JUST BE PATIENT!

Lord Roberts Says the Government Is Making Every Effort to End the Boer War---Enemy in Cape Colony.

London, Oct. 10.—Earl Roberts, commander-in-chief of his majesty's forces, conferred medals at Liverpool on Tuesday upon soldiers who had returned from South Africa. In the course of an address to the troops he referred to the newspaper outcry against the prolongation of the war. He assured his hearers that every effort was being made by the generals in South Africa, the war office and the government to hasten the end. Gen. Kitchener, in whom he had explicit confidence, had not made a single demand which had not been complied with immediately. This would be continued.

Earl Roberts in conclusion declared that the anxiety was without cause, and he appealed to the nation to have patience.

THE WEEK'S RESULTS.

London, Oct. 9—In his weekly report to the war office, dated Pretoria, yesterday, Lord Kitchener says that since his last report, 50 Boers have been killed, 26 wounded, 244 taken prisoners, and there have been 60 surrenders. Lord Kitchener adds: "Gen. (F. W.) Kitchener was engaged on Sunday, near Vryheid, with the enemy who were trying to move north. Gen. Bruce Hamilton was also engaged. The results of these fights have not been reported. Fetherstonehaugh and Methuen are moving against Delarey's and Kemp's commandos, which he scattered since the attack on Kekewich at Moedwill."

ENEMY IN CAPE COLONY.

Lord Kitchener locates five Boer mandos in Cape Colony. These, he says, are being pursued by the British columns, and are engaged almost daily.

MARTIAL LAW.

Cape Town, Oct. 9.—The Gazette proclaims martial law in the districts of Cape Town, Wynberg, Simonstown, Port Elizabeth and East London. The proclamation is the outcome of the recent visit of the premier of Cape Colony, Sir John Gordon Sprigg, and the under secretary of native affairs in South Africa, J. Rose Innes, to the British high commissioner, Lord Milner.

It places under military control the few points in Cape Colony hitherto exempted, and the constitution therefore is now suspended over the entire colony.

VIGOROUS MEASURES.

The action taken probably foreshadows the commencement of vigorous measures which those on the spot are understood to believe necessary to end the war.

Martial law will be modified in its application to the ports, by leaving the docks, railroads and harbors under the control of the civil authorities. Military rule will be mitigated in other respects.

HE'S ALIVE.

Sydney, N. S., Oct. 9.—A letter was received here last night from John H. Cameron, of Mabou, C. B., now with the South African Constabulary, at Bloemfontein. Cameron was reported as having died last May. He says the country is clear of Boers, who are retiring to their farms and other vocations.

THE NEWS IS FAVORABLE!

King Edward Decides to Follow the Example of the Late Queen Victoria

And Let People Know What Is Going On at Court---Rumors of His Ill-Health Exaggerated---The Ameer's Warning Words.

New York, Oct. 10.—London advices to the Tribune say: The King has been forced by adverse rumors respecting his health to follow Queen Victoria's example, and allow the public to know what is going on at court. The news is favorable and tends to discredit the alarming rumors current last week.

WARNING WORDS.

At the death bed of Abdur Rahman Khan, late ameer of Afghantistan, all the nobles present swore allegiance to his son and successor, Habibulla Khan, and to the British. Before his death the old ameer warned the Afghans against the Russians. He said his spirit would remain in this country, though his soul was going to God. There is no panic in India over the death of the ameer, as it is known that his heir, Habibulla Khan, is pro-English. The India office has received official confirmation of the report of the death of the ameer of Afghanistan.

TWENTY CHINESE REBELS BEHEADED.

Chinese troops have defeated the rebels in the Kaiyingehow district. Twenty of the rebels who were captured were beheaded. Three German missionaries who had been missing were found by the troops.

A RUSSIAN VIEW.

"It is regarded here as certain that there will be an outbreak of civil war in Afghanistan," says a dispatch from St. Petersburg to the London Daily Mail, "arising from the claims of the fourth son of the late ameer, Mohammed Uller Khan, who is favored by Russia." Telegrams were sent to Kush today, ordering large reinforcements of Russian troops along the frontier to be in readiness if necessary to seize Herat.

EMBARGO ON CANADIAN CATTLE

Replying to an influential delegation, representing Scottish agricultural interests, the president of the Edinburgh board of agriculture, Mr. Hanbury, said that so long as he was president of the board he would never consent to the removal of the restrictions on the importation of Canadian cattle.

DIDN'T PASS IN ENGLAND!

A Canadian with a degree of Bachelor of Medicine, from Toronto University, now in England, having spent a year at the front in South Africa as sergeant in the Canadian artillery, recently offered his services to the war office, mentioning as his qualifications that he was a graduate in medicine from Toronto University, and had seen active service. The war office politely rejected the offer, on the ground that his medical degree had not been taken in England.

A prominent British officer expressed the opinion today that the training record of cadets at the Canada Royal Military College was superior to that given by the British military colleges. He declared that the cadets from Canada were exceptionally well grounded.

DISASTER AVERTED.

A singular accident, which may possibly throw light on the loss of the torpedo boat destroyer Cobra recently, has just occurred to the torpedo boat destroyer Crane. While she was on her way from Portsmouth to Portland, the engine hands noticed that her deck beams were buckling amidships. The destroyer immediately returned at full speed to Portsmouth. An examination showed that there had been imminent danger of another disaster such as befel the Cobra.

THREATENED THE POPE.

Glavinovitch, the anarchist arrested at Rome recently, after having been heard to threaten the lives of the pope and of Cardinal Rampolla, pontifical secretary of state, has been sentenced to a fortnight's imprisonment for carrying deadly weapons, and then to be deported to his home in Dalmatia.

MISS STONE'S CAPTORS.

Constantinople, Oct. 10.—The surrounding movement of Turkish and Bulgarian troops on the mountain at Gueltepe on the Turko-Bulgarian frontier, near Dubnitza, has commenced. The presence of Miss Stone and the bandits on the mountain is confirmed. The inhabitants of Dubnitza are supplying the outlaws with food.

ST. THOMAS GIRL MURDERED!

Three Children Burned to Death at Home.

Tilsonburg Corn Husker Hurt—Disastrous Explosion—Numerous Casualties.

ST. THOMAS GIRL MURDERED (?)

St. Thomas, Oct. 9.—The Journal this morning received the following dispatch from the Daily Press of Pontiac, Mich.:

"Pontiac, Mich., Oct. 9.—Wire information promptly at our expense about Lizzie Jeffries or Lizzie Payne. She worked at Birmingham, Mich., last spring. She is about 25 years old. She disappeared five months ago. The body of a murdered woman was found Saturday at Royal Oak, this county, and is thought to be hers. Her family is thought to live in St. Thomas."

Diligent inquiries have been made, but so far it has been impossible to locate the woman.

TILSONBURG CORN HUSKER HURT.

Tilsonburg, Oct. 10.—Eugene Russel, a young farmer, about three miles from Tilsonburg, was the victim of a singular accident on Tuesday. Mr. Russel owns a corn husker of the newest design, which blows the pieces of broken stalks and ears through the high top into the upper part of the silo. Mr. Russell, in trying to remove a long stalk caught in the machine, got too near the fan and had the fingers of his right hand torn away. His physician expects to be able to save the thumb, but the fingers and most of the hand are gone.

THREE CHILDREN PERISH.

Omer, Mich., Oct. 9.—The residence of G. Peters, at Santiago, 12 miles north of this village, was burned last night. The family were asleep when the flames broke out. Peters managed to get his wife from the burning building, but not before she was seriously burned. Although badly burned himself, he entered the house to try and save his three children, who had been cut off by the fire. He tried repeatedly, but his efforts were fruitless. The three children were burned to death.

ACCIDENTS AT TORONTO.

Francisco Gionna, while crossing the car tracks, was struck, and had his shoulder dislocated. Madie Thompson, a young woman, had her back injured by falling between two cars. She will likely recover.

WITH AN AIR-GUN.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 10.—Mrs. McQueen, 92 Hunter street, was shot in the fleshy part of the arm yesterday while working in her kitchen. A neighbor boy with an air-gun did the deed, and had it not been for a cape Mrs. McQueen had on it would have been more serious.

BODIES RECOVERED.

Prescott, Ont., Oct. 10.—The bodies of the two men who were drowned Saturday night were recovered yesterday about ten feet above Buckle's dock. Their names are Jas. Honeey, of Ogdensburg, and A. Adlais, of Ottawa, both married men.

New York, Oct. 9.—Melvin A. Heilbrun, of Boston, jumped or fell from a window on the eleventh floor of the Herald Square Hotel this morning and was instantly killed. Manager Saunders, of the hotel, said that Heilbrun had frequently stopped there and was known to have complained of cramps. He believed that the man had been taken with cramps and gone to the window and fallen out.

Boston, Oct. 9.—Melvin H. Heilbrun, proprietor of a ladies' furnishing goods store at 180 Tremont street, this city, lived in Brookline. Nothing was known of the Heilbrun store to throw light on the death of the man. He went to New York on business.

THE ROYAL TRAIN

Superb Moving Castle in Which the Duke and Duchess Are Traversing Canada From Ocean to Ocean.

A contrast between the stage coach of our grandfathers and the superb royal train in which the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York are traveling Canada today is a timely illustration of the remarkable progress made in the last few years in the method and manner of transportation. This train, constructed for the royal party by the Canadian Pacific Railway, consists of nine coaches in all—a train 730 feet in length and weighing 795 tons. It has well been pronounced by a magazine writer "a marvel of elegance—the interior a revelation of the possibilities of luxury and comfort of modern railway travel." The car "Cornwall" shows the reception room, and is magnificently paneled in Circassian walnut, and carrying with it the look of extreme richness, and is all admirable taste. Built especially for the duke and duchess, and in design and architecture to conform with the surroundings of the reception room, is a beautiful upright piano in Circassian walnut, made by the old firm of Heintzman & Co., a tribute to the enterprise and superior ability of this old and progressive firm of pianomakers. All the appointments of the reception-room make it a picture of real elegance, and we can understand the intelligent curiosity of the Canadian people to see for themselves the royal train as it speeds it way from city to city.

London warerooms of Heintzman & Co., are at 217 Dundas street.

GREETED AT RAT PORTAGE.

Pretty Night Demonstration as the Royal Party Passed.

Bonfires and Torches Lighted the Way—The Trip to Toronto—Fine Appearance of the Militia, Including London's Seventh—Review Rehearsed.

Schreiber, Ont., Oct. 9.—The special trains of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall are again on the north shore of Lake Superior on the long run through Ontario. They reached Fort William at 6 o'clock this morning, and when the engines and crews were changed were away again for Schreiber, the next divisional point. There was a pretty night demonstration at Rat Portage, where bonfires and torches lighted up the depot grounds. The duke and duchess appeared on the platform of their car and gracefully acknowledged the demonstration. The royal specials leave the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway at North Bay tomorrow and run to Toronto over the Grand Trunk, making several stops as they run down.

AROUSED SUSPICION.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 9.—A man who was hovering about North street depot this evening was taken by some of the officials for an anarchist. He was making inquiries about the duke's arrival. He said he was from Chicago, and had an important mission to perform. He was arrested by the police, but further inquiry proved him to be an ex-British soldier, and he was then released.

FINE-LOOKING REGIMENTS.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—All the military units which will pass in review before the duke and duchess on Friday were put through the royal maneuvers in front of the Industrial Fair grand stands at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Fully 8,000 soldiers lined up for drill and inspection. The city corps were not out in complete strength, but represented by markers, who scattered themselves over a space equal to that which the full regiment would occupy.

After the general in command had cast a critical eye over the small army spread out before him, he took up a prominent position, and there watched the different corps march past.

"What corps is that?" asked Gen. O'Grady-Haly, as a scarlet-coated regiment passed before him at the rehearsal this afternoon.

"The Seventh, sir," replied a staff officer.

"It's all right," was the commander's laconic rejoinder. Words of praise for the Forty-second Lanark and Renfrew followed the pithy laudation.

The Twenty-sixth, Middlesex, has been generally conceded to be the smartest rural regiment down here, although there are many corps eagerly striving to win this distinction.

A PRELIMINARY REVIEW.

The infantry taking part in the rehearsal were divided into two divisions, the first being under Col. W. D. Otter, and the second commanded by Col. Buchan, C.M.G. In the former the two brigades were composed of the following units: First—7th Fusiliers, 10th Royal Grenadiers, Governor-General's Foot Guards, 21st Essex and the 68th Highlanders. Second—Q. O. R., 13th (Hamilton), 37th (Haldimand), 36th (Peel), 12th (York Rangers), and a composite regiment made up of the 19th (St. Catharines) and the 44th (Lincoln and Welland.)

The two brigades of the second division included the following battalions: First—14th P. of W. Rifles, 15th Argyle Light Infantry, 42nd (Lanark and Renfrew), 43rd (Ottawa and Carleton), 45th Victoria, 46th Durham and 57th Peterboro Rangers. Second—Oxford Rifles, 26th Middlesex, 27th Lambton, 30th Wellington, 22nd Bruce and 33rd Huron.

The cavalry brigade was commanded by Col. Lessard and made up as follows: Governor-General's Body Guards, First Hussars, Second Dragoons, 48th Hussar, 60th Dragoon Guards, Toronto Mounted Rifles.

The two batteries were brigaded together under Col. Drury, and four bearer companies joined anoter brigade.

This morning and evening the London soldiers, with the exception of those on guard or picket duty, had nothing at all to do. They spent their leisure time in wandering around the down-town district.

TORONTO EN FETE.

A press dispatch from Toronto says: The royal party is still speeding along the north shore of Lake Superior, but already the city is en fete. The streets were thronged with great crowds today, and soldiers are everywhere in evidence. The royal reception choir gave a rehearsal in front of the hall tonight and was enjoyed by thousands. The electrical display is something gorgeous. J. J. Wright, of the Toronto Electric Light Company, says that 50,000 extra lights are in use for this display, which is on the grandest scale of anything ever attempted in Canada before. The streets tonight look like those of a garrison city in England. Brilliant uniforms are seen and the clank of swords is heard everywhere.

PASSED NORTH BAY.

North Bay, Ont., Oct. 10.—The vice-regal and royal trains passed through here this morning on the way to Toronto. The vice-regal train arrived at 5:31, in charge of Conductor J. L. Hughes, and departed via the G. T. R. at 5:57 in charge of Conductor J. Wallace. The royal train arrived at 6 a.m. in charge of Conductor D. Cameron; departed via the Grand Trunk at 6:37 in charge of Conductoir C. E. Storey.

The arrival and departure of both trains passed off very quietly, the only moving about apparent on board of either train was around the dining-cars in the preparing of breakfast. The first train is made up of 11 cars, and the second of 10 cars, and each train is drawn by two engines.

THE GLOAMING OF LIFE'S DAY.

Two Happy Couples Who Were Wedded Fifty Years Ago.

Aged Bridesmaid and Groomsman Join in Wedding Festivities at St. Marys.

Half a century ago yesterday Mr. and Mrs. John Webster were married in Toronto, says the St. Marys Journal today. Last evening the 50th anniversary of their wedding day was celebrated at their residence on Water street. Mr. Webster was a sprightly young man of 30 and his bride a bright young woman of 22 years in October, 1851. The years have left their traces, but this estimable old couple are still vigorous and able to enjoy an age of ease.

Fifty years ago Mrs. Burnett, of London, and Mr. A. A. Brodie, of Gladstone, were bridesmaid and groomsman respectively, at the wedding ceremony of Mr. and Mrs. Webster. They, too, are, after 50 years, able to join in the golden wedding anniversary celebration, and were both present last evening.

There was a fine supper, and guests toasted the bride and groom of half a century since. There were wishes expressed by wedding guests 50 years ago for a long, happy and prosperous life for Mr. and Mrs Webster. Surely these wishes have been realized, and it is the hope of their host of friends in St. Marys and vicinity that many more years remain for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster are Scotch, both natives of Aberdeenshire, and came to Canada about 1842. They met in Markham, and after marriage lived there for several years, where three of their sons were born. In 1857 the family moved to Blanshard to the old homestead on the West Mitchell road, where their son, Mr. George B. Webster, now lives. Only two years since they became residents of St. Marys.

They have a family of six sons and three daughters. All of whom, with the exception of Rev. Dr. C. A. Webster, of the American Methodist College, Bayreuth, Palestine, were home for the celebration. Beside the son mentioned above the members of the family are, George B. Webster, Blanshard; Wm. and J. L. Webster, St. Marys; Dr. J. D. Webster, East Toronto; Dr. F. W. Webster, Philadelphia; Misses Helen, St. Marys, Florence, Belmont, and Miss Lily, Philadelphia.

Besides guests from town there were visitors also present from St. Thomas, London, Gladstone, Chatham, Goderich, Toronto, Florence, Philadelphia, Stouffville and Detroit.

Mrs. Webster still has a number of the wedding presents which old friends of 50 years since gave her on the occasion of her marriage. These were displayed last evening, and along with them were some handsome presents in memory of the golden event just celebrated. The Journal joins Mr. and Mrs. Webster's host of friends in wishing them many more happy returns of their wedding day.

MR. AND MRS. SIMPSON THOMPSON.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson Thompson, of 628 Princess avenue, recently celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding. On this occasion, besides a host of friends, there were present, four daughters, four sons, thirty-five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were presented with a purse of $70 in gold. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have lived in London continuously since 1836. Mr. Thompson was for many years hide inspector. Both he and Mrs. Thompson are in good health and their host of friends wish them many more years of happiness.

Loss of Flesh and Weight

An Indication of Wasting Disease, of Exhausting Nerve Force and Declining Strength and Vitality.

Note Your Weight and Test the Flesh-Forming, Tissue-Building Effects of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food—The Results Will Surprise You.

Can you imagine a more severe test of any preparation than that of adding firm flesh and increasing the weight of the body? It is possible, of course, to add fat by the use of fish oils, but the tissues created by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are firm and natural. The blood is thoroughly enriched, and the nerve force replenished. Pallor and weakness give place to a healthy complexion and the strength of mind and body. Languor and discouragement are driven out to make way for vigor, new hope, and confidence.

It might be worth your while to make a test of this great food cure as a builder of flesh and muscle. Note your weight when beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and watch the gradual increase week by week. At first the increase may be slight owing to the wasting process, which must be stopped. Then, naturally and certainly, the whole system is built up and perfect health and vitality restored to every part of the body.

Mr. A. R. Fawcett, the well-known editor and proprietor of the Leader and Recorder, Toronto Junction, writes: "It is very seldom that I need medicine of any description, but this spring I got so badly run down and out of sorts generally that I became somewhat alarmed. Chancing to read a testimonial about the results derived from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, from a gentleman whose case seemed to be identical with my own, I purchased a box and commenced using it.

"The result was simply marvelous. I was benefited from the first, and soon restored to my usual good health. I never felt better in my life than I do now. To tell the simple truth, I did not have any great faith in any medicine until I used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, but now I have no hesitation in strongly recommending this great remedy to others as a valuable and effective remedy."

FAMILY STRUCK BY FAST TRAIN.

One Child Killed, Rest of the Party Severely Injured.

Forest, Ont., Oct. 9.—This evening, as Joseph McKay, his wife and two children, of Plympton, were driving out of Forest in a buggy, they were struck by the Grand Trunk express. One child was killed and the others were all badly injured.

DON'T HURT SOME

But Coffee Certainly Ruins Some of the Most Highly Organized People.

"One yeair I lived where the water was bitter with iron and I could not bear to drink it, so I began drinking coffee three times a day.

"Gradually I noticed an uncomfortable feeling in my stomach, and more or less constipation. In a few months I began to lie awake at nights long after I had retired.

"This increased until I never thought of going to sleep before 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, and then only after getting out of bed and walking the floor for an hour.

"I was talking of my nervous state with a friend, who suggested that perhaps it was the coffee I had been using. She felt quite sure it was, and stated that coffee would not stay on her stomach at all. But as she felt she must have a hot drink for breakfast, she had been using Postum Food Coffee. She said she didn't like Postum particularly well, and at breakfast the next morning I didn't wonder, when I tasted the flat drink that the servant brought on.

"The same day I was invited to take dinner with another friend, Mrs. Foster. I had visited her often before, and knew she made delicious coffee, so when she asked how I liked her coffee, said 'It is just as fine as usual.' She invited me to have another cup, but I said, 'I would not dare to take the second.' 'Oh, you can drink as many cups of this as you like: it won't hurt you. This is Postum Food Coffee. We have been using it a year now, and the little children have all they want, and our family has never been as healthy as in the past year.' 'Postum,' said I, doubtfully, 'why, the Postum I had this morning didn't taste any more like this than dish water.' 'Perhaps it was not made right,' said my friend, 'I have known more than one person to be turned away from Postum because it was poorly made. There is no secret in it; only allow it to boil long enough to bring out the taste, and there you are.' I have been using Postum since, and am entirely cured of my trouble. I cannot say too much for it." Grace A. Foster, Omaha, Neb.

With only one exception, the glaciers of Switzerland are diminishing steadily. Since 1876 the Rhone glacier has decreased in length at the rate of over 31 yards a year.

To make a dessert that will be easily digested by the weakest stomach, take a teaspoonful of Dr. Price's Rennet Wine to a pint of warm, fresh milk, set aside to cool, and you have a delicious curd which can be eaten plain or with cream or jelly. You can get it at Scandrett Bros., grocers. Directions in detail both for making and serving on each bottle. 25 cents.

PROCLAMATION

To All Whom These Presents May Concern:

Whereas, their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York have been graciously pleased to accept the invitation of the Municipal Council to visit this city during their itinerary in the Dominion of Canada;

And whereas, in consequence of the extremely limited time of their sojourn here, namely, between the hours of 12:13 and 1:30 o'clock p.m., on the 12th day of October instant, it is desirable that all citizens and others concerned should be afforded the most ample opportunity to see the Royal Party.

THESE ARE THEREFORE TO MAKE KNOWN:

That, by direction of the Municipal Council, I, Frederick George Rumball, Mayor, do hereby request all people desirous of witnessing the Royal Procession to observe as far as possible the following suggestions:

(a) Avoid assembling in great numbers at corners of the streets, as the crossings will be required by the military authorities.

(b) As the roadway will be occupied almost entirely by the Royal carriages and their military escort, the people are requested to occupy the sidewalks and adjoining spaces as evenly as possible along the streets traversed.

(c) It is most desirable, owing to the very short line of march, that there should be no attempt to either precede or follow the Royal procession, and all citizens and other concerned are requested to be satisfied with one view of same, and avoid rushing to any other place along the route, as it is greatly feared that such action would lead to injury, and possibly fatal accidents.

(d) From the hour of 11 o'clock till after the departure of the Royal Party, the streets selected for route of procession will be placed in charge of the military and police authorities, and all traffic thereon will be stopped, and all persons in charge of street cars, carriages, bicycles or vehicles of whatever kind are requested not to drive on or across any of the said streets; and otherwise, as far as possible, aid in keeping same open for the uninterrupted enjoyment of our Royal guests.

(e) It is requested that all citizens, especially those along the streets traversed by the Royal party, will decorate their residences and places of business on the said 12th day of October, and render such other assistance as may be in their power to the Council and committee of citizens which have the reception in charge.

(f) Citizens and others interested are requested to observe that the boulevards and sidewalks on Dufferin avenue, Waterloo street and Princess avenue, immediately adjoining the Collegiate Institute, are reserved exclusively for use of the school children of the city, and that all others will be prohibited from occupying any portion thereof.

(g) Manufacturers and others employing labor are requested to close their works, shops, offices or places of business at the hour of 10:30 a.m., and keep same closed until after the departure of the Royal Party; and I hereby proclaim Saturday, the 12th instant, between the hours above mentioned, a public holiday.

In witness whereof I have caused this Proclamation to be made public at London this 8th day of October, A.D. 1901.

Said sale I will make at the front door of the court house, Taylorsville, on Monday, said day being County Court day for said county, at 2 o'clock p.m. Said sale will be for cash to the highest bidder.

J. B. BUCKNER, S. S.

The law under which the sale was made was passed in 1795, and aimed at stopping gambling as much as vagrancy. The sale of Lewis was typical of a Kentucky County Court day auction. The auctioneer, a man past middle life, stood on the old court house steps.

"Gentlemen," he cried, "come right up heah; I'm a-goin' to do something which many of you have never seen, and which some of you have forgot. I'm a-goin' to do something I haven't done for thirty-six years. I'm a-goin' to sell a nigger. As I just said a minute ago, I haven't seen one sold in thirty-six years. I saw plenty of it before the war.

"Now, gentlemen, by order of the Spencer County Court, I'm a-goin' to sell Sye Lewis, of color, to the highest and best bidder for a term of nine months. I'm told by the Sheriff that Sye Lewis cannot be found, so I'm instructed to sell the nigger a-runnin'. Now, I want you gentlemen to understand that we are responsible for the nigger until we deliver him into yoh hands befoh this court house door. I forgot to say that I don't believe he has any blemishes on him, except a carbuncle on his neck. I can guarantee that he is not string-haltered or ewe-necked.

"Now, gentlemen, we have heard all the terms of the sale. Someone give me a bid on Sye Lewis and start him along.

"Gentlemen, gentlemen, you ain't a-goin' to let me go without a bid on a big, strong, able-bodied nigger? Why, I've seen the day when they brought good money sold right here on this stone."

"I'll give you $2," cried several in the crowd. For some time the auctioneer tried for a better bid, and then Sye was knocked down to one of the bidders for $2.

Ever since Sye was sold he has eluded the officers. He is still "a-runnin'."

THIN CHILD

If a child is thin, let him take a little of Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

Some children like it too well; begin with a little. A half- or quarter-teaspoonful is enough at first, if the stomach is weak; but increase, as you find the stomach will bear.

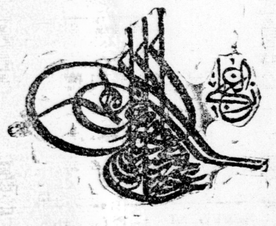

The effect is: the little one takes on strength; gets hungry; eats and is happy; gets fat—he ought to be fat—and gets healthy.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

DISASTROUS EXPLOSION.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 10.—Last evening a large boiler in the brass foundry of the Haves Manufacturing Company, on West Eleventh street, exploded with terrific force and completely demolished the three-story brick building in which it stood. Adjoining was another three-story brick connected with the hotel by a covered passageway across the alley. The second floor of this building was used for sleeping rooms for some of the girls, and the third floor as the hotel kitchen. This annex was also completely demolished. At the time of the explosion supper was being served and six girls were in the kitchen and were carried down in the wreck. They were as follows: Mrs. Ella Dolan, cook, may die; Francis Levenbuski, both legs and one arm broken, will die; Anna Schimgau, two Polish kitchen girls, and Mary Bentley, slightly hurt; Jack Davidson, porter in saloon, seriously cut about neck and shoulders; Charles Whandon, watchman, slightly hurt.

GREAT CROWD AT DELAWARE

Threatening Weather Fails to Keep People Away From the Fair.

Pretty Village Literally Packed With Vehicles----A Good Class of Exhibits---Names of Those Who Carried Away Prizes.

The Delaware Agricultural Society's fall show was held yesterday, when it was demonstrated by the big crowd present that the fair possesses a firm hold on the affections of those who patronize it regularly. In the morning, with the rain coming down freely, the outlook was decidedly gloomy, quite in keeping with the feelings of some of the directors, who saw nothing but a dismal failure in store after a lot of hard work. But the sanguine ones smiled as the rain held off, and the crowds commenced pouring in from all points during the afternoon, until the pretty village nestling at the foot of the big hill was literally packed with rigs of all kinds, and the exhibition grounds contained entries sufficiently numerous to insure the show's success. Many from London were there.

The secretary is never troubled by people asking for passes, for everything is free. It is literally a street fair, and the roots, vegetables and fruit are strewn on the grass, each in the places assigned them by those in charge.

There was a great display of vegetables, this being a noticeable feature, for at many shows in this department a great falling off has been noticeable owing to poor crops.

The main building was packed with ladies' handiwork, the cooking being so tempting that, as is generally the case in Delaware, a man armed with a long pole, seated in the center of the table, is detailed to rap the fingers of those disposed to pick the dainty viands.

There was the usual big display of fancy work. The display of horses was very good, but the number of entries in cattle, sheep and pigs was hardly up to previous years. The trials of speed interested a big crowd until nearly dark. The officers deserve every praise for the success of the show, which in every way was up to that of previous years. The names of the workers are as follows: President, James Bradt; first vice-president, Jos. Howlett; second vice-president, H. N. Gibson; secretary, N. Bodkin; treasurer, H. C. Johnstone; directors, R. C. Hammond, Wm. Baker, R. W. Stevens, S. Sutherland, W. C. Harris, D. McPherson, W. S. Weld, Ed Elvige, J. Ackland.

RADWAY'S PILLS

Always Reliable. Purely Vegetable.

Perfectly tasteless, elegantly coated, purge, regulate, purify, cleanse and strengthen. RADWAY'S PILLS for the cure of disorders of the Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Dizziness, Vertigo, Costiveness, Piles.

Sick Headache, Female Complaints, Biliousness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation and All Disorders of the Liver.

Dr. Radway & Co.—As an introduction, I must make the following remarks: Had each one of the lawmakers of our country the virtues and powers of your pills America would soon become a paradise. That your pills would conquer the obstinacy of my complaint is more than wonderful. The movement of my bowels is as regular as the works of a good watch. I began with four pills and decreased to two, and for a time took one two hours before dinner, and have a free movement of the bowels every morning. It is seven weeks since I have taken any of your pills, but still have regular movements every morning.

Kind gentlemen, I wish further to tell you: A poor washerwoman that suffered from a tumor and would have paid $150 for an operation. I dissuaded her from doing so. Owing to her tumor she was obliged to stay in bed, but now she has gone to Pennsylvania, cured through taking your Pills and Resolvent as you direct in your treatise on tumor. Respectfully, A. WITMER.

542 East 134th street, New York.

Messrs. Dr. Radway & Co., New York:

Gentlemen—Please send me by return mail one box of your pills, for which you will find 25 cents inclosed. Having had a box before, I would not be without them. They are something every family should have. Yours truly, T. A. PETERS.

Lancaster, Pa.

ONE TO THREE OF RADWAY'S PILLS, once in twenty-four hours, will secure regular evacuations from the bowels. Persons who for twenty years have not enjoyed a natural stool, and have been compelled to use injections, have been cured by a few doses of Radway's Pills.

True Comfort for the Aged and Others Afflicted with Costiveness and Paralysis of the Bowels.

Persons advanced in life often suffer from indigestion, and from paralysis or inability to evacuate from the bowels; likewise from urinary difficulties. We have the evidence of a large number of aged persons from 60 to 80 years of age who had daily been compelled to resort to injections to empty the bowels, have been cured by the use of Radway's Pills. Two or three pills every night in all cases insure a natural evacuation from the bowels, and the regular flow of urine. In cases where there is irritation of the bladder, Radway's Resolvent should be used with the Pills. If these organs are kept regular, life may be extended to a much longer period. By keeping the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys in a healthy condition the blood will continue pure and dissolution checked. If Radway's Pills and Resolvent are used by the aged, life will be prolonged to the full measure of time. Another great end is secured by nourishing the body with these remedies—the faculties will remain in a healthy condition. A weak, feeble and decaying body enfeebles the intellect and clouds the brain.

Price 25c Per Box. Sold by Druggists or Sent by Mail.

When in Bed

Put some Vapo-Cresolene in the vaporizer, light the lamp and place it near the head of the bed. Then all the time the baby sleeps it will breathe-in the healing, soothing vapor. The hard, tight cough loosens; the fever gradually goes down, the breathing becomes natural, and pneumonia is avoided. Every part of the throat and bronchial tubes are touched by the medicine. For the hard colds and coughs of children nothing equals Vapo-Cresolene. 9

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. FROM FRENCH RIVER

A Story Told by Mr. Samuel Clarke Which Will Interest Many People.

Mr. Samuel Clark, of French River, Ont., has for two years lived anything but a happy life. Everything was pleasant with him, but his health was bad. Dyspepsia's pains worried and annoyed him until he was sick. He tried many remedies, but could get no relief.

At last, encouraged by the advice of a friend who commenced the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and after a short time was delighted to find that his condition was improved. The relief was almost instantaneous. He continued the treatment until he had used altogether six boxes, and since then although he has exercised little or no care in his diet, he has never had the slightest symptom of the return of Dyspepsia.

Mr. Clarke's experience will, indeed, be grateful news to many people, who, like him, have been tortured almost to desperation by Stomach Trouble.

His letter reads as follows:

"I had been troubled with Dyspepsia for two years and had tried various remedies without relief. I used six boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets according to directions and they have effected in me a permanent cure.

"I still use the Tablets after I have eaten something which I fear might bring on the return of the trouble, but this is only occasionally, so that I am quite sure my cure is a perfect and permanent one."

What Mr. Clark says is certainly worth considering by those who experience similar symptoms.

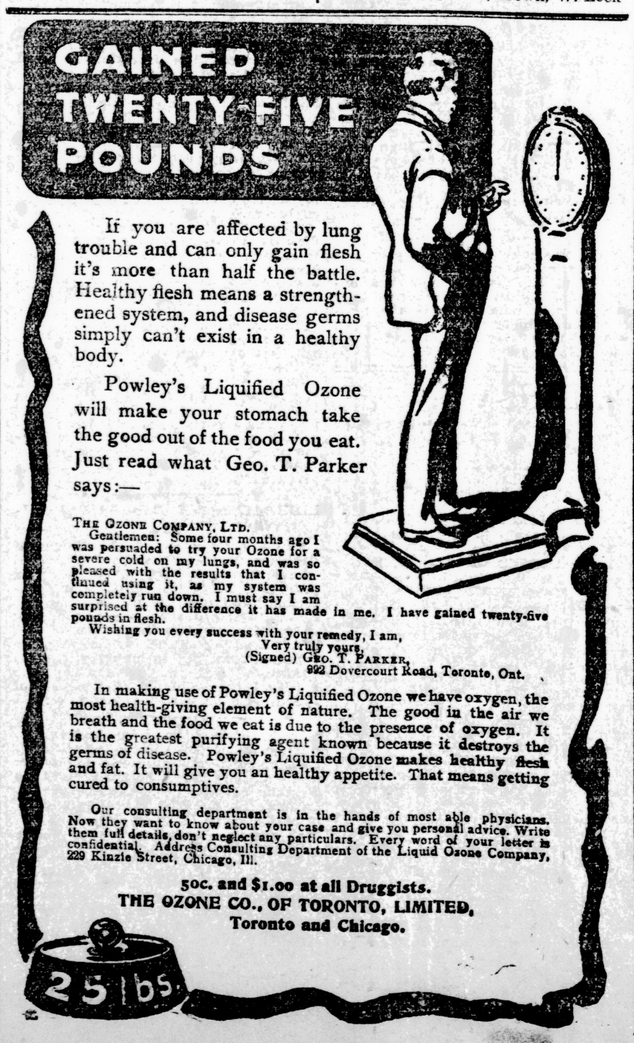

There is no form of stomach trouble (except Cancer) that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will not instantly relieve and perfectly and permanently cure, and there is absolutely no reason why you should suffer a moment longer.

SPARROWS OF PARIS.

Many visitors to Paris are familiar with the sparrow tamer in the Tuillerier Gardens. On most days, at some hour or other, may be seen this devotee of the gamins de Paris as these pert and much-petted little creatures are called, dozens of them fluttering around him, some perching on the rim of his hat, others on his shoulder, others again on his finger tips. But the amateur bird tamer has done more than merely tame his sparrows. He has accorded names to a few of the most intelligent—in fact, baptized them. Thus you may see "Marie" or "Jeanne" hopping when called toward their friend, and the pretty sight acclaimed by onlookers; for no sooner does the well-known figure take his stand than a little crowd gathers round him, old and young, gentle and simple. Senators and butchers' boys equally delighting in the gratuitous spectacle.—Westminster Gazette.

The Royal Visit On Saturday.

It is to be hoped London may be favored on Saturday next with fine weather during the visit of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. Energetic preparations are in full progress for the decoration of the city, and for the proper reception of the Royal visitors. The members of the reception committee appointed by the City Council have given days and nights to render as perfect as possible all details of arrangement. It only remains for every business man and every private citizen of London to co-operate in beautifying the city, and in contributing to the enthusiasm and interest of the occasion. London will not lag behind.

Kicking at Kitchener.

The well-known English journal, the London Spectator, is making for itself a name, but it may be questioned whether it is really increasing its influence. So far it has been regarded as a well conducted fairly independent journal of the best British type. During the war it has steadily supported the Government policy, while criticising freely its administration. It made a dead set against Lord Lansdowne, and clamored for his removal. Recently the Spectator supported the view that the Liberal party had been bribed by Mr. Rhodes; and though it had to modify its statement, it did so in no graceful manner. Lord Kitchener is the last one to be attacked. It seems that he cannot think "in blocks of 10,000 miles." This kind of criticism makes one think that it would be well to send out The Spectator staff and let them settle the business, which has taxed the resources of the empire. We believe in fair criticism, especially when the critics know what they are talking about; but if there is one thing that has baffled the newspaper critics, it has been how to conduct this African campaign against the stubborn, wily foe, well acquainted with the vast territory over which they roam. Lord Kitchener made his reputation before he went to South Africa. It was based on real work, and will not easily be lost. One cannot help admiring the calm way in which he perseveres in the terrible task placed in his hands. It may be quite easy to raise a clamor against a man who, as a strict disciplinarian, has made havoc among the aristocratic idlers. But we may well ask whether it is wise for a respectable journal, in the presence of the enemy, and in the presence of the world, to lend itself to that kind of thing. When the time comes, we believe that Kitchener will give a good account of himself. In the meantime, he ought to have the sympathy and support of fair-minded men. It is not necessary to regard him as infallible; but he may really know more about the situation than The Spectator.

"The Use of Moral Ideas in Politics."

Mr. Frank Thilly, of the University of Missouri, in calling attention to a lecture by Dr. F. Paulsen, on "Parteipolitik und Moral," says: "Attention is frequently called to the fact that in this country the so-called 'better element' men of moral refinement, take no serious part in politics, but leave the affairs of city and state to 'political politicians,' who are in the business 'for revenue only.' Indeed, the term politician has almost become synonymous with dishonesty, and there are few persons even in public life who would be willing to accept the title sans phrase." This is a sad state of things, but we believe that it is improving, and that it does not apply with the same force to Canada, and still less to Britain. In Britain, of course, there is the advantage of having a cultured and leisured class, who take to politics purely as a matter of patriotism. But what has the German professor to say as to parties in politics? It may be summarized as follows:

Parties must arise where an unorganized mass has to act as a unit, and as parties have to fight they are in danger of adopting purely war tactics and suspending the rules of morality. The principle seems to be followed that the end, the success of the party justifies the means. Within the party also there is danger, "There are two tendencies in every party, hence two groups; the doctrinaires and the opportunists. The doctrinaires strictly adhere to the principles formulated by the party; their cardinal virtues are consistency and loyalty to principle. Opportunists care not so much for principle as for power and influence. Both these tendencies have their dangers. Unprincipled opportunism leads to dissolution, and brings a party into contempt. Rigorous adherence to a principle regardless of conditions makes a party lose touch with reality. Hence a party must keep the mean between these two extremes; the tact of its leaders must decide when accommodation to conditions are necessary. Men who possess this tact are the political geniuses." And yet parties are necessary, for without them public life would be impossible, and we cannot dispense with them because like all human institutions, they have their dangers.

The lecturer believes that the following three causes have, with other things, co-operated to bring about an improvement. 1. The formation of great national states, which makes impossible conspiracies with a country's enemies, and thus robs party conflicts of their former bitterness. The monarchical constitution. A monarchy considers all parties, listens to all, but serves none. A government that has the absolute approval is no longer a monarchy, but the slave of that party. 3. The development of the historical feeling, which enables men to justify the existence of parties other than their own. This is an important theme and Dr. Paulsen's lecture is exceedingly suggestive.

New Ontario Advancing.

Mr. Thomas Southworth, Director of Colonization, has recently issued his report, which furnishes some interesting statistics with regard to the progress of New Ontario. The report shows that during last year 818 colonists, with their families, comprizing altogether 2,266 people, took up land amounting to 127,494 acres. It is thought, however, that this year's returns, when completed, will show a substantial increase over the above figures. Of the 818 locatees mentioned, 504 are from other parts of Ontario: 65 from the United States; 42 from Manitoba: 29 from Quebec, and the rest from Europe.

Rapid advances are being made in the matter of railway communication. The work on the Manitoulin and North Shore Railways is rapidly nearing completion. Sawmills are under construction, one of the best equipped sawmills on Lake Huron having been removed from Bay City, Michigan, to Blind River, Algoma. Progress is to be seen in every direction. Towns are springing up on sites that only a short time ago were covered with forest. The following excerpt from a report tells an interesting story:

"What was a forest a year ago is now a town site, with a waterworks system, electric light system and sewerage, with connection by switch with the C. P. R. Dockage has been constructed, and a canal three miles long is being excavated to connect the mills with the Mississauga River. About half a million dollars is being expended, and the mills give employment to 150 men. A municipality has been organized, and the cornerstone of a new $5,000 public school laid."

A perusal of such a glowing account of New Ontario, together with the exhibit of grasses and cereals which a great many people had an opportunity to view at the various industrial exhibitions throughout the southern part of the Province, should turn the attention of intending settlers to our own land of promise, Ontario. The attention of capitalists is being attracted by the resources, especially the minerals, of New Ontario, thus giving that part of the Province a bright outlook for mine labor, and, as labor must be fed, the agriculturist will also reap his reward.

The Official Programme and Souvenir.

The Advertiser has received, with the compliments of Mr. Atwell Fleming, formerly manager of The Advertiser Job Department (but now a member of the Hunter-Rose Company, of Toronto), a copy of the "Official Programme and Souvenir" of the Royal tour, showing the progress of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York through Quebec and Ontario. The souvenir is printed on the finest paper, so that the illustrations come out in superb style. These include the King and Queen, the Duke and Duchess, the Governor-General and Lady Minto, Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, all the Provincial Premiers, and many other interesting personages, including the mayor of various Canadians cities. Among these latter is our own Mayor Rumball, who we are glad to say looks as good-looking as the best of them. The Souvenir is extremely creditable to those by whom it has been produced, and will doubtless be long retained as a memento of a most interesting occasion. Copies can be obtained from the Hunter-Rose Company, Toronto.

Emerson.

"Remembrances of Emerson" is the title of a small volume bearing the imprint of Robert G. Cooke, publisher, "The Grafton Press," 70 Fifth avenue, New York. The author is John Albee, a man who enjoyed the advantage of personal acquaintance with the subject of his sketch. The book, which contains 153 pages, is divided into three chapters, viz., A Day With Emerson; Emerson's Influence on the Young Men of His Time; Emerson as Essayist.

The writer relates many instances of interest in connection with the life of Ralph Waldo Emerson. He recalls his early pleasant experiences when he began to read Emerson's "Representative Men." He says, "I remember a day when I stood idly over a counter looking at the packs of what seemed to me newly published books. I drew out one bound in plain, black muslin. Its title, 'Representative Men,' attracted me, because I had just been reading 'Plutarch's Lives,' and for the first time had been aroused by the reading of any book. * * * I opened the volume at the beginning, 'Uses of Great Men,' and read a few pages, becoming more and more agitated, until I could read no more there." Continuing Mr. Albee says: "I would be glad to read Emerson again for the first time; I cannot recover the old sensation."

The author of the Remembrances goes on to relate a conversation between Emerson and Thoreau, which took place in his presence. The subject under discussion was the advantage of a college education. Emerson pleaded always for the college, while Thoreau could see no benefit to be derived from a college course.

Notwithstanding the mysticism that has been connected with Emerson, an obscurity of meaning in his works, the reader is impressed with the feeling that he has come in contact with a powerful mind. Even his heterodoxy has been found invigorating.

Mr. Albee's book is what we might expect from the pen of a man of ability thoroughly acquainted with his subject. A careful perusal of the new book will turn us once more to Emerson, and what better can be said of a work of this nature? The work is scarcely in any sense a biography in the ordinary acceptance of the term. It is more an appraisal of Emerson as a man among men, and as an essayist.

A BALLOON RACE.

The balloon race from the Stadium of the Pan-American Exposition grounds this afternoon, between Prof. Charles Litchfield, Boston, and Leo Stevens, New York, for a purse of $3,000, was won by the Boston aeronaut. The men started at the same moment and their balloons rose rapidly to a high altitude before the parachutes were cut loose. Litchfield's balloon ascended about 200 feet higher than did Stevens', thus deciding the race in his favor.

A TOWER OF STRENGTH

Noble Tribute of Ontario's Premier to His Noble Wife.

[From Onward, Sept. 19.]

Canadian statesmen rarely care to allude to their domestic relations. They naturally resent the invasion of the sanctity of the home circle. But there are times when it becomes a duty to paya tribute to one's helpmeet through life. Nothing touched the heart more than the tender reference of President Garfield to his aged mother, and of President McKinly to his mother and wife. In the reception tendered the Hon. George W. Ross on his return from Great Britain, he makes the following allusion to his wife:

"I thank you for the kind references to Mrs. Ross. She is a tower of strength to the Ontario Government. She is the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. I was almost going to say she is a Pool of Siloam, where you can get healing for some of your troubles. I thank you for your kind references to her. The part which a good woman can play in the government of the country cannot very easily be defined nor very easily be expressed. You seem to know it. I know it and feel it, and I am sure she knows it and feels it, too, and I hope this cordial reception which you have given me today will have the effect of giving me more earnestness and zeal in the service of my native country than I ever possessed before.

"I am nothing if I am not a Canadian. It is enough to be a Canadian; it is enough for all of us to feel that we have all we need her to call forth our greatest energies, and whether we win or lose—in the electoral lists, I mean—we must always feel that the great struggle of politics involves something more than party success; it involves the perpetuation of British institutions, modeled to suit the Canadian mind, the perpetuation of freedom, the perpetuation of civil and religious liberty, of justice to minorities, of respect for the law, and the manly recognition of the rights of the weaker party, if there be a weaker party. I thank you for the reception you have given us."

LIBERAL MOVE BY EPISCOPALIANS.

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—The house of deputies in the Triennial Episcopal Convention has adopted an addition to article X. of the constitution, prescribing the form of worship, as follows: "But provision may be made by canon for the temporary use of old forms and directories of worship by congregations not in union with this church, who are willing to accept the spiritual oversight of the bishop of the diocese or missionary district."

DESERTED THE BABY

Heartless Conduct of a Young Couple From Canada Stopping in Detroit.

Detroit, Oct. 9.—Yesterday morning M. S. Van Sycles, who keeps a boarding-house on Macomb street, reported to the sheriff that a young couple who had been boarding with his family for the past six weeks had left the town, deserting a baby a month old. These people, giving their names as Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Rattray, came here from Toronto and engaged board with the Van Sycles family. After they had been in the Bath Town a month a child was born. They were young people, good dressers, and seemed to have plenty of money. The mail for the woman came addressed to Miss Undine Conley, she claiming that she had been married in secret, and that her uncle, who was a wealthy man in Canada, and furnished them with their money, had not been informed of the marriage. They had a return ticket to Toronto, which they had renewed a short time ago. Besides deserting the baby, they went away in debt to the people with whom they boarded. The child is still with the Van Sycles family, but will be taken charge of by the poor commissioners. It is probable that the sheriff will soon locate the young couple, as he has tracked them to a point in Canada.

BOY MURDERER SENTENCED.

Logan, Utah, Oct. 9.—Abe Majors, popularly known as the "boy murderer," was yesterday sentenced to life imprisonment for the killing of Capt. Brown, chief of the Ogden police, three years ago. Majors, who is barely out of his teens, was convicted of the crime and sentenced to be shot in 1899, but the supreme court granted him a new trial, which was concluded last Saturday.

LATER CENSUS FIGURES.

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—It is said that later census returns from some of the more remote districts of Canada will bring the total population up to five and a half millions. Chief Census Commissioner Blue, who has been confined to his home for some days with a severe attack of the grip, is not able to confirm the statement. He states, however, that considerable returns have been received recently from the outlying districts of northern Ontario, notably Nipissing and Algoma. Mr. Blue was also handed a telegram today from Mr. Johnson, census commissioner for Manitoba and Keewatin, stating that the returns for Keewatin had been mailed to Ottawa. According to rumor the latest returns will give Ontario a gain of 75,000 in population, instead of 50,000, as stated in the first bulletin issued. Quebec, it is stated, will show an even larger gain over the figures published in August.

THE DEMON, DYSPEPSIA.—In olden time it was a popular belief that demons moved invisibly through the ambient air, seeking to enter into men and trouble them. At the present day the demon, dyspepsia, is at large in the same way, seeking habitation in those who by careless or unwise living invite him. And once he enters a man it is difficult to dislodge him. He that finds himself so possessed should know that a valiant friend to do battle for him with the unseen foe is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which are ever ready for the trial.

FOR HOUSEKEEPERS.

The attendance at the market this forenoon was small. The rain, no doubt, prevented a considerable number from marketing their produce. We would advise those who intend doing business on the market next Saturday to be in as early as possible, as citizens will be attending the reception on that day. There should be a good demand for produce on Saturday, as the deliveries of produce has been light during the week.

Butter and Eggs—Butter was in fair supply at 18c to 19c per lb for crocks, and 20c to 21c per lb for rolls. Eggs continue to be firm at prices quoted.

ROWING CLUB'S FINAL SPORT.

Pleasing Termination of a Very Successful Season.

Presentation of Medals and Prizes to Successful Competitors in Regatta.

The closing day's sports of the London Rowing Club took place yesterday afternoon on the club's beautiful grounds, and the events were all keenly contested and very interesting. The threatening weather to some extent marred the enjoyment of the occasion, but, despite this fact, a large number of people were present. The past year has been in many ways the most successful in the history of the club. While yesterday marked the official closing of the club, the boat house will be kept open as long as the weather continues favorable.

DEATH OF YOUNG LONDON PHYSICIAN

Dr. E. B. White, of East London, Succumbs to Typhoid Fever in Denver, Colorado.

Word was received in this city yesterday that Dr. E. B. White, of East London, had died in Denver, Col. Dr. White had been ill for some weeks with an attack of typhoid fever, having been stricken with the malady in Denver. He was removed to the hospital, where hopes had been entertained of his recovery until within a short period of his death.

Dr. White, who had resided for some time in Chatham, graduated from Toronto University when only 21 years of age, and subsequently practiced three years in Pittsburg, Pa. In 1898 he married Miss Sadie, youngest daughter of the late Andrew Weldon, of South London, and had since resided here for a year or two, living in East London. He was an ardent worker in the Methodist Church, having been superintendent of the Centennial Sunday school and active in the Epworth League before leaving. He left London several months ago, accompanied by his wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. Weldon. The object of the trip was to enable Dr. White to rise still higher in his profession by a tour of the leading hospitals of the United States and Europe. The trip was expected to last a year or more.

The attention of our readers is drawn to the advertisement elsewhere in these columns of "The Empire Accident and Surety Company," recently organized, with head office in this city. We observe that the provisional directors and officers are gentlemen of clear business acumen, and of long and well-known repute in this city and surrounding country, each well experienced, and an expert in his own particular department. These gentlemen certainly deserve the encouragement and hearty support of the citizens of London and the public generally throughout Western Ontario in bringing the head office of such a financial institution to London. We glean from the insurance reports of the superintendent at Ottawa that there are but two purely Canadian accident companies in Canada, one with head office at Toronto, the other at Ottawa. In the matter of guarantee or surety companies, there are but two Canadian companies transacting this business exclusively in Canada, one of these with head office in Toronto, so that practically the field west of Toronto is unoccupied. We observe further by the same reports, that of the several lines of insurance transacted, the business of accident and surety insurance shows a much higher percentage of profit, indicating increased reserves for the protection of the policyholder, as well as larger dividends for the shareholder. In this age of loyalty to empire it would be eminently fitting that this new "Empire" should receive hearty and unqualified support in every way of the citizens of our city and district. Certainly in the matter of investments there is none safer or more profitable than insurance stock, and to specialize none better than such stock as is now offered by "The Empire Accident and Surety Company."

Craig, 368 Dufferin avenue, had reached the remarkable age of 90 years. Deceased had lived in Canada for 57 years. She came to Quebec in 1844, and lived there for two years, removing after a residence of a year in Montreal, to this city, where she had made her home ever since. Mrs. McLean made six trips across the Atlantic since she came to Canada.

NEWFOUNDLAND AGREES

At One With Canada in Its Opinion of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Fortune Harbor, Nfld., Oct. 7.—(Special).—However this Island and the Dominion stand on political questions, there is one theme on which they are unanimous, and that is in their opinion of Dodd's Kidney Pills. In Newfoundland Dodd's Kidney Pills have duplicated their Canadian reputation. On all sides they are spoken of as a really wonderful medicine by those who have tried them, whose number increases every day.

Richard Quirk, of this place, writes about Dodd's Kidney Pills in the universal terms of high praise.

"No tongue can tell," he says, "the pleasure I feel in being able to say that I am indeed permanently cured of my backache by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I never imagined that any medicine could cure me of so old a complaint, and am high in the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills to everybody who comes my way."

Dr. H. P. Tuttle, well known as the inventor of the explosive thearite, dropped dead at his home in Tacoma, Wash., on Wednesday, aged 57 years.

Advice of Chief of Police to Sightseers on Saturday.

Suggestions That Will Enable People to See the Royal Party Without Discomfort.

Chief of Police Williams this morning issued to the people of London, through the medium of an Advertiser reporter, some excellent words of advice in relation to the visit on Saturday of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall.

"Tell the people," said the chief, "to go in good time, and avoid congesting the down-town sections. There will be room for all if this is done. Bicycles and perambulators should be left at home. A perambulator takes up as much room as two men. Both bicycles and perambulators are positively dangerous in a crowd where sudden movements are liable to take place, as they are liable to be thrown down and trip people, who are thus in danger of being trampled upon.

"In case of panic or accident the people should keep cool," continued the chief, "and let the police attend to the trouble.

"Lastly," he said, "tell the people when they leave their homes to come down town to lock their houses up tight and not to leave any especial valuables lying loose. They should be careful, too, to display no jewelry in the crowd. A gang of thieves and pickpockets will probably be following the royal party, and the people will have to take every precaution against loss by their operations."

The chief indorses the suggestions made in the mayor's proclamation to prevent overcrowding and confusion. All persons who contemplate witnessing the royal procession, especially those from out of town, should make it a point to be early on the scene, for in all probability it will be impossible to get through any of the streets along the line of parade after 10 o'clock in the morning.

MISSIONS IN CHINA

Report of Drs. Smith and Barton of the American Board.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 10.—Dr. Smith, at the meeting of the American Board of Foreign Missions, stated that in the eleven missions under his supervision there were 298 missionaries, of whom 13 had gone out for the first time, 2,092 native laborers, of whom 82 were pastors of mission churches.

The number of missionaries in the missions under Rev. James L. Barton, D.D., foreign secretary, is 246, of whom 10 have gone out this year for the first time; the number of native laborers is 1,391, an increase over last year of 158.

Indemnities from the Turkish Empire for losses during the massacres of 1895-6 await certain formalities.

The report said: "The period since the raising of the siege of Pekin has been marked by various incidents. The missionary board on the ground has acted with calmness, foresight and great prudence. The care of the Chinese refugees has demanded statesmanship, patience and tact, and these qualities have not been wanting. So far as possible, missionary work has been resumed, schools opened and religious services maintained within the prostrate area of Pekin, Tien Tsin and Pao Ting Fu. And now the way is open for visits to Pang Chaung and Ling Cing, to Tung Cho and Kalgam. It is too early to forecast the real important effect of the settlement that has been reached at Pekin. Missionary work, so far from being the cause of the outbreak, is proving itself the most helpful agency for the re-establishment of peace and national unity."

DIED AFTER DANCING.

On the Way Home Girl Was Frightened by a Night Watchman.

Rahway, N. J., Oct. 10.—Christiana Knoes, a servant employed in the household of Rev. J. H. Howard here, died of heart disease early Sunday morning after coming home from a dance, at which she danced eleven times.

On the way home the girl and her escort entered a dark car to wait for their car and were ordered out by a watchman, who is said to have spoken to them harshly and to have flourished a revolver. The girl was badly frightened and nearly fainted. County Physician Westcott decided that too much dancing and, perhaps, fright had caused the girl's death.

SHOT THREE TIMES!

Remarkable Story Told by a Brooklyn Woman—Suicide of Her Assailant.

New York, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Lucy H. Carroll, who lived with her father at 76 South Elliott place, Brooklyn, was shot and seriously wounded at her home early this morning by a man known as Capt. John B. Neilson. The woman was shot three times. Neilson then shot himself in the right temple and died instantly.

Mrs. Carroll was removed to the Brooklyn Hospital, where it was said that there was a chance that she might survive her injuries. She told her story of the tragedy to the police, saying that she did not know the man who had shot her.

"I was awakened," says Mrs. Carroll, "by seeing a man in my room. I was much alarmed, and cried: 'What do you want here?'

"Without reply, the intruder drew a revolver and fired three times, and then turned and shot himself.

"I do not know him, nor can I imagine why he should have entered my rooms."

Mrs. Carroll's husband is said to be a soldier in the Philippines.

The police found a portrait of Nielson in Mrs. Carroll's room, and when she was told of this, she said she had known Nielson for some time, that he had paid her much attention, and had been very jealous recently. Nielson was about 55 years old, and was at one time a sea captain. Mrs. Carroll is about 30 years old. Her father, whose name is Kornder, is a drygoods merchant, with a place of business in Brooklyn

THE ENDEAVOR TO BAG THE BRIGANDS

May Result in Disaster—The Case of Lord and Lady Muncaster Recalled.

London, Oct. 10.—With reference to the announcement that Turkish and Bulgarian troops are surrounding the abductors of Miss Stone, the Globe says it considers that unless the movement is suspended until she is safe out of the hands of the brigands, there will be a repetition of the tragedy in Greece during the year 1870, when Lord Manchester and a party were captured. Lord Manchester was released in order to negotiate for a ransom of £25,000. Then, as now, an attempt was made to surround the brigands, with the result that four gentlemen of the party were murdered.

Lord and Lady Manchester and party of English travelers were seized by Greek brigands, April 11, 1870, at Oropos, near Marathon. Lord Manchester and the ladies of the party were sent to treat for the £25,000 demanded as ransom, with a free pardon for the brigands. The latter were surrounded by troops and, in retreating, April 21, killed Mr. Vinner, Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Herbert and Count de Boyl. The incident caused great excitement, especially as many influential persons were charged with connivance at brigandage. Several of the brigands were killed and seven were captured, tried and condemned May 23 of the same year. On June 20, 1870, five of the brigands were executed.

THE BURRILL COMPANY.

On Friday evening the Burrill Company will positively produce "Rip Van Winkle." Also Friday night will be an amateur contest again for a prize of $5 to the winner. "THELMA" NEXT WEEK.

Mr. Aiden Benedict will present a dramatization by Mr. Chas. W. Chase, of Marie Corelli's popular novel "Thelma," at the London Opera House on Wednesday evening next, Oct. 16. "Thelma" is known far and near as the best of all Miss Marie Corelli's popular novels, and every woman sympathizes with and loves the character of the heroine. Mr. Chase has made the viking a very strong and interesting character, bringing in the idea of the old Norse mythology, that before death claims one of this race, a beautiful valkyrie maiden sent by Odin appears in the air and converses with the dying. During the action of the play, when the viking feels that death is near, he takes to his ship, sets it on fire, and then holds converse with the valkyrie.

A WARM WELCOME

Awaiting the Duke and Duchess at Toronto---Streets Crowded Early in the Morning With an Expectant Crowd---The Royal Train Was Ten Minutes Behind Time at Barrie.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 10.—Not the citizens of Toronto alone, but tens of thousands of people from all over Ontario as well, crowded the streets today to welcome Britain's heir and the princess to the heart of English-speaking Canada. Although heavy rain clouds hung over the city, the main streets became congested at an early hour, and when shortly after 11 o'clock, it had little result in decreasing the masses on the streets, great umbrella covered spaces showing where the people were taking up their stand for the passage of the royal procession. The closing of the business houses shortly after noon added to the already dense crowds down town, and soon streaming in long columns from the camp at the exhibition grounds came the regiments to the route of the procession.

Two brigades went up Yonge street about 12:30 and were CHEERED TO THE ECHO.

The gigantic figure of Col. Sam Hughes at the head of the 45th Lindsay Battalion was recognized by many. Among the smartest of the regiments in the second brigade were the 57th of Peterboro and the 43rd Carleton Rifles.

The city corps formed at the armories, over 2,000 men in all, and joined the marching thousands. By 1 o'clock over 8,000 men had passed the corner of King and Yonge streets, and each regiment, halting at its assigned position, spread out along the street. It was wonderful to see whole brigades swallowed up in a few minutes in the vast throngs, with nothing to indicate their presence but a bayonet tip here and there among the sea of umbrellas.

The headquarters staff, including Gen. O'Grady-Haly, rode direct to the temporary station at the head of St. George street. The building is constructed in the Grecian style of architecture, with a low, arched roof, and many stout but graceful pillars. The whole structure is SNOWY WHITE.

The decorations were severely simple and consisted of broad ribands of yellow and royal purple, looped from column to column and caught up with shields bearing the Dominion coat-of-arms. A rich green carpet covered the floor the entire length of the pavilion. To the south of the pavilion was a great semi-circular stand built high into the air, which was in many colored costumes was probably the first sight which greeted the royal eyes in Toronto.

By 1:30 all was in readiness here for the reception, and Premier Ross and the cabinet awaited the arrival of the governor-general's train, which preceded that of the royal party. Meanwhile all over the city, along the four-mile route of the procession, traffic had been entirely suspended, and everyone awaited the sound of the royal salute announcing the arrival of the duke and duchess.

TEN MINUTES LATE AT BARRIE.

Barrie, Ont., Oct. 10.—The royal train conveying their Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York passed here at 12:10, being 10 minutes late. The train stopped only two minutes, while his highness shook hands with the mayor, the mayor's little daughter presenting the duchess with a large bouquet. The 35th Battalion band played the National Anthem, and, amid cheers, the train pulled out.

AT ORILLIA.

Orillia, Ont., Oct. 10.—The royal train stopped here for five minutes, during which time the members of the town council and other prominent citizens were at the duke's request presented to him.

Mayor Tudhope's little daughter presented the duchess with a bouquet, but there was no address or other ceremony.

Over a thousand children sang "God Save the King," "Rule Britannia" and "The Maple Leaf."

A tremendous crowd was at the station to see their royal highnesses.

AT TORONTO.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—The governor-general's train came in at 2:10, and his excellency and Sir Wilfrid Laurier joined Premier Ross and the general staff. The rain began to fall more heavily.

A few minutes after the first train came that of their royal highnesses, and as it drew up the Toronto Field Battery fired a royal salute, and the six thousand children of the chorus sang "God Save the King."

Their royal highnesses remained but a few minutes, while the song "Prince George," composed in the duke's honor, was sung, and then, headed by the mounted escort, the royal procession swung out on St. George street, and started at a smart trot on the long drive to the city hall.

ROYALTY'S COMING ON SATURDAY!

Royal Party Embraces Suite of 12, and 22 Journalists.

Slight Change Has Been Made by Local Committee in the Route of the Procession.

The sole topic of conversation around the city hall these days is the coming of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall on Saturday. Every effort is being made to have the details so perfected that no hitch shall occur to mar the day's proceedings.

City Clerk Kingston this morning received a telegram from Major Maude informing him that in addition to the duke and duchess, the royal party contains 12 persons. The major suggested that the royal procession consist only of their royal highnesses, their suite, and the escorting cavalry. With the party are 6 English journalists and 15 Canadian newspaper men, who will arrive and leave by the same train.

A very slight change in the route of the royal procession has been made by the local committee. Instead of leaving Victoria Park by the gate at the corner of Dufferin and Park avenues, the exit will be made at the same gate as is used for entrance, that at the corner of Princess avenue and Wellington street. From there the party will drive to Dufferin, west to Richmond, and so back to the G. T. R. station.

The Tecumseh House was among the first to set the laudable example of decorating. The work was started yesterday, and the result is most artistic. Other institutions are following suit, and the indications are that by Saturday both Richmond and Dundas streets will be gay with flags and bunting.

The general citizens' committee will meet tonight. A final meeting of the reception sub-committee will be held tomorrow night to arrange the last details.

THE STUDY OF DREAMS

Has Caused French Savant to Deduce Remarkable Theories.

After Years of Study Finds Dreams Have a Fabric All Their Own.

The mystery of dreams has been studied by the Paris Institute of Psychology, and after two years of research Prof. H. H. Bergson, who had charge of the investigation, is about to make his report.

In his report Prof. Bergson says:

"In a dream I perceive objects and there is nothing there. I see people; I believe I am speaking to them and hear them answer me. There is no person and I say nothing. It all happens as if real things, real persons were there; then when I awake all has disappeared, people and things. What does it mean?

"But, first, is it really true that there was nothing there? Is there not a certain sensible matter present to our eyes, to our ears, to our touch during sleep as well as during our waking moments? Close your eyes and pay careful attention to what passes in your field of vision. Many people say that nothing happens. But little by little you can distinguish many things; at first only a black depth; then points of light upon it which come and go, rise and fall; or sometimes a thousand colors appear and play in whirls of luster. This is the principal material of which our dreams are fabricated.

"Again, the ear also has certain interior sensations difficult to isolate and perceive while awake, but which detach themselves clearly during the slumber. Sometimes, too, we hear while sleeping the sounds of the exterior world, the crackling of the fire, the rain which strikes the window, the wind playing upon its gamut up the chimney. These are converted into conversations, songs, cries, music and the like, as the case may be.

"As to touch, people often dream that they are floating through space. Now, if you will analyze the dream you will have no difficulty in tracing the workings of your mind in producing it. Your mind was aware of the fact that you were not touching the ground. Since it did not think you were asleep, it did not take the bed into consideration, hence, naturally, it concluded that you were floating in the air. Whenever you dream that you are flying you feel yourself working with one side, and this side you will invariably find coincides with that which experiences the real sensation which the bed gives your body. This sensation of pressure dissociated from its cause becomes sensation pure and simple, and joined to the delusion of floating in space gives rise to the dream.

"Of more consequence than any tactile sensations, properly speaking, are those which are connected with that we sometimes term interior touch, profound sensations emanating from all points of organism, and particularly from the viscera. One cannot imagine to what degree of fineness and acuteness they attain during sleep. They exist no doubt while we are awake, but then we are distracted by practical actions; we live an external life. Grave maladies have sometimes been foreseen by dreams. They are, in fact, already begun when dreamed of. Great physicians have shown how certain sorts of dreams are connected with the different parts of the body, with affections of the digestive, the respiratory or the circulatory apparatus.

"I repeat what I have said: when we sleep a natural sleep our senses are not closed to all impressions. They exert themselves, with less precision, it is true, than when we are awake, but actively, nevertheless, and embrace a multitude of subjective impressions which pass unnoticed at other times. These confused impressions are the materials of our dreams.

"They are not, however, the only requisite for our dreams. Suppose the dreamer sees black lines upon a white surface. They might represent to him the page of a book or the facade of a house, or a quantity of other things. What is it that determines his choice of an object for it to represent? Memory. The power which converts into definite objects the vague impressions received in sleep from the eyes, ears and touch from all the interior and surface of the body is memory. While awake we often have recollections which appear and disappear, occupying the mind successively. These are always such as are connected with the present moment, the real situation, the present occupation. There are other numberless recollections, however, which my memory has constructed in its most obscure depths, and which are in the state of invisible phantoms. They, too, aspire perhaps after the light, but never attempt to mount thither.

"Now, suppose that I arrive at a moment when I am disinterested, neutral; that, in fact, I am asleep. These recollections, thinking that their opportunity to come to light has come, rush madly for the door in a vast multitude. But all cannot pass. They are too numerous. Which will succeed in doing so? A moment ago when I was awake the memories which were perceived were those which were connected with the present situation, with that which I saw and heard about me. Well, in sleep, too, I am surrounded by the vaguest possible sensations, and among the souvenir phantoms only those will succeed in rising to the surface which can assimilate themselves with the dim, indistinct colored visions that are present to my slumbering eyes, with the exterior and interior noises that I hear and the sensations of touch which I feel.

"When this juncture is effected between memory and sensation I dream. Sensation is warm, colorful, vibrant. Memory is complete, but it is without life and wishes to find something material with which to realize, actualize itself. They are drawn to each other, the souvenir phantom becoming incarnated in the sensation, thus develops into a being which will live its own peculiar life, a dream.

"So the birth of the dream is nothing mysterious. It resembles the birth of all our perceptions. The mechanism of a dream is the same in its grand outlines as that of normal perceptions. When we perceive real objects there is little in our actual perceptions, the sensible material of our perceptions into which our memory has not been introduced. The perception is a composite, on one side, of the real impressions made on the organs of sense, and on the other of the memories which have been associated with the impression, and which profit by its present vitality to come again themselves to life."

ELSIE.

"I see that you will not understand me, Madame Jotte, and I have not money enough to tempt you; if I had you would understand me fast enough; you are a very wicked, cunning old woman."

Elsie spoke these unvarnished truths in her own native tongue. It was some relief to her to be able to give expression to her feelings, although Madame Jotte could not understand a word she said. She looked around her and wondered if there were any possible way of escape. The room in which Madame Jotte's guests sat down to lunch and dinner was as bare of furniture as a room can contrive to be that makes the least pretense of accommodating civilized people with any degree of respectability. The floor was bare, the walls were of polished wood, there was a long varnished table and about eight cane chairs, there was a great painted chest which contained the white delf dinner service. There was no window in this room; it was lighted from the ceiling with a skylight; it had a flat roof, on which the upper back windows of the tall house looked down; it was hardly possible to imagine a more gloomy, melancholy room.

"If I could only see into the street," thought Elsie, "I might make a sign to somebody, a policeman, perhaps," and she tried to leave the room by the door which led into the house; but Madame Jotte ran before her, passed through, and turned the key in the lock on the other side. Elsie was locked in. She was too indignant to cry, although she felt ill and her head ached.

"I will not go to this man's house." She repeated this sentence to herself fiercely several times. She walked up and down the narrow room until she was tired, then she sat on one of the cane chairs, and the tears gathered in her eyes and fell into her lap.

All at once she heard the key crunching in the lock; the door swung back and Captain Bracegirdle loomed into sight. He was followed by a thin lady, attired in a shabbily-genteel style, a bonnet with faded, crumpled flowers, a cloth jacket that had turned from black to brown, and a dingy gray alpaca gown. This lady's face was pale and pinched, and cross and very unhappy. Her age seemed on the shady side of forty, yet she had been handsome once. Elsie was sure of it, for her faded complexion was still delicate, and her sad eyes were large and bright even now.

"This is my wife," said Captain Bracegirdle, pointing to the lady. "She will tell you that it is quite true that your father is my intimate friend, and that it is by his desire that you come and stay with us for a week or two in the Boulevard St. Michel."

"Is that so, Mrs. Bracegirdle?" asked Elsie, eagerly. "You are an Englishwoman and a lady," for despite poor Mrs. Bracegirdle's shabbily attire, there was the tout ensemble of a lady stamped upon her from the crown of her poor bonnet to the dingy brownness of her old boots, "and I can't think you would lead me into danger."

"You may rely upon me that there will not be the least danger for you in our house. Young lady, you will certainly be a great deal more comfortable than you are in this horrible den," looking with a shudder of dislike at the gloomy, windowless salon. "I can give you a nice little room to yourself, you will sit with my daughter and me in our own sitting-room. We have books and a piano; we will take you out and show you the sights of Paris."

"But my father? Madam, do you tell me that he is here in France, and that he is a friend of your husband's?"

Instinctively Elsie glanced at Captain Bracegirdle as she asked this question. She saw him dart a look of furious command at his most unhappy wife. He caught Elsie watching him, and he tried to laugh.

"What an unbeliever you are, mademoiselle!" he said.

"Your father is a political refugee," said Mrs. Bracegirdle, looking on the ground, "and he is in some difficulties. He is living under a false name at Fontainebleau; in a couple of weeks he will come for you. Meanwhile, you are not to write to any of your friends. You are to hide your whereabouts from them all."

"And now she is telling falsehoods because she is afraid," said Elsie to herself. "But just now, when she looked at me and invited me to her house she was telling me the truth. I think I can get her to be honest with me when he is out of the way. Perhaps I had better go to her house—they won't let me have my box otherwise—and then I think I can manage her when he is not at home."

"Well, madam," said Elsie, suddenly, "I will trust myself to you."

Mrs. Bracegirdle flushed deeply.

"You may," she said, softly. "I will take care of you, and Clara will be a companion for you."

"Hurry, then, hurry!" said Captain Bracegirdle, stamping his foot on the floor. "Hurry! You've wasted an awful amount of time talking! You ladies"—he tried to laugh pleasantly—"get on your walking-things, and I will call Madame Jotte for your box." Captain Bracegirdle rang the bell, and Madame Jotte appeared.

Within seven minutes from that time Elsie was seated in a voiture by the side of Mrs. Bracegirdle, the captain opposite. Elsie's box was outside. The carriage began to roll through the busy, splendid streets of Paris.

"Look about you," said Mrs. Bracegirdle; "there is so much to see."

Elsie looked out at the whirl with strangely-mingled feelings. Of all the adventures that had befallen her since the memorable night when she first spoke to Owen Hammond this seemed likely to lead to the strangest results.

"It keeps on," she murmured to herself. "My life is like a story. What will happen next?" then she said, suddenly, to Mrs. Bracegirdle:

"I know your daughter Pauline, Mrs. Bracegirdle. She is not in the least like you."

"Pauline Bracegirdle is not my daughter," replied the lady, coldly. "Her mother was a Polish countess. I am the captain's second wife. Clara is my daughter, and is quite English; her father, my first husband, was a clergyman of the Church of England; he was the Dean of Cloisterwood Cathedral, in the English Midlands."

Mrs. Bracegirdle sighed heavily. The voiture made such a noise rumbling over the stones that her husband had not overheard her words.

CHAPTER XX.

Charteris Court was gayer, fuller of life and bustle and amusement than it had been that winter. More visitors arrived. The theatricals were so successful that another piece was in course of rehearsal. Miss Bracegirdle had delighted her audience with her charming rendering of the vivacious character, Mademoiselle Renee. Everybody was talking about her. People asked when she would be ready to enchant and enchain the public with her recitations of Shakespeare. Miss Bracegirdle always answered, with a smile:

"Not yet; a little longer, and yet a little longer. Give me time. My conception of Shakespeare is something too grand—it appalls myself! I must wait, yes, until I can do greater things."

She talked thus to the countess, who had never once heard her beautiful protege recite a line of the greatest of poets, although she was continually walking about with a volume of his immortal works in her hands.

Things had prospered with Pauline since the departure of Elsie Carew. She was what Lord Hammond called A one with the Countess, his mother. She had contrived to make the Earl pronounce her to be "a very clever young woman." All the gentlemen visitors admired her beauty and her grace, and she was so wise as to take care that not one among the lady visitors was jealous of her.

Meanwhile she had her difficulties, and her chief difficulty just now existed in the shape of Monsieur Paul Lafonte, secretary to her ladyship the Countess, and the betrothed of Miss Pauline Bracegirdle herself.

It had been a lovely winter's day, with the wind blowing from the wet quarter, though no rain had fallen. The hounds had met, and the fox had given them a splendid scamper over the downs some four miles the other side of Farley.

It had been a vigorous, exciting run. The brush had been taken triumphantly; and no accident had befallen any of the riders, their horses, or their dogs.

Pauline had driven to a spot on the downs called Boldman's Corner to see the meet. She had sat in front with Lady Majorie, who had driven her own ponies; and Pauline had contrived to do Basil Byrne—whom she hated because she knew by instinct that he saw through her—an injury and a mischief all in the most natural way possible.

She managed to insinuate to the Earl's daughter that the Irish barrister made no secret of his love for Lady Marjorie and his ambitious hopes respecting her. Indeed, Pauline gave Lady Marjorie to understand that the wild Irishman "made sure" of having her for his wife.

This piqued Lady Marjorie, as Pauline intended that it should. Marjorie liked Basil Byrne very much, but she had no love for him. She had been taught to expect to marry a great fortune, and an old title, and she did expect to do this. When she was told that Basil Byrne said he was sure of her she turned red and then pale. She laughed a forced laugh, and said, simply:

"Dear me, one hears things that astonish one in this remarkable world!"

Then she flicked her whip in the air, and talked of other things; but Pauline saw that the shot had told—that the damage was done to Basil which she intended to do.

There was to be a dance that evening at Farley; a charity ball in aid of the Homes of the Poor. The Countess of Chase was the lady patroness of this ball—at least, she was the principal one; but there were other titled dames besides. It was to be a very grand but a very exclusive affair. All the elite of that portion of the county were to be present. From Charteris Court no less than six vehicles were to start, bearing the guests of the Countess to the scene of festivities.

Farley was six miles from Charteris, consequently the carriages were ordered at half-past eight; they were to return to call for the guests at three o'clock a.m.

Pauline was in an ecstasy. Things had gone so well with her—had succeeded beyond her most daring hopes—considering the short time that had elapsed since the departure of Elsie.

"Les absents ont toujours tort!" she said, repeating the French proverb, which we may render: "The absent are always at a disadvantage!"

Lord Hammond had seemed in love with Elsie up to the night of her leaving—now she had been gone a fortnight—she had not written a word to anybody, not even to the Countess; and Pauline had contrived to make Lady Chase and Lord Hammond believe that she had heard from friends in Paris that Cornelius Carew, the well-known wild politician, was in the French capital, or in the neighborhood at any rate, well and strong; that his daughter was with him—that he had forbidden her to write to any of her friends, since he wished to conceal his abode from what he called English government spies—and that Elsie was engaged to, and would soon marry, a certain noted political agitator of good old Irish family and large fortune inherited from maternal American ancestry. She gave the name of this man, and everybody believed her.

YACHTING.

NOT NEXT SEASON.

New York, Oct. 10.—The Hon. Hugh Kelly, secretary of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, sailed yesterday on the steamer Majestic. He expressed himself as being perfectly satisfied with the treatment he had received here and the fair treatment that had been accorded the Shamrock II. He said that Sir Thomas Lipton would not challenge next year, and Mr. Kelly had no idea who would. He was satisfied, however, that England would again strive to "lift" the cup.

DECLINED SIR THOMAS' PROPOSAL.

New York, Oct. 10.—The New York Yacht Club yesterday formally declined Sir Thomas Lipton's proposal to race the Shamrock II. again next summer for the America's cup. A joint meeting of the committees of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club and of the New York Yacht Club was held yesterday at the club house, and Sir Thomas' proposition submitted by Vice-Commodore Beam-Crawford. He stated that his committee, on behalf of Sir Thomas, desired to ask if the New York Yacht Club would withdraw in favor of the Shamrock II. that paragraph of the deed of gift providing that "no yacht which has been defeated in a match for this cup can be again selected by any club as its representative, until after a contest for it by some other vessel has intervened, or until after the expiration of two years from the time of such defeat." He stated that in the event of this request being acceded to, should a challenge for next year be received from anyone else, Sir Thomas would withdraw his challenge.

THE KAISER WANTS THE CUP.

Berlin, Oct. 10.—It is rumored that Emperor William has instructed the Kiel Yacht Club to challenge for the America cup.

F. C. B. C. VS. NORMAL-MODEL.

The Forest City Business College football team play the opening league game on Saturday afternoon with the Normal-Model club. It is probable that the game will be played on St. John's athletic grounds.

GOLF.

WOMEN'S NATIONAL TOURNEY.

New York, Oct. 10.—Bright sunshine and summer-like breezes, and a large gallery, greeted the contestants in the women's national golf tournament on the links of the Baltusrol Golf Club yesterday morning. The sixteen winners of Tuesday's qualifying round were paired for match play. The first pair drove off at 10 o'clock. The match which carried the largest gallery was that of Miss Margaret Curtis and Miss Pauline Mackay. Miss Curtis made the finest ball of the morning, from the opening tee, carrying nearly to the bunker, 200 yards away. Some of the players were palpably nervous, and Miss Emily Lockwood and Miss Harriet Curtis both drove out of bounds.

Miss Bessie Anthony, the champion for the last two years of the Western Women's Golf Association, defeated Miss Marion Oliver, of Albany, by 5 up and 4 to play. The latter was the long-driving champion of 1899, and her long game is just as strong today as it was then, but she could not lead the western girl at all, either from the tee or through the green. They were nip-and-tuck all the way until within approaching distance of the holes, when Miss Anthony showed superiority. She also putted better and apparently had recovered from nervousness which characterized her play yesterday.

BASEBALL.

DEMAND INCREASED SALARIES.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—A movement entirely independent of the Players' Protective Association has been inaugurated by the members of National League teams against club owners, for the purpose of compelling an increase of salaries. Contracts for 1902, it is said, will not be signed until the demands of the players are conceded.

ATHLETICS.

THE SIX DAYS' WALK.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 10.—More weary pedestrians dropped out of the six days' walking match at Industrial Hall yesterday, leaving 25 men in the contest out of 49 starters. Midnight score: Cartwright, 292 miles; Hegeiman, 287; Glyck, 285; Tracy, 282; Golden, 273; Cavanaugh, 258; Barnes, 248; Messler, 235; Guerrero, 230; Dean, 214; Day, 207; Hart, 207.

FISTIC.

NOVEMBER 15 THE DAY.

San Francisco, Oct. 10.—Nov. 15 has been agreed upon as the date for the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight in this city. Jeffries has posted his $2,500 forfeit, and nothing remains now but the selection of a referee. It is generally understood that Harry Corbett will be chosen. Tim Hagarty, the Australian, who came to this city to meet McGovern, has agreed to meet Kid Lavigne.

TURF.

TWENTIETH CENTURY STAKES.

Chicago Oct. 10.—George Arnold, perfectly handled by Jockey Winkfield, captured the Twentieth Century stakes at Harlem yesterday afternoon, worth to the winner $6,226. The distances was 1 3-16 miles, which was covered in 2:06. Arnold opened equal choice with the Hildreth entry and Rolling Boer, at 2 to 1, but at post time the odds had changed to 16 to 5c, with few takers. The Lady and George Arnold went to the front at flag-fall, and raced together for a mile; after that Arnold pulled to the front, having plenty of room to spare at the wire.

CIRCUIT TROTS POSTPONED.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 10.—The Grand Circuit trots scheduled for yesterday have been postponed until Thursday on account of rain.

FOOTBALL.

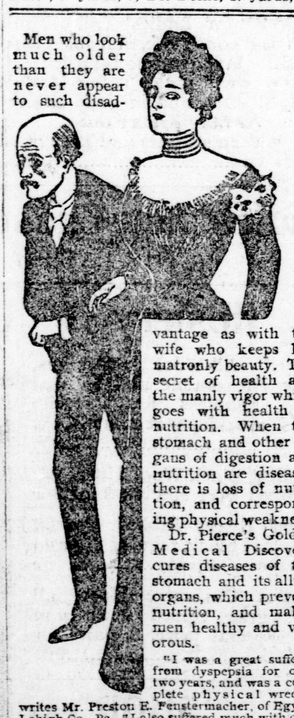

PLAYER COMMITS SUICIDE.

Watertown, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Ray Story, aged 23, of Clyde, N. Y., for two years right half-back on the local football team, committed suicide this morning by placing the muzzle of a shotgun in his mouth, blowing the top of his head off. Story was a well-known wrestler, and known throughout the state in football circles, having played at one time with the University of Buffalo team. No cause is assigned for the rash act.

EMPEROR WILLIAM AMBITIOUS.

New York, Oct. 10.—Much interest has been excited in Berlin by the rumor that it is the emperor's intention to challenge for the America's cup, but nothing definite is known on the subject, says the Berlin correspondent of the World. For two years the emperor has been ambitious to challenge for the cup, but has advisers have dissuaded him from trying until some finality was attanied regarding the build of the yacht necessary. The kaiser is persuaded that with a yacht of the Meteor class he can accomplish nothing.

Men who look much older than they are never appear to such disadvantage as with the wife who keeps her matronly beauty. The secret of health and the manly vigor which goes with health is nutrition. When the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased there is loss of nutrition, and corresponding physical weakness.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and its allied organs, which prevent nutrition, and makes men healthy and vigorous.

"I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia for over two years, and was a complete physical wreck," writes Mr. Preston E. Feustermacher, of Egypt, Lehigh Co., Pa. "I also suffered much with constipation. I tried many different medicines which were recommended to cure the trouble but these only made me worse. I had such a weak and debilitated appearance that it seemed as if I had hardly any blood in my whole body. At last I came across an advertisement of Dr. Pierce's. I at once tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I used about eight vials of the 'Pellets' and ten bottles of the 'Discovery' which brought me back to my former state of health."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.

GREAT PILES OF GOLD!

Said to Have Been Discovered 70 Miles North of Tuccon, Arizona.

Tucson, Ariz., Oct. 9.—Charles R. and Porter V. Fleming, of this place, have arrived here from the Galluro Mountains, where they report a remarkable gold discovery. The rich find is located 70 miles north of Tucson, and the vein of ore, according to the Flemings, is 200 feet wide and 6,000 feet in length. A canon cuts through the vein for 200 feet, exposing the ore on either side the entire length of the cut. The Fleming brothers assert that from the bottom of the cut to the surface the outcroppings of ore will run from $5 to $1,000 to the ton. They estimate the amount of gold in sight at the enormous sum of $7,000,000. The Tucson Star, of this place, is the authority for the saying that the story told by the Fleming brothers is authentic, and that it is verified by the facts as above given.

AMERICAN PRAISES GRAND TRUNK R. R.

Delighted With the Comforts and Courtesy Extended on a Trip to Portland From Toronto.

The very heavy tourist traffic, as well as the thousands of people who have visited the Buffalo Exposition this year, over the lines of the Grand Trunk Railway System has naturally brought forth several very favorable criticisms regading the management, equipment and general excellence of this railway The geneal offices ae continually in receipt of letters from travelers praising the facilities that the Grand Trunk now offer on all their lines. Passengers, as a rule, are not in the habit of informing railroad companies of the satisfactory features in connection with their service, and unsolicited testimonials are therefore appreciated.

The following letter from a prominent broker of New York city has just been received at the general offices of the Grand Trunk in Montreal:

"In July and August, in company with four others, I greatly enjoyed a trip over your road from Toronto to Portland. Aside from the charms of the region through which we traveled, our pleasure was very much enhanced by the uniform courtesy and kind attention shown us by the employes of your road, and especially those on the morning train from Toronto to Portland. Our experience was so delightful that I have persuaded several of my friends to take the same trip.

"The only object of these lines is to recognize merit where it is due."

Everywhere the Grand Trunk is known, nothing but high encomiums of praise are heard from those who patronize this up-to-date system.

Sleeplessness.

You can't sleep in the calmest and stillest night if your stomach is weak, circulation poor and digestion bad. Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens the stomach, improves the circulation, perfects digestion and brings about that condition in which sleep is regular and refreshing.

It does not do this in a day, but it does it—has done it in thousands of cases. t

SECURING SOUNDINGS

Of the Raging Torrents at Niagara Falls.

Daring Trips Made by Peter Nissen in His Little Boat "The Foolkiller."

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 9. — Peter Nissen, the Chicago man, has been the object of interest of the many Niagara Falls visitors for many days past, darting here and there over the troubled waters in his odd little boat, the Fool Killer. His boat has once carried him through the Niagara Whirlpool, and it is his purpose to send her through again. In the meantime he is making some soundings which will be of interest. He has already gained valuable data, to which he hopes to add materially before her return home. He has surprised Niagara Falls people in running up close to the Horseshoe Falls, but his little craft has stood the voyage well, proving it to be quite seaworthy. In taking soundings he has used window weights at the end of his deep sea sounding line, and in order to save the line he has these weights attached by a smaller line. Thus, when the weights catch on the rocky bottom, it is easy to break them off from the main line and let them go. But Nissen has had a strange experience in this way, for he has found, without his knowing when it was done, that several of the heivy weights have actually been broken in two down at the river bottom. They weigh fourteen pounds each, and it requires a powerful force to break them. Despite this, however, it has been his experience that the weights have been so broken, and the only possible explanation is that down in the depth of this remarkable river great rocks are hurled about by the frightful currents fresh from the downpouring waters of the falls, and, striking the weights, hurl them against rocks, where between the two forces they are broken.

On one day recently, when Nissen was up close to the Horseshoe Falls, it was his misfortune to lose a 400-pound iron plate off the keel of his boat. It is probable that the plate had been jarred loose on the rocks at a time of low water, but in the loss of the plate it was clear that the power and force of the water was something terrific.

Nissen's record to date is that he has succeeded in securing accurate soundings of the river's depth at least 2,500 feet higher on the American side than any heretofore taken. These soundings were not made so high up on the Canadian side because of the fact that, starting out from a point above Goat Island, Nissen would commence to take soundings, his boat all the time being swept down stream on the ever-rushing current, so that by the time he had steamed across the river he was several hundred feet lower down he reached the Canadian shore. The soundings he has taken, however, inclines him to the belief that there is a very deep hole, in which the water at the bottom rushes toward the base of the fall. His soundings indicate that the falling waters have had quite a tendency to toss up quite a pile of rocky debris several hundred feet down stream in front of the fall, and that the mass of water coming down from the fall striking the lower body of water plunges forward until it meets this rocky wall, and is then hurled backward to take part in the general churning that is ever present at the foot of the Horseshoe.

Nissen will continue his soundings in the vicinity of the falls until he makes the second trip through the Whirlpool Rapids, and this trip he expects to make soon. He is anxious to drop his sounding line in the whirlpool, for there he hopes to find many things that are new. Before going through the rapids he will endeavor to locate the steel suspension bridge which was carried away by a hurricane on the night of January 9, 1889. This great structure is concealed beneath the water of the river close to the falls.

'TIS A MARVELOUS THING.—When the cures effected by Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil are considered, the speedy and permanent relief it has brought to the suffering wherever it has been used, it must be regarded as a marvelous thing that so potent a medicine should result from the six simple ingredients which enter into its composition. A trial will convince the most skeptical of its healing virtues.

A SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

In the amusement column today will be found an important announcement, made by Manager Cairns, of the Grand Opera House, in connection with the opening tour of the Metropolitan concert course, by the Mendelssohn Male Quartet. The public will find it to their interest to read what Manager Cairns has to say.

WELCOMED THE RECTOR.

Rev. Cecil C. Owen, rector of Memorial Church, was welcomed last evening by his congregation after his return from Britain. The opening exercises were conducted by Mr. McElheran, after which Mr. Owen delivered an interesting address, dealing with his trip, during which he revisited the scenes of his childhood at Ipswich, England. He also thanked Mr. McElheran and the wardens of the church for the acceptable manner in which they had looked after his duties during his absence. During the evening Mr. Howden presented a financial report for the half-year, showing a slight gain over last year. Mr. Talbot reported on the century fund. Solos were given by Miss Brock and Mr. Frank Symons. Mr. Evans acted as secretary during the proceedings.

PRAISE FOR 26TH.

Speaking of the militia corps now visiting Toronto, the Telegram says: "There is one regiment that causes more than passing remark. It's the 26th of Middlesex, and four of its companies are made up of the native human product of Canada, the noble red men. And a fine looking body of men they are, too, big, strapping fellows with eyes that light up every time they drop far enough to catch sight of the splendid red tunics they wear. These coats are the pride of their hearts, too, and it's said the only trouble their officers have with them is when the camp is over and they have to separate the red man from the red tunic. And surely they figure as a triumph of civilization—the sons of the forest marching side by side with their white brothers, sworn and drilled to fight and die for the land they hold in happy unison with their clearer skinned instructors.

PROTESTANT ORPHANS' HOME.

The president, Mrs. Morphy, occupied the chair at the monthly meeting of the Protestant Orphans' Home. The meeting opened in the usual way with devotional exercises, which was followed by the reading of several reports, all of a very encouraging nature. Several communications were from former inmates now in happy foster homes, and all applications received during the month for children were duly dealt with. In September suitable homes were found for six of the little inmates. To the endowment fund has been added the very generous gift of $300 from the late Mrs. G. B. Harris, which has already been acknowledged. The annual meeting, which takes place Monday afternoon, Oct. 21, will be held at the home, when the board look for a large attendance. The board feel very grateful to the children of St. Andrew's Sunday school, who contributed their little mite towards providing busses to take their less fortunate brothers and sisters to the special children's service held in their church on last Sunday week. The trustees gratefully acknowledge the following list of donations received at the home in September: Ladies' clothing, Mrs. Saunby; 2 bags pears, Mr. Westman; clothing, Mrs. Carrie; 2 bags apples, Mrs. Thomson; 1 gallon tasteless cod liver oil, Wampole & Co.; 2 pairs of chickens, Mrs. Dobbin; fruit and flowers, from children's annual flower service, St. John's Church, Arva; pressed beef, G. W. Smith. F. M. Macnamara, secretary.

THE COMIC OPERA QUEEN.

Lulu Glaser may now be said to be the only star in the field of comic opera. Last season Alice Neilson was her only rival, and now that Miss Neilson has made up her mind to prepare herself for grand opera in London, Miss Glaser is the undisputed queen of the enchanted realm of comic opera. A prominent New York manager, in speaking of Miss Glaser's chances, says: "I predict that Miss Glaser will prove a wonderfully strong proposition. If I knew of a young woman in all respects the equal of Miss Glaser, I wouldn't be long in securing her and placing her at the head of a big organization. I have been watching for possibilities in that direction for a long time, and I tell you that material for women comic opera stars is a mighty scarce commodity. I shall watch Miss Glaser's career in 'Dolly Varden' with a great deal of interest. Fred Whitney is a lucky manager to have such a woman to head his company." Miss Glaser will be seen here tomorrow and Saturday at the New Grand.

THE BOSTONIANS.

Interest is already incited over the coming engagement of The Bostonians at the new Grand on Wednesday next, Oct. 16. For the engagement here this welcome and famous group of singers will present their greatest success, "Robin Hood," by DeKoven and Smith. This opera has had a successful vogue for years in all the large cities, and is so brimful of melody and amusing dramatic features that a volume would be required to dilate fully upon the work. Among the principal numbers are "Oh, Promise Me," "The Tinker's Song" and "The Old Cross Bow," which never have failed to arouse enthusiasm. Thoroughly reorganized by the infusion of young blood, a powerful cast will be heard, in which all the prime favorites will appear, including Barnabee, MacDonald and Frothingham; the beautiful and brilliant soprano, Frances Miller; the vivacious contralto, Adele Rafter; Albert Parr, tenor; Allen Hinckley, basso; Gertrude Zimmer, soprano, and others. Seats will be placed on sale Monday.

MORRISON'S "FAUST."

Advance notices, advertisements and programmes all informed the public that those attending last night's performance of "Faust" at the New Grand would positively see Lewis Morrison himself as Mephisto. Lewis Morrison himself was positively about all the audience did see, with the exception of some good electrical effects. Mr. Morrison's conception of Mephisto is one familiar to almost every theater-goer in America, and he is recognized as probably the best exponent of the role on the English-speaking stage. He imparts to his characterization all the fiendish malevolence and all the subtlety of humor that the part demands, and his mocking laugh is one destined to go down in stage annals as the very essence of Satanic and sardonic mirth. Mr. Morrison, however, is making the mistake of too many other capable stars, who imagine that after winning a name in some particular character or line of characters they can afford to appeal to the public on their reputations alone, without providing themselves with a competent supporting company. With one or two exceptions Mr. Morrison's assisting players are unworthy of mention. Mr. Wm. Ewing, as Valentine, did excellent work, being particularly good in his death scene in the third act. Mrs. Selby Tapsfield played the part of Martha in the broadly humorous spirit, which it requires. Miss May Ida Park's delineation of Marguerite was satisfactory from the dramatic standpoint, but she lacks the beauty of person which made Miss Florence Roberts' conception so enjoyable to old-time admirers of Mr. Morrison's production. The presentation of "Faust" was weak and unconvincing. Two other elements combined to detract from the success of the performance. One was the lack of proper stage management, noticed before, one fault being the unnecessary shouting and noise heard behind the scenes between the acts, and even during the progress of the play. The other was one furnished by the late-coming section of the audience itself. So sustained were the interruptions and discomfiture from this source that the effectiveness of the prologue, and "Faust's" opening speech was entirely lost.

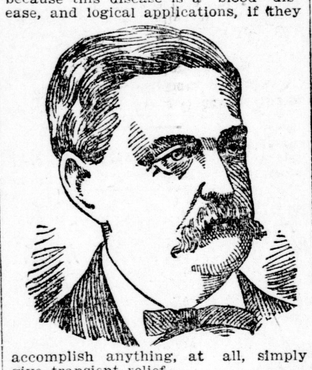

A SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Tonight will witness the initial offering of the Metropolitan concert course at the New Grand Opera House, in the form of the Mendelssohn Male Quartet. Only at 11 o'clock last night was Manager Cairns advised that the quartet would be on hand tonight, as only about one-third of the season tickets subscribed for have been delivered and because of the shortness of the notice Mr. Cairns makes the following announcement: "All subscribers who will have purchased their season tickets by tonight will be given a reserved seat for tonight on payment of ten cents. They will in addition be given next Tuesday an extra number—the Ernest Gamble Concert Company—with no charge except the ten cents for reserving their seats. Thus all subscribers who hear the Mendelssohns tonight will get eleven concerts instead of ten for their $2, while those who do not secure their tickets by tonight will still get the full number of concerts promised them when they subscribed. The extra number next week is one of the highest-priced concert attractions on the road, and has been added to the local course at great expense to satisfy all subscribers that they are getting for their money the best value ever offered in London. The box office at the New Grand will be open all day, and full information may be had there."

No Argument Needed.

Every Sufferer From Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches Do Not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and logical applications, if they accomplish anything, at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat, and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucous, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eutachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of the stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Guaiacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant-tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrhal remedies, Stuart's Catarrh remedies contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a 50-cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask, and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

Piles, Itching, Blind or Bleeding

Symptoms: Moisture; intense itching and stinging, most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. Swayne's Ointment stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists' or by mail, for 50 cents. A Prince Edward Island fisherman, Philippe Gallant, has saved the lives of no less than 27 persons.

The United States imported hides and skins, other than fur skins, to the amount of $37,781,317 during the eight months ending with August.

A MAGIC PILL.—Dyspepsia is a foe with which men are constantly grappling, but cannot exterminate. Subdued, and to all appearances vanquished in one, it makes its appearance in another direction. In many the digestive apparatus is as delicate as the mechanism of a watch or scientific instrument, in which even a breath of air will make a variation. With such persons disorders of the stomach ensue from the most trivial causes and cause much suffering. To these Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are recommended as mild and sure.

Earthen, stone and chinaware, to the value of $6,279,341, were imported into the United States for the eight months ending August, 1901.
