passed in the legislature of that colony all women over the age of twenty-one years are enfranchised. In the general election just held it is estimated that at least one-third of the vote polled was that of the gentle sex, and it is further stated that they took a lively interest in the character and tendencies of the candi-dates, with the result that one leading paper, doubtless on the side that profited by the women's vote, is able to sum up the situation as follows : "Woman's influence was wholly for good in the conduct of one of the most keenly contested elections that has ever been held in New Zealand." TEA AND COFFEE.

The San Francisco Chronicle makes some sensible remarks on what a German scientist, so-called, says about the wholesome ness of tes and coffee. The philosopher made experiments on the effects of tea and coffee on some food substances which were exposed to the action of gastric juice which he had manufactured. How nearly it resembled the gastric juice produced in the laboratory of nature, and whether his experiments were tried under conditions anything like those under which the natural process of digestion is carried on, he does not say. We are not, we must say, inclined to place much reliance upon the esults of experiments made with imitation gastric juice in an artificial stomach. We certainly would not think of preferring them to the experience of men and women who have noted the workings of the genuine articles through a series of years. We agree with the Chronicle when it says:

The nothing and see no illustrations of Canada's delightful spring, its hot summer and its pleasant autumn? These are nearly wholly neglected by the writers and the ploture makers, but we read and see enough and a great deal more than enough, about Canada's plercingly cold, and to the great majority of its inhabitants, inexpressibly dreary winter.
The winter carnival is a very effective mode of advertising this country's winter, and of libelling its climate. It is to be wiahed that the one going en now in Quebec will be the last of the winter carnivals. We have loet so much money by this one that they will never think of getting up another.
The work of the winter carnival we would not grieve in the least if we hear that they will never think of getting up another. agree with the Chronicle when it says: This age makes altogether too much fuss and disturbance about its digestion; any-way. Dyspepsia has been installed as the Moloch, the Baal, the Juggeraut, on whose altars we offer ourselves or before whose car we cast ourselves as a living, willing sacrifice. It has become really fashionable to have dyspepsia, it seeming NOT SUCCESSFUL. This is what the New York Times says of Mr. Sovereign's attempt to prevent the issue of bonds :-washed down with flery wine or strong October ale, never dreamed of dyspepsia. Fancy Sir John Faistaff with dyspepsia. He had a noble appetite and a perpetual thirst, but we never heard of his com-plaining of dyspepsia. Really scientists like Schulz Schulzenstein should be sup-pressed as ensemies of the human family, for if allowed to go on they will have us in a short time so that we shall be afraid to eat or drink anything except by virtue and under the authority of a dootor's pre-soription.

Why Hood's Wins. President Lincoln said, "You cannot fool the people's second time." They are two quick to recognize real merit or lack of it and eding only to those things which they find to be what is claimed for them. It is especially gratifying that the sale of Hent's Saraaparilla increases most rapidly in scription. There is no doubt that drinking too much strong tes, particularly when it has been spolled in the preparation, as most of it is, spoiled in the preparation, as most of it is, is injurions. And the same may be said of coffee. But these who positively declare that tes, and coffee, when taken in moders. tion spoil the digestion, say what is directly the best from the same may be said of the inference is plain. British. It is virtually certain that the encounter between the British and French military police, reported in a despatch from Sierra Leone yesterday, occurred about forty miles north of Freetown, where the French and British frontiers touched. As there is no expedition in that locality, it is probable that the two bodies that came into collision were native police and not Europeans.

OTTAWA, Feb. 6 .- The Governor-General resterday signed the Order-in-Council for on-interference with the Northwest school ordinance of December, 1892. The minute of council adopted embédies an extended reply to the complaints of certain petition ers. Many of these complaints are discovered to be either unfounded or else based upon misapprehension as to the Federal power, inasmuch as the regulations in quesion were made under the old ordinances which are now altogether beyond the scope of the Federal authorities. Some of the officers did not stint their denunciation of Minister Willis, who was the only foreign representative to make any reply to the notices sent them of the recep-tion. To avoid the discourtesy of a refnuel they treated the notices as merely notifica-tions, not invitations, and needed no reply. It is learned that they were under general instructions to avoid anything offensive to the queen whom President Cleveland has announced his intention to restore. To have in any way participated in the celebra-tion of her dethronement would have been an offensive act to her. RUSSIA AND AMERICA.

BERLIN, Feb. 7 .- It is reported that a great transatlantic steamship company is forming in St. Petersburg. The capital is said to be 20,000,000 roubles. The aim of the founders is to improve trade between Bussia and North America, especially between Black Sea and United States ports, which are to be brought into direct communication by a regular steamship ser-vice. The plain is said to have been made during the Chicago fair.

This is how it gives vent to its feelings: The bill is an emanation from the Farm-ers' Alliance in the South and the Populist party in the West. It is the work of men who should be hoeing cotton and digging potatoes, instead of meddling with legisla-tion; of village wiseacres, whose notion of statesmanship is to sit in a corner grocery, chew tobacco and discuss public questions in the light of backwoods experience; of men who know nothing of the conditions of trade and industry, of the laws of money and wages; of the principles which govern accumulation and distribution of capital. These men have rejected the counsels of knowledge and experience in their own accumulation and distribution of capital. These men have rejected the counsels of knowledge and experience in their own party; have refused to listen to their col-leagues from centres of trade and industry, science and cultivation. CHINESE New Year opened at midnight on Sunday with somewhat more impressive peremonies than usual from the Oriental point of view, though to the ears of the white population who were roused from their beauty sleep by the din of exploding firecrackers, it had the same old accustomed sound. It seems that owing to the Wilson bill reducing the duty on opium to what practically amounts to a minimum, the big manufacturing concerns here have decided to go out of the business, and they are choosing the New Year as a fitting occasion to make a big final "blow out," each firm vieing with the other in the extent of their display of hospitality and fireworks. To Tai Yung & Co. belongs the honor of firing the longest continuous volley of firecrackers that ever saluted the ears of Victorians. They had it on a string that ran from the roof of the store to the sidewalk. A street parade of the actors of the Chinese parade of the actors of the Uninese theatrical company, in costume, took place through Chinatown, and the usual feasting and merrymaking started in with the crackers. The festive John hangs up the washboard and the tub, and for the next few days will devote himself to exercising on the sundry instruments that captivate the Celestial musical critic. The quantity of New Year's greetings that are through the mails is even greater than sent during our own holiday season this winter.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

To THE EDITOR: This discussion has drifted from the "single tax" theory to an-other subject of interest, and perhaps equally complex, viz.: "Capital and Labor." Am I to consider myself driven from the field of political economy by the ghost of Abraham Lincoln being called up to witness against me, but strange as it may seem I do not feel defeated yet. I consider that Lincoln was a great man on account of his having risen descated yet. I consider that Lincoln was a great man on account of his having risen from obscurity, to the high position he occu-pied, and his attitude on the Slavery ques-tion, rather than to any wise sayings in the tion, rather than to any wise sayings in the science of political economy—or that his sayings on any subject were to be taken as conclusive without cavil. I, however, agree with Lincoln so far, that labor was prior to capital, and that capital is the fruit of labor, not only with the pick and spade, but with the more strying labors of the brain, in literature, painting, sculpture, invention, and various other high pursuits, but I do not agree with Lincoln that labor in these days is inde-pendent of capital. This may, and ne doubt was the case in the early days under pendent of capital. This may, and no doubt was the case in the early days under the patriarchal system, and to some extent in new countries like the United States; but conditions then, are not the conditions but conditions then, are not the conditions now, and we are discussing practical issues —the days welive in. The laborer having (without the smallest intention or wish to do so) created the capitalist, is now com-pelled to acknowledge his position, and the many benefits conferred on humanity by him.

Honest labor is highly honorable, and honored by all—bat however much this may be the case, is there a laborer (except those laboring in the "Master's vineyard") without the desire to better his condition, ac-quire capital if he can, and who would not readily change places with that bugbear, the horrid capitalist? If there be such a the norrid capitalist? If there be such a man, I would like to see him. Mr. Berridge is reported as having said at the last public meeting "that capital was the true friend of labor." So far he has come to my way of thinking, but he also said "that the capitalist was the aremy of labor." I comcapitalist was the enemy of labor." I con-fess the point made here is too fine for me to see, and to less suble minds to a see, and to less suble minds than his own conveys no mean-ing. Capital being inert, without volition, cannot rush into the laborer's arms or pocket, and is utterly beyond his reach without the act and will of the capitalist, without the act and will of the capitalist, whether given in the cause of charity, re-productive works or philanthropy. Mr. Berridge will find that he cannot, by sophis-try or ingenuity, separate the disposition of capital from the will of the capitalist. It would be just as sensible to condemn the reservoir which conserves the rills of water for summer use, as to condemn the careful for summer use, as to condemn the careful man who acquires capital honestly, to dis-pense it afterwards wisely and usefully. As neither position touches me personally, I can afford to say that it is very common and very cheap popularity to traduce the capi-talist, who, if not shead of the laborer, has at least as much honesty, charity and com-passion for suffering humanity as the laborer. W. J. MACDONALD.

veakness, its intelligence or its ignorance. its efficiency or its inefficiency, is the legitimate product of republican institutions. If the majority which carried the Wilson tariff bill are, as the Oregonian broadly states, a pack of ignoramuses who are not fitted, either by nature or by education, for the work they have to do, it must be remembered that they have been placed in the people, and if they are not fit to elect men capable of transacting the business of the nation then, the Oregonian being the witness, republicanism, as it is established in the United States, is a failure.

The Wilson tariff bill is one of the most important measures that ever came before the Congress of the United States. Its effects, if it become law, will be felt for good or for evil in every city and town and village and settlement throughout the whole extent of the Union. It will have an immense influence upon trade and manufactures, upon employers and upon workingmen. It requires, therefore, for its consideration knowledge, experience and great thinking capacity. Crackers and clayeaters and corner-grocery gossips are evidently unfit to frame such a measure or even to form an intelligent opinion upon it after it is framed, and if the people of the United States have no more sense and no better the House of Representatives as they do almost everywhere else, that the Wilson hard thinking of able men and that the crackers and the clay-esters worked better than they knew when they, by their votes, gave their sanction to the handiwork of their leaders. There is an aristocracy in the Republic of the United States of America, as there is in Great Britain-an aristoeracy of brains, of knowledge, of administrative ability, of honesty and of patriotism-and this aristocracy is certain, whatin the States they will also improve in canada, and particularly in this Province, which has, perhaps. There can be no doubt that if there is a dissolution of Parliament before the end of its term, it will be precipitated by the action of the Upper Chamber, and it is as likely as and Port Townsend, only one, however, Legislature by the votes of the sovereign not that the abolition of that branch of the legislature will be the issue.

A BRIGHTENING PROSPECT

The dawn of better times is beginning to be visible to acute observers in the United States. Industry is reviving. Factories are being opened, here and there, and many that never closed are increasing their operations. Trade is getting by slow degrees better. Many see a very decided improvement in business generally. The men who have money are looking about for investments, and they do not invariably, as they did a little while ago, turn a deaf ear to those who want cash to go on with their business. Bradateartic of the Orth those who want cash to go on with their business. With regard to the New York Stock Market, Bradstreet's says : "The bond issue, the plethora of money, the belief in

He therefore moved THE SPEAKER said he had decided that THE SPEAKER said no had decided that Mr. Cotton's motion, when placed on paper and extended, was properly before the house, and also that the house should then say whether or not it should be discussed. The point was that the house, having been taken by surprise, should say whether or not it should waive the fact of its surprise and it should waive the fact of its surprise and proceed to discuss the resolution. He held that this motion had not been brought up properly, and could not be discussed unless the honse so decided. He then put the question on Mr. Martin's motion, "That this question be now put." The motion was carried on division of 18 11. as follows : to 11, as follows : Yeas-Messrs. Dr. Watt had proved that, even taking the authority on which Mr. Kitchen's motion is said to be based, a fair calculation showed a result quite different to the one there stated, and gave the government a majority of more than 1200 votes. This yery book showed that the number of votes polled for candidates who support the gov-ernment was 10,373, and he read the list of names showing how this total is made up. For the independents there had been polled, for candidates whose names he mentioned, 4,132; and for the opposition candidates, a list of whom he gave also, 5,484, so that the totals, according to his calculation showed 9.616 for the opposition and independents combined, against 10,373 for the govern-ment.

Hon. Mr. BEAVEN contended that Mr. Kitchen's motion correctly showed the votes actually polled, and therefore that the statement in the order in council was incor-rect and should not have been made in an official document. Mr. BROWN in a long speech called upon Mr. Punch and Mr. Horne to state whether or not they ran in opposition to the govern-ment, because, if they did not so run and the Attorney-General was right in his classi-fication, he claimed that they acted the part of traitors and meaks in coming as they had come to the private conferences of the independent party.

He pointed out that the customs duties paid in this province are nearly four times as much per head as these paid in other provinces, and therefore British Columbia is entitled to special consideration in the matter of the duties.

MR. SMITH seconded the resolution, and dwelt upon the desirability of such action to secure relief from the operation of the tariff.

HON. MR. TURNER thought the move now. MR. He suggested, however, that the motion should more directly ask for a reduction of the duty, as the expression modified might be wrongly understood.

DR. WATT complimented his colleague from Cariboo on having introduced this resolution, which he thought was one called for in the interests of that district and the whole province. Mr. Adams being one of the best farmers in Cariboo was specially qualified to speak for them, knowing the hardships which the application of the tariff inflicts on that class. The so-called independents had been four years in the house and at last had managed to put on the order paper this attempt at legislation, which to say the least was rather unprofitable from a public standpoint. He claimed that if there is any falsity to be charged, it lies at the doors of the so-called independents, especially the member for New Westminster city, who had secured his election by representing himself as an independent supportsr of the government. servation could be taken, and no land had been seen since sighting Aggattu island, and taking her departure thence. Little, indeed no allowance was recorded in the cal-culation in this log, whatever the deduction he may have made in sailing, for the current known to the cantain by two wars previous His Lordahip in his judgment proceeds: "This was an action for condemnation under the Imperial British 'Seal Fishery (North Pacific) Act, 1893,' and the Order in Council thereunder, of July 4, 1893, of the schooner Minnie (Victor Jacobson, owner, and Julius Mohrhouse, master), seized by the Imperial Russian transport Yakout within the forbidden 30-mile zone around Kormandorski islands, manned and armed, and having abooting implements and

"The inference is irresistible, that no reliance is to be placed on Captain Mohr-house's account that when seized he was without the 30-mile zone, nor does Captain Anderson's clear and manly account of the mode in which he found himself in his mode in which he found himself in his schooner the Viva a few miles within the zone, and the speed with which he got out of it, and their sighting each other and sub-sequent meeting, in the least strengthen Captain Mohrhouse's contention that he was outside when seized. And the inference is reasonable though not certain, as he lowered his jib, that when he (Captain Anderson) saw the Russian steamer, they also saw him, and if they did, considered him outside the zone, and so not seizable. The protocol distinctly states the Minnie was 22 miles within the zone, in the latitude 22 miles within the zone, in the latitude and longitude I have set out. The Yakout was only three hours out of port, and being worked by steam, was independent of wind and tide, and its officers, presumably, intimately acquainted with the current there, and the inference is that they could not be mistaken in their position, and the hasty memorandum of 8 o'clock given by the Russian captain to Mohrhouse, on a tiny alip of paper, was, I think, clearly a mistake alip of paper, was, I think, clearly a mistake for 9 b'clock, and I therefore find that beyond a doubt the Minnie was taken at that yond a doubt the minute was taken at that particular spot, 22 miles south of Copper island, within the zone. And what was she doing there? Captain Jacobson, the owner, whose evidence was delivered in an minently untruthful manner, which, I think, must have surprised the learned counsel who so steadily and earnestly adcounsel who so steadily and earnestly ad-vanced every possible argument for the de-fence—as it certainly did the court—knew perfectly well of the 30-mile zone, and, even though very roughly, pencilled out a zone of his own on the ship's chart, though not a 20 mile zone. Moreover, of his own on the ship's chare, though not a 30-mile zone; as a 30 mile zone. Moreover, he had been on board the Triumph, the well known master of which, Captain Clarence Cox, had been furnished by Captain Hughes.

THE inaugural meeting of t the Victoria Gun Club was h Hotel Victoria last evening, wh lowing officers for the con ment of the facts. The debate was continued by several members until 5:40, when Mr. Keith rose and having asked and been refused an adjournment of the debate, announced that he would talk against time and thus force an adjournment eventually. At 5:55 he again moved the adjournment, but the house would not consent, and rose for recess.

HON. COL. BAKER thought it was alto-gether immaterial to discuss what were the contentions of the candidates at the time of the election, because the official report which had been challenged did not refer to this, but to the present attitude of the mem-bers of the legislature. He contended, however, that even taking the view put the report in question was a correct state-ment of the facts.

forward by the hon. gentlemen oppo

negatived and Dr. Watt then proposed his as an amendment to the main motion. MR. HALL expressed the opinion that if there were to be election to-morrow not two members out of the thirty three could secure election as supporters of the gentlemen on the other side, who, in a spirit of factious opposition, had spent the best part of the last two days in the labored attempt to dis-credit the government by disputies. last two days in the labored attempt to dis-credit the government by disputing figures which, to his mind, bore every appearance of correctness. He did not believe that any member of the government would advance such a statement as that made in the report of council if the facts did not show it to be true, and he would therefore support the amendment.

Hox. Mr. DAVIE said he had favored the substitution of the amendment now before the house for that of Mr. Croft, because the latter professed to give the exact figures, which it appeared so difficult to get at that it was perhaps well not to ask the house to endorse them in every par-ticular. The discussion had only shown one candidate to have been incorrectly placed, but taking his 154 votes from the government side and adding them to the opposition gave totals of 10,288 for the gov-ernment against only 9,906 on the other side, to say nothing of the fact that the op-position have no more right to be credited with the independent votes, given to them above, than have the government. For ex-ample, it was an 'indisputable fact that the gentlemen elected in Westminater district could not have been returned had they come out against the government, for the then Premier, the late Hon. John Robson, was returned in that constituency at the head of the poll. He claimed that these gentle-men had obtained their election by false protences, and they would find out before very long that their constituents know how to deal with them. HON. ME DAVIE said he had favored the

to deal with them. MR KITCHEN closed the debate, arguing on behalf of his resolution, and claiming that the report of council contained many misstatements which on account of the time taken up in discussing this one he would not trouble the house by bringing up. The amendment was carried on the fol-lowing division : Yeas-Messre. Baker, Pooley, Davie, Horne, Vernon, Smith, Eberts, Stoddart, Hunter, Punch, Booth, Rogers, Hall, An-derson, Kellie, Watt and Adams-17. Nays-Messre. The opening day of the dog and pet stock The opening day of the dog and pet stock show was quite as satisfactory as could well have been expected, both in the extent of exhibits and the attendance of spectators. There was not the least difficulty in locating the particular portion of the public market building devoted to it, for the mingled mu-sic from the throats of beasts and birds oreated a din that saluted the ears of vis-itors afar off. It was a lively scene. Around the whole snace of the gallery were ranged

At St. Mark's there will be ser-vice with holy communion at 8 and 11 a.m., the service is an explanation by Mr. W. H.

tary. After an explanation by Mr. W. H. and evensong at 7 p.m. In addition to this a complete list of services and sermons has been framed for the season, so that each day will be occupied. Some very interesting discourses have been set down by various clergy, as well as the rector Rev. Mr. Arden. The day will be similarly observed at St. Savior's, Victoria West, in addition 1 to which there will be services each Wed-nesday and Friday evening during Lent. After an explanation by Mr. W. H. Ellis of the preliminary steps taken to secure grounds, Mr. A. C. Smith of the cricket club, and Messrs. Jones and Foulkes of the football club, assured the meeting of the general desire of the members of these clubs general desire of the members of these clubs for grounds such as were proposed, and promised their hearty co-operation in the movement. A letter was also read from Mr. R. Jones, secretary of the James Bay Athletic Club, regreting inability to be present on account of their annual meeting being held that evening, and conveying the club's sympathy with the amalgamation movement.

Among the passengers on the Boscowitz for the North Monday were H. M. Wright and Wm. Hartley, with ten quarryman, for the Haddington Island stone quarry. Mr. Wright goes up as superintendent, while Mr. Hartley, who is an experienced and dub's symptony with the mangametry movement. On motion of Mr. Jones, of the football club, seconded by Mr. Morphy, it was re-solved, that this meeting is heartly in accord with the objects of the Viotoria Athletic Grounds Association, and views with pleasure the prospect of the early establishment in the city of a well equipped practical quarryman, will have full control athletic ground. On motion of Mr. Ellis, seconded by Mr. Smith, it was decided that a committee composed of two members of each of the several athletic clubs be formed for the practical quarryman, will have full control over the quarryman, will have full control over the quarryman, will have full control the stone. Heretofore the work at the quarry has been seriously hindered through lack of room, and the company were obliged to send down the first scow-load of stone for the Government buildings without the proper squaring up and trim-ming, but it has been decided to open up a different part of the quarry, and this will give ample room for all working and loading of the stone. It will require three or four weeks time to get the quarry re-opened and a scowload of stone brought down, but after the first load it will be delivered on the Government grounds at the rate of two thousand feet, or over, per week. purpose of consulting with the directorate of the Grounds Association, as to the best way to proceed in the management of the thousand feet, or over, per week.

An entertainment was given by "the girls of St. Luke's" at St. Luke's Sunday school on Monday evening, a goodly number being present. In the course of a few opening re-marks, Rev. J. W. Flinton, the rector, said he found it difficult to understand why people could come to, entertainments and not to church. The first number was a chorus by the children which was well rendered. Miss King's vocal solo was a treat and elicited great applause; the dia-logue "Taking the Census" performed by four little girls evoked much merriment and showed care in preparation. Then followed an intermission for sale of work, after which another dialogue (in costume) by the older girls, which also gave much pleasure. Miss Dollie Moron favored with a song about. COAST NEWS.

There was more than the realization of reaching abore safely after a disagreeable passage, that made a lady passenger who arrived from Barclay Sound on the steamer Mande yesterday afternoon feel glad. The lady, whose face certainly was peculiarly expressive of delight, is, according to re-port, to become a Mrs. — before many days, and for this purpose came to Victoria. During the heavy gale yesterday morning the Maude was anchored in Port San Juan, but even in the shelter of land she had to drop both anchors, those on board being rocked so forcibly that they ware soon rolled out of their bunks. The Wanderer, Sancy Lass and another sealing schooner were in Port San Juan on Tuesday, but the last named left there for Dodge's cove before the Maude sailed. H. Baker and party were about to leave Alberni for the mining dis-trived on the Maude are: Thomas Flet-other, M.P.P., who made the round trip on the steamer, Miss Seagher, A. Balmer, J. E. Jolley, A. Swanson, Mrs. Brown and H. McKenzie. There was more than the realization of

THE " MIOWERA'S " CREW.

THE "MIOWERA'S" OREW. A difficulty, which is, however, not ex-pected to prove serious, has arisen between the owners and the orew of the R. M. S. Miowers, in consequence of the announce-ment that the ship will go to Newcastle-on-Tyne for repair. The orew were signed in Australis, and naturally do not think they should be dropped here or in England. Their proposition is said to be that the com-pany send them home as passengers by one of the other steamers of the line, paying wages until all hands sign clear at Sydney; the company are willing to send tham home, but think wages should only be paid up to the time the men leave their ship. An amicable settlement will no doubt be reached. THE "DOMINION."
