TWENTY FIVE THOUSAND HAT MAKERS WILL GO ON STRIKE

Employers Alleging Violation of Agreement Decide to No Longer Permit the Use of the Union Label—Workmen Insist on It

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Seventy-five hat factories employing from 20,000 to 25,000 persons will be affected by a decision of the Associated Hat Manufacturers, promulgated today to discontinue the use of union labels in all the factories represented in the association.

Samuel Mundheim is president of the Hat Manufacturers Association. He said today that the reason for this action was that the union of employers had failed to keep a working agreement made with the Geyer Hat Company of Philadelphia. Under this agreement, he said, the men were to continue work pending a settlement of disputes by arbitration, but that the men quit work in that factory three weeks ago and have since refused to return although the manufacturers have been trying to induce them to do so.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 15.—Four thousand workers in the hat factories in Orange struck this morning when they were notified by their employers that no more union labels would be permitted on the hats produced in the Orange factories. It is understood that the order promulgated today was decided upon at a recent meeting of the Associated Hat Manufacturers.

The entire hat manufacturing industry of the country may be affected. SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., Jan. 15.—Seven hundred employees of Crofut and Knapp Company, makers of hats, walked out this morning on refusal of the firm to permit the use of union labels in its product.

The plant is practically idle. The Crofut and Knapp Company employs seven hundred men, women and boys, but is the only plant in the Norwalk which has membership in the Manufacturers Association. It held a meeting in New York yesterday and decided to discontinue the use of union labels. A half dozen other smaller factories in the town are not affected by the decision of the manufacturers Association and are continuing business as usual.

DENOUNCED FORESTRY BUREAU AS TYRANNICAL

President of Wool Growers' Association Arraigns Government's Policy.

POCATELLO, Idaho, Jan. 15.—One thousand sheep-men attended the opening session of the National Wool Growers' Association here today and listened attentively to a bitter arraignment of the federal forestry bureau, by President Fred W. Gooding, of Shoshone, who said in part:

"A reduction in the tariff schedules on wool at this time would produce the same result as the placing of wool on the free list under the Wilson bill. It would undoubtedly ruin one of the most important industries of the United States.

"One dollar and eighty cents," he declared, "is the furthest that a suit as the people of the United States are now paying $30 to $40 for. If the wool in such a suit were given to the manufacturers under present conditions, the price of an all wool suit of clothing would be affected but little."

Mr. Gooding disputed the statement that sheep were detrimental to forest growth and said they were a benefit in removing the undergrowth which spreads fire. He denounced the forestry and reclamation bureau as tyrannical.

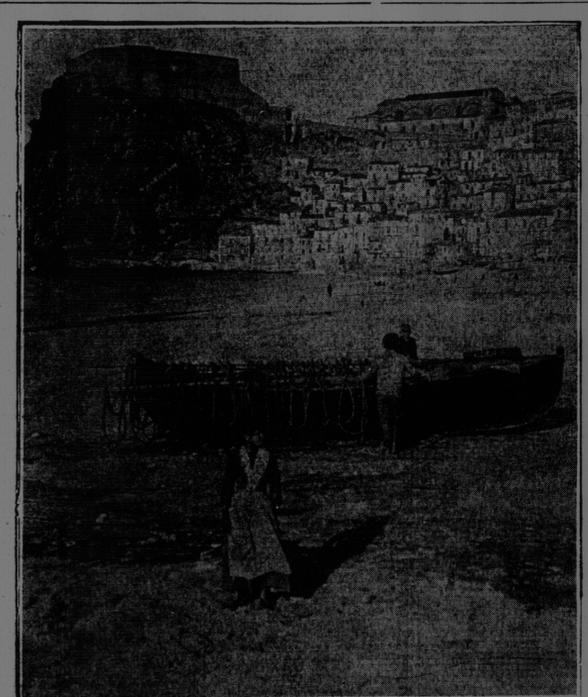

LIBERIAN GUNBOAT SHELLS GERMAN STEAMER

KONAKRY, French Guinea, West Africa, Jan. 15.—News has just been received here that the Liberian customs gunboat Lark has bombarded a German steamer of the Woermann Line, off the coast of Liberia. The reason for this action is not given. A German guardship from Kamerun has sailed from Hamburg around Africa.

HAINS JURY STILL UNABLE TO AGREE; THEY STAND TEN TO TWO FOR ACQUITTAL

FLUSHING, N. Y., Jan. 15.—The jury in the trial of Thornton Jenkins Hains charged as a principal with his brother, Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., in the killing of Wm. E. Anna, after deliberating all night without reaching a verdict, went to breakfast at 7:30 o'clock this morning, having been out since five o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Towards morning, heavy eyed and exhausted, many of the jurors fell asleep in their chairs, while the more wakeful associates debated the conflicting points of testimony.

Shortly after three o'clock this morning the jury sent word that they desired to have the maps and diagrams of the Bayside Yacht Club House boat which was sent to them by Justice Crane. An unusual feature of the jury's deliberations was the fact that not one single intimation came from the jury room during the night as to the progress made towards a verdict.

The jury went to breakfast at a hotel near the court house. Justice Crane waited in his chamber all night ready to receive a verdict. Dr. Hicks was in constant attendance all night ready to receive a verdict. Minister to Juror Walsh, injured in a street car accident, whose heart action, the physician states, has been affected by shock of the accident, and the excitement of the case. Patrick Ahearn, another juror, is suffering from another cold. Because of the physical condition of these two jurors Justice Crane held open all night in order that he might receive the verdict as soon as it was reached.

Thornton Hains slept through the early hours on a table in the sheriff's office while his brother, Major John Hains, stretched themselves out and slept for a couple of hours while District Attorney Darrin, after a short nap in a chair, went home to rest.

During the night General Hains and his wife, who went to New York at a late hour, called up frequently on the telephone to learn if a verdict had been reached.

The speculation of the attorneys is that the jurors will find themselves unable to agree. Shortly after 8 o'clock the jury sent word to Justice Crane that they would like to have read to them the testimony of John Tierney the ash collector, Dr. McBride, member of the Bayside Yacht Club, and Capt. Clark the negro boatman, who was on his boat near the boat when the shooting occurred. Dr. McBride was on the boat and Tierney was the defense's eye witness to the shooting.

Justice Crane sent for counsel on both sides and Thornton Hains, who had shortly before been taken to a nearby hotel and put to bed, Justice Crane said that the testimony would have to be read in court and it might be necessary to read all of it. In that event most of the day would be consumed in going over the testimony, though Justice Crane hoped that only a part of it would have to be read.

Justice Crane said he would not agree until 24 hours had elapsed from the time the jury went out. Justice Crane convened court at 8:40 o'clock and after Thornton Hains was brought into court, sent for the testimony desired and the jury retired at 10:25.

Counsel said after the jury retired that the jurors stood ten to two for acquittal but did not state where they gained their information.

LEADING CITIZENS TRIED TO BRIBE THE JURORS

Many Sensations Attend Trial of Defaulting Banker in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 15.—With the jury which heard the case against J. B. Rinehart former cashier and vice president of the Farmers and Drivers National Bank of Waynesburg, Pa., locked up in the United States court still deliberating, and two prominent Waynesburg citizens in the central police station for an alleged attempt to bribe one of the jurors, further sensations are expected to result today in the famous litigation growing out of the failure of the institution for $2,000,000 about two years ago. The jurors who have no intimation of the arrests last night by secret service men of George W. Worley, a brother in law of Banker Rinehart and James L. Smith a wealthy Greene county farmer on charges of tampering with a personal friend of a juror. A verdict in the Rinehart case is expected before noon. It is expected that the two men under arrest will be arraigned today before United States Commissioner Lindsay, for a hearing.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS WILL BE DISCUSSED HERE

Interesting Program for Commission Which Meets in St. John Next Week.

The Railway Commission which meets in St. John, has an interesting program already prepared for them. They will continue the investigation of the express business which recently resulted in the companies being forced to reduce their rates by returning to the old tariff. While here the commissioners will hear complaints from residents of this province and Nova Scotia regarding the express rates and service.

They will also consider the complaints made by the St. John Board of Trade regarding railway stunting charges, and also the complaint regarding the freight charges on the Dominion Atlantic line between St. John and Digby.

A MILLION FOR CHARITY LEFT BY A NEW YORKER

Jewish Institutions Will Get It if They Consolidate, Otherwise Bequests are Reduced.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A conditional bequest of $1,000,000 is made to Jewish charitable institutions of New York city by the will of Louis A. Heinsheimer, banker and member of the firm of Kahn Loeb and Company, who died on January 1. The will of Mr. Heinsheimer, which was filed for probate yesterday, set aside the sum mentioned under the provision that the Jewish benevolent institutions of the city be consolidated into one body. In the event of the proposition being rejected the bequest is null and void and in its place $100,000 is left to the United States Hebrew Charities, and $25,000 to the Montefiore Home.

While they are in St. John the board will hear any other matters within the scope of their duties which may be presented to them.

Prizes Offered for the Best Type of Structure to Withstand Earthquakes—Activity Increases in the Export of Fruit from Sicily

MESSINA, Jan. 15.—Signs of renewed activity now that conditions are becoming more settled since the earthquake disaster, are noticeable everywhere. Many persons who left the city immediately after the catastrophe are now returning, anxious to start life, and encouraged by the unanimity of the nation in deciding that Messina, Italy's advance sentinel between the Ionian and Tyrrhenian Seas shall rise again. The number of cars transporting fruit, which is one of the leading industries of the city, is increasing and cars are being more frequently seen than at any time since the disaster.

Plans are being made for the building of a new town to be situated in a field a mile distant from the ancient railway station. The plan was adopted in order to hasten the work of reconstruction, for if the clearing of the site and the ruins of the ancient city were undertaken first, more than a year would be required and the undertaking difficult.

The type of building which will be built in the event of another earthquake is being discussed. It is remarked in this connection that the only building that withstood the earthquake was that of Dr. Camer. This house was built on a platform of cement, made of hollow bricks, held together by wires. Competitive prizes have been offered for the best project bearing on the work of reconstruction with building material the durability of which offers the greatest guarantee of safety.

ROME, Jan. 14.—General Maaza, commanding the troops at Messina telegraphed Premier Giolitti that no body was rescued alive today at Messina. He says that the construction of huts for the homeless is proceeding, but that the lack of timber is beginning to be felt. The public utilities are being gradually extended and the illumination of the city also is improving. The population of Messina is tranquil.

General Maaza also reports six thieves have been arrested, three of whom escaped from prison at the time of the earthquake. He says the state of the public health gives no occasion for alarm.

General Mazzitelli, also reported to Premier Giolitti today by telegraph, saying: "The Duke of Genoa arrived here today and visited the ruins within the city. The work of clearing out the bodies of persons killed in the earthquake continues and the work of re-establishing the electric lighting system is proceeding. I have appointed a committee to draw up a list of the victims of the disaster."

ATTELL DEFEATED WEEKS AND RETAINS THE TITLE

Looser Never Had a Chance Though He Put Up a Plucky Fight.

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Jan. 15.—Abbe Attell last night retained his title to the featherweight championship of the world by knocking out Freddy Weeks in the tenth round at the Goldfield Athletic Club. Weeks fought gamely but never had a chance to win. His blows lacked steam necessary to do any damage to the champion, who came out of the battle without a scratch.

Editee Grayney, of San Francisco, officiated as referee and the boys put up a clean fight in every way. Both Attell and Weeks were well within the weight limits of 122 pounds.

Attell opened the fighting with a right swing to the head and ended it in the tenth round with a series of vicious swings to Weeks' head and jaw, which staggered Weeks to the ropes, Attell followed him with a right cross to the jaw, putting him down and out in one minute after the tenth round opened. Abbe then picked up Weeks and carried him to his corner. It was a grueling match but the champion outperformed Weeks at every point and was never in serious danger. He frequently poked his head into Weeks' face and smilingly took blow after blow without a wince or a stagger. In the third round Attell opened Week's left eye which bleared throughout the rest of the battle and worried Weeks perceptibly.

Very much bewildered but apparently unhurt, Ham Lee, a Chinaman, was picked up on Mill street yesterday afternoon, the victim of a runaway accident. When reached by the passers by who came to his assistance, Ham dishevelled and forlorn, was chiefly engaged in the dropping of a few minor pleasantries in the unknown tongue. From out the tattered fragments of a coat which he was wearing in the direction of the vehicle and the Jehu occupant, it was learned that Lee had been pummed upon from behind by a very stout while he had been maneuvering peacefully along in the pursuit of his own business. The horse with which Lee has now the particular grievance, was driven by a boy named Crawford. It became frightened at a coil of rope lying on the sidewalk.

CONGO OUTRAGES

BROUGHT TO LIGHT

LONDON, Jan. 15.—B. D. Morel, secretary of the Congo Association, has sent another communication to Sir Edward Grey, accompanied by a number of reports from the American Presbyterian Mission in the Kasai district of the Congo, in which region a British Vice-Consulate is to be established. The whole correspondence again shows the need of immediate and drastic measures. The documents enclosed deal with the methods employed to compel the natives to produce rubber. An inquiry conducted by W. H. Sheppard, of the American Presbyterian Mission, in 19 native villages (which he found that their inhabitants are forced to collect rubber by armed soldiers, whom the people of the village have also to provide with food and drink; and that upon them they have no leisure to cultivate their own food plantations, and are threatened with famine.

BRITONS PREFERRED FOR OPERA SEASON

Interests of L'Altra Composers and Singers Taken Care of by Syndicate.

Covent Garden Plans—Foreign Stars to be Engaged Only When English Stars Fall to Fill Parts.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The approaching opera season at Covent Garden promises well. Grand opera in this country is controlled by a syndicate of musical enthusiasts who are ever anxious to promote the interests of British singers and composers, as is shown by the arrangements completed for next year. Nearly all the parts in the works to be presented will be sustained by British-born singers, foreign stars having been engaged for the remaining characters because Nell Forsyth was unable to find vocalists at home who had the temperament—musical and dramatic—efficiently to imperatoize them. Of course, nationality must not be allowed to interfere with the high artistic standard which has been attained by the present management, otherwise Covent Garden would not for long maintain the position of being the leading opera house in Europe. This encouragement of British artists is keenly appreciated, not only by the singers themselves, but also by the directors of the principal training schools, who at last are able to extend to you in a special way a very hearty welcome to labor among them in holy things. We hope that your presence may be abundantly blessed by the great love of Christ, from whom all real blessing flow. It is not necessary to go into the details of our history more than to say that this congregation will have completed the 50th year of its existence on the 29th of May next. In all that time we have had three pastors, one of whom is still living. The fourth is now with us and long may we live to go in and out among our people to minister consolation and lead them to Christ. On behalf of the church and congregation we extend a hearty welcome to yourself and Mrs. Anderson and family.

HEARTY WELCOME TO NEW PASTOR

Reception Tendered to Rev. J. H. A. Anderson at St. John's Church

The congregation of St. John's Presbyterian church held a reception last evening for their newly inducted pastor, Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, and family. J. V. Russell occupied the chair and the following excellent programme was rendered: Chorus by the choir; address of welcome, W. J. Parks; three minute address by Archdeacon Raymond and Rev. Messrs. Campbell, Cohen, Anthony and Marr; selection by the Organ quartette; three minute address by Rev. Messrs. Graham, Dickson, McLean, Reed and Townsend; reply by Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, doxology.

The ladies of the congregation furnished light refreshments at the close of the entertainment and a very pleasant evening was spent. The following is the substance of the address of welcome presented by W. J. Parks: To Rev. J. H. A. Anderson: Dear Brother—The congregation of St. John's Presbyterian church are here tonight to extend to you in a special way a very hearty welcome to labor among them in holy things. We hope that your presence may be abundantly blessed by the great love of Christ, from whom all real blessing flow. It is not necessary to go into the details of our history more than to say that this congregation will have completed the 50th year of its existence on the 29th of May next. In all that time we have had three pastors, one of whom is still living. The fourth is now with us and long may we live to go in and out among our people to minister consolation and lead them to Christ. On behalf of the church and congregation we extend a hearty welcome to yourself and Mrs. Anderson and family.

Yours in Christian fellowship, (Signed) W. J. PARKS, Representative Elder. CHAS. H. DOUG, Session Clerk.

LECTURE DELIGHTS A LARGE AUDIENCE

The second course of lectures in the Women's Association of the Natural History Society was opened by Mrs. W. B. Stewart yesterday afternoon. The room was filled and the lecture was most interesting and practical. Mrs. Stewart's subject was, "The Ideals of William Morris in Household Decoration." "Loyalty, sincerity, simplicity, earnestness, were the motive forces of the character of William Morris," said the speaker. "Though he came to maturity in an age of ugliness, from his youth the pursuit of beauty was a ruling passion. He set himself the task of creating a taste for the possible best and then to satisfy that taste. It was his aim to make beauty produced by humble workers an everyday occurrence." "Morris believed that the taste of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries was better and purer than that of the Victorian age; therefore we should go back to the middle ages for our ideals. He believed in a democracy of art which would one day put hope and pleasure in place of fear and pain as the motive forces that inspire men to work and keep the world a-going. Art should be made by the people and for the people a joy to the maker and the user." "Morris' law of furnishing was 'have nothing in your homes that you do not know to be useful or think to be beautiful.' A practical beginning in tasteful furnishing may be made by anyone. Good taste is rarely found in the homes of the rich." Mrs. Stewart gave the poems of Morris for the treatment of windows, floors, ceilings, woodwork and walls, the applying of colors and the selection, framing, and hanging of pictures. Pictures should not be space-stoppers. They should make the eye tell the mind tales of past, present and future. No room of the richest man should look grand enough to make a simple man shrink, nor luxurious enough to make a thoughtful man shudder.

"To William Morris the House Beautiful was the visible form of life itself. Here man reads, writes, entertains his friends, and sleeps. As it is the altar of man's daily life, so from it should radiate an influence that leads him to higher planes of thought and action. This in turn he should communicate to friends and to the world through the influence of beauty, become a better place to live in." "Every home should meet the world morally. The moral side of the home flows from order and neatness. There should be a feeling of rest and yet of expectancy about it all that rises from the higher unity. A feeling of rest and pleasure should settle on the chance comer. Neatness is the invention and imagination that forms the soul of the home. It is meaning that gives hope, the uplift, beauty and simplicity grow up as a tree expanse in the sun. We must think that perfection lies somewhere and expect the better thing that comes from the good."

"William Morris influenced the house-keeping of fifty millions of people. He inaugurated bare floors, bare tables, low little windows, love for the beautiful simplicity of the pot, simplicity in furniture and in furnishings, joy in labor and in the beauty of life."

PLANS WILL BE PREPARED BY MR. HOLT

WOMAN A SLAVE AND NO PARTNER Mrs. Gilman's Audience Charged Married Men With Non-Support.

"Horn-Bill" Age, Inaugurated Long Ago, Extends to the Present Time, Lecturer Declares.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, the sociologist, who recently stirred an audience in Atlantic City by declaring that woman is man's slave, stirred another audience Wednesday night by declaring that woman is man's horse. Under the auspices of the Woman's Trade Union League at Carnegie Lecture Mrs. Gilman maintained the question, "Is the Wife Supported by Her Husband?" Mrs. Gilman maintained the affirmative, Mrs. Shaw the negative, Edmund Kelly presided.

Mrs. Gilman opened the ball by going back to paleontology and declaring that in the beginning of things woman was not only the mother of men, but the mother of the industry as well. That state of affairs lasted a few eras, she said, and then man woke up. From the dawn of his life he perceived that woman, by doing all the work, was getting all the credit, so he drove her from the field by main strength, it being the nature of the beast to be willing to honor and as long as there was kingdom and honor and glory in it.

THE HORN-BILL AGE. He was jealous of her, was the building brute, so he then and there inaugurated the horn-bill age of woman which has endured to the present day.

The horn-bill is a selfish bird who puts his spouse on a sitting of eggs and walls her up with mud. By the time the wall is all up Mrs. Horn-Bill is invisible save for her enormous bill, which sticks out through the mud. Mr. Horn-Bill feeds the bill just as husbands feed the wives they will immerse in steam-heated flats.

Wherefore, according to Mrs. Gilman, modern woman is nothing at all, since she produces nothing at all. Did any of the women or few gentlemen in the audience consider for a moment that woman as man's wife was his partner, Mrs. Gilman advised them to put away their sentimental thought. Was a servant who worked for board wages a partner? Was a human machine and house-cleaning machine a partner just because it went by the name of wife? No. And emphatically no.

JUST LIKE A HORSE. Then Mrs. Gilman introduced a similitude of a horse. A horse was in each corner, and could work it had a temper of excessive amiability, a crested neck and asymmetrical limbs, and was beautiful.

But was it the partner of man who, having enslaved, owned it? Not a moment. It had four legs, one in each corner, and could work it had a temper of excessive amiability, a crested neck and asymmetrical limbs, and was beautiful.

200TH ANNIVERSARY OF ANGLICAN CHURCH

The concluding sessions of the Anglican board were held here yesterday afternoon and evening. At 3 o'clock an executive committee meeting was held attended by the clergy and laity. The reports of all the boards which conferred during the week were presented and acted upon. There was some discussion, and in many cases amendments were made. An immigration committee was appointed to cooperate as much as possible with Rev. M. Coffin, the chaplain at this port.

Plans were made for the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the Anglican church in Canada. This will be held in September and will be marked by impressive ceremonies. The corner stone of the new cathedral will be laid at Halifax, while a larger congress, at which the representatives from Canada and parts of the United States will be present, will in all probability be held at Halifax.

WAS PENILESS, WEDS AN HEIRESS "Maori" Browne Instead of Blacking Boots Marries Girl Whose Sweetheart He Once Saved.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Colonel G. Hamilton ("Maori") Browne, was married at St. John's Church, Hackney, last week, to Miss Sarah Wallis Wilkerson, a lady of wealth and old family. "Maori" Browne, after serving his country for forty years in New Zealand and Zululand, found himself stranded and penniless in London three months ago. He applied to the Salvation Army and through a London paper offered to black boots for a living. Miss Wallis Wilkerson, of the Beethams, Melbourne, near Cambridge, saw this appeal and discovered that Colonel Hamilton Browne had long ago saved the life of her sweetheart, who was afterwards killed in the Sudan. A meeting was arranged and the lady found that Colonel Browne's name was again and again mentioned in the bundle of old letters she treasured and the friendship thus romantically began led to the wedding. Colonel Browne spruce and alert in a dark lounge suit, walked to the church with Miss Wallis Wilkerson, who has been staying at Brighton for the three weeks of the publication of the bans. The bride wore a brown costume with a pink hat. At the close of the ceremony Colonel and Mrs. "Maori" Browne were away arm-in-arm. As they left the church an official of the Salvation Army raised his blue and scarlet cap and cried: "A happy New Year to you both—and continued good luck." They left for Brighton where the honeymoon will be spent, and they will then take up their residence in Pembury road, Clapton.

POPULAR CONCERT In St. David's School Room Under the auspices of the FIREBIRD CLUB. On THURSDAY Evg. 21st Jan. at 8 P.M. TICKETS, 52c

(From Tri-Bits) The best armed monarch in Europe today is the new Car Ferdinand of Bulgaria. His bedroom is filled with weapons, which are not there for any ornamental purpose, but for use. The minister collection includes guns, revolvers, daggers, and here and there on chairs are canteens and knuckle dusters. A small and wicked looking revolver with all its chambers loaded lies at the head of his bed. Though he takes all these precautions, Ferdinand is a courageous man, but he snuffers at night from a constant dread of assassination. A few weeks ago the palace at Sofia was awakened at the dead of night by a pistol shot ringing out in the stillness. No one ever heard what it was all about, but the shot was probably fired off by the Prince in a fit of nervousness.

THE POST OFFICE. The report of the Postmaster General for the fiscal year, 1907-1908, was published recently. In his introductory remarks, Hon. Mr. Lemieux notes that the number of post offices has increased during the year by 446, post offices by 139, money order offices by 139, and savings bank offices by 41.

It would appear from the letter writing habit, and that the number of letters is not always proportionate to the population. The total number of post offices in operation on March 31, 1908, was 11,823, an increase of 2,347 in ten years. The total amount of money remitted by money orders and postal notes amounted to $55,284,954.41, an increase of $7,000,000 over the previous year.

A NATIONAL THEATRE. The proposal to establish a National Theatre in Great Britain as a memorial to Shakespeare will be marked by the approbation of every person who speaks the English language. No one writer has done so much for English literature and none is held in such esteem and reverence as the bard of Avon.

It is a matter for surprise that some fitting tribute to his memory is not already in existence. None could be found more entirely suitable than a theatre built by the public where the best plays can be presented with an eye to art instead of to finance.

NEW YORK VILLAGE WIPED OUT BY FIRE. JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 15.—The business section of the village of Buston in Chautauque County was completely wiped out by fire early today. The business houses were hunched together and every one was destroyed. The loss is $25,000. There is no fire protection in the place.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Commissioner R. A. Pearson of the State Department of Agriculture today submitted his annual report to the Legislature. No mention of the recent outbreak of foot and mouth disease in this region is made in the report for the reason that it did not occur within the fiscal year reported.

SHE DID. When back to the Old Sod me day dreams are winged, Sure Kathleen Mavourneen's song 'll be singin' But more often me thoughts, the truth to be sellin' Wild a nearer Kathleen an' dearer, are dwellin'.

One's known all the homes o' the poor an' the rich in But my mavourneen is the Queen o' the Kitchen Wild the two o' us waitin', slavin' an' savin' Faith 'twill not be long till that same she'll be lavin'.

'Tis sure the prattie—spike wid the rivenue due him, An' 'tis it, it may be had scan be to him! Says to the colleen, 'ain't fit to lie dead on the same ground at all your dartin' feet tread on!'

'O Kathleen, acushla, ye'll never be thinkin' O' doin' this penance at all for its drinkin' The good father's been, ayther t'ime or his crazy.' 'Ochone! But he said it,' says she, so ay.

'Ye mustn't be hard wid dear Father McCarthy— But sorta the bit can I go to the party. An' here's the new gown as I've just finished makin'—' 'Ahaabga,' says I, 'tis me heart you are breakin'!

'Although I'm no prattie, I'll absoove ye,' I told 'em. Me arm round her waist an' her head on me shoulder; 'So dry your dear eyes, for I'll not have ye spoil 'em.' The beams wd set aye, ashpore, av ye boll 'em! E. T. Nelson.

FORGETTING TO FORGET. Oh, sad was the fate of the Croesus seditate. Who thoughtlessly told all he knew; He sat far away in a sorrowful state And his frown was distressing to view. 'Pray tell us why you are so pen-sive,' they said, 'What memories and come to fret?' 'I'm thinking,' he sighed, with a shake of his head, 'of the things I forget to forget!'

A NATURAL QUESTION. A Southern Congressman recently went into a barber shop in a small Tennessee town to get a hair-cut. The barber, after the usual flow of conversation, completed the job, and turning to his customer, asked: 'How do you like it?' 'Somewhat mystified by the singular question, but determined not to show his ignorance, the Congressman replied: 'Georgia.' The barber then proceeded to brush his hair dry.

HIS TEACHINGS WERE GROSSLY IMMORAL. And Father of Pupil Sued for Damages. Anti-Religious, Anti-Patriotic and Immoral Doctrine Unfit for Publication, Included in Curriculum.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The Dijon Court of Appeal has given its decision in a case which has created extraordinary interest in the district. A teacher of the local communal school, named Morizat, was proceeded against by M. Girolet, father of one of the pupils for having in a mixed class of children, given utterance to anti-religious, anti-patriotic and grossly immoral teachings.

The defendant, in addressing his pupils during school hours, is said to have described the French army as a band of ruffians, and to have characterized those who believed in God as being little better than fools, adding that the only true God was a well-paid purse. Morizat's doctrine on the moral question is unfit for publication.

The injured father first thought to have this amazing teacher of the young punished by administrative officials, but the authorities of Public Instruction turned a deaf ear to his demand for redress, and he thereupon decided to take legal proceedings. M. Girolet thereupon entered an action, claiming $400 by way of moral and intellectual damages for the wrong done to his son, a lad of tender years, by this pernicious teaching.

The tribunal which heard the case showed itself unsympathetic. In an eloquent speech the Advocate replying to the Minister of Justice, pointed out the danger which might result if what he termed "reactionary suits" were allowed to interfere with the teaching given in French schools. The court decided that it was incompetent to hear the action, and that the plaintiff should be ordered to pay the costs.

RIVAL MOST MYSTERIOUS DETECTIVE STORIES. Valuable Ring Disappeared From Operating Room as if by Magic.

BREST, Jan. 15.—A sensation has been caused here by the mysterious disappearance from a local surgery a ring of great value belonging to the German Marquis Wilhelm von Draun. The marquis, who is a lieutenant in the reserve of the artillery of the Guard in the German army, was arrested here a short time ago and after being kept in prison a week has been released on bail. The next day he attempted to commit suicide by shooting a bullet in the head. He was taken to the surgery of Dr. Lafolle, it was here that occurred the mysterious disappearance of the ring. This was made of platinum, with a bezel of the same metal, on which were engraved the arms of the owner's coat of arms, and is stated to be a unique model.

When placed on the operating table the marquis refused to take an anesthetic, and as the doctor failed to extract the bullet it was decided to remove the patient with a view to an operation the next day. The marquis then requested the doctor to take charge of his jewelry, and placed in a box a gold curb-chain, a diamond ring, and the platinum ring in question. The doctor, who is a lieutenant in the reserve of the artillery of the Guard in the German army, was arrested here a short time ago and after being kept in prison a week has been released on bail.

RAISULI HAS HAD HIS LONG LOCKS SHORN. On Fulfillment of Vow of Vengeance. A Present of $400,000 Smoothed His Way to Power and Revenge.

TANGIER, Jan. 15.—From Fez come reports of a curious and imposing ceremony which has taken place at the great mosque of Nuley Drik, the patron of the town, Raisuli, the notorious ex-brigand, has had his hair cut, and has offered his shorn locks to the saint of Fez. It is long years since the shears and Raisuli's head made acquaintance with each other. When his misdeeds, he was imprisoned by his enemy, Abd-el-Sadek, governor of Tangier, he swore by the holy patron of Fez that he would never cut his hair until he had had revenge. For seven years loaded with fetters, he languished in the dark prison of Mogador, and the iron entered into his soul.

After his liberation, when he obtained the post of governor of Kadye, outside Tangier, he thought he would be able to rid himself of his flowing locks, which were becoming a burden to him, but he had still powerful enemies at the court of Fez, and he had to postpone the ceremony. Now, however, events have permitted him to redeem his oath, as he has acquired influence with Sultan, and Raisuli went one better, and gave Midek, the respectable son of a farmer, was discovered in his barn today. The man had been dead for some time when found. No reason for suicide is known, but it is supposed that he arranged to take his life during a temporary fit of insanity.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The Mayor of Coventry last evening announced the names of the 100 paupers preferred for the award of £100 each, in some cases, tobacco, instead of beer.

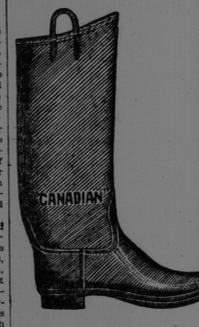

EARL INJURED IN HUNTING FIELD. LONDON, Jan. 14.—Whitby hunting near Hinckley on Thursday afternoon, a party of Althorpe hounds, was thrown heavily from his horse and sustained a fractured collar vertebra. He is reported to be unable to hunt for some time. Only the previous week his lordship lost a valuable horse in the hunting field.

SWALLOWED A SAFETY PIN. LONDON, Jan. 14.—At an inquest on a 6-week-old baby named Horrod, at St. Pancras, on Thursday, it was stated that the child had swallowed a safety pin, which had fallen from its nurse's lap as she bowed over to pick up something. The pin was safely removed from the child's windpipe in the hospital, but bronchial pneumonia supervened and she died. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

WORST YEAR KNOWN IN THE SHIPPING INDUSTRY

Building Reduced by 50 per cent, and Much Tonnage Laid Up But Still Rates Do Not Improve

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The year 1908 will justly rank as one of the worst in the annals of the shipping industry. Freight rates have fallen to a point...

diminished production is in part due to prolonged labor disputes, which, if they were to come at all, were certainly not ill-chosen in point of date.

PRINCE'S FAVORITE ARRESTED AT OPERA

Another Sensation Added to Tale of Municipal Frauds in Naples.

MILAN, Jan. 14.—Further sensational revelations have followed the flight to France of Denora, the chief culprit in the Naples municipal frauds.

The authorities have raised her residence, contacting the automobile, piles of bank notes and all her valuable jewelry.

A lively scene occurred at the City Council meeting last night, several members demanding the provisional resignation of the Mayor.

SCULPTOR ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Court Condones Slaying of His Wife, But Public Resents the Verdict.

ROME, Jan. 14.—The famous trial of the sculptor, Ciuffarelli, who shot and killed his wife, resumed its end at Campo Marzio (ancient Italy) today.

Ciuffarelli suspecting his wife's relations with a lawyer of Bari, killed her in a paroxysm of jealousy in August, 1906.

The woman before her marriage was a singer of great beauty called Maria Bianca de Browne.

The sculptor did not deny the crime, but pleaded mental irresponsibility. His acquittal is not at all favorably received, but it is supposed that the jury took into account the fact that the accused had been in prison more than three years while awaiting the conclusion of his trial.

Ciuffarelli's hearing in part conducted the defense, and has done so in a melodramatic manner worthy of the southern origin.

THE QUEEN OF SPAIN SHOT IN THE HEAD

Accident Occurred While She Was Hunting—Bullet Made Slight Wound.

VIENNA, Jan. 14.—In spite of unusual efforts made to keep it secret it became known here today that Queen Victoria of Spain, was shot accidentally in the forehead while out hunting with King Alfonso and several others.

Queen Victoria was carried to the lodge. Physicians were summoned and they found that the bullet had made only a slight flesh wound. It was believed at first that an effort had been made to assassinate the Queen.

CLOCK SHALL NOT STRIKE AT NIGHT

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—The supreme court at Leipzig has given a decision in favor of an appellant who sued to have a public clock silenced in the night time. The litigant is a hotelkeeper at Eisenach. He brought action against the authorities of the cathedral there, claiming that the noise of the chiming clock in the belfry disturbed his guests' nightly sleep and damaged his business. Two courts rejected his plea, but their decisions are now reversed by the highest court of the empire, which ruled that the clock must cease striking at 10 p. m. The decision is striking at a precedent by the German Anti-Noise Society to procure similar silence in many places.

PRIVATE MOIR AN EPILEPTIC

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 14.—Trial of Private William Moir, a on a charge of murdering Sergt. Lloyd, came to a speedy close at noon today, the jury being out about fifteen minutes, bringing in a verdict of not guilty on the ground of insanity. Dr. W. J. Robinson, of the London asylum, for the defense, said from the evidence given he had no doubt that the prisoner was an epileptic subject. "You could have reached no other verdict on the evidence," said Sir Wm. Meredith. "Under the verdict the prisoner will be kept in close confinement until the pleasure of the crown is known, which means practically he will be confined in an asylum for life. This trial shows that the public are in danger from epileptics such as the unfortunate prisoner. Such people may go around without having knowledge of their condition and their homicidal mania may develop at any time. Those in charge of the affairs should see that epileptics such as the prisoner should be subject to imprisonment for life or until such time as medical science will have discovered a remedy, which has not yet been done." Moir was taken from the court room in perfect silence and the crowd quickly dispersed to their homes.

ALBERTA WANTS MORE RAILWAYS

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—The Alberta legislature opened at Edmonton today. The speech from the throne, delivered by Governor Bulyea, announced a vigorous policy of railway building to develop the country both north and south. A bill to settle municipal powers in a more sure foundation, and another dealing with representation in the legislature and possible redistribution of seats are also proposed.

EMPRESSES FOR THE PACIFIC SERVICE NOW

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 14.—Preparation was being made at Hong Kong when the Empress of India, of the C. P. R., which reached port today, left there for the coming of the Atlantic Empress, Empress of Ireland and Empress of Britain, to the Pacific trade, between Hong Kong and Vancouver. The superintendent at Hong Kong was making inquiries regarding docking, overhauling and general caring for the big and fast liners, and making arrangements in anticipation of their coming to the Pacific to augment the present service of the C. P. R. The Empress of India, which reached port today, after a stormy trip, brought a full cargo and left freight behind. She brought four hundred tons of silk and silk goods valued at $1,000,000. The remainder of the cargo of tea, rice, skins, curios, porcelain, and the usual assortment of Chinese and Japanese merchandise.

BOND PROPOSES COALITION GOVT

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Jan. 14.—A coalition government to succeed the administration of Sir Herbert Bond is the latest proposition to emanate from certain supporters of the premier. The idea, however, does not find favor among the followers of Sir Edward Morris, and it is thought will be rejected. Under the suggested compromise both Bond and Morris would be members of the cabinet.

BAD WRECK ON GRAND TRUNK NEAR GUELPH

GUELPH, Ont., Jan. 14.—The last coach on the G. T. R. train forty-four jumped the track near Gourock, and ran into a bank and twenty-five passengers were injured. The coach turned over on its side and was dragged for fully one hundred yards before the train came to a stop. The train crew and passengers in other coaches which left the track made quick work of rescuing the people in the overturned coach. R. H. Bidon, insurance agent, of Guelph, was so seriously wedged into a window that the frame work had to be cut away before he could be released. Among the passengers on board were a party of curiers from this city, and members of the Brantford hockey club. Marks and Miller, of the latter, were both seriously hurt, Marks sustaining a broken arm and several ribs. Both will be out of the game for the season. The injured included many prominent citizens of Guelph. Alex. Stewart, druggist, had a leg broken; G. B. Ryan, had his back injured; R. H. Brydon, scalp wounds and leg broken; McCormick, scalp wounds; Mr. Dill, of Acton, most seriously injured of all, sustaining spinal injuries; Mr. and Mrs. J. Knowles of Guelph, the latter internally. The train returned to the city and the injured have been taken to the local hospital.

TURGEON LEAVES GOVIN'S CABINET

QUEBEC, Jan. 14.—Hon. Adolard Turgeon, Minister of Public Lands and Forests in the Gouin government, is to resign his portfolio tonight. Mr. Turgeon is to be appointed to the legislative council and to become president of that body. It was expected that an attack upon Mr. Turgeon by Henri Bourassa would be one of the features of the coming session of the legislature. What effect Mr. Turgeon's resignation from the government will have upon M. Bourassa's electoral campaign is not known.

WILL EXTEND THEIR LINES

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—President William MacKenzie, of the Canadian Northern Railway, was in the city today, and announced that it was the intention of the company to proceed with the construction of a line along the north shore of Lake Superior, connecting the company's lines in the northwest which now reach Port Arthur with the company's Ontario lines at Parry Sound. As to whether or not a start would be made this year, depended upon circumstances. As to the absorption of the Intercolonial by his company, he had nothing to say except that he would like to obtain possession of the government railway.

MANY HONORS PAID TO PREMIER'S DOUBLE

New Zealand Man is Mistaken in Melbourne for Prime Minister of Victoria. MELBOURNE, Jan. 14.—A New Zealand gentleman, who happens to bear a close resemblance to Sir Thomas Bont, the premier of Victoria, had some amusing experiences while in Melbourne. This gentleman is Edmund Wickes, of Grey-mouth. The story he tells was related to a Christchurch Press reporter on his return to New Zealand. On landing in Melbourne, Mr. Wickes was astounded and amused to see the policemen salute him. He boarded the Walnut, of which steamer his son is engineer, and his son was greeted with the remark: "Hullo, you're in good company; you've got Sir Thomas with you."

In turning the body the muscles of the right arm relaxed and the fat caught McVean squarely on the jaw, knocking him down and out for a few seconds. He was found on the floor by some of the employes. He did not finish the job.

ANOTHER AWFUL MINE DISASTER

VESZPRIM, Hungary, Jan. 14.—In an explosion of fire damp in the Auk coal mine here today which was followed later by a dust explosion and fire, 240 men were entombed. Sixteen living miners and the bodies of forty-five dead persons thus far have been brought out of the pit. The fire has been held to one locality and it is hoped that the remainder of the entombed miners will be rescued alive. The town of Veszprim lies sixty miles southwest of Budapest and has a population of some 15,000, composed mostly of Magyars. Landmarks here, especially the Gothic chapel, said to have been built by Queen Gisela, date back to the eleventh century.

Dr. W. L. Ellis and J. P. Lunney, deputy immigration agent, left this morning for Halifax to meet the Canadian. This Allan Line is now under charter to the C. P. R. and is taking the place of the Empress of Britain on the route.

The funeral of the late Miss Mary Frances O'Grady took place this morning from her residence, Albert street, West, St. John, at nine o'clock this morning Requiem Mass was sung in the Church of the Assumption by Rev. J. J. Donovan and the Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery at Sand Cove.

There was but one person in the police court this morning. He was a big, shaggy looking individual who claimed Hungary as his native land. He was clad in the garb of a woodman and was charged with wandering about the streets and not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself. To the court he said he had two dollars and intended going to Boston, but he now wished to return to Fredrickton and get a position on the new railway as it is said men are being employed at Fredrickton and sent from there to work on the transcontinental. The prisoner was warned that he was liable to an eight dollar fine and allowed to go.

The good work begun by Evangelist Williams in the Murray building, during the week the meetings have been well attended and the interest is increasing each night. Last evening the hall was filled. Mr. Williams took for his text: "Is thy heart right?" His remarks were interesting and forceful. His illustrations were exceptionally applicable and had a marked effect upon the audience. In the testimony service some twenty took part, while others manifested a desire to "get right with God." Mrs. Nobles and Hutchinson, who were present, also made brief addresses. Two solos, sung by Miss Cora Colwell, were greatly enjoyed. Friends of the mission are invited to join in the work in these meetings and help along the good work. There will be a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock and next week each evening at the same hour.

THE ARBITRATION BOARD

The International arbitration board continued their work this morning in the Murray building.

F. B. Carvell asked permission to call a couple of witnesses who wished to get away from the meetings and the request was granted. The first witness was Larry E. Tardiff, who has been operating on the Grand River, from Westport, Deputy Crown Land Surveyor at Andover, was then called and as his evidence was not completed at the time of adjournment he will be heard again when the session opens at 1:30 this afternoon.

HELPING THE NEEDY.

To the editor Star:

Sir:—I see items this while back about destitution in our city, and I notice where the council has voted $300 to the Salvation Home for the relief of the needy. Now, Mr. Editor, I would like to ask a question which might be of interest to many. It is this: What has become of the $300? Has it been used, or what is being done with the thousands that were left over? Surely there can be no fire sufferers now, after a lapse of thirty-five years. Why not distribute a little of the money among certain deserving poor families and not draw on the city to help them out. A glance about the streets will show how many idle men are going about at present, who though willing to work can find nothing to do. Could you find out how much money is still in the relief fund and if there are sufferers still drawing relief.

Thanking you for your valuable space I am respectfully,

SECURING OPINIONS REGARDING THE I.C.R.

Toronto Globe Sends a Man to Maritime Provinces

For the Purpose of Learning What the People Here Think of the Suggested Sale or Lease of the Road.

Mr. C. S. Blue parliamentary representative of the Toronto Globe, is in the city in the interests of his paper, endeavoring to sound public opinion with regard to the suggested change in the management of the Intercolonial.

Mr. Blue has been over most of the I. C. R. system, stopping at Halifax, New Glasgow, Moncton and a number of other towns where he has seen many of the leading men. It is his intention, on returning to Toronto, to prepare a series of articles dealing with the question from the maritime standpoint as he has found it.

In conversation with the Star today Mr. Blue drew attention to several points which he has found seemed to stand out quite prominently in consideration of this proposition. One is that while some parts of the west there is a tendency to look upon the I. C. R. as a purely local road and to consider the canal system as a national institution. Maritime people do not make just the same distinction. They take a broader view and regard the railway as a link in the great transcontinental system, as a bond of Confederation, and as of national importance. The feeling is that the I. C. R. is an institution of value to the whole country and should be generally regarded in this light.

Keeping this in mind Mr. Blue has been impressed with the sentiment that a transfer of the road from the possession of the government would not be a popular move. He is led to believe that Maritime people recognize that something must be done, that the railway cannot go on losing money year after year, with an occasional surplus, and that for successful management it must be removed from political influence. Yet such a removal, he is argued, does not necessarily mean a sale or lease.

The plan favored by many to whom Mr. Blue has talked of management by an independent commission would be given a free hand, and enabled to conduct all affairs as systematically and carefully as those of private business concerns are conducted. If this commission scheme were adopted, say for a period of five years, and if at the end of that time, it were found not to be a success, then the argument in favor of a lease would be of greater weight.

Mr. Blue has not found many people in favor of a transfer of the I. C. R. to any of the other great railway companies. As regards a lease or sale to a private syndicate, he had some difficulty while in the Maritime Provinces there is a feeling of pride that such an important operation in prospect, still the fear is expressed that if this were done the railway might become more of a local line and less of a transcontinental link, and that the larger companies would make it their business to squeeze out the holding syndicate in order to secure the line for themselves.

Mr. Blue has had considerable experience in dealing with matters of national importance, and his articles on the Intercolonial will be awaited with wide interest.

SCOW WITH DIVING OUTFIT FILLED AND SANK

Diver Lahey and Two Assistants Had a Rather Thrilling Experience This Morning.

There was great excitement at Reed's Point this morning shortly after eight o'clock when diver Edward Lahey and his two assistants were precipitated into the cold waters of the harbor to battle for their lives.

During the last heavy storm the bell buoy at the Partridge Island bar broke from its moorings and floated away. The Government steamer Lansdowne has been placed another buoy and it was the intention of the Government officials this morning to have diver Lahey locate the anchor and chains from which the buoy parted. The diver and his diving outfit were on a small scow and this scow was taken in tow by the Government steamer to be conveyed to the place of operations.

The steamer had just swung clear of the northern side of the Government pier and the tow line parted and as one end of the scow sank it left but one corner out of water and to this the diver and his assistants clung for dear life. Men on Reed's Point saw the accident but there was no effort made to launch the life boat. When the accident was noticed on board the Lansdowne a boat was lowered and a small boat also put out from Reed's Point, but before either could reach the men, the tug Lord Kitchener managed to rescue the trio who are now none the worse for their experience.
