INQUIRY INTO STEAMSHIP LOSS

Captain of City of Colombo Was Witness This Morning.

Before a court of inquiry, composed of Captain L. A. Demers, Dominion wreck commissioner, and Captain A. J. Mulcahy and Captain John Hall of the steamer Pretorian as nautical assessors, the evidence of John I. Rose, the master of the steamer City of Colombo, which went ashore on the Digby coast on the afternoon of Sunday, March 20, was taken this morning. The investigation is being held in the board of trade rooms, F. R. Taylor, K. C., appeared for the shipmaster, and Captain Robertson traced the sequence of events from the time the ship left the port early Sunday morning until she grounded about three o'clock in the afternoon, miles off her course. He said this was his first command, and presented his master's certificate. He told of leaving here in unsettled weather and of taking frequent soundings to verify his course. He gave in detail every movement made in the navigation of the ship, and the results of the bearings taken. When pressed as to whether he had specific orders to hurry even in the face of uncertain conditions obtaining as to his knowledge of the waters and to make time in any event, he said he did not, but he knew he had to take on at Philadelphia, March 23, in the meantime had to discharge a cargo of chalk at New York. He said he had not had specific orders to line even at the sacrifice of danger. Captain said he had been in St. John's for years as chief officer, but a stevedore, carrying a cargo of steel wire, three deck officers with certificates and five engineers. At the age of 184 feet forward and 218 feet aft. She was a single screw vessel, with an average speed of nine knots on the open sea. She was last in St. John's in September last. She carried no compass, which was corrected in New York in September. The maximum variation was three and one-half degrees west. They varied slightly. Continued on page 2, fourth column.

Most of Our Wheat Sent Away Through United States Ports
Nearly Twice as Much as Via Canadian Ports, is the Record of Shipments for First Half of This Crop Year.
Montreal, March 23.—Nearly twice as much Canadian wheat exported overseas was shipped through American ports as through Canadian ports during the first half of the current crop year, according to statistics published here. The first half of the crop year ended on Feb. 28, and during that period Canada exported 10,967,991 bushels of wheat, being the largest exportation of wheat for the first six months of any crop year, with the exception of 1915-16. To the United States Canada exported 38,948,000 bushels of wheat and 905,924 barrels of flour. To other countries Canada exported via United States ports, 40,987,466 bushels of wheat and 1,107,474 barrels of flour, and via Canadian ports 22,034,746 bushels of wheat and 1,545,120 barrels of flour.

As Hiram Sees It

"Do have some more tea and make out your breakfast," said Mrs. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter. The morning sunlight streamed through the windows, and the dining room was very bright and cosy. The table, still well laden, with its white linen and floral decorations would tempt an epicure. But the reporter shook his head. "Mrs. Hornbeam," he said, "I have not had such a breakfast for a year. But no more, really, I thank you. You know you got to go to meet me, and I'll get plenty. I'll be a long sermon this morning." "I hope you'll stay awake," said Mrs. Hornbeam. "I had to keep nudging you last Sunday." "You old pagan," said the reporter. "No," said Mrs. Hornbeam. "The Lord has been very good to me, and I don't forget it. But we don't all show our feelings in church today. It may be my fault, but some of us the preacher's, I'm willing to say fifty-fifty—let it go to the devil." "Well," said Mrs. Hornbeam, rising, "you two men have your smoke, and I'll clean up the dishes. By that time you'll be here. And—Hiram—don't forget the collection."

Left to right: Miss Jenny Lindsay, aged 23, a dwarf; Ludwig Schindler, who is 7 feet, 4 inches in height; Ernest Hoehne, who weighs over six hundred pounds. They arrived at New York on the Olympic to join a circus.

GREAT STORM OF MAIL OF EASTER HITS ORCHARDS
Kansas City, March 23.—A repetition of last year's Easter Sunday weather was experienced throughout the south-west yesterday, but on a somewhat milder scale. Light snow with a high wind was frequent over practically the entire area, and in many localities a driving rain and some sleet were reported. A terrific hail storm struck Tulsa, Oklahoma, causing enormous damage to orchards and gardens in that section. Trees were stripped of their foliage, garden trees beaten into pulp, and thousands of window panes broken. The mercury went down to thirty-one above during the downpour, but rose quickly afterward to thirty-four and continued upward during the early night.

DIED IN THE SNOW.
George E. McCraney, K. C., was found dead in the snow near his home at Saskatoon. He had been stricken with apoplexy. From 1896 to 1911 he represented Saskatoon in the dominion parliament.

CARDINAL'S BODY IN CATHEDRAL

Continuous Guard From Catholic Societies Until Hour of Funeral.
Baltimore, March 23.—The body of Cardinal Gibbons was borne this morning to the cathedral, where it will lie in state until Thursday, the day of the funeral. There was no ceremony attendant upon its removal from the archiepiscopal residence. Arrived in the vestments of an archbishop, the body rests upon a catafalque erected at the head of the cathedral within and without its draped in purple and black. Day and night until the hour of the funeral, guards of twelve men selected from the Catholic lay societies will stand beside the bier, and each day from early morning until late at night a "guard of prayer" from the Daughters of Isabella will kneel in the pews, offering prayers for the repose of the soul of the honored prelate. The first ceremony of the funeral was a requiem high mass this morning for children, celebrated by the Rev. Louis R. Siskany, rector of the cathedral, assisted by priests of the late cardinal's household.

E. A. CHARTERS OF SUSSEX DEAD

(Special to Times.)
Sussex, N. B., March 23.—E. A. Charters, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Sussex, died at one o'clock this morning after an illness of several months. He was born seventy-two years ago in Menarrack and has lived here for the last forty years. He was well known throughout the maritime provinces as he was a mine promoter, and traveled a greater part of his time. He was of a genial disposition and ever ready to help any in need. He had just sold his residence here and with his wife was about to go to live with his son in California. He leaves to mourn, besides his wife, one son, Harold H. Charters, of Barre, Calif.; two brothers, Arthur N. Charters, a lawyer in Calgary, and Crane Charters of Point St. Charles, and one sister, Mrs. Patrick of Camrose, Alberta. The funeral will be held on Wednesday morning from Trinity church at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. Mansel Sheven, the rector, will officiate. Interment will be at Upper Sussex.

FAWCETT AGAINST GRANT TO U. N. B.

(Special to Times.)
Frederickton, N. B., March 23.—A. C. Fawcett, M. P., leader of the Farmers' Party in the provincial legislature, has announced that he will oppose an increased grant for the U. N. B. His ground is that Mount Allison receives no provincial grant and is as well entitled to it as the provincial university. His followers disagree with him on this point. F. W. Caldwell, M. P., and G. G. Sharpe, provincial president and secretary of the U. F. O., said that the U. F. O. policy always was for the encouragement of education as carried on by the state and that Mr. Fawcett was absolutely out of touch with his party in taking the line he had announced.

ADVANCE WORD OF GOLD WAVE

Washington, March 23.—High temperatures still prevailed early today in eastern states, but a cold wave was marching swiftly eastward from the Great Lakes region, due to strike on the Atlantic seaboard tomorrow, so the weather bureau said. The lake region and Mississippi valley was in the grip of a "severe frost" morning, and temperatures in New England and middle Atlantic states will start down tonight after rains late in the day.

NEW EPOCH IN EMPIRE BANKING

London Papers on Canadian Director of the Bank of England.

London, March 23.—(Canadian Associated Press)—Discussing the nomination of K. R. Peacock, formerly of Toronto, for a directorship of the Bank of England, the Times this morning says that it marks a new epoch in imperial banking and shows a fresh indication of the keen desire of the bank directors to secure the closer co-operation of business men from the dominions in the interests of imperial unity as well as of imperial trade. One result of the war, the Times adds, was to reveal a gap in the chain of imperial banking unity, which until filled must seriously interfere with the exchange of goods and services within the empire. The Morning Post describes Mr. Peacock's nomination as another break with tradition by an institution noted for its conservatism. Mr. Peacock, who is a man of large interests, will, the Post adds, bring to the service of the Bank of England a special knowledge of Canadian affairs, and thus form another link between our central banking institution and the dominions.

RIVER IN VIEW FROM CAPITAL TO ST. JOHN

Free of Ice Also Ten Miles Above Fredericton
Big Jam at McGinley's Ferry and Valley Railway Trains Are Held Up—Considerable Damage is Caused and More Expected.
Fredericton, N. B., March 23.—The St. John River is free of solid ice from Fredericton to its mouth, a distance of eighty-four miles, and also the entire upper portion of the river to McGinley's Ferry or Crook's Point, about ten miles above Fredericton. At McGinley's Ferry an immense jam of almost the same proportion of that of last year has formed and the water is backing up behind the jam, has overflowed the flats over which the St. John Valley Railway division of the C. N. R. The highway in some places has been covered with water to a depth of several feet and telephone and telegraph poles and wires have been carried away. Part of the C. N. R. tracks over the flats just above McGinley's have been carried away and in the same manner as last year arrangements were made today to transfer passengers, mail and express matter under the flooded district and thus maintain the train service. So far as could be learned at noon almost a mile of the C. N. R. line was submerged and more than 1,200 feet of tracks had been carried off the roadbed by the ice flow. During the morning the head of the jam moved down about a mile and at noon was said to be at the mouth of the MacTague, so that practically all the ice of the entire river between here and Grand Falls, about 40 miles, is now piled in the jam which extends from Fredericton to MacTague. Meanwhile the water is rising quite rapidly and there is fear that considerable damage to barns and buildings on the islands and lateral lands will result when the jam breaks. Between the bridges here the ice has moved somewhat and seems to be rapidly breaking up. The water below the jam is nine feet above summer level, having risen three feet since Saturday morning, and it is the first since 1902, when the ice ran out on March 23. The ice ran has occurred before April.

They are also en route to Saskatchewan. There is a colonization party of ninety farmers, who will be distributed as follows: Winnipeg, nineteen; Saskatchewan fourteen; Calgary, twenty; Edmonton, ten; Regina, ten; and British Columbia points, eight. Many of these are bringing out their families and intend to go in for farming and fruit raising. They were to be met here by Captain Andrew MacDuff, travelling colonization agent for the Department of Colonization and Development of the C. P. R. He will assist them in getting through to their various destinations. The passengers will be handled in four special trains, which are scheduled to leave Sand Point at approximately 7:30, 9:30 and 10:30 this evening. The first two will accommodate cabin passengers. This is the largest number of passengers arriving on any one steamer here this season.

Red Sox Minus Many Star Performers

Sport Writer Declares Present Pitching Staff of Boston Team Not Impressive—Teams Ending Camp Season.

New York, March 28.—(Canadian Press)—A New York sport writer, who has visited some of the big league training camps in the last few days, in a special article on the Boston Americans outlines the difficulties which confront Hugh Duffy, manager of the trade-riddled Red Sox. He says, in part—

"It does not seem possible for a one time champion baseball team to have much of the championship punch left after disposing of such stars as Babe Ruth, Carl Mays, Tris Speaker, Harry Hooper, Duffy Lewis, Jack Barry, Larry Gardner, Wally Schang and Eddie Shore. Not long ago all these famous fellows were with the Boston Red Sox, and not long ago the Red Sox were world champions. Now all of them are gone. If all were in the new Sox camp today, even if one or two of them have passed their best days, the Red Sox undoubtedly would be favorites for the 1921 pennant."

"As it is, Hugh Duffy, who has taken the job of leading the Red Sox, is hustling and struggling with a bunch of lesser lights, some of whom have not yet reported because of salary differences."

"The pitching staff is not impressive, and he hardly will turn out games as in his better days. Sam Jones and Eimer Myers will take a turn on the slab usually. Herby Pennock is a good tip-up pitcher, and a good ball player. Allan Russell is a corking spit-tinger a year ago, but has been in treatment for lameness or some-thing out of the training trip. Herb Allen, another left-hander, once at New York, and had some games. 'Muddy' Ruehl, with the year before, are the catch-outfield is supposed to have six in left, Shone Collins in left, in right."

"On Americans today left their training grounds at Hot Springs, Ark., March 28.—The Washington regular squad, twenty-two, arrived here today to play first exhibition game against the club of the Florida State League. Nationals ended their twenty-six day spring training stay at Tampa yesterday, and will begin barnstorming to Washington through Alabama, Tennessee and Virginia."

Cleveland, March 28.—The Cleveland Indians are prepared to end training camp activities at Dallas tomorrow, and on Wednesday on a barnstorming tour. Mrs. Charles Buckley, of Milltown (N. B.), is spending a few days in the city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ramsey.

CASE OF SMALLPOX ON SCANDINAVIAN

When the steamer Scandinavian arrived here on Saturday night was two days out from Southampton a case of smallpox was discovered among the passengers. G. Jacobson, who was taken aboard the liner at Antwerp, broke out in a rash and his case was diagnosed as smallpox by Dr. Jeffs, the ship's doctor. Jacobson was at once placed in strict quarantine. Captain Hamilton sent a wireless to the quarantine station at Partridge Island early on Saturday morning and preparations were made for the reception of the ship. Jacobson and all who had been in contact with him were taken to the island on the quarantine doctor's tug and the remaining 108 cabin passengers were placed in quarantine, after which she was released from quarantine and the remaining passengers landed at West St. John yesterday afternoon.

Among the passengers on the Scan-davian were: Mrs. K. A. Boyer of Hartland (N. B.), and Master C. K. Boyer, J. Dalgreen of Halifax (N. S.); Dr. W. M. McLeod of Sydney (N. S.); and G. P. Strudwick of Apohaqui (N. B.).

LOCAL NEWS

Sergeant George B. Baxter of the local police force fell yesterday near the ferry flats in Water street and wrenched a wound made in connection with an operation for appendicitis last November. The sergeant was taken to his home by a passing automobile.

A. B. Hawkins of Pennfield, who was kicked by a horse here last week, and who has been confined to his room at the Dufferin Hotel since the accident, has recovered sufficiently to be able to go to his home. Mrs. Hawkins arrived in the city on Saturday.

Owing to engine trouble on the ferry steamer last evening service was suspended from 8:30 until 9:40. A hurry call was sent for the chief engineer and he readily located the trouble and service was resumed. Considerable inconvenience was caused to passengers by the hold-up.

The Cornwall and York cotton mills closed down today for a period of two weeks. About 250 employees are affected. Depression in trade is given as the reason for shutting down. The mill has been operating on a four day week basis for some time. The company operates seven mills in Canada, of which the best are in St. John. Office employees of the company are not affected.

Mrs. Charles Robson of the Canadian Council for the Immigration of Women for Household Service, is in the city in connection with port work. She came here from Halifax and expressed herself as highly pleased with the work being done there. Yesterday she visited the West Side docks and spent a busy day among the passengers disembarking from the Scandinavian. She was very favorably impressed with the trade and service in connection with the new Red Cross nursery and said that the port workers were doing a work such as was not done in any other land. Mrs. Robson will leave for Montreal this evening.

Fire on Saturday afternoon destroyed the beautiful colonial residence of George McArthur at Riverside. The fire is supposed to have started from a defective fire and spread very rapidly. With the aid of neighbors Mr. McArthur was able to save most of his furniture and personal effects, though his loss will be heavy. The house, which was finished in quartered oak, was erected about ten years ago at a cost of about $18,000, and it is estimated that it would cost at least $30,000 to replace it today.

A city fire engine was sent out, but because of the lack of water, was useless. Commissioner Thornton went to the scene to aid in fighting the flames. The loss is about half covered by insurance.

"Wah, I'll prove it to you," and turning to the class the inspector said: "Someone give me a number."

"Fifty-seven," said another child. He wrote down "56" on the board, and smiled at the teacher.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 27.

LAYS GERMAN UPRIISING AT DOOR OF REDS

Prussian Statesman Believes Evidence Clear

Says Design is Formation of German Soviet Republic and That Advantage is Being Taken of Troubles of the Hour.

Berlin, March 28.—With regard to evidence that the government could adduce to support its declared conviction that the communist outbreak in central Germany is directly traceable to Moscow and whose single purpose is the establishment of a German Soviet republic, Herr Severing, Prussian minister of the interior, said yesterday:

"We base our belief on unimpeachable circumstantial evidence in our possession, and also point to the public utterances of accredited communist leaders here and elsewhere who openly designate the present period, when Germany is sorely tried with problems growing out of the enemy's invasion in the west and the upper Silesian situation as the most opportune moment for a revolt."

"The German communist party takes its orders from Moscow, and one need only follow the manifestos appearing in its official organs to locate the fountain head of that iniquity."

The rioting in the Saxon province, the minister added, was also productive of tangible evidence of the complicity of Soviet agents in the instigation of the present disturbances. He said he strongly suspected, however, that the cue for the present insurrection miscarried and the signal found the extremists elsewhere than in Prussian Saxony unprepared for the crisis, disinclined to join the movement, or timid about setting.

Herr Severing, who is the majority Socialist member of the Prussian cabinet, came into prominence a year ago when he was suppressing the Ruhr region revolt, which followed the Kapp rebellion. He expresses confidence now in having the central German situation in hand by Wednesday purposing to restore order without requisitioning troops from the central government.

At the same time he conceded that the Prussian security police, which has been dealing with the revolt, were insufficiently armed and organized for scotching an armed rebellion like that now in progress in the Mansfeld districts, as the police are limited to light armament and permitted only one small calibre machine gun to every 500 men. He said he was supplied with field artillery which, he says, is especially needed in the present action.

Clark Pittinger from the London, Ont. club is the only new infield candidate who will stay with the club, while Duffy likes Harry Kearnum of Whitesville, Mass., and plans to retain him.

HEAP FLOWERS ON GRAVE OF UNKNOWN FRENCH SOLDIER

Paris, March 7.—(Associated Press by Mail)—Flowers are brought by an incessant pilgrimage of mourners and placed on the slab that marks the grave of the unidentified French soldier under the great Arch of Triumph that dominates the western part of the city. The pile of flowers and wreaths is fed with fresh contributions from early morning until late at night. There seems no end to the little ceremonies by organizations held at the grave to honor the war dead. Little shop girls bring small bunches of violets that cost but a cent; stamens passing through place, there great wreaths as tributes from their countries. Since November 11, 1920, when the unknown soldier was placed under the arch, there has always been a group of mourners at the shrine of the dead. On Sundays, thousands stream there from the 12 avenues that converge at the Etolie, as the circular open space surrounding the arch is called and there is a procession of people with bare heads passing by the mound with flowers. Many teachers bring their classes and there is a movement about to arrange that in each of the public schools of Paris a small contribution shall be collected on a separate day each school to buy flowers to be placed on the slab by a delegation of honor pupils, so that there may be such a tribute of the children of France to the war dead every day of the year.

NEW SAFETY STRONG BOX

Berlin, March 8.—(Associated Press by Mail)—German burglars face a new obstacle in a strongbox which a Berlin inventor has just placed on the market. The portable steel box is equipped with an alarm which can be set before the lid is closed. When the lid is lifted or moved even slightly the alarm sounds and can be cut off only by unlocking the box, thus setting the mechanism which causes the alarm to sound.

patrons are buying the strong-placing it against their doors or setting it on luggage which is to protect. The boxes are in various sizes and with varying in strength from an oscillator to a fire alarm gong.

Budapest, March 6.—(Associated Press by Mail)—Stepien Nemeth, a clerk wasting away on the little food his salary would buy, appealed to his almost forgotten brother George, who went to America years ago and is now in Chicago.

When months later, there came from George simply a large photograph. Stephen, disappointed and angry, threw his brother's picture in the fire. The next day there came a letter. It read: "My dear Stephen: If you will carefully divide in two the photo I sent you yesterday you will find a $5,000 bill concealed between the two sheets. RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Mary Gillis, aged 108 years, died yesterday afternoon at the Mater Misericordiae Home in Sydney street. The venerable lady, until a few months ago, was quite active and was able to manage the household duties in her home at the Hibernia Settlement, St. John county, where she lived with her only surviving son, Patrick Gillis.

The death occurred suddenly on Saturday night of Mrs. Catherine Hawhurst, widow of Jonathan Hawhurst of the eighty-third year of her age, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Fox, 26 Main street, Fairville. The late Mrs. Hawhurst leaves four sons and one daughter, as well as a large circle of friends, who will be greatly grieved to learn of her death. The sons are Manley, of Chipman (N. B.), John, of Newcastle Creek, Queens county, Michael, of Cold Creek, Queens county, and Harry of Rangely (Me.). Mrs. William Fox of Fairville, is the only daughter.

GILBERT PARKER, MULTI-MILLIONAIRE

Famous Canadian Author Got His Literary Start in Australia.

RADIATES SINCERITY
The Kind of a Man a Child Would Instinctively Call Grandpa.

BY JOHN B. WALLACE.

ANY honors have come to Sir Gilbert Parker during his long and useful career, but the one of which he is most proud is the distinction of having been the man who put Canada on the literary map. Before he, then an unknown youth, appeared in London with a bulky work of manuscript under his arm, some time during the late eighties, the great Dominion was a closed book to the realm of fiction. No native authors had appeared and such outsiders as had written of it had touched it but incidentally and sketchily.

Sir Gilbert Parker is a rather compactly built man of medium height. His hair and eyes are both grey. His whole personality radiates kindness and sincerity. His manner is entirely frank and unaffected. He either says what he thinks or he says nothing. He is the kind of a man whom a child would instinctively call grandpa.

I do not wish to convey the impression that he is senile; on the contrary, he is a man of vigor, both physically and intellectually.

Like all big men Sir Gilbert has his foibles. For instance, he complained rather plaintively because he was not given his full title of Right Honorable in the United States. For his services during the world war Sir Gilbert was made a privy councillor and a baron by the British Crown. He had been previously knighted in recognition of his literary gifts.

Many Times a Millionaire
WHEN he was twenty-two he went to Australia, landing there with £150 and owing $2,000 to a relative. To-day he is several times a millionaire, and all of his fortune has come from his books.

He had been in Australia less than a year when he made acquaintance with the Sydney Morning Herald. He had no intention of staying in Australia, and he was on his way to England. A series of articles which he had written about the country during a trip through New South Wales and Southern Australia had so interested Sir James Fairfax, the owner of the Herald, that he urged him to stay and remain on the staff of the paper.

"I wanted above all to travel," Sir Gilbert explained, "so I put up a bluff. I told him that I would stay if he would allow me to travel for three months every year at the paper's expense. I never expected him to agree, but he did. I remained in Australia three and one-half years, visiting Samoa, Tonga, the South Sea Islands, and covering the greater part of Australia and Tasmania."

When Parker finally arrived in England he carried with him a book containing the manuscript of twenty-two short stories. He asked Archibald Forbes, the editor of the Herald, and himself a writer of note, to read them and give him a candid opinion as to their merit.

"Forbes asked me one or two questions," Sir Gilbert said, "and I said 'No.' He said nothing about the stories during the meal, but afterwards when we were walking down the street he put his hand on my shoulder and said 'Parker, that is the best collection of titles I have ever seen.' I understood. That night I went home and burned them all. I saw that I had not yet learned my trade."

Parker had written a book of travel called "Round the Compass," that had not been altogether successful, but he still clung to the idea that he could write fiction. One day as he was walking down the Strand he saw in a window a trap-pet's outfit. It carried his mind back to his boyhood home in Canada. He went to his lodgings that evening and started on a collection of short stories called "Pretty Pierre."

These were successful from the start. In 1895 he wrote "The Seats of the Mighty" and in 1903 wrote his greatest success, "The Right of Way."

In 1902 he was knighted in honor of his literary gifts.

"The United States has always been the largest purchaser of my books," he said. "It has a much larger reading public than I and I would have starved to death if I had depended upon Canada to purchase my books. It was the last I could have expected."

Since then, however, it has been a constant and devoted customer.—Dearborn Independent.

He Knew
A COUNTRYMAN was standing on a fish pier where the day's catch was being landed. Presently a swordfish of monstrous size was hoisted up and the old fellow stared at it in wonder and amazement. He positively could not believe his senses, and when at last he recovered himself sufficiently to speak it was only to exclaim: "The man that caught that fish is a darn liar!"

POSTMASTER-GENERAL of Great Britain, who is facing a storm of criticism because of his recent raising of the telephone rates. ### CECIL LEADS NEW BRITISH ECONOMY PARTY

LORD ROBERT CECIL is to head the new Economy party which has arisen in the British House of Commons. This remarkable man is always adding some fresh material to the house of Cecil. And a great house it is with a long record of public service to the state. What is there in heredity? Lord Robert's ancestor William Cecil, Lord of Burghley, was secretary of state to Edward the Sixth and prime minister to Queen Elizabeth at the time of the attempted invasion of England by the Spanish Armada. William's son Robert, first Lord Salisbury, followed him in that office in the closing years of the reign of the Virgin Queen, securing it her death the succession of the English crown to the Stuart dynasty. The person of James the Sixth of Scotland. The eighth Lord Salisbury was lord president of the privy council of Queen Victoria. His son, the late Marquis Lord Robert, father of Hugh Cecil, has made a brilliant parliamentary reputation as an orator. Mr. A. J. Balfour himself, ex-prime minister and foreign secretary, etc., is himself a member of the Cecil family.

RED MICHAEL LOOKS FOR FIREWORKS SOON

DR. MICHAEL CLARK, of Red Deer, predicts fireworks in the session of parliament which has opened down at Ottawa this week.

Red Michael ought to know, for he loves fireworks. When crackers and rockets are going off in the house there will be in the midst. No one loves more the flash, report and party of a heated debate; no one is better able to take care of himself in one. And as for a regular speech—well, when Dr. Clark takes the floor, it is only necessary to have the word go round "Clark is up" and the house and galleries fill as if by magic with people anxious to hear perhaps the finest orator in Canada to-day. The doctor has been a Liberal since his early days in Newcas-tle, England. As a boy he was drawn by political combat. He was only thirteen when he "played hooky" and walked several miles to hear the then red radical, Joseph Chamberlain. He was so thrilled at the burning words that before he went to bed that night he wrote a boyish letter of tribute to his hero. What was his subsequent amazement and delight to receive from the great Chamberlain a four page acknowledgment, full of the wisdom of free trade and counselling adherence to the political doctrine of Gladstone and Bright! Strangely enough Chamberlain became the tariff reformer, but Michael Clark still numbers Gladstone and Bright among his most particular political saints. Strange, too, that he should afterwards develop the power to sway men by his eloquence even the sweeping way that Chamberlain did.

Couldn't Be Prince Without a Band

Heir to the Throne Meets His Frankest Little Subject at a Hospital.

THE Prince of Wales met the frankest little subject in the empire when he visited the Victoria Hospital for Children, Ottawa, of which he is president.

He was met by Princes Louise to the cot of Reggie McKenna, aged 5, blue-eyed and flaxen-haired.

Taking from Reggie a toy battleship he was calling on his lap, the prince began:

"Well, little man, is this the Queen Elizabeth?"

"No, it isn't," said Reggie with a dreamy look on his face.

"You had a dream about the 'Prince of Wales, didn't you, Reggie?" asked Princess Louise.

"Oh, yes!" he cried delightedly. "I dreamt he came to breakfast with me. If he had come this morning he would have had cold ham. I had cold ham—it's nice," he confided.

"Well, don't you recognize the Prince here now?" pursued the princess.

"No, I don't," returned Reggie flatly. "He isn't the prince."

"I think I am," laughed the prince bending over the cot.

"How can you be the prince?" Reggie challenged, and then, triumphantly, "There ain't no band with you!"

The prince roared with laughter. Princess Louise brought a handkerchief to her eyes, and Reggie chuckled secretly for a space, and then—

"I say," he whispered to the prince, "I had turkey for dinner at Christmas. And," he added darkly, "I've still got it here in my tummy."

As he was passing on to the next well-meet, he turned and said to Reggie, "Goodbye, Reggie—take care of the turkey!"

"Goodbye," returned Reggie, in a tone of complete familiarity.

"Ae trousers are what?"

"Trayed on account of the dog."

WILL LORD BYNG BE GOVERNOR-GENERAL?

LORD BYNG of Vimy, whose name is mentioned among others as the next Governor-General of Canada, is the Sir Julius Byng who commanded the Canadian Corps at Vimy. His title, best-won upon him in recognition of his services, commemorates that most spectacular Canadian battle. He left the Canadian corps and took command of the Third Army he engaged in many other famous engagements, notably the first attack on Cambrai on November, 1917. But he took the title of Vimy for his own.

He commanded the corps from February, 1917, through three months of the most arduous fighting in the Somme and Vimy.

Although he was a soldier by profession, a staff college man, and supposedly that class of higher-ups with whom Canadians as a whole had little sympathy, Lord Byng demonstrated before he was through with his corps that he was thoroughly appreciated and understood the Canadian character.

He did not only the brass nats, but the very last buck privates all about the attack. He granted lectures before 40,000 specially drawn maps were issued. Sergeant-major General Lansdale, who was with Lord Byng at the attack, said that he had never seen a man so thoroughly understood the Canadian character.

When the latter was in England on his way home from his famous African trip he stayed with the then Colonel Lord at the Chequers, his famous Tudor residence in the Chiltern Hills, who has now presented as a gift to the nation as a country home for British Prime Ministers.

A BROKEN SILENCE
GENERAL HERTZOG, the hero of Kut and the victor of the Welshly-election, is hardly likely to break the record achieved by another distinguished soldier—General Forester. No member ever impressed the House of Commons with the gift of eloquence more than Forester. He represented More Wenlock for forty years, and never made a speech. Another member, Sir Charles Curzon, would have outdone Forester but for one unfortunate lapse. He sat in the House for twenty years and once broke silence in comment on a Bill providing that housemaids should be forbidden to clean windows from the outside.

comment on the other matters mentioned. But he added something that rather startled me.

"A very shrewd and candid friend from the West gave me the government and a candid remark over just before the 1913 session. He said he only hope for the Union government will come from the ranks of the old leadership, and not from the hands of the new leadership. The only chance for any of us, he said, lay not so much in individual capacity to handle parliament and administrative departments, but in the capacity to communicate to the country. That chance was worthless to any one of us unless he was absolutely prepared to risk his political life as completely and as honestly as the boys risked election since the front."

"This candid friend put his finger on the same point that you have mentioned—perhaps you got it from him. He added that anybody who had an eye and a little inside information, saw our fatal defeat before Ontario seats. His information was that I stood out for twenty years, would resign without thought while Reid, who was Borden's chief manager, would promise nothing definite."

"I was so intent on making good to the Liberal party—and the result could be happy neither for me nor for the Liberal party—you see, Longue Beau, a statesman does not lack for brutally frank friends."

"And the net result of nearly three years' presidency of the privy council, Mr. Rowell?"

"A great deal of experience, a share in achievements which time will justify and the historian appreciate, and a retirement from active political life soon as I can get out of the house of commons."

"And will he no come back again?"

"Mr. Rowell's specific gravity became, if possible, more specific, as he replied:

"For the time I have ceased to be among those who see visions and dream dreams. I rest on the knowledge of good work conscientiously done. It cost me in money far more than it cost the country; which I don't regret. It brought me among other things the Murphy attack, which won't matter, in the long run. Some estrangements have also happened. For instance, I lost the friendship of Andrew McMaster for whom I have a very high regard. I love Canada enough to be willing to serve her more than I serve myself. I didn't seek the Ontario Liberal leadership in 1911. I didn't want to enter the second Borden government in 1915. I have done my bit. Duty takes me back to the courts. What events will do to me, like me, cannot be foreseen. But you may rest that I shan't take to drink, and if I offer cigars to my friends I shan't smoke any."

The reader will not take too literally the observations of leading men about themselves recorded by Mr. Longue Beau, but still understand that they are what the speakers would be likely to say confessionally.

Gen. Sir J. Percy Will Farm in B.C.

British Officer Who Was Chief of Staff to Both Denikin and Wrangel.

MAJOR-GEN. SIR JOCELYN PERCY, after a long military career, will settle on a farm in Okanagan Valley, British Columbia. Fruit raising will be his specialty. After the armistice he obtained permission from the British War Office to join the anti-Bolshevik forces in Russia, and he was chief of staff in the successive armies of Gen. Denikin and Wrangel, both of whom were beaten by the Reds.

He joined the anti-Bolsheviks because he felt that Russia could be saved only by driving out the present revolutionary leaders. He is of that opinion still, and he deplores the policy of non-interference in Russian affairs on the part of Great Britain and France.

When those countries refused to help they in effect permitted Russia to an indefinite period of anarchy and misery. In his opinion, and perhaps thereby opportunity was left open for an alliance between Germany and Russia which would have interfered and crushed Bolshevism in the beginning.

Sir Jocelyn has made camps, barracks and orders won by him in active campaigns in Central Russia, in the British War and throughout the recent great war, from which he emerged with a knighthood in addition to his military honors.

HIS GRANDPA'S STEPS
THE PRINCE OF WALES is following, in his grandfathers footsteps—a as a theatre-goer, though the late King Edward was never so democratic as to visit comedians in their dressing rooms. King Edward, if he wanted to honor an actor, would send for him and address him in a formal and regal manner, making it quite clear on which side the privilege of the interview lay.

On one occasion a well-known actor was sent for by King Edward. The actor was familiar in his mode of address and the King was annoyed. "I admire your histrionic powers, Mr. X," he said, "but I desire that you no longer continue to act the part of an old friend of mine!"

Gen. Sir J. Percy Will Farm in B.C.

British Officer Who Was Chief of Staff to Both Denikin and Wrangel.

MAJOR-GEN. SIR JOCELYN PERCY, after a long military career, will settle on a farm in Okanagan Valley, British Columbia. Fruit raising will be his specialty. After the armistice he obtained permission from the British War Office to join the anti-Bolshevik forces in Russia, and he was chief of staff in the successive armies of Gen. Denikin and Wrangel, both of whom were beaten by the Reds.

He joined the anti-Bolsheviks because he felt that Russia could be saved only by driving out the present revolutionary leaders. He is of that opinion still, and he deplores the policy of non-interference in Russian affairs on the part of Great Britain and France.

When those countries refused to help they in effect permitted Russia to an indefinite period of anarchy and misery. In his opinion, and perhaps thereby opportunity was left open for an alliance between Germany and Russia which would have interfered and crushed Bolshevism in the beginning.

Sir Jocelyn has made camps, barracks and orders won by him in active campaigns in Central Russia, in the British War and throughout the recent great war, from which he emerged with a knighthood in addition to his military honors.

HISSED WILSON

Meeting in Carnegie Hall Packed, in Charge of Rabbi Who Presided.

New York, March 28.—Demonstrations and hisses at the mention of Woodrow Wilson and former Secretary of State by marked a public debate in Carnegie Hall last night by Senator Joseph P. Francis of Maryland and Senator Wm. H. King of Utah on the question of changing the United States policy toward Russia.

Further disorder occurred when the audience, believing that a vote was to be taken at the end of the debate, was informed that, through a misunderstanding, this would not be done.

At adjournment many persons rushed upon the platform to threaten Rabbi Segal Silverman, who declared that such a move would be unpatriotic in face of the government's stand. He charged the meeting was packed and persons in the audience were heard to say that ostentatious papers had urged their readers to attend en masse.

Senator King, after many interruptions using which the former president's name was repeatedly hissed and booed, denounced many of his hearers as being Bolsheviks and recommended lessons in Americanism for them. Senator Francis urged a change in policy, including "throwing open the doors for trade with Russia under the present government."

Correia was captured at a meeting of workers along with a lot of evidence showing that the committee in charge of the railway strike had been financed by profiteering merchants in the towns affected by the strike. The purpose of these merchants is alleged to have been to prevent the shipment of supplies into their provinces so as to enable them to charge extortionate prices.

Teeth Shine
When the film goes—watch and see

Learn now how teeth look—how they feel—when you combat the film. Get from your druggist, without cost, this ten-day test. Note the instant results, then look in ten days. Millions have already done this. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. Now show your home folks what clean teeth really mean.

The war on film

Dental science, the world over, is fighting a war on film. Film is that vicious coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. And most tooth troubles are now traced to it. Those troubles have been constantly increasing. The ordinary tooth paste does not end film, so the tooth brush has proved inadequate. Millions know how well-brushed teeth have discolored and decayed.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. And, despite all brushing, few escape these troubles caused by film.

New ways to fight it

Now dental science has found ways to fight film, day by day. Able authorities have proved the methods efficient. Leading dentists everywhere now urge their application. The methods are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. To millions it has brought a new era in teeth cleaning. And to every home a ten-day test is offered free, so all may quickly know it.

Quick, visible results

Anyone can see and feel what Pepsodent is doing. No old method of brushing ever brought such effects. So we let this test convince you. One ingredient is papain. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. The alkalinity of the saliva is multiplied also, and at once. That is to neutralize mouth acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere. The effects of Pepsodent come with every application. We constantly combat, in efficient ways, the teeth's great enemies. And millions of teeth are given new protection and new beauty.

Let the man who smokes see how he takes the stained film from his teeth. Let all find out how much clearer teeth feel, how much safer, when brushed in this new way. Then this ten-day test may bring to your home some lifetime effects.

SPENT MANY NIGHTS IN WORRY OVER TROUBLES

Before She Got Tanlac Mrs. Bechard Says She Was in Miserable Health — Never Felt Better in Her Life Than Now.

"Before I got Tanlac I had indigestion so bad I just had to live on liquid foods; but now I can eat pork chops, steak, or just anything else I want, and nothing but me the 'east' ill," said Mrs. Bechard, 48 Bihand St., Quebec, recently. "About a year and a half ago I had a spell of sickness that kept me in bed a month, and ever since then, that is, until I got Tanlac, I've been in miserable health. I was so weak I could hardly stand on my feet, had no appetite at all, and everything I ate hurt me so bad I got to where I could hardly stand the smell of anything cooking. I cooked all kinds of good things to eat, but nothing appealed to me the least bit. Even the milk and soups I was living on caused such pains in my stomach it almost drove me distracted. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep, and spent many a night lying awake, worrying and wondering if there was nothing that could help me."

"A neighbor finally told me about Tanlac, and I certainly am grateful to her, too, for my appetite is splendid and my stomach is in the best of condition. My health is simply fine in every way, and if there was ever a day in my life when I felt better than I do now I can't remember it. Tanlac is just grand."

WOMEN MASONS NOT RECOGNIZED

Grand Lodge of England Takes No Action on Their Petitions.

London, March 26.—At the quarterly meeting of the United Grand Lodge of Freemasons, Lord Amphil, the program master, presiding, the Duke of Connaught was unanimously re-elected grand master.

One matter which came up for discussion was the "woman" question. It is well known in Masonic circles that there are now established several lodges, regarded by the Grand Lodge of England as clandestine, where women, as well as men, are initiated and permitted to become members. A petition was received bearing four signatures, two of women on behalf of the "Honorable Fraternity of Ancient Masonry," asking for recognition. In this instance the grand secretary wrote that it was impossible to recommend to Grand Lodge the prayer of the petition; and that it would continue to exercise its disciplinary powers towards any member working under the English jurisdiction who violated his obligation by being present at, or assisting in, assemblies professing to be Masonic which were attended by women. The action of the Grand Lodge officers was approved after an amendment to refer the report back had received only two supporters.

Commenting on the death of Cardinal Gibbons, Right Rev. Dr. John Gardner Murray, Episcopal bishop of Maryland, said: "The transfer of James Cardinal Gibbons to a higher sphere of activity removes from the stage of current human events the most prominent figure thereon in our country (and probably in the world) during the last half century. No other man in all that time has participated so fully in the universal affairs of the world as has this good, able cardinal. ### SAY DETECTIVES SKULKED AS A COMRADE DIED

Chicago, March 28.—Five officers were suspended from the detective force on Saturday after witnesses had accused them of hiding behind telephone posts and refusing to answer the cries of Detective Sergeant Patrick O'Keefe, who was fatally shot on last Wednesday night when trying to arrest "Tommy" O'Connor, an alleged gunman, who was charged with slaying at least three men. O'Connor is still at large.

Our Portrait of Mr. WALTER E. WHITE, of 47, Bellingham, Chiswick, London, England, who writes

"Some three years ago I had a swelling in the knee cap. One night I knocked my knee which caused a little ulcer which in time, no matter what I did, developed across the whole knee. I had one large gaping wound, and with all the care and attention that wound was open for 15 months. Being an all-around athlete, holder of many cups and prizes, I began to give up all hope of ever taking my place again among the athletes. One day one of my fellow workmen inquired how my leg was, and told me it was 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' I wanted. That day I bought a bottle, and when I had finished it I was not only surprised myself, but all my workmates could see improvement. I could bend my knee a little and that gave me encouragement, so I persevered with it and am glad to say even today, completely cured me. I am now as well as ever, and am still holding my own as an athlete."

CRICKET IN NOVA SCOTIA. Rev. R. P. Dixon, president of the Wolfville Cricket Club writes to the Amherst News: "I am writing to try and arouse the interest of your readers in the movement started last year in the Annapolis Valley, the city of Halifax, the county of Pictou and in Cape Breton Island for the revival of the grand old game of cricket. Speaking for ourselves, I may say that starting in this town in the month of June, 1920 with a hastily formed club we closed the season last October with five or six games in Windsor, Kentville, Bridgetown, Annapolis Royal and Wolfville. During the months of June, July, August and September we played about eighteen matches, finishing with a match at Windsor between the West Indians of Halifax and a team selected from the Valley eleven which after a very close contest, was won by the former."

FAVORS FLOATING BALL. Horace G. Hutchinson writing to a London paper favoring the floating golf ball says its great merit is that it floats. "This quality," he continues, "gives opportunity for that brave stroke out of water which is not possible when the ball lies in the depths. The merit on which all the recent correspondence itself quite rightly insisted is that a floating ball will not allow itself to be driven, even by a Mr. Tolley, to the high lengths that those balls will go in the merit that matters. There are others—as that the lighter ball can be stopped more readily; the "posched-leg" shot may be restored to the game. Also it needs more skill for holding up into a side wind and for low driving into a head wind. But above all it does not so effectively make fools of courses originally laid out for gutta-percha balls, and the fun of the game lies in hitting the ball, not in walking a quarter of a mile in order to hit it again."

A girl of fifteen years was seen coming out of one of them at 11.30 the other evening. With so much vice and crime in the province of late, writes our correspondent, something should be done to regulate dance halls.

NOT COMING HERE.
There was a report some time ago that the Williams Steamship Company of New York planned to put on a steam service between St. John and Vancouver via the Passamaquoddy Bay and the Maritime Freight Bureau of this city took the matter up by way of enquiry and has just received word from the Williams company that it does not contemplate any such service.

WIGHT-DAY.
At the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. J. H. Jenner, West St. John, on Saturday evening, Miss Maudie Gertrude Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Day, of Fredericton, was united in marriage to Earle Donald Wight, of West St. John. The ceremony was performed in the presence of immediate friends and relatives. Miss Eva M. Wight, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and George Wight, brother of the groom, was also in attendance. After a short wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Wight will reside in Fredericton.

PRAISE FOR ENGINEER.
The prompt action of an engineer on the incoming Montreal train at noon today was probably responsible for saving the lives of a man and woman who ran in front of the engine as it was entering its siding outside the Union Station. The train had passed the crossing and was picking up speed to make the run along the siding when the two started to cross the tracks. The engineer saw them and applied the brakes, bringing the long train to a quick stop. Many who witnessed the scene praised the engineer for his good work.

THE AKERLEY CASE.
The case of Johnston Lodge, L. O. B. A. vs. Mrs. Grace Akerley, was resumed this morning before Mr. Justice McKeown in the circuit court rooms. The testimony here to do with a booth conducted by the lodge at the St. John exhibition last year, and the funds derived therefrom, as well as from certain other sources as picnics, sewing circles and other lodge endeavors. It is likely that a commission will be asked for to secure the evidence of Mrs. Moore, former secretary of the lodge, ill at home, and of Mrs. Elizabeth H. Teed is acting for the plaintiff, and J. S. Tait for Mrs. Akerley.

RESUME WORK THIS AFTERNOON.
Arbitration in Harbor Matter As to Whether Easter Monday is Double Pay Holiday.

Eighteen steamers were in port this morning as a result of a deadlock existing between the water front workers and the local shipping interests. The longshoremen, checkers and truckers held out that today is a statutory holiday, and that they were entitled to double pay. On the other hand, the steamship interests maintained that Easter Monday had never been recognized here as a statutory holiday, and refused to grant the demand. This morning it was decided that work would be resumed at a o'clock under agreement that an arbitration board decide whether or not it would be considered a statutory holiday and if the men were entitled to double pay. Last year when an agreement was drawn up between the water front workers and the shipping interests the date of the double pay holiday were inserted, but this year the agreement merely specified statutory or named holidays. It was said the five hours loss of time this morning would cause some delay in the sailing of steamers, but it was thought that it would not interfere with passenger liners getting away on the dates scheduled.

While in Woodstock the general will carry out the annual inspection of the 8th battery, and on Thursday will present the Royal Humane Society's medal to Cadet Captain Roy J. Smith, who gallantly jumped into the river when the spring freshet was on a year ago, and saved the life of a lad who was drowning.

AGAINST SCHOOL BUILDINGS ON PUBLIC LANDS

Council Refuses Request of School Board re King Square, West

May Carry Post Office Matter to Ottawa—Another Report on Mill Pond Filling—Consideration of Electrical Laws Held Over.

At this morning's committee meeting of the common council, the mayor reported regarding an application from the school board for the conveyance of land in King Square, West St. John. He said the matter had been referred to the West St. John Board of Trade and they replied that they would support the school board in their plans for a building on any site except on a public square. On motion it was decided that in view of the fact that legislation was necessary to make this grant and in view of the protest voiced against it, the council take no further action and a reply be sent to the school board.

The mayor said he had received a reply from Hon. Mr. Wigmore regarding the post office matter in which he stated that he was doing all he could and that he understood that action would not be taken for some time. The mayor said that he or some member of the council would have to go to Ottawa on April 16 to meet the executive of the Union of Canadian Municipalities and the matter could be taken up then. Commissioner Jones said the water assessors were ready to make up their water assessment and he asked that the councilors of Lancaster and Simonds be asked to meet the council to arrange for rates Tuesday, April 5, was set for this meeting.

West Side Mill Pond.
Commissioner Jones presented his report on the matter of the filling in of the mill pond, West St. John. He said that while it was contended that the pond was not only an eyesore but also a menace to the health of the people, there was no positive evidence that any deaths had resulted from unsanitary conditions arising from this sewage outlet. As the area covered practically twenty acres, it would no doubt be an ideal site for an industrial or residential district. The cost of installing a trunk sewer before filling would be about $50,000, which would care for the drainage of the whole area, and if the city was prepared to furnish the money, plans could be prepared in short order. In view of the large expenditure proposed by the city in paving, etc., this year, Mr. Jones recommended that action in the matter be deferred until next session.

Commissioner Bullock said that he favored the extension of the sewerage main in the interest of the health of the people. The filling in of the pond, he thought, was another matter which could be dealt with later. On motion it was decided to lay the matter on the table until a full meeting of the board was held, Commissioner Frink being absent from this morning's session. Commissioner Bullock was authorized to call for tenders for the painting of the ferry steamer, Governor Carleton, the cost to be taken from the ferry appropriation.

Electrical By-Laws.
Commissioner Thornton brought up the matter of the proposed amendments to the city electrical by-laws. He explained that the idea was to make the department self-supporting. Last year the revenue was $14,627.79, but about $8,000 was required to finance its operations. The average charge for permits was $2.90, and the amendments would increase this to about $4.95. The average charges in other places he gave as follows—Halifax, $2.50, which it is planned to increase soon; province of Ontario, $4.95; New York state, $6.00. He said it was generally agreed that the by-laws were of benefit to the city and that the low fee was the lowest in many years, was credited to a great extent to the electrical inspection.

NO WORD YET OF MISSING BALLOONISTS
Pensacola, Fla., March 28—Naval authorities here today entered upon the fifth day of their search for some trace of a naval balloon which has been missing since last Tuesday when it took the air here with five passengers.
