This provides that, pending the completion of the eastern division by the government, the company shall be entitled to lease from the commission and to operate such portions of the eastern division as may be from time to time completed.

The section further states that "the terms shall be such as may be agreed upon, but not to be more onerous than those governing the lease of the whole line, and at all times subject to the paramount right of the commission to use and operate the same...

Last week's order in council was prepared by the justice department on the strength of the engineering certificate and the provisions of the act. Two things seem reasonably clear, namely, that the company is "entitled" to lease the section if it so desires.

The fire was not extinguished until near midnight this evening. It started shortly after noon as the men were leaving for lunch and is thought to have originated from an overturned pan of boiling grease.

The entire brigade was called out to fight the flames and the fire was which it started the packing plant, a four story brick building which was destroyed. The plant contained the cold storage department and it was from that the ammonia fumes came.

THE DOMINION HEALTH DEPARTMENT TO COPE WITH EPIDEMICS IS PROPOSED

City Authorities of Ottawa Are Unable to Cope With the Outbreak of Typhoid

Idea is to Create Department and Put Competent Corps Medical Men in Charge

Matter Was Brought to the Attention of Government Months Ago

Dr. Roche, Secretary of State, May be Placed at Head of Temporary Bureau

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—The present typhoid outbreak and the apparent inefficiency of the city authorities here to cope with the situation, has given impetus to the movement in government circles looking towards the creation of a dominion public health department with a deputy minister, and a competent corps of medical men in charge.

This matter was brought to the attention of the government some months ago, and while, owing to the fact that any move in the materializing of such scheme so vastly important to the country generally must necessarily be given mature consideration, nothing definite could be accomplished for some time.

There are more than 5,000 men and women in Ottawa in the employ of the government, whose health the government is decidedly interested and for whose welfare at least indirectly responsible.

It is accordingly now suggested that a temporary health department be organized as soon as it is possible to do so, which could be placed under the direct supervision and control of Hon. Dr. Roche.

Due to the lateness of the season, the commissioners will report to the council that it is impractical to erect a band stand on Shoreline park this summer.

ENGLISH CAPITAL COMING TO ALBERTA

Great Influx of Rich Investors From the Other Side of Western-Canada

Amazed at the Vast Area of Land Under Cultivation in This Province

"Not to be outdone by the shrewd Americans from eastern and middle western states, English capitalists have turned their eyes on Alberta as an investment field, particularly during the past three months.

During the last ninety days, Englishmen representing fully $5,000,000 capital have sojourned at Banff and all of them have expressed surprise at the country, many expressing an intention to invest in Alberta land before returning to England."

George Morton Colquhoun, manager of the Mt. Royal hotel at Banff, made the above statement last night. Colquhoun is in a position to come in personal contact with the wealthy visitors from the other side and learn their opinions.

"What impresses the English tourists at first is the immense area of the country and agriculture. The great grain fields were revelations to our visitors from the other side," said Colquhoun, "and the vast area impresses upon them the possibilities of future development."

The tourist travel to Banff has been almost double that of any other year, but the surprising part of it is the vast number of wealthy Englishmen that have come here. Alberta's great resort is rapidly coming to be recognized in England as the show place of the Dominion.

"Accommodations have been at a premium and the travel has been so heavy that James Brewster, owner of the Mount Royal Hotel, has decided to keep the hotel open all winter and will almost double its capacity in anticipation of the travel next season."

DOUGLAS HAD ONLY FIVE HOURS' NOTICE TO QUIT

Party Axe Came Down With a Bang, Which Severed His Political Head

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 1, 1912. Howard Douglas, Dominion Parks Commissioner, stated this afternoon that notice which he received from Ottawa informing him of his dismissal forthwith gave no reason for course taken. Notice was contained in brief telegram, which he received at noon yesterday.

The news that at least one of the fugitives had been trapped was received with great elation at police headquarters tonight, because of the criticism that has been directed to the police department for their failure to arrest any of the men charged with the actual killing of the gambler.

ENGLAND AND AMERICA TO CO-OPERATE IN CHECKING PERUVIAN RUBBER ATROCITIES

Sir Edward Grey Says Britain Will Not Rest Content, With Making the Facts Public; British and American Consuls Will Go to Putumayo

London, August 1.—Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, speaking in the house of commons today on the atrocities in connection with the rubber industry in the Putumayo district, said that the British government did not desire to rest content with making the facts public, but had done all possible through diplomatic means to impress Peru with the undesirability of permitting such a state of affairs to continue.

The British government, he said, is keeping in the closest touch with the United States in this matter, and public opinion in the United States would undoubtedly prove a potent factor in the preventing of a recurrence.

It has been arranged for the British and American consuls to leave together on August 5 for Putumayo and the consuls' presence in that district would be a guarantee that the horrors would not be repeated without the world knowing it.

ARRANGE TO CARE FOR PRISONERS DURING BIG STAMPEDE

Alderman Whaley Suggests the Construction of Plank Cells in City Barns

Jail, Like All Other Calgary Institutions, is Doing a Rushing Business

That some scheme to care for a larger number of prisoners than usual at the city jail during Stampede week is absolutely necessary, is the declaration of Ald. Whaley who will bring the matter before the council next Monday night.

There are certain to be a greater number of undesirable characters flock to the city during Stampede week," said the alderman, "and the police undoubtedly will take many of them into custody. The city cells are now full to overflowing and the problem is an important one. Something must be done about it at once. It would not cost much to construct some plank cells in the city barns to care for the overflow of prisoners."

CHURCHILL TO COME IN MAN-OF-WAR

London, Aug. 1.—Winston Churchill will make a visit to Canada, and it is expected that he will proceed to the dominion on a warship. The Canadian premier, Robert L. Borden, at a meeting of the committee for imperial defence tonight, which was attended by the British prime minister and most of the members of the cabinet, extended an invitation to the ministers to visit Canada.

Mr. Asquith said that he would not be able to go, but Mr. Churchill accepted.

POLICE DRAG NETS ARE CLOSING IN UPON N. Y. MURDERERS

Other Men Reported to Have Been Traced to Same Community; Arrests Expected

"Whitey" Lewis, One of the Gunmen Wanted, Arrested in Catskill Mountains

New York, Aug. 1.—"Whitey" Lewis, one of the four gunmen wanted by the police as the actual murderers of Herman Rosenthal, was arrested in the Catskill mountains this afternoon and was later tonight being taken to Kingston, N.Y., to be lodged in the county jail.

This was announced tonight at police headquarters by Inspector Hughes, who said that three of his detectives had located him at Pletshobann, N.Y., a summer resort, forty-six miles from Kingston, working on a farm. He was arrested just as he was about to board a train and make his escape. The prisoner will be brought down to New York on an early train tomorrow. It was reported at police headquarters that "Whitey" Lewis and "Moby the Blower," two of the men still at large, had been traced to the same vicinity.

The news that at least one of the fugitives had been trapped was received with great elation at police headquarters tonight, because of the criticism that has been directed to the police department for their failure to arrest any of the men charged with the actual killing of the gambler.

Detective Harvey, one of the men who arrested Lewis on the report made in Kingston, Hughes over the long distance telephone, said that the prisoner refused to talk about the assassination of Rosenthal and all knowledge of even the slightest details of the murder. Lewis seemed much distressed by his arrest, and expressed surprise that he had fallen into the hands of the police. He had very little money.

"NOT AS POLITICIANS, BUT AS KINSMEN," SAYS BORDEN AT LONDON SPREAD

Canadian Premier Makes a Patriotic Speech Before the National Liberal Club

Government Leader Cheered to Echo When He Rose to Talk to Banqueters

Borden Suggests That It Would Be Well to Have British Minister Visit Canada

Thinks Canadians Should Have Voice in Government of Empire; Americans an Example

LONDON, Aug. 1.—"Not a politician, but a kinsman," was the phrase used by Premier Borden tonight to describe the attitude in which he and his colleagues had come to Britain. That, too, was the attitude of the National Liberal club, revealed at the banquet presided over by the Marquis of Lincolnshire. Lord Strathcona received a demonstration of affection at the close of the proceedings when he arose and spoke a few words. A feature of the banquet was a speech of Atty.-Gen. Isaacs, in which he classed the visit as an object visit and a distinct epoch in the history of the empire at a time when the watchword of all parties must be Britain's supremacy on the sea.

The big banquet room of the club was completely filled when Mr. Borden rose following Sir Rufus Isaacs. The welcome was cordial when he said that the relations were more pronounced than ever before, and it caught the audience which applauded long and loud. The premier suggested, amidst cheers, that it might be well for British ministers to visit Canada.

In closing, the noble chairman declared the visit a noble occasion. "The club has been much honored in the affairs of the empire and thus, is unlike the American, who participated in having the illustrious statesman as guests."

Americans as Example. Hon. Hazen, happily compared the position of the Canadians in the border towns with the Americans, but said, "while our institutions, laws and administrations easily, in my opinion, bear the palm, yet the remedy should be applied in removing the handicap on the Canadian, who is victorious in the affairs of the empire and thus, is unlike the American, who participated in all that concerned such matters."

Sir Rufus Isaacs, in proposing the toast to the visitors, said: "Although we are met as a political party, nevertheless our welcome is from all parties. On questions arising from our visit by Premier Borden and his colleagues, there is no division. We are animatedly no political views but quite and solely by general desire for the good of the empire. I am quite certain we shall look on this period as a distinct epoch in the history of the whole empire. At the present time we are forced against our will to expend large sums on armaments, more particularly on the navy. It is not of our seeking, but I am sure all liberals agree with the first article we must be supreme at sea." (Cheers)

Canada a Partner. "Let us not forget the significance of this visit. Mr. Borden, in the speeches he has already made, leaves little room for doubt what his views are. I think we may well describe this visit as an object visit. The Dominion of Canada is a proud gem" (Continued on Page Eight).

CHRISTIANS BURNED WITH IRONS BY CHINESE TO FORCE THEM TO CONFESS

Peking, China, August 1.—Dr. Luther Anderson, of Chicago, Ill., missionary, who returned today from the trial in Seoul of 125 alleged conspirators, charged with plotting to kill General Teranchi, Japanese Governor-General of Korea, told of the methods employed by the authorities in dealing with prisoners, nearly all of whom are Christians.
All the accused men, when given the opportunity, said that their so-called confessions were wrung from them by the most cruel tortures, he said. They were hung by the thumbs, stretched on the rack, and burned with irons in the secret preliminary police trial. One student testified in open court, "I saw a man slowly killed before my eyes." Another said, "They made me unconscious three."
"Many informants, who understand both Korean and Japanese, say the court interpreters distort the evidence, translating incorrectly and omitting evidence objectionable to the prosecution. Whenever the accused say 'torment,' the interpreters translate it as 'persecution.' When the attorney for the defence protested against the incorrect translation, the judge said: 'It doesn't matter.'
"Some days before the trial six of the students were deported to Quil, an island in explaining the move, the official Gazette said these men were found innocent, but were deported for public safety. Although American missionaries have not been arrested, the formal indictment against the students charges leading missionaries with being accomplices in teaching students assassination in the distribution of revolvers, and in informing the students telegraphically of the Governor-General's movements.
"The police who searched the missionaries' houses found no evidence of guilt. The trial brought out perfect alibis for Baron Yum, the alleged leader of the conspirators, for all the occasions on which he was charged with meeting the plotters.
"Many informants, who were all eye-witnesses of the proceedings, say that the trial is most unfair. The judge acts as prosecuting attorney and assuming the guilt of the defendants, orders them to answer only 'Yes' or 'No' to questions containing the gravest charges. He excludes evidence prejudicial to the prosecution and refuses to allow missionaries to testify."
Ottawa, July 31.—W. H. Sharpe, M.P. for Lisgar, will likely be appointed Conservative whip for Manitoba, to succeed W. E. Staples, who resigned to become a member of the grain commission, and J. D. Taylor, M.P. for New Westminster, will probably be made British Columbia whip, to succeed A. S. Goodeve, now a member of the rail-road commission.

JANE ADAMS, HEAD OF HULL HOUSE, SPEAKS IN DEFENSE OF THE BACHELOR MAID

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Chicago "Bachelor Maids" engaged in humanitarian and philanthropic work today voiced their agreement with the sentiment credited to Helen Gould to the effect that if she had found a "suitable helpmeet" she might not be doing as much good as now.
"Quite agree with Miss Gould," said Miss Jane Addams, head of Hull House, and herself possessed of more than enough means to live in luxury and be oblivious to the miseries of the poor and the afflicted, if she wished. "Her letter is admirable."
"Miss Addams was asked to comment on this expression from Miss Gould's letter: 'I feel that such people as myself are not hindering the progress of civilization, but are advancing it.'
"There are few persons who are doing more to civilization than Miss Gould," Miss Addams answered. "Her sentiment was aptly put."
"World Owe Much to the Old Maids" This sentiment from Miss Gould's letter was then read to Miss Addams. "I had found a suitable helpmeet I might have spent my money in a different way and a way which might not have done as much good as now."
"Surely, no doubt," said Miss Addams, "that if she had been married she would have spent her money for her family, and that the hundreds who have benefited by her kindly aid would not have seen the sunshine that has come into their lives through her."
"The world owes much to so-called old maids," she opposed to marriage, but many women would not have accomplished what they have if they had been married."
"Have About the Bachelor Girls?"
The following twelve women accomplished great works as old maids:
Queen Elizabeth, in whose reign England reached her golden age.
Florence Nightingale, angel of mercy in the Crimean War and establisher of organized nursing in war times.
Dorothea Dix, pioneer of reform in prison and reformatory methods.
Frances E. Willard, founder of the temperance movement.
Rosa Bonheur, who opened new artistic fields in the representation of animal life.
Clara Barton, founder of the Red Cross Society and savior of thousands from death and suffering.
Joan of Arc, one of the important factors in French history.
Susan B. Anthony, pioneer in efforts to procure more equal rights for women.
Charlotte Bronte, whose novels are among the best in English literature.
Jane Austen, whose pen pictures of English village life promise to be immortal.
Jane Addams, first citizen of Chicago and head of the Hull House.
Julia Lathrop, chosen from among the women of America to lead in preserving child life and happiness throughout the country.

GAMBLING TRIO WHO EXPECTED RICH HAUL ON OLYMPIC ARE SPOTTED AND GAME SPOILED

New York, August 1.—Three gamblers of international reputation, who sailed on the White Star liner Olympic yesterday will doubtless find that a great drought has struck their business when they try to start a game in the smoking room tonight, and they will be out of the price of their tickets with accessories, when they reach the other side. They sauntered across the gang plank just before the ship left the pier, after sizing up the assembled passengers and deciding that the pickings looked promising indeed. At least, that is what Detective Edward Mallon of the central office decided, after watching the trio for a time on their tour of inspection.
The detective knew their faces and immaculate attire of old, but he did not have any warrant for them or the power of preventing their trip. So he did the next best thing. He informed the purser and head steward of the gamblers' presence in the first cabin, with a technical description of the uncertainties for other people that playing cards develop when their turn comes to deal.
Stewards Post Warnings
The ship's officers immediately went about posting the games and description of the smoking room and assured the detective that the profits of the three would be nil.
Mallon said there was small question in his mind that the gamblers expected a very lucrative voyage. Among the passengers were a number of ranchmen from South America going abroad to see the sights, besides many vacation-seeking men of wealth from various cities in this country.
There were about three hundred in the first cabin, an unusually large sailing list for this time of the year. Charles Steele, one of J. P. Morgan & Co.'s partners, with his family, started for several weeks' travel on the Continent. Steele, Morgan himself, gave them on voyage. The financier was in excellent spirits and much laughter arose during his goodbyes. Mr. Steele had nothing to say about business conditions or politics, and stated that the thought of a good rest filled his mind to the exclusion of everything else.
Pinkerton Goes Aboard
William Pinkerton of the detective agency said that he believed firmly that the Roosevelt murder case would be solved to the credit of the police and that the murderers would be rounded up in the end. David Jones, a banker from Melbourne, told the ship news reporters that his purpose in going to England was to induce a greater flow of immigration to the island continent.

The revenue for the dominion customs promises to run over $100,000,000 so far in this fiscal year.

VICTORIA SHIPBUILDERS PREPARE FOR CANAL

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 1.—Experimenting in building special steamships for trade to the North Pacific coast via the Panama Canal, the Victoria shipbuilders are preparing for the completion of the waterway is not only bestirring British and American powers, but also exciting large continental shipping interests, to devote themselves in a painstaking and thoroughgoing manner to the subject. It is recognized that the canal will produce a revolutionizing effect upon the sea-borne trade and from the ports of the west coast of America, and it is perceived that the depth of the waterway and dimensions of the locks are matters requiring the greatest consideration in the design of vessels intended to cope with this new phase of shipping.
Many New Lines
Announcement has been made by many important shipping concerns, the R. M. S. Co., Hamburg-Amerika, North German Lloyd, White Star, Blue Funnel, Camanche Transatlantic, Pacific and other steamship companies that they will establish lines through the Panama canal to this coast, and it is expected that a great development of trade will follow the opening. To cope with this harbor works are to be constructed, and it is anticipated that announcement will be made in a few days of the ward of a contract for the construction of a breakwater from Odden point, the first part of the harbor work.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 1912.

THE SITUATION IS SAVED.

By the action of the executive of the Western Canada Baseball league in arranging for the completion of the league season a very serious situation has been saved and the office boy's grand-nephew can go on dying every day of the league schedule.

It's no joke; it was a serious line of thought that was aroused by the announcement that the league had gone "fluky." Think of depriving the competent office-man of his last excuse for closing up an afternoon to say nothing of the despair of the sport writers. But now it is all changed, and the world is rosy again; the office-man and the diminutive youngster who runs his errands are happy, the sporting pages will continue to come out and we can again look out upon life with the thought that the world is a good place to live in.

But seriously, the fans will hope an effort will be made to dish up a little better brand of ball than has hitherto marked the season. There has been some good ball, it is true, but there have been altogether too many days when it has not only not been good, but actually disgusting to the heart of the true fan. If they will just give us a reasonably good grade of ball as the regular thing we won't ask for anything better, and incidentally, the season may be brought to a close with a good many more sheekles in sight than has been the case thus far.

IS IT A GAME?

The condition of the money market for the past few weeks is suggestive to the minds of many people who are accustomed to give thought to the affairs of finance. Is the marked tightening in the money market that has been progressing recently part of a game being played by the money masters? A question frequently asked.

In a general way there seems to be a fair measure of prosperity in the various countries, at the moment, a reasonable amount of it, and to most people there appears no good reason why there should be a scarcity of money so marked as is being manifested.

An explanation has been suggested which may or may not have good reasoning for its grounding. It may be offered for what it is worth. For some years, industrial and public bonds alike, have found ready sale, particularly in England at very reasonable rates. This fact is presumed to have had an influence upon the circumstance that the offerings at present are more plentiful than ever. Of recent times it has been noticeable that public debentures have almost gone begging while the floating of an industrial has been and is very close up to the impossible.

The suggestion is that the money kings see in the present situation an opportunity of increasing their earnings by producing a tightening of the market and thereby bring higher rates from the applicants for funds.

Whether there be merit in the suggestion or not, one may probably judge as well as another, but certain it is that with the general prosperity of the world at no lower ebb, the wonder is that conditions relative to available money should be as they are.

It may be remarked that whatever the facts may be, a continuance of present conditions throughout the American west for a few more weeks will cause such a potful of money to pour forth that even should it be true that a game is being played, it cannot be expected to be successful much longer as rates will be forced back to the normal.

A COMMENDABLE MOVE.

A movement calculated to bring substantial benefits to the West was that inaugurated by J. S. Dennis of the C. P. R., at Winnipeg in the calling of a conference to consider the livestock question of the West. Since the passing of the big decline in the livestock industry has suffered a severe decline in the West and it was with a view to finding a basis upon which to rehabilitate the industry that the conference was called. It may be hoped that the meeting may be productive of good results.

One measure which might be adopted and which would do as much as any other step that could be taken to check the decline in the industry and start it on the upgrade again, would be for the officials, both of the governments represented at the meeting and of the C. P. R., to join in an effort to procure alterations in the lands act to provide for leasing for grazing purposes of wild lands not suitable for farming, and there are large areas of such lands in the foothills and mountain sections of Alberta, where weather conditions are too uncertain for successful farming, one year with another. An amendment to the lands act might be framed which would place at the disposal of stockgrowers, such lands under regulations which would not admit of a monopoly of the lands being acquired by large operators but would afford the small man an equal chance with the big one, there can be little doubt that it would go as far toward the accomplishment of the object of the conference as any step that could be taken.

A further beneficial measure would be to provide that lessees of such lands should not be permitted to run a greater number of head of stock than they could provide shelter and feed for in winter, as such lands could not be operated on the old open range principle for the reason that stock that was not fed in winter would inevitably drift off their range to the farms, get up against the fences and perish.

These are suggestions which we believe well worthy of the consideration of those who have undertaken the rebuilding of the livestock industry of the West and their adoption would, we believe, contribute largely to the success of the movement.

MAY GIVE US PAUSE.

That was a significant statement made by Sir William Mackenzie, as recited in the news despatches of the day and one which may well give serious-minded people food for thought.

Sir William's statement was to the effect that in his judgment there is a great deal more behind the frantic haste with which Germany is building dreadnoughts than seems currently believed and that in point of fact there is in it more of a menace to England and better ground for a German war scare than most people are aware or are willing to believe.

Such a statement coming from a man of Sir William Mackenzie's calibre and connections may well be regarded as having much significance. Sir William is at the head of an institution which represents a hundred millions of dollars at least; the bulk of his bonds are held in England, and no one knows better than he how seriously his interests would be affected by a conflict between England and Germany or even to what extent they may be affected by serious talk of such a conflict. If he were the type of man who would be willing to profit by the spreading of alarm, his utterance could not be regarded as having any such design for the reason that the circulation of alarming statements could have no other than an adverse effect on his every interest. It must therefore be regarded as certain that he is convinced there is the strongest reason for his belief, or certainly, he would not give expression to it.

View it as you will, it is undoubtedly a serious statement.

Idea of a Plain Man By DR. FRANK CRANE

HEROISM is the salt that keeps humanity from rotting. When we take an inventory of the qualities and passions of the crowd we are likely to find a discouraging state of things. They who despise the human race are not without their reasons.

What a welter of selfishness in the business world, what treacheries and cruelties, often what utter heartlessness and brute savagery!

In the relations between men and women what a world of slovening facts!

In family life what jars and pettiness, what frequent degradation of what should be the most ideal of human relationships!

In the history of religion what a shameful list of perversions; headstrongness, vanity, intolerance, persecution, superstition and even wolfish passions!

But all these are sated and cured, altered and antidoted, by one thing—heroism.

Not the spectacular kind that makes the common gaze; but the unobtrusive, unseen kind, done for itself alone, for the eye of God and the satisfaction of a noble self-respect.

Think of the unnoted and unnumbered acts of heroism on the part of mothers! These alone would save the world, as ten good men would have saved Sodom.

Look (and if you seek you shall find), at the numberless deeds of self-sacrifice among the poor, the self-renunciations of the rich, the helpfulness of fellow-workers, the splendid courage of men and women that they often conceal with a sense of shame.

These friendless peasant, humanity may just mud, dirt, earth; but all through it sparkles the pure and priceless gold of heroism.

UNCLE WALT THE POET PHILOSOPHER

TODAY I called at Beewack's store to buy some boneless cheese. The rain was falling with a roar, the mud was on my knees. Old Beewack and his merry clerks were pawing through the shelves, and cleaning up the whole blamed works as though they'd strain themselves.

"Why not sit down?" I said, "and rest this wet and woody day? No customer or mounted guest will come along this way. Why not sit down and let things slide, and nurse your joints a bit? Why not sit down, and rest your pride, and nuts and herrings eat?" Old Beewack paused a moment brief, and said, with passing frown: "The greater part of human grief is caused by sitting down. When a man sits and trade is slack, the pedlar merchant sits, and broods until he breaks his back and has connotation fits. And people coming to his joint will see him moaning there, and from his portals they'll aroint, and blow at their scads elsewhere. And so I whoop around my store with high and active jumps, and no one's head is getting sore, and no one has the dumps." I bought three cans of posied snuff, and muttered, as I went: "It's better far to make a bluff than roll in discontent."

SIDEWALK SKETCHES By HOWARD L. RANN

LEONIDAS was a Spartan hero who earned a large bronze monument by holding the pass of Thermopylae with three hundred men and a shoestring.

Leonidas was king of Sparta at the time this occurred. Sparta was a small, irritable country, about the size of a Florida town site, but it was never stepped upon with impunity. The male population lived on cayenne pepper and rare beefsteak and practiced shooting at a mark eight hours a day. Every once in a while some foreign potentate would make up his mind to tie Sparta to his chariot wheels and subdue her proud spirit, but he invariably returned home and kicked himself into a state of sweet somnolence.

About about 450 B.C. Xerxes, King of Persia, decided to offend at something Sparta had said and decided to annex her in a hostile tone of voice. He accordingly rounded up a neat little army of 2,000,000 men and headed for the Greek archipelago, which was about in the same place it is now.

WEALTHY WOMAN FLEES FROM HOME WITH CHILDREN

Mrs. Nicholas J. McNamara Makes Sensational Flight to New York

Husband Causes the Arrest of Wife's Companions, Charging Theft of Auto

Woman is Wealthy Californian and Blames Husband for the Trouble

New York, August 1.—The intricate history of the family of Nicholas J. McNamara, the wealthy San Francisco banker, who caused the arrest of his wife's two servants and Mrs. McNamara's flight from her home in San Francisco, was thoroughly aired at the stony station in the Yorkville Court yesterday that followed the arraignment of the prisoners.

After a spirited war of words with K. Henry Rosenberg, the lawyer whom Mrs. McNamara engaged to defend the members of her party over questions of extradition, warrants and judicial procedure in regard to persons detained by request from the authorities of another state, Magistrate Justice Bischof, who presided, ruled that Mrs. McNamara, Frederick H. Butterfield, the chauffeur of the automobile which had been used during the first stages of the flight, and Patrick Walsh, the valet, without bail to extradition.

Though McNamara, in the warrant charging the prisoners with the theft of the automobile which the attorney McNamara left San Mateo, asserts that the car is his, Rosenberg told Magistrate Bischof that the machine belonged to the banker, who had been charged with stealing her own property was absurd.

Habeas Corpus Writ Granted The court listened patiently to all the charges against the attorney and then told him that his only recourse was to apply for writs of habeas corpus, and tomorrow Justice Bischof will decide whether it is to be sustained or dismissed.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Perkins languishes in the prison, and the chauffeur and the valet nearby in the same way.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ABOUT THE MAYORALTY

Editor Albertan: I was pleased to see in this morning's paper that the Citizens' Municipal League has been well started on its way. No doubt, with the excellent officers elected, it will be the success it deserves. One thing I think the league ought to consider at once, and that is this: At present the mayor of our city holds office as a commissioner, which in many ways, no doubt, is a very excellent arrangement, but it also has its disadvantages. For instance, what good business man of Calgary is going to offer himself as a candidate for the mayor's chair when, if elected, it practically means giving up his private affairs and giving all his attention to commissioner's work? The salary attached to the office is no inducement to anyone who is not drawing a much smaller salary in his ordinary occupation.

Hence, I claim, we will never have the best men of our city in the mayor's chair under the present system. I think Calgary requires—nay, demands—our very best citizens as our chief magistrates, and the only way this can be brought about is to have our charter changed whereby we elect three commissioners and a mayor. In that case the mayor's chair would be an honorary one and, I believe, sought after by the most suitable of our citizens—men who would be a credit to the city.

SHIP STRIKES ICEBERG.

St. Johns, July 29.—The British steamer Manchester put into port today badly damaged as a result of colliding during a dense fog, July 24, with a submerged iceberg. The steamer is bound from Montreal to Manchester, England. The iceberg was encountered 10 miles north of Belle Isle straits. The steamer's fore compartment was pierced and her frame was cracked by the blow. It was necessary to jettison the deck load of lumber before the vessel could proceed. When she arrived here her fore compartments were full of water, and she was nearly two feet down by the head. She will go into dry dock here for repairs.

Mr. R. C. Wellhead, trade unionist, has been adopted as Labor candidate for Coventry at the next election.

IN VACATION TIME

(Denver Republican)

Vacation—any school boy or girl can tell you just how many days, hours and minutes it contains—is now in the foreground, and fathers and mothers at home are wondering just how much their stock of gray hair will be increased before the season of no-tiredness is over.

For generally it develops somewhere about the middle of the first week that vacation is not unalloyed delight. Not that he wants to hear that school bell ring again—oh, dear, no—but it's so hot outside that the boy would rather be in the shade of a tree than in the sun, and Eddie Peters and Willie White tussled over some trifle and cuffed each other until Eddie's nose was red with bicycling, and a fellow gets tired of reading stories, and in short, there's a universal cloud of discontent roaming about the house.

In every neighborhood there is a Jones boy or a Smith boy who has a job mailed on the last day of school. He hustles orders for the grocer, or he delivers papers or makes himself busy in one way or another, and he does it with a will. He is not content to loaf. Whenever the rest of the boys get restless and delve into mischief through that very restless one, the Jones boy or the Smith boy isn't concerned. He snatches a few minutes off to play catch in the evening, or he goes to the movies, or he plays a casual ball game, but he never objects because his amusements are few. In spite of his few hours of play, vacation never seems dull to him. And at the end of the season when the children go back to school, the mother of the Jones boy or the mother of the Smith boy has had nothing to do, has engaged in so much vacation mischief, while the Jones boy or the Smith boy hasn't.

There seems to be a world-old lesson lurking somewhere in the story of the Jones boy or the Smith boy. The mother of the Jones boy has more than the boys. There is always a household to take the edge off a girl's vacation restlessness, but civilization has provided no such escape valve for the surplus energy of the boy. Vacation mischief is only a sort of pocket edition of the troubles of childhood, and it would be interesting to trace their troubles back to the days when they played vacation grasshopper to the Jones or Smith boy's aunt. The habit of idleness is a good habit to form early, and there's no time like vacation in which to shape it.

Women's Position in the Laws of Nations

"Women's position in the Laws of Nations" is a book that has appeared at the instance of the International Council of Women. It is sprung from a desire to furnish a real and convincing foundation for the advancement of woman suffrage. Women have again and again based their demand for the right to vote upon the fact that their special interests in legislation will receive proper consideration only when they themselves are in a position to take part in the framing of the laws which influence their lives and fates. The book of the International Council will give emphasis to this claim. It contains sections which treat of the legal position of women in comparison with that of man in twenty countries. The work has been edited by the president of the committee of the International Council of Women in German, French and English. The individual sections are written in German, French and English. They treat of law with regard to the family, property and the state. The contents of these sections show in fact that the hypothesis under which the work was begun was entirely correct. Laws were quoted from the constitution of the United States, and from the laws of other countries, which are only to be explained on the supposition that the boys who framed these laws could not understand the interests of women or the effects of these laws upon the female portion of the people. Only in a few countries, such as Norway, has the woman as mother equal authority with the father. In most countries the married woman is prejudiced in the property rights and is limited in the disposal of her property. In many countries the penal laws contain clauses which treat women much more harshly than men. For example, Frau Jellinek in the German section, shows very conclusively that besides laws which expressly provide a worse treatment for women there are many laws which, when not expressly directed against women, are interpreted against her. There are also laws which, although according to their wording they treat man and woman alike, or even seem to favor woman, yet often prejudice her cause in their operation. This state of affairs is illustrated by a wealth of examples. Only in a few countries is the equality of man and woman recognized by public law.

Fortunately we learn through this book that in many places the woman's movement has been able to accomplish so much that important changes have been brought about. The efforts of women in this direction, by their courage and support to the women in making their claims, for it will show them that the laws which one often looks upon as necessary and inalterable are already elsewhere overcome, and the book will certainly be useful to the modern women's movement in fact that the hypothesis under which the work was begun was entirely correct. Laws were quoted from the constitution of the United States, and from the laws of other countries, which are only to be explained on the supposition that the boys who framed these laws could not understand the interests of women or the effects of these laws upon the female portion of the people. Only in a few countries, such as Norway, has the woman as mother equal authority with the father. In most countries the married woman is prejudiced in the property rights and is limited in the disposal of her property. Callian Russell's Beauty Secrets

So many women and even growing girls have written me requesting formula for reducing their thick lips that I have taken the time to study the cause of thickened lips and find a prevention and cure for the defect.

The law of perfect beauty requires that the mouth, that most expressive feature of the face, should be of medium size, smaller in woman than in man.

The curve of the upper lips is said to have furnished the ancient Greek artists with a model for the cupid's bow. The line must extend beyond the lower lip, which must, however, be more fully developed, and rounded, turning outward so to leave a space between it and the chin a graceful curve follow. The teeth should be small, round and perfectly even and white.

Naturally lovely red lips are beautiful, and girls seem to think that biting the lips will make them red. That is a mistake. Although biting the lips will make them red for a little while, after effect is just the reverse of red; they become dry, pale and thick. I attribute the thickening under lip to the fact that it is not of biting.

If the general health is good the lips naturally will be red, or a healthy pink. This is more necessary to beautiful complexion than the use of cosmetics. Unfortunately people who suffer from split lips may attribute the cracking to the use of cosmetics, but it is the nature of too spicy foods, tobacco and alcoholic drinks. Nowadays the harmfulness of many mouth washes which contain irritating ingredients has been rightly pointed out. To this class especially belong volatile oils, which for the sake of their perfume are included in almost every better class mouth wash and in many tooth pastes as well. Peppermint oil in particular, which is commonly used for this purpose, is apt to produce irritating conditions of the tongue and lips.

Too strong antiseptic applications are also aggravating to tender lips. People who suffer from tender lips should never be exposed to salt air or strong winds without announcing their lips with some healing salve. A little witch hazel mixed with a little pure almond oil is as good as anything.

When the lips are too thick the trouble may be overcome to a great extent by watching your own expression. Look at yourself and draw the lips together into a pleasant smile, then entwine that smile. A smile has never distorted any face.

A gram of pulverized tannin and a gram of alkali bicarb melted in one ounce of pure cold cream and left to macerate for five hours may be rubbed gently over the lips when cold. This salve is astringent and will reduce the fullness a great deal. Japanese beauties chew a little cinnamon bark to reduce the lips and also as an antiseptic breath pastille.

If mothers would watch their children and stop the habit of biting their lips they would improve the beauty of their families.

Cleanliness is necessary for a perfectly beautiful mouth. Cigarette smoking, sitting with a pencil or tooth pick in the mouth will misshape the lips. But a bad temper will do more harm to the outline of the mouth than any other habit. The lips form sweet expressions from the inner workings of the mind.

Remember: An uplifting thought purges all the facial ailments and makes the hardest mouth sweet.

E. S.: When the flesh on the face has become flaccid and soft, try the cold water treatment. Turn on the cold spray or go over the face with a piece of ice. It will bring the blood directly to that part of the body which is under treatment. Orange flower skin food properly massaged into the face will build up the tissues. If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope I shall gladly send you the formula for the skin food with directions for correct facial massage, also the formula for Hungarian water, which is good for toning up the skin.

CLARE: There are no absolute proportions in regard to height and weight. Nearly every artist has what he considers the standard of beauty in regard to measurements, an probably no two artists in a hundred would agree. One hundred and twenty pounds is about the average weight for your height. I am sending you the formula for a cleansing cream and also a dietary for gaining flesh.

MRS. E. G. H.: Bay rum is good for the hair. It stimulates the oil glands to activity. I will send you the formula for an excellent hair tonic in which I have perfect faith and complete instructions for scalp massage if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope. I am sorry, but I cannot give you information about the articles you mention, as I know nothing about it.

E. M.: You are still young and have plenty of time to develop. I would not advise you to try to grow stouter. Your weight is about the average for a girl of 16. You are making the mistake that so many young girls do, of thinking you should be fat. It is characteristic of youth to be slender, just as it is of middle age to be stout. I do not believe that you need to be stouter now; if you were you would lose the grace of youth. Still, if in spite of all I have said you wish to increase your avoidpounds, follow these directions I have given; but remember I predict the time will come when you will be just as anxious to lose flesh as you are now to gain it.

J. A.: Little can be done to reduce the size of the hands. The fault is in the bones of the hands, and you cannot reduce the size of bones. You can work on muscles and fat, but the framework of the body, the bones, so far as reducing the size of them, transcends our efforts. I think when a child is growing the size of the hands can be modified. If children when playing use their hands in digging and in carrying heavy weights it will shape them. If children's hands will look well. Children think it is fine thing to pull the fingers to hear the cracking sound. It enlarges the joints, and mothers should warn their

PUGILISTIC ENCOUNTER BETWEEN SPECTATOR AND PLAYER FEATURED LAST NIGHT'S CALLIE-HILLHURST GAME

Archie Stewart Proves Himself the Hope of the Race When a Spectator Tries to Help Other Side Play Game; Callies Get Only Score of Contest, Which Was Called Early

Not since the season began has there been such feeling shown in a soccer game this year as there was in the Hillhurst-Callies match last evening at the Hillhurst park. The first half was clean, but in the second half the rough work began. It commenced when Archie Stewart struck a spectator. On the north side of the ground there is no fence and the spectators gathered round there and encroached upon the field. The requests of the linemen that they get back were unheeded, but there were policemen present, and they were appealed to by the officials for the spectators off the field. Nothing was done, however, until too late.

Stewart says that the spectator was four yards in the playing pitch. The ball was going that way, but the man stopped it, and Stewart, trying to get it, kicked the man's legs. The spectator then began to call Stewart all kinds of names, and the player soon showed he was not going to stand any hot stuff. So he led off with his right to the man's face, and as the spectator rushed at him he got in a right and a left. They clinched and reeled about until separated by the crowd.

It took some minutes to get the game in order, and not five minutes afterwards Wilkinson and Twill got at loggierheads and they also started to settle matters with their fists. These incidents passed away the time and with ten minutes still to go it was almost too dark to see the ball, so Referee Dalgetty stopped the game. Then there was a hub-bub. The Callies were winning by one goal to nil and were very anxious to carry off the points and rightly so, and it seemed hard lines that when they were so near they should have been disappointed. But any fair-minded spectator will admit that it was impossible to play any longer, and with such bad feeling existing between the players it is hard to say what might have happened. It was a proper thing to stop the game.

Dalgetty was surrounded by a hooting crowd, and hard work was experienced in getting to the dressing room, and the players were surrounded and had to fight their way through. Even when they were away the spectators gathered in knots and discussed the happenings and it was some time before they dispersed.

Game Started Late. The ball began to be kicked off at the scheduled time—7:15—there would have been time to have played to a finish, but instead the start was not made until after 7:30. Before another big game is played there should also be a fence erected on the north side of the ground to keep the spectators off the field, or arrangements made to force them to keep clear. This should not have been necessary would the people use a little forethought and common sense, but these seem to be qualities in which they are woefully deficient.

Then again Dalgetty did not keep the firm hand on the game that was required. However, it is very easy to talk of what might have been, but the things have happened, unfortunately, and though it may seem hard on the Callies the game will have to be replayed.

The two most effective forwards for Hillhurst were the wingers, Archie Stewart and McEwan, and both got across some pretty centres, especially Stewart, and the Callies' backs had to be on the qui vive when the Tigers' forwards got near.

The Game Starts. In the first few minutes, and from a throw on the left wing, Archie Stewart got the ball and ran well in before passing to Johnson. The inside-left returned it, but A. Wakenly this time was in the position. A. Wakenly, in a fine position, but he was covered by McEwan, who eventually got the ball away. Each goal had some very narrow shaves before the interval came, but the game was not over until after 7:30. Before another big game is played there should also be a fence erected on the north side of the ground to keep the spectators off the field, or arrangements made to force them to keep clear.

TYNESIDERS CHAMPIONS OF "A" DIVISION

Defeated C. P. R. Last Night in Game Which Decided the Title

By defeating C. P. R. last evening at Mevata Park, Tynesiders carried off the championship of the section "A" of the Intermediate league. Previous to this game both teams had dropped three points, the Tynesiders having lost to C. P. R. on their previous meeting and drawn with Crescent Heights, and C. P. R. having dropped their points at Nelson's. Had it not been for the counter-attraction at Hillhurst, there would undoubtedly have been a tie crowd present, but as it was there were about two hundred.

BEST AUSTRALIAN COAST IS SUITED FOR PURPOSES OF IRRIGATION

August 1.—N. R. W. Nelson, secretary minister for lands, who represented the New South Wales government at the Chicago Irrigation conference at Chicago, has issued a report in which he says that the east coast of Australia can be made as productive as any similar tract in the United States or elsewhere. He recommends the government to undertake extensive irrigation works, declaring that the cost of these works is amply repaid. Mr. Nelson also recommended the establishment of a general scheme of irrigation from the United States to the east coast of Australia. He says that the cost of such a scheme is not so great as it appears to be, and that it is an almost certain source of revenue.

MISS GOULD SAYS SHE DID NOT DEFEND OLD MAIDS

New York, Aug. 1.—Miss Helen Gould, now at Roxbury, N. Y., denies in emphatic terms that she wrote the now famous letter to the Rev. Elmer V. Huffer, of Grand Junction, Colo., in which he charged that she took him to task for asserting that old maids should be marooned on a barren island. In her own words she says, "I did not write the letter to the Rev. Huffer, of Grand Junction, Colo." It was asked of the minister to prove his assertions that he had received such a letter when a demand was made on him to produce the original. He refused, saying he had given out the literal copy "and that my word is enough."

ENGLAND CONSUMES MANY PATENT MEDICINES

London, England, Aug. 1.—A select committee of the house of commons on patent medicines has been holding sessions for some time past. The purpose is to make a thorough investigation in reference to the law with regard to the sale and advertisement of the patent medicines in the United Kingdom, and to make suggestions and recommendations if they deem it advisable to do so with regard to changes that should be made. In the course of the inquiry it was shown that three years ago even no fewer than 4,757,535 patent medicine stamps were sold in the United Kingdom. This was practically equivalent to one package of patent medicine for every man, woman and child in the country. The gross receipts from the sale of the stamps was $1,227,608. The receipts for the year ending March 25, 1912, was $1,595,510. It was estimated by one of the witnesses before the committee that the amount of money spent on proprietary medicines in Great Britain in the year 1908 was $12,166,250, which represented a sum sufficient to maintain 40,000 hospital or sanatorium beds.

FATHER'S PRESENTIMENT PROVES TRUE

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 1.—"She's going to die, I know, and she must die at home," cried John Danda, who fought with eight policemen to prevent them from taking his daughter, Rosie, five years old, to a hospital after she had been run down and crushed by a moving van. Policemen held Danda while an ambulance took her away. The father's presentiment proved true, as the little girl died shortly after being taken to the hospital. Rosie and a girl companion had tried to cross the street ahead of the van, which belonged to Travis & Co., and was driven by Andrew Linn. The other girl escaped, but the wheels passed over Rosie's body. Linn was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

OLD COWMAN DISCUSSES STAMPEDE

"O NCT," said the Old Cowman, as he filled his bank check with a handful of smoking tobacco which he had borrowed from my pouch, "I usta see Frank Oliver drivin' a bull team in this here country. It was then he learnt how tuh talk straight enough tuh make a speech on th' floor uh th' shack at Ottawa. Frank Oliver, he sure kin talk convincin' when he gets on a real live subject. An' speakin' uh bull teams makes me call tuh mind that their ain't many real bull whackers left who kin skin a team uh twenty-four ornery oxen. I 'spect Honorable Frank Oliver ud be jest on'y too glad tuh git out an' have a heart tuh heart conversation with twenty-four ornery agin'. An' speakin' uh oxen makes me think uh hosses 'cause they're so diffurint. There's gonna be some bad, ratty hosses at this year Stampede. Hosses ain't changed ez much ez men has in the last twenty years, an' I see they're roundin' up a lot uh raw, fightin' stock from them wild bunches in th' hills." He paused to think, rolled his eyes at me to see if he was holding my attention, shifted his— or rather, my— cud to the other cheek, and resumed.

"These yer Stampede folks has got a lot uh purty of riders worin' 'em roundin' up hosses. I know uh one bunch uh wild ones what's been rarin' around them mountains fer fifteen year, led by an old thoroughbred stallion what run away an' headed a band uh cayuse mares. That bunch is jest like goats, an' people hasn't bin able tuh get anywhere near 'em. But these yer Stampede riders has got round ten up these wire-bull mountains. They run th' bands in a wild coules an' then fenced th' open end uh the coules. I'll bet them mountain terriers do wickeder buckin' and longer buckin' than th' worst hoss from Montanny er Wyoming."

"I was tellin' ye yesterday about them unknown kid riders who'd be th' ones tuh come down here to th' Stampede an' make them state champions look like these correspondence school cowpunchers wot we see these days. They run th' bars, they smokin' cegarrettes an' posin' as mazzeen suppliments uh Charlie Russell's models. I mind once bin up in Pincher when they bring in a bunch uh them wild mountain ponies. They come in a snortin' an' jest fightin' mad. They'd bin run ten mile an' they hadn't hardly turned a hair though th' wranglers' hosses was drippin'. They picked out a purty, blue stud who seemed all muscle an' bone. They tried tuh get at his neck, but th' talkin' cowboys from th' hotel tuh go up agin him, but they was nothin' doin'."

"Purty one guy takes a chance, blind-folds th' critter, swings up, hooks th' spurs in th' cinch an' pulls off their blind. That blue hoss jest stood fer a minute, waltzed up his eye, swallowed his head, and jumped like a snake with th' bellcane. That mail-order rider jest natchurally fell all to pieces an' was awful glad tuh get away while th' hoss was kinchin' his saddle all to fringes. There was a kid about eighteen year old sittin' on th' crail rail an' he gets down, walks over, grabs that hoss an' cinch th' saddle loose with one swipe. Then they ropes the hoss an' ties him up fer rest while th' kid goes an' sets his own ol' leather patch. It's a real saddle, one a man has tuh ride tuh stay with when he's on a pitchin' hoss, not one uh these yer modern easy chairs with a fourteen inch, roller look. It's like a cat, rasps the hoss from ears tuh tail, rasps him from withers tuh couplin', while the blue hoss bwins an' equals an' bites an' does some uh th' low-end sun-fishin', swappin' an' rail-fence work I ever see. That there unknown kid jest ride, an' buzzes his spurs all over the hoss."

The Old Cattleman remained silent. "Well," I said, "What has that got to do with the Stampede?" "I eyed me emphatically," he replied. "That was eight year ago," he replied. "An' that kid was a unknown then. He's an unknown yet, an' he's still workin' fer a pack-train outfit in th' mountains. Every year he breaks a hind uh raw hosses tuh saddle, an' he's a harder hearted fer ridin' than he ever was. He's workin' fer sun-fishin' a month an' he thinks breakin' broncs is jest fun. He's comin' down here to this Stampede, an' he's after one of them housin' prizes. I'm jest a-bettin' a few greenbacks that he surprises some uh these champans."

BRITONS BORN 'YOUNG' HAVE LONG LIFE

London, Aug. 1.—In order to reach a ripe old age in this city you must be born Young. A reference to "Who's Who" will show that the Youngs beat all other families in the matter of longevity. A few weeks ago Englishment were congratulating Samuel Young, the patriarch of the House of Commons, on the completion of his ninetieth year, and a few days ago Sir Frederick Young, the grand old man of the Royal Colonial Institute, entered on his ninety-sixth year. Now from the Ballarat goldfield in Australia comes news of the death of William Young at the age of 108. When a boy of 14 he came to Australia, and he was one of the pioneer gold-diggers at Ballarat.

Taking the Town By Storm

WE expected our new brew, Kuntz's Old German Lager, to cause a big stir. But it's doing even more than we expected. It's simply taking the town by storm, winning friends with its superb quality.

Kuntz's OLD GERMAN LAGER

Drink A Glass Of This Brilliant Light Lager. POUR out a glass of Kuntz's Old German Lager. Hold it to the light. See how it sparkles. Then taste the lager that will soon put the best of imported lagers into a back seat. You can hardly expect American lagers to equal Kuntz's Old German. The law in the States allows the brewers to use corn, rice, sugar, tannic acid and other malt adjuncts. The Canadian law, while prohibiting Canadian brewers from using such malt adjuncts, and we are glad it does so, still allows American lagers to be sold in Canada in competition with honest Canadian beers.

Kuntz's Old German is more than merely a light lager. It is a light lager of very superior quality. Brewed by the expensive Old German Process from the best Canadian barley, Bohemian hops, high-class yeast, and pure, sparkling water from the famous Kuntz Springs. Bottled only at the mammoth Kuntz Brewery at Waterloo. Look for the word Waterloo on the label.

Try a bottle of Kuntz's Old German Lager at your favorite hotel or cafe. Then order a case sent home and treat your wife and friends to the latest brewing triumph of the famous old House of Kuntz.

CLEVER FORGER ARRESTED

Paris, August 1.—The arrest of 40 street hawkers at the games of Longchamps Racecourse for selling forged tickets for the recent military review has revealed the existence of a forged-ticket factory. An engraver was arrested, and in his workshop were discovered 24 reserve tickets for the grand stand at the review copied exactly from those issued by the minister of war and even provided with the official stamp, while 600 tickets were waiting to be stamped.

LEGION OF FRONTIERSMEN

A general meeting of the Legion of Frontiersmen will be held in the Builders' Exchange, Travis Block this evening, the 2nd August, at 8 o'clock. The business of the meeting is to elect officers and N. C. O.'s, and to discuss the proposed position on parade at the review of H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught when he visits this city in September.

An orchestra player in Cleveland cannot play his cornet in the Labor Day parade this fall because it is not union made. I suppose this means the end of fancy prices for Stradivarius violins.

MORMON CHURCH PLANS TO MAKE MOTION PICTURES MADE TO EXPLOIT PECULIAR FAITH

Salt Lake City, Utah, August 1.—The Mormon Church of Utah has decided to have movies to motion pictures in an effort to "boost the same" in an effort to offset some of the pictures which have been shown throughout the country and which were said by Governor Spry and other Mormon elders to reflect on the disciples of Smith and Young. In the films which are to be made the Mormons are to be made as heroes, hardy pioneers and all-round "desirable" folk. The church will spend about $50,000 on the contemplated films. Harry A. Kelly, president and general manager of a film company of Los Angeles, which proposes to stage the picture-story in and about this city to be entitled "A Hundred Years of Mormonism," is in Salt Lake and was in conference with the Mormon Church officials. The film will tell the story of Mormonism from its inception to the present day. Forty of the most prominent actors in the motion picture business will be brought here to take the roles of leading characters in the great historical drama, and more than 300 local men, women and children will be employed to fill lesser parts. President Joseph F. Smith and other officials of the church may consent to appear before the camera in the stage of contemporaneous events in the church. After the conference with the Mormon authorities, Mr. Kelly said the entire film would have the sanction of the church before it is put in circulation. Mr. Kelly will begin immediately the extensive preparations necessary for making the film. He will defer the actual use of the picture-making machine until the latter part of the month or the first of August, in order to take advantage of the clearer atmosphere that prevails in this vicinity at that period. Scores of oxen, mules, old-time prairie wagons and other paraphernalia are being gathered up from all over the country. The story will begin with the finding of the golden plates in the Hill Cumorah, as recounted in the early traditions of the church. It will show the original founder of the church, Joseph Smith, from his boyhood until the hour of his death at the hands of a mob in Missouri. It will trace the growth of the church from its infancy to the powerful organization it is today, including the apocalyptic vision of the latter part of the century. It will deal with the missionary phase, the incidents of pioneer life, the current of the church, including with a presentation of conditions as they exist today.

RAILROAD ACTIVITY IN RED DEER COUNTRY

C. P. R. is Building Several Miles of Yardage; C. N. R. Has Steel Laid to River
Eight Railroad Camps Near Red Deer, Grading Towards Yellowhead Pass

Red Deer, Aug. 1.—The Canadian Pacific railway has begun work on the extension of their yardage here. Three new tracks will be put in and several of them already have been extended. And altogether, over two and one-half miles will be added to the present accommodations. The company have already increased their room, but the increase in business have necessitated further extensions. A trainmaster has been located to handle the business of this division. The Canadian Northern, Brassau branch, have laid the steel to the river west of here and are pushing the grading from there westward. There are eight camps beyond the river and grading is going ahead practically to the mouth of the Yellowhead Pass.

The Presbyterians have decided to erect a new church and picked a site on Third street north of the corner. The site has been purchased and the necessary funds were in hand to pay for it. Some farm buyers are coming through, and some parcels in the Medicine Valley were turned over this week. Farmers in the south of the province are turning their attention to this district. A movement is on foot to bring in quite a number of dairy cows from Ontario, so that the milk supply here may be increased. Owing to the very favorable season an unusual number of entries from local flower growers.

QUEEN WITNESSES TEST OF WIRELESS PHONE

Her Majesty Talks With a Friend Stationed 300 Yards Away
"Wonderful" is Comment at the Completion of the Demonstration

London, Aug. 1.—Queen Mary witnessed at Buckingham Palace an interesting demonstration of wireless telephone between motor cars placed at opposite ends of the grounds. Her Majesty personally tested the capacity of the invention, placing a receiver to her ear and listening to a conversation transmitted from the second car standing at least 200 or 300 yards away. Princess Mary and Prince Alexander of Teck were also present. This new invention came to Her Majesty's notice through the enterprise of the authorities of the Middlesex Hospital, of which Prince Alexander of Teck is the chairman, who are exploiting it with a view to augmenting the funds of the Cancer Charity of the hospital. The apparatus cannot be used in competition with existing telephones or wireless telegraph companies, but arrangements are being made to exhibit it in London and in the provinces, a charge being made in aid of the funds of the charity. The Cancer Charity of the Middlesex Hospital has been selected as having the first claim upon the contributions. The transmitting and receiving apparatus is placed in the separate cars. From the roof of the transmitting car projects a conical-shaped shaft from which are dispatched the radio waves which are picked up by a shaft attached to the second car. Queen Mary was the greatest interest in the explanations of the apparatus given by Mr. Brownrigg Pyper on behalf of the inventors, and after watching a conversation being carried on took the receiver herself. "Wonderful" was the Queen's exclamation at the conclusion of the demonstration. Mr. Malhado, Secretary Superintendent of the Middlesex Hospital was present in attendance upon Prince Alexander of Teck.

Girl Cured of Disfiguring Pimples

By Cuticura Ointment. Broke Out on Face when Twelve or Thirteen. Was Most Embarrassing. Had Tried Everything.
A Nova Scotia girl, Miss Mabel Morah, of Dorset, writes: "When I was about twelve or thirteen years of age, my face broke out with pimples, and I tried everything to get rid of them, but failed. The pimples were the worst on my forehead and chin. They came out in groups and developed into large sores. Being so young, they caused great disfigurement, and were most embarrassing."
"After trying so many remedies without success, I saw the Cuticura Ointment advertised in a box, and I tried it. I used it to the pimples, and in a week I saw a great change in my face. I kept using it, and in a few months it rendered a complete cure. Now you cannot tell I ever had pimples, and my face is as clear as a mirror." (Signed) Miss Mabel Morah, Mar. 21, 1911.

Baby's Face Like Raw Beef
"My baby boy had a large pimple come on his forehead. It burst and spread all over his face. He looked like a piece of raw beef, all smoother with bad pimples, and great change in my face. I kept using it, and in a few months it rendered a complete cure. Now you cannot tell I ever had pimples, and my face is as clear as a mirror." (Signed) Miss Mabel Morah, Mar. 21, 1911.

LICENSE COMMISSIONERS REFUSE HOTEL PERMIT

Three applications for hotel licenses were passed upon by the board of license commissioners and all three were refused. Applications from Shepard and Beisler were refused because the applicants have not the necessary forty houses each. The petition of the Beakley Hotel Company to open a hostelry, already on the board of investigation, on the ground that the latter place now has sufficient hotels for a city of its size.

AMERICAN TRAVELERS RIDE FOR 2 CENTS A MILE

Figures Show That Volume of Freight Traffic is Decreasing
Number of Passengers Riding Last Year Totalled 997,409,882

Washington, Aug. 1.—American railroads carried more passengers during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1911, than in any single previous year, but considerable less freight than was carried during the previous year. These facts were developed in a preliminary abstract of the twenty-fourth annual statistical report of the Interstate Commerce Commission made public today. The number of passengers carried was 997,409,882, an increase over the previous year of 25,728,883. The average receipts per passenger for each mile traveled was a trifle over 19 cents. The number of tons of freight handled was 1,781,837,945, a decrease over the year of $82,822,147 tons. The average receipts per mile for each ton hauled was a fraction over three-quarters of a cent. During the year 248,124 miles of line were operated, the total mileage of all tracks being 362,710 miles. The roads employed 61,327 locomotives and 2,247 cars, a considerable increase in equipment. The total number of persons on the pay roll of the steam railroads was 2,123,745, a decrease of 20,213 as compared with the previous year. The par value of the amount of railway capital was $19,205,981. Of the total stock outstanding 22.33 per cent paid no dividends. The aggregate amount of dividends declared during the year was $460,185,276, being equivalent to 4.00 per cent on dividend-paying stock. The operating revenues of the railways of the country for the year ended June 30, 1911, were $2,129,761,959, while their operating expenses were $1,915,405,095. These figures show an increase in operating revenues of $24,824,234, and an increase of operating expenses of $23,428,572.

COURT STUMPED BY CHARGE OF CRUELTY TO LOBSTER

Philadelphia, August 1.—John Hardeau, chef of a well-known hotel, was today charged with cruelty to a lobster, but as Philadelphia lawyers could not decide whether a lobster can be cruelly treated, the judge held the case over until August 8, when experts will be called in to enlighten the magistrate on that point. The charge was made by an agent of the Women's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, because the chef placed a wooden peg in the first joint back of the claw of the lobster on exhibition in the window of the cafe.

Housework Drudgery

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the strain of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest is had, but it is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weakness, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures those who are unable to conceive. It strengthens the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep. Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any unscrupulous druggist persuade you that his substitute of unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit. Just smile and shake your head! Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cures liver ills.

FRANCIS JOSEPH HELPS CROWN PRINCE BORIS AND HIS SWEETHEART, PRINCESS ELIZABETH

Vienna, Aug. 1.—A romance concerning the young Crown Prince Boris of Bulgaria and the beautiful and accomplished Princess Elizabeth of Roumania has just come to the ears of the Vienna court circles. The young people desire to wed and both appealed to the Emperor Francis Joseph to aid them in overcoming the hostility of their parents. The heart of the emperor of Austria was touched when he heard the story of love's young dream, and he wrote personal letters to the rulers of Roumania and Bulgaria, and formal announcement of the betrothal is now expected. There was no hand clapping. Mrs. Fish calmly gazed on a generalist of astonished faces. Her auditors, after the first pang of surprise, crowded around her and urged her to change her decision and remain the rest of the season.

The recognized social leader was obdurate. She stuck by her side, and Mr. Fish, who had straddled with her to the Casino at noon, approved his wife's stand. For weeks gossip has had it that Mr. and Mrs. Fish are discontented with the social whirl here. Mr. Fish did not attempt to keep secret that he had long ago tired of the social routine. "I want to tell you all dear friends, that I'm not fascinated with Newport any more. Mr. Fish and myself will leave August 17 and may go to Europe. You see, it is this way with us, there are the same old lunches, the same old dances, but I can't say the same old faces, though." There was no hand clapping. Nothing to Sway Winnipeg Wheat Market Yesterday; Prices Shaded Off... Winnipeg, Aug. 1.—There was no news to sway the wheat market either here or in any other section. Option prices were steady, October opening 1-8 higher, and December, 1-8 lower, and fluctuations not wide during the night session. American markets were weaker and Liverpool closed steady, 1-4 lower for October and 1-8 higher for December.

Options were steady... TORONTO LIVESTOCK DULL... Good Stockers in Demand, But Quotations Were Unchanged; Common Cattle Weaker

Toronto, August 1.—Choice cattle, what few there were, were on sale at either of the local cattle markets, but were unchanged from the quotations Monday, but common cattle, which have been too numerous all week, were slow and prices were considerably weaker. There was a good demand yesterday for medium weight butcher cattle, but nothing to satisfy it.

Good stocks were in demand, but quotations were unchanged. Milk cows were also quite firm, especially choice. There was a heavy run of sheep and lambs, and the trade was consequently slower with prices a shade easier.

Hogs were steady. Receipts at the city cattle market were 82 loads, 718 cattle, 1,100 sheep and lambs, 550 hogs and 23 calves. Quotations: Export cattle, choice 740 at 755. Medium 700 at 725. C. P. R. WILL REACH 300 BY END OF YEAR PREDICTED... Went to Another High Level at Toronto Yesterday; Raised Ten Points in Week

Movement in Other Stocks Erratic, Some Losing Ground, While Others Gained... Toronto, Aug. 1.—There were a great many stocks traded in on the local exchange today, with small lists predominating. The outstanding feature was C. P. R., which in sympathy with London and New York, sold higher at 275, another high price.

The gossip continues bullish on the stock, and many predict that 300 will be reached by the end of the year. The grain yield in the west will of course be a factor in the stocks, and just now the crop conditions are said to be good. The stock has risen over 10 per cent within a week.

The movement in other stocks was a little erratic. The Brazilians were on the quiet side and featureless. Rio closed at 347-3/4 and Sao Paulo at 254-1/8, each showing fractional losses. Toronto railway was the most active feature. After having declined to 140 it rose sharply to 142-1/2 and closed at 142-1/8.

Sawyer Massey had a further advance of 1-1/4, closing 44-3/4, and Maple Leaf preferred was strong at 152-1/2. Spanish rice was higher, selling at 270. St. Lawrence was particularly strong. It advanced 2-1/8, closing at 198-1/8. The total trade amounted to 2,100 shares, 42,500 bonds, against 1,550 shares on Wednesday and 24,600 bonds.

The Tar of Russia has 102 palaces, employing a staff of 22,000 servants, with an annual pay of $4,000,000, and yet Papias Jones insists that being a Tar is a bomb job. Walking down Broadway the other day I noticed a sign outside a building which read, "Girls wanted to new House-keepers on the third floor." Nothing so distressing as an unbuttoned floor.

C. P. R. UP IN LONDON

Took Jump on Heavy Foreign Buying; Consols Off a Shade; Coppers Decline... London, Aug. 1.—Money and discount rates were steady today. The stock market developed a few interesting features, the chief of which was a jump of 3-8 in C. P. R. on news from New York and Berlin saying that trunk lines and Mexican rails were active and dearer, and Kaffirs and Diamond shares developed a miniature boom. Consols which the afternoon session was concluded, declined 3-16, and home rails were weak, while copper stocks declined on rumors of increasing stocks. American securities opened steady and a fraction higher. During the early trading, prices advanced on trading and later the market gained under the lead of Union Pacific. The closing was firm.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAS UNDERGONE MANY CHANGES IN FIFTY YEARS

Government and Parliament of Empire Partially Lost Imperial Character... London, Aug. 1.—In responding to the toast of the Worshipful Company of Leather Sellers, who entertained friends, the dominions and his dinner last night, the premier, apropos of the naval negotiations, declared the best spirit of good will to be the members present.

The government had received them most cordially, and the terms of their negotiations would be found to be to the advantage not only of Canada, but also of the empire.

Mr. Borden said: "The British in the last fifty years have undergone very considerable changes in respect to constitutional relations between the mother country and the dominions. As a result of these changes, the dominions have been granted to the great dominions, the government and the parliament of the mother country has partially lost the imperial character which they once possessed. So far as its policy is concerned, that necessity must be considered which is controlled by one body fit for the purpose by the consent of the empire which that body represented, and up to the present in the very nature of the government of the United Kingdom had been performing that function. The principle upon which it was performing had been debated by many constitutional writers, and the best explanation given was that it was performed by his majesty's government as trustees for the great nations across the seas."

OPTIMISM MARKED SPEECH OF PREMIER BORDEN... Tells England Canadians' Belief in Their Country is Fully Justified

Canada's Development, Though Marvelous, None Too Great Considering Resources... London, Aug. 1.—Premier Borden and his colleagues were the guests at luncheon today in the ancient hall of the Merchant Taylors' company, of the Canada club, Lord Strathcona presiding over a large gathering very fairly representative of the financial interests of the city.

Replying to the toast of his health, the Canadian premier opened with a warm eulogy of Lord Strathcona, whom he called "the man in the empire who was a greater imperial figure or had been in the growth and development of Canada."

"In the growth and development of Canada," went on Mr. Borden, "the situation was such that we Canadians of today can hardly realize its difficulties. The men who undertook the foundation of Canadian confederation were possessed of supreme faith and courage while the work they accomplished has been justified by the marvelous success attending it."

"The British empire as constituted today is a very bold experiment indeed, but an experiment justified by the strength of the ties now binding together the mother empire and the dominion across the seas into one great empire. It is perfectly true organization may not be—indeed, most of us consider it is not—what it might be for certain purposes—(cheers)—but the empire unorganized in some respects as it is today, has proved itself a magnificent success in time of need or danger. I do not doubt the future will in that regard fully justify the history of the past."

"There are men who may be forgiven for supposing that the immense and rapid development of Canada during the past fourteen or fifteen years was a mere matter of misfortune; but those who know the country and even those who have traversed it but a few weeks and caught but a glimpse of the marvelous heritage of the mother people will agree that although her progress has been marvelous—so marvelous as to attract not only the attention of the whole empire but of the whole world—it has been none too great considering her resources."

"We all realize that the greatness of any dominion or nation within this empire cannot be founded securely on purely material considerations, and I would like to remind you that even in that portion of Canada where development has been most rapid, in the western provinces, the most conspicuous building in any little western town is the school house."

"The empire presents many problems which can only be solved by great statesmanship. The means of international cooperation between the mother country and the dominions and the dominions themselves is assuredly the most prominent consideration. We have come from our dominion to consider measures of co-operation by which the path across the seas, so absolutely essential, not only to the wellbeing, but to the very existence of this empire, shall be secured at all times under all circumstances (cheers). I can only say that I hope, more than that I believe, that the missions may and the mother country, but to everyone of the dominions."

"We Canadians are sometimes denigrated as too optimistic in our view of the future of this empire. I believe that the missions may and the mother country, but to everyone of the dominions."

"Mr. Hazen then proposed the health of Lord Strathcona, paying a warm tribute to his long years of service to the empire."

DO YOU WANT CHEAP LUMBER
Fifty-two Yards in Alberta—Two Yards in Calgary

Few people appreciate that there is quality in lumber the same as there is in tea or in paint, or in most other articles. Cheap cull lumber or green lumber in better grades will build a house that, when well painted, will look fairly well for a few months. Such a building in our extreme climate soon takes on a dilapidated cheap look, making it difficult to sell, difficult to rent, and uncomfortable to live in.

We have always made a specialty of the highest quality, and owing to the tremendous size of our business we are able to buy on a basis that permits us to sell our lumber for as low a price as would be generally asked for a poorer quality. This has built up our large business—the largest in Western Canada.

Before purchasing inspect our stocks and permit us to give you evidence that quality considered, our prices cannot be beaten. Particular people use our lumber. If your contractor tells his lumber from us it is a sign that he is a particular man and demands the best of everything.
