TWELVE PAGES—ONE CENT

EAT ARMADA THROUGH CANAL

All Nations' Fleets Invited For 1915

MAY BE 75 OR 100 SHIPS

Visit to Washington by Visiting Commanders, Then Start Southward For Colon—Four Days to Get Through Canal, Then Run to San Francisco

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—Anchored Hampton Roads early in 1915 will be the greatest international fleet ever gathered in American waters, assembled in answer to the invitation of the United States government to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal, by making voyage to the Pacific through the new waterway.

The precise number of vessels which will be in the famous roadstead is not known to the officers of the navy department in charge of the arrangements for the rendezvous, as so far there have been no formal responses to the invitations despatched by the state department to all nations of the world.

Six Naval Squadrons Some of the nations with great navies will be represented by squadrons of four or more warships; others by only one or two, and some of the countries practically without navies including vessels of the first class, will be represented only by the personnel of their legations and missions to the Panama-Pacific exhibition.

The exact date for the rendezvous probably will be announced within the next two months. It is expected that the invitation will be sent with general acceptance, and the suit will be the gathering of a fleet perhaps 75 or 100 warships of the first type, for the reason that slow and antiquated vessels would be unable to keep pace with the rest of the fleet to cruise from Hampton Roads to the open sea.

The international fleet will probably be under command of an American vice-admiral, in all likelihood Cameron McMillin, for it is expected that Congress will have authorized the assembly of the fleet for this new purpose. The exact date for the rendezvous probably will be announced within the next two months.

It is estimated that about four days will be required to pass the fleet through the locks and the canal, and about twice as long of time will suffice to replenish the coal bunkers and oil tanks of the ships, before they resume their cruise, time steaming northward for San Francisco. Altogether it is planned to make the complete voyage from Hampton Roads to the Golden Gate in forty days, which will include a stop of two or three days at some convenient harbor or roadstead on the Pacific coast, probably Magdalena Bay, for additional fuel supplies.

London, Oct. 21.—Great Britain today accepted the invitation from the United States government to send representatives to the completion of the Panama canal by making a voyage to the Pacific through the new waterway. The acceptance by the British foreign office has been forwarded to the secretary of the navy at Washington.

COURTNEY BAY The Norton Griffiths & Company edge Don Federico was to have made start at the entrance to Courtney bay this afternoon, but the weather was so rough. It was expected that the afternoon would be spent chiefly securing a proper anchorage and seeking the best place to start work. If the weather is suitable tomorrow this will be attempted. The Leonfield will be ready to begin operations for another fortnight, as she is undergoing a rough overhauling.

WEATHER BULLETIN

Issued by authority of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, R. F. Stupart, director of meteorological service.

Rain was general in Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick. The weather is quite wintry in Western Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Maritime—Fresh southerly to westerly, showery; Wednesday, strong easterly winds, partly fair and turning much colder.

Another meeting will be held tomorrow morning and the result of the selection of the third representative will be sent to the department of labor at Ottawa.

PAIR OF FOXES WORTH $32,500

Island Ranch Gets What is Said to Be Record Price—Some Big Figures

What is believed to be the most expensive pair of black foxes on the face of the earth, traveled yesterday from the Reynor ranch at Alberton, P. E. Island to Bridgewater, N. S., in charge of Mr. Reynor. The precious little animals were handed over to a farmer there for the tidy little fortune of $32,500, said to be the highest price ever paid for a single pair of foxes.

A prominent fox breeder from St. Louis, P. E. Island, who was at the Dufferin this morning, saw the little animals on the boat traveling across the strait. He says that the sum is the greatest he has ever known to be paid for a pair of foxes.

Speaking to the Times concerning the black fox industry in the island, he says that foxes in the island at the present time are valued at $10,000,000. The population of the island is not more than 30,000 people. He said he knew for an actual fact that recently Hon. Charles Dalton, the pioneer fox rancher received from one of his companies, a dividend amounting to $40,000. The average dividend of the companies, he says is about 175 per cent although some are paying as high as 300 per cent cash dividend.

Refering to the extent of the black fox industry and the manner in which it is increasing, he said that this year, the government has put a tax on the increase of the young foxes—derived a revenue of $80,000, which places the value of the young ones at $130,000. During the last two years, he said, $2,000,000 has been drawn from the dominion savings bank for investment in the black fox ranches.

MRS. CHAPMAN, NIECE OF E. V. GODFREY, IS DEAD IN DORCHESTER

Devoted Member of Trinity Church—Roy Bishop Shot in Arm

Dorchester, N. B., Oct. 21.—Death removed from Dorchester this morning, in the case of Mrs. Chapman, wife of Allan W. Chapman, barrister, a lady very highly respected in the town. She was the eldest daughter of the late Charles Godfrey and a niece of E. V. Godfrey of St. John. She leaves her husband, one daughter, Allison, her mother, and one sister, Mrs. Bertie Kinder, now residing in California, besides many relatives in various parts of the county and a very large circle of friends. Mrs. Chapman was a devoted member of Trinity church and very active in all societies in connection with it.

THE DAY OF ADMIRAL NELSON'S GREAT VICTORY

Flags are flying today in honor of the one hundred and eighth anniversary of Nelson's great naval victory at Trafalgar and all over the British Empire the day is being observed with loyal rejoicing. Instead of losing its interest as the years pass this event, in Canada at least, is being recognized more generally than ever as an occasion for the celebration of one of the greatest and most important victories in the history of the Empire. In order that the younger generation may be taught the significance of the day and its effect upon British history special attention to its observance is being given in the public schools of St. John today. No special form of exercises has been prescribed but in those schools which have assembly halls the

Trains All Over C. P. R. May Be Run By Electricity

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy Says Work on Rocky Mountain Division is Experiment Which May Lead to Much (Canadian Press) Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 21.—The entire system of the Canadian Pacific Railway may be electrified. This was the declaration of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the road, yesterday, as he started for Winnipeg to inspect sites there for new terminals. The work now being started in the Rocky Mountains toward the operation of electric instead of steam locomotives over several divisions is merely an experiment, he declared, preliminary to the installation of electricity throughout the system, if the experiments prove successful.

BORDEN AND HAZEN BANQUET WHILE ST. JOHN CITIZENS WAIT

Week Since Resolutions Were Sent to Ottawa and There's no Word Back Yet

A full week has elapsed since the citizens of St. John assembled in public meeting in the York theatre, forwarded to the federal government at Ottawa resolutions demanding that the C. P. R. arrangement with the general manager of the I. C. R. for carrying traffic over the government road at special rates be held up for investigation. During this time no reply has been received from Ottawa.

There are only a few weeks left before the opening of the winter season, and if action is delayed longer the government will be in a position to say that it is too late to make any changes in the arrangement for the coming winter. Knowing that the time was short, the citizens of St. John wasted no time in sending the delegation to Ottawa, and in following this up with a public meeting to take further action in order that the blame for delay could not be placed upon the city.

Funeral Service Over Bodies of Twenty-Three Airship Victims

Joint Ceremony in Berlin With Kaiser and Others of Royalty Present—Prince's Auto, on Way to Church, Badly Injured Boy

Berlin, Oct. 21.—A most impressive joint funeral service was held today over the bodies of twenty-three of the victims of the disaster to the Zeppelin dirigible airship. The ceremony took place at noon in the old garrison church near the Imperial Palace, in the presence of the emperor and his sons, who were accompanied by the empress and the crown princess, while Count Zeppelin and about 1,000 officers of the army and navy, together with comrades belonging to the flying corps to which the dead men were attached, also attended.

OBJECTS TO SENDING THE CHILDREN AWAY

Catholic Archbishop of Dublin Issues Warning Letter to People in Strike Matter

Dublin, Oct. 21.—The Roman Catholic Archbishop of Dublin has issued a letter warning Catholics against the scheme of the Transport Workers' Union, of sending their children to England pending a settlement of the labor trouble, inasmuch as they do not know whether the persons to whom the children are to be consigned are Roman Catholics or members of any other religion.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS' WORTH OF SILVER ORE WAS SCATTERED ALONG TRACK

PORTLAND LOOKS FOR A BIG SEASON

Already Unusual Amount of Shipments

BIG GRAIN BUSINESS Expected That Up to 15,000,000 Bushels Will be Handled Here—Large Gain in General Freight Also Prophesied

Portland, Me., Oct. 21.—There is an unusual and unexpected amount of Canadian shipments already through this port, and there will be wheat enough sent from here before the opening of the regular steamship season to ensure record breaking after shipments unless there are disorders over the water and a falling off in the demand for wheat, and that is certainly not looked for. At this time there is every indication that Portland will send out a great amount of wheat, and that the Grand Trunk, as it is and long has been a great business asset of this city and state, will have a prosperous season also.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY

Effort to Force Door of W. J. Cunningham's Premises, Prince William Street

An effort was made to break into the store of W. J. Cunningham in Prince William street on Saturday night or sometime on Sunday, by prying the lock off the front door. An entrance was almost secured, but the would-be-burglar was evidently frightened away.

TORONTO NEGRO RUNS AMUCK, SLASHES FOUR PEOPLE IN THE NECK

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Enraged by a dispute over the amount of money he had laid on the bar in Smith's Hotel, an unknown negro ran amuck at eleven o'clock last night, slashing four people with a razor. One of them, John Consworth, a porter at the hotel, lies in the General Hospital in a critical condition. The negro was up to early hour this morning had not been caught.

HE WHO READS

Doesn't Have to Run Because you are a reader of advertising it does not follow that you are going to be influenced by every advertisement. The man who needs a new overcoat and is seeking to buy it to the best advantage is not going to be diverted by the advertisement of an ice cream freezer. But the wise overcoat seeker is going to compare the advertising appeals of the stores that sell coats. He is going to read their reviews and form his own conclusions. Advertising is not meant to do your thinking for you—it is intended to help you do your own thinking. Advertising readers "think straight," because they see from all sides. They have looked before they were ready to leap—and when they buy they spend their money with wisdom.

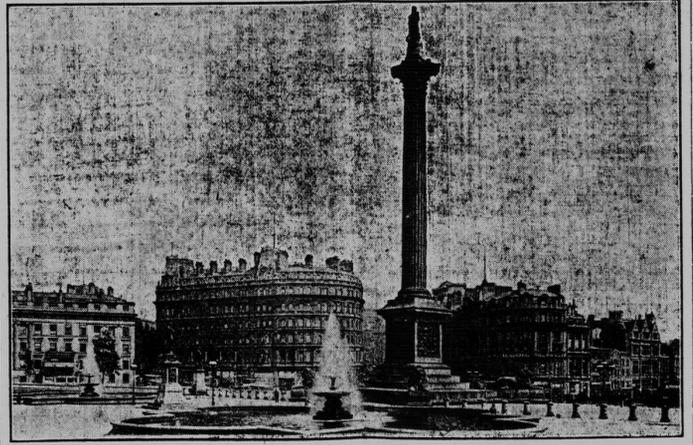

FOR MARITIME INSTITUTE

Educationalists Off to Halifax Today For Conference There

Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, passed through the city this morning on his way to Halifax. He was accompanied from here by Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent of city schools. At Halifax they will meet representatives of the educational boards of the provinces of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island to discuss the advisability of holding a maritime teachers' institute next summer. Doctor Carter told a Times' reporter that if the matter were decided upon, the institute would likely meet in Amherst in July. While in Halifax he will pay a visit to the schools for the deaf and blind.

THE NELSON MONUMENT IN TRAFALGAR SQUARE, LONDON

ELUDES DETECTIVE

Mysterious Woman of Wealth Was Arrested in New York

New York, Oct. 21.—Without revealing her identity, a handsome gowned and bejewelled woman, who was arrested in a Sixth avenue department store, charged with being a pickpocket, was released from Jefferson Market prison in ball of $1,000 given by the National Surety Company, No. 115 Broadway.

As "Mrs. Mary Jones," the name she gave the police, she was arraigned before Magistrate Krotel. Several hours later she was released.

When the woman, who asserts that she is the wife of a wealthy merchant, left the prison in a taxicab, Private Detective Ketgan followed in another machine. Her taxicab stopped at an up-town hotel, "Mrs. Jones" paid her fare, walked through the hotel and left in an automobile from another entrance, successfully eluding the detective.

The woman offered to give three diamond rings, one cluster ring with a large ruby in the centre, a bar pin containing nine diamonds, $40 in cash to Anna Ritchie, of No. 848 First avenue, if she would agree not to prosecute her for stealing six one dollar bills from her purse.

ADMIRAL WAS POISONED

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 20.—Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, died from poison, at least one dose of which was administered within six or eight hours of his death, during which time, testimony showed, he was unconscious.

This, the statement of medical experts, was the principal evidence introduced by the government in its efforts to support its charge that the admiral came to his death at the hands of his widow, Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, now on trial for her life.

That Mrs. Eaton had many times said she wished that her husband was dead, was the statement made on the witness stand today by Henry M. Cates, of Rockland, who knew the family in 1910.

POORLY PAID PREACHERS

More Than 3,000 Methodist Ministers in United States Drawing Less Than $500 a Year.

Washington, Oct. 21.—That more than 3,000 Methodist ministers in the United States preach and work the year around for less than $500 each, was the report of the Bureau of Sustentation when the board of management of the Methodist Women's Home Missionary Society began its 82nd annual meeting here. The bureau lamented that such a state of affairs should exist "in this most highly favored land at this time of the high cost of living."

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. George H. Thompson of Cincinnati, showed that the receipts of the society for the last fiscal year were $901,622.

In her annual address, Mrs. George O. Robinson of Detroit, president of the board, denounced a law recently passed in Florida prohibiting whites from teaching negroes and negroes from teaching whites.

TRIBUTE TO THE ORGANIZERS OF THE KIRMESS

With the exception of the ball, the Kirmess came to an end yesterday, with afternoon and evening performances at the York Theatre. It is fair to say that while the Playgrounds Association will have a very substantial addition to their funds as a result of the Kirmess, the management of the affair will take less money out of St. John than the promoter of Alice in Wonderland received. That is to say, the playgrounds will get more and the management less, which is an answer to some criticisms that have been made.

The performance was a brilliant one and the young people threw themselves into it with the greatest enthusiasm. They were admirably trained and showed great aptitude for the various parts assigned them. The splendid costumes, catchy music and beautiful dances will be remembered with pleasure by the citizens.

When bouquets were being presented last evening, as they were at every performance, one was sent up to Mr. Linwood, with the following note: "Mrs. Wetmore and members of the committee, acting for the Playgrounds Association of St. John, desire to express to Mr. P. L. Linwood their sincere thanks for his untiring efforts to make the Kirmess so successful a production, and to make it also a financial success for the association. All who have taken an active part in the production have only words of praise for Mr. Linwood and his associates."

This was signed by Mrs. G. L. Wetmore as chairman of the committee, and A. M. Belding, as secretary of the Playgrounds Association.

No more enjoyable amateur production has been seen in St. John for years, and the association is very greatly indebted to Mrs. Wetmore, to whom Mr. Agostini paid a very warm tribute at the Saturday evening performance. "St. John," he said, "is proud of Mrs. Wetmore, who is the most wonderful woman as an organizer that I have met."

Much praise is due to the young ladies and gentlemen who gave up other engagements yesterday to take part in the two extra performances. The attendance, however, was very small, and no performance was the house filled. Those who did attend were always generous, and Mr. Linwood exerted himself to make a success of features from which he did not derive any share whatever of the proceeds.

HUNGER STRIKER ON STRETCHER AT MEETING

London, Oct. 20.—A dramatic appearance at the weekly suffragette meeting was made today by Miss Annie Kenney, organizer of the Woman's Social and Political Union, the militant suffragette organization.

Suffering from the effects of a "hunger strike" in Holloway jail, the idol of the woman's movement, looking extremely feeble, was borne into the hall on a stretcher and given a memorable reception by the crowded audience of women who stood on chairs and cheered until they were weary.

This was Miss Kenney's first appearance in public since her release, and she reached the hall in an ambulance, escorted by a guard of militant suffragettes in taxicabs.

The stretcher, supported on chairs, was placed in the middle of the platform, where Miss Kenney lay motionless and only able to whisper a few words to her friends.

r. Richardson, Leading Alcohol Expert of the World, Says Can Be Cured in Three Days

Dr. Richardson, in his "Treatise on the Liqueur Habit" says: "While the older methods for the Liqueur Habit took one to three months or more, and were not satisfactory, the Gatlin is a scientific treatment, which accomplishes this result in just three days. This is harmless, as even a child can take it, and there is not even one case on record where it has failed to cure. They have 87 Institutes and have effected over 100,000 cures."

Not only is the poisonous alcohol taken from the system, and an abstinence given for all strong drink, but health and strength are soon restored, nerves steadied, sleep and appetite regained, and a man becomes master of himself. To Grow Hair On a Bald Head

BY A SPECIALIST Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair who having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness and is also unequalled for restoring grey hair to its original color stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy and can be put up by any druggist; Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavona de Compose, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half Ounce. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics.

ST. JOHN MUST ACT

Do the people of Boston refrain from seeking more steamship business for the port because they fear it would be unfair to the port of New York? Does Providence refuse to seek more trade through fear that Boston will charge it with greed? Does New York cheerfully and willingly give up business to Baltimore? Does Baltimore refuse to compete with New York because it fears it will be charged with a desire to "hog it all"?

To ask these questions is to reveal not merely the absurdity but the utter folly of the attitude of some St. John people, in relation to the winter steamship business. The people of Halifax are not worrying over St. John's loss of business. They are out after trade on their own account, and will as cheerfully take it from St. John as from any other port, so long as it is just to their mill.

And yet there are some St. John people who spend time digging up reasons why St. John should not be "hogged" about the Empire steamships, and why Halifax must get this and that, regardless of what St. John may expect or desire. What is the trouble with persons of this sort? Some are such violent political partisans that they would rather see St. John lose business than to breathe a suggestion that their party is not doing its full duty to this port. Some others are so anxious to stand straight as between parties that they lean backwards. Others are mere trimmers, who are thinking merely of their own political fortunes.

Happily the vast majority of the citizens disregard partisanship in this fight for justice to the port. They realize the need of an uncompromising demand for justice, and a vigorous and insistent agitation for three purposes:

- (1) To bring the mail steamships back to St. John for the coming winter. (2) To hasten the Courtney Bay work and provide terminals for the Grand Trunk Pacific within two years or less. (3) To secure the earliest possible start on the proposed new steamship berths at West St. John, in order to prevent loss of trade through lack of facilities.

Every citizen is interested in this matter. It vitally affects the city's welfare for all time to come. Trade once lost is not easily regained, and that which is diverted to another port is hardest of all to bring back again.

It must be understood, also, that it is not in Moncton or Montreal we are to seek redress, but at Ottawa. The Iniquitous agreement which has switched the mail steamships away from what Sir Thomas Shaughnessy says is the "natural port" to the port of Halifax cannot go into actual effect until approved by the government.

That which Mr. Gutelius, "loaned" to the I. C. P. R. by the C. P. R. for two years, may agree with his employer Sir Thomas Shaughnessy to do with the I. C. P. R. for the benefit of the C. P. R. must be prevented by the government. The appeal is therefore to Ottawa and nowhere else. If the people of St. John do not protest in the most vigorous fashion they will lose, and they cannot afford so heavy a loss as that involved in failure to hold the mail steamships and to provide accommodation for all the ocean-borne traffic which seeks St. John, as its natural port.

ON TRAFALGAR DAY

The Standard, concluding an article on Trafalgar Day, asks this question:—"In the light of certain occurrences of the past year the question may well be asked on this Trafalgar Day—are Canadians obeying Nelson's signal? which today flies not only for England but for the Empire?"

The question is a pertinent one. It is the dream of every patriotic Canadian that at some time in the not distant future Canada may have a navy, of which the people may be as proud as they now are of the navy which guards the British Empire, but in which there is no Canadian ship, manned by Canadians and supported by the Canadian people. Australia has led the way, and Australia's growing navy is the pride of the Commonwealth. But for the fact that one political party, for the sake of power, completely reversed its policy, Canada today would have the beginning of a navy of her own.

Those who celebrate Trafalgar Day are not thinking of ironclads or Dreadnoughts, or contributions, but of men. Those who made the glory of the British navy did not hire their fighting done. Canada today has more people than had Britain at the time of the Armada. Canada ought to have a navy, and the time has come when, as Mr. Foster has said, out of her own resources and with her own men she must provide for her share in the naval defence of the Empire. Those who are content to honor the heroes who are remembered on Trafalgar Day by a money contribution to the Admiralty are not its successors to the men who gave to Britain her naval supremacy. Recalling today the memory of the heroes of past centuries in British naval warfare, Canadians, while they share in the ardent longing that peace may come and put an end to the race for armaments, cannot do better than resolve that since there must be navies this country must have one that is built as far as possible by Canadians and manned and maintained by Canadians. The mere mention of tribute or ship money in the same breath with the name of the hero of Trafalgar should bring the blush of shame to the cheek of every Canadian.

HOW LOYAL THEY ARE

The Tory-Nationalist alliance helped Mr. Rogers to win the victory in Chateaugay. The French-Canadian electors were urged to vote for the government candidate because Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy was designed to offer "a tribute of blood" to Great Britain, while the Borden policy would pay off Canada's whole obligation with a money vote of thirty-five million dollars. Of course the Tories will have an entirely different story to tell in the Ontario constituencies. Mr. Borden did not dare to go into Chateaugay to discuss the naval question, but his Nationalist allies were given a free hand, just as the ultra-Imperialists will be given a free hand in Ontario. The alliance which has disgraced Canada continues, and proves conclusively how shallow are the pretensions of loyalty made by the Tories of Canada. One story for Quebec, another for Ontario, and as many others as may seem expedient. Contrast this with the attitude of the real Imperial statesman, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who has the same message for all the people in all the provinces of Canada.

PRISON REFORM

A writer on the New York Sun finds some significant facts in the records of the Prisons Association. One is that sixty men are working on their honor near Bellefonte, Pa., on the construction of a new penitentiary which is designed to be one of the model prisons of the world. Another is that of all the state's prisoners released on parole in Kansas, only 18 per cent. have violated their parole. New Jersey is reported to be experimenting successfully with prison labor in building roads, without a single case of insubordination; while at the federal prison at Atlanta, Georgia, only two out of 171 prisoners released on parole have broken their word of honor. In Pennsylvania, two counties are co-operating to close their jails and maintain one farm where prisoners may live and work out of doors. In Ohio, Michigan, Florida and other states, plans are under way or have been carried out to take men out of prison, and give them a chance out of doors in shops or industrial plants, the purpose being to help them to become good citizens. Ontario and some of the western provinces of Canada are taking similar action, and it is high time the province of New Brunswick set itself to the task not merely of prison reform, but of making it possible to deal with a large number of individuals who are not law breakers, but who ought to be compelled to earn a living for themselves or for the families upon whom they are at present a burden.

It should interest the minister of trade and commerce of Canada that an official loaned by the C. P. R. to the government for two years at an enormous salary has made an agreement which switches a large volume of Canadian traffic from its natural channel.

If the people of St. John allow themselves to be deluded into a belief that the Canadian Pacific Railway is alone responsible for what has happened in connection with the mail steamships, Mr. Borden will be delighted. While St. John is engaged in the consolatory pastime of denouncing the C. P. R., Mr. Borden will be putting one over Mr. Hazen and St. John, for the benefit of the port of Halifax.

Mrs. Pankhurst is to be permitted to carry out her lecture programme in the United States, with the understanding that she leave the country when her lecture tour has been completed. In the meantime the militant suffragettes in England are in a bad way, as some of their most prominent leaders have thrown them over and some others are in jail. The movement appears to be on the wane.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 21 George E. Drummond, member of the famous Drummond family of Montreal, was born in Tawley, County Leitrim, Ireland on Oct. 21, 1858. He has been long associated with the iron and steel trade and is connected with many industrial companies. He has held office as president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

F. H. Skyes, professor of English literature in Columbia University and one of the prominent educationalists of the United States, was born in Queensville, Ont., fifty years ago today. He is a graduate of the University of Toronto and held several academic positions in Canada prior to his going to the United States.

LIGHTER VEIN

One day an old farmer came into a city store and asked to see some clocks. The clerk showed him some eight-day clocks, which he told him would run eight days without winding. The farmer looked several at a minute and then said:—"Yes, but if they will run eight days without winding, how long will they run if you wind 'em?"

On one occasion Dr. Francis Warner was trying to bring back to consciousness a woman who had had a paralytic stroke. His efforts seemed to be in vain. For a time her utterances were only the ravings of delirium, but all at once she sat up in bed and, looking straight at Dr. Warner, she cried out:—"O, you funny old man!"

"Not at all," was the reply. "My cousin was no military man in that sense, he was never interested in matters military. Nevertheless, it was his express wish that your hand should play at his funeral."

The leader was surprised and flattered. "Is that so?" he asked. "Yes," responded the other, "he said he wanted everybody in the place to be sorry that he died."

Mrs. Burns—Rose, what a kitchen! Every pot, pan and dish is soiled; the table looks like the day after a cyclone! What have you been doing? "Rose—Well, me-an, the young ladies are just after showing me how they pile a perlator at their cooking school."

TIN DISCOVERY IN NOVA SCOTIA

(Engineering and Mining Journal) It is reported that a new tin discovery has been made in Nova Scotia. We are informed that a tract of nearly 4,000 acres has been taken up by prospectors in Lunenburg county, near Lake Harris, which is about twenty miles from Chester Basin, the nearest railway station, forty miles southwest from Halifax. Such reports as have been received indicate that a series of narrow veins cross the entire property, the largest being probably about four feet in diameter, the country rock being granite and slate. In this vicinity there are one or more eruptive porphyry dikes, and the quartz veins follow fissures due to the intrusion of the porphyry, wolframite being found principally in the quartz, and the tin in altered, very feldspathic granite. It is stated that the property is largely controlled by a number of lumbermen, who have abundant means to develop the property and determine whether or not the grade and extent of the ore justifies expenditure for the erection of a mill and power plant. Water power is available in the vicinity. The presence of tungsten and copper complicates the metallurgy for tin and vice versa, if tungsten should prove the more valuable constituent.

ORIGIN OF THE DOLLAR SIGN

To associate our familiar dollar sign with the poetry of ancient myths and the story of the lost Eden of Genesis seems a far cry, yet if one carefully analyzes the two straight lines crossed with the letter "S," the tradition appears to have a foundation. In a study of some of the ancient coins of Tyre, and, curiously enough, of modern coins found in Guatemala, in Central America, reveals a startling suggestion of the primal basic similarity of our modern sign of prosperity to the symbols of one of the oldest Greek and Roman myths and to the symbol also of the fall of the human race, says The Montreal Telegraph. One of the wonderful feats of Hercules was, according to mythology, the placing of a vessel in full sail entering between the Pillars of Hercules at the entrance of the Mediterranean Sea at the Strait of Gibraltar. Francis Bacon, with a pretty conceit, used a frontispiece to "The Advancement of Learning" a picture of a vessel in full sail entering between the Pillars of Hercules, which guarded the fountain of knowledge. On a coin from Tyre, which provided color to the theory that Plato's story of the lost Atlantis was history, really culled from the Egyptian priests, and not fiction, as modern writers have always supposed until Ignatius Donnelly advanced his interesting hypothesis. On this coin a tree, about which a serpent is coiled, stands midway between the two gigantic stones, the pillars of Hercules, which just below is a seashell, symbolic of the magnetic needle which floated in the cup or seashell which Hercules borrowed from Helios when he went sailing every night, according to the old story. How our dollar sign should have its origin in a combination of the two symbols—the straight lines representing the Pillars of Hercules and the letter "S" doing duty as the wily serpent who tempted Eve, is equally mysterious. The analogy is not so hard to find, however. May not the meaning lie in this fact that money is the strength of the world, without which the search for the fountain of knowledge is arduous if not un-

GREAT LESSON FROM LITTLE LAND. (American Machinist) A visit to Sweden and Swedish machine shops shows the important fact that the greater part of what one sees is intended for export. Sweden is a small nation, having a population of less than 6,000,000, and her manufacturers have been compelled to reach out for foreign trade. This they have done, successfully and in some cases 85 per cent of a shop's product goes abroad. It is not too much to say that the most important group of manufactured articles, and the one which promises the greatest growth in the future, is the building of machines and tools. The progress in this line is striking. On the export side there has been a progressive increase year by year during the last decade, growing from $8,547,720 in 1910 to $8,827,860 in 1911. There are about 1500 factories in Sweden these give employment to about 60,000 workmen. It is estimated that the annual value of the output is $68,000,000. This includes all kinds of machine and metal work, from iron and steel down to watches and clocks. There are about seventy-five firms doing a ship-building business, but the largest vessels used in Swedish trade are built in Scotch and Irish ships.

PEOPLE ENJOYED THE IMPERIAL YESTERDAY

Holiday Bill Will Be Continued This Evening—"Mary" Pictures Tomorrow

Evidently the people of St. John desire to show their thankfulness for having so fine a place of entertainment as Imperial Theatre accorded them, as they attended the new Keith house in great numbers all day yesterday. The Imperial people put themselves out to make the programme truly of a holiday character, and the people showed their appreciation by loud applause and favorable comments.

The Bacons, who are banjo experts of renown, discoursed a very attractive programme of solo and duet numbers, Mr. Bacon including in his list several very clever imitations. During the day the Bacons were visited by local banjoists and several from outside the city, players with whom they had been associated for years and leaders. His wife, a brilliant musician is one of the chief instructors in banjo music in America, and is a manufacturer of the finest grades of this instrument.

Miss Margaret Brock's return was hailed with much pleasure, if her reception upon stepping upon the stage can be taken as a criterion. Her brilliant rendering of Ardit's "The Kiss Waltz," indicated that the American soprano had lost none of her art. Tonight the Imperial concludes its holiday picture bill, which is as follows: "The Policeman and the Baby," a Chicago melodrama; "The Love of Beauty," a Lubin romance; "Teaching Hickville to Sing;" and the Mosques of India. Tomorrow will be Mary day, when the eleventh of the absorbing series will be shown.

SOME STRANGE PETS

The late Lord Avebury used to keep pet wasps, and on one memorable occasion he exhibited a "tame" wasp at one of the sittings of the British Association. This particular wasp was captured from a nest in the Pyrenees, but why His Lordship should go so far for a wasp when they are so plentiful at home it is hard to say, and though at first rather too ready with its sting, it became perfectly tame, took sugar from its master's hand, allowed him to stroke it, and always returned to its bottle home.

A certain well-known actress makes pets of huge spiders, and delights in feeding them, attending to their comfort, and generally mothering them and making them as happy as spiders can ever hope to be.

A French comtesse, who is well known for her beauty and her eccentricities, wore during last season as a neck ornament a beautiful scarabaeus beetle. It was tethered to a ring by a very slender gold chain, which allowed the insect to run about on the lady's shoulder. As the shoulder was always bare when the lady wore her beetle, it may be taken for granted that the comtesse had lost—if ever she had it—that feminine horror of anything creepy-crawly.

Wireless for Miners

An invention has been brought to light which will serve to considerably minimize the dangers to which every day the large number of underground workers in the United Kingdom are exposed.

A clever German subject, J. H. Reincke, of Westphalia, has invented a system of wireless telegraph for use in mines. The system has been adopted at Dinington Main Colliery in Yorkshire, where instruments have been fixed at two points and conversations have been carried on with the same ease as in the case with ordinary telephones.

There is a portable instrument adapted for use in the case whilst ascending and descending the shaft, and so a means of communication with those above ground in time of disaster has been established. By this means rescue work will be considerably facilitated, for entombed miners will be in direct communication with the pit-head, thus being able to call for assistance and give directions as to their whereabouts and the best means of reaching them.

At Lower Jenseg on Friday, October 17, H. Marshall Kennedy of Mill Cove and Miss Theo. Smith of Young's Cove were united in marriage by Rev. G. Edgar Tobin. Miss Emma McIntyre of Westfield was the bridesmaid and Glen A. Smith of Swampscott, Mass., acted as groomsmen. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home at Mill Cove.

DISEASE KILLS HOGS

(Fredericton Gleaner)

A strange disease is causing the death of many hogs and young pigs.

Stanley Chase of St. Mary's has lost thirty-one pigs by death during the last ten days, the last of his lot dying on Friday. He states the pigs first become weak in the knees and then their backs and kidneys showed signs of weakness. Then it was noticed that a small pink spot appeared on the back of the ear, and a day or so after this was noticed, the animal generally died. The first of his herd died ten days ago, and every day since then one or more have died. His loss is somewhere in the vicinity of $400. The individual weight of the pigs varied from 20 to 30 pounds.

STAR HAS A GREAT SHOW

The show that pleased such large numbers in Star Theatre on the holiday will receive its final presentation tonight. This includes a strongly dramatic Biograph entitled, "The Vengeance of Galora," a magnificent travel trip, "Thru the Rocky Mountains in Winter," "The Heart of an Actress," featuring beautiful Alice Joyce, and a screaming comedy by the Edison Company, "Jones Goes Shopping." Those who were prevented from seeing this programme because of yesterday's crowds will enjoy it quietly and without any rush tonight. Tomorrow the Star's programme will be entirely changed.

A little opera, 'There Was an Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe,' was sung by the children, some of them only little tots of four and five years, but every one of them did wonderfully well. Among those present were His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, His Worship Mayor Frink, Rev. J. J. Ryan of St. Mary's; Rev. Miles Howland and Dr. W. F. Broderick, all of whom spoke briefly.

The large number of vehicles at the disposal of the workers proved that the fight has been a stiff one, and it is generally acknowledged that the candidates will offer a close contest in every district.

The First Actual Photographs of The Burning of The Volturno!

THE HERO OF THE VOLTURNO

Capt. Francis Inch of the Volturno, burned in mid-Atlantic, and who saved his life in a battle with fear-driven men to save women and children.

A REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPH OF THE MOST DRAMATIC SCENE IN THE BURNING OF THE VOLTURNO!

Here is an astounding snap shot taken from the deck of the Groszer Kurfuert. It shows the burning Volturno (ship indicated by arrow) surrounded by some of the eleven great Atlantic liners which rushed to the distressed ship's aid in response to her cry of "S. O. S. messages. For hours these "Samaritans of the waters" were obliged to stand there—HELPLESS! to rescue the Volturno's passengers on account of the raging storm with which no lifeboat seemed able to cope until the sea was flattened with oil.

THE VOLTURNO AFLAME!

Here is the first actual photograph of the burning of the Volturno—the latest terrible high-sea catastrophe to blot out a cargo of human lives. This remarkable picture was taken by a passenger on the deck of the Groszer Kurfuert. The great clouds of smoke can be seen rolling up from the bow of the vessel. This photograph was made only a few minutes before the final destruction of the doomed ship.

Gossip From The Boulevards

Montmartre Revisited—The Result of a Broken Resolution

Many years ago when I put a young man with all his foolishness and no should "Butte me and you" again—in other words, that no conditions would I be tempted to it Montmartre. But a day or two I was tempted and forswore myself. I was sitting, some half-dozen of us, very "serious" people, as the old say—in a very "serious" cafe in Montmartre which the chosen of English journalists, Greek fiddlers, and other shady people, and thinking of bed when one of our over with Vicky bubbling in his veins suggested a renewal of our old and a taxi to Montmartre. It is an insidious stuff—and I listened to the voice of the tempter. A question arose. Montmartre is a word. Where were we to go? We explained to him that we wanted to go, but within reason; that we wanted to see life, but see it "whole" as poet says—and not double. In fact, I wanted something suited to our age, experience, and infirmities. The omniscient head waiter said "Ferias" was out, and the hardly less omniscient secur corroborated him. "Ferias" was assured, was not as one might thought, a mingling water or a wild night, but a Spanish cafe chant—combined the seductions of the melting airs of Andalus and the castanets of Cistile.

Chapel. There were the castanets of life. I wish there had not been to me all unanimously attribute our morning headaches. We found Ferias at first rather a solemnizing of a long narrow room, carpeted in red, with red lounges, a narrow gallery under a vaulted roof. I looked rather a dissipated dissident chapel. The seats were occupied by a number of elderly-looking gentlemen—mostly bald and ladies whose ages were at least certain, but who fulfilled the requisites for a bad photograph in they were over developed and over used. We were carefully handed down the table of the hall, where two or three mealy tango to a table next to the table, which at the moment was occupied by four listless and world-weary dilettantes strumming their mandolins. Then came the obligatory glass of champagne, which the waiter led with nefarious skill in such a way that at least a third of its contents into the adjacent ice-pail. I was around us bent on ending myself or herself—you could see their set smiles and the fine way they held off such of the champagne as the waiter's skillful overture had left them. And we might have been happy, happy.

Rheumatism

Home Cure Given by One Who Had It. In the spring of 1901 I was attacked by Rheumatism and Intermittent Rheumatism, and it was only three years after that I was cured. I tried nearly every remedy, but it was only temporary. Finally I found a remedy that cured me completely and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case. I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatism to try this marvelous "Rheumatism Cure." Don't send a cent simply for your name and address and you will get it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be what it is, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want any money unless you are perfectly satisfied and it has cured you. Why wait any longer when positive relief is thus offered you? Don't delay. Write today. Mark H. Jackson, No. 817 Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.

Girlish Complexion Now Easily Acquired

"A skin of blended snow, cream and rose" is the way an Ohio correspondent describes her newly acquired complexion. She is one who has adopted mercerized wax in place of cosmetics, massage, steaming and other methods. Many who have tried this marvelous wax report that its effects are quite different from those of any other treatment. It produces a complexion of exquisite girlish naturalness, rather than one bearing evidence of having been artificially "made over." One that is indeed "Nature's own." The result of gradually absorbing dead particles of surface skin, permitting the younger, healthier skin beneath to show itself and giving its pores a chance to breathe. Mercerized wax, procurable at any drug store in original one-ounce package, is put on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

I have also had many favorable letters from those who have tried the wrinkle-removing face bath which I recommended recently. If any have missed the formula, here it is: 1/2 oz. powder, xalotte, dissolved in 1/2 pint white hazel—"Natalie" in the Woman Millitant.

Several of the sixty designs—only ten of which will be sent to the Ministry of Finance—were consciously or unintentionally funny. One competitor brook utterly with the traditional design, the flag, the head of the charming lady who represents the Republic, and so on, and arranged a number of ankles and feet around the aperture of his coin, so that it resembles the sign of "legs of man." Another has worked out a touching group of a young couple holding each other by the hand—the man in evening dress, and the lady in décolleté—and has engraved beneath it the legend, "Work and thought communing in the same embrace beneath the Republican regime." It is in itself a well-meaning and patriotic design, but it seems better suited for a mural decoration than the obverse of a coin the size of a three-penny bit.

Paris is full of pitfalls. I mean literally. Where the Metro isn't burrowing, the electric trams are scratching. At every street corner you come up against a barricade, so that you might think the Commune had come again. The Place de la Concorde has been subjected to another major operation when the stich marks were hardly out of the first. There is a highly unesthetic stockade opposite the Comedie Francaise, and the Place du Chatelet is an open wound. As for the poor Place de Clichy, it is up, of course; but then it hasn't been down for years.

A day or two ago a deputation of city councillors went the rounds just to see how all these multifarious mining operations were progressing. They started about nine-thirty with the Place du Chatelet. They found the abysses and the stockade all right—no one could miss them—but workmen were to seek. At least a gentleman who was rolling a cigarette in a cosy corner condescended to ask them what they wanted. They said they would like very much to see a little work being done, whereupon the cigarette roller explained that it was really far too early for that, but if they came back in half an hour he would see what could be done about it.

And it was the same thing all throughout their tour. Either the workmen were on strike, or materials hadn't turned up, or the machinery had broken down—and "quest ce que vous voulez que July fosse mol" was the conclusion of all. Meanwhile, poor Paris is as pitted as a small-pox patient, and is in danger of losing that pretty complexion of which she has always and so rightly been so proud.

Wonderland Fair. The opening of Wonderland Fair was held last night in the Elmwood street Y. M. C. hall in Brussels street. Thirteen prettily decorated booths formed an evening's attraction for a large number who attended the fair, and who enjoyed the various forms of amusement provided. The prize winners in the different booths were as follows: John Scott, set of carvers; Mrs. Porter, umbrellas; Mrs. Monahan, fruit dish; Wm. Sutherland, pipe and case; W. G. Drake, box chocolates; A. Hollis, bag coal; Mr. Emery, pipe.

MAISON, GA., CHILD

Made Strong and Well by Vinol. When I tell you that Vinol is the best remedy in my whole stock for making weak, puny children strong, robust and plump, I am only telling you what has been proved by hundreds of mothers. J. L. Fickling, Macon, Ga., says: "My child was very thin and delicate, no appetite, nervous, and did not sleep well. Doctors did not help her. Vinol was recommended and the change after a fair trial was wonderful. She sleeps soundly all night, has a splendid appetite and has gained in weight. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children."

What Vinol did for this little girl it will do for every weak and ailing child because sickly children need the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains—that is why Vinol builds them up quickly and gives them a fine healthy color. It is pleasant to take and I guarantee that the results will satisfy you—money back if they do not. Chas. R. Wasson, Drug-gist, St. John.

NEW MIDDLEWEIGHT CONTENDER

FROM T. S. ANDREWS

Milwaukee, Oct. 18—The unexpected knockout of Frank Klaus, the Pittsburgh middle weight, at the hands of George Chip of Newcastle, the other night, brings a new contender into the ranks of the 158-pounders, for the crown, which has been in dispute since the late Stanley Ketchel was killed. Chip has been known as a hard hitter for the last year or two, but he has never shown much cleverness and was not considered seriously as a real contender for the title. However, his knockout of Klaus puts him in the front rank of aspirants, and now he will have to be considered along with Eddie McGoorty, Jack Dillon, Jimmy Klabby and Gus Christie. Of course Klaus will be in the running again, for he is a fighter from the ground up, and no doubt he will try to get Chip into another match of the six-round variety. Leo Houck, a Lancaster middle weight is also bidding for honors again, and seeks matches with all the leading boys in his class. Houck claimed a victory over Dillon in a short round bout, but from friends who were present I have heard that Houck could expect nothing better than a draw and they thought Jack had the shade. With half a dozen middle weights after the title the promoters should be able to figure out some good matches. The claim of the French promoters that Georges Carpentier had put in a bid for the middle weight title does not hold good, for the reason that the French boy cannot make the weight. In his match with Jeff Smith of New York the other night, he weighed more than 160 pounds. Carpentier won, but with an advantage in weight. He no doubt has as good a claim to the light heavy-weight title as anyone. He will go out of his class, however, when he meets Bombardier Wells in a return match.

MATTY'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

Reminiscences of The World's Series — His Tribute to Plank, The Veteran of The Athletics

(By Christy Mathewson, Star Pitcher of The Giants)

After the Athletics had defeated the Giants for the world's championship in 1911, the trials of some of the players on the two clubs crossed in St. Louis the following spring while they were on their way south for the training trip. Collins, Barry, and "Danny" Murphy were standing in the lobby of the Planter's Hotel, "talking shop" by way of killing time while waiting for the train. "Josh" Devore bustled up to the group and did not recognize "Jack" Barry. "Josh" said "Red" Murray, "you know 'Jack' Barry of the Athletics, don't you?" "How should I know him?" answered "Josh," ever fast with the comeback. "I never got as far as second base during the world's series."

There are a lot of Giants in this year of grace 1918 who are still unacquainted with Barry if it was necessary to reach second base in the recent world's series to meet him, and to them John Franklin Baker is a perfect stranger. Several of them never got very far in their arguments around the bags. The blame for the Giant's showing in the world's series can be attributed to one of two causes. Either their hitting was horribly weak or the Philadelphia pitching was magnificently strong. It is to the latter cause that I would attribute the lamentable outcome of the series. "Connie" Mack uncovered a lot of pitching which we never expected to see. We had anticipated some rather poor twirling, the best to come from Bender. Instead, we met wonderful pitching from the three pitchers we faced, and the worst came from Bender, the Indian winning both his games by narrow margins after the Giants had piled up rather large scores. The Athletics, however, hit the Giants pitchers harder in each of these battles, so that Bender came out of the series as the only pitcher on either club who won two games. "What is the hardest game you ever pitched?" many fans have asked me since the close of the series. It is difficult for me to tell. Time beats. A year ago I did not think I could ever go through another battle like that last one in Boston against the Red Sox which the American League team won in the innings. Today, over the space of a year, that contest looks to me like a "pipe" compared to the two I worked in the series against the Athletics hit in both these battles I could ever go through another battle like that last one in Boston against the Red Sox which the American League team won in the series.

Economy In Shoe Purchasing

Many people purchase low priced shoes under the impression that it is economy to do so. But it is not economy. Because low priced shoes must necessarily be made from low priced materials—give but half the wear of high grade shoes and cost a good deal more in the end.

INVICTUS SHOES

cost little more than ordinary shoes, yet they are the highest grade of footwear you can buy. They will give more real service than two pairs of "popular" priced shoes, plus the comfort and smart appearance that is only associated with the finest footwear.

up as much of a pitcher when you count the number of games I have won. Taking the series against the Red Sox in 1912 and the one this year, I have captured only one out of my last five starts. Nothing has broken well for me. The club has not scored well behind me. The luck has run the wrong way. I do not consider that I pitched any better ball in 1908 than I did in 1913, but I won three games that year. The players on the Giants at that time had no better averages, but were better world's series performers. But as to that hardest game I ever pitched. While the last game in the series this year did not take as much out of my arm as the final one against the Boston Red Sox, I consider it to be the toughest one I ever worked because I desired to win it more than any other battle I ever entered. I realized it might be the last game in a world's series in which I would get an opportunity to show, especially if the Giants fail to win the pennant next year. Therefore, I was anxious to close out with a victory. I am getting along in years, both in point of service and in real age. But Plank was better, and I lost my hardest game.

SECOND HEAVY OCTOBER BLOW

High Wind, Rain Deluge And Sunshine For Variety

SEA KICKED UP IN HARBOR

Manager Philips of Victoria Hotel Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury as Large Letter Falls From Hotel Sign to Street

The sun beamed on the city this morning for the first time since October 7, and citizens who felt the warm, cheery rays of the welcome orb were general in their expression of satisfaction at the marked change from the inclement and depressing storm period which has held sway for the greater portion of October.

The stiff sou'wester which swept the city was pleasant, despite the pranks of the boisterous gale, as the tonic effect of the clear, cool air speedily dispelled gloom and damp and mugginess, and was remarkably bracing and refreshing.

A moderate southeasterly gale sprang up last evening, following a close, warm day, and at eight o'clock the high wind blew with such force that a heavy sea was running in the bay and an unusual swell was lifting in the harbor.

At 8:30 this morning, a fairly heavy driving rain resulted, continuing until soon after daybreak, with the wind increasing in velocity, and finally, the gale shifted to the southwest and the rain ceased at seven o'clock. The gale was a heavy one, ranging in velocity from thirty-two to forty miles, and the gauge registered highest at about 9:30 a. m.

The total precipitation was one quarter of an inch.

The appearance of the sun today was the first really, truly sunbath which has been given this locality since October 7, for, although Old Sol has sent a ray or two earthward on several occasions the glimpse has been only momentary, and the sunshine this morning was a most welcome change as the wet, gloomy weather which prevailed for so long, has had a very depressing effect on affairs in general.

The storm is understood to have raged with great severity in the west, as the city has been without complete telegraphic communication with the larger centres since early last evening, but the lines are now in better operation.

The strong shifting gales raised a long roll in the harbor and Courtenay Bay, and the shores were swept by great breakers, while the seas were topped with whitecaps which gave off clouds of spray and under the whip of the gusts of wind.

The total rainfall for the month of October, to date, as furnished by Director Hutchinson of the local observatory, is 2.97 inches.

Had Narrow Escape

No serious damage has been reported in the city, probably owing to the fact that everything damageable was cleaned up by the previous gales. Manager Philips of the Victoria Hotel narrowly escaped serious injury or death this morning, as he was leaving the hotel, when the letter "H" was blown from the sign and fell about a yard behind him. The letter was made of stout heavy wood, was about three feet in height, and if he had been struck, he would probably have been killed instantly.

The damage to the C. P. R. Telegraph Company's lines sustained during last night's storm and which had the effect of cutting off communication over their lines with Upper Canada, was all repaired by ten o'clock this morning. The damage was caused by trees falling across the lines at two places in Maine. As soon as the trouble was located, repair men were put to work.

The Western Union had two of their wires between Woodstock and Edmundston out of use for a while on account of the storm. One of them was repaired by noon and the other will be repaired this afternoon.

The New Brunswick Telephone Company report damage on only one or two of their local lines, and were not seriously affected.

SAY BANK CLERKS ARE SHORT $9,000

Street Talk Fails to Bring Any Statement From Bank of Nova Scotia Manager Here or General Manager

Rumors of shortages in the accounts of some members of the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia here have been current for several days. The report is that two or three clerks are involved and that the money has gone by way of the stock market.

The figure mentioned is $9,000. It is said that several of the clerks have been engaged in an attempt to beat the stock market game and when their resources were dissipated drew upon the bank funds in an attempt to recoup their losses with the result that they got in deeper than ever.

When asked about the matter this morning R. B. Wallace, manager of the chief branch of the bank here, refused to discuss it, stating that he had nothing to say. He did not deny the report, or even attempt to minimize it merely repeating, when asked if it could be denied, that he had nothing to say.

H. A. Richardson, general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, when interviewed in Toronto by the correspondent of this paper, said he did not wish to make any statement at present.

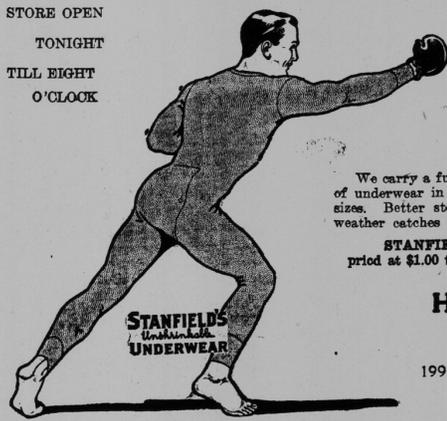

POLICE COURT

In a court room filled with smoke from a newly lighted fire, three prisoners charged with drunkenness faced the police magistrate this morning. His Honor remanded them, after giving instructions to find out where they had secured the liquor. Two were arrested on Sunday and the other on Saturday night. Three other prisoners arrested on drunkenness charge forfeited their deposits of $8 each.

The Men's and Young Men's New Fall Suits are Fine Beyond Compare

We are reporting an actual condition and not printing idle and irresponsible talk, just because the autumn winds are blowing and we would like very much to get your dollars.

We don't want them if the suits are not good enough.

We would rather not sell a man a suit than disappoint him in one. But, without doubt, this is a stock without disappointments. We have made sure of that.

So far as we can see, and we have gone into the business pretty thoroughly, it isn't possible for suits to be better at the prices marked on them, whether you judge them by the fabrics, or the tailoring or the styles.

We know that not all men and young men are quite sure as to which store is the best to come for a new suit, but every man with any claim to common sense knows that this store is so different from any other that for his own protection he should at least see what it has got to show him before deciding where he will buy.

A good time to see is now.
