Terrace Queen Won Free-For-All

The Bridgetown Mare Proved Too Speedy for the Fast Simasie

She Won in Straight Heats and Traveled in Beautiful Style

Fredricton, July 9.—While it took only the three heats to decide the match race between Terrace Queen and Simasie, seven were required before a winner was landed in 2:24 class, but there is little doubt that if the driver of Burline had driven the gelding as he should have, this race would not have been so prolonged.

The regular quarterly session of the Annapolis County District Division, Sons of Temperance convened at Bellisle on Tuesday, July 3rd at 3 o'clock, D. W. P. L. W. Elliott presiding.

FREE-FOR-ALL MATCH RACE

COMMITTEES WILL LOOK AFTER THE WEAK SECTIONS OF THE COUNTY AND REVIVE DORMANT DIVISIONS

Remarks—Chairman: Profrer L. W. Elliott. Recitation—Sister Mary Taneh. Music—Choir.

While some notes of discouragement were sounded with reference to temperance sentiment in some localities, yet on the whole the outlook was hopeful.

The mammoth temperance picnic which had been partially arranged for to be held at Port West was laid over on account of the uncertainty of the train service over the M. & V. B. railway.

Germany Seeks England's Friendship

Kaiser Working to Promote Better Feelings With British Nation

King Edward May Go to the Christmas

Berlin, July 9.—The efforts, official and private, made to bring about better relations between Germany and Great Britain, have been pronounced a success.

His Majesty met a British naval officer at a yacht club dinner at Kiel recently, and talked with him for half an hour on the needlessness and harmfulness of believing between Great Britain and Germany and the determination on his part to preserve not only peace but to cultivate good will and confidence.

The German journalists who recently visited England have since their return filled the editorial pages of the most important newspapers with their observations, showing the causelessness of any ill-feeling between the two peoples and detailing a thousand arguments for peace and the co-operation of German-British friendship.

Sydney, July 11.—The Elder Dempster steamer Angora, Vera Cruz from Sydney and Montreal, is ashore near Louisbourg.

London, July 9.—Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg has distinguished himself by some very able tactics during the British naval manoeuvres now in progress.

He still flies his flag on the cruiser Drake as Admiral of the Second Squadron. By a very daring ruse at the beginning of the mimic war he carried his fleet through the close blockade of the narrow Straits of Dover without losing a ship.

THE DOG SHOW

That the dog show to be held in connection with the coming exhibition at St. John will prove a great attraction is being shown by the large number of inquiries already received by the Superintendent. The original intention of holding the show in a large tent has been abandoned, as it was felt that this might not fully meet the requirements of the fanciers, and instead a large space in one of the main buildings has been set aside for the use of the dog man. This the management feels sure will be appreciated for good light, ventilation, and opportunities for exercise and all-round comfort, probably no better place in which to hold a dog show can be found in Canada. St. John fanciers are well pleased at the manner in which the show is to be put on, and are working vigorously to assist the management to make the dog show of 1906 one to be remembered as a record breaker. For entry blanks and full particulars, drop a card to the superintendent T. McCullough, P. O. Box 411, St. John.

HYMENEAL ROOD-CHUTE.

The marriage of Miss Lottie DeV. Chute and Mr. Judson G. Rood took place in the Baptist church, Berwick, on Wednesday afternoon. A large congregation was present to witness the interesting ceremony, which was performed by the pastor, Rev. G. P. Formby, in the presence of the bride's father, Mr. H. R. Rood, and the groom's father, Mr. J. G. Rood. The bride was escorted up the aisle of the church by her uncle, Mr. Manning Chute. She wore an elegant costume of navy blue silk, with hat of Milan straw trimmed with Alice blue. She carried a bouquet of roses and maidenhair fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Chute, in brown silk, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Harvey Rood, of Halifax. The ushers were Messrs. Clyde Chute and Spurgeon Harding. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rood were driven to the house where they took the rest of the honeymoon for two or three days. They will return later in the season and occupy their new home which is now in course of erection on Union street. The groom's present to the bride was a gold watch case set with pearls and opals. To the bridesmaid he gave an opal ring. A large number of gifts were received by the young couple.—Register.

KELLY-ARCHIBALD.

A very interesting event took place at 12:30 o'clock, June 27th at the home of Wm. Archibald, Centre Musquodoboit, when his youngest daughter, Sadie M. was united in marriage to Thomas R. Kelly, of Thorne Road, Bridgetown. The room where the ceremony took place was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. W. Murray. The bride, who was accompanied by her father, carried a very pretty bouquet. She was given away by her father. Her travelling dress was a brown tailor-made suit of Indian broadcloth with hat to match. After a sumptuous luncheon, the happy couple drove to Steewick station where they took the train for Truro where they will spend a few days, after which they will take the D. A. R. for the western part of the province visiting the principal towns en route. A large collection of very pretty and useful wedding presents testified to the regard in which the bride was held in the community in which she resided.

BEAUTIFYING HALIFAX EXHIBITION GROUNDS FOR THE DOMINION FAIR

The appearance of the Nova Scotia Exhibition Grounds at Halifax is being revolutionized by gangs of men who are getting them into shape for the Dominion Exhibition, and those who have been coming to the Provincial shows in past years will hardly recognize the old grounds as they appear in use by the great Dominion exhibition. The area enclosed by the half-mile track has been leveled off, grass sown, small buildings removed and a new vade-me-cum stage erected, with dressing rooms beneath. Workmen are engaged doubling the floor space of the main building and making important changes and improvements in the machinery hall. Alterations, extensions and repairs are being effected on all sides within the immense enclosure. The exhibition commission would urge on the farmers and live stock men of the Maritime Provinces the importance of at once taking steps to have a creditable exhibit in their particular departments. We must see to it that Nova Scotia will win its custom province stand out well in comparison with Ontario, Quebec and other parts of the Dominion that will be represented at the Dominion exhibition September 22nd to October 5th.

CANADA'S REVENUE.

Ottawa, July 9.—The statement of revenue and expenditure of the Dominion for the twelve months ending on June 30, last shows the revenue to be $78,006,690, an increase of $8,821,822 over the previous year. The expenditure was $54,006,699, an increase of $3,781,727 over last year. The surplus for the month of June increased by over $200,000 and the expenditure by about $400,000.

CLEARED FROM EXCHANGES

The amendment offered by Mr. Logan of Cumberland to the railway subsidy bill providing that materials for use on subsidised railways shall be bought in Canada when they can be secured at fair prices and in adequate quantities, will be accorded strong public approval. At about six o'clock this morning a moose thought to be about three years old, leisurely walked into town and was seen by several persons as he took in the sights on Lyman and Alice streets. The animal did not seem in the least to be alarmed on finding himself in the middle of so important a residential street as Lyman. After looking around a few moments, the moose trotted off up over the hill and into the woods—Truro News.

Sheriff Gates of Annapolis is at the Dufferin, having returned from Dorchester, where he saw the key turned on Ed. Lucas, who at the age of eighteen years has before him the gloomy prospect of spending the remainder of his life in the penitentiary. Where he will spend the fourteen years which he will be called upon to serve after his life sentence is finished will be probably warmer than the sand hills of Annapolis even in the middle of July.—St. John Sun.

Col. Sam Hughes recently in the house of commons called attention to the statement that 10,000 Salvation Army immigrants from the east end of London were going to South America. He suggested they should come to Canada. No, thanks, colonel. The benefit of the average Londoner is not to be sent to the east end of the country. These immigrants will do Canada a lot more good if they come here.

A gratifying feature of the immigration this year is the large number of persons from the British Isles who are seeking homes in Canada. Of the forty-five thousand immigrants who have landed at Quebec since the opening of investigation fully ninety per cent. are British. There are many Scotch immigrants, who are described as being of a superior class, Irish immigrants are not so numerous. The efforts being made in Ireland to discourage emigration are having some effect. The total number of immigrants arriving in Canada during the fiscal year is over one hundred and fifty thousand.

FROM SHELBURNE TO BOSTON.

(Coast Guard.)

It is learned that the Eastern Steamship Co. are thinking of putting one of their boats on the route between Shelburne and Boston when the Halifax & South Western Railway is completed, and ample docking facilities are provided at the former port. The company have acquired extensive premises on the water front in Boston, including the whole of Union Wharf, and are otherwise preparing to carry out the scheme. They have asked a well known steamship captain as to his terms for taking charge of their boats. He has given them his figures but stipulates that the engagement shall be for five years. This is a service which would without doubt lead to great expansion of trade on the south. The fresh fish business, which is in its infancy in whole districts, would at once find an outlet, and have access to market from which it is all but excluded at present. In the lobster season, for one thing, the shipments from a wide stretch of shore would all converge to Shelburne, to be sent across the bay, the same as the more western districts ship through Yarmouth.

STOMACH DISORDERS.—Gastritis.

Causes of the Stomach, indigestion or Dyspepsia. Symptoms of Catarrh of the Stomach are catching pains, weak and taste and digestion—constant desire for Bile—eructus, altered heart action, sick in the morning and of mucus. The causes are indigestion, with food impure blood, malaria, overactivity of blood and Throat Catarrh. The structure of the stomach becomes greatly altered. The constant overactivity of blood leads at first to an increased constant of gastric juice, and the gastric glands become exhausted, shrivelled and strangled. The blood vessels and nerves are seriously affected, thus all symptoms of hunger, the powers of digestion, are lost. PSYCHINE is sold by all dealers.

The best kind of a hair-dressing—SOLD FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

STARTLING ATTRACTIONS AT ST. JOHN EXHIBITION

Much curiosity has been aroused as to the amusements attractions which have been secured by Mr. F. G. Spencer in New York and other American cities for the St. John exhibition which opens Sept. 1st next, as Mr. Spencer has made the statement that he intends to outdo himself with the attractions for the big St. John Fair and leave behind him, when he goes to Australia with Alhambra, a record which will stand unique for its ambitious proportions. Although no definite announcement has yet been made that the St. John exhibition will have the most startling amusement features that have ever been announced in the way of amusements at any fair ever held in America. It is known that Mr. Spencer has signed contracts for some of the biggest amusement features which have made famous such places as the Thompson & Bundy Hippodrome, Woodland, Luna Park, Coney Island, Young's Pier, Atlantic City, and other famous recreation resorts. The St. John Fair has been trying to ascertain just what the particular attractions are, but the exhibition management refuses to foretell the big announcement which Mr. Spencer himself will make when he returns from New York. The St. John Sun's correspondent in New York has ascertained from Thompson & Bundy, proprietors of the New York Hippodrome, the most famous amusement men in America, that they regard the attractions secured by Mr. Spencer as the best that are in existence in the world today, and that no expenditure of money in the amusement world can better them. This has aroused the public curiosity to an extent that has not before been manifested in any previous exhibition held in St. John, and the public are awaiting with considerable interest Mr. Spencer's announcement of these great features.

OBITUARY

MRS. JAMES MACCREADY.

At Wetaskiwin, province of Alberta, May 4th, of pleurisy resulting in heart failure, Mrs. James MacCreedy, aged 46 years. Mrs. MacCreedy was the youngest daughter of the late David Edgett, of St. John, N. B., and married Albert Marshall, of Clarence, for her first husband, who died in 1889, by whom she had two daughters, Pearl, who is now teaching and Hilda attending school.

Mrs. S. N. Jackson, of Clarence, are sisters, and a stepson, Edmon Marshall, of Clarence, who deeply mourn the loss.

Mr. MacCreedy sold his farm at Gagetown, N. B., last fall and removed with his wife to Wetaskiwin. He purchased property there and in April returned to New Brunswick to dispose of the balance of his property and their children. While absent Mrs. MacCreedy was suddenly taken ill on Thursday and died Friday night, her daughters with her. The remains were interred in the cemetery there on the 8th, and on the 9th the husband returned to learn the sad news and see his anticipations blasted.

Mrs. MacCreedy united with the church in Clarence under the pastorate of Rev. A. A. Durkee, and was an earnest active christian. The church members are both Baptist members and though far from the old home and friends, her friends in the Baptist church there, prominent among them being the pastor and his wife.

MISS DEBORAH GIDNEY.

The death of Miss Deborah Gidney occurred at Bellisle, on the morning of the 27th, at the home of her brother, Henry Gidney. She had been in failing health for some time and her death was not unexpected. A brother and sister here and one brother in California. The only members of the family left. Burial took place in the Gidney lot in the Bellisle cemetery at 10 o'clock. Miss Francis Gidney was who she laid out this town in lots, and built the new Grand Central Hotel. Her funeral arrangements were in charge of W. B. Reed.

THE COX FAMILY

Fay, or Faye, is a name derived from the Anglo-Saxon, signifying joyful. It is found in the "Hundred Rolls," Fagg, Faget, Fagele, Failsle, Fayed, Faghet, Faget, Fayette and Fakey are variations of the name, also Foyard, which is a compound of Fay and Fari (warrior). An old German form of the ninth century is Faeco, and diminutives found among German names of two centuries later are Fachelio and Fagala.

Another origin is given by some authorities, viz., the Spanish word, fe, faith.

By others it is said to be derived from a Hebrew word meaning peer. In the middle ages there was a Latin word fateri, in common use, it came from the root, meaning to enchant. Water nymphs were called feta, from the word; old translations of the classics named them fairies. Faerie became the name of the fays, and was naturally called the country inhabited by fays.

Fairies in time were divided into two classes; first, being of the human race, endowed with powers beyond those usually allotted to man, they were called fays or fairies of romance. Second, those little beings of northern mythology termed elves or popular fairies.

Victor Fay was an illustrious warrior under Charlemagne. Edouard Fay distinguished himself in the army of Henry I of France, and died about 1040. Baudel de Fay is a name found in the correspondence between Henry II and the Count of Maurienne, in relation to the marriage of his son to the daughter of the count in 1172. Jean de Fay was a celebrated French prelate of noble family. Guillaume Fay was a French composer, who made important improvements in the art of music.

Godeman du Fay was a great Norman artist of the fourteenth century. In Froissart's chronicles his name is spelled Gaudemar du Fay. Antoine de la Fay, a minister, was embraced by Henry IV of France the day he abjured the Protestant faith, the King saying "I have an excellent artist, and for the sake of all, like you, and Moses and St. Paul."

Joseph Fay, Lord of Epavesnes, born in Paris in 1542, when the Duke of Anjou was elected King of Poland, accompanied him to Warsaw and rendered great service in concluding some of the principal cities. Under Henry III Fay held many stations of importance. He greatly distinguished himself at the siege of Paris.

Lucas Fay was an artist, a pupil of Rubens. Jean Elie Fay, a French engineer, made many discoveries in the science of war. The discoverer of vitreous and resinous electricity was a philosopher of this family, who held some offices in the reign of Louis XV. Andrew Fay, a Hungarian author, of the eighteenth century, wrote a series of works in prose and poetry, which procured a place among the classics of his country.

John Fay was a general in the army of the United States. He was the father of Victor Fay, and the father of sons, distinguished as authors and statesmen.

The first in America was John; he came over in the Speedwell, in 1656, settling in Massachusetts. It was his daughter Mary, who married the "Indian Warrior," and he was always called "Jonathan Briganm."

He received his name from the following incident: While at work one day, he saw an Indian lurking near; seizing his gun, he stepped forward, in full view, saying "Shooh! straight, you Indian!" Both fired at once, the Indian dropping dead. Briganm escaped unhurt.

John, son of John the Pilgrim, was the first town clerk of Westboro, Mass., and first many one of town and town. His home a cabin built in the hillsides, was, in a manner, preserved by his descendants, until about seventy years ago, and called the "Ancestor's Fort." John was a large land owner.

His was a colonial form of the name, found in old records.

In the clash of arms at Bennington, Capt. Stephen Fay, of the Massachusetts family, was represented by three sons—John, Elijah, Benjamin, Col. Joseph and David. John was killed at his post of duty. When his father was informed that he had been unfortunate in respect to one of his sons, he exclaimed:

"What has he misbehaved!"

"No, sir," was the reply, "worse than that; he is among the slain."

"Then I am satisfied," replied the venerable father, and in his deep grief, bowing his head, exclaimed:

"Thank God that I had a son who was willing to give his life for his country. Bring him in and lay him before me that I may behold the darling of my soul!"

With his own hands the father prepared his son for burial. The account of this affair is taken from papers published in 1777.

The British officers, who were taken prisoners at Bennington were conveyed to Capt. Stephen's house. On the day previous to the battle they had indignantly set word that they wanted him to prepare a good dinner for they would dine with him on the morrow. Before their approach, as prisoners of war, he met them at the gate, and with characteristic humor, pulling off his cocked hat, said:

"Welcome, welcome, gentlemen; the dinner you ordered is prepared for you."

The clerk of the convention of 1774 that resolved to defend by force the

He was a member of the convention of 1777, which declared Vermont an independent State, and drew up the declaration and petition to Congress, announcing the act. He was one of the council of safety, and Judge of the Supreme Court. During the War of 1812 his son, Bernard, did garrison duty at various forts, and afterward wrote an account of the battles fought.

A PATRIBUS BOOT
Something the Young Clergyman Had to Apologize For.

A story is told of a young candidate for the ministry whose financial resources were not by any means equal to his enthusiasm. He was to preach a trial sermon before a critical congregation and was much worried because one of his boots was in a dilapidated state. But he overcame this obstacle by standing with his left foot foremost and keeping the better horse in the background. He found it necessary to apologize, at least in action, for the patched boot and therefore, it was impossible for him to do his best. Many a person, many a business firm feels impelled to worry over shortcomings that may not be apparent to the passing throng. But the firm of Young, Winter and Levington, Toronto, makes no apology for the Gouley piano. It is everything it appears to be, a high-class instrument built of the best possible materials with the greatest care. The result is that the Gouley possesses a richness of tone, a responsiveness to the touch of the player and a sympathy with the singing voice that no other high-grade upright instrument of this or any other country can surpass. The result of the case is always artistic and beautiful, and the finish beyond adverse criticism. The Gouley has secured its wonderful success because of its inherent goodness and the advertising given by delighted purchasers.

FRUIT CROP REPORT. Department of Agriculture, Dairy Commissioner's Branch, Fruit Division, Ottawa, June 30, 1906.

APPLES.

As was to be expected the reports for the month of June on apples are not quite so favorable. There are many reports of serious dropping, and the general tone of the reports would place the crop at not more than medium. In forming an estimate of the crop the classification of apples into early, fall and winter should be kept in mind inasmuch as the three classes may have an entirely different value.

In District 1 early apples are reported almost a full crop, the fall and winter apples a medium crop. In District 2 early apples are almost a full crop, the fall apples less and the winter apples only a medium crop. In District 3, twenty-one per cent. of the correspondents reports the crop light, fifty-three per cent. medium and twenty-seven per cent. a full crop. Reports from the Annapolis and Cornwallis Valleys, District 6, indicate a crop above medium but not quite a full crop. The tent caterpillar, the bud moth and canker worm have all been particularly severe as well as several minor pests in different parts of the valleys and it is not improbable that the codling moth will appear later. Wind storms and other contingencies will probably reduce the crop of winter apples to medium or slightly above a medium crop. Gravenstein has set very heavily, and where they are sprayed thoroughly, will doubtless yield a large crop. Nova Scotia Kings and Russets have also set well. The Baldwins in Nova Scotia will be light. The British Columbia crop of apples will be about the same as last year.

Boils and Pimples

Red Rash, Eczema, in fact any skin disease, disfigures the complexion because the bowels are constipated—because the kidneys do not rid the system of waste—or because the skin itself is unhealthy.

Ointments, salves and soaps are useless. Because the trouble is with the blood. Owing to defective action of bowels, kidneys or skin, the blood becomes laden with impurities. It is these impurities, expelled by the bowels, kidneys or skin, that FRUIT-A-TIVES cure these diseases.

Fruit-a-tives

act directly on the eliminating organs—correct their irregularities—strengthen them—and thus clear the skin and make it complexion clear and soft.

If you have any skin trouble—or any fault with constipation, liver trouble, biliousness, headaches, indigestion, rheumatism—cure yourself with Fruit-a-tives. They are made of fruit juices and tonic—and never fail to cure. See a box or 6 boxes for $3.50. Sent on receipt of price if your druggist does not handle them.

FRUIT-A-TIVES LIMITED, OTTAWA.

forms of the apple. Nearly all interior-grown apples are round, flat, or oblate. The same varieties taken to either the east or the west coast tend to become elongated. The apples of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia are peculiarly elongated and ribbed. It is probable that the long cool spring, with the slow developing influence, brings about the elongation of the axis of the apple, whereas in the interior the blossoming period is shorter and development quicker; the subsequent growth therefore takes place laterally instead of axially.

SETTING FENCE POSTS.

To raise farmers out of ten it would seem a matter of indifference as to which end of a fence post comes to be placed in the soil but for many years we have known that a post set bottom and up—that is in the reverse position to which the wood grew as a tree—far out lasts one set the other way. The matter was once tested in the following way: The experimenter having run a small saw-mill had a lot of fence posts to cut. The posts were to be saved tapering and to economize in lumber, the logs were first sawed square and then diagonally. Of course they were to be set in the ground largest end down, which would bring one half of them bottom up in regard to the position in which they grew. The inverted posts were carefully marked and at the end of nine years were found to be practically sound while the others, turned the other way, showed very much more decay.

MARKET POULTRY.

A very practical suggestion is made by Professor Graham, of the Connecticut Agricultural College, who suggests that a prize for the best dressed poultry should be given at the agricultural fairs, or at field meetings held by the State Board of Agriculture on the subject of poultry, also a prize for the most meaty bird. The subject of dressed poultry has always been neglected, partly because it is a less prominent part of the business in this section than the production of eggs and partly because it is no special interest to breeders who have pure bred fancy stock to sell at high prices.

CHERRIES.

Cherries are everywhere being marketed a large crop, of good quality and freer from insects than usual.

GRAPES.

Grapes are reported in good condition almost equal to last year, with some complaints of winter-killing especially north of Lake Ontario.

SMALL FRUITS.

The strawberry crop is maintaining the conditions reported last month. The principal markets report fair receipts of good quality; prices are ten per cent. higher than last year.

FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

The Continental apple and pear crop is reported medium to good. The prospects for the English apple and plum and pear crop have fallen off seriously, and if this is confirmed by next month's reports market conditions will be materially changed for early and fall apples.

SAVE THE MANURE.

An abundance of manure carefully preserved so as to retain its value, is one of the best indications of thrifty and successful agriculture. Neglect to properly care for and use it are sources of loss to the farmer that are faintly appreciated, but vast in extent. It is a common thing to see manure wasting, and many farmers seem indifferent to the silent leaching away of this important value.

CLIMATE AND FORMS OF APPLES.

Very few people realize the important influence climate has upon the and were walked twenty miles in twelve hours last fall, without any apparent effect on them.

These oxen have been raised upon scientific principles and fed upon fat and muscle making food since they were calves. In the fall of 1902 they were shown at a fair, where they took the blue ribbon. They weighed 4160 pounds. A year later they had gained to 5700 pounds. In the fall of 1904 they tipped the beam at 7160 pounds, in 1905 at 8600 pounds, and in March, 1906, they weighed a plump 9000 pounds.

The smaller one measures by girth ten feet, and the other is four inches longer. Each one measures 42 inches across the loins and they stand nearly six feet at the shoulder.

Up to last fall they were fed on ordinary ration, but during the past winter have been given a bushel of selected grain and fifty pounds of hay a day. In order not to "feed them off their feet" they have been exercised daily and given an occasional lunch of bosts. The grain feed is a mixture, consisting of two parts of corn meal, one part of oat shorts, meal and one part of wheat shorts.

They have been exhibited at a number of fairs and never have failed to take the blue ribbon. Last year they were exhibited under a tent through-out the state and the coming year they will be taken to Massachusetts and possibly New York state.

Creambrook farm is one of the finest in Maine, being exactly one mile square and under high cultivation.

POINTS ON DAIRY MANAGEMENT.

There are seasons of the year when the management of the dairy herd is reduced to a minimum. Especially is this true when the cows are turned out to pasture with plenty of sweet, nutritious grass, and a running stream of pure water in the field. They are bathed in sunshine, have plenty of fresh air, and an opportunity of pawing the soil over their backs, which rids them of vermin. Then, too, the whole body is washed occasionally with warm showers of rain that clean the old hair off and leave the skin healthy. Under these conditions there is very little labor required. But such favorable conditions do not last long—about one month or six weeks in the year is all that we have.

The first difficulty which presents itself is how to deal with the flies which are such a nuisance. We have found a spray of crude petroleum not every individual, but by averages. On the other hand, in dairy communities the soil improves in fertility, the crop increase in amount and variety, markets improve, thrift is apparent and intelligence abounds.

Too complacent dairymen in higher altitudes are apt to forget that the dairy belt is rapidly increasing in breadth as well as length, and this fact emphasizes the necessity for abandoning the old tools and old methods and adopting business principles in the conduct of the dairy business. There is no danger of any great or permanent overgrowth of dairy products. The demand for first class milk, butter and cheese will be equal to the supply, but with better cows, better feeding and more intelligent care the production must be increased and the cost of production decreased.

The Eye.

Is there anything so wonderful as the eye? I do not care how cold the weather may be the eye never fails. In the wildest of Montana blizzards, when the thermometer registers 30 degrees below zero, when the feet and fingers freeze, when the throat freezes, when even the torso, swathed in sweaters and chamois skin vesting freezes when the nose and ears are frost bitten, when the hair even crackles in the blast—when all is lost apparently, the eyes suffer no pain, but continue to perform their normal functions. The people of the most inclement, most frigid regions of the extreme north bundle up everything but their eyes. In Canada you may have a man to rush at you all of a sudden and slap a handful of snow on your ears or nose or mouth, but he never attacks your eyes. The eyes are never frost bitten. They seem to suffer only in a strong wind which carries in its current some irritating substance, as sand in the desert or fine "coriander seed" in the polar regions. And yet, notwithstanding this, the eyes are the most sensitive of our several organs.

The Word "Kaffir."

Very curious has been the history of the word "Kaffir." Sir Henry Rawlinson once said that the loveliest oriental lady he had ever seen was a Kaffir slave at Kabul. When she had loosened her golden hair she could cover herself completely as with a veil. This name of Kaffir is as worldwide as Islamism, for it is the name of "unbeliever" applied by true Mohammedans to those that refuse the faith. The Portuguese found it applied to the negroes of east Africa by their Arab predecessors and handed it on to the Dutch and to the English. The Kaffir slave at Kabul belonged to one of those black clad mountain tribes in the heart of Afghanistan, who till 1865 defied their Moslem neighbors and their dizzy precipices gloated on their idolatry. These Afghan Kaffirs claim to be descended from the Greeks who came with Alexander in his conquest of the east.

A Passing Trick.

Take a piece of writing paper about three inches square and with a lead pencil the point of which has been dipped in water, draw a circle, a square, a triangle or any other geometrical figure. Put the paper carefully on a pan of water, letting it float and leaving the surface dry. Carefully drop water on the surface of the paper until the space within the figure is filled. The moistened pencil lines will keep it from flowing outside the figure. Now place the point of a pin over some point in the figure near the edge. The Simplest.

Only small souls assume exclusive airs. The more truly a man the more simple do we find him. Rarely do we come in contact with a person from whom we may not receive something if we meet him on the plane of a kindly human sympathy. It all lies in our innate feeling.

There has been a good deal of talk in recent years—and not without some very excellent reasons—about the "new south," but we are firm in the belief that the south will not fully come to its own until it assumes similar to those here depicted become somewhat common in every southern state. Without stopping to inquire at the present time for the specific reasons why such results follow, we state the simple fact in the absence of dairying, whether er in the south or north, the west or east, the soil deteriorates and the inhabitants grow slack and despondent—not every individual, but by averages. On the other hand, in dairy communities the soil improves in fertility, the crop increase in amount and variety, markets improve, thrift is apparent and intelligence abounds.

Too complacent dairymen in higher altitudes are apt to forget that the dairy belt is rapidly increasing in breadth as well as length, and this fact emphasizes the necessity for abandoning the old tools and old methods and adopting business principles in the conduct of the dairy business. Mental Poise and Health.

People who reach extreme old age are, as a rule, pretty well balanced physically and mentally. A poised life is serene, and serenity and harmony tend to longevity. The mind that is not well balanced is constantly jangled and out of tune. There is a constant jarring which racks the whole human machinery. There is discord in an unbalanced life, and discord is always destructive—deadly. The well poised, dignified life is not thrown off its center quickly. The man who goes all to pieces over trifles is one sided. There is a momentum in a poised, balanced nature which steadies its progress and helps hold it on its chosen track.

Hot Temper, Constant Mental Confusion and Disorder are Vitality-appearing Shorteners.—Success Magazine.

The Natural Way.

A philanthropic person heard of a negro family that was reported in deplorable circumstances, and, calling at their domicile, he found the report true. The family consisted of the mother, a son nearing manhood's estate and two young children. The benevolent old gentleman, after hearing the mother's story gave her eldest son $1 to get a chicken for the Thanksgiving dinner and took his departure. No sooner was he gone than the negro said to her son, "Sambo, you done gib me dat dollah and get dat chicken in de natural way?"

Odd Graveyard Inscriptions.

At Worcester, England, the slab erected over a departed autoneer is inscribed with a single word, "Done." In Sussex the initials and date of the death of the deceased are followed by two words, "He was." The most remarkable inscription is at Cane Hill cemetery, Belfast, where the inscription says, "Left till called for."

Philis H. G.

"Our minister does have the hardest luck. Just think, the baby's down with the croup, Albert broke his collar bone last week, their horse died yesterday, and now Mrs. Bector has pneumonia." "I suppose that by and by, on top of all that, some fool will get them up a donation party."

Two Ways to Prosper.

Two kinds of business men are bound to succeed. We refer to the man who knows how to advertise and to the one who knows that he does not know, but knows enough to get one who does know to write and place his advertisements for him.

The many friends of Mrs. J. Harry Hicks will be pleased to learn that she is recovering from her recent indisposition, which was brought on by a rather peculiar accident a few weeks ago. It seems that Mrs. Hicks was walking one evening and noticed a particularly fine cluster of hawthorne blossoms. She broke it off and in doing so drove a thorn into the palm of her left hand. She pulled it out and a few minutes later was suffering intense pain. On her arrival at home, Dr. Armstrong was called. He said the thorn had struck a nerve and that the poison had gone through her whole nerve system. Considerable anxiety was felt for a day or two.

THE AMERICAN TREK.

The Boston Transcript says: "It is not to be wondered at that the States of the Northwest, and that especially Alaska, Canada, should verge on alarm, the constant and increasing trek of American farmers across the border. It is naturally disheartening to see coming into our ports each year aliens by the hundred thousand for whom the cultivation of the soil has no attractions, while from the other side of the country the flower of an agricultural population is forsaking its old holdings and citizenship, and finding homes on the rich virgin acres of Canada. Still, this is a free country, and so to a hardly less degree is that to which they emigrate, so we cannot resort to any arbitrary scheme of restraint to check the movement. It seems to be natural and in the healthy, though it must be counted a loss to this country in more ways than one."

WHAT OUR LEADERS SAY OF CANADA.

Says the Wall Street Journal: "Sir Wilfrid Laurier says that the nineteenth century belonged to the United States, but that the twentieth century belongs to Canada. This is a magnificent sentence, and in a degree it expresses a great truth. Undoubtedly Canada is to witness during this century a wonderful development of her resources and is to make a marvellous progress. All the more reason why every question of dispute between Canada and the United States should be removed and the two countries developed side by side to the mutual advantage of both, so that the twentieth century shall be said to belong to America and not merely to any one section of America. Certain it is that North America will this century become the great centre of political and economic power in the world. Let us begin by getting rid of the old vexatious fisheries dispute between the United States and Canada."

The following is R. L. Borden's tribute. It is contained in a message of gram:

"The Dominion enters its fortieth year in a season of wonderful prosperity and development, which, although apparent in the older provinces of the east, have their greatest exemplification in the great progress and growth of Canada's western domain. Although separated from our fellow-countrymen in the west by a broad stretch of country, as yet unsettled, we in the east watch, not only with interest, but with intense pride, the splendid progress which is thus being achieved. May this continue and increase, and may every day strengthen still more that spirit of unity and common purpose, which no less than material prosperity is essential to the true national life of this great country!"
