The few cars that started out on the day runs were soon returned to the barns and most of the city's wage-earners walked to their places of employment.

The carmen are seeking increase in wages of 13, 14 and 15 cents an hour based on the length of service and other changes in working conditions. An ultimatum, had been presented to the street railway company demanding compliance by Tuesday night with these requests, or agreement to submit the controversy to arbitration. It was delay in the negotiations with the company that precipitated the action of the several hundred employees last night.

Twenty-five acres have been secured and allotted, but more must be had if the ambitions of No. 2 ward folks are to be achieved. Some people have land and will not permit it to be used.

"There are some careful people in London," sald Ald. Wilson. "I could tell you some stories if I chose about them, but I don't like to start a fight. However, I may say that there was one man who wanted the city to pay his taxes if he gave up his land. It was not working and would not be worked any way as far as I know. Besides the man who gives his land usually gets a benefit through sharing the crops with the man who does the work. We need more land in No. 2 ward, and we will appreciate every offer that is made to us."

"UNCLE SAM IN 17 TO HIS NECK." SAYS 18TH'S HISTORIAN

Visit to Land of "Old Glory" Impresses Pte. Young.

APPEAL OF SERVICE FLAG

Poet-Soldier Comments On Those of U.S.A., France, Belgium and England.

Writing from Michigan, where he was on a visit, Pte. Fred Young, the poethistorian of the 18th Battalion, adds another international viewpoint to his war chronicles which have been followed so closely by Advertiser readers lowed so closely by Advertiser readers during the three years since the famous 18th left its London training ground for duty overseas. The letter follows: PROOF TO RICH Comf fw w yaokgzqk Wyandotte, Mich., U. S. A., April 20, 1918.

In one of his famous poems, Robert Service, the Canadian poet, tells us that "A promise made is a debt to be paid," a truism that is oftimes overlooked, especially in Germany.

Well, about a year ago, when the news of America's entry into the war reached

No. 1 on charges of following a "laissez of America's entry into the war reactions and the policy with regard to their obligations under the M. S. A. They were turned over to the 1st Depot Battalion, we promised ourself that some day we would stand in Yankee Land, and on American soil respectfully salate "Old Glory" as it triumphantly waved in the land of the free. Today we have paid that debt, and c a truth, "payment satisfieth the truth.'
You will probably remember how our irrepressible pal won several halfcrown bets from us during those few days immediately preceding America's entry into the war. But our present trip entry into the war. But our present trip is more than compensating for his temporary triumph. That pal sure pulled some rough stuff off on us occasionally, but he has never been able to shake our faith in "Old Glory," or change our opinion of the Lord's Day Alliance.

It does not need the acumen of a Sherlock Holmes to enable a visitor to the United States to notice that America is really in this war "up to the neck." We yield to none in our loyalty to Canada, but even at that, we have to to Canada, but even at that, we have to admit that impressions received make us feel that the little old United States is tackling the overthrow of Prussianism with a grim earnestness that stirs

Fr instance, some time ago, an Arab discovered that his camel could go six days without a drink, and the world attached so much importance to the fact that it was placed in the school books educational item for the rising generation. But nowaday if a soldier has to go six months without a drink, the Lord's Day Alliance tries to suppress the incident, and the poor devil has to absence to farmers and men engaged in the tilling of the soil, but this only appleis to such as are in medical categories lower than "A."

With "A" men leave of absence can only be grarnted in consideration of other next of kin being dead, disabled, or on service in any actual theatre of war.

The incident, and the poor devil has to suffer in silence, unmourned, unhonored and unsung, as it were. It was that thought that caused us to wonder whether it were really true that "All men are free and equal."

But we note by placards prominently displayed in town and country that John Barleycorn is to suffer the same fatt in war.

This, of course, applies to those affected by peremptory calls provided for under the new order.

The new order and actual theatre of Barleycorn is to suffer the same fate in Michigan on May 1, that Bolo Pasha suffered at Vincennes the other day. And we do not hesitate to say that both deserves their fate for the result of the same fate in the same fate i

LABOR MINISTER MAKES GRAB BAG FOR PROVINCES

Does Not Apportion Amount of Aid for Labor Bureaus.

FIELDING SHOWS UP PLAN

Some Provinces Are Likely To Get Short End of Appropriation.

OTTAWA, April 23.—When the House went into committee on the bill to aid and encourage the organization and coordination of employment offices, Hon. Mr. Crothers pointed out that it was intended to establish a clearing house in Ottawa. Five of the nine provinces had already legislated in connection with labor bureaus.

Mr. Devlin asked the minister of labor if it would not be possible to utilize some of the men in his department for the proposed clearing house in Ottawa. Mr. Devlin referred to the cost of living branch. For some reason the services of Mr. O'Connor as cost-of-living commissioner had been dispensed with, and Mr. Crothers had given the further information to Toronto newspapers that he was not inclined to newspapers that he was not inclined to take Mr. O'Connor back

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux approved the establishment of labor bureaus throughestablishment of labor bureaus throughout the country, especially in view of the reconstruction period which would come after the war. The establishment of such bureaus was a step in the right direction, but in his opinion it did not go far enough. The minister of labor, he said, was not doing enough for labor men. The Government should be preparing for the time when peace would be declared. At that time there was bound to be a complete disorganization of Canadian industries.

operate.

When the Men Return.

On the other hand, the soldiers would be returning from overseas, many of whom had been recruited from the industrial ranks. Work would have to be provided for these men, and if this was not done conditions in Canada might be very bad. It was a good policy to provide for labor bureaus, but the Government should go farther. It should first give to the laborers of Canada a better technical education. To this end allowances should be made to the provinces. He declared that if Canada was to take the lead after the war in the industrial battle, her labor must be equipped to meet the enemy. Mr. Crothers said that a bill very similar to the one now under discussion of the original provinces. He declared that in Greenville, Miss., and New Orleans, according to the announcement he made.

Conflict With Immigration?

Donald Sutherland, South Oxford, feared that the work of the department of immigration and that done by the labor bureaus might overlap, causing unnecessary expense.

Hon. J. A. Calder said there was no likelihood of overlapping between his department and the bureaus. At the conference between representatives of AGAINST CONSCRIPTION bureaus was $50,000 for the first year, $100,000 for the second and $150,000 for the third. The reason for increasing the amount was that the work would probably expand as time went on.

Eat less meat and take Salts for Backache or Bladder trouble.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sik person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour tongue coated, and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

INVENTION MAY REVOLUTIONIZE AERIAL WARFARE

The finishing touches are being put to an invention by Fred Collyer of 89 Jarvis street, Toronto, with which has confidence of success, and which undoubtedly interest the British and American Governments, as a likely proposition for aiding largely in the winning of the war. Realizing the difficulty in obtaining and training men as aviators, Mr. Collyer has invented a manless airplane. This machine can be set by chart and compass that will travel a required distance, dropping bombs on the way, will turn, after losing its cargo of bombs on the enemy,

"If that commissioner was not necessary he should not have been kept on."

Mr. Devilin argued. "He could not have been necessary, because he has not been replaced." The commissioner's staff might now be used to collate the information required by the proposed clearing house.

Mr. Devlin made reference also to the food control board. This, he said, was costing millions of dollars. There was a staff of hundreds, paid in the thousands of dollars, a great deal of which could be saved to the people of Canada and diverted directly towards war channels.

Mr. Crothers replied that the position occupied by Mr. O'Connor would not have been created had it not been considered necessary for the administratior of the order-in-council passed early in November, 1916.

Is Replacing O'Connor.

"I may say," Mr. Crothers added, "that I think it was necessary to have such a man as Mr. O'Connor. Arrangements have already been made for an entire the first year was only $50,000. How would each province know what portion of this it was to get? He was heartily in fact that the Government wanted to endourage the provincial authorities to establish and maintain labor bureaus, but the encouragement, he felt, would not be very great if no definite allot-ment was made to each province.

Mr. Crothers explained that the money was a cased province one-half of the total amount which they had expended in connection with the bureaus.

Mr. Fielding contended that if the $50,000 was not enough to go around some of the provinces would find themselves with very little of the Federal Government's grant.

"The plan was after an intense bombardment of Zeebrugge by the monitors, the Vindictive, with auxiliaries, was to run alongside the Mole and attack it with gun fire as they approached. Storming and demolition parties were to be landed. Meantime three block ships, assisted by motor boats, were to make for the entrance to the canal, run aground and be blown up. Two old and valueless submarines filled with explosives, were to run against the pile-work connecting the masonry with the shore in order to cut off the Mole from the shore.

NAVY ON THE OFFENSIVE.

PROMISE of more aggressive naval tactics by Britain's navy than have been used up to the present is contained in the dispatch relating to the attack on the German submarine bases at Ostend and Zeebrugge. The landing of storming parties, even if mainly intended to distract attention from the operations undertaken to block the channel, proves the possibility of earrying out such a manoeuvre under the defences which have been deemed so strong, and must give rise to considerable uneasiness among the

The importance of regaining this portion of Belgium has been evident for many months; indeed Haig's offensive in Flanders last summer was generally believed to have this as one of its main objects. The present naval action has not achieved this, of course, but it may have laid the foundation for a much more powerful effort in the near future.

It is announced that the casualties suffered were severe and that should cause no surprise. An exploit of such a kind invites heavy losses, Dr. Johnson wrote: but these may be more than justified by the ends gained. It is too early yet to see what has been done and its relation to the war, but it is at least reassuring to know that the navy is strong enough to force itself to the very shores held by the enemy, and that without suffering disaster.

UNCERTAINTY AND ITS RESULTS.

TNREST and uncertainty are playing havoc with the peace of mind of many thousands of men in Canada today, and this condition is having its effect on the business life of the Dominion. The trouble lies in the fact that no one knows what military order-in-council or parliamentary bills will demand of the individual in the near future, or who will come under the terms of laws which may be passed.

The young owner of a business is afraid to carry out extensions he has planned, being faced with the possibility of being conscripted for war or some branch of national service; employers hesitate to engage men of possible military age for responsible positions, fearing that they may be removed by the authorities just when they have mastered their duties. In fact, from the youth who delays buying a new suit, in case he may be provided with one by the Government, to the man who pigeon-holes the plans he has had drawn for an addition to his factory because he may not be able to conduct the business twelve months hence and, therefore, might incur liabilities which he could not meet by proceeding as he had intended, there exists an atmosphere of doubt and un- all closed! #### LITERARY ART AND LIFE.

OETHE CALLS life "the childhood of immortality" and, in a single beautiful phrase, sums up for us what we ourselves were ardly able to grasp. This is art. He created, nong others who have possessed a similar power, fresh view of life. "Life is a dream, and death awakening," says another; and yet again, ans Andersen, the writer of those delightful tories for children, tells us that: "Every man's fe is a fairy-tale written by God's fingers.' ake Balzac's tremendous definition: "God is the oet; men are but the actors. The great dreams earth were written in heaven." These men ere literary artists, and told us what they ought of life in those rare moments of peneating vision which come to such as venture on spiritual excursions into the limbo of things,". ining thereby for themselves and for us, "a mi-deliverance from the human prison.' If it were not that we have been enabled by the genius in literary art "to see the beauty of the world through a mist of tears," or to make ourselves willing slaves to the ideals of the artist. where should we be traveling and to what end? Eric MacKay has written:

"The lightning is the shorthand of the storm That tells of chaos; and I read the same As one may read the writing of a name,-As one in hell may see the sudden form Of God's forefinger pointed as in blame."

Very true, indeed; and, in all probability, if we accepted with perfect acquiescence the crudest, the shorthand, description of life, it would prove to be for us the "lightning of the storm that tells of chaos," and there is no doubt "God's ferefinger" would be pointed at us in blame through the ghostly shadows of our self-inflicted hell. Moreover, life would be a monetone color. hell. Moreover, life would be a monotone, colorless, hopeless and undeniably vile! We should find ourselves in the position of those who never see the gossamer at early dawn, gemmed with dew and glistening in the sunshine, the while it answers to the call of every scent-laden breeze. We should eat and drink and sleep, perform the vulgar offices of nature and remain forever soulless. Content? Yes, as animals are content. If for this sort of contentment the race of man had been intended, why the divine spark of inspiration which in the earliest dawn of time, came to the seers of visions and the dreamers of dreams? The destiny of man was to be something of great and wonderful import, and the teachers of man became the artists into whose beings there were implanted the seeds of divinity and sublimity.

"Art is more godlike than science. Science discovers; art creates." Straightway the genius of the race began to give to life a wholly new meaning. It clothed the flower with beauty and richness; it saw the glory and the splendor of the sunset; it caught the music in the thunder of the storm and in "the long, low wash of the Australasian seas:" it made out of marble and stone the worry your life out of you? lasian seas;" it made out of marble and stone the dwelling place of gods and brought to the adorn ment thereof the pearls of the east and the gold of the south; and, having reared through the of the south; and, having reared through the course of centuries spent in a labor of love, the cathedral of Rheims, the wonder halls of Ypres and a host of other noble works, it called all lively if you want him to give you first choice. architecture "frozen music." Thus it was that "The natural progress of the works of men is from rudeness to convenience, from convenience to elegance, and from elegance to nicety."

Art, in its widest meaning, has enriched life We have risen from the animal state to one of god-like apprehension by its ministration.
Through the influence of literary art, which has paid a tribute to its sister art of painting by calling "a picture a poem without words," and which is itself perhaps the greatest manifestation of art, we learn, through Wordsworth's exercise of it, that:

"Our birth is a sleep and a forgetting:
The soul that rises with us, our life's star,
Hath had elsewhere its setting

Our Joe Miller Contest.

Hamilton claim that the oldest joke is the one about the Arkansas man who wrote to a firm that manufactured and set up sawmill, fully equipped and set up sawmill, fully equipped and set up sawmill, fully equipped and set up sawmill from the price of a sawmill, fully equipped and set up sawmill fully equipped and set up sawmill. All I for its first proposed that the cost would be $2,000. The Arkansas man sent this reply: "Dere Cir,—You want two thousand cash for a sawmill. All I have to say is that if I had two thousand dollars cash, what would I want with a sawmill?"

Hath had elsewhere its setting

And cometh from afar: Not in entire forgetfulness, And not in utter nakedness. But trailing clouds of glory do we come From God who is our home."

THE MORAL WARFARE.

When Freedom, on her natal day, Within her war-rocked cradle lay, An iron race around her stood, Baptized her infant brow in blood; And through the storm which round her swept, Their constant ward and watching kept.

Then, where our quiet herds repose, The roar of hateful battle rose, To mortal strife as tyrants sprung. Was man for beast, and blood for wine!

Our fathers to their graves have gone Their strife is past—their triumph won; But sterner trials wait the race Which rises in their honored place— A moral warfare with the crime And folly of an evil time.

So let it be. In God's own might We gird us for the coming fight, And, strong in Him whose cause is ours In conflict with unholy powers, We grasp the weapons He has given— The Light and Truth, and Love of Heaven

HEADACHES

MAKES LIFE MISERABLE

Headaches seem to be habitual with many people. Some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually with the dull throbbings, the intense pain, sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then over the whole head, varying in its severity by the cause which brings it on. The varieties of headache most common are sick or bilious headache, ner-vous headache, headache from constipation, debility or indigestion and periodical and spasmodic headache, and undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be had. Burdock Blood Bitters, that has been on the market for over 40 years, removes the cause of the headache, and not only does this, but also restores the entire system to healthy action and buoyant vigor. Miss Emily Smith, 204 Bellwoods avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters. For two years I was greatly troubled with violent headaches, paricularly in the morning. I tried everything to cure me until a friend recommended B. B. B. I tried it, and now

The pick of Canadian and American pacers and trotters will contest the races, and track lovers of Galt and surrounding cities are promised a rare treat. Following is a list of the trainers and their charges in the city at present:

V. Fleming of Dundas is training the following horses: Mussell Sheil, 2:08½; Dustless McKinney, 2:10½; Canute, 2:05½; Donny M., 2:16½; Peter Piper, 2:16½; and Jim McGregor, green trotter, owned by Dr. Hutchinson of Brampton. Mr. Fleming has these horses entered and staked in all the race circuits of Michigan and Ohio.

James Fisher is training the Stevens horses, as follows: Vera Peters, Euxino, Kelly Todd and Patrick Todd.

F. S. Scott, M. P., has six young horses in charge of Fred Warren, a Nova Scotlan horseman, and Bert Howlie is busy with his two-year-old pacer, Oro Euxine.

Wm. Lawrason is endeavoring to uphold the reputation of the Wilks' stable, which will be representer by Battle, Axworthy Filly and a fast mare, the sire of which was Hingen Pilot.

Adulterations and moldy wheat flour are nearly unknown nowadays. Today you are in more danger from supersont in the husks and whole wheat than from outside, fungoid contaminations. However this may be there are still some disorders which arise from wheat and rye flour. Here Are Five More Delicious Ways to Use Up Stale Bread.

From the number of inquiries which I frequently received on the subject of using up stale bread it seems that the housewife is taking this criticism of the food administrator more to heart, and that soon the wasteful bread box

1 cupful of raisins or dates

¾ cupful of corn syrup

½ teaspoonful of salt

Grated rind of ½ orange

Pour the boiling water over the crumbs, then add the fruit, salt, syrup, rind and milk. Bake in a greased mold until firm, usually about one hour. Serve with milk or orange sauce.

Bread Pie. 1½ cupfuls coarsely crumbed, dry breadcrumbs ½ cupful of ground dry breadcrumbs

"Thank you, mother, I am sure of it," I said warmly, stooping to kiss her.
But at the offered caress she turned her face away rather abruptly, or so I fancied, and my kiss fell awkwardly upon the edge of her ear. The feeling I had experienced when I entered the room—that she was cherishing some fancied grudge against me, one that she meant to keep to herself—was intensified. But, of course, I couldn't question her concerning it,

"Have you seen any of them?"

Therefore, you cannot be too careful about the arrangement of the light when working, sewing or reading, since it has much to do with the beauty and the health of your eyes. Take the proper care of your eyes and you will never need to ask for a rem-edy to make them clear and brilliant.

I moved noiselessly to the door and carelessly flung a towel over the knob. Then I returned to my mother-in-law's side to find her tugging at a stout ribbon around her neck, one which had been hidden by her old-fashioned night-dress. With a good deal of effort she pulled into view a securely sewn chamois bag.

"This never leaves me," she whispered. "What it contains is no one's business but my own. But there is room in it for this keep. Get the sharpest scissors and a needle and thread from my work basket, rip this open, put in the key and then sew it up again in such a way that you'll be able to identify the stitches whenever you see them. I wouldn't gut it past Agatha to put me to sleep some night long enough to investigate this if she had any idea the key was in here. But I'll put a flea in her ear that'll settle her if she doesn't quit her snooping around like a hungry tabby cat all over the place. Hurry now, Margaret!"

I hastened to obey her, and it was but a few minutes before the chamois hag with the key securely inside was again tucked under the folds of her nightdress. combinations. These may be circumvented by preparedness, particularly since Uranus wields his influence through sudden and radical benefits. In London, According to Reports.

Since measles lost claim to being the leading disease in the list of communicable ones in London, there has been a constant change in the weekly leader, as announced by the reports of the health department. For last week, the week ending April 20, mumps took first place, 11 new cases of the disease having been recorded. The total number of cases at the end of the week, however, was but 10.

Chickenpox was next, with 6 new cases, there being a total of 11 at the end of the week. Measles only had 3 new victims, while the German variety of the same disease was marked with a blank.

Scarlet fever added 4 to its score, making a total of 9 at the week-end. Whooping cough had no additional reports chalked up to its credit, its total standing at 12 cases, all old, at the end of the week.

There were 3 new cases of tuberculosis, 2 of sore throat.

Mr. Nutter said that he had given all the information he could.

Ald. Keene said the committee was making things worse by trying to block matters.

The mayor said he had been in the factory business for years and never asked for anything. He was surprised that these people should say they would move away if they did not get what they want.

"Do it now, and we will pass the matter here."

"I see I am wasting my time here," said Mr. Nutter, who seemed to have made up his mind not to put the matter in writing, and he did not. He went away without doing so.

Ald. Keene suggested that Mr. Nutter sit down and write the matter out.

The objection is that the eight-inch service will take up the fall of the eight-inch sewer.

Engineer's Vlew.

Engineer Brazier said that Mr. Nutter wanted to block the department. He practically said he would go to the committee and get what he wanted.

Architect Nutter went off huffed. When the engineer gets the information he will deal with the application. It was decided to initiate sidewalks on Nelson street, Adelaide to Dreaney avenue, and also on Forward avenue. Both are held up by vacant property owners.

C. J. F. Q.—I have one more month's exemption. Have I got my choice of any unit, if I enlist at once? Please give the names of the commanding officers of the Royal Flying Corps, and of some of heavy battery? Do they need any more mechanics in the R. F. C.?

A.—Yes, if you report for duty before you are notified to do so, you can choose any unit that is open for recruits, and for which you are fit. For information regarding the Royal Air Force, write to Capt. Walter Smith, 402½ Richmond street, London, Ont. There are no heavy batteries in this district, but you can write to the officers commanding the 63rd and 64th Depot Batteries (light artillery), the former at Carling Heights Camp, London, and the latter at Guelph, Ont. The militia department at Ottawa might have some information regarding heavy artillery. Mechanics are needed in the Canadian Engineers, and the Railway Construction Corps at present. Letters addressed to the officer commanding the Service Company, Canadian Engineers, Carling Heights Camp, London, will bring you information about them.

see the progress. See the progress. Proud of Record.

J. B. Cox, who held the office of secretary from 1892 to 1896 and again from 1901 to 1907, gave a good address. He was proud of the record that Englishmen have made for themselves, and he was sure that this record will be maintained.

W. J. Nutkins, a member for a large number of years, in a brief address congratulated the president, Edwin Smith, on the growth of the society during the first few months of this year. He was glad to see the members were not pessimistic.

"This is a critical time in the history of England, but the end will be victory," he said. "St. George's Society must be prepared to care for the members of Englishmen who will come back to London after the war." The speaker regretted that he is too old to go overseas, but said he was determined to do his part at home.

Members Play Euchre.

A euchre contest was held by the members during the evening. A deck of cards, donated by Edwin Smith, was won by Charles Hollins. George Benbow presented the prize.

A vote of thanks was extended to the president for the refreshments which he provided. On account of the war the regular banquet was not held.

Officers of Society.

URGES SOLUTION OF PROBLEM BE MADE BY AN ARBITRARY BOARD

Differences of Street Railway Men To Be Settled.

A proposal that the drafting of a new agreement between the London Street Railway Company and its employees, dealing with wage increases, be left with a court of arbitration, was advanced by Manager C. B. King at a conference with a committee of motormen and conductors vesterday afteren and conductors yesterday after-

The suggestion, it is said, was not The suggestion, it is said, was not opposed by a part of the men's committee, while the others who represented a more vigorous attitude held the view that in any event the men are not obliged to accept an award unless they care to do so. The argument was advanced by the committee that the company might do better by direct adjustment. Manager King and company officials did not dispute the point seriously, but laid stress upon the company's present financial predicament.

seriously, but laid stress upon company's present financial predicament.

Serious Position.

"I told the men," said Mr. King last night, "that we are perfectly willing to do all we can for them, but our position is a most serious one, and we are financially unable to take on any heavy obligations. The suggestion made by Ald. Henry B. Ashplant a week ago that we might default our mortgage obligations, I pointed out could not be considered, while I called to attention that all authorities the world over are agreed that it is only fair that people who put their money into such an enterprise should be allowed a fair and moderate profit. We are being ground between the upper and nether millstones of 1895 rates of fares and 1918 abnormal operating costs. We feel that something should be done for the men, but we cannot make a contract to pay out money we have not got and have no prospect of being able to earn.

Want Arbitration.

"We are at a loss to know what to do, and I therefore considered the fairest thing to do was to propose arbitration, in order that a board of outsiders should determine what is fair and equitable.

"The conference was a most amicable one, and we threshed out a number of the demands having to do with working conditions. We yielded certain points and the men others, and the result, we are informed, will be considered by a mass meeting of the men next Saturday night. At the close the men wished to confer privately, and we withdrew."

The meeting was held in the offices of the company on Dundas street east.

"By Right of Purchase" is a highly dramatic photoplay of metropolitan society fre, in which the heroine, Margot Hughes, marries Chadwick Himes solely for his money, despite her infatuation with Dick Derwent, a handsome profligate. Himes loves her passionately, but it takes many months and much suffering before Margot works out her salvation, and finds that she truly loves the man to whom she though she belonged only by right of purchase. A stirring photodrama with a punch and replete with heart interest. A "Lonesome Luke" comedy, news weekly and the Majestic Concert Orchestra completes a great show.
