MAYOR WIRES THE RAILWAY BOARD TO TAKE CHARGE OF STREET RAILWAY SITUATION

No Reply Received At Late Hour This Afternoon— Higher Fare Question Must Be Faced Sooner or Later, Says E. S. Little.

Mayor Little wired the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board today to take charge of the street railway situation here. No reply was received at a late hour this afternoon. The mayor stated that the fair wage officer of the Dominion Government would not be asked to come to the city until final arrangements had been made with the railway board.

Mayor Little is convinced that the settlement is only a temporary one. Today he reiterated his statement at the council last night that sooner or later it must be decided whether higher fares will be granted or whether the franchise of the road will be taken over by the city or the hydro-electric commission.

Street railwaymen are awaiting developments, and are willing to give the railway board a chance to operate the road. There was little activity on their part in connection with the situation today. Members of their executive attended a sitting of a conciliation board to settle the London and Port Stanley dispute, so that they had little time to devote to street railway matters, except to learn when the railway board would send its representatives here.

The lengthy discussion in the council last night had the effect of clearing the air, and the street railway situation had more or less taken a back place in discussion in official circles.

Citizens continued to walk or ride jitneys, and as the weather remained fine there was comparatively little complaint. Several large 'buses were operating on the streets today.

BORDEN SLATED FOR RETIREMENT, WITH SIR THOMAS WHITE AS HIS SUCCESSOR, IS GENERAL BELIEF

Quiet Boom On Behalf of Former Finance Minister Has Been in Progress for Some Months — Western Liberal-Unionists Expected To Bolt If White Becomes Head of Government.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, May 4.—Sir Robert Borden is expected back in Ottawa on or about the 15th. After that, what? This is the question which politicians are asking themselves. Until the exact condition of the premier's health is known it is difficult to guess the answer, though the most common prediction is that Sir Robert is booked for final retirement, and that there will be a shake up in the government from the top downwards before or immediately after prorogation.

There is an atmosphere of restlessness in government circles, and if dissensions and defections are to be averted some definite decision as to reorganization and policy will have to be reached soon.

This feeling is not by any means confined to the rank and file; it pervades the cabinet also, and the continued adherence to the government of several ministers depends largely upon the policy adopted, and when it is adopted.

Question of Successor.

Should Sir Robert decide definitely to retire, the question of his successor is one which will have to be decided at once. Just now there is only one name seriously mentioned — that of Sir Thomas White, in whose behalf a quiet boom has been in progress for some time past. The appointment of the former finance minister would satisfy the majority of the caucus, though it might conceivably lead to the defection of seven or eight of the Western Liberal-Unionists. These latter, however, would join neither the Liberal nor the Agrarian party, but would probably form a small group of their own, and pursue independent tactics. Such a defection would reduce the government's once formidable majority to little more than a score, a somewhat dangerous margin on a matter of policy or an issuance of importance.

It is not anticipated here that the "Liberal-Conservatives" round table conference which is to be held in Toronto around the 10th, will attract any considerable proportion of the constructive element in the House to its deliberations, especially in view of the uncertainty which must still continue until Sir Robert returns. Recent disclosures in the Ontario Provincial Conservative field will not in any case tend toward the success of the government.

ALLIES REQUESTED TO NOT OCCUPY THRACE FOR SOME TIME YET

Turkish Delegation Desires To Be Heard At Peace Conference.

Constantinople, May 4.—Entente powers have been asked by the grand vizier to postpone occupation of Thrace until after the Turkish delegation can be heard by the peace conference in Paris. Four Greek divisions are at Saloniki awaiting orders to advance into Thrace.

THEATRE BURNS AT LOSS OF $250,000

Blaze in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Does Heavy Damage.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 4.—Fire which started shortly before 2 o'clock this morning practically destroyed the Rialto Theatre, entailing a loss of $250,000. The theatre is located in the heart of the business section of Main street, and it was feared other buildings might be endangered.

PREMIER PROMISES $3,000 MORE FOR HORTICULTURAL WORK IN THE PROVINCE

Toronto, May 4.—Premier Drury this morning promised a deputation from Toronto horticultural societies that he would provide an additional grant of $3,000 in the supplementary estimates for horticultural work in the province. The total grant to these societies for the ensuing year now totals $20,000.

"Herb" With Whiskey Kick Is "Discovered"

Vancouver, B. C., May 3.—A special analysis is to be made of an "herb" which, when immersed in water, smells and tastes like whiskey, but is said actually to possess "more authority." Gun Shee, an Oriental, found the "herb," according to his claim when he was arrested charged with violation of the prohibition laws. Shee refused to say whether the "herb" was found locally or imported.

7,000 Gallons of Jamaica Rum On Way To West

Police Keeping Special Watch Over Consignment.

Port Arthur, May 4.—Upwards of 7,000 gallons of No. 1 Jamaica rum was unloaded yesterday from the steamer Hamonic. The spirits, packed in huge oak casks and said to be the finest of its kind, was shipped in bond from Kingston, Jamaica, to Winnipeg and Vancouver. The police are keeping a constant watch on the consignment, and the cars will be double sealed and checked by the police department all along the line to its final destination.

G. T. R. APPLIES FOR RENEWAL OF BRIDGE

Ottawa, May 4.—An application of the Grand Trunk Railway for authority to renew an overhead bridge at St. Paul street, St. Catharines, Ont., was argued before the Canadian Railway Commission today. It was met with a request from the municipality that the bridge should be widened to take care of increased traffic. The railway then asked that some portion of the cost, which was nearly doubled by the specifications of the municipality, should be borne by the municipality.

THREE LONG ROUSING CHEERS! LET'S ALL DRINK MILK NOW

"Am I really awake?" was the question which a thrifty housewife asked herself this morning, as she purchased a new roll of pint milk tickets from a local company. After rubbing her eyes vigorously, and counting over and over again, she at last became convinced that there were really fifteen of them, all for $1, and fourteen is the number she has been accustomed to receive.

"Something is coming down at last!" she shouted to her neighbor over the fence. "One firm in London at least, is conscientious enough to bring down its prices. I shall telephone immediately and find out what is the reason for the lowered price."

She found that the milk supply was on the increase because of the fact that the cheese factories were stopping; that in place of sending their milk to the factories, the farmers were now sending it into the city, and because of this increased supply the company had been offering fifteen tickets for $1 since the 1st of May.

She rushed back to her neighbor with the welcome news. "Let's all drink milk now. The doctor says there's nothing which possesses greater food value."

CLEVELAND RAILWAY EMPLOYEES VOTE FOR A STRIKE TOMORROW

Men Refuse To Accept Company's Offer.

3,000 WILL GO OUT

Taxicab Drivers Quit Because of the New City Law.

Cleveland, May 4.—Union motormen and conductors employed by the Cleveland Railway Company at mass meetings last night and early today rejected the company's maximum offer of 75 cents an hour, an increase of 15 cents, with a minimum six-hour day, and voted overwhelmingly to strike at midnight tomorrow. Approximately 3,000 men will be affected.

When informed of the action of the men John J. Stanley, president of the company, said: "There will be no more proposals from the Cleveland Railway Company. We have gone the limit. That's final."

More than 100 Cleveland taxicab drivers, comprising one-third of the members of the Livery Chauffeurs' Union, went on strike this morning, following passage by the city council last night of a new taxicab ordinance, providing stricter police regulations of drivers, reducing fare rates, and a finger-print identification for drivers before licenses are issued.

CANADA TO HAVE A MODERN NAVY; SHIPS AS GIFT

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne Is Reported To Have Made Announcement Privately.

Halifax, N. S., May 4.—According to an Ottawa story, says the Daily Echo, Admiral Lord Jellicoe's overseas naval program is to be carried out by the Canadian Government, and the Dominion is to have a modern navy, comprising battle cruisers, destroyers, etc., to be the gift of the British admiralty. The Echo states that the Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, minister of marine, is reported to have made this announcement privately.

ALLEGED MURDERER TO LEAD POLICE TO GRAVE OF HIS WIFE

James R. Huirt Issues Statement Claiming Himself Irresponsible.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 4.—Guided personally by Walter Andrew Watson, alias James R. Huirt, alleged bigamist and murderer, Los Angeles County officers expected today to renew the search in an isolated and desolate portion of San Diego County for the grave of Mina Lee Deloney, one of the five "wives" Watson is said to have confessed he killed.

The start was to be made from El Centro, Cal., to which point Watson was taken from here late last night. Before boarding the train Watson issued through his attorney a long statement, in which he reviewed the acts set forth in his alleged confession to the district attorney, and concluded with the query: "Is it reasonable to think my acts are the work of a sane man who was in a position to control himself or to understand the risk of exposure he ran?"

He described himself as ordinarily "tender hearted and easily moved to tears at the sight of sadness or distress and ever ready to help relieve such condition," and working as best he could "to make the world better."

Three at a Time.

He said he had lived with three "wives" at the same time in San Francisco, and risked detection by escorting them to restaurants and theatres, and had done practically the same thing in other cities.

"I wonder," he continued, "if the public cannot see the logical position of my case, and instead of clamoring for revenge, give my actions and mental condition just consideration.

"My every act shows I am to be pitied more than to be blamed for having developed into the strange and uncontrollable condition, for I am anything else but my natural self."

In making the statement public, the attorney described it as his client's "unaided verbatim statement, written in longhand by himself."

DECLARES HE REALLY BURIED WOMAN ALIVE

Los Angeles, Cal., May 4.—"Bluebeard" Harvey, alias Watson, this afternoon identified his fifth murder victim, whom he drowned in Lake Washington, some time ago.

She was Mrs. Beatrice Andrewartha, a Canadian widow, he married in Tacoma, Wash., January 5, 1919, he declared, adding identification of his fifth victim to the confession he had previously given District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine.

After knocking the woman unconscious with a hammer blow on the head, he wrapped her securely in a blanket, so that she would smother to death, and then drove leisurely to her burial place in Boregro Valley.

"The blow only knocked her out," "Bluebeard" calmly explained. "I took a blanket and wrapped it around and around her head, so she could get no air."

LAKE NAVIGATION AT CLEVELAND IS TIED UP

Cleveland, O., May 4.—Lake navigation so far as Cleveland is concerned, stopped today with the exception of passenger service. No ore or other freight was being moved. Crews on all freighters in the harbor had been paid off, according to E. J. Sullivan of the Seamen's Union.

Lack of coal and inability to move ore because of the switchmen's strike was held responsible for the tie-up.

CANADIAN LIQUOR KEEPS U.S. 'DRY' AREAS WELL IRRIGATED, CLAIM AMERICAN OBSERVERS

Correspondents in All Parts of United States Claim That Large Portion of Illicit "Booze" Sold Comes From This Side of Line—Detroit Well Supplied.

New York, May 4.—Special dispatches published in the New York World this morning from its correspondents in various parts of the United States tend to strengthen the impression that a good deal of the present supply of illicit "booze" being vended in the country is finding its way across the international boundary from points in Canada.

The correspondent at Detroit is convinced that there is no shortage there, and adds that Windsor keeps a section of the populace "wet" for a moderate charge of $5 to $6 per quart.

Nearly all the liquor handled by the Seattle bootleggers is smuggled from Canada, the coast correspondent says. The same procedure of obtaining intoxicating refreshments prevails in St. Paul, according to the St. Paul correspondent, who says that a Canadian quart is obtainable from $7 to $20, the average charge being about $15.

Canadian whiskey is highly appraised in Cincinnati, by one offender at least, who is now in jail awaiting a hearing on a charge of being party to a transaction which involved a small Canadian quart.

Bride Sees Jinx When Big Hand Downward Goes

Delays Wedding Until Minute Indicator Is On Upward Course.

Detroit, May 4.—Until Monday afternoon, Justice of the Peace Theodore J. Richter had supposed that he was aware of all the superstitions harbored by brides and bridegrooms—brides, mostly. He heard a new one Monday.

Shortly after 3 o'clock a couple came in with a marriage license and asked justice to make them husband and wife. The bride, however, happened to glance at the clock.

"Oh, don't let's get marred while the minute hand is pointing downward," she said. "Wait until it passes the half-hour mark."

The bridegroom acquiesced, and the couple sat in the justice's office until the clock registered 25 minutes to 4, when the ceremony took place.

"That's a new one on me," remarked Justice Richter as the couple departed.

One hundred drivers have walked out at Renaud's. The difficulty was brought about when fifteen leaders of the Catholic Union were laid off. The men allege that the employers have continually persecuted the members of the aforesaid union.

CLOTHING PRICES ARE ON DOWNWARD TREND IN NEW YORK CITY

General Lowering of Prices Is Expected Soon.

New York, May 4.—Following the announcement of a 20 per cent reduction in the price of practically its entire stock by one of the largest department stores in the city, New York is hoping for a general lowering of prices by the local merchants. Although there have been no further announcements of such sweeping reductions as were made by the big department store, a general downward tendency is noticeable. This applies particularly to clothing. "Special sales" at greatly reduced prices are being advertised by many establishments, and the price tickets in the windows of clothing stores indicate that a break in values has come. A few weeks ago the prevailing price for ready-made suits in the lower Broadway shops was from $45 to $60. Suits are displayed in the windows of many of these shops today at from $35 to $50.

The prosecution of several profiteers in Brooklyn by the United States Government "flying squad" of cost of living experts is also thought to have had the effect of making dealers in several other lines readjust their ideas of profit to a more reasonable level.

BARGAIN SALES ARE COMMON THING IN TORONTO STORES

Toronto, May 4.—A decided lowering of the cost of clothing and staple products is indicated in advertisements appearing daily in Toronto newspapers. Display advertising calling attention to great bargain sales at large departmental stores has increased considerably since the inauguration of the overall campaign in the United States and a few Canadian cities.

It is reported that business among retail merchants in the downtown section of the city has decreased rapidly during the past few weeks, and bargain sales are being organized on a large scale to get rid of surplus stock.

MILLERAND TO TALK WITH LLOYD GEORGE ON TREATY CLAUSES

Financial Questions Will Be Carefully Considered by Premiers.

DISCUSS REPARATIONS

Agreement On Basis For Spa Conference To Be Reached.

Paris, May 4.—Premier Millerand is going to London next week to confer with David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, regarding financial questions. It is expected an agreement will be reached upon the line of action to be adopted concerning Germany with regard to execution of the reparations clauses of the treaty of Versailles.

The premiers will also agree on the basis of the discussions to be held with the German representatives at the Spa meeting on May 25, in line with the understanding reached by the supreme council at San Remo, that the Allies would not discuss before the Germans any questions upon which they were not in accord among themselves.

The French viewpoint is that they will not discuss the principle of any clause of the treaty, and will take up with the Germans only the manner of applying the treaty's terms. Prominent among the points to be taken up in London will be interpretation of the reparations clauses and the form in which the German delegates at Spa will be told what the Allies insist upon.

BOLSHEVIKI AND UKRAINIANS IN FIGHT FOR KIEV

Reds Are Entrenching On the West Bank of Dnieper.

Warsaw, May 3.—Delayed.—The Bolsheviki are entrenching in the hills on the west bank of the Dnieper in a great semicircle, with their backs against Kiev, the Ukrainian capital, according to information today from the front. The fight for possession of Kiev is at its height, raging day and night along the line through the valleys and rivers.

REDS IN RETIREMENT.

Moscow, May 4.—Retirement of Russian Bolshevik forces from the vicinity of Fastova, about 35 miles southwest of Kiev, is admitted in an official statement issued by the war ministry today.

Occupation of the town of Shemakha, about 65 miles west of Baku, in the Caucasus region, by Bolshevik troops, occurred on April 30, it is announced.

JUAREZ IS TAKEN BY REBELS; NO FIGHTING

Half of Carranza's Territory Has Been Captured.

Washington, May 4.—Relief was shown both in Government circles and by revolutionary agents here today when it became known that Juarez, Mexico, where revolutionary fighting always has been a potential international danger, has been taken by the rebels without a fight.

Until now the rebels have succeeded in taking from Carranza almost half his territory without a battle, but military men who have watched the developments of the revolution assume a few stubborn contests are inevitable unless averted by further defections in the federal forces. Mexican agents here persist in their assertions that further cases of Government troops declining battle will hasten the end of the struggle.

GENERAL STRIKE IN MEXICO.

Agua Prieta, Sonora, May 4.—A general strike of Mexican labor is a potential weapon possessed by the revolutionists against President Carranza, Gen. P. Elias Calles, military commander in the northwest, said here today. "Labor organizers are active everywhere in Mexico for the labor constitutionalist movement," Gen. Calles said. "The strike will be called only as a last resort, and from the success that is attending the revolution it will not be necessary."

VETERANS INCENSED AT GENERAL'S REMARK

Protest Against Statement Made by Member of Parliamentary Committee.

Ottawa, May 4.—Very strong feeling was manifest last night at the business meeting of the Ottawa Command, G. W. V. A., regarding the remarks of Gen. McLean, a member of the special Parliamentary committee on pensions and re-establishment. Gen. McLean, at the meeting of the committee yesterday, said that the average wife of a private was of the servant class before marriage, and maintained that a woman who could work should be encouraged to do so.

Considerable resentment was manifested at the implication which it was thought such a remark contained, some comrades remarking that most women had to work anyway, and the "class" distinction hinted at was strongly castigated by the various speakers.

A resolution was summarily passed strongly protesting against Brig.-Gen. McLean's statement that the wives of private soldiers were of the servant class and should not be encouraged in idleness.

RAILWAY FARES FROM CANADA TO UNITED STATES MAY BE INCREASED IN NEAR FUTURE

Board of Railway Commissioners Will Hear Arguments of Counsel For Companies Today—Decision On Suspended Tariffs Soon.

Ottawa, May 4.—Increased passenger fares from Canada to the United States will be considered before the board of railway commissioners today. The case will be argued by counsel for the railways, and the board will make its decision in the matter of the suspended tariffs, which the railways sought to make effective on March 29 last, but which were not approved by the board pending this hearing in the interests of the traveling public.

An order will be issued by the board very shortly in the matter of compulsory prepayment of freight charges on goods exported from Canada to the United States. The railways ordered its agents not to accept shipments without full prepayment of charges to United States points, the adverse exchange having materially affected the revenues on the United States portion of the haul. A hearing on the question was held by the commission some weeks ago, but no ruling has been made as yet, beyond what was indicated in a suggestion from the bench that it did not appear to be a matter in which the railway commission could interfere. It is understood, however, that the board has since framed an order on the point for the guidance of Canadian roads.

CAMPAIGN TO RAISE $180,000 FOR WELFARE WORK IS NOW IN FULL SWING IN LONDON

President George M. Reid Host At Banquet To Canvassers—Bishop Fallon and Rev. G. Q. Warner Deliver Inspiring Addresses To Team Members—Teams Fully Organized.

London's United Welfare campaign started off this morning with a momentum of concentrated enthusiasm, determined effort and confident expectation that leaves no doubt in the minds of anybody that the full objective of $2,800 will be easily reached by the canvassers. While no reports will be totaled until the evening when the campaign workers will all meet as the guests of Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore at the Tecumseh Hotel, many of the canvassers stated that they found the idea of a united campaign to be popular, and the general population of the city heartily in sympathy with the projects and welfare work to be assisted by the funds being raised.

People from whom small or medium-sized contributions were expected are giving generously, and only one or two of the bigger prospective contributors are on record so far as refusing to give anything. Those who could not be expected to give much sometimes gave much more generously than was expected, and in other cases gave as much as they could afford.

The monthly payment plan is reported to be finding favor with most citizens, and canvassers are finding that it doesn't take too much persuasion to induce the contributor who offers five dollars once and for all, to make his subscription instead a dollar a month for twelve months. By impressing the easiness of the installment payment plan it is estimated that in a great many cases contributions will be at least doubled from the well-wishers of the campaign who are themselves in only moderate circumstances.

Features of the dinner tonight will be addresses by Rev. Dr. Peever of the First Methodist Church and Rev. D. C. MacGregor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

All the teams started out bright and early this morning with full ranks of energetic canvassers. The second team of the London Advertising Club, which promptly organized Monday night, and jumped into the breach left when another team withdrew from the campaign, is ably captained by W. J. Ashplant, with the following live roll-call of members: W. C. Biggs, Lebert Jones, Roy Brisco, George Peters, Norman Keene, J. M. McIntyre, John Holman, George M. Fraser, George H. Wesley, J. M. Hunt, Ward Casselman, and Capt. H. Bingle. It was one of the first teams at work this morning.

The "minute man" is back into harness again, and brief addresses were given at noon today by Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown at the McCormick factory, and by W. R. Yendall at the Perrin factory.

ASK DRESS UNIFORMITY FOR SCHOOL GIRLS OF COLLEGIATE

Deputation From Local Council of Women To Appear Before School Board This Afternoon.

Dress uniformity for schoolgirls of collegiate age and for pupils of the two higher grades in the public schools is the reform sought by a deputation of members of the Local Council of Women, who are to be heard by the members of the board of education this afternoon. They will ask the board to require girls attending the Collegiate Institute and the higher grades of the public schools to attend school in uniforms, their argument being that poor children suffer heartaches because of their inability to wear as beautiful and costly dresses as rich children.

It was expected that Dr. F. W. Merchant would appear to advise the board as to the best plans for replacing the burned Collegiate Institute, but early this afternoon it was not known definitely whether Dr. Merchant had arrived or not.

Decline To Let Their Marriage Check Careers

Fannie Hurst, the Authoress, Announces Secret Wedding.

New York, May 4.—Fannie Hurst, the authoress, made public announcement of her secret marriage five years ago to Jacques S. Danielson, a pianist. Under a pre-nuptial arrangement with her husband, she said, they have lived apart since their wedding so as not to interfere with each other's career.

He said they made their appointments for dinner and other engagements in a purely formal manner, "meeting as per inclination and not duty."

They intend to continue that plan, she added.

STEAMER IN DISTRESS.

Boston, May 4.—The British steamer Vellavia, reported her shaft gone, and asked that tugs be sent immediately in a wireless message intercepted here today. Her position was given as about 2,000 miles east of New York. She left Liverpool April 22 for New York.

WAR INDEMNITY BILL ROUNDLY CONDEMNED

London Times Characterizes Measure As Worst in History.

London, May 3.—Canadian Associated Press.—The Government war indemnity bill, which was brought on in the House of Commons, met much opposition, and, though it passed its second reading by 210 to 28, it was only saved by concessions.

Mr. Leslie Scott moved its rejection. Sir Edward Carson denounced the proposal to abolish legal rights and remedies as unfair and unjust. Another member declared that deeds done under the defence of the realm act made in comparison the acts of a highway robber appear as those of a gentleman. The bill was intended to validate war-time acts, and its importance is shown by the fact that in default of its passing the state might be confronted with liabilities amounting to seven hundred million pounds. The Times declares it would be hard to find in the history of Parliament a piece of projected legislation equal to it in reactional audacity.

SOLDIER MARRIES MAIDEN WHO TAUGHT HIM FRENCH LANGUAGE

Cobalt, May 4.—A war romance, in which Alexander Fraser, a Nova Scotian, who formerly lived here, figures prominently, is revealed in information today that he is returning to Cobalt next month. Fraser, then a blacksmith at the Nipissing Mine, enlisted with the 257th Battalion, three years ago. Later, he was transferred to a forestry battalion, with whom he served in the south of France. While there he was taught French by a young lady of the district, and on taking his discharge in London last fall he returned and married his teacher. Since then he has been engaged in the rebuilding of St. Quentin, but now word comes that with his bride he will sail for Canada on Wednesday of this week.

AID WORTHY CAUSE--GIVE TO WELFARE FUND

COUNCIL IS CALLING RAILWAY BOARD TO RUN STREET CARS

Fair Wage Officer of Dominion Government Will Also Be Called—Men Agree To Co-operate in Reasonable Spirit Pending Outcome of Investigation—Temporary Settlement of Tie-Up Is in Sight.

Temporary settlement of the street railway employees' strike is in sight. Mayor E. S. Little will call the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board to the city today. A fair wage officer of the Dominion Government will also be called.

This was the course of action decided on by the city council last night. The whole street railway situation was debated in committee of the whole, and a delegation from the trades and labor council was heard, as well as representatives of the street railway union.

On receiving the assurance of John Colbert that the street railway men were willing to meet a fair wage officer and would operate the road for the railway board for a short time at least, Ald. John Bridge, seconded by Ald. Edwin R. Seabrook, moved "That the railway board be called in at once, provided that the men will agree to meet a fair wage officer and co-operate in a reasonable spirit to enable the railway board to operate the system and provide the service required under the provisions of bylaw 916 for a reasonable time, for the purpose of developing all the facts of the case." The motion was carried unanimously in council upon the committee rising and reporting.

In the meantime the police commission will be asked to permit automobile owners to carry passengers for a fare in order to provide transportation for the citizens. At present a chauffeur's license is required before a fare can be charged.

Mayor Little opened the general question by moving that the council go into a committee of the whole, with Ald. G. B. Drake as chairman.

Ald. F. R. Watkinson asked if any application for higher fares had been received. The chairman replied in the negative.

Why Discuss It?

"Then why discuss this? It is a matter between the company and the men," said Ald. Watkinson.

Ald. Moorhead said the question was not one of wages, but whether the company's agreement with the city was being adhered to. No one would object to the men getting higher wages, but the increase must come from the right source.

Arthur Mould, William Bernard and Raymond Smith presented a resolution passed at a special meeting of the trades and labor council asking that the railway board be called. Mr. Mould said he had not come to discuss higher fares or any other side issue. The men were out on strike, and not only they, but all the citizens as well were concerned, and the trades and labor council did not think it was right for the city council to stand "pat" on the matter when there was a means of settling the difficulty.

"The railway board will give us a chance to know where we are at. It is time this matter came to a head. We have now the best opportunity we ever had to come to some decent terms with the company," he said.

Citizens Annoyed.

Mr. Bernard spoke to the same effect. He declared that citizens generally were annoyed because the council took no action after they had fair warning that the trouble was developing. Raymond Smith, the third delegate, thought that the company's lack of attempt to run cars indicated that it had little regard for the rights of the citizens. He pointed out that the men were in no condition to endure a long strike, and that there was no use making a further appeal to the people until the council had done its utmost to bring affairs to a head.

"Have the men and the company done all they can to straighten it out, or are they trying to throw on this council the work that they should be doing?" inquired Ald. O. I. Cunningham.

"We are not here to discuss a side issue," replied Mr. Mould. "The demands were presented six weeks ago. Then was the time for action. Our business is to support the claim of labor for a living wage, and it has been flatly refused in this case."

"You are introducing a side issue," contended Ald. Cunningham. "A conciliation board could have been called at the option of the men, the company or both. But both the men and the company have refused to abide by a decision by a conciliation board; yet they come to the council and ask that the railway board be called. The railway board can only be called in when a strike occurs or is threatened, and the citizens don't get service. It cannot increase fares or wages. It can only operate the road. If it finds that it is paying it can notify the council to that effect, and if the company refuses to resume operation it can continue to run the road. On the other hand if it finds the road is not paying it simply steps out. A conciliation board can determine what the men should get.

Ald. Cunningham further declared that sooner or later a decision would have to be made as to whether higher fares should be paid or the franchise should be taken over by the city.

Union Labor United.

Mr. Mould said that the Trades and Labor Council resolution merely asked that the Railway Board be called. When they had given a decision the latter question would arise. "It is not the railway men alone who are asking this, but all the trades unionists in the city," he asserted.

"That may be so," said Ald. Cunningham, "but there is a widespread opinion that the company and the men are working 'snooks' on this question."

At this point Ald. John Ashton, who is a member of the street railway union executive, inquired where Ald. Cunningham had got his information that the men would not accept the award of a conciliation board.

"I hate to mention any names, but I got it from you in my office a short time ago."

"I heard him say so, too," said Ald. Seabrook.

Ald. Ashton then explained the situation. He said that the men had obtained the necessary papers for a conciliation board, but that Manager C. B. King told the union executive that the company would not abide by a decision. The men saw no use in conciliation after that.

"That's where you lost the strongest card you had," Ald. Cunningham commented. "If a conciliation board had come here and had made an award anywhere near the amount you are asking and the company had refused to abide by it you would have had the citizens behind you to a man in demanding that the street railway comply."

A Forlorn Hope.

Ald. Ashton contended that the last conciliation board had no authority to examine the books of the company, and what the people wanted was a clear statement of how the road stood. "We are not financiers," he said. "This matter has been going on for fifteen years. It is all right to blame the mayor or anyone else, but if the mayor can settle it he will have done something which fifteen other mayors could not do."

"Would the men return to work at their old wages while the railway board operated the road?" asked Ald. F. E. Harley.

"No," replied Ald. Ashton. "They are out now, and they won't move the cars without a promise of fair wages."

"How is the railway board to act then?" questioned Ald. Cameron Wilson.

"That was your business to consider before the strike took place," replied Ald. Ashton.

"Suppose there was a surplus while the railway board was operating the road, who would retain that? Or suppose that there was a deficit, who would make that up?" Ald. Harley asked. The question remained unanswered throughout the meeting. Ald. Bridge jocularly suggested for the benefit of Chairman Drake that any deficit should be made up by the retail grocers of the city.

Ex-Ald. John Colbert, chairman of the executive committee of the street railwaymen's union, said that the last conciliation board had cost the men $300.

Lack of Confidence.

Ald. Bridge thought the railway board had power to increase wages for the time during which it operated the road. They would not operate at a loss and had no power to increase fares. He thought there was a general lack of confidence amongst all the parties concerned. The men could not be expected to come back at their old wages, but on the other hand he did not think they could expect to get 65 cents an hour. But if they were willing to negotiate on a reasonable basis with a representative of the department of labor he thought they could operate the road while the railway board took charge.

Mr. Colbert said the men were willing to meet any board or representative of the government. Ald. Bridge pointed out that this agreement with the government would not bind the men to a permanent agreement, and for that reason they might be even more than reasonable in their negotiations.

"Are you willing to work under the railway board?" asked Ald. Seabrook.

"Under reasonable conditions," said Mr. Colbert, "there would be no trouble for the railway board to get temporary operation.

Mayor Little said he was of the opinion that the railway board could not increase the wages. He was inclined to think that it already had the opinion that the road was not making money.

The Alternatives.

"Let us assume for the sake of argument that the company is not earning sufficient to pay higher wages without increased fares. The ultimate result will be that higher fares will have to be granted or the franchise will have to be cancelled and taken over by the hydro-electric system or the city. The council must decide whether it will grant temporary relief or will take over the road.

"I would suggest that a conciliation board be formed. The men could then go back to work at their present wages with the assurance that they would be paid the difference between them and any award which the conciliation board might make. The railway board could be called to operate the road while the conciliation board was sitting."

This was practically the course adopted, with the exception that a representative of the labor department was substituted for a conciliation board.

MUSIC CLUB CLOSES SEASON BRILLIANTLY

Artists' Concert Provided Delightful Finale.

After 25 years of successful organization in London the Women's Music Club closed its season last night with a brilliant artists' concert in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium. The vocal numbers of Elizabeth Campbell, distinguished contralto of the San Carlo Opera Company, harmonized delightfully with the instrumental numbers of Jean Wood, pianist of Toronto. For a whimsical critic might almost call Miss Wood a contralto pianist, so soft and rich is the quality of her playing, lacking the hard brilliancy so often characteristic of her brother musicians.

While Miss Wood scored a decided triumph for herself, the real ovation of the evening was accorded Miss Campbell, who was gracious enough to respond again and again to the incessant clapping which followed each of her numbers. Not only does she possess a personality radiating charm and a voice pure and rich and wide of range, but she makes every moment of her singing fascinating by reason of her supreme dramatic power. Never for a moment does she come out of the mood of the song she is singing, and so great is her ability to enter into the feeling of the number she is rendering that it appears to be sung for the first time, and by one into whose mouth the words of the song are put.

It is difficult to pick out one number from another. Yet, perhaps, Secchi's "Lungi dal Caro Lene" displayed to greatest advantage the marvellous range of her voice. The same group included "Jeunes Fillettes," a sprightly delicate air of the eighteen century; Palmdilhe's "Psyche" and "Bonne Humeur" (Chaminade), a jubilant number, which was repeated to appease the enthusiastic audience. "The Waters of Minnetonka" (Lieurance) was another number exquisitely rendered. This occurred in a group which included Rogers' "The Star," Kramer's "The Last Hour," and "Morning" (Speaks).

"O Mio Fernando," from La Favorita (Donizetti), and 'Che Faro Senza Euridice," from Gluck's "Orpheo," were the big operatic numbers, the last followed on request, by "My Heart, Thy Sweet Voice," from "Samson and Delilah" (Saint Saens), bringing the evening to a triumphal close.

Miss Wood is a pianist who appeals to both the studied musician and the popular audience. While not at all sacrificing her art, she manages to awaken the interest of the ordinary listener in a way in which many another distinguished musician fails to do. Her touch is delightfully sympathetic and her interpretations decidedly her own. As an accompanist and as a solo pianist she proclaimed herself to be a master last evening. Perhaps she was heard at her best in Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsodie" No. 14, whose weird, wild melodies were brought out with delightful skill and understanding. Chopin's "Ballad in G Minor" was another big number on her program. A third group included "Idyll" (Macdowell), "Valse Caprice" (Cyril Scott), and "Prelude in G Minor" (Rachmaninoff).

The people made her play encores after every number, and they were a Chopin Valse, "Romance" (Gruenfeld), and a Grieg "Spring Song."

A. Y. P. A. Dramatic Club Scores Another Success

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram," a play staged by the Anglican Young People's Association Dramatic Club, finished its third engagement in St. Matthew's Church Sunday School room last night, and was a decided success. The street railway strike was blamed for the audience being smaller than at last week's performances by Rev. H. B. Ashby, who acted as chairman.

The play portrays the troubles of a married man who gets into a dispute with his wife, who does not believe him to be trustworthy. Many interesting and funny incidents occur when the husband attempts to clear himself of the charges made by his wife.

The play will be repeated on Friday, May 7, in Belmont, and again on May 11 in the Cronyn Memorial Church. The latter performance will be given for the benefit of the Church of the Redeemer.

The actors in the play were Miss Viola Taylor, Miss Jean Isaacs, Miss Verna Ardiel, Miss W. Parker, Clarence Stanley, A. E. Henderson, Fred Butler, H. Noble and H. Parker.

Miss M. Patterson delighted the audience with her singing between the acts.

WANT BUSINESS TAXES ON BREWERIES REMITTED FOR ONE MORE YEAR

Representative Appears Before City Council at Monday's Session.

Remission of business taxes on breweries was favored by the city council in a resolution passed last night. The proposal comes before the Legislature at Toronto today.

Since restrictions were imposed on the liquor traffic in 1914 business taxes have been remitted each year. The new Government intimated that this might not be continued. Brewers are asking that the taxes be remitted for one year more until the result of the Dominion referendum is known.

William Meredith represented Carling's and Labatt's breweries before the council last night. He pointed out that the members of the council would not be voting on a matter of temperance, but on a matter of justice. The brewers' trade had been greatly reduced, and it was not fair to tax them until it was known whether they could make use of their buildings.

BIRD NOTES

(Contributed by McIlwraith Ornithological Club.)

The cool, backward weather of the past week or ten days has had a decided effect on the movement of the birds. During that time but two or three new arrivals have been reported, where there should have been a dozen or more. We have been afield, however, nearly every morning, and although our reward has not always been the recording of new species, something is generally seen or heard which makes the trip worth while.

A pair of marsh-hawks have selected as their summer home this year a swampy place not far from the city. The male is one of the beautiful bluish-grey adults not often seen. His mate is in the brown plumage and has several feathers missing from one wing. The other morning the male bird was seen, doing the "dipe," an interesting performance given during the nesting season. While flying at some 50 or 75 feet from the ground he would repeatedly dive towards the earth, rising abruptly again with twists and turns, which were almost impossible to follow, all the time uttering a series of call notes, no doubt intended for a song. In this manner he progressed across the fields and marsh until lost to view behind some trees. These hawks are very beneficial, living almost entirely on mice, frogs and insects, with occasionally a few small birds, and should be protected and encouraged wherever found.

Two members of the warbler family were reported Monday, the palm warbler and the northern water-thrush. A few fine warm days will no doubt see a considerable addition to the list.

SOME FOLKS ARE DISAPPOINTED

They read or they hear about Jiffy-Jell desserts. They want these real-fruit dainties, but they get something else.

The trouble lies in a like-sounding name. Be careful. The name is Jiffy-Jell.

Jiffy-Jell is the only dessert with real-fruit flavors in liquid form in glass.

The fruit is crushed, then the juice is condensed and sealed in glass vials. There is a bottle in each Jiffy-Jell package.

So Jiffy-Jell, is real-fruit dessert, healthful and delightful. It supplies the fruit which everyone needs daily. It brings you fruit at trifling cost in winter.

But you will miss that bottle of fruit-juice essence if you get something else.

RIDOUT ST. BRIDGE

Building Will Not Commence Until Bill Passed in Legislature.

Building of a new Ridout street bridge will not be commenced until the London bill has been passed by the Legislature. Mayor Little told Ald. C. G. Moorhead at the city council last night in response to an inquiry.

It is possible that the present bridge may be closed to traffic within a short time.

Ald. O. I. Cunningham introduced a change in the traffic regulations, by which it will not be necessary for automobiles to have headlights burning when parked on paved streets under street lamps. This will be considered by No. 2 committee. Ald. Cunningham claimed that this provision has been made in a number of Ontario municipalities.

ALLEGED AUTO THIEF IS ARRESTED HERE

Toronto Man Taken Into Custody by Detective Down.

Although he had but a mere verbal description of the man, Detective Harry Downs was able to pick out of a crowd of several hundred people, Samuel Cromp of Toronto, who was alleged to have been in possession of an auto which was reported as stolen to the Toronto police departm[illegible]. The arrest was made shortly aft[illegible]on today.

On May 1, the auto[illegible]h is a Ford touring car, bearing license No. 12661, was taken from Toronto. The Queen City police did not give the name of the owner, but it is thought to be the property of a resident of the Ontario capital.

Monday Cromp stopped at Brier's garage in Woodstock and purchased a tire and some accessories valued at $40. He said that he had the money at his home, which he gave as 16 North John street, London. A boy employed by the garage was sent with Cromp to the city to collect the money. After the pair arrived here Cromp got out of the car and said that he was going to get the money. The boy still sat in the car. A policeman noticed the car and discovered that the number was the same as the one wanted in Toronto. Boy and auto were taken to the police station.

The lad, who was innocent of any crime, gave a description of Cromp. He described him as a young man with a mouse color hat, and a concave chin. So observant had the boy been that he even noticed that the man had two buttons on the belt of his coat.

NEW BADGES FOR W. O. R.

Matter To Be Put Before Men Monday Night.

It was announced Monday night by Lieut.-Col. Eric Reid of the 1st Battalion, W. O. R., that the battalion would be allowed to pick its own badges, as all militia units which are being reorganized will have new badges.

Just what will be done in the matter is not yet definitely known, as the officers were consulted for suggestions, which were rather slow in coming in. The matter will probably be put before the men of the regiment next Monday night, and designs for a new badge asked for. It is expected, however, that the 1st Battalion, C. E. F., cap badge will be kept by the militia unit.

UNION OF SMALLER CHURCHES OF METHODISTS AND PRESBYTERIANS IS DISCUSSED BY PRESBYTERIANS

Methodists Meet This Afterno on For General Discussion of Important Step—Ministers in Favor of Scheme.

The uniting of the various congregations under the proposed co-operation scheme was the topic of discussion at a meeting of the London Presbytery held in the First Presbyterian Church this morning. Rev. J. Robertson, the moderator, presided.

Under the proposed scheme the following Methodist and Presbyterian churches will be united. In some cases the Presbyterian minister will resign and in others the Methodist minister. This matter has yet to be decided.

The Methodist and Presbyterian church of Fingal will be united. Methodist churches of Lawrence, Southwold Station and the Presbyterian church of the McBride circuit will be united into one. The Presbyterian churches of Cowel and Riverside will be united with the Methodist church at Middlemiss. The Methodist churches at Cairngorm, Glen Oak and Springeld will unite with the North Ekfrid Presbyterian Church. The Cook's Presbyterian Church will unite with Melbourne Methodist Church, and the Presbyterian Church of Wardsville and Newbury will unite with the Methodist churches of the same places. If this proposed scheme is carried out in full, as it most probably will, the majority of the ministers being in favor of it, it will release a large number for other duties elsewhere.

500 Ministers Needed.

Rev. Mr. McGillivray of St. Thomas made an urgent appeal for a movement such as the Forward Movement to be put on foot to enlist young people for the service of the church. Announcement was made that 500 Presbyterian clergy will be needed in the coming year.

Rev. D. C. MacGregor appealed to those churches in the London Presbytery who have not sent in returns of the Forward Movement campaign, to do so that the amount which the London Presbytery has subscribed may be announced.

The matter of Rev. J. R. Laverie leaving the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church to assume the duties of assistant pastor in the Calgary Presbyterian Church, will be dealt with this afternoon. The co-operation scheme will occupy the entire afternoon outside of minor business.

Rev. T. A. Symington is convener of the committee which has been working upon the matter. A special meeting of the London District Methodists was called for this afternoon for the purpose of discussing the co-operation scheme, and the decision will be made at a joint meeting fixed this afternoon by the two denominations.

Rev. Major Graham of Guelph was a visitor at the Presbytery meeting this morning. The Presbytery was consulted by a committee from Knox Church, South London, regarding a loan to buy a manse for the minister, Rev. T. A. Symington. The matter was laid over for further consideration.

PLANS FOR NEW DANCE HALL AT SPRINGBANK OFF

Little Prospect of Pavilion Being Erected This Year.

Plans for a new dance hall in Springbank Park have been cancelled. There is little prospect of the proposition being carried out unless some changes are made in the agreement drawn up by the parks commission.

R. Hueston, one of the persons interested in the proposal, said today that he understood the permission of the railway board had to be obtained before a dance hall could be erected in the park. He understood that City Solicitor Meredith had advised against the city making application for such permission.

Arrangements for the project were practically complete, and it was expected the building would have been ready for use by May 24.

APPROVE OF CHANGES IN TRAINING TEACHERS

Local Educationists in Favor of Hon. R. H. Grant's Plans.

Local educationists approve the changes in the provisions for training teachers which are under consideration by the minister of education, Hon. R. H. Grant. The minister proposes to place on the Normal Schools the responsibility for the professional training of all public school teachers. At present some teachers receive their training in the Faculty of Education, which faculty also trains teachers for high school assistants.

Under the proposed change public school teachers will receive complete training at the Normal Schools. A university degree will be necessary before the Faculty of Education can be attended for training as a high school assistant teachers.

Prof. John Dearness, principal of the local Normal School, approved of the plan for the little information he had heard about it, although he admitted that there might be some objections to it.

"The Normal Schools are well adapted for training public school teachers, and should be able to give them all the necessary instruction. Their methods are adapted to public school requirements," he said.

V. K. Greer, public school inspector, also expressed approval of the plan. He pointed out that in the past high school specialists were few in number and it was necessary to employ first-class public school teachers. There are now a greater number of high school teachers, and it is not so necessary to train public school teachers along these lines.

TAXI DRIVERS TO TAKE ACTION AGAINST JITNEYS

Threaten to Take Matter Before Court.

As a result of the action of the local police commission in allowing owners of cars to operate as jitneys during the strike without taking out a taxi license, the taxi men are up in arms. They have threatened to take the matter before a court. The first step in this direction has been taken as they have placed their case in the hands of Albert M. Judd.

On Monday night the city council decided to request the police commission to allow drivers to operate without the license during the strike. The commission met this morning and granted their request. The taxi license costs $10 for cars not carrying more than seven passengers, and $15 for ones carrying more. However, before a man can operate his car as a jitney he must secure a chauffeur's license, which costs several dollars.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

SHOEMAKER DIES.

Henry Powell, a resident of London for many years, died on Monday afternoon at his home, 273 Wellington street. For years he had kept the little shoe repairing shop next to his residence on Clarence street. He was 67 years of age. His wife, Ellen, survives him.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday from his residence to Woodland Cemetery at 2:30 o'clock.

BUILDING TRADES DISPUTE AT OTTAWA LIKELY TO BE SETTLED IN FEW DAYS

Ottawa, May 4.—There is general expectation amongst the rank and file of labor that the existing dispute in the building trades industry will be brought to a satisfactory conclusion before the end of the week, and this expectation was voiced at the meeting of the Building Trades Council last night.

The situation remains the same. There are still three crafts which have refused to settle with the association contractors, carpenters, electricians and painters, and their interests will be facilitated by a committee of three appointed by the Trades Council last night.

LONDON MINISTERS AND ORGANISTS ALL WORK IN HARMONY

No Strained Relations, As in One Toronto Church.

London ministers and church organists get on together fairly well, both organists and clergymen of the city declared today in reference to the situation in Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto, where Rev. T. T. Shields, formerly pastor of a church in this city, has resigned following a dispute with his organist, Dr. Edward Browne, over the length of the musical program for Sunday services.

One local Baptist clergyman declined to be quoted at all in the matter, intimating as his reason that he knew something of the local situation in the Toronto church, which is not in any way typical of churches, clergymen and church organists generally. That it was probably a purely local matter of inharmony was also the opinion of other clergymen and of London organists.

In the Methodist church the pastor has full control over the musical part of the service. A. D. Jordan, organist of the First Methodist Church, pointed out, and go organists in the Methodist churches play what the pastors want, and no trouble ever arises.

Never Had Any.

"I've never had any trouble with an organist," said Rev. Dr. Peever, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who added that he thought there was probably some purely local reason for the trouble in the Toronto church in question.

Rev. G. W. Dewey of Empress Avenue Church likewise disclaimed ever having any disagreement with his choirs, organists or music committees. But said he thought the sermon was of more vital importance to the audience gathered for genuine worship than a musical program. He did not think that 20 minutes was long enough for a sermon, and would not be in favor of keeping his sermons down to that length in order to allow a longer musical program.

Twenty minutes is all the time, Mr. Shields says, his organist allowed him to preach, and so Mr. Shields has cut the Gordian knot of a strained situation to see whether his congregation stands with him or the organist.

Invites Dog To Drink At Public Thirst Quencher

Citizens Irate At Act of Young Man—Park Attendants Look On.

Are there privileged characters in the city? That is the question that is being asked by several citizens who witnessed a scene in Victoria Park this morning in which the chief character was an Airedale terrier, the other a young man.

Walking blithely along until he reached the fountain in the centre of the park the young man stopped, called the dog and made it stand on its hind legs until it had a drink, during which it licked most of the ring which surrounds the bubble, and which most people have to touch their mouth to before they can reach the water.

While this scene was being enacted three of the gardeners stood calmly by without making any move to put a stop to the action, which drew many protests from the witnesses of the scene.

Some of the people who saw the act state that if the practice is going to be continued it is high time the Humane Society put some drinking troughs in the park for dogs. It is against the bylaws of the city to allow dogs to run at large in the park.

CONCILIATION BOARD OF L. AND P. S. HOLD SHORT SESSION TODAY

Afternoon Spent in Taking Trip Over the Road.

Conciliation proceedings to settle the wage dispute between the London and Port Stanley Railway commission and its employees were opened today in the board room of the Public Utilities Building. Judge Snyder, who was appointed by the Government when the other two members of the board could not agree on a chairman, presided. Burley W. Bennett of Sarnia was present as the men's representative, and J. M. Campbell represented the London and Port Stanley commission. Members of the union and the commission, with some of the administrative staff, were present. Decision was made to admit the press at the proceedings.

No evidence was taken today. The sitting was adjourned until Wednesday. The members of the board took a trip over the road this afternoon to familiarize themselves with the situation.

Two-Year-Old Boy Is Badly Burned

Son of H. E. Parsons, William Street, Suffers Much Pain.

Little "Billie" Parsons, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Parsons, 474 William street, met with a painful accident Monday night. During the preparation of the evening meal, he reached forward from a child's highchair, and spilled a pot of boiling coffee over the lower part of his body. The lad's knees and legs were severely scalded, and for some time his condition was serious. medical aid was summoned, and the youngster's suffering eased somewhat.

Although the little fellow suffered considerably during the night, he is now improving, an it is expected that his recovery is assured.

FAINT AND DIZZY SPELLS WEAKNESS AND SHORTNESS OF BREATH

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women become run-down and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes: "I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

PROSECUTOR IS TO CALL WITNESSES TO PROVE CONFESSION

Anson Best Soon To Be On Trial On Murder Charge.

Pontiac, May 4.—How the state expects to prove its case against Anson Best, charged with the murder of Vera Schneider, 19-year-old telephone operator, April 24, was outlined in circuit court here this morning by Prosecutor Glenn C. Gillespie.

The prosecutor described events leading up to Best's arrest, and added: "He confessed to the crime, and then denied the confession, claiming it was forced from him."

Witnesses would be produced, Mr. Gillespie said, who, contrary to Best's last statement, that he had never seen Miss Schneider, would testify that he was with her the night she was killed. Among them, he said, would be the proprietors of a restaurant who would identify Best as the man who accompanied her to their ice cream parlor. Newspapermen, he said, would tell of finding a handkerchief on the banks of the Clinton River, where Best, in his first statement, said he threw Miss Schneider's handkerchief after using it to wipe blood from his hands.

OFF THE RAILS

Work was started this morning on the erection of a 14-foot platform which is to run parallel to the Grand Trunk freight sheds between Wellington and Waterloo streets. The platform is replacing a narrow one which has been in use for many years. The new structure, which will have a roof, will be used for transfer freight.

It will be a great aid in the handling of freight, according to local officials, for goods that must be transferred in London will be unloaded onto the platform until it can be sent on to its destination. This system will leave the sheds proper free for the handling of local shipments.

A powerful piledriver was brought to the scene of operations and was busy this morning driving huge piles into the ground to form the foundation of the platform.

DONE AWAY WITH.

The fourth track in the siding before the G. T. R. freight sheds has been abolished. The ground on which it formerly laid is to be used to widen the roadway, which runs through the yard at this place. The road will be wide enough for two teams to pass with ease.

READY IN ONE WEEK.

It is expected that the new G. T. R. freight offices will be ready for occupancy in one week's time. The finishing touches are being added to the interior. The building is a two-story structure. The freight offices will be on the second floor and the shed offices on the ground floor.

FREIGHT MOVING.

Freight is moving more freely throughout the United States, according to R. McKillop, superintendent of the local division of the C. P. R. As the result of the movement some cars are being accepted for terminal points in the United States. On the whole, he said that things looked considerably brighter during the past few days.

EMBARGO SITUATION.

Cars routed to the United States by way of Detroit are the only ones that are being held up in the London division at the present time, according to the local officials of the G. T. R. The frontiers at Niagara Falls and at Black Rock are wide open and all cars for points west of Port Huron have been moved to that place.

All roads connecting at Buffalo and Suspension Bridge are accepting all classes of freight and the movement of freight is almost back to normal. Goods have been moving freely here for some time. The movement of cars into Port Huron is the first break on the western frontiers.

The C. P. R. reported little change.

Freight Shed Plans.

Plans are under way for the erection of a $15,000 freight sheds on the G. T. R. in Walkerville and a $10,000 addition to the freight sheds and express office in Chatham. On the Air Line of the G. T. R., over which the Wabash runs, $3,000 additions are to be made to the sheds in Aylmer and Glencoe. Estimates are being sent in by the different departments.

MASTER CAR BUILDER HERE.

Thomas M. Hyman of Montreal, who is to succeed M. Fouse as master car builder in the local car shops, arrived in London at noon today. He spent the afternoon in making a tour of the shops. Mr. Fouse is leaving the city on Wednesday night.

TAKE THREE MONTHS.

The new hundred-pound rails which are to laid between Paris and Sarnia on the G. T. R. have not arrived in the district yet, although they were expected to arrive on the first of the month. The work of laying the rails will take at least three months, according to C. F. Forrester, superintendent of the local division. The heavy traffic between here and Sarnia which will continue in spite of the construction work, will delay the work somewhat. The rails will be brought here from Sault Ste. Marie.

KOMOKA PITS.

The G. T. R. gravel pits at Komoka will be opened, in all probability, some time this month, according to Mr. Forrester. The gravel used in the construction work so far has been taken from pits near Paris, which were opened last year. Construction work has been confined mostly to the eastern district of the division up to the present time.

DOHERTY'S BILL APPROVED.

Toronto, May 4.—Hon. M. Doherty's bill permitting county councils to pool dog taxes into a central fund was literally approved by the agricultural committee of the Legislature today. Representatives from York, Scarboro and Etokoke Townships asked that York County be excluded from the scheme, but the committee declined to accede to this request.

A year's hoist was given a bill to regulate nurserymen, and to provide punishments for misrepresentations. The measure was introduced by W. J. Bragg, West Durham.

KING CRITICISES BILL TO CHANGE LABOR STATUTE

Liberals, Aided by Labor Member, Fight Senate Reactionary Move.

BLOCKED TEMPORARILY

Amendment Might Prevent the Union Members Getting Conciliation Board.

OTTAWA, May 3.—Keen criticism in the House today resulted in the temporary blocking of a senate bill to amend the industrial disputes investigation act (the Lemieux act). The clause of the bill particularly at issue was one relating to the authority of union leaders to apply for a board of conciliation. Under the present act such authority must be approved by a majority of the members of the union present at a meeting called for that purpose. Under the bill the approval must be given by a majority of all the members of the union.

Especially critical of the bill were Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Opposition, who, as deputy minister of labor, drafted the Lemieux act, and Angus McDonald, recently elected Labor-U. F. O. member for Temiskaming. It was Mr. McDonald's maiden speech in the House and was followed with interest from all sides.

Would Increase Strikes.

Mr. King argued that if a number of men working in a mine were dissatisfied they could not, under the bill, obtain a board on their own application. They must wait for the approval of a majority of the whole union. Mr. McDonald declared that the effect of the amendment would be to increase strikes. A section in a mining camp would be unable to secure inquiry into any grievance they might have, and its dissatisfaction might very easily affect the whole industry. The effect of the proposed amendment to the act appeared the reverse of beneficial to labor.

More clauses in the much debated franchise bill were passed, and tomorrow the House is to take up the important amendments touching on the enfranchisement of women of enemy alien birth naturalized by marriage. Amendments to the bill made today provide for these polling hours: City polls, 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.; rural polls, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Another amendment still to be brought down will specify that in all cases standard and not daylight-saving time is to be used.

Useless to Sailors.

At the evening sitting, when the House was monotonously discussing technicalities of the bill, William Duff of Lunenburg, N.S., lent vigor to the proceedings by an emphatic demand that one clause should be struck from the bill. It was the clause which provides for advance polls for railway employees, sailors and others. "The clause is absolutely useless to sailors," Mr. Duff declared. "It is class legislation."

The clause stood over, and the House adjourned at 11:30 p.m., but not without a clash between Hon. Mr. King and the solicitor-general. Mr. King suggested that as the House had done a good day's work, it should adjourn to enable preparation to be made for the following day. He intimated that much progkress would be made by adjourning. Mr. Guthrie warmly replied that he wished it to be distinctly understood that the House was adjourning on the suggestion of the leader of the Opposition. He considered 11:30 an unreasonable hour to adjourn.

The order of business for tomorrow is: The shipping act, Lemieux act amendments, oleomargarine, franchise bill, supply.

UNION GOVT. MUM ON STEEL MERGER

OTTAWA, May 3.—At the opening of the House today. R. L. Richardson of Springfield, Man., asked the acting premier whether he had any information to impart to the House regarding the proposed steel and shipping merger, which the newspapers stated was now practically accomplished.

Sir George Foster replied that all mergers were not necessarily injurious. The Government was not in possession of any information which was not available to the member asking the question.

KING URGES FIXED HOUR FOR ADJOURNING

OTTAWA, May 3.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King asked in the House today if it would not be possible to come to some understanding as to the adjournment of the House. If the House could agree to adjourn at 11 o'clock he thought business would be conducted better.

Sir George Foster said his experience was against making fixed arrangements for the close of the sittings of the House. Adjournment had always been guided by a general sense of what was fitting and feasible.

In answer to F. S. Cahill, Pontiac, Sir George said that the budget would be brought down shortly.

Pierre Blanchette Pays Tribute To Dodd's Kidney Pills.

He Suffered from Dyspepsia for Twenty Years and Now Loses No Opportunity To Sing the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ste. Anne des Monts, Tourelle, Gaspe Co., Que., May 3.—(Special).—"I always keep Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house." That is the tribute Mr. Pierre Blanchette, a well-known resident here, pays to the old reliable kidney remedy.

"I had dyspepsia for twenty years," Mr. Blanchette continues. "I got some Dodd's Kidney Pills and took them. I am well now. I eat all I desire and have no bad effects. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all the world."

The satisfaction Dodd's Kidney Pills are giving as a remedy for kidney troubles is shown by the large number of people who keep them always at hand. They have learned that the proper way to avoid serious forms of kidney disease, such as rheumatism, diabetes, dropsy, and heart disease, is to correct the early symptoms of kidney trouble.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have built their reputation on the good work they have done. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the sovereign remedy for kidney trouble.

The Flour, not the Baking

Every baker knows there are two processes of making bread—the short or straight process, and the long or sponge and dough process.

Bakers and cooks differ as to which is the best process.

A large number claim that the short process bakes the best-flavored pies, cakes and pastry.

But it really does not matter which way you bake, so long as you use the right kind of flour.

What you need for general domestic baking is Hard Spring Wheat such as is grown in the West, blended perfectly with the best Ontario Soft Wheat. Diamond Flour is a perfect blend of these wheats milled to perfection, and the baking that results is so successful and inviting that

TIME FOR MAKING RETURN ON INCOME HAS BEEN EXTENDED

Tax Statistics Must Be Given Inspector Not Later Than May 31.

The time for making income tax returns has been extended until May 31, according to the following notification, which George R. Tamblin, inspector of taxation for London, has received from the commissioner of taxation:

Inspector of Taxation, London, Ont:

You are hereby notified that the time in which returns may be filed without penalty has been extended by the honorable minister of finance to the 31st day of May, 1920. This is applicable to form T-1, T-a, T-2, T-3, T-4, and T-5.

The honorable minister of finance granted a general extension to the said date, but he will not consider any further extension under any circumstances whatsoever. This requires of inspectors that all possible returns be obtained by that date. If, for any reason whatsoever taxpayers claim that it is impossible to put in a statement within the time extended, then a tentative return should have written thereon the following, or something similar: "Tentative return pending adjustment for following reasons." (Reasons to be given in short firm).

Reasonable cause must be given or shown before the above mentioned tentative return will be accepted, and a reasonable time set for filing of the return upon which assessment may be based. This return may be put in by the taxpayer's agent if the taxpayer is out of Canada, or for other satisfactory causes, such as illness and the like.

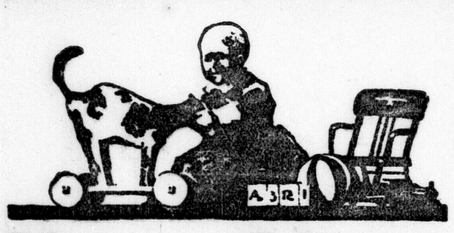

Inspectors will please note that the commissioner will not consider the applications for further extension of time no matter how worthy any particular case may be, and correspondence in that respect is unnecessary.

The penalty once incurred is a statutory debt due to the crown, and only Parliament can waive the penalty by changing the act or putting through special legislation. Therefore, applications to this department in that respect are absolutely useless.

COST MUCH, BUT DID NOT BOTHER MAKING REPORT

One of Many Borden Commissions Did Nothing But Spend Money.

DIDN'T WASTE PAPER

Commission On Economic Development Used Thousands of Dollars.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 3.—A commission which cost the country the very considerable sum of $23,200.48 and never made a report, is the latest thing among all the varied delegations of responsibility and executive authority of which the present and the late Borden governments have been guilty.

Since 1911 commissions, committees, boards and controls have been as numerous as blackberries at Kazubazua. Whenever the Government desired to shelve responsibility or to provide jobs for impecunious friends an organization was formed for the purpose of making inquiry into any subject which first came to the mind of the cabinet. They cost the country thousands of dollars, but even if their recommendations were for the most part shelved and the dust of time allowed to accumulate on the bulky and expensive volumes which contained them, they usually made reports.

Economic Development.

Not so the economic development commission appointed under the chairmanship of Sir James Lougheed several years ago. The commission was appointed to inquire into almost every conceivable question relating to the development of the Dominion. It toured here and there and took evidence. It called witnesses to Ottawa and heard them there. It paid the fees of "experts" called to testify before it. And the members of it apparently put in good heavy expense accounts.

But it never made a report, excepting of its expenses, which, as has been stated, amounted to over twenty-three thousand dollars.

For many sessions past members have been asking what the results of its deliberations and investigations were. This afternoon John Campbell of Nelson was informed that "no report has been made, but the duties of the commission being largely suggestive and advisory, their views on certain subjects have been discussed informally with the Government for the purpose of advising or assisting the Government touching many subjects upon which it has been necessary to take action either by legislation or otherwise."

Numbered Over Score.

The present Borden Government, before its members commenced to drift away from it and before defections set in, numbered over a score of more or less able-bodied men of average intellect, who pulled down from the public treasury a total of about $200,000 per year in salaries alone, not including expenses. They were assisted in their labors by the largest army of civil servants which has ever been congregated in Ottawa under any government since confederation. And yet it paid twenty-three thousand dollars to the economic development commission, so called, for "suggestive and advisory" purposes.

In extenuation there is the comfort that at least the commission did not waste paper on a report.

DID NOT DENY REPORT

STRATFORD, May 3.—Chief of Police W. J. Lannin would neither deny nor confirm the report appearing in the London papers today to the effect that he was an applicant for the position of chief of police at London. It is generally regarded, however, that the report is correct.

MAY DAY FLIVVERED.

"Red" May Day turned out a fizzle the world over. Especially on this continent was it a failure. The carefully-planned tumult which was to start a nation-wide upheaval, balked. In most of the big American centres there were peaceful observances. New York city had a titanic loyalty parade, and the comparatively few strikes were conducted without disorder. The mood of the masses was holiday rather than revolutionary. In Canada there were demonstrations in Nova Scotia and at Winnipeg, as a protest against the conviction and imprisonment of the strike leaders, but no attempt at violence.

The fact is that the world is stabilizing. It is getting back to normal. Far from being entirely safe and sane as yet, there has been a considerable step made in the reconstruction, which is driving off the menace of anarchy and disorder. The nations are getting down to work and will not tolerate the introduction of interfering and hampering discord. The example of Russia has had a sobering effect. No riper ground ever existed for the cultivation of Bolshevism than reeling Germany, yet Germany has turned its back on Lenine. So far as America is concerned there never was a chance of such explosions as occurred in Russia. May Day was a blue one for the Reds.

THOSE SOARING PRICES.

The Dominion labor office issues figures on the prices of foodstuffs for April, which show another big jump upward for sugar, potatoes and flour. It is also intimated at Ottawa that the peak of high prices has about been reached, and that presently there will be a steady fall. This hopeful view is based on the fact that throughout the country the people have been aroused and have opened hostilities on the high cost of living by means of the boycott, etc. We are inclined to think that Mr. Drury is right when he says that the demand is away ahead of the supply, and if he is correct, then the country is faced with a tremendous problem that it cannot too soon set about solving. Where is the extra food coming from, so long as there exists the present lack of farm labor? The remarkable rise in prices for April seems directly due to under-production. The farmer is unable to get the aid he requires in order to produce in adequate quantities. And while there is this great under-production, of course, the profiteer will continue to thrive. To date there is no legislation that appears able to stop him. A general speeding up of the production of the necessaries is the only way he can be headed off. The Montreal Herald makes a timely comment on the situation, as follows:

> Materials and labor which go into luxuries should be switched over to necessary commodities. Let those who are in the best position to set an example cut out luxuries, eliminate waste, and speed up production. Are our members of parliament giving as much of their attention to this great and pressing problem, which really underlies the prevailing unrest, as they are to an increased indemnity?

DEATH OF MATTHEW WILSON, K.C., LL.D.

The death of Matthew Wilson, K.C., LL.D., of Chatham, removes one well known from coast to coast as an outstanding lawyer and man of great ability. He had for many years been one of the leaders of the bar, and its most distinguished member west of Toronto.

Although Matthew Wilson never had a robust constitution, he accomplished much more than an ordinary man's work. Early in life he was saddled with considerable liability on account of others, and by close application to his profession and the display of much more than average ability, succeeded in meeting all these obligations, and much more.

In politics he was a Conservative, but believed that the leaders of both parties should be elected. On that account he favored in his lifetime the return of the late Hon. David Mills. Mr. Mills had the greatest respect for Mr. Wilson's ability, and when the Northern Life Insurance Company was organized offered Mr. Wilson a place on the board of directors, which he accepted and retained until his death. He was also a director of the Trusts and Guarantee Company of Toronto for many years.

In religion Mr. Wilson was an Anglican, and a regular attendant at the meetings of the Synod of Huron in this city. He took an active part and a deep interest in everything concerning the Synod of Huron.

The saddest incident in his life was the loss of his only son in France. It is believed that this affliction may have shortened his life, although when speaking of his son's death he did so with resignation, and left the impression that he had done only the same as very many others, and that his sacrifice could not have been in a nobler cause.

Mr. Wilson was one whose place will be hard to fill at the bar, or in the life of the community, or in the various enterprises in which he was interested. Genuine sympathy will be felt for his widow and family.

RESERVES OF COAL.

As people carefully ladle out the last coal-scrapings from the bins into a tired furnace these days, thinking wistfully of the possibilities and prices of another winter's supply, they will feel warmed to learn that vast deposits of the precious mineral are awaiting the pickaxe in the south polar continent. An Australian geologist who was with Shackleton in his first expedition says that "the existence has already been proved of what is perhaps the greatest unworked coalfield in the world. There can be little doubt that the seams are more or less continuous for 800 miles."

If a large competition could be set up against the coal mines of the temperate zones, perhaps the workers would settle down to business and produce the goods in more sufficient quantity. The great difficulty in these times of unrest is to arrive at an equilibrium again of mutual satisfaction between directors and employees, and valuable time is lost in bickerings or manoeuvres. Education has apparently increased in civilized countries a disinclination to heavy toil, while national contentions have caused the exclusion of large numbers of more primitive aliens willing to do such work. Hence underproduction. Is it going to be necessary some day to conscript labor from all classes for certain kinds of work? There will doubtless be better ways than so desperate a plan, though for hardening and democratizing the youth such conscription would be preferable to the compulsory military training foolishly advocated in some quarters, not to speak of other reasons favoring work as against drill.

What is mainly needed, then, at present may be the labor rather than the deposits of coal. But still, the coal mountains are melting away, and it is comforting to think that huge supplies lie dormant in reserve, to be utilized some time in case other means of heat and power are not sooner found more satisfactory. Northern Canada and its Arctic islands may furnish also their quota to our needs in the time to come when Canada's population will run up towards fifty or a hundred millions.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Perhaps the ouija board could explain the Board of Commerce.

The street railway walkout is the mildest that ever made a city walk.

The departure of the street cars has produced a silence that is thunderous.

Time cannot be turned back, but with daylight, standard and railway time operating at the same time Canada will soon have the old fellow standing on his head.

BUT CANADA NEVER HEARD OF IT.

[New York Globe.]

If the United States could be said to have refused the Armenian mandate because of its obvious difficulties, the announcement of Lord Curzon that Canada would accept it would have come to us as a rebuke. The Harbord report estimated the necessities of the situation of 59,000 men and $756,014,000. It has been said that these are too heavy responsibilities for far-off America. Canada has but a twelfth of our population, and has suffered through the war a proportionately heavier drain on her man-power and her resources. She appears ready to assume what she considers her duty. Of course, we never reached the point where we could refuse the Armenian mandate. This responsibility, voted ours unanimously by the world, was made impossible of consideration because the treaty and the league were necessary preliminaries for us to settle. We have not yet acted upon them. While we listen to assertions that we have no international responsibility it must give us a sense of uneasiness to see Canada, weaker and smaller than we, assume moral obligations which might have been ours. Canada, it is said, will have British backing. Such an assertion merely raises the question as to whether it is just to Armenia to permit "British backing" to function in this instance.

PROTECTION FOR THE AUTHOR.

[Montreal Gazette.]

The bill, which stands in the name of Sir George Foster, is wide in its scope. It proposes to enact that copyright shall subsist in Canada in every original literary, dramatic, musical and artistic work if the author was at the date of the making of the work a British subject, a citizen or subject of a foreign country which has adhered to the convention, or resident within the British dominions, and, (in the case of a lecture) to deliver the work or any first put out within the British dominions. "Copyright," as defined in the bill, means the sole right to produce or reproduce a work or any substantial part thereof in any material form, to perform, or (in the case of a lecture) to deliver the work or any substantial part thereof in public, and to publish the work or any substantial part thereof, or any translation thereof, to convert a novel or other non-dramatic work into a dramatic work, or vice versa, or in the case of a literary, dramatic or musical work, to make any record, perforated roll, cinematograph film or other contrivance by which the work may be mechanically performed or delivered. The general term of copyright provided is the life of the author and a period of fifty years after his death. In this the provisions of the Berne convention are observed. The purpose in view was the protection of the author in the right to any profits that may be obtainable from the desire of the public to read, hear, view or otherwise enjoy his production. Not much seems to have been omitted. The intent is that books, etc., for which copyright is granted shall be produced in Canada, and failure in this matter will give the public the right to obtain them elsewhere. Under some circumstances also production or reproduction may be authorized, but not without the author's interests being had in regard. It is an author's measure.

THEIR SWORDS INTO PLOWSHARES.

[H. F. Gadsby in Toronto Saturday Night.]

Perhaps the most hopeful plan of re-establishment is the Soldier Settlement Board, which aims to place the returned man on the land if he can demonstrate a fitness for farming.

The plan carries with it three blessings—it converts the sword into that most productive instrument of peace, the plowshare; it puts our idle acres to work growing food to bring down the cost of living, and it creates a class of contented citizens whose profitable industry will help to pay off the national debt. In the long run this back-to-the-land policy of the Soldier Settlement Board will probably do more good to Canada than all other re-establishment schemes together.

Warned by past mischances with gifts to soldiers, as, for example, the scrip which was distributed after the Boer War, only to fall into the hands of the land sharks, the government has discarded the policy of free hand-outs for a much more sensible one, which may be summed up in the words of the old proverb: "God helps them who help themselves." To which Chairman Black of the Soldier Settlement Board adds: "And the government will keep an eye on you to see that you don't stumble."

This plan, which has been in operation for two years, is a huge success, as the figures go to show. Up to the spring of this year parliament has voted $45,000,000 to turn soldiers into farmers, and probably another $50,000,000 will be required to finance this gigantic scheme during the present fiscal year.

One hundred million dollars looks liek a lot of money, especially to the old-timer, who can remember when Canada's total debt was only $35,000,000, but, scaled to present ideas, a hundred millions is not too large an investment in an enterprise which promises such magnificent returns.

Chairman Black naturally views with pride the ocean-to-ocean activity of an organization which has accomplished such great results in the short period of thirty months. He admits that, like the hen who was given 36 eggs to hatch out, he has had to "spread himself," but the spreading has been a decided success.

"Every soldier," he continued, "who takes up land under our plan gives an implied contract that he will do two things—work, and accept our advice. By accepting our advice, I mean that he will act upon the expert suggestions of our land inspectors, who visit him from time to time, to see that he is growing the right things in the right way, and is handling his farm with intelligence. Good farms and good farmers—that's our motto—and if the farmer is not good, if he shows that he cannot learn to farm, we take the farm back and leave him free to follow something that he can do better. This is an act of mercy all around—to the farm, to the man, and to the Dominion treasury, whose ultimate loss cannot be heavy so long as this system of salvage is practiced."

From Here and There

WHICH ARE YOU?

[Brantford Expositor.]

Rev. Dr. Sedgwick, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Hamilton, in an address to the Board of Commerce campaign luncheon, said that there were citizens who just lived, some who lived neutral, others who lived on the city, and those who lived for the city. That is a thought-provoking statement.

TO KEEP THEM HOME.

[Hamilton Spectator.]

It is estimated that during the season just closed Canadians spent $25,000,000 in the Southern States. Reason: climate and good roads. We should not boast, but, before very long, we hope we shall have good enough roads to attract some of this pleasure and health-seeking throng of Canadians hither.

THE ONLY WAY.

[Guelph Herald.]

Just so long as only 30 per cent of Canadians are producers, compelled to feed the other 70 per cent, just so long will food produce be dearer. We may relieve the situation by avoiding luxuries, but after all, the real remedy must come from increasing the supply by production.

NO WELCOME HOME.

[Brantford Expositor.]

Britain is quietly deporting as undesirable citizens those who during the war removed to other countries to avoid being called up for service with the British forces. Those who would not fight and thereby refused the responsibilities of citizenship, are no longer to be allowed to retain the privileges of such citizenship.

SANCTUARY.

[Una Malleson in the Poetry Review.]

Strange fancies haunt me at the eventide,
In the last dusky hour before the night,
Pale, piteous wraiths of lovely things that died,
And sad, sweet, amorous dreams of dead delight.

They throng about me as the days depart,
The tired ghosts of wistful, bygone years.
Pain lifts her head and listens in my heart
To the slow, bitter fall of useless tears.

Silent I gaze into Life's hopeless eyes,
While 'round my heart the waiting shadows creep
Till Night, O Mother infinitely wise,
Folds me within the tender arms of Sleep.

INDUSTRY AND HEALTH.

[By Mrs. George Hambleton, M.A., Late Fellow of the Department of Political Economy, University of Toronto.]

Medical science has just been officially united with industry by creation of the health section of the International Labor Office. The union was consummated under the aegis of the League of Nations. Foreshadowed in the Treaty of Versailles and recommended by the first International Labor Conference, the creaton of this body is the first step in a far-reaching policy to establish, ultimately, a government service in each country adhering to the League of Nations, especially charged with the duty of safeguarding the health of workers; and to link up each of these national services with the health section of the International Labor Office.

Canada's Position.

The position of Canada with regard to the health section of the International Labor Office is not yet clear. The labor department, the newly-created federal labor department and the Industrial Research Council of Canada each have some claims to affiliation with the labor health office of the league, but none of them was created definitely to protect the health of the workers. There is again that no man's land of vague jurisdiction—not only between various federal authorities, but again between federal and provincial authorities—in which the claims of individual workers often are tragically lost. One function of the newly-established International Health Office will be to clarify the situation, and, before the next International Labor Conference, to induce the various governments to fix responsibility for the workers' health definitely on some particular department. In the meantime, the correspondence of this office is likely to be an illuminating commentary on the operations of present-day governments; for Canada is but a minor offender in regard to overlapping of authority vested in her various governmental authorities.

The peace battle of industry has gone on from time immemorial. The industrial system of the nineteenth century greatly aggravated it. In the early part of the last decade, miner or railroad worker looked upon death as an almost necessary hazard of their calling. The presser in the tailoring shop looked upon tuberculosis as the greedy companion of his declining years. The record of occurrence of carbon monoxide poisoning—closest rival of lead poisoning in occupational diseases—reads more like the weird tales of a mediaeval torture chamber or of lost souls in Inferno as Dante described them, than the official record of modern industry in America.

Accidents in England.

The year before the war there were in England over four hundred thousand industrial accidents, five thousand of them fatal. Still the life cost of the competitive system of industry mounted apace—until nations took toll of life for the war. Government and employers of labor discovered that life cost could be cut down. During the war the steel industries of the United States found that both the frequency and the severity of accidents could be cut down, while the average period during which employees were laid up by accidents decreased from 12 1-4 days during the 300-day period to 11 days. Accidents to workers at blast furnaces decreased from 187 per thousand to 118. Government investigations showed that workers produced more when they were not tired out, when working in fresh rather than poisonous air, when well fed and well housed rather than when under-nourished and anaemic.

Within the past few years a whole science of maximum production has been built up, and particularly on this side of the Atlantic has mathematical precision been added to scientific analysis. Much, however, of this investigation and readjustment is regarded with suspicion by the workers, and sometimes rightly so. The worker has been subjected to continual diagnoses as to productive output, physique and even of emotional attitude towards industry. The Engineering Foundation of the United States, with which the Whitley Council scheme was not popular, had a survey made. Its survey resulted in classification of workers in four groups according to temperament, as follows: The confirmed melancholic belonged naturally to the I. W. W. group; the choleric temperament went naturally with predatory trade unionism; the phlegmatic turned to the business trade union; the sanguine favored the trade union with an uplift program.

Thus the economic man of the classical political economics had emotional characteristics added unto him.

Further, mechanics have been so developed that fatigue can be measured thereby—disconcerting inventions for the worker.

The Great Capitalist.

In the whole course of these new discoveries in the realm of industry by medical men, scientists and psychologists, however, no machine has been invented of so delicate a fibre, and no system of research has been evolved, which can analyze the motive influencing the great capitalist. The reason why the steel companies of the United States could see lives of their employees wasted before the war, but now find means to conserve them, has not been analyzed. So a great field still lies open to psychological research in industry and until it has been more developed, the common worker withholds judgment.

There is besides this a vast bulk of evidence which has been brought to light during the war. Thorough, convincing work has been done by the medical profession. Dispassionate proof of the more glaring faults in the industrial system were honestly laid bare by doctors, who were for the most part not financially interested in the industrial undertakings. Government investigations, particularly in England and France, have done more in the last five years to show the relation between health and various industrial practices than was done in the previous century.

The problem for the health section of the international labor office, of the Governments of the different nations and for the individual employer and employee is to put to practical advantage these late developments in industrial hygiene. Dilatory action by any of the parties to this great experiment must be quickened by public opinion.

WHITE MAN

[By George Agnew Chamberlain.]

That night when all the hotel was in darkness and silence reigned Andrea and Trevor stood together by the coping at the edge of the cliff and looked across the moonlit bay to the far-away line of the sea. Behind them was the dark, massed shadow of the Bougainvillea trellis; at their feet and before them stretched an open world, bathed in kindly and opalescent light.

Andrea's eyes started at the top of the zigzag path and followed it deliberately down the cliff-side until they reached and swept the gleaming crescent of the beach; then they rose and stared at the placid moon. Nine weeks, no more, had passed since last this scene had held her, yet into them was packed the germ of all her life almost to the exclusion of preceding memories. She felt a welling within her of all the major emotions and frightened, turned from them to hide her face against Trevor's shoulder. Her arms slipped up around his neck and clung to him.

"Oh, White Man," she whispered, "my Wonder Man, plunderer of my heart, if desire to give is any measure, how far you have led me along the shining road."

A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent

They Have Found the Way to Beautiful Teeth

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Dental science has found a way to combat film on teeth. It has been tested for years by able authorities in clinical and laboratory tests. Now leading dentists everywhere advise its daily use.

The method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. This week we offer a 10-Day Tube to every home in this city, and we urge every home to get it. Let it prove itself.

Film is What Discolors

You can feel on your teeth a slimy film. It is ever-present, ever-forming. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

The tooth brush doesn't end it. The ordinary dentifrice cannot dissolve it. So it accumulates and may do a ceaseless damage.

Most tooth troubles are now traced to that film. And now it is known why brushed teeth still discolor and decay. The reason lies in that clinging film which the old cleaning methods omit.

Cause of Decay

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus the film is the teeth's chief enemy.

It Can Be Ended

Dental science has for years sought a way to end that film, and the way has now been found.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

The way seems simple, but it is not. Pepsin must be activated. The usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth, so pepsin long seemed impossible.

What has been found is a harmless activating method. Now pepsin can be applied twice daily and left between the teeth. And millions of teeth are now being cleaned as they never were before.

Watch the Effects

We ask you to watch the effects. Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Compare this method with the old. Read the facts about it. Then decide for yourself what is best.

Tartar and Stain

are based on film. This 10-Day Test will show you that they are avoidable. And so is tooth decay.

Look in Ten Days

See how white the teeth are—how they glisten. You can see that the film is gone. You will know that teeth can be kept forever whiter and cleaner and safer.

RONALD GRAY HOMES WILL BE ENLARGED TO ADMIT BABIES

Many Placed in London Homes After Appeal To Mothers' Clubs.

Mrs. John Weld and Mrs. F. R. Hardie have met with wonderful success in their quest for homes for babies on behalf of the Children's Shelter. "Many very fine homes in the city have offered to take babies into them, and still others are seriously considering the question," said Mrs. Hardie yesterday. "We have also had applications from different places outside of London, one coming from as far as Buffalo, the news that we were looking for homes in which to place babies having been copied in one of the Buffalo papers. But, of course, we want to place the children in London, and we are not considering this application at all."

The fact that the Salvation Army is adding accommodation for 100 more cots to the Ronald Roy Gray Memorial Home, which will be devoted to babies entirely, will greatly relieve the situation here, however. This home will guarantee to look after the very small babies, if the shelter will take charge of the larger children.

FEW APPLICATIONS FOR WOMEN TO DO FARM WORK SENT IN Every Girls' Camp For Farm Workers Must Have Permit.

A few orders for girl and women farm workers are beginning to come into the London Branch of the Government Employment Bureau for Women, according to the statement of Miss Sutherland, who is in charge there. These are principally for hoeing and digging, although it has been announced that a fruit camp will be started in Elgin County, just outside of St. Thomas, about the middle of June.

There is the possibility that the Springbank fruit growers will want help from the women when the fruit season opens, but there is no talk of a camp being established there so far.

This year the department of labor requires that anyone wishing to organize a camp for more than six girls must get a permit to do so, this requirement being an outgrowth of the new factory act. It will insure proper conditions in all large camps for girls. Applications for such permits may be made to Miss Tomkins of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau at Toronto.

As yet there has been no rush of girls or women applying for farm work.

TUNKS—BANDEEN.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Eva Bandeen, Furnival street, Rodney, on Wednesday afternoon, April 28, when her only daughter, Bertha, was united in marriage to Gordon Tunks, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Tunks, concession 6. Rev. J. P. Falconer, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride entered the drawing-room to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss H. Jean McGregor. She was charmingly attired in white georgette over white satin, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maiden-hair fern. She was attended by little Miss Katherine Tunks, niece of the groom, as flower girl, attired in white voile with trimmings of pink satin ribbon, and carrying a basket of pink sweet peas. Master Donald Paterson was ring bearer, carrying a silver tray with the ring concealed in a circle of sweet peas.

The groom's gift to the bride was a substantial check, to the pianist a brooch set with garnets, to the little flower girl, a locket and chain, and to the ring bearer a signet ring.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the presence of about thirty guests, some of whom were from Detroit, London, Wallaceburg and Morpeth.

Later the happy couple left by motor for points east amid showers of confetti, and good wishes. The bride travelled in a navy blue suit of serge, with tan trimmings and hat to match. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm on concession 6.

ACKERMAN—SKINNER.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Thursday, April 29, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Skinner, 350 Eva street, when their daughter, Ethel May, was united in marriage to George Fredcrick Ackerman of Detroit, Mich.

At 3 o'clock, the bride, gowned in beautiful white satin, with bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carrying an artistic bouquet of roses and sweet peas, entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father. Miss Mildred Skinner, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Roy Ackerman of Port Huron, Mich., assisted the groom.

The impressiveness of the occasion was enhanced by the playing of Lohengrin's Wedding March by Miss Ethel Heyward of Toronto, cousin of the bride.

Rev. W. R. McIntosh of the King Street Presbyterian Church officiated.

After the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served, following by a reception given by the bride's parents, and attended by a host of friends of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman left on the evening train for Detroit, showered with the congratulations and good wishes of their numerous friends, where they will take up their residence at 399 Richton avenue.

The bride's traveling suit was of navy serge with hat to match. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, showing the high esteem in which they were held.

Driving Down To Jericho.

The human machine is of the internal combustion type, water cooled. Most of its troubles arise from deficiencies in the combustion chambers and many drivers damage their machines by failing to give intelligent attention to the cooling system. The greatest factor in the scrapping of machines which have given but half the service one has a right to expect is driving at maximum speed instead of driving at optimum.

The old boat can amble along without strain at, say, 26 miles an hour. You have not given it the tender care you would have given it perhaps if your faith in reincarnation were not so strong. But she is still capable of spurts of as much as 33 miles an hour. Some dub is always trying to pass you on the road, and for three excellent reasons you are reluctant to be passed: (1) dust, (2) road visibility, and (3) personal pride. You can go beyond optimum speed, but only by drawing on your reserve, which, of course, is limited. But these be piping times, everybody spending lavishly, for tomorrow we haven't time to think about. So you let her out. Pretty soon some little trouble develops somewhere—nothing to worry about, just some little squeak or rattle, a mere "functional" trouble. You drive on. There are any number of sure-shots on the market for just such trifling ailments. You'll buy something for it tomorrow. Any old woman along the road will tell you what is good for it. You drive on. Presently another little trouble makes itself evident—nothing to be alarmed at, at all, but annoying, when you are tearing along the road. The rattle is inconsequential, of course, but it does bother you. It distracts your attention from your driving, somewhat. Just where the blamed noise comes from you can't make out, to save you. But never mind, you're darned if those sharks in the garage are going to get a crack at you. It's just a temporary functional trouble. Time enough to consult an expert and run up a bill when something worth while is wrong. You drive on. Nobody passes you for miles and miles. But she rattles and squeaks and she depreciates in your own estimation. If you could only unload on some poor geek, and buy yourself a brand new one. You hit some rough going. That rattle becomes more and more annoying. Perhaps you had better let the humanician have a look at the connecting rods when you get home again. She jolts and trembles. Somebody coming behind. You drive on. And then—blooie—a breakdown.

"Out of a clear sky," you declare, without batting an eye.

"Certainly was sudden," your friends sympathize. "She looked as staunch and sturdy as new."

"Well, you fool," the doctor greets you, "maybe you'll listen to reason now."

And maybe you do. But what's the use—it's organic for keeps now.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Sulphur and Molasses.

Just how should sulphur and molasses be taken and in what quantities? (A. A. K.)

ANSWER—Humorously, or if grandma is watching, take it with a solemn, wide-mouthed air. Sulphur is a mere physic, nothing more; molasses is also a physic, more or less mere. The imagined good the mess does lies in the psychological influence of the granny who pours it down you.

Yeast Eating.

I am eating yeast. I take —— brand, which is the only kind we can get here on the prairie. Is it all right? (R. S. S.)

ANSWER—Any yeast suitable for baking is suitable for internal use as a remedy. You fail to mention the condition for which you are taking yeast. The remedy is much abused. Somehow people have acquired the delusion that it is a sort of panacea, whereas its value is limited to a very few disease conditions, though it is harmless enough.

Children's Hospital Pamphlet.

Dear Miss Grey.—The Children's Hospital pamphlet is published, and we should like to send it to every one interested in the hospital, but this is not possible owing to the expense.

If any of your readers will send me 10 cents and an addressed envelope, I will send the pamphlet. The cover design was drawn by a child in one of the public schools. A prize was offered and three gentlemen appointed as judges. This design, though not perfect in detail, was chosen, as it carried with it an appeal that was absent in some of the designs that were quite perfect in drawing, and it was decided to leave it untouched and let people see the youthful idea of an appeal for a children's hospital. The money derived from the sale will go towards the expense of publishing the pamphlet. Yours truly, MRS. R. E. SMITH, 346 St. James street, London, Ont., convener of the Children's Hospital committee.

Ans.—I am sure all the Boxites will be interested in securing this pamphlet, particularly those who have already contributed to the hospital fund, and every dime helps.

Cosy Corner Chats.

A Subscriber—For address you want try Rockefeller Foundation, New York city.

Your page in The Advertiser is really very interesting; my girls of 9 and 12 enjoy it as well as I do. We also find it very helpful. I am a mother of four children, so am kept quite busy all the time. Will you please send me the very popular stocking-foot pattern? You will find inclosed 10 cents for the hospital fund.

A HAPPY WIFE.

It is some time ago since I wrote to your Box last, but as I was noticing in the Mail-Box tonight one of my favorite soups I thought I would give my way of making it. I make my noodles the same, only I think if you have chicken broth and a can of green peas with the noodles it tastes much better. I always pour the peas in a colander and pour fresh water over them to rinse them off, then they are just like fresh peas. I wonder how many of our old Mail-Box friends sent to Aunt Nannie for bulbs that time. I have been corresponding with her ever since, and she does some lovely tatting. I got her to do some for me. I am very sorry that we have lost Isabel C. Armstrong from the staff. I enjoyed her writings very much.

MYSTERY.

Graduation Gift.

I have written to you before and have received such helpful information, I thought I would again try and ask you for an idea regarding a graduation present for a nurse. What would be a suitable gift for her mother to give her; also for her sister at home, and also from a married sister? We are quite at a loss to know what to give. She is one of those kind who thinks the best is none too good. Am inclosing a dime for C. H. F.

BETSY.

Ans.—A club bag, wrist watch or satchel would be practical and useful to a nurse.

Thanks.

Pussy Willow Protests.

Dear Miss Grey,—Since the return of the robins and other tokens of spring are in evidence, I think it is time for the pussywillows to be showing up their lovely fluffiness by the wayside. Say, Slim, you are sore at that mere man for taking your penname, are you? Well, I'm with you, as another man or boy had the cheek to gobble mine. What will we do about it, Slim? If they can't possibly think of a name, they can just let me know and I could string off about fifty.

I have a lovely hyacinth—at least it was lovely about a week ago, when it was in full bloom. I also have an Easter lily. I have had it for two years, but it has never bloomed yet. Can anyone tell me how to care for these two plants?

I enjoy the talks on books and authors, I am another bookworm. I certainly enjoy a good book. My favorite books are: The Anne books, "Sowing Seeds in Danny" and "The Second Chance," "Shepherd of the Hills," "East Lyne," "David Harum," and many others. I enjoyed "Love of The Wild" and "Willow the Wisp."

I am taking music lessons, and am supposed to practice three or four hours every day. We have an orchestra in our home. Papa plays the violin, my brother the clarionet, and I play the piano.

Innocent Snowdrop, spring is here. Don't you think it is time for you to be flowering in the old Mail-Box?

THE STORY OF PATCHES.

Part Sixteen.

"Home Again."

At last Patches and Old Tige arrived in their own neighborhood. "There is my house," said Patches, "but I am afraid to go in. What if my brothers and sisters don't know me? What if my mother thinks I'm a strange dog and flies at me and bites my ears like she did that strange dog that came into our yard when my eyes were first opened?"

"Don't be silly," said old Tige. "Your mother and brothers and sisters will be sure to know you. They can't mistake your patches."

"That's so," said Patches, and for the first time he was glad that he had patches, for if he had been perfectly marked like his brothers and sisters they might have mistaken him for some other dog, but as he was so oddly marked there would be no mistaking him.

Nor was there. How delighted his mother was and how pleased his brothers and sisters were. And his master! You should have seen how delighted Patches' master was when he knew his puppy had returned.

"He has the most beautiful head and body I ever saw on a Boston terrier," said his master. "He is the best one of the litter, even though he is splashed in colors." Then how that took the pride out of Patches' brothers and sisters, for after all he was more valuable than they were, because of his nice head and body.

"I knew you were a good dog," said old Tige, as he started off. "And I will come to see you often." And so old Tige did, for he did not live far from Patches' home. But never again did the dogs go traveling, for they found that a dog's happy hunting ground was in his own home.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MacDONALD COLLEGE.

Life and literature are full of jests about a baby yelling with colic, but for the baby—and his family—colic is no jest. Indigestion is not a happy state of mind or body for anyone, and a baby's sharp screams leave us in no doubt how he feels about it.

A young mother can soon learn to recognize the baby's different kinds of cries; for pain the strong sharp cry, usually not continuous, accompanied often by twisted features and drawn-up legs and hard tense abdomen; for hunger, the continuous fretful cry; for real sickness a steady, feeble whine; for temper, loud and strong, with kicking legs and stiff body, and prompt cessation when his lordship's desire is granted.

Colic is caused by wind, or gas, in the stomach. Let the baby lie on his stomach on a soft hot water bottle, or a piece of hot flannel—not too hot, of course. Warm his hands and feet, pat his back gently to help up the wind, and give him a little hot water, with perhaps a few drops of essence of peppermint but no gin or herb teas.

If the baby has colic often, his food is probably too strong, and more water should be used in place of milk of cream. If he is breast fed, give him an ounce of water as hot as he can take it before he nurses. A mother should regulate her own diet, too, and keep her digestion in good order.

Colic is often caused by too rapid nursing, which should be prevented by taking away his food for a minute, and then giving it again. On the other hand, if a baby is allowed to sleep while taking his food, he gets less than he should and is hungry again before the proper time. If he is bottle-fed, the milk gets cold and gives him colic. Fifteen or twenty minutes is the right length of time for a baby's meal.

A certain amount of crying is necessary to exercise a baby's lungs and a temper cry will not hurt him if it is not too violent or too prolonged. But pain, sick and hunger cries should be relieved by removing their cause, not by any other means whatever.

Chorea—St. Vitus' Dance

When children's nerves become starved and exhausted their trouble usually takes the form of Chorea, St. Vitus' Dance or Convulsions.

Rapid growth—physiological changes—urgent school work and examinations mean a tremendous strain on the nervous system of the child who is naturally of a nervous temperament.

The child becomes fretful and irritable. Restless, wriggling movements of the limbs and face—inability to sit still—tendency to drop things from the hands tell of the development of these troubles.

Later, speech is affected and there is irregular twitching of the muscles, squinting of the eyes and other indications of loss of control of the muscles.

Rest in bed in a bright airy room with cheerful companionship and the absence of anything to irritate or excite the nerves is the ideal condition for recovery.

Since the nervous system is completely starved and exhausted it is essential that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food should be used regularly and persistently to build up the depleted nerve cells.

Instead of dwelling on the merits of this well-known food cure we shall refer you to the letters quoted here which tell of actual results accomplished.

St. Vitus Dance

Mrs. Wm. Matt, Cordova, Man., writes:

"My little girl, ten years old, was not very well, and I noticed some rather odd ways about her. She used to act very strangely at times. I asked the doctor what could be the matter, and he said she had St. Vitus' Dance, to keep her quiet and out of school. He said treatments weren't any use for her. She was affected in this way for a year. I thought something ought to be done, so in looking over Dr. Chase's Almanac I read several testimonials from people who had used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I sent for six boxes, and started this treatment with my daughter. Before she had finished the first box I could see a great change in her, and by the time she had taken the six boxes, she was completely cured. She is real well now, and going to school every day."

Twitching Nerves

Mrs. M. E. Robson, 170 Dublin St., Peterbore, Ont. writes:

"When about the age of 14 or 15 my daughter was on the verge of nervous break-down. She had a very poor appetite, lost all her color, and at times had a twitching of the nerves in her limbs. I secured some of Dr. Chases Nerve Food and gave her a treatment, using five or six boxes. The results were splendid, entirely curing her of her nervous trouble, and restoring her appetite. I find Dr. Chase's Nerve Food a splendid Spring tonic, and best results to be found by taking some of the Kidney-Liver Pills at the same time."

St. Vitus' Dance

Mr. S. F. Flarity, Wiarton, Ont. writes:

"My daughter, eleven years of age, was in a run down condition, and suffered from a nervousness which showed a tendency toward St. Vitus' Dance. I got a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for her, and by the time she had taken three boxes there was a big change in her. She is much stronger, and her system in general is built up. She has recovered from her nervous weakness, and you could not detect a trace of it now. I gladly recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to anyone suffering from nervousness of any kind."

Convulsions

Mrs. Xavier Albert, St. Francois, N. B. writes:

"My daughter, Imelda, was troubled for four years with nervousness. Almost every night, she used to take nervous convulsions. We took her to a doctor, but he did not do her any good. Finally we began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and gradually the convulsions were less and less frequent, until they disappeared altogether. It was two years ago that she used the Nerve Food, and six boxes completely cured her. We are very grateful for what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done for her."

Old Sol Shines Down Benignly On London Squad—Stir Up Pep and Ginger in All Departments of Outfit—All Show Up Well in Game.

(By G. H. Townsley.)

DELAWARE, Ohio, May 3.—Much to the agreeable surprise of Buzz Wetzel and his warriors, Old Sol has been very kind to everyone for three days straight. This morning the ball field was a scene of varied activity, with plenty of life and pep showing up in all departments. This afternoon the London gang took on the Ohio Wesleyan University in a seven-inning practice game, which was easily won by London by a score of 11 to 0.

The College boys were unable to connect with the London team's pitchers for more than four hits, while London pasted the pill for ten hits. Errors were many and frequent on the part of Ohio Wesleyan, but not a one was chalked up against the professionals. Winnike and Thomas did great work for London on the mound and received excellent support. Kennedy, Shea, Pittinger and Thomas were the heavy hitters for London. Shea scored two runs and Pittinger five. The work of the whole infield was exceptionally fine, Shea and Pittinger again showing super-excellence in their performances.

The morale in the London camp is running high now in reaction to the long rainy stretch during the month of April. The field is in excellent shape, and every player is on his toes. Manager Wetzel is well pleased with the results of the last few days. The box-score of today's game is as follows:

LEAFS OPEN AT ISLAND WITH READING TODAY

TORONTO, May 3.—There will be a special ferry service to Hanlan's Point tomorrow afternoon when the local baseball team opens the home season in the first of a series of games with Reading. The promise of a fine and somewhat warmer afternoon was the only factor required to insure a monster gathering of fans. On the conclusion of the first trip of the season the Leafs with five games won and five lost are at the bottom of the first division, and Reading, after a bad start, are climbing to the top of the second division.

Shea, who has won two games on the trip, is likely to be in the box for the Maple Leafs tomorrow, and it is expected Justin will twirl for the visitors.

ANOTHER RECORD GOES.

BOSTON, Mass., May 3.—Boston and Brooklyn went into the nineteenth inning today before Boeckel's single scored Sullivan with the run which gave Boston a 2 to 1 victory. Fillingim and Smith pitched all the way and honors were practically even until Smith weakened in the nineteenth.

Today's game, following the 26-inning tie between Brooklyn and Boston on Saturday, and Brooklyn's 13-inning game with Philadelphia yesterday gave Brooklyn the new major league record of 58 innings played in three successive games. The previous record was 45 innings, played by Pittsburg and Brooklyn in 1917.

In the 19th inning, with one out, Sullivan singled, went to third on Holke's single and scored when Boeckel hit the first ball pitched to right. Johnston's fielding at third was especially notworthy.

Wilcox, Winner of Big Race Last Year, Signs on With Pugeout

Goux, Captain of French Combination, Was Third in 1919—Looks Like Best-Balanced Outfit in Race.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 4.—Howard Wilcox, winner of the 1919 Indianapolis 500-mile race, has signed to compete in the 1920 contest as a member of the Peugeot racing team, with Jules Goux and Andre Boillot as his co-workers in the cause of La Belle France.

Wilcox's name was affixed to a Peugeot contract as the result of inducements tendered him by Jules Goux, captain of the Peugeot combination, who arrived in Indianapolis a month ahead of the contest to complete negotiations with the Hoosier favorite that had been inaugurated by cable several months ago.

In last year's five-century, the Goux-Wilcox-Boillot trio came near making a one-two-three swoop of the event, Wilcox winning and Goux finishing third. Boillot went out within twenty miles of the finish due to a broken wheel when about to step into second position.

In the opinion of a majority of close students of the form sheets, the signing of Wilcox gives Peugeot the best-balanced and most formidable combination in the race. All are seasoned drivers, and Goux and Wilcox especially have had a world of experience in 500-mile racing, each having carried away supreme honors, Goux in 1913.

Wilcox's race last year was an especially heady example of driving. Keeping well concealed during the early stages of the fray, yet always within striking distance of first place, he came to the fore with a rush during the last quarter, and held his position in the lead thereafter without being threatened at any time.

Head work, as well as hand and foot work, is expected, therefore, to figure in the performance of the Peugeot trio in outstanding fashion. Exhibitions of vainglorious driving may not be looked for, and during the first three-quarters of the grind they may not be in advance among the leadgrs, but at the finish they must be counted on to make their presence felt in a decisive and unmistakable manner.

GOVT. REFUSES AID IN ELEVATOR BUILDING

OTTAWA, May 3.—"It is not the present intention of the Government to construct or aid in the construction of grain elevators in Ontario ports." Sir George Foster informed Thomas Foster, York, today, in answer to a question of the policy of the Government, in view of strong representations made for the construction of elevators in Toronto harbor.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Grant Proposes Radical Changes For Training of Public School Teachers

Would Train All in Normal Schools and Let University Faculties of Education Devote Whole Energies To Turning Out High School Teachers.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, May 3.—Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education, has under consideration somewhat radical changes in the provisions for training teachers for the higher grades of public school certificates. At present the first-class public school teachers receive their training in the faculties of education. These faculties are charged also with the training of high school assistants. It would appear that this division of effort within the faculties of education has not been in the interest of the teachers in training for either public or high school work, and the minister proposes to separate the courses and to place upon the normal schools the responsibility for the professional training of all public school teachers.

Specially Organized.

These schools are specially organized for this purpose. The teachers have been chosen for their positions because they are men of high academic and professional attainments with approved experience in public school work, and they devote their undivided energies to the study of public school requirements, and to adapting courses and methods of training to meet these requirements. It is thought, therefore, that public school teachers of all grades can be trained more efficiently and more economically by concentrating the work of instruction in these schools.

Widening Courses.

The minister has also under consideration plans for widening and strengthening both the theoretical and practical courses in the normal schools. The plans will possibly include provision for an extension of the normal school course of study. In Great Britain and the United States the schools for the training of teachers provide, almost without exception, for a two years' course, and many offer third and fourth year courses. The urgent need for trained teachers would make it impossible at the present time to extend beyond the present limitations the normal school course for ordinary permanent second-class certificates.

But there is a growing demand for teachers with special training for urban and rural schools, and it is probable that the extension of the normal school courses will provide advanced training of a specialized character for these purposes. It is proposed that the extended courses for rural and urban specialists' certificates be different in character and conducted in different schools with special staffs and equipment.

DENIES THAT LABOR SECRETARY WANTED TO BAR CANADIANS

TORONTO, May 3.—Denial of a statement attributed recently to Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor at Washington, to the effect that Canadians were included in a request made upon the United States Government to bar cheap Mexican labor from the States, was made here tonight by John Flett, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor for Eastern Canada. Mr. Flett said he was making the denial at the request of President Sam Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, on behalf of Secretary Morrison.

According to these officials, Mr. Morrison did not refer to Canadians when he was pleading to get rid of the Mexicans who have been flooding the border states with cheap labor.

FOSTER CUNNING

OTTAWA, May 3.—(Canadian Press.)—Production of all correspondence concerning the resignation of Judge H. A. Robson from chairmanship of the board of commerce was promised by Sir George Foster today, when a motion to this effect was introduced by Dr. J. P. Molloy, Provincher. It must be understood however, said the acting prime minister that any correspondence not in the public interest would be withheld from the file tabled in the House.

PEACE COUNCIL SAYS WAR TO BLAME FOR ALL PRICE ADVANCES

Declaration Approved by Council Says All Wars Cause It.

OTTAWA, May 3.—(By Canadian Press).—The disorganization of the whole economic position of Europe due to the war, is reflected in the rise of prices, which is at present the source of universal discontent among the peoples, belligerents and neutrals alike says a declaration on the economic conditions of the world, approved by the supreme council on March 8, and tabled in the House of Commons this afternoon by Sir George Foster.

"High prices are the inevitable result of war," the declaration states "and in comparison with most wars the present situation is far from abnormal. In the Napoleonic wars, prices in England rose 75 per cent and took eight years to become normal again. In the American Civil War American prices rose 100 per cent and took twelve years or more to become normal.

Wholesale Prices Rise.

"As a result of this war, the most gigantic of all in the history of the world, general wholesale prices (as distinct from the cost of living) have advanced since 1913, approximately as follows:

"The United States, 120 per cent; Great Britain, 170 per cent; France, Italy and Belgium, 300 per cent."

Dealing with the causes for this increase in prices the declaration states that they may all be regarded as directly or indirectly due to the war.

Mitigate or Disguise.

"Government action may mitigate or disguise some of the effects of the rise in prices, but it cannot remove the root cause, which is the destruction of wealth."

Peace has not yet been re-established; Russia has in the field armies of 1,500,000 men or more, and not less than 1,000,000 are under arms in Poland and the new states created out of Austria-Hungary.

"The general extravagance now observable throughout the world," the declaration says, "is a phenomena which has almost invariably followed in the footsteps of every human catastrophe."

CANADIAN DELEGATES TO CONVENTION OF FARMERS ARE NAMED

Burnaby, Lambert and Chipman Go To Chicago.

TORONTO, May 3.—The Canadian delegation to the Farmers' International Conference in Chicago on May 11 will be composed of the following: R. W. E. Burnaby, president of the Canadian Council of Agriculture; Norman Lambert, secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture; George F. Chipman, editor of the Grain Growers' Guide, Winnipeg, and a director of the Canadian Council of Agriculture.

International agrarian problems will be discussed at the conference, and some means of federating the farmers of the United States and Canada may be decided on.

AUSTRALIAN IRISH HOSTILE TO VISIT OF PRINCE OF WALES

LONDON, May 3.—The industrial extremists of New South Wales meditate precipitating a general strike during the visit of the Prince of Wales, believing their demands under such circumstances would be irresistible, according to a Sydney dispatch to the London Times today.

Coal miners again are demanding a heavy advance in pay, and their executive announced that unless redress is granted within a month drastic action will be taken. The land and sea transport unions have been asked to adopt similar tactics.

The Catholic press is displaying hostility toward the visit of the Prince of Wales, believing that it may prejudice the establishment of a Sinn Fein republic.

CHIEF OF POLICE IS DEFENDANT IN SUIT

WINDSOR, May 3.—Chief of Police Elias Wills of Windsor is named as defendant in a suit instituted by Bernard Furlong, a local barrister, to recover $176, which he claims the chief is illegally withholding from a client of Lawyer Richard Miers. The case is to come up for a hearing at the next sitting of the county non-jury court. Miers was arrested in March. Chief Wills claims the money is being held as evidence in a proposed criminal prosecution for attempted bribery. No such charge, however, has been preferred against Miers.

GALT COUNCIL VOTES FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING

GALT, May 3.—Daylight saving was the big item of business before the council tonight. As a result of the activity of the G. A. A. A., which felt that daylight saving was necessary to carry out its sport program, petitions were circulated in all the factories and foundries, and these presented tonight showed a vast majority of the citizens in favor of daylight saving, the straw vote standing 2,074 to 95. In support of the petitions there was a large delegation from the G. A. A. A., headed by W. W. Wilkinson, Col. A. J. Oliver and D. Hastings. In view of this strong feeling the council by a unanimous vote decided that Galt would again have daylight saving time, effective May 23 to September 5.

Two Injured in Auto Crash on the Proof Line

James Winslow of Chelsea Green in Serious Condition —Car Turns Turtle.

James Winslow, Chelsea Green, and his nephew, Herbert Winslow of Port Arthur, were seriously injured late yesterday afternoon when a wheel of the auto in which they were returning to the city from a visit to Ailsa Craig suddenly collapsed in a rut in the roadway.

The suddenness of the stop caused by the collapse of the wheel caused the car to turn turtle twice before it finally landed in the ditch at the side of the road. Herbert Winslow was thrown through the windshield, when the collapse came, but James Winslow, pinned behind the driving wheel, was carried along with the car in its wild career to the ditch.

The scene of the accident was on Fraleigh's Hill, Proof Line road, nearly five miles outside of the city, and Dr. D. G. MacNeill of St. Johns, was almost immediately in attendance on the injured men, who after first aid attention, were brought in an ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital, where, owing to the serious nature of his injuries, including several fractured ribs, James Winslow, was detained. Herbert Winslow, whose injuries were principally severe cuts from the broken glass of the windshield, was able to proceed home.

At the hospital it was reported later last night that Mr. Winslow's condition was serious. Today, he was said to be resting easily. R. M. Winslow of the Huron & Erie Company is a son.

WARNS AGAINST LURE OF GOLD

Rev. Jos. W. Cochran Advises Young Men Happiness Is Not in Wealth.

Detroit, May 4.—In a special sermon to young men, the Rev. Joseph W. Cochran warned against the "lure of wealth" and the danger of too much concentration on the business of money grabbing, in the Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church Sunday evening.

"There is nothing more unstable in this world of ours than material riches," said Mr. Cochran. "The history of this country, as of others, is replete with instances of men who have devoted their whole lives to the accumulation of wealth in the belief that riches meant happiness, only to be tremendously disappointed in the end."

Lincoln, Jefferson, Cited.

Mr. Cochran gave instances of men who, although they had amassed great fortunes, had failed utterly in living up to any decent standard of morality. He told of the replies of 500 leading businessmen of the United States who, being asked for a definition of success, as a gauge, or measurement, of a man's accomplishment.

"I was told the other day of a hotel clerk who, being handed two money bills, one with a picture of Lincoln on its face and the other with that of Jefferson, drew the attention of the owner to the fact that both were poor men. And the clerk remarked that these two men's heads were on our money today because, in their lifetimes, they had devoted their brains and their efforts, not to the accumulation of money, but to the higher, more noble things of life."

Says Gold Lure Gets Ministers.

Mr. Cochran referred to ministers of the church who were not immune to the lure of wealth and who "go crazy about money, turning aside from the things of God in their mad pursuit of material success."

CAMPAIGN TO RAISE

United Welfare Fund campaign organization and canvassers in the Tecumseh House dining-room Monday evening, to launch the united campaign which this week is to raise $180,000 for fourteen local welfare and charitable organizations. President George M. Reid was host at the dinner to the campaign workers, who crowded the dining-room of the hotel to the limits of its seating capacity. Confidence in and appreciation of Mr. Reid's leadership was expressed with marked demonstrations twice during the evening, three cheers and a rousing tiger being given heartily when John Bridge announced that Mr. Reid was the host of the evening, and again when Mr. A. W. White called for a vote of thanks to the president.

No thanks was required, declared Mr. Reid. He regarded it as a distinct privilege to be honored with the presidency of an organization for such a noble object as the United Welfare Association stood for.

The special speakers of the evening were Rev. G. Q. Warner, rector of Cronyn Memorial Church, and Rt. Rev. Bishop M. F. Fallon of the London Roman Catholic Diocese each of whom made brief, snappy and forceful addresses, which contributed much to the inspiration and enthusiasm of the meeting.

Extra Special Speaker.

Strictly speaking, Gerald Pearson, convener of the special list committee, ought to me mentioned as an extra special speaker of the evening, for Mr. Pearson announced that the preliminary canvass of big contributors had already returned close to $45,000 of the total objective of $180,000. These larger subscriptions to date include the following:

McClary Manufacturing Co.	$5,000
Robinson, Little & Co.	4,800
C. S. Hyman	4,800
McMahon, Granger & Co.	2,500
Smallman & Ingram, Ltd.	2,500
Lieut.-Col. T. S. Hobbs	1,800
Sir Adam Beck	1,800
J. K. and D. H. McDermid	1,800
James Wright & Co.	1,000
Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore	1,000
London Shoe Co.	1,000
Verschoyle Cronyn	1,000
Major Hume Cronyn	800

Bishop Fallon, referring to uncourteous rebuffs experienced by some canvassers in previous campaigns, said that it was appalling that men who were giving their time freely should have to endure such remarks as were sometimes made.

If they would visit either the Protestant or Catholic orphanages they would realize fully how great was the work that they were doing in giving their time to the campaign. He referred especially to the splendid work of the Salvation Army, and said that, speaking as a Roman Catholic bishop, he had always had the highest regard for this organization. The workers in the Salvation Army had a right to everything that could be done for them, he said.

Pastoral Advice.

Urging the desirability of getting citizens to subscribe as much as they possibly could on the monthly payment plan, Bishop Fallon said that among his own people he would like the canvassers to say that he, their bishop, had said he would like them to give as much as they could per month for the year.

He felt grateful to the chairman for inviting him to be present. He wanted on every occasion where he could to work with his fellow-citizens for the public cause and the benefit and welfare of the community.

The object of the campaign could not be a higher or nobler one, the caring for the orphans, the helpless girl and others who had suffered distress or unhappy fates in life. Such were the turns of chance, that many men who had been accustomed to sit in such banqueting halls, at the end of their lives had found themselves so situated that they were glad to find open the hospitable doors of friendly institutions such as were among the institutions to be assisted by the campaign.

A Contracted Heart.

President Reid expressed his appreciation of the very large attendance of campaign workers. It was larger even than the splendid meetings for similar campaigns during the war. The United Welfare Fund has come to stay. The idea of one big campaign was a popular one, and public sentiment was very strong in support of it. In his personal canvass he had met only one or two instances of persons unwilling to contribute, he said, citing one case which he referred to as a case of contracted heart, a man who had been able to buy $200,000 worth of government bonds, but would not contribute to the welfare fund. He had no quarrel with the man who could not give, but there were perhaps a dozen or more in the city who would not give.

Rev. Mr. Warner referred to the wonderful community conscience which was developing in London. The enthusiasm and public spirit engendered during the war should be kept alive and turned to the needs of peace conditions, work still more important because of its constructive character. Welfare work was of tremendous importance and force of appeal. Its importance was generally recognized. It was a rather uncommon thing to find a mean character such as used to be known before the war. In uniting in the campaign, the fourteen organizations represented had each made a sacrifice in reducing the size of the original budgets they had intended to ask for, and the United Welfare organization, in view of this, could not possibly fail to reach the objective of $180,000 fixed upon.

How Objective Was Fixed.

A. T. Little, convener of the budget committee, explained how the objective had been fixed. The request of the Navy League had not been acceded to, because it was felt that its work was not exactly of the nature of welfare work. After the completion of the original united budget, $2,000 had been indorsed for the Soldiers' Aid Commission welfare work, and provision was made in an emergency fund to aid other smaller welfare organizations if need arose in their work.

All the team captains and district chairman reported that their teams were fully organized for the campaign, which starts this morning. Tonight the campaign workers will meet at the Tecumseh House, where a dinner will be tendered them by Lieut.-Col. Gartshore. Wednesday night they will be guests of Philip Pocock, and Thursday night of A. T. Little. Saturday at noon the commercial travelers, who are to conduct the house-to-house canvass at the end of the week, will be the guests of W. F. D. Jarvis.

One incident which typified the splendid spirit existing among the various men's organizations who are conducting the canvass occurred when it became known that one of the teams had encountered difficulties in getting its members together and was unable to take its place in the line-up. Promptly the gap was filled by a splendid team from the Advertising Club under the leadership of W. J. Ashplant, and the organization got away to a great start, 100 per cent strong. The Advertising Club, thus has two teams at work in the canvass.

MONTREAL STOCKS.

Montreal, May 4.—The local market displayed considerable lethargy during the first hour this morning, in so far as the volume of trading was concerned. The tone, however, was strong and some early advances were recorded. Brompton was again a favorite, with Breweries, Dominion Steel and Laurentide. The popularity of the banks was again evident today, with the Merchants and the Royal in the lead. Brompton opened at 92½, which was half above last night's close, and after one sale advanced to 93¼. Steamships gathered a quarter of a point, advancing to 82. Dominion Steel was firm at 71, Laurentide was steady at 93. Other issues were quiet.

GRAND TRUNK EARNINGS.

Montreal, May 4.—G. T. R. earnings (traffic) from April 21 to 30, 1920, $1,682,319; 1919, $1,571,191; increase, $111,128.

WEAK, NERVOUS CHILDREN QUICKLY GAIN STRENGTH UNDER FOLLOWING PLAN

Nervousness, just like weakness, is a family predisposition. We inherit tendencies to disease just as we inherit physical resemblances. The strain of study, social duties, work at home—these all tend to make nervous troubles among children. No wonder that St. Vitus Dance, Epilepsy and constant headaches have become alarmingly common. Pale, nervous, listless young people are met everywhere.

It is nothing short of criminal for parents to neglect signs of weakness in their children. By ignoring the slightest symptom of nervous or mental strain, you may condemn your child to lifelong invalidism. If any member of your family complains of headaches, fear of going into dark places, give them that wonderful tonic, "Ferrozone." Strength of body and mind, hardy nerves, ability to study with comfort, all the attributes of health quickly follow the use of Ferrozone. It establishes strength, color, endurance, vim—does this by filling the whole system with nourishment and tissue-forming materials.

It's because we know the enormous good that Ferrozone will do, because we are sure every child and even grown folks will be permanently benefited, that we urge you to give it a trial. All dealers sell Ferrozone in 50c boxes, six for $2.50, or direct by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

GRAIN.

Chicago, May 4.—Opening: Corn—July, $1 67.

Oats—July, 91¼c; September, 77½c.

Chicago, May 4.—Decided fresh advances took place today in the price of corn. Scarcity of offerings rather than urgency of buying characterized the trade. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c decline to ⅝c advance, were followed by quick gains all around.

All deliveries of oats have passed previous top figures. Wild bidding for May oats at Winnipeg helped to lift the market here. After opening ¼c to ¾c up the market continued to ascend.

Winnipeg, May 4.—After opening ¼c higher for May at $1 16½, oats immediately advanced 2c to $1 18⅝; July opened ½c up at $1 68.

May barley opened 2¼c higher at $1 69½, and July at 1⅝c up at $1 68.

WALL STREET.

New York, May 4.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Advances of one to three points were made by leading shares at the opening of today's stock market, although overnight advices bearing upon industrial conditions were not calculated to inspire bullish confidence. The same issues that featured yesterday's late rally were again conspicuous notably Reptogle and Vanadium Steels, Central Leather, Utah Copper, Industrial Alcohol, Reading and the Sugars. Baldwin Locomotive and the Oils were under moderate pressure, the Mexican situation inviting further selling of the latter group. Foreign exchange was firm in the preliminary quotations.

Noon.—There were numerous additions to opening gains, but trading was quiet, with few signs of public interest. Independent steels, especially those recently mentioned in connection with merger plans, continued to dominate the market. Equipments, motors, shippings and sugars also were materially higher. After a brief setback rails also strengthened, the investment division gaining 1 to 2 points, and minor issues 1 to 3. Oils almost alone remained unresponsive to the better tone of the market. Call money opened at 8 per cent, against yesterday's 9 per cent rate. Liberty 3½'s and third 4¼'s recorded new minimum quotations. Prices at 11:55 a.m. today were: 3½'s, 90.90; first 4's, 84.40; second 4's, 85.00; first 4¼'s, 85.40; second 4¼'s, 85.14; third 4¼'s, 89.56; fourth 4¼'s, 85.70; Victory 3¾'s, 96.24; Victory 4¾'s, 96.36.

1:30 p.m.—General Motors and Crucible Steel were the objects of bearish activity at midday, falling back 4 and 5 points respectively. Other leaders were carried down 1 to 2 points, the market becoming dull on the reaction. Call money continued in free supply at 8 per cent.

SAGE TEA TURNS GREY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe To Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns grey or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Ontario Legislature Ends Budget Debate at Midnight Session

By Co-operation of Opposition Parties Discussion Concluded—Curry Favors Individual Licensing System For Obtaining a Limited Quantity of Liquor.

TORONTO, May 3.—By diligent effort on the part of the Government and the co-operation of both opposition parties the budget debate was concluded at midnight tonight in the Legislature. The House then resolved itself into committee of supply, and passed one item of the terasurer's estimates before adjournment for the night.

H. Hartley Dewart, Hon. G. S. Henry and Hon. Peter Smith wound up the debate, all speaking very briefly.

The Legislature this afternoon paid tribute to Major-General Townshend, hero of Kut-el-Amara, who visited the House, and was accorded a seat of honor beside Premier Drury.

The budget debate was resumed early this afternoon, and occupied the House the remainder of the day. John O'Neill, Liberal member for Southeast Toronto, called on the Government to put its foot down on all that savored of patronagé. He also stressed the importance of an effective opposition in the House, expressing the opinion that the Hearst Government had suffered from lack of adequate opposition.

R. M. Warren, United Farmer member for North Victoria, denied that farmers were making heavy profits on potatoes. In his country, he declared, potatoes had never brought more than $3 a bag. He emphasized the difficulty of obtaining farm help.

Not Class Legislation.

J. W. Curry, Liberal member for Southeast Toronto, called for amendments to the Ontario temperance act, which Hon. W. E. Raney stated would be forthcoming in the near future.

"Let us strive to get an act that is not class legislation," Mr. Curry urged. "The argument is raised, 'If you take the liquor out of the rich men's houses, prohibition will end.' If that is the case, let it end. Class legislation is a greater injustice than the open sale of liquor. If there is a class in Ontario who are prepared to vote for liquor as soon as their own appetites are interfered with, then let us have liquor."

Mr. Curry favored an individual licensing system, whereby all persons would be able to obtain a limited quantity of liquor. He questioned whether a man owning two residence, was permitted to keep liquor in both.

Dealing with the nickel question, Mr. Curry favored taxation of surplus profits. Mr. Curry touched also on the question of timber limits, but was reminded by the Speaker that members of the House were debarred from discussing matters which were under judicial consideration.

Increase Jurors' Fees.

H. Hartley Dewart expressed the opinion that judges divested themselves of their judicial authority when they became investigating commissioners.

Mr. Curry was strong in his support of hydro power, but commended the Government for its policy of caution with regard to the project of hydro radials.

Under a bill introduced by Hon. W. E. Raney, jurors' fees are increased to $3.50 per diem, and provision is made for serving jury notices by registered mail. County councils are also empowered to pay councillors $5 a day.

The budget debate was continued throughout the evening.

C. F. Swayze, Labor whip, put in a strong plea for the interests of his home city, Niagara Falls, which, he declared, had never received fair treatment from the province in the past. He asked that the hydro commission be made to pay taxes on its plant at the Falls, and estimated that such taxes would yield the city $86,000 annually.

Mr. Swayze also called for changes in the administration of the Queen Victoria Park. He urged that returned soldiers be appointed as superintendent and assistant superintendent, and that other employees in the park receive living wages. The present wages, he declared, ranging from $70 to $100 a month. He wished to see the commission which controls the park, and which is now composed of seven members, enlarged to ten.

Memorial to Soldiers.

Mr. Swayze advanced an original suggestion for a memorial to Ontario's fallen soldiers by proposing that a row of Canadian maples be planted along either side of the provincial highway from Windsor to Niagara Falls.

K. K. Homuth, Liberal member for South Waterloo, dealt with the housing problem and advocated appointment of a provincial commission, with powers similar to that of the hydro commission. Men experienced in the lumbering and building trades should be included in its personnel. Mr. Homuth considered that the province would benefit, even if it had to borrow money and advance it at a lower rate of interest to the municipalities for housing purposes.

Mr. Cooper, Liberal member for Welland, advised the Government to spend more money on consolidated schools and less on community halls. He also urged more generous grants to hospitals and charitable institutions. Mr. Cooper suggested that a time limit be placed on speeches in the Legislature.

J. M. Govenlock Liberal member for Centre Huron, dealt with hydro matters, and declared himself strongly in favor of a flat rate for power in all parts of the province.

Assist Fruit-Growers.

W. J. Bragg, Liberal member for West Durham, urged that more generous assistance be given the fruit-growers of the province, and called the attention of the Government to large quantities of fruit which, he declared, were being stored in Toronto and Montreal, to be held until prices rose. He also asked that more demonstration farms be established in Eastern Ontario.

J. A. Pinard, Liberal member for East Ottawa, in touching on the temperance issue, ventured a suggestion that there might be "less clamor for bone-dry legislation" if the cellars of the rich men could be depleted of their private stocks. He favored an individual licensing system as a solution.

K. R. Hall, Liberal member for Parry Sound, urged on the Government the need for extension of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad to Parry Sound. He likened the line in its present condition to "a dog with a tail, but without a head."

Mr. Hall also demanded improvements in the system of registering mining claims in the province.

K. S. Stover, Liberal member of the Legislature for Algoma, has filed the following questions:

Sympathize With Soldiers.

"Are superintendents of the provincial hospitals for the insane permitted to engage in private practice outside, or to engage in any business other than their duties at the asylum for which they receive payment?"

The Legislature went on record as sympathizing with the inmates of Euclid Hall in their protest against removal to Burlington. The following resolution, moved by Col. D. Carmichael and seconded by Major Tolmie of Windsor, was carried unanimously:

"That this House strongly urge on the Dominion Government to reconsider the proposal to transfer the disabled men, mostly spinal cases, at present at Euclid Hall, to Burlington, such transference, removing them from their relatives and friends, not being compensated for by the economy of the scheme."

MYSTERY ABOUT ROBSON QUITTING STILL UNSOLVED

Foster Puts Off Demands For Correspondence Long As Possible.

UNIONIST CENSORSHIP

Acting Premier Fears Public Interest Might Suffer With Knowledge.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 3.—The mystery of Judge Robson's resignation from the position of chairman of the board of commerce is apparently to remain unsolved. Some minor correspondence was brought down in the House of Commons shortly after the resignation took place, but it was intimated that this was not all, and there were dark hints circulated in the capital that the whole truth had not been told.

On March 21, nearly six weeks ago, Dr. Molloy of Provencher placed the following upon the order paper: "Order of the House—For a copy of all correspondence between the board of commerce, or any member thereof, and the Government or the acting prime minister, respecting the resignation of Hon. H. A. Robson from the position of chief commissioner of the board of commerce."

Up Score of Times.

The order came up a score of times since, and on each occasion Sir George Foster called: "Stand," until finally Dr. Molloy was constrained early last week to ask when he might have information from the Government on the matter. Sir George Foster declared that he would have an answer next time the order came up. It came up twice thereafter, and was again allowed to stand.

This afternoon Sir George rose to say that he had no objection to the order for the correspondence passing, "provided that documents not considered in the public interest to bring down need not be produced."

Would Be Available.

He believed, however, that most of the correspondence would be available.

Now that censorship has been lifted it is hard to see how the public interest shall suffer by the bringing down of correspondence concerning the resignation of a Government official from a Government commission. It is probable that it is the interest of the Government, and not of the public which would do the suffering.

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

LXIV—"Is There Another Man?"

Jim, as he sat by the fire, looked very pale and delicate—but very handsome, Dear Jim.

A tiny tea-table was drawn up beside him, set for three.

"Helene, this is a great occasion, isn't it?" The ready tears were in Mrs. St. Aubyns' motherly eyes. For she adored her son. "The doctor says—only twenty minutes—so we've got to make the most of it!"

We sat down close beside the glowing hearth. It was an intimate little family picture—and I felt immensely happy and content. Oh, if life could always be like this!

My face was flushed with the healthy exercise of my brisk country walk. My hair curled in little rings about my forehead. I put up a tentative hand to straighten it.

"Leave it alone. It's beautiful." Jim looked into my eyes. His words were a caress. I thrilled to them. "Just a glance over my shoulder in the mirror, and see what an enchanting picture you make."

I glanced. I smiled, well pleased. For to look one's very best under the scrutiny of a best-beloved is something that the soul of every woman wants.

Jim's mother poured the tea. Her hands trembled a little at her task. Like me, she was gloriously happy, and tears were near the surface.

But we chatted of banal affairs. The weather—and the farm—and how soon Jim could take a motor ride.

He sat there, very silent for the most part. Sometimes I wondered if, in the recesses of his brain, he was struggling to piece together our story? Did the sight of me conjure up no old memories? Was the accident always going to leave his mind a blank?

Would the recent operation—quite successfully performed—not tend to bring old recollections back again?

Half way through tea, Jim's mother rose and left the room for a moment. And Jim and I were quite alone.

A sudden embarrassment came over me. I stared into the heart of the fire.

And then it was I heard his dear voice say:

"Helene!"

I turned, and saw Jim sitting forward in his chair, with both his arms held out to me!

Life has its big moments.

One of the biggest I have ever experienced was when Jim leaned forward toward me with that look of love upon his face. . . . .

There was no mistaking the light in his fine, dark eyes. It lit up all his features, till they seemed to glow, as though with an inward radiance.

And my heart thrilled to his.

"Helene," he whispered, very softly, "Helene, my dear——"

As though he were a magnet drawing irresistibly, I leaned forward toward him, placing my two hanas in his.

"Helene, this is like a dream." He drew my head down to his shoulder, touching my hair with his lips. The caress thrilled me. "Helene, I never wish to wake up again."

The words—so simple, so utterly from the heart—were music in my foolish ears. It seemed as though I were being wafted into Paradise.

Did Jim remember me? Just so he loved me, I scarcely cared. A second wooing would be wonderful, I told myself.

His next words startled me.

"Helene, tell me—there isn't any other fellow that you care for? I—I can try—can't I?—to make you love me?"

I hid my face against his shoulder. I—love another man? Why, no, impossible!

But, of course, I wouldn't tell Jim that. I wanted to be wooed and won, like any normal woman. I wanted to be utterly convinced that I was loved and wanted, more than any other human being. To surrender now—though sweet—would curtail all moments such as these.

"Helene, you tantalize me——"

A step sounded in the corridor, and I withdrew swiftly from Jim's arms. I put a hasty hand to my hair, to see if it was tidy. In the glass over Jim's shoulder I glimpsed a flushed though very pretty face, eyes shining, and lips curving in a happy smile.

Yes, love was the great transformer.

There was surely nothing in the world so wonderful as love. Without it, life was drab and monotonous. To live—unwanted and uncared for—how deadly that must be!

But fate was not going to hand me such a deal. Fate had been blessedly kind and generous. The tangled skein of my existence was being unravelled. And sheerest happiness lay ahead for me.

"Helene! Jim! What's the matter?" Jim's mother paused for a moment as she entered the room, and regarded us closely, "You both look as though you'd come into a fortune! What is it?"

Jim, smiling, turned to her. I am convinced he was longing to tell her how he loved me. And would have done so, too, had not I—with great presence of mind—jumped up from my chair, and laughingly cried:

"I yield my job of nurse to you! The patient will insist on talking! I can't do anything with him——"

Tomorrow—The Violet Envelope.

Rational Home Remedy For Wrinkled, Baggy Skin

Bathing the face in a simple lotion made as follows, is the best thing known to disperse wrinkles, from the finest lines to the deepest crowsfeet: Powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. Your nearest druggist can supply the constituents. It is a natural and rational treatment, as it tends to remove the cause of those tell-tale signs of advancing age, worry or ill-health. Having both astringent and tonic properties, the solution tightens the too-loose skin and tends to solidify the underlying muscular tissue. This smooths out the wrinkles and gives the skin a firmer supporting foundation.

Obviously this effect must also reduce hanging cheeks, double chin and baggy neck. The remarkably prompt action of this harmless lotion is another commendable feature.

Quick, Painless Way To Remove Hairy Growths

(Helps to Beauty.)

Here is a simple, unfailing way to rid the skin of objectionable hairs: With some powdered delatone and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface, apply and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This is quite harmless, but to avoid disappointment be sure to get the delatone in an original package.

GOLD CHAIN AND DIAMOND LOCKET FOR FRANK FOUSE

Popular Master Car Builder Honored by Car Shops Employees.

To show their regard and appreciation for the interest he had taken in their welfare, 700 employees of the local G. T. R. car shops gathered at noon Monday to present a farewell gift to F. Fouse, master car builder, who is leaving this city on Wednesday to take up duties as master car builder in Montreal. The presentation was made by I. N. Clark, master car builder for the Ontario lines.

C. G. Anderson, general foreman of the shops, acted as chairman. After a selection had been played by the car shop's band, D. Menzies, chairman of the union grievance committee, spoke in high terms of the harmony, which had always existed between Mr. Fouse and the employees. He expressed regret on behalf of all at losing a man who had done so much for the benefit of the employees.

A. Tory, general storekeeper, spoke briefly, relating the kindly relations which have existed between the personnel of the stores and Mr. Fouse.

The chairman then called upon Mr. Clarke to present the master car builder with a gold chain and a diamond set locket, engraved with the words, "To F. Fouse, presented by the employees of the G. T. R. car shops, London, 1920," and a brown rawhide bag, inside of which was a pipe, a tobacco pouch, cigars and tobacco.

Mr. Clark, in a few words, asked Mr. Fouse to accept the gifts on behalf of the employees and to accept their thanks for their kindness and the interest he had always taken in their welfare. Although his stay in London had been brief, the friendship would be everlasting. Every link in the chain represented the friendship and the success they hoped would always follow him. The bag was also presented to remind him of his associates whom he met during his journey through life.

Mr. Fouse, in reply, expressed his thanks, and he assured the gathering he would always remember London with appreciation. He said he would be happy to render any assistance in his power to further any interest that might benefit the London car shops.

Following a selection of music the gathering gave three rousing cheers for Mr. Fouse and then followed with a tiger. Mr. Fouse leaves the city on Wednesday. Mr. T. M. Hyman of the Montreal shops, who succeeds him, will arrive in the city today.

The address expressed the appreciation of the graduates for Dr. Crane's services in their interests.

Dr. Paul McKibben, dean of the medical faculty, presided at the gathering, which was attended by about 30 docotors. Congratulations were also offered by Dr. H. A. McCallum.

At The Theaters

AT THE PATRICIA.

"The Adventurer," in itself an enticing name, to the imagination of the red-blooded youth of this city, but which has been made still more enticing because the name of William Farnum is connected with it, proved all that such a combination gave promise of in spirited, throbbing romance, when it was shown in the Patricia Theatre last evening. It pictured in the minutest detail and in absolute trueness, life as it was lived in the picturesque time of "the days when knights were old." Throughout the picture abounds in rich costumes of the knights, and the quaint dresses of the peasantry. The scenery and settings are most beautiful. The exteriors are especially attractive.

The story was written by E. Lloyd Sheldon and is sustained well at all times. In the role of the hero, William Farnum once again proves himself the peer of motion picture actors. There is in his performance of Don Caesar De Bazen that which few others could bring out. His great experience has fitted him well for the role, which it seems, must have been created for him personally. His supporting cast is excellent. Estelle Taylor as the gypsy maiden won instant favor. "The Adventurer" is a real treat, a novelty done with perfection.

Besides this feature picture, there is a delightful little comedy photoplay, called "The Inner Ring," which is very refreshing after the usual slapstick picture which is so often passed off as a comedy. The stars are William Courtney and Jane Grey, both of whom are well known. The story concerns the fortunes of a certain crown prince, whose life is sought as the only way to insure a republican form of government for the little European principality. Clifton assigns the crown prince to become his own assassin, and he gets away with the office in thoroughly believable and highly satisfactory fashion.

A Ford Monthly, called "Anglers' Paradise," which is rich in beautiful scenery, and a two-reel western picture complete the program, which will be repeated today and tomorrow.

AT THE GRAND.

Lillian Mortimer and Company in a rapid-fire comedy playlet entitled "Oh, My Darling," provide the headline vaudeville act in a pleasing bill at the Grand for the first part of the week. Every member of the cast is an artist, but Miss Mortimer is especially good.

Jack Lee and Lou Lawrence in "Milady Raffles," present an original and amusing skit with some clever lines.

Maybelle Phillips is a welcome attraction on the program. Her songs and stories are all of the sunshine variety.

The Janette Sisters in "Dancing Around," received much merited applause yesterday, for their dances of various countries.

Hugo Rio bills his offering, "In the Days of Nero." He is an athletic marvel well worth seeing.

Excellent as it is the vaudeville bill does not by any means surpass the picture section of the program. Vivian Martin in her newest picture, "Husbands and Wives," fully sustains her great reputation. The story is adapted from the well-known novel "Making Her His Wife," by Corra Harris, and is laid in Atlanta and the beautiful surrounding country. The play deals with a northern society girl who is literally carried away by a southern man of moderate means. Her new life in a small, southern, narrow-minded town—so different from her former life in the north—seems to her a series of "don't." How her husband struggles to bend her to do his will, and she, though struggling back, is finally subdued by the wonderful power of love, gives Miss Martin just the right opportunity to show her talent.

The picture was filmed on the exact locale called for in the book and this naturally results in the minutest detail of the story being perfectly recorded. Miss Martin and her company spent several weeks making the picture and in many of the scenes were assisted by the "400" and scores of charming debutantes of Atlanta. The chief characters in the play are ably portrayed and several "character parts" are particularly good.

A Snub Pollard comedy, "Speed To Spare," takes care of the humorous side of the entertainment. Snub and his company are right up on their toes all the time and provide a laugh a minute.

"SEVENTEEN" COMES TO THE GRAND FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Thomas Kelly, who plays the youthful hero in Stuart Walker's New York production of "Seventeen," which comes to the Grand Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15 and Saturday matinee at 2:30, ought to receive a bonus or some form of subsidy from wholesale and retail clothiers' associations—at least from the manufacturers and tailors who sell dress suits for seventeen and thereabouts. The plot of the play "Seventeen," as in the Tarkington story, hinges on Willie's desperately humorous struggle to obtain a dress suit in order to make a proper impression on Lola Pratt, the girl he has fallen desperately in love with.

During the eight months that "Seventeen" played at the Booth Theatre, New York, the management received information of innumerable cases where unsympathetic parents, who accidentally took seventeen-year-old sons to see the play, had been shamed thereby into the purchase of this denied luxury for said son. One youth was reported to have attended the opening performance of the play and immediately upon their return home about midnight, to have awakened an innocent and unsuspecting father with the abrupt demand: "Now, will you buy me a dress suit?" "Seventeen" is a play of youth and love and summertime, for those who will be, those who are, and those who have been seventeen.

The seat sale opens this morning.

AT THE ALLEN THEATRE.

"Dangerous Days," a film based on Mary Roberts Rinehart's great novel of that name, is a gripping, human interest presentation that is vivid to the end, because of the wide appeal it carries. Nearly everyone has a problem to work out in life, but the situation that develops when frivolous wives are concerned and husbands are neglectful makes a drama that offers unlimited possibilities. These have been made the most of in "Dangerous Days," and in addition the scene is set amidst the myriad activities of a great steel-making centre. The human note, however, is never lost and the presentation of the troubles which confronted Clayton Spencer, the young millionaire, who could find no happiness in his beautiful home and all the luxuries that money could buy make an absorbing film. Equally interesting is the case of his beautiful young wife, swept away on the sea of frivolity. It is easy to imagine that dangerous days develop, periods when the whole future happiness of both is imperilled. There are stormy domestic scenes, days of forbidden loves, when each seeks to find in some other place than home, the happiness for which they yearn. "Dangerous Days" is the kind of picture that makes one realize that millions do not necessarily mean happiness, but on the contrary may easily mean ruin.

A special feature of the program that proved a real treat was the singing of Miss Luta Laymon. The special setting of the stage for her numbers was most attractive and the selections were well received.

AT LOEW'S.

A program of vaudeville acts that will entertain the most fastidious person, full of good music and the latest songs and clever tricks, is presented at Loew's Theatre the first half of the week, together with a picture which is well up to the standard expected from D. W. Griffith. "The Greatest Question" is a Griffith production and it makes an audience both laugh and cry. All David Griffith's stars are in this picture, Lillian Gish and Robert Harron playing the leading roles.

A curly-headed bit of humanity left destitute in the person of Lillian Gish starts out to face the battle of life without a friend. The family that she has been staying with until her mother was hurled are letting her leave the threshold of what has been a home to her for so short a time, but on the doorsten, saying good-bye, they suddenly decide to keep her, though they are poor. For some time with the farmer and his family she leads a happy life, roaming the country lanes with her associates and lending a hand on the farm. Some time after, when Lillian seems to be most enjoying life and puppy love is creeping into her heart, the family she is with has almost become destitute, and Lillian finds that if they are to eat she must work.

Here her troubles begin, and she enters into what is called a "house of shadows," and works for a man and woman that are both wretches, and the treatment she receives at their hands is brutal. Peeping in at her home, where she had known such happy moments she finds them rejoicing over the ten-dollar bill which she has slaved for. Having left with a determination not to return to her brutal employers, she changes her mind, knowing that the money means to her foster parents.

Robert Harron, who plays the part of her admirer and who is a farm hand, saves her from brutal assault when by chance he rushes in to tell Lillian that they are no longer poor, and that the farm is an oil well. This is a masterpiece of David Griffith's and portrays the virtues and frailties of life in a most vivid manner.

The vaudeville program is equally as good as the excellent picture. The Jean Gordon Players entertain with a review of Scottish songs and dances.

Fiske and Fallon have a whistling comedy interspersed with piano and vocal selections, capped off with some clever imitations. Jimmy Lyons, cleverly interprets a Hebrew soldier, and the audience cannot help but give him unstinted applause. Charles and May Butler come in for a great share of the laurels of the bill in this clever wire-walking act, as well as performing some very difficult aerial feats. Rodero, comedy violinist, who cleverly imitates several different sorts of musicians, also gets a good reception.

DIAMONDS
Advantage of Purchasing Them Unmounted
Several customers have remarked to us about the desirability of buying Diamonds unmounted. We repeat a few of their statements.
If the stone is unmounted the customer may inspect it from all sides and angles, and in this way might discover marks or flaws which would be difficult to see if the stone were mounted.
The stone may be weighed in front of the customer and the exact weight given; whereas if the stone were mounted this could not be done.
Then again, if the customer were considering say a cluster or a ring with two diamonds and an emerald, the stones to be used could be laid out in wax to give an idea how the finished ring would appear.
The large proportion of our stones are left unmounted. We would be pleased to show you these and mount them in any style of setting for your approval.

THE PLAGUE OF PIMPLES
Body Covered With Them.
The primary cause of pimples arises from the blood not being in a good condition. When the blood becomes impure you will find that pimples will break out all over the body, but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and although they are not a dangerous trouble they are very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters.
This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system, and will leave a clear, healthy skin.
Mr. Emerson G. Goodwin, Cambridge, N. B., writes: "For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my face and neck, and nearly all of my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything, but got no relief. One day a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using three bottles the pimples and boils had all left me and there is no sign of them returning. I can strongly recommend B. B. B. to anyone who is troubled with skin disease."
