GERMANS CONTINUE TO ATTACK VIOLENTLY BUT ALLIES MAKE PROGRESS

British and French Are Within Four Miles of Ostend—Also Push Forward North and East of Lille—Reported Message from Kaiser Intercepted

Paris, Nov. 2.—The French official announcement given out in Paris this afternoon says that yesterday the German attack on the French left wing, particularly between Dixmude and the Lys, continued with great violence. In spite of the counter attacks of the enemy in this region, the French made slight progress.

The text of the communication follows:—"On our left wing the German offensive continued yesterday with the same violence in Belgium and in the north of France, particularly between Dixmude and the Lys. In this region in spite of attacks and counter attacks on the part of the Germans we made slight progress on almost the entire front, excepting at the village of Messines, a part of which was again lost by the allied troops.

"The enemy undertook an important movement against the suburbs of Arras. This resulted in failure, as did other movements against Litons and Lesquesy and Santerre.

"On this centre, in the region of the Aisne we made slight progress in the direction of Tracy-Les-Val to the north of the forest of Aiguas as well as at certain points on the right bank of the Aisne between this forest and Soissons.

"In the region of Rheims, between the Argonne and the Meuse, and on the heights of the Meuse there was noticed yesterday a recrudescence of activity on the part of the enemy's heavy artillery. The bombardment of the spires, however, did not show any appreciable result.

"On our right wing an offensive movement of reconnaissance by the enemy on Nomeny was repulsed.

"In the Vosges in addition to the fact that we have recaptured the heights which dominate Mount Sainte Barthelemy, we have made progress in the region of Ban de Sapt, where we occupy the position from which the artillery of the enemy has been bombarding the town of St. Die."

ALLIES NEAR OSTEND London, Nov. 2.—The Times' correspondent in Northern France, telegraphing under date of Sunday, sums the situation on the battle front by stating that the allies are daily creeping on toward Ostend which is now hardly occupied still in a military sense. The number of Germans holding it is so slight that the allies tried they could gain it with little resistance.

He telegraphs that the allies have penetrated to the north and east of Lille, which he says, "certainly has been evacuated by the Germans and there is good reason to believe that it has been occupied by the allies."

REPORTED MESSAGE FROM THE KAISER London, Nov. 2.—Despatches to the Daily Mail, from various correspondents in the field of operations in Northern France, report the continued success of the allies. They have reached within four miles of Ostend, and are at Leffinghe and Thye.

Three thousand Germans left Ostend for Zebrugge on Friday, and the reports persist that the Germans have left Ostend. It is said that the allies have intercepted a message from Emperor William to the King of Wurttemberg, telling him it was absolutely imperative to capture Ypres before November 1, otherwise, it would be necessary for the Germans to withdraw beyond the Eftias.

A skillful German general, Von Meyer, was killed at Dixmude on Friday. EYES TURNED FROM CALAIS Rotterdam, Nov. 2.—Advices from Belgian coast towns are that the exchange of artillery fire between the Germans and the warships has wrecked most of these towns. Westende, Westkerke and Middelerke are all in ruins.

There has been no resumption of the German march on Calais and present appearances point to an abandonment of the movement. BULGARIA NEUTRAL London, Nov. 2.—The Sofia correspondent of the Times says he is informed on the highest authority that Bulgaria will maintain the strictest neutrality.

French Bar Road to Verdun London, Nov. 2.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Paris says that notwithstanding the German statement that the town of Verdun had been destroyed, the fact is never has been struck by a single shell. The French army still bars the road to Verdun. Reports of a German victory in the forest of Argonne also are absolutely false.

Avalanche Overwhelms Berne, Switzerland, via Paris, Nov. 2.—A huge avalanche yesterday overwhelmed a detachment of Swiss soldiers near St. Maurice. Four were killed and two seriously injured. Eleven others were dug out alive.

Orders to French Paris, Nov. 2.—Alexandre Millerand, minister of war, has issued an order that all men of the armed service, employed or detached, be immediately integrated into their corps. Commanders are also required to make monthly reports on certain requirements, which are made part of the order.

No Orders Yet To Recruit Here; No Armory Contracts

Another week has gone by, and still no orders to recruit have been given in St. John. Few appreciate the delay more than the militia officers who realize that it is going to be no easy task to enlist 1,025 men without a recruiting campaign. This should by now be well under way.

LEASH AW IN PIGEON HOLE FOR WINTER

Dogs Need Not Be Under Restraint When With Owners

THIRTY IN THE POUND

A Large Inathering For The Close of Session—One Taken From Prominent Citizen's Door Step—A Letter on The Subject

With the arrival of November the by-law requiring a leash to be used on all dogs allowed in the streets, goes into retirement for the winter. This will make it possible for owners to take well behaved dogs in the street with them without the leash which has been necessary all summer. It does not make it permissible, however, to turn the dogs out to run wild in the streets.

Section eight of the by-law says:—"Any dog not registered or any dog found running at large not accompanied by any person in charge thereof or any dog not provided with collar and tagged, as hereinafter provided, shall be liable to be impounded, as hereinafter provided."

The dog catchers have been active lately and last week there were about thirty animals in the pound and fifteen were destroyed. Of the dogs caught only about one in fifteen has been found with a collar.

Some complaints have been made regarding the dog owners who are carrying off unoffending animals, an instance of this being the arrest of Emerson's dog from his own door step. It is reported that a meeting of dog owners is to be called to discuss the advisability of seeking some amendments to the present law.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 30, 1914. To the Editor of the Times, Sir—Will you kindly allow me valued space in your paper to place a few facts before the dog owners of this city. In view of the statement recently made to me by the commissioner of public works licensed as well as unlicensed is to be kept up all winter, and having taken his advice in regard to reading the city law respecting dogs, as to power to enforce same, I find that while section 7 in regard to dogs running at large is repealed by the new amendment from May to November, section 8 might be construed to mean the same as section 7, so while most dog owners are beginning to feel they may have peace and security for the next six months it is not so.

Now where the only protection afforded us by the license we pay for is in the fact that the dog owners are required to have their dogs licensed, it is not seen that the city should keep to the letter of its obligation as well as force of dollars have been paid into the city treasury by the dog owners for what? Might it not be expected that a suitable dog pound could be provided with out using the isolation stall of the city stables, (to the menace of valuable city property should contagious disease break out amongst the city horses, and from which people need not be excluded on the ground that it is the public works department.)

As I read the law and as common sense would tell me, there should be a pound keeper to receive the dogs and see that they are reasonably provided for. Now on the two occasions on which (Continued on page 2, seventh column)

THE SOLDIER KING OF THE BRAVE BELGIANS

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 2.—"The Belgian King's bearing when he is under fire is splendid," says the Times' Dunkirk correspondent.

"While the wounded were being withdrawn on one occasion, he stood calmly smoking a cigarette and awaiting the arrival of ambulances, his peripatetic operations with projectiles bursting all around.

"The king is a great comrade to the soldiers. Frequently, he takes his meals at the soldiers' mess, discussing with the men the conduct of the campaign and the likelihood of an early peace. He has been greatly amused at a visitor's account of the huge volume of gunfire with which the German Emperor is surrounded."

ALL SAINTS DAY PRAYERS FOR SOLDIERS

London, Nov. 2.—All Saints' Day was observed in France as usual by decorating graves, but a new departure was the decoration of the tombs of fallen soldiers buried in the environs of Paris. Many British soldiers are buried in the suburban cemeteries of Iry and Bagman. Prayers were said over the graves of Protestants, as well as Catholics.

German merchants are reported to be regularly providing coal and provisions to the German cruisers in the Pacific. They get out of Chilean ports by making false declarations.

THE GURKHAS FOR FIRST TIME UNDER FIRE OF SHELLS

London, Nov. 2.—The Morning Post prints an extract from a letter of a cavalry officer giving an account of how the Indian troops behaved in their first encounter with shell fire. In his letter, dated October 24, and written from Belgium, he said:

"Night before last we were told that the regiment was going to be relieved by the Indians. It was the most we could expect. I have never seen them before. There were six bars and a windmill blazing, all set alight by shell fire, when these fellows, with turbans and with flashing eyes and teeth, came up to the darkness. The undisciplined dragoons, of course, became firm friends with them at once. French, Belgian, Indians, they make pals with them all.

"Well, these natives had hardly got into the trenches on either side of me when the Germans opened fire. It was the worst half hour I have ever spent. As, of course, I could not make them understand and as they had never seen shells before, I did not know what they would do. They behaved splendidly and I think they thought the shells were fireworks let off for their benefit.

"The officer in charge of them told me that morning that he was most anxious as to how they would do but they shouted with glee when they saw a German and let him know what good shots they are. In the middle of the attack one native hurled himself into my trench and spoke excitedly to me. Of course, I could not make out what he wanted, but thought he wanted a doctor or some one as he kept pointing at a cartridge, and I sent down for the doctor, but when he arrived I discovered it was more ammunition they wanted and not a doctor."

UNCOVERING GRAVES ON BATTLEFIELD OF MARNE SEEKING THEIR DEAD

Paris, Nov. 2.—While all ears din of war northward a very different scene is enacted on the Marne. Some of the hastily dug graves here had to be re-opened and over again. Countless others are re-opened daily by relatives authorized to search out the body of their lost and to remove them to the family vault. Indications are always vague and often entirely wrong, so that mound after mound has to be turned over before the right spot is found.

It is a weary, ghastly job for, in parts, the entire countryside is a vast cemetery. Around the farm of Champfleury graves are so thick that it is impossible not to walk on them. This farm was the centre of the bloodiest episode of the battle. The French were ordered to take it cost what it might. Two hundred men set out. They came back again all told. At the second attempt four hundred made the charge and all went down but ten.

ARMORED TRAIN PUTS GERMANS TO ROUT

Sturdy British Defence Against Attack By Enemy's Hordes Becomes Victory

London, Nov. 2.—The Daily Mail correspondent in northeastern France, telegraphing under date of Saturday, relates how a force of 10,000 Germans was completely routed and scattered by an armored train. "The Germans had almost surrounded a British regiment, which fought on doggedly, though so vastly outnumbered. Suddenly an armored train shot up on the railway line which the British were holding. The train poured broadsides of machine gun fire, mowing down the Germans at every yard until the line on each side was covered with heaps of German dead. The rest fled precipitately and the British pursued."

SERVIANS AND AUSTRIANS SAY ALL GOES WELL

Nish, Serbia, Nov. 2.—A semi-official note issued here says: "The enemy operating on October 29 in the direction of Gutchevo, bombarded our positions at Embova and Banja, from seven o'clock in the morning until noon. At this hour they attacked but were repulsed by our troops. Our counter attack developed into violent bayonet combats in which the enemy, sustaining heavy losses, was forced to fall back in disorder, leaving three officers and about 800 men on the field.

"The enemy delivered another attack on our positions in the evening but was again forced to retire with heavy loss. "Nothing of importance has occurred since the remainder of the front."

GERMANS DEMAND A GREAT SUM FROM BRUSSELS

"HOLY WAR" IS PLAN OF ALLIES' ENEMIES

Ambassadors Leave Constantinople, Though no Formal Declaration Yet

Turkey Already Active on Sea and in Expedition Into Egypt—Bombardment at Sebastopol and Other Places

London, Nov. 2.—Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish ambassador to Great Britain, was handed his passports today

London, Nov. 2.—War has not yet been formally declared on Turkey, but the withdrawal of the ambassadors of the triple entente powers from Constantinople is regarded in London as being equivalent to a signal of hostilities, which Turkey has anticipated by a naval raid in the Black Sea, and by a reported land expedition which is said to have penetrated into Egypt.

Evidence that Turkey intends to proclaim a holy war, accumulated. Ample measures, however, it is asserted, have been taken by Great Britain and Russia against this probability, and it is evident that the first trouble is expected to arise in Egypt where, it is said, the Khedive intends to ask Great Britain for an explanation of his attitude towards Turkey.

Berlin contends that Turkey was forced to throw in her lot with Germany, because the Porte recognized that an entente victory would mean the disruption of the Turkish Empire with Constantinople, Armenia and Turkestan going to Russia; Arabia to England and Syria to France. On the other hand, in the event of the defeat of the triple entente nations, Turkey was to be guaranteed territorially, to be given aid in reconquering the Caucasus and Egypt and be given perhaps something more.

The usual charges and denials are being made as to the responsibility for the first attack in the Black Sea, but these are issued chiefly for consumption by the neutral countries, since the inevitability of the conflict was recognized by both sides. The principal actors are not greatly concerned which nation fired the opening shot.

Petrograd, Nov. 1.—(Via London, Nov. 2)—The newspapers report that the Central News asserts that Turkish torpedo boats, bombarded the shore near Sebastopol yesterday morning, shelling the railroad and docks. The Russian shore batteries replied. The warships disappeared along the Crimean shore to the eastward after inflicting trivial damage.

Theodosia, on the Crimean coast, 100 miles northwest of Sebastopol, also suffered a bombardment on Saturday, when a Turkish cruiser sailed close enough to throw thirty shells into the city.

News has been received at the foreign office to the effect that the Russian ambassador has left Constantinople, but the Turkish ambassador here has not yet received his passports or instructions from Constantinople.

London, Nov. 2.—A Rome despatch to the Central News asserts that Turkish gunboats are reported at the entrance to the Gulf of Suez. Numerous detachments of Turkish cavalry, according to the same despatch, have reached Alexandria, a fortified village of Arabia on the gulf of the same name.

MURDER CHARGE FOLLOWS 'ON HALLOW'EEN PRANKS'

SEVENTY LIVES LOST AND 146 ARE SAVED

Whitby, via London, Nov. 2.—In all seventy were lost in the wreck of the hospital ship Heliola. These saved 146.

HALLOW'EEN ACTIVITIES

As a rule the usual round of Halloween pranks and the results following thereon are looked upon in the light of the spirit of the day, but there is a man in East St. John who cannot make himself believe that the trick played on him was intended for a joke. While he and his family slumbered on Saturday night a slight flurry was heard in his chicken coop, but thinking that the "boys" were perhaps stowing away one of his gates, or other such pranks, he slept on. In the morning, however, an inventory of his poultry stock showed a shortage of ten hens. There may be complications.

STATE OF BELGIANS IS TRAGEDY OF THIS WAR

London, Nov. 2.—The Daily Mail correspondent in Northern France, dealing with the enormous sacrifices and the devoted courage of the Belgians, says: "Over 10,000 have been killed or wounded, which is a quarter of their whole force operating in the coast battle. They have been defending a strip of territory from Dixmude to Neuport, a region hardly bigger than a big German farm.

"Nearly all of their injured have been wounded in the back but never were wounds more honorable as the bullets and shrapnel hit them as they lay prone under the hail of the steel volcano. Their fate is the tragedy of this war."

OTTAWA HEARS FROM BRITISH WAR OFFICE; THE SECOND CONTINGENT

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 2.—The War Office has been heard from in regard to the composition of the second Canadian expeditionary force, but the Canadian authorities have not yet decided to disclose the nature of the British communication. It is understood that the request of the British army officials does not exactly coincide with the programme which the Canadian government would like to follow and that an effort will be made to have the British War Office vary its instructions. The authorities here would like to send a rather larger number of mounted men than went with the first Canadian contingent.

MITCHELL-DART

In St. Luke's church on Saturday afternoon, Miss Edith Ellen Dart, of Exeter, England, became the bride of Robert E. Mitchell, of Southampton, England. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. P. McKim. Miss Emma K. Nye was bridesmaid, and John A. Maxwell was best man. The bride was handsomely attired in Alice blue silk with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies-of-the-valley. She was given away by John E. Kelly. The bridesmaid wore a very becoming brown tulle dress with white lace cuffs, gloves, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

THE MILITIA

Chatham fronting—The fact that only a small percentage of the volunteers for the front being to the trained militia casts doubt on the usefulness of that body. Millions are spent annually in keeping up a force for war, and then war calls for recruits they have to be taken from the ranks of those who never donned the King's uniform.

More time was given to the committee to arrange for the saloon carmen to attend church to soldiers in uniform.

AFTER MANY YEARS

Wm. B. Maxwell Home on Visit From California

After an absence of nearly thirty years Wm. B. Maxwell has returned to St. John from San Francisco where he has been successfully located for many years. He is on a short visit, and has been heartily welcomed. He visited many places yesterday in memory from boyhood days, and was surprised at the evidences of advancement, notably about the harbor front. To some of his friends Mr. Maxwell said that he did not think sufficient publicity was given to the many advantages enjoyed by St. John. He thought there was room for still greater development here.

PROVINCIAL SUPERVISION OF BELGIAN FUND

The provincial government, to secure the co-operation of all the interests in the Belgian relief fund, have appointed a provincial committee to supervise the maintenance of the fund. Geo. E. Methodist conference; Rev. J. E. Wilson, Fredericton, moderator of the United Baptist Association, and Rev. R. H. Hamilton, of the Congregational church, St. John.

RESCUED BOOTY FROM BOY THIEVES

Harold Climo, Gernain street photographer, nipped in the bud what was intended for a daring daylight theft at noon today. About a dozen young lads were passing the store of M. E. Grass in Gernain street, when one of the boys stepped into the entrance to the store and picked up a basket of pears, and the whole party scurried away. Mr. Climo saw the theft and followed the lads. When near the corner of Gernain street and Wellington row he was close behind the lads and seeing that they were following he dropped the basket and ran. Mr. Climo returned the stolen fruit to the owner.

AFTER THREE MONTHS OF WAR

Paris, Nov. 2.—Three months of war have made an immense change in the country where battle after battle has been fought between armies of a strength that has never before been assembled. About the northeastern corner of France, which in July of this year was a land where industry and agriculture flourished now lie the ruins of bombarded cities and villages, shattered houses, farms devastated, and fields torn up and criss-cross with trenches.

Where the troops executed heroic deeds, where the cavalry dashed across in desperate charges, or the artillery fought terrific duels, the land is now strewn with debris, broken rifles and machine guns, cartridge cases and smashed carts and automobiles, with mangled and boggy spots are covered here and there with dead horses, which are gradually sinking into the soft soil.

Everywhere there are appalling misery, but the people, mostly women, children and old men, many of whom have lost their all, and some who have sons or husbands in the line of battle, maintain their spirits with remarkable stolidity. Nothing seems to break their spirits as they look forward patiently and with confidence for liberation from the powerful invaders.

Away from the immediate vicinity of the fighting front, all over France, are groups of soldiers awaiting the call to take their place at the front. Every one follows with interest the progress of the allied troops.

The armies have undergone slow but important changes in alignment since the rapid but unsuccessful German rush on Paris was arrested along the Marne. The battle line now sees-saws down from the coast through Lille to Soissons, and then takes a westerly direction through the Argonne forest, to the Vosges Mountains, where, according to French reports, arriving in the order of the French troops are making steady inroads into the German lines in their progress toward their objective, Alsace and Lorraine. The front-line fortresses at Toul, Verdun and Belfort, they say, are still holding out against the German attacks, and the efforts of the Germans to open a way between the forts thus far have been vain.

Receipts Lower The revenue at the St. John customs house for the month of October show a total of $92,780.27, made up of $92,412.89 customs duties and $367.38 marine dues. This is a slight decrease as compared with the figures for the same month last year.

The inland revenue receipts were $17,987.18 as compared with $18,078.31, a decrease of $286.13.

Fredericton, Nov. 2.—Lieut. T. R. McNally, now at Salisbury Plain with the Canadian contingent, tells of a visit made to an English hospital where 800 wounded Belgians are being cared for. According to these men the true story of German atrocities has not been printed simply because it is unprintable. He does not think the history of the world can furnish a parallel.

A layman's mission banquet is to be held in the Methodist church Tuesday evening. Manager Gutelius is expected here tomorrow to inspect the Valley railway. It is scarcely likely that the road between Gagetown and Centreville will be ready for operation before another month.

New York, Nov. 2.—Criminal indictments were returned today by the United States grand jury against twenty-one directors and former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company, including William Rockefeller, Theodore N. Vail, George F. Baker, William Skinner, Charles F. Booker, and John L. Billard. The indictments charge conspiracy in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law to monopolize commerce.

NIGHT SCHOOL AT Y. M. C. A.; OTHER WINTER ACTIVITIES

A new and interesting feature of work at the Y. M. C. A. will be inaugurated soon, when a boys' evening school will be opened. This school will be for boys who have not had an opportunity to finish their public school course. The school will be conducted by Roy A. Davidson, a graduate of McGill.

The subjects will include arithmetic, writing, spelling and business English to the wood and 9.30. One of the features will be the fact that personal attention will be given to every student. It is also planned to have a series of social evenings in connection with the school and at other times to have some of the outstanding business and professional men of the community give talks along vocational lines.

The second series of Sunday morning meetings for boys was held at ten o'clock yesterday, about forty boys being present. The speaker was the boys' work secretary, F. J. Legge, who spoke briefly, using as his subject, Why is a boy who has had no education? He made four points: (1) Because he has no inside and an outside, a body and soul corresponding to the wood and 9.30. One of the features will be the fact that personal attention will be given to every student. It is also planned to have a series of social evenings in connection with the school and at other times to have some of the outstanding business and professional men of the community give talks along vocational lines.

LEASE LAW IN PIGEON HOLE FOR WINTER

(Continued from page 1.) My dog was impounded during his early evening run when I was too ill to take him. I was never able to find a pound keeper. If Officer Blizard is supposed to be such he emphatically denied to me on both occasions in July and again last week, that he had anything to do with the dogs and pointed out to me an irresponsible youth, the dog catcher, as the one who had charge of the dogs and who took the money. Now if Mr. Blizard is the pound-keeper why does he say he has nothing to do with the dogs? If he is not, why has he anything more to say about them than any other city employee? and who is the city pound keeper? I am advised that a city pound keeper should be a responsible person who, as valuable and valued dogs may be committed to the pound, would give bonds that such will be properly looked after, so as to relieve the city of liability. I also found that there were no means taken to keep account of the hours a dog had been impounded, by late tag or separate enclosure done in other cities, and as the dogs are herded together day after day as they come in, would be impossible to remember how long each dog had been there.

In regard to the enclosure, when light on both would cost the city nothing it is hard to see why it should be a place that reminds one of nothing so much as the "Black hole of Calcutta." My dog after six hours incarceration, came out a blinking, shivering, timorous wretch. What must be the condition of those that are kept there 72 hours as the law requires?

I would suggest that dog owners and dog lovers get together and try for an amended dog law, and a properly conducted dog pound which is a necessity in every progressive city.

HUNDRED YEARS OF STEAM WAR CRAFT

One hundred years ago last Friday the world's first steam war vessel, the Demologos, afterward rechristened the Fulton, in honor of her constructor, was launched from a privately owned shipyard on the New York bank of the East River. Her construction had been inspired from the War of 1812.

Not much longer than the modern excursion boat, measuring in length 167 feet and built of wood, the vessel slipped her moorings, on June 1, 1816, and proceeded into New York Bay, under her own steam, upon her maiden voyage. On the fourth of July she again ventured to sea for a speed trial, sailing 53 miles in 8 1/2 hours.

This pioneer vessel of modern navies never received her baptism of fire, peace having been declared before the Demologos was ready for battle, but she proved an instrument of destruction when her boilers exploded, while she lay in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, on June 4, 1829, destroying the vessel and killing 28 persons.

Today, when steam propels nearly all the 2800 or more warships of the world's navies, already new forms of propulsive power are being added, such as internal-combustion gas engines and various forms of motors, while electric motors already have proved a success on one American naval collier.

Probably the horsepower of the Demologos was not so great as that which propels a naval launch that is swung aboard a modern warship. Against her speed of a little more than six miles an hour, there are warships today that attain a speed of nearly forty knots an hour.

War vessels that could store the Demologos on their decks have made sustained voyages of 8,000 miles without recording, thus disproving the mathematical demonstration of Dionysius Lardner who sought to prove by figures in the young days of steam that no ship could ever carry enough coal to feed her engines while crossing the Atlantic.

For sensational interest, the programme offered at the Unique tonight and tomorrow is said to be of much more than ordinary. The feature is the fifteenth episode in the Million Dollar Mystery, wherein patrons will see a huge hydroplane in action, chasing a racing motor boat of the highest speed. The boat was pressed into the service of the Black Hundred for the purpose of abducting Florence, while the hydroplane was utilized for the purpose of overtaking the boat and rescuing his fiancée. The scene where Florence dives from the boat and is picked up by Norton just before the Rufians reach her is sensational in the extreme.

THE WAR NEWS

The correspondent of the London Times announces that the allies are creeping on toward Ostend, and could now capture that port if they made a determined effort.

The beginning of this week ends the whole outlook from the standpoint of the allies greatly improved. Not only have the Germans failed to advance in France and Belgium, but they have been forced back by the Russians in the east.

Our war minister is on his way home from England. There is work for him to do. If the Germans admit losses amounting to 400,000, of which the losses for the last week were 60,000, it may safely be assumed that the real figures are much larger.

While Canadian trade for the year ending August 31 showed a decline of $48,000,000, it was entirely in the import trade, as the exports showed an increase of $76,000,000.

Orders to recruit men for the New Brunswick regiment have not yet been received. What is the cause of the delay? Why is not the province of New Brunswick treated the same as the western provinces in this respect?

The report that a message from the Kaiser has been intercepted to the effect that if Ypres could not be captured by November 1, the German armies would be compelled to retire into their own country may not be true, but that is what will certainly happen in course of time.

The German Street Brotherhood have adopted a resolution urging that the New Brunswick regiment be quickly recruited, and twelve young men of the German Street Baptist Church have announced that they are ready to volunteer as soon as the recruiting starts.

It is announced that the Rockefeller Foundation is prepared to give millions of dollars, if necessary, for the relief of non-combatants in the countries at war. The funds of this philanthropy could not be put to a better use. Already at a cost of $275,000, it has chartered a ship and loaded it with provisions for the starving Belgians.

Armchair strategists are already telling us what must be done after the war is over. Some affirm that the British Empire must still further strengthen its fleet and establish great armies. Others take the opposite view, and are arranging for an international police system which will not make it necessary for any country to have a formidable army or a large standing army.

It is certain, moreover, that the section of Turkey will involve other countries. Greece can hardly remain neutral, and the like is true of Roumania, especially if Bulgaria should take the side of Austria. There is still no indication, however, of a desire on the part of Bulgaria to support Austria; and, although she would hardly care to fight on the same side with Greece and Serbia, strange things have happened in war, and there is at least a possibility that all the Balkan states may unite to drive the Turk once for all out of Europe.

There is also more reason now to anticipate the entry of Italy into the war on the side of France, Britain and Russia, and it is quite safe to assume that although the area of the war will be greatly widened the cause of Germany will really be weakened in the long run as a result of her intrigue with Turkey. Today's cables say that Bulgaria will remain neutral; but the same thing was said of Turkey a week ago. It would not be at all surprising to see all of the Balkan countries engaged in the war before another month has passed.

The most appalling feature of the European war is the terrible destruction of human life. Millions of men, women and children will have been killed before it ends, and other millions will be made for the rest of their lives a helpless though unwilling burden upon their various communities.

An Oklahoma editor was much interested in a scientific note he encountered in a New York paper to the effect that if the earth were flattened, the sea would be two miles deep all over the world. The editor reprinted the note with the following comment: "If any man is caught flattening the earth, shoot him on the spot. There's a whole lot of us in this state that can't swim."

gored by contemplation of the horrors and the miseries involved in this conflict, which already directly affects so many nations, and into which it is altogether probable other nations will join. The battle ground in Belgium and France, in Galicia, Poland and East Prussia is already a vast graveyard, where the earth has been heaped above hundreds of thousands of men who were the very flower of their race.

Ultimately their loss in men and in treasure will be the greatest, and it is the price they must pay for their vaunting ambition to rule the world, and for their attempt to fix the burden of militarism permanently upon the shoulders of the nations.

So long in preparation they are able to prolong the war, with all its horrors; but they must pay the full penalty of their great crime against humanity.

MISSING ON WEDDING DAY, BODY IS FOUND; HE MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED. New York, Nov. 2.—There is suspicion that Alexander Bruce, manager of the Monument Hotel, at Flushing, L. I., whose body was found on lonely rocks at the edge of Flushing Bay, at the hour set for his wedding, was murdered. A superficial examination indicated that death was due to drowning, but an autopsy is being performed, and special search will be made for any indication of poisoning.

INTERESTING LETTER TELLS OF THE TERRIFIC FIGHTING THERE. The following extracts from a letter of a motor driver in the Royal Field Artillery, was present at the battle of Mons, when the British troops were severely cut up, is supplied by a friend of the writer. The bandman was himself wounded, and round about where he was there were no fewer than thirty Salvationists in the firing line. The letter in part is as follows: "We got everything ready for the enemy, the trenches dug and the guns all fixed, and then came the worst job of all—waiting. For some thirty-six hours we lay there watching and listening for the first signs of the Germans. Then we were at it, full pelt, for five hours the battle lasted without a moment's break. Having brought my transport wagons up to the firing lines with my motor, I had to help load the guns. Shells were flying and bursting all around us. I was wounded by a splinter from one of the shells, but it was only a flesh wound. I bound it up and went on with my work. Now, the enemy seemed to get the best of us, then retreated. All around me, at this time, my comrades were falling, and the Germans were falling too, by the hundreds. So thick were the enemy's dead that when the advance was sounded we simply had to force the motor up over heaps of bodies—there was nothing else for it.

CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK CHILDREN NEED "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS". A Coated Tongue Means Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Listen Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has sour stomach, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills. Give a teaspoonful and in just a few hours all the food waste, sour bile and fermenting food, clogged in the bowels, passes out of the system and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless fruit laxative and it never fails to effect a good "insider" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on each bottle. Mother, keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child to-morrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." Then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no cheaper size. Don't be fooled.

RECENT DEATHS

Many friends will extend sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kennedy, 208 Chesley street, on account of the death of their infant son, George Edmund, which occurred yesterday.

The death of Mrs. Anna Howard occurred Saturday night at the residence of her brother-in-law, D. L. Clarke, 52 Pitt street. She was in the eighty-seventh year of her age and had been in poor health for two or three years. She was the daughter of the late William Howard, and leaves to mourn one sister, Mrs. Clarke.

A telegram received yesterday by Joseph Craig, of Princess street, from Somerville (Mass.), informed him of the death of his brother, John W. Craig. Mr. Craig was a native of St. John and left here about fifty years ago for Somerville (Mass.). Mr. Craig was seventy years of age. He is survived by his wife, four daughters and one son. His brothers are Archibald and Joseph of this city; Robert, of Chatham (N. B.); Thomas, Frank M. and David, of Boston; also two sisters, Misses Mary and Sarah, of this city.

A telegram received by relatives on Saturday, announced the sudden death of Patrick Halpin in Calgary. The sad news was a great shock to the members of the family residing here, as it was not known that the deceased had been ill. Mr. Halpin was the third son of John and Catherine Halpin, Kimball street. He held a responsible position at the chateau Fontaine, Quebec, for ten years, and was afterwards promoted to a position on the staff of the Hotel Palmer, Calgary. On his annual vacation visits to St. John, he was always heartily welcomed and was ever happy in renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Halpin is survived by a wife, formerly Miss Nora O'Connor of this city, and by one son, Roy. He leaves also a father, mother, one brother, Alexander, of Roxbury (Mass.), and two sisters, Mrs. C. W. Mattioli and Miss Marzani at home. Mrs. Halpin and her son will accompany the remains to St. John where interment will be made.

Mrs. Anthony Manuel of Woodstock died on Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. LeBaron Ingraham, Woodstock, N. B. She is survived by her husband and four children, Hiram Manuel, a well known lumberman of Hawkeshaw, N. B., Rev. Murray M., Presbyterian minister at Florenceville, Mrs. Robert Patterson of Downville and Mrs. Ingraham of Woodstock.

Mrs. Mary E. Taylor of Lower Brighton, died last Sunday, aged eighty-five years.

"Breakfast Table Beauty?"

CHIC FRANCES NELSON HAS IT

FRANCES NELSON

(By Ida McGilone Gibson)

"Yes, I am the kind of a girl that looks well on a breakfast food advertisement," said Miss Frances Nelson with a laugh the other day when I remarked upon her wholesome beauty. "It's the kind of beauty also," I remarked, "that a man can fully enjoy across the breakfast table, every morning of the three hundred and sixty-five, year in and year out."

Miss Nelson's entire make-up is simplicity and wholesomeness. A girl of her type of beauty, must wear no gew gaws. Her hair should be scrupulously clean and brushed until it shines. A splendid shampoo for the hair is made of castile soap, shaved and melted with a little water, add to this a teaspoonful of alcohol to every pint of melted soap.

Be sure enough of it with water to make a thick lather and wash your hair and scalp thoroughly with it. Rinse your hair carefully and repeat the process. If your hair is very thick repeat the process a third time.

It is sure every particle of soap is out. Hair is often spoiled by leaving soap in it after washing than in any other way.

Now dry your hair with towels and a fan, and at last brush it up lightly. If you do this you will always have clean, fluffy hair.

"It's the kind of beauty a man can admire across the breakfast table."

Easy & Practical Home Dress Making Lessons

Prepared Especially for This Newspaper by LADIES' REDINGOTE WAIST.

Dark brown will be very much worn this season, and it comes in a large variety of pleasing tones. For a costume that is dressy and at the same time practical nothing better could be suggested than tobacco brown silk serge combined with velvet or satin. The model illustrated here required to make, in average size, 3/4 yard lining 36 inches wide for underbody, 3/4 yard webbing 2 inches wide for the stay and 3 1/2 yards of ribbon 4 inches wide for the sash, in addition to 3 1/2 yards 64-inch material for the redingote itself.

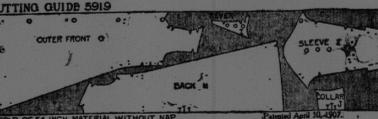

In cutting out the design the outline of the neck may be changed if desired, and the lower edges of the front of the skirt may be rounded away instead of being left square. For the open neck cut out neck of underbody front on small "o" perforations. The sleeves are also perforated for shorter length.

The main parts of the redingote, however, are cut from a fold of the serge. The back and collar are arranged on a lengthwise fold, while the front, revers and sleeve are placed on a lengthwise thread.

The construction of the underbody and sleeve is simple, but for the front the home dressmaker requires a few explicit directions. First, place the front at under-arm edge, placing "T" on small "o" perforations and tack. Close under-arm seam as notched; close shoulder seam. Turn hem in front at notches. Turn hem at lower edge on small "o" perforations. Sew revers and Directorate collar to neck edge as notched. Arrange on underbody, centers even; stitch shoulder seams together. Tack a strap of material to position at under-arm seam between small "o" perforations in outer front to pass a sash through.

Large brown velvet buttons make an effective trimming for the front of the design. White silk or plique should be used for the revers and collar.

Margaret Blair Tells How to Use it, How to Buy Goods, How to Cloth the Family as Well as Ever, But Cheaper

BY MARGARET J. BLAIR
(Lecturer on Home Economy, University of Minnesota.)
(Copyright, 1914, by Margaret J. Blair.)

MOTHERS!

In the past most of you haven't had to scrimp, and save, because of the peaceful plenty.

Upon the whole, our children will be as warm this winter, as neat looking, perhaps more so than ever, if we set about to watch things closely and use to the best advantage, the tools which we must work.

If your family clothing budget has been reduced to "by half time" work or "bad business," it is possible by careful management to keep the children as well dressed as last winter.

Do your Christmas sewing now!

I have made a study for many years of textiles, sewing, needlework, dress-making and designing—and I have been particularly interested in studying methods by which up to date garments can be brought within the reach of people of moderate means.

And there are some things which stand out in my mind so strongly that I want to pass them along to you mothers.

I want to tell you what I have learned by actual work about clothing the family—about making the clothing budget do more than is ordinarily expected of it.

Scientific methods have taught me this clothing budget has been reduced to "by half time" work or "bad business," it is possible by careful

WOOD THAT IS USED IN THE MARITIME PROVINCE FACTORIES

(Bulletin of Department of the Interior, Canada.)

Two hundred million feet, board measure of wood a year are required by the maritime industries of the maritime provinces that use wood as their raw material—not to speak of the many millions of feet of timber used in rough building construction for poles and railway cross-ties, fuel and the many other uses of timber.

Such is the conclusion of an investigation recently made by the Forestry Branch of the Dominion Department of the Interior into the wood-using industries of the maritime provinces, and published as their Bulletin No. 44. The value of the wood used is nearly $3,000,000; of this entire amount only 12 1/2 per cent—about $300,000—was imported.

Twenty-eight kinds of wood are used in the industries, spruce occupying first place. A list of the use of each particular wood, in the industries is a feature of the bulletin.

The report is compiled from reports sent in by more than 600 manufacturers, a classified list of whom, with their addresses, is given in the work. Copies may be obtained on application to the Director of Forestry, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Priestley's Dress Goods

A Cloak or Suit—no matter how good its style and tailoring—is no better than its cloth. A little stretching, a few wrinkles, will ruin the most fashionably cut, finely tailored gown ever made.

are used by many of the master-designers of Europe for the original creations with which they set the world's fashions. Yet Canada's low tariff on British goods permits Priestley's Dress Goods to be sold here at lower prices than foreign countries have to pay.

Stores are showing a wide and very attractive range of Priestley's Goods this fall, including the new Silvan and Baroda Crepes, Barbecans, Serges, Taffetas, Poplins, Cravencettes, Mohairs, Etc.

THE SOLDIERS' SPIRIT

FRENCH AND THE FRENCH. Paris, Nov. 1.—Field Marshal French is very popular with both the French and the British soldiers, despite the fact that he is the strictest of disciplinarians. A French soldier, who had just been brought to the base hospital from the front with a shattered leg, on hearing that the British commander was in the vicinity, requested his nurse to ask Field Marshal French to come and shake hands with a humble ally who did not know whether he would survive an operation. Sir John immediately complied. The soldier kissed the commander's hands, saying: "I am ready to die, after meeting this famous general!"

TEMPER OF RUSSIAN ARMY. London, Nov. 1.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Observer, sends the following: "According to a report being circulated in army circles, Russia recently has been approached regarding the concluding of peace with Germany. It is said that the German emperor wrote a personal letter to the Dowager Empress, urging her to persuade the Russian emperor to make peace. The Dowager Empress forwarded the letter, without comment, to Emperor Nicholas, who sent it to Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian army. The Grand Duke returned the letter with this comment: "If you comply, our armies will mutiny, and there will be a revolution in all the Russias."

BELGIAN REFUGEE IN BOSTON TELLS OF GERMAN OUTRAGES. Saw Charlot Go Insane in Streets and Selves Amid Roaring Flames. Boston, Nov. 2.—One of the crew of the steamship Gallion, which arrived here last week, is Arthur Legu Vermaete, a Belgian refugee, formerly professional chauffeur, who was working in a mine in Belgium when the war broke out. Through great influence he became an engineer on the Gallion, a few days before she sailed from Hull, England. Mr. Vermaete, who speaks the English language fairly well, and who has a convincing way of making himself understood by reason of saying the same thing in several different ways, says that words, no matter how expressive, must do full short of describing the occurrences in Belgium.

"In a refugee," said Mr. Vermaete, "and I saw something that I can never forget. I cannot sleep at night. I see the streets of Belgium when I was there fleeing for my life. I lost all my clothes when I started to flee, having only torn pantaloons on; nothing else. Hundreds were like myself in the streets, with bullets and fire all around us. "When a great force of the German Army arrived one night at 11.30 at Charlot, I was down in the bottom of the mine. We had been expecting the enemy for a week, but we thought when the Germans would arrive they would be back from the neighborhood of the mines for days at least. "We men in the mines were shouted at through a long trumpet to come up, but to preserve order while being brought up from the deep mine. There were 200 of us in the mine and thirty of us were brought up each time. "Fearful Spectacle." "I was in the third batch to be brought up. When I got up a fearful spectacle met my gaze. All around us houses were burning up. Not fewer than 300 houses, thickly inhabited by the poorest class, were ablaze. "Fathers and mothers ran through the streets insanely, but very few of them got far, for there was no place for them to go, as the bridges all around had either been blown up or had been set afire. "It was a horrid sight to see women and men lie right down in the street and be burned to death. Yes, sir, I saw fathers and mothers, when they saw no chance to escape, deliberately shoot their children to death, and in some instances kill themselves later. Found mothers, even after killing their infants, would pick them up in their arms and run away madly. "I had to stay in Belgium for some days after this, and I saw hundreds of bodies of women and children lying dead in the ruins. "Two or three days before this destruction of life and property at Charlot the German army in a town ten miles away, killed several hundred, mostly women and children and laid the town flat by bombardment. So far I have heard little about persons going mad or insane in the streets, but I tell you there were many persons made insane in Belgium because of what had occurred. "Small post office buildings, newspaper buildings, stores and libraries all were destroyed by the army of Germany. "I happened to be one of 7,000 Belgians that the government sent away to Ghent and when we arrived there more than 10,000 other Belgian refugees were there, and we were all pretty well provided for. "The Germans who captured hundreds of Belgians as prisoners, abused them terribly, spitting in their faces and robbing them of everything they had."

Orange Church Parade. Willis Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 70, of Fairville, accompanied by the Carleton Lodge, paraded to service at the Fairville Baptist church yesterday afternoon. Rev. F. H. Hayward preached an eloquent sermon, taking as his subject, "The Changed Meaning of an Inherited Task." Special music was rendered by the choir and solos were sung by Miss Thorne and Winfield Allingham. At the conclusion of the service the two lodges marched back to their respective halls. They made an excellent showing.

GRAND TRUNK CHANGE. H. G. Elliott, general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk, owing to a rearrangement of the duties of the general officers of the passenger department, retired October 31, under the rules of the Superintention and President Fund Association. The assistant passenger traffic manager has assumed the duties of the general passenger agent.

Turkey Now at War With Allies; Germany Losing on All Sides

London, Nov. 1.—Turkey has definitely thrown in her lot with Austria and Germany, and if Portugal is counted there are now eleven powers at war, with prospects of three more—Greece, Bulgaria and Roumania—being drawn in.

Turkish troops, which have been on the Egyptian border for some time, already are reported to have crossed the frontier, while the Turkish fleet continues to menace Russian towns and shipping in the Black Sea.

Neither Russia nor Great Britain was unprepared for this move on the part of Turkey which, government officials say, was known to have been under the influence of Germany and the allied powers have forces on hand ready to oppose a Turkish invasion.

The problem both for England and Russia, however, is the attitude of the Moslem subjects, who, under ordinary circumstances, would prefer not to fight against Turkey. In this war, however, they have rallied to their flag, as have all other races under British or Russian rule, and care is being taken to explain to them that in this case Turkey, under the direction of Germany, has been the aggressor.

The fighting in Flanders and in France has been but a repetition of that which has been going on for days past. The Germans have continued to push their attack, which was aimed at placing them in possession of the French coast ports, but, as before, it has been a dig-and-dug affair, first one side making progress, only to lose the ground gained on the next day.

From the point of view of the Allies their position is satisfactory, as the Germans are no nearer to their goal than they were a week ago. There have been tremendous losses which, for once, cannot be exaggerated. While the capture of a few prisoners and guns from one side or the other is a matter of daily occurrence, fighting has become more severe along the River Aisne, in the Argonne forest and along the River Meuse between Verdun and Toul, but so far without making any changes in the fronts of the two armies.

The German armies are said by the Russians to have been defeated before Warsaw and Lvangorod. They continue to fall back, and the new Russian front now extends from Plock, northwest of Warsaw, through Leds and Plotkow to Ostrowiec, southwest of Radom.

In Galicia the Russians are having more difficulty in dislodging the Austrians from their positions on the River San.

It is officially announced that owing to the Germans making prisoners of all Belgians and Frenchmen of military age in occupied territory, German and Austrian reservists will be arrested on neutral ships. It is declared, however, that the ships will be subjected to as little delay and inconvenience as possible.

A motor craft owned by Mr. Day, of mooring at Indiantown the motor boat was jammed between the scow and another scow and it was sunk. During the afternoon it was floated and brought towing a scow down the river and while ashore.

ROCKEFELLER MILLIONS FOR BELGIAN RELIEF

New York, Nov. 1.—The Rockefeller Foundation has determined to employ its immense resources for the relief of non-combatants in the countries affected by the war, and stands ready to give "millions of dollars, if necessary," for the purpose. This was announced tonight by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., president of the Foundation.

In pursuance of this philanthropy, the Foundation will send a commission to Europe in a few days to report first hand as to how, when and where aid can be rendered most effectively. At a cost of $275,000, it already has chartered a ship and loaded it with four tons of provisions for the relief of the starving Belgians.

LAST TRIBUTES TO ROBERT THOMSON

Nearly eight hundred persons marched in the funeral cortege of the late Robert Thomson which took place yesterday afternoon from his home in Mecklenburg street.

His passing took away the last of the first board of St. Stephen's Presbyterian church and one of the original pew holders. The present pastor of the church, Rev. Gordon Dickie, conducted the funeral service at the house and a quartette led by D. Arnold Fox, and comprised of C. W. Skelton, D. A. Fox, Kenneth Bonnell and Ed. Bonnell, sang the hymn, Peace, Perfect Peace, at the opening of the service and, The Sands of Time Are Sinking, at the end.

Six members of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club carried the pall. The procession was headed by the members of the R. K. Y. C. of which Mr. Thomson was formerly a very ardent member and for a time commodore. The members of St. Andrew's Society and a delegation from St. Patrick's Society followed the hearse at their rear. After the mourners were the members of the staff of William Thomson & Company, and the session and board of trustees of St. Stephen's church, followed by a vast following of citizens.

When the procession had reached Sydney street near the corner of King street east, those leading the hearse parted and the remainder of the cortege passed through and continued as far as the foot of Waterloo street. Another service was conducted at the grave in Fernhill at 11 o'clock. Rev. Gordon Dickie was assisted by Rev. J. J. McCaskill, chaplain of St. Andrew's Society.

There was a large number of floral tributes, including a large steering wheel from the R. K. Y. C. and other appropriately designed pieces from organizations and individuals.

THE APPLE PIT

(By Peter McArthur.)

I am glad to learn that a great many apples are being put into cold storage. This will not only save a great deal of valuable fruit, but it will provide a supply that consumers can get when they come to their senses. That's exactly what I mean to say—come to their senses. When they heard that apples were cheap they wanted only No. 1's of two or three varieties and they wanted them cheap—O, so cheap! I even had offers of twenty-five cents a barrel for apples this fall—since they were going to waste. Some people who had ordered a few barrels of No. 1 Spys at $2.50 a barrel wrote to me that they heard that Spies of that kind could be bought delivered in the cities for $2 a barrel. It gave me much relief to cancel their orders for I could not sell No. 1 Spies at that price without a loss. I don't buy very much for fear I may be disappointed. Especially do I remember those incomparable apples in work preserving, even if I should never look upon their like again. As there is still time to put many sound apples in pits, where people cannot afford high-toned cold storage, I have hunted up the best recipe I could get for pitting apples. It is given by John Burroughs, most delightful of poets, essayists and scientists. He is now a snowy haired philosopher, as mellow as the choicest apple ever grown and you can make no mistake in following his instructions, for he is always scientifically correct, as well as poetically fascinating, in what he writes. Read what he had to say carefully and then act on his inspiration.

"In the fall, after the bins in the cellar had been well stocked, we excavated a circular pit in the warm, mellow earth, and covering the bottom with clean rye straw, emptied in buckets after buckets of hardy choice varieties, till there was a tent shaped mound several feet high of shining variegated fruit. Then wrapping it about with a thick layer of long rye straw, and tucking it up snug and warm, the mound was covered with a thin coating of earth, a flat stone on the top holding down the straw. As winter set in another coating of earth was put upon it with perhaps an overcoat of coarse dry stable manure, and the precious pile was left in silence and darkness till spring, no marmot hibernating under ground in his nest of leaves and dry grass, more cozy and warm. No frost, no wet, but fragrance, privacy and quiet, then how the earth tempers and flavors the apples. It draws out all the acid unripe qualities, and infuses into them a subtle refreshing taste of the soil. Some varieties perish, but the ranker, harder kinds, like the Northern Spy, the Greening or the Black Apple, or the Russet, or the Pinnock, how they ripen and grow in grace, how the green becomes gold, and the bitter becomes sweet."

Red Cross Changes Its Name

We have relinquished our right to the name of RED CROSS GIN which has taken us 20 years and One Half Million Dollars to promote and maintain as a popular Canadian Drink

NO flag or emblem is better known to-day than a RED CROSS on a white ground, the sign of protection for all wounded and suffering humanity. From the steppes of wildest Russia to the halls of deepest learning in our largest cities, no emblem arouses more respect or arrests man's attention with greater force. It is the greatest flag and emblem in the world—the RED CROSS, a symbol for all mankind.

A White Cross on a Red Ground is the flag of Switzerland. The ambulance systems of the world met at Geneva, in Switzerland, in 1864—exactly fifty years ago—and adopted a flag with a Red Cross on a White Ground as the neutral flag of all nations, a protection to the sick and wounded from harm and a protection also to all persons engaged in the work of caring for those sufferers.

In this present European conflict it has gained greater importance than ever since men knew war. It has become so important that we are compelled to realize that only nations themselves should be allowed to use the RED CROSS emblem.

Under the name of RED CROSS we have for the last twenty years made a pure, well matured gin that has become a popular drink of Canada. It is made from Canadian grown grain with Canadian labor and money. On the popularising of this healthy liquor we have expended $500,000 in the years we have been building our trade up. It has been a labor of love as well as of gain, for we have striven to maintain the high standard of Canadian manufacturers.

At the instance of the Imperial and Canadian Governments, who, like all other nations, have concluded to keep the name RED CROSS for national use, we have decided to relinquish "RED CROSS" as a name for our GIN.

On the first of January next "RED CROSS" GIN will be changed to "GOLD CROSS" GIN. Under the new name GOLD CROSS, the present purity, food, medicinal and beverage value of this splendid gin will be maintained. It will simply be the old favorite RED CROSS under the new name GOLD CROSS.

We feel, in giving up the name of RED CROSS to the use of the British Government, and to all humanity, that we are only following a patriotic course. The great and noble work of the Red Cross Society shall not suffer if we can help it.

Our friends and customers will, we feel sure, make this course known to every good Canadian.

IMPORTS DECREASED BUT EXPORTS GAIN

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Canadian trade for the twelve months, ended with August last, totalled $1,063,908,238, a decrease of $42,000,873, as compared with the preceding twelve months. The decrease of trade in merchandise is considerably larger than the aggregate figures show, since coin and bullion imports increased by nearly $20,000,000, and exports by some $3,000,000.

The decrease in imports of merchandise during the twelve months was $117,121,715, the total for the year being $875,826,642.

Exports of merchandise totalled $468,887,872, an increase of $75,091,887.

Customs revenue for the twelve months was $95,827,982, a decrease of $22,429,090.

There were increases of over $18,000,000 in exports of animal products, of $24,000,000 in exports of agricultural produce and of nearly $16,000,000 in exports of manufactures.

Exports to the United Kingdom during the twelve months totalled $218,294,908, an increase of $33,215,708. Ex-

AMERICA'S OPPORTUNITY.

There are altogether too many pessimists in this country who are kicking about the effect of the European war on business. Coming as it did immediately after a period in which it is kindred nature in the mind of some people the feeling that prosperity would not return for a long time, as a matter of fact the war's big coat will fall on Europe and as soon as the final treaties of peace are signed the commercial and financial ascendancy of the United States will be bound to begin—then we will have to get busy and figure out ways and means to fill orders for rebuilding Europe and we will have no time to lament over anything.

As a result of the war there won't be a more or less disarrangement of business and finance, but it is now well in hand and will entirely stop as soon as peace is in sight—and that should be soon.

This war has given the United States a greater opportunity to increase its foreign trade than any other country has ever had. German foreign commerce is practically stopped and the commerce of other European nations at war is very severely affected. A large part of this trade will surely come to us if we are properly equipped to take it over. The opportunity presented requires a first-class merchant marine which this country has not had since the Civil War. With the re-establishment of a merchant marine the commerce of the United States will again be transported to all parts of the world in American bottoms, and we will become the greatest mercantile power in the world. We believe some new records for big business are not far ahead for the entire United States of America. Let us supply America's needs. This alone will make business improve greatly.

They are telling a story in Switzerland about what would happen if the Kaiser violated Swiss, as he has already violated Belgian, neutrality.

The Kaiser, at the story runs, was amazed at a Swiss drill, by the shooting of the Swissers, who all scored bullseyes.

'Wonderful shots!' said the Kaiser to a Swiss general. 'Wonderful shots.'

'And we have, Your Majesty, 100,000 such shots in the Swiss army,' the general answered.

The Kaiser laughed, and in his jovial wagging way, he said: 'But suppose I invaded you with 200,000 soldiers?'

'In that case, your majesty,' said the other, 'we should each of us fire twice.'

HAD DYSPEPSIA So Bad Could Not Take a Drink of Water Without Suffering.

Dyspepsia is one of the most difficult diseases of the stomach there is to cure. You eat too much. Drink too much. Use too much tobacco. You make the stomach work overtime. You make it reform more than it should be called on to do. The natural result is that it is going to rebel against the amount of work put on it. It is only a matter of a short time before dyspepsia follows.

That old, forty year old remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, will cure the dyspepsia and will cure it to stay cured as we can prove by the thousands of testimonials we have received from time to time.

Miss Sarah McRae, Newfield, Ont., writes: 'I write to say that I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters, and have found it the best remedy I have ever used for dyspepsia. Two years ago, I had stomach trouble so bad that I could not even take a drink of water without suffering. I took six bottles of B.B.B., and have been entirely cured, and can now eat anything without any bad after-effects.'

Burdock Blood Bitters is an old and well tried remedy but on account of the many substitutes we would ask you to make sure that our name appears on the label and wrapper as this preparation is manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The St. John High School boys clinched the championship of the Intercollegiate Football League on Saturday when they invaded the territory of the Rothesay Collegiate School team at Rothesay and returned home with a close-fought victory of 6 points to 5 tucked under their belt.

On a field which showed evidence of the recent downpour, the two teams battled in by far the best exhibition of the year and the better combination work of local boys gave them a slight advantage. Both St. John and Rothesay have a game each to play in Fredericton, the local boys being scheduled to meet the Fredericton High school next Saturday.

THE RING Welsh Can Hit

'Don't let any one tell you,' said Matty Baldwin the other night in Boston, 'that Freddie Welsh cannot hit. Did you see him spin me around at the Atlas A. A. the other night? He can hit all right, and any boxer who figures that Welsh is not there with the hard punch will get badly fooled.'

Matty has received offers from New York and western promoters since his battle with Welsh, so it shows that instead of losing prestige as the result of the Welsh bout, he has gained because of the good showing he made against such a champion as Welsh proves himself.

'I do not feel discouraged over my battle with Welsh,' he said, 'for I am satisfied that Welsh can do as well as any other lightweight in the world as he did to me.'

Bring Crouse Back

George Engel is going to try and bring Buck Crouse back to the place in the boxing game he once held. Engel, who has had a wide experience managing boxers, took hold of Crouse recently and said he would bring Crouse back to him.

'I would like to get Crouse on with some one in Boston. You know he is a good fighter, but he was very badly managed, and I think I will make a good win out of him. He told me things about the way he was managed and it is no wonder that he is not on top. He has fought all the best men in the middleweight class. Sometime I will tell what the managers made him do to get work. He has fought Dillon and he beat Chip three times and knocked him out. He is only a young fellow, and I think he has a chance to beat any mid-weight in the country.'

A New Description

There have been many different sensations experienced by boxers when knocked out, but Jim Flynn has a new one. Of his last bout with Langford in Los Angeles, Flynn describes the wind-up as follows: 'I had him on the ropes and helpless in the second round when the bell saved him. I never had a chance after that, for he recovered quickly and turned the building over on me.'

Flynn, although defeated several times by Langford, still believes that he is actually he is going to knock out 'Don's.'

TAX REFORM IN NEW BRUNSWICK

The New Brunswick report to the fifth annual convention of the Tax Reform League of eastern Canada, held recently in Toronto, is here given. It was prepared by H. H. Stuart of Newcastle.

The agitation in New Brunswick for a better system of taxation has continued with increasing energy since the last annual meeting of the league. During last fall and winter vigorous discussions on taxation took place in the two main centres of the province, in various other public bodies in the province.

After a most successful tour of Nova Scotia from November 18 to January 2, during which he delivered some twenty-eight addresses on tax reform, James H. Brown spoke on the same subject in Moncton and St. John, and later in the year made an extended tour of this province, speaking again in Moncton and St. John, and addressing meetings in Fredericton, Woodstock and many other places, including Newcastle (under the auspices of the Men's Union of St. James Presbyterian Church) on April 9, and Douglastown on April 10.

At all his meetings he had a good hearing, and was able to quicken local interest in the principles he so ably advocated.

St. John city, which two or three years ago obtained an amendment to its charter, abolishing property qualification for offices and giving it direct legislation, this year elected on the second

In June the Methodist annual conference of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, by a large majority and after a most vigorous debate, adopted the following resolution: 'Resolved, that in view of the present state of the province, and the pressing need of tax reform, and we are of the opinion that the time has come when our assessment laws should be amended so as to make speculation in land values unprofitable.'

Last year's resolution of the Maritime Board of Trade asking the provincial legislature to appoint commissions to investigate taxation grievances with view to providing a remedy having been disregarded, the Newcastle Board of Trade at its meeting on July 23 last, unanimously passed a resolution requesting the maritime board again to take up the matter of a revision of our system of municipal taxation. Unhappily, this maritime meeting which was to take place in August last, has been postponed because of the war. But when it is held the question of taxation will be on its programme.

Mr. Potts programme included a liberal application of the land tax with corresponding reduction of income and improvement taxes. The independent labor candidate, J. L. Sugrue, included similar propositions in his platform.

In Newcastle town council on February 19 the undersigned's motion to ask for legislation authorizing, should the people be willing, 1st. Exemption of improvements from taxation by 25 per cent per year until the exemption should be complete; (2) Exemption from taxation of all incomes up to $400; (3) Abolition of income qualification for voting; (4) Exemption of personal property from taxation and substitution of a business license therefor; and (5) and (6) Abolition of property qualification for office of alderman and mayor, was defeated, as were his similar motions in 1912 and 1913. The vote on section 1 was a tie—3 to 2—and was lost on the casting vote of the mayor. In the town elections in April only one of the three members of the previous council favored the tax reform—Ald. A. H. MacKay—was re-elected; Alderman W. H. Belyea, declining renomination, and the undersigned being defeated by a narrow majority.

In June the Methodist annual conference of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, by a large majority and after a most vigorous debate, adopted the following resolution: 'Resolved, that in view of the present state of the province, and the pressing need of tax reform, and we are of the opinion that the time has come when our assessment laws should be amended so as to make speculation in land values unprofitable.'

Last year's resolution of the Maritime Board of Trade asking the provincial legislature to appoint commissions to investigate taxation grievances with view to providing a remedy having been disregarded, the Newcastle Board of Trade at its meeting on July 23 last, unanimously passed a resolution requesting the maritime board again to take up the matter of a revision of our system of municipal taxation. Unhappily, this maritime meeting which was to take place in August last, has been postponed because of the war. But when it is held the question of taxation will be on its programme.

FRESH AIR BABE

The Trenton, New Jersey, Sunday Times of recent date prints a large photograph of a baby girl, whose father is a former St. John man, and whose grandparents reside at 288 Germain street in this city. The following is the story told under the picture.

"This handsome, healthy baby is little Marion Blanche Haynes, the sixteen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynes, 121 Boudinot street. She is known in the neighborhood as the 'Fresh Air Baby,' because of the fact that during all the cold weather of last winter she slept out-doors, lying in a specially prepared crib. Marion has never known a day's sickness since she was ushered into the world. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guilford Haynes of St. John, Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Gibbs of Philadelphia, say that she is the sweetest and best baby in the wide world, including prize-winning babies and babies of royal blood."

ST. JOHN BOY IS IN VICTORIA HOSPITAL

Effort to Preserve Use of Right Hand For Douglas Delong—Another Shooting Accident

(Frederick Gleaner, Saturday)
Douglas Delong, aged 14 years, of St. John, is at Victoria Hospital with surgeons battling to preserve for him some use of his right hand, which has been almost shot away. He was rushed to the hospital yesterday in Dr. G. C. VanWart's automobile from Sheffield, Sunbury county, whence he had been hurried from Douglas Harbor, Queens county, after the accident took place on Thursday. He was a plumber's apprentice and went to Douglas Harbor with his employer on a hunting trip. While the older man went after big game, the boy remained about the farm house, which they were making up for the night. Young Delong was fooling with a gun which he "didn't know was loaded" when it was discharged and part of his right hand shot away. His father, Moses Delong, arrived from St. John this morning.

Herz Nash, an Indian, aged 28 years, accidentally shot himself with a .38 calibre revolver last night while returning to his home at St. Mary's, after being at the McConnell fire. He was carrying the revolver in a holster attached to a belt and had been discharging the gun while attached to the holster for his own amusement. He stumbled when about to discharge it the fourth or fifth time, and the ball entered the right leg, on the outside of the ankle, and lodged near his great toe. Nash was hurried to his home in a carriage, and Dr. W. R. Ross was summoned, the ball being finally located after an operation.

CASE OF ST. JOHN MAN FOR OFFENCE AGAINST NAVY REGULATIONS

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 2.—An important decision was filed here by Judge Russel in the case of Green, a sailor on H.M.C.S. S. Diana. Prior to coming to Halifax, he was a janitor in St. John. He was recently sentenced to the city prison here by the commander of the Diana for offences against the navy regulations. Application for his release was made before Judge Russell. The latter thinks the matter should be sent to the full bench. He also says that war time every effort should be made to uphold the discipline of the navy. He considers, however, that Green's offence did not warrant the commander of the Diana sentencing him to ninety days in prison on one of the charges, and questions the right of the commander to sentence sailors to penal servitude.

HER FIFTH HUSBAND

Nancy Gwyn to Wed Rich Mining Operator and Give up Stage

New York, Nov. 2.—Nancy Gwyn is to wed again. Collins Suter Hill, from Cape Town, South Africa, a retired mining man, of independent wealth, is to be the fifth husband of the eccentric and spectacular dancer. The announcement was made through Mrs. Evelyn Simmons of Huntington, L. I., sister of Miss Gwyn. The marriage will take place before Christmas.

Miss Gwyn has introduced a new idea about engagement gifts. No more solitaires for her.

"Engagement rings never brought me a happy marriage, so why should I accept another one?" she asked. "Collins agreed with me. So his engagement gift was a pair of perfectly matched Pekinese dogs. O, they are darlings. Princess Fifi and Princess Tau. And they are so closely alike that I have been compelled to adorn Fifi with her own jewels so I can tell them apart. You see Fifi has a drop more of blue blood more than Tau.

"For Princess Fifi I have had Collins buy a wonderful coronet, set with an immense turquoise, also a diamond bracelet. Her jewels are wonderful.

After the divorce from her fourth husband, Charles Romer Williams, an English art dealer at which time she agreed to accept $88,000 in lieu of permanent alimony, Miss Gwyn declared:

"My next husband must be an American, and he must be a brute.

Reminded of this she produced a photograph of a man who bore striking resemblance to a noted opera tenor, and said:

"See, here is Mr. Hill. He is the son of an American who married a Spanish lady. He is 38, delightfully dark, and an amateur boxer, famed in the clubs of Cape Town and throughout South Africa. He was a dear friend of my third husband and met me on our honeymoon to Cape Town.

"I have agreed to give up dancing and the stage, forever. He abhors both. Also there will be no engagement party. I am through with parties. The very idea of champagne, which always goes with those affairs, sickens me. At last I am serious.

"True to my promise to Mr. Hill to live a quiet life with him I shall desert the world capitals. Our home will be near Los Angeles. Our honeymoon will be a world tour. I have found a man who is willing to give his life to me. I am convinced he is the first man who has understood me. I have given away all my dancing costumes and jewels. I am free to be a serious wife. Vale to the world."
