Pithy Philatelic Points.

Sayings and articles of noted

 writers carefully condensed.By Reginald Kinnersley.
A numismatist friend says that a number of prople were one day examining his coins, one of the party being a judge, and several, High School teacbers. One of the coins was of the Strait's Suttiements, the question arose among them where this particular portion of the earth's surface was located. It is safe to say that not one was a philatelist.-Lillie H. Murray.

The Nova Scotia remainders are now being hawked around the country at all prices, but a grest decline is noticed. Some day a big drop will take place and people will take to papering walls with the stuff. Collectors should steer clear of them; it looks fishy. It is generally said that forty thousand of each value was found.Alex. M. Muirhead.

A hopeful sign is the number of adults, of men of mature years who are joining the philatelic clans. They are of standing and influence in the various worlds of business in which they move, These beginners are eolid men. It is unfortunate that the boyis are forsaking philately, but it is gratifying to learn that men are allying themselves with it.-C. is. Severn.

In the fourth ranks of philatelic journalism we tind that much abused and downtrodden specimen of humanitythe phiiatilic poet. What biting sarcasmes, what ludicrous satires and criticisms have been poured on the unfortunate heads of our philatelic bards. The stuff and rubbish which sometimes appears as poetry would have found a more fitting place in the waste basket. But our brains get tired of dry statistical articles and we need the poetry. It is absolutoly necesary that we should have it. Raymond S. Baker.

An interesting set, is the various shades of the 24 eent, U. S of 1861. I have seen 20 colors and shadea of this stamp in one collection. To a spacialist the ahading of stamps is a pleasure. The 1 cent, 1861 issue is a good stamp to begin to shade on-B, A. Cottlow.

No other issue excited the publicas our Columbian Set. Everybody was Columbus mad. It is a story of c'isappointmont. Black and white, young and old, all poised in the mad rush for them. All expected them to be of great rarity. Everybody trusted none paused to consider. The failure of the attempted 'corners' showed the great supply.-G. C. Corbaley.

The Mysterious Stamp, Williay C. Knigitat.

(Conclucied from last number.)
"Its red, look Sir Captaine ha! just this minute your wife is recovering, it turns brown let's see the message, ho! your brother is not so seriously hurt." "Gentlemen, have you ever been thousands of wiles anay from home and suddenly get the intelligence that some of your loved ones are seriously ill, when I thought of those at home I confess I sobbed like a child, tough fibred man that I was. I admit I was at a loss to know what to think about it, and yet there was something abnut the fellow that led me to believe that he was a regular Eastern fakir.
"Sir Captaine" he said "you look astonished. This stamp is known in the east as the Mysterious Stanp; it is a talisman presented to me by my father who was elder to the great Mahatma, like the chame!eon it changes color, each color signifying important events. I have had this stamp in my possession for years and have never known it to speak falsely I have here, a code which explains the colors. I came to the conclusion he bad heard of the facts in some manner and that he was an impostor. "Lying sneak," I said. "this is some devilish trick; get out of my sight." The words had not the least effect on the strange fellow, he looked me straight in the face and in that same low tone said, "Sir Captaine you are the cause of your own destruction; may the curse of the great Mabatma rest upon your head and may ruin and death follow in your wake. A long adieu, Sir Captaine." "W ell gentlemen, humanity is weak and erring. I called him back I knew, he meant to dispose of it for a coniaideration too great to mention, it only adds to the absurdity of the thing His story was that the elder would pay all he had, to keep the stamp in his possession but he, the son, meant to pawn it only till Sir Captain returned to Calcutta again. he needed the money badly now but would double it when he saw Sir Captaine again.

Well to make a long story short I took the stamp paid the amount he asked for, doubtful of the investment. I put the stamp in my pocket and walked away from the native. Well Gentlemen, let that end my stozy, have cigars on me?"
"No! No!" we all cried in chorus, "the end of the story how about the Mysterious Stamp, Cap?" "Mysterious stamp be hanged," said the Captain. "when I looked in my pocket next morning I fuund five stamps.' "How did they get there?' we all askedimpatiently. "Get there? why the stamps were soft paper and ail lightly pasted together and revealed the colors mentioned in the code.

Beauties of stamp collecting, think of it, a bundred dollars for 5 stamps worth 10 cents a thousand. Come boys lets go to the bar and have something."

The end.

The meanest and lowest of all thieves is one who substitutes stamps. It makes no diference whether $\varepsilon$ stamp of equal value is placed on the spot, it remains robbery just the same. We have considerable trouble with this class of vermin.- C.W.Grevning.

Our Owing to a rush of Lateness. The only olyection made, concerning them, is on account of the value not being in figures. Postmasters of foreign countrits are unable to find out the value and as this mistake will soon be found out by the Government, we would advise philatelists to get all they can before a change is made.

(Continued from page 21 .) one of the "Electors Union" who alone had the power to elpct an emperor of Germany. The most prominent among the prince electors was Frederic 11 of brandeaburg who conquered a large territory belonging to Polind and this newly annexed land was called Prussia and was made a duchy. January ls, 1701 Prince elector Frederic III crowned hinself and wife king and queen. This first king united his country and acquired more by war. In 1870 the king of Prussia, William I, was declared Emperor of all Germany.

The mail service of Prussia was alwayg in good order. In the 16 th century the postal family of Thurn and Taxis forwarded the mail to and from Brandenburg. In 1648 regular stations wereestabiished and mail for warded by mail-wagons and couriers. Official and also important commercial letters were numbered and inscribed in a book.

The postal prince of Thurn and Taxis complaine 1 to the Emperor who wrote to the Prince elector of Prussia ordering him to allow Fhurn and Taxis officia!s to run the post there. The plucky ruler of Prusaia answered to the Emperor that in his country he was "boss"'and that he already had a good postal service. That settled the matter.

In the yeer 1657 Emperor Ferdinand III died. His successor was Leopold I. In 1659 all his territory was furnished with a regular postal service.

In 1850 Prussis issued the first sories of postage stamps, having in the center the portrait of King Frederick William IV. As the supply of these stamps was very short they have been reprinted and in consequence of the above fact, genuine stamps are very scarce. In 1867 Prussia as "war price' ( 1866 Prussia, Austria and allies war) issued for the annexed countries, "Republic city of Frankfurt (main) Electorate-Hesзe-Cassel and the duchy of Nzssau," a special set of postage stamps in the Southern German (at that time) monetary value "K reuzer." $n$ the centre is the Prussian eagle, below, the word Kreuzer, on the top, Preussen, aud on both sides, the value. The envelope stamps, especially the Octagons, are very scarce, and some of them not ohtainable for money. In the year 1868 Prussia discontinued the circulation of stamps on account of her victorious political events the North German Confederation was established, and in 1871 the second German Empire was established of which Prussia was and now is the leader.

Chronicle from Peru. By Williams & Co.

In addition to three new stamps, lc green, 2 c brown, and 50 pink there were issued on Dec. 31 nine new post cards as follows: lc green, le red, 2c orange, 2c blue, $2+2 \mathrm{c}$ blue, 3c brownred, tc black, $t+4$ black. The le green and Ic orange for provircial use have a New Year's greeting printed on the reverse and are dated Jan. 1st, $1: 8$. They are valueless for forsign service. All the nine varieties are surcharged on the 5c black and have a view of the new post office in the right hand upper corner. This building was opened on Jan list 1898.

Omaha Stamps and Medals.

Washington, D. C.-The authorities of the post otfice department have determined upon the subjects which shall be used upon the new series of postage stamps to be issued by the department in commemoration of the Trans-Mississippi and International exposition to be opened on the first of next June at Omaha. They are illustrative of the conditions, progress and accomplishments of the great West from its discovery to our own day. The series comprises nine denominations of stamps, as follows:

One cent-The discovery of the Mississippi river by Marquette.

Two-cent-An Indian chief.
Four-cent-A buffalo hunting scene.
Five-cent-Thepathfinder, being apicture of Fremont raising the flag on the summit of the Rockies.

Three-cent-A train of emigrantscrossing the plains.

Ten-cent-A mining scene.
Fifty cent-A cowboy and cattle.
Dollar-A harvesting scene or a great flouring mill.

Two Dollars-The Rock Island Bridge showing part of the city of Omaha.

The director of the mint, who is required by special act of congress to prepare the commemorative or sonvenir medals for this enterprise, has to-day approved the subjects to be illustrated, and artists are now preparing the designs.

The reverse will be a group comprising a mounted Indian spearing a buffalo. Above will appear the words, "Trans-Mississippi," and below the date, " 1848 ". The obverse of this medal will show the head in profile of a tepical young woman of the Trans-Mississippi region. The design is to be prepared by Rockwi,d by means of composite photography, and the types are now being select. ed by the states and territories of the entire region. The medals, like the stamps, testify to the progress of civilization, from the beginningr of things, fifty years ago, to the finest and most refined, the product of the half century. The medals are within the protection of all the laws against connterfeiting the coins of the Government.

Secretary's Report.

No report received up to time of going to press.

President's Message.

To The Members of the Dominion Philatelic Asoctation.
Another year has slipped by us, and we are reminded that 1898 expects much of us.

The past year has been a prosperous one for our Association, and we should see to it that 1898 sees no diminution in the D. P. A. as an active philatelic force.

In the matter of advertising the Auction list in the Official Oryan, Messrs Starnaman Bros. have agreed to give one column of space each month, free of charge, the space required over that quantity to be paid for at the rate of $\overline{\mathrm{c}}$ per lot.

The matter of the 1898 convention seat I shall not touch on, beyond announcing that in due course a committee of arrangements will be appointed and everything done to ensure the greatest possible success.

Several matters relative to Association affairs are now under consideration and will be passed on in due course.

The officors are intended to serve the interests of our members, and any lack of attention or veglect should be reported, when an investigation will be had.

Let 1898 be our greatest year, let us get more members, let us take a greater interest and let us all work tugether to ensure the consummuation of those ains and objects for which the Dominion Philatelic Association was founded four years ago.

In the interests of the D. P. A.
Yours faithfully.
A. M. MUIRHEAD, Pres.
