Before it is Too Late.

If you have a grey-haired mother, And from home you are away, Sit down and write the letter You'd all day be day. Don't wait until her old steps Reach heaven's peaty gate, But show her that you think of her Before it is too late.

If you have a tender message, Or a loving word to say, Don't wait till you forget it, But whisper it to-day. Who knows what letter memories May haunt you if you wait? So make your loved ones happy Before it is too late.

The letter never smokes, The long-forgotten messages, For those some hearts are breaking. For those some loved ones wait, So show them that you care for them Before it is too late.

A Question of Honor.

Tom began to wash his face at breakfast. It was so snug and warm under the bed clothes that he lay there full ten minutes after he heard the rising bell ring. He knew it was cold in the room. The frost on the window told him that, and as a further test he had raised his chin above the quilted, and opening his mouth, given a big puff of breath. See! Well, he just guessed he could! It was almost as white as steam. So he dropped down again into the warm bed for those extra ten minutes.

"I can make up the time," he assured himself mentally. "When it's cold I always dress twice as quick." But he missed his calculation and was late to breakfast.

No remarks were made about it, but Tom knew this did not mean that his lateness was unnoticed.

"You know, Tom, it's got to be stopped—this being so late starting the day," his father said as he turned for his fur cap. "As you've lost so much time at the beginning of each day of late, you'd better begin making it up in hard work at the other end. Come directly home from school this afternoon and put in good work on the woodpile till you're called to supper."

If you had known Tom you could have told by the way he went about his chores how hard the decision of his father was for him. He never whined, laughed nor made a joke the whole while. Tom's brother Jack's wife noticed it just the way she always noticed things.

"Jack," she said to her husband after Tom had gone out with the milk pails, and she had to go to clear the milk, "don't you know anything? You know the skating will be fine to-day, and the boys flooded the river back of the barn last night—the mill boys—and the time out of school is little enough anyway."

"Well, father is always thorough when he does a thing. Tom's getting bad ways, Milly, and he puts off the bad that all the time, and works hazardous; that is a very serious way of doing in father's eyes. But there's nowhere a man who means better by his boys."

"Oh, I know that," Milly answered. "But she's always lived in the West, herself, and though there was not a better housekeeper to be found for miles around, Milly's nature, sunny and sympathetic, was not quite capable of understanding the stern strength her father-in-law seemed to have inherited from his Puritan ancestors. And Tom's mother was a Southern girl, and Tom, she felt sure, was like his mother. It was four years now since Milly had married Jack and come to keep house on the Newton farm. But whatever Milly's inner thoughts might be, she was always loyal to Jack's father—always. But sometimes her heart went out to loving care-free Tom a little pityingly when the father's determination and the boy's love of freedom clashed.

She was alone in the kitchen when Tom re-entered with a brimming milk pail. A cold blast of air followed the boy in. Without turning he gave the door a kick not quite strong enough

Even as he spoke he began unfastening his skates, and without another word from either of them, he led the way up the path.

"It was awful good of you, Milly," he understood better than if she had told him in words, how she was seeking to help him to be a good son. Tom hurried on ahead, and when Milly reached the house and glanced back she saw Tom working for dear life in the lean-to of the hay barn, working as though he would gladly make up for lost time.

"Maybe he will," she said, turning to her work. If he works like a heaver, he may do as much as though he had come straight home. But if he would only do as he should! He means well, but falls out by the way."

Summer Complaints Kill Little Ones.

At the first signs of illness during the hot weather months give the little ones Baby's Own Tablets, or in a few hours the child may be beyond cure. These Tablets will prevent summer complaints if given occasionally to well children, and will promptly cure these troubles if they come unexpectedly. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in every home where there are young children. There is no other medicine so effective and the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that the Tablets are absolutely safe. Mrs. E. LeBar, Carlton, Que. says:—"Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for regulating the stomach and bowels. I think no mother should be without this medicine." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents per box, Brockville, Ont.

Women's Wonderful Nerve.

There was a remarkable display of cool courage in a terrible situation on the part of two women parachutists named Daisy Shepard and Louise May at Longton, Staffordshire. Both women, with their parachutes vent up attached to one balloon, intending to descend from a height of 7000 feet. One parachute, however, became entangled in the netting, and the balloon shot up to an immense height, to the great anxiety of the crowd. Miss Shepard, who could have made her descent alone, would not leave her companion. At a height of 7000 ft., failing to release her parachute, she was forced to make a desperate leap through the air from one trapeze to the other, and the two women descended to the earth on the one parachute. They landed in a field at Leigh, eleven miles from Longton. Miss Shepard being seriously injured in the fall.—Standard of Empire.

Proved Beyond Doubt.

The disappointed victims of poor Catarrh remedies should read the statement of J. R. Smith, of Lake Street, N. B., in Catarrozone. He found an absolute cure and says: "Last winter my little girl of eight caught cold which lodged higher ears in the form of Catarrh. She became sick and deaf and nothing helped. By inhaling Catarrozone she got relief and gradually the discharge went away. She was cured perfectly of Catarrh. Personally I can recommend Catarrozone for coughs and throat irritation; it's a wonderful medicine." Sold everywhere, 50c, and $1.00.

How To Save Work In The Home

Most of the dust in the modern home comes from the floor. It is made, if you would use Floorplate right. And dust is merely a bother for the housewife and the maid. It's a danger. Dust specks do not do any harm. The germs of all infectious diseases, in fact, flourish in the dust. Floorplate reduces floor-dust to a minimum.

Union-Reform Candidate.

The convention called at Berwick on Friday of last week nominated Mr. N. W. Eaton, of Canning, as the candidate of the Union-Reform party to contest the county at the approaching federal election. Notwithstanding the very busy season and that this was the third meeting of the kind held the attendance of representatives and Alliance workers was large, and the greatest enthusiasm and unanimity prevailed. The deep interest manifested and the apparent determination to make the nomination unanimous whoever the choice of the meeting might be was one of the most pleasing features of the convention which was most harmonious throughout. It was very apparent that those present had the full courage of their convictions and in this matter are working for a very definite principle. In Mr. Eaton they have a candidate of whom they may be proud. A stalwart man in every respect, he has for years been a most uncompromising worker in the cause of temperance and morality. In accepting the nomination he is making a big sacrifice as he is a very busy man and extensive business interests require his personal oversight. However, he feels it a sacred duty at the present crisis to give himself to the work, and Mr. Eaton is not the man to hesitate when the voice of duty calls. In the approaching contest the Union-Reform party will have a standard-bearer to whom they can look with proud satisfaction, and it is elected Mr. Eaton will beyond doubt prove an admirable representative of the manhood of Kings county.

School Playground.

The following short article may be of interest to the citizens of Wolfville in view of the recent agitation for a suitable playground for the young people of the town. The article is from the Toronto Mail and Empire.—The setting apart of a few school yards for the use of the children of congested districts is a step in the right direction, but it constitutes no solution of the playground question. The physical and moral welfare of the rising generation demands that the boys and girls shall no longer be compelled to play in the city streets, but shall have healthy spaces in which to enjoy themselves, and take the exercise which their young bodies need. Play is the natural heritage of the young. It is largely by participation in games played amidst healthy surroundings that they fit themselves for the strain of their after-life. It is for such reasons that all friends of children should heartily support the Playgrounds Association, which has as its object the establishment of recreation grounds in different parts of the city. Prompt action must be taken if we are to avoid the lamentable conditions which have arisen in larger cities.

Civic Pride Needed.

In the course of a recent interview, Sir Thomas Shingnessy made the following observations relative to the duties of those who live in cities and towns:—
"To secure good sewerage, to keep the streets neat and clean, to make the place attractive and beautiful are absolute necessities. Then comes the beautifying stage. Beauty is a good asset. The scenic wealth of the Canadian Rockies is worth a mint of money to the Canadian Pacific Railway, and while the loveliness of the mountains cannot of course be reproduced elsewhere, it is an object lesson which should appeal even to the most indifferent for the attractiveness of a place brings visitors from afar. And the average tourist who is pleased with a place is a generous money spender."

The educated blind person is as a rule self-reliant, self-supporting and an inspiration to those with whom he comes in contact. An uneducated blind person is a burden to himself and to his friends. Education is free to every blind boy and girl in the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland, but this fact is not always known to the parents of such children. Our public-spirited citizens, boys and girls as well as grown-ups, to help for the work of the School for the Blind, at Halifax, can best do so by sending to the Superintendent the names, ages and addresses of all blind persons under twenty-one years of age. Address: C. E. Fraser, Superintendent School for the Blind, Halifax, N. S.

THE ACADIAN has received a copy of the price list of the Nova Scotia Horticultural Exhibition, which is to be held at Kentville on Oct. 7th, 8th and 9th. It is from the press of the Union Printing Co. and is a most creditable production, comparing favorably with the St. John and Halifax price-lists. The regular premiums amount to $1000 while $2000 is offered in special prizes. A number of special features are introduced in the price-list, including an interesting article on 'Apple Culture in the Cornwalls and Annapolis Valley'. Copies may be had from the secretary, Mr. F. C. Rand, Kentville.

The Hudson Bay Railway project will be launched at once. It will cost a total of $15,000,000 all of which will be realized by the sale of 1000,000 shares of Dominion lands at the price of three dollars per acre. Thus the West will get a short route to the sea and will pay for its own line in the far north. This looks like a good scheme, which will benefit the West without imposing any burden upon the East.

N. S. Central Association of the United Baptists.

The fifty-eighth annual meeting of the N. S. Central Association convened at the Baptist church at Windsor, Saturday morning, June 27th.

This Association includes the United Baptist churches of the counties of Halifax, Hants and Kings.

The first session was held at 10 o'clock, the meeting being called to order by the Moderator, Rev. J. C. Spurr. About a hundred and fifteen delegates were in attendance. The nominating committee nominated the following officers for the ensuing year: Pres., Nelson B. Smith, Esq. Halifax; Vice-Pres., Rev. E. Crowell, D. D., Secretary, Rev. J. D. Spidell, Kentville; Asst. Sec'y, Rev. C. F. Reidout, Treas., C. Henry Dimock, Esq., Windsor. The newly elected Moderator took the chair. A welcome to the Association was extended by Rev. S. B. Kempton, D. D., to several pastors recently settled in these counties. Rev. Neil Herman, on behalf of the church, extended a welcome to the delegates. In his characteristic manner he cordially welcomed them to the hospitality of the homes and the spiritual fellowship of the church.

The Secretary read letters from most of the churches included in the Association. These letters showed that on the whole, the work is progressing. The total membership of the United Baptist churches represented in the Association is 8685, the number of Sunday-schools is 75, and scholars enrolled number about 4500. During the year there have been 428 additions by baptism, 270 of whom have come from the Sabbath-schools. This again emphasizes the great value of Sunday-school work.

The second session opened at two o'clock. Reports were received from the chairmen of County Conferences, that for Kings county by Rev. J. W. Brown, Ph. D., for Hants by Rev. J. A. Lawson. The Report on negro evangelization by Rev. I. W. Porter called forth a lengthy discussion. According to the last census the colored population of N. S. numbered 600, ninety per cent. of whom are adherents of the Baptist faith. To give these pastoral care is an important part of the Home Mission work.

The Report on Obituaries was submitted by Rev. J. C. Spurr. During the year death has removed some prominent workers from the constituency, among them Rev. Dr. Sawyer, of Acadia College, Rev. Isaiah Wallace, D. D.; Rev. George Tufts, brother of Prof. Tufts, of Acadia; Mr. Shields, a teacher at Hantsport, deacon Masters, Summerville; deacon (colored) and Turner Peck, of Wolfville. These brothers after many years of faithful service will be greatly missed.

The Educational Report submitted by Rev. J. W. Brown, Ph. D., was an encouraging one. It showed the attendance at the institutions in Wolfville during the year to have been 582. The Second Forward Movement had been inaugurated in the construction of a new Science building is in course of construction. On the whole the outlook for Baptist educational work is most encouraging.

Rev. F. H. Beals read the Foreign Missionary Report. It reviewed the Foreign Mission work, showing marked progress but still a lack of workers and of funds. However the churches are increasing their offerings for this work. The Laymen's Missionary Movement is being looked to as a great help in solving the financial problem. A most interesting letter reviewing the year's work among the Tagalos was written by Miss Cora Elliott, now in India, on behalf of our Conference there and read before the Association.

The third session was called to order by the Moderator. This was devoted to educational work. Interesting and helpful addresses were given by W. B. Hutchinson, D. D., President of Acadia College, and by A. E. Dunlop, L. L. B., a member of the Board of Governors of Acadia. Pres. Hutchinson reviewed the year's work at Acadia, explaining the need of supporting it financially, and why the Baptist people of these provinces should send their sons and daughters to Acadia.

Sunday was a beautiful day, and the attendance at the different services was large. The pulpits of the town and vicinity were supplied by the visiting clergy. At 11 o'clock the Association sermon was preached by Rev. F. H. Beals, pastor of Canard Baptist church, who took as his text Prov. 23: 23—Buy the truth and sell it not. It was an able and eloquent discourse. The afternoon session was in the interest of Sunday-school work. Interesting addresses were given by Rev. J. W. Brown, who spoke on the possibilities of the organized Bible class; and by Rev. Josiah Webb and Mrs. J. I. Lloyd, of Kentville. The evening session was a platform meeting in the interest of Foreign Missions. N. B. Smith, Esq., of Halifax, spoke in the interest of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. Miss Blackader, returned missionary, spoke on the work in India, and there was also an address by Rev. W. V. Higgins, the Field Secretary for Foreign Missions. The service was an impressive one, the excellent addresses greatly quickened the missionary spirit of the Association. Miss Blackader's clear presentation of the work was especially impressive.

In the other churches, the services were conducted as follows:—
MORNING.—Rev. Charles E. Freeman, of Annapolis, preached at 11 a. m. In the evening the Trustees were in attendance. On service being conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Langille.

WOLFVILLE, N. S.

PREBYTERIAN—Morning—Rev. W. B. Hutchinson, President of Acadia College, Evening, Rev. H. F. Waring. Judging from the most favorable comment, the sermons by the visitors were very greatly enjoyed.

The seventh session was called to order at 9 o'clock when the first business was the report on denominational literature, given by Rev. P. S. MacGregor. This report emphasized the necessity of the denomination having headquarters for literature here in the province, urged a greater interest in a colporteur in the field.

Rev. I. W. Porter submitted the report on Christian benevolence, which evoked a long discussion and was adopted. Rev. G. A. Lawson submitted the Report on Sunday-schools. These reports with the necessary business occupied the morning session.

The afternoon session was called to order at 2 o'clock when the discussion of the Report on denominational literature was concluded, and the temperance report was given by Rev. A. J. Vincent. There was a long discussion of this Report, participated in by Rev. W. C. Vincent, Captain Tingley, A. E. Dunlop, W. R. Porter, and deacons Sanford and W. J. Gates, Rev. E. Crowell gave a very helpful and thoughtful address on 'The Church and Temperance Legislation.'

The last session of the Association was a Home Missionary Platform Meeting at 7.45. Rev. W. H. Jenkins gave a stirring address on the Grand Lige Missions, emphasizing the greatness of the problem of enlightening the French population of Canada. Rev. W. C. Vincent gave a clear and forceful presentation of the needs in Western Mission work. He was followed by Rev. I. W. Porter, who with his usual earnestness presented the Home Mission work and its needs within this province.

Rev. G. A. Lawson then submitted the Report on Resolutions, the first of which was one extending the thanks of the Association to the pastor and congregation for the use of the beautiful church building for the sessions of the Association, to the choir for the excellent music they had furnished, and to the people for the hospitality shown toward the delegates, in providing so amply for their entertainment. This resolution was passed unanimously.

The large attendance, the hospitality of the homes, the natural beauty of the place all contributed to make this one of the most enjoyable sessions of the Central Association.

Wedded in the West.

From the Daily News of Calgary, Alta., of June 22nd we clip the following paragraph which will be of interest to readers of THE ACADIAN:—
Mr. V. W. Saunders and Miss Ruby Evelyn Bentley, both recently from Nova Scotia, were married last night by Rev. C. C. McLaurin at his residence on Crescent Heights. The bride arrived in the city last night on the evening train.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. George Bentley, of Sheffield Hill, and the groom one of our Wolfville boys.

NYAL'S SPRING TONIC

A Pleasant Bitter, Purely Vegetable. An Energizer & Stimulant.

Composed of those vegetable Tonics, Bitters, etc., which supply the system with material that has been benumbed during the winter. At the spring season the body craves just these elements which are combined in the proper proportions to produce the greatest human energy.

An Excellent Tonic for every season, but particularly necessary in the Spring. Banishes that tired, lax feeling that comes as a result of the too close confinement of the winter months. Gives a snap and spring to the indolent muscles, braces up the tired nerves, and stimulates the appetite. Makes work a pleasure. Gives a zest to the daily task and supplies that comfortable feeling of confidence and ability that comes when the whole human mechanism is working in a normal healthy condition.

RATHER THAN RUN RIDE A BICYCLE

The United States Government recognizes the Bicycle as the medium of quick delivery service for it is pictured on the regular special delivery stamps issued by the Post Office Department.

Other Business Men Should Take the Hint and use a Bicycle.

Taken all in all what other possession costing so little money is able to give such returns in health and economy as the bicycle. It is not a matter of argument at all. Every rider of a bicycle ago knows he felt better, slept better and actually was better physically when he used the wheel daily.

Those who have taken up the wheel again, and those who have never stopped riding, or those who wish to get right with nature, ride a bicycle and ride a good one. The place to get them is at
