THE Parkhill Gazette reports excellent satisfaction from the oiling of the streets in that town. So do the authorities and papers of Aylmer, St. Thomas, Tilsonburg, Otterville, Tilbury, Wheatley, Windsor, Kincardine, and a score more of other places. Highgate is going to try oil and by the time McKay's Corners is free of dust Ridgeway may wake up to the dust evil on many streets and decide to use oil.—Ridgeway Dominion.

A NEWSPAPER is a town's way of letting outside people know that it is alive—a guide-post whereby you can tell the city and the cemetery apart. Most every citizen of the town is willing to put up a slab to let the people know when he is dead, but there are entirely too many in every community who are trying to do business without on the trouble to let anyone know they are alive. Moral: Don't let your epitaph be your first ad. There may be somebody who would like to do business with you.

THE following notice was issued by the Department of Education:—"Through an unfortunate oversight at the present examinations some questions on the paper in English literature for admission to the Normal School was set on text not prescribed for the course. The Minister accordingly wishes to announce to all concerned that in valuing the candidates' answers on the above paper the full one hundred marks will be assigned to the questions set in accordance with the course of study. At the close of the work any individual consideration will be made which the circumstances justify."

IT is not too early to begin work in securing special prizes for the East Lambton fair, to be held in Watford on Oct. 7 and 8. Every citizen as well as the business men in town should interest themselves to a great extent in this annual event. Every young man in Watford, and also every farmer in Broome, Warwick, Bosanquet and Plympton should join the Society. By so doing, they will enable the Board to put on a better fair, give better prizes, draw larger crowds and it will have a tendency to advertise the townships in which we live and may be the means of bringing others to reside in this the grandest part in the Dominion.

ARE YOU ONE OF THEM?

We have a few subscribers who have neglected to meet their financial obligations to us. If you are one of them and do not receive the paper next week, you will know that patience has ceased to be a virtue in your case—in other words we have stopped the paper until payment is made. We cannot live on air even if it is salubrious these fine days.

There are several subscribers in town who call or send regularly for the paper who fail to make the necessary monetary deposit each year. If you are one of them just inquire how your subscription stands next time you call.

Will Investigate Credit System of Antipodes

Mr. Alexander Lucas, M.L.A. for Yale, B.C., is an old Brooke boy who has come into considerable prominence in the West. He is a member of the royal commission now investigating agricultural conditions in British Columbia and elsewhere on behalf of the government. Mr. Lucas sailed on July 2nd for Australia and New Zealand, where he will be engaged into the government credit system in vogue in both those countries for assisting farmers. The physical conditions in Australia and New Zealand being very similar to those in Canada, and the class of people much the same, the commission decided to delegate Mr. Lucas to pursue enquiries at first hand on its behalf.

The friends and relatives of Mr. Lucas around Watford are gratified to hear that he has been selected by his fellow legislators for such an important post.

WATFORD, JULY 18, 1913.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

A wireless call secured aid and effected the removal of 225 passengers from the stranded Athabasca. This new development among the world's wonders is already common and familiar.

The wild western real estate boom has lost its hot air, and the land is full of smokers ripe in experience, but a little short on cash. This betting upon distant and unseen real estate is much the same as using dollar bills in rolling cigarettes.

A practical peace object lesson has been furnished the world in the unfortified border, 4,000 miles long between Canada and United States. A still more effective lesson will be given if the English-speaking nations develop the system of teaching history which would tend to a better understanding between nations and to a realization of the fact that prosperity of one nation is not advanced but rather retarded, by the adversity of another.

We are persuaded in our own

Every Woman is interested and should know the new MARVEL Whirling Spray. The new "Whirling Spray" is the most complete and effective of all cleansers. It cleanses, soothes, and protects the skin and is directed towards ladies. WINDSOR SUPPLY CO., Windsor, Ont. General Agents for Canada.

minds that the cause of a great many disasters and ruined homes is owing to lack of concord between husband and wife in the management of family concerns. We could mention a score of women whose husbands have failed in business or died insolvent, who did not have any idea of the state of his financial affairs, until the cruel blow came which turned them out to wrestle with poverty for the remainder of their life's day.

Lambton and Western Ontario's exodus to the West is decreasing. "Stay in Ontario" is appealing more and more to the public. Advantages of Ontario are becoming manifest as never before and the result has been the gradual dropping off of the western trek till the present exodus from this section of Canada to the western prairies is just half of what it was a year ago.

What has the public school system done for the boys who at this season of the year always start looking for their first job? Do these boys write a good hand, do they spell with reasonable accuracy and cipher with reasonable speed? Have the boys been taught the value of a bright face, a willing manner, a kindly but not necessarily servile presence?

The Minister expresses the opinion that the present plan of distributing Federal aid should be made permanent, for to make it effective it is necessary to get as close to the people as possible, and Ontario now has a splendid agricultural organization for this purpose.

Agricultural Societies

The following is some of the information contained in the report of Hon. Jas. S. Duff, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, which has just been issued.

Dawson's golden staff, the most extensive variety of winter wheat grown in Ontario, has given the highest yield per acre of the fourteen varieties grown at the College in the last seventeen years.

Of the 492 boys taking the general course at the College, 356 were from Ontario, 70 from other Provinces of the Dominion, 66 from 17 other countries, including 22 from England and 17 from the United States.

In 1912 a total of 17,212 acres in the Province was surveyed for tile drains and 2,278 miles of drain laid, while 70 demonstrations were under the auspices of the Department to show the possibilities of drainage.

over one hundred thousand dollars was spent last year in improving cheese factories and creameries.

Local representatives of the Department of Agriculture, by demonstrations, have shown the advantages of spraying potatoes with Bordeaux mixture to control blight, and of the use of 20 per cent. solution iron sulphate to check mustard.

Experiments by the poultry departments of the O. A. C. with Buff Orpingtons, Rhode Island Reds and White Leghorns showed that butter-milk produced the most and cheapest eggs, while no animal food in all instances gave the best eggs for hatching.

O. A. C. No. 21 barley, developed at the College from Manchouuri, is now taking practically all the prizes in competitions, and O. A. C. No. 71 oats, which is now being further experimented with, promises to duplicate the success of O. A. C. No. 21 barley.

In treatments for loose smut in oats and stinking smut in wheat it was found the greatest yield per acre was produced from grain which was immersed in a solution made by adding one pint of formalin to 42 gallons of water for a period of twenty minutes.

Through its Fruit Branch the Department is teaching orchard owners how to prune their trees properly, and showing the farmer that the apple orchard is a valuable part of the farm if properly cared for.

Important results have been secured by members of the Ontario Agricultural College staff with alfalfa, showing that it is essential to grow a hardy strain in Ontario, and one of the best is the Ontario variegated alfalfa which originated in Haldimand county.

Under the direction of the Agricultural Societies Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, 153 societies held field crop competitions, 3,000 individual farmers entering, and a total of 30,000 acres was seeded, as compared with 300 acres in 1907, when the competition began.

Demonstrations of the use of electricity on the farm in different sections of the Province have shown what a labor-saver electricity is, and it is the aim of the Hydro-Electric Commission to deliver it to farmers in the ever-extending electric zone at cost.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there.

To check the spread of bovine the college has adopted the Bang system, by which calves at birth are taken from the mother, fed on milk either pasteurized or from healthy cows, and reared in a separate building, as it is well known that tuberculosis is contagious, but not hereditary.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there.

Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

Tradition, which has so long kept the stores of Detroit open on Saturday nights, has at last been swept aside and the last night of this week will see the downtown section of the city across the border assume a quiet respect, so far as the stores are concerned, that it has not known in years.

To have the children sound and healthy is the first care of a mother. They cannot be healthy if troubled with worms. Use Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

If you trade in Watford you go home satisfied. Strathroy civic holiday Monday, July 21st. Excursion to Detroit.

Constipation

is an enemy within the camp. It will undermine the strongest constitution and ruin the most vigorous health. It leads to indigestion, biliousness, impure blood, bad complexion, sick headaches, and is one of the most frequent causes of appendicitis.

The Right Place for a Water Pan in a furnace is just over the feed door and this is where it is placed in the "Sunshine." It has a lip front and is the right height for easy filling without removal. Its position and capacity of the pan make certain of a healthy humid heat. Write for the Sunshine booklet, or get our local agent to explain the many advantages of this furnace over any other. O. A. Municipal Debentures

It looks very much as if the days for the sale of debentures bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum is a thing of the past, as many municipalities which have issued debentures bearing that rate of interest are finding no buyers. Brokers will not touch any debentures that call for less than 5 1/2 or 6 per cent. The town of Strathroy issued $40,000 worth 5 per cent. debentures, and there was "nothing doing."

COTTAGE CHEESE.

How It May Be Easily and Quickly Made in the Home.

When one understands the possibilities of sour milk on the farm, where it may be used in satisfying quantity, the secret of many healthful and appetizing dishes will be solved. In the form of "cottage cheese" many delicious desserts and side dishes will give a pleasing variety to the daily bill of fare.

Plain cottage cheese "without the trimmings" is well worth considering. It may also be made to serve as the foundation for various other dishes. To serve it at its best there are two points to keep in mind. The sour milk, or "clabber," should never be allowed to reach boiling point in separating the curd from the whey, and care in draining the curd is equally important.

When the sour milk first forms a smooth "clabber" and before it has had time to separate is the best time for starting the cheese. Set the pan on the stove and let it simply "come to a scald," but do not on any account allow it to reach boiling point or the cheese will be tough and hard.

At the first sign of scalding, when the curd and whey begin to separate, pour the cheese in a bag and hang it away to drain without squeezing the bag.

Careful draining is very important. When allowed to drain too long it will toughen, and when the bag is squeezed to hasten the process the cheese will lose its lightness and creaminess.

The best plan for draining is to suspend the bag over a bar. When made in large quantities for marketing the big draining bag may be suspended from a broom handle laid across two chair backs, with a big bowl or pan on the floor to catch the drippings. As soon as the whey has drained off and while the cheese is still soft and creamy turn it from the bag, beat it up with a little sweet cream or milk, season with salt to taste, and it is then ready for serving as plain cottage cheese.

With the addition of a variety of flavorings it may be served in many appetizing ways. When mixed with sweet custard it gives the bulk to various pies and cheese cake desserts. In almost any form it is one of the most healthful of food products.

Snug White Skirts.
The softest materials are being used for white undershirts. The overshirts are so narrow that the white skirt of necessity must be as sheer as possible. The more expensive skirts are slashed to a depth of six inches in the flounce to assure ease in walking. Beading is used to head the flounces, which are being worn this season. Beading, too, is worn to edge the skirt itself.

One and three-quarter yards is the width for the fashionable skirt, but they are also being made two yards wide.

New materials, such as Oxford cloth and cotton rep, are used, and in addition soft finished piques.

When these cotton goods are used it is advisable not to use under flounces. Buttonhole scalloping and fancy hem-stitching make admirable edgings for these skirts.

Fly Net For Baby's Crib.
A fly net made of bobbinet or Brussels net is useful. Buy two yards of net a yard and a half wide and either bind the edges with blue or pink wash ribbon, machine stitched or feather stitched on or else turn a hem and run it with blue or pink mercerized cotton threads.

At each corner fasten a weighted ball of silk to match the binding or thread. A small piece of silk gathered about a wad of cotton makes a weight that is heavy enough to keep the net from blowing away. It is to be thrown over carriage or crib to keep away flies or mosquitoes.

Collar and Cuff Sets.

Sets of collar and cuffs with belt to match are extremely good-looking accessories to trim up the linen frock. They are fashioned from linen, with polka dots embroidered in various bright colors. The belt carries out the same design and fastens with a pearl buckle. Sets of embroidered net collar and cuffs are very effective on silk frocks, and the narrow plaited silk adds that truly feminine touch which many fastidious women demand.

The Trajectory of a Thing.

The trajectory of a thing is the path of a bullet or anything else passing through the air from the gun to the place where it strikes. Generally the word is applied only to bullets and cannon balls. In shooting at an object near at hand you aim point blank, because the bullet practically reaches the target before it falls at all, but when you fire at a distant object you must aim above it, so that the bullet may have room to fall and yet hit the object. The desire of every marksman is to get a trajectory as flat as possible, so that the bullet shall have no need of falling very far. A flat trajectory is obtained by increasing the speed of the bullets, by diminishing their size and increasing the powder charge.

The Gentle Art of Making Enemies.

Pierre Loti's book on the Balkan war does not represent the first occasion on which he has spoken his mind in regard to a campaign. But whereas neither England nor the United States ever bore him malice for his criticism on the South African war and the Philippine campaign, respectively, he has received innumerable insulting and threatening letters from Italians for his strictures on the war in Tripoli. In fact, for some months he was in the habit of throwing away unopened all letters bearing Italian postmarks. — London Globe.

Japan's Great Bronze Bell.

In the temple of Chionin, at Kyoto, Japan, is a wonderful bronze bell, said to weigh 100 tons, and when its yellow boom is heard the pedestrian stands still, and the workman pauses to listen, the vibrations being felt over a large area. It has no tongue, but the end of a wooden beam, suspended horizontally in a platform, swings forcibly against the brazen mass. There are only two larger bells in the world, that of Mindon Min, in Burma, and one at Moscow.

Recovered.

Brown—I met White a few minutes ago on his way downtown to recover his son's body.

Green—You don't tell me! Was his son drowned?

Brown—Oh, no! But his father said he needed a new suit of clothes.

The Meek.

"You should try to be a little less assertive, my dear. Remember, 'the meek shall inherit the earth.'"

"Oh, yes; I dare say they will—when the others have done with it." —London Opinion.

A Good Rule.

When thou wishest to give thyself delight think of the excellences of those who live with thee—for instance, of the energy of one, the modesty of another, the liberal kindness of a third.—Marcus Aurelius.

A PLEASANT PURGATIVE.—Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so compounded as to operate on both the stomach and the bowels, so that they act along the whole alimentary and excretory passages. They are not drastic in their work, but mildly purgative, and the pleasure of taking them is only equalled by the gratifying effect they produce. Compounded only of vegetable substances the curative qualities of which were fully tested, they afford relief without chance of injury. m

It is no untried, experimental preparation, but one with many years of strong service behind it. Buy it from your nearest dealer. m

HARRIS & CO. PROPRIETORS. WATFORD, JULY 18, 1913.

BROOKE

Miss Estelle Lucas is spending a few days in Detroit. Farmers are busy making hay in this locality and the wheat harvest will soon be here. Mrs. Baker, of Muskegon, Michigan, spent a few days the guest of Donald McDonald. Mr. Francis Showler, of London, returned home after visiting his aunt, Mrs. D. McEachern, tenth line. Rev. Mr. Logan, of Alveston, will conduct special services in the Walnut Methodist Church next Sabbath. A morning and evening service will be held. The Brooke Municipal Telephone Co. would consider it a favor if subscribers when in Watford would drop into the Sterling Bank and pay their accounts. The bank has a statement of all accounts due. The Rev. Mr. Eason has accepted the call which was extended to him by St. Andrew's Church, Napier, and Chalmers' Church, Brooke. His induction will take place in St. Andrew's Church, Napier, on Wednesday afternoon, July 23rd. The Brooke Women's Institute held regular monthly meeting on Thursday, July 10th, at the home of Miss Nettie McEachern, tenth line. A large number of members were present, also several visitors and an interesting program given. Owing to the absence of the president, the chair was taken by the vice-president, Miss Mary Fisher. After the meeting being opened in the usual way the members responded to roll call by exchanging recipes for simple desserts. Mrs. George Campbell then gave a splendid paper on "Simple meals, well cooked and nicely served." Miss Florence McCogan gave a nice recitation. Miss Bell McIntyre was then called on to give her paper on "Value of change of air and scenery." In her paper Miss McIntyre not only told of the great value of change of air, but also the necessity of recreation. The meeting was brought to a close by singing the national anthem. The hostess then served a dainty lunch and the ladies dispersed to their various homes.

WARWICK

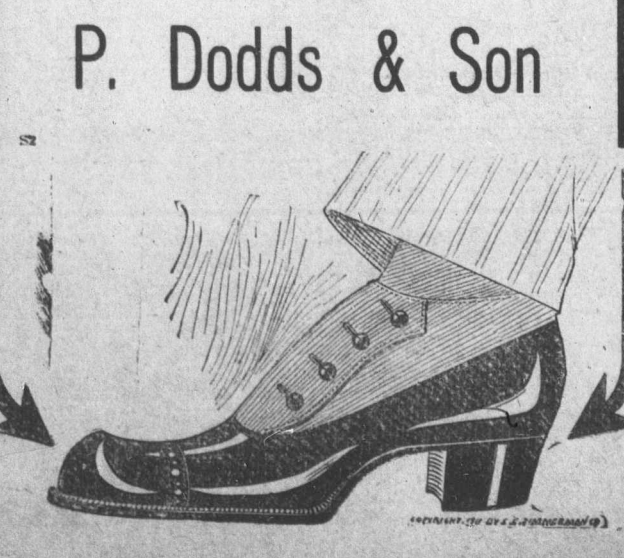

Clifford Richardson and Bert Hardy spent the week end in Sarnia. Rev. Chas. Collins, of Waco, Texas, spent a few days visiting his sister, Mrs. D. Barron, 6th line. Mrs. Henry Shannon, East Claridon, Ohio, formerly of this neighborhood, is visiting old friends here. Joseph P. McCormick, Medicine Hat, returned to his home in Forest last week and visited relatives here. Clarence F. Luckham left last Monday for Sarnia to go on the steamer Saronic as waiter for the vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Millar, Detroit, visiting at the home of the former's parents, 18 sideroad, this week. Mr. William Richardson went to Chesham, Mich., last Monday on an extended visit to his daughter, Mrs. Detwiler. Miss Gertrude Bailey has resigned her position as teacher in S. S. 14, Warwick Township, and has accepted a position on the staff of the Sarnia Public School. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Collier, Miss Lottie Astell, Mrs. A. D. Hone and Mr. Clarence Hone attended the funeral of the late W. A. Hone in Petrolia on Friday. Mr. Donald McLeay, 15 sideroad, had the misfortune to fall while up in the barn fixing the hay fork track. His back was injured so badly that he has since been confined to his bed. At a meeting of the creditors of the estate of F. W. Crawford, of Warwick Township, held in Sarnia last Friday, W. E. Fitzgerald, of Watford, was appointed assignee in place of Sheriff Flintoft. Miss Mary McCormick, who has been in poor health for some time, moved last Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock at a birthday party in honor of her little daughter Mary. All present had a very enjoyable time. C. A. Decker has exchanged his pump factory and residence property in Forest for Jos. Mill's farm, 4th line, Warwick. The change will take place Oct. 1st, when Mr. Mills will continue the business and Mr. Decker will try farming. The members of the Warwick branch, Women's Institute and their friends will hold their annual picnic in Mr. Cook's orchard on Saturday afternoon, July 19th. Races, games and other amusement will be provided for the young people. The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held on July 10th in the Foresters' hall. Although the attendance was small, the meeting was of unusual interest. A very full and interesting report of the annual district meeting was given and a very lively discussion on some of the points took place. Miss Mary Gavigan gave a well-prepared paper on "Why girls leave the farm," which was also ably discussed by Miss Laws, Mrs. Barnes, and Mrs. Morningstar. A song by Mrs. Mans, "Bonnie Mary of Argyll," and a hymn, "All my trust in Jesus," by Mrs. Cardwell, brought to a close a meeting full of interest and instruction. The August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Brent, Jr. If you trade in Watford you go home satisfied.

Agricultural Statistics

Ottawa, July 11.—A bulletin issued to-day by the Census Department gives some interesting and illuminative statistics with regard to the progress of Agriculture in Ontario during the decade from 1901 to 1911. It is significant that the total Agricultural population of the Province shows an actual decrease during the decade, although the value of agricultural products, notably in feed grains and in live stock and dairy products, shows a large increase. The immense possibilities for further agricultural development in the Province is shown by the fact that, exclusive of the 141,000,000 acres of the new district of Patricia, only 151 per cent. of the total land area of the province, or 21,933,700 acres out of 166,951,636, is occupied for agricultural purposes.
The rural population of the Province at the date of the census was 1,194,785, a decrease of 52,184 during the decade, and of 100,238 since 1891.
During the ten years from 1901 to 1911 the area of occupied land increased by 2.73 per cent., while the number of farm holdings decreased by 10,861. This latter decrease has occurred wholly in the case of the smaller holdings. Most of those were usually contiguous to cities and have been cut up into building lots. The average size of farm holdings at the date of the census was 98.25 acres, as against 95.25 acres in 1901.

What the Dominion Government will show at Canadian National Exhibition this year

Every day will be Friday bye and bye if the Fisheries Department of the Dominion Government accomplish the object of their exhibit at the Canadian National Exhibition this year. This exhibit is intended to show the people of inland Canada what they are missing in not using salt water fish as a steady diet. It will show the various varieties of the finny tribe; and just how each should be cooked to become a delicacy. The Department is spending $10,000 on this exhibit, so it will be seen they are in deadly earnest. This should easily be one of the most interesting exhibits of the Fair.

Good Morning
Story of a Locomotive Engineer's Courtship
By VERNON ARNOLD

Jim Tucker was a locomotive engineer. He was thirty-five years old, unmarried, and kept his belongings in a boarding house at one of the terminals of the railroad for which he worked. Since his was a day run he usually slept in his room nights.

Life was beginning to get tiresome for Jim—that is, when he was not running his engine. He had lost a young man's taste for amusement, but, not being an educated person, did not care for books. When on time he got in from his day's run out and return at 4 o'clock and was ready to leave the roundhouse at from 5 to 6. His evening meal was finished by 7, and he read a newspaper till 8. The rest of the evening was very lonesome for him. He would sit in his room wishing for a home, a nice little cottage not far from the roundhouse, where he might be comfortable during the hour of his coming in the evening and his departure in the morning. He would picture a tidy woman standing in the doorway waiting for him and several "wee things toddlin'" down the walk with outstretched arms on the way to meet him. Then he would sigh, read the advertisements in the newspaper and go to bed.

Not far from the terminal which Jim considered his abiding place, about 200 yards from the track, was a small house that looked as if it might have been built by the white settlers of the country. It stood in the center of a four acre lot, on a part of which were forest trees. When Jim had commenced his runs on the road the place was uninhabited, and although he had passed it twice a day for six years, he had never seen a person on the premises. Notwithstanding its dilapidated appearance, it required little stretch of the imagination to picture it a pleasant home. A porch, an arbor, a small barn, all in a state of decay, remained, and Jim as he drove by it loved to fancy the persons who had used them.

One Sunday he walked out to the deserted house—it was but a mile from the roundhouse—and went over it. Through open spaces where a weather-board had rotted away he could see that the framework was of the stoutest oak. It had already lasted probably one or two hundred years and would likely last as much longer. Indeed, two-thirds of the building was like iron; the rest needed renewing. If Jim only had a wife he would buy the place and fix it up.

But he hadn't the wife. And this matter of getting a wife is a very uncertain matter. It is not necessarily a matter of means. Many a man worth millions has lived to be very old and never been blessed with a home. Jim was getting good pay and had money laid up, but he was as far from possessing a wife as if he had neither pay nor a nest egg. So he went back to his lonely room, spent a lonely evening and went to his lonely bed.

One morning when he pulled by the deserted place, he was surprised to see a little pile of new lumber in the grounds. A few days later a man was sawing a board. When Jim returned in the afternoon the man was putting in new posts where there was most decay. Jim took notice of the man at work when he passed for a couple of weeks, at the end of which time the buildings had been restored to their primitive condition. A painter took the place of a carpenter, and when the painter left the place was again deserted.

But a few days later as Jim sped by on his iron horse he saw a woman busy-ing herself about the house. It was spring, and the windows and doors were open. The woman was gathering the small pieces of wood and piling them in the wood house. Jim was not near enough to her to see what she looked like, but he could see that she was neither old nor slatternly. When he returned in the afternoon the refuse had been got rid of and the house looked habitable. Every morning and every afternoon the engineer took note of the cottage and its gradual improvement. Then he saw curtains in the windows, and it was evident that the new tenants had moved in.

Jim was curious to know of what persons the family would consist, but weeks passed, and not a person did he ever see about the place except the woman. One afternoon as he was driving by she was coming down the walk that led to the road beside the rails, dressed prettily to go into the city. She reached the road just as Jim's locomotive clattered by, and he saw her plainly. She appeared to be between twenty-five and thirty years old, neatly clad and not bad looking. She caught Jim's eye fixed intently upon her, but it was only for a moment, and her own eyes were turned away immediately.

The house having been put in order, the grounds next received attention. But for this the woman was not so fitted on account of lack of physical strength. Her efforts consisted chiefly in setting plants about the house and trimming some small flowering trees. How Jim wished he could use a spade there in the evening, after coming in from his day's run, and keep the grass from growing rank.

One reason why he had never married was that he had very little pluck in addressing a woman. Yet the most cowardly man in this respect will sometimes do the rashest things. They are like soldiers fighting behind breast-works, inordinately brave. Jim might have gone out to the place when not on duty, made an excuse to call on the woman, and out if she were single and courting her, if he liked her, in the regular way. But he was not up to this. So he laid a plan for attacking her while traveling by on his locomotive. She could not strike back, for she could not get at him. With his hand on the throttle he felt like a warrior grasping a sword.

On several occasions during the summer this lone lady was in that part of her grounds nearest the track when Jim passed, and safe in his cab he made bold to look at her admiringly. How she took this evidence of interest in her he could not tell, but she gave no evidence of being displeased with it. Jim was not a bad looking fellow, and if any profession requires strength and nerve that of engine driving surely does. But Jim was not conscious of the advantage this would give him with a woman.

Jim mailed several boards together, making a surface about four feet by three. On one side he chalked "Good morning" and on the other "Good evening." He took the board with him in his cab and waited for a time when the woman whose acquaintance he wished to form was in the yard and looking at the passing train, as she often did. Then he prepared to swing out his message, displaying the appropriate side.

An opportunity occurred on his run. The woman was standing in her doorway and was looking at the train. Jim took up his message and held it where she could see it. But she was not looking at the engine and failed to notice this beginning of a correspondence. But Jim tried it again and again till one morning he saw her laugh and knew that he had attracted her attention. He hoped that when he passed her house on his return trip he would get a reply, but this was not to be expected. She might alone read a message from Jim, but all on the train could read a message from her to him.

One morning when he passed he saw something white in one of the upper windows. It would not attract the attention of any one except the one for whom it was intended, and Jim felt confident that it was meant for him.

Jim made inquiries about the woman and learned that she was a young widow who had been a dressmaker, but having a greater taste for country life and a small bank account of savings, had rented the cottage with a view to getting a living out of it either by chickens or vegetables. She had no children and was an orphan, without brothers or sisters.

Jim thought of a great many things he would like to say to her in chalk letters, but a reply would be too conspicuous to be considered, so he was obliged to make up his mind to bear the loneliness in her den. It did not require much bravery to call upon a woman who had waved to him from her window, but the moment he left his cab he seemed to lose all courage. However, he was not up to facing the widow without some kind of announcement and wrote the following note with a carpenter's pencil on the bottom of a cardboard box:

"I'm coming to see you next Sunday. If you don't want me to, put out a notice."

One day when passing and having the woman's attention he threw the message from the cab and, on rounding a curve farther on, looked back to see her pick it up.

When Jim went by the place again he saw a sign in the yard, "No Trespassing on These Premises on Sunday."

Jim's heart sank within him till he saw the widow at a window waving to him. But even this did not convince him that the sign in the yard was to let him know that his message had been received and the waving was to assure him that he would be welcome.

When Sunday morning came round the sun rose bright and shone straight into Jim's heart. He put on his best clothes and made himself look as attractive as possible. He would have liked to go on his visit as soon as he had finished his breakfast, but had the discretion to give the widow time to do her chores and the usual Sunday morning tidying up. About 10 o'clock, finding that the minutes were going like hours, he could wait no longer. When he approached the house the widow saw him coming and met him at the gate.

Jim's call was a success. The widow had a good dinner for him, and neither she nor Jim was disposed to a long delay in coming to an understanding. Jim wanted a home, and the widow wanted a man for a companion, protector and partner. Before Jim left the preliminaries were settled—that is, Jim was to call often, and they were to take steps to find out something about each other.

In a month they were engaged, and in the fall they were married. The next spring Jim spent more money on the house and a good deal of labor on the grounds. Mrs. Jim chose chicken farming for an occupation, and a large chicken house was built during the winter.

Jim still sticks to his engine. But when he walks home from the roundhouse he sees his wife standing in the door and his "wee things toddlin'" to meet him, as he had dreamed when passing the deserted house a few years before. Jim's first love letter is a part of the chicken house. It is placed over the door, and the chalked letters, "Good morning," have been replaced by painted ones. It is said that chancier always raises his head toward it when he gives his first daily crow.

RICHES FOR BEGGAR.
How a Neapolitan Got $25,000 For Solving a Riddle.

"On May 1st every year I have a golden head." For forty years the worthy people of Naples, including the most learned of learned folk, endeavored to solve the riddle of this enigmatic inscription on a marble column, which an eccentric Frenchman at the beginning of the nineteenth century had erected in one of the chief streets of the city. On May 1st for a number of years after the erection of the column people came and peered at it, thinking that its head would at least be covered with gold, but no miracle happened, and at last the people got tired of puzzling over the riddle and came to the conclusion that it was but a joke on the part of the Frenchman.

Then it occurred to the authorities that probably the Frenchman had buried the treasure under the column. They had it taken down, but nothing but earth was found and the column was re-erected. Then came a happy idea on the part of Annibale Tosci, a beggar as lazy and as ragged as only Neapolitan beggars can be, who early one morning passed the column and stood and stared at the inscription. It was a lovely summer morning, and the sun, in a cloudless sky, cast a long shadow of the column on the ground.

"I have it!" said the beggar. He told nobody that he believed he had found the solution of a mystery which had puzzled men for so many years, but on the following first of May he came to the spot with a pick and shovel. He waited until the clock of the neighboring monastery of San Vito struck six, then he began to dig at the spot touched by the end of the column's shadow. He had not dug very deep before he came on a leather satchel of French workmanship, which he quickly seized, concealed beneath his shirt, and retired to a lonely courtyard to examine. Breathlessly he opened the satchel and found within the sum of $25,000. After all, the inscription was true, and the eccentric Frenchman had not lied.

Although a beggar, Annibale Tosci was a prudent man. He went away to Mantua, bought a small farm, and lived on his property, cultivating his own vines and olives, until his death a few years ago.

Washing Gloves Fashionable.
The washing glove has come to be the fashionable article this summer for day and evening wear.

A large assortment of smart new gloves were seen at a smart London shop. The vogue for bright-colored kids has completely died out, and the correct tones this year are white, ivory, pearl grey, and graduated shades of tan.

"I am an old man—and many of my troubles never happened."—ELBERT HUBBARD

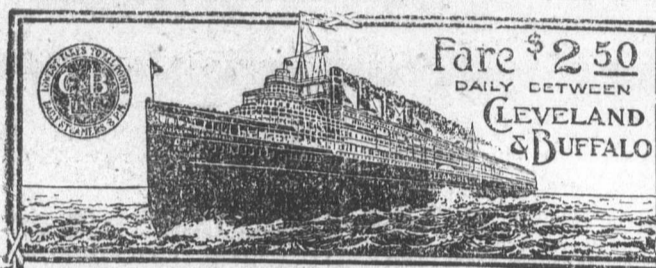

THE white hair and wrinkled faces of our busy men and women tell of doubt, fear and anxiety—more than disease or age. Worry plays havoc with the nervous system—so that digestion is ruined and sleep banished. What oil is to the friction of the delicate parts of an engine—is to the delicate organs of the body. It's a tonic and body builder—because it stimulates the liver to vigorous action, assists the stomach to assimilate food—thus enriching the blood, and the nerves and heart in turn are fed on pure rich blood. Neuralgia "is the cry of starved nerves for food." For forty years "Golden Medical Discovery" in liquid form has given great satisfaction as a tonic and blood maker.

Now it can be obtained in tablet form—from dealers in medicine or send 50 one-cent stamps for trial box. Write R. V. Pierce, Buffalo.

The Fat Man's Plight

The fellows whose pictures I see in the ads—how often I wish I could be as nifty appearing and trim as the lads whose wardrobes I constantly see. I gaze on them all in the month's magazines—I notice their collars and ties, I follow the lines of their up-to-date jeans with eager and envious eyes. I take in the cut of their Willie-boy suits, I longingly gaze on their hats, I see myself sporting their shoes and their boots, their shirts and their hose and cravats. Some day I may purchase a package of socks as shown on the sockery page, and fit out my head from a choice of the blocks the hat ads affirm are the rage; I'll send for some collars to bind round my neck the same as the picture-boy sports; I'll buy me a tie just like this one, by heck! although I may land in the courts. I'll drape on my shoulders a shirt that looks so, and loudly I'll mock at the sun, because of the garments I'll have on below (as worn on page 381). Then smiling a calm and superior smile, in all of my glory arrayed, I'll sport round the burg while the things are in style—yet I am afraid, I'm afraid! I fear that those shoes hurt like old nick, that shirt would fit ill on my curves, and trying that suit on would make me feel sick, that neckwear would get on my nerves. Yet oft when I gaze on the magazine ads, my tears I can hardly repress; I wish I could look like these trim-looking lads, but alas I'm too bulgy I guess.

Philosophy of Life

The future and the past are stock subjects for those who love to worry and be miserable. Take no thought for the morrow; who can live the past over again.

Man is here today and away tomorrow and it is good he can take nothing with him; otherwise some "hog" would take all and leave nothing for the poor.

Be friendly, not intimate, with strangers. To force acquaintance is worse than cold reserve, neither begets respect, and respect is the rock all good mixers stand on.

Good manners consist in giving offence to no one—love all, do good to enemies.

If you care to know the best that our literature can give in simple noble prose—mark, learn and inwardly digest the Holy scriptures in the English tongue.—Frederic Harrison.

Common sense is doing the sensible thing and saying the right word when tempted to be silly or nonsensical. Wisdom is priceless, always beautiful.

Work is medicine and long life to the clean minded.

Don't Pay to Borrow

They used to say "Nobody loves a fat man." Gee whizz—a fat man, be he egotistical, bombastic or stubborn is a physical paradise compared to a man who is too stingy to buy his home town paper, says the Philadelphia Press. Just read this story from the Mahahoy City Daily Record, and see what happens to a stingy man:

A man who was too economical to take this paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees, and in 10 minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance, and failing to notice a barbed wire fence ran into that, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a $4 pair of pants.

The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the cornfield and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, the wife ran out, upset a four gallon churn full of rich cream into a basket of kittens, drowning the whole flock. In the hurry she dropped a $7 set of false teeth. The baby, left alone, crawled through the spilled cream and into the parlor, ruining a brand new $20 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up 11 setting hens, and the calves got out and ate the tails off four fine shirts.

Holloway's Corn Cure takes the corn out by the roots. Try it and prove it.

If you would be happy don't worry, be good, never take too much or too little of anything, and read regularly the Guide-Advocate.

Lambton Farms Wanted

A fourth list of farms for sale in Lambton County will be published by the Lambton Publicity Association early in August. Farms that appeared on the last list will re-appear in the forthcoming list if request be sent the secretary before Aug. 5th and present price of farm stated. These lists will have wide circulation at Canadian National Exposition, Toronto, and other places of concourse.

Those who have farms for sale will please send a full description, the price and post office address of owner to the undersigned, in order that parties inquiring may be brought into personal touch with those who have land to sell.

There will be no charge or commission of any kind, and the parties furnishing description are not bound in any way. Give details as to situation, acreage, roads, improvements, soil, distance from churches, schools, towns, railways, telephone service, etc., etc., that would be of interest to prospective purchasers at a distance. When sale of farm takes place please notify secretary so that it may be struck off the list. Parties offering large farms, suitable for fruit growing, would do well to offer them in lots of 15 to 50 acres. The Publicity Association exists for the purpose of advertising Lambton County and for no other purpose. It consists largely of the members of the County Council and the expense of the advertising is paid by the county.

The information is wanted for the purpose of placing a list of farms in the hands of those who wish to buy and who have written to the Secretary in answer to general advertisements and descriptions of Lambton which have been published in various newspapers in Canada, the United States and Great Britain.

The description may be sent by mail to R. Stirrett, Petrolia, Secretary of the Association, not later than Tuesday, August 5th, 1913.

THE GLORIOUS TWELFTH

Orange Parade at Sarnia Biggest on Record.

(From the Saturday Sarnia Observer.)

The weather man made every effort early this morning to put a damper on the Sarnia 12th of July celebration, but without any marked success. Rain fell in more or less copious quantities during the early hours of the morning and up to about nine o'clock this forenoon. Then the clouds gradually disappeared and Old Sol came forth in all his old-time glory, bringing fine weather and happiness to our citizens and thousands of visiting Orangemen and others. The morning was spent by the members of the local Orange lodges in receiving brethren from outside districts, and fine and drum bands were much in evidence, as well as the local Boy Scout bugle band. The streets were crowded with people, and the colors of the Orange Society were everywhere to be seen. The procession is the 23rd anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, and the celebration of to-day was a fitting one in every respect. The attendance was not as large as anticipated, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm by the brethren, and those who accompanied them. The members of the order gathered at the market square shortly after one o'clock in the afternoon, and prepared for the church parade, which was composed of visiting Orangemen from many places in Ontario and the State of Michigan. Past County Master Jas. Cox was field master for the day and performed these duties to the satisfaction of all concerned. The parade formed at the market square and then proceeded on the following line of march: Christina street, south to Wellington, west to Front, north from Front to George, east to Christina, and north to Bayview Park, where the celebration proper was held.

The procession was one of the largest Orange parades ever witnessed in Sarnia. By actual count there were 1,100 men in the line of march. There were flags and banners galore, accompanied by the bands and bugle bands, each one seeming to vie with the other in the celebration of the day. Throughout the route of the procession the streets were lined with enthusiastic citizens and visitors, all seemingly bent on doing honor to the occasion. The business houses and many residences were decorated and the town presented a real holiday appearance. At Bayview park, the objective point of the parade, a monster gathering assembled, and the afternoon was spent in speeches. The speakers for the day were the Most Worshipful Grand Chaplain of the Black Chapter of British North America, the Rev. Bro. Canon Wm. Walsh, of Brampton; Bro. Col. Sellars, of Detroit, Mich.; Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of the U.S.A.; Bro. J. E. Armstrong, M. P., Petrolia; the Rev. Bro. F. G. Newton, of Sarnia; Bro. Tobias, and others, with the local clergy.

NERVOUS PEOPLE MADE CHEERFUL

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Rebuilt Shattered Nerves

Good blood—rich, red blood—makes all the difference between health and sickness. If the blood is thin and watery, the health of the whole body suffers. The sufferer becomes nervous and irritable; the stomach fails in strength and the appetite becomes poor. Food does not give the necessary nourishment, and the first feeling of weakness passes, as time goes on, into a general breakdown in the health. The case of Mrs. Angelique Gagnon, of St. Jerome, Que., illustrates the truth of these statements. Mrs. Gagnon says: "I am fifty years of age and up to a few months ago always enjoyed the best of health. Then I began to feel rundown and weak, with patience or ambition. My appetite grew poor, and my nerves seemed to be on edge, and the least noise or worry would make me irritable and nervous. Life became an actual burden and I could no longer look after my household duties. My doctor prescribed and ordered a change, saying that I was a nervous wreck. I tried to become interested in other things but failed, and my condition was really deplorable. I continued in this condition for several months, gradually going down, and as my doctor was not helping me I was persuaded by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking the Pills for a few weeks I could see an improvement, and I gladly continued using them for a couple of months, when I felt no longer a burden, but a fair trial. Sold by all druggists or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Widder Post Office to be Closed

The Post Office Department have issued instructions to close Widder Post Office. Widder was one of the very early postoffices established in Western Ontario. It was established in the late 40's, over 65 years ago. Mail reached it by carrier to and from Wisbeach on the Sarnia gravel. The carrier met the London-Sarnia stage at Wisbeach and delivered mail at Arkona and Widder. A few years afterwards the route was extended to Sylvan, then called "Proctor's Mills." The late Wm. Randall, familiarly known as "His Majesty," from which place he carried mail for over 50 years, was the first carrier from Sylvan. He started from Sylvan, called at Widder, then Arkona, and delivered his bag to the post office at Wisbeach. No doubt by the extension of the rural mail delivery system, both Wisbeach and Sylvan will be closed and their existence then will only be a memory, soon to be forgotten. Widder was named after Mr. Widder, one of the land surveyors of the Canada Company, who helped to lay out the farms in what was then called the Huron district.—Standard.

Agricultural Course in High Schools

In connection with the course for high school science teachers, the Education Department has announced its intention of authorizing a course of study in agriculture for the high schools and collegiate institutes before they open next September, the examinations in which may be taken as bonus options for entrance to the normal schools and the faculties of education. All institutes are to be provided with suitable plots of ground, where experiments and demonstrations may be carried on. Plots will be allotted to the various students, and the kind of farming carried on in the locality will determine the nature of their work. Annual special grants of $100 will be paid to high school or collegiate institute boards taking up this work, and of $75 each to qualified teachers engaging in it. It is provided that, until a teacher is qualified, the county representative of the Department of Agriculture may conduct the course. It is easier for a circus clown to turn a handspinning than spring a new joke. British statesmen are easy marks for the militant suffragette that can throw straight. The pretty girls whose faces are their fortunes soon go into the hands of receivers.

Death of W. A. Hone

On Wednesday evening, July 9th, Petrolia lost one of its most highly respected citizens in the person of William A. Hone, who passed away after a three years battle with diabetes. Though Mr. Hone had been in failing health for some time, his death came as a shock to his friends, as he had been up and around as usual until a couple of days before the end. The deceased was born in the village of Warminster, Warwickshire, England, in the year 1859. In 1887 he brought his family to Canada, settling in Watford, where he resided until 1895, in which year he moved to Petrolia, where for the past 18 years he carried on the business of a painter and decorator. In his early years Mr. Hone was a local preacher and class leader in the Methodist church, later becoming identified with the movement within that church, which developed into the Salvation Army, of which he was a member at the time of his death. The funeral, which was of a private nature, was held at his late residence, Dufferin Ave., on Friday last, July 11th, Rev. H. Moyer, pastor of the Methodist Church officiating. The pall-bearers were Wm. Pratt, E. Holbrook, Wm. McIntosh, J. W. Downie, D. Churchill and Fred Scarsbrook. The late Mr. Hone is survived by his wife and three sons, Percy W., at home; Arthur D., attending Toronto University; and Alfred W., pastor of Pauline Ave. Methodist Church, Toronto. Also one brother, A. D. Hone, of Watford, and two sisters, Mrs. Geo. Dyer, of Detroit, and Mrs. J. Hughes, of Adderbury, England. With the passing of Mr. Hone, the cause of temperance and moral reform loses a loyal worker, and the town a citizen of unquestioned integrity.
