The Coal Famine.
"The Sun is obliged to suspend publication of its regular issue to-day, having no power to operate the printing plant. The Electric Light Company's power and light service was stopped this morning indefinitely, the company having no fuel." The paragraph at the top of a little hand bill issued by the Brandon Daily Sun in place of its regular edition shows at a glance what the fuel famine means in the west. That night four cars of coal reached Brandon, a place of six or seven thousand inhabitants, and the Electric Light Company was able to resume operations. But these four cars were soon emptied, and the next day the Mayor of Brandon had an interview with Mr. William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway, and told him plainly that something had to be done to open up the Carberry-Burton branch in order that the three thousand cords of wood Brandon City had at Burton might be brought in. Mr. Mackenzie promised to open the line and to run one fuel train per day. Two columns of the Sun are taken up with news about cars of coal snowed up at the Souris mines or delayed elsewhere, and about the few cords of wood in slight on branch lines everything in the shape of fuel within a hundred miles is known and tabulated and appeals are being made to the railways to forward it immediately. Brandon had at that time January 24th, two hundred tons of hard coal on hand which it was selling out in five hundred pound lots, and twenty tons of soft coal which it was selling in three hundred pounds lots to householders only. Orders for coal to be delivered at shops or stores were refused. When a city only 156 miles west of Winnipeg on two leading railway lines is suffering like this it can be imagined what the famine means in the farther west. Where there is no wood or Souris lignite coal to use as a substitute and where there is only one line of railway.

Powerful Cold Weather.
Speaking of cold weather," says Truthful James, "a feller by the name of Buman, who lives at Oullison, tells me this one.
"Buman says that in the winter of 1883 he was living at a small village in Michigan on the Michigan Central railroad. There came a thundering cold snap and while the trains were running there were several days we did not hear a single whistle. The people couldn't account for it until the first of February when it commenced to thaw when all at once there was the awfulest blowing of whistles that was ever heard in that section. Then they gradually commenced to get onto the facts in the case. It had been so ternal cold that when the engineers blew their whistles the sound froze stiff and fell down by the side of the road. Then when it commenced to get warmer the whistles thawed out and all started to going to onct, making it sound as if 40 or 50 big engines had been turned loose and all tooting at the same time. I'm not vouchin' for this story. That feller Buman may be a liar for all I know."

A Storehouse for Poisons.
You may not think so, but that's what you become when the kidneys are affected. These organs cleanse the body they are the filters that remove from the blood the waste matter that acts like deadly poison on the vitality and health of the system. Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the kidneys, expel fermenting matter from the bowels, restore the liver and stimulate all excretory and secretory organs. This enables the blood to quickly replenish itself and establish perfect health. No medicine does such lasting good as Dr. Hamilton's Mandrakes and Bitternut Pills, 25c at all dealers.

He Likes it Now.
The time was, and it isn't so long ago, that the international jungle was shaken to its roots by the roars and howls of the British lion. This noble brute couldn't get a moment's sleep on account of "hidjus gorillo" in a chin whisker and a beaver hat who was continually twisting his tail. The other animals call the tail-twister Jonathan, just for fun and when Jonathan would sneak up and give the lion's tail a wrench the poor old lion would roar and howl, and all the other animals would laugh fit to split their sides.
But the noble lion has got over that. He seems to be only too glad to keep Jonathan in good humor. When Jonathan twists his tail, instead of howling murder, he roars with laughter just as if he liked it. He pretends that he likes the joke. He says:
"Twist away, Jonathan. It's my tail—haw! haw!—(yank)—ouch! I mean haw, haw! That's my tail, Jonathan, and you're welcome to it."
That's all very well, but it is as true as ever it was that familiarly breeds contempt. The Gorilla has been in the habit of getting all he asked for lately, and one of these days he will want one of the lion's cubs, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.—The Khan.

Helps Men to Work Hard.
That's what Ferrozone does: it supplies the additional strength that enables a man to maintain health under difficulties. "Last spring I was so completely ragged out I could not work" writes J. W. McNichol, of Turnbull, Man. "In the morning I was tired limbs ached all over. Had no appetite, was sleepless, nervous and unhappy. Ferrozone put new life into me. Now I eat heartily, nerves are strong, I sleep well. I know the joy of health." It's by supplying nourishment and good blood that Ferrozone builds up; try it—50c per box at all dealers.

The C. P. Ry.
The question of a C. P. R. branch from London to Sarnia comes up annually and the hopes of the people of the towns along the route are raised and then they suffer relapses, until now the average person is inclined to be skeptical the moment the question is raised. There is now, however, very tangible proof that the great Canadian Transcontinental system is now in earnest in this matter, and intends to build the line. The company has made arrangements for the purchase of the site of one of the saw mills at Sarnia, together with a generous frontage on the bay that will give them fine yards and terminal facilities. While the removal of the mill will prove a distinct loss to Sarnia, still, if the railway is acquired, it will far offset the other disadvantage. We in Petrolia need to feel an interest in the matter, and see that the necessary action is taken to insure the location of the route of this line through this town.—Petrolia Advertiser.

Two Cent Fares.
Among other proposed amendments to the Railway Act is one to reduce the passenger rate to 2 cents a mile. At a glance this proposition looks good to the people of Canada but on closer investigation were are forced to believe that such an act would be detrimental, not only to the railways but to the people it is intended to help. At present the single first class fare is 3 cents a mile and holiday time rates are given which amount to less than 2 cents per mile, and in some cases to one cent per mile. When those low rates are given it is at a time when the great majority of people want to travel. No advantage has been taken by the railway people in Canada to force an exorbitant rate from the people when we consider our population as compared to Ohio and other states where a two cent rate is in existence. If our railways are forced this rate will hold good for every dry day in the year and our many cheap excursions will be a thing of the past. A two cent rate means a boon to few who travel through necessity and a curse to many who travel for pleasure.

Steel Knife in the Flesh.
That's the sensation experienced by Robert Paice, of Heaton, Ont. He knew it was scotia and of course used "Nerviline." As usual he cured and he says: "No lintment can excel Paice's Nerviline. Severe pains made my side lame. It was like a steel knife running through the flesh. I rubbed in lots of Nerviline and was completely cured." A regular snap for Nerviline to ease scotias and rheumatism. It sinks into the core of the pain, cures it in short order. Large 25c bottles at all dealers.

Killed at Leamington.
Leamington, Jan. 31.—This morning Elmer Townsend, in the employ of the Leamington Torpedo Company, was instantly killed. He, with Mr. Copus, the manager, were at work in the factory. Townsend took a monkey wrench and went outside to fix some pipe. Shortly afterwards Copus heard a slight explosion and went out side and found Townsend dead. One side of his head was blown away and one foot and knee shattered. The cause of the explosion is unknown, but it is supposed that there was some nitro-glycerine on the wrench, and that it was exploded by the friction. The deceased was a young man and was married about a year ago.

DEATH OF REEVE BRANDON.

Mr. Thomas Brandon, Reeve of Warwick, who was reported so seriously ill in last week's issue, died at his home on the 6th line, on Saturday morning, Feb. 2nd. The deceased, who was in his fifty-third year, was born on the farm where he died and was the youngest son of the late James Brandon of Warwick. Mr. Brandon was a very prosperous farmer and cattle exporter, and was well known, having served the public as Councillor for a number of years and as Reeve for the past two years, this year being elected by acclamation. He was a man who was very highly esteemed by all who knew him, of kind and charitable disposition, honorable and upright in all his dealings, and a man of very few words, but one whose word was as good as his bond. He was a loyal and consistent member of Ebenezer Congregational Church. In 1884 Mr. Brandon was married to Miss Mary Burns, of Warwick, who survives. One brother, Dr. J. Brandon, Hamilton, and three sisters, Mrs. Adam Baird, of Warwick; Mrs. C. Porter, Ravenswood, and Mrs. Henry Carr, Plympton, are the remaining members of the family. A sister, Mrs. James Campbell, and a brother, Mr. Wm. Brandon, having predeceased him. Interment took place at Bethel cemetery on Monday afternoon, the funeral being very largely attended. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hamilton, of London, an old and intimate friend of deceased, the text taken being from Romans, 15:4. Six nephews acted as pall bearers. Those attending the funeral from a distance were T. A. Brandon, Mrs. McKay, Toronto; Dr. John Brandon, of Hamilton; and Dr. James Bai d, of Chicago.

The board meeting of the Brooke circuit met in the Parsonage on Monday afternoon. The finances were in advance of what they were at this time last year.

Among the business done was a unanimous invitation to the pastor, T. P. Coupland to remain a third year. A vote, was taken on a petition to be sent to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario asking that the law with regard to local option be amended so that a by-law prohibiting the retail sale of liquor shall become law if it is approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon. This was unanimously carried.

Melbourne Drover Instantly Killed.

Glencoe, Feb. 4.—A terrible accident occurred at the crossing just west of Longwood this afternoon, whereby Walter Phillips, of Melbourne lost his life. Mr. Phillips apparently did not hear the train, as his rig was struck squarely on the track and reduced to kindling wood. The unfortunate man's face was smashed to a pulp, and death was instantaneous. The horses escaped injury and were found later quite near the scene of the accident. The train, M. C. R. No. 23, was in charge of Engineer Phipps and Conductor McAuliffe. Engineer Phipps feels the death very keenly, as only a short time ago his engine caused the death of two children near Glencoe. Mr. Phillips was 28 years old, and was well known as a drover. Deceased was in Watford last week on business.

Settled the Case.

On the 25th day of March last, while driving on the towline between Brooke and Metcalfe, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan J. Campbell, were thrown from their rig over a dump, caused by a defect in the road. Mr. Campbell waited on the councils of both townships, and asked for $50 damages, or $25 from each township. Reeve Darvill, of Brooke, was willing and anxious to settle, but the reeve of Metcalfe refused. A law suit resulted and Brooke was compelled to enter the contest. The case came before Judge Falconbridge last June, and the plaintiff was awarded a verdict of $2,000, to pay their own costs. The townships appealed the case to the High Court at Toronto, and the matter was to come up this week. Last Saturday the plaintiff and representatives of the two townships met at Napier to effect a settlement if possible. Finally the case was settled by awarding the plaintiff $1,200, the entire law costs to be divided between the two townships, which will bring the total costs up to about $2,500. It would have paid Metcalfe to accept Mr. Campbell's first offer of settlement.—Alvinston Free Press.

Canadian and American West Hard Hit by Snow and Frost.

Winnipeg, Feb. 3.—The great storm which swept over the west has completely tied up the railroads, and scarcely a wheel has turned in three provinces since Friday night. The blizzard was the climax of the worst winter the west has seen for 25 years and the railroads are almost hopelessly tied up.

The most serious aspect of the whole situation is shortage of coal. Owing to the terrible storms the railways have been unable to bring forward enough coal from the head of the lakes to keep up with the consumption until at the present time the stocks are practically exhausted. Reports from Brandon state that fuel is running very low.

Chapman House Burnt.

Sarnia, Feb. 5.—The Chapman House one of Sarnia's leading hotels, was damaged by fire to the extent of some $15,000. The fire originated in the furnace room in the basement and spread so rapidly, filling the house with dense smoke that the occupants had only time to escape with their lives. Not one of the inmates had time to save any of their effects all of which are badly damaged by smoke and water.

For over four hours the firemen worked with perseverance to subdue the flames and were finally successful, but not before great damage had been done.

Mr. Alex. Murdoch, who has the hotel leased, is a very heavy loser. His stock is always completely ruined, amounting to about $4,000. The house furnishings are also badly damaged, making a total loss to Mr. Murdoch of about $8,000, on which he has an insurance of some $4,500. The building is owned by Mr. John Muppro, and is insured for $10,000.
