The Steamer Abydos Lost and 22 Persons Drowned.

ord Randolph Churchill's Condition Growing Worse.

The Question of Priests Riding Bicycles the Subject of Vatioan Investigation.

Twenty-Two Lives Lost. LONDON, Dec. 26 .- The owners of the small British steamer Abydos learn that she was lost off Porterin in the gaic. Twenty-two persons were drowned.

Cycling Clergymen. LONDON, Dec. 26.—The Daily News' correspondent in Rome says the Pope has nominated a committee to examine the question of priests riding bicycles and the nygienic and moral aspects of the practice. A section of the bishops oppose bicycling because the riders are unable to wear their clerical gowns. Serious Trouble Caused by a Bull. CAIRO, Dec. 26.-Nubar Pasha, President of the Council of Ministers, was chased by a bull on his farm at Choubrah two days ago. In his flight he fell down an embankment and injured his back so severely that his doctors say he must recline in a chair or on a couch for two months. His family urge him to resign his office and take a long rest.

India and Ireland Compared.

CALCUTTA, Dec. 26.—The Indian National Congress opened in Madras today. Alfred Webbe, M.P., member for West Waterford, was elected president. He compared the situation and destinies of India with those of Ireland. He commended the Indian Government, but sharply criticised the country's extravagant military establishment as entirely beyond the limits of

The Pope and the Blue Jackets.

Rome, Dec. 26 .- The Pope received the officers of the United States cruiser Detroit at the Vatican this morning. Commander Newell, in a brief address, thanked his Holiness for granting an audience to himself and his fellow-officers. No American visiting Europe, he said, thought his visit the Pope. The Pope replied, saying he was towards midnight. A high wind prevailed always particular to receive citizens of the great Republic.

Lord Churchill Worse.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The condition of Lord Randolph Churchill was much worse this morning. He is a great deal weaker than he was yesterday and relapses into prolonged periods of coma.

Another consultation of physicians was held at midnight. The patient's condition alternates between coma and partial con-

Dr. Keith, one of Lord Randolph's physicians, said tonight: "His weakness ncreases slowly, and the case is absotely hopeless. A sad feature of his lness is that every effort on behalf of e patient merely prolongs such agony as is now able to feel. The end is merely matter of time. He may linger a month, at this is highly improbable."

The Chelford Disaster.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The Government inhiry into the railway disaster near Chelord opened today with Prof. Bryce, president of the Board of Trade, in attendance. Stationmaster Hyde, who supervised the handling of the freight cars at the switch where the accident occurred, testified that he was shunting a freight train just before the Chelford express was due to pass the side track. The last car got detached while he was near the front of the train. He saw it move swiftly toward the main line, but he could not reach it. He waved his lantern vigorously to stop the express, but without effect.

The engineer in the second locomotive said he saw the red lantern, but it was too late to reduce speed, as the train was running 50 miles an hour. The engineer and fireman of the first locomotive were unable to attend the inquiry, and it was adjourned to await their recovery.

THE MIDDLEMARCH TRAGEDY.

Friends of Welter and Hendershott Take a Christmas Dinner to Them.

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 26 .- The inquest into the cause of the death of William Henry Hendershott will be resumed tomorrow at the Grange Hall, Middlemarch, at 10 a.m. Provincial Detective Murray returned from Toronto today to work on the case.

Two loads of the friends of the prisoners Welter and Hendershott drove in to see them yesterday and brought them a Christmas dinner. They were not allowed in, but the dinner was taken in and given to the prisoners.

Patrick Fitzpatrick, the man upon whose life John Hendershott, charged with murder, attempted to place an insurance for his (Hendershott's) benefit, was taken charge of by the police today. He has been drink ing so much that he is a veritable wreck. Owing to his uncleanliness the police did not put him in the cells, but kept him outside till the arrival of the magistrate, when he was sent to jail.

OTTAWA'S CARNIVAL

Will Proceed in Spite of the Governor-General's Request to Postpone It.

OTTAWA, Dec. 26 .- At a largely attended meeting of the executive of the carnival tonight a letter was read from Lord Aberdeen, asking its postponement for a week owing to the death of Sir John Thompson. There were only two, Gen. Herbert and Lieut.-Col. Anderson-of the Maritime members who favored the postponement.

A resolution was passed thanking his Excellency for the interest he had taken in the carnival. It was, however, decided to $30,000. Carter has been in the bank 25 years, beginning as messenger boy, and being promoted from time to time till he reached his present position. Among his other duties he was required to receive and pay coupons and maturing or called bonds. On the discovery of the discrepancy he accounted for it by claiming that he paid in error that amount of bonds before their maturity. When asked to produce the bonds he was unable to do so, and admitted his guilt. He claims to have used the money in his living expenses. He has been placed under arrest. The bank has a capital of $5,000,000 and surplus and undivided profits of $3,500,-000, but the defalcation is none the less distressing, as Carter had the confidence of all who came in contact with him, and he has a wife and two children.

WINTER IN EARNEST.

The Arctic Wave Has Reached St. Paul, Minn.

While Boreas and "The Beautiful' Seem to Hold Sway Throughout the Country.

Sr. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 26 .- The first Arctic wave of the winter came down on St. Paul this evening. The range of temperature over the Northwest was from zero at St. Paul to 26° below at Qu'Appelle, Canada. The balometer at the latter point has reached the high level of 31.26°. Signal Service Officer Lyons reports that temperatures ranging from 20° to nearly 40° below zero will be registered over the Northwest tomorrow morning. No moderation is expected before Friday. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 26.-The first snow of the winter began to fall here this afternoon, and in a few minutes a smallsized blizzard had developed. Reports from all sections of the State show that the storm was general, and for the first time thir winter the country is covered with snow. PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 26.-A heavy snow storm set in at 4 this afternoon, and at 10:30 o'clock about 30 inches of snow had failen, with the storm still raging. CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 26 .- Reports to the Tribune show that a heavy snow is falling throughout southern Ohio and Indiana, all of Kentucky and West Virginia. In the mountain sections of the last two States there is great rejoicing, as it will probably cause a big rise in the rivers, thus letting out the immense log rafts that have been accumulating for months. CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 26.—Snow began had seen his Holiness falling in this city tonight, but abated and the thermometer fell to 20 degrees and the household effects were damaged to above zero. Reports from Illinois, Iowa, the extent of $1,000. Wisconsin and Michigan say that snow falls prevail in those States. NEW YORK, Dec. 26 .- A snow storm which visited this city tonight was heavy enough to make the first sleighing of the season, and at 8 o'clock the jingle of sleigh bells could be heard in Central Park. The observer at Sandy Hook reports that the Majestic passed in at 5:20 p.m. The wind at that hour was blowing 60 miles an hour, and a blinding snow storm had set in and the sea was running very high. It was impossible to see 100 yards ahead through the snow storm. BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 26 .- The first snow of the season was extraordinary heavy, and sleighs were running through out the city by nightfall. Late at night the wind subsided and the snow fall was succeeded by a heavy rain storm.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26.—The first snow of the season fell here today, covering the ground to the depth of an inch or QUEBEC, Dec. 26.-The thermometer registered ten below zero here today, the lowest of the season.

The Street Railway Methods Severely Censured.

Charges of Corruption Asked for Against a Number of Citizens.

Toronto, Dec. 26 .- The municipal investigation was resumed this morning before County Judge MacDougall. The morning was occupied in unimportant arguments between counsel representing ex-Ald. Hall and ex-Ald. Maloney regarding the evidence of the former touching the conduct of the latter.

STRONG LANGUAGE. This afternoon Mr. Nesbitt and Mr. Grier summed up. The central feature of the pleadings, both of Mr. Nesbitt and of Mr. Grier was the strong words of condemnation of the street railway methods of dealing with aldermen. Mr. Nesbitt expressed his belief not only that Mr. Everett had conspired to debauch, but he was associated with corruption throughout and was a commercial leper. Scarcely less outspoken was Mr. Grier's denunciation of Mr. Grace, the secretarytreasurer of the company, who in various transactions, as he claimed, was shown to have had a perfect understanding with Coleman, the briber, and the general agent of the company in shady transactions.

UNDER A CLOUD. A finding of corruption is asked against Messrs. J. Bailey, J. Gowanlock and E. Hewitt, members of the council of 1894; in addition to Ald. Stewart, adjudged guilty already; against Wm. Hall, J. E. Verral, John Maloney and Charles Small, members of the council of 1893; against W. A. Bell, of the city clerk's office, and J. C. Grace, secretary-treasurer of the Toronto railway. Hewitt and Coleman have fled the country, and will probably never return.

DEATH-DEALING OIL.

A Babe and a Little Girl Fatally Burned in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 26 .- Mrs. Cohn spilled some oil on the floor and over her clothing while filling a lamp in her home last evening. Attempting to light the lamp, the wasted oil was ignited, and the woman was severely burned. Her 9. months-old child was burned to death,

By the explosion of a lamp in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aberhorn last evening a flood of burning oil was scattered over little Lena Aberhorn, and she is said to be fatally burned. Her father was painfully injured in trying to extinguish the flames.

A QUESTION OF VERACITY

Involved in the International Dispute Regarding Seized Nets.

CTTAWA, Dec. 26 .- In regard to the disagreement over the fishing nets seized some weeks ago in Lake Erie by the Petrel, the dispute has taken an international turn, and Commander Wakeham's report has been forwarded to the British authorities. It is understood that his report fully establishes Canada's contention that the seizure was made in Canadian territory, between mated that 2,000 families are depending Point Pelce and Kelly Island. The for assistance upon the one inadequate owners of the nets, however, claim that the nets were seized in an entirely different place from that sworn to by the Canadian officer. Thus it is not likely that any boundary dispute will come up, but will rather turn on a question of fact.

Execution of His Own Will. NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 26 .- James Simpson, of the firm of Simpson, Crawford & Simpson, died at 6 o'clock this evening at his residence on West Seventy-third street. He had been ailing for some time. He was the senior member of the firm. On Saturday night, when on his death bed, he gave to each of the employes who had been employed by the firm for ten years the sum of $100, and those in its employ for fifteen years $200. It is said that in this way Mr.

Simpson paid out at least $20,000. Fearful Force of the Waves. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26 .- Some de-Terrible Condition of the People at Point Esquimaux.

Twenty-Five Families Left Without Sustenance-Diphtheria Epidemic and No Medicine to be Had.

QUEBEC, Dec. 25 .- News was received here today from Point E quimaux to the effect that through the loss of the three schooners there some time ago, 25 families have been left without bread.

Diphtheria has broken out among the inhabitants of the north shore. The inhabitants are devoid of all medical belp, and diseases have spread freely through the population, especially since 1891, when the dreaded disease, la grippe, made such ravages on the north shore. Dr. Tremblay, who was the resident medical officer of the Labrador region, had to leave the place on account of his salary having been reduced considerably.

A special meeting of the St. Thomas Board of Health was held Monday afternoon to consider the question of relieving Dr. McCrimmon, now in quarantine at the Isolation Hospital. It was decided, providing no other cases break out, to release Dr. McCrimmon on the night of Dec. 31,

As Mr. Wm. Ellis, of Glen Rae, foreman in the mill there, was returning to his home Christmas eve, just as he was about to enter his own door, some person concealed fired at him, the charge riddling the side of the house, and some of it passing through his coat. Footprints on the heavy frost indicate that the person firing was in his stocking feet.

IN LABOR'S FIELD.

Suffering Among Cloak-Makers in New York.

An English Leader's Conception of a

Trades Union. FALL RIVER, Mass., Dec. 26 -In a con versation this morning David Holmes, the English labor leader, said his conception of a trades union is an organized body with a very strong fund at its back. He considers strikes in the nature of wars, that should not be engaged in until absolute refusal to talk of the matter in dispute is received. "I regard it as a woeful thing to allow members of a union to leave their work when they have not funds to support them a great while," he said. "In England," he says, "the children are brought up to know the advantages of paying to their trades and supporting each other in times of dispute. NEW YORK, Dec. 26 .- As winter pro gresses the suffering among the distressed cloakmakers increases. The busy fall season having already passed away with the benefit to neither the strikers nor manufacturers, no other prospect than continued misery is presented to the former for the next few months. It is esticloakmakers' relief depot.

legal? ANS .- Yes. ARKONA. - I am a tenant. My lease says do road-work and pay taxes. Will I have to pay special ditch tax which was put on since the lease? ANS .- Upon the facts stated you must pay all taxes including the special ditch tax. KERWOOD .- I have put in tile drains on my farm in the proper watercourse and up to the line of my neighbor's farm which s plowed land. Can I force him to give me an outlet? Ans .- Yes. Proceed under the Ditches and Watercourses Act if he refuses to do so. FISH CREEK .- A man dies intestate; his widow becomes administratrix of the estate. There are two families of two children each. The eldest child is now of age and seeks her share of the estate. What percentage of the estate is due each of the children? Is the widow entitled to anything for bringing up the younger children until they are of age? Has she any claim on the estate for the work of administering? ANS .- The children of both families share equally in two-thirds of the estate. The widow takes one-third. On application to the court an allowance may be made to her for the maint-nance of her infant children. She is also entitled to compensation for her services as adminisratrix. Consult a solicitor.

OLD PEOPLE.

Why Do the Very Rich Not Live to Be Centenarians?

(New York Sun.) It is singular that we never hear of any centenarian millionaires. We chronicled this week the death of a poor black woman living among us, formerly a Virginia slave, who died in the 110th year of her age. A few days ago we commented upon the death of the last one among three sisters living up at New Hackensack, in very moderate circumstances, all of whom lived till they had entered the 105th year of their age. On Sunday last we printed a dispatch from a place in Alabama, concerning five brothers and sisters living in a log house there, the eldest of whom passed the century mark years ago, while all of them are close to 100 years old. We are, indeed, constantly hearing of the decease of centenarians, or of the liveliness of living centenarians; but we do not remember that we have ever heard of any of our millionaires passing into the second century of life. Commodore Vanderbilt reached the 83rd year of his age; John Jacob Astor reached the 85th, and several members of the Committee of Seventy are still alive at a ripe old age. But we do not believe that three in 100 of those American millionaires who are the wonder of the world. have ever seen their 80th year, much less their 100th. Nearly every one of the centenarians whose departure from this life we hear of, year after year, was a person of comparatively light estate. Why is it that we hear of so many poor centenarians and never of a millionaire centenarian? Are these millionaires overburdened with their wealth, or do they live too high, or do they get worn cut early with the botheration of watching and counting their multiplying millions? We cannot tell for sure; but we know that not one of them as lived has long as black Nellie Jefferson, or the five members of the Sadler the Alabama woods, or the three

We are disposed to think that if the millionaires want to rival the ordinary centenarians in the length of their years, they ought to unburden their minds, live upon good plain victuals, not too highly seasoned, take long walks, enjoy their share of fun, ride on bicycles, keep out of the draught, try a log house, and look after their health. We say that a millionaire, or even a multi-millionaire, ought to be able to get out of life most of the good that is in it, and spend as many years of happiness as ordinary people who live to be over 100. Never an American millionaire centenarian! Let some millionaire do his best to be the first of that kind. In the Matter of Gum. Your anecdote recording your failure to obtain mucilage in an English shop be cause you should have asked for "gum," reminds me of a converse experience suffered in this country by an English friend of mine. In a little western town he asked the clerk of the hotel whether he had any gum. "No," said the youth, "I don't use it: but I can give you a chew of tobacco.'

Valuable Paper on Fungi by Prof. Panton.

The Deputy Minister of Agriculture on Fraudulent Packing-Good Effects of Spraying.

ORILLIA, Dec. 26.—The recent meeting of the Provincial Association of Fruitgrowers was one of unusual interest. As a matter of fact fruit-growing as a business for farmers is just now one of the most remunerative. No other branch pays better, unless it be dairying, and these two may well go hand in hand. It is on this account that the Minister of Agriculture for Ontario is doing all he can to foster this industry, both through this association and through the establishment of fruit experimenting stations. A paper on "Fungi" by Prof. Panton, of the Agricultural College, Guelph, was full of information, without the technical phrases so con-tusing to the uninitiated. He showed by a diagram the various mildews, moulds, scabs, rusts, plum knot, etc., as seen under the microscope, and showed that they were vegetable growths propagated by spores in the manner akin to the way in which larger plants are propagated by seeds. All these are parasitic on the host plant which they affect, and very materially weaken the growth of the plant. Witness, for instance, the effect of the mildew on the gooseberry and grape and the scab on the apple and pair. The latter is ruining the apple orchards of Ontario, and unless some steps are taken to remove the evil the apple orchards of our Province will soon become barren. Fortunately copper sulphate applied in the spring before the growth begins, and Bordeaux mixture, applied in a fine spray at inter-vals afterwards will, to a large exteat, remove both moulds and the apple scab.
Copper sulphate is applied with a spray pump, fifteen pounds being dissolved in 40 gallons of water, and the Bordeau mixture by mixing four pounds of copper sulphate and four pounds of lime with 40 gallons of water. The sulphate and lime are first dissolved separately, and then poured together. The Department of Agriculture proposes to demonstrate more fully to the public FERTILIZATION OF FLOWERS. Prof. Beech, of the Geneva Experiment Station, N. Y., gave a most valuable paper on 'Fertilization of Flowers in the Orchard and Vineyard." By the use of excellent drawings he showed the construction of the male and female organs of flowers, and how it comes about that certain varieties of fruits are incapable of self-fertilization. It was evidently on this account that many large vineyards of one variety of grape were unproductive. The same thing also explains why many large orchards of one variety of apple or pear produce such small crops of fruit. The profesor gave a list of grapes which are incapable of producing in any quantity if planted by them-the efficacy of this treatment by public experiments in various parts of the Prov-

INSECT PESTS. Prof. James Fletcher, of the Central Experimental Farm, gave a most able and interesting address on insects in general, but referring more especially to the codling moth and plum curculio. He gave a complete life history of the various formations of these insects, in order that orchardists might be the better able to destroy them. There are three broods of the codling moth in one season, and that explains why it is so difficult to entirely destroy them when once they have spread throughout a country. The best remedy for codling moth is to spray with paris green at intervals throughout the season, while the same remedy is serviceable in the case of the plum curculio. This insecticide is used in the proportion of three ounces to 40 gallous of water.

FRAUDULENT PACKING. Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, made a most able address. The great obstacle before us now, he said, was fraudulent packing of fruit by some dishonest packers, for which the whole country was liable to lose the enviable reputation which Ontario fruits have hitherto so well deserved. The Department of Agriculture was ready to receive any suggestions bearing on this point, and to pass an act that would make it a misdemeanor to offer for sale any package of fruit which was put up in a fraudulent manner, and further to compel each packer to put his name and address on all packages of apples which were of first or second grade, as defined by the Dominion Inspection Act. This subject was referred to a committee, which reported in favor of the passing of such an act.

A paper on score cards in judging fruits at fairs was read by the secretary and was approved of by the association.

IT PAYS TO SPRAY. Prof. John Craig, of the Central Experi-mental Farm, Ottawa, in a very able address gave an account of the excellent results of the experiments conducted during the past season in spraying for the destruction of the apple scab, the varieties tested being the A. G. Russell, Baldwin, Greening and Northern Spy. The total results were: 1st qul. 2nd qul. 3rd qul Average....Sprayed....44 p.c. 36 p.c. 30 p.c. Average....Unsprayed.22 p.c. 40 p.c. 38 p.c.

Prof. H. L. Hutt, of the Ontario Agricultural College Guelph, gave an interesting account of his recent visits to Ontario fruit orchards. Mr. A. M. Smith, of St. Catharines, exposed many frauds in fruits. Mr. A. Pattullo, of Woodstock, gave an able address on "Roads and Roadmaking," and Mr. A. H. Pestit, of Grimsby, his experience with cold storage of fruit at the World's Fair. Mr. J. G. Mitchell gave a paper on "Fruit Growing in the Beaver Valley;" Mr. W. W. Hillborn, of Leamington, on "Best Methods of Grow-ing Strawberries;" Rev. W. Bacon, of Orillia, on "The Management of Bulbs;" and Mr. T. H. Race, of Mitchell, on "The Culture of the Rose." Woodstock was decided upon as the next place of meeting.

A Valuable Medicine

There has been no remedy introduced to the people of Canada that has made so many friends in so short a time as Eslejay's Liver Lozenges. They are the best family medicine known. They cure sick headache, constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness and all diseases arising from impure blood or sluggish liver. They are a recent discovery and different from any other preparation on the market. They are sold by all druggists at 25 cents a box or five boxes for a dollar.

A Detroit dispatch says: John Campbell, aged 24, of Chatham, came to the central police station last evening and desired to give himself up. He said he was wanted in Chatham for embezzling $10 from a newsdealer. It had been preying on his mind to such an extent that he was unable to sleep, and he wanted to be locked up and sent back to Chatham to be tried. He was Bob Allan and Jack Quigley had a row in the Idlewild Hotel, Cnatham, on Tuesday. The two clenched, and Quigley drew a long, sharp weapon from his breast and plunged it into Allan's back. A Christmas fracas took place in the east end of Chatham at midnight Tuesday which may result in serious consequences to the victim, Sylvester Hutchinson. Two brothers, Samuel and John Harris, had some trouble with Hutchinson. The upshot of it was that Samuel Harris picked up a fence picket and attacked him, inflicting serious wounds and shattering the heavy picket. Warrants were issued for the Harrises, and one was arrested. Sam, however, is still at large. He is charged with assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

A Stratford dispatch: John Hardman, son of the G. T. R. engineer of that name entered the bar of the Albion Hotel this the middle of his body, but not ever scratching him. Hardman then turned the revolver on the bartender, but it again missed. He was almost immediately arrested by Chief of Police McCarthy and locked up. Hardman has been drinking heavily lately. On Friday night last he created such a disturbance at the Abion that the police had to be called in, and or Saturday he was fined $4 at the police court. It is probable that his action today is the outcome of the previous disturbance.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE,

How Christmas Was Observed by President Cleveland's Family. WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26 .- The President and the members of the Cabinet celebrated Christmas in the old-fashioned way, making it essentially a family a lair. At the White House it was a genuine children's day, everything being given up to the pleasure of the little ones. There was a Christmas tree set in the library, the first that the Cleveland children have called their own, and Mrs. Cleveland herself added the finishing touches to the tree, which, while not of great propertions, was very beautifully trimmed and decorated with tiny parti-colored electric lamps, in place of the old-time wex candles. Gifts for the little ones were aumerous, and almost until noen express wagons and messengers came laden to the White House. As usual, the President remembered all the employes in the house. Everyone got a fat turkey, and to his personal servants the President gave substantial gifts of money, an example which was followed by Private Secretary Thurber with his own household and attendants. Mrs. Cleveland also had a pretty present for each of the employes. She herself received very many Christmas presents, the President's tokens being very beautiful.

THE BEST MEN NEEDED. Mr. Nesbitt, Q. .., counsel for the city of loronto in the civic boodling investigation, as as sed the judge to find that there was a perfect nest of corruption in the councils of 1893 and 1894, and that no fewer than four aldermen in each year were guilty of boodling, along with men outside the council. This is a serious state of affairs, rendered all the more so by the decamping to the United States of Ald. Hewitt and Coleman, against whom charges are pending. The whole experience illustrates the evils that flow from electing to places of trust men who are not thoroughly disinterested citizens. Whether for the mayor's chair or as alderman, a man should not be elected who has an axe to grind either for himself, for his business partners, or for his relations. Let the hest men be elected every time.

AWAY WITH IT!

The Toronto Telegram discusses the propriety of continuing the toast of "The Press" at banquets. We agree with our contemporary in its conclusion that journalism is not complimented by having the toast proposed after the preceding speakers have driven the majority of the banqueters away from the tables. If the toast is not worthy of a place of the prominence of "The Army and Navy," which comes fourth or fifth on most lists, it were better that it were entirely withdrawn. Newsscon as the leading toasts are given. The average banquet is too long drawn out and would be effected in prosy and uninteresting speechmakers if it were demonstrated to them that their long speeches would be ignored by the reporters-that is, if a

FOUR FAMOUS CALVES AND THE TWENTY-FIVE YEARS' LAW-

SUIT OVER THEM. A good deal is being said and written these days in regard to the question of law and the expense necessitated by a resort to it. Most of the law-suits no doubt arise from the perverseness of human nature. Hundreds of cases that are now dragged from court to court could be settled by the lawyers in the early stage if the aggrieved parties could be made to accept a reasonable compromise. The nature of most pay the entire amount, footing up to men-and women, too, let us respectfully add-is to demand every right that they believe they possess, and if these are not conceded by the opposing party, to law they go, and hammer and tongs they keep at it so long as funds can be had to keep the suit going. Is not this the history of many

The best illustration of our contention is given in the famous "Jones county calf case," which has just been finally disposed of in the Supreme Court of Iowa, after having attained as great fame as the case Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce. The case has been in court over a quarter of a century, and only one lawyer bas remained in it since it was begun. His story of its inception and progress is most interesting. Over 27 years ago, he informs us, a man named Potter went from Ohio to Jones county, Iowa. on after he moved to Greene county and till they beat the other fellow or are them- in Western Ontario.

mer named Bob Johnson. Potter had diverted. known Bob in Ohio, and when he left next morning told him the errand that had brought him into the county. Potter also authorized Johnson to buy some calves for him, while he went on into the eastern part of the county to see what he could pick out. The next day Johnson went to Olin and inquired of the merchants there for calves. They had none, but a bystander had four he was anxious to sell. This bystander went by the name of Smith, and he was afterwards known in the case as "the mythical Smith," being so dubbed by counsel gifted with a flow of speech. His calves were in the neighborhood of Sergeant's Bluff, and Johnson said that as he had to go to Stanwood for hardware he would ride by and see them. Accordingly Bob and his brother and the mythical Smith set out for the Bluffs to get the calves that were running out on the commons. They could find but three, but Smith said the other would average with them, so the four were purchased in the presence of Bob's brother John. They were to be paid for when delivered in a place known as Hines' pasture, but the stranger demurred, saying he would not have thought of selling had it not been for need of money that very day. Accordingly the necessary dollars were borrowed of John and the purchase completed. The brother then moved on to Stanwood. Two or three days later Potter returned with his drove and sent word to B. Johnson that he was ready for the calves. Bob found them in the corner pasture as Mythical Smith had agreed and turned them over to Potter, who paid the price agreed upon and went on his way rejoicing. About this time a neighbor of Johnson named Foreman missed four calves, and, hearing that Potter had taken a drove, followed him to Greene county. Here he found his missing stock, or claimed to, and asked Potter where he got them. Of course, the answer was "of Bob Johnson." The two then went together to Johnson and told him their story. Johnson, believing, gave his note for the value of the calves and swore out a warrant for Mythical Smith. It was then learned that no such man had ever lived in the neighborhood of Sergeant's Bluff, and the unfor-

ing for Potter and Foreman, informed them they must either join the order and themselves. They joined, and Johnson was indicted for larceny of the calves. About the same time Johnson, with his brother, went into Greene county to have a look at those calves, which Potter had finally purchased of Foreman. Both decided that Bob had never handled those calves at all, and that Potter must have stolen them himself and then lied to Foreman about them. Johnson accordingly refused to pay the note he had given. The note case was tried twice, and a judgment

that the holder was an innocent purchaser.

Accordingly a change of venue was taken to Cedar county on his motion, with shroud, rope, knot, and threatening letter attached | deserted. as exhibits. The case was tried twice there, the first jury standing eleven to one for acquittal, and the second setting him free. Johnson, who had started in on these cases a prosperous farmer, was now bankrupt in everything but spirit. Then it was that Johnson began suit against Potter, Foreman and five others of the Anti-Horsethief Association, paper men can themselves effect the reform | who had been most active in the prosecuif they withdraw from every banquet so tion, claiming $10,000 damages for malicious prosecution. After several changes of venue the case was finally reached for trial prosy, anyway. Perhaps an improvement in Benton county, where the jury stood eleven to one for giving damages. It was retried there, and Johnson got a verdict of $3,000. The verdict was set aside and the venue changed to Clinton county. The banquet bore is capable of taking any hint trial lasted three weeks, between 130 and 140 witnesses being present, and it resulted in a verdict of $7,500. This verdict was set aside and venue changed to Black Hawk county. Here there were three trials, and Johnson was successful in all three, but the men prosecuted appealed to the Supreme Court each time and a rehearing was ordered. Finally, Johnson got judgment for $1,000 and costs, one dofendant who had died, being let off. This week the Supreme Court of Iowa was called upon to decide whether the six defendants remaining should pay all costs, or only six-sevenths of them. The Supreme Court holds that the six defendants must

The case had its influence upon every interest in Jones county. It found its way into religion and into politics, and it depreciated the value of real estate. Several times the parties were on the point of going to war, and went armed day and night. Johnson had his home and at least one barn burned, and there was much

The Beautiful Falling Everywhere But in This Vicinity.

A Boon to Montreal's Unemployed -Bilzzard in the States-Trains Snow-Bound.

Montreal, Que., Dec. 27 .- The snow began to fall turiously at an early hour this morning, and at 6 o'clock, when the street cars were ready to start, the tracks were so blocked that all traffic was suspended. At 8 o'clock several inches of snow had fallen, and the snow was still falling at 10 o'clock. A heavy wind from the northeast is blowing and the drift obscures objects but a short distance away. Most of the idle men who have been besieging the city hall for work are hard at it now snow shoveling, and the prospects are that New Year's Day will bring better cheer to the homes of the poor.

The street car system is demoralized and the trains on the Grand Trunk, Welland and Niagara Central Railassist in prosecuting him or be prosecuted way find it very difficult to get through the great drifts on the track.

HARD ON THE MINERS. SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 27 .- Last night a heavy snow storm and blizzard set in almost equal to the great storm of seven years ago, when this region was completely isolated for nearly a week. Only local passenger trains are running through on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western. The Ontario and Western and the Jersey companies are completely tied up by immense drifts which fill the mountains' cuts. There is an entire blockade of every electric street car line, and traffic is at a standstill on all lines. There is enforced idlenessatthe mines throughout the entire region, railroads being unable to put cars into the breaker sidings, and there is every likelihood of a fall week's idleness for the miners by reason of the storm. The snow continues, but the wind has abated somewhat except on the Hocane Mountains, where the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western officials report almost a gale with the long Lehigh cut almost filled bank high with snow swept in from the high-

HOCKEY.

INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE CONTEST. Boston, Mass., Dec. 26 .- The American College hockey team leave this evening for Montreal, where they begin the first international hockey tour yet undertaken. Mr. Geo. Wright, the veteran cricketer of Boston, will accompany the team. The first match will be at Montreal on Thursday evening, when, under the patronage of the Governor-General of Canada, the new Beaver Rink, will be formally opened. In Toronto two matches, one under American and the other under Canadian rules, will be played. The team will also play in Kingston and Ottawa.

The American players expect to find that the Canadian game is superior to their own, and as a result their visit will probably be the adoption of the Canadian game. The following are the main points on which the American game differs from the Canadjan game: I. The game is played with the rubber ball instead of a puck. The ball is manipulated some time by hopping it on the ice as well as striking. 2. The hall is faced by placing it in the middle of the ice, and when the referee's whistle blows one player from each side charges upon it. 3. No player except the goal keeper is allowed within a radius of three feet in front of the goal line, to be marked out on the ice. If the goal keeper leaves his position, however, another player of the same side may take his place player of the same side may take his place for the time being. 4. Two innings of twenty minutes each are played. 5. A player must not touch the ball with his boys kept them busy. After all had been player must not touch the ball with his boys kept them busy. After all had been cleared boys kept them busy at isfied and the dishes had been cleared being. Miss Mary Watson has returned home from college.

> Twas a Cold Night, But the Boys Did Not Feel It-An Annual Affair.

The wind whistled shrilly and blew a chilly gale last night around the city streets. It tossed the coattails of these who had to be out, and caused the majestic guardian of the peace doing duty at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets to quicken his pace to keep warm as he walked to and fro. The usual companions of the policeman-the little newsboyswere noticeably absent, not only from that corner, but from every other corner where they are wont to meet a stray customer. But a peep into a vacant store at 436 Richmond street explained their absence. Although it was cold as Greenland's icy mountains outside, all was warm and bright and snug within. Here it was that 57 little newsboys were celebrating their first banquet—as a pretty blue badge proudly informed the uninitiated—and here the boys set the pace for eating for all future occasions of a like nature. It was a scorcher while it lasted, and there was very little said while cating was in order. The boys were an extremly intelligent-looking lot, bright as pennies, Most of the shoppers had put off buying their sensibilities sharpened by the till the last moment, and so they came in a keen competition and business rivalry prevailing among themselves. They are undergraduates in a somewhat rough school, which will brighten their wits and give them exerience that will stand them in good stead-as it has many of the world's foremost men-in their after battle of life. There were the makings of more than one brilliant man among the little fellows seated around the long table. Some of them were of different colors and nationalities, but the boys held no racial prejudices, and all ato and talkedwhen they could - and laughed and bantered one another in great style. There were no limitations, and as long as a boy wanted more it was handed out. The menu consisted of turkey, fowl of different kinds, oysters, vegetables, bread and butter, cakes, pies, fruit, candy, tea and coffee. And the cooking was ably attended to by

Sarah Suddick-who were formerly with Mr. Grigg when in the hotel business. Mr. Sam Grigg was the moving spirit of the enterprise, and he was ably assisted by Messrs. Eddie and Walter Crawford, Andrew Imrie, Rev. T. F. Kingsmill, J. R. Shuttleworth and the members of the Cronyn Hall Bible class-Misses Ryder (2), Miss Knott, Misses Sainsbury (2), Misses Trimble (2), the two Misses Whitton, and Messrs. Wm. and Alf. Partridge, Threapleton, Millman and McMartin, Others who lent valuable aid were Miss Seabrook, and Miss Grace Grigg (organist), Messrs. Jesse two professional cooks-Nelson Hanley and away the coming men sat around to listen to Mr. Grigg. The boys were all numbered and Mr. Grigg then plied them with religious questions. The first to answer had his number taken down and each will receive a prize. In their ready replies the boys showed, in many instances, the result of careful religious training. The prizes consist for the most part of useful articles of wearing apparel and will be distributed shortly. After the catecising Mr. Grigg addressed the listening public and thanked them for the interest manifested by them in the entertainment. He referred to the spontaneous outburst of liberality on the part of the citizens in making the affair a freewill offering. They wanted to give more than could be used, and they had had abundance and to spare. He himself had simply managed the affair, realizing that he was his brother's keeper. He wanted to see a newsboys' home, where the boys could go either at 5 o'clock in the morning or 9 o'clock and get warmed up. It would be both a place of instruction and amusement. A gentleman had offered him $200 yesterday in support of such an institution, but as he did not know what turn the first gathering would take, he said he would call on him later on. Mr. Grigg said he wanted to form a class of the boys and point them to Jesus. "I don't want you to try for 43 years to live without him, as I have," said he. "I have found for four years past that the Lord knows better what to do with me than I did. I have been wonderfully blessed, and I want his blessing to go out to these boys. Concluding Mr. Grigg called for three hearty cheers for the ladies who had so ably helped.

The boys responded lustily and of their own accord proposed and cheered both the cooks, Messrs. Shuttleworth, Crawford. Rev. Mr. Kingsmill and Lient. Vick, S.A. The boys then sang, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" and dispersed with the benediction, some to go home and others to finish selling their stock of evening papers. The citizens responded so liberally that the balance of the collection will have to be distributed among deserving families. LOVE FOUND THE WAY How a Poor Student's Sweethear Overcame Parental Opposition.

A kiss once played an important part in the life of the famous Belgian statesman, Erere-Orban, who is now seriously ill at his country place, says the New York Tribune. In his youth the tuture minister was a poor student, bearing the simple name of Frere. He had great difficulty in earning enough money to keep him at the university till he was ready to pass his examination in the department of law.

The young man fell in love with a Fraulein Orban, the daughter of a wealthy and aristocratic family, who opposed his "If you pass your examination well tomorrow," said Fraulein Orban on the eve of the trial of her lover, "come to the theater and to the box in which I shall be sitting with my parents." "Will they allow me?" asked the stu-

"I shall see to that," was the determined young woman's answer. Frere was successful, and entered the box in the evening happy but frightened. The pretty girl, as soon as he had crossed the threshold, stood up, rushed toward him before a word was spoken, and kissed him heartily on the lips. The astonished parents were soon informed of the significance of the kiss by the daughter. As many other people had seen the young girl's action the parents decided to make the best of it, and accepted young Frere as a son-in-law on condition that he add Orban to his name. This he did, as a matter, of course, and made it famous.

THE WEATHER TO-DAY:

It isn't often that we enlarge on the state of the weather. We don't intend to now, except to draw attention to the necessity of having the right kind of footwear during these changing times — if one wants to keep free from colds, the bane of many an otherwise happy life.

Are of the right kind and we recommend our many lady patrons to see what we can do for them. A shoe may look well, but perhaps it won't wear well or keep out the weather satisfactorily. Ours will do both. We buy only from the best Canadian and American man ufacturers, who have a reputation to sustain. We also have, and would not buy anything or endeavor to sell anything that would be likely to give dissatisfaction.

We aim to buy. The best we aim to sell. They are none too good for our class of custom, and those who want shoddy, showy goods need not come to us. Our stock of rubbers is on a par with everything else in our big stores. See what we can do for you in this department, which is the most | +1 private in the city.

We Want

To call attention specially to our stocks of White and Gray Cottons, and in doing so are not going beyond the mark when we say that better value than we are showing in this class of goods has never been placed before the purchasing public.

....AT....

A capital heavy 36-inch Sheeting Cotton is going into the consumers' hands at a rapid rate.

....AT....

6 1-4 Cents

About as nice a quality of Cotton as most ladies want to use is passing out of our hands quickly, and should be looked after at once if you need it.

Sure

That our White Cottons will please even the greatest and most persistent seeker after bargains. The makes are the hest to be had, and qualities are such as to please every woman who sews. At this moment we will only call attention to two lines:

1st. The 7 1-2c quality. 2nd. The 8 1-2c quality. It means a sure saving to you to see these Cottons. Don't buy them if you don't want to; but see them anyway, as it will keep you right as to how values are going.

Many

A Time

You miss opportunities to save money by inattention to what you are aware of.

Let this grand opportunity to BUY COTTONS CHEAP pass by without you being one of the gainers.

they had not reached any decision. -Mrs. Robert Shannon, of Hamilton road, passed away yesterday after a lingering illness. She leaves to mourn her loss a large family, namely: John, of 434 King street; Edward and Mrs. John Bartleman, of 590 Hamilton road; Samuel, of Regina, N. W. T.; Robert, Ann Arbor, Mich.; James, New Whatcom, W. T.; Isaac, Tera, Ont.; Wesley, Kincardine, Ont., and Rebecca, Thessalon, Algoma. Her body will be taken to Tara for incerment in the family burying ground, where the remains of her late husband were laid some years ago. Her end was peace. -The following is from England's great baritone, who lately delighted critical audiences in New York, Boston, Montreal, Toronto and this city: "Young's Hotel, Boston, Dec. 22, 1894. Dear Mrs. Chadwick-Since Monday last I have been anxious to write and thank you most heartily for the very able manner in which you accompanied my songs, etc., on the pianoforte at my recent oratorio recitals in London, It is not every accompanist who is gifted with that sympathy which a singer requires, and which so enhances the rendering of a song. This you certainly possess, and I trust it may not be long before I shall have the pleasure of meeting you again. Believe me, faithfully yours, R. WATKIN MILLS." The recipient was born, educated and received her musical training in this city. Her parents were her only teachers in music. -Lodge Princess Beatrice, No. 6, Daughters of England Benevolent Society, held its last regular meeting for 1894 in Cullis' Hall last night, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. P. P., Sister Howe; W. president, Sister Annie Fleming; H. V. P., Sister Trace; chaplain, Sister Hornsby; recording and financial secretary, Bro. A. Isaac (reelected); treasurer, Sister M. A. Burton (re-elected); surgeon, Dr. Teasdale; first guide, Sister Curnoe; second guide, Sister Watson; third guide, Sister Hier; fourth guide, Sister Essie Cooke; outside guard, Bro. B. Dolby (re-elected). The selection of fifth and sixth guides and inside guard was laid over. The trustees are Sisters Hornsby, Anderson and Jamieson, and the auditors, Sisters Curnoe, Hier and Watson. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the scrutineers, Sister Cripps, D.D., and Sister Nutkins, W.P., of Ledge Princess of Wales, No. 2, for their able assistance. A surprise was sprung upon the W. P. in the shape of an address, read by Sister Trace, and a Daughter's pin, presented by Sister Anderson, to which the recipient feelingly responded. The W. secretary was presented with one of Caws fountain pens by Sister Burton. It was accompanied by a nicely-worded and flattering address, read by Sister Fleming, which was also responded to by the secretary, who thanked the members for their kind recognition of services, and stated that he would ever feel proud of the gift and prize it highly for the source from whence it came. There was only a fair attendance of members present. The lodge then closed in the usual way.

Opening of Queen's Avenue Rink. The Princess Rink, which has been refitted at a cost of $2,000, will be opened for the season tomorrow night. A new concrete floor has been laid, making a perfect bed for the ice. Water was turned on yesterday and it soon congealed into a fine sheet. The new Seventh Band will add to the pleasure tomorrow night. Patrons will be glad to know that Mr. A. D. Holman, secretary-treasurer of the rink com-

His many friends will be glad to see Jack

The executive committee of the Western Ontario Bar Association will be held in the court house library this afternoon. The annual meeting of the association takes place at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, when officers will be chosen and business relative to weekly sittings of the High Court in London discussed.

A banquet is spoken of for the evening if outside towns are well represented at the meeting. Delegates are expected from Chatham, Windsor, Sarnia, Stratford and other places.

Trains Delayed by Snow Storms. Although the sun was shining brightly in the city today the through trains on the Grand Trunk were several hours late on account of snow storms raging both east and west. The cold spell that suddenly enveloped this section of the country, although not very severe, is all the more felt because of the mildness of the week preceding it. The lowest point reached by the thermometer at the local observatory was 12° above zero. This was at 8 a.m. The cold was heightened by a north and east wind, which blew a gale. The trains from the east suffered worst of all. The Lehigh received the full force of the storm in New York State, and arrived in Ontario just in time to find a sister storm raging there. The train is due at 10:45 a.m., but will arrive about 4 o'clock this afternoonfive hours and fifteen minutes late. The Wabash, due at 11:15 a.m., was over two nours late. The Atlantic express from Windsor was also two hours late, owing to a snow storm to the west of the city. Of course this means that mails are correspondingly delayed. Local trains on the L., H. and B., L. E. and D. R., and Sarnia and Stratford branches are all pretty well on time. Trains on the C. P. R. were not

Frampton Gets One Month.

Charles Frampton, convicted of stealing harness on different occasions from city stables, came up for sentence before Police Magistrate Parke today. Mr. Love pleaded hard for leniency, and produced a largely signed petition praying for the same. It was signed by several ministers and county magistrates, and set forth the prisoner's previous good record. He apparently enjoyed the confidence of all who had employed him, and he was given a good character by several men for whom he had worked. Another point brought forward was that his wife was about to become a mother. The magistrate said that he could hardly refrain from sending him to the Central, but under the circumstances he would make the sentence one month in jail. The case of Fannie Steinburg against Jacob Steinburg was again on the books. These are the parties to the family row which was ventilated in court last stormy. week. Steinburg was remanded for a week unless he would consent to hand over the money he was said to have taken from his Neither party was in court this morning and the case was marked "settled" The Cheney-Blue nonpayment of wages case was again enlarged owing to the illness of Mrs. Blue. The charge of assault preferred by Matthew Rowe against Thos. Jeffries was settled by Rowe withdrawing the charge and the parties paying costs.

APPEALS WERE DIS MISSED.

Insurance Companies Must Pay Taxes on Income.

A Decision of Junior Judge Ellictt Involving an Assessment cf $12,500.

Judge Edward Elliott has handed down his judgment in the three insurance company cases involving a total assessment on income of $12,500. The judgment is in favor of the city, and there will in all probability be an appeal to a higher court on the part of the companies. The com panies interested are the Sun Life, Standard Life and the London and Lancashire Life. They were assessed on income-the Sun for $5,000, the Standard for $5,000 and the London and Lancashire for $2,500. The assessments were all appealed against, and at the Court of Revision the claim was made that the amounts were excessive. The London and Lancashire Company placed $395 as its income over and above expenses, the Sun Life offered to pay taxes on $130, and the Standard Life on $1,868 63. The appeals were dismissed by the court of revision and the companies appealed again. Judge Edward Elliott has dismissed the appeal, and it is likely that the companies will pay the taxes under protest and sue the city for recovery.

"This would establish a precedent," said an insurance man today. "As it is now, we do do not know the law on this point. It has never been clearly defined. One county judge brings in a decision exactly dissimilar to another. This is evidenced in the present decision, which is exactly opposite to that given last year by Judge William Elliot, in the case of the Standard Life."

She stated that Miss Helena Thompson, daughter of the late Sir John Thompson, was under her care, and had borne the trip remarkably well, showing much fortitude under her affliction. Mrs. Sanford saids On Saturday the Queen sent for Miss Thompson and myself. We were received by the Queen and Princess Beatrice alone and there were no attendants to break in upon our grief. Her Majesty drew Miss Thompson to her and kissed and consoled her and also pressed my hand to assure me of her heartfelt sympathy. I wish you could adequately express the extreme tenderness and anxious solicitation of her Majesty. In every way in her power she showed that she was deeply moved by the sad occurrence and desired to have us understand so. I will proceed at once to Ottawa with Helena. My own daughters will go direct to Hamilton, Ont., our home, in the care of Mr. H. O'Hara. Allen stretched up his head. His sight was keen as a sailor's. "Which side's he on, Jack?" whispered Poole. "I don't see him yet."

For answer John Allen put his hand quickly on Poole's arm to lower a pistol. "No good again, mates," said he. "Ralley ain't there.' "Not there!" retorted Poole with a strong "I'm as nigh sure of it as I can be," said

Allen. "Wait till they come nearer."

It proved to be so. Ralley for some reason or other was not with the men. Denton again gave vent to a furious oath. Tramp, tramp, tramp; their regular tread sounded in the stillness of the night as they passed. Poole had cronched down again. The steps died away in the distance, and the conspirators ventured to raise their heads. Alien happened to look in the direction of the gates. "Here he is!" burst forth Allen, with almost a suppressed scream. "Something must have kept him back. Now's our time, mates. Here's Ralley."

That ain't his hat, Jack Allen," dissented one. "Hat be smothered! it's himself," said Ralley was coming on quickly, a dark, low-crowned hat somewhat drawn over his brows. A minute's silence, during which you might have heard their hearts beat, and Poole fired. Rai ey gave a cry; staggered, and walked on. He was struck, no doubt, but not killed. Your boasted aim has failed, Poole, cried Denton with a savage oath.

Not more savage than Poole, though, as he broke through the low hedge. What the bullet had not done, the pisto! itself should. Suddenly, with a startled cry, Allen broke after him, shouting to him to stay his

"It's the master, Poole; it's not Ralley. Stop you fool!—it's the master."

Too late. It was, indeed, Richard North.

And Poole had felled him by a wicked blow on the temple.

Mrs. Gass and Mary Dallory were seated at tea in a sad and sorrowful mood-for he conversation had turned on those dreadful rumors that, in spite of Richard North, would not be hushed. Mrs. Gass was stoutly asserting that she had more faith in Dr. Rane than to believe them, when some commotion in the street dawned on their ears. Mrs. Gass stopped in the midst of an emphatic sentence.

"What's that?" she cried. Fleet steps seemed to be running to and fro; voices were raised in excitement. They distinctly heard the words, "Mr. Richard, "Richard North." Mrs. Gass drew aside her crimson curtains, and opened the win-others. "What's the matter?"

"I don't rightly know, ma'am," he answered. "They are saying that Mr. Richard North has been shot dead." "Lord help us!" cried Mrs. Gass. She shut down the window and brought her face round to the light again. Every vestige of color had left it. Mary Dallory stood rigidly upright, her hands clasped, as one who had been turned to stone. "Did you hear what he said, child?"

"I heard," was the scarcely murmured answer. Mrs. Gass caught up a bonnet, which happened to lie on a chair, and went into the street. At the entrance to North Inlet a crowd of men and women had gathered. As in all similar cases, reports varied. Some said it had taken place in the high-road to Whithorough, some at the works, others near Dallory Hall. So the mob was puzzled which way to go and not miss the excite-Thoms was talking at the top of his voice as Mrs. Gass arrived, anxious perhaps, to disclaim complicity on his own score. 'They've had it in their heads to do it, some

o' them bad uns have. I could name names, but I won't. If the master had knowed all, he'd ha' went about in fear of his life this long while past." This was enough for Mrs. Gass. Gathering her black silk skirts in her hands, and her face paler than the assemblage had ever seen it, she stood, unmindful of the rain, and told them what she thought. "If you've shot Richard North, you have shot the best and bravest man you'll ever know in this life. You'll never find such a friend again. Ay, he was brave. Brave for good in the midst of difficulties, brave to forbear. Don't you boast, Thoms, with your ready tongue. None of you men round me now may be the one that shot him, but you've been all rowing in the same boat. You mayn't have planned out murder yourselves-and I wouldn't answer for it that you've not—but, any way, you knew that others was a-planning it, and you winked at it and kept silence. Who has been the friend to you that Richard North has been? Since you've been half starving, and your wives and children's been half starving, where has all the help come from, d'you suppose, that he kept you from starving outright? Why, from him. The most has come from him. The money I gave was his, the things I bought was mostly paid by him. A little came from me; not much; I was too angry with your folly; but he couldn't see you quite clam, and he took care you shouldn't. Lock at how you were all helped through the fever; and meat, and bread, and beer given you to get up your strength a bit, after it! Who did all that? Why, Richard North. You thought it was me; but it was h m; only he wouldn't have it known.

That was his return for all the black ingratitude you'd showed him, in refusing to work for him and bringing him to ruin. Pray God he may not be dead! but if he is, a good man has gone to his reward .- Is that you, Ketler? 'Yes, it's me," answered Ketler, who was | guaranteed.

"When that child of yours died, Cissy—and many a little help did she have in life from him—who but Richard North took government of the shouldn't he having by the care that she shouldn't be buried by the parish? He met Fanny Jelly, and he put some money into her hand, and charged her to let it be thought it was hers. 'They are in distress and trouble, I know, Jelly," he said; 'let this be used in the way that's best for them.' Go and ask Jelly, if you don't the master you've been conspirating together to kill, Ketler!" Ketler swallowed down a groan. "I'd never have raised a hand again the master; no, nor countenanced it. If anybody has believe me; I had it from her. And that's said I would, it's a lie." "There's not one of you but knew what mischief was in the wind, or might have known it; and you've countenanced it by keeping silence," retorted Mrs. Gass. "You are a pack of cowards. First of all you ruin him by throwing up his work, and when you nigh upon it, you turn round ou him and kill him, May the Lord forgive you! I never will."

Some disturbance. A tramping of feet, and a shouting of running boys. Poole, Denton, John Allen, and one more were marching by in handcuffs, marshaled by some policemen. A hiss greeted them.
"Twas a mistake," said Jack Allen, in answer to the hiss, reckless under his untoward fate. "Twas meant for Ralley, not for the master." "Is he dead?" called out Mrs. Gass. But amidst the confusion she received no answer. And at that moment she became aware of a pale countenance near her, peeping out from a cloud of wool.

"Good gracious, Miss Mary! You shoud not be out here."
"I have been with you all the time." "Then, my, dear, you just betake your-self home again. I'll come in as soon as I can learn the truth of it all." Mrs. Gass had not long to wait. Almost as she spoke, Richard North appeared; and thereupon ensued more excitement than ever. Blood was trickling from his temple, but he appeared quite sensible, and was walking slowly, helped by two men.

"Thank God!" said Mrs. Gass aloud; and the words were heartily echoed. "To my house, men. Mr. Richard, sir, it is but a few steps more, and we'll soon have the doctor. A fine night's work, this is!" she concluded, leading the way to her home.

Little Barrington, the druggist, came out of his shop, and helped to place Richard on Mrs. Gass's sofa. They managed to get off his coat. The left arm was injured, as well as the temple. Barrington staunched the blood trickling from the latter; but pre-ferred not to meddle with the arm. "He ferred not to meddle with the arm. had better be kept quiet, until the surgeon comes," said the druggist.

Mrs. Gass cleared the room. A dozen xcited messengers had run to the Ham for Mr. Seeley or Dr. Rane, or both if they should be found at home. She stood at the front-door watching and waiting. Richard North, weak and faint, lay with his eyes closed. Opening them in the quiet room, he saw Mary Dallory kneeling by the sofa, pale and sad. "Don't be alarmed," he whispered. "It might have been worse."

"I would have given my life to save yours,

Richard." she impetuously exclaimed in the sorrow and terror of the moment. (To be Continued.)

THE SECTARIAN CRY.

Injustice of It When Raised Against Canadian Statesmen.

Men Should Be Judged by Their Acts and Declarations Alone.

The connection between religion and political success is discussed by a writer in the Kincardine Review. He deals first with the late Premier, and after praising him very strongly says there was but one thing in his whole career which many regarded as a weakness-he, a Methodist, had married a Roman Catholic lady and had adopted her religion. This, it says, cansed division in the Conservative party. A secret society took root in Canada, the primary object of which was to oust him from the Premiership and prevent any other Roman Catholic from taking his place. We are told by those who ought to know that this personal antipathy to Sir John Thompson preyed upon his mind, and had not a little to do with superinducing the tragic event which granted him rest before he deired it." For the latter statement we do not vouch. Only a very confidential friend could undertake to say how far the P. P. A. agitation was a source of unhappiness to Sir John Thomp. son. "The heart knoweth its own bitterness." This writer begins by saying that Sir John Thompson was pointed to as "the most spotless man in the Cabinet, and, withal, the strongest, firmest and most statesmanlike"; that there was "not a man in Canada who held a higher reputation for fairness and probity than he." Next he describes the prejudice against him and the conspiracy which was formed to give it effect. Then he mentions and virtually accepts the opinion that this movement embittered and shortened the Premier's life. Whither is this train of reflection tending? Surely its conclusion will be that every Canadian, every patriot, every fair-minded man ought to contend with all his strength against the prejudice that sought to oust from the Premiership "the most spotless man in the Cabinet, and, withal, the strongest, firmest and most statesmanlike." This is what would be expected. What is actually said we give in the writer's own words:

"If there be any consistency in the P. P. A. their primary object now should be to see to it that Mr. Laurier does not by any means become Premier." Returning to the subject of Sir John Thompson, reference is made to those who feel "regret that they did not say in his life, when it might have cheered his path, the nice things they are saying of him now, when 'praise or blame counts just the same.' Here again the lesson stands out so plain that it is inconceivable that it could have escaped a man whose writing gives evidence of thought and intelligence. "You have been unjust to the dead; as you cannot make amends for that, be just to the living," is the reflection that forces itself upon the mind, but it is conspicuously absent here, and its place is filled by a calculation of the improved prospects of the Conservative party under the leadership of Mr. Bowell. ance, and when its attack was apparently directed mainly against Sir John Thomp. son, the Globe opposed it with every argument it could command, and declared that in Federal affairs and elsewhere such an agitation was utterly uncalled for, that it would needlessly and wantonly provoke strife, bitterness and unhappiness, and that its success would mean the doing of gross njustice and the destruction of the hope of Canadian nationality. Today it has neither more or less to say.

The assertion by which it is sought to justify the agitation, namely, that the power of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada is increasing, is untrue. Whatever movement there is in the contrary direction. By reason of the settlement of the prairie country the center of political power is moving westward and must continue to do so; and the west is Protestant, of Provincial rights is a guarantee against the establishment there of any form of connection between church and state, except Sir John Thompson and Wilfrid Laurier. throat and lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis, of these, owing his position to high character and signal ability, thoroughly fit for the first place in Canadian politics, is attacked because of his faith, it is vain, it is unreasonable, to expect them to work cordially with the majority for the comfail. If the Catholies of Canada were only l per cent instead of 40 it would be equally true that the exclusion of their leading men from the highest posts of honor would be an outrageous denial of justice. Such an act cannot be perpetrated under the forms of the law, but the reproach of it will rest upon every man who uses, in public or in private, the sectarian argument against a fellow-citizen. The season which brings to memory the message of peace and goodwill to all mankind would be a fitting time to resolve once and forever to have done with sectarianism in politics; to pay no heed to the cry of no Popery against Mr. Laurier in Ontario, or the cry of Orangiste against Mr. Bowell in Quebec, and to judge of these and all others by their public acts and declarations alone .- [Toronto Globe.

HOW PENNOYER PUTS IT. The Governor's Protest Against President

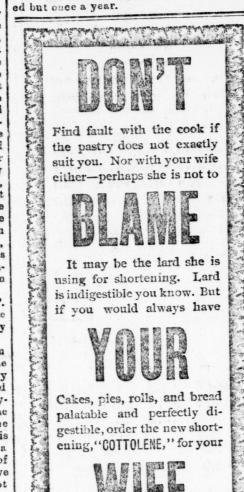

Cleveland's Policy. PORTLAND, Oregon, Dec. 26 .- The follow. ing letter was sent to President Cleveland yesterday by Gov. Pennoyer: "Christmas has again visited our stricken land with its prostrated industries and its idle throng, willing to work, but forced to beg. Your panaces, a change in the Sherman law and tariff, has been tested, but there is no change in the sad condition of the unfortunate country. After two years of ruincus delay and mismanagement you have, thank heaven, at last discovered the real trouble, although you have not proposed the proper remedy, as you will concede the country needs more money, but it does not want the worthless stuff you proffer. It needs gold and silver money with which to pay debts, and it does not want bond rags with which it cannot pay debts. Sixty years ago the Democratic party had a President who defied the banks in the interest of the people. It has now a President who defies the people in the interest of the banks. All the traditions of the party which elected you are for gold and silver money and against bank currency. Do you aspire to furnish an example of treason to the cause intrusted to your care, which will be with. out any parallel except one in all the annals of American history? Your party in both Houses favor the restoration of sliver as stundard money; the reople, actual y business, favor it; and will you stand with them in overturning the monometallic policy of the British money eligarchy which is fast degrading our fair country to the condition of a subjugated province and our hitherto free people to a condition of finan-cial serfdom? I pray that God may give you light and strength to do right."

FOR EAST END BOYS. A Club to be Established by the W. C.

T. U .- Splendid Attendance at Other Branches.

The semi-monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held yesterday afternoon. About 70 members were present. The opening devotional exercises and Bible reading were conducted by Mrs. Thos. Evans in her own usual instructive manner from a portion of Romans, 12th chapter. Organizing the ward work and obtaining workers occupied the attention of the hour. Miss Tanton announced that the annual Christmas treat would be given the Industrial School on Dec. 29 at 2 p.m., and the members of the union were asked to provide the usual amount of cakes and good things for the occasion. It was decided to set apart Jan. 2 as a day of prayer, and that a meeting be held in Somerset

Hall on that day from 2 to 3 p.m. Some of the members residing in London East have been considering the advisability of opening a boys' club and reading room in that vicinity. Yesterday a committee was formed, and after receiving the indorsation of the Union and the promise of co-operation it was decided to rent and furnish a suitable room by Jan. 15 for this

The Union has now under its supervision a Boys' Band of Hope, which meets in Somerset Hall every Thursday night, with an attendance of 118 boys and 23 teachers, Mrs. D. A. McDermid being superintendent and highly qualified. The Industrial School for Girls meets on Saturday afternoons in Somerset Hall, and is an equally large and flourishing institution. Tanton is superintendent. Then the Band of Hope for Boys lately opened in London West has an attendance of 50, besides a full staff of teachers, with Mrs. W. J. Saunby as superintendent. And now it is believed the time has come to provide a club room for boys in the eastern part of the city, where they may spend their evenings pleasantly and profitably rather than standing on the street corners or warming themselves in the bar-room. A treat in the form of excellent vocal selections was dispensed by Misses Daly, Gilmour and Goulding and thoroughly appreciated by all present. It is expected that the next meeting, Jan. 8, will be an especially interesting one. One of the city ministers is expected to give the Bible reading. There will be short speeches and discussions on several interesting subjects.

The little boy stood behind the pile Of wood and cried for quite a while: The tears rolled down each round, red cheek, And he choked and choked and couldn't speak. His mittens fell off and his hands were bare And cold in the gusty, frosty air; But he was crying too hard to care.

Will Hold the $1,000 Deposit. The Board of Water Commissioners held the last regular meeting of 1894 in the City Hall last night. Geo. W. Ingels, the agent for the Blake Company, asked that the $1000 densit he response to him. that the $1,000 deposit be returned to him. The new engines had been in operation for some time and were working satisfactorily. Mr. Ingels also wanted the final 30-days' test of the machinery made as soon as possible. It was decided to hold the deposit until the pumps are accepted by the city, and the test will be held shortly. Superintendent Williams, of the C. P. R., objected to the rate being charged for the water service at the company's station. The C. P. R. paid $1,000 a year for the balance of their city service, and Mr. Williams thought they should have the station supply at 8 cents per thousand gallons. The station service was also spoken of as a great benefit to the general public, and the board decided to strike a rate of 8 cents per thousand cubic feet, subject also to the discount. The Blake Company and Wm. Yates will be paid $1,400 on the new pumps.
