BRITISH SENTIMENT AND THE WAR

The recent aggressive movement of the "Stop the War" party in England has brought about a decided reaction.

Not did Lord Salisbury fail to impress upon his fellows the lesson of Maluba and what followed. Granting that Mr. Gladstone acted from high philanthropic motives, Lord Salisbury pointed out the consequences of his fault.

In the fortnight since that speech had made many things have occurred to show that Lord Salisbury gave utterance to the sentiment of the people of England.

OLD FORIES MAY APPLY. A correspondent in the Freeman, supporting the appointment of Mr. Costigan to the cabinet, fairly meets the objection that his candidature was a conservative until 1896.

Lord Salisbury, with the wonderful gift he has of getting at the root of the matter, and of directing attention to the main thing, gave five or ten minutes to a discussion of the war at the annual dinner of the United Club, over which he presided.

We have to deal with this great war into which, according to my belief, we have been forced. We have to prevent, from any careless, or thoughtless, or impatient action on our part, that the results of this great war should be a dangerous and permanent influence on the destinies of the Empire that we protect.

MR. BORDEN AND MR. POWELL. The following extract from Mr. Borden's speech in the House of Commons on July 10th, 1901, is of interest.

Lord Salisbury did not go into the other elements behind the war, but kept to the main point that British territory had been invaded.

to make a man, and who were merely actuated by the greed of territory, by the desire to enlarge the dominion which they had already obtained.

TOO CRITICAL. Some one has collected from a New York paper the subjects of sermons preached in the city pulpits. They include: The Almighty Dollar; Tragedy of Human Greatness; Doctrines of Spiritualism; The Religious Situation; The Churches and Bishops; The Elements that held on the Young Man in the Race of Life; Success in the Home; The Heroism of Commoff Life; The Average Man; The Slaughter of Birds; etc.

THE DOWRIES. The Chicago Dispatch about the Dowries and their experiences in yesterday's papers leads an inquirer to ask the Sun who the Dowries may be and what they believe.

STRIKE OF THE STEEL WORKERS. As matters look, the iron and steel industries connected with the United States steel corporation are about to be paralyzed by a strike of employees.

SEVERE THUNDER STORM

Swept Over St. John Monday Evening With Terrifying Severity.

No Serious Damage Done, But a Multitude of Minor Accidents and Minor Escapes Reported.

One of the fiercest thunder storms ever experienced in this region swept over the city Monday evening with terrifying intensity. The weather all through the day had been close and sultry, and shortly after six o'clock heavy clouds began to bank in from the north and northeast.

At ten minutes past seven the storm was at its height. The lightning suddenly about seven o'clock, the wind, which had borne from the northeast and increased in velocity to 40 miles an hour.

The rain during the short time it fell beat all records, resembling the storm received of western cloud bursts. From 7:30 to 7:40 the amount recorded at the observatory was 6-10 of an inch, and though its severity was mitigated somewhat after this, it still fell in torrents for a half hour afterward.

By half-past seven the storm was practically over, and shortly after eight the banks of heavy clouds blew away and a brilliant evening of clear starlight followed.

ANDREWS, July 12.—Thomas Armstrong, one of the municipal councillors for the town and parish of St. Andrews, met with a severe accident on Thursday forenoon while engaged in the cellar of the store of G. The scolding gas came out with a lighted oil lamp standing on the floor and the flame struck Mr. Armstrong square in front, burning his arms from the elbows to the wrist, scorching his face and singeing his whiskers. The glasses that he wore in all probability saved his eyes.
