ARE WE CRIMINALS?

Armand Lavergne, friend of Bourassa, friend of Pelletier, Nantel, Coderre and Patenaude, and the man who claims to have influenced Sir Robert Borden in the choice of the Nationalist members of his cabinet, in his recent reply to Sir Sam Hughes, refusing to raise and command a battalion for the defense of Canada abroad, said:

THE WAR NEWS.

An outstanding feature of the news today is the defeat of a Bulgarian army with heavy loss, in a battle in which British forces participated. The military critics say that the situation in Serbia is more encouraging, but the German claim to have made important gains.

THE CANADIAN OFFICERS.

The question of the ability of officers of the Canadian forces is just now being discussed in a somewhat interesting way. London Truth says there have been "wholesale changes" in artillery commands at Somerville and men who went over in command of their batteries from Canada have been transferred to a reserve brigade.

greatest weakness of the voluntary system of raising armies is often to be found in the incompetence of the officers, who require exceptional qualities and thorough technical training. This cannot be imparted to them in a brief time.

"Can Sir Robert Borden afford to have a machine gun bungle piled on top of the performances of the Shell Committee and other administrative triumphs? The Minister of Militia is only able to discuss machine guns as a hearsay soldier, who can have no first-hand knowledge of what he is talking about. Sir Robert Borden should consult Canadian officers who have learned wisdom in the school of actual fighting. The battalions of the Canadian expeditionary force ought to be equipped with machine guns not according to the theories of the Shell Committee, but according to the experience of the men who have learned wisdom in the school of actual fighting.

The appeal for apples for wounded soldiers, which has been issued by Lady Osler, should especially appeal to orchardists in this province. Yesterday was another notable day in the recruiting campaign in St. John. The sense of duty grows more widespread as the campaign continues.

The appeal of the Lord Mayor of London made through Premier Clarke, for a small universal contribution on Nov. 15th, for the relief of the Belgians, reminds us again that there are still 8,000,000 destitute Belgians in their own country in urgent need of help. In a very real sense Belgium helped to save the British Empire. She should not be forgotten in the hour of her great trial.

Rev. Geo. D. Rutten, who was proponent of political and social service in the destroyed University of Louvain, and director general of social work in Belgium, speaking in Toronto this week, told of German atrocities he had actually seen. Under their martial law the more gross offences had been largely stopped, but, he said, a reign of terror continued to exist, and suspected Belgians were liable to be put to death at any time. Dr. Rutten declares that all the findings of the committee presided over by Lord Bryce had been justified by what he himself knew and had seen, and that when the war was over, documentary evidence of a frightful character would be forthcoming.

Ottawa is to have a ten-days' whirlwind recruiting campaign to get four hundred men for the 77th Battalion. An Ottawa letter says: "The campaign will start on Wednesday, November 10, and last until Saturday, November 20. There will be a big meeting to open the campaign on Wednesday night, November 10th, when the Premier, Sir R. L. Borden, Sir Wilfred Laurier and other prominent men will speak. The arrangements are being made with the merchants and manufacturers for permission to address the employees during noon hours or at other times. Permission has been granted to have speakers address the audience in the movie shows between the reels. The clergy will be asked to assist and the labor leaders in the city have agreed to help."

In regard to the revival of business in Canada the Montreal Gazette utters this timely note of warning:—"The recent revival of trade in Canada and the States is due in good part to the war orders and the immense crops; but it must not be forgotten that the war cannot go on forever, and when it ceases there is sure to be a reaction in the munitions industries. Moreover, the world will be vastly poorer for a long time afterwards, and borrowing countries like our own must feel the pinch, so that if they are wise they will not spread their sails for another boom just now. A fresh boom, assuming we could coax one into existence, would necessarily be short-lived and the after-claps disastrous. Let all therefore be satisfied to go slow till the skies clear. This is not pessimism but common sense."

TWENTY EIGHT RECRUITS SIGN

Good Showing Yesterday—Rousing Meeting in Queen's Rink Last Evening—Car For 55th—Friends Honor Soldiers

Twenty-eight men enrolled in St. John yesterday for service with the 104th Battalion, many of them signing at last night's meeting in the Queen's rink, when Hon. J. A. Murray, Mayor Frink and Sergt. Knight were the speakers.

This meeting was the main feature on the day's programme. E. A. Schofield presided and with him on the platform were Mayor Frink, Commissioner J. Y. Russell, Colonel E. T. Sturdee, B. Emerson, Captain L. P. D. Tilley, E. L. Rilling, C. M. Hestwick, G. P. Paine, A. Rowan, G. A. Kimball, J. E. Wilson. The band of the 104th was present, and had with the City Cornet Band played the crowds in to the hall. This was well filled with men of the right age mainly for military service and they listened with marked attention. It was not overlooked that the Hon. Mr. Murray said, "the democracy we have is exactly that which gives you tonight the chance to say 'No' to the call of empire."

The speeches were followed with appreciative interest by a large gathering. During the course of his speech, Sergt. Knight struck a popular note when he said that such men as Armand Lavergne in Quebec should not be tolerated in Canada, and no government should have him or those who shared his views among the members of its cabinet.

Those who signed the roll yesterday were—James Clayton, William Harris, L. B. Connell, Burpee W. Carvell, Harold Moore, Martin McLaren, Arthur Scott, Walter Purdy, George McIntyre, Charles F. Mallaby, G. Ramsay, George Essey, Ralph E. Hatfield, J. W. Warner, Ross Smith, Joseph B. Hayes, Charles Maber, Edward Weaving, Harold Feeney, George E. McCoy, William J. Finlay, Willard, John Beckwith, Robert Fenton, Frank M. Hamu, Ernest W. Case.

The 20th Battalion, Calgary, Alta., has arrived in England aboard the steamer Orydon.

Gay Thorne Parker, son of Capt. and Mrs. Raymond Parker, formerly of this province, now of Liverpool, England, died from wounds received in action. Word to this effect was received yesterday by Mrs. Robert Carson, his aunt in St. Martins, N. B.

Members of the Keewatin Club last night elected their officers. George R. Crosby and G. P. Murray, who have joined the elite battery, and Joseph Palehah, who has returned from their rooms in the Palmer building. A tempting banquet was enjoyed with Wannamakers caterer. A fund on me was given, those taking part including E. Carson, T. Stack, F. J. Funder, Geo. Morjesty, and W. C. Cross, who provided several reels of motion pictures. Best wishes were extended to the members who have done the khaki.

At a meeting of the officers of the Royal Standard Chapter I. O. O. F., yesterday, Mrs. E. A. Smith, regent, reported the gift of an automobile to officers of the 5th Battalion for service overseas through the chapter. A fund on hand will be used for instruments for the 94th band.

The staff of Hall & Fairweather yesterday honored their numbers, military wrist watch given in their behalf by Carey Black, while the firm, through W. C. Cross, presented a substantial cash gift to him. He is with the 104th Battalion.

Fellow employes on the staff of the Robinson Bakery yesterday presented to John L. Quinn, Arthur Hedgley, who have joined the 104th Battalion, remembrances in honor of their enlistment, a wrist watch to Mr. Quinn, a diamond ring to Mr. Hedgley. Chas. Robinson, the proprietor, gave them cash gifts. The presentations from the staff were made by M. McDonagh.

A Pittsfield man was sorely in need of a little money, and, while pondering on where to get it, he opened a letter and in it he found a bill which had been owed him for years.

NOT A PARTICLE OF DANDRUFF OR A FALLING HAIR

Save Your Hair! Double Its Beauty in Just a Few Moments

25-Cent "Danderine" Makes Hair Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful. A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that it all—yes surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

PAIN IN THE BACK Usually Comes From Muscular Rheumatism

Do not worry about a pain in the back. The worry will do you more harm than the pain. The cause of most backaches is muscular rheumatism, which is painful enough, but not fatal. Lumbago is a form of muscular rheumatism, so is a stiff neck. Sufferers from any form of rheumatism should keep their general health up to the highest standard by the use of a blood building tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, while taking good, nourishing food, without too much meat. Proper nutrition and pure blood are the best means of fighting rheumatism. Rheumatism comes from an acid in the blood, so if you strengthen the system and drive out the poisonous acid that causes rheumatism, in this way sufferers have found complete recovery. It is shown by the following case: Mrs. Samuel Childhouse, Odell, Ont., says: "About three years ago I was greatly afflicted with a severe pain in the back, which I thought at first was due to kidney trouble. I tried a number of remedies, but they did not help me any, in fact the pain was growing worse, and got so bad that I was quite unable to do my housework. I could not even sweep a floor. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I at once acted upon the advice, for before I had been taking the Pills long the pain began to subside, and under the continuous use disappeared entirely, and I have not since been bothered with it in any way. My husband was also cured of a severe attack of rheumatism by this same medicine so that we both have much reason to be grateful for it."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 20 cents a box or six boxes for $1.00 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville (Ont.).

W. M. KINGSTON IS NEW PRESIDENT OF S. S. ASSOCIATION

After a series of interesting and profitable sessions the New Brunswick Sunday school convention was brought to a close yesterday.

At the afternoon session officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Executive president, William M. Kingston, St. John; vice-president, Rev. R. Houghton, St. John; secretary, Rev. H. W. Rev. W. A. Ross gave an address on the proposed summer school before the convention divided for group conferences. At the adult conferences addresses were given by Dr. Brown on "Some New Thoughts on an Old Book," by Rev. Hammond Johnston on "The Adult Division and Social Service," Rev. M. E. Fletcher on Missions and by John Wood on Temperance. In the secondary conference Rev. W. A. Ross spoke on "Grades Lessons for the Teacher," Mrs. Nathan Squires read a paper on "My Class" and Dr. Brown conducted a discussion on "Teen Age Problems."

Supper was served for the men of the conference at Bopp's Restaurant at six o'clock and afterwards Dr. Bond gave an address on "Men and the work of the church in the modern world." At the evening session Dr. Bond gave the closing address of his series on "Devotions and the Bible message." The report of the credentials committee was presented showing a total enrollment of 291 delegates. The convention adopted the report of the resolutions committee recommending votes of thanks to all who had aided the conference, expressing appreciation of the way in which Sunday school members had responded to the call of king and country, and instructing the secretary to send a message of loyalty to the king.

Financial Statement. A supplementary statement was presented by the treasurer, A. H. Chipman, as follows: Receipts—Balance from last year, $87.81; estate late Andrew Malcolm, $100; from N. TWO DAYS' SALE ON MONDAY and TUESDAY of Colored and Black COAT CLOTHS at $1.10 and $1.25 a Yard

These are materials suitable for making the most stylish and comfortably warm coats and because of the increasing scarcity of such fabrics and greater cost to secure, represent values which are most exceptional under present conditions of the cloth market.

It is presumed that there will be enough of these Coat Cloths to supply patrons during the two days of this sale, but early buyers will be certain to avoid disappointment.

Sir John French.

The Countess of Warwick has a character sketch of Sir John French in the London Daily Express. She says he lives in his profession, and breathes the very air of it.

Sometimes we have talked of war. "I held war as much as you do," he has said to me more than once, "but —"

There it ends, and he is looking with ferreting eyes at counters yet to be studied all over Europe, would have kept him by his side. It is well for Britain that she has had a John French to lead her armies.

Women Workers. Not a few of them belong to families who have suffered peculiarly through the war, or whose resources have been reduced by the higher cost of living, and the increased burden of taxation. Others are taking the place of men, in situations in the railway and tramway companies, in bookbinding offices, and in clubs and restaurants. In these employments they are as efficient as men, and it is really so much energy running that requires only a woman's strength. At present the principle that women must be paid in being generally adhered to, but will this be the case after the war? Neither economists nor politicians can tell us what is going to happen in the industrial field when the men come back from the trenches, but we may be sure the inevitable recommendation of feminine emigration will not by itself solve the problem.

GILBERT'S GROCERY

The Man In The Street

Would Armande Lavergne believe that Canada is at war if a Zeppelin dropped a bomb on him?

Of course we don't wish any one any harm, but would it not be worth while subsidizing a German airship to try the experiment?

Armande's idea of politics must be just about as big as his own back yard, and at that we don't know that he has any back yard.

But just imagine what a lovely time he and King Constantine would have if they could get together to swap ideas on the war.

That new dominion commission has solved one economic problem already—that of ensuring the members a nice income in war time.

Is it another case of stabbings on the part of company and commission that is holding up the car service to Indians?

There seems nothing now to stop the cars running through. The covering over the concrete was removed some days ago—let's the concrete hard enough now?

The people of Indian town have suffered enough inconvenience, through midnight haste in laying concrete over street car rails—now, they hope to have things running well again.

The Wrist Watches.

"What is war without a wrist watch?" asked the sporting editor.

"That's a timely question," murmured the religious editor, who has a weakness for poor puns.

"Talk about getting a slap on the wrist, did you ever know a recruit to complete when he got a belt on the wrist if it held one of those war time time-pieces?" was the next incentive to interference by the B. G.

"Why don't they make the manufacturers and jewelers slip up and pay the war debt between them?" They ought to be able to by this time," was the contribution of the financial editor.

Probably Both Were Strangers.

"Well, sir, you can take it from me that up where I come from we wouldn't have a police force if he couldn't tell a stranger where to find any house in town." It was a delegate to the Sunday school convention speaking, and he continued: "I dropped in here this week and when I met a policeman I asked him where Centenary church was, and he didn't know. And I'd been reading a lot about the 'efficient police force' and the courses in drill they were taking, and I thought to myself, sir, that if all of them were as well stocked on local knowledge as this man, that they'd better establish an information bureau for newly arriving policemen in the city or they might be of some benefit to visitors."

From The "Violent Ward."

A German land lubber.

Sat eating some blubber.

And then took a side dish of real.

They serve to the slinger.

Whose warship he locked up in Kiel.

He looked at the Kaiser.

Who's father than his own.

And murmured with unguile.

"I think I'll carve me."

A nice juicy steak of beef.

Keen Steutka.

It is one thing to have a vigilant police force, another to have a too vigilant one, but it is not such such cases as either of these that a certain young man employed in a German street business house placed two "specials" on his chest on his way home from work a few nights ago. He had been at work up to ten o'clock and when going home cut up through Market street to reach Charlotte. Suddenly from out of the darkness two men pounced upon him, and he immediately concluded that he must surrender his watch, stick-pin or other valuables. But no—they extended a polite invitation for him to go with them, mentioning the name of an unfashionable dwelling in King street east. He thought it was a joke, and broke away from them. The "special" detectives, so-called, caught him again, and this time, though he emphatically told them he had been working all evening and could take them a few yards back to the store and prove it, he was "tagged" along to central station. The "specials" looked cheap when a few minutes later he was given permission to use a phone, and his employer, a prominent local citizen, assured them that the young man had been engaged at his work up to ten o'clock, and when arrested about five minutes afterwards, had just knocked off. The moral may be that if you're worked up to ten p. m. these days, just take your "boss" home with you to prove you're "on the level."

SOLL EY'S LIFE SAVED BY BIBLE

St. John Comrade Sends Picture of Book With Bullet Embedded in It

Private W. E. Price, of the 26th Battalion, who has been ill in the military hospital at Sandgate, England, has sent home an interesting souvenir which was given to him by a wounded soldier in the same hospital. It is a picture of a Bible showing that the good book is saving lives as well as souls.

His friend, Sergeant Goodwin, of Toronto, had the Bible in his breast pocket when he was wounded by the enemy's fire. While he was wounded in other places the book saved him from death by stopping a bullet which would otherwise have struck his heart. A photograph shows the Bible with the bullet stuck fast where it had penetrated.

ITALIAN ARRESTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Detective Barrett Gets Pedro in House at Millstream

Paol Pedro, an Italian, who has been sought by the police on a charge of attacking a five year old Syrian girl, was taken prisoner by Detective Thomas Barrett, in the cellar of a house at Millstream, N. B., early this morning.

Detective Barrett had some difficulty in gaining an entrance to the house. After a careful search during which he kept the proprietor of the house under cover of his revolver, he located a trap door under a mat in one of the rooms. Lifting it he discovered the Italian hiding in a bin of potatoes. In the police court this morning the charge was read over to the defendant and he was remanded to jail.

HISTORIC SWORD FOR LT. COL. FOWLER, M. P.

Ceremony of Historic Value Next Friday

A Link Between Intrepid 104th of 1813 and the Brave Boys Now in Khaki

Of late months in connection with the general recruiting campaign, the somewhat formal function planned for next Friday night in one of the big meeting places of the city, promises to stand out as most interesting, particularly as to its historic value.

A few days ago in a cleverly conceived window decoration in M. R. A.'s establishment the sword carried by Lieut. William Barry Phair of the old and renowned 104th Regiment was placed on exhibition along with many other relics of that intrepid band of volunteers.

This sword has been purchased outright and is to be presented to Lieut. Col. George W. Fowler, M. P., of the new 104th New Brunswick Battalion in perpetuation of the battalion number and of the spirit which impelled the men of the loyal province to take up arms in defense of their home and flag.

Lieut. Col. Fowler feels pleased and complimented that such a time-honored and illustrious relic should be bestowed upon him and his regiment, and promises to wear the sword throughout the career of the new 104th in the present struggle.

Friday's affair will also take the form of another recruiting rally with the sword presentation its central idea. Arrangements are being made for speakers of more than local repute and those who are familiar with the plans of the meeting are enthusiastic about it.

The sword which has been secured for the 104th Regiment was carried by Lieut. Phair on the famous march of the 104th Regiment from Fredericton to Quebec in 1813. This was during the troublous times between the United States and Canada and although New Brunswick's population was less than 50,000 it raised that splendid old regiment. Afterwards, it offered its services to the British government as a regiment of the line at which time it received its number. It was in the latter part of February, 1814 that the 104th left Fredericton for Quebec. Indian scouts preceded the regiment, blazing the trails and erecting shelters for night stops. During this memorable march one of the bitterest storms in the history of the country overtook the brave New Brunswickers, bringing about great suffering.

WOMEN PUT AT WORK IN THE BERLIN SUBWAY

London, Nov. 6.—A Copenhagen despatch to the London Morning Post says that a Berlin telegram states that women are being employed at excavating the Friedrich Strasse tunnel, which is being constructed in connection with the Berlin subway. The utilization of women's labor for this purpose is so successful that it is now intended to employ them as laborers in other big undertakings.

Fortune Helps Those Who Help Themselves

Trade doesn't come, Mr. Storekeeper, but waits around for you to go after it.

But it is quick to accept the right invitation.

For instance, when an article is advertised in the newspapers people become interested.

They want to see the goods.

They will be attracted to the store that shows them in its windows.

Alert storekeepers watch the newspapers and when an article is advertised they let the public know they have it.

Sir Charles Tupper

The Noted Statesman's Famous Letter To Sir Robert Borden on The Naval Question

Sir Charles Tupper took a keen interest in Canadian affairs to the end, but his last notable public deliverance was in 1906, when he addressed the following letter to R. L. Borden, then leader of the opposition in the House of Commons. The Mount, Buxley Heath, November 20th, 1906.

"My Dear Mr. Borden—

I have read with much interest the communication of the Canadian correspondent of the 'Times' on naval defence in today's issue of that paper. I regard that question as more important than any mere party issue, and am glad to learn that you are resolved to maintain the patriotic attitude of the Conservative Party assumed last session. A few years ago when Canada was struggling to open up for British settlement the great granary of the world, a few gentlemen here raised the question of Canadian contribution to the British navy. I joined issue with them and was sustained by the press and public opinion. It was admitted that Canada was not only no burden to the mother country, but without her harbours and coasts Britain would require a larger navy. Contrast the progress of Canada, Australia and New Zealand under imperial management, and since it was relinquished, and it will be seen to whom their present importance is due.

In an evil hour for the British Empire, Chobanian was allowed to sweep away the protection policy which had made England mistress of the manufactures of the world and place all her colonies in the position of free traders. The Confederation of Canada which has resulted in such gigantic progress was the work of Canadians, and regarded by many British statesmen as a prelude to getting rid of responsibility. Regarding as I do British institutions as giving greater security to life, property and liberty than any other form of government, I have devoted more than half a century to increasing efforts to preserve the connections of Canada and the crown. When Great Britain was involved in the struggle in the Transvaal I led the van in forcing the Canadian government to send aid. But I did not believe then, and I do not believe now, in taxation without representation. The demand that will soon be made to the imperial navy in proportion to population, I regard as preposterous and dangerous.

I read with pleasure the resolution passed unanimously by the House of Commons which pledged parliament to proceed vigorously with the construction of the Canadian navy, and to support Britain in every emergency, and all that in my opinion is required is to hold the government of the day bound to carry that out honestly. Navies are maintained largely to promote the security of the mercantile shipping of the country which they protect.

When I remember that in the general election of 1891, the friends of British institutions after a desperate struggle which cost that great and patriotic statesman, Sir John A. Macdonald, his life, we only secured a majority of about 25, and I have no hesitation in saying that had the principle of a contribution to the imperial navy according to our population then been in operation that majority of 25 would have been in favor of continental free trade and the adoption of the tariff of the United States against Great Britain. Who can question the accuracy of that opinion who remembers that in 1896 my government was fiercely denounced in Quebec by liberal candidates and Liberal newspapers on account of its militia expenditures, when they declared that an expenditure of $10,000,000 to buy rifles for the militia was a danger to the country, and that the military programme of the government was "highly imprudent."

I do not forget that all parties in the United States agree in the desire to obtain possession of Canada. Under existing circumstances it was of immense importance to have Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his party committed to the policy which secured the unanimous consent of the House of Commons in a question of such vital importance, and a great responsibility will rest upon those who disturb that compact.

I cannot understand the demand for Dreadnoughts in the face of the fact that the admiralty and British government have determined that it was not the best mode of maintaining the security of the empire and savings with Canada and Australia (the latter of which had offered one or two dreadnoughts) for the construction of the local navy to keep open the trade routes in case of war.

All difficulty as to the question of autonomy is now removed as it is fully recognized that the great outlying portions of the empire are sister nations, and that means are adopted to secure uniformity in the naval forces of the empire in the design and construction of the ships, and the training of the officers and men. They are also to be interchangeable and thus secure uniformity in every respect as to as effectively units with the British navy.

Of course the government of the day will be held accountable for carrying out the policy thus agreed upon in a thoroughly effective manner, but I cannot avoid thinking that a fearful responsibility will rest upon those who disturb the compact entered into on this vitally important question.

SUCCESSOR TO BARONETCY

Sir Charles Stewart Tupper, eldest son of James Stewart Tupper, who was eldest son of the late Sir Charles, is only thirty years old. He is a member of a firm of lawyers in Winnipeg, but is now training for overseas service as an officer in the Cameron Highlanders.

The new Lady Tupper was Miss Margaret Peter Morse, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Morse, of Ottawa. Her father is a second cousin of the late Sir Charles Tupper's wife.

The Navy's Way

Interesting Letters From Grandson of Late Rev. R. Mathers and Nephew of W. H. Deveber

The following letters are not only interesting because they tell of the work of the navy, but because they were written by a grandson of the late Rev. R. Mathers and a nephew of W. H. Deveber of this city. They appear in the Bermuda Colonist of Oct. 31—

Extracts from letter from Arthur Tucker, R. N. to his father, Rev. T. Tucker of St. George's, Bermuda and to his brother, care G. P. O. London. Sept. 1915.

I don't remember if I told you about a little taste of a scrap we had a few days ago. Anyway we were off the Dutch Coast. It was fairly rough.

About 8.30 a. m. I was cleaning my rifle in the ward room when all of a sudden a big brass bell just above my head began to have a bit of a spasm. It was an alarm bell meaning enemy in sight, to clear the decks for action and to stand by our guns. I bolted on deck to block my ears up, and did not know every soul on board was at his post. I looked all around the horizon, but could see no ships. Then there was a terrible roar. Our foremost big gun had fired. Me, being in such a hurry failed to see the muzzle flash, and did not know what I was doing until I found myself running home cartridges as fast as they could be disposed of.

We were being attacked by five or more German hydroplanes, who were doing level best to hover above us. But our gunners were too good for them. The attack lasted until 1215 when they had enough of our gun cotton. It was the happiest moment of my life, but I am not at liberty to state the sequel of the raid as it is kept quite official. My ship mates are very much interested in Bermuda papers, as nearly all have been there.

I am now smoking a cigar of my own make. I draw three pounds of leaf tobacco monthly. One pound I make into plug for pipe filling, and the remainder I roll into cigars. I am becoming quite expert at it, so I am told. They are not so bad, as good as a small 8d Goldilocks that you get at the drug store. When they burn to the stump, I shove it in my pipe. You know we have to economize.

(8) We had a very exciting time of it two days ago. A very large Dutch liner from Java to Amsterdam was either torpedoed or struck a mine. Anyway we were the first to reach her and rescue her many passengers and crew. The passengers being mostly women and children. For four hours we stood close up around our guns in case a U-boat should then all of a sudden, the huge vessel disappeared.

I drew six yards of serge that week and got a number one best suit made by a naval tailor. I tell you it is a beauty and fits like a glove.

Yesterday we all got a gift of twelve bars of fine British West Indian chocolate from the Colonies Trinidad, Grenada and St. Lucia in a nice metal box with the coat of arms of each island on the top. I appreciated it mostly, because I have been in each one and have made a number of friends there.

Four telegrams came tonight from different officers and the ship's company on their gallantry in rescuing the people of the Dutch liner.

I am not trying to praise ourselves up at all, but it is just as they put it. Because I am sure any other ship would have done the same had they been in the vicinity at the time.

I enclose a copy of the telegram received from Hindhead to Commander of the . . .

"Accept my most heartfelt congratulations and convey the same to all your officers and men for the gallant deed performed in rescuing the passengers from the Dutch R. M. Liner.

"I felt quite sure with the . . . left our yard she was destined to be left down to fame in the annals of the British Navy." (Sgd) A. F. YARROW. Hindhead. Sept. 1915

States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge next year when the nomination is made in the primaries for the first time, is understood to come from the governor's enthusiastic friends and not from him. Nothing in his private or public utterances has warranted, it is said, the statement that in every respect as to as effectively units with the British navy.

GERMANS PLANNING NEW LOAN OF $2,500,000,000

MONTEAL NURSE ATTENDING KING

Miss Vivienne Tremaine, matron of No. 1 Canadian Cavalry Clearing Hospital, "Somewhere in France," who had the honor of accompanying King George on his journey home from France, after his horse had fallen from under him, is a daughter of Arthur Tremaine, of Montreal, and was born at Montserrat. She lived at 282 Olivier avenue, Westmount, with her father, and graduated at the Montreal General Hospital. She obtained her military training at the Quebec Military Hospital and came out at the head of all the nurses, receiving the appointment of matron and leaving with the first contingent. She has several sisters, one of whom is a nurse at the

SERBIAN WINTERS SEVERE

Contending Armies Now in Region Where Intense Cold Reigns From November to April

Washington, Nov. 6.—Serbian winters are severe and tedious, with dull skies and chilly, damp winds scouring the valleys, while intense cold settles upon the exposed uplands, says a bulletin just issued by the National Geographic Society. "In the lowlands adjacent to the Danube, winter weather is mild, but the ground through many days is spongy with dampness. In the mountainous districts, however, the cold is as bitter as that which descends the Russian plains during January and February, and Serbia is included in the mountainous areas.

"The north central section, in the Danube Valley, the northwest section, in the Save Valley, and a belt, northwest through the heart of the country, the Morava Valley, together constitute the important lowland areas of Serbia. In the northern lowlands the winters are like those of Central Germany, while in the Morava Valley the cold is greater.

"Upland Serbia has only two clearly defined seasons—winter and summer. Summer lasts between May and October, which latter month is wet and chilly. The chilly winters last sometimes well into November. Mists hover over the valleys until toward noon and congeal on the mountain sides. There is a clear, iceless damp, which is not snow, or slush, or mud, but an indeterminate combination of all three, supported over the ground in a porous coating by a network of frozen dew. The snowfall is considerable, and generally covers the hills throughout the winter.

"Fluctuations in temperature are great. A humid heat of 100 to 105 degrees Fahrenheit, sometimes oppresses the valleys for days at a time, where winter temperatures are experienced frequently from 18 to 20 degrees below zero. In the mountainous districts, on the other hand, summer is cool and pleasant among the high groves of fir and pine. Winters in the highlands of Serbia are as strenuous as those of Russia.

"The contending armies are now in the areas visited by the coldest winters, in the southern and central parts of the kingdom. Among the hardest peasants in the Balkans, people inure to exposure, labor and all manner of difficulties are bred in these cold uplands, and it is their homes which are now coming within the battle zone."

LAWYER REVIEWS

CAVELL TRIAL

American Concludes That Nurse Was Murdered

NO DEFENCE WAS PERMITTED

Did Not Even Know in Advance What the Charges Were

Treatment of Ambassador Insult to United States

James M. Beck, formerly assistant attorney general of the United States, whose pamphlet "The Evidence in the Case," in which he reviews the argument for and against Germany from a legal point of view, and found that Germany was guilty of having provoked this case, in every language, has considered the case of Edith Cavell in an article in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Mr. Beck concludes that the English nurse was murdered, and he calls upon the United States to demand the dismissal of the officers who flouted and deceived Brand Whitlock, American minister at Brussels. Mr. Beck says that the murder of Miss Cavell was one of exceptional brutality and stupidity. Berlin did not understand what a wave of condemnation and horror it would excite. To do Berlin justice it might be admitted that if Berlin had appreciated the effects of this murder it would not have been committed; but Berlin's failure to understand the sentiment of the civilized world is no worse than Berlin's failure to appreciate the enormity of the crime against Germany.

Germany's Defence.

After the murder, however, the German government, instead of at the universal condemnation of its act, put forth a defence. It asserted that while Miss Cavell had earned a living by nursing, she had charged such fees as only the wealthy could pay. Mr. Beck says that one who first hazarded her life and then gave it freely to save the lives of others might be well content to let her record stand against the slanders from Berlin. It is not open to question that the nurse wounded British, Belgian and even German soldiers. This was the sort of woman to govern her gracious ministrations by mercenary motives. Moreover, as Mr. Beck points out, all the charges against Miss Cavell have come from her German enemies. She was not permitted to offer a defence. The very statement that she had admitted having helped Belgians to escape to England has reached the outside world from German sources. This confession, however, has not been denied. Those who condemn Germany assume it to be true.

Without a Fair Trial

It is said that Miss Cavell was given a fair trial. Yet it is admitted that she was denied counsel of her own selection and forbidden to have access in advance of the trial even to the nature of the charges against her. In England, France and the United States the idea of justice is that a defendant has certain fundamental and inalienable rights, which even the state cannot override. Whether guilty or not guilty, a person cannot be arrested without a judicial warrant or proof of probable cause; he may not be compelled to testify against himself; he is entitled to a speedy trial, and shall be informed in advance thereof of the exact nature of the accusation; his trial shall be public and open, and he shall be confronted with the witnesses against him, and have compulsory process for his own defence. Moreover, in advance of trial he shall have permission to select his own counsel, and shall have the opportunity to confer freely with him. Each one of these fundamental rights was denied Miss Cavell, and German apologists who say that she had a fair trial either seek to deceive those who listen to them or else they have no idea what Anglo-Saxons mean by a fair trial.

Brand Whitlock Ignored

Mr. Beck reviews at length the efforts of Brand Whitlock to secure justice or mercy for Miss Cavell. When he heard of her arrest, he enquired of the German civil governor, if it were true. To this communication he received no reply. Mr. Whitlock wrote again, assuming that Miss Cavell was under arrest and said that as Britain's representative in Belgium, he desired to assist the prisoner in her defence. To this the reply was that the prisoner would be defended by "an advocate who was in touch with the proper German authorities." Mr. Whitlock was refused an interview with Miss Cavell. When the travesty of a trial was staged the advocate originally mentioned by the governor did not appear, another man taking his place. This lawyer was not only prevented from seeing his client before the trial, but he warned Mr. Whitlock that it would be unwise for the American Embassy to be represented at the proceedings since the judge might be prejudiced against the prisoner on this account.

When every other means failed of helping Miss Cavell, Mr. Whitlock wrote a note to the Baron von der Lancken, and, though Mr. Whitlock is well known as an author, and will be better known after the war, never he ever wrote or will write will be remembered as these words: "I am too ill to put my request before you in person, but once more appeal to the generosity of your heart."

Stand by and save from death this unfortunate woman. Have pity, on her. This note was read aloud to the Baron and the Minister from Spain, pleaded with him. He refused, however, to take any step in favor of Miss Cavell and who was executed. After the sentence of the drum-head court martial had been carried out, an appeal was made from Berlin to misrepresent the activity of the American Minister to Belgium, and in some quarters it was suggested that he should be recalled. Mr. Beck argues that the deceit practiced upon Mr. Whitlock was deceit practiced upon the American government, that both were insulted by German officials, and that the plain duty of the United States is to demand an explanation and an apology from Berlin.

My Dear Dick:

Thank you very much for your most interesting letter I got yesterday. "Am sorry your friends, the R. C. R's are gone home."

I will find just as good in the new ones. I got a nice letter from a fellow who was on the — with me. But I do not think much of him if he does not join the service, because you know this war is a matter of life or death as a Britisher and the Empire. But somehow some people do not realize it. I am sure you would be if you were old enough. But I am glad you are not, it is so terrible. I see hundreds of young fellows coming in every week, some without legs, arms and nearly all maimed for life.

I know mother and daddy must worry about Edmund and me but it is what millions of mothers and fathers have to contend with now in this reign of terror.

Dick, old boy you must be as cheerful as ever now, and help mother as much as you can as I know you have been doing.

You must have enjoyed your campment at Miss Kate Hayward's. Yes we have accounted for several German ships so far, but I am not able to tell you in detail.

I am told off for station patrol tonight, and dressed in blue as usual but with belt and leggings.

Your loving brother,
ARTHUR.

MUSK ALTERS LONDON LIFE

Customs Change as Result of Zeppelin Raids

GO TO SUBURBS AT NIGHT

Day Entertainments Increase and Visit to the Theatre Now Classified as Quite an Adventure

London, Oct. 6.—(Correspondence)—Together with the fading of the "Lights of London," due to the effort of the mighty city to hide itself from the Kaiser's bomb-dropping Zeppelins, has come a great change in the mode of life here. Says the Daily Chronicle:

Customs, ideas, beliefs, and conventions have been altered by the new precautionary measures taken against air raids, and for Londoners this new experience has brought home many truths. So changed has the city become by night, that stumbling along through thoroughfares, guided only by the faint glow of subdued lamps, one can almost realize what the nights of the regency were like. Nothing is wanting but the Sedan chairs, the flambeaux held aloft, and the bell of the night watchman.

The pleasure providers have been hit the hardest. Instead of going to the bar or the supper room, the city man used to take his time goes back to his suburb; the cafe habitue has given up his late meals out, and the West End managers in general now recognize that the really late diners at their tables have become merely figures in social history. Those little recherche parties with which one associated the explosive note of the champagne cork are dead, and many people in consequence are healthier, wealthier and wiser.

Midday Luncheons. "Instead there is the new form of sociability—the midday luncheon. It is neither so expensive nor so extravagant and the Londoners have found it quite as enjoyable. Then there is the increased use of the omnibus and the tube, the revived pleasures of home life, and the great realization of its diversity and interest, as against the weary monotony of unending 'calls' in the pleasure quarters of the metropolis.

"To go to the theatre in these days is to essay something in the nature of an adventure. And with so many reviews of the old favorite pieces, and the reversal of feminine dress to the full, wide skirt as exemplified in the fashionable revue, the social perspective seems to have lapsed some thirty years, and we find ourselves living over again the pleasures of the past.

"The churches, too, have been much concerned by the darkened streets. They have been anxious to adapt their hours of service to the welfare of the congregation, and in some instances earlier evenings have been arranged to suit their convenience. If anything, the war has increased the attendance at places of worship.

"Great changes have been experienced in the poorer quarters of the community. No longer do the street markets of Soho by night glow with light, and the tongues of Compostella are silent. The new or-

MY TERRIBLE HACKING AND SPLITTING COUGH WAS ENTIRELY CURED BY DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

Mrs. Clara Jackson, Huntsville, Ont., writes us under date of January 25th, 1915. "I take great pleasure in writing you concerning Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Last winter I contracted a very bad cough which troubled me all through the summer. This winter I started to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after taking three bottles I can truthfully say that I feel like another woman. The terrible hacking and splitting cough, and the dry sensation in my throat is entirely cured. I would certainly recommend it to anyone troubled with bronchitis or lung trouble. I have not words too grateful to give you. All obstinate coughs and colds yield quickly to the action of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, combining as it does all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of the pine resin, roots and bark. Dr. Wood's has been on the market for the past twenty-five years, and we claim that it is the best cure for a cough or cold that you can possibly procure. The thousands of testimonials we have received prove that our claim is right. All we ask you is to see that you get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it, and don't accept some no-account substitute. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price, 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ders have changed this bright oasis of London life into a dim network of streets, across the pavements of which faint shafts of light venture timidly through the side blinds of the shops. Even Jewry, which loves bright nights is dulled, and most of its vivid coloring is hidden nightly in the picture palaces along the Whitechapel Road.

Drivers Inconvenienced. "Lack of light has caused many grumbles and inconveniences. The latest of the taxi driver is poorer, petrol is dearer, and the nervousness of driving has increased. Traffic dangers are more numerous, and in some streets the curbs are being whitened.

A writer in the Daily Telegraph takes up another feature: "In order to lessen the risk of accident the police have insisted in some localities upon small handcars carrying some kind of illuminant. Complaint is being made that the strain upon drivers' troupers with defective sight is being seriously felt, inasmuch that some have had to adopt glasses.

"The devices adopted by tradesmen to comply with the requirements are diverse, and in some cases novel. In one district a sudden blip was seen to have been given to the spirit of patriotism, for a number of publicans have combined to dim their lights with Union Jacks. Very many shopkeepers think it sufficient to keep their outside awnings spread. Whether that suffices is a question for the police to decide. Often it is completely effective. In other cases it still permits a considerable diffusion of light.

Again, it is a common practice to draw the shop blinds half-way down—a plan which in most cases cuts off direct light to the windows in effective illumination. "Mostly the practice is to dim the electric lights with shades of more or less primitive character, the readiest form being plain brown paper, and the neatest a dull-colored lamp shade, recalling the old night watchman's lantern, and capably by means of perforations,

S. Jacobson & Co. 32 MILL STREET

Canada, has left for England. He will report to the war office as to the conditions in Canada and the feasibility of establishing ordnance works in Canada which might be in a position to turn out big guns in time for use during the present war.

It is understood that several of the big Canadian iron and steel firms are willing to go into the business providing that sufficient orders are guaranteed to warrant the outlay for new machinery, and providing also that skilled workmen can be secured. The latter requirement is perhaps the most difficult part of the problem, as practically every available skilled workman in the highly technical industry of gun making has been picked up either in Great Britain and France or in the United States.

Lionel Hitchens will remain in Canada for some weeks yet completing the organization of the Canadian munitions commission and awarding the orders to be filled during the next six months.

Mr. Hitchens, it may be noted, is a great personal friend of Major-General Sir Sam Hughes, who says he is "one of the bonniest fighters England ever produced." Mr. Hitchens and General Sir Sam were comrades in arms in South Africa. Mr. Hitchens, then a plain private, and Lionel Stevenson, of Wood-

British forces under Sir Sam, was one of the nine men who made, under him, the sensational round-up and "capture" of several thousand Boers.

At her home at Milltown, Me., on Wednesday, Mrs. John Groves, a former resident of Fredericton, passed away. Mrs. Robert Belyca, of Fredericton, is a sister, and Lemuel Stevenson, of Wood-

A GENTLE LAXATIVE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are a gentle laxative. They are absolutely safe and are so pleasant in action that once the mother has used them for her little one she will never again resort to that harsh, ill-smelling, bad tasting castor oil, which baby always fought against taking. Baby will take the Tablets with a smile and thousands of mothers tell us their little ones will coax for them. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville (Ont.)

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO PLAY PATRONS

Gwen Piers in New Broadway Piece

LATE "WAR" PRODUCTION

Constance Crawley and Arthur Maude in Pictures—Sequel to "Potash and Perlmutter"—Canadian Picture Manager Optimistic—Local Items

Gwendoline Piers, a former Fawcett favorite with St. John play followers, is in New York with a new play recently opened, "Our Mrs. McChesney," an American comedy about a widow saleswoman, clever and pretty. It is an adaptation of the magazine stories of this character created by Edna Ferber, assisted by Geo. V. Hobart. Miss Piers plays the part of Pele Schulte.

Only a writer with a weird sense of humor would attempt to make a farce out of the war. That is what Frank Mandel has done in "Sherman is Right," and New York is still uncertain whether to laugh at the piece or not. All the characters are picked up in mid-ocean by a German raider like the Prince Eitel Friedrich. There are two men on board who have adopted the name of Schmidt for different reasons, and there is also a real Schmidt, wanted for deserting from the German army. It is therefore a farce of mistaken identity. Heywood Brown of the New York Tribune says of the piece: "Audiences are not in the mood just now to laugh at German firing squads. Nor for our part were we moved to mirth when the comic waltz told how his companion, in flight from the battlefield had been blown to pieces by a shell."

Sir Herbert Tree is on his way to the United States to spend at least six months on this side of the Atlantic. He will go first to Los Angeles, where he is to film in plays of Shakespeare that he has already produced, notably in "Henry VIII," of which he made a highly spectacular pageant. It is to be screened with much of Sir Herbert's original paraphrases. Having brought all these costumes and "properties" over, he is seeking an opportunity to act "Henry VIII" as spoken drama in a few cities next spring. If he finds it, Mr. Boucher will join him to act the burly king—a part that is second nature to the actor.

Amateurs Soon. A change has been made in the plans of the L. E. & B. Society. They have abandoned the attempt to present "Arsene Lupin," announced for presentation this month in the Opera House, and instead will repeat two productions in which they won success some time ago, "When We Were Twenty-One," and "Men and Women." Practically the same casts will be available for each bill. The amateurs who are to present "The House Next Door" are meeting with encouragement in their rehearsals and good progress has been made. It will be given in the Opera House next month. This play is in aid of the Red Cross Society, while the L. E. & B. productions are for the Patriotic Fund. Both will no doubt attract large audiences.

Harrison Grey Fiske, one of the finest of American producers, has come out of the retirement caused by his failure a year ago. He is presenting a new drama entitled "Mrs. Boltray's Daughters," in New York, and a very unpleasant affair the comedy appears to be. It is adapted from a Hungarian drama by Eugene Hellal, which pleased Austrian theatre-goers some time before the war. The play deals chiefly with Boriska Boltray who becomes mistress of a man considerably older than herself in order that her mother and three sisters may live in luxury. Boriska does earn a little cash herself by acting and grows tired of the life that she is living. She intends to break from the rich man, and her decision is hastened by coming of a young newspaper man into her life. Mrs. Boltray is in despair at the thought of losing her moral ticket, so her youngest daughter, Sari, goes to the elderly rake with an offer to take Boriska's place. Boriska finds what she has done and also that Sari loves the newspaper man. She refuses to accept the sacrifice, so Sari marries the much-loved journalist, while things come out all right for Boriska, as the rake's wife dies quite conveniently and leaves him free to marry his mistress. The characterization and the dialogue of this untidy little morsel are described as clever.

Constance Crawley and Arthur Maude, who played in St. John a few years ago with their own company, are seen in the forthcoming Clippert feature, "The Alternative." This is a remarkable story of present-day life, the "business-man husband" and the society wife. Mr. Maude directed the picture as well as playing lead opposite Miss Crawley.

Partello Players. Large audiences were a feature of this week's bills at the Opera House by the Partello Players, "The Shepherd of the Hills" and "The Two Orphans." Both were satisfying productions, given in their usual capable manner by the company, most of whose members have won popularity with local players. Much interest is being taken in forthcoming productions, including "The Lost Sister," a bright vaudeville between acts is an additional feature with the company's bills, now and it has found hearty favor.

Because of its remarkable success at the Colton Theatre, New York, "Mrs. Whitney's Fashion Show" is to be produced in motion pictures. This film version of the latest word in feminine fashions will be exhibited only in the very small cities, which the company included in their tour. "Mrs. Whitney's Fashion Show." Sequels to successful plays are almost as rare as sequels to successful novels are common. The managers who produced "Potash and Perlmutter" some years ago have evidently concluded that the public would like to see another comedy concerning the same characters, Hebrews, and for that reason "Abe and

"Satiya," is now running in New York with every indication that the play will repeat the hit of the earlier drama. Abe Potash and Morris Perlmutter are shown at later stages of their careers. Swindlers by hold of them and attempt to incorporate the company, but Abe is shocked at their methods and withdraws from the partnership. The high financiers nearly ruin Morris, but his old friend turns in the end to save him. The excellent cast includes Barney Bernard and Jules Tannen, the original impersonators of the two leading characters.

Harry Lauder

The announcement of the approaching visit of the famous Scottish comedian, Harry Lauder to the city has created considerable enthusiasm among local playgoers, especially among those whose descent is traceable from the land of the thistle. He is bringing with him a large company and is being planned by the Scotch societies not only here but in other parts of New Brunswick and even in Nova Scotia to join in the celebration of St. Andrew's Day, November 30 with him at the Imperial with probably a reception in his honor. He will parade from the depot on his arrival, with the pipes playing, and the members of his company in Scottish regalia.

A collection of war relics brought back to America by Malcolm Robertson, a young Princeton student have been placed on exhibition in the lobby of the Hudson Theatre, where Rol Cooper Meyer's stirring war drama, "Under Fire," is playing. In the collection, which has aroused a great deal of interest, are a German rifle taken from a dead German soldier near Nieuport, Belgium, aeroplane parts and bombs and a number of interesting war implements.

Willis F. Sweetnam is one of the rare actors who will tell a story on himself and relish it. This one he never tires of—it happened when he was playing his celebrated part in "Excuse Me."

"I listen, sometimes, when I have supposed around me a couple whose talk was very nice. He was playing 'Over Night.' He told her it was the funniest farce he had ever seen. I listened attentively. I thought that 'Excuse Me' would be mentioned so I listened. And presently I was recalled. Said he to me, 'But have you seen Sweetnam in 'Excuse Me?'"

"I have," said he, "and compared to 'Over Night.' It's a tragedy!"

Canadian Manager in New York

D. Cooper of Toronto, manager of George Kline's Canadian interests was a visitor in New York last week. In response to an inquiry, "Canada is neither a victor nor a vanquished nation," he said, "I am in the middle, in the parlance of Missouri, and the picture business is exceptionally good. If you could see the number of big, new houses going up in New York, you would not think the War God such a demon commerce destroyer as he is generally supposed to be. Now and then a very little while a Highlander life and drum corps goes gaily by in search of recruits. But these are the only real evidences of the war unless you count a few theatres in the poorer section of the city which have reduced admission prices from ten to five cents.

"Intelligent exhibitors are making money just as usual. I am looking for a sane and normal increase in all lines of business. The Canadian giant was a bit dashed by the first blow of the war, but he's on his feet now and coming back with all his native strength and youth."

Blanche Walsh, widely known actress, who died recently in a Cleveland hospital, had been taken there two weeks previous for an illness which required an operation. Miss Walsh's refusal to disappoint an audience caused a relapse from which she died. After she went under the knife she insisted on keeping an engagement at Youngstown, O., where she collapsed. In private life she was Mrs. William H. Travers.

Miss Walsh has been appearing in short dramatic sketches in vaudeville entertainments in the last few years, her most famous efforts being "The Woman in the Case," "The Resurrection," and "The Spoils of War," her vehicle of the present season. She had always been an eager, enthusiastic worker, keen at rehearsals and during the season, and it is this that caused her illness.

Miss Walsh had a summer home at Shoreham, L. I., and it was her custom to run into New York during the rehearsal period last summer, sometimes twice a day. This exertion, coupled with the hard study and uncertain hours of her calling, broke down her constitution and nullified her powers of resistance.

She was born in New York, her father the widely known politician of the old 8th Ward, and for a long time warden of the Tombs. The actress spent most of her childhood days in the neighborhood of the old gray pile, where she was a great favorite with the prisoners.

While still a very young girl she became noted as an elocutionist, and finally, in 1896, made her debut on the stage in the Windsor Theatre in Boston.

After September, 1908, she was featured in a four-act play by Jules Eckert Goodman, called "The Veil."

Previous to that Clyde Hitch had written a "society melodrama" for Miss Walsh. She had also appeared in a wide range of Shakespearean plays.

On Nov. 15, 1909, Miss Walsh married W. M. Travers in New Orleans. Followers of the "movie" in St. John should be flattered in the knowledge that this week they were "quite" with New York in one respect at least. The New York Herald of Tuesday had a new article telling of "crowds extending for two blocks being placed in line along the sidewalks by policemen for the purpose of seeing Gertrude Lawrence at the Strand, in 'Carnegie.' This was on the same night that the first showing of the picture was made at the Imperial here, proving that occasionally St. John people have the opportunity of being "first-nighters" and incidentally it might be added that from the favorable comment which they enjoyed the production whether they were a "premiere audience" or not.

MOVIES INSTEAD OF HAVING SERMON

Belfast, Me., Churches to Try New Plan For Sunday Night Service

Belfast, Me., Nov. 6.—On Sunday evening, Nov. 14, a service will be conducted in the Baptist church by Rev. Harnden S. Ford, Rev. Arthur A. Blair and Rev. Arthur F. Wilson. In place of a sermon a religious film of several reels will be used. There will be appropriate music, the singing of old familiar hymns, and an introductory service of religious nature. The ministers are acting as individuals, and have not committed their churches to any plan.

Mr. Ford of the Congregational church, on being asked about the matter, said that he had realized and the other ministers had realized for many months that the churches were not reaching the class of people in any way, that needed to be reached, and that the ministers who had regular Sunday evening services had decided, with the consent of the other ministers who have regular Sunday evening services, to go ahead with this somewhat unusual programme of taking a theatre for the Sunday evening service, and in using motion pictures to present some great moral thoughts.

This is the first time, so far as the ministers here know, that this matter of taking moving pictures for Sunday night services has been attempted in this state. At first it will be experimental, but if results are satisfactory they will be continued throughout the winter.

A French singer recently attended a reception at the home of a woman noted for her parsimoniousness. The hostess tried to converse with the Frenchman in his native tongue. He noticed that her lack of fluency was embarrassing her, and with commendable politeness, exclaimed:

"Pardon, madam! somewhat the French is difficult for you, but I am able to understand your meanness if you will the English speak."

PUT PENALTY ON MARRIAGE

Defiant Woman Left Income to Daughters Who Stay Single Unless All Wed Before 1935

Dedham, Nov. 6.—The will of Mrs. Eldora Olive Orag of Brookline was allowed in the Norfolk Probate Court. The estate, which consists of $41,000 is to be held in trust for the benefit of her three daughters, Elizabeth F., Marion F. and Florence A., providing they remain unmarried until 1935, or all marry before that time. In case one or two of them marry the income shall go to those who remain single. In 1935 the trustees are to take any portion they see fit and divide it between Elizabeth and Florence. The remainder of the fund they are to keep invested for the benefit of Marion until she reaches the age of 60 years when she is to receive the principal. Mrs. Orag's household and personal effects are left to her husband.

A Perfectly Good Husband. Two small boys belonging to the divorce colony in Reno, Nevada, met on the street one day. Billy's ma, a divorcee had just married the ex-husband of another divorcee. "So you've got a new papa, Billy," remarked Harry. "Yes," rejoined Billy, "Mama found a perfectly good husband that some other lady threw away."

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS OF WEEK IN ST. JOHN

Of more importance than social affairs the purchasing and packing of Christmas gifts for the men at the front occupied the attention of society women this week. Every spare moment was given to this labor of love and the result was that hundreds of beautifully decorated packages were forwarded to relatives no matter in what strange country they happened to be at the time. It has been stated recently that after Montreal—the women of St. John have contributed more freely to the different patriotic needs than any other city in Canada. This may well be true for the reason that women in our city are working untiringly and in great numbers and are splendidly organized. For weeks mothers and wives have been knitting socks and wristlets, making plum puddings and frosting cakes and laying aside all kinds of luxuries, so that when the box was ready it would go filled to the brim with everything that might brighten "that days of days" in the trenches. Surely when that soldier breaks the Christmas seals on the ribboned treasures, his thoughts will turn homeward and he will know that Canadian hearts are there, anxiously waiting for the hour when triumphant he shall return from the field of battle.

The Halloween party given by Mrs. Fred Macmillan, Mrs. J. Fenwick Pears and Mrs. Alexander Wilson at Mrs. MacNeill's residence in Germain street last Friday evening was a brilliant success. The decorations were most effective. Pumpkins, black cats and witches greeted the eye at every turn, in the hall and drawing room and even up stairs where real fortunes were told by veritable witches, live black cats guarded the entrances to the enchanted dell. White robed gnomes opened noiselessly the big front door and no sooner did the ordinary mortal step inside than a witch took your money. Others sold apples, evidently from the garden of Eden, as knowledge of good and evil was buried within the core. Like the scene from Macbeth, were three witches spelling out incantations from all who went by, besides which, a candy table with more uncanny spirits dealt out sweets to the sweet. Very delicious refreshments were served and an interesting musical programme was enjoyed. The treat of the evening, however, was a short address from Mr. Chambers, the returned soldier, who, blinded in battle, had his sight restored when plunged into the ocean at the time that the Hesperian was torpedoed. About 2000 was secured by the three ladies who so capably conducted the sale and tea. The proceeds which were passed to the Royal Standard Chapter I. O. O. E. will go to the patriotic work of the association.

On Monday at the Green Lantern, Mrs. Alexander Fowler entertained at tea for Mrs. Louis Barker, of Montreal, returned home on Monday. While in Quebec in company with her son, J. D. Barker, she was present at the review of the 8th Battalion. Before leaving for home Mrs. Barker was a guest at a dinner given at the Chateau Frontenac by Colonel Hugh H. McLean. The table was exquisitely decorated with yellow carythanthemum and maiden fern and very handsome silver candelabra were at both ends of the dinner table. Other guests were Hon. J. Douglas Hasen and Mrs. Hasen, Colonel R. H. White and Mrs. White, Mrs. Webb, wife of Colonel Webb, Miss Fairchild, Colonel Sages, Mr. Wickenden, R. A.

Friends of the family in St. John have received cards from Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Cornwall, announcing the marriage of Mary E. B. Cornwall to Dr. Chester F. Brown, on Tuesday, October 19, 1915, at St. Mary's church, Methuen, N.S. The bride, who was before her marriage Miss May Cornwall, resided with her mother, Mrs. I. B. Cornwall, in St. John where she has hosts of friends who extend to her their heartiest felicitations upon the happy event.

The annual meeting of the Eclectic Club was held on Thursday of last week at the residence of Mrs. J. V. Ellis, Princess street. The programme for the evening was under the supervision of Mrs. Harold Lawrence and the subject chosen was "Doctors in Fiction." Archdeacon Raymond was elected president for the ensuing year and Mrs. Helen Vroom re-elected secretary.

Mrs. Thomas H. Bullock returned home from Toronto on Friday, Miss Audrey Bullock left on Thursday to fill the position of dietitian in the DeCatur Hospital, at Decatur, Illinois.

On Monday, Mrs. William Jarvis entertained Professor Falconer, of Toronto, at luncheon at his residence, Princess street. Other guests were Mrs. J. Morris Robinson, Miss Dolly Digby, Miss Mary Donville.

A meeting of the Loyalist Chapter took place at the Green Lantern on Tuesday evening. Tea was served at the conclusion of the business meeting. The hostesses were Mrs. Pollard Lewis, Mrs. Eber H. Turnbull, Mrs. Homer Forbes, Mrs. Harrison, Miss Lily Raymond. Loyalist chapter received donations for lone soldiers' boxes, to supply 304 soldiers. The packages done up in khaki handkerchiefs contained all sorts of comforts and luxuries.

Ladies' Association, Mrs. John A. McAvity presented to Mrs. Mathew, who had been president of the association for many years, an address accompanied by a purse of gold. In bidding Mrs. Mathew farewell, Mrs. McAvity paid a graceful tribute to the splendid work accomplished for the society since Mrs. Mathew became its leader. She also spoke of the scientific work of Dr. Matthews, expressing the pride felt by the citizens of St. John in having so learned a gentleman in their midst. Dr. and Mrs. Mathew responded to the address in very touching words, expressing Mrs. Mathew's appreciation of the gift and also wishing the society success in all its undertakings. A very delightful musical programme was enjoyed during which Mrs. Cesar A. Baranco, Cuban composer, played a piano solo charmingly. Refreshments were served, Mrs. Charles Macdonald acting as convener of the refreshment committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Rive and Miss Alcock are guests at the Prince William apartments. Mr. Rive, who is building a fine residence in the building that his house will not be ready for occupancy until Christmas, has decided to remain in St. John until then.

Mrs. Freeman Lake arrived in St. John from Sackville on Thursday and is the guest of Mrs. H. B. Robinson, Hagen street. Little Miss Freeman Lake is the guest of Mrs. Robert Crookshank.

Mrs. S. D. Scott, a former St. John lady now residing in the west, wife of Mr. S. D. Scott, of the Vancouver News-Advertiser, is at present the guest of Sir George Foster and Lady Foster, in Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Atherton Smith have closed their cottage at St. Andrews and are now at their residence in Carleton street for the winter months.

The tea held on Wednesday afternoon in Stone church school room, under the auspices of the Soldiers' Wives' League at which the mothers and wives of the men at the front were guests of honor, proved a brilliant success. Also it was an inspiring sight. In the centre of the long hall, reaching from end to end, was a beautifully appointed table loaded down with all sorts of dainty confections and handsomely decorated with large bouquets of red, white and blue flowers. Red shaded candles in huge silver candelabra gave out a soft and pretty light. Seated on each side of long tables were the guests, and on the platform backed by the Union Jack were seated the president of the league, Mrs. George F. Smith; Rev. Victor Jarvis, rector of the church; Mr. Alfred Short and Lady Tilly. Small flags ornamented the hall, which when filled with the members of the Soldiers' Wives' League and their honored guests, presented a picture that will long be remembered. Patriotic speeches were made by Mrs. George F. Smith, Mrs. Alfred Morrissey, Mr. Jarvis and Lady Tilly. A fine musical programme was rendered by Mrs. Walter Harrison, Mrs.

F. Godsoe, Miss Frances Travers and Mr. Short. The ladies who dispensed the tea, coffee and ices were Mrs. John Keeffe, Mrs. W. H. Purdy, Mrs. P. R. Inches, Mrs. J. Hunter White, Mrs. George F. Smith and Mrs. Walter W. White were convener of the entertainment committee.

Mrs. Busby, who has been visiting relatives in Bangor, returned home this week.

Mrs. Eber H. Turnbull, who spent the last two weeks in Fredericton with her aunt, Mrs. Ketchum, has returned home.

Mrs. Royden Thomson and children arrived in St. John last week-end but left again on Monday for Toronto to bid farewell to her two brothers who were leaving for the front. Mrs. Thomson expects to return to Rothesay, where she expects to spend Christmas with Mrs. John H. Thomson.

The trophy exhibition, under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club, last week, was most interesting and was attended by a very large number of the citizens, all anxious to see the instruments of warfare used by ourselves and our enemies in present and past conflicts.

Mrs. Osborne, of London, England, who as Miss Kelly visited St. John in former years, is a guest at the Prince William apartments.

The Countess of Ashburnham was in the city this week from Fredericton, to attend the conference of King's Daughters.

Mrs. Henry McCollough, of Halifax, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Maher, Douglas avenue.

The beautiful mezzo tones of Madame Kathleen Furlong Schmidt's voice were heard to perfection this week at one of the theatres when she sang Tommy Atkins and the Marseillaise. Both patriotic numbers were received with enthusiastic applause.

Mrs. Hubbard, of Ormondo, is the guest of Mrs. John McMillan, Germain street.

Mrs. P. R. Warren, of East St. John, was appointed organizer of the Soldiers' Comfort Association for the entire branch at a meeting of the order on Wednesday, over which, in the absence of the president, Mrs. George McAvity, Mrs. Harrison McKeown presided. A letter commending the excellent work of the St. John association from Mr. Colmar, of the War Contingent Association in England, was read.

At the final session of the National Council meetings in Toronto, at which Mrs. T. H. Bullock, president of the St. John Women's Council, was in attendance, it was decided to hold a National Council day throughout the dominion, Queen Mary's birthday, May 26, being the day chosen. Mrs. Harold Lawrence, St. John, was made convener of the committee on conservation of natural resources.

Mr. John Black, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at St. Stephen, is the guest of Judge Grimmer, Germain street east.

Mrs. E. J. Murphy, Halifax, is the guest of Mrs. Harry McCollough, King street east.

Miss Dorothy Hendricks of Hampton, has returned home after visiting Mrs. John Robertson, Crown street.

On Wednesday in the DeMonts rooms in the Bank of British North America building, a meeting of DeMonts Chapter was held, the regent, Mrs. Arthur W. Adams, in the chair. The treasurer, Miss Sidney Smith, reported that the sum raised at the recent bridge held at the Manor House amounted to $210. Out of this sum very generous contributions were made to Rev. Mr. Kuhring.

The entertainment given at West St.

John on Wednesday for about 130 of the soldiers stationed at Partridge Island was a very enjoyable function. The Carleton drill hall, where the soldiers were entertained, was elaborately decorated with bunting. Capt. and Mrs. Mulahy, Mr. Mooney, Mrs. Arnold Matkinson, Mrs. F. A. Lilley and Mrs. Horace Peters were in charge of the arrangements, which were carried out most successfully.

The paper read by Mrs. F. B. Ellis on Thursday afternoon in the Natural History Society rooms, on "Music of Shakespeare," was appreciated by a large audience. Music was rendered by Mrs. Grey, Mrs. E. B. McLaughlin, Mrs. D. H. Hall and Mr. William P. Godsoe.

Mrs. Alfred Porter is expected in the city today to visit her son, Mr. Horace Porter and Mrs. Porter.

The monthly meeting of St. Monica's Catholic Ladies Benefit Society was held in the Knights of Columbus hall, Monday afternoon. The president, Mrs. James Dever, was in the chair. Among other business transacted was notice of a resolution of sympathy which the society had forwarded to Mrs. Cotter, mother of the gallant soldier who had given his life for his king and country. Mrs. Cotter was a member of the society. The members stood during the time the resolution was spoken of, out of respect to Sgt. Cotter's memory.

All his friends regret to hear of Mr. William Downie's illness, and hope that he will make a speedy recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Downie are at present residents of Whitty (Ont.).

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Baltimore, Md.—"I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me."

I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain and felt like another person, and it has now been six months since I took any medicine at all.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

Nasal and Throat CATARRH

Every fourth person you meet has catarrh. It begins with running at the nose, the result of catching cold. If neglected it soon becomes chronic. Then it passes to the throat, the stomach, the bowels. It causes asthma, deafness, huskiness, hoarseness; it sets up dyspepsia and bowel troubles—there is no end to the dangers of catarrh.

Veno's won the Grand Prix and Gold Medal, International Health Exhibition, Paris, 1910. You can cure a cold in the head in one night with Veno's Lightning Cough Cure; you can cure catarrh with it. For old-standing chronic catarrh use Veno's Nasal Tablets along with Veno's Lightning Cough Cure. These two in combination work miracles. Thousands have proved it. This British remedy has the largest sale in the world because it is the surest remedy in the world for—

Coughs and Colds, Different Breathing, Bronchial Troubles, Prone, Nasal Catarrh, Whooping Cough, Blood Spitting, Asthma, Hoarseness.

APPLES FOR OUR WOUNDED

An Appeal from Lady Osler Commended by Rev. Mr. Sherman.

18 Norham Gardens, Oxford, October 18. Dear Mr. Sherman. I am writing on behalf of our 1,500 wounded soldiers in Oxford. Many Canadians come in among the convoys from time to time. They all long for fruit and particularly like apples. I am sure my appeal will be particularly appreciated by you, who know how little fruit we get in Oxford market, and how dear it is. This year the apple crop is a failure and we badly need apples from Canada. I thought a fund might be raised and barrels of apples forwarded directly to me, marked for Red Cross Hospitals. The steamship people transport them free, and I will pay freight from Liverpool. Last year I was known as the "Canadian Apple Lady" in the wards, and I hope to keep my reputation. Please help me. Halifax and Montreal friends have agreed to do the same. I shall be most grateful.

Yours, etc., CLAUDE R. OSLER. REV. MR. SHERMAN'S COMMENT. To the Editor of The Telegraph. Sir—Of the making of appeals these days there seems to be no end; and I would esteem it a favor if you could find room for the above in your issue of tomorrow.

It comes from Lady Osler, wife of Sir William Osler, Bart., regius professor of medicine in the University of Oxford. Oxford, by reason of its profusion of large buildings, is one of the large hospital centres for the south of England, and the city of colleges has practically become the city of the wounded.

I am a firm believer in the concentration of funds at this present time; yet I feel that because of its particular nature there may be room for this appeal to slip in as well.

If, by any chance, newspapers throughout the province could find room in their issues for this appeal, they would be helping very materially what I am convinced is a worthy cause.

I am sure there will be no difficulty in securing free storage in St. John for any barrels of apples that may be sent in, until shipment can be made by the first boat that leaves this port for Liverpool later in the month.

Anyone who cares might communicate with me. Thanking you, Sir, I have the honor to be,

Faithfully yours, L. RALPH SHERMAN, 141 Princess Street, St. John, Nov. 5.

ALLEGED PICKPOCKET HAS BANK DEPOSITS OF $2860

New York, Nov. 5.—A woman who said she is Mrs. Kate Sherman, aged 28, of Scranton, Pa., was locked up in police headquarters at Newark, N. J., charged with shoplifting. She was arrested in a department store.

The woman had two bankbooks showing deposits of $2,860 in Newark and Scranton banks. She had also $50 in cash in one of the books. In her pockets were found two or three small rolls of $1 and $2 bills. The police found the return half of an excursion ticket bought in Scranton on Oct. 28.

The woman is well dressed. She refuses to say anything about herself.

Removing The Great Dread. Anxiety for the future is the greatest source of worry, and naturally so. Few men are able to save much, and they are not aware of any way of investing small amounts to advantage. To meet this very difficulty the Canada Life Monthly Pension Policy was devised, and it serves its purpose perfectly. For a moderate annual payment the annuitant secures a guaranteed income commencing at age 65 and continuing monthly throughout his life, and for not less than 10 years in any event. Should he die before reaching 65 his estate will at once commence to receive the payments, which are guaranteed for 120 months. Arrangement can be made, too, to continue the monthly payments to his wife or child for life, should either survive him. A still further advantage is that the contract abides in the substantial words of the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY. ESTABLISHED 1847. J. M. QUEEN, Manager for New Brunswick, St. John.

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

VLADIVOSTOK HAS SENT MANY TO WAR. Vladivostok, Oct. 10.—(Correspondence)—Before the great European war began, Vladivostok had more than 100,000 inhabitants. Today its population is less than 75,000, so heavy have been the calls of the Russian army upon the men of Eastern Siberia. The latest summons will take 10,000 from Vladivostok alone. Many of the men called to the colors are badly needed in Vladivostok to handle the war supplies which are piling up the port, but the call of the army is unqualified. Normally there are exceptions from service, as in the case of an only son; but now all males in Siberia are subject to call. More than 100 were taken by this latest call from a single firm in Vladivostok. Many of the American concerns with offices here have lost virtually their entire Russian office forces. Women are being trained for such positions as they are fitted, preference being given to wives of men called to the front. Koreans and Chinese are coming into Vladivostok to replace native dock laborers, but they are so unskilled their use is unadvisable as to the effect the removal of the better trained Russians will have on the handling of war supplies.

All Young Men in Siberia May Go. The Russian government has expended great sums of money in encouraging emigration and invites to take the cream of the colony's manhood to the battle line. In the face of urgent need, however, the railroad guard numbering more than 150,000 was called immediately after the regular army forces were sent back to Russia. Then in rapid succession three calls were made, and it is reported another is soon to come which will claim all men in Siberia to 45. Every night a troop train starts for the west. Hours before train time the relatives and friends of departing reservists begin to gather at the Trans-Siberian Railway station, which lies along the water front in the very heart of the city. Few of the new soldiers have uniforms. They carry rolls of bedding, boxes and carpet bags.

For many days it has been raining but frequently mothers with young babies sit or stand in the rain, weeping as they wait for the train which is about to carry their husbands away.

Canadians Have Reason to be Very Proud of "CeeTee Underclothing". "CEETEE" UNDERCLOTHING ALL PURE WOOL - GUARANTEED UNSHRINKABLE MEANS ECONOMY PLUS COMFORT. NOT only is it manufactured by a firm who established themselves in Canada over 56 years ago—but a firm who have succeeded in producing woolen underclothing (CEETEE) that is not surpassed anywhere in the world—not even in the Old Country—so famous for the high quality of its woolen goods. When the British Government came to Canada looking for army underwear, ours was the only firm in Canada that had the necessary machines to produce the garments according to the samples which they brought with them. Therefore, they were compelled to change their specifications so that other knitting companies could be given some work immediately. "CEETEE" Underclothing is all made on these special machines, from only the finest Australian merino wool obtainable. This wool is combed and combed until every possible particle of foreign matter is taken out, and it is washed until it is as clean as human ingenuity can make it. The yarn is then knitted to fit the human form. This is why it sets so neatly over the body, making the outer clothing fit as perfectly as possible. Worn by the Best People—Sold by the Best Dealers. In All Sizes, for Men, Women and Children. Made in Canada from all British Material by The C. Turnbull Co. of Galt, Limited Galt, Ontario. LOOK FOR THE SHEEP ON EVERY GARMENT. ANCIENT AND MODERN GREECE

Her Claims Upon Civilized Mankind

HISTORY A VARIED ONE

Language Reverting to Original Form and Modern Literature Developing—Her Final Opportunity Now Before Her

(Toronto Mail and Empire)

Less than a hundred years ago Macaulay in one of his brilliant essays in the Edinburgh Review, "Mittford's History of Greece," sketched with double perspective the existing condition of that country and her continued claims, by reason of her ancient heritage, upon the sympathies of civilized mankind. Her freedom and her power have for more than twenty centuries been annihilated; her people have degenerated into timid slaves; her language into a barbarous jargon; her temples have been given up to the successive depredations of Romans, Turks and Sootchmen, but her intellectual empire is imperishable. . . .

USE OF SEARCHLIGHT IN WARFARE GROWING

Now Playing New and Important Fighting

The searchlight is playing a new and very important part in warfare. It is no longer employed merely for defensive purposes, as, for instance, to detect the presence or approach of an enemy, but for offensive also, and thus need it must be swiftly mobile. Searchlights of this character will in future be essential to the proper field equipment of an army. In fact they are so already. The combatants in the great European struggle are utilizing them in large numbers, mounted on automobiles. They are electric searchlights, their reflectors sometimes of polished metal, but usually of mirror glass. In some cases the mirrors are nearly three feet in diameter; more commonly not over two feet. The electricity for the light is generated by the same engine that runs the automobile. So much of the fighting is now being done at night that resort is had to various ingenious means for illuminating the battle zone, the object usually in view being to throw a brilliant light upon the enemy. A number of different pyrotechnic contrivances are used for these and similar purposes, but searchlights of the kind described are most important. One of their most valuable employments is to dazzle and blind the eyes of infantry advancing to attack. Such auto searchlights are also useful for lighting up the enemy's defensive works while an artillery attack is being directed against the latter in the night-time. Or if in the darkness an infantry assault upon the foe is undertaken it is very helpful to illuminate the terrain over which the men are advancing when they have reached his works, so as to disclose to their view the various mine traps and ditches containing submerged barb wire, by which trenches are defended.

GUY FAWKES DAY. The anniversary of Guy Fawkes day, Nov. 5, was celebrated last night by Dominion L. O. L. 144, in the hall, St. James street. The function was very largely attended, representatives from other lodges being among those present. Grand Master C. B. Ward occupied the chair, and during the evening appropriate addresses were delivered by: B. M. Baxter, Past Grand Master Hipwell, Commissioner Potts, A. E. McKinley and N. J. Morrison, grand secretary. A brief entertainment was carried out and refreshments were served. The programme included, God Save the King; Hassen Taylor, patriotic reading; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Taylor, musical selections.

one acquainted with Ancient Greek. She has also a growing and vigorous native literature, and her poets, historians and novelists have won the applause of competent critics throughout Europe and America. Macaulay's guest at the mansion in which some choicest remains of Ancient Greek architecture and art were lost in the Aegean and others sold by Lord Elgin in 1816 to the British Museum, where they are now seen almost every day to the delight of thousands, may be forgotten; for unless this had happened to them they would by the Turks, following their general practice, long ago have been converted into lime to plaster a hotel or a cowshed. Greece Wins Independence. The history of Modern Greece may be said to have begun in 1770, when attempts were made to throw off the Turkish yoke imposed upon it in 1460, when the country was annexed to the Turkish Empire by Mohammed II. The war of Independence began April, 1821, and was practically ended by the Battle of Navarino, Oct. 20, 1827, when the Turkish and Egyptian fleet was destroyed by Great Britain, France and Russia. On May 7, 1830, Greece was declared an independent kingdom under British, French and Russian protection. Greece's Opportunity. While then the co-operation of Italy with Great Britain, France and Russia was warmly welcomed, not only for the material strength she brought in defence of the liberties of Europe against German aggression and domination, and of the integrity of the smaller states, but as an attempt to discharge a long-standing debt of gratitude, it is easy to understand the profound disgust and distrust which the halting attitude of Greece under precisely similar conditions has inspired throughout the Allied countries. Perhaps it is not yet too late to hope that Greece of her own free will may once make the cause of liberty and freedom her own, and escape the deep damnation that is sure to come upon her in case of national ingratitude. Do not the voices of the dead, and of the living sons of freedom at this hour call upon Venizelos to leap into the breach proclaiming: "A land of slaves shall not be mine. Dash down you cup of Samian wine!" G. H. R.
