THE KAISER'S VISIT
Kaiser William has been making a visit to his grandmother, the queen of England, and has omitted no means to make his importance felt. There is a good deal of the brass band in William's composition anyway. His love for the imposing and ostentatious much resembles that of Napoleon the third of sainted memory, save that he has not, up to the present, proved himself to be such a consummate actor in low comedy parts as that gentleman is universally conceded to have been. A good deal of the warmth of William's welcome was due to the fact that William was on the fireworks committee himself and insisted that nothing but the biggest kind of rockets should be set off. But there is after all a warm feeling of kinship existing between Germany and England in these latter days, that might well be allowed to slip over a little on an occasion like the present. England, it has been remarked, is so small and compact a country, with such a strong national pulse beating out to its very extremities, that it can get up the most tremendously concentrated and absorbing enthusiasm upon a suitable subject at the shortest possible notice. It is not, therefore, surprising that, although, since 1814, no less than three Caesars of Russia, two kings of Prussia and two sovereigns of France have visited the little title island, there should be more fuss made over the prodigal grandson than over all the rest, and that the fatted calf should be slain with the greater zest and alacrily.

William has figured in his own spectacular style in many gorgeous pageants, but he knows now, perhaps for the first time, what a real welcome is like. He will not be indifferent it may be guessed to England's naval greatness as it ministers to his reception; neither will he be indifferent to the monumental intellectuality of the British war office, which, by its bungling, prevented him from having the pleasure of taking part in the proposed grand volunteer review at Wimbledon.

The pilgrimage of the haughty young kaiser, however, is mainly significant for its political aspect. The triple alliance, the promulgation of which has lately thrown all France into a rage, and plunged the car into a fit of the sulks, derives additional strength, moral and mental, from being obviously backed up by a close understanding with England. Though the hot Parisian anger is again glowing fiercely, the prospect of having to face Germany in the field and England on the seas, is the best conceivable guarantee of peace on the part of France for some years to come. Simultaneously, too, with the spectacle of England and Germany embracing each other, comes one of the closest indications possible of the genuineness of the bonds which unite Germany and Austria—the combined celebration by German and Austrian troops on the battlefield of Konigsgratz in Bohemia. A few years ago in America the conflict at Gettysburg was celebrated by the men of the south as well as of the north, but such a scene until now has been wanting on the political stage of Europe.

MR. WILSON'S DEFENCE.
We would invite attention to the manly and spirited letter from Mr. Wilson, M. P. P., in answer to the charges made against him in the editorial of Wednesday's Gleaner, the personal which letter we are sure will satisfy any reasonable mind of the malignant faculty of the charges so preferred. The extreme caution with which the editorial aforesaid was worded shows conclusively that its writer himself had no faith in the truthfulness of the statements; and when we remember that ever since Mr. Wilson has been in public life continuous attacks of exceeding bitterness have been upon him from time to time in the columns of the Gleaner, the personal which letter we are sure will satisfy any reasonable mind of the malignant faculty of the charges so preferred. The extreme caution with which the editorial aforesaid was worded shows conclusively that its writer himself had no faith in the truthfulness of the statements; and when we remember that ever since Mr. Wilson has been in public life continuous attacks of exceeding bitterness have been upon him from time to time in the columns of the Gleaner, the personal which letter we are sure will satisfy any reasonable mind of the malignant faculty of the charges so preferred.

It is certainly significant that in the published proceedings of the recent session of the council, in which we met the report of the committee on the secretary treasurer's accounts, embodying the payments made to the present secretary treasurer by Mr. Wilson, and before whose session the whole matter was discussed, no allegation such as is contained in the Gleaner appears, nor do we find any reporting placed upon the minutes supporting any such allegation. The silent conclusion is that a majority of the members of the council could not have regarded Mr. Wilson's conduct in the light in which it is viewed by the editor of the Gleaner, his life-long enemy.

A PROMISING VENTURE.
We have it on the authority of the editor of the Gleaner that an action has been brought by him to recover the sum of $16,000 or $18,000 against James Robinson, M. P. P., and a like action against John O'Brien, M. P. P., for taking their seats in the house of assembly as members of the legislature, they being at the same time contractors with the government, and thereby disqualified from sitting or voting in that capacity. We would like to see Jimmy do well. The recovery of the amount ought to put him on his feet financially after the reverse of the past few years. No doubt Messrs. O'Brien and Robinson will hasten to fork over the penalties at once. The action which the virtuous Jimmy has taken, and in which G. F. Gregory by a strange coincidence figures as attorney, is of course, prompted solely by patriotic motives. Roadmaster McKay for some reason or other has been suspended from his honorable position as hostler of the Auggan stables, and the man has fallen upon a scavenger of the proper sort. It may be that roadmaster McKay has been relieved of further duty because the work is not in the protest line. Nevertheless, we think when a chance to make an honest dollar arises the Negro Hill patriot should not be ignored.

UNCLE SAM VICTIMIZED.
Whatever may be said of Uncle Sam's merits from a business point of view, he cannot be said to be a complete success in his domestic and paternal character. He has never been able to settle just what he ought to do with his negro charges in the South, and as to the Indian, the poor man knows quite as much about raising an Indian as some people know about raising an unruly youngster. Every attempt he has made to nurse and educate the noble red man into civilized modes of existence, has made Uncle Sam appear more ridiculous in the role of parent than ever. Recently he concluded to civilize the Indians by enrolling them in his army as soldiers. The red man grumbled a good deal because he was only allowed one squaw and because his rations of beans were reduced to a minimum, but on the whole felt very gleeful as he surveyed himself in the regulation blue and brass, and as he gathered around the regulation camp-kettle, his joy was a thing not only to be seen but heard. But alas! for Uncle Sam and his dusky pets. Last week he sent sixty of the Chickasaw militia to aid the regular troops in Indian Territory to eject some 6,000 people who were squatting in the country without permits. 'Sad to relate the red soldiers had become initiated into the mysteries of the cantina. Within twenty-five miles of the point of departure they all got drunk and proceeded to paint the landscape a deep crimson hue. It is said that they had, in addition to the usual ammunition, a gallon jug on each saddle and a barrel of whiskey in the commissary wagon. Troops thus armed and possessed of the noble Chickasaw's warlike spirit, could hardly fail to be formidable. They shot through the farm-house windows as they passed by, and chattered a mile or more of ground and finally riddled him with bullets. Becoming inspired with military ardor, they next killed a farmer's horse and then stopped a tiller of the soil on the road and threatened to shoot him because he was white. All of which must go a long way to convince Uncle Sam that the only reliable Indian is a dead one.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
James H. Crockett, nominal editor of the Gleaner, takes it upon himself to announce that it was the editor of THE HERALD who gave Progress the information that James H. Hanney, of the St. John Gazette, was an editorial contributor to that paper. Mr. Crockett jumps at this conclusion and like many of his conclusions is entirely erroneous. What Mr. Hanney is a contributor to the Gleaner is not known to the editor of this paper, nor has he any interest in ascertaining the fact. Mr. Hanney is an excellent writer and is perfectly within his right in choosing to supply his own paper with the Gleaner. Mr. Crockett is of opinion that it is a compliment to him that the public should suppose that Mr. Hanney, Mr. Gregory and Dr. Stockton write his editorials. The compliment is a doubtful one. It implies that no one believes that Mr. Crockett is capable of writing them himself.

In ten years more the population of Scotland will exceed that of Ireland. The contrast between the two countries is a striking one, and does not admit of any very clear explanation. Ireland has a better soil than Scotland; it is governed by the same laws in every material respect; the Irish race is a most prolific one, and yet the population is decreasing with wonderful rapidity. The decrease of course is caused mainly by emigration, but emigration is rather the effect than the cause of Ireland's retrogression. One reason, perhaps, is that Ireland, in the world over, does not, as a rule, take kindly to agriculture; another is that the country has for the past half century been cursed with a succession of political demagogues who have sown discord and dissension among the people. Other causes might be assigned, but these, we think, are the principal ones. The following table shows the manner in which the population of Scotland has increased and that of Ireland declined since 1841, when the latter attained its greatest height.

Ireland, 8,196,597	5,412,377	4,706,162
Scotland, 2,620,184	3,360,018	4,033,103

The conservative papers who assumed the responsibility of belittling the charges made against contractor McGreevy and Sir Hector Langevin during the past fortnight, are not in the best spirits at present. Their alacrity in defending Sir Hector and his boodling party was as unimpaired as it was foolish. Whether O'Brien or Murphy was a man of indifferent reputation does not in the least affect the gravity of the offence of which Sir Hector and his friends were guilty. In the face of Mr. Taylor's admission that he received gifts to the extent of $2,000 from the McGreevy gang, no amount of sophistry can efface from the public the painful impression already produced. Those who are familiar with the upright and patriotic character which Mr. Taylor has always exhibited as a public journal, know that he is quite incapable of making charges of so grave a nature as those which he has preferred without having had reasonable grounds for so doing. That he had such grounds is becoming more and more manifest as the scandalous details of the Langevin jobbery are being brought to light.

A GRAND OLD MAN.
The death of Hannibal Hamlin removes one of the most noted figures from the arena of American politics. Mr. Hamlin's political life extended over a period of more than fifty years, and his public career was distinguished by ability as well as honesty and a truly democratic simplicity of habit. Though mixing during his whole life with all the pomp and display that distinguish the lofty stations with which he was identified, he never departed from his unaffected manner of life. He paid no attention to the dictates of fashion, went fishing and shooting like one of the people, and smoked his corn-rod pipe as freely in the corridors of the capitol at Washington as in the backwoods of Maine. This quality, combined with his robust honesty and rugged integrity of character, caused him to be most idolized by the people. His life proves what other great lives have proved as well: that while the man who tries to dazzle the people by haughty display and foolish affectation may succeed in impressing his image upon men's minds it is he alone who is content to be one of the plain people, who can fix his likeness in their hearts.

It is rather singular that Mr. Hamlin, like Adams and Jefferson, should die on the 4th of July. He was 82 years of age. Death came to him suddenly as he was enjoying a social game of cards with all the zest of youth among his friends on the national holiday. He was to the last as vigorous of body as of mind. Long will the grand old life of "the old Carthaginian," as he was affectionately called, linger in the memory of those who love plain, manly worth and uprightness of character.

MR. WILSON'S DEFENCE.
His Clear and Conclusive Reply to the Gleaner's Charges.

To the Editor of THE HERALD.
Sir:—In Wednesday's Gleaner is to be found what purports to be a correct report of the proceedings of the recent session of the county council of the municipality of York, and an editorial devoted entirely to my conduct as secretary treasurer of York, in which the word "vampire" is applied to me, and in which I am charged with the appropriation of the county funds for my own use. In looking over the articles that appear in the Gleaner during the construction of the water works in this city, and comparing them with those of the recent attack, there is a strange similarity in tone and expression, which is accounted for by the fact of the frequent visits of James K. Pinder during the recent sessions of the council to the office of George F. Gregory, Q. C., and the rendezvous of the Crockett gang, whenever they have a contract on hand to blacken the character of some one to whom they have taken a particular dislike.

I was aware that this attack was to be made from certain hints recently thrown out in the columns of the Gleaner, and I knew that Mr. Black had furnished the editor of that paper with the foundation material, surcharged with that malignity and hate which he has evinced towards me during the whole period of my occupancy of the office of secretary treasurer. It will be noticed by any one who takes the trouble to peruse the report of the committee on the secretary treasurer's accounts at the recent session, before whom this alleged shortage was discussed, that it contains no statement that the payments made by me to the present sec. treas. since his election to office, were indicative of anything like embezzlement or wrong doing on my part, notwithstanding the fact that a determined effort was made by two members of the committee—Pinder and Fullerton—to incorporate into the report an allegation to that effect, and it will be further noticed that in the report of the proceedings of the council at the recent session, no resolution of censure upon me is to be found in regard to the said payments, which goes to show that neither the members of the committee nor the council regarded my conduct in the light in which it is viewed in the Gleaner.

In addition to this, I have the assurance of my friends at the bar, as well as that of members of the council who voted against me last January for secretary treasurer, that they were satisfied that there was nothing intentionally wrong in my conduct during the time I held that position. Now what are the charges made by the Gleaner?
It says there was a deficiency in my accounts in January, 1890, of $122.41, and further remarks: "We shall allow that this might have been an oversight" in connection with which remark I desire to say that the printer's devil could not have caught the right meaning of the manuscript, for no such concession, so me, could have dropped from my mind, and I do not know of any one who Mr. Black or Mr. Pinder, two of the promoters of this attack, credit for any such suggestion.

The facts in regard to this item of $122.41 are these: During the January session of the council in 1888, the committee, in going over my accounts, found an amount of a county school fund which had been charged twice, and which collector Holyoke had against the overseers of the poor in the parish of Kingsclear, for supplies, had been wrongly charged against me. I do not remember the amount of each item, but together they made $122.41.

I have not access to the report of the committee in regard to this $122.41 made up as aforesaid, but I think I am safe in saying that it stated that these charges had been made by mistake.
In making up the account at the close of the year 1889 the amount to the credit of the county at the close of 1888 was taken from the ledger instead of from the report of the committee and the $122.41 was overlooked.

The accounts were sent to the auditor during that year about the 15th of December and although he detected this omission he was not the means of calling attention to that of any of my statements, and even went so far, as I am informed, as to make the publisher of the report promise not to show the report to anyone until the session of the council of that year. William W. Graham, the chairman of the committee on my accounts that year and a warm friend of Mr. Black's reported this matter to the council without asking me for one word of explanation in regard thereto, although he promised Messrs. Fullerton and Mowatt that he would do so before he reported. When the report was read I explained the matter to the council and asked for a committee to look into it. The committee was appointed and after an investigation reported to the council the facts as I have stated them. A bill for $101.12 was this amount of $122.41 was placed to the credit of the county as was found in the accounts submitted at the July session of that year. Of course Mr. Black did not give the Gleaner this information.

In regard to the amount of $285 paid to deputy sheriff Hawthorn, and alleged to be a private bill paid by a county cheque, the facts are as follows: I had engaged Mr. Hawthorn to go to Boston and serve some papers for me, and promised to pay him the money in advance. When Mr. Hawthorn came to the office I was in St. John, and there being no private cheques in the office signed at the time, and Mr. Hawthorn having to go by the next train, Mr. Hughes said to Mr. Hawthorn that as his salary was nearly due, he would give him a check on his salary in advance, and when Mr. Wilson came back he would fix it all right. The matter was overlooked, however, and my attention was not called to it, and when Mr. Hawthorn came in for his salary the whole amount was paid to him by one of the clerks, who did not know of part of the salary being then paid. Mr. Hawthorn, of course, thinking that the matter had been arranged between myself and the county, had me charged with the thirty-five dollars. The above statement will be corroborated by Mr. Hughes and Mr. Hawthorn.

However, I paid these amounts to Mr. Black for which I have my receipt. I am charged with having received $100 from the overseers of the poor of the parish of Canterbury, in the case of bastardy, and not crediting it. I did not place it in the supplementary county accounts which I presented to the council in January, 1891, for the reason that in my opinion it was no part of the general funds of the county, and I stated to the committee on my accounts, that that money was in my hands in addition to the balance to the credit of the county at that time, and Mr. Goodspeed, a member of the committee, informed me on Wednesday last, that he remembered that I had so stated. Then there is the item of $60.74, the amount of checks not taken into consideration in the settlement when Mr. Black took office. There was a certificate of the clerk of the Peace, claiming that the provincial government ought to supply these forms at their own expense, which is another reason, as every member of the council knows, for the delay in the settlement of this matter.

I have now gone over in detail all the charges made against me in the Gleaner, and I am willing to leave it to any unprejudiced mind to see whether, in view of the explanations I have here given, I am open to the charge of appropriating the public funds to my own use. If I were desirous of referring to my own private affairs during my term of office as secretary treasurer, it would be a very simple matter to show that at the time when each of those mistakes occurred I had money to my own credit in the People's bank of New Brunswick; and that although poor enough, I was not driven by scarcity of private funds to embezzle the money belonging to the county, as hinted in the Gleaner.

That mistakes have occurred in my accounts during my term of office, I do not deny, but that they were intentionally made for the purpose of defrauding the county, I do deny. During my whole term of office, as secretary treasurer, Mr. Black would never call my attention to any errors in the accounts, although they were in his hands generally a month before the council met, but would call Jas. K. Pinder's attention to them and he, always actuated, no doubt, by a strong desire for the public good, would impart the information to the other members of the council for the purpose of pointing their minds against me.

The explanation which I gave before the council on Tuesday last with reference to the above items, was not fully reported in the columns of the Gleaner, and the report contained nothing but misrepresentations; and not only this, but the remarks of some of the councillors in regard to me and my position, were distorted far away from the truth, as I am since informed by these councillors themselves.

I have been unavoidably many times called away from my office on business, and at such times, as every man must know who has a business, the work of the office was unavoidably left in the hands of Mr. Black, and it is to be regretted that many things would be done in the routine business without my knowledge unless my attention was directly called to them.

The experience of Mr. Black who, in my opinion is one of the instructors of the county, ought to be a warning to him. He was once upon a time deputy secretary treasurer and as such was largely responsible for the transactions of the county's business, and in Mr. Rainsford's absence he was in charge of the office, and yet notwithstanding his vigilance and impeccable business methods, his own published report on the county accounts of 1885 disclosed the fact that the county treasury was relieved of upwards of $3,000 right under his nose, which sum has never been paid, and never will be. I will refer the editor of the Gleaner and Mr. Black, and their assistants, to page 104 of the auditor's report of 1885, where they will find food for thought and material for one or more editorials and the present secretary treasurer will find information there to enable him to determine how the county funds were handled under his supervision. But then, I suppose, to allow $3,000 to be pilfered under one's nose, shows one's incapacity to see that the amount of a jury warrant, shows the thief.

Now, how does the case stand against me in the light of a truthful presentation of the facts?
The amount of $122.41 was considered by the council at the July session, 1890.
The item of wild land tax, $157.50, and bastard money, $100, formed no part of the county funds, and were accounted for in my report to the council in January, 1890.
The omission of the $60.74 of outstanding cheques from the settlement with Mr. Black at the time I handed over to him the books and money was as much his fault as mine, as he was personally present in the office and assisted the student in calculating the balance due the county from me, upon which calculation I have the following receipt:
RECEIVED FROM William Wilson the sum of three hundred and eighty-one dollars and seventy-seven cents, balance of county monies in his hands to this date as per account rendered this day in full.
JOHN BLACK, Secy. Treasurer, York.

Mr. Black took away the cheque book containing the stubs corresponding to the cheques included in this amount of $60.74, and the bank book containing the balance corresponding with the bank certificate.
There remained then the following four accounts for the omission of which from the public accounts some slight degree of indirect responsibility may be saddled upon me by my enemies, viz:
A. C. Dow, draft, . . . . . $125.00
Jury warrant, . . . . . 40.50
Shortage in 2nd jury warrant, 70.00
B. Hawthorne, salary, . . . . . 25.00
Agreeing an indebtedness of $270.00, but on the other side of the account there is an amount of $100 justly due me for services as secretary treasurer in the revision of the electoral lists in the fall of 1890, which the council have refused to pay, while on the other hand I have discharged the claim against me when called upon so to do to the utmost farthing, with interest added.
The statement that I was dismissed from office because of failure to account for the funds intrusted to my charge is not correct, as every one acquainted with the facts knows. Let us see how it was managed. The first step was to get a committee appointed on my accounts from whom I never could expect a fair report. This was all arranged before the election of warden. And who composed this committee? James K. Pinder, Spencer Inch, Luke Lawson, William W. Graham and Luther Goodspeed, every one of whom, except Mr. Goodspeed, was employed to defend me, and Mr. James K. Pinder even went so far as to inform Mr. Kinghorn that he was told by an alderman of the city of Fredericton that I was seen stealing wood from the court house for use in my own office. George J. Colver was sent for, George F. Gregory was at work, James S. Neill took a hand and then the Crockett's, young and old, swarmed in and out the doors of the council room like rats around the port hole of a sinking ship.

The canvass was made entirely upon political grounds and on account of personal hate. I had thirteen votes up to 2 o'clock on Wednesday. The council adjourned for an hour on that afternoon and during that time Mr. Calhoun, one of my supporters, suddenly changed his mind. What caused this change perhaps J. S. Neill could tell. It is said that Calhoun's provincial government ought to supply these forms at their own expense, which is another reason, as every member of the council knows, for the delay in the settlement of this matter.

I have now gone over in detail all the charges made against me in the Gleaner, and I am willing to leave it to any unprejudiced mind to see whether, in view of the explanations I have here given, I am open to the charge of appropriating the public funds to my own use. If I were desirous of referring to my own private affairs during my term of office as secretary treasurer, it would be a very simple matter to show that at the time when each of those mistakes occurred I had money to my own credit in the People's bank of New Brunswick; and that although poor enough, I was not driven by scarcity of private funds to embezzle the money belonging to the county, as hinted in the Gleaner.

A GOOD DRAWING.—In the window of George A. Burkhardt's photographic gallery will be noticed a very finely executed drawing of the steamer Panchoa. It is the work of E. Russell, and reflects considerable credit on his artistic skill.

UNITED.—At Hampton, Douglas, on Wednesday, Rev. P. O. Ross performed a ceremony which united in one Geo. R. Bailey, of Nashwaakias, and Miss Matilda Sanson, of the same place. Only the immediate relatives of the parties were present.

ARRANGEMENTS.—Arrangements have been made by grand council, R. T. of T., which meet at Daoktown on Tuesday, for an excursion from this city. A game of base ball will probably be played during the day. The 7th band will be in attendance.

BOARD OF TRADE.—The Fredericton board of trade holds its regular quarterly meeting on Monday afternoon, when they will discuss the subject to be discussed in the proposed exhibition this fall, and the securing of the post office square as a play ground for the children.

CAPTURED AT LAST.—An officer from the provincial lunatic asylum, in company with policeman Wright, went on Thursday to the Douglas booms, and captured John King, an escaped lunatic from the asylum. He was taken back to the asylum on Friday by the officer.

THE TWELFTH.—To-morrow, the twelfth, being Sunday, the orangemen of this city have decided to have no regular celebration. They will, however, march in procession to the Baptist church where a sermon appropriate to the occasion will be delivered by Rev. W. B. Thomas.

TAXES.—Thursday was the last day on which discount could be allowed on city taxes. On the two preceding days $17,000 was received, and the total amount paid under discount was $28,000, out of a total assessment of $42,000.

THAT CONTRACT.—Mr. McArthur, the St. John contractor, whose tender for the erection of York street school was accepted by the board of school trustees, has declined to enter into the contract. The trustees have re-awarded the contract to Joshua Limerick, of this city. The contract price is about $20,000.

SEVERELY ILL.—Much regret is expressed at the continued illness of Mrs. Charles Hatt of Marysville. Mrs. Hatt has been confined to her bed for some time and hopes of her recovery are very slight. Drs. Berryman and Byard, of St. John, came up Friday evening to consult with the resident physician.

ON THE WING.—To-day (Saturday) the Raymond excursion party, in which there are about 50 persons, will leave Mount Kineo, Me., for St. Andrews, where they will enjoy until Tuesday when they go to Fredericton, and after a brief stop there, come to this city, thence to Cape Breton.—Telegraph.

AT WOODSTOCK.—The New Brunswick high court of the independent order of foresters will hold their annual session in Woodstock Aug. 5th and 6th inst. It is expected that the supreme chief ranger, Dr. Cronkpatrick, and other prominent members of the order will be present and address a public meeting held on Wednesday, Aug. 5th.—Woodstock Press.

NEW MILL CONTEMPLATED.—It is reported that Mr. Gibson contemplates the erection of a large shingle mill on the western side of the Nashwaak, above the old bridge, containing machinery and apparatus for eight shingle cutters. The upper Nashwaak waters have an immense growth of cedar which would keep such a mill in constant operation for years to come.

A VALUABLE GIFT.—Rev. C. P. Hainington has made a gift to the University of a strip of land 95 feet wide, through which a path to the university runs from the railroad to the college grounds. The property will be regarded as a special favor as the U. N. B. was liable at any moment, by transfer of the property to lose its right of way, which would be a serious inconvenience.

THE RIFLE.—Despite the rain the local marksmen assembled in force at the range on Saturday last and some good scores were made. The highest figures were: Lieut. Perkins, 89; sergt. Dunstan, 72; D. L. Babbitt, 71; F. H. Risteen, 70; ple. Burns, 69; sergt. Long, 68. To-day the Dominion telegraphic league competition is being shot, a team from the 71st and one from the I. S. C. being present.

HALIFAX COMPLAINS.—The Halifax firemen complaining that the hook set in the ladder race at Moncton on Dominion day are dissatisfied with the decision in that event. The first prize was given to the Charlottetown team, but Mr. Burns, judge for the Halifax team, gives the time as follows: Halifax, 17:25 min.; Fredericton, 17:25 min.; Charlottetown, 18:25 min. The Halifax men have sent in a protest.—Halifax Mail.

VACATION.—In speaking of Rev. Mr. Weddall, the Methodist minister appointed to the Fredericton circuit, the St. Stephen correspondent to the Sun says: "The Rev. Mr. Weddall will occupy the pulpit next Sabbath, which will close his labors here. He will go to Fredericton, his new station, and preach one Sabbath and then sail for Europe for two months vacation. Mr. Weddall is very popular in St. Stephen and is one of the best all round men in the conference. He is a good pastor and an able preacher."

AT KINGSGEAR.—A very successful festival was held on the grounds of B. D. Sewell on Thursday in aid of the Episcopal church at Springhill. The fancy tables did a rushing business, and the shooting competitions proved interesting. With the small bore rifle Harry Atherton, Frank Risteen and sergt. Walker were the winners. The glass ball trap shooting brought out a large number of competitors. The first prize went to Mr. Sloan of Kingsgear. Mr. Sewell taking the second place. T. Carleton Allen, however, in the sweepstakes match gave the best exhibition, his score being six straight balls.

IN THE WRONG CAR.—The St. John lady not used to travelling was coming down from Fredericton on the train the other day. She had understood that she was to change cars at the junction. Most of the passengers were men and when they left the train on its arrival there she went with the crowd, supposing that they were making for the other train. She only discovered her mistake when she was entering a bar-room into which the passengers had stopped to refresh themselves on their journey. She hunted up the car herself then and will not follow the crowd again.

Social Amusements.

On Tuesday next, the ladies of the churchwomen's branch of the W. A. A. of Gibson, will hold a musical social in the church hall at that place. After the concert ice cream, strawberries, etc., will be discussed. The proceeds are to be devoted to the funds of the church.

The Star Social club will hold their monthly moonlight excursion on Monday evening, the 20th. Every preparation is being made for a good time. Lots of music will be furnished by the Fredericton brass band and the F. O. M. W. orchestra, both of which have been engaged. The former will furnish music on the upper decks for promenaders, and the latter in the saloon for dancing.

The ladies of the working band of the Marysville Methodist church held a sale of fancy goods on the grounds of James Gibson on Thursday afternoon. Refreshments were supplied on the grounds.

A CANADA excursion train carried the F. C. B. Sunday school to Zion station on Thursday last, where they held their annual picnic. The day was a delightful one, and everybody enjoyed the day's outing. The Fredericton Brass band furnished music.

Bradley's Players.

The city hall could hardly contain the immense gathering that turned out on Wednesday evening to hear Bradley's players in their well-known play "My Partner." The play went off without a hitch, and the acting of all the company was admirable. Miss Grace Huntington, who it will be remembered was formerly a York county lady, was greeted with enthusiasm, and is beyond a doubt, the handsomest and best actress that a Fredericton audience has seen for years.

On Thursday evening, the hall was again well filled on the occasion of the company playing "Queen." Miss Huntington again distinguished herself, and was called before the curtain at the end of the second and third acts. In the second act Miss Jessie Villiers sang in magnificent style, "That is Love," and was obliged to respond to vociferous applause. Fredericton people will always be glad of a chance to again hear and see Bradley's players.

Police News.

Monday morning, at the police court, the case of Isaac Dolby, of Penning, against Starkey and others, for taking goods from his store without permission, was up for trial. It turned out that the whole affair was a joke and that no goods had been taken at all. The case was settled.

In the Burns and Barnett shooting case, Burns was sent up for trial at the next sitting of the court in January.
On Thursday morning, Judge Marsh gave his decision in the long-drawn out fence case. He decided in favor of the plaintiff, John Doherty, and adjudged the damages at five dollars. It is thought that the case will be appealed.

Friday morning an interesting assault case was brought up, in which three soldiers named Gregory, Williams and Hache were charged with assaulting policeman Phillips. The case is being proceeded with to-day.

A Loss to Fredericton.

The Methodist itinerant system has its advantages; but when it separates pastor and people who are in every way suited to each other, it seems to work evil rather than good. The transfer of Rev. Mr. Shenton, from Fredericton to St. John, which takes effect next week, is a loss to this city that will be felt, in an excellent preacher, but above all a successful pastor, it will be well nigh impossible to replace him. The membership of the church, which was at a standstill for some years before he came, has been greatly added to by his efforts and financial condition much improved. The Misses Shenton, too, have been prominent in the various activities of the church, and by the music-loving public will be sorely missed.

The Fredericton Market.

Following is the markets returns as obtained from market clerk Parks:—Mutton, per lb., 5 to 6 cts; lamb, 10 to 11 cts; veal, 14 to 15 cts; hams, 9 to 10 cts; butter, 14 to 15 cts; eggs, per doz., 13 to 14 cts; potatoes, per 100, $1.25 to $1.40; turnips, 10 cts; hay, per ton, $8 to $10; straw, $5 to $6; oats, per bush, 58 to 60 cts.

The minutes of last session were read by secretary treasurer and approved.

The committee on financial matters reported that they had transferred their account to the merchant's bank their tender being in the amount of $100.

On motion of Coun. Goodspeed the council separated till two o'clock to allow the committee time to prepare the accounts.

An account of $5.00 for 125 highway acts sent to secretary treasurer came before the board and was thrown out.
Coun. Nason submitted report of a committee appointed to meet with the administration of justice, of certain bills regarding rental of certain lands. Reports received, and the committee continued, to report next year.

Coun. Kinghorn for committee on administration of justice submitted report which was adopted.
Secretary treasurer drew the attention of the council to the law passed at the last session of the assembly whereby persons are allowed to vote without having their taxes paid. Certain amendments were made in the law of which notice would be sent to the several collectors.

Coun. Fullerton presented report from committee on the secretary treasurer's accounts, making certain recommendations. On motion the report was adopted.

Mr. Goodspeed said he had signed the report because he thought a member of a committee should sign a report if on the face of it, it was a statement of actual facts. There was nothing in the report by which the council was losing any money, and he had no objection to the items referring to Mr. Wilson being published in this way.

Coun. Pinder said he had the belief that the bond of the secretary treasurer should not have been handed over until all the matters were entirely adjusted. Coun. McNally referred to reports circulated regarding the voting on the late secretary treasurer and held the items should appear in the report, and that it was well the bond had not been returned.

Coun. Kinghorn presented a resolution regarding the floating of certain debentures to take up outstanding debentures. A committee consisting of warden, secretary treasurer and Coun. Kinghorn was appointed to look after the matter.

Mr. Wilson on the motion of Coun. Goodspeed was heard before the board. Mr. Wilson said he had receipts for these amounts from present secretary treasurer, and explained the cause of the different items, and reasons why they had not been credited in the accounts.

Coun. Pinder and Kinghorn further discussed the question.
Coun. Pinder presented names of certain parish officers for Southampton. Adopted.
Council adjourned until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Wednesday.

Council opened at 2:30.
Secretary treasurer Black said that he was asked by Mr. Reed to pay a demand respecting the agricultural society. Coun. Kinghorn moved that it be referred to the committee on the audit of the public accounts.

This was not a matter affecting the past secretary treasurer accounts. It was a certificate issued by the county and drawing 5 per cent interest.
Coun. Rowley also spoke to the matter. Coun. Kinghorn moved, seconded by Coun. Nason that a committee of three be appointed to deal with it. Carried.

Following is the committee: Couns. Kinghorn, Rowley, Pinder.
Secretary treasurer Black read a communication from the board of Victoria Hospital. Received and placed on file.

Coun. Everett, read a communication respecting ferry privileges on the river as follows:
Whereas, Enoch Lunt, of the parish of Bright, has made application for a lease of the ferrying privileges at Crook's point and a license to operate a ferry across the St. John river, between the said point, and McKinley's in the parish of Kingsgear.
Resolved, that the said application be complied with and a lease and license be granted the said Enoch Lunt for the period of five years upon the payment of seven dollars and forty cent. Carried.

Moved by Coun. Lawrence that $16 be paid in Douglas for laying out road. Carried.
Moved by Coun. Nason that $150.00 be allowed for poor in New Maryland and passed.

Coun. Kinghorn spoke to this matter. He said that New Maryland would have the benefit of the money from the bank from the said Alonzo Grant, and all others whom it may in any way concern.
Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of the power of the said certain indenture of Mortgage, bearing date the thirtieth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, and registered in Book C. No. 40 of the County Records, on pages 670, 671, and 672, and made between the said Alonzo Grant and Mary B. Grant his wife, of the first part, and Jane Love, the undersigned, of the second part, for the purpose of satisfying the moneys secured thereby, default having been made in the payment thereof, by public Auction at Phoenix Square in the City of Fredericton, on MONDAY, the twenty-seventh day of July next, the lands and premises mentioned and described in the said Indenture of Mortgage, as follows:—

ALL that certain piece or parcel of land lying in the Parish of Springhill, in the County of York and Province of New Brunswick, bounded on the north by the Parish of Springhill, on the east by the River Saint John, on the lower or Easterly side of the said parcel of land, and on the upper or Westerly side by lands owned by the said Jane Love, and on the west by the said Thomas Lovell, and on the south by the said Jane Love, containing ten acres more or less, together with all and singular the buildings and improvements thereon, and the appurtenances to the same belonging in or in any way appertaining.
Dated this twenty-fifth day of June, A. D. 1891.

the benefit of the $20, but this was not so, it was not in the auditor's account.

Thursday's Proceedings.

Coun. Pinder moved: Whereas, the usual course hitherto pursued by the representative of the county of allowing out of the bye-road grant the sum of $3,000 to the municipal council for expenditure upon the bye-roads in the county, has not been followed this year, but the control of the expenditure has been retained by the county representatives in their own hands.

Resolved, That in the opinion of the council, the savings is not in the interests of the public service, by reason of the more intricate knowledge of the local requirements of the several parishes possessed by the members of the council.
After some little discussion the motion was passed.

Resolved that Wm. Henry be appointed collector of rates for the parish of Prince William.

Resolved that a committee be appointed to ascertain from the members of the county the amount of account of bye-roads and also to which parish said advances had been made during the last five years, with a view to having a statement of the same by commissioners over and above the amount paid in by the government $307.77.

Coun. Pinder moved a by-law respecting the running at large of cattle in Campbell settlement. Passed.
Resolved that Wm. Christie be exonerated as collector. Passed.

Coun. Kinghorn called the attention of the board to the motion passed at last session respecting wood used in the clerk of the peace and other offices.
Coun. Goodspeed brought up the assessment of Marysville and asked for its consideration.

Coun. Kinghorn moved that the board fill vacancy caused by the removal from the county of Robert Scott a valuator, by appointing North Lake, Canterbury, Southampton and Dumfries, passed.

Moved by Coun. S. Inch that the following delinquents exempted in 1891 be compelled to pay the amounts set against their respective names. John Harrigan, sr., Jos. Albright and Campbell Jewett.
Moved by Coun. Scott that Wm. A. Gance be valuator in room of Robt. Scott. Being an assessor he was not eligible, and R. E. Estey, Millville was appointed to the vacancy.
Adjourned sine die.

SELECT STORY.

A WIFE'S WONT.

Mrs. Alison sat in her easy chair and tapped her foot impatiently as she worked. Mr. Alison paced the floor uneasily and frowned darkly. It was evident there was a storm brewing in the domestic atmosphere. Indeed, the first faint drops of the coming shower were already pattering down on the dainty dress. Mrs. Alison was embroidering for her beloved baby.

added, pleasantly. "Give me a kiss, puss, and when I come home this evening, I trust you will have put all this nonsense out of your head. By!" But his wife would not look at him when he kissed her, and stamped her foot angrily as the door closed behind him and she heard his careless whistle as he ran down the steps.

OUR GHOST.

BY AMY RANDOLPH.

Mildred and I lost our way. We were two happy, poverty-stricken young school-teachers, spending our brief vacation at a farm-house on the mountain. Mildred had a consumptive mother to support, and I was saving money for Billy's education as a civil engineer. Billy, by the way, understood well the value of money, so that we really had very little means to expend in our summer vacation.

walking carelessly up and down the porch as usual. "Well," said he, interrogatingly, "you're late?" "We—we got lost," stammered Mildred. He glanced keenly at our pallid faces. "Ah," said he, "I see you've come across the river?" "The—river?" I repeated. "An old cellar wall," said he, with a vague, explanatory movement of his hand. "All grown up with weeds and brush. Ah! He built it, Mrs. Hunt's husband, but he never got farther than the cellar." Mrs. Hunt's husband! I repeated. "And a bad fellow he was," said Mr. Dollard. "Bad right straight through to the core, stout and short. A red bandanna tied around his head, exactly like a pirate's picture hood! Bad! Bad! That's Mrs. Hunt's husband!"

HOW THE MONTHS WERE NAMED.

January is of Latin origin, from the word Januarius, named by the ancient Romans in honor of their so-called "god," Janus, to whom the season of the year was sacred. February comes from the Latin word Februarius, derived from februm, which, in the Sabine language meant a "purge," hence comes the noun Februus, which signified the Roman festival of lustration and expiation.
