LATEST PHOTOGRAPH OF COMMANDER PEARY, ARCTIC EXPLORER, AND HIS LITTLE SON

The above photograph shows Robert E. Peary, the Arctic explorer, and his son, taken upon their arrival in New York after many months abroad. Commander Peary was a delegate to the International Geographical Congress and the International Polar Congress, both of which met in Rome last March, and at which he represented the United States government.

POLICE BOARD MEETING HAS FEATURES—THERE WAS SQUABBLING

Two Constables Resign But Their Resignations Were Not Accepted—Their Grievances Were Smoothed Over Chief Insists That Department is in Good Shape—Felker Congratulated.

There was a feeling at the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners held yesterday afternoon at the Court House that any trouble that might exist in the Police Department was stirred up by outsiders. Mayor Hartman, believing that Chief Slein was insinuating that he was the cause of the trouble, stated in no uncertain manner that he wanted it distinctly understood that the constables do not bear tales to him. The greater portion of the meeting was devoted to appointing constables to fill the vacancies on the force, and to the hearing of the reasons why P. C. Cobden and Stanley had sent in their resignations.

These present were His Honor, Judge Hardy (who presided), Mayor Hartman, Police Magistrate Livingstone and Chief Slein. P. C. Cobden stated in his notice that he was resigning owing to injustice by superiors and P. C. Stanley sent in his resignation rather than make a written report of the trouble between the footballers at the O. I. B. grounds and some boys who were playing a ball game on the evening of May 29. P. C. Stanley was one of the football players and was not on duty at the time. After the resignations had been read, Mayor Hartman at once moved that the resignations be not accepted and stated that if there is not harmony in the Police Department it was the duty of the Police Commissioners to investigate. Chief Slein

THREE MEN WHO ARE CREDITED WITH PUSHING PRESIDENT WILSON'S NEW CURRENCY BILL

President Wilson has approved as a "working basis" the bill produced by a series of conferences between Representative Carter Glass, chairman of the House Banking Committee; Senator R. L. Owen, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, and W. G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury. This measure, providing for the adoption of an asset currency responsive to the commercial needs of the country, will be introduced in the Senate and House.

EDUCATION BOARD PROPOSAL WILL GO BEFORE RATEPAYERS

After having the matter proposed for years, and duly shelved in Council or forgotten until election time, it begins to look as if the ratepayers next January will have a chance to vote on the question of having all school business in the city conducted under the auspices of one Board of Education. Ald. Spence at the City Council meeting last night gave notice of motion that a by-law would be introduced in time to make it become effective for submission to the electorate. It is one of those measures which has to be introduced a considerable period in advance of the close of the year. What fate it will meet in the Council is uncertain, but there can be little objection raised to allowing the ratepayers to decide the issue. The by-law, if carried, would mean a popular election of a board of trustees, and the work of the elementary and public school trustees would be combined.

SATURDAY MARKET DAY IS NOT ABOLISHED JUST YET

City Council Makes Short Work of Proposal to Upset Biggest Business Day of The Week Vigorous Opposition Expressed.

The proposal to change market days from Saturday to Friday in Brantford got a rough passage before the City Council last night. It was thrown out before it was even considered in committee of the whole Council. Ald. Hollinrake said he brought it up for the purpose of a try-out. It was duly tried out, all right, some of the aldermen declaring that the question shouldn't be discussed, even that it would give neighboring cities a chance to grab off some of Brantford's Saturday trade; that the scheme was fifty years ahead of time, showing, evidently, that Ald. Hollinrake is a man of advanced thought and is living before his time. During the discussion Ald. McFarland declared that shortening the hours of labor meant increased cost of living, and Ald. Ward remarked that the Trades and Labor Council would have a good subject to work on at the next meeting. At any rate Ald. McFarland's assertion had somewhat of a smack about it. "How can the producer get more and the consumer pay less? This history-making con-

HUSBAND LOSES LEGS WIFE TURNED BACK AT U. S. BORDER.

Nellie Rubrovitz, who lives at 176 George street, is a broken-hearted woman. She recently received word that her husband at Everett, Minn., had had both legs cut off in a railway accident. The woman, frantic with grief and despair, boarded a train from Brantford. She had little money with her. When she arrived at the border she was confronted with the implacable immigration law, which said that she could not cross. Moreover, the immigration officers were immovable, although the woman pleaded with them with tears in her eyes to be allowed to proceed. She was turned back, however, as an undesirable. Mr. Louis Stander stated last night that the woman was heartbroken.

ROUTINE WORK AT THE COUNCIL

Three Committees had Reports Go Through Without Any Amendments Being Submitted.

There was very little scrapping at the City Council last night. In fact it was a June night and the aldermen were inclined that way. Three committee reports went through flying, the hot night atmosphere mitigating against fireworks in almost any form. The reports of the committees are as follows: Board of Works. The Board of Works recommended the following: That the City Solicitor be instructed to begin expropriation proceedings to acquire for the city Lots Nos. 11 and 12 on the east side of Elizabeth St. That the City Engineer be authorized to increase the amount placed on the pay roll to James Eason by fifty cents per day. We submit herewith a statement of the city engineer showing the cost of this piece of work done to date under the streets appropriation. That the City Engineer be instructed to make a survey and estimate of the extension of South Market street to Ontario street, staking the land so that surplus material be placed there, with a view to future extension of the street. That the city solicitors, or in the event of their not being able to act, Messrs. and Heyd, be instructed to sue for their return of the bond on their sureties for the return of money payable under their bonds on account of misrepresentation. Ald. Minshall considered the Elizabeth street property was a good buy at the first price. An option had been secured but had expired and the owner hoisted the price. Ald. Spence wanted to know about a raise in pay recommended in the report. Ald. Suddaby said that Mr. Eason would receive $275 per day, which was not a big salary considering the job done. Ald. Sutch said that Mr. Eason had stated to quit if he did not receive the increase. It looked like a job made at the committee. Ald. Minshall said Eason had started with the city as a boy and had worked himself up until now he had come under him. Ald. Minshall said Mr. Spence had raised Judge Hardy's days by $200.

GREAT WELCOME FOR M. POINCARE

French President is Enthusiastically Welcomed in England Today.

LONDON, June 24.—President Poincare of France will not see real London during his state visit, which begins to-day. Such pleasure will have to be reserved for some incognito trip. The London which he will see from now onward will be the metropolis in masquerade, full of Venetian masts draped and festooned with banners, shields and trophies. Flags will line the West End streets, with the tri-color and "R.F." monogram everywhere. Decorators have brought all their French to bear in choosing mottoes to stretch across streets. These are some of the greetings which M. Poincare will encounter when he raises his eyes aloft: "Liberte, egalite, fraternite"; "Soyez le bienvenu"; "Vive Notre Convive, Monsieur Poincare"; "Les Nations Ont Leur Lendemain." The State banquet at Buckingham Palace to-night in honor of the French President, will be a brilliant event. The King will propose the health of the guest in French, and the same language will be spoken exclusively throughout the banquet. The famous service of gold plate, which weighs between four and five tons, and is worth $5,000,000, will be taken from Windsor Castle for use in the buffets and tables. It is needless to say that wines of the best will be put before the President of a wine producing country, but it is a curious fact that neither he nor any other guest will know exactly what brand he is drinking unless he is a marvel of a connoisseur, for the rule at the Royal table decrees that labels be removed from all wine bottles so that no particular brand be advertised. The menu will be printed in gold on ivory paper, with embroidered edging, and when the procession enters the state dining room the band will play the "Marseillaise" as well as the National Anthem. The fact that M. Pichon, the Foreign Minister in the Cabinet of M. Barthou, accompanies the French President, and that Sir Edward Grey, England's Minister of Foreign Affairs, will be with King George all the time M. Poincare is here, convinces many that important political developments will be decided within the next few days.

They Danced Turkey Trot In Spite of Queen Mary's Dislike For Freak Dances.

LONDON, June 24.—Despite Queen Mary's dislike for the "Turkey Trot" and other freak dances, Miss Martineau, sister of Viscountess Maitland, was hostess at a big Tango ball at 10 Berkeley street last night at which many prominent society figures swayed and swung down the floor. The hereditary Grand Duke of Michelberg-Strelitz, who is one of the suitors for the hand of Princess Patricia of Connaught, was one of the dancers at Mrs. Martineau's ball, and has just learned the Tango. He said that he had kept away from the Tango for some time, but finding that everybody was dancing it, finally was forced to join in and take lessons, despite the Queen's objections. Professionals, hired especially for the occasion, appeared at the ball to help out the awkward dancers and make things go with a hum. Funeral Here. The death occurred in Toronto yesterday of Miss Georgina King, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. McCuaig, 581 Avenue road. The deceased was a daughter of the late George King, formerly proprietor of the King's Hotel in this city. The funeral takes place to-morrow morning from the Grand Trunk to Greenwood Cemetery.

Brantford Cordage Company Gets By-Law Put Through.

At the City Council last night a by-law was passed granting a fixed assessment for ten years to the Brantford Cordage Company. The assessment is placed at $7,700. In return the company has agreed to expend $20,000 on additional plant and employ not less than 130 hands. The by-law was carried without any objections being raised. The Market. The centre isle on the market square was pretty well filled with people who offered strawberries for sale. The general price was 10c per box or 8-1-2c by the crate.

HYDRO BY-LAW IS LAID OVER

Ald. Ryerson Wants Lights all the Way up Market Street.

Ald. Ryerson made a vigorous kick at the city council last night against the Hydro Electric local improvement by-law, introduced by Ald. McFarland, which called for the ornamental business lights in the business section of the city. Ald. Ryerson contended that there were sufficient signatures to warrant having the system all the way up Market street, instead of cutting it off at Nelson. It had been originally intended to go right to the T. H. & B. station, but the manufacturing interests on South Market street would not pay the shot, and therefore Victoria Bridge had to be the terminus. On the other end of Market street, Ald. Ryerson claimed that the ratepayers being almost unanimous at one end, could force those farther up to take the lights. In other words, the whole street, or one block would be made the basis on which to proceed. The point is an important one, as it means 32 cents per foot frontage for 20 years for the system, but there are few property owners who don't believe that the new lights will be worth every cent of it to the value of their property. It was further contended that the city clerk had overlooked some real owners of property whose names were not on the assessment roll. Ald. Spence submitted that inasmuch as it was a debenture by-law the city did not have to be told later that the debentures were invalid. Accordingly, before the by-law went through, the petitions should be thoroughly looked into and the status of the petitioners verified. The by-law was consequently laid over. Annual Picnic. The members and friends of the Riverdale Baptist Sunday school held their annual picnic at Malloy's Grove, Paris Road, on Saturday afternoon, July 21st. The fine weather, the beautiful grove and the enthusiastic spirits of young and old made the outing a most delightful one. The afternoon was spent in rambling through the woods, games and races. Mr. Forbes D. Schram is the superintendent of this growing school.

WERE FORMER BRANTFORDITES

Two Pastors Were Honored in Toronto Last Evening—Well Known Here.

Two former pastors of the Colborne Street Methodist church, were honored in Toronto last evening. The congregation of Parkdale Methodist church, Toronto, said farewell to Rev. W. B. Caswell, B. A., who leaves to-day for Winnipeg to take charge of Broadway Church in that city. There was a very large and representative attendance of members and adherents, many of whom expressed their personal regard for the retiring pastor and his wife. On behalf of the congregation Dr. Birchard and Mr. I. Lenox presented Mr. Caswell with a purse of gold, containing $200, and Mrs. Caswell was the recipient of a beautiful wrist watch, which was a gift from the ladies. Parkdale church has greatly prospered during Mr. Caswell's ministry, and the hope was freely expressed last evening that he might return at some future time and become their pastor once again. Carleton Street Methodist Church said good-bye to Rev. R. J. Treleaven and his wife and welcomed R. J. Simpson, formerly of Newmarket, who will fill Mr. Treleaven's vacancy. The church was well filled last night with the many members who presented Mr. and Mrs. Treleaven with a set of mahogany chairs. Words of regret as to his departure and also of appreciation of his splendid services, were expressed by various members. At the close of the meeting the new pastor, Mr. Simpson, briefly thanked the congregation for the invitation which they had extended to him, and informed them it was with great pleasure that he and Mrs. Simpson would take up their new work. Both Mrs. Treleaven and Mrs. Simpson were presented with beautiful bouquets of American Beauty roses. Mr. Treleaven is assigned the charge of High Park Avenue congregation. A Big Picnic. F. E. Sheppard of West Toronto was here yesterday arranging for a picnic of 600 people to Agricultural Park, July 23. He secured the park.

WANT AD HOROSCOPE

Children of this birth date must be carefully educated and firmly governed. Their later success in life depends entirely on their early discipline in the home.

Their nature is restless, never quite satisfied, and most unreliable unless awakened to the great truths of life. More than to any other people does this sign demand for its natives culture and education to help them overcome their faults.

Don't argue with a man of this birth date. He will become stubborn and unyielding if you do and nothing will be accomplished.

No matter what you think, let him work out his own problem and he will come out better than you anticipate.

THE DIFFERENCE

The difference between Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. W. J. Hanna is that Mr. Lloyd George submitted without protest to the fullest investigation of his actions in the Marconi speculation.

The Globe willfully misrepresents the situation. It is this: Hon. Mr. Hanna admittedly received $500 as a contribution to the Ontario party Conservative fund, but no one has even suggested that he devoted one cent of that to himself.

Lloyd George and Sir Rufus Isaacs admitted that they received a tip to buy Marconi shares from the head of the American concern of that name, who was also interested in the British Marconi Company getting a Government contract, and they, of course, bought for personal gain.

Mr. Hanna comes through without one scintilla of evidence as to the desire for enriching his own pocket. Lloyd George and Isaacs don't.

There is a vast and deep significance between the two episodes, which the Globe must see, but for narrow party reasons will not admit.

A SUGGESTED CHANGE

The proposal to change Brantford's chief market day from Saturday to Friday might in some respects be desirable, but it is scarcely workable.

There would have to be two parties to that arrangement—all the merchants and just about all the county people—and the latter most emphatically do not take to the idea.

They and their families have been used to coming to this city the last day of the week both to sell and purchase, and it is a very difficult thing to make a change in any such trade custom.

There is one thing, though, which ought to be done, and that is to encourage a more general market on the other days of the week.

The only way in which that can be accomplished is to remove the present excessiveness called by an abnormal strain of courtesy a "City Hall," and institute a covered market, in which business could be conducted in all sorts of weather.

The outlay need not be excessive, and spaces could be let for a yearly rental instead of the mad scramble for place which now occurs each Saturday, with meat left on the square Friday nights, largely exposed to flies and dirt carried by every breeze.

The butchers should also be located there, with suitable quarters. In Washington and other U. S. cities meat shops are not allowed on business streets because of the flies they attract, to the annoyance of adjoining tradespeople, and the plan is a good one.

This paper believes that the revenues from suitable market buildings would not only fully meet the interest and sinking fund in connection with the outlay, but yield a good profit into the bargain.

The time is certainly over-ripe for something to be done.

A U. S. CANARD.

Few Canadians credited the yarn which came via the United States that Princess Patricia had written a book about Canadians and that the volume was of such a nature that Queen Mary had suppressed it.

The concoction had all the earmarks of the yellow methods followed by far too many papers across the border, and the official denial which has been issued from Windsor Castle was almost unnecessary.

Uncle Sam has many excellent and reliable papers, such as the New York Post, the New York Sun, the Detroit Free Press, the Buffalo Express and so on, but he has some sheets of the Hearst brand which are well calculated to make him ashamed.

Sensationalism might or wrong, is what such publications desire, and if such material does not exist it is deliberately manufactured.

On one occasion, Tennyson, who always refused interviews, was accosted while out walking by the representative of a New York paper. He distinctly refused to submit, when the Uncle Samite remarked: "You had much better answer my questions, sir, because I have orders to forward three columns as to your views, and they will be sent anyway."

That kind of thing, of course, is not true journalism, but mendacity.

Members of the British Royal family always rightly refuse to rush into the criticism arena, either written or verbal, and that "Princess Patricia" would break through that well known rule, was, of course, the figment of an utterly reckless and unscrupulous imagination.

FIERCE WRITING.

M. A. P. the well known publication of London, England, says that Mr. R. B. Cunningham, the author, has probably the worst handwriting of any man in the Old Land. He once sent a letter to a newspaper, which the compositors stood on their heads to read and then got it wrong in many respects. Graham sent a letter of remonstrance and the editor added this note:

"If in future Mr. Graham will sit in a chair when writing, and not on horseback, and use a pen instead of the candle-snuffers, we think we may be able to do him justice."

This recalls another story regarding Horace Greeley, the great U. S. editor, and also a vile penman, in fact only one compositor could ever read his scrawl and Greeley died before he did, by a lucky circumstance in that sense.

Well "the boys" one noonday thought they would put up a job on said compositor. Accordingly they secured a couple of game cocks, inked their spurs and started them fighting on a large sheet of white paper. When they had marked it up sufficiently the blurred expanse was cut into numbered sheets and sent in as a Greeley editorial.

The lone decipherer of his penmanship gave an extra hitch to his pants, shifted his quid and sailed in. He got along all right until the last mark but one when he went into Greeley's sanctum and pointing to it said: "What's that word?" Greeley took a brief look at it and remarked: "Constitutional," you blamed fool. Can't you read plain writing?"

Another story about Greeley is that in the old time days of New York he was President of a short suburban line at the end of which one of his reporters resided. One day he sent a letter of dismissal to the scribe who used it for a pass for four years. The conductor knew Greeley's signature but the rest of the document was Greek to him.

P.S.—More than one linotype man will tell you that the calligraphy of most other newspaper editors is just about as bad.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Bring on that Brantford-owned street railway.

The British militant suffragettes boast that they are going to use motor boats to spoil the Henley regatta. If one of them purposely collides with a single sculler he'll be apt to murmur, "Oh, let me gettata."

"I doubt if there is a man in Canada who is doing as much for humanity as Hon. W. J. Hanna."—Colonel Hugh Clark, M.P., at Tara.

Quite true, and this is the benefactor who the Toronto Globe and other papers of that ilk would like to hound out of public life.

The United States Senate is going to quite heavily tax old maids and bachelors, and will favor couples with babies. It is all very well to soak the male celibates, but scarcely the female ditto until they have had a chance to declare that they can be nothing but a sister.

The President of the French Republic will be lionized on the occasion of his visit this week to Great Britain, and Rudyard Kipling has written a special ode to France in connection with the same occasion. There is no need for a designated poet laureate as long as Kipling is on this hemisphere.

AN INCIDENT AT COUNCIL

By way of a chance last night at the City Council Aid Suddaby and Aid McFarland engaged in a brief encounter which was sharp while it lasted.

The chairman of the Board of Works wanted to know from the Hydro Electric committee why Hydro poles were being placed on the county side of the border streets. Was an endeavor being made to light up the county at the expense of the city?

At this short arm jab, Aid McFarland waxed warm. His alibi was submitted in parliamentary terms. The light being placed on the outside shed light toward the city across the street.

It turned out that there were only a few poles erected on the outside and this was done for convenience.

What the Other Fellow Thinks.

Sizing Up Martin

Toronto Star (Liberal): And has Hon. Joe Martin, M.P., lived to see the day when the London Telegraph says of him: "He is a dull and uninteresting speaker?"

Much Comfort. Galt Reporter: Our good friends the Mennonites have been holding a Camp Meeting near Berlin. Forty-four tents are on the ground, which on Sunday last held between 7,000 and 8,000 people. The good Pennsylvania Dutchman takes a lot of comfort out of a Camp Meeting.

Good Appointment. Galt Reporter: The appointment of Dr. Helen McMurchy as inspector of the feeble-minded in Ontario, is one which should meet with general satisfaction. That lady has long taken an active and intelligent interest in this class of unfortunate, and in reports on this subject has made many valuable suggestions.

Too Poorly Paid. Stratford Beacon: Teachers must still be scarce notwithstanding the statements that the demand is being overtaken. Six solid columns of advertisements for teachers wanted in last Saturday's Globe seems to tell a different tale.

Uncle Sam's Punch. London Free Press: Colonel Roosevelt made a speech at the celebration of the Battle of Bunker Hill, at which he said:

"I will never consent to arbitrate national questions of vital honor and national interests. What is more, I know my countrymen and I know that they will not consent. Uncle Sam will never arbitrate a slip in the face, and in the last resort the principle is Uncle Sam's punch."

Citizens of Japan have been practically ordered off Uncle Sam's territory. The great State of California has made it impossible for Japanese to hold land in that state.

According to the principle laid down by Colonel Roosevelt, in such a case there is nothing to arbitrate. It is hardly conceivable that a greater insult could be offered by one nation to another. The "slap in the face" is a stinging one.

Japan has not responded with a punch at least not yet.

Five applicants for positions on the force were present. Michael Dowling who has been for the past month on probation, Edward Money, a carpenter by trade, who has spent two years in the militia, James A. Smith, 307 Brent street, a carpenter by trade, 34 years of age, 5ft. 10.3-4 in. in height and weighing about 170 pounds; John Sloan, jr., Grey street, 23 years of age, and a moulding and trimmaker by trade; Chas. L. Smith, of Hamilton, 21 years of age, and weighs 165 pounds, and employed as a bookkeeper. After taking a look at the would-be cops, and after His Honor had asked the usual questions, Michael Dowling and Jas. A. Smith were appointed to fill the positions vacant.

Sergts. Ask for Increase. Sergt. Donnelly and Detective Chapman wrote the board, asking that the sergeants' application for an increase in salary be further considered. They asked for an increase of 25 per cent. If granted the increase they would receive $300 a day. It was pointed out in the communication that first year men on the force get 25-26 per hour. $205 per day for an eight hour day. It was also pointed out that the sergeants have responsibility. The board was reminded of the fact that when the firemen received their increase in wages, the men and officers received an equal raise. They asked that the increase commence from February last.

Sergt. Donnelly and Detective Chapman were present. Sergt. Donnelly addressed the Commissioners concerning the increase. The Sergt. told the Commissioners of long rides on bicycles in the dead of night far from the assistance of any other constable, and that he worked 24 hours with but a couple of hours sleep, and also that he considered his position the most dangerous on the force owing to being often far from the help of other members of the force. Sergt. Donnelly said that the higher one gets up on the Brantford police force, the smaller pay he gets.

The matter was laid over for further consideration.

Laid at Rest

The Late John Bawinheimer. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon of John, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bawinheimer, from the residence of the parents, Henrietta street, to Mount Hope cemetery. Rev. A. E. Lavelle conducted appropriate services. The following beautiful floral tributes testified to the sympathy extended to the bereaved parents: Pillows, father and mother, boys at car barn; wreath, Aunt Bertha and Uncle Arthur; cross, Aunt Minnie; sheaf, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace; sprays, Grandma and Grandpa Searls, Grandma and Grandpa Bawinheimer, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Johnson, Mrs. Minnie, Uncle Earl, ladies of the valley, ladies of Brant Ave. Church; roses, Mrs. A. E. James, Mr. Marshall Wallace; sheaves, Uncle Elgin and Aunt Jennie, Mr. and Mrs. Stamp; sprays, Mrs. Jackson, H. E. Police Board ary's or chicadee's eye and it wouldn't wink. His Honor, Judge Hardy said that the force had an enviable record and no trouble has existed recently. The board was not anxious to lose P. C. Stanley and his resignation was not accepted and he was asked to further consider the matter.

P. C. Cobden's Trouble. P. C. Cobden was also present and was called and asked to state to the board his reason for resigning. The P. C. gave his reason for resigning as stated in his resignation. He told several grievances. He received a calling down in the street from the Chief when he was doing his duty to the best of his ability. There was also trouble about his arriving late at a certain point on his beat, for which he had apologized.

Sergt. Donnelly was present and gave his story in connection with some of P. C. Cobden's troubles.

His Honor was of the opinion that the troubles of the constables should never have come up at the meeting. As in the case of P. C. Stanley, the board did not want to lose P. C. Cobden, and he was asked to further consider the matter. His Honor said that they were glad to have men of Cobden's stamp on the force.

The Meredith Case. Consideration of the communication from the Trades and Labor Council asking for the resignation of Chief Slemm, owing to the Meredith case, was deferred, as the matter is still before the courts. The secretary was instructed to write the Council to that effect.

Constables Appointed. It was necessary yesterday for the board to appoint two new men to fill the positions on the force made vacant by the resignation of P. C. Humphries and P. C. Felker.

It was with much regret that the board accepted the resignation of P. C. Felker. The opinion was expressed on all sides that he had been a good man. His Honor, in commenting on P. C. Felker's appointment, said that one of the advantages of being on the Brantford force was that the opportunity was given to get higher up in the service. The fact that several of the members of the force have gone out and done honor to the local force, was commented upon by the board.

Five applicants for positions on the force were present. Junior Ball

The fans in attendance at the "Y" vs. Climbler's game at Agricultural Park last night, witnessed one of the fastest games of the season.

The droll, sleepy kind, but went through from start to finish with snap and vim, each team anxious to win.

The Climbler came out victorious in the end by a score of 6-5.

The pitching staff was not so strong last night as it has been in the earlier games, but both pitchers were getting good support, which remedied their weakness.

This makes the second loss for the Y. M. C. A., and the Climbler are now holding their heads up, for they have pulled through the series in ship shape with not a game lost. The score by innings:—

Y. M. C. A. 050300—5
Climbler 02211X—1

Summary:— R.H.E.
Y. M. C. A. 5 4 1
Climbler 6 7 0

Batteries: Y. M. C. A.—Bunsden and Simpson; Climbler, Chief Moses and Sutherland, Umpire, Livingston. Time—0:57.

Notes
Some Climbler.
Manager Johnson made a bad error which might have saved the day.
There was about two hundred fans in attendance, including some of the fair sex.
Chief Moses was right there with the wallop on the old pill.
It might be stated that all the players for both teams deserve credit for their work last night, not one deserving more than another.
Umpire Livingston gave the best of satisfaction to both sides.

LOST HIS VOICE ENTIRELY

Mr. J. H. Woods of Point Rock, Oneida Co., N. Y., had a hard experience. "A bad attack of Catarrh settled in my forehead and the pain over my eyes was so intense I thought my head would burst. My voice grew very hoarse and I coughed every night and through the winter could scarcely speak. My voice was gone. Two doctors didn't help me at all. The next doctor ordered "Catarrhazone." It cured me and now many others here use it also. My doctor says he doesn't know anything so good for Catarrh and Throat Trouble as "Catarrhazone." Use it to-day, you're better to-morrow, 25c. and $1.00 at all dealers. Try Catarrhazone."

A Suicide

Well Known Scotch Merchant Shoots Himself in Clyde.

[Canadian Press Despatch] GLASGOW, Scotland, June 24.—Peter Donaldson, a partner in the firm of James Watson and Co., which suspended payment on June 11, drowned himself to-day at Kileriggan, a watering place on the Clyde.

The suicide was a determined one. The iron workers' body was found in the river with a dumb bell tied to the neck and another tied to one of his legs. Donaldson left home yesterday morning and his relatives becoming anxious as to his whereabouts searched the hills and woods in the vicinity without finding him. They then started dragging the river and this morning the body was brought to the surface. A meeting of the creditors of the firm was called to-day in Glasgow.

He Decamped Very Suddenly

And He Took Farmer's Best Clothes Along With Him.

A Mr. Baker, a farmer who lives down the Hamilton Road below Cainsville, recently hired a stranger to work for him. The man from over the pond reported for duty on Friday last and as it happened, Mr. and Mrs. Baker went away that afternoon to pay a visit to friends. When they returned Mr. Baker found that their newly employed gentleman had taken French leave and decamped with his Sunday-go-to-meeting black suit, patent leather shoes and rain coat. The case was reported to High County Constable Kerr who in turn notified the authorities in Hamilton. The European evidently had a presentiment that there was a reception committee waiting for him at the Ambitious City and not wishing to be bored by their address of welcome jumped off the radial car before it reached its destination. So far no arrest has been made and the County gentleman is out his Sabbath attire.

LONDON SOCIETY IS ALL EXCITED

Over Dispute of the Will of The Late Sir John Murray Scott.

[Canadian Press Despatch] LONDON, June 24.—The most fashionable set in London society crowded the Probate Court to-day when the hearing began of the suit over the will of the late Sir John Murray Scott, who left nearly $5,000,000 to Lady Sackville of Knole Park, Kent, wife of Baron Sackville, a relative of the British Minister to Washington from 1881 to 1888.

Malcolm Scott, a brother of Sir John, opposes probate of the will on the ground that Baron and Lady Sackville used undue influence in order to secure the bulk of the estate, and argues that a codicil, for which he has offered $50,000 reward, was executed after the drawing of the will for which the Sackvilles seek probate.

By order of the Court some time ago, an envelope left by Sir John Murray Scott, addressed to Sir John Sackville, was opened, but it has not been disclosed whether it contained the missing codicil, which has been searched for, not only in the British Isles but in America.

At the opening of the case for Malcolm Scott, his counsel, the Right Honourable Frederick E. Smith said the nature of the case for Malcolm Scott was that he alleged that Sackville had spent more than ten years in obtaining complete ascendancy and domination over Sir John Scott. The nature of that influence was such that, not being related, or even having any claim to consanguinity with Sir John, they had practically induced him to finance them, for by induced him to finance them, for by enormous sums during his lifetime, and with this influence and other pressure they had brought to bear, had induced him to leave to them the greater part of his estate of $5,000,000.

Sir John Murray Scott, who died on January 17, 1912, had a most remarkable career. He was the son of a Scottish doctor, practicing abroad, and who occupied a very humble

MR. R. S. DUNLOP PASSES AWAY

Former Well Known Brantfordite Dies in Chicago After Lingering Ailment.

A large number of old Brantford friends will be exceedingly sorry to hear of the death last night in Chicago of Mr. R. S. Dunlop.

Deceased had been a great sufferer for the last nine months from cancer of the throat, and for a long time had to be fed artificially. He bore his great affliction with characteristic fortitude.

Mr. Dunlop, who was 68 years of age, was born in Hamilton and during early manhood he resided in California. He finally came to Brantford and entered into partnership with Major J. S. Hamilton. Later he established the business on Market street now owned by Mr. C. Coulson and he also founded the Brant Mineral Water Company of this city.

Some years ago he removed to Chicago where he had since resided. He was twice married, first to Miss Excell, daughter of the late Mr. I. P. Excell, Brantford, and later to a cousin of his deceased wife. In addition to the sorrowing widow, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. E. G. Strouger of Toronto, and Mrs. Yeomans of Chicago, to mourn his great loss. He was a whole-souled and genial man, liked by all with whom he came in contact, and ever ready to do a good turn when the opportunity offered. His passing will bring genuine regret to very many.

Major J. S. Hamilton, and Mr. R. Hamilton, Echo Place, are cousins. The funeral takes place in Chicago on Wednesday.

Banff on the Trip of The Women's Press Club

Such travelling through innumerable corridors, for the C.P.R. hotel at this point is a tremendous affair, and the elevators out of order at time of writing. But it was rather good fun this losing and finding oneself, even if the numbers did not run right, and our rooms when we got them were delightfully airy large and comfortable. Outside all sorts of roads and paths led up into the mountains, and soon tally-ho parties, people on bronchos, also pedestrians were exploring the surrounding sights. Two of us chose a winding walk, climbing up higher and higher, reaching finally at a distance of three miles, hot, lovely sulphur springs and baths. The temptation was too great, so in a few moments we had disrobed, donned bathing suits and were enjoying the grateful warmth and buoyancy of these mineral springs after our long tramp up the mountain. Time was flying though, so we dared not stay too long, but 6.30 found us back at the hotel again, where a lightning change was made into evening dress to be ready for dinner and the ball which followed later.

THE COQUETTISH DOLLY VARDEN FLAT

Flats were immensely fashionable almost a century ago, and this season they re-appear in almost exactly the same form—that is, a perfectly flat plaque of straw, bent into a scoop shape and raised underneath at the back by a bandeau from which depend long streamers. Usually a little wreath of small flowers is laid upon the flat to suggest a demarcation of crown and brim. This fetching flat is of white hemp covered with printed pale pink chiffon. The wreath is made of pink rosebuds and tiny pale green leaves. The streamers at the back are of pink chiffon.

Foot-Rite Counters

The "Counter" of a shoe is the back stop—the stiff leather that goes behind your ankle over your heel. In the good old days when leather wasn't so high-priced, ALL shoe counters were made of solid leather—no cheats.

But these days the counters of most shoes are made principally of "leather-board"—a stylish name for glue, paper and scraps pressed together by machine.

The counters in Foot-rite Shoes are made of the best possible stock, carefully moulded and "turned" to fit. They are solid and well built, yet perfectly flexible and comfortable. They look right, feel right and hold their shape.

Can it possibly be that Brantford has at last a ball team that can be cheered for? It certainly looked like it yesterday. With Gero, the new pitcher in there working and a steady field behind him, it looked for all the world as if the Red Sox had started to really cause some trouble in this Canadian League. Gero pitched magnificent ball. In fact we have not seen a better game for a long while. It is true that he had four brilliant double plays to pull him out, also a team behind him which played errorless ball, but Gero nevertheless looked like some pitcher. He will be quite satisfied that he came to the Canadian League. Not only has Gero speed but he has a beautiful slow ball and he had the Senators from Ottawa breaking their backs in an effort to hit it. If Gero is a sample of the new players Kane secured for Brantford, on his recent trip, other Canadian League clubs can take notice right away.

Cassavant played his first game for Brantford yesterday. He didn't do much at the bat, but at shortstop, he looked cool and heady. He was the pivot for three double plays yesterday which isn't bad for a youngster 18 years old, breaking in. The deliberators are calculating way in which he disappointed himself won't the admiration of the fans. Our first judgment is that Cassavant is not a player who will fall down in the pinches, although he is by no means spectacular and flashy. He is the only one out of four players secured by Kane who has a string attached to him. Brockton would not let him go under any circumstances.

While we are on this subject of Gero, it should be mentioned that Kane when he arrived in town yesterday about 5 o'clock, was surprised to learn that he had pitched the first game against Ottawa. "Gero should never have pitched to-day," said Amby. "He pitched on Saturday and had an all night ride on the train to Brantford. He was in no shape to show his best." Kane evidently was right, because Gero himself complained of feeling "all in" yet he pitched a magnificent game. We are glad to have him in cold storage for the St. Thomas series.

As announced in The Courier last night, Brundage, Lely Smith and Tesch are the ones released to make room for the reconstructed artists. Duff Sleming goes back to his old job as travelling secretary. Right here let it be said that had the team been travelling at a good pace, Sleming would have remained a player. But the fans called for something drastic and they have got it. Four new players in a week is some change to make. It may yet appear to some of the Doubting Thomases that the Brantford management is at least striving to secure a pennant winner.

In spite of the fact that Gero showed himself a good pitcher, his travelling companion Kellier, who was on the bench yesterday, is rated just as good. Kellier will pitch to-day. He was with Brockton on this trip and developed a sore arm, being only a youngster, but he has recovered. It is said he is a good one, and if he is as good as Gero the Brantford club will climb.

In Brantford's fifth with one out, Ivers singled and Sleming doubled. With third and second populated, Mr. Kubat proceeded to walk Chubby Coose again. He did, and the crowd

Kane arrived back in the city at 4.35 yesterday. He did not go over to the ball park, but learned the score over The Courier bulletin. He brought with him outfielder McGill who will be in the game to-day. McGill is highly recommended, fast a good thrower and a consistent hitter. He is beginning to look as if Brantford will have a ball team at last.

Will Mr. Shaughnessy please explain what kind of a Merchant his new pitcher really was. The Sox really liked his goods, but only had a couple of rounds in which to have deliveries effected.

RED SOX LOOKED LIKE AN ENTIRELY NEW TEAM

Ottawa Walloped 5-0—Gero Proved a Fine Pitcher—Six Double Plays Featured the Contest, Brantford Getting Four.

Brantford took the first game of the series from Ottawa, due to the splendid pitching of Gero, the twirler recently signed by Kane. The Red Sox gave the Senators a dose of whitewash, the score being 5-0. The locals outplayed the visitors at every point, and deserved to win. Gero, the hero of the day, had the Ottawa batters completely at his mercy and two innings only the visitors got as far as third base. Only twice in the game was Gero in anything that looked like trouble, and he was cool as a cucumber and came out of the fray with flying colors. The Sox gave him glib edged support, pulling off no less than four doubles. Every time the Ottawa team would get anything that looked like a start, sharp, snappy fielding by the Sox would destroy their well laid plans. Cassavant replaced Tesch at short, and played a good steady game, accepting some difficult chances. He fielded well and pleased the fans.

Merchant started to pitch for Ottawa, but was taken out in the second and Kubat finished the game. "Chubby" Coose whacked out a double on his first trip to the plate, and was walked for the remainder of the game. The Sox looked like a new team, and played with lots of snap and ginger, and seems to have got out of the rut, and from now on will cause a lot of anxiety to teams in the league ere long.

Ivers seems to have come back to himself at the bat, and he cracked out two lovely hits yesterday. There was a good attendance yesterday for a week day, which goes to show that a winning team will attract the crowd. There should be good gates to-day and to-morrow. Contrary to expectation, the Sox started in to hit and get their runs in the early stages of the game, and did not wait until near the finish, as has been their custom of late. They secured two in the second and third innings and one in the fifth. Kane has returned from his hunting trip, and if all the players he has signed show up as well as Gero and Cassavant, then the Sox will have some team when they get down to real hard work.

Table with columns A.B. R. H. O. A. for Brantford and Ottawa players.

Summary—Two base hits, Coose and Slemm. Sacrifice fly, Cassavant. Double plays, Wagner, Cassavant and Ivers; Cassavant, Wagner and Ivers; Gero, Cassavant and Ivers; Gero, Wagner and Ivers. Smvkal, Dolan and Robertson, Smvkal and Dolan. Struck out by Kubat 4, Gero 7. Bases on balls, off Merchant 1, Kubat 5, Gero 6. Hits off Merchant 6 in 2-3 innings. Umpire, Evans.

Story of the Game Told in Paragraphs

Hats off to Gero. Gero certainly pitched beautiful ball. Can it be that we have at last got a ball club? Rogers one hand catch off Lamond was a beauty. Wagner accepted all of his eight chances faultlessly. There were no stolen bases in yesterday's contest. Ottawa made a nice double play in the seventh. It is some game when you see six fast double plays. Bullock made a nice play off Durham's smash in the first inning. It was worth peanuts to hear Shaughnessy crab in the eighth. We are getting selfish now, and want the next two from Ottawa. Gero held Ottawa to three hits for seven innings. It was all over then. With two on bases Gero fanned the Smvkal for the third out in the second. Gero retired Ottawa on strikes in the third, and got a great hand from the crowd. In the first innings, Wagner to Cassavant to Ivers completed a nice Red Sox double play. There was a good crowd present at the ball game yesterday and they had a right to be there. Ottawa looked decidedly easy for Gero in the 5th. Three easy grounders didn't even look like a threat. Although Duff Slemm pulled a bone yesterday, he looked like a good ball player. He hit decidedly well. Burrill looked like his old self when he went away back and robbed Shaughnessy of a third bagger. With two out in Ottawa's sixth, Shaughnessy hit sharply to right. Rogers was easy, Gero to Ivers. Gero walked two in Ottawa's 7th, but Evans looked bad on his decisions. It isn't often you hear Lamond holler. Then came a beautiful Red Sox double play—Cassavant to Wagner to Ivers. I retired the side. It nearly broke Shaughnessy's heart. He expected a lunch when he dropped into Brantford yesterday morning. Umpire Evans on balls and strikes looked bad at times. Gero was the worst of it on several occasions. Wagner got hit on the shoe string in Brantford's sixth and walked to first. He was caught attempting to steal. Coose's two base hit in the second scoring Slemm was close to left field fence. Then Lamond's fine single scored Chubby. "Shag" introduced a new pitcher with a Detroit string. His name was Merchant but he didn't deliver. Speed Merchant, perhaps, but not enough. Mr. Shaughnessy fully sustained his reputation yesterday as the greatest Human Crab in baseball. His coaching remarks were real nasty. If Kane didn't do anything but dig up Gero, his week's trip was worth while. If President Nelson passed the hat, he could easily collect expenses. Cassavant was in the middle of three double plays yesterday and looked like a player who would not blow up. His sacrifice fly scored one run. Lage started Ottawa's ninth with a single. Dolan lined to Cassy and Brantford pulled off the sixth double play, Gero to Wagner to Ivers. It was all off. Gero got his second hit to start off the fourth, but Durham could not butt him down. Then Wagner hit into a double, Robertson to Smvkal to Dolan. Wagner caught Bullock flat-footed in the third and beat out a beautiful bunt. Burrill was out attempting to bunt third strike. Then Ivers singled to left. Slemm's single scored Wagner from second. Then Mr. Kubat was rushed in as pitcher for Ottawa. Coose was walked deliberately. The bases were full with one out, Cassavant waited Kubat out at the plate, three and two, then hit a sacrifice fly scoring Ivers. Lamond struck out, ending the enthusiasm.

NEW YORK, June 23—New York and Brooklyn split even on a double-header, Brooklyn winning the first game, which was a ten-innings affair by a score of 4 to 2, while the Giants won the second game easily by a score of 5 to 1. Brooklyn led 2 to 0 in the ninth, when Doyle tied the score with a home run into the right field stand. With Crandall pitching for New York, Brooklyn scored two runs when Stengel's base on balls was followed by Wheat's homer into the right field stand. In the second game Brooklyn was helpless before Mathewson, the visitors escaping a shut out in the ninth inning when Cutshaw tripled and scored on an infield out. Score: First Game—R. H. E. Cravath's Good Batting. BOSTON, June 23—Philadelphia batted James' delivery to all parts of the lot yesterday, and Boston was defeated by 3 to 0. Cravath had two doubles, a home run and a single in five times at bat. Luders and Lobert also batted hard, as did Maranville for Boston. Paskert furnished the fielding features. Score: R. H. E. Tinker Strained His Leg. CINCINNATI, June 23—Cincinnati made a game up-hill fight and won from Pittsburgh yesterday, 7 to 6. The visitors had the locals 6 to 2 up to the sixth inning, when Tinker first up, singled. He strained his leg running to first and Berghammer ran for him and scored with Dodge. Score: R. H. E. PHILADELPHIA, June 23—Hard hitting by Philadelphia featured yesterday's game and Boston was defeated by 13 to 4. Houck, who succeeded Brown in the second innings pitched good ball, and was accorded perfect support. The feature of the home team's playing was a double play from Schang to Barry to McInnis, with Carrigan on first, when R. Collins bunted in front of the plate. R. Collins was knocked off the rubber in the fifth inning and Moseley and Foster could not hold the home players in check. Score: R. H. E. White Sox Won and Lost. CHICAGO, June 23—Chicago and St. Louis broke even yesterday, the locals losing the initial game 1 to 3, and winning the second 4 to 3 after a 12-innings pitchers' battle between Russell and Hamilton. The visitors won the opening game, when Shotten-walked and Stovall singled, both advancing a base on Pratt's out, and scored on Johnson's single. In the second game both teams fielded raggedly. The locals tied the score in the ninth on hits by Weaver and Berger, and won in the twelfth. Score: R. H. E. St. Louis . . . 20000001—3 7 0 Chicago . . . 000010000—1 6 1 Baumgardner and Agnew; Cicotte, Russell, White and Schalk. Second game—R. H. E. Notes. The Beavers are some clouters. Symons' home run landed on the race track. Milton Moss was there with the circus catch. It was one of the features. Y. M. C. A. centre fielder has lots to do and got everything in the fly line in big league style. Manager Dave Lyle says that the Newman Cup must rest for the winter in the East Ward. Eddie Sears, catcher for the Beavers, is one of the best in the League. His work last night was worth the price of admission alone.

Bishop Williams On Church Union

Editor Courier: Sir,—Will you kindly find space in early issue of The Courier for the insertion of the enclosed, a section of the Bishop of Huron's charge to his Synod on "Church Union," delivered in London on the 17th inst.

Yours truly, G. C. MACKENZIE. 23rd June, 1913.

"At the outset, let me say a word to remove misconception. It is frequently assumed, especially in the secular press, that the new Church of England in Canada disapproved of the issue and contents of a certain circular, they have ever led in the movement. What the Bishops deplored was the issue of specific proposals that, in their opinion, were more calculated to divide the Church of England than to achieve unity with others.

But now that the atmosphere once again is more or less calm, the time seems opportune to set forth as plainly as a new and more captivating name to pursue the specific proposals of the circular, then I am firmly convinced that the only practical results that the League will achieve will be to read the Church of England once more by eternal dissensions, paralyze her work, and set back the clock a whole generation.

"The Mystery of Agatha Webb"

By KATHARINE GREEN

Sweetwater, with a quiet smile calculated to hide his disappointment, went on as if perfectly satisfied. "Meanwhile John awakes, sees the dagger and thinks to himself, 'I will kill it, but finds himself too feeble. The cut in his vest, the dent in the floor, prove this, but if you call for further proof, a little fact, which some if not all of you seem to have overlooked, will amply satisfy you that this one at the Bible, Abel never died."

"No," was Abel's perplexed retort. "I cannot see any sign of writing on my feet or margin." "Are those the only blank places in the sacred book? Search the leaves devoted to the family record. Now, what do you find there?"

Knapp, who was losing some of his indifference, drew nearer and read for himself the scrawl which now appeared to every eye on the discolored page which Abel here turned upmost. "Almost illegible," he said. "One can just make out these words: 'Forgive me, James—tried to use dagger—found lying—but has been killed—dying with out-darting grief—true men—haven't disgraced ourselves—God bless—That is all.'"

"The effort must have overcome him," resumed Sweetwater in a voice from which he carefully excluded all signs of secret triumph; "and when James returned, as he did a few minutes later, he was evidently unable to answer questions even if James was in a condition to ask them. But the fallen dagger told its own story, for James picked it up and put it back on the table, and it was at this minute he saw, what John had not, the $20 bill lying there with its promise of life and comfort. Hope revives. He catches up this bill, flies down to Loton's, procures a loaf of bread and comes frantically back, knowing it as he runs, for his own hunger is more than he can stand, he enters the room in his presence, he rushes forward with the bread. But the relief has come too late. John has died in his absence, and James, dizzy with the shock, reels back and succumbs to his own misery. Gentlemen, have you anything to say about this?"

are to reach the bottom of the question. First: Christian Unity is a much more than Canadian question. To attempt a merely Canadian solution without regard to the other branches of our own and other Communion throughout the world would be simply to cut ourselves off from the main stream of Christendom to the great loss of Canadian Christianity. The result would be a Canadian hybrid, diverse from all others and disowned by all. In short, it would be multiplying rather than the healing of divisions.

2. The Church of England in Canada cannot act in this matter except in the fullest harmony with the rest of the Anglican Communion. It must be remembered that there are synods which are fundamental to a Communion as well as fundamental to Christianity. In the eyes of any particular Communion, the points are generally identical. Such points must be settled not by one branch acting independently, but by the communion as a whole, otherwise there will be schism in the Communion.

Whatever individual expressions of opinion may have been made by Anglican divines past or present, whatever temporary arrangements the Church may be or has been compelled to adopt through stress of circumstances to supply ministrations to its members, the Communion as a whole and officially is committed to these two notes throughout the world and in all its history. To surrender them or make them optional would be to surrender two of the most universal notes of the historic Church of Christ and to sever ourselves from the Anglican Communion, both historically and practically.

"Not as I would like to, but I noticed it barely at the edge and was of the shape and size necessary to inflict the wound from which Mrs. Webb died." "Very good, but there is something else of interest to be observed on it. Fetch it, Abel." Abel, hurrying from the room, soon brought back the weapon in question. Sweetwater did not touch it, but he eagerly and studied it very closely. But he only shook his head. "Bring it nearer to the light," suggested Knapp, "and examine the little scroll near the top of the handle."

"How did Amabel Page come by a dagger marked with the Zabel initials?" questioned Knapp. "Do you remember what was said to me to provide herself with a dagger ostensibly belonging to one of these brothers? And then have you forgotten that when Mr. Crane met the old man at Mrs. Webb's gateway he saw in his hand something that glistened? Now, what was that, my dear friend?" "It was a dagger," Sweetwater was more disturbed than he cared to acknowledge. "That just shows my lack of experience," he grumbled. "I thought I had turned this subject so thoroughly over in my mind that no one could bring an objection against it."

"Young enthusiasts like yourself are great at forming theories which will season them like myself must regard as fanciful. However," he went on, "there is no doubt that Miss Page was a witness to, even if she has not profited by, the murder we have been considering. But with this palpable proof of the Zabel's direct connection with the affair I would not recommend her arrest as yet."

"She should be under surveillance, though," intimated the coroner. "Most certainly," acquiesced Knapp. The coroner, however, remained silent till the opportunity came for him to whisper apart to Dr. Talbot, when he said: "For all the palpable proof of which Mr. Knapp speaks—the J. Z. on the dagger and the possibility of this being the object he was seen carrying out of Philonon Webb's gate—I maintain that this old man in his moribund condition never struck the blow that killed Agatha Webb. He hadn't strength enough even if his lifelong love for her had not been sufficient to prevent him."

"You are right," said he. "He hadn't strength enough. But don't expend too much energy in talk. Wait and see what a few direct questions will elicit from Miss Page." (To be continued.)

tically. That, I submit the General Synod cannot do even if it desired to do. In fact, as I have stated, we are precluded from doing anything of the kind by the solemn declaration on which the General Synod is founded. In other words we shall and can consider unity only in harmony with the rest of the Anglican Communion.

3. Any scheme of unity that will be worthy of thought or worthy of the name must take into consideration not only the Protestant Communion, but also the Anglican, the Latin and the Greek. Now the last three are united in the retention of the historic Episcopate and the three together number three-fourths, possibly four-fifths of Christendom. But the joint committee of Presbyterians, Methodists, and Congregationalists in Canada refuse to negotiate with the Anglican church unless the Historic Episcopate were left an open question. For the same reason we open question that they would refuse to negotiate with the Latin and Greek churches. Now I submit that it is absurd to talk of the unity of Christendom when three-fourths or four-fifths of Christendom is refused to negotiate with the Anglican church unless the Historic Episcopate were left an open question.

There will never be a Christian unity until all have acquired a much more charitable mind, and teachable spirit than seems to exist at present. The divisions of Christendom are not accidental. They are but different aspects of the working of Christ in history, and no scheme of unity can be regarded as satisfactory which fails to comprehend and do justice to them all. As has been well said, "The Protestant must seek to appreciate the truths for which the Catholic contends, and the Catholic must seek to appreciate the truths for which the Protestant contends. Each has something to teach, and each has a good deal more to learn from the other." (I hope that it is not necessary to say that by Catholic, the author quoted did not mean only Roman Catholic.) Until therefore, the old communications are prepared to recognize the action of Christ in the non-episcopal communions, and until the non-episcopal communions are prepared to allow that other communions are in possession of truths, which they do not possess, and manifests aspects of the Christ life unrepresented among them, but both of which are necessary to the fullness of Christian truth and to the full presentation of the Christ-life before the world; until this mind is attained to a much larger extent than at present there is not much prospect of real reunion. For until then the aim is simply to work for the conversion of all who differ to one's own sectional standpoint, on the assumption apparently that one's own communion has a monopoly of the elements of Christian truth we need every element; we need the institutional and sacramental side as well as the personal and prophetic. But the extremes of the Christian world are as yet very far removed from this tolerant and charitable mind.

5. Therefore, whether unity or reunion does come, it will have at least three essential characteristics: (1) It will be world-wide and not merely local. Otherwise so-called unity will only be the multiplication of divisions. (2) It will be on an inclusive rather than exclusive basis. Its aim will be to comprehend and conserve what is true and distinctive in each communion; to include in a large unity whose bond will be love, the differences which now separate us. And (3) it will be representative of all Communions, the full complement of Christians throughout the world.

At the present time there is only one effort being made towards this comprehensive unity, and is the effort to secure a world's conference on faith and order, originated by the Church in the United States. A representative committee has been appointed by our own General Synod to co-operate in the effort, and likewise representatives have been appointed by the Archbishops of Canterbury for the Church in England. Many of the Protestant communions in the United States have also appointed representatives. Such a conference may take a long time to organize. It may take years, perhaps generations before it can arrive at any practical results. But I feel sure that the effort proceeds on right lines, because its aims are world-wide, and embracing all communions. In such a supremely important matter surely the wisest course is to hasten slowly. There are no short cuts to church unity. It has taken hundreds of years to create present divisions. We need not expect that they can be healed in a day. In the meantime our duty is plain: to pray earnestly for the restoration of the church's unity; for the suppression of self-love in all communions; and for an outpouring of the Spirit of Truth and Love upon us all.

Church Union.

In conclusion there are three words which I desire to say to our own church people.
1. First, remember that what Christ left upon His Ascension was not a creed or a book, but a body of men committed to His "way" and energized by His spirit. That body we call the Church. In that body from the very first we find an authorizing order of ministers called at first Apostles, and afterwards Bishops, whose recognition and blessing seemed necessary to full church membership and a valid ministry. This authorizing order of ministers with various modifications constituted the historic bond of unity in the Church for fifteen hundred years. That is the Historic Episcopate. As Anglicans we believe in the necessity of preserving the historic unity of the church, a unity not merely mechanical but vital and continuous like the unity of the vine and the branches, and therefore we contend that the Historic Episcopate shall form an essential part in any scheme of reunion.
2. Secondly, remember the distinctive witness which the Anglican Church has thrust upon her in the Providence of God—to mediate between the opposite extremes of Christendom. She holds the middle course between the over-reformed and unreformed communions. With one hand she keeps in close touch with the free movements of the latest age, with the other she keeps firm hold of Apostolic teachings, order and fellowship. It is the only communion that does so. To my mind, notwithstanding the refusal of both extremes to acknowledge it, the one hope of a re-united Christendom lies in the Anglican Communion, whose mission in the Providence of God I conceive to be to interpret Protestantism to the Catholics and Catholicism to the Protestants. We would surrender this strong and providential position just as surely if we sought union with the Protestant communions by giving up what holds us to the church of the earliest age like the Historic Episcopate as we would if we sought union with the Roman church by accepting novel and unscriptural dogmas like Papal supremacy or Papal Infallibility. Naturally, we are denounced by both: by the former because we are too conservative, and by the latter because we are too liberal. But that should not disturb us. It is always the fate of those who hold the middle course, but who, nevertheless, are generally nearer the truth than either extreme.
3. Thirdly, don't be carried away by any short cuts to Church Unity. They will never achieve any real and abiding unity for the simple reason that they generally sacrifice something vital. Therefore examine carefully what the ultimate drift of any proposal is before you endorse it. It is easy to ring the changes on unity, charity and love, words which imply that all opponents are narrow and uncharitable. But unity is purchased too dearly if it involves the sacrifice of truth or principle, and charity sometimes is made to cover indifference to distinctive tenets, which is the greatest danger of the Protestant world to-day. We are prepared to sacrifice much that is dear to us for the sake of unity with our Protestant brethren, but not everything. Our proposals are open before the world in the Lambeth Quadrilateral. What are our Protestant brethren prepared to sacrifice for the sake of unity with us? The sacrifice must not be all on one side. They are not altogether right and we altogether wrong. We have not yet heard what they are prepared to sacrifice. Knowledge of this is the next step to unity between them and us. Till then hold fast to the historic church of the English people, concentrate on work and avoid internal dissension. By so doing we shall best serve God and the people of this country.

Doctor Said He Had Diabetes

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cleared Out Every Trace of It.
That's Why Mr. David Heon, of Nicolet Co. Quebec, is Recommending the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy To His Neighbors.
ST. WENTSLAS, Nicolet Co., Que., June 23.—(Special)—"I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills because the doctor told me I was threatened with diabetes. After taking ten boxes I was again examined by the doctor, and he told me that all trace of diabetes had disappeared."
This is the statement of Mr. David Heon, well-known and highly respected here, and he is only one of many in this neighborhood who have found a new lease of life in the great Canadian Kidney remedy.
It is curious such as this that have given Dodd's Kidney Pills their reputation. They are now known from the Atlantic to the Pacific as the remedy that never fails to cure kidney disease, no matter where or in what form it is found.
Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure, diseased kidneys. The reason they cure backache, dropsy, rheumatism, neuralgia, diabetes, urinary troubles and Bright's disease is that all of these are either diseases of the kidneys or are caused by disordered kidneys failing to do their work.

We have recently issued an interesting little 32 page book entitled "A Few Facts."
It is attractively printed, and is illustrated with thirty different pictures representing important historical events. The pictures are reproduced from drawings made especially for the purpose by that celebrated Canadian artist, Mr. C. W. Jefferys, A.R.C.A.
The subject matter treats with some of the distinguished features of the Imperial Life and its ideal policy contracts—features which account for the Company having established a record unequalled in the history of life insurance in Canada.
If you are in any way interested in life insurance you should have a copy of this booklet. Ask for it. A postal will do.

MONTREAL, June 25.—After the organizers of the St. Jean Baptiste Association soiree, which concluded the tag day for money to carry on the campaign in favor of the bilingual schools in Ontario, and which was given last evening in Convocation Hall, had secured Gonsalve Desaulniers, K.C., one of the best-known French-Canadian advocates and literateurs in the province, as an attraction, they were compelled yesterday to ask him to cancel the engagement because of objections raised by Archbishop Bruchesi of the Roman Catholic Church.
Mr. Desaulniers was to have recited a patriotic piece of his own composition entitled "In the Gulf."
His Grace warned the soiree that if it would be proper for that gentleman to appear at an entertainment given in a Catholic University,

MEDICAL MEN DISCUSS MILK SUPPLY
Convention at London of Canadian Doctors is Proving Profitable.

LONDON, June 25.—At the convention of medical men here, Dr. G. G. Nasmith of Toronto, led off the discussion in the public health section with a paper on "The Control of a Municipal Milk Supply," in which he drew many lessons from Toronto's experiences.
"By doing away with the selling of milk in bulk Toronto has reduced the danger element from 1200 places which sell milk," he said.
"Milk is the only uncooked animal food we eat, and because it is an ideal culture medium for germs sometimes despite all our care, it is consumed in an unhealthy condition."
"The only way to make milk perfectly safe is by pasteurization. Last year in Toronto forty-five per cent of the milk was pasteurized; this year 75 per cent is so treated, and by the end of the year I believe 90 per cent will be pasteurized."
Dealing with tuberculosis in cattle, Dr. Nasmith claimed that the whole problem was one of sanitation and with earnest, conscientious effort, the disease could be eliminated from dairy herds.
"Of all the potential and active sources of disease, it is perhaps the most dangerous and from even its commercial aspect milk inspection pays well," he said.
Dr. T. M. Whitelaw, medical health officer of Edmonton, said this aim was to get clean milk and then pasteurize it.
"Our dairymen are getting richer," said the doctor. "Our Alberta grasses are much more nutritious than those in Ontario and the cows there give more milk and richer."
"When our inspectors go out" he added, "the first farmer visited telephones around to his neighbors and when the inspector goes to these other places they have had a chance to clean up."
"London is certainly giving us a warm reception," laughed Dr. Allen MacMurphy of Toronto, chairman of the section, in urging the men to remove their coats in an attempt to keep cool. Some of them did. "The (Continued on Page 4)

KILLED HIS SO DURING PRO BIG IND
(Canadian Press Despatch)
VERNAL, Utah, June 25.—Crazed with jealousy, while the sun danced, the greatest of the Ute Indian festivals, was in progress last night, Tom Inchwitz, shot and killed his suitor and then fired a bullet into his own head.
As the brave were dancing, Inchwitz's squaw approached the pole around which they were holding their festivities, and placed a bundle of sweets at its foot. A young brave
