TO BE A SENATOR?

Expect Something From Mr. Meighen Thursday.

Montreal Gazette Says Few Believe There will be Dissolution Before Distribution—Liberal Leader at Parry Sound.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—The Ottawa correspondent of the Gazette says: "Few believe there will be a dissolution before a redistribution but lacking a definite statement to this effect from the premier, the subject is still discussed."

"Delay in making public his decision is not strengthening the premier's position, but semi-official assurances have been given that all doubt on the question will be swept aside on Thursday in London, when Hon. Mr. Meighen will make his first political address since his return to the capital and his appointment to the Senate is urged. She is judge of the children's court."

As Hiram Sees It

The Times reporter was admiring the rich, golden brown of the leaves of a clump of birches.

"It ain't a week," said Mrs. Hiram Hornbeam, "since then birches was as green as that old pine. I never saw them change as quick as they did this year. I guess it must be the drought. The summer is most gone. It won't be many weeks now till you'll see in them woods more colors than ever went on canvas."

"That bit of hedge," said the reporter, "is a glory of color now. I have been sitting here for an hour, just content to breathe this air and enjoy that landscape. It is wonderful."

"Hanner," said Hiram, "appearing in the doorway, "did you see my specks anywhere?" Mrs. Hornbeam gave him a quick survey and mildly replied: "No, I haven't seen 'em."

Hiram quickly raised his hand to his forehead, and a shade of perplexity gave place to a broad grin. "Don't that beat all! I guess I must be getting old. I had no more idea where them specks was than the man in the moon."

"If you didn't have me to keep you straight," said Mrs. Hornbeam, "you'd go to bed with your boots on!" "I wouldn't get the last word—would I? Not if you was teafin'!" "I'm feelin' fine," said Mrs. Hornbeam.

IMPORTER NOW NOT TO BE SEEN

C. G. M. Vessel Disappears in Pacific.

Still No News of Fate of Two Officers and Seven of Crew—Plan to Raise the Canadian Recruit.

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 30.—After drifting waterlogged for fifteen days in the Pacific, the steamer Canadian Importer, of the Canadian government merchant marine, with Captain Bisette and a crew of 44, has disappeared and is now believed lost.

Four ships, the government vessels, Canadian Observer and Canadian Wanderer, the Canadian Steamer Algernon and the United States cutter Snobomish, continue the search for the missing ship or possible survivors in the neighborhood in which the Canadian Importer was last spoken by the steamer Cordova on Friday when Captain Bisette refused a tow, believing his ship would remain afloat until a vessel of his own line came up and took him in tow.

Nothing was learned of the fate of the two officers and seven members of the crew who left the disabled importer ten days ago in a lifeboat to secure assistance.

On August 18, after being in collision with the collector's tug, the Canadian Importer was abandoned by the crew.

The Canadian Recruit's position has changed slightly since the morning of the accident, when she was reported submerged to her bridge, with her stern out of water and the upper portion of her hull entirely submerged at high water and has after decks washed at low tide.

The process of raising her will take about a month, and it is expected to be a difficult job, according to the opinion of experts.

H. Mosher, stated that he believed the interference of the federal and provincial governments regarding the problem.

Revolutionary forces may very conceivably replace the forces of evolution in an attempt at improvement," he said, "but I would regret exceedingly to see our people involved in civil war when, by rational methods, the desired change might be very well made effective."

LIQUOR, A GUN FIGHT AND DASH INTO DARKNESS

A Spirited Encounter on the Canadian Border Near Duluth.

Duluth, Aug. 30.—News of a gun fight on the Canadian border and subsequent escape of three men and a woman, alleged liquor smugglers, was contained in a report received yesterday by Harris Bennett, U. S. collector here from H. Nelson, deputy customs collector at Banier, while patrolling the border of Rainier Lake at two o'clock on Sunday morning.

George Powers, a state game warden, discovered three men and a woman attempting to land a launch on American soil, five miles east of Fort Francis, according to the report. Suspicious, he summoned Nelson and the two ordered the occupants of the launch to come ashore.

The officers placed the quartette under arrest. The game warden and customs officers stepped off the boat, ordering the captives to follow. Instead of doing so, the fugitives fled and disappeared into the darkness. The alarm was immediately spread, but not a trace has been found of the supposed smugglers.

NEW PLAN FOR UNEMPLOYED

Corporation to Buy Land Near Cities and Sell Produce.

(Special to Times.)

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—(Canadian Press)—The dominion command, G. W. W. Wilson has created the outline of a plan whereby the waste lands in the vicinity of every large city could be given employment to many of the unemployed.

The scheme as outlined provides for the formation of a corporation to be known as the Corporation for Unemployment with shares at $1 each, to be contributed by any person interested. This money, the plan sets forth, would purchase the land, while the product, such as regular market prices, would pay wages and other charges. If this scheme were in operation, the inventor believes every unemployed man could be given work while waiting for an opening in his proper trade.

THE RETAIL MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, which opened its convention in Winnipeg last week, is an important organization in the life of the community, and its meeting this year should be followed by results of great benefit to all concerned. In welcoming the merchants of the Manitoba Free Press said: "The delegates, in the main, are substantial business men from various parts of the Dominion who, quite properly, are interested in the welfare of their own business and also in the general subject of merchandising. If one were to study the business careers of the delegates attending this convention it would be found that in a great many cases they are men who have begun business in a small way and who have achieved success by hard work and fair dealing with the public. The latter is highly important; in fact, it is one of the fundamentals of successful business. And there is a pretty sure test in this connection. In the long run it will be found that the business which prospers in a community is giving the public a square deal and rendering efficient service to those who buy. Otherwise there is no permanency.

"Canada needs plenty of men like those enrolled in the Retail Merchants Association of Canada. The country will approve all policies tended to add to the efficiency of doing business, and to eliminate waste, to raise the standard of the goods handled, and to put business on a sounder basis."

It was for this reason, the Free Press pointed out, that the city of Winnipeg, one of the great marketing centres of Canada, desired to extend its cordial welcome to the visitors.

"TOM BROWN'S SCHOOL DAYS."

Some days ago a Fredericton despatch to the Times carried the information that "Tom Brown's School Days" had been approved by the Board of Education as a text book in English literature in Grade IX of the public schools. If this is followed by introduction of that superb story into the routine of school life, what a wealth of enjoyment there is ahead for the boy who will thus be making the acquaintance of and developing friendship with the sturdy lad, Doctor Arnold's days in good old Rugby. One must dip deep into the well of memory to recall anything more appealing to the normal boy than is Hughes' recital of the experiences of Tom and his confederates at the old English boarding school. At mention of the title of the book the years fall away and one lives again the school life of rugged Tom and East and Martin and gentle Arthur; of the unfortunate Tadpole; of the calls of old Sully; of the mad antics for sausage and other dainties to which the demands of a lusty boy's appetite for more than the school table provides. Again one roams the woods and climbs the trees in search of bird's eggs; once more is heard the panting of the runners at "hare and hounds," or the boyish shouts as a good play is made on the cricket field or in a football match. There comes to mind a picture of the fine principled sixth form young man soon to make his way into the great world, and one sees him coaching and encouraging the juniors in study or at play. A shout rends the air, "A fight, a fight!" and all else is forgotten, for Tom Brown and Slogger Williams are to battle in an encounter that is never to be forgotten.

And who that recalls can do other than revere the name of Arnold, under whose influence all that was best was developed in those under his charge—the scholarly gentleman held in awe by the juniors until they came to know that they had no better friend in studies or in sports than "The Doctor."

It is common experience that men often wish themselves back in the days of youth; the care-free happy times before they knew what it was to buffet against the world. There is a way to get there, for a time at least. The printed word that thrilled them still exists and after the lapse of years such books as "Tom Brown's School Days" will be found equally alluring to the mature mind as they were in the time of the boy's eager fancy.

HELIGOLAND.

It has been plain for some time that the separatist movements in Germany are gaining strength. Whether anything will come of them or not remains to be seen. In Bavaria a powerful group is desirous of breaking away from Prussia and other groups in the Rhine provinces are carrying on a similar campaign.

The latest separatist cry has been raised in Heligoland where the 2,000 inhabitants declare that they can no longer stand the abuses of the bureaucratic German-Prussian regime. They have chosen a commission of sixty-two to draw up a memorial protesting against what they call the blunders of Prussian rule and demanding "an independent administration to see that there is no further misunderstanding and misinterpretation at the hands of a regime which perpetuates the old Prussian principles of government." Much more is to know what Berlin will do after it receives the memorial of the Heligolanders, but it is doubtful if it will do very much, for it no doubt realizes that the comparatively small group of people on the famous little island could hardly afford in self-defence to break the ties that bind them to Prussia.

Heligoland was a British possession from 1807 to 1890, when Salisbury handed it to Germany. It rises from the North Sea between the mouths of the Elbe and Weser and, during the war, it was invaluable to Germany. It was really a North Sea Gibraltar and afforded an impregnable base for the German fleet of submarines which infested the waters for hundreds of miles around. Today it has no guns and no fortifications, and no fleet to protect. Germany's fleet is practically wiped out and her land defences stand all but dismantled. Heligoland itself is not much more than a resort for summer tourists and a haven for the wild birds of the North Sea. Once a mighty bulwark in Prussia's protective armor, it has fallen sadly. All things considered, it is not surprising that its 2,000 inhabitants are restless and critical of Prussian rule.

A somewhat tense situation exists in Germany where the pan-Germans have been rather outspoken and demonstrative of late. The despatches do not give much detail, but there is sufficient to indicate that matters are rather serious. The Majority and Independent Socialists, and the strong Labor body are with the government. Something near to martial law has been put into effect under decree of President Ebert.

A tablet was unveiled in Toronto yesterday in memory of members of the Commercial Travelers' Association who went overseas in the war, some never to return. It is recalled with pride how well the men of that organization "carried on" during the war both at home and at the front.

The people of East St. John well deserve the compliments paid them yesterday at the opening of their new school building. They have shown commendable enterprise along community lines in more ways than one. That makes for prosperity and contentment.

And now Austrians and Hungarians are in armed conflict. The trouble in Burgenland, a border province between the two countries, is giving concern to the Allies.

LIGHTER VEIN.

The office boy and his grandmother's funeral always were subject for jest. But when the test match is brought into the affair to make a jocular trio, it gets rather amusing. Anyway, this particular strippling, having filled the "in" tray and emptied the "out," said to a funeral this afternoon. "The chief replied heartily: 'Oh, you would, would you? Well, you won't.' The boy, with all hopes gone of seeing the test, resignedly murmured: 'No, sir, I know I won't, but I would like to see the chief's reaction.' 'Whose funeral?' said the boy: 'Yours, sir.' Exit—Sketch (London).

Leave No Stone Unturned. Jurymen after juryman had been challenged by the prisoner's counsel. However, all things come to an end, and at last the jury was completed. But the prisoner, leaning over the dock, sought the ear of his counsel. "The jury's all right now, I think," he whispered. "I've been convicted under him several times already, and maybe he's beginning to have a prejudice."—Fort Mason Marking Post.

An Up-to-Date Method. A man of benevolent tendencies met a friend who had been in "hard luck." As the man looked sufficiently nonchalant, the first, tactfully referring to other matters, said: "Oh, by the way, I'd like to have you dine with us tonight." "I would be delighted," said the seedy-looking man, "but wouldn't tomorrow night do as well?" "Yes, certainly. But where are you dining tonight?" "At your house. You see, your good wife was kind enough to give me tonight's invitation."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Fashion Found Wanting. Policeman—Losa yer mamma, 'ave yer? Why didn't yer keep 'old of yer skirt? Little Alf—I cou-cou-couldn't reach it.—London Opinion.

Just as Good. The wife of the profligate was having grief over the furnishing of the large house. She did not know the names of ordinary articles of furniture, and the more ornamental things completely puzzled her. One day a woman said to her, "Have you read Lamé's tales?" She thought for a while and then answered, nervously, "No, but I've got a gray sheepskin rug."—Washington Star.

Golden Voice. Pony—The man she is going to marry is a millionaire, but unfortunately he has impeded in his speech. Dolly—What difference does that make? Money talks.—Judge.

"I think you handle those fine china dishes very carefully," said the mistress. "Don't worry, ma'am," replied Jane. "They are so light that they wouldn't hurt me even if I dropped 'em on my toes."

Gladys Walton in "The Man Tamer," an Absorbing Circus Story.

Ever since Gladys Walton scored a success in the Universal production of "Pink Tights," a year ago, screen fans all over the country have requested another circus story starring her.

The request was granted with "The Man Tamer," a picture which is being shown with unrestrained enthusiasm at its local premier at the Unique Theatre last night.

"The Man Tamer" has all the cleverness of "Pink Tights," with additional thrills and hangs up a new record for screen speed. As the story gets under way the star is seen as a circus lion tamer. Her father, who later dies, leaves her alone in the world with a lot of tough lions, in company with snarling men and jealous colleagues. Then, just when things are looking from gray to black for the future, along comes a millionaire with his heart in his metaphorical hand. It looks like a marriage, but the boy's father tells the girl that he doesn't want his son to associate with a spangled buzzy, and—bloody! the action starts.

Of course the young fellow gets the girl and the audience leaves smiling, but not until he has rescued her from a hypanthia's clutches.

"The Man Tamer" is diverting, speedy, and peppery and entertaining, and it proves to her admirers that she is not an good actress as she is pretty.

MORE EVIDENCE AT MURDER TRIAL

The hearing in the James Ross murder trial was continued yesterday at Newcastle, and three witnesses were examined and two were cross-examined by George McDade, counsel for the defence. At the morning session Joseph La Tulippe said that Ross and the La Tulippe family had come to an agreement and papers had been made out allowing the family to move the garden stuff. He said Stewart called to him and asked why he did not stay in the house and fight it out. At 8 on the night of the murder he met Ross, who told him that he was going to the La Tulippe home. La Tulippe later gave this information to Stewart. La Tulippe, in company with his brother, George, and John Savoy. He saw an iron bolt in the wagon. Near the house Stewart got out with something in his hand which looked like a rifle. Just before the house La Tulippe and his brother got in the wagon and went down to the brook behind. Here they heard two shots. They did not see Stewart, Savoy or Victoria La Tulippe again that night. He saw no evidence of drinking that day, but smelled liquor on Stewart's breath.

Fred La Tulippe's evidence corroborated that of his brother. George Curry said that he kept a shop at Negue and that the evening before Ross was shot Stewart got some bottles of liquor from Stewart's house. Daniel LeBlanc said that about 9.15 p.m. he went down to the La Tulippe place to see if the furniture was moved away. He found Ross lying by the gate with a revolver by his right hand. The court is in session again today.

GREENLAND HAD VERDURE ONCE

Largest Island in World Ice Covered—Population of Its 800,000 Square Miles Only 15,000.

The largest island in the world (if Australia be classed as a continent), the land reaching closest to the North Pole, the country harboring the northernmost civilized community, and the one land mass where conditions of great ice age are now dominant—such is Greenland, says a bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society in connection with a visit now being made by the King of Denmark to the bleak American continent.

Mercator's map fame has unwittingly confused the mind of the world in regard to Greenland, continues the bulletin. Because the sphere is flattened out on many maps as though its surface were stretched, Greenland, vast as it is, is made to appear many times larger. It is as though the country were reflected in the water, and the two images at country fairs to make the thing appear fat.

But, viewed properly, the great northern island bulks large enough to command respect. If its northernmost point were placed at the Canadian border in North Dakota its southernmost point would reach to the mouth of the Rio Grand, the southern extremity of Texas. Its greatest width is approximately equal to the distance from New York to Chicago.

Although the island is almost continental in size, having an area of about 800,000 square miles, it has only 15,000 inhabitants, the daily population of a single huge office building in lower New York City. The reason for this sparse population is not alone the far northern position of the country, for the lower portion of the island is in approximately the same latitude as the Scandinavian peninsula with its 8,000,000 souls. But while Scandinavia is bathed by the warm Gulf Stream, and Iceland, too, benefited by it, Greenland lies far from its influence and is washed only by icy Arctic currents.

Exposed to the full effects of the frosts of the Arctic, the great island which at one time in geologic history had the climate and verdure of California, has been changed into a frozen desert. The once green hills and valleys and even mountains have been literally buried under a sheet of snow and ice varying from hundreds to thousands of feet in thickness. All but a few mountain peaks have been submerged, and the entire vast interior of the country is a nearly level plateau of ice.

Only a narrow fringe along a part of the coast is free from the ice cover, and even this ground is frozen in winter and covered with snow. It is along the fringes of these narrow ice-free sections, the coast that the few thousand Eskimos and the handful of Danes that make up the population of Greenland find a precarious livelihood.

During the short summer the interior of Greenland presents phenomena to be found nowhere else in the world; but the frozen wastes are inaccessible and only a few eyes have beheld the changes that take place there when the sun swines to the north. Great lakes are formed; mighty rivers flow between the crystal banks, their waters never touching a stone nor a fragment of soil until they finally hinge down some canyon in the ice. Glaciers push out of the countless folds, some discharging ice into the sea at the rate of fifty to 100 feet a day.

Mosses and lichens and a few flowers and shrubs spring to stolon life in the summer along the ice-free fringes of the coast, but few vegetables besides red fish, turnips, and lettuce can be grown. The people of Greenland are almost entirely dependent for food on the sea and on supplies brought from outside.

Greenland was discovered and settled by Eric the Red from behind nearly 1000 years ago—the same Eric who soon after discovered America. The settlement thrived for 400 years, but mysteriously disappeared before Columbus' discovery. The early settlers were Norwegian. Later Norway was combined for a time with Denmark and the Danes became the heirs to the bleak island.

A Danish missionary who reached the southwest shores of Greenland in 1721 was the first to record Scandinavian settlement of the country. Other settlers followed and Denmark established a paternal government over the Eskimo of the south. Newswest Greenland was discovered,

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, AUGUST 30, 1921

RECENT WEDDINGS

Maxwell-McRae

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henderson at 1030, when Rev. F. S. Dowling of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, St. John, officiated in marriage Miss Muriel H. MacRae, daughter of Mrs. Alexander MacRae of Durham (N. S.), to Charles A. Maxwell of Mount Thom (N. S.). The house was attractively decorated for the occasion. The fireplace of the drawing room, before which the ceremony took place, was banked with ferns and golden rods. The bride, who wore a becoming traveling gown and carried a bouquet of roses, was given in marriage by J. H. Henderson. Miss Mariel Henderson was charming as the bride's attendant. After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served in the dining room where ferns and snapdragons made a pretty decoration. The bride, for the last few years, had been teaching in Saskatchewan. Mrs. J. H. Henderson, at whose home the wedding was solemnized, was a former school friend of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell leave on the Boston boat this morning for a wedding in Boston and the New England States. On their return they will motor to their new home in Mount Thom (N. S.). Heartly good wishes for their happy future are extended by a wide circle of friends. Among those present at the ceremony were Mrs. George Henderson, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, of Robesay, Miss Alice and Miss Ruth Harris, of Annapolis Royal, and Miss Muriel Henderson.

McFarlane-McAlpine

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Centenary Methodist church yesterday afternoon at 8 o'clock by Rev. Robert Fulton, when Jean Alison MacAlpine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. MacAlpine, became the bride of William Henry McFarlane, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. McFarlane. The bride looked very charming in a traveling suit of navy blue with hat of taupe and rose. She wore a squirrel stole, the gift of her father, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss S. MacAlpine, and the groom was supported by David Thompson, of this city. The groom's present to the bride was a fur coat, to the bridesmaid a silk umbrella, to the best man a pearl stick pin, and to the ushers, Douglas Clark and Edgar Campbell, gold cuff links. Many handsome and useful gifts were received. From the firm of Jones & Schofield, with which Mr. McFarlane is connected, came a substantial check from the employer of the firm an up-holstered chair. Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane left for an extended trip to upper Canadian cities last evening. On their return they will spend the winter in Bridgetown (N. S.).

The bride who was given away by A. B. Hughes, a near relative, looked charming in a taupe suit with hat to match and carried a bouquet of roses, sweet peas and ferns. The bridesmaid, Miss Doris Hughes, was dressed in a suit of grey and wore a blue leopards hat. George White, of this city, supported the groom. After the wedding ceremony the bride and groom left for an extended trip through New Brunswick and Maine. They were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts, among them being a magnificent mahogany easy chair from the staff of the Townshend Piano Company, with whom the bride was employed, and a chest of silver from O. H. Warwick Company, Ltd., where the groom is employed, and a cut glass set from the employees. Miss Ada Thompson played the wedding march. Their many friends wish them happiness and prosperity in their married life. Mr. and Mrs. Bean will reside in this city on their return from Maine.

LETTER HAD NO EFFECT

Judge Allowed Mrs. H. Aaron $35 Per Week Alimony.

New York, Aug. 30—Harry Aaron submitted a letter written by his wife, Gertrude, to her sister, in which she wrote that the way to "handle a husband is to treat him rough," but Justice Martin allowed Mrs. Aaron $35 a week alimony and $100 counsel fee pending her separation suit. The letter to the sister reads in part as follows: "I wish you could be like me and sing all day and feel as happy as a bird with my kiddies. But don't think I have an angel to deal with, for I haven't. We are still mad, and he gets one fit after another, for no matter what I do, it's wrong. I do as I darn please, anyway."

MODERN DANCES AT STATE BALLS

Prince of Wales' Proficiency is Praised by a British Teacher.

London, Aug. 26—(By Mail)—The Imperial Society of Dance Teachers held its annual dinner and dance at the Holborn Restaurant last night in connection with its 15th congress, which is being held in London. Major Cecil H. Taylor (Leeds), the president, was in the chair, and among those present were: Mme. Adeline Genes, Miss Phyllis Bell, Mrs. Comman, Miss Judith Estlin, Miss Lydia Kyash, Mr. Charles d'Albert, Mr. R. M. Crompton, Mr. Dr. Robertson (Glasgow), Mrs. Kelly (Liverpool), and Mr. Simon Martin (president of the Dutch Society of Dance Teachers).

Major Taylor said that the keenest pleasure had been derived by teachers and votaries of modern dancing in observing that the newer dances were gradually finding favor at state balls. There was no greater lover or better exponent of modern ballroom dancing than that most popular of men, the Prince of Wales. For the coming season the dances in vogue would undoubtedly be the fox trot, one step and valse (in its modern form), and smooth footwork and steadiness of body would predominate. England had long been the dumping ground for Continental and American dances, and the time had come for this to cease. British teachers had the faculty of invention, and London should henceforth become the cultured dancing centre of the world. In no country in the world could better or more graceful dances be found than in London ball rooms. Jazz was as dead as the dodo.

Mme. Genes, in responding for the new honours, fellows, said that they should all hand together to found a school of national dancing which the country ought to have had long ago.

FROM THE SAXON.

Wife and woman spring from the same source, both the Saxon "wifan," Danish "wifve" to weave, one who works at the distaff. Dryden referred to any woman as "distaff on the throne." From the same idea springs our word spinster applied to an unmarried woman. While woman was still spinning her wedding clothes she was simply a spinster; when she had finished and was married she became a wife who had already woven her allotted task.

ST. JOHN BRANCH OF THE CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE. A wonderful insight into the great work being undertaken by the Catholic Women's League in Canada and into the great need for further organization and co-operation of Catholic women in Canada was given last night at a large and interested audience of women in the Cliff street auditorium by Mrs. Robert Knell, national organizer for the League. His Lordship, Bishop LeBlanc, presided, and in introducing Mrs. Knell, told of what most creditable things had been accomplished in St. John since the visit of Miss Jones, who about one year ago was present in the city to help in the initial organization work which established the Catholic Women's League in St. John. His Lordship said that not only had great work been done since then, but great sacrifices had been made, and St. Monica's society and the Catholic Girls guild, with their fine records had sunk their identity into the city branch of the Catholic Women's League. It had been the ambition of the League to have a dominion organizer visit St. John and that ambition was now realized. Mrs. Knell was the sister of Miss Katherine Hughes, who was an advocate for the Self-Determination for Ireland League and was also a sister of Miss Amelia Hughes, the noted authoress. In conclusion His Lordship spoke of the need for a wider outlook than the bounds of parochial interests and of the need of organization of Catholic women, in social lines.

Dysentery is one of the worst forms of bowel complaint, and hardly any other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and utter collapse that often terminates fatally. MOUNTAIN ROMANCE GIVES YOUNG STAR A PLEASING ROLE

Mary Miles Minter as Girl of the Cumberlands Shows a Rapid Development of Artistic Ability.

Patrons of the motion picture have not failed to watch with interest the career of youthful Mary Miles Minter, the Reelart star whose name has been connected with so many screen successes. Those who saw her performance in "A Cumberlander Romance," her latest picture, which opened last night at the Palace Theatre, were more than ever convinced that the little blonde beauty possesses more than ordinary talents, and that her art is constantly improving. In this present picture she has the role of "Easter Hicks," a poor girl of the Kentucky mountains, who is loved by a religiously inclined mountain lad, but who meets a polished city man and endeavors to pull herself up to his level by studying. She is quite frank in her efforts to please and interest him, and he at last tells her that he is going back to the city, she frankly declares her love for him. The city chap is touched, and in spite of the difference in their social background, he is not exactly averse to being worshipped by so lovely a creature as Miss Minter portrays. Clayton, the city chap, accepted the girl's love. But the mountain lover had to be reckoned with, as well as the girl's father, an unregenerate an old moonshiner as ever tended a secret still. There are complications galore, more than a little gun-play, but a happy ending that sends an audience home lost in wonder, love and praise. Charles Maigne made the scenario from a novel by the late John Fox, Jr., and directed the picture as well. It is declared to be an improvement in picture production upon even "The Copperhead," which he finished just before undertaking this Reelart picture. A capable cast, which includes Monte Blue, John Bowers, Martha Mattox and Guy Oliver, is seen in support of Miss Minter, and very beautiful scenes are shown. Another number on the programme at the Palace Theatre is a Universal comedy success, "For Sale." This programme will be shown tonight for the last time.

CRUDE OIL OUTPUT IN JULY.

Daily Average 49,390 Barrels Less Than in June.

(New York Times)

Crude oil production of the United States for July amounted to 40,228,000 barrels, compared with 40,412,000 barrels in June, and 38,203,000 barrels in July, 1920, according to figures just published by the United States Geological Survey. The daily average production for the month was 1,297,677 barrels, against a daily average of 1,347,067 barrels in the previous month, or a decline of 49,390 barrels.

The report shows that gross stocks of crude oil in the country July 31, including Mexican crude, but not including stocks at refineries, totaled 190,715,000 barrels, as against 174,405,000 barrels at the close of June, making an increase of 6,290,000 barrels. The imports of crude oil from Mexico for July totaled 8,046,840 barrels, and for the first seven months of 1921 totaled 74,923,714 barrels.

New York, Aug. 30—Bees are so thick in certain parts of Westchester County that automobile owners are having difficulty in getting through. One man, B. M. Hatfield, an oil operator, reports a whole hive has packed in the gear box of his driver. "They travel over the country with me," he says. "When I stop, they pile out and gather honey. When I honk my horn, they come back home again. It looks as if I'm going to have a sweet time this winter."

SCREEN TRIUMPH IN SPECTACULAR FILM "THE HOPE"

Stupendous Melodrama at the Gaiety Theatre Thrills All Who Attend.

The famous spectacular melodrama, "The Hope," by Cecil Raleigh and Henry Hamilton, was produced last night in a motion picture version at the Gaiety Theatre. It was one of the most spectacular efforts of many seasons, its big scenes including an earthquake in which the houses of a street in Italy are seen toppling into the earth and a skirmish between British troops and Afghanistans natives in the Khyber Pass, India, that is a marvel of realism. "The Hope" will be shown tonight for the last time, together with a Universal serial, "The King of the Circus."

N. Y. S. MEANEST MAN.

Robbed 5-Year-Old of 25 Cents Butter Money.

New York, Aug. 30—When Angelo Lempo, aged five, of 328 East 163rd street, the Bronx, was on her way to a grocery store to purchase half a pound of butter for her mother, she was approached by a man with a red moustache who robbed her of a gold locket which she wore around her neck and 25 cents that her mother had given her to pay for the butter. The man lured the child to Third avenue and 160th street on the pretext that he could get the butter for her free of charge. He took the locket and the quarter to look at them, and then gave the little girl a bundle of paper and asked her to deliver it to a man in a nearby hallway. When the little girl returned to the street, the man had disappeared.

END HONEYMOON IN PRISON CELL

Fashionably Dressed Pair in Hands of Police at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Aug. 30—A fashionably dressed pair describing themselves as Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Hoover, of Montreal and Boston, are finishing their honeymoon in a police station cell here while authorities investigate their stunting in Canada and England.

Pleading that she, a graduate of a fashionable New England finishing school, was duped into marrying Hoover, the wife created a dramatic scene in the police station, when she stripped off her wedding ring, other jewelry and a fur piece after her husband had admitted stealing them.

While Mrs. Hoover explained that she thought her husband was a wealthy man, a graduate of Harvard and socially acceptable, until after they had been married and started on their honeymoon to Havana. Hoover declared she had known his past and even aided him in unavailing ventures.

Hoover was arrested on a charge of passing a worthless check at a local hotel. It was after his wife had bared his life that the man turned on her. He admitted he was wanted by the police in Montreal.

GIRLS SCOUTS CLEAN STREETS OF ASHLAND

Ashland, Aug. 30—Local Girl Scouts, in their regulation uniforms and white gloves, under the direction of Capt. Hope that the clean-up spirit will be continued by the public.

GYP CHEWED BLONDE WIG.

Host of Yachting Party Paid Chorus Girl $50.

Miss Alice Bloom is a model and former chorus girl. Recently she had her hair bobbed, but soon it began to fall out. So she had her head shaved. Then she bought a lovely blonde wig. It cost $75 and is known as a "transfiguration."

This being done, Alice was all ready for the cruise of the Serapis, on Sunday, July 17. The yacht is described as a dainty little craft of gold and white. George L. Triffon, the owner, is described as a retired brewer. He also owns a little dog Gyp.

The Serapis started up the Hudson from New York at 2 p. m. with a jolly party. Presently Alice began to notice that the damp air was taking the curl out of her wig. She went below and took it off.

At what hour Gyp observed Alice's headgear is not stated, but when he had

OWNERS TELL HOW THEIR CARS INCREASE EARNING CAPACITY AND ENLARGE OPPORTUNITIES

The Great Contest has been decided. Seventy-five letters on "What My Car Means To Me" have been selected, telling how the automobile has vastly improved living in city and hamlet.

UNANIMOUS TRIBUTE TO UTILITY OF MOTOR CAR

In the words of Sir John Willison, one of the judges:—

"No one could read the host of letters received in the Overland Essay competition without being impressed with the practical value of the automobile in commercial affairs.

"In letter after letter, there is authentic evidence of increased earning capacity, improved health, more leisure and greater comfort. In case after case, the motor has increased individual opportunities for advancement while improving living conditions. The women's letters are no less striking in their appreciation of the motor and its value in relieving household cares; in solving the difficulties of children's schooling in sparsely settled or remote districts, in stimulating social activities, and in creating social opportunities."

Dr. P. E. Doolittle, to whom with Sir John Willison great thanks is due for the judging of the letters, also said:—

"When I visualized those women writers from the great plains of the Northwest Country, whose hard lives isolated from neighbors, church or school, from theatre, from social intercourse of any kind, a life that has, alas, too often culminated in an asylum for the insane—and when I saw with the eyes of the writers the sudden change in the whole aspect of life as it came with distance annihilated, the joy of life given that the automobile proved to them, I could scarcely restrain the tears of thankfulness that welled up in my eyes. If the heart knowledge contained in those letters could be absorbed by all the people of the vast open spaces, then there would be an automobile in every household and no prairie home would be complete without one."

mance that is as clean cut as can be

Address Salada, Montreal.

Placed in England, the story lends itself gracefully to wonderful settings amid baronial halls and the beautiful scenery of a large ancestral estate. Miss Frederick, as Lady Myra Ingleyby, is discovered awaiting the return of her husband, Lord Michael, who is at the front. A telegram from the war office announces that he has been accidentally killed while experimenting with high explosives.

A brother officer, misinterpreting a signal, is responsible for the premature explosion. Asked if she wishes to know the name of the officer responsible, Lady Ingleyby answers no, adding, "I should be sorry that there was a man on earth whose hand I could not bring myself to touch in friendship."

Lady Ingleyby seeks rest and quiet in an inn on the Cornish coast. There she meets Jim Airth, who is not aware of her identity. Jim rescues her from a perilous position when the tide cuts her off from the mainland. They fall in love. It eventually develops that Airth is the Earl of Airth and the man responsible for Lord Ingleyby's death.

Many complications follow in which the couple are separated, but love finally overcomes pride and a satisfactory ending is reached after a number of surprising twists.

Miss Frederick is supported by an exceptionally fine cast, including Roy Stewart, Emmett C. King, Arthur Clayton, John Willink, Helen Wright, Lydia Vermans Titus, Rose Gore and Helen Muir.

In addition to the feature the Imperial showed a remarkably fine collection of movies of the Canadian Henley at St.
Catherines a short time ago, undoubtedly the best topical aquatic pictures yet shown here. Not only was Hilton Belyea shown winning his championship event from Gilmore and Dibble, but all the other big events were filmed.
It was a surprise and a delight to everybody to get this treat. The "Topics of the Day" supplied the laughs.

The same programme is to be shown today, but tomorrow the bill changes when Douglas McLean will be seen in the comic offering, "The Jubilee" and what is being anxiously awaited for by thousands, the Renforth Regatta, in motion pictures. This local film is being made especially for the Imperial and will be an animated survey of the whole big Jubilee regatta last week.

The Light for the Dining-Room

—Just naturally demands the use of LACO NITRO Lamps. A well lighted dining table is an essential factor in your tasteful decorations—enhancing the beauty of the table effects and playing an important part towards the pleasure of the repast and success of your entertaining.

LACO NITRO Lamps, either in your central features or in enclosed or shaded portables, provide the most effective lighting for the Dining table, as their pure white light strengthens the whiteness of your table linen and the beauty of your silver, while at the same time bringing out the natural color of your china, and even imparting an enticing attraction to your viands.

An electric bulb, correctly made, is literally a marvel of mechanical ingenuity. Examine a LACO NITRO closely and you will wonder how it can be soled for the price it costs.

JIMMY EVANS CROWDS THE HOUSE

Attendance at Queen Square
Theatre Shows Increasing Popularity of Musical Company.

Traffic was blocked in Charlotte street by the immense crowd waiting to get in to the Queen Square theatre for the second show last night. The Jimmy Evans company apparently is the most popular company that has played in St.
John for a long time and many of the patrons of the theatre will be sorry to learn that the present engagement is coming to a close and that two more weeks remain before the company will leave for an extended engagement in Halifax.

"Behind the Footlights" was the name of the short sketch produced last night.
It is different from the other sketches the company has put on and received a big hand. The specialties of the show were very good. It opened with the Clark slaters, who did a very clever song and dance. Then John Clark, assisted by the chorus, sang and danced an Irish jig and received hearty applause. This was followed by our own "Bonny Rossiey," who sang "The Other Fellow," who she had to respond to many encores.
The next specialty stopped the show in a dust called, "There is Only One Pal
After All," by Miss Maxwell and Mr.
Evans. Joe Devine sang one of his popular songs and as usual, it was a hit.
Bob Elsworth's popular voice was next heard to advantage and Jimmie Evans sang another old favorite, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." The large audience could not hear enough of it and finally before they would let the show go on, Mr. Evans gave a recitation entitled, "Say Some Good About Him Even Though You Have to Make It Up."
Other features were the singing of "Kilkens," "Fraser and Irene Finlay, assisted by the chorus, who sang "Come on Papa," and "Just Like a Gypsy," both receiving generous applause. The finale was "Miss Manhattan," closing the best show that has been offered by the company here this season.

WOMEN AUTO DRIVERS.
Quebec Chauffeurs Agitating Against Them.
Quebec, Aug. 30.—It is understood that at the next session of the legislature a petition will be received asking legislation to prohibit women from driving automobiles, on the grounds that the fair sex has not shown a sufficient degree of skill in the handling of cars.
The petition is launched by a group of professional chauffeurs and will stand scant chance of passing.

LIFE INSURANCE PAYMENTS IN 1920 MORE THAN BILLION

Computations made by the Insurance Press, a weekly devoted to insurance matters, show that life insurance distributions operating in the United States and Canada, including the transactions of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance of the United States government, amounted to $1,092,266,434. Of this sum, more than $45,000,000 was paid last year under policies that had been in force less than twelve months.
More than 64,000 policy holders in 1920 died before their insurance had been in force a full year. Some had been insured for even less than a week.
The largest individual payment during the year was $555,000 on the life of Wallace L. Pierce, of Boston (Mass.).
The next largest payment was for $528,- 000 on the life of Richmond Levering, of New York city, and the third largest was for $500,000 on the life of Frank A.
Saylis, of Pawtucket (R. I.). The largest payment in Canada during the year was for $225,608 on the life of Gerald W. Farrell, of Montreal, the next largest being for $91,000 on the life of William Jamieson, of Renfrew (Ont.). The third largest in this country was for $63,000 on the life of Elias Rogers, of Toronto.
Among New Brunswick payments were $37,350 on the life of F. W. Sumner and $12,000, on the life of C. T. Purdy, both of Moncton. The largest payment in Nova Scotia was for $57,650 on the life of Mr. Shaffner, of Halifax. Another large payment in this part of the country was for $17,000 on the life of Sir William W. Sullivan, of Charlottetown.

The largest individual payment in St.
John during the year was for $5,000.
During the year a total of $2,834,900 was paid out in Montreal, closely followed by Toronto with $2,672,000. Winnipeg was third with $690,000.

WANTS PHOTOGRAPHS:
CHAUFFEUR WANTS SHIRTS
Detroit, Aug. 30.—H. S. Firestone, millionaire tireman of Akron, O., has asked police aid in recovering a suitcase containing snapshots of Henry Ford, President Harding and Thomas A. Edison, his playmates on a recent camping trip.
The suitcase and another one belonging to his chauffeur, Henry Linden, were stolen from his automobile parked in front of the Y. M. C. A. while he was in the Detroit Athletic Club nearby.
For the return of the photographs and personal letters from the President, Mr.
Firestone will give a $200 reward, no questions asked, he said.
Besides pictures and letters, the tire-magnate's suitcase contained a cap and other rough clothing, including several shirts.
The attire of the chauffeur, as given in the police report, was much more largish than that of his millionaire employer. The chauffeur wore silk shirts, the report said.

Tons of medicinal herbs are used annually in the preparation of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most successful medicine for women's ills. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and women afflicted with such ailments should try it.

ABSOLUTE RACE EQUALITY ASKED

Manifesto to World is Issued by Pan-African Congress.

London, Aug. 30—Absolute race equality, physical, political and social, is the demand for advancement, is the claim set forth in a manifesto to the world yesterday by the pan-African congress, now in session here. Various peoples of African descent in the U. S., the West Indies, Central and South America and Africa are represented.

Secretary Delois of New York read the manifesto which urged that it is the duty of the world to assist in every way the advancement of backward and suppressed groups of mankind.

"The manifesto protects against colored people being treated as unprivileged. It demands enfranchisement based on educational qualifications alone."

The Most Wonderful Of All Medicines

Your Druggist, Has Secured the Agency for This Great Stimulating and Invigorating Tonic

REDMAC

It is Made From Herbs, Roots and Plants, Gathered From The Jungles of the World

It Makes You Feel Like a Different Person After a Few Doses

Science is bringing us something new every day, especially is this true in Medicine, as much has been found out in the last five years as in fifty years before.

We have discovered at last that there lies in the Sleepy forests and Jungles the greatest medicine for the healing of diseases, the dumb animals knew this from the beginning of creation, as soon as they felt out of sorts, they found their appetite was not good, or they had a pain, their liver was not working, they immediately went to one of these Herbs, they knew which one to go to for their particular ailment and they knew that by eating such they would be put right, nature has endowed them with this instinct.

Redmac the Tonic has brought to you this wonderful medicine from far away, but instead of having to eat the herbs as the animals do, the medicinal properties have been extracted and concentrated, and you have them in a palatable form, in liquid.

You will have lots of energy, pep and ambition. It purifies the blood, restores the liver and kidneys, and will drive away that pain in the back. To bring Redmac into your home brings the greatest blessing and happiness.

We don't claim Redmac to remove every disease, but we strongly advise you to try it, no matter what your ailment is. It can only do you good, in any case, and it may be just the thing you needed.

Get the genuine—Every package has the head of an Indian Chief on same. The Ross Drug Company Limited, has been appointed special agent for Redmac, and has just received a large shipment from the manufacturers.

BUSINESS IN SOUTH WALES REVIVES

FIRST PASSENGER VESSEL EVER BUILT IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Vancouver, Aug. 30—The Princess Louise of the British Columbia coast service line, was successfully launched yesterday in the Wallace shipyard. She is the first marine passenger vessel constructed in British Columbia. Her timbers, except the hardwood, were grown in the province, and her boiler and other mechanical fittings were made in British Columbia. The effort of the builders was to make the Princess Louise an "all British Columbia" product.

The Princess Louise is 4200 gross tons. Her speed is 16 knots or 17-1/2 knots loaded.

Are You a Born Advertiser?

Certain merchants get a reputation for being born advertisers.

They may have earned the reputation. They were not born that way. Their particular genius has lain in the fact that, having marvelous faith in the power of Daily Newspaper Advertising, they went ahead with it regardless of immediate results.

They had courage. And the courageous advertiser gets the greatest rewards.

There are those whose temperament is not suited to Napoleonic tactics. Neither will their product or pocketbook permit them to use these tactics even if they were so inclined.

Daily Newspaper Advertising is as another brain to the sales force of these men. It is the one medium from which they get quick and accurate returns; and are so able to repeat their advertisements as often as conditions warrant, and the treasury justifies.

This is particularly true at this time of the year when the season, the weather, the change of fashion, the state of public mind and attitude of competitors, all combine to affect daily sales.

The born advertiser is not necessarily the large space advertiser nor does he have to have more than one thing to advertise.

If he is quick to seize every incident in his daily life and capitalize it in his next days' advertising—the public will soon pay him the tribute of admiration expressed in the words "a born advertiser."

LIQUOR FOUND IN BOATHOUSE; FINE OF $1,000

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 30—A. P. Demes, resident of Clayton, N. Y., was yesterday fined $1,000 or six months in jail at hard labor for storing liquor in a boathouse on Wolfe Island. Reuben McFadden of Wolf Island, who found the liquor in his boathouse, said that on July 29 last Demes reached his house in a motor boat and wanted to know if he had a stone boat on which he could haul seven barrels of whiskey to store in the boathouse.

Mr. McFadden would not give him permission, saying his barn was full of hay. That night when the witness visited his boathouse he found three bags full of bottles behind a skiff.

ECZEMA

You are not a patient of ECZEMA and its various forms. It is a skin disease which is caused by a germ which is called the "Eczema Germ." It is a skin disease which is caused by a germ which is called the "Eczema Germ." It is a skin disease which is caused by a germ which is called the "Eczema Germ."

WHY WEAK NERVES AND THIN WATERY BLOOD

CAUSE SUCH GREAT PHYSICAL WEAKNESS AND MAKE ONE AN EASY PREY TO A MULTITUDE OF DANGEROUS DISEASES.

Every human being is born with a certain quantity of "nerve force"—some with more than normally makes or generates nerve force only about so fast, and if through overwork, nervous strain or other excesses, you use up your nerve force faster than your body makes new nerve force, then your nerve power becomes weakened, and as a consequence your blood may become thin, pale, and watery, and you become feeble, cross, and irritable. In such a state you may not only suffer terrible tortures from a multitude of alarming symptoms, but in your greatly weakened condition you are an easy prey for the multitude of dangerous germs with which you must come in almost daily contact, and you may therefore easily contract some dangerous or even fatal disease.

In such cases you should immediately take something to revitalize your worn-out, exhausted nerves and create new nerve force. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product quickly aids in enriching the blood and thereby helps it to furnish an additional supply of new nerve force with which to replace and regenerate the brain and nerve cells. It also contains a product which represents the principal chemical constituent of active, living nerve force in a form most nearly allied to that of the nerve and brain cells of man. Nuxated Iron may therefore be said to be both a blood and a nerve food as it furnishes the strength-giving organic element of the nerve-vital fluid to the nerves. The effect of Nuxated Iron in cases of exhausted nerve force and impoverished blood is so remarkable and surprising that it often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, "run-down" men and women in a few weeks' time. In fact, the manufacturer guarantees satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Nuxated Iron is for sale by all druggists.

Issued by The Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, Head Office, Toronto.

ANDRA'S STORY OF 50 YEARS ON THE GOLF LINKS

Kirkaldy, Veteran of St. Andrew's, Scotland, Writes a Book. London, Aug. 13.—(By Mail, Canadian Press Limited)—One of the outstanding personalities in golf is Andrew Kirkaldy, personally attached to the Royal and Ancient Club. "Andra" as he is affectionately known to thousands of golfers, has written a book, "Fifty Years on the Golf Links." It is a properly illustrated volume, entitled "My Fifty Years on the Golf Links." It is a book crammed full of amusing reminiscences of a life spent on the classic links, in the company of distinguished amateurs and famous professionals.

He had many encounters with Vardon, but never once did he lose a hole. Those were in the gutter ball days. In later years "Andra" often reproached Vardon about his expert putting, declaring that he could not put a ball into his (Kirkaldy's) mother's washbasin. Even Vardon admits that "Andra" is not a putter for wrong. Twenty years ago Vardon was invincible, and it was Kirkaldy who forever warned Taylor, Braid, and Herd more than once. He regards Braid as a prince of sportsmen, "to watch the greyhound." They certainly watched him, but as "Andra" sorrowfully exclaims, "None of us can catch him."

Kirkaldy regards Vardon as the greatest of all golfers, because he clearly demonstrated that golf is an art. "The game is a pure joy for him, for he makes every shot in such an effortless way, with a faint smile flickering over his features." Kirkaldy fully describes it as the "various smile" of Vardon. Although he could never defeat Vardon, Kirkaldy has beaten Braid, Taylor, and Herd more than once. He regards Braid as a prince of sportsmen, "to watch the greyhound." They certainly watched him, but as "Andra" sorrowfully exclaims, "None of us can catch him."

Kirkaldy's story is a well-written and interesting account of his life on the golf links. It is a book that every golfer should read.

SEES GRANDMOTHER AND OLD HOME IN MOTION PICTURE

A unique experience was that of Thomas Smith, of 47 St. James street, when he attended the showing of the "Temporary Vagabond" at the Imperial Theatre last week. Mr. Smith suddenly saw on the screen before him the little village of Walton-on-Thames, where he was born. He saw his grandmother step out of her cottage and receive from the hands of movie stars gifts of blankets, for in the film the actors play the parts of landed gentry who are kindly considerate of their tenants. Ten old ladies, one after the other, came out of the row of cottages and received blankets and one after the other, Mr. Smith could not see them.

Mr. Smith called at the office of the theatre next day to tell of the happening. When the picture was taken his grandmother, who has since died, was eighty-seven years of age. He said that he was going to write home and tell his friends and relatives how he had seen them and the old home place. He was given a complete set of rare pictures of the film which were used as advertising.

POLICE COURT

Hearing in the case of William McSwanton, charged with assaulting Samuel Swanton in Hanover street on the night of August 15, was continued in the court. Dr. Dennison, of the General Public Hospital staff, told of admitting Mr. Swanton to hospital about eleven o'clock on the night of the 15th. Dr. Robert Pendrigh, also of the hospital staff, said that he examined Swanton's jaw and found quite a swelling on one side. He said that an x-ray picture did not show any broken bone.

Mr. Ames McCordick, with whom Samuel Swanton boards, said that she left her house on Hanover street about 9 o'clock on the night and saw the complainant lying on the sidewalk in front of the next house. She said she went to him and found that he was bleeding at the mouth. When asked by the counsel for the defence if he appeared to be sober, she replied in the affirmative.

The case was postponed until Friday morning at 10 o'clock. E. J. Hennebury appeared for McGrath and G. Earle Logan for Swanton.

Arthur King, who it was said had run away from Halifax in company with his sister, was in the police court this morning and was remanded. Stanley Simonds, arrested some time ago on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences, was remanded.

One man charged with drunkenness was remanded to jail. James O'Leary, of Cambridge, Mass., pleaded guilty to carrying a concealed weapon. C. N. R. Policeman Ross made the arrest. The man was remanded to jail.

MARY BUCKLEY. Friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Buckley of Glen Falls will sympathize with them in the loss of their eldest daughter, Mary, whose death occurred in the General Public Hospital following an operation. She was aged eleven years and three months. She was a bright child and a general favorite with all who knew her. She was a faithful member of St. Bartholomew's Sunday school, where she will be greatly missed and her death leaves a vacancy that will be hard to fill. Besides her parents, she leaves to mourn three brothers and two sisters. The brothers are George, Willard and Earle, and the sisters are Jennie and Rhena, all at home.

WEST INDIES STEAMSHIP. The R. M. S. P. Chaleur, from Bermuda, arrived off Partridge Island at ten o'clock last night and left for the westward this morning and docked at McLeod's wharf.
