DOCTORS FAIL TO REPORT CONTAGION

Simcoe Town Council Talked 'Flu and Typhoid Last Night

OTHER SIMCOE NEWS

Simcoe, Oct. 8.—(From Our Own Correspondent).—All the members of the Council were about the green board last night for a three hours' session of the Council.

The clerk read a letter from Slaght, Slaght and Agar, threatening action for damages on behalf of James Holden. Mr. Holden had been to Council for redress. The corporation has raised the sidewalk since his house was built and apparently did not make sufficient allowance for the water to get away in time of freshet with the result that the foundation of Mr. Holden's house has been considerably damaged.

The Board of works were instructed to get in touch with the solicitor at once, and to take such action in the matter as was deemed just.

L. P. Atken, Fuel Commissioner. Council responded to an urgent request for the appointment of a fuel commissioner, by naming L. F. Atken for the office.

To Prevent Fires. Chief Kendall addressed Council regarding the clean-up campaign and has the approval of Council in his campaign to remove fire traps and incendiary waste.

The treasurer reported the receipt of $126.80, balance of railway tax, after deductions of about $77 for Norfolk patients in provincial institutions.

Another communication indicated that soft coal is available for any who have stoves to burn it for domestic purposes.

Barbers Want More Time. A petition signed by all the barbers of the town requested permission to remain open each evening till 8 o'clock, instead of 7 o'clock. But for the fact that they all handle cigars and would have an advantage over other vendors, the Council might have taken action. A suggestion to alter the by-law so that each Wednesday night be an open night was suggested by Alderman Langford as a partial relief to the barbers and their customers, but the opinion prevailed that action should be deferred till there was a more general petition to hand.

The clerk reported that the Railway and Municipal Board and the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council had approved of the municipal fuel by-law.

G.W.V. Association Gets $100. The report of the special committee favoring a grant of $100 to the G.W.V. was adopted.

Chairman Crab reported that he had $213.93 to the credit of the Charity Committee, and two cases of typhoid on his hands. This drew considerable inquiry as to the work of the sanitary inspector and the M.O.H. and His Worship as a member of the Board of Health had to stand up against warm criticism regarding the ineffectivity of the board's executives.

Mr. McCall took the doctor's part in so far as that official states that physicians are not reporting contagious diseases in the law requires under penalty for neglect. The opinion prevailed that the physicians should be proceeded against under the act, and that the M.O.H. would not likely be the one to initiate. It is felt that the doctors are not reporting the Spanish influenza either.

Mr. Carter gave notice of motion that at the November meeting he will introduce a by-law for the appointment of a permanent auditor.

His Worship reported that the Navy League Fund will close on Saturday.

The usual by-law to authorize a levy, this year of 1 1/4 mills for street watering was passed.

The oiling and watering and a reduction of capital account against the apparatus is about $2000, of this amount $500 is to be raised by general levy on all citizens and the remainder by only those fronting on the streets watered.

The chairman pointed out that the intersections and half of the streets bounding the market square, and the county square, and one half of Norfolk St. from the south end of Lynnwood Park to beyond Misner's bridge had no frontal assessment, and that those who did not have water or oil in front of their property should assist in paying for this.

They also enjoyed freedom from dust when on the down town sections. The rate last year was 2 1/2 mills.

An advance of $4000 was made to the Board of Education, and accounts totaling $1882 were passed.

It is understood that cutting wood on the corporation timber lot will begin early next week, possibly on Monday. The job will be put in the hands of a capable foreman, who will engage his own men by the hour.

Renewing School Days at Shand's. There were about 100 of all ages at the fourth re-union of former students, held at Shand's school, Woodhouse, yesterday.

Among those present from a distance were, Robert Morrison, of Emily City; Henry and Edward Tice, of Toronto; Miss Shand, Hamilton; Mr. W. Stanger, St. Thomas; Miss Shaw, Toronto; Silas Butler, of Port Dover. Austin Shand was out from town. A very pleasant social afternoon was spent by all.

Press Photos. Mrs. Wm. Burt was able to come home from the Hamilton hospital yesterday and is considerably improved, having experienced no setback as a result of the trip.

Off to Good Start. The Norfolk County Fair got off to a good start to-day with splendid weather. The exhibition of fruit has, for quality, never been exceeded and all the other departments are first class. There are five entries for the 2.18 class and eight for the three minute. The track is in splendid condition.

NEW JAP CABINET. By Courier Leased Wire. Tokyo, Monday, Sept. 30.—(By the Associated Press).—Formation of the new cabinet has been generally well received even by the rivals of the new regime as an unmistakable sign of the gradual ascendancy of the principle of democracy over that of the oligarchy bureaucracy.

The last seven premiers have belonged to the bureaucracy. The quickness with which the cabinet was organized is considered unprecedented. Business interests also welcome the new government.

IS FALLING BACK ON 50-MILE FRONT

At Some Places the Retreat of Enemy Becoming Disorderly

New York, Oct. 7.—The Associated Press to-night issues the following statement: Although peace talk is still in the air, there is no peace, for Marshal Foch's armies are proceeding with all vigor in their task of clearing Belgium and France of the invaders.

And they are continuing to meet with great success. Likewise in Serbia and Albania the Serbs and Italians at last began to clear occupied territory, while, as last reports the British general, Allenby, in Palestine, was still hard after the retreating Turks.

While further good gains have been made by the British east of Arras, where the operations have in view the capture of the highly important town of Douai and other advances have been effected between Cambrai and St. Quentin, chief interest for the present centres in the fighting in Champagne and between the Argonne forest and the Meuse, where the French and Americans are driving the enemy steadily northward, despite great resistance, on positions of high strategic value.

Although the front from Rheims to the Meuse, a distance of more than 50 miles, the enemy everywhere has met with serious reverses and is falling back under the heavy pressure that is being imposed against him, at some places in disorder.

Where the enemy is trying to resist, the French and Americans are meeting their counter thrusts with splendid results, and gradually forcing them to give ground step by step.

East of the Argonne forest, between that great wooded bastion and the Meuse, the Americans have taken a new attack in this region, withstanding the fact that the enemy has thrown in large reinforcements to hinder the blotting out of the forest and the forming of a junction by way of the Aisne valley between the Americans and the French troops on its western side.

In the latest fighting the Americans drove the Germans out of Chatel Chobry, northwest of Arras, and obtained command of the heights west of the Aisne. The latest German official communication reports that the Americans Monday evening began a new attack in this region.

Taken altogether, the entire southern front of the Germans seems to be in a rather serious situation from La Fere to the north of Verdun, Laon, the great stronghold of the Germans northeast of Soissons, is reported to be on fire, indicating the possibility of an early calling back; the Chemain des Dames defenses are outflanked at both ends; Rheims has been restored and the Germans pushed back more than ten miles north of it, while eastward of Compeigne the area and the American First army are brilliantly carrying out their part of the great converging movement that seemingly at no far distant date will force the enemy materially to readjust his line.

Great Orchestra Coming. The Paris Symphony Orchestra, it is announced, is to give fifty concerts in leading American and Canadian cities, beginning in October. Perhaps there are music lovers to whom music is the same whether it is produced by an enemy or a friend, but it is fair to presume that the great majority feel otherwise about it. It has not been possible for Canadians generally, during the last year or so, to extract real satisfaction from a symphony orchestra concert while keeping one suspicious eye on the leader and another on the bass viol player, and at the same time wondering whether the clarinetist and the first cornetist were not exchanging signals while pretending to be fast in the cadence of German melody.

A New Word. A peculiar expression has arisen in Vancouver. If one lives in that Canadian Pacific port, and has not heard the term "jaywalker," then he or she can claim a particular merit as a law-abiding citizen. To be a "jaywalker" is to be a person who, when crossing a street, does so at some point other than a street intersection, and thereby ignores the by-law which, in his defence let it be said, has fallen into what a politician once termed "innocuous desuetude."

It used to be said in this country of anyone who crossed a street at a point other than the intersections, that he thereby proclaimed himself to be a foreigner.

BRIDGE IS DESTROYED. By Courier Leased Wire. Berne, October 7.—The Chernavoda bridge over the Danube River joining Rumania proper with Dobruja, which was blown up by the retreating Russians and which the Germans repaired at the beginning of their occupation of Rumania, again was blown up a few weeks ago, according to advices received from Bucharest.

Traffic between Berlin and Constantinople by way of Bucharest, Constanza and the Black Sea, therefore again interrupted. The cause of the explosion which destroyed the bridge is not known.

FLU IN HAMILTON. By Courier Leased Wire. Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 8.—Four more deaths, including two soldiers at the military hospital, were recorded here to-day from Spanish influenza, while twenty additional cases from private homes were reported to the Health Department.

MAYOR'S SON KILLED. By Courier Leased Wire. Booker, had been killed in action. The Board immediately adjourned as a mark of respect.

FIGURES SHOW

(Continued from page one) that every one of the 795 cases are genuine we are forced to admit that it is most remarkably small, but I am of the opinion that the percentage is slightly over the half per cent, because of the fact that a good many cases, reported can hardly be called the grippe.

In conclusion I wish to state that allowing for any exaggeration of the epidemic it is well to guard yourself with proper treatment, tempered with common sense and take the advice of our Medical Health Officer, Dr. F. Tröhm.

In the foregoing report I have submitted to the citizens the bare undisputed facts as I have found them, that the situation may be made clear and that you may govern yourselves accordingly.

T. J. MINNES, Chairman Brantford Board of Health At the Hospital.

Among the cases in the above institution some eleven have developed pneumonia. The doctor's outside that the form of influenza is quite controllable.

Public Schools. The general feeling of the School Trustees is that Brantford schools are well heated and well ventilated, and that there is not much danger of infection in view of precautions taken.

The following was the attendance report of yesterday:—

School	Enrollment	Absent
Central	699	200
Alexandra	538	90
Victoria	415	89
King Edward	566	160
Ryerson	313	50
Dufferin	424	58
King George	396	123
	3361	790

This shows absentees of 23.67 per cent, as compared with an average of from 8 to 6% per cent. At Collegiate.

Principal Overholt reports three of the teachers on the sick list and one hundred pupils absent or about one-fifth.

The presentation of cups, medals, and prizes for Sports Day which was to have taken place this evening is postponed.

British forces have attacked the German line to the northwest of Douai and have gained ground near that city, which is reported to be in flames. This sector is just north of the front, where the "switch line" from Queen to Droocourt was broken three weeks ago by the Canadians.

GERMAN FORCES

If the French succeed in establishing themselves on the north bank of the Aisne in this region they will immediately turn the German line on the Schippe and also the enemy's position on the Retourne. Therefore, the Germans have attempted to keep the French south of the Aisne.

In spite of the vigor of the enemy's resistance, however, the Aisne has been crossed at Berry-au-Bac, the whole village on the north bank of the river being in the hands of the French, who also have made some progress beyond it. The Germans have also been fighting fiercely along the Arnes.

You Need More Than A Laxative

To correct constipation, all organs of digestion and elimination should be helped. Try NR and see how much better you feel.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

To live and be healthy, your body mechanism must properly digest your food, extract all the nourishment from it and promptly throw off the waste that is left. This is accomplished by the processes of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the work of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

The failure of any of the vital organs to do its work properly affects the action of all the others, and retarded bowel movement does not help constipation; it only retards the action of the bowels, the condition that constipation brings about.

Now if you are used to taking so-called laxative pills, oil, purgatives and the like, you know mighty well you've got to be taking them all the time. Moreover, if you stick to any one laxative, you've got to be increasing the dose all the time. That can do you a lot of harm.

Stop doing yourself any such things just long enough to give Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) a trial, and let the results show the difference. NR Tablets are not mere bowel movers, their purpose is to correct the condition that produces constipation and give you real, genuine, lasting benefit: to improve your digestion and assimilation, give you a good hearty appetite, regulate your liver and bowels, tone up kidney action and give your poison-clogged body a good cleansing out.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is not harsh; it is mild, easy, pleasant in action, no straining or pain ever follows its use; but it is thorough and sure. By its action on the digestive organs it promotes assimilation, which means extraction of full nourishment from your food, and thereby gives you new strength, energy, better appetite, better action, NR drives poisonous impurities out of and cleans up your body.

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and just see how much better you feel in every way. Get a 25c box today and take one each night for a week. You'll say never felt better in your life. NR is sold, guaranteed and recommended by

Can we help you? —The Only Question Asked

Your Sons, Relatives, Dear Friends, "over there" as they pour back from the firing line out of a man-made hell, and battle's roar weary to a point of exhaustion will appreciate to an extent known only to those who have experienced the suffering of war, a smoke a hot drink of tea, coffee or cocoa, stationery on which to write you words of condolence.

When a soldier, going to, or coming from the trenches, reaches a Catholic Army Hut, there is only one question asked.

It is not, "who are you?" It is not, "What are you?" It is, "CAN WE HELP YOU?"

"Is it hot tea, coffee or cocoa? Here it is FREE of charge. Is it smokes? Here they are. Haven't you money? You don't need any. Take the smokes and forget it. You're welcome old top; come again, and come often.

Catholic Army Huts do not overlap with any of the other organizations doing good work at the front. There is room for all; there are not too many workers; there are not half enough.

At the front, all work together for the common cause; to cheer the boys, and relieve suffering. More help is imperative; your help is needed.

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

Brian Has a Grouch Because Ruth is Going West.

CHAPTER XLIII.
The apartment Ruth had taken was delightfully dainty and attractive. She had sold most of the things they bought when they were so cramped for money, and had replaced them with better pieces of furniture. She had not attempted to finish her rooms. But what she had put in them was in perfect taste, and good of its kind. She had the ground-work. She could add the rest, from time to time.

The lovely pieces of tapestry Mr. Mandel had given her, she had disposed to the best advantage so that they gave quite an air of luxury to the entire apartment. The larger pieces she had used as over-drapes or for covering odd-shaped pillows. The smaller ones for chair seats, etc. The Oriental silks she had used in making lamp shades and for draperies in the dining room, which was paneled in wood, ivory white, making a good foundation for her artistic hangings and the frieze which she had laboriously cut from different papers, and so made an original design.

"I am so glad we are so nearly settled here I had to go west," she said to Brian the night before she was to leave on her business trip. "You will be very comfortable."

Mrs. Crawford was still with them, and would look after Brian. Someway, Ruth resented the sulky air with which he received her remark more than she ever before had resented his actions when she displeased him.

"You're not going to be cross because I have to go?" she asked, recalling her determination not to allow anything he did to make her angry with him; not when it concerned the business in any way. She had too much at stake. The business, and her happiness.

"A lot of good it would do if I am!"

"Come now, Brian! do be a good boy," she ruffled his hair, and pressed a kiss upon it. "I shan't be away but a week."

"A week is a long time for a man to mope around alone."

Ruth thought, with a quick stab, that when she was away before, he didn't do much "moping around alone." She supposed she should tell him that it wasn't necessary, that he had friends he could be with. But she could not bring herself to say it.

"It will soon pass, dear."

"Yes—with you, Staying in swell hotels, living on the fat of the land."

"Oh, Brian! as if that counted. Why, dear, I had rather have a meal here with you than anywhere else in the world."

"Tell that to the marines! If you did, you would," he said in a peevish tone.

Ruth burst out laughing in spite of her vexation. "If you did, you would," she repeated. "Oh, Brian!" "Well, I mean it," yet smiled with her at the expression he had used. "When are you going?"

"Is Mandel going?" his face dark with jealousy.

"No, indeed! he trusts me to attend to the work alone. It is a great compliment, Brian—I wish you felt differently about it." This last she said wistfully.

"Well, I don't and I never will! I expect now, all the people who know me say I can't support you, or that you are supporting me."

"Oh, Brian! you are too ridiculous. The women are all envying me, because I am able to do something; and say you should be proud to me. Why? Brian, lots and lots of women whose husbands are richer than you are have gone into business."

"That's just the rub! If I were rich," as you say, you could do what you pleased and no one would think anything about it. But I'm not! and all my friends know it. So of course they think I am a poor, good-for-nothing sort who can't get along, that you have to help."

His face grew darker, his scowl deeper, as he talked. Ruth saw he was working himself into a ferment so she changed the subject by asking him if he knew the people across the hall.

"They are such a nice looking couple, just about our age. The man looks very pleasant; and she is so pretty."

"No—haven't noticed them," Brian growled.

"I hope they will call. I should like to know some nice people."

"Don't call my friends 'nice' I suppose," still holding his grouch.

"Of course I do! I haven't met one who wasn't, unless it was that queer Claude Beckley; and I suppose he is all right only I never met any one quite like him before."

"Yes, Claude's all right, enough. I'm tired. I'm going to bed."

"I'll come presently. I have to pack my bag."

"Of course, always something to do about the pictures as those who received them as though they were actual photographs of the western front, where the master producer and his company spent many months in the making of this great picture. Yet significant enough, it is not so much in the spectacular moments when all the elements of an actual battle are mirrored on the screen, that Griffith reaches the height of his art, as in the subtle undercurrent of heart interest and the countless humanizing touches which are never lost sight of amid the thunder of the guns. The war is the background, rather than the theme, of "Hearts of the World," and against its sombre shadows the sunlight of love and human happiness shines in strong contrast. It is hyperbole to say that "Hearts of the World" is the greatest picture ever produced. It is certainly no exaggeration to say that it vies with the greatest.

The players appearing in "Hearts of the World" are not selected because of their reputations in the world of stardom, but each and every one has been selected to fill the role for which he or she is best suited. Robert Harron, one of the stars on "Intolerance," has on the dramatic role, while Lillian Gish, the Elsie Stoneman of "The Birth of a Nation," appears opposite him. Her sister, Dorothy Gish, has on the dramatic role, yet most irresistibly human roles the screen has yet brought forth, that of The Little Disturber, a French gamine, braven of bearing but golden of heart. The other members of the cast fill their roles no less acceptably in every instance, the performance of Robert Anderson, as "M'Sieur Cuckoo," providing comedy that is seldom devoid of genuine pathos.

"Hearts of the World" is the attraction at the Grand again to-night, to-morrow and Thursday.

PROGRESS MADE BY TWO FRENCH ARMIES TODAY

Fourth and Fifth Armies Have Reached Suippe in their Advance

ENEMY IN FLIGHT

By Courier Leased Wire
Paris, Oct. 7.—(9 p.m.)—The French fourth and fifth armies are progressing rapidly. The resistance of the Germans is slackening and the River Suippe has been reached along the line of Betheniville-Pont Favarger.

Announcement of these successes was contained in the official statement issued at the War Office last night.

The text of the statement reads: "North of St. Quentin the battle continued throughout the day. Between Marcourt and Sequehart, our troops have taken Remaucourt, Tilloy Farm and many fortified woods and places where the enemy resisted with furious energy. They failed to check the advance of our troops who conquered positions foot by foot and took many hundreds of prisoners."

"North of Rheims we have reoccupied the Suippe at a number of points. German rearguards along the river to the south have made vigorous resistance and launched many counterattacks, but our troops repulsed them and inflicted sanguinary losses. We hold the southern outskirts of Azailcourt and the village of Beiricourt on the north side of the Suippe. Further to the right we have forced the passage of the river to the east of Orainville and have taken Pont Givart."

"The combats no less violent have taken place in the region of Bazancourt and Boul-sur-Suippe. These combats have permitted us to reach the outskirts of these villages."

"We have debouched from the village of Betheniville, in spite of violent machine gun and artillery fire and also taken ground north of St. Clement-Arna. In this region our troops in the course of their advance had to meet very strong counter-attacks. Our artillery fire caught enemy battalions and inflicted heavy losses on them. They were forced to retreat in disorder."

"To-day's events have completed the delivery of Rheims, the richness and historical association of which excited the covetousness of the Germans, who many times since the beginning of the war, have attacked the city and who have vented their impotent rage against it with incendiary bombardments, but who have never been able to take it."

"Atmospheric conditions on October 4 were not very favorable for observation along the eastern sectors of the front. Our bombing squadrons dropped thirty tons of bombs during the day on assemblages of troops, convoys and enemy batteries. During the night in spite of the bad weather, our airplanes dropped 700 kilograms of projectiles on military objectives at Chatelet-sur-Reconure, where a fire was observed. During the day 81 machines were shot down or put out of the fighting."

ASK FOR A QUARTER OUNCE OF FREEZONE

Any corn will dry up and life out, says a Cincinnati authority.

Let folks step on your feet hereafter: wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again trouble you, according to this authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called Freezone, applied directly upon a tender aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain.

This drug is sticky but dries at once and is set to simply shrivel up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.

It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce obtained at any drug store will cost very little but it is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callosity from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

FIRE PREVENTION

Extracts from PROCLAMATION Issued by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario.

Whereas next to the care of those who are offering their lives on the front line of battle, the conservation of all our energies and substance is our most important problem;

And Whereas the saving of human life, thrift and the prevention of loss of property through destruction by fire, is an aid which every one should give willingly to the community at large;

And whereas the reckless and impoverishing fire waste that confronts the people of our Province is appalling;

Therefore, believing that the loss can be minimized only by awakening in the public mind a universal watchfulness against carelessness, accumulation of rubbish and unsanitary conditions;

And because of this great need and in order to arouse a sense of watchfulness, carefulness and cleanliness, and to create a greater personal responsibility in reducing the number of preventable fires.

We have thought fit, by and with the advice of our Executive Council for our Province of Ontario, to name, and do hereby name Wednesday, the 9th DAY OF OCTOBER, 1918 AS FIRE PREVENTION DAY

And We do hereby urge that on this day, throughout our Province of Ontario, attention be called in schools and public places to the conditions that exist, and to the need of immediate action and co-operation on the part of everyone; and special exercises, addresses and other means be employed to impress on the public mind lessons of Fire Prevention.

To insure the success of this great Clean-Up Campaign it will be necessary to have the hearty and harmonious co-operation of all who have for their objects civic, social and industrial betterment.

The Proclamation should be read in all schools and at Public Gatherings.

Office of the Fire Marshal of Ontario, GEORGE F. LEWIS, Deputy Fire Marshal.

THE SITUATION

Field Marshal Haig reports that the British line has been advanced on a front of four miles north of the Scarpe, and many villages have been taken. The foe continues to retire, and it is said that big events on this front are likely to soon take place.

The French have occupied Berry-au-Bac, and are now making an irresistible advance along the main highway towards Laon. A French naval division has also occupied Beirut, the chief seaport of Syria, and a place of about 150,000 inhabitants.

The Americans have scored a local though important success by pushing the enemy from important heights northwest of the Aire.

President Wilson's hard at work preparing his reply to the latest so-called peace proposal of Germany. As a matter of course, the wires have first been kept busy by an interchange of views with the Premier of the Allied nations, and there cannot be any doubt as to what form his answer will take.

It was on October 9th, 1871, that a cow owned by Mrs. O'Leary of Chicago, kicked over a lantern and caused a conflagration which resulted in the destruction of 18,000 houses, extending over 2,000 acres, caused 200 people to perish and rendered 100,000 homeless, with a total loss of property estimated at $200,000,000.

40) carbolic acid (1 in 1000) bicarbonate, on leaving the patient. In this way the attendant will protect himself from the disease, and if he washes his hands thoroughly will not carry the disease to another.

3. Every person should endeavor to maintain the highest standard of general health by taking suitable exercise in the fresh air, eating wholesome food, and sleeping with the windows open and arranged so that no draught is produced.

5. Kissing should be avoided. 6. No food should be taken without previously washing the hands, and the hands should be kept away from the mouth and nose at all times.

8. All persons, especially those engaged in factories, large business establishments, etc., where a number of people are congregated, should report on the first sign of illness and be relieved of their duties.

9. The symptoms in typical cases, are as follows: An acute and sudden onset with headache, intense just behind the eyes and sometimes in the region of the stomach, elevation of temperature from 101 degrees to 104 degrees, a comparatively slow pulse rate.

10. The temperature becomes normal and the patient recovers within five days, providing complications such as pneumonia, middle ear disease and affection of the heart do not occur.

11. In these States, these rules have been freely disregarded. This, like the grippe, is having a very swift run through the country, but it is more serious.

12. Cut out the late hours. Get plenty of sleep. 13. Don't eat very food. Take enough time to eat it, then assimilation will be easy.

14. Breathe the fresh air. Get lots of this. Walk to and from your home. It is better than riding and will fill your lungs with fresh air.

15. Above all keep your feet warm. Throw away those tight shoes and thin hose. 16. Avoid crowds.

17. Be sure the drinking water is pure and the cups are sanitary.

PARIS TO RAISE $1000 FOR ARMY HUTS CAMPAIGN

Committee For Three Days Drive Was Organized There Yesterday

Organization for the Catholic Army Huts campaign in Paris was completed at a meeting in the council chamber of that town yesterday afternoon, at which the aims of the Knights of Columbus, who are conducting the campaign, were laid before a large gathering.

The following committee to assist the executive was also appointed: Hon. J. H. Fisher, John Harold, M.P., Thomas J. Dunn, T. Scott Davidson, M.L.A., D. J. Lynch, F. D. Wilder, D. O'Neill, H. Rehder, F. A. O'Neil, Wm. Johnson, K. Martin, W. P. Moriarty, D. J. Hall, John A. Blake, G. M. Huddle, Thomas Flahiff, F. Blackhurst, Thos. Moore, Mayor Robinson.

In connection with the Catholic Army Hut campaign in Paris, this paper should understand that the Knights of Columbus, as a fraternal society, are simply a collecting agency acting as trustees and assisting in the administration of the army huts which are under the direction of the Military chaplains service and regularly recognized by government authorities.

In the Army Huts overseas or in the Dominion, no fraternal, secret or business work of this society or other is permitted. The buildings and the tents are open to all soldiers all the time, and are used for recreation, social and religious purposes, and are not an event in the days programme in any of these buildings, to which a man in khaki is not a most welcome guest.

The slogan is, "All soldiers welcome" and the declaration is fully lived up to always. There is no competition with the Y. M. C. A., neither in the spirit of the work nor in the character of the endeavor, nor is there any opposition or duplication.

The Catholic Army Huts are trying to do for the Catholic soldiers in a religious way that the Y. M. C. A. is attempting to do for the Protestant soldiers. So far as recreational features are concerned, both organizations cater to all soldiers alike.

Therefore Catholics and non-Catholics should respond to this appeal. The importance and extent of the work is such that all should join hands to make the Catholic Army Hut appeal a magnificent success.

Wine Consumption in England. Restrictions in the brewing of beer are likely to result in the British people taking to wine as a drink.

Your Problems Solved??

Dr. Linscott in this column will help you solve your heart problems, religious, marital, social, financial and every other anxious care that perplexes you.

Visit the Sick: "Anxious to do good," asks what he can do to help people. Write to or visit the sick, feed the poor, clothe the naked, educate the ignorant, help your brother to his feet again who has fallen, lead sinners to seek the world's Saviour.

Attending Church: "Sarah D" asks "Why do the masses not attend church?" There are doubtless a great many reasons but the chief one is that men love to do evil rather than good; they are worldly, lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God.

The Wages of Sin: "H.C.R." asks "I am not a medical doctor and cannot advise what to do to free yourself from the disease which you have contracted." A physician can prescribe for you and likely tell whether or not, you are incurable.

TO DISCUSS JOINT EFFORTS TO CRUSH HUN NAVAL POWER

British Admiralty Board, Headed by First Lord, Reaches Washington to Take Up Question of Making Seas Safe From German Piracy—Invitations From U. S.

Washington, Oct. 7.—An Admiralty Board headed by Sir Eric Geddes, First Sea Lord of the British Admiralty, arrived in Washington today as the guests of the Navy Department. The party came in response to an invitation extended by Secretary Daniels to Sir Eric and time ago, and in part to return the visit to England of the British Secretary Roosevelt of the Navy Department.

"My visit to the United States," Sir Eric said to-night to the newspaper correspondents, "in company with Vice-Admiral Duff, Assistant Chief of the Naval Staff at the Admiralty, is in response to a most cordial invitation extended to us by the Secretary of the United States Navy. Mr. Daniels has invited me to discuss with him certain matters concerning the naval situation in the world, and to discuss the possibility of joint action between the British and American navies to crush German naval power and to make the seas safe for trade.

"In the past we have had the great advantage of receiving in our country distinguished United States naval officers and high officials and we know how valuable are these opportunities of close consultation. It is therefore a great pleasure to us to have been invited to visit your country and confer with your administration.

"Personally, I have the added pleasure of renewing my acquaintance with the United States Admiralty."

Kitchen, of this city, died at Camp Sherman, Ohio on Sunday, according to word received this morning by his brother, Harold Kitchen, who is employed by Hunt and Colter. Pte. Kitchen was a former Brantfordite, who, after trying several times to enlist in Canada, finally went to the United States, and was accepted there. Word of his death was sent from the officer in command of the camp. His body will be brought to Brantford for interment.

Mrs. E. Pankhurst, 120 Pearl St., received official notification this morning that her brother, Pte. Alex Wood was killed in action some days ago. Pte. Wood was a member of the 125th Battalion, until going to the front.

Pte. Percy Hensman

Suffering from gunshot wound in the back, Pte. Percy Hensman has been admitted to hospital at Lethbridge, according to word received in the city to-day, announcing that he is overseas with the 125th, and his wife has since moved to Owen Sound.

IS MISSING.

Mrs. Saunders, 11 Centre street, received a cablegram this morning from London, announcing that her son, Lieut. L. L. Saunders, of the Royal Air Force, has been reported missing since October 4th. The message said that a letter would follow.

Lieut. Saunders, who had been training in Texas and Toronto, left Brantford on last leave in March of 1917. He had since seen service at the front, as readers of the Courier will remember, because of the many interesting letters sent by him. At the time of enlistment he was manager of the Brantford Carriage Company. He would be twenty in February next. His relatives and friends still hope that he may be a prisoner. Mrs. F. Saunders, Sterling street, is his grandmother.

PTE. A. MELLIGAN.

Mr. Charles Melligan, 123 West Mill street, received a telegram to-day from Ontario, stating that his son, Pte. Augustus Melligan, had been admitted to the general hospital at Camiers, France, suffering from a gunshot wound in the left hand. Mr. and Mrs. Melligan have had four sons at the front and two others tried to get there. John, who also left with the 125th, was killed seven months ago, and Celeste, who was wounded, is still in the hospital. Frank is also in the hospital, suffering from a gunshot wound.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

The Brantford City Teachers' Institute held its regular meeting yesterday in Central School, the vice-president, Mr. McIntyre, presiding.

Following the routine business a letter was read from the Deputy Minister of Education, stating that a thorough revision of all Ontario readers is to be made at an early date and asking the teachers for criticisms of the present readers, and saying also, that any recommendations as to new material suitable for any of the readers would be seriously considered if sent before June, 1919.

Letters were then read from the publishers of two magazines, The Ontario Agricultural College Review, and The School, asking the patronage of the staff for said magazines.

Following this, Inspector Kilmer reported arrangements for the visit of city and county teachers to the schools of Hamilton on Friday next and asking teachers to bring with them a list of the various schools of that city. He announced also that the Education Dept. had changed the beginning of the Superannuation Fund year from April 1 to Sept. 1, and that the salaries of teachers were liable to an increased tax on their salaries for the five months which intervene between those dates in order to readjust matters. Action in the matter on the part of the staff was deferred until further information could be secured.

Mr. Foster now read a proposed revision of the constitution governing the body of teachers at the present time. The changes were minor and were adopted as read.

Excellent papers were given by Misses Hetherington, Douglas and Elliott, on a geography to Second and Third Book Classes, showing how to make the subject a live and interesting one.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S PEPPERMINT CURE FOR COLIC

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity, and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast, and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

EVACUATING COAST. By Courier Leased Wire. Bulletin. Amsterdam, Oct. 8.—The evacuation by the Germans of the Belgian coast region is continuing, the frontier correspondent of The Telegraph reported. The telephone lines between the frontier and the coast were being taken down yesterday and to-day.

The stores of material at Knocke near the coast, five miles from the Dutch border have been set on fire, the reports state, and many factories have been undermined in preparation for their quick destruction.

As part of the occupying troops would have to choose between capture and flight when the evacuation comes, the correspondent points out, instructions have been given them, he says, to escape to Holland in civilian clothes with the object of evading imprisonment and subsequently returning to Germany.

SOLDIERS TRUE LOVERS OF NATURE

Interesting Letter From Capt. H. H. Woods, Y. M. C. A. Worker With the Canadian Forces in France

France, September 6, 1918. If an Eskimo is offended by another, he composes a song to set forth his grievance. When it is finished, he invites everyone, including the offender, to hear it. If the audience approves of the song, the complainant is considered to have justified himself; if not, he is supposed to have been punished. If an Eskimo should lose or break some article that he has borrowed, the owner usually comforts him. If the owner shows resentment, he remains quite calm, for the Eskimo considers that only one person need be annoyed at a time. If nations in their accumulation of knowledge should adopt some such policy for the solution of international problems growing out of the world's misgovernment the horror of war would be practically deleted.

With the Spring season came birds that did not speak English and to whose notes the Tommies fitted words in much the same fashion as they have provided words for the sounds and calls of the birds. Among our fighting men are many disciples of Francis of Assisi who long ago set the pleasant fashion of making friends with his "Little Brothers of the Air" and studying their habits with minute and particular care and gaining a speaking acquaintance with the feathered friends of field and wood. Cuckoos called continually. Finches, beautiful in plumage and song, fluttered and still fluster about the copse and lane. Magpies, smart in strut and structure, seemed always to have been most actively engaged first in building their strong nests, then in guarding their treasures of eggs and later teaching their young to fly. Now we see them hunting far afield, as the ultimate gleaners, for the liberal bring which only waits the breeze to land being prepared for Fall planting. At the present season of the year all the birds are silent except for a casual snatch of faint music. One of the wonders of the year is the slight regard the birds pay to the noise of the guns and the confusion of the battlefield. The astonished soldier writes home of the birds that warble and build close behind the lines and of the nests and eggs of ground birds discovered even in old shell-holes. It takes, no doubt, something more than bursting shells and the roar of cannon to disturb the ingrained habit of Spring and Autumn migrations, and the concerts and house-keeping of the birds.

It would appear that soldiers are a big bundle of contradictions. They are mostly cool. Trained to kill they show human tenderness toward and interest in the small things of life. Birds, woods, streams, flowers, etc. On rambles from Rest Camp you will find them gathering flowers. "Marguerite, bleuets charmant. Ardent croquetier garance. Serres par un bout de ruban. Point de bouquet des Fleurs de France." Many of which are enclosed in their letters for home. Some for Mademoiselle, where they might be billeted, others the beginning of attentions which culminate in marriage. In this my sympathy is with the Canadian girls; however their loss—their sacrifice—in this respect will make for a further strengthening of the relationship and ties between the English and French speaking peoples. They are learning also to appreciate the customs, charm of character, gracefulness and natural courtesy of the French. Their companionship in war with the splendid "pollux" as they rub shoulders with every social scale means companionship in peace and the complete cementing of a new bond of friendship between our Allies. This companionship includes the British Tommy and Yankee Sammy. Many are the cosmopolitan and animated groups to be seen, each individual member rightly loving what is his own; each believing primarily in themselves, but with ideals the same. It is that spirit which makes for true patriotism. These may appear to be very small things. But, after all, it is the little things which make for pleasantness in a world, where there is all too much that is unpleasant. This is only one illustration of the fact that danger faced in common is still the strongest bond of union between man and man.

Their experience and education continued as they learn through the national days of each nation coming in the same month, viz., Canada, July 1st; United States, July 4th; France, July 14th; followed by that of Belgium, to estimate the value of the united strength of worthy companions enthusiastic in fighting a common foe. This may explain to a certain extent the difference between 1914—the beginning of the war—and 1918—the start of the fifth year—such as a higher estimation of the other—their with the better understanding they are marching to victory. Spring preparation, or more truly, continuous preparation, has resulted on the land, in a wonderful harvest which soldiers, civilians, men and women, young and old, have helped garner while younger boys and girls have by their gleaming completed the cleaning of every vestige of food producing grains from the extensive farm lands which have been under wonderful preparation.

every offence under the sun and are not to be excused by the color of the soldier as related by one of our soldiers who as a souvenir had taken a diary from a German into which he had with true German exactitude copied all the good letters he had written to a number of girls in the Fatherland, of various names from Geraldine to Wilhelmina. Often there are cute "digs" at of heavy, close and witty. Sometimes opinions are accompanied by a pictorial representation, showing there is much artistic as well as literary ability hidden in the ranks of the army. Some turn to poetry, in fact, he would seem to thrive for one always has the man who breaks into verse.

In the army it is understood that the word officers and gentlemen are synonymous, yet it would appear this is questioned at times as illustrated by the letter in which the following was written: "I am sure you are a bit of a right. He is more like a gentleman than an officer." "Leave" provides plenty of scope for subject matter, of which the following is a specimen: "You ask me when I am getting 'leave.' Well, I do not know what you mean. We have never heard of it out here. Perhaps you will tell me in detail what you mean when you write next." Almost sacrilegious is the story of Pat Casey's prayer, which was answered through the Y.M.C.A., but he was not quite satisfied. It is needless to say the story came to France via Chicago.

An Irish soldier, after eight months of hard, active service, applied for early leave. His request was granted, and then it dawned on him that he had no money to take advantage of his holiday. He wanted $75 to go to Paris. He said the walls of Messene were built and those of Athens pulled down to music. If this be true, poor Heine will suffer severely when the full pressure of our striking troops is brought to bear upon him.

Many, too, are the letters written during these periods when life is written down to waiting with the immediate prospect of having a thrill in every minute. To the lot of the officers falls ceaseless and careful censoring. Censoring letters is a monotonous task, but to the officer with an appreciation of what it has its compensations. They know the history, tragedy, poetry, pathos, heroics, humor, etc., that is being communicated so laden with messages of such vital importance. War is surely responsible for making heavy demands upon the postal systems of the world.

One officer was reading a letter written by a wounded soldier at a casualty clearing station. The letter was in praise of the patient's immediate prospect of having a thrill in every minute. To the lot of the officers falls ceaseless and careful censoring. Censoring letters is a monotonous task, but to the officer with an appreciation of what it has its compensations. They know the history, tragedy, poetry, pathos, heroics, humor, etc., that is being communicated so laden with messages of such vital importance. War is surely responsible for making heavy demands upon the postal systems of the world.

Occasionally will be found the man who tries to evade the censor as instanced by the story of the Welsh soldier, who wrote at the head of a letter to his mother, "Bralch yn dag, belying it to be a Welsh motto, something like 'God bless our home' although it was to pass. To the soldier's mother it read, 'Arm to the soldiers' and she knew her son was somewhere near Armentières. Little home truths are often revealed as cited by the man, whose wife had been negligent in writing, sending word to her to 'Say any thing you like to your mother.' Many close their letters to their wives innocently enough. I suppose, something after this fashion, 'May God bless you and keep you from your loving husband.' Love letters sometimes excite curiosity as illustrated by the Canadian girl who received a letter from her fiancé only to find the creator of it had been obliged to write a letter to his sweetheart. With much painstaking care the boy dictated what he wanted to say to one girl. When it was finished he asked, 'Would you mind writing 'holcher lach, air?' 'Not at all. Whom shall we write to this time?' 'Neither girl,' said our colored friend. 'All right,' agreed the officer, ready for any queer turn. 'What shall I say?' The colored one scratched his head for a moment before he said: 'Well, sir, 'jes' make it same as de first lottah.'

Of course, Germans are guilty of that son-in-law of Pa's (By Wellington.)

A little curly head to stroke, And four feet on the ground. Thoughts as ungratified show in a measure the character and mental equipment of such sound, stinking super soldiers as are now upholding the cherished traditions of right. Men who through the influence and training of home, church and school during the past years, have within themselves the capacity to become strong, soldiers in nine weeks. They recall their true size and importance in the world of men. The memory and example of those who went before is the inspiration that comes to them at present. They are more than repaying and returning to their parents and country the price and debt of their nurture and shielding all future generations from the evils and perils of our own.

It is such men of all classes, ranks the Y.M.C.A., as the trustee of those at home, seeks to serve through its city and leave work in hospitals and rest camps, on transport and railroads, in training camps and supply lines, in forestry and forward work, etc. As one branch of the service this work is made possible by citizens of Canada and the co-operation of the members of the Y.M.C.A., as the trustee of those at home, seeks to serve through its city and leave work in hospitals and rest camps, on transport and railroads, in training camps and supply lines, in forestry and forward work, etc.

Let there be no home shortage of exertion to supplement their efforts as the mighty task proceeds. No diverting of thought from duty and action, but rather the renewing and building of an earnest toward the climax of supreme effort from which will emerge complete victory, peace and home.

Music and Drama AT THE GRAND. This novel play with its wealth of beautiful scenery, its native band of Hawaiian singers and dancers will be seen here.

In order to perpetuate the popularity of that most beloved and finest of all Irishmen, "Father," "Bringing Up Father" fame. Manager Gus Hill has provided an entirely new musical comedy along new lines. The latest stage version of the world famous George McManus cartoons is entitled "Bringing Up Father at Home." It is in three acts and will be seen at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, matinee and night, Oct. 12. A company of fifty people has been engaged, including twenty-five prodigiously beautiful and talented young women, who it is understood form one of the most formidable singing and dancing choirs ever organized. John E. Cain will be seen in his original role of "Father," while Lida Kane returns to impersonate "Mother," a part which she created originally five years ago. A welcome addition to the ranks of Gus Hill stars is Blanche Newcomb, daughter of Bobby Newcomb, who in the heyday of his success, was the crown and America's foremost comedian and laugh-getter.

In announcing the other details of this exceptional theatrical event, the fact must not be overlooked, retarding some of the features and innovations introduced. There will be unique specialties, exclusive musical numbers, ensembles, novelties and surprises, besides a scenic investment calculated to add to the reputation of Mr. Hill as one of the most successful producers of things different in a theatrical way. Matinee as usual.
