PRIVATE OWNERSHIP NOT A REMEDY

Sir Henry Thornton Says
Private Ownership of C. N.
R. Would Not Make It
Earn More.

Montreal, Oct. 6.—"If the Canadian National Railway could be transferred to private ownership, it would not earn one more dollar than it does today," said Sir Henry Thornton, president of the system, in an address here last night.

"The fact that it is a state owned institution is not the trouble at all," declared Sir Henry. "The whole difficulty is due to the fact that a decade or so ago, in an outburst of enthusiasm and perhaps some optimism, many more miles of railways were built in this country than there was any immediate necessity for. You cannot build railways in a new country and expect them to pay at once."

Sir Henry said he was convinced that too much mileage and too fast construction were responsible for the losses of the C. N. R. on its feet.

The speaker said a great and prosperous future for the Dominion and he described as "nonsensical" the stories in circulation about national disaster being just around the corner.

NEWCASTLE YOUTH ACCIDENTLY SHOT

Leroy Vye Found in Pasture
With a Bullet Through His Heart.

Newcastle, N. B., Oct. 5.—A very sad accident occurred Saturday evening around supper time, when Leroy Vye, adopted son of Mr. Addington Vye, was found fatally shot with a bullet through his heart. Early in the afternoon he started to town with a hoe and rifle to be repaired. Coming back at supper time he took a short cut to the pasture for his cows. The cows coming home and the boy not with them, his father got anxious and started with a lantern in search for him. A short distance from his home he was found lying on his back with the rifle by his side, shot through the heart. It is supposed he stumbled and the rifle discharging in some unknown way. He was 18 years of age and a son of Mrs. Bertha Vye.

The fall term of the Evening Classes in Vocational Training opened Tuesday With Attendance of 104—Motor Mechanics Class to Start Oct. 27.

The above registration is considered good but the hope expressed by the Director is that this number may be considerably increased. With the exception of the class in Typewriting, which is already up to the number which can be accommodated by present facilities, there is room for many more pupils and all those interested are urged to enroll.

The class in Motor Mechanics will not open until the 27th of October and it is hoped that many will take advantage of this and make arrangements to enroll for this branch of vocational work.

It is worthy of mention that with each successive term, evening study in vocational training is steadily gaining favor in Campbellton. It is fortunate that those attending the staff of teachers have always been eminently competent and doubtless this fact has been largely responsible for the success of vocational work here. With each year the opportunity, which awaits the ambitious student is also becoming more generally recognized.

Vocational Training is rapidly becoming a very important phase of our educational system and it is gratifying to know that Campbellton is appreciating more fittingly the advantages of this training here.

LOCAL BOY HERO IN FIRE ESCAPE

Young Clive Sansom Rescues
Car From Burning Garage At Doaktown—Wakens Party
Before Hotel Burns.

A somewhat unusual story of the escape of a party of Campbellton people from fire at Doaktown, in which young Clive Sansom figures as the hero, came to light this morning. The party consisting of Mr. Angus Dewar, Mr. and Mrs. Salmon of Atholville, Mr. Haylock, Sansom, and his son Clive, left on Friday morning last enroute to Fredericton. Reaching Doaktown that night they put up at the hotel, all being tired after the days run.

According to the story, young Clive was restless and could not sleep. About 2:30 he heard something that sounded like fire and on looking out of his window, discovered that the garage, in which their car was stored, was in flames. Without stopping to dress, Clive rushed down stairs and out to the garage. He found the building locked, but securing a heavy stick managed to break the lock, although burning his hand as he did so. The door swung open and Clive was met by a rush of hot smoke but feeling his way with difficulty, he got into the building. Releasing the brakes he gave the vehicle a push and it rolled out as easily as a baby carriage.

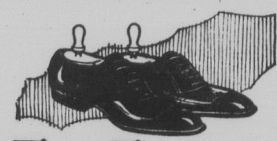

Having thus rescued the car, Clive then rushed back to the hotel and awakened the inmates. This was accomplished not too soon as a gasoline tank located

RAILWAY MAGNATES VISIT CHANDLER

American Railroad Men Enjoy Successful Hunt in That District.

Chandler, Que. Oct. 5.—Two millionaire railroad men, Messrs. Warfield and Miller from Baltimore, were here recently on a hunting trip. They travelled in Mr. Warfield's private car and this proved a source of interest for many people as it was equipped with the most modern appliances and luxuriously furnished throughout. On an extended expedition to the woods the visitors shot much game, amongst which was a very large moose.

While in Chandler Mr. Miller very generously donated $150.00 to the local hospital. They left last Tuesday for Baltimore.

OBITUARY

It was with feelings of profound sorrow that the public learned of the death of Miss Susie B. MacPherson, which sad event occurred Wednesday morning, September 23rd, at 4:30 o'clock after a prolonged illness at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. S. Harrison. The deceased lady, who was in her 49th year, was highly regarded and much esteemed, and her passing will be mourned by a large circle of friends, throughout this county, where she was well and favorably known.

She was a valuable member of the Presbyterian Church of Campbellton, always taking a keen interest in the work of the young people. The late Miss MacPherson was a most talented school teacher and had devoted some twenty-nine years of her life to the profession in this county. Her first charge being at Shannonville. She also taught at Head of the Tide, Blacklands, Dalhousie and Richardsville, and during her sojourn in Richardsville was influential in founding the little "Union Church," and never lost her interest in it. In 1915 the Campbellton School Board secured the valuable services of the Public Schools there and no teacher was more highly regarded and esteemed than Miss Susie B. MacPherson. She was beloved by all her pupils, and parents, particularly were most anxious to have their children under her care, having the absolute knowledge they were in most capable hands. Under her careful guidance the "School garden" was started in Campbellton, and which through her untiring work and leadership, proved a wonderful success and credit to the school.

Her long tedious illness was borne with true Christian fortitude, for she was never heard to complain. The funeral was held on Friday September 25th at 12:00 o'clock at the residence of her sister Mrs. S. S. Harrison, and was largely attended. The Campbellton teachers and many of her old pupils were present. The Rev. W. W. McNair conducted a very beautiful service. The choir of St. Andrew's United Church sang with great feeling the favorite hymns of the deceased "The Sands of Time are Sinking," "A Few More Years Shall Roll," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus".

The remains were laid to rest in the old family burying ground at New Mills. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Reid MacMillan, Edwin MacMillan, Donald MacLaughlin, Chas. Cook, Thomas Dickie and Albert Andrew.

Deceased was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacPherson of Charlottetown and leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate sister, two brothers, Alex. C. ANNIVERSARY OF MIRAMICHI FIRE

One Hundred Years Ago Entire
Miramichi District Fire Swept.

On the seventh of October 1925, the great and historic Miramichi fire swept through the whole district, destroying many lives and much property.

Wednesday was thus the hundredth anniversary of the Miramichi Fire. A reader of The Graphic has handed us a copy of the following letter, which was written by a resident of Miramichi to his brother in Ireland several months after the fire. We reproduce it because of its historical value at this particular time.

Miramichi, March 2nd, 1826.

My dear brother—

I have the painful and distressing task to inform you that the town of Newcastle, my residence, with all its property is destroyed. On the evening of the seventh of October the fire commenced from the woods which came with such dreadful violence accompanied with a hurricane that it showered down fire and sand so that it was with the greatest difficulty we escaped with our lives. I stopped as long as I could to save my books and papers and some other valuable articles, but the fire came so fast that we had to run for our lives and leave all behind except about sixty pounds in gold that I fortunately had in my pocket, which sum enables me to set up a bit of a place again. I bless God that our lives were saved although my little property is almost gone.

About eight o'clock in the afternoon a loud roaring was heard in the woods, and from the burnt substances still continuing to thicken the atmosphere, it was so dark that the flames could not be distinguished though they more than one mile from the distance. Immediately after the wind blew a hurricane, a roaring noise became more and more tremendous and seemed to the astonished people as if the earth had loosened from its ancient foundation. The hope of preserving life became the whole idea that presented itself to the horror-stricken people who fled in every direction. In about three minutes after the appearance of the flames their houses were all on fire the screams of the burnt and burning and the wounded mingled with the cries of domestic animals scorched and suffering from the heat. Men flying half naked, the sick of whom there were many from the epidemical fever, endeavoring to save their feeble frames that just had been at stake. Women with their infants all urging their way through the volume of smoke and fire. In fact no description can do justice to the horrors of those fatal moments.

Some of the people ran to the river side and plunged up to their necks in the water for safety, others betook themselves to rafts of timber, logs, canvas boats and scows and suffered themselves to drift at the mercy of the wind and tide without oars, sails or any other assistance to guide them, and ignorant whether they could find any asylum from the storm that blew death and havoc among them so that they sank in the treacherous waves never to rise. Many were obliged to fly from their beds with no covering but a blanket others partly dressed, and a few with all their clothes on. My wife and I happened to have our worst suits on though our clothes were estimated at 100 pounds.

The cattle were partly destroyed on the spot; part endeavoring to make their escape were burned in the river which was a mile broad at that place and some succeeded in swimming across.

Men, women and children were heard screaming in every direction, some rushing from the fire bemoaning the loss of their husbands, children, parents, brothers, wives, friends and residing at Chandler, Que. many suffering under the pain from the burns which they had received. It is briefly stated that more than 8,000 square miles of the forest was subjected to the flames and hurricane. The number of lives that were lost is supposed to be from 250 to 300.

CHANDLER MAN DROWNED IN ONT.

John McGrath, Aged 29, Lost
Life While Duck-Shooting
Near Iriquois Falls.

Chandler, Oct. 1.—A fatal drowning accident occurred on Sept. 16th, at Fredericton Lake House, Iriquois Falls, Ont. resulting in the death of John McGrath, aged 29 years, son of Mrs. Felix Fahey (nee Mrs. J. McGrath) of Chandler Que. Deceased was on a hunting trip with a party of friends. Seeing ducks on the lake, he ventured out alone and on firing the first shot lost his balance and fell into the water. Only one of the party witnessed the tragedy, the others being farther away in camp. Being unable to swim and only one boat on the lake he could not in any way assist his drowning companion where body was soon lost among the weeds.

The Pulp and Sulphite Union of which deceased was a member organized search parties and gave every help possible but it was a week before the body was recovered.

As soon as news of the accident reached them Mr. and Mrs. Fahey left for Iriquois Falls, where, on recovering the body a military ceremony was carried out, deceased being a veteran of the late war. They then brought the remains to Chandler. The funeral services took place at the Roman Catholic Church on Sept. 27th at 9 a. m. and were without doubt the largest witnessed here in years.

Deceased was married and leaves a wife and one child at Iriquois Falls, three sisters and two half brothers, all residing at Chandler, Que. The sisters are: Mrs. P. Senachal, Mrs. L. Roy and Mrs. LeGouffe, and the brothers are Messrs. George and Albert Fahey.

CANADIAN COURTESY.

According to Frank R. Kent, writing in the Baltimore Sun, Canada puts the United States to shame in the matter of courtesy. This side the boundary, he says, hotel clerks, waiters, stewards, transportation officials, etc., are considerate and thoughtful, and contrast sharply with their brethren, over the line, whose chief concern, he thinks, is to "hitch-hike" their customers.

This piece of news will come as a satisfying reminder that there is no sounder code of conduct than to be invariably courteous, not only on the part of those who come daily in contact with visitors from other countries in hotels and on trains as a matter of business, but on the part of all. The writer referred to came to Canada and was immediately impressed by the difference shown him by officials with whom he came in touch. They probably did no more than they ought to do, and very likely did not consciously exert themselves to be courteous.

Yet what a great deal of good was done by Canadian courtesy. Mr. Kent so favorably impressed that he went home again, and, being a journalist, wrote upon the subject to let as many as possible into his secret. Parts of this article were reprinted in other newspapers (the quotation at the beginning of this article was taken from a New York paper) and so many thousands read about Canadian courtesy and had their favorable interest directed to the Dominion. This is about the best form of advertising possible—and it costs nothing.

ADVERTISING AIDS BOTH.
Duck eggs are as edible as the egg of the chicken and are much larger but there is no market for duck eggs.

The explanation for this is given by the advertising man is that every time a chicken lays an egg she cackles all over the barnyard, proclaiming her product to the world, but the duck lays her egg in seclusion and makes no noise about it.

Business is like the egg. Some merchants advertise their goods and sell them. Other merchants do no advertising and, consequently, little business. The wise merchant, when he receives a shipment of goods which he knows the public wants does not whisper the event down in a bottomless well. He comes boldly forth in the newspaper pages and heralds his wares. When the general store filled every mercantile need in the embryo communities there may not have been much need for advertising. Only the bare necessities were obtainable and that has been changed. There has been specialization in business just as there has been in labor, the professions and industry and specialization has brought competition and expansion.

The inevitable outcome of the evolution, or revolution, of business has been the realization by both merchant and customer that advertising is as necessary to modern business as service. In fact the consistent advertising of its goods in the newspaper is a part of the service of every modern store which aims to serve the public.

THE POWER OF WOMEN
Although Christopher Columbus is given the credit for the discovery of America, it was a woman who had the faith to look beyond the superficial beliefs of the age and to see the possibilities which brilliant men had rejected as impossibilities. Had it not been for Queen Isabella of Spain, Columbus might never have had the ships with which he crossed the ocean. Behind nearly every great event in history may be found the hand of a woman, if one but searches for it. Woman to-day is but taking her place openly at the pools and in the legislative bodies of this and other countries and exerting her influence directly when before she exercised it indirectly. More and more will her hand come to shape the policies of nations, and the world will be better for it.

TRUE POLITENESS

A woman who tipped the scales at well over 200 pounds slipped on a banana skin in a grocery store, and then subsided into a crate of eggs. The storekeeper hastened to assist her to arise.

"I hope I have not broken them," she said.

"Not at all, madam," the polite storekeeper replied, "they're only a little bent."

SO THERE!

"Why did you break off your engagement?"
"Oh, my dear, Jack became simply impossible. He criticized the way I dressed and objected to my friends, and always wanted me at his beck and call. Then on top of all that he suddenly went off and married another girl, so I made up my mind to have nothing more to do with him."

RARE DISCOVERY IN QUEBEC PROVINCE

Fossil Fish Claimed to Be a Hundred Million Years Old.

This "old province of Quebec" has no conception of its advanced age, according to Prof. A. S. Romer, of the University of Chicago, who has just returned from the Gaspé Peninsula with some fossil fish, which he claims are from fifty to a hundred million years old. They are five times the age of the well known dinosaur and probably swam the waters many decades before the appearance of animals on land, says the professor.

The excavator unearthed the fossil of the French fish with some of its muscle still attached to the bone. The discovery, characterized as rare by Prof. Romer, is explained as due to the fact that the fish probably died up in a mud flat before it was covered by centuries of debris and before it had a chance to rot. A relative of this species still lives in Africa, Prof. Romer declared.

The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted

By DOROTHY A. F. MARCELL

Copyright, 1925 Warner Bros. Picture Inc.

"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" with Irene Rich is a pictureization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

It is Bob Manning's twenty-first birthday. In the morning he has gone to his parents' bedroom and received the congratulations of father and mother while the former arranged his necktie. While he is there he hears a long drawn "ooo hee" and rushes out to be greeted by Marjorie Patterson, their neighbor's daughter. She is at the top of a ladder against the wall separating the two properties and Bob climbs up a ladder on the Manning's side.

"Bob, it's your birthday, isn't it?" she demanded eagerly.

"But it's more fun guessing," she pleaded with a look which might have bewitched a saint.

"Oh, well," he condescended, but when he had chosen both hands in succession and evoked nothing better than a tantalizing giggle, he grew suspicious. "You're switching—that's what you're doing."

Caught red handed in her villainy, she finally produced a package and handed it to him.

Sure of it now, he inspected the dainty parcel with the slowness of one who delights in prolonging anticipation.

"If you're sure," she urged, "and when he failed to act, in her eagerness reached forth and snatched the string, to draw forth a long, crocheted bag which she dangled before his eyes with pride.

"What is it?" he demanded wonderingly.

"That's for your golf clubs—I crocheted it myself."

"Golf clubs?" Surely Bob's heart was of adamant for he burst into laughter.

"You don't like it?"

"Ah, there was a tender spot in Bob's breast. Touched by her hurt tones and the disappointment in her eyes, his mind shifted.

"It's all right."

"You are sure you really like it?" she persisted, half convinced.

"Certainly, it's splendid."

"Well then," said Marjorie boldly but stricken with something like a blush, "Seeing it's your birthday, I suppose you can kiss me."

"Kiss you?" Here was surprise when there should have been eagerness. Further the alacrity with which a fond lover should have grasped the opportunity to taste the savor of so sweet a maiden's lips was

NERVOUS BREAK-DOWN

Pains in Back and Legs Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ford, Ontario.—"I had a nervous break-down, as it is called, with severe pains in my back and legs, and with fainting spells which left me very weak. I was nervous and could not sleep nor eat as I should and spent much time in bed. I was in this state, more or less, for over two years before Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me by my neighbor. Before I had taken five doses I was sitting up in bed, and when the first bottle was taken I was out of bed and able to walk around the house. During my sickness I had been obliged to get some one to look after my home for me, but thanks to the Vegetable Compound I am now able to look after it myself. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine in turn with the Vegetable Compound, and I certainly recommend these medicines to any one who is not enjoying good health. I am quite willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. SHEPHERD, 180 Joe Janisse Avenue, Ford, Ontario.

Nervousness, irritability, painful thrusts, run-down features and weakness are symptoms to be noted. Women suffering from these troubles, which they so often have, should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. All druggists sell this medicine.

STREET CAR KILLED GEORGE E. MOIR

Former Resident of Campbellton Went to Detroit a Few Years Ago.

Many friends on the North Shore and elsewhere in New Brunswick regret to hear that George E. Moir, a former resident of Campbellton was accidentally killed a few days ago in Detroit. A telegram to G. Wetmore Merritt, St. John, from the Great West Life representatives in that city, brought the news. Mr. Moir when in this province was on the Great West staff and was particularly well known on the North Shore. He was a man of 55 years of age, and went to Detroit four or five years ago, being deeply interested in aeronautics. He was a widower and is survived by one daughter. The message to Mr. Merritt said only that he was killed by a street car. No particulars of the accident were given. It will be remembered that Mr. Moir patented several devices for aeroplanes while residing here.

Quality

The most urgent requirement in Canada's Agricultural Products

CANADA produces every year large quantities of wheat, oats, barley, butter, cheese, bacon, beef, eggs, apples, potatoes, grass seed and clover seed that she cannot consume. Her natural outlet for these products is, of course, Great Britain—the one great consuming country of the world with an open market.

Unfortunately, nearly every other country with any surplus of food products seems to want to send its surplus to this same market.

The keenness of the competition on this, our only market, and the energy and resourcefulness of our competitors began to impress themselves upon the Department of Agriculture some time ago, but it is only within very recent years that the real and only way to grapple with this problem has been discovered, or at least put into effect. This Department now believes, as do also most of the farmers of this country, that the "grading" of our agricultural products is the policy and practice that is seeing us through the struggle and will assure us of our rightful place on the British market.

"Grading" means the classifying of products, whether they be hogs, butter, cheese, eggs or anything else, into what might be called in a general way "BEST," "GOOD," "FAIR" and "POOR" classes.

These exact grades are not used in describing the grades, but that is what is meant. The purpose served in grading is threefold—

(1) Educational. When the producer sees the relative quality of his product he is spurred on to maintain that quality if it is the "best" or to improve the quality where necessary.

(2) Fair Play. When products are graded the value of his product for various reasons often brings as much as the superior article, and the credit and advantage of putting the superior product on the market is lost to the one who really deserves it.

(3) Facilitating Trade. The dealer learns to have confidence in the article he is buying and buys more freely, because it is guaranteed by grading, and gradually everybody gets to know what the "best" article really looks like or tastes like. In short, grading brings about standardization and ensures to the producer the best price.

Canada now grades her cereals, grass seeds, hay, potatoes, apples, eggs, butter, cheese, wool and bacon hogs. The results have been in every case beneficial and in some cases quite markedly so, even though the grading system has been in effect in some cases for only two or three years, thus—

Cheese—Grading began April 1st, 1923. Canadian cheese the year before had fallen into such disfavor on the British market that New Zealand cheese was quite commonly preferred. Today Canadian cheese commands cents per pound higher than New Zealand.

Butter—Grading began same time as for cheese. The reputation of our butter was then indeed at low ebb. Canadian butter today, while not the best on the market, is rapidly improving in quality and gaining in reputation.

Hogs—Over two years ago the Department of Agriculture began to grade live hogs at the packing houses and stock yards. The 10% premium paid by the packers for "select" bacon hogs as against "thick smooth" has done wonders to improve the quality of our hogs and develop the bacon industry.

Best Canadian bacon, which ordinarily was quoted two years ago from 10 to 12 cents per pound, is now quoted from 14 to 16 cents per pound.

For further information and publications write
DOMINION DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, OTTAWA

Quality is thus the first objective for the Canadian exporter. It is the only way to secure a regular supply. It is along these lines the Department of Agriculture is working by educational methods, and the result of this policy is seen in the growing volume of Canada's agricultural exports. Look at these figures—

Father John's Medicine Is Made Under Watchful Care of Experts

At the laboratory, where Father John's Medicine is made in Montreal, and in Lowell Mass., very high standards are maintained in every department.

The various ingredients are subjected to most exacting tests and are then prepared under the watchful eye of experts who have had years of experience in making what has come to be recognized as the greatest body builder.

Father John's Medicine is a scientific blending of cod liver oil with other ingredients by means of specially designed apparatus.

The preparation is untouched by human hands from the opening of the original containers until the bottle cap is sealed in place by automatic machines.

Years of study and research have been devoted to developing the process of compounding and, while the formula remains unchanged, its method of preparation has been so improved that it stands today as the finest blending of cod liver oil and other ingredients obtainable.

It is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form.

To the Electors of Restigouche-Madawaska:

I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for having nominated me candidate as opposed to the present administration at Ottawa.

Conscious of the fact, as are all the Electors of this electoral district of both parties, that the two northern counties of New Brunswick are deserving of, on account of their importance in the Maritime Provinces to-day, special consideration and that during the term of the present representative nothing has been secured for Restigouche County and very little for Madawaska, I will, if elected, with all my energy endeavor to see that the interests and desires of both these counties receive the consideration to which they are entitled.

I am a "Maritime Righter" and will bring the influence of Restigouche-Madawaska behind the cause of Maritime rights.
