FRANCE AND SPAIN AGREE UPON CO-OPERATION PLAN

Canadian Press Despatch. MADRID, July 27.—The Franco-Spanish accord on co-operation in Morocco was signed last night by the French and Spanish delegates to the conference which has been discussing this subject for several weeks.

The final deliberations dealt with two main points—the limits of the zone of influence of the two nations, and eventually military co-operation should that become necessary.

With respect to military co-operation, it is stated by General Jordana, the Spanish president of the conference, that this should be carried out "in accordance with the principle of the directorate, which will modify the Moroccan plan, but will not adopt it accordingly."

Peace cannot be contracted with the tribesmen by France or Spain separately.

to send into their respective zones, military expeditions against the common enemy and aviation forces will be permitted to fly over the zones without encroachment of the rights of either nation.

CAR TURNS OVER
NEAR MUSQUASH

G. A. Anderson Hurt When Motorbus Skids and Goes Into Ditch

Seven Other Passengers Escape
With Only Slight
Injuries

G. A. Anderson, of Musquash, received injuries and others of the eight passengers were cut and bruised but not seriously hurt when Monahan's motor bus on the Saint John to St. Stephen route skidded in the gravel near Musquash about 25 miles out from Saint John at about 8:30 o'clock on Saturday evening.

Laird Monahan, of St. Stephen, a brother of H. L. Monahan, who operates the bus line, was at the wheel. He said last night that the car, which is a seven-passenger one, skidded in the gravel, hit a rock and went over the embankment, turning completely over so that its wheels were in the air. He thought he had been traveling at about 80 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

FIVE WOMEN IN CAR.

The accident occurred at the foot of Vinegar Hill after the car had made the turn at the foot. The hill is not very steep but is a very long one. Of the eight passengers five were women. The passengers included Miss Amy Sullivan, of St. Stephen, and Miss Olive Henry, of Ottawa, who were going to St. Stephen, and who were taken on to their destination by Mr. Moore, of St. Stephen, who arrived at the scene of the accident most opportunely. The C. W. Connors car, en route for St. George, picked up the passengers for that section and took them safely to their destination.

MANY RUMORS.

There were many exaggerated rumors concerning the seriousness of the mishap and the report was circulated that there had been seven people killed. The facts of the case as far as they could be learned last night were that Mr. Anderson was the chief sufferer and it was feared might have a rib broken. The car was not very badly damaged and was able to get to St. Stephen under its own power, arriving only about two hours late at the destination. The car was in use yesterday.

MOVED BACK 20 FEET.

Mr. Anderson said as the car had skidded off the road it had struck a large rock, which it should have hit for about 20 feet before it overturned. When it came to a standstill it was about 45 yards off the road and had gone six feet down the embankment. The passengers were got out without very much difficulty. One of the women was unconscious and at first it was feared that she had been killed but as it happened one of the passengers was a doctor and he was able to give necessary first aid. The injured woman had nothing more serious than a slight cut on the head and some bruises.

FIRST ACCIDENT.

The driver said last night that he had never had any accident with the bus before. He had been accustomed to make the daily return trip leaving St. Stephen at 8 o'clock, standard time, and arriving in Saint John at 12:30, daylight time. He generally left Saint John at 8 o'clock daylight time and reached St. Stephen in 8:30 standard time. He reckoned it took two and a half hours to get from Saint John to St. George, one hour and ten minutes to make the journey from St. George to St. Andrews and one hour to go from St. Andrews to St. Stephen.

The way of the hardy pioneers of the aerial pathways leading to the North Pole, as they made their journey to the royal palace of King Haakon of Norway to receive their hard-earned decorations, was lined with cheering crowds held back by lines of troops. Gay banners flaunted from towering staffs, and a truly royal reception was given them. Photo shows their carriage on its way to the palace.

No greater reception could have been given Roald Amundsen on his return from his futile effort to fly to the North Pole, had he been successful. The entire population of Oslo, Norway, turned out to do him and his comrades homage. Photo shows him landing on the Bridge of Monarch at Oslo. At the extreme left is Lincoln Ellsworth, American, and next to him is Amundsen.

On his arrival at Oslo, Norway, Amundsen and his heroic companions were informed that King Haakon was awaiting them in the royal palace to decorate them for their intrepid courage. It was with difficulty that they forced their way through the crowds of cheering people. Amundsen is shown carrying a bouquet of flowers, while immediately behind him is the smiling face of Ellsworth.

58 BAPTIZED IN SAINT JOHN RIVER

Immersion at Devon Witnessed by Many Spectators—Faith Healer.

FREDERICTON, July 26.—Fifty-eight were baptized in the Saint John River at the Marysville Road Landing in Devon this afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Elder Jacques, of the Pentecostal connection and was attended by several thousand people who watched from the vantage points of a neighboring lumberyard and other places. Many of those baptized expressed their desire to receive baptism during the services which have been conducted by Mrs. Mattie Crawford, a woman evangelist from the Western States.

MINISTER EXPRESS DOUBT.

Rev. I. A. Corbett, of the George Street Baptist church, today touched again on "Faith healing," to which he had referred a week ago in his sermon. This reference again was to Mattie Crawford, the woman evangelist brought here by the Pentecostal sect for services in the Arctic Rink. He reiterated statements which he made in his previous sermon and said further that Mrs. Crawford had not made good on her advertised claims as a faith healer, and also expressed doubt of her claim to be an ordained Baptist minister.

ARMY CRUSADE ARRIVE.

The Church Army Crusade reached Fredericton Saturday morning on its route march from New York to Saint John. Twelve laymen are in the party. Captain Casey, Hanson, Marshall, Hullstone, Ward (M.M.) Jarvis, Turner, Corkhill, Rogers and Christie and Cadets Humphreys and Eaton. A welcome service was held in Christ-church Cathedral Saturday afternoon and Saturday night the party held an open air service on the steps of the post office, Queen street, which was largely attended. This afternoon service was held in Wilmet Park and tonight on the green on the river bank near the Cathedral. During the day the members of the party took part in services in the Anglican churches of Fredericton and vicinity.

PASTOR TALKS ON ELECTIONS

Rev. A. L. Tedford Declares Issues Confused For Many Electors

Says Conscience Forbids Voting For All on Either Side.

That possibly there was no voter who was not confused as to how he would vote in the present election because all voters felt that there were candidates on both sides for whom they could not conscientiously vote was the statement made by Rev. A. L. Tedford in the course of an outpouring sermon delivered in the Tabernacle Baptist church last night before a large congregation.

Mr. Tedford spoke from the text, "For whether ye eat or drink or whatever ye do, do all to the glory of God." He dwelt upon the principles around which he said the present election campaign was centred, mentioning chiefly prohibition and law enforcement. He discussed the position of each of the candidates in this constituency, analyzing as far as he saw them their personal conceptions of these principles and their ideas regarding their platform.

SHOULD INSIST.

Mr. Tedford held the opinion that the people would not be in the position of being unable to endorse the candidates had the church members insisted on a certain type of man being chosen. Mr. Tedford dealt with two themes, "Why should I vote?" and "How should I vote?" He referred to the reluctance of some people to take any part in political matters and the repugnance of illiterate men and foreigners who had no knowledge or understanding of the ideals for which Canadians stand exercised the franchise, Mr. Tedford said, and the women should much rather make use of this high privilege. The type of government which was found in any country, Mr. Tedford declared to be exactly what the church decreed it to be, and he said that church people had failed to do their duty when the government fell below the ideals of the church. If the church so decided it could see that only those men fitted in the highest degree of character and personality were selected as candidates and elected as members of the Legislature. Governments were an institution under God and the Bible enjoined the people to give heed unto governments, but God meant governments to uphold the cause of all that was right.

CADWELL TAKES HAND IN BATTLES

Farmers and Conservatives Start Brisk Campaign in Carleton County.

WOODSTOCK, July 26.—The election fight in Carleton county begins in earnest tomorrow when the competing parties, the Conservatives and Progressives, inaugurate an intensified campaign of meetings at which will be discussed the issues of the election.

R. W. Caldwell, M. P., Carleton-Victoria, and C. Gordon Sharpe, secretary of the County Progressive organization, are participating in the platform appeal in support of the farmers ticket, teaming with S. J. Burlock, M. L. A., and Fred Smith, M. L. A., respectively.

Rennie Tracey, M. L. A., the other sitting representative on the ticket, has been forced to abandon active participation in the election because of illness. While the Federal member and Mr. Burlock address a meeting at Woodstock tomorrow night, Mr. Smith and Mr. Sharp will appear at a gathering of farmer supporters at Richmond.

FIRST MEETING.

The Conservatives forces held their first meeting tomorrow evening at Kirkland, when the Opposition followers will be addressed by B. Frank Smith, F. C. Squires and E. W. McDeville, the members of the Opposition ticket.

Rumors that a last minute entry of a Government ticket in the Carleton county election battle will be made gain in strength although no authoritative statement of the proposal can be obtained. The names freely mentioned as likely to constitute the Liberal ticket in the event of a three-cornered fight developing are C. J. Jones, Woodstock; Dr. Cummins, Bath; and A. D. McCain, Florenceville.

BRICK INDESTRUCTIBLE.

Because brick are made by fire and not by man, it is the most highly resistant of all the building materials. All that human labor and machinery does is to shape the natural clay into units and fire does the rest. Brick are burned at a temperature of about 2,000 degrees F. for several days. All the time they are burning, although no authoritative statement of the proposal can be obtained. The names freely mentioned as likely to constitute the Liberal ticket in the event of a three-cornered fight developing are C. J. Jones, Woodstock; Dr. Cummins, Bath; and A. D. McCain, Florenceville.

YIELD HUGE TAX.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Fees collected from motor vehicle licenses and permits by various states and the gasoline tax levies amounted to approximately 806 million dollars last year. From 1901, the first year in which any state imposed a license tax on automobiles, to the end of 1924, owners of motor vehicles paid $1,028,806,871 into state treasuries.

WOMEN ARE BARRED.

SIKESTON, Mo., July 27.—While women have taken possession of barber shops almost everywhere, this place has a shop which excludes them. It is owned by a woman and she limits patronage to men only.

How Does This Sound?

All the time people talk to us like this, so when the last flatterer departed the idea came to put it in this space for what it is worth— "Those Glasses are just wonderful. The best thing I ever bought." It is nice to have a calling which serves people this well.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JULY 27, 1925.

ELECTION ISSUES.

Hon. Mr. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, has been attending to some of his political fences in Saskatchewan. He professes not to know whether the federal elections are coming during the fall, the winter, or next spring, but he naturally desires to get the organization machinery into shape in preparation for the fray, as the Conservatives are beginning to do.

What are to be the fighting issues in the next federal election? It is interesting to note the answers given by this minister of the Crown to that question. He says the outstanding issues will be:

- The tariff,
The Hudson Bay Railway,
The Crownland Pass rates agreement,
Immigration policies,
Branch lines,
Amalgamations of the C. P. R. and the C. N. R.,
Home Bank relief,
Unity of the provinces.

Hon. Mr. Meighen would probably agree with Mr. Motherwell in placing the tariff at the head of the list. The national railway problem, it is to be noted, is recognized by Mr. Motherwell as having become so acute as to bring the question of unified control prominently to the fore. Mention of unity of the provinces may be taken as meaning recognition of the fact that there must be an effort to bring about not only a greater measure of inter-provincial trade but a much greater degree of common thought and cooperation between the nine territorial units. There is a growing demand for fair play as between the provinces in the matter of federal policies.

Most of the issues mentioned by the Minister of Agriculture will doubtless figure in the campaign, but it would be unwise to conclude that there will be no others. Sometimes unsuspected issues have a way of forcing themselves to the front when the bugles blow, and it is not to be forgotten that there are three parties, all of which will have something to say in choosing the man upon whom they prefer to challenge public attention.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.

It was very like William Jennings Bryan to die in the blue of the sky. What place history will give him it would be difficult to predict. There has been no conspicuous public figure in his country for a long time concerning whose real stature there would be more dispute, but Mr. Bryan undoubtedly had some elements of greatness, and there is no little significance in the fact that he made so deep an impression upon the Democratic party that he was three times nominated for the presidency, and that on other occasions when he was not himself a candidate he was able to exert a wonderful influence upon the Democratic convention.

For thirty years he appealed very strongly to the national imagination. He created many fierce antagonisms. He had a host of enemies who sought to ridicule him and who thoroughly detested many of his policies and characteristics, yet on the other hand he had a host of devoted friends who regarded him not only with esteem but with affection. Like Henry Clay, who also was nominated three times for the presidency, Bryan was doomed to die, at least as regards his greatest aim, yet in a sense he made success out of failure. Judging from his unfinished term as Secretary of State under Wilson, it may be that his reputation will be greater than if he had realized his ambition and had become President, for there are indications that he lacked the judgment and the breadth which make great presidents.

It is said of him that he awoke one morning to find himself famous. These things are a great measure of truth in that statement. Nationally speaking, he was practically unknown before the Democratic convention of 1896 at Chicago. He had already served a term in Congress, and had made no very great impression there, but he had ambition and a wonderful capacity for work, and the Chicago convention gave him an opportunity. At an hour when that convention was apparently ready to nominate another man, Bryan of Nebraska arose to speak. In addressing free silver he sought to identify himself and the party with the cause of humanity. The enemy was Wall Street. He accused the great captains of industry of being responsible for the industrial depression then afflicting the country. The Republican press characterized the speech as that of a demagogue. At all events it was the speech of an honest man and an eloquent one, delivered with all the passion of intense conviction. He came at last to the words which next day were ringing throughout the country:

"You shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns. You shall not crucify mankind upon this cross of gold."

Before that speech Bryan had been scarcely in the running. After the convention stamped it to him, and he was nominated. The free silver cry and the enthusiasm which Bryan had created scared the conservative forces of the country very badly. Mark Hanna headed a great national committee of business men to organize the McKinley forces, and raised a campaign fund great beyond precedent. McKinley was elected, thanks largely to the perfection of the organization carried on by Hanna. Mr. Bryan, although decidedly beaten, remained the leader of his party and was nominated again in 1900. He stood aside in 1904, when the nomination went to Alton B. Parker, but by 1908 he was influential enough to secure the nomination again, and then encountered his third and greatest defeat, at the hands of Taft.

Bryan was an influential figure at the Baltimore convention which nominated Woodrow Wilson, and Mr. Wilson made him Secretary of State. So long as Wilson maintained his early policy of neutrality he and Mr. Bryan got along amicably, but when the German submarines began to sink merchant shipping without regard to its nationality the President began to send warnings to Berlin. Bryan was apparently unwilling to concur in any action which might lead to war, and bally when Wilson warned the Germans that the sinking of another American vessel would lead to an ultimatum, Bryan resigned. To many, particularly in Allied countries, but in the view of many of his countrymen as well, this is the greatest blot on his career. Once his country did enter the war he gave its cause loyal support. His death came with dramatic suddenness at a time when he was once more much in the public eye because of the trial at Dayton.

A SURVEY OF EUROPE.

Among the distinguished company now assembled at Williamsstown, Mass., where the Institute of Politics is beginning its annual conference, is Major-General Sir Frederick Maurice, with whose name Canadians became familiar during the great war when he held a high post in the British military service. Upon his arrival he was interviewed, and his replies to questions furnish a brief survey of troubled Europe as it stands to-day.

He regards the situation in the Balkans as still acute, and while he does not anticipate war there in the immediate future he describes conditions as such that trouble may arise at any time. He does not share the views of those who expect Bolshevism to secure a grip upon Germany. He says that a crisis is not in any danger of becoming Bolshevistic. The Germans as a people are inclined to distrust Russia as much as they did before the war. As for Russia itself, Sir Frederick says the Soviet army consists of 800,000 men, who are well drilled and disciplined, yet at present Russia is not in a position to undertake great military operations, for while the supply of rifles and machine guns is large, heavy artillery and airplanes are almost entirely lacking. The country has no organized motor transport service, and so has no means of moving its army. This, Sir Frederick says, is fully realized by the Soviet, and he is convinced that for the next few years the Russian leaders will concern themselves with internal affairs.

He confirms the growing impression that the French have a big problem on their hands in Morocco. In his view France is now paying one of the penalties of having trained a large force of Moroccans in its army during the great war. Thousands of those who were thus taught modern warfare are now in arms against the French.

Sentiment among the nativists in favor of disarmament is growing, this observer says, but very slowly. He does not expect that complete disarmament will come, and he is convinced that before European nations will consent to limit their military preparations further they will have to have a much greater security from sudden attack than now exists. The proposed pact between Britain, France, Belgium and Germany, which Lord Beaverbrook has just described as dead, is regarded by Sir Frederick Maurice as likely to prove the greatest step taken since the war toward giving Europe the sense of safety which would make further disarmament possible and so tend toward sustained peace.

The death of G. M. Bosworth, Chairman of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Lines, is not only a great loss to the company but to the Canadian public as well. In a well-deserved tribute President Beatty describes Mr. Bosworth as one of the company's ablest and most experienced executives, who was "without an equal in Canada as a railway traffic officer."

This morning's cablegrams describe the British coal mining outlook as tremely black. While the prime minister is making every effort to prevent a strike, the conference he is holding to-day with a committee of the Trade Union Congress is regarded by no means hopefully.

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer."

Limericks (Brooklyn Eagle) More light is thrown upon the diversified capacities of the Gloomey Dean Inge of St. Paul's, who cabled from London a limerick of his own:

A highbrow who lived in New Haven Read Poe till he croaked like a raven; He cried "Nevermore!" Till they called him a bore, And sent him to Stratford-on-Avon.

Just by way of contrast we are tempted to quote the father and mother of the Limerick family, the Double Limerick made famous by the New York Sun forty years ago, when Dana's spirit dominated that dynamic daily:

There was an old man in Nantucket Who kept all his cash in a bucket; He'd a daughter, named Nan, And away with a man, And, as for the bucket, Nan tuck it.

Paw followed the pair to Pawtucket, After Nan and the man, and the bucket. He said to the man: "I don't care about Nan," But as for the bucket, Paw tuck it.

Has the Limerick been evolving or devolving for the four or five centuries? Let the gentle reader decide for himself. But let him make due allowance for the difference between the gloominess of London daylight and the brightness of the New York Sun.

Standardized Crime. (New York Herald-Tribune.) The robbery of a Harlem jewelry store last week was in method so like a number of crimes of the kind that it awakens the suspicion that one gang is operating in the city and enjoying extraordinary immunity.

This particular raid occurred at 9 o'clock in the morning. Five men walked into the store which had just opened, intimidated the employees with pistols, bound them, collected all the cash in sight and drove away in a motor car. A robbery which was exactly similar, detail for detail, took place in a central Broadway jewelry store about three weeks ago. The administration insists that in no great city is it possible to suppress crime, and that it is nonsense to say that there is more of it in New York than elsewhere. But when places of business in crowded thoroughfares can be entered in broad daylight by gangs of robbers there is need of some protection of the public which the police department appears to be powerless to afford.

Why Politics is Bad For Women. (Joseph Addison in the Spectator, May 5, 1711.) There is one Consideration which would render it necessary to all my Female Readers, and which, I hope, will have some weight with them. It is, that there is nothing so bad for the Face as to be in the way of an ill-natured Caster to the Eye and a disagreeable Sourness to the Look; besides that it makes the Face too strong, and flushes them worse than Brandy. I have seen a Woman's Face here in London, which has been talking against a great Lord, whom she had never seen in her life; and indeed she had never seen him, but she had kept her Beauty for a Twelvemonth. I would therefore advise all my Female Readers, as they value their Complexions, to make no Disputes of this Nature; though, at the same time I would give free Liberty to all superstitious and few Partizans to be as violent as they please, since there will be no danger either of their spoiling, or their Faces of their gaining Complexions.

An Apology. (Boston Post.) The citation of Clarence Darrow, eminent lawyer, by Judge Raulston, little known justice until last week, but of fine repute in his own State, needs surprise nobody. The Chicago attorney surprised all, if any ever did.

Darrow's language to Judge Raulston on one particular day last week was little short of insulting, and such as he would not have ventured to use, we will say, to Judge Cavelly, who presided at the trial of Loeb and Leopold. His attitude was one that clearly expressed contempt, not only legal but personal, as for an assumed smaller intellect. No self-respecting jurist would have dared to resent it as an affront to his position.

Mr. Darrow had a change of heart soon after the arraignment. He neither apologized, nor made any attempt to resent it as an affront to his position. Darrow's language to Judge Raulston met the amends in generous fashion. He ever would have been more severely reasonable than the case warranted.

He Wouldn't Sign. (New York Times.) The serpent of marital unrest has invaded the City of Homes and Churches. At first blush nothing could seem more surely reasonable than the Fourteen Points on which Brooklyn wife proffered an armistice and peace.

1. That the home we may have will be run on the principles of love and gentleness, and in so doing the baby will know only kindness from one parent to another.

2. That this marriage shall be run on a fifty-fifty basis, with neither of us trying to rule the other, but when discussion arises a calm discussion of facts.

3. One point is indeed a pinnacle so lofty and steep so armored in ice, so gilded in winds that sweep among the stars, as to be absolutely an ideal: 10. That we will discuss all discussion of past unpleasantness.

But it is otherwise with the seventh and some subsequent points: 7. That I have your entire confidence in financial matters and access to your bank account. 14. That you will stick always to the truth, and not deny statements you have previously made.

Clearly, there is little hope that concidence may become mutual, financially otherwise. The husband regarded these terms as decidedly not a peace without victory, and he refused to sign on the dotted line.

BURGLAR SUSPECT FINDS HOTELS IN AMERICA WELL IN LEAD

Two Men in Custody in Woodstock For Theft in St. Stephen.

ST. STEPHEN, July 26.—Woodstock jail now holds the two men who are suspected of breaking and entering at St. Stephen on Thursday night. Work about the time of the St. Stephen murder intercepted the pair before, it is believed, they could reach the American border at Houlton.

Harold Bailey and Brown are supposed to be the names of the two men captured. They are said to have been arrested here Saturday as they stepped out from around Fredericton. These two men are said to have arrived here about the time of the St. Stephen murder, and to have been hanging around here since.

SENT GRIPS AHEAD. It was found that on Thursday they sent their grips out on the train addressed to Woodstock and are supposed to have left themselves early next morning.

The police here immediately notified Woodstock and yesterday morning the men were captured. In one of the grips was a revolver, pliers and other hardware goods. These are supposed to have been taken from a hardware store in Calais, Chief of Police Hill went to Woodstock today to bring the prisoners back here for identification and trial if necessary.

MADE ARREST. WOODSTOCK, July 26.—Two young men giving their names as Harold Bailey and Lloyd Brown, were arrested here Saturday as they stepped off the train by Chief of Police Kelly, Sheriff Foster and Deputy Sheriff Moore, on information from the police authorities at St. Stephen, where a few nights ago several business offices were burglarized and two St. Stephen men were held up by a pair of youthful thugs.

CARRIED REVOLVER. When arrested one of the young men was carrying a loaded revolver, while the other concealed a "limmy" in a paper parcel. Following their apprehension it was discovered that the prisoners' baggage consisting of two suit cases, shipped by express from St. Stephen, awaited claimants at the local Dominion Express office. On being searched, six new revolvers, among other things, were discovered. Accompanied by Chief of Police Hill, of St. Stephen, they returned to the border town by automobile today.

SEEKING LEADER

Conservatives in Alberta Are Likely to Name McGillivray, of Calgary.

CALGARY, July 26.—It is stated by leading Conservatives in Calgary that a local barrister, will be the next leader of the Conservative party in Alberta.

J. H. Woods, whose name has been mentioned as a possible leader for the party, stated that he could not consider the leadership. He is joining the Canadian newspapermen's party en route to the Imperial press conference in Australia.

"COMMONER" DIES WHILE IN DAYTON, O.

William Jennings Bryan Passes Away While Asleep

LEADER IN ANTI-EVOLUTION

Famed as Orator — Three Times Nominated for U. S. Presidency.

DAYTON, Tenn., July 26.—William Jennings Bryan was discovered dead in bed here this afternoon by a servant. He had retired to his room in the early afternoon for a nap and was found dead at 4:30 o'clock. Mr. Bryan was born in 1850 and was 65 years of age.

Heart disease was given as the cause of death. Mr. Bryan was in the best of spirits and expressed himself as "feeling fine" when he retired shortly after lunch, about 1:30 o'clock. He had attended services at the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church before lunch and had partaken of a heavy meal before retiring to his room.

PASSES AWAY IN SLEEP.

William Jennings Bryan "died this afternoon in sleep," said a telegram received sent to Ben. G. Davis, former secretary to Mr. Bryan at Washington by Mrs. E. Bryan.

The telegram added that the body would be buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

The Bryans were stopping at the residence of Richard Rogers, and it is understood that no one was at the house at the time of his death but two servants and Mrs. Bryan.

A. B. Andrews, a neighbor, was the first to view the body.

The companion of Mrs. Bryan passed through the room and noticed him breathing heavily and roused the nearest neighbor, A. B. Andrews, who on reaching the scene summoned Doctors W. F. Thompson and A. C. Broyles, who on examination said Mr. Bryan had been dead probably fifteen minutes.

Mrs. Bryan and her companion and the chauffeur were in the house when he died.

WIFE WRITING ON PORCH.

Mrs. Bryan was writing on the porch when her husband passed away. Edgers are being made to locate the son, W. J. Bryan, Jr., who is in California, and a daughter also residing in California.

Mrs. Bryan was preparing to leave Dayton in the next day or so for Idaho, where she expected to spend the summer with her son.

Mr. Bryan was to leave Dayton Tuesday for Knoxville, where he was to deliver two speeches, then go to Nashville for a similar engagement before going to Florida.

He expected to join Mrs. Bryan again in the fall.

PLANNED TO PRINT SPEECH.

Following the sudden collapse of the Scopes evolution trial at Dayton in which he was the leading counsel for the prosecution, Mr. Bryan turned his attention to preparing for the printing of his speech, which he was allowed to make at the trial. He came to Chattanooga Friday and spent the entire day going over the speech with a local printing firm and left here Saturday morning for Jasper and Winchester, where he had an address.

APPEARED IN GOOD HEALTH.

While here Mr. Bryan stated that his speech would be ready for distribution to the press by tomorrow and would be released by next Sunday. He appeared in the best of health and stated that he was ready to carry his campaign in behalf of the Scopes bill to the people of the country.

He had made engagements to speak in Chattanooga, Knoxville, Nashville and Hartsville, Tennessee, on evolution.

Virtually dominant in the Democratic Party for nearly sixteen years, William J. Bryan was three times nominated and defeated for the Presidency. Then, like Elijah of old, he cast his mantle upon the Elisha of Princeton and about Woodrow Wilson's first nomination for the office to which he, himself, had vainly aspired.

Known in his youth as "the silver-tongued boy orator of the Platts," it was Mr. Bryan's eloquence in his famous "cross of gold" speech at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago in 1896 that made him the choice of his party. He polled more than 6,000,000 votes in his first campaign.

RUSSIANS GIVE GOLD TO IRISH FAMILIES

$2,500 Handed Over as Present From Peasants to Assist Erin's Poor.

DUBLIN, July 27.—Russian gold has arrived in Ireland for the relief of the impoverished peasants of Western Ireland.

George Lansbury, a labor member of the British House of Commons, and Mrs. Helen Crawford, secretary of the Workers' International Relief Association, handed representatives of the Irish section of the organization $2,500, Sunday as a gift from Russian peasants to Irish peasants.

Excessive rainfall and crop failures have caused great suffering in Western Ireland, for several years. Last winter George MacDonagh, British United Press correspondent in Dublin, revealed the extent of suffering in Western Ireland. Subsequently the situation was somewhat alleviated.

FALSE ALARM.

Saturday night at 10:40 o'clock some person saw smoke coming from the house of Miss Corkery, 82 Main street, and thinking that the building was on fire, sent in alarm from Box 122.

The firemen responded quickly only to learn that the smoke was from a stove and the call was needless.

FUTILE LOVE TRAGEDY.

BUDAPEST, July 26.—Julia Bocsa, a servant girl, committed suicide when she realized the futility of her love for the American film star, Rudolph Valentino, whom she knew only from having seen him in the film, according to her friends. Since she first saw Valentino she had gone to see every picture in which he played.

"DARBY AND JOAN"

Chief Far Away Cough and his friend, Mrs. Mud Head, of the Black-foot Indians, attended the McLeod Indiana Day Celebration and recognized in each other old school mates. They were both well into their teens before the even tenor of their lives was disturbed by the intrusion of the white man. Far Away Cough saw his first white face at the age of 14, and they were both nearing their prime when the Palefaces were settling in their midst and they were already old before the first Canadian Pacific train passed over their beloved prairie. Their lives are wrapped up in the history of Western Canada, and if they had literary inclinations they could write a history of their country with far greater claim to authority than any white historian who has told of the evolution of the West from second hand information. Far Away Cough is 103 years old and Mrs. Mud Head is 95.

Loan Success Means Tough Task For Dow

British-United Press.

NEW YORK, July 25.—D. M. Dow is Secretary of the Australian Commission which recently successfully completed arrangements for floating a $75,000,000 loan in the United States. The cheerfulness over the success, however, has suddenly left Dow. His job now is to sign the bonds and they are all in $500 and $1,000 denominations.

By means of a signograph, it is possible for him to sign twenty bonds at a time. Even so he has figured that to sign them all will require a minimum of three days' time, if he applies himself to it each day.

Hatchery Will Be Built On Headwaters of Miramichi; Caldwell Had Urged Plant

FLORENCEVILLE, July 26.—T. W. Caldwell, M.P., for Carleton-Victoria, who has been urging the Department of Marine and Fisheries to construct an up-to-date fish hatchery on the headwaters of the Miramichi, has received the following letter from the Minister of the department:

Ottawa, July 17.

Dear Mr. Caldwell—

After careful consideration of the whole situation and the requirements in the way of salmon and trout fry on the central part of New Brunswick, and in view of your urgent representations, I have decided to authorize the construction of an up-to-date salmon and trout hatchery in that district, located at a point where it will best cover the numerous waters in conjunction with the existing main hatcheries at Grand Falls and Saint John, and the subsidiary hatchery on Tobique River.

Plans and specifications are now being prepared and construction will be undertaken as soon as the necessary preliminary arrangements have been completed for a hatchery of upwards of three million egg capacity.

Yours very truly,

J. P. ARTHUR CARDIN, Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Mr. Caldwell has been strongly supported in this undertaking by the Carleton County Fish and Game Protective Association.

Mr. Caldwell also has a promise from the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa, that he will provide additional space to the Government frost-proof potato warehouse at West Saint John, for the coming winter.

SCOUT LEADERS BACK FROM CAMP

Gilwell Course at Keswick Is Brought to Successful Close

People from Various Parts of the Province Enjoy Ten-Day Outing.

The provincial Scout leaders' Gilwell Camp at Keswick was conducted from July 14 to 24 with 15 leaders taking the course. The Saint John contingent returned to the city Saturday. Directors and leaders alike declared the camp an unqualified success.

P. E. L. Coombs, of the Scout headquarters staff at Ottawa, was scoutmaster. Harry Lister, field secretary of the Scouts was quarter-master and the assistants were Roy A. K. MacRae and John J. Cain, of Fredericton, and Harry Frampton and William L. Dickson, of Moncton. Three Scouts from Fredericton, Howard Douglas, Edward Gregg and Earl Palmer, acted as the headquarters staff.

When the Gilwell camp closed preparations were at once underway for the Fredericton district Scout camp which will be held on the same site and will open today.

PRACTICAL WORK

Among the practical stunts carried out was the first class journey-hike which covered a distance of 20 miles and occupied 24 hours. With the absolute minimum of kit the campers set out for their hike, spending the night in the open without tents and making their few pieces of equipment serve their needs. They displayed much ingenuity and resourcefulness. In the camp routine the leaders also showed a special aptitude in making "gadgets," which are useful things made from the materials at hand. These gadgets were most remarkable and novel and were much admired. The nightly council fires were made particularly enjoyable by the musical ability of some of the party. For instrumental music the camp could provide a violin, a banjo, a guitar and two members skilled players of mouth organs.

MAILED OLD LETTER

In Mistake For New

NEW YORK, July 27.—A glaring example of the work which the carelessness of the public files on the Post Office Department as an added burden has just come to light through the adventure of a Rev. Robert many years old in a mail journey between East Orange, N. J., and St. Augustine, Fla., and back again.

This is not one of those incidents on which critics of the post office can pounce with glee as exhibiting inefficiency, as is so often the case when a missive hoary with age reaches its intended destination after lying dormant in the Dead Letter Office, or having traveled about the country from pillar to post. The document in question was mailed once, nearly three-quarters of a century ago reached the addressee and was preserved. The present possessor dropped it by mistake into an East Orange letter box with other mail. The post office, unaware of its history and not noticing that it bore a three-cent stamp of extinct vintage, forwarded the letter to the St. Augustine address it bore on the basis that the addressee had moved to that city.

On schedule time the missive came back to East Orange with the information that the addressee was no longer a private residence, but a boarding house, and that the addressee was not known there. A notice to this effect was published in the local paper and reached the eyes of the person who had unwittingly mailed the letter. Due explanations were then made. But that did not end the incident.

Since that time Postmaster Street of East Orange has received half a score of letters from persons living in widely scattered parts of the country, East, West, North and South, informing him that they are acquainted with the person to whom the letter was addressed and would like to know what has become of her.

LADY DOROTHY IS CHASED IN SYRIAN WILDS

Autheress Finds Plenty of Adventure in the Desert.

AUTOMOBILE IS USED IN FLIGHT

Meets Tribe Which Worships the Devil—Clothes Red in Satan's Honor.

POLESTONE, Eng., July 27.—After having been chased across the trackless desert of Syria by brigands and having investigated strange religions in Turkey and Mesopotamia, Lady Dorothy Mills, famous novelist and daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has returned safely to England.

"I started across the Syrian desert for the borders of Kurdistan," says Lady Dorothy, "to see the home of the Nile, a devil-worshipping community. To get there we had to go through Iraq, which at present is forbidden."

"I was determined to get there, however, and so had to choose the worst and most deserted path. I hired a Ford car, driven by an Arab chauffeur, and, with a party of Bedouins, set forth across the desert.

"We met our first adventure when crossing the Euphrates. "I was determined to get there, however, and so had to choose the worst and most deserted path. I hired a Ford car, driven by an Arab chauffeur, and, with a party of Bedouins, set forth across the desert.

"Next day there was the worst sandstorm I can ever remember. We lost all sense of direction, but we had to keep going to escape being covered with sand. The next day we came across some Bedouins, who told us that brigands were ahead, in a low range of hills.

"We had to push on, although we were short of food and water. We jammed down the accelerator and went as fast as we could across the sand. The brigands fired at us from all sides, but their bullets fell short, and we escaped across the hills.

"We missed the village where we were to replenish our supplies, and we nearly died of thirst, for our water had to go in the car. For 24 hours I had nothing more to eat than six acid drops.

MEET DEVIL WORSHIPPERS. "We then came in sight of the first of the villages where the Nile lives, at the foot of the hills of Kurdistan. They worship the devil, on the ground that he is stronger than God.

"They think they will not get to heaven until 6,000 years hence, when the evil returns there himself. If, however, they do four times more good than evil on earth, they think they will get to heaven.

"Their clothes are all red, in honor of Satan, and they all have which generally, in the East, is supposed to keep off the devil eye. They have weird superstitions about ill-luck. You must never mention the name of the devil, or make any sound that resembles it. You must never refer to or eat fish, because the devil is supposed to live in the water.

"With the exception of the priest-hood, no one is allowed to read or write. In former times the punishment was death. The devil worshippers are wonderfully moral. If a husband is unfaithful even his relatives will condemn him to death."

Lady Dorothy also came across the few remaining Samaritans, the descendants of those mentioned in the New

CATHEDRAL ALTAR FUND NEARS $6,000

No Plan Settled on Yet, Says Father Duke—Annual Picnic.

The fund for the new altar of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception is now not far short of $6,000. Yesterday Rev. William Duke announced in the Cathedral that the collection for the altar fund on the previous Sunday had amounted to $262.22, bringing the total to $5,788.80. He stated that the collections for the new altar would be taken each month of the present year. No definite objective had been set, and no special plan for the altar had been selected.

NO PLAN SETTLED. Father Duke said that while Bishop LeBlanc and he had made special inquiries regarding altars when they were on a pilgrimage recently they had not decided upon any one plan as yet. Father Duke expressed gratitude for the generosity of the people in supporting the altar fund, and referred particularly to the children's part in the contributions, which, he said, was specially commendable.

In all probability the Cathedral picnic will be held this year on Aug. 4, the customary date, Father Duke announced yesterday.

COMPLAIN OF DOG

As a result of a complaint from a Prince William street resident on Saturday night that his slumbers were being disturbed by the continuous barking of a dog under his bedroom window, a police officer visited the scene. The dog, however, undoubtedly saw the bluecoat approaching and, although the officer remained on the scene for 20 minutes there was no sign of a dog or the sound of a bark.

Were You Grouchy Today?

Tired at the beginning as well as the end of the day, irritable, exacting, pessimistic—he has joined the ranks of thousands of men who are silently and secretly worrying. Ten times a day they go on the warpath over nothing.

In nearly every case they are victims of the artificial stimulants—tannin and caffeine—found in tea and coffee. These seem to give new energy but this is a delusion. Actually, they whip the tired nerves to action when what they really need is rest.

Tannin and caffeine found in tea and coffee are harmful. With you these agents may work fast or slow. But their poisonous effects are certain, sure!

Drink wholesome Instant Postum. Every member of the family can enjoy its delicious flavor. Taut nerves, sleepless hours and headaches are happily banished because it is free from the health-destroying stimulants tannin and caffeine. Instantly made in the cup at a cost of about half-a-cent. Then there's Postum Cereal made by boiling or percolating for those who prefer it. Ask for Postum at your club, restaurant, or on the train. Read Carrie Blanchard's free offer. Instant Postum "There's a Reason"

You know how many children do not like the taste of milk. You know how they like to have the same drink as the "green-tea". You know, too, how good it is for them to have a hot drink! Make Instant Postum for them, using hot milk instead of boiling water! They'll like the taste immediately! And they will get the food elements of the wheat, plus the nourishment of milk, in a hot drink that is economical and so easy to make!

VENIOT SAYS LUMBERMEN HARMED HIM

BATHURST, July 26.—Hon. Dr. P. J. Veniot, Premier of the Province, during the week-end addressed three large meetings in this constituency, at Petit Rocher, Green River and Robertville. C. T. Richard and Harold C. Ramsay, of Bathurst, also spoke.

He announced that he had been warned by some lumbermen of New Brunswick that unless he refunded $225,000 on last year's stumpage that they would have to oppose him, and he told how he had answered that he would rather go down to defeat standing by his guns than yield to what he considered any such unfair and unreasonable demand.

READS FROM REPORT.

The Premier also dealt with the lumbermen's request for reduced rates of stumpage, and read from the official report of the proceedings of the conference the answer of the lumbermen that they could not guarantee to give a corresponding increase in the wages of the men in the mills and in the woods provided they did get a reduction in the stumpage rates.

COST OF HYDRO.

Hydro power from Grand Falls would cost less than $30 a horsepower delivered at Bathurst, the Premier declared in answer to the recent declaration of Angus McLean, president of the Bathurst Company, Limited, who said that energy at the figure would be prohibitive, so far as enabling the mills of New Brunswick to compete with those of Quebec.

NEWCASTLE PAYMENTS.

The Premier went on to say that the Bathurst Company, Limited, was selling electrical energy, developed by steam and water power combined, at $75 a horsepower through the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission for furnishing electrical energy to the town of Newcastle at the present time.

CHARGES IN QUEBEC.

If, argued the Premier, $30 a horsepower delivered at Grand Falls was prohibitive for Grand Falls power, then the company must be losing a great deal of money at its present cost of generating electrical energy. He then went on to quote under his name official figures to prove that the City of Montreal was paying $94 a horsepower for the energy necessary to pump its water supply, thus, he asserted, proving that horse-power was in general costing a year or two more than $20 in the Province of Quebec.

LUMBERMEN'S DEMANDS.

"It cannot be shown," he asserted, "that any new contracts made within the last four years in Quebec were made at any such low figure, but not for continuous industrial use. The Premier also dealt with the demands of the lumbermen for a refund of last year's stumpage, such refund amounting to $225,000. He had refused this request, the Premier declared. He quoted from the account of the conference in June of this year between the Government and representatives of the lumbermen and of Boards of Trade regarding a decrease in the rates of stumpage. The record showed that the lumbermen had been asked by the Premier if, should the Government give the lumbermen a reduction in the rates of stumpage, they would grant a corresponding increase in the wages of the men in the woods and in the mills, and the lumbermen had answered: No, they could give no such guarantee.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION.

The record from which the Premier was reading was, he said, the official account of the conference prepared by Joseph McPeeke, Supreme Court stenographer, who had been engaged to report the meeting.

STOOD BY GUNS, HE SAYS.

He said he had had certain interviews with some lumbermen in which he was told that if the request for the refund of $225,000 on last year's stumpage payments were not acceded to the lumbermen would have to oppose his Government. His reply was that he was going to take the risk of their opposing him rather than grant their request for a refund of $225,000. He further declared that he had always dealt reasonably with the lumbermen and told them that if they were not content with the reduction in stumpage, then, "I must stand by my guns and, if necessary, go down to defeat before giving way to what I consider to be an unfair and unreasonable demand."

BAXTER'S REFERENCE.

The Premier also dealt with the free school policy of his Government and the alleged scandals under the old Conservative regime.

He adverted to Hon. Dr. Baxter's reference to him in his address to the Opposition nominating convention at Bathurst in which the Opposition leader referred to the Premier as reminding him of a skunk who left an unpleasant odor wherever he went.

The Premier said that he had always regarded the leader of the Opposition as a gentleman, but since he had been fit to draw such a dirty comparison he was going to leave Dr. Baxter to wallow in the mire of his own political pollution.

from the trail they left behind them, including "the patriotic potato scandal, the Valley Railway deal and the lumber steal."

In the meantime, the government is allowing a whole sheaf of appointments to stand over. These will, of course, be made before going to the country in the event of a decision for an election, cabinet re-organization furnishing some of the necessary material for filling the vacancies. But there is one question which must receive the attention of the cabinet before very long. Sir Henry Thornton's three-year term as president of the Canadian National Railway will expire in October.

His contract must be renewed or his successor found. Although rumors that he has been re-engaged at a largely increased salary have been declared foundationless, the present government will doubtless seek a renewal of the contract. Whether or not an increased salary will be one of the features of the new agreement, should one be made, CABINET CHANGES FACED.

Whatever be the decision in regard to an election, Premier King is confronted with the necessity of making some changes in his cabinet before long. Right Hon. W. S. Fielding, Finance Minister, has been unable to attend to his duties for years, and now that provision has been made, he will probably retire.

Hon. James A. Robb, the Acting Finance Minister, will relinquish the immigration portfolio and devote his complete attention to finance.

ONE VACANCY AT LEAST. Thus there will be one vacancy at least, and it is said that the Prime Minister is anxious to strengthen himself in the West by filling it from the Prairie Provinces. One or two of the other ministers are quite willing to retire if they can be accommodated either in the Senate or elsewhere, it is rumored. There are nine seats to fill in the upper chamber, as well as a vacancy on the railway commission, some in the judiciary, and a post at Washington.

ESSEX CLAIMS CATHEDRAL AS THE OLDEST

Built by Bishop Cedd, Who Brought Christianity to Country

EDIFICE HAS BEEN RESTORED

Building Used as Barn and as Billet During the War.

LONDON, July 27.—To a wildly desolate spot on the Essex coast, ten miles from the nearest railway station, where the calling of the sea birds, the bleating of sheep, and the coursing of the winds are the only sounds to be heard, there came a few days ago a pilgrimage headed by the Bishop of Chelmsford.

Motor cars, charabancs, and traps were parked in the fields, and the pilgrims trod the Roman road to a barn-like building standing on a grassy mound within 800 yards of the North Sea. The clergy paused at a thatched shed, opened their cases, and put on the robes of the Church of England.

PRIMITIVE PLACE. Then they passed through a nail-studded door into the barn-like building, and there—for this primitive place was the first Essex cathedral—knelt up prayer, remembering with gratitude the builder, Bishop Cedd, who left his cell at Lindisfarne Priory, off the rock-bound Northumbrian coast, to bring Christianity to the heathen East Saxons.

Long before St. Cedd came to Essex this wild district of Bradwell-on-Sea was an important Roman station. St. Cedd preached to the East Saxons and made many converts, over whom he came to minister as Bishop.

CATHEDRAL CITY. Today all that remains visible of this cathedral city is the cathedral church of Bishop Cedd. The "cathedral" is known to antiquaries as St. Peter's Chapel. It has been restored within recent years, is under the care of the Chapter of Chelmsford, and was rededicated just five summers ago.

For years it had been used as a barn, during the Great War it was a billet, and the old stones bear marks of fires lit by the soldiers who were in possession.

Once the "cathedral" had a belfry, and during the days of Elizabeth and the Stuarts it served as a lighthouse.

Today there is only one cottage within two miles. This houses the woman verger and her husband, and is hard by the "cathedral," itself.

ASLEEP IN THE DEEP

Sidney Helms of Des Moines, Ia., has completed a 200-mile trip down the Mississippi River on a mattress. He is a mattress salesman and the mattress he sells float. So he put a light wooden frame around one, gave the bow a toboggan form, stuck an outboard motor at the back, and got up a speed of eight miles an hour. He went from Keokuk, Ia., to St. Louis.

WAS POOR CONTEST

Bout Between Soldier Jones and Gypsy Daniels Ended in Draw.

LONDON, July 27.—The fifteen round battle between the heavy-weight Soldier Jones of Canada, and Gypsy Daniels of Wales, here Saturday, ended in a draw. It was a poor day, as the Welshman made good use of his left and easily led in points in the early rounds, but his punches lacked sting. Jones was slow but got in some heavy body punches and left hooks. The Canadian grid very hard for a knockout towards the end but Daniels got out of danger by smart ducking.

The Mayor, in addressing the gathering, spoke of the work the Provincial Government was doing on the by-roads of New Brunswick and claimed that the Government was doing this solely to realize more ballots in the coming provincial elections. MORE SCENES OF SAINT JOHN TAKEN

Three Paroramas Filmed From High Spots Show City Features.

Frank Badgley, director for the moving picture bureau of the Dominion Government, of which Raymond Peck is superintendent, accompanied by his operator, Charles Ross, continued their work of shooting the Saint John scenes for the Government in the Canadian cities Saturday and Sunday. They first encompassed the city by automobile.

A panorama from atop the reconstructed court house as well as from the top of the tower of the Admiral Beatty Hotel and another comprehensive aerial shot from a grain elevator in West Saint John will give the bird's eye views of an interesting character and from some new angles. The street shots are to be made in traffic locations at busy hours and in the prominent buildings are located and in the residential section.

Water Scenes. Tomorrow evening the miniature yacht racing will be photographed at Lily Lake in Rockwood, a picture the visitors are very keen to secure as this is a rare sport on this side of the boundary. In the afternoon the children bathing in the park waters will be variously pictured. Surf bathing at Bay Shore is in the scenario as well and on Saturday afternoon Riverside Golf course was visited during the championship contest.

Sunday afternoon the camera men succeeded in river and canal scenes of the congregated yachts and motor boats attending the church service at Crystal Beach. They were guests of W. S. Allison aboard his yawl "O Spray." Before the reel is complete in Saint John will be included some of the social life, public schools, imposing churches, hotels and other places as well as close-ups of some of the monuments and interesting historical relic in such places as the Loyalist Burying Ground and elsewhere.

CAUGHT A "TARTAR"

Saint John Lady Does Not Approve Receiving Goods Not Ordered.

A letter accompanying the parcel partly was not going to all the trouble of again fixing up the parcel for the return mailing, but the goods would be in the "store" room in the attic, and if the senders wanted them they could just come round and select them.
