SCHOOL MEETING NEXT FRIDAY

Trustees will Recommend the Wasteful Scheme of Building Additions or Converting an Old Blacksmith Shop into a Hygienic School

The School Trustees have called a general meeting of the rate-payers to vote upon the matter of increased accommodation for the school for the coming term. They will recommend one of the two propositions—one of which is to purchase the old Free Baptist church, which since its divestment of its sacred aura, has served as a garage, a blacksmith shop and a storage house for potato phosphate, and to convert it into a fine, sanitary and soul-inspiring edifice wherein to nurture the minds of the young and rising generation. It is true that in times past the sacred old building has had within its walls some remarkable conversions—that are not to be spoken of lightly—but the real miracle is yet to take place, that is, if the proposition goes through.

The second proposal is to erect a lean-to, or something of like nature, at the rear of the present seat of learning, and give accommodation to the primary classes.

Both proposals are an extravagance that the already overburdened taxpayer should not consider for a moment. The cost will run into thousands, all payable in next year's budget and by the method of patchwork there will be nothing in the end worth even giving away.

Another proposal will be brought before the meeting, and that is to vote the authority to immediately start construction on a seven-room building, on the school ground on the west side of Main street—a spot that is ideal from every point of view. Figures will be shown to prove that the building—a beautiful and inspiring edifice—can be built for around $22,000. The need of such an elaborate building is not today's need, but it will be the need of the town in a very few years to come. It can be shown that the basement, walls and roof and two rooms can be built complete for around $8,000, and if the district is bonded in 20-year bonds for this amount the new school so far as present needs are concerned will cost a little less than $500 a year. Why, in the name of plain, common, horse sense do the burdened rate-payers want to spend $2000 a year in patchwork that gets the community nowhere, realizes nothing in the end? It is the duty of every ratepayer, to attend Friday evening's meeting, and as well, it is the duty of every ratepayer to oppose the wasteful propositions of putting good money after bad which will be proposed by the Trustees.

W. H. PAGET DIES SUDDENLY

On Monday W. Howard Paget of Lower Windsor died a few hours after his second attack of paralysis. He had had a previous attack about three or four months ago.

Mr. Paget was one of the best known and most highly respected men in his community and his circle of friends was wide. He is survived by his wife, who was Helen Saunders, and five children: Mrs. Wenden Fowler of Florenceville, Mrs. R. B. Hagerman, Hartland, Harry of Vancouver, Russell of Mars Hill and Mrs. Roy Caldwell at home. Deceased was 64 years of age.

The funeral takes place this afternoon and burial arrangements will likely be under the Orange rites, of which order Mr. Paget had long been a member.

VERY SPECIAL

There are being sent to all delinquent subscribers statements of subscription accounts and these should have prompt attention. Those whose subscriptions have just expired—those who owe only a year or less—will, as experience has proved, remit very promptly. But the most of those who owe more than a year have an idea that a bill is not due until it is sued. These can save one-third of the ultimate cost of their present subscription account if they remit before Aug. 15 according to the statement sent this week. All who owe for two years or more after Aug. 15 will be sued with-out fuss or ceremony other than by law required.

If you really cannot pay write us a statement of the reason. We may grant an extension if you can prove your good intention.

THE DURANT CAR A SENSATION

First Brought to Town Two Weeks Ago—The Admiration of All—A. C. Thornton, The Dealer—Made Florenceville Hill on High

A new automobile record was established on Monday when Arthur C. Thornton, the dealer, ran one of the beautiful new Durant cars clean over the big Florenceville hill on high gear. To remove all doubts about the matter, and in view of an enlarged audience Mr. Thornton rolled around to the foot of the hill again and made a fine exhibition of the grace and power of the Durant by immediately repeating his performance. This proved that it was not first attained by lucky chance or by a fluke. This is the first time in the history of automobilism that any car has gone over this hill "on high".

The record was established in the view of a number of prominent men, among them being A. D. McCain, J. A. Tompkins and other citizens of Florenceville.

The New Durant is attracting much attention. It is most fetching in appearance and has all the attractions of the high priced cars and still being in the medium priced line. There is probably no better, more powerful or speedier four-cylinder car on the market—the intention of Durant Motors Ltd. being to construct a four cylinder automobile that would excel anything in its class and sell for no more money. It is said that a ride in the car over fairly decent roads is like a flight in an air-plane.

Arthur C. Thornton of Hartland is the county dealer and he has already placed some of the cars he has had sent to him. Whether one has decided to buy a car or not, or whether they have definitely decided not to buy this year, a demonstration of the Durant is likely to change one's mind.

CHAUTAUQUA IS COMING SOON

At a Meeting of Guarantors on Monday Indications Pointed Toward a Successful Ticket-Selling Campaign

About 20 of the 80 guarantors of the 1922 Chautauqua met at the town hall on Monday evening when Miss Maxwell, advance agent for the Association gave an outline of the manner in which experience has proved to be the best way in which to carry on the work of advertising and selling tickets and a general plan of how best to put the enterprise over successfully.

All the committees have been appointed and the chairman of each has been provided with a booklet of instructions and the work is going merrily along.

The first of the display newspaper advertising appears in this issue and here and there throughout the paper will be found reading notices of the coming week of high-class entertainment. Next week there will be a full page announcement giving the general program and also details of each day's entertainment.

A new departure this year will be three programs daily, there being a lecture each forenoon, a lecture and musical program each afternoon, and two evening lectures with musical programs, and four evenings of entertainment unalloyed with lectures, but of the highest class that has been possible to assemble.

Occasionally one hears from knockers, but they are not many or very exuberant. Arguments against Chautauqua are not difficult to combat, for it can easily be shown that if every community was educated up to the mental plane of the Chautauqua there would be less love of gossip, scandal, evil-speaking, unkind and uncharitable criticism, less rejoicing in the fancied inequities of others rather than in the truth. The people of many small towns are divided into two classes—the super-good and the altogether vicious. When brought together in one common affair of interest—as in Chautauqua, for example—the people learn that nearly all humans are very nearly the same, each having his weakness and all their good sides. Chautauqua breathes the very soul of community welfare.

One awful argument against Chautauqua is that "it takes $1800 out of the town." Shucks! Many hundreds of thousands of dollars go out of the town every year—and that is what makes business. A man purchases a $2000 automobile, the money goes out of the town, and who bothers to set up an argument about it?

Let's put Chautauqua over, not to escape our liability against the loss of possibly $20, but for the good of our town, our families and our selves.

The Women's Auxiliary of Holy Trinity church will hold a lawn party and sale of fancy goods and cooked food on the lawn of Mrs. Henry Tedlie on the evening of August 2. There will also be a fine musical program. The admission fee will be 35 cents.

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK

COMPLETELY FREE OF CONSTIPATION

Tried for Years to Find Relief

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" GAVE IT

Chronic Constipation or insufficient action of the bowels, is one of the great causes of disease. Some authorities even claim that Constipation cannot be permanently corrected. This is a great mistake, because here is the proof that constipation can be cured and the bowels made to act regularly and naturally.

YARMOUTH, N.S.

"For years, I was troubled with Constipation, and had to take laxatives and purgatives all the time. If I neglected to take these, the bowels would refuse to do their work.

About two years ago, a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives", which I did. The first box helped me so much that I obtained further supplies of the remedy and continued the treatment. After using about eight boxes, my bowels were able to perform their particular function without aid.

The relief in my case has been lasting, as up to date, I have never had any further trouble. I can recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to all suffering as I did and I am sure they will derive equal benefit."

A. W. FRANKLIN.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c., or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Singing Band Coming

A keen observer says Ralph Dunbar is surely an innovator, for he did the "impossible" when he produced "The Nine White Hussars", who will appear at the Chautauque. He developed the highest possibilities in band music with nine, just nine—not five times that many—men. Of course, he secured young men of musical ability, and, best of all, with real personalities. To do this would have been an achievement, but to find men who really sing well, and also are artists at playing the necessary band instruments, was a master stroke in the organizing of musical forces.

The point is, it was done; and the Hussars, now eight years old, are one of the most talked of musical organizations in America today. They have appeared during the past season in every important American city.

Their engagement means plenty of real band music, that is as if a Sousa or a Santelman were wielding his baton over half a hundred players. It means unusual ensemble singing—splendid timbre, shading, studied tone, quality, real artistry. It means occasional solos that really get somewhere, are not just endured but enjoyed. It means some clean, clever fun that will bring a laugh from the kindergarten on the front row to the grown-ups further back, and all between. In short, it's worth while.

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used two doctors' medicine previous to this, without any good results. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

BATH STILL IN THE LEAD

On Wednesday evening, July 19 the Village of Bath was again the centre of attraction. The reason and cause was the unveiling and dedication of a practical and useful Soldiers' Memorial. The Kent and Wicklow Soldiers' Memorial is somewhat different to the usual form of public monument, in that the concrete base is fitted with an automatic waste-preventing water supply, for man and beast. On this stands a polished granite monument, on which, in two parallel columns, stands out in bold relief the names of the twenty four men from the Parishes of Kent and Wicklow, who died for Home and Country in the Great War of 1914-1919.

Superimposed on this is another piece of granite on which a symbolic design is carved—crossed guns and laurel wreaths—signifying that through the gates of death they gained the victors' crown; and though the entrance fee was high, it gained for them initiation into the glorious company of those immortals, who through all the ages, have fought, bled and died, so that freedom, truth and justice should not perish from the earth.

Bath honors itself by thus erecting in respectful and grateful memory of those who helped to make the blessings of peace possible, this unique Memorial to the dead which supplies a vital necessity of the living, to the greatest good of the greatest possible number. Owing to the heavy showers, part of the program was abandoned.

We regret that the base ball game was not carried out, for the reason stated. Nevertheless the other important events were carried through. Just before 7 p.m. a procession was formed, headed by a band of young girls in charge of Women's Institute, which paraded to the speakers stand on Main Street, where a very large audience was assembled to hear a number of speeches by prominent public speakers.

The proceedings opened with the choir singing "O Canada." A letter was then read regretting the inability of Rev. W. M. Donohoe of Johnville to be present, but the message breath a spirit of devotion to the principles of justice and right for which our men went forth to win. Enclosed was a donation which we are glad to acknowledge.

After which Misses DeMerchant and Davenport performed the ceremony of unveiling, with some idea of the meaning of the act.

Then followed an eloquent address by Rev. O. O. Howlett, formerly of Bath, but now residing in Victoria County. The hymn "Lead Kindly Light" was sung, after which Rev. Mr. Wasson invoked the blessing of the Almighty Father of all. Then another address by Rev. Mr. Chown of Florenceville. "In Flanders Field" was the next item, splendidly recited by Jackson Giberson. Then followed in succession, able, earnest and patriotic addresses by T. W. Caldwell, M. P., C. L. Ketchum, Hon. J. K. Flemming and Charles F. Gallagher.

It was plainly evident that the spirit of patriotism is not dead in this section. On the contrary, it is very much alive and ready to burst into flame, at the first sign of aggression on the part of any nation which dares to test it.

The memorial service closed with the presentation by the chairman to J. N. Drost, G. W. Perry and Hugh G. Tweedie of the title deed to the land and premises on which the Memorial stands, to be held by them and their successors in office, forever, in trust always, for the perpetual use and enjoyment of the public.

While this was being done a silent tribute to the memory of our dead was placed on the monument—a wreath contributed by Mrs. Gideon Gray, the wife of a returned man.

The National Anthem was then heartily sung by the audience. This event will long be remembered as one of the most important in the history of Carleton County.

While the public Memorial service was in charge of the Finance Committee, the entertainment at Brennan's Hall later in the evening was in the charge of the Women's Institute, the members of which co-operating with us in providing sufficient funds to pay the expenses incurred in the erection of the Memorial. The children of the Village of Bath, dressed in the patriotic colors, red, white and blue, marched from the Monument to the Hall, followed by a vast crowd.

While the audience gathered, the Summerfield Orchestra played several selections.

The first number on the program was the Glangarry Flag Drill nicely done by nine little girls.

Then the ladies of the Women's Institute presented the play "The Old Maid's Convention" to a house filled to its capacity.

As the players went forth all the efforts in their power to please, the audience responded by enthusiastic applause and generous donations.

Credit is due both to the players and to the Summerfield Orchestra, for the excellency of their performance. After the sparkling comedy was over, then came the Market Social, and the eyes of the ladies sparkled when the baskets were eagerly bought up by the hungry bachelors and others present. When the contents were properly disposed of, all went their several ways, well content.

We are pleased to announce to all that the financial results is that the proceeds amounted to the satisfactory sum of Two Hundred and Two Dollars and seventy cents, which enables us to further announce that we will be able to present the memorial to the public, for their use and enjoyment forever, free of debt, together with the land on which it is erected.

Our sincere thanks are tendered to all who helped us on this occasion—W. H. B.

In addition to the above The Observer has received the following: "I am, aware that W. H. Bramley is sending you in a report of the Soldiers' Memorial unveiling event of last Wednesday for your paper to print. The report is good but I would like to add that it does not do half justice to W. H. Bramley's own part in the transaction. Mr. Bramley has been head and shoulders to the whole matter, even in its origin three years ago. He has patiently and patriotically kept pounding the way to the final glorious finish and whatever glory in the affair which might not be entirely absorbed by the names of the dead heroes on the monument should be reflected in the halo which this community owes to W. H. Bramley. He is all right!"—M. E. Commins, M. D.

Do You Like Poetry? If You Don't You Will.

Many people don't like poetry—or think they don't. Of course, there's a reason for what they think they think—they haven't heard or read the right kind. And yet, if you ask the man in the street to tell you the names of any six pieces of literary composition which are a possession of his memory, it will be safe to wager that four of them are poetry.

There is poetry and poetry. Some of it is mere words, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing. But there is also some poetry, which puts into catching and striking and holding verse the little happenings and mis-happenings, the daily vexations and mistakes, the faulty ideas and words and deeds, that make so great a part of this common life; which shows us our shortcomings and misdoings; which laughs at and with us over our little vanities and weaknesses. Are you going to turn a contemptuous back on the kindly criticism and the gentle satire, the homely truth, the lesson that goes straight to the point, the wit and the wisdom, the fun and the earnest—because it rhymes?

There is a man who is a master of this kind of expression, who sees all human things in all kinds of lights and relations that escape us, and knows how to put them into verse with a snap to it.

He sings songs for everybody, at all seasons and in all moods; always sound and wholesome, full of good, common sense, or brimming over with healthy fun; "Impertinent Poems" to prick our vanity and laugh us out of our dearest weaknesses—"Rimes to be Read" by everybody to their great pleasure and profit—tender love songs, poems for and about children, such as few poets have written or can write.

It is hard to say in which vein Mr. Cooke is at his best. You will have a chance to judge for yourself, for he will appear at the Chautauque.

EAST AND WEST AGREE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Helping Sick Women to Health

The two letters which follow clearly show the broad field covered by this well-known medicine. Women from every section—you know some in your own neighborhood—praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a wonderful medicine for troubles women often have.

From Prince Edward's Island—East

Miscouche, P. E. I.—"I had female troubles for two years. I always had a headache and a pain in my side and sometimes I felt so weak that I could not do my work. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken six bottles of it. It has done me a lot of good and I am still taking it. I will tell my friends of your medicine and hope they will try it."—Mrs. CAMILLA DES ROCHES, Miscouche, P. E. I.

From Saskatchewan—West

Wadena, Saskatchewan.—"A friend in Rose Valley recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and it has been a great help to me. I recommend it and you can use this letter as a testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. PENNA NORMAN, Wadena, Saskatchewan.

LITTLE JOHN N. PERRY

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bertram Perry of Connell were grieved to learn of the death of their little son, John, aged one year and seven months, which occurred on Wednesday morning after an illness of three days.

The funeral service was conducted at the home of Rev. D. R. Chowen. The little casket was covered with flowers from friends and neighbors, who, by many loving deeds, manifested their sympathy for the bereaved family.

Critic On Jubilees

Clay Smith, the well-known musical critic of Lyceum and Chautauqua circles, says this about Buckner's Dixie Jubilee Singers, who will be the last night attraction at the coming Chautauqua: "There is perhaps no name in the lyceum or chautauqua better known than 'Buckner.' In the old independent chautauqua days, no program was complete without a Jubilee Company. In those days 'Buckner's Dixie Jubilee' was the criterion for all such companies, and it remains so today. Year after year, they were returned to standard assemblies for a three or four day stay, just as regular as a meter reader, and were always looked forward to by a great majority as one of the big events."

"Why, of course, we must have Mr. and Mrs. Buckner, with their plantation singers, for at least three of our days," was the common expression of committeemen sparring with representatives for their next summer's program.

It is because of this fact that I am going to let you know what a Real Jubilee Company consists of and how they are made. I want you to know what is back of these years of service. This company consists of seven high-grade vocalists, three women and four men, and it isn't a thrown together affair from season to season. It didn't just happen. Nothing worthwhile ever does.

There is no race that has made the rapid strides in music in the short space of time and with such limited opportunities as the American Negro, and this, in spite of the great handicap they labor under.

The Dixie Jubilee Singers have had only one change in the personnel in the past seven years. Is it any wonder their ensemble is noted for its perfect phrasing and blending? It takes years to get this teamwork in a company. I say with perfect understanding of the broadness of the statement that W. C. Buckner has done as much and possibly more for his race, musically, as any living member. Like his old friend, Paul Lawrence Dunbar, he is an artist, and is dead in earnest, and his whole life is wrapped up in his work. Some one has said: "The greatest single factor that goes to make success in any walk of life is the love and personal interest you have for your work."

No one who has ever met Mr. and Mrs. Buckner can doubt their sincerity and singleness of purpose, and there is no one who has ever listened to their carefully planned and executed program but will immediately realize they are listening to the best.

Yes, "Jubies" may come and "Jubies" may go, but the Dixies are a standing emulation of Tennyson's brook. We are all for you, Buck.

LUMBERING ON THE ST. JOHN

By J. Fraser Gregory, President of Murray and Gregory Ltd.

This is the simplest form of boom and the one commonly used in stream driving today. A more elaborate boom is used in Fredericton, where the channel of the river has to be opened and closed many times a day. There a boom three or four logs wide of flatted timber is made and the flms are hinged on one side of it, and instead of being held in a fixed position by a spar are connected by a wire rope leading to a winch at the shore end.

When the cable is slack the flms lie flat beside the boom and the whole thing tails out in the current. By tightening upon the cable with the winch the flms commence to separate from the boom and the lower end is forced out into the stream by the water striking the flms—a simple contrivance, now, to all of us.

The driving of each operation into the booms individually being an expensive undertaking and unsatisfactory, it was decided that the driving on the main river from Grand Falls to Fredericton might well be done by a contractor who would get busy as soon as logs commenced running in the river in the spring and keep at it, driving all logs until they were in the booms. So an act to incorporate the St. John River Log Driving Co. was passed April 2, 1886. The incorporation were Fred Hale, William Teddie, W. H. Murray, John Kilburn, Walter Stevens, W. Giberson, E. L. Jewett, J. Hayward, D. Nixon, A. F. Randolph, J. S. Leighton, Israel Merritt, C. Hagerman, B. Hume, Thos. Phair, George R. Burt, Robert Connors, Isaac Page, Franklin Stetson, George B. Dunn, J. F. Richardson, David Keswick, C. F. Woodman, W. H. Cunliff, George T. Baird, Adam Beveridge, Jas. Yerxa, M. Nadeau, Fred Moore, W. F. Fowler.

The Company continues to-day. It was not a stock company but a mutual organization whereby the driving of all logs in the main river was done by a contractor at a fixed price from the mouth of certain rivers below the Falls, the price being according to the distance driven.

Robert Connors was the first contractor. By this method the cost of driving from the Falls to Fredericton was reduced 75 per cent. This corporation driving having proved so successful in the year 1891 The Madawaska Log Driving Co. was formed to drive logs from the mouth of the Allagash to Grand Falls on similar lines. Later another Company was formed to drive from the mouth of Baker Branch to Allagash. So that now practically the whole river is driven by corporation drivers and not by individual operators as it was years ago. (To be continued)

SAD DROWNING

On Saturday Cecil Craig, a young man of 22, son of the late Wellington Craig, was drowned while attempting to ford the river at Stickney with a span of horses. He was working for Dean Shaw at Simonds and was sent to Stickney to have the horses shod. Rather than wait for the ferry he attempted to swim the horses across.

He was dragged from the horse he was riding by the other horse and being unable to swim much was drowned in the deep water. All efforts to recover the body have proved futile, although a large party dragged the river for miles.

HAD THE FIRE GOT BEYOND CONTROL—

in the high wind which blew Friday, April 28—had the fire got beyond control—what would have been left of the wooden portion of the town of Hartland? Do you know that if the adjacent buildings had caught that the combined fire apparatus of two or three towns like Hartland could not have saved your home? Hartland's portion would have been that of Fairville on May 1. BE WARNED by these fearful Fire Devastations and make sure that your insurance is safe. Ralph Dunbar's Bell Ringers

It is doubtful if any musical feature has ever been presented to the American public which has won greater favor or obtained a wider following than that of musical bell-ringing. The art was brought to America first in the forties by the late P. T. Barnum. While touring England, he heard a group of a dozen church bell-ringers practicing upon hand bells, and he conceived the idea of using a larger peal of bells and playing more elaborate music. These bells were made in England, as the world's best bells always have been; but in conformity with his unflinching originality as an advertiser, he dressed the players, both men and women, in the costumes of Swiss peasants, and called the company "The Swiss Bell Ringers." For many years this company toured the United States in wagons before railroads were at all general. The art at that time was so successful that our grandfathers recall most vividly the visit of the Swiss Bell Ringers to their native towns.

It seems that thereafter the art fell into disuse, and it was not really perfected or revived in any worthy way until 1898, when Ralph Dunbar and his brother founded the famous Dunbar Bell Ringers at St. Joseph, Mo. These brothers went to Europe, and, seeing the really artistic possibilities, they went to England and had made under their personal supervision a peal of 200 bells, which are undoubtedly the most complete and most perfect set of bells which were ever cast. These bells were made under their own personal supervision by the same bell founders that cast the great bells of Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's Cathedral in London, as well as practically all of the well-known church bells of the world. The peal embraces more than five octaves chromatic, and through the middle register there are as many as six bells of the same note. The venue of the Dunbar Bell Ringers is the most notable of any similar company which has appeared on the American concert platform. They gave more than 2500 concerts up to 1912, when both Harry and Ralph Dunbar resigned their places in the quartet to others. The company up to then had traveled 490,000 miles in America and Europe. The Dunbar brothers have collected hundreds of pages of newspaper material published regarding their tours, but the patrons of this Chautauqua system are sufficiently familiar with this widely known concert company to recall the marvelous musical effects which this quartet of players obtains from this splendid peal of bells.

It may be interesting to know that the largest of these bells weighs twenty-five pounds and measures sixteen inches in diameter. The size of those proceeding upward in the scale, diminishing until the tiny bells of the upper registers are reached. In selecting the repertoire due attention is paid to the selection of music which is really appropriate for bells. There is none of us but what has thought of the important place which bells play in our mental activities due to their association with so many epoch-marking events in our lives. Perhaps no contributor to our literature has so vividly brought out this fanciful use of bells as Edgar Allan Poe in his poem entitled "The Bells."

The feature which characterizes the programs of the Dunbar Quartet is the absolute blending of their programs into the complete whole. There is a consistency in these programs which have distinguished them among all Chautauqua attractions of the last double decade. No feature will be remembered longer than the beautiful chimes and harmonies which are introduced in their sacred selections.

Two Musical Centuries In An Evening

The concert of the Great Lakes String Quartet at the Chautauqua will be vitally interesting, not merely when viewed from its absolute musical excellence, but, taken from a historical and educational standpoint it comprises an evening of rare enjoyment for the music lover as well as the layman.

During the course of the recital the listeners are transported through more than two centuries of musical development, beginning back in the days of the classic school—a period which may be said to represent the time of materialism and philosophy in music. Then is introduced that period of charm and poetry, the romantic school of the nineteenth century, when Schumann, Schubert and Mendelssohn gave to the world their immortal works.

One of the acknowledged works of a great master, representing a certain musical period, is performed on every program, which in the latter part includes compositions of the modern and futuristic school of today. In these latter is disclosed the trend toward tone coloring, painting, fantastic description and vivid impression.

Many of the quaint, old-fashioned and charming melodies with which we are all familiar have been arranged for the quartet of strings, demonstrating in a delightful manner the beauties of the four instruments.

Although the program is of the highest artistic essence it is primarily planned to reach the heart of every one.

MCKENZIE SAYS IT PUT HIM ON THE JOB AGAIN

HALIFAX CITIZEN DECLARES
TANLAC ENTIRELY OVERCAME
STUBBORN STOMACH TROUBLE AND HELPED HIM MAKE BIG GAIN IN WEIGHT.

"Tanlac came to my rescue just in time for I was almost down and out from a case of stomach trouble of eight years standing," declared Richard McKenzie, 52 Longard Road, Halifax, N. S.

"My trouble started with indigestion. My food would turn sour in my stomach and hurt me so I had to go on a milk diet. I would bloat up with gas, terribly and seemed to have inflammation of the stomach for I had an awful burning sensation just below my breast bone. I also suffered from a dull pain across my back that hurt me so at night that many times I had to get up and pace the floor. I fell off to one hundred and thirty-two pounds and got so weak I had to lay off from work eight months.

"But the way Tanlac pulled me around was amazing. I soon had a good appetite and haven't had a bit of indigestion or pains since. I now weigh one hundred and ninety and am on the job every day. I'll be glad to tell everybody what a fine medicine Tanlac is."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

SWIM PREPARES TO ESCAPE

Woodstock, July 21—When Benny Swim, who was recently found guilty of murder in connection with the death of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Trenholm, was told by Sheriff Foster that the date of his execution was changed to September 15 by an order of the justice department, it made very little impression on the prisoner, who merely remarked, "the 15th of September is two months away." Apparently he gave the matter no further thought. Recent developments that have come to light would indicate that Swim was fully occupied along lines that concerned his escape from his place of confinement. In perfecting his plans he made confidants of two other prisoners who at once informed the sheriff of what was going on.

By some means Swim succeeded in getting a piece of iron plate from the cage which would let him into the outside corridor, where the night watch had a cot. It was his intention to knock the watchman out, take his keys and make a getaway.

According to the story told his companions he had his route all mapped out and intended going direct to a cabin in the dense woods some distance from his former home.

When searched a quantity of food was found in his pockets and he kept fully dressed, evidently awaiting a favorable chance to carry out his plans.
It is a question whether he could have squeezed through the window bars he had chosen for his final effort, but he intended to make an attempt. He was very angry when the discovery was made, and more so when extra precautions were taken to prevent any further attempts along this line.

The two young men who thwarted the whole plan are serving six months for a minor offence, and have completed about half their sentences.
Sheriff Foster is trying to have them released, as he feels they are deserving of some clemency for the information given him.

Swim never mentions his crime to anyone, but has always maintained that he is in jail for debt and intends swearing out. Since he got over his violent outburst shortly after his sentence, he keeps himself clean and tidy and gives the jail officials very little trouble.

Swim was condemned to hang on July 15, but the sentence was postponed to permit an examination as to his sanity.
