At Banquet of British Empire League Lord Milner Relates How Movement Has Gathered Force in Britain.

NO UNFRIENDLINESS TO DAUGHTER STATES

No one who heard Viscount Milner at the National Club banquet last night could have escaped the inference that imperial unity by way of imperial mutual trade, as Hon. George Foster cal realization. It was obvious also that should the Elijah of tariff reform sha prepared to receive his mantle.

Lord Milner by his incisive but careful utterance conveyed with great impressiveness the conviction that the trade as an eleventh commandment worth all the other ten, and that until their academic, intellectual prejudice had been overcome it was necessary only for Canada and the other colonies which had adopted a preferential tariff to "sit tight."

"Everything tending to closer union encounters great difficulties," he said. He was not prepared to say what the end would be, but he would say that if obstacles and difficulties of any kind should prevent realization of their object there could be no greater misfortune to the empty.

"It is contrary to the deepest wish and desire of the men of our race in whatever portion of the world residing and wherever I go and/I hear peo-ple speak their minds I find an enor-mously proponderant feeling in favor of drawing closer the ties that unite

Strongly Against Policeman Who Shot Fugitive Prisoner.

CHATHAM, Oct. 29 .- (Special.)-After several hours' deliberation the jury in the case of Elliott J. Kimball, formerly chief of police of Leamington, charged with the murder of William J. Healy, before Justice Latchford, decided just before midnight they could not agree. The case went to their hands at 5.30 p.m. yesterday. Kimbali shot Healey while the latter was runing away to avoid arrest for jumping a board bill.

Kimball himself was the last witness examined. He stated that the shooting of Healey was purely accishooting of Healey was purely acce-dental, the revolver being discharged thru a jar on the fence he was climb-ing over. Other witnesses testified that after the shooting Kimball had remarked that he had shot the man, who was getting away from him. "The character of Healey has nothing to do with it," he continued. "The lowest character in this country is protected by law. The unfortunate woman, Mary Wellington, whose illegal actions caused the shooting of this wretched man, says that she warned Kimball that Healey was dangerous, but we do not hear of Kimball using his gun till Healey ran away from him. Many constables appear to be under the misapprehension that they can shoot down a fleeing man. There is classic exclamation which George Duff may well repeat.

According to The New York American frenton (N.J.) is to replace Montreal in the circuit. The Canadian town has always been a frost. Besides, it makes a cry undesirable jump. By the substitution of the New Jersey city the association will be more compact. The Montreal tockholders are under financial obligations to the league and can offer no restance to the loss of the franchise.

How bad the racing game is in New Fork State is best told by the statement that, barring Notter, practically all of the good jockeys are riding at Pimlico. The quality of the riding talent at Jamaica can be imagined when it is considered that Creevy, a green apprentice, in the amploy of the Montpelier Stable, who had severn andled a winner, landed two flourist winners on Tuesday. Because of the fact, that there are only four days nore at Jamaica the leading jockeys prefer to work at Baltimore, where there is seady employment.

Canadians who have watched with no little pride the meteoric career of the former lacrosse player. Tommy Burns (Noah Brusso), are again becoming interested in ring affairs, for Tommy is to fight what he says will be his last battle at Sydney, Australia, on the night of Tuesday, Dec. I, with big Jack Johnson, the colored fighter, as his opponent. Johnson followed the Canuck to England and Australia, and sent back reports that Burns was dogging him. Tommy held out for $30,000, win, lose or draw, and now the reason is plain. Unless another change is made in the meantime, Johnson and Burns will flight twenty rounds for the heavy-weight championship of the world at the above-

Saportas' Jumpers for France.

BALTIMORE, Md. Oct. 28.—Announcement was made here this afternoon that the stable of G. B. Saportas, who races steeplechasers under the name of Bonnie Brook Stable, will be shipped to France on the ninth of next month, and that the lot would consist of twelve horses. W. C. Hayes, the well-known gentleman rider, who arrived here to-day, gave the news out, and he stated that he would have charge of the horses. Alfar and Simon Pure are the only tried horses in the string. At the recent sales in New York Saportas purchased Chaseway, Fort Johnson and a number of other horses. Hayes will probably ride the horses in their races, altho the matter has not been settled.

Spectators See the Game.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, Oct. 28,—Five thousand spectators to-day witnessed a fine game of lacrosse between the Canadians and the North of England team, with the best display mostly on England's side. The game was played at Manchester. The Canadians won by 7 to 6.

The Canucks evidently after, if not before, Gorman scored a goal in the first minute and a half, thought they had a cinch to beat their opponents, for, instead of following up the advantage rapidly by making more goals, when they were in the position. Foran thought they were like the United Kingdom on Satur

The first game will be played with the Buffalo Germans, old rivais, whom the locals have not had the pleasure of meetinn for the past few years on account of the Germans being a professional team. The local team has an extensive tour mapped out, which starts about Christmas, and will include all the principal cities in the United States. The players were not anxious to leave the amateur ranks, but it was the only thing left for them to do in order to get good teams here. The trouble between the C. A. A. U. and A. A. U. prevented them getting exhibition games with any of the fast American teams, and there was not a team in Canada capable of giving them as last year, with the exception that Frank Harvey will take George Smith's place, as the latter does not care to become a professional. There is some talk of Frank Branston returning to the city and playing professional with the local team.

Frank Morrison has been rooming at 129 Sydenham-street. He has been out of work. Yesterday he drank and was disagreeable. He made a disturbance in the house, and when ordered out broke some of the furniture. He was arrested, charged with being drunk.

The Church and Labor Conference will hold a meeting in the Labor Temple tonight, when the subject of "The Saturday Half-Holiday" will be discussed. Rev. Dr. Milligan and one of the prominent labor men of the city will open the discussion.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 28 .- (Special.)-Tw afternoon, and the bookies did not fare so well, as the first choices which wo were liberally backed. The form players cashed on Wintergreen and Kercheval. The latter was one of the best-played horses of the day, closing around the even-money mark. He won the fourth race, a handicap, in which four started, winning at theend handily from Old Honesty, with Lady Baldur third. Old Honesty stopped under the weight of 119 pounds, but lasted long enough to take second money. Bonart, at 10 to 1, proved the surprise of the afternoon, winning the fifth race from Enlist. The race was run in the slew time of 1.151-5. Be Brief, favorite in the third race, was lucky to land third money. Ray H., an 8-to-1 shot, proved much the best in this race, and at the end won in handy style from Ludhiana, another 8-to-1 chance. Jockey Butler rode in form to-day, landing two winners. The weather was clear and the track fast. Summaries:

If the British states remain of the mind that union is better than disintegration, and are satisfied to meet difficulties and emergencies as they arise and to work continually along the line of least resistance, the experience thus obtained will be the best security that a solution of the imperial problem will ultimately be reached. Lord Milner did, not fail to indicate various methods by which cooperation in common affairs can be secured without in any degree impairing the supremacy of each state within its own borders. Given a spirit of mutual helpfulness and an abiding realization of the value of a common citizenship, there is no reason to doubt that a form of imperial co-partnership will come which will not only benefit the individual nations that compose it, but be a valuable object lesson to the civilized

LEGISLATURES AND MUNICIPALITIES.

One of the marked features of American democracy is the distrust shown by the larger representative bodies for the lesser. Thus in Canada, par-

MR. BELL-SMITH'S AUCTION SALE.

Among Canadian artists none holds to the Dominion. Altho he has trav found in Canadian landscapes his best unreserved sale by auction of a large and representative collection works is therefore of special interest to the public who desire to adorn their homes with attractive paintings of the varied scenery of their home land. Yesterday afternoon the collection was on view in the art rooms of Messrs. Charles M. Henderson & Co., No. 87 and 89 East King-street, where the conditions permit of the paintings being seen to the best advantage. They will be again open to inspection this (Thursday) forenoon prior to the commencement of the sale at 2.30 p.m. Many artists approach nature's beauties with pre-conceived ideas, which consequently reappear in their work. One of Mr. Bell-Smith's leading characteristics is his fidelity to nature and the explanation of his great suc-cess, if the question should be asked, lies in the fact that he paints exactly what he sees. This is admirably illustrated in many of the canvases now offered for public sale. They cover a wonderful range of subjects taken from Canada, the British Isles, France and Holland, but all create the impres sion of actuality in addition to their own high artistic quality. Particularly in the case of Canadian scenery does Mr. Bell-Smith succee in realizing the aspect of grandeur and vastness which is found in the magnificent mountain ranges of the Dominion. In the collection are specimens of his finest achievements, handled with breadth and effect. Mr. Bell-Smith's London pictures are no less noticeable for their atmospheric treatment and realize in a thoroly effective manner the misty distances of the great metropolis. Other picturesque and beau-tiful scenes are taken from Canadian, British and European sources and in these Mr. Bell-Smith always wields a facile and ready pencil. Of particular interest to lovers of Charles Dickens is the series of pictures illustrative of the works of the great Victorian novelist

Many years have passed since Mr. Bell-Smith offered his paintings by public sale and the opportunity now afforded to secure examples of his craftsmanship at prices within their real value may never occur again. The collection will be disposed of without reserve, so that there is every inducement to picture buyers to attend and judge for themselves.

A Prince in Steerage.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—When the Nord Amerika, from Naplès, arrived yesterday one of the steerage passengers, a short steerage passengers, a short, slender built man, swarthy in complexion, who announced that he was Prince Immanuel of Jerusalem, informed the ship news reporters that he had come to the Unit-ed States to raise funds with which to build a universal university the site of King Solomon's temple Holy City. If his plan is carried he said, any one may obtain a versity education by correspondence at a small outlay. He was in uniform,

Under these circumstances it is not astonishing to find G. B. Shaw taking up the cudgels on behalf of England's hordes of unemployed and starving. He scathingly arraigns England's so-called governing classes and praises Victor Grayson's fearless effort to compel parliament to devote some attenon to the gravest problem that has developed in England for several de-cades. Grayson was expelled from the turn. He is now organizing the masses of the unemployed and threat-ens to compel England to heed their Hallowe'en Dinner.

The annual Hallowe'en dinner of the Caledonian Society is announced to take place at the Walker House on Saturday evening, commencing at 8 o'clock sharp. At this interesting function Scotsmen enjoy good speaking, singing and recitations, and partake of the time-honored toothsome haggis. A big gathering and a grand time are being looked forward to. ALDERMEN WILL GONFER ON LICENSE OUESTION

Controller Spence Says That "Noble Thirteen" Will Meet to Frame Policy.

It is probable that within a week or so Controller Spence and Ald. Hales will call a conference of those members of the city council who voted for license reduction. The object of the meeting will be to decide whether to submit another referendum or go to the polls pledged to support a reduction measure next year.

Controller Spence says that he and Ald. Hales recently attended a meeting of the executive of the Temperance Federation, of which they are members. In an incidental way the question came up as to what the city council might do regarding the resuction of hotel liquor licenses. Both said they were unable to say, as they would first have to consult the other council members who had voted for reduction. From opinions expressed Ald. Hales recently attended a meetreduction. From opinions expressed by members of the executive it appeared that the general sentiment was not in favor of another referendum. Profits are now being made by publishing companies, of course, but these profits are small to what must ere very long be gained by two or three great concerns. Will you share in those profits? You may, or you

The publishing company now about to offer a portion of its capital stock to the public does not assert that it is going to be one of those companies. It does not tell you it is going to pay 20 or 25 per cent. It does not say it will become the Harmsworth or the Munsey of Canada. But it does say something, and that something is truth and nothing but the truth. The company's prospectus complies with the requirements of the law, it gives you the most complete information and it tells you all about what is in the company's business pro-

But even after you have read through that prospectus, you may fail to realize the enormous possibilities. Take only one instance, viz.: The company has several representatives, including men at London Liverpool and Manchester in England; Berlin in Germany; Auckland in New Zealand; Boston, Chicago, New York and other cities in the United States-not to mention the large number in our own beloved Canada. They are waiting for the word "Go." and the company expects to pull the trigger of its gun and start those men in the business race within the next few days. All necessary legal requirements in connection with foreign countries will be looked after by barristers of standing. It is in the hands of the investing public to make possible this word "Go"; afterwards, it's up to the company. How many persons who buy books, magazines and other literature know of the enormous circulation reached in many instances, of the great amounts derived from sales of books and from magazine advertising, of the profits made by some firms as advertising agents, of the royalties received by authors, and of the profits gained by the publisher? You may read about some of these facts in Chapter 3 to-morrow.

Meanwhile, be carefully considering how much stock you will be able to take up. One dollar will reserve five shares for you; $2. ten shares; $5, twenty-five shares; $10, fifty shares, and $20, one hundred shares. You are, of course, allowed to go higher than 100 shares, but the company believes that its stock will be oversubscribed. There are only 16,000 shares for the people of Toronto and 8000 for persons resident outside Toronto. Sixty days will be allowed for payment of balance. This means that if you deposit $1 on account of five shares, you will not be required to pay the balance of $4 until sixty days from the acceptance and allotment of your shares. The list will open on Monday morning next at 9 o'clock.

You will observe that no application form accompanies this advertisement. The company does not desire anyone to send remittance until the prospectus has been read and the application form attached thereto filled in. Ascertain all you can about the company before you invest. Call in and have a talk with the officers and inspect the papers.

Remember that you will know more concerning the than you hear regarding many other companies. You will receive copy of the bylaws, and the Annual Statement will show you the profit gained on every proposition, the amounts paid as salaries and commission, the cost of traveling and other expenses, the classes and value of merchandise on hand, accounts debit and credit, and many other branches of accounts. You will have the most complete and detailed information given you, so that if you attend the Annual Meeting you will be in a position to intelligently discuss the business of the company.

That the public safety on the highways is much endangered by the recklessness of bicyclists is the opinion of Ald. Church. He says he will move that legislation be sought to empower the city to license bicycles to compel the carrying of lights and bells and to limit the speed, fines and cancellation of license to follow breaches of the law. He suggests a yearly fee of $1.

He will also move that vehicles having right of way on a highway be compelled to keep close to the curb so as to allow other vehicles to pass.

After U. S. Steel reached its new high level for the year in the early dealings, it was subject to a great dealings, it was subject to a great deal of profit taking on the part of the professional bull following, and was a so made the target of bearish operators. The result was that the stock reacted nearly a point from the early high point during the second hour. We think this stock will get support now and we do not think that it is any part of the program of the important for long. Certainly a slump in Steel common at this stage of the campaign which has for its purpose the building up of outside interest in the market, would be fatal to the success of their efforts to distribute stocks. The prinoipal weak feature of the morning trading was Consolidated Gas, which sold down to 139, representing a loss of 3 1-2 points. There was no lews on account of this slump, unless it was the seemingly brighter chances for cleetion of Mr. Hughes. The floor traders who were inclined to be bearlish to-day made much of this argument in the case of Consolidated Cassarders. in the case of Consolidated Gas and th other utility stocks. Of course it would be inadvisable to trade in Gas excep on ample margin, but on weak spots now we think that purchases of this stock will certainly prove profitable later on. Indeed, in the event of the general bull plans, this stock should become a particularly strong feature It is pretty hard to see how the eleof Mr. Hughes, and the vindica tion of the public service commission' policy should have such a mark'd bearish influence on the actual value of this security, especially in view of probabilities that the company will win in its legal controversy against the 80-cent gas bill.—Town Topics.

On Wall Street. Charles Head & Co. to R. R. Bon broker, and these, by the way are confining their operations. The price changes were immaterial. Rio was put up fractionally, but there was 10 demand for stock at the raily. Twin City earnings influenced quick sales of the shares of this company, but sellers were too plentiful to allow the buying to have any effect on quotations. Traders and brokers are practitions. Traders and brokers are practically ignoring the market and the quoted sales are scarcely representative of the general apathy.

> lowing: In the very early trading the market made a definite show of strength and a fair buying movement appears sufficient to absorb offerings during the greater part of the first hour. The failure of the steel shares to advance and some severe liquidation in Consolidated Gas appeared to indicate soft spots in the market, and it became known that a larger outside house in the London stock market was in diffi-culties, and the market made a sharp break of from 1 to 2 points before the selling movement was exhausted. Ennis & Stoppani wired to J. L.

M!tchell The market developed a selling London special: "Irregularity was the feature in the stock markets in the late afternoon, domestic issues were firm. Prices on the curb moved under mixed fluctuations within a range of 1-8 to 3-8. The firmness of Canadian Pacific was maintained. The Kaffir department was weak. It is understood that a large presidential election ilquidation has been disposed of. There was not much selling traceable to the principal bull west. factors.

R. Heintz' & Co. wired R. B. We do not think that the important interests will withdraw their support from the market, but as soon as found operating for higher prices. Mexiconsequently on the dips we think the general run of stocks should be bought for a turn on all weak spots.

> World Office, Wednesday Evening, Oct. 28.

The Toronto stock market dropped into further inactivity to-day. Trading was confined to an insignificant number of issues, and even in these the transactions were small. An attempt was made to broaden the interest in Rio, but there was responsible outside demand for the shares and bids were hard to get on the advance. Twin City received the best enquiry of the speculative issues, but a steady supply of the shares is available without much difficulty. Investment stocks were well supported and offerings of these were quite limited.

SAYS EMPEROR WILLIAM WAS BRITAIN'S FRIEND

Refused to Receive Boer Delegates and Declined to Join France and Russia to End War.

LONDON, Oct. 29.- The Daily Telegraph publishes an interview given o an unofficial representative Englishman by Emperor William, who in warmly asserting his strong friendship for England and complaining of the suspicions entertained by Englishmen of his attitude as sorely trying to his patience, declared that he had given many proofs of the sincerity of the German people had been hostile towards Great Britain.

As an instance of this he said it was his refusal to receive the Boer dele-gates during the South African war, which put an end to their triumphal tour of Europe. Furthermore, he said, the archives of Windsor contained two documents proving his friendship duroccuments proving his friendship that ing that period, first, his telegram to Queen Victoria informing her that had declined an invitation to joi France and Russia in calling upo Great Britain to put an end to that war, and second, his reply to an anxlous letter from the queen at the time of British reverses in South Africa, together with a document in which he had worked out what he considered to be the best plan of campaign under the circumstances, and which he submitted to the British general staff, for criticism terred to the naval agitation, declar-ing that the German navy had been strengthened, not against any power, but for the protection of Germany's ever-expanding commerce.

TYPHOID IS APPALLING.

Conditions in the Backwoods Are Described.

Outbreaks of typhoid are once more eported from the lumber camps, where the lack of sanitary facilities and the lack of protection of water supplies, makes the disease almost inevitable. Dr. Bell of the provincial health department reports 100 cases in Kenora hospitals, and the contractors' hospi-tals in connection with railway con-to go to hospital when taken sick, and after sleeping out in an attempt to get to civilization, usually become hopeless cases.

The carelessness about the protec-tion of water supply from sewage and poisonous garbage Dr. Bell considers the main cause of the prevalence of the disease.

Crucity to a Horse.

LINDSAY, Oct. 28.—(Special).—When Mr. Davidson of Glendine drove into town he put his corse in the Penson House sheds. When he was ready to go home his horse was gone. Making inquiries he learned that a horse was seen traveling at a high rate of speed west. Mr. Davidson tracked the thief and horse to Blackwater. He found the horse tied in a swamp and suffering from inflammation. The horse died after being taken a mile out of Blackwater. A young man by the name of Brooks has been arrested.

in this wise a good deal of attention is being paid to the opposition and to the causes which contributed to Monday's defeat. Writing in The Weekly Sun Prof. Goldwin Smith says: tions were not good, and by his con-nection with whom he has probably suffered. The contest was a fight behave any meaning. No principle, great question, was put forward on either side. The contest was an interchange of personalities. The labor candidate, O'Donoghue, distinguished

And The Montreat Herald (Lib.) "Mr. Borden emerges from the contest pretty much in the position of Mr. Blake in 1887, or Sir William Meredith in 1894. By winning back Halifax he has paid off an old score, and he is in good repute for his unselfish and vig-orous prosecution of the campaign that upon the resignation he is virtually bound to proffer, but it may not be improper in an opposing paper to suggest that his shortcoming has chiefly onsisted in his failure to enlist, in due season, the sort of men who could be presented for the approval of the people in a general election with some hope of success. It was a dreadful thing to have to go into an election and the question must ultimately be ship, he can be relieved of responsiility for that condition. It will be difficult to convince some people that Sir John Macdonald, with whom leadership was everything, would have let himself be caught in such a trap."

The Weekly Sun does not accept the result as an entire endorsation of the government. "If," it remarks, "the opposition had presented a policy such as the people were demanding, thrunch in whom the electors had confidence there are the little doctors. dence, there can be little doubt the government would not have fared so well. It thinks Mr. Borden's chief weak ness lay in his attitude towards protection, and goes on to say that "some of the candidates supporting Mr. Borden constituted an element of weakness quite as detrimental to his political interests as his own attitude towards protection. What was said by Mr. Ames and others in regard to the administration of western lands undoubtedly produced a marked affect on public opinion; but when people remembered the manner in which some of Mr. Borden's supporters in the house made use of their positions to take part in an exceedingly profitable transaction in rallway lands, with the assistance of rallway influence, they naturally asked themselves if anything was to be gained by replacing one side with the other. Great interest in North Toronto and some of the darkest days of his life, as he sat in the deepest depression alone in his office. His son had just passed away, and it seemed as if all the light had gone out of his life. A telegram was brought in to him saying that his presence was to him saying that his presence was desired at Ottawa immediately on important business. Almost at the same time the telephone rang, and he was informed over the phone that the gov-ernment had appointed him to the po-sition of lieutenant-governor of Ontahave two hours to consult the mem-bers of his family. They decided to decline the honor, but it was so strongly pressed upon him as a public duty that he waived his personal feelings and acceded to the desire of the gov-

Since then he had been the recipient of the greatest kindness on every hand, not only from the citizens of Toronto, but in every city in Ontario where he visited. His only regret now was that in retiring to their home, he would not be able to extend to many friends hospitality on so extensive a scale as at Government House. On behalf of Lady Clark and the Misses Clark he would gratefully accept their kind gifts.

The presentation to Miss Clark consisted of a beautiful gold watch, and to Miss Elsle Cark a gold bag.

Among those present were: Sir Jas. P. Whitney and Lady Whitney, Sir Charles Moss and Lady Moss, Sir Henry M. Pellatt and Lady Pellatt, Consul-General Nordhelmer, Col. George T. Denison, Lt.-Col. Septimus Danison, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Davidson, Col. Mac-
