For Endowing Bed There will be an entertainment tonight in the vestry of the Main Street Baptist church under the auspices of the Red Cross Society for the purpose of raising funds to endow a bed in the Prince-Patricia convalescent home at Ransgate. RUSSIANS SHOW THEM THE WAY London, Oct. 18.—A wireless despatch from Bern quotes the war correspondent of the Vienna Zeit on the eastern front as referring to improvement in the Russian artillery as follows: "It must be recognized that the advantage enjoyed by our armies owing to the Russian shortage of ammunition are disappearing."

MAKING AN EXCUSE Berlin, Oct. 17.—(Delayed)—The Kriegszeitung, the evening edition of the Lokal Anzeiger, publishes a report that the British have ordered the arming of all merchantmen, and says that as a result Germany may be forced to take up a sharper submarine campaign with consequent endangerment of German-American relations.

WHEAT CLIMBING Chicago, Oct. 19.—Despite some uncertainty at the outset, wheat prices today soared on yesterday's top notch figures. Argentine and Canadian crop advices continued disappointing. Opening prices, which ranged with December at 16 1/2 to 16 3/4, advanced to 16 3/4 to 16 7/8, from 16 to 16 1/2, and May at 16 1/4 to 16 1/2, from 16 to 16 1/4, by small down turns and then a sharp rise all around.

VERY LARGE GAIN The St. John bank clearings for the week ended today were $2,868,818; corresponding week last year, $1,801,848.

U. S. TRADE BOOMING (Bradstreet's.) Trade, as well as industry, continues extraordinarily active, in which respect the situation shows little or no variation from recently preceding weeks. Buying for next spring, while broadening, indicates some conservatism, holiday buying is proceeding apace, retail trade is expanding, prices are still high, labor is scarce, the railways are buying more freely in the steel market, car shortages are growing more serious, earnings are heavy, the leading industries are sold far ahead, and pig iron is higher, while there is no let-up to export business, but shipments have been retarded by submarine attacks on shipping on the Atlantic coast. Incidentally, submarine activities also have caused an advance in ocean freight rates, while temporarily affecting prices for wheat and cotton and tending to crimp stock-market price movements. Collections are good, and interior merchants, who are profiting from the advantages of high prices for farm products more than offsetting the loss of income from the sale of cotton and wool, are paying off old debts. Seemingly comparatively few past due debts will be carried into next year. Shipbuilding is thriving as never before, and requires repeating new vessels continue to come forward at a noteworthy rate. Manufacturers in general are not able to stock up to any extent, so exigent are demands, and the high prices prevailing there is a strong tendency to convert goods into cash as rapidly as possible. Thus, American manufacturers virtually have their checks so cleared that any sudden changes overseas may be readily withstood. Bank deposits, especially in the large industrial centres, eloquently testify to the exceptionally heavy wage earnings of the working classes, who, because of extraordinary employment, are bearing high prices with equanimity. There is, however, a more clearly defined tendency to ask if prices have not already gone too high, and for the time being, at least, it is probable that further buying will move along more conservative lines, that is, needs will be covered as and when they develop, the desire being to guard against over-stocking with high-priced goods.

Pride of Possession That is a distinctive attribute of the Howard watch. Every man who possesses a Howard feels particularly proud of his watch—and justly so, for the Howard could not have maintained its reputation as a superior timepiece through these many years unless it had the watch qualities to back it up. Now would it be generally regarded as "the best watch" today if its reputation had not been built on accuracy and durability facts.

The Howard is supreme as a presentation watch—the gift of honor bestowed by lord, employees, co-workers or friends. Step into Sharpe's and examine Howard watches. Prices range from $40 to $150.

Rome, Oct. 18.—The Italian government has issued a proclamation offering a reward of 200,000 lire ($20,000) for information which will result in the conviction of the German or Austrian spy who caused an explosion on board the battleship Leonardo da Vinci. The dreadnaught was sent to the bottom by an explosion while at anchor in Tarento harbor on Sept. 12 last. Three hundred lives were lost on the battleship.

A TRIBUTE TO BRITAIN

A striking tribute to Britain's war government was paid by Sir Hamar Greenwood, Bart., during the course of his speech before the Canadian Club of Toronto. "I am ready to criticize the British government on the floor of parliament. I will not criticize it here, but I will say that its record, reinforced by the nation's patriotism behind it, will go down as one of the marvels of the history of the world." Britain is united as never before, the speaker showed. "You have doubtless heard a lot here of the 'conscientious objector'. Well, the conscientious objector, all told, never reached a thousand, and the great majority of them are now in the ranks as first rate British soldiers." Sir Hamar's reference to the financing of the war was full of interest. Britain, he said, was the only member of the allies who was in a position to impose additional taxes after the war had begun. It was upon her that the burden of supplying men, munitions and money for the continuance of the struggle was daily more and more being laid. France's resources have almost all been taxed to the limit. Russia, he declared, was inexhaustible as regards men, but only inexhaustible in that "The Russian army today is fighting in khaki, and those khaki uniforms all go from the mother country." As an instance of the whole-hearted sacrifice made by Britain, he stated that motoring as a pastime had been given up. "There are more motor cars running on the streets of Toronto today than in the whole of England. Cars have either been stored or sent by the tens of thousands over to France."

THE WAR NEWS

Today's cables indicate that with the aid of the Russians the Roumanian armies have checked the enemy and that the danger of Roumania being overrun has greatly lessened. If the Germans and Austrians cannot carry out their purpose in this field their case is hopeless, for on no other front have they any chance of success. Once more Russia appears to have come to the rescue at a critical moment.

GERMANY AND PEACE

The only talk of peace comes from Germany. The Allies are devoting their energies to the task of crushing the Central Powers, and have no time to give to consideration of possible present terms of peace. Of course Germany talks of peace on Germany's terms, but the fact that the question is discussed at all in that country reveals the great difference between the feelings of the German people and those of the people of the Allied nations.

MOTOR CAR CLIMBS FAR UP MT. HOOD ON CLEATS

For the purpose of demonstrating the hill-climbing ability of a certain motor car, a seven-passenger machine was recently driven three-fourths of the distance up snow-capped Mt. Hood in Oregon. OTTAWA HEARS THERE MAY BE AN ELECTION

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—An indication of the somewhat panicky frame of mind of the Borden government with regard to the fate that awaits it when it has to appeal to the country for another lease of power, the rumor is current in government circles that the decision to meet parliament next January for a final session has been again abandoned.

THE HOUSING REPORT

The report of the housing investigation made some time ago, of conditions in one section of this city, is now before the city council. The report should be printed, along with all of the photographs, which accompany it, and should be circulated throughout the city. The report is a most interesting and timely one, and it is to be hoped that it will lead to some practical steps to be taken to improve the housing conditions in this city.

SPAIN MAY BE NEXT WITH THE ALLIES

Rumors of Possible Change in Policy FORMERLY WAS PRO-GERMAN Statement by Conservative League Taken to Indicate Intention to Line up Against Central Powers There must be in some neutral countries a censorship hardly less rigorous than prevails among the belligerents. In Spain, for example, important events must have taken place, but no word of them has leaked out. Who is the premier of Spain at this time? Is it Maura or Romanones? It is difficult to imagine that matters of so much moment should be kept secret; it is more probable that in the press of war news mere political manoeuvrings in Spain should be neglected.

Greater Powers For N.B. Command

But Province Will Not Be Separate Military District; The Staff; Many Added to Casualty Lists

On the return of Brigadier-General H. B. McLean yesterday it was announced that New Brunswick will not be made a separate military district, but that the N. B. command will be given greater liberty and will be able to correspond direct with Ottawa instead of through Halifax. The headquarters staff will be similar to that of a brigade, consisting of the O. C., a brigade major and staff captain.

It is reported that Colonel A. H. H. Powell, who was A. G. here last winter, holds the appointment also that he may be transferred to the Montreal headquarters.

SERGEANT W. J. SEYMOUR, Died of Wounds

Major Good, formerly of the 140th C. E. F. Battalion, who has been engaged in the work at the New Brunswick command office for some weeks will be given a special service appointment at St. Agathe (P. Q.).

Brigadier-General McLean said that Colonel J. L. McAvity, late O. C. of the 26th Battalion, who has been acting A. G. at the New Brunswick command office will later be offered the position of chief recruiting officer for the province of New Brunswick, which position was recently vacated by Major L. P. D. Tilley, who became director of the national service commission for the province of New Brunswick.

It will be seen by this that there will be a general shuffle in military posts in the province of New Brunswick and the military establishment of the command in this city has been cut down materially. Captain A. D. Corvill will maintain his position as military instructor of the 16th French-Canadian Battalion and will later become commandant of the branch of the R. S. I. which will be opened here later in the year, which he commanded last winter in this city.

Dr. W. B. McVey, who has been on duty as sanitary and medical officer at the military hospital, Aldershot camp, during the past season, has been transferred to the Field Ambulance Depot for overseas service and will report for duty in a few days to that unit.

Word was received yesterday by Mrs. Annie Aremouth of 12 Eden street to the effect that her seventeen year old son, Private James Malcolm Aremouth had been killed in action. Prior to enlistment he was in the employ of Emerson & Fisher in this city. Besides his mother he is survived by one brother, Finlay.

Mrs. M. A. Orr, 16 Meadow street received word yesterday that her son, Private Robert Orr had been admitted to No. 5 General Hospital, Rouen, suffering from gun shot wounds in the face.

Private Van Tassel Killed. Digby, Oct. 18.—(Special).—Another Digby boy has been killed in action this time. It is Private Walter Van Tassel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Van Tassel aged 22 years. Private Van Tassel served as a member of the 26th (N. B.) regiment.

Edward Bernard Falls. Chatham, Oct. 18.—Word was received this morning from Ottawa that Private Edward Bernard was reported killed in action on September 28. Private Bernard is survived by his wife and four children, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bernard, three sisters and two brothers, one with the 182nd. The heartfelt sympathy of the whole town goes out to them in their sad loss.

Lieut. March in France. Amongst the list of officers that have recently crossed to France from England is the name of Lieut. J. E. March, Presentations.

A party was given last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nickson, 189 Waterloo street, for their son, Victor, who has enlisted with the Field Ambulance Depot. In the course of the evening his friends presented him a gold signet ring. He also received a gold wrist watch from the staff of Norton Griffiths & Co., Ltd., his former employer.

First Lieut-General. General Sir Sam Hughes is the first Lieutenant-General Canada has had. There are only two in the British Empire, outside of the United Kingdom, the other being General Botha of South Africa. It is an honorary rank.

Captain John Edward Merrill, the returned officer, who shot and killed John Fletcher Rogers, a railway clerk at Moncton, on Tuesday afternoon, enlisted in St. John shortly after the war broke out. He joined Capt. Bishop's detachment of the Canadian Army Medical Corps and later was transferred to the Princess Pats.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Enlistments for the first half of October have totalled 8,190. This is an increase of 124 over the preceding fortnight. Recruiting continues at the rate of about 6,000 per month, but it is hoped that with the advent of winter the release of a considerable number will again stimulate enlistment.

Total enlistments since the outbreak of the war are now placed at 868,968. By military districts the recruiting figures for the period from October 1 to 15 are as follows: No. 1 (London), 814; No. 2 (Toronto), 447; No. 8 (Kingston), 856; No. 4 (Montreal), 672; No. 8 (Quebec), 188; No. 6 (Maritime Provinces), 888; No. 10 (Manitoba and Saskatchewan), 465; No. 11 (British Columbia), 268; No. 18 (Bertha), 286.

A new battalion for Queen's University has been authorized. It is to be a light infantry battalion and will be in command of Professor P. C. G. Campbell, who is made a lieutenant-colonel.

MISERABLE FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Felt Wretched Until He Started To Take "Fruit-a-lives"

264 Champlain St., Montreal.

"For two years, I was a miserable sufferer from Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble. I had frequent Diarrhoea, and when I took food, felt wretched and sick. I suffered from Rheumatism dreadfully, with pains in my back and joints, and my hands swollen.

A friend advised "Fruit-a-lives" and the first box, I felt I was getting well and I can truthfully say that "Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine that helped me." LOUIS LABRIE.

50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 30c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

He is about thirty-five years old and, before enlisting, was in the employ of M. R. A. Ltd.

How He Was Wounded. Private R. L. Colborne of this city, in a recent letter to his mother, Mrs. Catherine Colborne, of 122 Mecklenburg street, relates how the Canadians, in spite of heavy losses, advanced fifteen hundred yards and captured three German lines in the region of Thiépvail on September 26. He says that he was in the front line and, when about 200 yards from the German front line, he was struck by a bullet in the left hand two inches above the middle. The charge was made by the First Canadian Division and the Fourth British Division.

Returning to St. John. Mr. Martin Smith of this city received word last night that his son, Lieutenant Frank M. Smith, was on his way back to Canada and would arrive in Quebec this afternoon, having suffered from shell shock in July last. This is the second time he has been incapacitated, having been wounded in the offensive at Loos last spring.

Word has been received that another son, Lieut. Roland Smith, who won his commission on the battlefield with the 26th Battalion, is again in England suffering a recurrence of an old wound.

Died of Wounds. That Sergeant W. J. Seymour, of 11 Partridge Row, had died of wounds was the word received by his wife yesterday. He was twenty-eight years old and prior to enlistment was employed with J. H. Estabrook & Co., Ltd. Besides his wife and three children he is survived by father, Sergeant James Seymour, now in England, one brother, Herbert, in France, and two sisters, Mrs. T. Murdock, Waterloo street, and Miss Ivy Seymour.

Killed by Bullet. Some days ago Mrs. Florence M. Long, of Bloomfield Station, received word that her husband, Private Silas J. Long, of the 26th Battalion, had been killed in action. Recently she received a letter from her son, Major R. Tidman, major of the unit, stating that her husband was killed by a rifle bullet which entered his lung. He died at the dressing station and was buried at the cemetery behind the lines. Major Tidman assured her that her husband's effects would be forwarded to Canada.

Private Van Tassel Killed. Digby, Oct. 18.—(Special).—Another Digby boy has been killed in action this time. It is Private Walter Van Tassel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Van Tassel aged 22 years. Private Van Tassel served as a member of the 26th (N. B.) regiment.

ordered to move. Of course the prospective recruit fled to avoid trouble. I stood there a moment and that policeman ordered me away. I thought, as a taxpayer, I was within my rights to stand any place on a sidewalk. I help to pay for, so we had a little bit of an argument. He even went so far as to say that I was no gentleman. Well, he might have been right, as most of our young men are too blase and gentle.

Any how, he took my name; my address he wasn't anxious about. (It is Heaven, but I cannot see why there should be any trouble between them and our soldier boys, unless they make it which they (or some of them) seem to be willing to do.

SUFFRAGE SPREADS.

(Woman's Journal).

The outcome of the election in British Columbia exemplifies anew the tendency of woman suffrage to spread from one neighboring state or country to another.

British Columbia is bordered on one side by Washington and Idaho, on the other by Alaska. If the men of British Columbia had seen just across the boundary line any of the direful results that are so freely predicted by the opponents of equal rights, they would never have voted to follow the example.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with local applications as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Cure was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Cure is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials free.

THE SILVER CROSS FOR SOLDIERS' MOTHERS (Toronto Star)

A number of correspondents have written letters to The Star endorsing the suggestion made by A. Fraser that a silver cross be awarded by the government to every Canadian mother who loses a son in the war.

When God made the supreme sacrifice for humanity, He gave His only begotten Son, and He elevated motherhood to divinity when He took Mary's Son and commanded the sacrifice of His life.

LAT 80, PUTS IN AS BUSY A DAY AS MEN ONLY HALF HIS AGE

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 19.—At the age of eighty, Daniel Chase Corbin, a pioneer of Spokane, is still president of a railroad company and active head of a number of large enterprises. He is hailed as the greatest railroad builder in the Pacific northwest. Every day finds Mr. Corbin at his office in the Old National Bank building, and it is probable that few men of any age dispose of more business details than he.

him, with the added burden of responsibility. His work of helping to build up the Spokane country began in 1888, when he established a rail and boat line to market the newly-discovered ores of the Coeur d'Alene mining district. Two years later he built the Spokane Falls & Northern Railway north to the international boundary, which he later extended to Nelson, B.C. He also built the Red Mountain Railway to market the ores from Rossland, B.C. Still later he extended the S. P. & N. to other British Columbia mining camps. The next and greatest of his achievements was the building, in 1903, of the Spokane International to connect with the Canadian Pacific and Soo systems at Kingsgate. Mr. Corbin is still president of this railroad and its branch lines. His activities also include the establishment of large industries in the coal fields, in irrigated lands and in the beet sugar business.

and Nationalist volunteers had enlisted, and if it had not been for distrust of Ireland in the early phases of the war the number of volunteers would have been tripled.

"So long as the present state of government exists in Ireland, so long will the present excited and irritated public feeling exist, so long as the Irish people see that England, fighting for the rights of small nationalities in Europe, is maintaining, by martial law, the Catholic government against the will of the people of Ireland, no real improvement can be hoped for.

London, Oct. 18.—In the House of Commons today John E. Redmond's motion was defeated 208 to 106. Mr. Redmond moved his resolution in the presence of a crowded house. Among those in the gallery were Lord Stanforth, King George's private secretary. The Irish leader said it was undeniable that the situation in Ireland was full of menace and danger, and he contrasted this state of affairs with the genuine enthusiasm for the Allies in Ireland at the beginning of the war. He proceeded to review the situation in detail.

Mr. Redmond said the situation was full of menace and danger of menace to the principles and aspiration of Ireland, and to a good understanding between Great Britain and Ireland, and full of menace to the highest interests of the empire at the present moment.

"I do not want to make a party speech, and accordingly start my survey with the outbreak of the war. My object is to ally, not to inflame, feeling, and to show how it is possible to save the situation," he continued.

"From the very first the efforts of the Nationalist leaders were thwarted and snubbed, and looking back I am amazed at the success which I am allowed to achieve. Ireland had 157,000 men in the army, of whom 52,000 were Catholics, and 10,000 in the navy. Thirty thousand recruiting, he declared, than the Irish leader. He did not consider it safe, in view of the possible recrudescence of recent events, to dispense with the existing safeguards, but the government was desirous, at the earliest possible moment, to revert to normal conditions. Turning to the question of the Irish prisoners, some statements were made, and Mr. Asquith promised that those detained should be liberated at the moment it was considered safe to do so.

In conclusion the premier said, that the atmosphere now existing in Ireland could only be dispersed by an agreed settlement. He believed there was no party, no sane politician in Great Britain, who would not welcome with joy such an agreement, and co-operate wholeheartedly therein, and he prayed it might be soon reached.

The premier's speech was received with manifest signs of disapproval by the Nationalists.

David Lloyd George, secretary for war, said: "At the most crucial period of recruiting at the beginning of the war, some staidities, which at times almost looked like malignance, were perpetrated in Ireland, and were beyond belief. It is very difficult to recover a lost opportunity of that kind, where national susceptibilities have been offended and original enthusiasm killed."

Looking at the urgency of the military problem, he hoped that the men of all parties would help Mr. Redmond, to their utmost, to solve his difficulties and create a better atmosphere in Ireland with regard to recruiting. He desired to see this gallant and warlike people brought back to their original temper at the outbreak of the war. Everybody in England and the men of all parties in Ireland, should consider how to remove the causes of injustice, distrust and suspicion between the two races which rendered it impossible for them to co-operate.

"I believe it can be done," said the secretary. "Before beginning any controversy about recruiting in Ireland, I should like to see what is considered. I am making this appeal as secretary for war, and I know very well that everything the empire can do in every quarter should be summoned to our aid in Ireland to assist. Let us make it easy for Ireland to assist. Let everybody in Great Britain subordinate everything to secure the assistance of this great race. And I make the same appeal to Ireland."

GIANT SEARCHLIGHT BUILT BY EASTERN INVENTOR

What is heralded as the world's most powerful searchlight, a big instrument that is reported to be capable of developing approximately 1,280,000,000 candlepower, is described in the November Popular Mechanics Magazine. The instrument has recently been erected on the roof of a manufacturing plant at Brooklyn, where it is being used for experimental purposes. The most important feature of the new searchlight is its arc. In addition to the brilliant light obtained from the heated surface of the positive carbon, use is made of the intensely bright flame produced through the combustion of the superheated vapor that is given off. To employ the gas successfully it is necessary that it be confined in an exceedingly small area. This is accomplished by making a very deep crater in the positive carbon, in which the vapor is concentrated. As a result the luminosity emanating from the mouth of the crater amounts to about 620,000 candlepower to the square inch. The instrument is exciting profound interest in technical and scientific circles.

"Lost American Legion Joke Played on George V"

That's How an American Writer in Toronto Sizes Up the 97th Battalion; "Chief Sufferers Are the Good Americans," He Co. cudes

The Detroit Journal publishes the following interesting story of "The American Legion," written from an American point of view by its special representative in Toronto, Amelcy Burrows. The Journal heads it "Lost American Legion Was a Joke Played by Americans on George V."

Where is the American Legion—that regiment that was to have done in France what Roosevelt's Rough Riders did in Cuba? Where is it? With bands playing, and colors waving, the American Legion marches through Toronto, on a bright day of last spring, bound for Quebec, and thence overseas to the fighting line. It never reached the fighting line. It never even reached Quebec. It just dropped quietly out of sight. It became the Lost Legion.

I asked a high military official in Toronto where the Lost Legion was. He gazed at me inscrutably. Then he said: "I am not permitted to say where the American Legion is."

In Toronto nobody talks about the American Legion. Go into a hotel, and ask the manager what became of it, and he will look blankly at you. He has heard, however, of the American Legion, but really he cannot give any information. Didn't it go overseas?

A Scotch Verdict

I kidnaped a Scotch private, brought him from the front of Belgium, and under his influence he opened up a bit. "The American Legion," he exclaimed. "Hoot man! Dinna speir about they lads."

"What was the trouble with them?" I persisted.

"Hoot awa! They were nae waur than sin thers." "Well, what did they do that was no worse than some others?" "The killed one looked uneasy. 'Aweel! Aweel! They yankees waur ge'w well laddies!'"

"Did they get drunk?" "Oa aye! What ye might ca' a wae bit fu'. There was litters as bad!" I found an American officer, who had served with the famous legion that is now the Lost Legion, and he also looked distressed. We had a little fencing match, and then I put it to him.

"I understand that the men were all right and that all the trouble was with the officers." He flushed slightly, but the question had to be answered. "It's true that our officers were not qualified," he said. "They didn't know much about the Canadian methods. All the Canadian battalions had qualified officers, but we didn't. But it would have been hard for any officer to control our men."

"They were a wild lot, eh?"

"The American officer ground the answer through his teeth. 'They were. It was, but it was their fault.'"

How It Began

I picked up a number of interesting reminiscences at the American Club, but it was from some outsiders who had large acquaintance in the legion that I learned most of its story.

The play for an American Legion, first broached at the American Club, had fallen flat, when a stranger from the States made his appearance in Toronto and revived it. Nobly in Toronto seems to know much about this person. His antecedents are misty. He is described as resembling a promoter of stock companies rather than a soldier.

He obtained introductions to Major General Sir Sam Hughes, and dangled that minister with stories of the thousands of American fighters who were ready to join the colors. Hughes commissioned him as colonel, and let him go. He lasted three months, and then faded away, and the places that had known him knew him no more. He was succeeded by Col. Jolly, who had served as an officer of marines at Vera Cruz. No doubt Col. Jolly was a good marine officer, but he did not prove a very efficient organizer.

There was no trouble at any time.

New Home Treatment for Banishing Hairs

(Beauty Topics.)

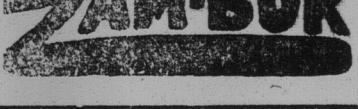

With the aid of a delicate paste, it is an easy matter for any woman to remove every trace of hair or fuzz from face, neck and arms. Enough of the powdered delicate and water is mixed into a thick paste and spread on the hairy surface for about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This completely removes the hair, but to avoid disarrangement, get the delicate in an original package.

YOU CAN'T

cure skin troubles by applying ointment to the surface skin. You must reach the underlying tissues where the disease has its roots. Ordinary ointments cannot do this, and that is why the relief they give is only temporary.

Zam-Buk, on the contrary, has special power of penetration, combined with unusual germ-destroying properties, that it reaches and destroys all germs in the underlying tissues. Then the healing essence prompts the growth of new flesh, which gradually develops until the diseased patch is entirely replaced by new, healthy tissue, and a complete and permanent cure is effected.

Zam-Buk is best for eczema, and all skin troubles, ringworm, ulcers, abscesses, salt rheum, chronic sores, blood-poisoning, boils, piles, cuts, burns, scalds and skin-itches. All druggists, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c. box, 2 for $1.25.

about recruits. It was the autumn of 1914. Navigation had nearly closed and the border cities were full of roustabouts, off the lake steamers. Prosperity had not yet reached its full tide, and the same cities were full of unemployed men, hoboes, and pushovers.

The recruiting officers were jammed with applicants. Little discretion was used in the choice of men. The physical examination was a joke. Hundreds entered, the battalion merely to obtain some roustabout's pay.

Each of them drew $83 a month besides board, lodging and clothes. Many of them boasted openly that the men were all right and that all the trouble was with the officers." He flushed slightly, but the question had to be answered.

Many of the men took the whole thing as a joke, and used the uniform merely as a license to commit all kinds of disorders. The provost guards had to be increased in number in order to check their doings.

Raise 3,000 Men

The American Legion is said to have recruited between 8,000 and 4,000 men. The recruits were made their military duty. The restraints and labors of a soldier's life were not enough to discipline among them.

Many of the men refused to salute their superiors. The men have the habit of saluting themselves without permission. If they got two days' leave they made a dash for it. Some of them were sent to the States. On one occasion when a corporal's guard was sent to arrest some roustabouts the men threw the corporal out on his head and fired furniture at him.

Disorders began as soon as the legion was formed. At times the men were deserting as fast as they were coming in. Most of them made their way to Niagara Falls, where they procured plain clothing and crossed the footbridge into New York. It is said that there were always pro-German persons ready to supply the clothes, and it is charged that many persons of German blood joined the legion for the express purpose of deserting to Germany.

It is said that on a single day more than 150 uniforms were found under the footbridge at Niagara. Each of them had "American Legion" on the shoulder straps. Four times the legion passed above the required strength, and four times it fell far below it. When ordered to leave Toronto the legion was up to strength, but before the train pulled out 200 men had made their escape.

The Disappearing Act

The legion never reached Quebec. It was switched off into Nova Scotia, and there did the celebrated disappearing act. There are various stories as to the reason for the change in programme. It is said that so many officers resigned that there were not enough to take the legion overseas. Another story is that the legion reached Quebec it was reduced by desertion to 700 in number. A third reason is that President Wilson objected to the regiment going to France as the "American Legion."

A little later word came back that 800 of its number had gone overseas to reinforce other battalions.

Through it all the attitude of the Canadian authorities was perfectly "correct." It is stated that General Logie and the district staff were driven to the verge of nervous prostration by the pranks of the legion, but no scandal was permitted.

The American Legion is now regarded as a joke played upon King George V. and the government of Canada by some thousands of irresponsible men who got their board, clothes, pay, and a howling good time out of His Majesty. And then legged it out of the country as soon as the trumpet called to arms. The chief sufferers, however, were the few hundreds of good Americans who really wanted to fight, and who were more wounded and hurt by the affair than the British or the Canadian government ever could be.

An artillery officer said to me last night: "A terrifying drama is taking place on the Somme. CONDIDIONS ARE FOUND STARTLING

Report on Some Houses in St. John

Fire Risk Very Great

Menaces Also to Public Health; Provisions of a Housing Law Providing for Desirable Improvement in Conditions

Starting conditions of uncleanness, filth and overcrowdedness in the so-called tenement districts of St. John have been revealed in the report of the housing investigation committee of the board of trade, recently submitted to the common council. The committee was appointed and received a grant to carry on its work early in 1914, but conditions arising from the war prevented a completion of the work until recently. Chairman W. F. Burditt and the other members of the board with the assistance of two inspectors, J. H. Watson and H. T. McLaughlin, have submitted an exhaustive and lengthy report, based on actual conditions and figures gathered in a careful inspection of the most densely populated section of St. John.

pared with some of the larger cities in the United States and other countries, these conditions were found to be moderate, but the high rents and the demand for the use of some of the dilapidated quarters, and the conditions under which so many women and children live seem almost incredible. The area investigated contained 18 1/2 acres. Included within the area were 248 dwelling houses containing 591 separately occupied sets of apartments, in which there were reported to be living 2,891 occupants. Of the occupants 48 per cent were male, 31 per cent female, 15 per cent children under five years of age, 14 per cent children from five to twelve years of age. The buildings in the area surveyed consist to a large extent of old wooden dwelling houses that have seen better days but are now in a more or less dilapidated condition. Many houses originally designed for occupation by one or at most two families, are now occupied with slight adaptation, by two, three or four families. A number of the old buildings now occupied as dwellings were not originally built for that purpose at all, but are old barns and other outbuildings which have been converted into dwellings of a very inferior class. Of the 248 buildings classified it was found that 232 were old houses, six were old houses rebuilt, five only were new houses.

causes which produce such conditions are allowed to continue unchecked. The fact that two-thirds of the houses in this district are comfortable and the majority of which are in old converted barns or other outbuildings, and some few in basements and cellars. Summary of Revelations. The facts brought out by the investigation seem to warrant the following conclusions: That in consequence of the character of the buildings which consist almost entirely of old wooden houses, in closely built rows, the majority of them in a more or less dilapidated condition, and over eighty-five per cent of which are occupied by two or more families, the conflagration risk is very great, constituting a menace to the entire city. That there is a considerable degree of land overcrowding in parts of the district, especially in the block bounded by Union, Brunsell, Richmond and St. Patrick streets, in the centre of which block there are many rear tenements of a very poor character as well as stables, out door privies, and other buildings. That taking the district as a whole the facts elicited do not indicate any great degree of congestion, nevertheless a population averaging ninety-six per acre is considerably in excess of the desirable standard, and taking into account the fact that the district includes a good deal of vacant land, it is evident there must be considerable crowding in some parts. That while the majority of the people are comfortably housed in one or two-family houses, a considerable proportion are living in a very poor class of tenements and paying rents that are exorbitant considering the character of accommodation they have.

MERRILL HELD FOR TRIAL; BLAMES GERMAN GAS FOR LOSS OF MEMORY

Moncton, Oct. 18.—That as a result of being gassed by Germans while fighting in France he has had lapses of memory and was in such condition yesterday was the statement of Capt. John F. Merrill at the preliminary court examination this afternoon on the charge of murdering John F. Rogers in the I. C. R. general offices. Merrill made a statement when asked by Magistrate Steeves if he had anything to say, just before being committed for trial at the session of the supreme court which opens at Dorchester on Tuesday next. The preliminary examination began about 8 o'clock this afternoon, F. J. Murphy appearing for the crown and Major C. L. Huntington and E. R. McDonald, Shediac, for the accused. Merrill in his statement to Chief of Police Rideout said he was born in West Hartlepool, England. He was a private in the Princess Pats and won promotion on the field. He was promoted into the imperial service as second lieutenant in the King's Own Lancashire Regiment, 10th Reserve Battalion. He has his old battalion badge, also the cap and feather of the 246th Highlanders (N. S.), in which, he says, he is acting captain.

"We cannot disturb the old natural balance of our food supply and get away with it. We may deceive ourselves, but we can't cheat Nature."

—Dr. Goudiss, Editor The Forecast Magazine.

This "old natural balance" is simply Nature's perfect arrangement and proportioning of food elements in our food supply for perfect building of body, brain and nerves. Modern commercialism destroys this "balance," when in milling flour it casts out (to make it white) most of the mineral elements so essential to health.

Hunger Stalks Through Belgium NOW!

While we in Canada are bringing in the harvest, filling our store-rooms and stocking our pantries with an abundance of good food—our Allies in overrun Belgium are facing another winter of near-starvation. Women and children there by millions have gone for two years on short rations, for the Belgian Relief Fund has never been sufficient to provide full fare. Consequently they are in no condition to stand the still greater privations threatened on account of the growing number dependent on the fund. Anything less than the present meagre allowance of bread and soup would, in thousands of cases, fail to hold bodies and souls together. Shall we—can we—go on eating our three square meals a day—living well if not luxuriously—while Belgian children, pinched and cold, sobbingly beg their mothers for bread enough to stave the gnawing hunger? $2.50 a month in the hands of the Belgian Relief Commission, will feed a Belgian family. A cigar less a day—a night missed from the theatre—simpler refreshments after an evening's cards—the price of any one of a dozen such habitual luxuries would provide the food that means life for a Belgian mother and her children till the end of the war. Won't your own meals taste better when you know some little Belgians also are enjoying the food which you provide? Whatever you feel that you can spare, send your subscription weekly, monthly or in one lump sum to the Local or Provincial Committees, or send Cheques payable to Treasurer.

Bacteria Live From Five to Seven Years on Ice-Floes

Greenlanders the Victims; Inhabitants of Labrador, Iceland and Newfoundland May be Infected; Think United States Should Act

A special correspondent of the Medical News in Alaska, who sends his communications from St. Michael, is convinced that various communicable diseases have been introduced to the natives of the east coast of Greenland by means of the Polar ice-pack.

This menace, he believes, is not confined to Eastern Greenland but may affect the inhabitants of Iceland, Labrador, Newfoundland, and even those of the Scandinavian shore.

The writer advocates a thorough investigation of the matter by an international commission of zoologists appointed by the countries likely to be affected. He is fully persuaded that curbing the Bering Strait sweep across the Polar ocean into the North Atlantic and that they carry bacteria which are frozen in the ice of refuse thrown on ice floes by the Alaskan natives.

In the year 1912, when the Swiss savant, De Quervain, started to cross the ice from the west coast of Greenland to the east coast, he was accompanied by a dog named "Danish" which he had brought with him.

"This precaution was deemed necessary by the Danes because it was feared that the expedition might be the means of spreading to the villages of the east coast of the island the disease which was prevalent along the western shore, and which had infected nearly all the dogs of the villages in that vicinity.

That William F. Carrigan of Lewiston, who as manager of the Red Sox led that team to world championship honors for two consecutive years and who has now retired from baseball, is to enter the banking business is indicated by reports relating to recent transfers in the First National Bank of Auburn.

This ice, carrying tons of garbage and refuse matter from Alaska, floats away to the northward, with the breaking away of the ice from the shore in early summer, to become incorporated into the great ice-pack which covers the whole of the Polar area.

the Alaskan shore, told me that to a casual observer it would appear that there is much more tuberculosis among the natives of Alaska than among those of the west coast of Greenland. He stated that, while he had never visited the east coast of Greenland, he has heard that the people there are much more subject to tuberculosis than those on the western side of the island, thereby more nearly resembling the Alaskan natives.

Alaska is a possible source of infection to the natives of this barren Greenland shore, it would be the duty of the United States to take steps toward the prevention of the spread of disease in this manner. "Not only the natives of the Greenland shore would be endangered by this means, but the health of the inhabitants of Iceland, and even Labrador and Newfoundland, is to be considered; and when it is realized that some of these organisms may not sink to the bottom when the ice melts away, but remain in suspension and be carried with the current of the Gulf Stream to the Scandinavian shore, the matter might have a more far-reaching result than above outlined.

"PRISONER SLAVES" IN GERMAN HANDS NOW NUMBER TWO MILLION

Enter Into Calculation of Man-Power, Says Boston Writer on Conditions in Germany

London, Oct. 19.—(New York Sun cable)—D. Thomas Curtin of Boston, writes in the Times this morning that the British captures of German prisoners is bettering the lot of British prisoners in Germany, the Germans being anxious that ill-treatment bring reprisals. This applies to officers as well as to men.

Mr. Curtin emphasizes the value to Germany of its 2,000,000 "prisoner slaves" who now are reclaiming swamps, tilling soil, building roads and railways and working in factories.

"Some of your military writers," he says, "have these prisoners out of their calculations when estimating Germany's man power. If you had 2,000,000 prisoners you probably would be able to release 2,000,000 of your own people for military service. Most of the prisoners in Germany are Russians. They are seen everywhere and have greater freedom than any others. They sometimes travel unguarded to and from work. They are docile, physically strong and accustomed to lower grade food than any other prisoners with the exception of the Serbs.

"Of course the English form much the smallest number of prisoners, but they are most highly prized for hate propaganda purposes. They are selected to manage, said an under officer to me, than the rest of our 2,000,000. It is indeed a fact that your 20,000 prisoners, although the worst treated, are the gayest and most outspoken and most rebellious against tyranny."

DEFENCE OF SAILORS IS THAT FOOD WAS NOT GOOD

An interesting case has developed as a result of the arrest of Victor Osdone and John Zelonski, charged with refusing duty on board the bark Solheim, they being arctic seamen.

In the police court this morning Captain Larsen and another officer gave evidence. The two sailors say that the food was bad and anything but inviting, and as a result they refused duty, especially when they were refused, by their officers, the right to make a complaint to their consul. Some of the food is now in the possession of the police. The case was postponed in order to give the inspectors time to examine the food. Upon the result of their investigation will depend the action of the court.

B.G. GAME ON THE TRACADIE

From October 2 to 8 inclusive there were seven large bull moose killed on the head waters of the Big Tracadie River. One of these animals went to earth by the well-directed shot of J. A. Caron of Montreal. Mr. Caron was the guest of J. J. McGuffigan, and they enjoyed the outing in the caravan, or house on wheels near Meadow Brook. Mr. Caron was very much pleased with the hunting in New Brunswick. The day that he killed his moose he saw five others in the same manner.

Mr. McGuffigan returned on Wednesday bringing home with him a very nice moose which he killed near the Bathurst road. He and his guide were out from their base only one hour when they were back with the moose.
